12 The Lion made his pray abundantly for his whelpes, and strangled his shee Lions, and hath filled his dennes with pray, and his abiding places with spoyle.

13 Beholde me against thee, sayth the Lorde of hostes, & I wil burne in smoke her charets, & the sword shal deuoure thy Lions, I wil roote out also from the earth thy spoyling, and the voyce of thy messegers shalbe heard no more.

thy fortes, go into the clay, treade the morter, make strong the bricke worke.

shal cut thee off, it shal deuoure as the Locust, fleeth away.

17 Thy princes are as Grashoppers, & thy rulers as great locustes, they swarme in hedges in cold weather, the sunne ariseth, & they flee,

Here endeth the prophecie of Sophonia.

The booke of the Prophet Aggeus.

The first Chapter.

1 The time of the prophecie of Aggeus. 3 An exhortation to buylde the temple againe.

1 IN the second yeere of king Darius, in the sixt moneth, the first day of the moneth, came the worde of the Lord by the ministerie of the Prophet Aggeus [a] vnto Zorobabel [b] the sonne of Salathiel, a Prince of Iuda, and to Iosua the sonne of Iosedech the high Priest, saying,
2 Thus speaketh the Lorde of hostes, saying, This people sayeth, [c] The time is not yet come for the Lordes house to be buylded.
3 Then came the worde of the Lorde by the ministerie of the Prophet Aggeus, saying,
4 Is it time for you your selues to dwell in sieled houses, and this house lye waste?
5 Nowe thus sayth the Lord of hostes, Consider your owne wayes in your hearts.
6 Ye haue [d] sowen much, but ye bring litle in: ye eate, but ye haue not ynough: ye drinke, but ye are not filled: ye clothe you, but ye be not warme: and he that earneth wages, putteth the wages into a broken bagge.
7 Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, Consider your owne wayes in your hearts.
8 Get you vp into the mountaine, and fetche wood, and buylde this house, and I will take pleasure in it, and I will be glorified, sayeth the Lorde.
9 Ye looked for much, and loe, it came to litle, and when ye brought it home, I did blowe vpon it: and why, sayth the Lorde of hostes? because of my house that is waste, and you runne euery man into his owne house.
10 Therefore vpon you the heauen is stayed from deaw, and the earth is stayed from yeelding her increase.
11 And I haue called for a drought vpon the land, and vpon the mountaines, and vpon the corne, and vpon the wine, and vpon the oyle, and vpon all that the grounde bringeth forth, vpon men, and vpon cattell, and vpon all the labour of the handes.
12 Then Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, & Iosua the sonne of Iosedech the high Priest, with all the [e] remnant of the people, heard the voyce of the Lorde their God, and the [f] wordes of the Prophet Aggeus, as the Lord their God had sent him, then the people did feare before the Lord.
13 Then Aggeus the Lordes messenger sayde in the Lords message vnto the people, saying, I am with you, sayth the Lord.
14 And the Lorde stirred vp the spirite of Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, a prince of Iuda, and the spirite of Iosua the sonne of Iosedech the high Priest, and the spirite of all the people: and they came and dyd the worke in the house of the Lord of hostes their God.

a Though the people transgresse, yet the prophet is sent to the Prince & Priest, whose negligence oftentimes is the cause of the peoples sinne.
b Zorobabel was the sonne of Phadaia, as 1. Chr. 3. 18. his fathers name is left out, and his grandfathers name supplyed, because it was not so obscure as was the other.
c And yet there were now seuentene yeeres past since Cyrus had granted them libertie to buylde.
d God is the giuer of encrease, neyther may any thing prosper without his blessing.
e For the greater part tarryed in Babylon, & woulde not take the libertie which Cyrus had giuen them.
f There is no difference made betweene the worde of the Prophet & the worde of God, to shewe that the Prophet must so speake, & the people so heare them as the wordes of God.

The ii. Chapter.

He sheweth that the glorie of the latter temple shall exceede the first.

1 In

IN the [a] twentie and fourth day of the sixth moneth, in the seconde yeere of king Darius, a They had but thre weekes & thre dayes to heare the prophet, and to prepare their tooles for their worke, so diligent were they after the preaching of the Prophet.

In the [b] seuenth moneth, in the twentie and one day of the moneth, came the worde of the Lord by the ministerie of the Prophet Aggeus, saying, b They had nowe not wrought a full moneth per they wared wearie, & therfore had nede to be set on afresh by the prophet, who was therefore now sent vnto them againe.

Say nowe to Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel prince of Juda, and to Josua the sonne of Josedech the high Priest, and to the rest of the people, saying,

Who is among you left, which sawe this house in her first glory, and howe doe ye see it nowe? Is it not in your eyes in comparison of it as nothing?

Yet nowe be of good cheare, O Zorobabel, saith the Lord, & be of good comfort, O Josua thou high Priest sonne of Josedech, & be strōg all ye people of the land, sayth the Lorde, and worke: for I am wᵗʰ you, saith ẏ Lord of hosts, c God made many promises to his people after their departure out of Egypt: but inasmuch as he goeth about to speake of Christ in this place, it may well be thought that he meaneth here the promise made, Deut. 18. & repeated, Act. 7.

According to the [c] worde that I couenanted with you, when ye came out of Egypt: & my [d] spirite shall remaine with you, feare ye not.

d Before he confirmed his promise made of Christ, now he promiseth his spirite: therfore there is no cause of feare.

For thus saith the Lord of hostes, [e] * Yet a litle while, and I will shake the heauens, and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land:

e There passed 519. peeres after this prophecie, before Christ came. Heb. 12. 26.

And I wil moue al nations, and the desire of all nations shall come, & I will fill this house with glory, sayth the Lord of hostes.

The siluer is mine, and the golde is mine, sayth the Lord of hostes.

The glory of the latter house, shalbe greater then the glory of the first, sayeth the Lorde of hostes: and in this place will I giue peace, sayth the Lord of hostes.

In the twentie and fourth day of the ninth moneth, in the second yeere of king Darius, came the word of the Lord vnto the Prophet Aggeus, saying,

Thus sayth the Lorde God of hostes, Aske nowe ẏ priests [concerning] the law, saying,

If one beare holy flesh in ẏ skirt of his coate, & with his skirt doe touch the bread, pottage, wine, oyle, or any other meate, shal it be holy? And the priestes answered, and sayd, No.

And Aggeus sayde, If a polluted person touche any of these, shall he not be polluted? And the priestes answered, and sayd, He shall be polluted.

Then Aggeus answered, & said, So is this people, & so is this nation before me, sayth the Lord, & so is al the worke of their handes: and that which they offer there is vncleane.

And nowe consider, I pray you, in your mindes, from this day and vpwarde, before there was layde one stone vpon another in the house of the Lorde,

Before these things [were done,] when one came to a heape of twentie [measures,] there were but ten: so who came to the wine presse for to drawe out fiftie [vessels of wine] out of the presse, there were but twentie.

I smote you with blasting & with mildewe, & with hayle in all the worke of your handes, and you turned not vnto me, saith the Lord.

Consider nowe in your mindes from this day, and afore, from the foure and twentieth day of the ninth [moneth,] euen from the day that the fundation of the Lordes temple was layde, consider it in your mindes:

Is the seede yet in the barnes? as yet the vines, and the figge tree, & the pomegranate, & the oliue tree hath not brought forth: from this day will I blesse [you.]

f Ye is sent twise in one day to prophecie vnto the people.

And [f] againe the worde of the Lorde came vnto Aggeus in the foure & twentieth [day] of the moneth, saying,

Speake to Zorobabel the prince of Juda, & say, I wil shake the heauens and the earth:

‖ Or, seate.

And I wil ouerthrowe the ‖ throne of kingdomes, and I will destroy the strength of the kingdomes of the heathen, and I will ouerthrow the charets and the sitters thereon, and the horse and the riders shal fall downe euery one by the sworde of his brother.

Eccle. 49. 13.

* In that day, sayth the Lord of hostes, will I take thee Zorobabel my seruant, sonne of Salathiel, sayth the Lord, and wil make thee as a signet: for I haue chosen thee, sayth the Lorde of hostes.

The ende of the prophecie of Aggeus.

The booke of the Prophet Zacharias.

The first Chapter.

1 He moueth the people to returne to the Lorde, and eschew the wickednesse of their fathers. 36 He prefigureth Christ and his Apostles.

IN the eyght moneth of the seconde yeere of king Darius, came the worde of the Lorde vnto Zacharias the sonne of Barachias ẏ sonne of Addo ẏ Prophet, saying,

The Lorde hath bene sore displeased with your forefathers.

And say thou vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, *Turne you vnto me, saith the Lorde of hostes, and I will turne vnto you, sayth the Lord of hostes.

Mala. 3. 7.

Be ye not like your forefathers, vnto whom the Prophetes cryed, saying, * Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, Turne you from your euil wayes, and from your wicked imaginations:

Esa. 31. 8. iere. 3. 12. osee. 14. 2. ioel. 2. 12.

but they woulde not heare nor regarde mee, sayth the Lorde.

5 What is now become of your forefathers? and do the prophets liue for euer?

6 But did not my wordes and statutes which I commanded by my seruants the Prophets take holde of your forefathers? and they returned, and sayde, Like as the Lord of hostes determined to doe vnto vs according to our owne wayes and imaginations, euen so hath he dealt with vs.

7 Upon the twentie and fourth day of the eleuenth moneth (which is the moneth Sebah) in the second yeere of Darius, came the word of the Lord vnto Zacharias ẏ sonne of Barachias the sonne of Addo the Prophet, saying,

8 I sawe by night, and beholde, there sate one vpon a red horse, & stoode stil amõg ẏ Myrrhe trees that were in a bottome: and behinde him were there red, speckled, and white horses.

9 Then sayd I, O my Lorde, what are these? And the angel that talked with me, sayd vnto me, I will shewe thee what these be.

10 And the man that stoode amõg the Myrrhe trees answered, & sayd, These are they whom the Lord hath sent to goe thorow the worlde.

11 And they answered the angell of the Lorde that stoode among the Myrrhe trees, & sayd, We haue gone thorow the world, and behold, all the worlde sitteth still, and is careles.

12 Then the Lordes Angel gaue answere, and sayd, O Lorde of hostes, howe long wilt thou be vnmerciful vnto Hierusalem, & to ẏ cities of Juda, with whom thou hast bene displeased nowe these three score and ten yeeres?

13 So the Lord gaue a louing & a comfortable answere vnto the Angel that talked with me.

14 And the Angel that communed with mee, sayde vnto me, * Cry thou, and speake, Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, I am exceeding iealous ouer Hierusalem and Sion, Zach. 8. 2.

15 And sore displeased at the careles heathen: for whereas I was but a little angrie, they helped forward the affliction.

16 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde, I will returne vnto Hierusalem in tender mercie, so that my house shall be buylded in it, sayth the Lord of hostes: yea, and the [a] line shalbe stretched vpon Hierusalem.

a Such as Masons and Carpenters vse in building.

17 Cry also and speake, Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, My cities through prosperitie shall be spread abroade, the Lorde shall yet comfort Sion, and choose Hierusalem.

18 Then lift I vp mine eyes and sawe, and behold, foure hornes.

19 And I said vnto the Angel that talked with me, What be these? He answered mee, These are the hornes which haue scattered Juda, Israel, and Hierusalem.

20 And the Lorde shewed mee foure Carpenters.

21 Then sayd I, What will these doe? He answered, and sayd, These are the hornes which haue scattered Juda, so that no man durst lift vp his head: but these are come to fraye them away, and to cast out the hornes of the Gentiles, which lift vp their horne ouer the lande of Juda, to scatter it abroade.

The ii. Chapter.

The renewing of Hierusalem and Iuda.

1 I Lift vp mine eyes againe and looked: and beholde, a man with a measure line in his hande.

2 Then sayde I, Whither goest thou? And he sayde vnto mee, To measure Hierusalem, that I may see howe long and howe broade it is.

3 And behold, the Angel that talked with me, went his way forth: then went there out another Angel to meete him,

4 And sayde vnto him, Runne, speake to this yong man, and say, Hierusalem shalbe inhabited without any wall, for the very multitude of people and cattell that shalbe therein.

5 For I my selfe, sayth the Lord, will be vnto her a wall of fire round about, and will be the glory in the middest of her.

6 O get you forth, O flee from the land of the North, sayth the Lorde: for I haue scattered you into the foure windes of the heauen, sayth the Lorde.

7 Saue thy selfe, O Sion, thou that dwellest with the daughter of Babylon:

8 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, After this glory hath he sent me out to the heathẽ which spoyled you: for whoso toucheth you, shall touche the apple of his owne eye.

9 Behold, I wil lift vp mine hand ouer them, so that they shalbe spoyled of those which afore serued them: and ye shal know that the Lorde of hostes hath sent me.

10 Be glad and reioyce, O daughter Sion: for loe, I am come to dwel in the middest of thee, sayth the Lord.

11 At the same time there shall many heathen cleaue to the Lord, and shalbe my people: thus will I dwell in the middest of thee, and thou shalt knowe that the Lord of hostes hath sent me vnto thee.

12 The Lorde shall haue Juda in possession for his part in the holy land, and shal choose Hierusalem yet againe.

13 Let all flesh be still before the Lord: for he is raysed vp out of his holy place.

The iii. Chapter.

3 Of the lowe and hygh estate of Christ, vnder the figure of Iosua the high Priest. 8 A prophecie of Christ.

1 AND he shewed mee Josua the hygh Priest standing before the angel of the Lorde, and Satan stoode at his right hand to resist him.

2 And

2 And the Lord ſayd vnto Satan, The Lord rebuke thee thou Satan, yea, the Lorde that hath choſen Hieruſalem rebuke thee:
is not this a brand taken out of the fire?
3 Nowe Joſua was clothed in vncleane ray-ment, and ſtood before the angel.
4 And he anſwered and ſayde vnto thoſe that ſtood before him, Take away ẏ foule clothes from him. And vnto him he ſayd, Beholde, I haue taken away thy ſinne from thee, and I will cloth thee with change of rayment.
5 And I ſayd, Let them ſet a fayre myter vpõ his head. So they ſet a fayre myter vpon his head, and put on clothes vpon him, & the angel of the Lord ſtood there.
6 Then the angel of the Lorde teſtified vnto
(Or, Ieſua. ‖ Joſua, and ſpake, 7 Thus ſayth the Lord of hoſtes, If thou wilt walke in my wayes, & keepe my watch, thou ſhalt iudge my houſe, & keepe my courts, & I wil giue thee place among theſe ẏ ſtand here.
8 Heare, O Joſua thou high Prieſt, thou and thy fellowes that ſit before thee, for they are Luke 1.78. monſtruous perſons: behold, * I will bring forth the branch my ſeruant.
9 For loe, the ſtone that I haue layde before Joſua, vpon one ſtone ſhall be ſeuen eyes: behold, I will cut out the grauing thereof, ſaith the Lorde of hoſtes, and I will take away the ſinne of the land in one day.
10 In that day ſhall euery man call his neighbour vnder the vine, and vnder the figge tree, ſayth the Lord of hoſtes.

The iiii. Chapter.

The viſion of the golden candleſticke, and the expoſition thereof.

1 AND ẏ angel that talked with me, came againe, and waked mee, as a man that is rayſed out of his ſleepe,
2 And ſayd vnto me, What ſeeſt thou?
And I ſayd, I haue looked, and behold, a candleſticke all of golde, with a bowle vpon it, and his ſeuen lamps therein, and vpon euery lampe ſeuen pipes,
3 And two Oliue trees thereby: one vpon the right ſide of the bowle, and the other vpon the left ſide.
4 So I anſwered & ſpake to ẏ angel ẏ talked with me, ſaying, O my Lord, what are theſe?
5 The angel that talked with mee anſwered and ſayde vnto mee, Knoweſt thou not what theſe be? And I ſayd, No, my Lord.
6 He anſwered and ſayd vnto me, This is the worde of the Lorde vnto Zorobabel, ſaying, Neither through an hoſt of men, nor through ſtrength: but through my ſpirite, ſayeth the Lord of hoſtes.
7 What art thou great mountaine before Zo-robabel? thou muſt be made euen, and he ſhal bring forth the head ſtone thereof, with ſhou-tings, crying, Grace, grace vnto it.
8 Moreouer, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, ſaying,
9 The hands of Zorobabel haue layde ẏ foundation of this houſe, his hands ſhal alſo finiſh it: and thou ſhalt know that the Lord of hoſts hath ſent me vnto you:
10 For who hath deſpiſed ẏ day of ſmal things?
they ſhal reioyce, & ſhal ſee the ſtone of [a] tin in the hand of Zorobabel: theſe ſeuen are ẏ eyes of ẏ Lord, which go thorow the whole world.
11 Then anſwered I, & ſayd vnto him, What are theſe two Oliue trees vpon the right and left ſide of the candleſticke?
12 I ſpake moreouer, & ſaide vnto him, What be theſe two Oliue branches, which through the two goldẽ pipes emptie them ſelues into the gold?
13 He anſwered me, & ſaide, Knoweſt thou not what theſe be? And I ſayd, No, my Lord.
14 Then ſaid he, Theſe are ẏ two Oliue branches that ſtand with ẏ ruler of ẏ whole earth.

[a] A plummet of tinne, as nowe men vſe pluminets of lead.

The v. Chapter.

1 The viſion of the flying booke, ſignifying the curſe of thieues, and ſuch as abuſe the name of God. 6 By the viſion of the meaſure, is ſignified the bringing of Iuda to Babylon.

1 SO I turned me, lifting vp mine eyes, & looked, and behold, a flying booke.
2 And he ſaid vnto me, What ſeeſt thou?
I anſwered, I ſee a flying booke of twentie cubites long, and ten cubites broad.
3 Then ſaid he vnto me, This is ẏ curſe that goeth forth ouer ẏ whole earth: for all thieues ſhalbe ‖ iudged after this booke, & al periured (‖ Or, cut off (as is writtẽ) on the one ſide: and all periured perſons ſhalbe cut off, as is on the other ſide.
perſons ſhal be iudged according to the ſame.
4 And I will bring it forth, ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes, ſo that it ſhall enter into the houſe of the thiefe, and into the houſe of him that falſly ſweareth by my name, and ſhall remaine in the middeſt of his houſe, and conſume it, with the timber and ſtones thereof.
5 Then the angel that talked with me, went forth, and ſayde vnto mee, Lift vp thine eyes, and ſee what is this that goeth forth.
6 And I ſaid, What is it? He anſwered, This is a ‖ meaſure going out. He ſayd moreouer, (‖ Or, Ephah.
Euen thus are they ẏ dwell vpon the whole earth to looke vpon.
7 And behold, there was lift vp a talẽt of lead:
and loe, a woman ſate in the middeſt of the ‖ meaſure. (‖ Or, Ephah.
8 And he ſaid, This is vngodlineſſe: ſo he caſt her into the middeſt of the ‖ meaſure, and (‖ Or, Ephah. threwe the lumpe of lead into the mouth of the ‖ meaſure. (‖ Or, Ephah.
9 Then lift I vp mine eyes, and looked, and beholde, there came out two women, and the winde was in their wings: for they had wings like the wings of a Storke, and they lift vp the ‖ meaſure betwixt the earth and (‖ Or, Ephah.
the heauen.

10 Then

10 Then spake I to the angel that talked with me, Whither wil these beare the measure?
11 And he said vnto me, Into the land of Sinnaar to build it an house, and it shalbe established, and set there vpon her owne place.

The vi. Chapter.

1 By the foure charets he describeth the prosperitie of foure kingdomes.

1 MOreouer I turned mee, lifting vp mine eyes, and looked, & behold, there came foure charets out from betwixt two hils, which hils were of brasse.
2 In the first charet were red horses, in the second charet were blacke horses,
3 In the third charet were white horses, in the fourth charet were horses of diuers colours, and strong.
4 Then spake I, and said vnto the angell that talked with me, O my Lord, what are these?
5 The angel answered, & said vnto me, These are ỹ foure spirits of ỹ heauen, which be come forth to stand before the ruler of al the earth.
6 That with the blacke horse went forth into the land of the North, and the white followed them, and the speckled horses went forth toward the South.
‖Or, the speckled. 7 And the ‖ strong horses went out, and required to go and take their iourney ouer ỹ whole earth: and he said, Get you hence, and go thorowe the worlde: so they went thorowout the world.
8 Then cryed hee vpon me, & spake vnto me, saying, Behold, these ỹ goe toward ỹ North, shall still my wrath in the North countrey.
9 And the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,
10 Take of the prisoners that are come from captiuitie, namely, Heldai, Tobiah, & Idaia, which came frō Babylon: and come thou the same day, and go vnto the house of Iosiah the sonne of Sophonia.
11 Then take gold & siluer, and make crownes thereof, and set them vpon the head of Iosua the sonne of Iosedech the high Priest, 12 And speake vnto him, Thus saith ỹ Lord of hostes, * Beholde the man whose name is the Branch, and he shal grow vp out of his place, and he shal builde vp the Temple of the Lord. Luke 1.78.
13 Yea, euen he shal builde vp ỹ Temple of the Lord, and he shall beare the prayse: he shall sit vpon ‖ the Lords throne, & haue ỹ dominion: a Priest shall he bee also vpon his throne, and a peaceable counsell shalbe betwixt them both. ‖Or, his.
14 And ỹ crowne shall be to Helem, & to Tobiah, and to Idaia, & to Hen ỹ sonne of Zophoni, for a memorial in the Temple of the Lord.
15 And such as be farre off shall come & builde in ỹ Temple of the Lord, that ye may knowe how that the Lord of hosts hath sent me vnto you: & this shal come to passe, if ye wil hearkē diligently vnto ỹ voice of the Lord your God.

The vii. Chapter.

5 The true fasting. 11 The rebellion of the people is the cause of their affliction.

1 AND the fourth yeere of king Darius, the word of the Lord came vnto Zacharia, in ỹ fourth [day] of the ninth moneth, which is called Casleu,
2 What time as Sarasar & Rogommelech, and the men that were with them, sent vnto the house of God for to pray before the Lord:
3 And ỹ they should speake vnto the Priestes which were in the house of the Lord of hosts, and to ỹ Prophets, saying, Should I weepe in the fifth moneth, and abstayne as I haue done nowe these so many yeeres?
4 Then came the word of the Lorde of hostes vnto me, saying,
5 Speake vnto al ỹ people of the lande, & to ỹ Priestes, & say, * When ye fasted & mourned in the fifth & seuenth moneth nowe this threescore and ten yeres, did ye fast vnto me? Esay 58.5.
6 When ye did also eate and drinke, did ye not eate and drinke for your owne selues?
7 Are not these ỹ wordes which ỹ Lord spake by his Prophets aforetime, whē Hierusalem was yet inhabited & wealthie, she & the cities round about her, when there dwelt men both toward the South & in the plaine countreis?
8 And the word of the Lord came vnto Zacharie, saying, 9 Thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes, Execute true iudgement, shewe mercie & louing kindnesse euery man to his brother.
10 * Do the widowe, ỹ fatherles, the strangers and poore no wrong, and let no man imagine euil against his brother in his heart. Exod. 22.22. esay 1.23. iere. 6.28.
11 Neuertheless, they woulde not take heede, but turned their ‖ backes, and stopped their eares, that they should not heare. ‖Or, shoulders.
12 Yea they made their hearts as an Adamant stone, least they should heare ỹ lawe & words which the Lord of hostes sent in his holy spirit by the Prophetes aforetime: wherefore the Lord of hostes was very wroth at them.
13 And thus is it come to passe, ỹ like as he cried, and they would not heare: euen so they cried, and I would not heare, saith the Lord God of hostes, 14 But scattered them among all the nations whom they knew not: thus ỹ land was made so desolate after them, that there trauailed no man in it, neither to nor fro: for that pleasant land was vtterly layd waste.

The viii. Chapter.

2 Of the returne of the people vnto Hierusalem, and of the mercie of God toward them. 16 Of good works. 20 The calling of the Gentiles.

1 SO the worde of the Lord of hostes came vnto me, saying,
2 Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, I was in great ielousie for Sion, yea, I haue bene bene very ielous for her great wrath.

3 Thus sayth the Lorde, I will returne vnto Sion, and will dwell in the middest of Hierusalem: so that Hierusalem shalbe called, A faithfull and true citie, the hill of the Lord of hostes, an holy hill.

4 Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, There shall yet olde men and olde women dwel againe in the streets of Hierusalem: yea, and such as go with staues in their hands for very age.

5 The streets of ỹ citie also shalbe full of yong boies & damsels, playing in ỹ streetes therof.

6 Thus saith ỹ Lord of hosts, If the residue of this people think it to be vnpossible in [their] eyes in these dayes: should it therefore be vnpossible in my sight, saith the Lord of hostes?

7 Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, Beholde, I wil deliuer my people from the countreys of the East and West,

8 And will bring them againe, that they may dwel in the middest of Hierusalem: they shall be my people, and I wil be their God in truth and righteousnesse.

9 Thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes, Let your hands be strong, ye ỹ nowe heare these words by the mouth of the Prophetes which are in these dayes, that the foundation of the house of the Lorde of hostes is layde, that the Temple may be builded.

10 For before these dayes neither men nor cattell could winne any [a] thing, neither might any man come in & out in rest for trouble: but I let euery man go against his neighbour.

11 Neuertheless, I will nowe intreate the residue of this people no more as aforetime, sayth the Lord of hostes.

12 For the seed shall prosper, the vine shal giue her fruite, the ground shall giue her encrease, and the heauens shall giue their dewe, and I shall cause the remnant of this people to haue all these in possession:

13 And it shall come to passe, that like as yee were a curse among the heathen, O ye house of Juda and ye house of Israel, euen so wil I deliuer you, that yee shall bee a blessing: feare not, but let your hands be strong.

14 For thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, Like as I thought to punish you, what time as your fathers prouoked mee vnto wrath, sayeth the Lord of hostes, and spared not:

15 Euen so am I determined nowe in these dayes for to doe well vnto the house of Juda and Hierusalem: [therefore] feare ye not.

16 Nowe the things that ye shall do, are these, * Speake euery man ỹ trueth vnto his neighbour, execute iudgemẽt truely and peaceably within your portes.

17 And let none of you imagine euill in his heart against his neighbour, and loue no false othes: for al these are the things that I hate, sayth the Lorde.

18 And the worde of the Lorde of hostes came vnto me, saying,

19 Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, The fast of the fourth [moneth,] the fast of ỹ fifth, the fast of the seuenth, and the fast of the tenth, shalbe ioy & gladnes, & prosperous high feasts vnto the house of Juda: only loue ỹ truth & peace.

20 Thus saith ỹ Lord of hosts, There shall yet come people, & the inhabiters of many cities:

21 And they that dwell in one citie shall goe to another, saying, Up, Let vs go & pray before the Lorde, let vs seeke the Lorde of hostes: I will go with you.

22 Yea much people & mightie nations shall come to seeke the Lorde of hostes at Hierusalem, and to pray before the Lord.

23 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, In that time shall ten men (out of al maner of language of the Gentiles) take one Jewe by ỹ hemme of his garment, and say, We will go with you: for we haue heard that God is among you.

The ix. Chapter.

1 The threatning of the Gentiles. 9 The comming of Christ sitting on an Asse.

1 THe burden of the word of the Lorde in the lande of Hadrach: and Damascus shalbe his rest, when the eyes of men, euen of all the tribes of Israel shall be towards the Lord.

2 The borders of Hemath shalbe hard thereby, Tyrus also & Sidon, for they are very wise.

3 Tyrus shal make her self strong, heape vp siluer as ỹ sand, & gold as ỹ clay of the streetes.

4 Beholde, the Lorde shall spoyle her, he shall smite downe her power in the sea, & she shall be consumed with fire.

5 This shal Ascalon see, & be afraid: Gaza shal be very sory, so shal Accaron also, because her hope is come to confusion: For ỹ king of Gaza shal perish, & at Ascalon shal no man dwell.

6 Strangers shall dwell at Asdod, and as for the pride of ỹ Philistines I shall roote it out.

7 Their blood will I take away from their mouth, and their abominations frõ betweene their teeth: Thus they that shalbe left shalbe for our God, hee shall be as a prince in Juda, and Accaron like as a Jebusite.

8 And I wil pitch a campe [a] about mine house against the armie, against him that passeth by, and against him that returneth, and no oppressour shall come vpon them any more: for nowe I haue seene with mine eyes.

9 Reioyce thou greatly, O daughter Sion, bee glad, O daughter Hierusalem: * for loe, thy king commeth vnto thee, euen the righteous & sauiour, lowly & simple is he, he rideth vpon an Asse, and vpon the foale of an Asse.

10 I will roote out the charrets frõ Ephraim, and the horse from Hierusalem, the battell bowes shalbe destroied, he shal giue ỹ doctrine of peace vnto the heathen: and his dominion shalbe a They ladoured and toyled themselues & their cattell without encrease, because they cared not for Gods glory in reedifiing of the Temple, but wẽt about their priuate gaine.

a God is strõg ynough to defẽd his church against all his aduersaries.

Esay 62.11. matth.21.5.

shalbe from the one sea to the other, and from the riuer to the ende of the worlde.

11 Thou also [shalt be saued] through ỹ blood of thy couenant: I haue loosed thy prysoners out of the pit wherein is no water.

12 Turne ye nowe to the strong holde yee that be in pryson and long sore to be deliuered: euẽ this day I bring thee word, that I wil reward thee double againe.

13 For Iuda haue I bent as a bowe for me, Ephraim [his hand] haue I filled, & thy sonnes, O Sion, will I rayse vp against ỹ Greekes, and make thee as a Giantes sword.

14 The Lorde God shall be seene aboue them, and his darts shall go forth as the lightning: the Lorde God shall blowe the trumpet, and shall come forth as a storme out of the South.

15 The Lord of hostes shall defende them, they shall consume and deuoure, and subdue them with sling stones, they shall drinke and rage as it were through wine, they shall be filled like the basons, & as the hornes of the altar.

16 The Lorde their God shall deliuer them in that day, as the flocke of his people: for as precious stones of a Diademe they shalbe set vp ouer his land.

17 O howe great is his goodnesse, and how excellent his beautie: For the corne shall make the yong men chearefull, and the newe wine the maidens.

The x. Chapter.

1 The people is mooued to require the doctrine of the trueth of the Lorde. 3 The Lorde promiseth to visite and comfort the house of Israel.

1 PRay the Lord thẽ betimes to giue ỹ latter rayne, so shall the Lorde make bright cloudes, and giue you rayne ynough, and to euery one grasse in the fielde.

2 For vaine is the answere of idoles, ỹ soothsayers see lies, and the dreamers tel but vaine things, the comfort that they giue is nothing worth: therefore they went away like a flocke of sheepe, and were troubled, because they had no shepheard.

3 My wrathfull displeasure was mooued against the shepheardes, and I will visite the Goates: for the Lorde of hostes will visite his flocke the house of Iuda, and will make them as a goodly fayre horse in the battell.

4 Out of [Iuda] shall come the corner, the nayle, the battell bowe, and the appoynter of tribute also.

5 They shalbe as giantes which in the battell treade downe their enemies in ỹ myre of the streetes: they shall fight, for the Lorde shall be with them, & the horsemen shalbe cõfounded.

6 I wil comfort the house of Iuda, & preserue the house of Ioseph, I will bring thẽ againe, for I pitie them, and they shall be like as they were whẽ I had not cast them off: for I the Lord am their God, and will heare them.

7 Ephraim shalbe as a Giant, and their heart shall be chearefull as through wine: yea, their children shall see it, and be glad, & their heart shall reioyce in the Lord.

8 I will hisse for them, and gather them together, for I will redeeme them, they shall encrease, as they encreased afore.

9 I will sowe thẽ among the people, that they may thinke vpon me in farre countreys, they shall liue with their childrẽ, and turne againe.

10 I will bring them againe also from the land of Egypt, & gather them out of Assyria: I wil carie them into the land of Gilead, and to Libanus, and a place [a] shall not be found for thẽ.

a The multitude shalbe so great.

11 And affliction shal passe ouer vnto the sea, & smite the sea waues, so that all ỹ deepe floods shall be dried vp, the proude boasting of Assur shall be cast downe, and the scepter of Egypt shalbe taken away.

12 I will comfort them in the Lorde, that they may walke in his name, sayth the Lord.

The xi. Chapter.

1 The destruction of the Temple. 4 The care of the faythfull is committed to Christ by the father. 7 A grieuous vision against Hierusalem and Iuda.

1 OPen the doores, O Libanus, that the fire may consume thy Cedar trees.

2 Howle yee firre trees, for the Cedar is fallen, yea, all the proud are wasted away: Howle, O yee Oke trees of Basan, for the mightie strong wood is cut downe.

3 Men may heare the shepheards mourne, for their glory is destroyed, men may heare the Lions whelpes roare, for ỹ pride of Iordane is wasted away.

4 Thus sayth the Lorde my God, Feede the sheepe of the slaughter,

5 Which haue bene slayne of those that possessed them, yet they [tooke it] for no sinne, but they that solde them, sayde, The Lorde be thanked, for I am rich, yea, their owne shepheards spare them not.

6 Therefore will I no more spare those that dwel in the land, saith the Lord: but loe, I wil deliuer the people, euery man into his neighbours hande, and into the hande of his king, that they may smite the land, and out of their hands I will not deliuer them.

7 I my selfe fed the slaughter sheepe, a poore flocke verily, and tooke vnto me two staues, the one called Beautie, ỹ other called Bands: and so fed the sheepe.

8 Three shepheards I put out of office in one moneth, for I might not away with them: neyther had they any delight in me.

9 *Then sayde I, I will feede you no more: the thing that dieth, let it die: & that that will perish, let it perish: and let the remnant eate euery one the flesh of his neighbour. Iere. 15. a.

10 I tooke also my staffe, [euen] Beautie, and brake it, that I might disanull the couenant which which I made with all people.

11 And so it was broken in ỳ day: then ỳ poore simple sheepe ỳ had a respect vnto me, knewe thereby that it was the word of the Lord.

12 And I sayd vnto them, If ye thinke it good, bring hither my wages, if no, thē leaue. *So they wayed downe thirtie siluer pence, the value that I was pryced at.

Matth.27.9.

13 And the Lorde sayde vnto mee, Cast it vnto the potter, a goodly price for me to be valued at of them. And I tooke the thirtie siluer pence, and cast them to the potter in the house of the Lord.

14 Then brake I my other staffe also, [namely] Bandes, that I might loose the brotherhood betwixt Juda and Israel.

15 And the Lord saide vnto me, Take thee also the ‖ staffe of a foolish shepheard.

16 For lo, I wil raise vp a shepheard in ỳ land, which shall not seeke after ỳ things ỳ be lost, nor seeke the tender lambes, he shal not heale the wounded, he shall not nourish the things that are whole: but he shal eat the flesh of such as be fat, and teare their clawes in pieces.

17 O idole shepheard that leaueth the flocke, ỳ sword shal come vpon his arme, and vpon his right eye: his arme shalbe cleane dried vp, and his right eye shalbe sore blinded.

The xii. Chapter.

Of the destruction, and building againe of Hierusalem.

1 THe [heauie] burden which the Lorde hath deuised for Israel. Thus saith the Lorde which spred ỳ heauens abroade, layde the foundation of the earth, and gaue man the breath of life.

2 Beholde, I will make Hierusalem a cup of ‖ surfet vnto al ỳ people that are round about her: yea, Juda himselfe also shalbe in the siege against Hierusalem.

3 At the same time will I make Hierusalē an heauie stone for al people, so ỳ al such as lift it vp shalbe torne & rent, and al the people of the earth shalbe gathered together against it.

4 In that day, saith the Lord, I will make all horses astonied, and those that ride vpon them to be out of their wits: I wil open mine eyes vpon the house of Juda, and smite all the horses of the people with blindnesse.

5 And the princes of Juda shall say in their hearts, The inhabiters of Hierusalē shal giue me consolatiō in the Lord of hosts their God.

6 In that time wil I make the princes of Juda like an hot burning ouen with wood, and like a firebrand among ỳ ‖ strawe, so that they shall consume all the people round about thē, both vpon ỳ right hand, & vpon the left: Hierusalē also shalbe inhabited againe, [namely] in the same place where Hierusalē standeth.

7 The Lord shall preserue the tentes of Juda as aforetime, so that the glory of the house of Dauid, and the glory of the citizens of Hierusalem, shall not be exalted against Juda.

8 In that day shall the Lord defend ỳ citizens of Hierusalem, so that the weakest thē among them shalbe as Dauid, and the house of Dauid shalbe as Gods house, and as the angel of the Lord before them.

9 At the same time will I go about to destroy all such people as go against Hierusalem.

10 Moreouer, vpon the house of Dauid, & vpon the citizens of Hierusalem will I powre out the spirit of grace and compassion, * so ỳ they shal looke vpon me whom they haue pearced, and they shall lament for him, as men mourne for their onely begotten sonne: yea, & be sory for him, as men are sory for their first childe.

Iohn.19.37.

11 Thē shal there be a great mourning at Hierusalem, *like as ỳ lamentation at Adadremmon in the fielde of Mageddon.

2.Chro.35.22.

12 And the land shall bewaile, euery kinred by themselues alone: the kinred of the house of Dauid by themselues, & their wiues by themselues: the kinred of the house of Nathan themselues, and their wiues by themselues:

13 The kinred of the house of Leui themselues alone, and their wiues by themselues: the kinred of the house of Semei themselues alone, and their wiues by themselues.

14 In like maner, all the other generations euery one by thē selues alone, and their wiues by themselues.

The xiii. Chapter.

1 Of the well of grace and trueth. 2 Of the cleane rydance of idolatrie, and of false prophets.

1 IN that time shall the house of Dauid and the citizens of Hierusalem haue an open well to wash off sinne and vncleannesse.

2 * And then saith the Lord of hosts, I will destroye the names of the idoles out of the lande, so that they shall no more bee put in remembrance: as for the false prophetes also, and the vncleane spirits, I wil take them out of the land.

Ezec.36.13.

3 So that if any of them prophecie any more, his owne father & mother ỳ begate him, shall say vnto him, Thou shalt not liue, for thou speakest lies vnder the name of the Lord: yea, his owne father and mother that begate him shall wounde him when he prophecieth.

4 And then shal those prophets be confounded, euery one of his vision when he prophecieth: neither shal they weare heare cloth any more to deceiue men withall.

5 But he shalbe faine to say, I am no prophet, I am an husbandman: for so am I taught by man from my youth vp.

6 And if it be sayd vnto him, How came these wounds then be in thine hands? He shall answere, Thus was I wounded in the house of mine owne friendes.

7 Arise, O thou sworde, vpon my shephearde, and vpon the man that is my fellow, saith the Lord of hoſtes: * ſmite the ſhepheard, and the ſheepe ſhalbe ſcattered abroade, and ſo will I turne my hand to the litle ones.

Lord

Matth.26.31. mark.14.27.

8 And it ſhall come to paſſe, ſaith the Lorde, that in al the land two parts ſhalbe rooted out and die, but ẏ third part ſhal remaine therein.

9 And ẏ ſame third part will I bring thorow the fire, and will cleanſe them as the ſiluer is cleanſed, yea and try them like as gold is tried: then ſhall they cal vpon my name, & I wil heare them: I will ſay, It is my people, and they ſhall ſay, Lord my God.

The xiiii. Chapter.

1 The waſting of the Church vnder the figure of Hieruſalem. 9 Of the kingdome of the Lord.

1 BEholde, the day of the Lorde commeth, and thy ſpoile ſhalbe deuided in the middeſt of thee.

2 For I wil gather together all the heathen to fight againſt Hieruſalem, ſo ẏ the city ſhall be wonne, the houſes ſpoyled, & the women defiled: the halfe of the citie ſhal go away into captiuitie, and the reſidue of the people ‡ ſhall not be caried out of the citie.

3 After that, the Lorde ſhal goe forth to fight againſt thoſe heathen, as men vſe to fight in the day of battell.

4 Then ſhall his feete ſtande vpon the mount Oliuete that lyeth vpon the Eaſt ſide of Hieruſalem, and the mount Oliuete ſhall cleaue in two, Eaſtward & Weſtward, ſothat there ſhalbe a great valley: and the halfe mount ſhal remoue towarde the North, and the other toward the South.

5 And ye ſhall flee vnto ẏ valley of my hilles, for the valley of the hilles ſhall reach vnto Aſal: yea, flee ſhal ye like as ye fled for the earthquake * in the dayes of Oziah king of Juda: and the Lorde my God ſhall come, and all the ſaints with him.

6 In that day ſhal there be no cleare light, but darke.

7 This ſhalbe ẏ ſpecial day which is knowen vnto the Lorde, neither day nor night: but about the euening time it ſhalbe light.

8 In that time ſhal there waters of life runne out from Hieruſalem: the halfe part of them towarde the Eaſt ſea, and the other halfe toward the vttermoſt ſea, and ſhall cōtinue both ſommer and winter.

9 And the Lord him ſelfe ſhall be king ouer all the earth: At that time ſhal there be one Lord onely, and his name ſhalbe but one.

10 All the land ſhal be turned as a plaine from Gibea to Remmon towards ẏ South of Hieruſalem: She ſhalbe ſet vp, & inhabited in her place, from Beniamins port, vnto ẏ place of the firſt port, & vnto ẏ corner port, & from the towre of Hananeel vnto ẏ kings wine preſſes.

11 There ſhal men dwel, & there ſhalbe no more deſtructiō, but Jeruſalē ſhalbe ſafely inhabited.

12 This ſhal be ẏ plague wherwith ẏ Lord wil ſmite al people that haue fought againſt Hieruſalē, their fleſh ſhall conſume away, though they ſtand vpon their feete, their eyes ſhall be corrupt in their holes, and their tongue ſhall conſume in their mouth.

13 In that day ſhal the Lorde make a great ſedition among them: ſo that one man ſhal take another by the hand, and lay his hands vpon the hands of his neighbour.

14 Juda ſhal fight againſt Hieruſalem, and the armies of al ẏ heathen ſhall be gathered together round about with golde and ſiluer, and a very great multitude of apparell.

15 And this plague ſhal go ouer horſes, mules, camels, aſſes, and all the beaſtes that ſhalbe in the hoſt, like as yonder plague was.

16 Euery one ẏ remaineth then of all ẏ people which came againſt Hieruſalē, ſhal go vp yere by yere to worſhip ẏ king [euen] the Lord of hoſtes, and to keepe the feaſt of tabernacles.

17 And looke what generatiō vpon ẏ earth goeth not to Hieruſalē for to worſhip ẏ king the Lord of hoſts, vpon ẏ ſame ſhal come no raine.

18 If the kinred of Egypt go not vp, and come not, it ſhal not [rayne] vpon them: This ſhal be the plague wherewith the Lord will ſmite all the heathen that come not vp to keepe the feaſt of tabernacles, 19 Yea this ſhall be the plague of Egypt, and the plague of all people ẏ goe not vp to keepe the feaſt of tabernacles.

20 At that time ſhall the riding geare of ẏ horſes be holy vnto ẏ Lord: ẏ kettles in ẏ Lords houſe ſhalbe like the baſons before the altar.

21 Yea, all the kettles in Hieruſalem and Juda ſhalbe holy vnto the Lord of hoſtes: and all they that ſlay offerings, ſhal come and take of them, & ſeethe therein: And at that time there ſhall be no more Chanaanites in the houſe of the Lord of hoſtes.

The booke of the Prophet Malachias.

The firſt Chapter.

A complaint againſt Iſrael, and chiefly the Prieſts.

a That is, the grieuous and threatning prophecie.

1 THe a burden of the worde of the Lord to Iſrael, by the miniſterie of Malachi.

2 I haue loued you, ſayeth the Lord: yet ye ſay, Wherein haſt thou loued vs? b Was not Eſau Jacobs brother, ſaith the Lord? * yet loued I Jacob.

b In our election is Gods great loue to vs ward declared. Rom.9.13.

3 And I hated Eſau, & made his mountaines waſte, & his heritage a wildernes for dragons.

4 Though Edom ſay, We are impouriſhed, but we wil returne and build the deſolate places: yet ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes, They ſhall build, but I will deſtroy: and they ſhall call them, The border of wickednes, & the people with whom the Lord is angry for euer.

5 And your eyes ſhall ſee: and you ſhall ſay, The Lord will be magnified vpō the borders of Iſrael.

6 A ſonne honoureth his father, & a ſeruāt his maſter: If then I be a father, where is mine honour? If I be a maſter, where is my feare, ſayth the Lorde God of hoſtes to you, O ye prieſts ẏ deſpiſe my name? & ye ſay, Wherein haue we deſpiſed thy name?

c Impure ſacrifices: for by bread in ſcripture, are ſignified all things that nourish.

7 Ye offer vpon mine altar [c] vncleane bread, & ſay, Wherin haue we polluted thee? In that ye ſay, The table of the Lorde is not to be regarded.

8 When ye bring the blinde for ſacrifice, [you ſay] it is not euil: & when ye bring ẏ lame and ſicke, [you ſay] it is not euil: offer it now [d] to thy prince, will he be content with thee, or accept thy perſon, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes?

d Thou offereſt that to me, which thou art aſhamed to giue to a mortall man, ſo greatly doeſt thou contemne my lawe.

9 And now I pray you, pray before God, that he may haue mercy vpon vs (this [euil] hath bene done by your meanes) will hee regarde your perſons, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes?

10 Who is there euen among you that would ſhut the doores, and kindle not fire on mine altar in vaine? [e] I haue no pleaſure in you, ſaith the Lorde of hoſtes, neither will I accept an offering at your hand.

e Againſt all thoſe that followe religion for lucres ſake.

11 From the riſing of the ſunne vnto the going downe of the ſame, my name is great among the Gentiles, and in euery place [f] incenſe ſhal be offered to my name, and a pure offering: for my name is great among the very heathen, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes.

f All nations ſhall call vpon my name: for incenſe doeth ſignifie the worſhip of God.

12 But ye haue [g] polluted it, in that ye ſay, The table of the Lorde is polluted, and the ‖ fruite thereof, [euē] his meat is not to be regarded.

g The Gentiles ſhall honour me: but you defile my name. Thus are you farre worſe thē they, whome you iudge moſt vile.

‖ Or, Word.

13 And ye ſaid, Behold, [it is] a wearines, and you haue ſnuffed at it, ſaith the Lord of hoſts, and ye haue offered the ſtolne, & the lame, and the ſicke, ye haue offered an offering, ſhould I accept this of your hands, ſaith the Lord?

14 Curſed bee the deceitfull which hath in his flocke a male, & voweth, and ſacrificeth a corrupt thing to the Lord: becauſe I am a great king, ſaith the Lord of hoſts, and my name is fearefull among the heathen.

The ii. Chapter.

Threatnings againſt the prieſtes, being ſeducers of the people.

1 AND nowe, O ye prieſts, this commandement is for you.

Leui. 26. 14. deu. 28. 15.

2 * If ye will not heare it, nor regarde it, to giue the glory to my name, ſayth the Lord of hoſtes, I will ſende a curſe vpon you, and wil curſe your bleſſings, yea, I haue curſed them already, becauſe ye do not conſider it in your heart.

a God is the author of ſcarſitie, leſt they ſhoulde impute it to any other cauſe.

3 Behold, I will [a] corrupt your ſeede, and caſt [b] doung on your faces, [euen] the doung of your ſolemne feaſts, & you ſhalbe like vnto it.

b I will bring you to confuſion & ſhame.

4 And you ſhall knowe that I haue ſent this commandement vnto you, that my couenant which I haue made with Leui might ſtande, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes.

5 My couenant was with him of life & peace, and I gaue thē him [for] the feare wherwith he feared me, & was afraide before my name.

6 The lawe of trueth was in his mouth, and there was no iniquitie found in his lippes, he [c] walked with mee [d] in peace and in [c] equitie, and he turned many from their iniquitie.

c To walke with God, is to walke according to his will.

d Towardes God and towards men.

e All peace is not commended, but that which is in equitie: the conſent of the wicked is to be auoyded, becauſe it is not in truth.

7 [f] For the Prieſts lippes ſhall keepe knowledge, & they ſhal ſeeke the law at his mouth: becauſe he is ẏ meſſenger of the Lord of hoſts.

f The Prieſt therefore muſt be learned in the law, otherwiſe the people ſeeke an anſwere at his mouth in vaine. Ephe. 5. 6.

8 But ye haue gone out of ẏ way, ye haue cauſed many to fall by ẏ lawe, ye haue corrupted the couenant of Leui, ſaith the Lord of hoſts.

9 Therefore haue I alſo made you deſpiſed & vile before all ẏ people, becauſe you kept not my wayes, but haue bene parciall in the law.

10 * Haue we not all one father? hath not God made vs al? why thē is euery one deceiued of his brother, to violate the couenant of our fathers?

11 Juda hath offended, & abomination is cōmitted in Iſrael & in Hieruſalem: for Juda hath defiled ẏ holines of the Lord which he loued, & hath maried the daughter of a ſtrange god.

12 The Lorde will deſtroy the man that doeth this, both the ‖ rayſer vp, & the anſwerer out of the tabernacle of Jacob, and him that offereth an offering vnto the Lord of hoſtes.

‖ Or, the queſtion mouer.

13 [g] And this againe haue ye done in couering the altar of the Lorde with teares, with weeping and mourning, and therefore there is no more reſpect to the offering, neyther acceptable receiuing of it at your handes.

g Not contented with one wickednelle, you wilfully fall into another.

14 Yet ye ſay, Wherein? Becauſe the Lorde hath bene witneſſe betweene thee and ẏ wife of thy youth, againſt whome thou haſt tranſgreſſed, yet is ſhe thine owne companion, and the wife of thy couenant.

15 And did not he make one? yet had he abundance of ſpirit: And wherefore one? becauſe he ſought a godly ſeede: therefore keepe your ſelues in your ſpirit, and let none tranſgreſſe againſt the wife of his youth.

16 If thou hateſt her, put her away, ſaith ẏ Lord God of Iſrael: yet he couereth the iniurie vnder his garment, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, and be ye kept in your ſpirit, and tranſgreſſe not.

17 Ye haue wearied ẏ Lord with your words, & you haue ſaid, Wherin haue we wearied him? Whileſt you ſay, Euery one that doeth euill, is good in the ſight of the Lorde, & he is pleaſed in them: or where is ẏ God of iudgemēt?

The iii. Chapter.

Of the meſſenger of the Lord Iohn Baptiſt, & of Chriſts office.

1 Behold,

Mat.11.10. mar. 1.2. luk.7.27.

1 BEhold, * I will send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me, and the Lord [a] whom ye seeke, shall speedily come to his Temple, & the messenger of the couenant whom ye desire, behold, he commeth, sayth the Lord of hostes.

a Christ not the sole God, but very God, for he is the Lord and worshipped king.

2 But who may abide the day of his cõming? and who shal stand when he appeareth? for he is like a purging fyre, and like Fullers sope.

3 And he shal sit downe to try & fine the siluer, and he shall purge the children of Leui, and purifie them as gold and siluer: and they shall bring vnto ỹ Lord offrings in righteousnes.

4 Then shal the [b] offerings of Iuda & Hierusalem be acceptable vnto the Lorde as in olde time, and as in the yeeres afore.

b When Christ shal haue clensed vs, and reconciled them to his father againe, then shall their seruice be accepted.

5 And I will come neere vnto you in iudgement, & I will be a [c] swift witnes against the [d] soothsaiers, & against ỹ adulterers, & against false swearers, & against those ỹ wrongfully keepe backe ỹ hirelings wages, & vexe ỹ widow & the fatherlesse, & oppresse ỹ stranger, & feare not me, saith the Lord of hostes.

c Offenders thinke themselues safe, if they may denie their fault, but when the iudge himselfe is a witnesse against them, they shall not escape.

d Soothsaying not inferiour to adulteries, swearing, and such like vices, with whom it is here numbred.

6 For I am the Lorde, I change not: and yee sonnes of Iacob are not consumed.

7 From the dayes of your fathers ye are gone away from mine ordinances, & haue not kept [them:] turne you to me, and I wil turne to you, sayeth the Lorde of hostes. And ye sayde, Wherein shall we returne?

8 Will a man [e] spoyle his gods? yet ye haue spoyled me, & ye say, Wherein haue we spoiled thee? In tythes and offerings.

e Such regard hath God to his ministers and poore members, that he thinketh him selfe robbed when they are defrauded.

9 Ye are cursed with a curse, and mee haue ye spoyled, euen this whole nation.

10 Bring euery tythe into the store house, that there may be meate in mine house, and proue me withall, saith the Lord of hostes, if I will not open the windowes of heauen vnto you, & powre you out a blessing without measure.

11 And I will reproue the deuourer for your sakes, and he shal not destroy the fruite of the ground, neither shall your vine bee barren in the fielde, sayth the Lord of hostes.

12 And all nations shal cal you blessed: because you shalbe a pleasãt land, saith ỹ Lord of hosts.

13 * Your words haue bene stoute against mee, saith the Lorde: and you saide, Wherein haue we spoken against thee? Iob.21.14.

14 Ye haue said, [It is but] vaine to serue God, and what profit [is it] that we haue kept his commandement, and that wee haue walked humbly before the face of the Lord of hostes?

15 And now we call the proude happie: yea, the workers of wickednesse are set vp, & also they that tempt God, yea, they are deliuered.

16 Then they that feared God, saide euery one to his neighbour: & the Lorde considered and heard, & there was written a booke of remẽbrance before him, for thẽ that feared ỹ Lorde, and for them that thinke vpon his name.

17 And they shalbe to me, saith ỹ Lord of hosts, in that day wherein I shall do [iudgement] a flocke, and I will spare thẽ, as a man spareth his owne sonne which serueth him.

18 Then shall ye returne, & discerne betweene the iust and the wicked, betwene him that serueth God, and him that serueth him not.

The iiii. Chapter.

The day of the Lorde, before ỹ which Elias should come.

1 FOr marke, the day commeth burning like an ouen: and all the proude, and all that worke wickednesse shall be stubble, and ỹ day that is for to come shall burne them, saith the Lord of hostes, and shall leaue them neither roote nor branch.

2 * But to you that feare my name shall that sunne of righteousnesse arise, and health shall be vnder his wings: and ye shall go forth, and skip like fat calues. Luke.1.78.

3 And ye shal tread downe ỹ vngodly: for they shalbe dust vnder ỹ soles of your feete in ỹ day that I shall doe this, saith the Lord of hostes.

4 * Remember ỹ lawe of Moses my seruant, which I commanded him in Horeb for all Israel, with the ordinances and iudgements. Exod.20.3.

5 * Behold, I wil send you Elias ỹ Prophet, before the comming of the great and feareful day of the Lord. Mat.17.14.mk. 9.11.luk.1.16.

6 He shal turne the heart of the fathers to their children, & the heart of the children to their fathers, lest I come & smite ỹ earth wt curling.

The third booke of Esdras.

The first Chapter.

1 Iosias appointeth Priests, and keepeth the Passeouer. 7 Offerings for the Priests and the people. 23 The vpright life of Iosias. 53 The destruction of Hierusalem.

2.Chro.35.1. 4.king.23.21.

1 AND Iosias helde * the feast of Easter in Hierusalem vnto his Lord, and offered the Passeouer ỷ fourteenth day of the first moneth.

2 He set the Priests also in order according to their dayly courses, being arayed in long garments, in the temple of the Lorde.

3 And he spake vnto the Leuites the holy ministers of Israel, ỷ they shoulde halow themselues vnto the Lorde, to set the holy arke of the Lord in the house that king Solomon the sonne of Dauid had builded,

4 And saide, Ye shall no more beare the arke vpon your shoulders: and nowe serue the Lorde your God, and take the charge of his people Israel, and prepare you after your villages and tribes,

5 According as king Dauid the king of Israel hath left in writing, & ‖ according as Solomon his sonne hath honourably prepared, & standing eche of you in that degree of auctoritie which in the distribution was appointed vnto your fathers the Leuites, in the presence of your brethren the children of Israel:

‖Or, according to Solomon his sonnes great liberalitie.

6 Offer the Passeouer in order, & make ready the sacrifices for your brethren, and keepe the [Passeouer] according to the commandemẽt of the Lord, which was giuen vnto Moses.

7 And vnto the people that was founde there, Iosias gaue thirtie thousand lambes & kids, and three thousande calues. These things were giuen of the kings owne possessions, according as he promised to the people, to the Priests, and to the Leuites.

8 And Helkias, and Zacharias, & Sielus the gouernours of the temple, gaue to ỷ Priests for the passeouer, two thousand and sixe hundred sheepe, and three hundred calues.

9 Moreouer Iechonias, and Samaias, & Nathanael his brother, & Sabias, and Ochiel, & Ioram, captaines ouer thousandes, gaue to the Leuites for the passeouer, fiue thousande sheepe, and seuen hundred calues.

10 And when these things were brought to passe, the Priests and Leuites stoode goodly in their order, and had the vnleauened bread throughout the tribes, 11 And after the degrees of preeminence appointed to their fathers, to offer to the Lorde in the sight of the people, according as it is written in the booke of Moses: and thus did they in the morning.

12 And they rosted the Easter lambe with fire, as according was: as for the offerings, they digbt them in kettles and pottes with good sauours, 13 And set them before all them of the people, and afterward they prepared for themselues and the Priestes their brethren the sonnes of Aaron.

14 For the Priestes offered the fat, ‖ vntill the time was expired, and the Leuites prepared for themselues, and for the Priests their brethren the children of Aaron.

‖Or, vntill the euening time.

15 The holy singers also ỷ children of Asaph, stoode in their orders according as Dauid deuised, to wit, Asaph, ‖ Zacharias, & Iduthun, which was appointed by the king.

‖Or, Azaras, and Eddimus.

16 Moreouer, the [porters and] doore keepers stoode by the doores [and that diligently,] so that none went out of his ‖ standing and seruices, for their brethren the Leuites prepared for them.

‖Or, his watch, or turne and course.

17 Thus were all things perfourmed that belonged to the offering of the Lord in that day, that they might holde the Passeouer, 18 And offer sacrifices vpon the altar of the Lorde, according to the commandement of king Iosias.

19 So the children of Israel which were then present, held an [honourable] Passeouer, and the feast of sweete bread seuen dayes long:

20 Yea, such a Passeouer was not kept in Israel, from the time of the Prophet Samuel.

21 And all the kings of Israel helde not such an Easter as this which king Iosias helde, and the Priestes, the Leuites, the Iewes, and all Israel, of all them that ‖ were at Hierusalem.

‖ Or, founde dwelling at Hierusalem.

22 In the eighteenth yeere of the reigne of Iosias was this Passeouer kept.

23 And with an heart full of godlines did king Iosias rightly order all his workes before the Lorde.

24 And the things ỷ came to passe in his time, they were written of olde before those dayes, concerning those that sinned, and were vngodly against the Lord aboue all people and kingdomes, and how they grieued him in seruing sensible things, so that the words of the Lord rose vp against Israel.

25 Now after al these actes of Iosias, it came to passe ỷ Pharao the king of Egypt came to Charcamis vpõ Euphrates, to moue warre: and Iosias went out against him.

26 But the king of Egypt sent to him, saying, What haue I to doe with thee, O king of

Juda:

27 I am not sent of the Lorde God against thee, for my warre is vpon Euphrates, and now the Lord is with me, yea, the Lorde maketh diligent ‖ speede with me: depart from me, and be not against the Lord.

‖ Or, haste.

28 Howbeit Josias would not turne backe his chariot from him, but vndertooke to fight with him, and hearkened not to the wordes of the Prophet Jeremie spoken by the mouth of the Lord:

29 But pitched a battaile against him in the fielde of ‖ Mageddo: and the princes preased to king Josias.

‖ Or, Megiddo.

30 Then said the king vnto his seruants, Cary me away out of the battaile, for I am verie weake. And immediatly his seruantes tooke him away out of the front of the battaile.

31 Then gate he vp vpon his seconde charret, came to Hierusalem, died, and was buried in his fathers sepulchre.

32 And in all Jurie they mourned for Josias, yea Jeremie the Prophet lamented for Josias, and the rulers also with their wiues made lamentation for him vnto this day, and it became a custome to be done continually in all the kinred of Israel.

33 These things are written in the booke of the stories of the kings of Juda: and all the actes of Josias, and his glory, and vnderstanding in the lawe of the Lorde, and the things which he had done before, and that was nowe [recited,] are written in the booke of the kings of Israel and Juda.

34 And the people tooke Jechonias the sonne of Josias, and made him king in steade of Josias his father, when he was twentie and three yeeres olde.

35 And he reigned in Juda and in Hierusalem three moneths: & then the king of Egypt put him downe frō reigning in Hierusalem:

36 And raised vp a taxe of the people, namely an hundred talentes of siluer, and one talent of golde.

37 The king of Egypt also made Joacim his brother king of Juda and Hierusalem.

a This place is corrupt, & thus it seemeth to be: As for Joacim and his rulers he bound, and hauing taken his brother Zaracen, led them awap into Egypt.

38 [a] And [thus] he ‖ bound Joacim & his gouernours: but Zaracen his brother he apprehended, and led away with him into Egypt.

‖ Or, established.

39 Five and twentie yeeres olde was Joacim when he was made king in the lande of Juda and Hierusalem, and he did euill before the Lorde.

40 Wherefore against him Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon came vp, and bound him with bandes of yron, and caryed him vnto Babylon.

41 Nabuchodonosor also tooke of the holy vessels of the Lord, caried them away, & set them in his owne temple at Babylon.

42 But all his actes, and his prophanation and reproch, are written in the Chronicles of the kings.

43 And Joachin his sonne reigned in his steade. He was made king being eyghteene yeeres olde, 44 And reigned but three moneths and tenne dayes in Hierusalem, and did euill before the Lorde.

45 So after a yeere Nabuchodonosor sent, and caused him to be brought vnto Babylon with the holy vessels of the Lorde, 46 And made Zedechias king of Juda and Hierusalem when he was twentie and one yeeres olde, and he reigned eleuen yeeres.

47 * And he did euill also in the sight of the Lord, and cared not for the wordes that were spoken vnto him by the Prophet Jeremie from the mouth of the Lorde.

Iere. 38. 21.

48 And where he had made an othe vnto king Nabuchodonosor, he forswore himselfe by the name of the Lord, and hardened his necke and heart, and transgressed the lawes of the Lorde God of Israel.

49 The gouernours also of the people and priests did many things against the lawes, and passed all the pollutions of all nations, and defiled the temple of the Lord which was sanctified in Hierusalem.

50 Wherefore the God of their fathers sent [b] his messenger to cal them backe, because he spared them and his tabernacle also.

b Meaning, Jeremie.

51 But they had his messengers in derision: and looke when the Lorde spake vnto them, they made a sport of his Prophets.

52 This drewe on so long till the Lorde was wroth with his people for their great vngodlinesse, so that he caused the kings of the Chaldees to come vp against them:

53 Which slue their young men with the sword, yea, ‖ euen in the compasse of their holy temple, and spared no body, neither young man nor maiden, olde man nor childe among them.

‖ Or, round about their.

54 But they were all deliuered into their handes, and all the holy vessels of the Lorde both great and small, with the vessels of the arke of God: and they tooke and carried away the kings treasure into Babylon.

55 As for the house of the Lorde, they went vp into it, & burnt it, brake downe the walles of Hierusalem, set fire vpon her towres,

56 Destroyed all her ‖ noble buildings, and brought them to nought, and the people that were not slaine with the sworde, he caried vnto Babylon:

‖ Or, precious things.

57 Which became seruantes to him and his children, till the Persians reigned, to fulfill the word of the Lord [spoken] by the mouth of Jeremias:

58 Till the lande had fully ‖ taken her ease from them, which tooke that ease all the time

‖ Or, kept her Sabboths.

she lacked her inhabitants, to the ende and terme of seuentie yeeres.

The ii. Chapter.

1 Cyrus gaue leaue to the Iewes to returne. 13 The names of thē that returned. 16 Their aduersaries did let their building: 17 & the kings letters for the same.

1 NOwe when king Cyrus reigned ouer the Persians in his first yeere, when the Lord would performe the worde that he had promised by the mouth of [the Prophet] Jeremie:

2 The Lorde raised vp the spirite of Cyrus the king of the Persians, so that he caused this writing to be proclaimed throughout his whole Realme,

3 Saying, Thus sayeth Cyrus king of the Persians, The Lorde of Israel, that high Lorde, hath made mee king of the whole worlde:

4 And commaunded mee to builde him an house at Hierusalem in Jurie.

5 If there be any nowe of you that are of his people, let the Lorde, euen his Lorde, bee with him, and let him goe vp to Hierusalem that is in Judea, and builde the house of the Lorde of Israel, that is, the Lorde that dwelleth in Hierusalem.

6 And all they that dwell rounde about that place shall helpe him, all that dwell in his place I say, whether it be with golde, with siluer,

7 With giftes, with horses, and necessarie cattell, and all other things that are brought with a free will to the ‖ house of the Lorde at Hierusalem.

‖ Or, temple.

8 Then the principall men out of the tribes and villages of Juda and Beniamin stoode vp: so did the priestes also and the Leuites, and al they whose mind the Lord had moued to goe vp, and to build the house of the Lorde at Hierusalem.

9 And they that dwelt about them, helped them in all things, with siluer and golde, horses, and cattell, and with ‖ many free giftes of many men, whose mindes were stirred vp thereto.

‖ Or, sundrie vowes of sundrie men.

10 King Cyrus also brought forth the vessels and ornaments that were halowed vnto the Lorde, which Nabuchodonosor had caried away from Hierusalem, and consecrated them to his idole [and image.]

11 And hauing brought them forth, hee deliuered them to Mithridates his treasurer.

12 And by him they were deliuered to Abassar the deputie in Jurie.

13 And this was the number of them: a thousand golden cuppes, and a thousand of siluer, basons of siluer twentie and nine for the sacrifices, vialles of golde thirtie, and of siluer two thousand, foure hundred and ten, and a thousand other vessels.

14 So all the vessels of golde and siluer which were caried away, were fiue thousand, foure hundred, three score and nine.

15 These were brought by Salmanasar, with them of the captiuitie, from Babylon to Hierusalem.

16 But in the time of Artaxerxes king of the Persians, Belemus and Mithridates, and Tabelius, and Rathumus, & Beeltethmus, and Semellius the secretarie, with other that were ioyned to them, dwelling in Samaria and other places, wrote vnto him agaynst them that dwelt in Judea and Hierusalem, these letters folowing: [To the king Artaxerxes our Lord.]

17 Thy seruants, Rathumus the storie writer, and Semellius the Secretarie, and the rest of their counsell, and the iudges that are in Coelosyria and Phenice:

18 Bee it nowe knowen vnto our lorde the king, that the Jewes which are come vp from you vnto vs, into the rebellious and wicked citie, begin to builde the market places, and to make vp the walles about it, and to set vp the temple anewe.

19 Nowe if this citie, and the walles thereof be set vp againe, they shall not onely refuse to giue tributes [and taxes,] but also rebell vterly agaynst kings.

20 And for so much as they take this in hande nowe about the temple, we thought it reason to thinke no scorne of it:

21 But to shewe it vnto the lorde the king, to the intent that if it please the king, hee may cause it to be sought in the bookes of olde,

22 And thou shalt finde in recordes hereof written, and shalt vnderstande that this citie hath alway bene rebellious and disobedient, that it hath troubled kings and cities,

23 And that the Jewes were rebellious, and raised alwayes warres therein: for the which cause this citie is wasted.

24 Wherefore nowe wee certifie our lorde the king, that if this citie be builded [and occupied] againe, and the walles thereof set vp anewe, thou canst haue no passage into Coelosyria and Phenice.

25 Then wrote the king to Rathumus the ‖ storie writer, to Beeltethmus, to Semellius the Scribe, and to the other officers and dwellers in Samaria, and Syria, and Phenice, after this maner.

‖ Or, register.

26 I haue read the Epistle which yee sent vnto me: therefore I commaunded to make diligent search, and haue found that this citie hath euer resisted kings, 27 That the same people are disobedient, and haue caused much warre, and that mightie kings haue reigned in Hierusalem, which also haue raysed vp taxes of Coelosyria and Phenice.

28 Wherefore I haue commanded to forbid those men that they shall not builde vp the citie, and heede to be taken that there be no more done in it:

29 And that they proceede no further in those wicked workes, for so much as it might be occasion of trouble vnto Princes.

30 Now when Rathumus and Semellius the Scribe had read the writing of king Artaxerxes, they gate them together, and came in all the haste to Hierusalem, with an host of horsemen, and with much people on foote, 31 And forbade them to builde: and so they left off from building of the temple, vnto the seconde yeere of king Darius, king of the Persians.

The iii. Chapter.

1 The feast of Darius. 16 The three wise sentences.

1 KIng Darius made a great feast vnto his ‖ seruantes, vnto all his court, and to all the officers of Media and Persia,

‖ Or, subiectes.

2 Yea, to all the gouernours and captaines, and Lieutenãts that were vnder him, from India vnto Ethiopia, an hundred and twentie and seuen ‖ countreyes.

3 So when they had eaten and dronken, being satisfied, and were gone home againe, Darius the King went into his chamber, laide him downe to sleepe, and after that awaked.

4 Then the three young men that ‖ kept the kings person, and watched his body, [communed among themselues, and] spake one to another,

‖ Or, were of the garde.

5 Let euery one of vs speake a sentence, and looke who shal ouercome, and whose sentence may seeme wiser then the others, vnto him shall king Darius giue great giftes, & great things in token of victorie:

6 As to weare purple, to drinke in golde, and to sleepe in golde, and a charriot with bridles of golde, and an ‖ head tyre of fine linnen, and a chaine about his necke:

‖ Or, a silken bonnet.

7 Yea, he shall sitte next to Darius, because of his wisedome, and shall be called Darius cousin.

8 So euery one wrote his ‖ meaning, sealed it, and laide it vnder king Darius pillow, ‖ Or, sentence.

9 And saide, When the King ariseth, they woulde giue him the writings, and looke whose worde the king and the three princes of Persia shall iudge to be the most wisely spoken, the same shall haue the victorie as it was appointed.

10 One wrote, Wine is a strong thing.

11 The second wrote, The king is strong.

12 The third wrote, Women haue very much strength, but aboue all things, the trueth beareth away the victorie.

13 Nowe when the king was risen vp, they tooke their writings, and deliuered them vnto him, and so he read them.

14 Then sent he foorth to call all his chiefe lords of Persia and of Media, and the rulers, and the captaines, and Lieutenantes, and consuls:

15 And when he had set him downe in the counsel, the writings were read before them.

16 And he commanded to call for the young men, ẏ they might declare their ‖ meanings themselues by mouth. So they were sent for, and came in.

‖ Or, sentences.

17 And then he sayde vnto them, Shewe vs, and make vs to vnderstande what the things are that ye haue written. Then began the first, which had spoken of the strength of wine,

18 And saide thus, O ye men, howe strong is wine, that deceiueth all men which drinke it:

19 It maketh the kings minde and the fatherlesse to be both one, the bondmans, and the free, the poore mans, and the rich.

20 It turneth also euery thought into ioy and gladnesse, so that a man remembreth neither heauinesse nor debt.

21 And it maketh euery heart [thinke it selfe] rich, so that a man remembreth neither king nor gouernour, and it maketh to speake all things by talents.

22 Moreouer, when men haue dronke, they forget all friendship and brotherly faithfulnesse, and a litle after they drawe out swordes:

23 And afterwardes when they are from the wine, they remember nothing what was done.

24 O ye men, is not wine the strongest, that thus enforceth [men] to doe? And when he had spoken this, he helde his peace.

The iiii. Chapter.

1 Of the strength of a king. 13 Of the strength of women. 34 Of the strength of trueth, which sentence is approoued, 47 and his petition graunted.

1 THen the second that had spoken of the strength of the king, began to say,

2 O ye men, are not men the strongest of all, that conquer both by lande and sea, and all the things that are in them?

3 Nowe is the king stronger, as lorde of all these things, and that hath the dominion ouer them: and looke what he commandeth them, it is all done.

4 If he bid them the one against the other to make warre, they doe it: if he send them out against the enemies, they go, & breake downe mountaines, walles, and towres.

5 They slay and are slaine, and ouerpasse not the kings commandement: if they get the victorie, they bring all to the king, so well the spoyle as other things.

6 Likewise the other that meddle not with warres and fighting, but tyll the grounde:

when they haue sowen and reaped, they bring to the king, and compell one another to pay his tribute vnto the king.

7 And if the king, though he be but one man, commaund to kill, they kill, if he commaund to ‖ forgiue, they forgiue:

‖ Or, to spare, they spare.

8 If he commaund to smite, they smite, if he bidde ‖ driue away, they driue away, if he command to build, they build:

‖ Or, make waste, they make waste.

9 If hee commaunde to breake downe, they breake downe, if he commaund to plant, they plant.

‖ Or, so all his people & all his armies obey vnto one.

10 ‖ So the common people and the rulers are obedient vnto him, and the king in the meane season sitteth him downe, eateth and drinketh, and taketh his rest.

11 And these keepe him round about, and not one of them dare get him out of the way to do his owne busines, ‖ but must be obedient vnto the king at a word.

‖ Or, neither dis. obey they him in any thing.

12 Iudge ye now, O ye men, howe should not the king goe farre aboue, when in such sort he is obeyed? And [when he had spoken thus,] he helde his tongue.

13 The thirde, whose name was Zorobabel, which had spoken of women, and of trueth, began to say [after this maner.]

14 O ye men, it is not the great king, it is not the multitude of men, neither is it wine that excelleth. Who is it then that ruleth them, or hath the lordship ouer them? is it not women?

15 Women haue borne the king, and all the people which beare rule by sea and by land.

16 And euen of them were they borne, and they brought those vp that planted the vines, whereof the wine commeth.

17 They make garments for men, they get honour vnto men, and without women can not men continue.

18 Yea, if they haue gathered together golde and siluer, or any other precious thing, doe they not loue a woman for her comely shape and beautie?

19 And letting all those things goe, doe they not gape, and euen with open mouth fixe their eyes fast on her? & haue not all men more desire vnto her, then vnto siluer and gold, or any maner of precious thing?

20 A man leaueth his owne father ỹ brought him vp, leaueth his owne naturall countrey, and cleaueth vnto his wife.

21 Yea, he ‖ ieopardeth his life with his wife, and remembreth neither father nor mother, nor countrey.

22 By this also yee must needes knowe, that women haue dominion ouer you: doe ye not labour and trauaile, and giue and bring all to the woman?

23 A man taketh his sword, and goeth his way to steale, [to kill,] to murther, to saile vpon the sea, and vpon riuers, 24 And seeth a Lion, and goeth in the darkenesse: and when hee hath stollen, ‖ deceyued, and robbed, he bringeth it vnto his loue.

‖ Or, spoyled.

25 Wherefore a man loueth his wife better then father and mother:

26 Yea, many there bee that runne out of their wittes, and become bondmen for their ‖ wiues sake.

‖ Or, for womens sakes.

27 Many one also haue perished, haue erred, & sinned also for women.

28 And nowe doe ye not beleeue me? is not the king great in his power? doe not all regions feare to touche him?

29 Yet did I see him, and Apame the daughter of the great King Bartacus the kings concubine, sate beside the king vpon the right hand, 30 And tooke off his crowne from his head, and set it vpon her owne head, and stroke the king with her left hand.

31 And therewhile steadily the king looked vpon her with open mouth: if she laughed vpon him, he laughed also: but if she tooke any displeasure with him, the king was faine to flatter her [and to giue her good words,] til he had gotten her fauour againe.

32 O ye men, are not women then stronger, that doe these things?

33 Then the king and the princes looked one vpon another: so he began to speake of the trueth.

34 O ye men, are not women stronger? Great is the earth, high is the heauen, swift is the course of the sunne, he compasseth the heauens rounde about, and fetcheth his course againe to his owne place in one day.

35 Is he not excellent ỹ maketh these things? therefore great is the trueth, and stronger then all things.

36 All the earth calleth vpon trueth, the heauen praiseth it, all workes shake and tremble at it, and with it is no vnrighteous thing.

37 Wine is wicked, the king is wicked, women are wicked, all the children of men are wicked, yea, and such are all their wicked workes, and there is no trueth in them, in their vnrighteousnesse also shall they [be destroyed and] perish:

38 As for the trueth it endureth, and is alway strong, it liueth, and conquereth for euermore world without ende.

39 With her there is no exception or difference of persons, but she doeth that iust is, and refrayneth from all vniust and wicked things, & all men doe well like of her works.

40 In the iudgement of it there is no vnrighteous thing, and she is the strength, kingdome, power, and maiestie of all ages. Blessed be the God of trueth.

41 And with that he helde his peace: and al the people cryed, and then sayde, Great is trueth, and aboue all.

42 Then saide the king vnto him, Aske what thou wilt, more then is appointed in the writing, & we shal giue it thee, for thou art found wiser [thē thy cōpanions,] thou shalt sit next me, and shalt be called my kinsman.

43 Then sayde he vnto the king, Remember thy [promise and] vowe which thou hast vowed [and promised] in the day when thou camest to the kingdome, to builde vp Hierusalem:

44 And to sende againe all the vesselles [and iewels] that were taken away out of Hierusalem, which Cyrus set apart whē he vowed to destroy Babylon, and to send them againe thither.

45 And thy minde was also to builde vp the temple, which the Edomites burnt, when Iuda was destroyed by the Chaldees.

46 And nowe this onely [O king] is the thing that I require and desire of thee, this is the princely liberalitie that I aske of thee, I desire therefore, that thou performe the vowe, which thou with thine own mouth hast made vnto the king of heauen.

47 Then Darius the king stoode vp, and kissed him, wrote him letters vnto all the deputies and lieutenants, to all the lordes and nobles, that they shoulde conuey him foorth, and all them that went vp with him, to build Hierusalem.

48 He wrote letters also vnto al the lieutenāts that were in Coelosyria and Phenices, and vnto them in Libanus, that they should bring Cedar trees from Libanus vnto Hierusalem, and build the citie with him.

49 Moreouer, he wrote for all the Iewes that were gone out of his ‖ realme into Iurie concerning their freedome, that no officer, no ruler, no lieutenant, nor stewarde, should enter into their doores: ‖ Or, kingdome.

50 And that all their lande which they kept, should be free, and not tributarie: and that the Edomites shoulde giue ouer the [cities and] villages of the Iewes which they had taken in:

51 Yea, and that there should be yeerely giuen twenty talents to the building of the temple, vntill the time that it were finished:

52 And to maintaine the whole burnt offerings vpon the altar euery day (as they had a commandement to offer seuenteene) other ten talents euery yeere.

53 And that all they which came from Babylon to build the citie, should haue free libertie, they and their children, and al the priests that went away.

54 He wrote also concerning the charges, and the priests garment wherein they minister, 55 And likewise for the charges of the Leuites, to bee giuen them, vntill the day that the house were finished, and Hierusalem builded vp.

56 And he commanded, that all they that watched the citie, should haue their pensions and wages.

57 He sent away also all the vessels that Cyrus had separated from Babylon: and all that Cyrus had giuen in commaundement, the same charged he also that it should bee done, and sent vnto Hierusalem.

58 Nowe when this young man was gone foorth, hee lifted vp his face to heauen towarde Hierusalem, and prayed the king of heauen, 59 And said, of thee commeth victorie, of thee commeth wisedome, and thine is the glorie, and I am thy seruant.

60 Blessed art thou which hast giuen me wisedome, for to thee I acknowledge it, O Lorde [thou God] of our fathers.

61 And so he tooke the letters, and went out, and came vnto Babylon, and tolde it all his brethren.

62 And they praised the God of their fathers, ỹ he had giuen them freedome and libertie, 63 To go vp, and to build Hierusalem and the temple, ‖ wherein the name of the Lord is called vpon: and they reioyced with instruments of musike and gladnesse seuen dayes long. ‖ Or, where his name is renowmed.

The v. Chapter.

1 The number of them that returne from the captiuitie. 42 Their vowes and sacrifices. 54 The temple is begunne to be built. 66 Their enemies woulde craftily ioyne with them.

1 AFter this, were the *principall men of the houses of their fathers chosen in their tribes & kinreds, that they should goe with their wiues, and sonnes, and daughters, with their seruants and maidens, with all their cattell and substance. * 1. Esdr. 2. 1.

2 And Darius [the king] sent with them a thousande horsemen, to conuey them safely vnto Hierusalem, and with musicall instruments, with tabrets, and flutes.

3 And all their brethren played, and he made them goe vp together with them.

4 And these are the names of the men which went vp out of the villages, according to the tribes, and after the order of their dignitie.

39 And was named after him: The writing of the same kinred was sought in the register of their generation, but it was not found, and therefore were they forbidden to execute the office of the priesthood.

40 For vnto them said Nehemias and Atharias, that they should haue no portiõ in the sanctuarie, till there rose vp an high priest that were well instruct in the plaine clearenesse and trueth.

41 So of Israel from them of twelue yeeres olde, and children, they were all in number fourtie and two thousand, three hundred and threescore, besides men seruants and women seruants.

42 Their seruants and handmaidens, were seuen thousand three hundred fourtie and seuen. The singing men and singing women, two hundred fourtie and fiue, 45 And to giue into the holy treasure of the workes, a thousand pounds of gold, fiue thousand of siluer, and an hundred precious garments.

46 And so dwelt the Priests and the Leuites, and the people in Hierusalem, and in the countrey [thereabout,] the singers also and the porters, and all Israel in their villages.

47 But when the seuenth moneth came, and when the children of Israel were euery man in his owne, they came all together with one consent into the open place of the gate, which is towards the East.

48 And there Jesus the sonne of Josedec, and his brethren the priests, and Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel and his brethren, rising vp, made ready the altar of the God of Israel, 49 To offer whole burnt sacrifices vpon it, so as it is written in the lawe of Moses the man of God.

50 And thither were gathered against them, diuers of other nations of the land: but they builded the altar in his owne place, although all the nations in the land were enemies to them, and vexed them: and they offered sacrifices to the Lord both morning and euening.

51 And also they held the feast of tabernacles as it is ‖ commanded in the law, and sacrifices daily as it was appertaining.

52 And after that also the continual oblations, and the offrings of the Sabboths, and of the new moneths, and of all holy feasts.

53 And all they which had made any vowe to God, began to offer sacrifice to God, from the first day of the seuenth moneth, although the temple of the Lord was not yet built vp.

54 And they gaue vnto the masons and carpenters, money, meate, and drinke, with cheerefulnesse.

55 Unto them of Sidon also, and Tyre, they gaue carres, that they should bring Cedar trees from Libanus, which should be brought by flote to the hauen Joppe, according as it was commanded them by Cyrus king of the Persians.

56 And in ỹ second yeere and * second moneth, came into the temple of God at Hierusalem, Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, and Jesus the sonne of Josedec, and their brethren, and the Priests and Leuites, & all they that were come vnto Hierusalem out of the captiuitie [of Babylon.] Eccl. 49.15.

57 And they laid the foundation of the house of God, in the ‖ new moone of the second moneth, in the second yeere that they were come to Jurie and Hierusalem. ‖ Or, in the first day.

58 And they appointed the Leuites, that were aboue twentie yeeres old, ouer the workes of the Lord: So Jesus and his sonne and brethren assisted, and Cadmiel also his brother, & the sonnes of Madiabon, with the sonnes of Joda, the sonne of Eliadon, and his sonnes & brethren, eũ all the Leuites with one accord followed on earnestly to aduance the workes in the house of God: so the workemen built vp the temple of the Lord.

59 And the Priestes stoode, and had their garments, with musicall instruments, and trumpets, and the Leuites the sonnes of Asaph had Cymbales, 60 Giuing thanks and praises vnto the Lord, according as Dauid the king of Israel had ordeined.

61 And they sung with loude voyces, songs to the prayse of the Lord, because his mercy and glory is for euer in Israel.

62 And all the people blew out with trumpets, and cried with a loude voyce, praysing ỹ Lord together for the rearing vp of the house of the Lord.

63 There came also from among the Priestes and Leuites, and of the chiefest, according to the tribes & kinreds, to wit, the elders, which had seene the former house,

64 To the building of this, with great cry and great mourning, many also with trumpets & [great] ioy cried with loude voyce:

65 Insomuch that the trumpets might not wel be heard for the weeping and mourning of the people: yet there was a great multitude that blew trumpets marueilously, so that it was

1.Esd.4.3. 66 Wherefore, when the * enemies of ỹ tribes of Juda and Beniamin heard it, they came to know what that noyse of trumpets should meane.

67 And they perceiued that they which were come againe out of captiuitie, built the temple vp anew vnto the Lord God of Israel.

68 So they went to Zorobabel and Jesus, and to the rulers of the villages, and said vnto thē, Shall we build with you also?

69 For we likewise, as you, do obey your Lord, and do sacrifice vnto him, from the dayes of Asbazareth ỹ king of Assyria, which brought vs hither.

70 Then Zorobabel, and Jesus, and the rulers of the villages of Israel said vnto them, It doth not agree that ye should build the temple of our God with vs.

72 But the heathē in the land made them sluggish that were in Jurie, and sundred them, & letted their buildings.

73 And by their embushments, seditions, and conspiracies, stopped that the building could not be finished, all the time that king Cyrus liued, so that they put off the building for the space of two yeeres, vntill the reigne of king Darius.

The vi. Chapter.

1 Of Aggeus & Zacharias. 2 The building of the temple. 3 Sisinnes would let them. 7 His letters to Darius. 23 The kings answere to the contrary.

1.Esd.5.1. 1 NOtwithstanding in the * second yeere of the reigne of Darius, Aggeus and Zacharias the sonne of Jddo the Prophets, prophecied vnto ỹ Jewes, and to them in Jurie and Hierusalem, euen in the name of the Lord God of Israel.

2 Then Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, & Jesus the sonne of Josedec, stood vp, and began to build the house of the Lord at Hierusalem, when the Prophets of the Lord were with them, and helped them.

3 At the same time came Sisinnes the gouernour of Syria and Phenice, with Sathrabuzanes and his companions, and sayd vnto them,

4 Who hath bidden [and commaunded] you to build this house, to make this roofe, and all other things againe? and who are ỹ ‖ workemen that build them?

‖ Or, builders that did these things.

5 Neuertheless, the elders of the Jewes had [such] grace of the Lord, after he had visited the captiuitie,

7 The copie of the letters which he wrote, & sent vnto Darius. Sisinnes gouernour of Syria and Phenice, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, which are head rulers in Syria and Phenice, send their salutation vnto Darius the king.

8 We certifie our Lord ỹ king, that we came into the land of Jurie, and went to Hierusalem, where we found the ancients of ỹ Jewes, that were of the captiuitie, in the citie of Hierusalem, 9 Building an house vnto the Lord, great and new, of hewen and costly stones, and the timber already laid vpon the walles.

10 Yea, they make great haste with the worke, & it goeth forth prosperously in their hands, and with great diligence and worship it is made.

11 Then asked we ỹ elders, saying, By whose commandement build you vp this house, and lay the foundations of these works?

12 Which we demaunded of them, to ỹ intent that we might giue knowledge vnto thee, and write vnto thee of those that gouerned it: and we required of them their names in writing that were their chiefe leaders to it.

13 So they gaue vs this answere, We are the seruants of the Lord, which made heauen and earth.

17 Neuertheless, in the * first yeere that king 1.Esd.5.13.
Cyrus reigned ouer the countries of Babylon, Cyrus the king wrote [and commanded] to build vp this house [againe.]

18 And the holy vessels of gold, and of siluer, that Nabuchodonosor had caried away out of the house at Hierusalem, and had dedicated them in his owne temple: those brought Cyrus forth againe out of the temple at Babylon, and deliuered them to Zorobabel, and to Sanaballarus the ruler:

19 Commaunding him that he should cary away those same vessels, and put them in the temple at Hierusalem, and that the temple of the Lord should be built in his [owne] place.

20 Then the same Sanaballarus being come hither, layd the foundations of the house of the Lord at Hierusalem, and from that to this, being still a building, it is not yet fully ended.

21 Now therefore, O king, if thou thinkest it good, let it bee sought in the libraries [and rolles] of king Cyrus:
22 And if it be found then, that the building of the house of ỹ Lord at Hierusalem hath bene done with the [counsaile and] consent of king Cyrus, and if our lord the king be so minded, let him giue answere vnto vs thereof.
23 Then commanded king Darius to seeke in the kings libraries at Babylon: and so at Ecbatane, a tower in the region of Media, there was found a place where these things were laid vp for ‖ memorie.
‖ Or, remembrance. 2. Esd. 6. 3.
24 *In the first yeere of the reigne of Cyrus, [the same] king Cyrus commanded that the house of the Lorde at Hierusalem should bee builded againe, where they do sacrifice with the continuall fire.
25 Whose height shall be sixtie cubites, and the breadth sixtie cubites, with three rowes of hewen stones, and one rowe of new wood, and of that countrey, and the expences thereof, to be giuen out of the house of king Cyrus:
26 And the holy vessels of the house of ỹ Lord, both of gold & of siluer, that Nabuchodonosor tooke out of the house at Hierusalem, and brought to Babylon, should be restored to the house at Hierusalem, and be set in the place where it was [before.]
27 And also he commanded that Sisinnes the gouernour of Syria and Phenice, & Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, and other constituted rulers in Syria and Phenice, should take heede not to meddle with that place, but to suffer Zorobabel the seruant of the Lord and gouernour of Iuda, and the elders of the Iewes, to build the house of the Lord in that place.
28 I haue commanded also to haue it built vp whole againe, & that they be diligent to helpe those that be of the captiuitie of the Iewes, till the house of the Lord be finished.
29 And out of the tribute of Coelosyria & Phenice, a portion diligently to be giuen those men vnto the offrings of the Lord, & the same to bee deliuered vnto Zorobabel the officer, ỹ he therewithal may ordeine oxen, rammes, and lambes:
30 And also corne, salt, wine, and oyle, & that continually euery yeere, after the expences which the priests that be at Hierusalem shall testifie to be made daily, [this shall be giuen vnto them] without delay:
31 That they may offer sacrifices daily to the highest God for the king and for his children, and to pray for their liues.
32 And he commaunded also, that whosoeuer should breake any point of the foresayd and foredecreed things, or make it voide: of his owne goods should a tree bee taken, and he thereon be hanged, and all his goods sealed vnto the king.
33 The Lord therefore whose name is there called vpon, roote out and destroy euery king and nation that stretcheth out his hand to hinder or [hurt and] endamage that house of the Lord in Hierusalem.
34 I Darius the king haue ordeined, that according to these things it bee done with diligence.

The vii. Chapter.

1 Sisinnes and his companions follow the kings commaundement, and helpe the Iewes to build the temple. 5 The time that it was built. 10 They keepe the Passeouer.

1 THen *Sisinnes the gouernour in Coelosyria and Phenice, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, obeied the things ỹ king Darius had ordeined, 1. Esd. 6. 13.
2 And were diligent assisters in ỹ holy works, working with the ancients and gouernours of the sanctuarie,
3 And so the holy workes went forth and prospered, when Aggeus and Zacharias the Prophets prophecied.
4 And they performed all things through the commandement of the Lord God of Israel, & with consent of Cyrus, Darius, and Artaxerxes, kings of Persia.
5 And thus was the holy house finished in the three and twentieth day of the moneth Adar, in the sixth yeere of Darius king of the Persians.
6 And the children of Israel, the Priests and the Leuites, and other that were of the captiuitie that had any charge, did according to ỹ things written in the booke of Moses.
7 And to the dedication of the temple of the Lord, they offred an hundred ‖ oxen, two hundred rammes, foure hundred lambes, ‖ Or, Bulles.
8 And twelue goates for the sinnes of all [the people of] Israel, after the number of ỹ chiefe of the tribes of Israel.
9 The Priests also and the Leuites stoode arayed in their long robes, after their kinreds, in all the workes of the Lord God of Israel, according to the booke of Moses, and the porters at euery doore.
10 And the children of Israel, with those that were come out of captiuitie, held the Passeouer the fourteenth day of the first moneth, after that the Priests and ỹ Leuites were sanctified.
11 They that were of the captiuitie, were not all sanctified together: but the Leuites were all sanctified together.
12 And so they offred the passeouer for all them of the captiuitie, and for their brethren the Priests, and for themselues.
13 And the children of Israel that came out of captiuitie, did eate, all they that had separated themthemselues from the abominations of the people of that land, and sought the Lord:

14 And they kept the feast of the vnleauened bread seuen dayes long, making mery before the Lord,
15 That the Lord had turned the counsel of the king of Assyria towards them, to strengthen their hands vnto the works of the Lord God of Israel.

The viii. Chapter.

1 Esdras commeth frō Babylon to Hierusalem. 10 The copie of the commission giuen by king Artaxerxes. 26 Esdras giueth thanks to the Lord.

1 AND after these, when Artaxerxes the king of the Persians reigned, there went vnto him Esdras the sonne of Saraias, the sonne of Ezerias, the sonne of Helchiah, the sonne of Sallum,
2 The sonne of Sadoc, the sonne of Achitob, the sonne of Amarias, the sonne of Ezias, the sonne of Menuerath, the sonne of Saraias, the sonne of Sanias, the sonne of Boccas, the sonne of Abisun, the sonne of Phinees, the sonne of Eleazar, the sonne of Aaron the first Priest.
3 This Esdras went vp from Babylon, being a scribe of good vnderstanding in the law of Moses, that was giuen by the Lord God of Israel.
4 And the king fauoured him, and did him great [worship and] honour ‖ after all his desires.
‖ Or, in all his suites.
5 There went vp with him also certaine of the children of Israel, of the Priests, of ỳ Leuites, of the singers, porters, and ministers of ỳ temple, vnto Hierusalem.
6 In the seuenth yeere of the reigne of king Artaxerxes, in the fifth moneth, which was the seuenth yeere (for they went from Babylon in the first day of the first moneth,
7 And came to Hierusalem according as God gaue them speede in their iourney.)
8 For Esdras had gotten great knowledge to omit nothing of that was in the lawe and the commaundements of the Lorde, and to teach all Israel all the ‖ ordinaunces and iudgements.
‖ Or, righteousnes.
9 The copie of the commission which Artaxerxes the king wrote, and that was giuen to Esdras the Priest and Reader of the lawe of the Lord, this is it that followeth.
10 King Artaxerxes sendeth his greeting vnto Esdras the Priest and Reader of the lawe of the Lord.
11 I hauing weighed things with pitie, haue [ordeined and] charged, if there be any of the Iewes, of the Priestes and Leuites in my ‖ realme, which desireth and is content to goe with thee vnto Israel, that he may do it.
‖ Or, kingdome.
12 Therefore, so many as long thereafter, let them depart together, and go with thee, like as I am content and my seuen friends my counsailors,
13 To see what they do at Hierusalem and in Iurie, conueniently, according as thou hast in the lawe of the Lord:
14 And to bring the giftes vnto [God] the Lord of Israel, that I and my friendes haue ‖ promised to Hierusalem, and all the siluer & gold that in the countrey of Babylon may be found [pertaining] to the Lord in Hierusalem, ‖ Or, vowed.
15 With the thing that is giuen of the people to ỳ Lorde their Gods temple at Hierusalem: that the same siluer and gold may be gathered for oxen, rammes, sheepe, and goates, & other that belong to these things, 16 That they may offer sacrifices vnto the Lord, vpon the altar of the Lord their God which is at Hierusalem.
17 And whatsoeuer thou and thy brethren will do with the siluer and gold, that do according to the will of thy God.
18 And the holy vessels of the Lord, which are giuen thee for the seruice of the temple of thy God which is in Hierusalem, thou shalt set [them] before thy God in Hierusalem.
19 And whatsoeuer thing els thou shalt remember for the vse of the temple of thy God, thou shalt giue it out of the kings treasure.
20 And I king Artaxerxes haue also commanded the keepers of the treasures in Syria and Phenice, that whatsoeuer Esdras the Priest and the Reader of the law of the highest God shall send for, they should giue it him with speede:
21 Euen to the summe of an hundred talents of siluer: of corne also an hundred ‖ measures, and till an hundred ‖ vessels of wine, & other things aboundantly.
‖ Or, cores.
‖ Or, pieces.
22 Let all things be done after the law of God diligently, vnto the highest God, that wrath come not vpon the kingdome of the king and of his sonnes.
23 I command you also, that ye require no taxe nor tribute of the Priests, Leuites, holy singers, porters, & ministers of the temple, nor of any that haue doings in this temple, and that no man haue authoritie to put any impost vpon them.
24 As for thee, O Esdras, set thou iudges and arbiters to iudge in the whole land of Syria and Phenice after the wisedome of God, all skilfull in the law of God, and teach such as are ignorant.
25 And let all them which shall offend against the lawe of God and the king, be diligently punished, whether it be by death or other paine, by punishing in money, or els by banishment.
26 Then said Esdras the Scribe, Blessed bee the onely Lord God of my fathers, that hath giuen giuen so good a minde and will into the heart of the king, to magnifie his house that is at Hierusalem,

‖ Or, honoured me. 27 And hath ‖ made me to bee accepted in the sight of the king, and of his counsell, of his friends, and of his nobles.

‖ Or, of a good courage. 28 And so I was ‖ stedfast in my minde, according as the Lord my God helped me, and I gathered vp men of Israel to go vp with me.

41 Of the sonnes of Bagouthi, sonne of Iscacourus, and with him seuentie men.

42 All these called I together by ỳ water Thia, where we pitched our tentes three dayes, and there I mustred them.

1. Esd. 18. 15. 43 * As for the sonnes of the Priestes and Leuites, I found none there.

44 Then sent I vnto Eleazar, and behold, there came Naasman, and Haloban, 45 And Almathan, and Samaian, and Joribon, and Nathan, Ennatan, Zacharian, & Mosollamon the chiefe and best learned:

46 And I bade them that they should goe vnto Addeus the captaine, which was in ỳ place of the treasurie:

47 And commãded thẽ that they should speake vnto Addeus, and to his brethren, & to those that were the treasurers, to send vs such men as might execute the Priests office in ỳ house of our Lord.

48 And with the mightie hand of our Lorde [God,] they brought vnto vs men of good ‖ experience, from among the sonnes of Moli, the sonne of Leui, the sonne of Israel, Seredia, and his sonnes, and his brethren, which were eighteene. ‖ Or, learning.

49 And Asebia, and Amon, and Osaian his brethren, of ỳ sonnes of Canaineus, their sonnes were twentie men.

50 And of them that serued in the temple, whõ Dauid had ordeined, and the principal men to the worke of the Leuites, that were ministers in the temple, two hundred & twentie, whose names are all signed vp in writing.

1. Esd. 8. 21. 51 And then * commanded I a fasting vnto the yong men before the Lord, that I might desire of him a prosperous iourney, [& a good way] both for vs and them that were with vs, for our children, and for the cattell.

52 For I feared to desire of the king men of horse and of foote, to conuey vs safely against our enemies.

53 For we haue said vnto the king, that ỳ power of the Lord our God should bee with them that seeke him, to direct them in all things.

54 And therfore we besought our lord againe, as touching these things, and found him fauourable vnto vs.

55 Then I separated from among the chiefe of the tribes, and from the Priests, twelue men, [to wit,] Esebrias, and Assanias, and ten mẽ of their brethren with them.

56 And I weighed them the gold, and the siluer, and the holy vessels of the house of our Lord, which the king, and his counsaile, and his princes, and whole Israel had giuen.

57 And when I had weighed it, I deliuered vnto them sixe hundred and fiftie talents of siluer, and an hundred talents in siluer vessels, and an hundred talents of gold, 58 And twentie golden basons, and twelue vessels of brasse, euen fine brasse, like shining gold.

59 And I said vnto them, Ye are holy vnto the Lord, and the vessels are holy, and the gold & the siluer is ‖ promised vnto the Lord [God] of our fathers. ‖ Or, vowed.

60 ‖ Be diligent now, and keepe it, vntill the time ỳ ye deliuer it to the chiefe of the Priests and Leuites, and to the principall men of the families of Israel in Hierusalem, in ỳ chambers of the house of our God. ‖ Or, watch.

61 So the Priestes and the Leuites which receiued of me the gold, the siluer, and the vessels, brought it vnto Hierusalem vnto the temple.

62 And

62 And from the *riuer Thia we brake vp the twelfth day of the first moneth, according to the mightie hand of our Lord which was with vs: and from the beginning of our iourney, the Lord deliuered vs from euery enemie, so that we came vnto Hierusalem.

63 And whē the third day was past, the weighed gold and siluer was deliuered in the house of the Lorde, on the fourth day, vnto Marimoth the Priest, and sonne of Jori:

64 And with him was Eleazar the sonne of Phinehes, and with them were Josabdus the sonne of Jesu, and Moeth the sonne of Sabbanus, Leuites: all was deliuered them by number and weight.

65 And all the weight of them was written vp the same houre.

66 After that, they that were come out of captiuitie, offred sacrifice vnto the Lord God of Israel, euē twelue oxen for all Israel, fourescore and sixteene rammes, 67 Three score & twelue sheepe, twelue goates for saluation, all in sacrifice to the Lord.

68 And the kings commission deliuered they vnto the kings stewards, & to the gouerners of Coelosyria and Phenice, who honored the people and the temple of God.

69 Now when these things were done, the rulers came vnto me, and said,

1.Esd.1.9. 70 The *nation of Israel, the princes, the Priestes and Leuites, haue not put away from them the strange people of the land, nor the vncleannesse of the Gentiles: to wit, of the Chanaanites, Hethites, Pherezites, Jebusites, and the Moabites, Egyptiās, and Edomites:

71 For both they and their sonnes haue mingled themselues with the daughters of them, and the holy seede is mixt with the strange people of the land: and since the beginning of the affaires, the rulers and head men haue bene partakers of this wickednesse.

72 And as soone as I had heard these things, immediatly I rent my clothes and the holy garment, and pulled off the heare of my head & my beard, and sate me downe sorowfull and heauie.

73 So all they that were moued through the word of the Lord God of Israel, came vnto me whilest I wept for the iniquitie: but I sate still full of heauinesse vntill the euening sacrifice.

74 Then stoope I vp from fasting, hauing rent clothes, and the holy garment, and kneeled downe vpon my knees, & held out my hands vnto the Lord,

1.Esd.1.8. 75 And said, O Lord, *I am confounded and ashamed before thy face.

76 For our sinnes are become many, euē aboue our heads, and our ignorances are lifted vp, euen vnto heauen:

77 For since the time of our fathers, we are in great sinne vnto this day.

78 And for the *sinnes of vs, and our fathers, we, with our brethren, and with our kings, and with our Priests, haue bene giuen vp vnto the kings of the earth, into the sword, and into captiuitie, and became a spoile with confusion [and shame] vnto this day. Deut.28.13.

79 And now, O Lord God, how great is the mercy that we haue gottē of thee, in that thou hast left vs a roote and a name in the place of thy sanctuarie,

80 And that thou hast discouered to vs a light in the house of the Lord our God, and hast giuen vs meate in the time of our seruitude:

81 And when we were in captiuitie, wee were not forsaken of the Lorde our God: but hee made the kings of Persia gracious & fauourable vnto vs, so that they gaue vs victuals [and meate,] 82 Yea and honoured the temple of our Lord, & repaired the wasted places of Sion, & gaue vs assurance in Jurie and Hierusalem.

83 And now, O Lord, what shal we say, hauing all these things in [possession?] For we haue broken thy commandements, which thou gauest vnto vs by the hands of thy seruants the Prophets, saying, 84 *Because the land which ye goe to possesse as an heritage, is a land defiled with the vncleannesse [and filthinesse] of the strangers of the land, and with their abominatiō they haue polluted it altogether: Deut.7.1.

85 Therfore now shal ye not ioine their daughters vnto your sonnes, neither marry your daughters to their sonnes.

86 Moreouer, ye shal neuer seeke to make peace with them, that ye may ‖encrease and eate the best in the land, and that ye may leaue the inheritance of the land vnto your children for euermore. ‖ Or, waxe strong, and eate the good things of the land.

87 As for the things that are come to passe, they come all for our wicked workes & great sinnes: for thou, O Lord, hast made our sinnes light, 88 And giuen vs such a roote: but we haue turned backe againe, so that we haue broken thy lawe, and mingled our selues with ỹ vncleannesse of the outlandish heathen.

89 Wightest not thou be angry with vs to destroy vs, so that thou shouldest leaue vs neither roote, seede, nor name?

90 O Lord God of Israel, thou art true: for our roote endureth yet vnto this present day.

91 And beholde, now are wee before thee in our sinnes, neither can we stand before thee for them.

92 *And when Esdras with this prayer had knowledged the sinne, weeping, & lying flat vpon the ground before the temple, there gathered vnto him from Hierusalem, a great mul- 1.Esd.10.1.

multitude of men and women, of young men and maidẽs: for there was a very great [weeping and] mourning among the multitude.

93 Then Iechonias the sonne of Jeheli, one of the children of Israel, cried out, and sayde, O Esdras, we haue sinned against ẏ Lord God, [because] we haue married strange women of the nations of the land.

94 And nowe all Israel hangeth in doubt: We will sweare an othe therefore vnto the Lord, that we shall put away all our wiues which we haue taken of the ‖ Heathen, with their children:

‖ Or, strangers.

95 Like as it may seeme good vnto thee, and to al those that obey the law of the Lord.

96 Stãd vp, and put it in execution: for to thee doeth this matter apperteine, & we are with thee to adde thee strength.

97 So Esdras arose, and tooke an othe of the chiefe of the Priests and Leuites of al Israel, to doe after these things: and they sware.

The ix. Chapter.

7. After Esdras had read the lawe for the strange wiues, 18 they promised to put them away.

1 Then Esdras * rising from the court of the temple, wẽt to the chamber of Joannan, the sonne of Eliasib,

* 1. Esd. 10, 6.

2 And remained there, and did eate no meat, nor drunke ‖ drinke, weeping for ẏ great wickednesse of the people.

‖ Or, water.

3 And there was made a proclamation in all Jurie, and at Hierusalem, for all them that were of the captiuitie, that they should gather together at Hierusalem,

4 And that whosoeuer mette not there within two or three daies, according as the elders that bare rule appoynted, their cattell should be seased to the vse of the temple, and he be excluded from them that were of the captiuitie.

5 And in three daies were all they of the tribe of Juda and Beniamin gathered together at Hierusalem, the twentieth day of the ninth moneth.

6 And the whole multitude sate trembling in the ‖ court of the temple, for it was winter.

‖ Or, the large roome.

7 So Esdras arose vp, and sayde vnto them, Ye haue done vnrighteously, in that ye haue taken ‖ outlandish wiues to marriage, and so to encrease the sinnes of Israel.

‖ Or, strange.

8 And now knowledge the same, & giue praise vnto the Lord God of our fathers:

9 And perfourme his wil, departing from the Heathen of the land, and from the ‖ outlandish wiues.

‖ Or, strange.

10 Then cried the whole multitude, and sayde with a loude voice, Like as thou hast spoken, so will we doe.

11 But for as much as the people are many, and winter season, so that we may not stande without the house, and because this worke is not a thing that can be finished in a day or two, seeing we be many that haue sinned in these things:

12 Ordeine therefore that the rulers of ẏ multitude, and they of our families ẏ haue strange wiues, tarie.

13 And let the Priests and Judges come out of euery place in their time appointed, til they swage the wrath of the Lord in this businesse.

14 Then Jonathas the sonne of Azaiel, and Ezechias the sonne of Thecan, receiued the charge of this matter: and Mosollam, & Leuis, and Sabatheus helped them thereto.

15 And they that were of the captiuitie, did according to all these things.

16 And Esdras the Priest chose vnto him the principall men from among the fathers, and them all by name: and in the first day of the tenth moneth, they sate together, to examine this matter.

17 And so the matter was a determining concerning the men that had maried strange wiues, vntill the new Moone of the first moneth.

18 And of the Priestes that had mixt themselues with ‖ outlandish wiues, there were found,

‖ Or, strange.

19 Of the sonnes of Jesu the sonne of Josedec, and his brethren, Mathelas, Eleazar, Joribus, and Joadanus:

20 Which offred themselues to put away their wiues, and to offer a ramme vnto reconcilement for their purgation.

21 And of the sonnes of Emmer, Ananias, and Zabdeus, and Canes, and Samatus, and Hiereel, and Azarias.

22 And of ẏ sonnes of Phaisu, Ellionas, Masias, Esmaelus, and Nathanael, and Ocidelus, and Talsas.

23 And of the Leuites, Jozabadus, & Semis, and Colius, who was called Calitas, & Patheus, and Oudas, and Jonas.

24 Of the holy Singers, Eleazarus, Bacchurus.

25 Of the Porters, Sallumus, & Tolbantes.

26 Of them of Israel, of the sonnes of Phorus, Hiermas, and Eddias, and Melchias, and Maelus, and Eleazar, and Asibias, and Banaias.

27 Of the sonnes of Ela, Mathanias, Zacharias, and Hierelias, and Hieremoth, and Aedias.

28 And of the sonnes of Zamoth, Eliadas, Eliasimus, Othonias, Jarimoth, and Sabatus, and Sardeus.

29 Of the sonnes of Bebai, Joannes, and Ananias, and Zabad, and Ematheas.

30 Of the sonnes of Pani, Olamus, Mamuchus, Jedaias, Jasubus, Jasael, and Jeremoth.

31 And of the sonnes of Addi, Naathus, Mooſias, sias, Calcus, and Naidus, and Matthanias, & Seschel, and Balnuus, and Manasseas.

32 And of the sonnes of Annas, Elionas, and Aseas, and Melchias, and Sabbeus, and Simon a Chosamite.

33 And of the sonnes of Asom, Altaneus, and Matthias, and Banaias, Eliphalet, and Manasses, and Semi.

34 And of the sonnes of Maani, Jeremias, Momdis, Omairus, Jnel, Mamai, and Paclias, and Amos, Carabasion, and Enasibus, and Mamnimatanaius, Elisiaks, Uamus, Eliali, Samis, Selemias, Nathanias: and of the sonnes of Ozoras, Sesis, Esril, Ezailus, Samatas, Sambis, Josiphus.

35 And of the sonnes of Ethna, Mazitias, Zabadias, Ethes, Jnel, Banaias.

‖Or, strange. 36 All these had taken ‖ outlandish women to mariage, and they put them away with their children.

37 And the Priests and Leuites, and [all] they that were of Jsrael, dwelt at Hierusalem, and thorow out all the land, in the ‖ new Moone of the seuenth moneth: and the children of Jsrael were in their ‖ dwellings.

‖Or, first day.

‖Or, owne houses.

2. Esd. 9. 1. 38 And the * whole multitude came together with one accord, into the wide place before the East gate of the temple.

39 And they spake vnto Esdras the high Priest and Reader, that he would bring the lawe of Moses, which had bene giuen of the Lord God of Jsrael.

40 So Esdras the high Priest brought the law vnto the whole multitude, to man, & woman, and to all the Priests, that they might heare

‖Or, beginning. the lawe in the ‖ new Moone of the seuenth moneth.

41 And he read in the first wide place that is before the porte of the temple, from the morning early vnto midday, before men and women: and they applied their minde all vnto the lawe.

42 And Esdras the Priest, and Reader of the law, stoode vp vpon a pulpit of wood, which was made therefore.

43 And vpon his right hand, there stood by him Mathathias, Samus, Ananias, Azarias, Urias, Ezechias, and Balasan:

44 Upon his left hand stood Phaldeus, Sael, Melchias, Aosathuphus, and Nabarias.

45 Then tooke Esdras the booke of the lawe before the whole multitude (for he was the principal, and had in most honor of them all.)

46 And when he expounded the law, they stood al straight vpon their feete. So Esdras ‖ praised the Lord the most high God, the almighty God of hostes.

‖Or, blessed.

47 And all the people answered, Amen.

48 And Jesus, Anus, Sarabias, Adinas, Jacobus, Battaias, Autamas, Maiamias, Calitas, Azarias, Johasabdus, Ananias, and Biatas the Leuites, lift vp their hands, and fell downe on the ground, and worshipped the Lord, 49 And taught the law of the Lord, and were earnestly occupied together in the reading thereof.

50 Then spake Atharates vnto Esdras ỹ high Priest and Reader, and to the Leuites that taught the multitude, saying, 51 This day is holy vnto the Lord: & all when they heard the law, wept.

52 [So Esdras said,] * Depart your way therefore, and eate the fat meates, and drinke the sweete drinks, and send gifts vnto them that haue nothing. 2. Esd. 8. 10.

53 For this day is holy vnto the Lord, & be not ye sory: for the Lord will bring you to honor.

54 So the Leuites ‖ published all these things to the people, saying, This day is holy to the Lord, be not sory. ‖Or, commaded.

55 Then went they their way euery one to eate and drinke, and were mery, and sent presents to them that had nothing, and made very good cheare.

56 For they were as yet ‖ filled with the words that had bene taught them, and for the which they had bene assembled. ‖Or, inflamed.

The ende of the third booke of Esdras.

The fourth booke of Esdras.

The first Chapter.

1 The people is reproued for their vnthankfulnesse.
30 God will haue another people, if these will not be reformed.

1. Esd. 7. 1. 1 The second booke of the * Prophet Esdras, the sonne of Saraias, the sonne of Azarias, ỹ sonne of Helchia, the sonne of Sadanias, ỹ sonne of Sadoc, ỹ sõne of Achitob,

2 The sonne of Achia, the sonne of Phinees, the sonne of Heli, the sonne of Amerias, the sonne of Aziei, the sonne of Marimoth, the sonne of Arna, the sonne of Ozias, the sonne of Bozith, the sonne of Abisei, ỹ sonne of Phinees, the sonne of Eleazar,

3 The sonne of Aaron, of the tribe of Leui, which [Esdras] was prisoner in the land of Medes, in the reigne of Artaxerxes king of Persia.

4 And the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

Esai.58.5. 5 *Goe thy way, and shew my people their sinnefull deedes, and their children their wickednesse which they haue done against me, that they may tel their childrens children the same:

6 For the sinnes of their fathers are encreased in them: and why? they haue forgotten me, and haue offered vnto strange gods.

7 Am not I euen hee that brought them out of the land of Egypt from the house of bondage? But they haue prouoked mee vnto wrath, and despised my counsels.

‖Or, off. 8 Pull thou ‖ out then the heare of thy head, and cast all euill vpon them, for they haue not bene obedient vnto my law: but it is a people without [learning and] nurture.

9 How long shal I forbeare them, vnto whom I haue done so much good?

10 Many kings haue I destroyed for their sakes, *Pharao with his seruants, and al his ‖power haue I smitten downe [and slaine.]

‖Or, armie.

Num.21.24. iosu.10.12. 11 *And the nations haue I destroyed [and rooted out] before them, and in the East haue I brought two landes and people to nought, euen Tyre and Sidon, & haue slaine all their enemies.

12 Speake thou therefore vnto them, saying, Thus saith the Lord,

Exo.14.29. 13 *I led you thorow the sea, and haue giuen you sure streetes since the beginning: I gaue you *Moses to be your captaine, and Aaron to be the priest:

Exo.3.10.

Exo.13.21. 14 I gaue you *light in a pillar of fire, & great wonders haue I done among you: yet haue ye forgotten me, saith the Lord.

Exo.16.13. 15 Thus saith ỹ almightie Lord, The *quailes were as a token for you, I gaue you tents for your ‖ succour, neuertheless in them ye murmured:

‖Or, safegard.

‖Or, and triumphed not in my name for the destruction of your enemies. 16 And ‖ ascribed not the victorie of your enemies vnto my name, but euer to this day doe ye yet murmure.

17 Where are the benefites that I haue done for you: when ye were hungry in the wildernesse, did ye not cry vnto me,

Num.14.3. 18 Saying, *Why hast thou brought vs into this wildernesse to kill vs? It had bene better for vs to haue serued the Egyptians, then to die in this wildernesse.

19 Then had I pitie vpon your mournings, & gaue you Manna to eate. *So ye did eate angels foode.

Sapi.16.20.

Num.20.11. 20 When ye were *thirstie, did not I cleaue the rocke, and waters flowed out, to satisfie you withall? for the heate, I couered you with the leaues of the trees.

21 A good pleasant fat land gaue I you: I cast out the Chananites, the Pherezites, and Philistines before you: *what shal I do more for you, saith the Lord?

Esai 5.4.

22 Thus saith the almightie Lord, *Whē you were in the wilderneſſe in ‖ the water of the Amorites, being a thirst, and blaspheming my name,

Exo.15.25.

‖Or, at the bitter waters.

23 I gaue you not ‖ fire for your blasphemies, but cast a tree into the water, and made the riuer sweete.

‖Or, wood.

24 What shall I doe vnto thee, O Jacob? thou Juda wouldest *not obey me: I will turne me to the other nations, and vnto those will I giue my name, that they may keepe my statutes.

Exo.32.8.

25 Seeing ye haue forsaken me, I will forsake you also. When ye desire me to be gracious vnto you, I shal haue no mercy vpon you.

26 *When ye call vpon me, I will not heare you: for ye haue defiled your handes with blood, & your feete are swift to commit manslaughter.

Esai 1.15.

27 Ye haue not as it were forsakē me, but your owne selues, saith the Lord.

28 Thus saieth the almightie Lord, Haue I not prayed you, as a father his sonnes, as a mother her daughters, and a nurse her yong babes, 29 That ye would be my people, and I should be your God, that ye would be my children, & I should be your father?

30 *I gathered you together, as a henne gathereth her chickens vnder her wings: but now, what shall I do vnto you? I will cast you out from my face.

Matt.23.37.

31 *When you offer vnto me, I will turne my face from you: for your solemne feast dayes, your new moones, & your circumcisiōs haue I forsaken.

Esai 66.3.

32 I sent vnto you my seruants the Prophets, whom ye haue taken and slaine, & torne their bodies in pieces, whose blood I will ‖ require of your hands, saith the Lord.

‖Or, reuenge.

33 Thus saieth the almightie Lord, Your house shalbe desolate, I will cast you out, as ỹ wind doth stubble:

34 Your children shall not be ‖ fruitful, for they haue despised my commandement, and done the thing that is euil before me.

‖Or, haue procreation.

35 Your houses will I giue to a people that shall come, which not hauing heard of me, yet shall beleeue me: to whom I haue shewed no signes, yet they shal do that I haue commanded them.

36 They haue seene no Prophets, yet shal they ‖ call their sinnes to remembrance, & know- ledge them.

‖Or, hate their iniquities.

37 I will declare the grace that I will doe for the people that is to come, whose children reioyce in gladnesse: and though they haue not seene me with bodily eyes, yet in spirite they beleeue the thing that I say.

38 And now, brother, beholde what great

39 Unto whom I will giue for leaders, Abraham, Isahac, and Jacob, Oseas, Amos, and Micheas, Joel, Abdias, and Jonas, 40 Nahum, and Abacuc, Sophonias, Aggeus, Zacharie, and *Malachie, which is called also an angel [or messenger] of the Lord. Mal. 3. 1.

The ii. Chapter.

1 The Synagogue findeth fault with her owne children.
18 The Gentiles are called.

1 THus saieth the Lord, I brought this people out of bondage, I gaue them my commandements by my seruants the Prophets, whom they would not heare, but despised my counsels.

2 The mother that bare them, saieth vnto thē, Goe your way ye children, for I am a widow and forsaken.

3 I brought you vp with gladnesse, but with sorow and heauinesse haue I lost you, for ye haue sinned before the Lord your God, & done that thing that is euil before him.

4 But what shall I now doe vnto you? I am a widow and forsaken: goe your way, O my children, and aske mercy of the Lord.

5 As for me, O father, I call vpon thee for a witnesse ouer the mother of these children, which would not keepe my couenant:

6 That thou bring them to confusion, & their mother to a spoile, that she beare no more.

7 Let their names be scattered abroad among the heathen, let them be put out of the earth: for they haue ‖ thought scorne of my couenant. ‖Or, despised.

8 Wo be vnto thee, Assur, thou that hidest the vnrighteous in thee: thou wicked people, remember what I did vnto *Sodome and Gomorrhe, Gene 19. 21.

9 Whose land is turned into clods of pitch, and heapes of ashes: euen so also will I doe vnto all them that heare me not, saieth the almightie Lord.

10 Thus saieth the Lord vnto Esdras, Tell my people that I will giue them the kingdome of Hierusalem, which I would haue giuen vnto Israel.

11 Their glory also will I take vnto me, and giue them the euerlasting tabernacles, which I had prepared for those.

12 They shall haue the tree of life at will, as in the sweete sauour of ointment, they shall neither labour, nor be wearie.

13 Goe ye your way, and ye that receiue it: pray that there may be few dayes, and y long time may bee shortned for thee: the kingdome is already prepared for you, therefore watch.

14 Take heauen and earth to witnesse, for I haue broken the euil in pieces, and created the good: for I liue, saieth the Lord.

15 Mother, embrace thy children, and bring them vp with gladnesse, make their feete as fast as a pillar: for I haue chosen thee, saieth the Lord.

16 And those that bee dead, will I raise vp againe from their places, and bring them out of the graues: for I haue knowen my name in Israel.

17 Feare not thou mother of the children: for I haue chosen thee, saith the Lord.

18 And for thy helpe I shall send thee my seruants Esai and Jeremie, after whose counsel I haue sanctified & prepared for thee twelue trees, laden with diuers fruites.

19 And as many fountains flowing with milke and hony: and seuen mightie mountaines, whereupon there grew roses & lilies, whereby I will fill thy children with ioy.

20 Execute iustice for the widowe, iudge for the fatherlesse, giue to the poore, defend the fatherlesse, clothe the naked, 21 Heale the wounded and sicke, laugh not a lame man to scorne, defende the creeple, and let the blinde come into the light of my clearenesse.

22 Keepe the old and yong that are within thy walles.

23 *Whereseuer thou findest the dead, take them, and bury them, and I shall giue thee the first place in my resurrection. Tob. 10. 12.

24 Abide still, O my people, and take thy rest, for thy quietnesse shall come.

25 Feede thy children, O thou good nurse, stablish their feete.

26 As for the seruants whom I haue giuē thee, there shall not one of them perish: for I will seeke them from among thy number.

27 Be not wearie, for when the day of trouble and heauinesse commeth, other shall weepe and be sorowfull, but thou shalt be merry and plenteous.

28 The heathen shalbe ielous [at it,] but they shalbe able to do nothing against thee, saieth the Lord.

29 My hands shall couer thee, so that thy children shall not see the ‖fire euerlasting. ‖Or, hell.

30 Be ioyfull, O thou mother, with thy children, for I will deliuer thee, saith the Lord.

31 Remember thy children that sleepe, for I shall bring them out of the sides of the earth, and shew mercy vnto them: for I am mercifull, saith the Lord almightie.

32 Embrace thy children vntill I come, and shew mercy vnto them: for my ‖wels runne ouer, and my grace shall not faile. ‖Or, fountaines.

33 I Esdras receiued a charge of the Lord vpon the mount Oreb, that I should goe vnto Israel: but when I came vnto them, they set me at nought, and despised the commandements of the Lord.

34 And therefore I say vnto you, O ye heathen that heare and vnderstand, ‖Looke for your ‖Or, waite.

shepeheard, he shal giue you euerlasting rest: for he is nigh at hand that shal come in ỹ ende of the world.

35 Be ready to the reward of the kingdome, for the euerlasting light shall shine vpon you for euermore.

36 Flee the shadow of this world, receiue the ioyfulnesse of your glory: I testifie my Sauiour openly.

37 O receiue the gift that is giuen you, and be glad, giuing thanks vnto him that hath called you to the heauenly kingdome.

38 Arise vp, and stand fast, beholde the number of those that bee sealed ‖ in the feast of the Lord,

‖ Or, for.

39 Which are departed from the shadow of the world, and haue receiued glorious garments of the Lord.

‖ Or, those of thine that are clothed in white.

40 Take thy number, O Sion, and shut vp ‖ thy purified, which haue fulfilled the lawe of the Lord.

41 The number of thy children whom thou longedst for, is fulfilled: beseech the power of the Lord, that thy people which haue bene called from the beginning, may be halowed.

Apoc. 7. 9.

42 *I Esdras sawe vpon the mount Sion a great people, whom I could not number: and they all praised the Lord with songs [of thanks giuing.]

43 And in the midst of them there was a yong man of an high stature, more excelling then all they, and vpon euery one of their heads he set crownes, and was euer ‖ higher & higher, which I marueiled at greatly.

‖ Or, and was higher then the other.

44 So I asked the angel, and said, Sir, what are these?

45 He answered and said vnto me, These bee they that haue put off the mortall clothing, & put on the immortall, and haue ‖ testified and knowledged the name of God: now are they crowned, and receiue the ‖ reward.

‖ Or, haue confessed.

‖ Or, the Palmes.

46 Then said I vnto the angell, What yong person is it that crowneth them, and giueth them the Palmes in their hands?

47 So he answered and said vnto me, It is the Sonne of God, whō they haue ‖ knowledged in the world: Then began I greatly to commend them that stood so stifly for the name of the Lord.

‖ Or, confessed.

48 Then the angel said vnto me, Goe thy way, and tel my people what maner of things, and how great wonders of the Lord thy God thou hast seene.

The iii. Chapter.

The wonderous workes which God did for the people, are recited. 31 Esdras marueileth that God suffreth the Babylonians to haue rule ouer his people, which yet are sinners also.

1 IN the thirtieth yeere after the fall of the citie, I was at Babylon, and lay troubled vpon my bed, and my thoughts came vp ouer my heart.

2 For I sawe the desolation of Sion, and the plenteous wealth of them that dwelt at Babylon.

3 And my spirit was sore moued, so that I began to speake fearefull wordes to the most highest, and said,

4 O Lord, Lord, thou spakest at ỹ beginning, when thou plantedst the earth (and that thy selfe alone) and gauest commandement vnto the people,

5 And a *body vnto Adam without soule, which was a ‖ creature of thy hands, and hast breathed in him the breath of life, and so he liued before thee:

Gen. 2. 7.

‖ Or, workmanship.

6 And thou leddest him into paradise, which thy right hand had planted or euer the earth brought fruits:

7 And vnto him thou gauest commandement to loue thy way, which he transgressed, & immediatly thou appointedst death in him, & in his generations: of whom came nations, tribes, people, and kinreds out of number.

8 And euery people *walked after their owne will, and did wonderfull things before thee: and as for thy commaundements, they despised.

Gen. 6. 12.

9 *But ‖ in processe of time thou broughtest the water flood vpon those that dwelt in the world, and destroyedst them.

Gen. 7. 10.

‖ Or, at time appointed.

10 So that by the flood, that was wrought in eche of them, that was by death in Adam.

11 Neuertheless, one of them thou leftest, namely, Noah with his houshold, of whom came all righteous men.

12 And it ‖ happened, that whē they that dwelt vpon the earth began to multiply, and had gotten them many children, and were a great people, they began to be more vngodly then the first.

‖ Or, came to passe.

13 Now when they liued so wickedly before thee, thou diddest *chuse thee a man from among them, whose name was Abraham.

Gen. 12. 15.

14 Him thou louedst, and vnto him onely thou shewedst thy will:

15 And madest an euerlasting couenant with him, promising him that thou wouldest neuer forsake his seede.

16 And vnto him thou gauest *Isahac, vnto Isahac also thou gauest Jacob and Esau. As for Jacob, thou diddest chuse him to thee, and *put backe Esau: & so Jacob became a great multitude.

Gen. 21. 2.

Gen. 25. 23.

17 And it came to passe, that when thou leddest his seede out of Egypt, thou *broughtest thē vp to the mount Sina,

Deut. 4. 10.

18 Bowing downe the heauens, ‖ setting fast the earth, mouing the ground, making the depths to shake, and ‖ troubling the world.

‖ Or, abasing.

‖ Or, astonishing.

19 And thy glory went thorow foure ‖ portes, of fire, and earthquakes, and windes, & cold, that that thou mightest giue the lawe vnto ẏ seede of Jacob, and ‖ diligence vnto the generation of Israel.

‖ Or, and that which the generation of Israel should keepe with diligence.

20 And yet tookest thou not away from them that wicked heart, that thy lawe might bring foorth fruite in them.

Gen. 3. 6. 21 For ẏ first Adam bearing a wicked * heart, transgressed, and was ouercome: and so be all they that are borne of him.

22 Thus remained weakenesse still: and ẏ law in the hearts of the people, with the wickednesse of the roote, so that the good departed away, and the euil abode still.

23 So the times passed away, and the yeeres were brought to an ende: then diddest thou

1. Reg. 16. 13. 2. reg. 5. 2. * raise thee vp a seruant, called Dauid, 24 Whom thou commandedst to build a citie vnto thy name, and to offer vp incense and sacrifice vnto thee therein.

25 When this was done now many yeeres, then the inhabiters of the citie forsooke thee, 26 And in all things did euen as Adam and all his generations had done: for they also had a wicked heart.

27 And so thou gauest the citie ouer into the hands of thine enemies.

28 But doe they of Babylon then any thing better, that they should therefore haue the dominion in Sion?

29 For when I came thither, and sawe there so great wickednesse that it could not bee numbred, then my soule sawe many euill doers in this thirtieth yeere, so that my heart failed me:

30 For I sawe how thou suffredst them in such vngodlinesse, and sparedst the wicked doers: but thine owne people hast thou rooted out, and preserued thine enemies, & this hast thou not shewed ‖ me.

‖ Or, it.

‖ Or, commeth to passe. 31 I cannot perceiue how this ‖ happeneth. Do they of Babylon then better then they of Sion?

Iere. 10. 25. 32 Or is there * any other people that knoweth thee, sauing the people of Israel? or what generation hath so beleeued thy ‖ couenants, as Jacob?

‖ Or, testimonies.

33 And yet their reward appeareth not, & their labour hath no fruite: for I haue gone here and there through the heathen, and I see that they be ‖ rich and wealthie, and thinke not vpon thy commandements.

‖ Or, flowe in wealth.

34 Weigh thou therefore our wickednes now in the balance, and theirs also that dwell in the world: and so shal thy name be no where found, but in Israel.

35 Or when was it that they which dwel vpon earth, haue not sinned in thy sight? or what people hath so kept thy commandements?

36 Thou shalt finde that Israel by name hath kept thy precepts: but not the [other people and] heathen.

The iiii. Chapter.

The angel reproueth Esdras, because he seemeth to enter into the profound iudgements of God.

1 And the angel that was sent vnto me, whose name was Uriel, gaue mee an answere,

2 And said, Thy heart hath taken too much vpon it in this world, and thou thinkest to comprehend the way of the highest.

3 Then said I, Yea, my Lord. And he answered me, and said, I am sent to shew thee three wayes, and to set foorth three similitudes before thee:

4 Whereof, if thou canst declare me one, I will shew thee also the way that thou desirest to see: and I shall shew thee from whence the wicked heart commeth.

5 And I said, Tel on, my Lord. Then sayd he vnto me, Go thy way, weigh me the weight of the fire, or measure me the blast of ẏ winde, or call me againe the day that is past.

6 Then answered I, and said, What mã borne is able to doe that, that thou shouldest aske such things of me?

7 And he said vnto me, If I should aske thee how deepe dwellings are in the midst of the sea, or how great water springs are in the beginning of the deepe, or how great water springs are vpõ the stretching out of the heauens, or which are the ‖ outgoings of paradise:

‖ Or, borders.

8 Peraduenture thou wouldest say vnto me, I neuer went downe yet into the deepe, nor hel, neither did I euer clime vp into heauen.

9 Neuertheless, now haue I asked thee but onely of fire and winde, and of the day wherethrough thou hast trauailed, & from the which thou canst not be separated, and yet canst thou giue me no answere of them.

10 He said moreouer vnto mee, Thine owne things, and such as are growen vp with thee, canst thou not know:

11 How should thy vessell then bee able to comprehend the way of the highest, and now outwardly in the corrupt world to vnderstand the corruption that is euident in my sight?

12 Then said I vnto him, It were better that we were not at all, then that we should liue in wickednesse, and to suffer, and not to know wherefore.

Iudg. 9. 8. 2. chr. 25. 18. 13 He answered me, and said, I * came to a forest in a plaine, and the trees tooke such a deuice, 14 And said, Come, let vs go, and fight against the sea, that it may depart away before vs, & that we may make vs more woods.

15 The floods of ẏ sea also in like maner tooke counsell, and said, Come, let vs goe vp, & fight against the trees of the wood, that there we may make vs another countrey.

16 The thought [and deuice] of the wood was but vayne [and nothing worth,] for the fire came and consumed it.

17 The thought of the floods of the sea came likewise to nought also: for the sand stoode vp and stopped them.

18 If thou were iudge now betwixt these two, whom wouldest thou iustifie, or whom wouldest thou condemne?

19 I answered and said, Verily it is a foolish thought that they both haue deuised: for the ground is giuen vnto the wood, and the sea also hath his place to beare his floods.

20 Then answered he me, and said, Thou hast giuen a right iudgement: but why iudgest thou not thy selfe also?

21 For like as the ground is giuen vnto the wood, and the sea to his floods: *euē so they that dwell vpon earth, may vnderstand nothing but that which is vpon earth: and hee that dwelleth aboue the heauens, may onely vnderstand the things that are aboue the heauens.

Esai 55.8. iohn 3.32. 2.cor.2.13.

22 Then answered I, and said, I beseech thee, O Lord, let me haue vnderstanding:

23 For it was not my minde ‖ to be curious of thy high things, but of such as we daily meddle withall, namely, as wherefore Israel is giuen vp as a reproch to the heathen, and for what cause the people whom thou hast loued, is giuen ouer vnto vngodly nations, & why the lawe of our forefathers is brought to nought, and the written ‖ couenants come to none effect:

‖Or, to enquire.

‖Or, ordinances.

24 And we passe away out of the world as the grasshoppers, and our life is a very feare, and we are not worthy to obtaine mercy.

25 What wil he then do vnto his name which is called vpon ouer vs? Of these things haue I asked question.

26 Then answered he me, and said, The more thou searchest, the more thou shalt maruel: for the world hasteth fast to passe away, 27 And cannot comprehend the things that are promised to the righteous in tyme to come: for this world is full of vnrighteousnesse and weakenesse.

28 But as concerning the things whereof thou askest me, I will tell thee: The euill is sowen, but the destruction thereof is not yet come.

29 If the euil now that is sowen, be not turned vpside downe, and if the place where the euil is sowen passe not away: then cannot ỹ thing come that is sowen with good.

30 For the corne of euill seede hath bene sowen in the heart of Adam from the beginning: and how much vngodlinesse hath he brought vp vnto this time? and how much shall he yet bring foorth vntill hee come into the barne?

31 Ponder now by thy selfe how great fruite of wickednesse the corne of euil seed bringeth foorth.

32 And when the stalkes shall bee cut downe, which are without nũber, how great a barne shall it fill?

33 Then I answered and said, How, and when shall these things come to passe? wherefore are our yeeres few and euil?

34 And he answered me, saying, Haste not thou too much aboue ỹ most highest: for thy hastinesse to be aboue him, is but vaine, though thou do all that thou canst for it.

35 Did not the soules also of the righteous aske question of these things in their chambers, saying, How long shall I hope on this fashion? when cõmeth the fruit of my barne, and our reward?

36 And vpõ this, Jeremiel the archangel gaue them answer, & said, Euen when the number of ỹ seedes is filled in you, for he hath weighed the world in the balance.

37 In measure and number hath he measured the times, and mooueth it not, nor shaketh it, vntill the said measure be fulfilled.

38 Then answered I, & sayd, O Lord, Lord, now are we all full of sinne:

39 And for our sake peraduenture it is that the barne of the righteous is not fulfilled, because of the sinnes of them that dwell vpon the earth.

40 So he answered me, and said, Goe thy way to a woman with child, and aske of her, when she hath fulfilled her nine moneths, if her wombe may keepe the birth any longer within her?

41 Then said I, No, Lorde, that can she not. And he said vnto me, In the graue, the secret places of soules are like the wombe of a woman:

42 For like as a woman that trauaileth, maketh haste to escape ỹ necessitie of the trauell: euē so doe these places haste to deliuer those things that are committed vnto them.

43 Looke what thou desirest to see, it shall bee shewed thee from the beginning.

44 Then answered I, & said, If I haue found fauour in thy sight, and if it be possible, and if I be meete therefore, 45 Shew me then whether there bee more to come then is past, or more past then is for to come.

46 What is past, I know: but what is for to come, I know not.

47 And he said vnto me, Stand vp vpon the right side, and I shall expound the similitude vnto thee.

48 So I stoode, and behold, an hote burning ouen passed by before me: and it happened, that when the flame was gone by, I looked, and behold, the smoke had the vpper hand:

49 After

49 After this there passed by before me a watrie cloude, and sent downe much raine with a storme: and when ẏ stormie raine was past, ‖ Or, the litle drops came after. ‖ the drops remained still.
50 Then said he vnto me, Consider with thy selfe: like as the raine is more thē the drops, and as the fire exceedeth the smoke: euen so, the measure of the things that are past hath the vpper hand, and the drops & smoke worke much in quantitie.
51 Then I prayed, and said, May I liue thinkest thou vntil that time? or what shall happen in those dayes?
52 He answered me, and said, As for the tokens whereof thou askest me, I may tell thee of them in part: but as touching thy life, I am not sent to shew thee: for I do not know it.

The v. Chapter.

1 In the latter times trueth shalbe hid, vnrighteousnesse and all wickednesse shal reigne in the world.

1 NEuertheless, as concerning the tokens [marke this:] behold, the daies shal come, that they which dwel vpon earth shalbe taken in a great number, and the way of the trueth shall be hid, and the land shalbe barren from faith:
Matt. 24. 4. 2 But * iniquitie shal be encreased aboue that which now thou seest, or that thou hast heard long agoe.
3 And the land that thou seest now to haue rule, shalt thou shortly see waste.
4 But if God graunt thee to liue, thou shalt see after the third trumpet, that the sunne shal sodainly shine againe in the night, & the moone three times in the day:
5 And blood shall droppe out of wood, and the stone shal giue his voyce, and the people shall be vnquieted:
6 And euen he shall rule, whom they hope not that dwel vpon earth, & the foules shall flit:
7 And the Sodomitish sea shall cast out ẏ fish, and make a noise in ẏ night, which many haue not knowen: but they shall all heare ẏ voyce thereof.
8 There shalbe a confusion also in many places, & fyre shalbe oft sent out agayne: and the wylde beastes shal change theyr places, & menstruous women shal beare monsters,
9 And salt waters shalbe found in the sweete, and all friends shal fight one against another: then shall all wit and vnderstanding be hid, & put aside into their secret places,
10 And shalbe sought of many, and yet not be found: then shal vnrighteousnesse & ‖ voluptuousnesse haue the vpper hand vpon earth.
‖ Or, incontinencie.
11 One land also shall aske another, and say, Is righteousnesse that ‖ maketh a man righteous, gone thorow thee? And it shal say, No.
‖ Or, that iustifieth, or, that doth right wisely.
12 At the same tyme shall men hope, but nothing obteine: they shall labour, but their wayes shall not prosper.
13 To shew thee such tokens I haue leaue: and if thou wilt pray againe, and weepe as now, and fast seuen daies, thou shalt heare yet greater things.
14 Then I awaked, and a fearefulnesse went thorow all my body, and my mind was feeble, so that I almost swooned withall.
15 So the angell that was come to talke with me, held me, comforted me, and set me vp vpon my feete.
16 And in the secōd night it came to passe, that Salathiel the captaine of the people came vnto me, saying, Where hast thou bene? & why is thy countenance so heauie?
17 Knowest thou not that Israel is committed vnto thee in the land of their captiuitie?
18 Up then, and eate, and forsake vs not as the shepeheard that leaueth his flocke in ẏ hands of ‖ wicked wolues.
‖ Or, cruel.
19 Then said I vnto him, Goe thy wayes fro me, and come not nigh me. And he heard it, & as I said, so he went his way from me.
20 And so I fasted seuen daies, mourning and weeping, like as Uriel the angel commanded me.
21 And after seuen dayes so it was, that the thoughts of my heart were very grieuous vnto me againe:
22 And my soule receiued the spirit of vnderstanding, and I began to talke with the most highest againe,
23 And said, O Lord, Lord, of euery wood of the earth, and of all the trees thereof, thou hast chosen thee one onely vineyard:
24 And of all landes of the whole world, thou hast chosen thee one pit: and of all flowres of the ground, thou hast chosen thee one lillie:
25 And of all the depths of the sea, thou hast filled thee one riuer: and of all builded cities, thou hast halowed Sion vnto thy selfe:
26 And of all the fowles that are created, thou hast named thee one Doue: and of all the cattell that are made, thou hast prouided thee one sheepe:
27 And among all the multitudes of peoples, thou hast gotten thee one people: and vnto this people whom thou louedst, thou gauest a lawe that is prooued of all.
28 And now, O Lorde, why hast thou giuen this one people ouer vnto many? and vpon the one roote thou hast ‖ prepared others, and why hast thou scattered thy one onely people among many?
‖ Or, set.
29 Which tread them downe, yea which haue euer withstood thy promises, and neuer beleeued thy couenants.
30 If thou diddest so much hate thy people, yet shouldest thou punish them with thine owne hands.
31 Now when I had spoken these wordes, the angel that came to me the night afore, was sent vnto me,

32 And saide vnto me, Heare me, and I will instruct thee, hearken to the thing that I say, and I shall tell thee more.

33 And I said, Speake on, my Lord. Then said he vnto me, Thou art sore troubled in minde for Israels sake: louest thou that people better then he that made them?

34 And I sayd, No Lord, but of very griefe [and cõpassion] haue I spokẽ: for my reines paine me euery houre, because I would ‖haue experience of the way of the most highest, & seeke out part of his iudgement.

‖Or, comprehend.

‖Or, canst not.

35 And he said vnto me, That thou ‖maist not. And I said, Wherfore, Lord: whervnto was I borne then? or why was not my mothers wombe thẽ my graue, that I might not haue seene the miserie [and trouble] of Jacob, and the wearing out of the stocke of Israel?

36 And hee sayde vnto me, Number mee the things that are not yet come, gather me together the droppes that are scattered abroade, make me the flowres greene againe that are withered, 37 Open me the places that are closed, & bring me foorth the windes that in them are shutte vp, shewe me the image of a voice: and then I wil declare to thee the thing that thou labourest to knowe.

38 And I said, O Lord, Lord, who may knowe these things, but he that hath not his dwelling with men?

39 As for mee, I am vnwise: howe may I then speake of these things whereof thou askest me?

40 Then saide he vnto mee, Like as thou canst doe none of these things that I haue spoken of: euen so canst thou not finde out my iudgement, or in the ende the loue that I haue promised vnto my people.

41 And I sayde, Beholde, O Lorde, yet art thou nigh vnto them that be reserued till the ende: and what shall they doe that haue beene before me, or we that be now, or they that shal come after vs?

42 And hee sayde vnto me, I will liken my iudgement vnto a ring: Like as there is no slacknesse of the last, euen so there is no swiftnesse of the first.

43 So I answered, and saide, Couldest thou not make those that haue beene made, and be nowe, and that are for to come, at once, that thou mightest shewe thy iudgement the sooner?

44 Then answered hee me, and sayde, The creature may not haste ‖aboue the maker, neither may the worlde holde them at once that shalbe created therein.

‖Or, before.

45 And he sayd, As thou hast sayd vnto thy seruant, that thou which quickenest all things, hast giuẽ life at once to ỹ creature [or worke] that thou hast created, and the creature bare it: euen so might it nowe also beare them that now be present at once.

46 And he sayde vnto me, Aske the wombe of a woman, and say vnto her, If thou bringest foorth children, why doest thou it not together, but one after another? Pray her therfore to bring foorth ten children at once.

47 And I sayde, Shee can not: but must doe it by distance of time.

48 Then saide he vnto me, Euen so haue I diuided the distance of time the childbed of the earth, for those that be sowen vpon her.

49 For like as a young childe may not bring foorth the things that belong to the aged, euen so haue I ordeined ‖ the worlde which I created.

‖Or, the time.

50 And I asked, and saide, Seeing thou hast nowe giuen me the way, I will proceede to speake before thee: for our mother, of whom thou hast told me that shee is young, draweth shee now nigh vnto age?

51 He answered me, and saide, Aske a woman that beareth children, and shee shall tell thee.

52 Say vnto her, Wherfore are not they whom thou hast nowe brought foorth, like those that were before thee, but lesse of stature?

53 And shee shall answere thee, They that be borne in the youth of strength, are of one fashion: and they that are borne in the time of age (when the wombe faileth) are otherwise.

54 Consider now thy self, how that ye are lesse of stature, then those that were before you:

55 And so are they that come after you lesse then yee, as the creatures which nowe begin to be olde, and haue passed ouer the strength of youth.

56 Then said I, Lord, I beseech thee, if I haue found fauour in thy sight, shewe thy seruant by whom thou visitest thy ‖ creature.

‖Or workemanship.

The vi. Chapter.

1 God hath foreseene al things in his secrete counsaile, and is authour therof, and hath created them for his children. 25 The felicitie of the age to come.

1 AND he said vnto me, In the beginning when the ‖ grounde was made, before the borders of the world stoode, or euer the windes blewe, ‖Or, compasse of the earth.

2 Before it thundred and lightened, or euer the foundations of Paradise were laide,

3 Before the faire flowres were seene, or euer the moueable powers were established, before the immumerable ‖ multitude of angels were gathered together,

‖Or, armies.

4 Or euer the highnesse of the aire were lifted vp, afore the measures of the firmament were named, or euer the chimneyes in Sion were hot,

5 And yer the present yeeres were sought out, and yer euer the inuentions of them that now sinne

sinne were ‖ put aside, before they were sealed that haue gathered faith for a treasure:

6 Then did I consider and ponder all these things, and they all were made through me alone, and through none other: by me also they shalbe ended, and by none other.

7 Then answered I, and saide, What shalbe the ‖ parting asunder of the times? or when shalbe the ende of the first, and the beginning of it that followeth?

‖Or, diuision.

8 And he saide vnto me, From Abraham vnto Isahac, when Iacob and Esau were borne of him, Iacobs * hand helde first the heele of Esau:

Gene. 25. 27.

9 For Esau is the ende of this world, and Iacob is the beginning of it that followeth.

10 The hand of man, betwixt the heele and the hand: Other question, Esdras, aske thou not.

11 I answered then, and said, O Lord, Lord, if I haue found fauour in thy sight, ‖Or, make an end to shewe thy seruant thy tokens.

12 I beseech thee ‖ shew thy seruant the end of thy tokens, whereof thou shewedst me part the last night.

13 So he answered, and saide vnto me, Stand vp vpon thy feete, and heare ‖ a perfect voyce and sound.

‖Or, mighty.

‖Or, an earthquake.

14 There shall come a ‖ great motion, but the place where thou stãdest, shal not be moued.

‖Or, when he speaketh.

15 And therefore when ‖ thou hearest ẏ words, be not afraide, for of the ende shall the worde be, and of the foundation of the earth shall it be vnderstood.

16 And why? the word thereof trembleth and quaketh: for it knoweth that it must be changed at the end.

17 And it happened, that when I had hearde it, I stoode vp vpon my feete, and hearkened: and behold, there was a voyce that spake, and the sounde of it, was like the sounde of many waters,

18 And it said, Beholde, the dayes come, that I will begin to drawe nigh, and to visite them that dwell vpon earth:

19 And wil begin to make inquisition of them, what they be that haue hurt vniustly with their vnrighteousnesse, and when the lowe estate of Sion shalbe fulfilled.

20 And when the world that shall vanish away shalbe ouersealed, then wil I do these tokens: the bookes shalbe opened before the ‖ firmament, and they shall see altogether:

‖Or, heauen.

21 And the children of a yeere olde shall speake with their voyces, the women with childe shall bring forth vntimely children of three or foure moneths olde, and they shall liue, and be raised vp.

22 And sodainely shall the sowen places appeare as the vnsowen, the full storehouses shall sodainely be found emptie:

23 And the Trumpet shall giue a sound, which when euery man heareth, they shalbe hastily afraide.

24 At that time shall friendes fight one against another like enemies, and the earth shal stand in feare with them: the springs of the wels shall stande still, and in three houres they shall not runne.

25 Whosoeuer remaineth from al these things that I haue tolde thee, ‖ shall escape, and see my saluation, and the ende of your world.

‖Or, he shalbe saued.

26 And the men that are receiued, shall see it, they that haue not tasted death from their birth: & the heart of the ‖ indwellers shalbe changed, and turned into another meaning.

27 For euill shalbe put out, and deceite shalbe quenched.

28 As for faith, it shall florish, corruption shalbe ouercome, and the trueth which hath bene so long without fruite, shalbe ‖ declared.

‖Or, shewed forth.

29 And when he talked with me, beholde, I looked a little and a little vpon him, before whom I stoode:

30 And these wordes saide he vnto mee, I am come to shewe thee the time of the night for to come.

31 If thou wilt pray yet more, and fast seuen dayes againe, I shall tell thee more things, and greater then before, which I haue heard by the day.

32 For thy voyce is hearde before the highest: for why? the mightie hath seene thy righteous dealing, he hath seene also thy chastitie which thou hast had euer since thy youth:

33 And therefore hath he sent me to shewe thee all these things, and to say vnto thee, Be of good comfort, and feare not:

34 And haste not with the times that are past, to thinke vaine things, that thou maiest not hasten from the latter times.

35 And it came to passe after this, that I wept againe, and fasted seuen dayes in like maner, that I might fulfill the three weekes which he tolde me.

36 And in the eight night was my heart vexed within me againe, and I began to speake before the highest.

37 For my spirit was greatly set on fire, and my soule was in distresse:

38 And I saide, O Lord, thou spakest vnto thy creature from the beginning, euen the first day, and saidest, Let * heauen and earth be made: and thy word was a perfect worke.

Gene. 1. 1.

39 And then was there the spirit, and the darknesses were yet on euery side, and silence: there was no mans voyce as yet from thee.

40 Then commandedst thou a ‖ faire light to come forth of thy treasures, that thy worke might appeare and be seene.

‖Or, bright.

41 Upon the second day thou madest the spirit of the firmament, and commandedst it to part asunder, and to make a diuision betwixt the waters, that the one part might remaine aboue, aboue, and the other beneath.

42 Upon the third day thou broughtest to passe that the waters were gathered in the seuenth part of the earth: sixe partes hast thou dryed vp, and kept them, ‖ to the intent that men might sowe and occupie husbandry therein.

‖ Or, to the intent that of them, there might be some to minister before thee sowen of God, and tylled.

43 As soone as thy word went forth, the worke was made:

44 For immediatly there was great and innumerable fruite, and many diuers pleasures for the taste, and flowres of vnchangeable colour, and odours of wonderfull smel: And this was done the third day.

45 Upon the fourth day thou commandedst that the Sunne should giue his shine, and the Moone her light, the Starres diddest thou set in order:

Deut. 4. 9. 46 And * gauest them a charge to doe seruice, euen vnto man that was to be made.

Gene. 1. 21. 47 * Upon the fifth day, thou saidest vnto the seuenth part where the waters were gathered, that it should bring forth [diuers] beasts, foules, and fishes: and so it came to passe.

48 For the dumbe water and without soule, brought forth liuing things at the commandement of God, that all ‖ people might praise thy wonderous workes.

‖ Or, the nations.

49 Then diddest thou ordeine two soules, the one thou calledst ‖ Enoch, and the other Leuiathan,

‖ Or, Behemoth.

50 And diddest separate the one from the other: for the seuenth part (namely, where the water was gathered together) might not holde them both.

‖ Or, Behemoth. 51 Unto ‖ Enoch thou gauest one part, which was dried vp the thirde day, that he shoulde dwell in the same part, wherein are a thousand hilles.

52 But vnto Leuiathan thou gauest ỹ seuenth part, namely the moyst, and hast kept him to deuoure what thou wilt, and when.

53 Upon the sixth day thou gauest commandement vnto the earth, that before thee it should bring forth beasts, cattell, and all that creepe:

54 And besides this, Adam also, whom thou madest lorde of all thy creatures, of him come we all, and the people also whom thou hast chosen, [specially vnto thy selfe.]

55 Al this haue I spoken before thee, O Lord, [that I might shew how] that the worlde is made for our sakes.

56 As for the other people which also come of Adam, thou hast said that they are nothing, but be like vnto spittle, and hast likened the abundance of them vnto a droppe that falleth from a vessell.

57 And now, O Lorde, beholde, the Heathen which haue euer bene reputed as nothing, haue begun to be lordes ouer vs, and to deuoure vs:

58 But we thy people (whom thou hast called thy first borne, thy onely begotten, and thy feruent louer) are giuen into their hands and power.

59 If the worlde nowe be made for our sakes, why haue we not the inheritance of ỹ worlde in possession? How long shall this endure?

The vii. Chapter.

5 Without tribulation none can come to felicitie. 12 God aduertiseth all in time. 28 The comming and death of Christ. 32 The resurrection and last iudgement.

1 AND when I had made an ende of speaking these wordes, there was sent vnto me an Angel, which had bene sent vnto me also the nightes afore:

2 And he said vnto me, Up Esdras, and heare the wordes that I am come to tell thee.

3 And I said, Speake on [Lorde] my God. Then said he vnto me, The sea is set in a wide place, that it might be deepe and great.

4 But put case the entrance is narrowe and small, like a riuer.

5 Who then coulde goe into the sea to looke vpon it, and to rule it? If he went not thorowe the narowe, howe might he come into the broade?

6 Item ‖ another. A citie is builded, and set vpon a broade fielde, and is full of all good things:

‖ Or, again.

7 The entrance thereof is narrowe, and is set in a dangerous place to fall, like as if there were a fire at the right hand, and a deepe water at the left,

8 And as it were onely one straight path betwixt them both, euen betweene the fire and the water, so small that there coulde but one man goe there at once:

9 If this citie now were giuen to a man for an inheritance, and he neuer went thorowe the perillous way before, howe would he receiue his inheritance?

10 And I said, It is so, Lord. Then saide he, Euen so also is Israels portion.

11 And why? for their sakes haue I made the world: and when Adam transgressed my statutes, then was the thing so appointed as nowe is done.

12 Then were the entrances of the world made narrowe, full of sorowe and trauaile: they are but fewe and euill, full of perilles and labour.

13 For the entrances of the foreworlde were wide and sure, and brought immortall fruite.

14 If then they which are liuing, enter not diligently thorowe these straite and brittle things, they cannot receiue the things so laid vp in secrete.

15 Why disquietest thou thy selfe then, seeing thou art but a corruptible man? And why art thou mooued, whereas thou art but mortall?

16 And why hast thou not receiued into thine heart, heart, the things that are to come, rather then them that are present:

Deut.8.1. 17 Then said *I, O Lorde, Lord, thou hast ordeined in thy lawe, that the righteous shoulde inherite these things, but that the vngodly should perish:

18 Neuertheless, the righteous shall suffer straite things, and hope for wide: for they that haue liued vngodly, & suffered straite things, shall not see the wide.

19 And he saide vnto me, There is no iudge aboue God, and none that hath vnderstanding aboue the highest.

20 For there be many that perish in this life, because they despise the lawe of God that is ‖ set before them:

‖ Or, appointed them.

21 For God hath giuen straite commandement to such as came, so oft as they came, what they shoulde doe to haue life, and what they should keepe to auoyde punishment.

22 Neuertheless, they were not obedient vnto him, but spake against him, and imagined vaine things:

23 And deceiued themselus by wicked deedes, and denyed the power of the most high, and regarded not his wayes, 24 But his law haue they despised, and denyed his promises: in his statutes and ordinances haue they not bene faithfull and stedfast, and haue not perfourmed his workes.

25 And therefore Esdras, for the emptie, are the emptie things, and for the full, are the full things.

26 Beholde, the time shall come, that these tokens which I haue tolde thee, shall come to passe, and the bride shall appeare, and the coming foorth shalbe seene, that nowe is vnder the earth:

27 And whosoeuer is deliuered from the foresaid euils, shall see my wonders.

28 For my sonne Iesus shalbe openly declared, with those that be with him, and they that remaine, shalbe merrie within foure hundred yeeres.

29 After these same yeres shal my sonne Christ die, and all men that haue life.

30 And the world shalbe turned into the olde silence seuen dayes, like as in the foreiudgements, so that no man shall remaine.

31 And after seuen dayes the worlde that yet awaketh not, shalbe raised vp, and that shal die that is corrupt.

32 And the earth shall restore those that haue slept in her, & so shall the dust those that dwell therein in silence, and the secrete places shall deliuer those the soules that were committed vnto them.

33 And the most highest shalbe openly declared vpon the seate of iudgement, and all miserie shall vanish away, and long suffering ‖ shalbe gathered together.

‖ Or, haue an ende.

34 But the iudgement shal continue, the trueth shall remaine, and faith shall waxe strong,

35 The worke shall follow, & the reward shalbe shewed, the ‖ righteousnesse shall watch, and the vnrighteousnesse shall beare no rule.

‖ Or, the good deedes shalbe of force.

36 Then said I, Abraham prayed * first for the Sodomites, and * Moses for the fathers that sinned in the wildernesse, Gene.18.23. Exod.23.11.

37 And they that came after him, for Israel, in the time of Achas and Samuel, 38 And * Dauid for the destruction, & * Solomon for them that came into the sanctuarie, 2.Reg.24.17. 2.Chro.6.14.

39 And * Helias for those that receiued raine, and for the dead, that he might liue, 3.King.17.21.

40 And * Ezechias for the people in the time of Sennacherib, and diuers other in like maner, which haue prayed for many. 4.King 9.15.

41 Euen so now, seeing the ‖ corrupt is growē vp, and wickednes increased, and the righteous haue prayed for the vngodly: wherefore shall it not be so now also?

‖ Or, vice.

42 He answered mee and saide, This present life is not the end, oft times honour is retained in it: therefore haue they prayed for the weake.

43 But the day of dome shalbe the ende of this time, and the beginning of the immortalitie for to come, wherein all corruption shalbe vanished.

44 Intemperancie shalbe loosed, infidelitie be cut off, righteousnesse growe, and the veritie spring vp.

45 Then shall no man be able to saue him that is destroyed, nor to oppresse him that hath gotten the victorie.

46 I answered then, and saide, This is my first and last saying, that it had bene better not to haue giuen the earth vnto Adam: or else when it was giuē him, to haue kept him that he should not haue sinned.

47 For what profite is it for men nowe in this present time to liue in heauinesse, and after death to ‖ looke for punishment?

‖ Or, feare.

48 O thou Adam, what hast thou done? For * though it was thou that sinned, thou art not fallen alone, but we all that come of thee. Rom.5.15.

49 For what profit is it vnto vs, if there be promised vs an immortal ‖ time, whereas we doe the workes that bring death:

‖ Or, life.

50 And that there is promised vs an euerlasting hope, whereas our selues are euill and vaine:

51 And that there is laide vp for vs dwellings of health and safetie, whereas we haue liued wickedly:

52 And that the glorie of the highest is kept to defend them which haue ledde a patient life, whereas we haue walked in the most wicked wayes of all:

53 And that there shoulde be shewed a paradise, whose fruite endureth for euer, wherein

‖ is ‖ Or, saferie and health.

‖ is freedome and medicine, whereas we shall not goe in:

54 (For we haue walked in vnpleasãt places)

55 And that the faces of them which haue absteined, shall shine aboue the starres: whereas our faces shalbe blacker then darkenesse:

56 For while we liued and did vnrighteously, we considered not that we should suffer therefore after death.

57 Then answered he me, and said, This is the maner of the battaile, which mã that is borne vpon the earth shall fight, 58 That if he be ouercome, he shall suffer as thou hast saide: but if he get the victorie, he shall receiue the thing that I say.

59 For this is the life whereof Moses spake vnto ỹ people while he liued, saying, Choose thee *life, that thou maiest liue.

Deut. 30. 16.

60 Neuertheless they beleeued him not, neither the Prophets after him, no nor me which haue said vnto them, 61 That heauinesse shoulde not so be vnto their destruction, like as ioy is for to come ouer those ‖ that haue suffered themselues to be enfourmed in saluation.

‖ Or, to whom saluation is perswaded.

62 I answered then, and saide, I know, Lord, that the highest is called mercifull, in that he hath mercy vpon them which are not yet come vnto that world,

63 And vpon those also that walke in his lawe.

Rom. 2. 4.

64 And that he is *patient, for he long suffereth those that haue sinned, as his creatures.

65 And that he is liberall to giue, whereas neede requireth.

66 And that he is of great mercie: for he passeth in mercy much both those that are present, and that are past, and also them which are for to come.

67 For if he multiplyed not his mercies, the worlde coulde not continue his being with those that haue inheritance therein.

‖ Or, forgiueth.

68 He ‖ giueth also: for if he gaue not of his goodnes, ỹ they which haue done euill, might be eased from their wickednesse, the ten thousande part of men should not remaine liuing.

69 And if he, being iudge, forgaue not those that be healed with his worde, and tooke not away the multitude of contentions, 70 There shoulde be very fewe left, peraduenture in an innumerable multitude.

The viii. Chapter.

6 The workes of God are excellent. 20 Esdras praieth for him and for his people. 39 The promise of saluation vnto the iust.

1 AND he answered me, saying, The most highest made this world for many, but the world to come for fewe.

2 I will tell thee a similitude, Esdras. As when thou askest the earth, it shall say vnto thee that it giueth much ‖ moulde whereof earthen vessels are made, but little of it that gold commeth of: euen so is it with ỹ worke of this world.

3 There be *many created, but fewe shalbe saued.

Mat. 20. 16.

4 Then answered I, and said, Then swalowe vp the wit (O my soule) and deuoure the vnderstanding:

5 For thou art agreed to hearken and to giue eare, and willing to prophecie: for thou hast no longer space but this life giuen thee.

6 O Lord, if thou suffer not thy seruant to entreate thee, that thou maiest giue seede vnto our heart, and builde our vnderstanding, that there may come fruit of it, whereby eche man may liue that is corrupt: then who shall step forth in the place of man?

7 For thou art alone, and we al one workmanship of thy handes, like as thou hast said.

8 For when the body is fashioned nowe in the mothers wombe, and thou giuest the members, thy creature is preserued in fire and water, and nine moneths doeth thy worke suffer thy creature which is fashioned in her:

9 But the thing that keepeth, & that is kept, shall both be preserued: and when the time commeth, the wombe preserued deliuereth vp the things that grewe in it.

10 For thou hast commanded the partes of the body, euen the breastes, to giue milke vnto the fruite of the breastes:

11 That the thing which is created and fashioned, may be nourished for a time, till thou disposest and ordrest it with thy mercy.

12 And then thou bringest it vp with thy righteousnesse, nurturest it in thy law, and reformest it with thy vnderstanding, 13 ‖ Mortifyest it as thy creature, and makest it liuing as thy worke.

‖ Or, stayest.

14 Seeing then that thou destroyest him which with so great labour is created and fashioned through thy commandement, thou couldest lightly ordaine also that the thing which is made, might be preserued,

15 Nowe therefore, Lord, I will speake, (for concerning all men in generall thou shalt rather prouide) but touching thy people, for whose sake I am sory,

16 And thine inheritance, for whose cause I mourne, and Israel, for whom I am wofull, and Jacob, for whose sake I am grieued:

17 Therefore begin I to pray before thee for my selfe, and for them: for I see the faultes of vs that dwell in the land.

18 But I haue heard the ‖ swiftnesse of the iudge which is to come.

‖ Or, so daine comming.

19 Therefore heare my voyce, and vnderstande my wordes, and I shall speake before thee. This is the beginning of the wordes of Esdras, before he was taken vp:

20 O Lorde, thou that dwellest in euerlastingnesse, which beholdest from aboue things in the the heauen and in the aire:

21 Whose throne is inestimable, whose glorie [and maiestie] may not be comprehended, before whom the hostes of angels stande with trembling,
22 Whose keeping is turned in winde and fire, whose worde is true, whose sayings are stedfast, whose commandement is strong, whose ordinance is fearefull,
23 Whose looke drieth vp the depthes, whose wrath maketh the mountaines to melt away, and ‖ whose trueth beareth witnesse:
‖ Or, as the effect it selfe beareth witnesse.
24 O heare the prayer of thy seruant, & marke with thine eares the petition of thy creature.
25 For while I liue, I will speake, and so long as I haue vnderstanding, I will answere.
26 O looke not vpon the sinnes of thy people, rather then on them which serue thee in trueth.
27 Haue no respect vnto the wicked studies of the Heathen: but to the desire of those that keepe thy testimonies with afflictions.
28 Thinke not vpon those that haue walked fainedly before thee: but remember them which according to thy wil haue knowen thy feare.
29 Let it not be thy wil to destroy them which haue had beastly maners: but to looke vpon them that haue clearely taught thy lawe.
30 Take thou no indignation at them which ‖ are worse then beastes: but loue them that alway put their trust in thy righteousnes and glory.
‖ Or, appeare.
31 For we and our fathers haue all the same sicknesse [and disease,] but because of vs sinners, thou shalt be called mercifull.
32 For if thou hast mercie vpon vs, thou shalt be called mercifull to vs that haue no workes of righteousnesse.
33 For the righteous which haue laide vp many good workes together, shall out of their deedes receiue reward.
34 But what is man that thou shouldest take displeasure at him? Or what is this corruptible and mortall generation, that thou shouldest be so rough toward him?
3. Reg. 8. 46. 2. chro. 6. 36.
35 For of a * trueth there is no man among thē that be borne, but he hath dealt wickedly, and among the ‖ faithfull, there is none which hath not done amisse.
‖ Or, such as confesse thee.
36 For in this, O Lord, thy righteousnesse and thy goodnes shalbe praised [and declared,] if thou be mercifull vnto them which ‖ are not rich in good workes.
‖ Or, haue not the substance of good workes.
37 Then answered he me, & said, Some things hast thou spoken aright, and according vnto thy wordes it shalbe.
38 For I will not verily consider the workes ‖ of them which haue sinned before death, before iudgement, before destruction:
‖ Or, of the wicked.
Gene. 4. 4.
39 * But I will reioyce ouer the worke and thought of the righteous, I will remember also the pilgrimage, the saluation, and the reward that they shall haue.
40 Like as I haue spoken now, so shall it come to passe.
41 For as the husbandman soweth much seede vpon the ground, & planteth many trees, and yet alway the thing that is sowen or planted, is not all kept safe, neither doeth it all take roote: euen * so is it of them that are sowen in the world, they shall not all be saued.
Matth. 13. 4. and 20. 16.
42 I answered then, and said, If I haue found grace, then let me speake.
43 Like as the husbandmans seede perisheth, if it come not vp, and receiue not thy raine in due season, or if there come too much raine vpon it, and corrupt it:
44 Euen so perisheth man also, which is created with thy handes, and is like vnto thine owne image, and to thy selfe, for whose sake thou hast made all things, and likened him vnto the husbandmans seede.
45 Be not wroth with vs, [O Lord,] but spare thy people, and haue mercy vpon thine owne inheritance: for thou wilt be mercifull vnto thy creature.
46 Then answered he mee, and saide, Things present, are for the present, & things to come, for such as be to come.
47 For thou lackest yet much, seeing thou canst loue my creature aboue me: but I haue oft times drawen nigh vnto thee, and vnto it, but neuer to the vnrighteous.
48 In this also thou art marueilous before the highest,
49 In that thou hast humbled thy selfe as it becommeth thee, and hast not iudged thy selfe worthy to be much glorified among the righteous.
50 For many and great miseries remaine for them that in the latter time shall dwell in the worlde, because they ‖ haue walked in great pride.
‖ Or, shall walke.
51 But vnderstand thou for thy selfe, and seeke out the glory for such as be like thee.
52 For vnto you is paradise opened, the tree of life is planted, the time to come is prepared, plenteousnesse is made ready, the citie is builded [for you,] and rest is prepared, yea perfect goodnesse and wisedome.
53 The roote of euil is ‖ marked from you, the weakenesse and moth is hid from you, and vnto hel fleeth corruption in forgetfulnesse.
‖ Or, sealed vp.
54 Sorowes are vanished away, and in the end is shewed the treasure of immortalitie.
55 And therefore aske thou no more questions concerning the multitude of them that perish.
56 For when they had taken libertie, they despised the highest, thought scorne of his law, and forsooke his wayes.

57 Moreouer, they haue troden downe his righteous,

Psal.14.1. 58 And saide in their *heart, that there is no God, ‖ yea and that wittingly, for they die.

‖ Or, for all they knew that they should die.

59 For like as the thing that I haue spoken of, is made ready for you, euē so is thirst & paine prepared for them: for it was not ‖ his will that man should ‖ come to nought.

‖ Or, Gods. ‖ Or, perish.

60 But they which be created, haue defiled the name of him that made them, and are vnthankefull vnto him which prepared life for them.

61 And therefore is my iudgement nowe at hand.

62 These things haue I not shewed vnto all men, but vnto fewe, namely vnto thee, and to such as be like thee. Then answered I, and saide, 63 Beholde, O Lord, now hast thou shewed me the multitude of ẏ wonders which thou wilt begin to doe in the last times: but at what time, [and when,] thou hast not shewed me.

The ix. Chapter.

5 All things in this world haue a beginning and an end. 10 Torments for the wicked after this life. 15 The number of the wicked is more then of the good.

1 HE answered me then, and saide, Measure thou ẏ time diligently in it selfe: and when thou seest that one part of the tokens come to passe, which I haue told thee before,

2 Then shalt thou vnderstande, that it is the very same time wherein the highest will begin to visite the world which he made.

3 Therfore when there shalbe seene an earthquake, and vprore of the people in the world,

4 Then shalt thou well vnderstande that the most highest spake of those things from the dayes that were before thee, euen from the beginning.

5 For like as all that is made in the worlde, hath a beginning and ende, and the ende is manifest:

6 Euen so, the times also of the highest haue plaine beginnings in wonders and signes, and ende in ‖ working and in tokens.

‖ Or, effect and miracles.

7 And euery one that shalbe saued, and shall be able to escape by his workes, and by faith, wherein ye haue beleeued,

8 Shalbe preserued from the saide perilles, and shall see my ‖ saluation in my lande, and within my borders: for I haue halowed ‖ me from the world.

‖ Or, saluacion. ‖ Or, my selfe.

9 Then shall they pitie themselues, which nowe haue abused my wayes: and they that haue cast them out despitefully, shall dwell in paines.

10 For such as in their life haue receiued benefites, and haue not knowen me:

11 And they ẏ haue abhorred my lawe, while they had yet ‖ freedome, and when they had yet open leisure of amendment and conuersion, vnderstoode not, but despised it:

‖ Or, libertie.

12 The same must knowe it after death in paine.

13 And therefore be thou no more ‖ carefull howe the vngodly shalbe punished: but enquire howe the righteous shalbe saued, and whose the world is, and for whom the worlde is, and when [it is.]

‖ Or, curious to knowe.

14 Then answered I, and said,

15 * I haue said before, and now I speake, and will speake it also hereafter: that there be many mo of them which perish, then of them which shalbe saued:

4. Esdr. 8. 3.

16 Like as the flood is greater then a drop.

17 And he answered me, saying, Like as ẏ field is, so is also the seede: as the flowres be, such are the colours also: such as the workman is, such is also the worke: and as the husbandman is himselfe, so is his husbandry also: for it was the time of the world.

18 And whē I prepared for them that are now, or euer the world was made, wherein they shoulde dwell: then was there no man that spake against me.

19 For then euery one [obeyed,] but now the maners of them which are created in this world that is made, are corrupted by a perpetuall seede, and by a lawe whereout they can not rid themselues.

20 So I considered the worlde, and beholde, there was perill, because of the ‖ thoughtes that were come into it.

‖ Or, deuices.

21 And I sawe, and spared them greatly, and haue kept me a ‖ winebery of grapes, and a plant of a great people.

‖ Or, grape of the cluster.

22 Let the multitude perish then which are growen vp in vaine, and let my grape [and wincbery] be kept, and my plant: for with great labour haue I made it vp.

23 Neuertheless, if thou wilt ceasse yet seuen dayes moe, but thou shalt not fast in them:

24 Goe thy way then into a fielde of flowres, where no house is builded, and eate onely of the flowres of the fielde, taste no flesh, drinke no wine, but eate flowres onely,

25 And pray vnto the highest continually, so will I come and talke with thee.

26 So I went my way, and came into the field which is called Ardath, like as he commanded me, and there I sate among the flowres, and did eate of the herbes of the fielde, and the meate of the same satisfied me.

27 After seuen dayes I sate vpon the grasse, and my heart was vexed within me like as before.

28 And I opened my mouth, & began to talke with the most highest, and saide,

29 * O Lorde, thou that shewest thy selfe vnto vs, thou hast declared and opened thy selfe vnto our fathers in the wildernesse, in a place where no man dwelleth, in a barren place, when they came out of Egypt:

Exod. 19. 9. and 24. 3. deut. 4. 12.

30 And thou ſpakeſt, ſaying, Heare mee, O Iſrael, and marke my wordes, thou ſeede of Iacob.

31 For beholde, I ſowe my lawe in you, and it ſhall bring fruite in you, and ye ſhalbe honoured in it for euer.

32 But our fathers which receiued the lawe, kept it not, and obſerued not thy ordinances and ſtatutes, and the fruite of thy lawe did not appeare, neither coulde it: for why? it was thine.

Deut. 32, 28. 33 For * they that receiued it, periſhed, becauſe they kept not the thing that was ſowen in them.

34 And loe, it is a cuſtome when the grounde receiueth ſeede, or the ſea a ſhippe, or a veſſell meate and drinke: that when it periſheth, or is broken, wherein a thing is ſowen, or wherein any thing is put,

35 The things alſo periſh and are broken, which are ſowen or put therein and receiued, and the things that are receiued, remaine not then with vs: but in vs it hath not happened ſo.

36 For we that haue receiued the lawe, periſh in ſinne, and our heart which alſo receiued the lawe:

38 And when I ſpake theſe things in my heart [after this maner,] I looked about me with mine eyes, and vpon the right ſide I ſawe a 4.Eſr 10.44. * woman which mourned ſore, made great lamentation, and wept with loude voyce, and was grieued in heart, and rent her clothes, and ſhe had aſhes vpon her head.

39 Then let I my thoughtes goe that I was in, and turned me vnto her, 40 And ſaide, Wherefore weepeſt thou? why art thou ſo ſory in minde?

41 And ſhe ſaide vnto mee, Sir, let me alone, that I may bewaile my ſelfe, and take yet my ſorow, for I am ſore vexed in my minde, and brought very lowe.

42 And I ſaide vnto her, What ayleth thee? [Or who hath done any thing to thee?] tell mee.

43 She ſayde vnto mee, I thy ſeruant haue bene vnfruitfull and barren, and haue had no childe, though I haue had an huſband thirtie yeeres.

44 And theſe thirtie yeeres I doe nothing els day and night, and all houres, but make my prayer to the higheſt.

45 After thirtie yeeres God heard me thy handmaiden, looked vpon my miſerie, conſidered my trouble, and gaue me a ſonne: and I was glad of him, ſo was my huſband alſo, and all my neighbours, and we gaue great honour vnto the almightie.

46 And I nouriſhed him with great trauaile.

47 So when he grewe vp, & came to the time that he ſhould ‖ haue a wife, I made a feaſt. ‖ Or, take.

The x. Chapter.

Eſdras and the woman that appeareth vnto him, commune together.

1 AND it ſo came to paſſe, that when my ſonne went into his chamber, he fell downe, and dyed.

2 Then ouerthrewe we all the lightes, and al my neighbours roſe vp to comfort me: then tooke I my reſt vnto the ſeconde day at night.

3 And when they had all left off to comfort me, that I ſhould be quiet: then I roſe vp by night, and fled, and am come hither into this fielde, as thou ſeeſt,

4 And am purpoſed not to returne into the citie, but to remaine here, and neither to eate nor drinke, but continually to mourne, and to faſt vntill I die.

5 Then let I my meditation and thoughtes fall that I was in, and ſpake to her in diſpleaſure, ſaying,

6 Thou fooliſh woman aboue all other, ſeeſt thou not our heauineſſe and mourning, and what happeneth vnto vs?

7 How Sion our mother is all wofull and ſorie, and how ſhe is cleane brought downe, and mourneth extreemely?

8 Seeing we be all nowe in heauineſſe, and make our mone, for we all be ſorowfull: art thou ſo heauie for one ſonne?

9 Demand the earth, and ſhe ſhall tel thee, that it is ſhe which ought [by reaſon] to mourne for the fal of ſo many that growe vpon her.

10 For from the beginning all men are borne of her, and other ſhall come: and behold, they walke almoſt all into deſtruction, & the multitude of them ſhalbe rooted out.

11 Who ſhould then [by reaſon] make more mourning, then ſhe that hath loſt ſo great a multitude, and not thou which art ſorie but for one?

12 But if thou wouldeſt ſay vnto mee, My mourning is not like the mourning of the earth: for I haue loſt the fruite of my ‖ body, which I brought forth with heauineſſe, and bare with ſorowes: ‖ Or, wombe.

13 But the earth is according to the maner of the earth, and the preſent multitude goeth againe into her, ‖ as it is come to paſſe: ‖ Or, as it is accuſtomed.

14 Then ſay I vnto thee, Like as thou haſt borne with trauaile & ſorow, euen ſo the earth alſo from the beginning giueth her fruite vnto man, euen to him that laboureth her.

15 * And therefore withholde thy ſorowe and heauineſſe by thy ſelfe, and looke what happeneth vnto thee, beare it ‖ ſtrongly. Hebr. 12.2. ‖ Or, conſtantly.

16 For if thou iudgeſt the marke and ende of God

God to be righteous and good, and receiuest his counsell in time, thou shalt be commended herein.

17 Goe thy way then into the citie, to thy husbande.

18 And she saide vnto mee, That will I not doe: I will not goe into the citie, but here will I die.

19 So I commaned more with her, and said,

20 Doe not so, but be counselled, and followe mee: for howe many falles hath Sion? Be of good comfort, because of the sorow of Hierusalem.

21 For thou seest that our sanctuarie is laide waste, our altar broken, our temple destroyed,

22 Our playing of instruments is laid downe, and songs are put to silence, our myrth is vanished away, the light of our candlestick is quenched, the arke of our couenant is taken from vs, all our holy things are defiled, and the name that is called vpon ouer vs, is almost dishonoured: our children are put to shame, our Priests are burnt, our Leuites are carried away into captiuitie, our virgins are defiled, and our wiues rauished, our righteous men spoyled, and our children destroyed, our young men are brought in bondage, and our strong worthies are become weake:

23 And Sion our seale, which is the greatest of all, is loosed vp from her worthip: for she is deliuered into the handes of them that hate vs.

24 And therefore shake off thy great beautifulnesse, and put away the multitude of sorowes, that the mightie may be mercifull vnto thee, and that the highest may giue thee rest and ease from thy labour and trauaile.

25 And when I was talking with her, her face and beautie shined sodainely, and her countenance glistred, so that I was afraide of her, and mused what it might be.

26 And immediatly she cast out a great voyce, very fearefull, so that the earth shooke at the noise of the woman.

27 And I looked, and beholde, the woman appeared vnto me no more: but there was a citie builded, and a place was shewed from the ground and foundation: then was I afraide, and cried with a loude voyce, and said,

4.Esdr.4.1. 28 Where is Uriel the angell, * which came to me at the first? For he hath caused me to come in many considerations and high thoughtes, and mine ende is turned to corruption, and my prayer to rebuke.

29 And as I was speaking these wordes, he came vnto me, and looked vpon me:

30 And loe, I lay as one that had bene dead, and mine vnderstanding was altered: and he tooke mee by the right hande, and comforted me, and set me vpon my feete, and said vnto me, 31 What aileth thee? and why is thine vnderstanding vexed, and the vnderstanding of thy heart? and wherefore art thou sorry?

32 And I saide, * Because thou hast forsaken mee, and I haue done according vnto thy wordes, I went into the field, and there haue I seene things, and see that I am not able to expresse. 4.Esdr.5.20.

33 He said vnto me, Stand vp, and be manly, and I shall giue thee exhortation.

34 Then said I, Speake on to me, my Lorde, forsake me not, least I die through my rashnesse:

35 For I haue seene that I knewe not, & heare that I doe not knowe:

36 Or is my vnderstanding deceiued, or doeth my soule dreame?

37 Nowe therefore I beseeche thee, that thou wilt shewe thy seruant of this wonder.

38 He answered me then, and saide, Heare me, and I shall informe thee, & tell thee wherefore thou art afraide: for the highest hath opened many secrete things vnto thee, 39 He hath seene that thy ‖ way is right, for that thou takest sorowe continually for thy people, and makest great lamentation for Sion. ‖ Or, purpose.

40 And therefore vnderstand the vision which thou sawest a little while agoe, after this maner:

41 Thou sawest a woman mourning, and thou begannest to comfort her.

42 Neuertheless, now seest thou the likenesse of the woman no more, but there appeared vnto thee a citie builded:

43 And where she tolde thee of the fall of her sonne, so is this the solution of it:

44 This woman whom thou sawest, is Sion: and where as she tolde thee, (euen she whom thou seest now as a citie builded)

45 And as touching that she saide vnto thee, that she hath bene thirtie yeeres vnfruitefull and barren: those are ỹ thirtie yeeres wherein there was no offering made in her.

46 But after thirtie yeeres, Solomon builded the citie, and offered offerings: and then bare the barren a sonne.

47 And whereas she tolde thee that she nourished him with labour: that was the dwelling in Hierusalem.

48 But whereas she tolde thee that her sonne dyed as his chance was, when she came into her chamber: that is the fall that is come to Hierusalem.

49 And beholde, when thou sawest her like one that mourned for her sonne, and begannest to comfort her: of these things which haue chanced, these are to be opened vnto thee.

50 For nowe the most highest seeth that thou art sorie in thy minde, and sufferest from thy whole heart for her, and so hath he shewed thee thee her clearenesse, and the fayrenesse of her beautie.

51 And therefore I have thee remaine in the fielde where no house was builded.

52 For I knewe that the highest would shewe this vnto thee.

53 Therefore I commaunded thee to goe into the fielde where no foundation nor buylding is.

54 For in the place where ỹ highest beginneth to shew his citie, there can no mans building be able to stand.

55 And therefore feare not, and let not thine heart be afrayd, but go thy way in, and see the beautie and greatnesse of the building, as much as thine eyes be able to see.

56 And then shalt thou heare as much as thine eares may comprehende.

57 For thou art blessed aboue many other, and art called with the highest as the fewe.

58 But to morowe at night thou shalt remaine here:

59 And so shall the highest shew thee visions of the high things, which he will doe vnto them that dwell vpon earth in the last dayes. So I slept the same night and another, like as hee commanded me.

The xi. Chapter.

1 The vision of an Egle comming forth of the sea, and of her feathers. 37 Of a Lion comming out of the forest.

1 THen saw I a dreame, and behold, there came vp from the sea an Egle, which had twelue feathered wings, & three heads.

2 And I sawe, and beholde, she spredde her wings ouer all the earth, and all the windes of the ayre blewe on her, and gathered them together.

3 And I beheld, and out of her feathers there grewe other contrary feathers, and they became litle feathers, and small.

4 But her heads remained still, the head in the middest was greater then the other, yet rested it with the residue.

5 Moreouer, I sawe that the Egle flewe with her wings, and reigned vpon earth, and ouer all them that dwelt vpon the earth.

6 And I sawe that all things vnder heauen were subiect vnder her, and no man spake against her, no not one creature vpon earth.

7 I sawe also that the Egle stood vp vpon her clawes, and ‖ gaue a sound with her feathers, and a voyce, saying after this maner,

Or, spake to her feathers, saying.

8 Watch not al together, sleepe every man in his owne place, and watch by course.

9 But let the heads be preserued for the last.

10 Neuertheleslle, I sawe that the voyce went not out of her heads, but from the middest of her body.

11 And I numbred her contrary feathers, and beholde, there were eyght of them.

12 And I looked, and beholde, vpon the right side there arose one feather, and reigned ouer all the earth.

13 And so it was that when it reigned, the ende of it came, and the place thereof appeared no more: so the next following stoode vp, & reigned, and had a great time.

14 And it happened that when it reigned, the ende of it came also like as the first, so that it appeared no more.

15 Then came there a voyce vnto it, and sayde,

16 Heare thou that hast kept the earth so long, this I say vnto thee before thou beginnest to appeare no more,

17 There shal none after thee attaine vnto thy time, neither vnto the halfe thereof.

18 Then arose the third, and reigned as ỹ other afore: and appeared no more also.

19 So went it with all the residue one after another, so that euery one reigned, and then appeared no more.

20 Then I looked, and beholde, in processe of time the feathers that followed stoode vpon the right side, that they might rule also, and some of them ruled: but within a while they appeared no more.

21 For some of them were set vp, but ruled not,

22 After this I looked, and beholde, the twelue feathers appeared no more, nor ỹ two wings:

23 And there was no more vpon ỹ Egles body, but two heads that rested, and sixe wings.

24 Then saw I also that two winges deuided themselues from the sixe, and remained vnder the head that was vpon the right side: for the foure continued in their place.

25 So I looked, and beholde, the feathers that were vnder the wing, thought to set vp themselues, and to haue the rule.

26 Then was there one set vp, but shortly it appeared no more.

27 And the second was sooner away then the first.

28 And I beheld, & loe, the two that remained, thought also in themselues to reigne:

29 And when they so thought, beholde, there awaked one of the heads ỹ were at rest, namely it that was in ỹ middest: for that was greater then the two other heads.

30 And then I sawe that the two heads were ioyned with him.

31 And the head was turned with them that were with him, and did eate vp the two vnder wings that would haue reigned.

32 But this head put the whole earth in feare, and bare rule in it ouer al those that dwelt vpon ỹ earth, with much labour: & he had the gouernance of the world ouer all the beings that had bene.

33 After this I looked, and beholde, the head that was in the middest, suddainly appeared no more, like as the wings.

34 But there remained the two heads which ruled vpon earth, and ouer those that dwelt therein.

35 And I beheld, and loe, the head vpon the right side, deuoured it that was vpon the left side.

36 Then I heard a voyce which sayd vnto me, Looke before thee, and consider the thing that thou seest.

37 Then I sawe, and behold as it were a Lion that roareth, running hastily out of the wood: and I sawe that he sent out a mans voyce vnto the Egle, and sayde,

38 Heare thou, I will talke with thee, and the highest shall say vnto thee,

[Or, art not thou he that remayneſt of ſ foure beaſtes?

39 ‖ Is it not thou that hast the victorie of the foure beastes whom I made to reigne [vpon earth and] in my world, that the ende of their times might come through them?

40 And the fourth came, and ouerranne all the beasts that were past, and had power ouer the world with great fearefulnesse, and ouer the whole compasse of ſ earth with most wicked oppression, and so long time dwelt he vpon the earth with deceite.

41 For the earth hast thou not iudged with trueth.

42 For thou hast troubled the meeke, thou hast hurt the peaceable [and quiet,] thou hast loued liers, & destroyed the dwellings of them that brought forth fruite, and hast cast downe the walles of such as did thee no harme.

43 Therefore is thy wrongfull dealing [and blaſpheme] come vp vnto the highest, & thy pride vnto the mightie.

44 The highest also hath looked vpon ſ proud times, and behold, they are ended, and their abominations are fulfilled.

45 And therefore appeare no more thou Egle, and thy horrible wings, and thy wicked feathers, and thy vngracious heads, and thy sinfull clawes, and all thy vaine body:

46 That the earth may be refreshed, [and come againe to her selfe,] when shee is deliuered from thy violence, and that she may hope for the iudgement and mercie of him that made her.

The xii. Chapter.

The declaration of the former vision.

1 AND it happened when the Lion spake these words vnto the Egle, I sawe:

2 And beholde, the head that stood vp had the vpper hand, appeared no more, neither did the foure wings appeare any more that came to him, & were set vp to reigne, and their kingdome was small, and full of vnrest.

3 And I sawe, and beholde, they appeared no more, and the whole body of the Egle was burnt, so that ſ earth was in great fear: then awaked I out of the trouble and trauace of my minde, and from great feare, and said vnto my spirite,

4 Loe, this hast thou giuen mee, in that thou searchest out the wayes of the highest.

5 Loe, yet am I wearie in my minde, and very weake in my spirite: and litle strength is there in me, for the great feare that I receiued this night.

6 Therefore will I nowe beseech the highest, that he will comfort me vnto the ende.

7 And I sayde, Lord, Lorde, if I haue founde grace before thy sight, and if I am iustified with thee before many other, and if my praier in deede be come vp before thy face:

8 Comfort me then, and shew me thy seruant the interpretation & playne difference of this horrible sight, that thou mayest perfectly comfort my soule:

9 For thou hast iudged mee worthie to shewe me the last of times.

10 And he saide vnto me, This is the interpretation of this sight:

11 The Egle whom thou sawest come vp from the sea, is the kingdome which was seene in the *vision of thy brother Daniel: [Dan. 7. 7.]

12 But it was not expounded vnto him, therefore nowe I declare it vnto thee.

13 Behold, the dayes will come, that there shall rise vp a kingdome vpon earth, and it shall be feared aboue al ſ kingdomes ſ were before it.

14 In ‖ the same kingdome shall twelue kings reigne one after another. [‖ Or, it.]

15 Wherefore the second shall begin to reigne, and shal haue more time then ſ other twelue.

16 And this doe ſ twelue wings signifie which thou sawest.

17 As for the voyce that thou heardest speake, and that thou sawest not to goe out from the heads, but from the middes of the body thereof, it betokeneth, 18 That after the time of that kingdome, there shall arise great strivings, and it shall stande in perill of falling: nevertheless, it shall not then fall, but shall be restored againe into his beginning.

19 And the eyght feathers vnder the wings, which thou sawest hang vnto her wings, betoken,

20 That in him there shall arise eight kings, whose time shalbe but small, and their yeeres swift, and two of them shall perish,

21 But when the middest time commeth, there shalbe foure kept for a time, whilest ‖ his time beginneth to come, that it may be ended: but two shalbe kept vnto the ende. [‖ Or, eche his time beginneth]

22 And whereas thou sawest three heads resting, this is the interpretation:

23 In his last dayes shall the most high raise vp three kingdomes, and call many things againe into them, and they shal haue the dominion of the earth,

24 And

24 And of thoſe that dwell therein, with much ‖labour, aboue al thoſe that were before them: therefore are they called ẏ heads of the Egle.

‖Or, griefe.

‖Or, accompliſh his wickednesse.

25 For it is they that ſhall ‖ bring forth his wickednesse againe, and that ſhall perfourme and finiſh his laſt.

26 And wheras thou ſaweſt that the great head appeared no more, it ſignifieth that one of thē ſhall die vpon his bed, and yet with payne.

27 For the two that remaine ſhalbe ſlaine with the ſword.

28 For the ſworde of the one ſhall deuoure the other: but at the laſt ſhall he fall through the ſword himſelfe.

29 And whereas thou ſaweſt two feathers vnder the wings, palling towarde the head that is on the right ſide, 30 It ſignifieth, that it is they whom the higheſt hath kept vnto their ende: this is the ſmall kingdome, and full of trouble, as thou ſaweſt.

31 And the Lion, whom thou ſaweſt ryſing vp out of the wood, and roring, and ſpeaking to the Egle, and rebuking her for her vnrighteouſneſſe, with all the wordes which thou haſt heard, 32 Is the winde which the higheſt hath kept for them and for their wickednesse vnto the ende: hee ſhall reproue them, and caſt before them their owne ſpoylings.

33 For he ſhall ſet them aliue in iudgement, & ſhall rebuke them, and correct them.

34 For the reſidue of my people ſhal he deliuer by trouble, thoſe that bee preſerued vpon my borders, and hee ſhall make them ioyfull vntill the comming of the day of iudgement, whereof I haue ſpoken vnto thee from the beginning.

35 This is the dreame that thou ſaweſt, and theſe are the interpretations.

36 Thou onely haſt bene meete to knowe this ſecrete of the higheſt.

37 Therefore write all theſe things that thou haſt ſeene in a booke, and hide them, 38 And teache them to the wiſe of the people, whoſe hearts thou knoweſt may comprehend and keepe theſe ſecretes.

39 But waite thou here thy ſelfe yet ſeuē dayes moe, that it may be ſhewed thee whatſoeuer it pleaſeth the higheſt to declare vnto thee. And with that he went his way.

40 And when all the people perceiued that the ſeuen dayes were paſt, and I not come againe into the citie, they gathered them al together from the leaſt vnto the moſt, and came vnto me, and ſayd, 41 What haue we offended thee? and what euill haue we done againſt thee, that thou forſakeſt vs, and ſitteſt here in this place?

42 For of all the people thou onely art left vs, as a grape of the Uine, and as a candle in a darke place, and as an hauen or ſhip preſerued from the tempeſt.

43 Haue we not elſe aduerſitie ynough?

44 If thou ſhalt forſake vs, were it not better for vs that we had bene burnt with Sion?

45 For wee are not better then they that dyed there. And they wept with loude voyce. Thē anſwered I them, and ſayd, 46 Be of good comfort, O Iſrael, and be not heauie, thou houſe of Iacob.

47 For the higheſt hath you in remembrance, and the mightie hath not forgotten you in temptation.

48 As for me I haue not forſaken you, neither am I departed from you: but am come into this place to pray, becauſe of the miſerie of Sion, that I might ſeeke mercie for the low eſtate of your ſanctuarie.

49 And nowe go your way home euery man, & after theſe dayes will I come vnto you.

50 So the people went their way into the citie, like as I commanded them:

51 But I remained ſtil in ẏ fielde ſeuen dayes, as ‖ the angel bade mee, and did eate onely of the flowres of the fielde, and had my meate of the hearbes in thoſe dayes.

‖Or, he.

The xiii. Chapter.

1 The viſion of a winde comming forth of the ſea, 3 Which became a man. 5 His propertie and power againſt his enemies. 21 The declaration of this viſion.

1 AND after the ſeuen dayes, I dreamed a dreame by night.

2 And beholde, there aroſe a winde frō the ſea, that it mooued all the waues thereof.

3 And I looked, and beholde, there was a ſtrong man with the thouſandes of heauen: and whē he turned his countenance to looke, all the things trembled that were ſeene vnder him:

4 And whē the voyce went out of his mouth, al they burnt that heard his voyce, like as the earth fayleth when it feeleth the fire.

5 After theſe I ſawe, and beholde, there was gathered together a multitude of men out of number, from the foure windes of ẏ heauen, to fight againſt the man that came out of the ſea.

6 And I looked, and beholde, hee graued him ſelfe a great mountaine, and flewe vp vpon it.

7 But I woulde haue ſeene the region or place whereout the hill was grauen, and I coulde not.

8 And I ſawe after theſe, that all they which came to fight againſt him, were ſore afraide, and yet durſt they fight.

9 Neuertheleſſe, when he ſawe the fierceneſſe and violence of the people that came, he neyther lift vp his hand, ‖ nor held ſword, nor any weapon:

‖Or, for he helde no ſworde nor any inſtrument of warre.

10 But only, as I saw, he sent out of his mouth as it had bene a blast of fire, & out of his lips the winde of the flame, and out of his tongue he cast out sparkes and stormes.

11 And they were all mixt together: the blast of fire, the winde of the flame, and the great stormes [illegible] with ‖ a rush vpon the people which [illegible] ared to fight, and burnt them vp euery one, so that of the innumerable multitude, there was nothing seene but onely dust and smell of smoke: When I sawe this, I was afrayde.

‖Or, violence.

12 Afterward sawe I ỹ same man come downe from the mountaine, and calling vnto him another peaceable ‖ people.

‖Or, multitude.

13 And there came much people vnto him, some were glad, some were sory, some of thē were bounde, and other some brought of them that were offered: then was I sicke through great feare, and I awaked, and sayde,

14 Thou hast shewed thy seruant these wonders from the beginning, and hast counted me worthie that thou mightest receiue my prayer:

15 Shewe mee nowe yet the interpretation of this dreame.

16 For thus I conclude in my vnderstanding: woe vnto thē that shall be left in those dayes, and much more woe vnto them that are not left behinde:

17 For they that were not left, were in heauinesse.

18 Nowe vnderstande I the thinges that are layde vp in the latter dayes, which shall happen vnto them, and to those that are left behinde.

19 Therefore are they come into great perils, and many necessities, like as these dreames declare.

20 Yet is it easier that hee which is in danger, fall [into these,] and nowe to see that which shall chaunce hereafter, then to passe out of this world as a cloud. Then answered he me, and sayde, 21 The interpretation of ỹ sight shall I shewe thee, and I wil open vnto thee the thing that thou hast required.

22 Whereas thou hast spoken of them that are left behinde, this is the interpretation, 23 Hee that beareth the perill in that time, hath kept himselfe: they that be fallen into danger, are such as haue workes and faith vnto the most mightie.

24 Knowe this therefore, that they which bee left behind, are more blessed then they that be dead.

‖Or, these are the meanings.

25 ‖ This is the meaning of the vision, Whereas thou sawest a man comming vp from the ‖ deepe of the sea,

‖Or, middest.

26 The same is he whom God the highest hath kept a great season, which by his owne selfe shall deliuer his creature: and hee shall order them that are left behinde.

27 And whereas thou sawest, that out of his mouth there came as a blast of winde, fire and storme:

28 And howe that he lift vp neither sworde nor weapon, but that the ‖ rushing in of him destroyed ỹ whole multitude that came to fight against him: it signifieth,

‖Or, fiercenesse.

29 That the dayes come, when the most highest will begin to deliuer them that are vpon earth:

30 And ‖ in a traunce of minde shal he come vpon them that dwell in the earth.

‖Or, he shall astonish ỹ hearts of them.

31 And one shall vndertake to * fight against another: one citie against another, one place against another, one people against another, and one realme against another.

* Matth. 24. 7.

32 When this commeth to passe, then shall the tokens come that I shewed thee before: and then shall my sonne be ‖ declared, whom thou sawest clime vp as a man.

‖Or, reuealed.

33 And when all the people heare his voyce, euery man shall in their owne lande, leaue the battel they haue one against another:

34 And an innumerable multitude shall be gathered together, as they that bee willing to come, and to ouercome him by fighting.

35 But he shal stand vpon the top of the mount Sion.

36 And Sion shall come, and shall bee shewed to al men, being prepared and builded, like as thou sawest the hill grauen forth without any handes.

37 And this my sonne shal rebuke those nations which are fallen into ỹ tempest, for their wickednesse and euill imaginations, 38 And into torments like to flame, wherwith they shalbe punished: and without any labour shal he destroy them, euen by the lawe, which is compared vnto the fire.

39 And whereas thou sawest, that he gathered another peaceable people vnto him, 40 Those are the ten tribes which were caried away prisoners out of their owne lande in the time of Oseas the king, whome * Salmanasar the king of Assyria tooke prysoners, and caried them ‖ ouer the water, and so came they into another land.

* 4. Reg. 17. 3.

‖Or, beyond the riuer.

41 But they tooke this counsaile among themselues, that they would leaue the multitude of the heathen, & to go forth into a further countrey, where neuer mankinde dwelt:

42 That they might there keepe their statutes, which they neuer kept in their owne land:

43 And so they entred in at ỹ narrow passages of the riuer of Euphrates.

44 For the most highest then shewed * tokens for them, and held still the flood till they were passed ouer.

* Iosu. 3. 15.

45 For thorow the countrey there was a great way, way, namely of a yeere and a halfe iourney: and the same region is called Arsareth.

46 Then dwelt they there vntil the latter time: and when they come forth againe, 47 The highest shal hold still the springs of the streame againe, that they may goe thorowe: therefore sawest thou the multitude with peace.

48 But they that be left behinde of thy people, are those that are found within my borders.

49 Nowe when he destroyeth the multitude of the nations that are gathered together, he shal defend his people that remaine:

50 And then shall hee shewe them great wonders.

51 Then said I, O Lord, Lord, shewe me this: wherefore haue I seene the man comming vp from the ‖ deepe of the sea?

‖ Or, middest.

52 And hee sayde vnto mee, Like as thou canst neither seeke out nor knowe the thinges that are in the deepe of the sea: euen so can no man vpon earth see my Sonne, or those that bee with him, but in the time of ‖ the day.

‖ Or, that day.

53 This is the interpretation of the dreame which thou sawest, and whereby thou onely art here lightned.

54 For thou hast forsaken thine owne lawe, and applied thy diligence vnto mine, and sought it.

55 Thy life hast thou ordered in wisedome, and hast called vnderstanding thy mother:

56 And therefore haue I shewed thee the treasures of the highest. After other three dayes I will shewe thee more, and talke with thee more at large, yea, heauie and wonderous things will I declare vnto thee.

57 Then went I forth into the fielde, giuing prayse and thankes greatly vnto God, because of his woonders which hee did in time, 58 And because he gouerneth the same, & such things as fall in their seasons: and there I sate three dayes.

The xiiii. Chapter.

3 Howe God appeared to Moses in the bush. 10 All things decline to age. 16 The latter age worse then the former. 29 The ingratitude of Israel. 35 The resurrection and iudgement.

1 VPon the third day I sate vnder an oke tree, then came there a voyce vnto me out of the bush, and sayde, Esdras, Esdras.

2 And I sayde, Here am I, Lorde: and stoode vp vpon my feete.

Exod. 3. 1. 3 Then sayde he vnto me, In the bush did I appeare vnto Moses, and talked with him when my people serued in Egypt.

4 And I sent him, and ledde my people out of Egypt, and brought him vp to the mount Sinai, where I helde him by mee a long season:

5 And told him many wonderous works, and shewed him the secretes of the times, and the ende, and commanded him, saying,

6 These woordes shalt thou declare, and these shalt thou hide.

7 And nowe I say vnto thee,

8 That thou lay vp in thine heart the signes that I haue shewed, and the [illegible] that thou hast seene, and the interpretations [illegible] thou hast heard.

9 For thou shalt bee taken away from among all, and henceforth bee thou shalt remaine with my counsaile, and with such as bee like thee, vntill the times be ended.

10 For the world hath lost his youth, and the times begin to waxe olde.

11 For the world is deuided into twelue parts, euen the ten parts of it are gone already, and halfe of a tenth part.

12 And there remaineth there that which is after the halfe of ‖ the tenth part.

‖ Or, that.

13 Therefore set thine house in order, and reforme thy people, comfort such of them as be in trouble, and nowe renounce corruption.

14 Let goe from thee mortall thoughtes, cast away the burdens of men, put off the weake nature, 15 And set aside the thoughtes that are most heauie vnto thee, and haste thee to flee from these times.

16 For as for such euill [and wicked euelles] as thou hast nowe seene happen, they shal not yet much worse. Matth. 24. 7.

17 For the weaker that the world is by reason of age, the more shal euils encrease vpon them that dwell therein.

18 For the truth is farre away, & leasing is hard at hand: For now hasteneth the vision to come which thou hast seene.

19 Then answered I before thee, and sayd,

20 Behold Lorde, I will goe as thou hast commanded me, and reforme the people which are present: but they that shalbe borne afterward, who will admonish them? Thus the world is set in darkenesse, and they that dwell therein are without light.

21 For thy lawe is burnt, therefore no man knoweth the things that are done of thee, or the workes that shalbe done.

22 But if I haue found grace before thee, send the holy Ghost into me, and I shall write all that hath bene done in the world since the beginning, which were written in thy lawe, that men may finde the path, and that they which will liue in the latter dayes, may liue.

23 And he answered me, saying, Goe thy way, gather the people together, and say vnto them, that they seeke thee not for fourtie dayes.

24 But looke thou gather thee many boord trees, and take with thee Sarea, Dabria, Selemia, Ecanus, and Asiel, these fiue, which are ready to write swiftly:

25 And come hither, and I shall light a candle of vnderstanding in thine heart, which shall not be put out, till the things be performed which thou shalt begin to write.

26 And then shalt thou declare some things openly, and the perfect, and some things shalt thou shew secretely vnto the wise: to morowe this houre shalt thou begin to write.

27 Then went I forth as he commanded mee, and gathered all the people together, and sayde,

28 Heare these wordes, O Israel,

29 Our fathers at the beginning were strangers in Egypt, from whence they were deliuered,

Gene. 47. 4.

30 And receiued the lawes of life, which they kept not, which ye also haue transgressed after them.

Deut. 4. 5.

31 Then was the land, euen the land of Sion, parted among you by lot, [Or, they are faithfull and true.] but your fathers, & ye your selues haue done vnrighteousnesse, and haue not kept the wayes which the highest commanded you.

32 And for so much as he is a righteous iudge, he tooke from you in time, the thing that hee had giuen you.

33 And nowe are ye here, and your brethren among you.

34 Therefore, if so be that ye will subdue your owne vnderstanding, & reforme your heart, ye shall bee kept aliue, and after death shall ye obtaine mercy.

35 For after death shal ỳ iudgement come whē we shall liue againe: and then shall the names of the righteous be manifest, and the workes of the vngodly shalbe declared.

36 Let no man therefore come nowe vnto mee, nor seeke after me these fourtie dayes.

37 So I tooke the fiue men, as he commanded me, and we went into the fielde, & remained there.

38 The next day a voyce called me, saying, Esdras, open thy mouth, and drinke that I giue thee to drinke.

Ezech. 3. 2.

39 Then opened I my mouth, & beholde, he reached me a full cup, which was full as it were with water, but the colour of it was like fire.

40 And I tooke it, and dranke: and when I had dunke it, my heart had vnderstanding, and wisedome grewe in my breast: for my spirite was strengthened in remembrance.

41 And my mouth was opened, & shut no more.

42 The highest gaue vnderstanding vnto the fiue men, that they wrote the high things of the night, which they vnderstood not.

43 But in the night they did eate bread: as for me I spake in the day, & held not my tongue by night.

44 In fourtie dayes they wrote two hundred and foure bookes.

45 And it came to passe, when the fourtie dayes were fulfilled, that the highest spake, saying, The first that thou hast written, publish openly, that the worthie and vnworthie may reade it:

46 But keepe the seuentie last, that thou mayest deliuer them vnely to such as bee wise among the people.

47 For in them is the spring of vnderstanding, the fountaine of wisedome, and the streame of knowledge.

48 And I did so.

The xv. Chapter.

1 The prophecie of Esdras is certaine. 5 The euils that shall come on the world. 9 The Lord will auenge the innocent blood.

1 BEholde, speake thou in the eares of my people the wordes of prophecie, which I will put in thy mouth, saith the Lord,

2 And cause them to bee written in a lettresey, [Or, they are faithfull and true.] it is the trueth.

3 Feare not the imaginations against thee, let not the vnfaithfulnesse of them trouble thee, that speake against thee:

4 For all the vnfaithfull shall die in their vnfaithfulnesse.

5 Beholde, (saith ỳ Lord) I will bring plagues vpon the world, the sword, hunger, death, and destruction:

6 For wickednesse hath the vpper hand in all the earth, and their shamefull workes are fulfilled:

7 Therefore sayth the Lord,

8 I will hold my tongue an more of their wickednesse, which they doe so vngodly, neither will I suffer them in the things ỳ they deale withal so wickedly: behold, *the innocent and righteous blood cryeth vnto me, & the soules of the iust complaine continually.

Apoc. 6. 10. and 19. 2.

9 And therefore, saith the Lorde, I will surely auenge, and receiue vnto me all the innocent bloud from among them.

10 Beholde, my people is ledde as a flocke of sheepe to be slaine, I will not suffer them now to dwell in the land of Egypt:

11 But will bring them out with a mighty hande, and a stretched out arme, and smite it with plagues as afore; and wil destroy al the land of it.

12 Egypt shal mourne, and the foundations of it shalbe smitten with the plague and punishment that God shall bring vpon it.

13 They that till the ground shall mourne, for their seedes shalbe destroyed through the blasting and hayle, and by an horrible starre.

14 Also woth the worlde, and them that dwell therein:

15 For the swoorde and their destruction draweth nigh, and one people shall stande vp to fight against another, and swordes in their hands.

16 For

‖Or, for there shalbe sedition among men.

16 ‖ For men shall be vnstedfast, and some shall do violence vnto other, they shall not regarde their king, and the princes shall measure the way of their doings by their power.

17 A man shal desire to go into a citie, and shal not be able.

18 For because of their pride, the cities shall be troubled, the houses shall tremble, and men shall be afrayde.

19 A man shall haue no pitie vpon his neighbour, but shall destroy their houses with the sword, and spoyle their goods, because of the ‖Or, lacke. ‖ hunger of bread, and because of the great trouble.

20 Beholde, sayth God, I call together all the kings of the earth to reuerence mee, which ‖Or, West. are from the ‖ vprising, from the South, from the East, and Libanus, to turne vpon them, and restore the things that they haue done to them:

21 Like as they doe yet this day vnto my chosen, so will I do also, and recompence them in their bosome: Thus saith the Lord God.

22 My right hande shall not spare the sinners, and my sworde shall not cease ouer them that shed the innocent blood vpon earth.

23 The fire is gone out from his wrath, and hath consumed the foundations of the earth, and the sinners like the straw that is kindled.

24 Woe worth them that sinne, and keepe not my commandements, saith the Lord.

25 I will not spare them: go your way ye children frō the power, defile not my sanctuarie:

26 For the Lorde knoweth all them that sinne against him, and therefore deliuereth he them vnto death and destruction.

27 For nowe are the plagues come vpon the worlde, and ye shall remaine in them: for God shall not deliuer you, because ye haue sinned against him.

28 Beholde, an horrible vision commeth from the East,

29 Where generations of dragons of Arabia shall come out with many charrets, and the multitude of them shall bee carried as the winde vpon earth, that all they which heare them, may feare and tremble,

30 Euen the Carmanies raging in wrath, shall go forth as the wilde bores of the forest, and with great power shall they come, and stande fighting with them, and shall waste a portion of the land of the Assyrians.

31 And then shall the dragons haue the vpper hand, and remembring their nature, shal turne about, conspiring together in great power to persecute them.

32 Then these shalbe troubled, & keepe silence in their power, and shall flee:

33 And from the land of the Assyrians shall the enemie besiege them, and consume some of them, and in their host shalbe feare and dread, and strife among their kings.

34 Behold clouds from the East, and from the North vnto the South, and they are very horrible to looke vpon, full of wrath and storme:

35 They shal smite one vpon another, and they shall smite downe a great multitude of starres vpon the earth, euen their owne starre: and the blood shall be from the sworde vnto the belly,

36 And the doung of man vnto the cammels litter,

37 And there shall bee great fearefulnesse and trembling vpon earth: and they that see the wrath, shall bee afrayde, and trembling shall come vpon them:

38 And then shall there come great raynes frō the South, and frō the North, and part from the West:

39 And strong windes shall arise from the East, and shall open it, and the cloude which he raysed vp in wrath, and the starre styrred to cause feare towarde the East and West winde, shalbe destroyed:

40 The great cloudes shall be lift vp, and the mightie cloudes full of wrath, and the starre, that they may make all the earth afrayde, and them that dwell therein, and that they may powre out ouer euery high place an horrible starre,

41 Fire, and hayle, and fleeing swordes, and many waters: that all fieldes may be full, and all riuers, with ỳ abundance of great waters.

42 And they shall breake downe the cities, and walles, mountaines, and hilles, trees of the wood, and the grasse of the medowes, and all their corne.

43 And they shall goe stedfast vnto Babylon, and make her afrayde.

44 They shall come to her, and besiege her, the ‖Or, constellation & tempest. ‖ starre and all wrath shall they powre out vpon her, then shall the dust and smoke go vp vnto the heauen, and all they that be about her, shal bewaile her:

45 And they that remaine vnder her, shall doe seruice vnto them that haue put her in feare.

46 And thou Asia, that comfortest thy selfe also vpon the hope of Babylon, and art the glory of her person:

47 Wo be vnto thee thou wretch, because thou hast made thy selfe like vnto her, & hast decke thy daughters in whoredome, that they might ‖Or, please and glory in. ‖ triumph, and please thy louers, which haue alway desired to commit whoredome with thee.

48 Thou hast followed the abominable citie in al her workes and inuentions: therefore saith God, 49 I will sende plagues vpon thee, widowhoode, pouertie, hunger, warres, and pestilence, to waste thy houses with destruction and death.

50 And the glory of thy power shall bee dryed vp as a floure, when the heate ryseth that is sent ‖ ouer thee:
51 Thou shalt bee sicke as a poore wife that is plagued and beaten of women, so that the mightie and louers shal not be able to receiue thee.
52 Would I so hate thee, sayth the Lord,
53 If thou hadst not alway slayne my chosen, exalting the stroke of thy hands, & saide ouer their death when thou wast drunken,
54 Set forth the beautie of thy countenance:
55 The rewarde of thy whoredome shall be recompensed thee in thy bosome, therfore shalt thou receiue reward.
56 Like as thou hast done vnto my chosen, saith the Lord, euen so shall God do vnto thee, and shall deliuer thee into the plague.
57 The children shall die of hunger, and thou shalt fall through the sworde: thy cities shalbe broken downe, and all thine shal perish with the sword in the fielde.
58 They that be in the mountaines, shall die of hunger, and eate their owne flesh, and drinke their owne blood, for very hunger of bread, and thirst of water.
59 Thou as vnhappie shalt come thorowe the sea, and receiue plagues againe.
60 In the passage they shal cast downe ỹ slaine citie, and shall roote out one part of the lande, and consume the portion of thy glory, & shall returne to her that was destroyed.
61 They shall treade thee downe like stubble, and they shall be thy fire:
62 And shall consume thee, thy cities, and thy land, and thy mountaines, all thy woods and thy fruitefull trees shall they burne vp with the fire.
63 Thy children shall they cary away captiue, and looke what thou hast, they shall spoyle it, and marre the beautie of thy face.

‖ Or, vpon.

The xvi. Chapter.

18. 38. Of the euils that shall come vpon the worlde, with admonition howe to gouerne them selues in afflictions.

1 WOe be vnto thee Babylon & Asia, wo be vnto thee Egypt & Syria:
2 Gird vp your selues with clothes of sacke & heare, and mourne your childrē, be sory: for your destructiō is at hand.
3 A sword is sent vpon you, & who will turne it backe:
4 A fire is sent among you, and who will quenche it:
5 Plagues are sent vnto you, and what is hee that will driue them away:
6 May any man driue away an hungry Lion in the wood: or may any man quenche ỹ fire in stubble when it hath begun to burne:
7 May one turne againe the arrowe that is shot of a strong archer:
8 The mightie Lord sendeth the plagues, and what is he that will driue them away:
9 The fire is kindled, and gone forth in his wrath, and what is he that may quench it:
10 He shall cast lightnings, and who shall not feare: he shall thunder, and who shall not be afrayde:
11 The Lord shall threaten, and who shall not vtterly be beaten to powder at his presence:
12 The earth quaketh, & the fundations thereof, the sea ariseth vp with waues from the deepe, and the waues of it are vnquiet, and the fishes thereof also, before the Lorde, and before the glory of his power:
13 For strong is his right hande that bendeth the bowe, his arrowes that hee shooteth are sharpe, and shal not misse when they begin to be shot into the endes of the world.
14 Beholde, the plagues are sent, and shall not turne againe till they come vpon earth.
15 The fire is kindled, and shal not be put out, till it consume the foundations of the earth.
16 Like as an arrow which is shot of a mighty Archer, returneth not backeward: euen so the plagues that shalbe sent vpon earth, shall not turne againe.
17 Woe is me, woe is me, who will deliuer me in those dayes:
18 The beginning of sorowes and great mourning, the beginning of dearth & great death, the beginning of warres, and the powers shal stande in feare: the beginning of euils, & they shall tremble euery one.
19 What shall I doe in these things, when the plagues come:
20 Beholde, hunger, and plague, trouble, & anguish are sent as scourges for amendment:
21 But for all these things, they shal not turne from their wickednesse, nor be alway mindefull of the scourges.
22 Beholde, victuals shalbe so good cheape vpon earth, that they shall thinke them selues to be in good case: and euen thē shal mischiefe growe vpon earth, warres, dearth, and great ‖ disquietnesse.
23 For many of thē that dwell vpon earth, shall perish of hunger, and ỹ other that escape the hunger, shall the sword destroy:
24 And the dead shall be cast out as doung, and there shall bee no man to comfort them: For the earth shalbe walked, and the cities shall be cast downe.
25 There shall be no man left to till the earth, and to sowe it.
26 The trees shall giue fruite, and who shall plucke them off, and gather them:
27 The grapes shall bee ripe, and who shall treade them: For all places shall be desolate of men:
28 So that one man shall desire to see another, or to heare his voyce.

‖ Or, confusion.

29 For

29 For of one whole citie, there shalbe ten left, and two of the fielde, which shall hyde them selues in the thicke ‖ bushes, and in the cliftes of stones,

‖Or, woods.

30 Like as when there remayne three or foure Oliues, in the place where Oliues growe, or among other trees,

31 Or as when a Vineyarde is gathered, there are left some grapes of them that diligently sought thorowe the vineyard:

32 Euen so, in those dayes, there shalbe three or foure left, by them that searche their houses with the swoorde.

33 And the earth shall be layde waste, and the fieldes thereof shal waxe olde, and her wayes, and all her paths shall growe full of thornes, because no man shal trauaile therethorow.

34 The virgins shal mourne, hauing no bridegromes, the women shall make lamentation, hauing no husbandes, their daughters shall mourne, hauing no helpers, 35 In the warres shal their bridegromes be destroyed, and their husbandes shall perish of hunger.

36 But ye seruantes of the Lorde, heare these things, and marke them.

37 Beholde the worde of the Lord, O receyue it: beleeue not the gods of whome the Lorde spake, 38 Beholde, the plagues drawe nigh, and are not slacke in tarying.

39 Like as a trauayling woman, which in the ninth moneth bringeth foorth a sonne, when the houre of the birth is come, an houre two or three afore that, the paynes come vpon her bodie, & when the childe commeth to the birth, they tary not the twinckling of an eye:

40 Euen so shal not ỹ plagues be slacke to come vpon the earth, and the world shall mourne, & sorowes shal come vpon it on euery side.

41 O my people, heare my worde, make you ready to the battell, and in all euill be euen as pilgrimes vpon earth.

42 He that selleth, let him be as he that fleeth away: & he that buyeth, as one that wil leese:

43 Whoso occuppeth marchandize, as he that winneth not: and he that buyldeth, as he that shall not dwell therein:

44 He that soweth, as they that shall not reape: he that cutteth the vineyarde, as he that shall not gather the grapes:

45 They that marrie, as they that shall get no children: and they that marrie not, as the widdowes.

46 And therefore they that labour, labour in vayne.

47 For strangers shall reape their fruites, and spoyle their goods, ouerthrowe their houses, and take their children captiues: for in captiuitie and hunger shal they get children.

48 And they that occupie their marchandize with robberie, the more they decke their cities, their houses, their possessions, and their owne persons, 49 The more wil I punish them for their sinnes, sayth the Lorde.

50 Like as an whore enuyeth an honest and vertuous woman:

51 So shal righteousnesse hate iniquitie, when she decketh her selfe, and shal accuse her to her face, when he commeth that shall hyde the authour of all sinne vpon earth.

52 And therefore be not ye like thereunto, nor to the workes thereof:

53 For or euer it be long, iniquitie shalbe taken away out of the earth, and righteousnesse shal reigne among you.

54 Let not the sinner say that he hath not sinned: for coales of fire shal burne vpō his head, which sayeth, Before the Lorde God and his glory, I haue not sinned.

55 Behold, the Lord * knoweth all the workes of men, their imaginations, their thoughts, and their hearts. Luk.16.15

56 For he spake but the worde, * Let the earth be made, and it was made: Let the heauen be made, and it was created. Gene.1.1.

57 In his worde were the starres made, and he knoweth the * number of them. Psal.146.4

58 He searcheth the grounde of the deepe, and the treasures thereof, he hath measured the sea, and what it conteineth.

59 He hath shut the sea in the middest of the waters, and with his worde hath he hanged the earth vpon the waters.

60 He spreadeth out the heauens like a vaulte, vpon the waters hath he founded it.

61 In the desart and drie wildernesse hath hee made springs of water, and pooles vpon the tops of the mountaines, that the floods might powre downe from the stonie rockes to water the earth.

62 He made man, & put his heart in the middes of the body, and gaue him breath, life, and vnderstanding,

63 Yea, and the spirite of the almightie God which made all things, and hath searched the ground of all the secrets of the earth, 64 He knoweth your imaginations and inuentions, and what ye thinke when ye sinne, and would hide your sinnes.

65 Therefore hath the Lorde searched and sought out all your workes, and he shall bewray you all:

66 And when your sinnes are brought forth, ye shall be ashamed before men, and your owne sinnes shalbe your accusers in that day.

67 What will ye doe? or howe wil ye hide your sinnes before God and his angels?

68 Beholde, God himselfe is the iudge, feare him: leaue off from your sinnes, and forget your vnrighteousnes, & meddle no more with them:

them: so shal God leade you forth, and deliuer you from all trouble.

69 For behold, the heate of a great multitude is kindled ouer you, & they shall take away certaine of you, & shal slay for meat to the idoles.

70 And they that consent vnto them, shalbe had in derision, laughed to scorne, and troden vnder foote.

71 For there shall be in euery place, and in the next cities, a great insurrection vpon those that feare the Lord.

72 They shalbe like madde men, they shal spare no man, they shal spoyle and waste such as yet feare the Lord:

73 For their goods shall they take from them, and shut them out of their houses.

74 Then shal it be knowen who are my chosen, and they shalbe tryed as the golde in the fire.

75 Heare, O ye my beloued, sayth the Lord: beholde, the dayes of trouble are at hande, but I will deliuer you from the same.

76 Be not ye afrayde, despaire not: for God is your captaine.

77 Whoso keepeth my commandementes and preceptes, sayth the Lorde God, let not your sinnes weygh you downe, and let not your vnrighteousnesse be lift vp.

78 Woe be vnto them that are bounde with their sinnes, and couered with their wickednesse, like as a fielde is hedged in with bushes, & the path thereof couered with thornes, that no man may trauayle thorowe: it is shut vp, and is cast into the fire for euer, to be consumed therewith.

The ende of the fourth booke of Esdras.

The booke of Tobias.

The first Chapter.

1 Tobias parentage. 3 His godlinesse. 6 His equitie. 8 His charitie and prosperitie. 23 He fleeth, and his goods are confiscate, 25 and after restored.

1 TObias was of the tribe and citie of Nepthali, which lyeth in the high countreys of Galilee aboue Naasson, beside the way that leadeth to the West, hauing the citie of Sephet vpon the left side.

4.Reg.17.3. 2 Though he was taken * prisoner in the dayes of Salmanasar king of the Assyrians, neuertheless being in captiuitie, he forsooke not the way of trueth:

3 Insomuch that whatsoeuer he might get, he parted it dayly with his felowe prisoners and brethren that were of his kinred.

4 And though he were yonger then all the tribe of Nepthali, yet did not he behaue himselfe childishly in his workes.

5 And when all the other went to the golden 3.Reg.12.25. Calues, which *Jeroboam the king of Israel had made, he alone fled all their companies:

6 And gate him to Hierusalem vnto the temple of the Lord, & there worshipped the Lorde Exod.22.29. deut.12.6. God of Israel, faithfully offering of * all his first fruites and tythes:

7 So that in the thirde yeere, he ministred all the tithes vnto the strangers and conuertes.

8 These and such like things did he obserue, according to the lawe of God, when he was yet but yong.

9 But when he was a man, he tooke out of his Num.36.6. owne tribe a wife called * Anna: and of her he begate a sonne, whome he called after his owne name,

10 And taught him from his youth vp to feare God, and to refrayne from all sinne.

11 Now when he, with his wife, his sonne, and with all his ‖ kinred, was come in captiuitie ‖ Or, tribe. vnto the citie of Niniue:

12 * What time as they all did eate of the Gen.43.32. meates of the heathen, he kept his soule, and was neuer defiled in their meates.

13 And forsomuch as he was mindefull of the Lorde in all his heart, God gaue him fauour in the sight of Salmanasar the king:

14 Which gaue him power to goe where he would, and so had he libertie to do whatsoeuer he would.

15 So went Tobias vnto al them that were in captiuitie, [& comforted them,] and gaue thē wholesome exhortations.

16 And when he came to Rages, a citie of the Medes, hauing tenne talents of siluer (of the things wherewith the king had honoured him,)

17 And sawe among a great companie of people of his kinred, one Gabelus which was of his owne tribe being in necessitie, he gaue him the sayd weyght of siluer, vnder an hand writing.

18 After a long season, when Salmanasar the king was dead, and Sennacherib his sonne reygned in his steade, which hated the children of Israel:

19 Tobias went dayly thorowout all his kinred, and comforted them, & gaue of his goods to euery one of them, as much as he might.

20 He fedde the hungry, clothed the naked, and buried the dead and slaine, & that diligently.

Tobias buried their bodies.

22 But when it was tolde the king, he commanded to slay him, and tooke away all his goods.

23 Neuertheleſſe, Tobias with his ſonne, and with his wife, fled away naked, and was hid: for there were many that loued him.

4.Reg.19.17. 2.chro.32.21. 24 But after fourtie and fiue dayes, the king was ſlayne of his owne ſonnes:

The ii. Chapter.

1 Tobias calleth the faithful to his table: he leaueth the feaſt to bury the dead: so how he is mocked.

19 His wife laboureth for his liuing: she reproacheth him bitterly.

1 AFter thoſe things, vpon a ſolemne day of the Lord, Tobias made a good feaſt in his houſe,

2 And ſayde vnto his ſonne, Goe thy way, & bring hither ſome of our tribe, ſuch as feare God, that they may make merry with vs.

3 And when he was gone, he came againe, & tolde his father that one of the children of Iſrael lay ſlayne in the ſtreete.

4 And immediately he leapt from his table, left the feaſt, eaten falling to the dead carcaſe, tooke him, & bare him priuily into his houſe, that when the ſunne was downe, he might ſafely bury him.

5 And when he had hid the carcaſe, he did eate his meate with mourning and feare,

6 Remembring the words that the Lord ſayd by the Prophet Amos, Your * high feaſtes ſhalbe turned to ſhame and heauineſſe.

Amos.8.10.

7 But when the ſunne was downe, he went his way, and buried him.

8 Then all ‖ his neyghbours reproued him, ſaying, It is not long ſince it was commanded to ſlay thee becauſe of this matter, & haſt ſcarce eſcaped the danger of death, and buriest thou the dead againe?

‖ Or, his next of kinne.

9 Neuertheleſſe, Tobias fearing God more then the king, tooke the bodies of the ſlayne, and hid them in his houſe, and buried them at midnightes.

10 It happened vpon a day, that he had buryed the dead, and was weary, came home, & layde him downe by the wall and ſlept.

11 And while he was a ſleepe, there fell downe vpon his eyes warme dung out of the ſwallowes neaſt, ſo that he was blinde.

12 This temptation did God ſuffer to happen vnto him, that they which came after might haue an example of his patience, like as of holy Iob.

13 For inſomuch as he euer feared God from his youth vp, and kept his commandements, he grudged not againſt God, that the plague of blindneſſe chaunced vnto him:

14 But remayned ſtedfaſt in the feare of God, and thanked God all the dayes of his life.

15 For like as diſpleaſed God was hee in derision of kings: euen ſo was he laughed to ſcorne of his kinſfolkes, which ſayd vnto him, 16 Where is the hope for the which thou haſt done almes, and buried the dead?

17 But Tobias rebuked them, and ſpake, Say not ſo: for we are the children of holy men, and looke for the life which God ſhall giue vnto them that neuer turning their belief from him.

18 And Anna his wife went daily to the weauing worke:

19 And bare home what ſoeuer ſhe could get with the labour of her hands, ſhe brought it. And it happened that ſhe tooke a kidde, and brought it home.

20 And when her huſband heard the kidde, he ſayd,

Deut.22.2. * Looke that it be not ſtollen: reſtore it againe to the owner: for it is not lawfull for vs to taſte or touche any thing of theirs.

Iob.2.9. 22 Then was his wife angry, and ſayd, Now is thy hope come to nought, openly: and thine almes deedes are manifeſt.

23 With theſe and ſuch like words did ſhe taunt him of the ſame thing.

The prayer of Tobias. Sara Raguels daughter, and the things that came vnto her. The prayer heard. The Angel Raphael ſent.

Precepts and exhortations of Tobias to his sonne.

be heard, that he might dye, he called vnto him his sonne Tobias:

The v. Chapter.

2 Tobias is sent to Rages: 5 He meeteth with the Angel Raphael, which did conduct him.

1 THen Tobias answered his father, and sayde, Father, all that thou hast commaunded me, will I doe, and that diligently.

2 But howe shall I require this money I can not tell, neither doeth he know me, nor I him: what token shall I giue him? And as for the way thither, I neuer knewe it.

3 Then his father answered him, and sayde, I haue his hande writing by mee, which when thou shewest him, immediatly he shal pay thee.

4 But goe thy way nowe, and get thee some faithfull man to go with thee for an hyre, that thou mayest receyue the money while I am yet liuing.

5 Then went Tobias out, and vpon the streete he founde a fayre yong man standing, gyrded vp, and as it were one ready to take his iourney.

6 And he knewe not that it was an Angell of God, but saluted him, and sayd, From whence art thou, thou good yong man?

7 He answered, Of the children of Israel. And Tobias sayde vnto him, Knowest thou the way that leadeth vnto the countrey of the Medes?

8 He answered, I knowe it well, and all those ‖ streetes haue I gone oft times, and haue lodged with our brother Gabelus that dwelleth in Rages a citie of the Medes, which lyeth vpon the mount Ecbatanis.

‖ Or, wayes.

9 Tobias sayde vnto him, I pray thee tary for me, till I haue tolde my father these things.

10 Then went Tobias in, and tolde his father all: at the which his father marueyled, and prayed that he would come in vnto him.

11 Now when he came in, he saluted him, and sayd, Ioy be with thee for euermore.

12 And olde Tobias sayde, What ioy can I haue, that sitte here in darkenesse, and see not the light of heauen?

13 The yong man sayde vnto him, Be of good cheare, God shal helpe thee shortly.

14 And Tobias sayde vnto him, Canst thou bring my sonne to Gabelus vnto the citie of Rages in Media? and when thou comest againe, I shall pay thee thy hyre.

15 And the Angel sayde vnto him, I shal leade thy sonne, and bring him to thee againe.

16 Then Tobias answered him, Tell mee, I pray thee, of what house, or of what tribe art thou?

17 The Angel Raphael sayde vnto him, Seekest thou after the kinred of an hyreling, or an hyred man himselfe for thy sonne to goe with him?

18 But that I make thee not carefull, I am Azarias, the sonne of great Hananias.

19 And Tobias answered, Thou art come of a great kinred: but I pray thee, be not displeased, that I desire to knowe thy kinred.

20 The Angel sayde vnto him, Thy sonne shal I leade forth safely, and bring him whole and sound to thee againe.

21 Then answered Tobias, and sayde, Well, go on your way, and God be in your iourney, and his Angel beare you companie.

22 So when they had prepared all things that they would take with them in their iourney, Tobias bade his father & his mother farewel: and they went on their way both together.

23 Now when they were gone, his mother began to weepe, & sayde, * The staffe of our age hast thou taken away, and sent him from vs. Tob. 10. 4.

24 Woulde God that money had neuer bene, for the which thou hast sent him away.

25 For our pouertie was sufficient for vs: why, we should haue counted it riches that we saw our sonne here.

26 Then sayde Tobias vnto her, Weepe not, our sonne shal goe safely, & come to vs againe sound, and thine eyes shall see him.

27 For I trust that the good Angel of God shal beare him companie, and order well all the things that he doeth, so that he shall come to vs againe with ioy.

28 At these wordes his mother left off from weeping, and helde her peace.

The vi. Chapter.

2 Tobias deliuered from the fish, 8 Raphael sheweth him certaine medicines. 19 He conducteth him toward Sara.

1 SO Tobias went on his way, and a dog folowed him, and the first night they abode by the water of Tigris.

2 Then went he out to wash his feete, and beholde, there came forth an horrible fish to deuoure him.

3 Of whome Tobias was afrayde, and cryed with a loude voyce, saying, Lord, he commeth vpon me.

4 And the Angel sayd vnto him, Take him by the gyll, and drawe him to thee. And he did so, and drew him vnto the land: and the fish began to leape at his feete.

5 Then sayde the Angel vnto him, Take out the bowels of this fish: and as for the heart, the gall, & the liuer, keepe them by thee: for these things are necessarie and good for medicines.

6 Tobias did so, and rosted the fish, and they tooke it with thē in their iourney: the residue they salted, as much as was sufficient for thē, till they came to Rages a citie of the Medes.

7 Then Tobias asked the Angel, and said vnto him, I pray thee, brother Azarias, tell me, whereto are these things good of the fish that thou hast bidden me keepe?

8 The Angel answered him, and sayde, If thou layest a piece of the heart vpō the coales, the smoke thereof driueth away all euill spirites, whether it be from man or from woman, so that from thencefoorth the same shall come no more vnto them.

9 The gall is good to anoynt or to strike the eyes withall, whereas there is any blemish in them, so that they shalbe whole.

10 And Tobias sayde vnto him, Where wilt thou that we remaine? The angel answered, Num.27.8. 11 And sayd, *Here is a nigh kinsman of thine, and of thy tribe, one Raguel by name, which hath a daughter called Sara, and hath neither sonne nor daughter but her.

12 All his good belongeth vnto thee, and thou must marrie her.

13 And therefore desire her of her father, and he shal giue her thee to wife.

14 Then answered Tobias, and sayd, As I vnderstand, she hath bene maried vnto seuen husbandes, and they all are dead: and I haue heard say that the deuill slew them.

15 I am afrayd therefore, lest such things happen vnto me also: which if it come to passe, seeing I am the onely sonne of my father and my mother, I should bring them in their age with sorow to their graues.

16 Then sayde the Angel Raphael vnto him, Heare me, and I will tell thee what they be of whome the deuill hath power:

17 Namely, they that receyue marriage after such a fashion, that they shut God out from them, and from their heart, & giue themselues

19 And in the first night rost the liuer of the fish, and the deuill shalbe driuen away.

20 The second night shalt thou be receiued into the companie of the holy Patriarkes.

21 The third night shalt thou obteine the blessing of God, so that ‖ whole children shall be borne of you.

‖ Or, founde.

22 After the thirde night, take the mayden in the feare of God, and more for the desire of children, then for any fleshly lust, that in the seede of Abraham thou mayest obteyne the blessing in children.

The vii. Chapter.

Tobias marrieth Sara Raguels daughter.

1 THen went they in vnto Raguel, which receyued them ioyfully.

2 And when Raguel looked vpon Tobias, he sayd vnto Anna his wife, How like is this yong man vnto my sisters sonne?

3 And when he had spoken this, he sayde, Whence be ye, ye yong men, & our brethren? They sayd, Of the tribe of Nephthali, out of the captiuitie of Ninive.

4 Then sayde Raguel vnto them, Knowe ye my brother Tobias? They sayde, Yea, we knowe him well.

5 And when he had spoken much good of him, the Angell sayde vnto Raguel, Tobias of whom thou askest, is this yong mans father.

6 Then Raguel bowed himselfe downe, and wept, and tooke him about the necke, and kissed him,

7 And said, Gods blessing haue thou, my sonne, for thou art the sonne of a good vertuous mã.

8 And Anna his wife, and Sara his daughter wept also.

9 Nowe when they had talked together, Raguel bade kill a wether, and to make a feast: and when he had exhorted them to sit downe to dynner,

10 Tobias sayd, I will neither eate nor drinke here this day, except thou first graunt me my petition, and promise me to giue mee thy daughter Sara.

11 When Raguel heard this, he was astonied: for he knewe what had happened vnto the other seuen men that went in vnto her: and he beganne to feare that it shoulde chaunce vnto him in like maner. And while he stoode so in a doubt, and gaue the yong man no answere,

12 The Angel sayde vnto him, Feare not to giue him thy daughter, for vnto this man that feareth God, belongeth thy daughter to wife: therefore might none other haue her.

13 Then sayde Raguel, I doubt not but God hath accepted my prayers and teares in his sight:

14 And I beleeue he caused you to come vnto mee for the same intent, that this daughter of mine might be marryed in her owne kinred, according to the * lawe of Moses: and nowe doubt thou not, but I will giue her vnto thee. Num.36.6.

15 So he tooke the right hand of his daughter, and gaue her into the right hande of Tobias, and sayde, The God of Abraham, the God of Isahac, and the God of Jacob be with you, ioyne you together, and fulfill his blessing in you.

16 And they tooke a letter, and made a writing of the marriage.

17 And then made they merry, & praysed God.

18 And Raguel called Anna his wife vnto him, and bade her prepare another chamber.

19 And thither he brought Sara his daughter, and she wept.

20 Then sayde he vnto her, Be of good cheare, my daughter: the Lorde of heauen giue thee ioy, for the heauinesse that thou hast suffered.

The viii. Chapter.

2 Tobias driueth away the euill spirite. 4 He prayeth to God with his wife. 11 Raguel prepareth a graue for his sonne in lawe. 16 Raguel blesseth the Lord.

1 Nowe

1 NOwe after that they had supped, they brought the yong man in to her.
2 Then thought Tobias vpon the wordes of the Angel, and tooke out of his bagge a piece of the liuer of the fish, and layde it vpon the hot coales.
3 So the Angel Raphael tooke holde of the deuill, and sent him away, and bounde him in the wildernesse of the higher Egypt.
4 Then spake Tobias vnto the virgine, and sayde, Up Sara, let vs make our prayer vnto God to day, to morowe, and ‖ouermorow: for these three nightes will wee ‖reconcile our selues with God: and when the thirde holy night is past, we shall ioyne together in the duetie of marriage.
‖Or, the third day.
‖Or, ioyne our selues to God.
5 For we are the children of holy men, and we may not come together as the heathen that knowe not God.
6 Then stoode they vp both together, and besought God earnestly ‖that he would preserue them.
‖Or, that health might be giuen them.
7 And Tobias sayde, O Lord God of our fathers, prayse be thou of heauen and earth, of the sea, welles, and floods, and of all thy creatures that be therein.
8 Thou * madest Adam of the moulde of the earth, and gauest him Eua for an helper.
Gen.2.7.
9 And nowe Lorde, thou knowest that it is not because of voluptuousnesse that I take this sister of mine to wife, but onely for the loue of children, in whome thy name may be blessed for euer.
10 And Sara sayde, Haue mercy vpon vs, O Lord, haue mercie vpon vs, & let vs both come whole and sound together to a good age.
11 And about the cocke crowing it came to passe, that Raguel called his seruants:
12 And they went with him to make a graue.
13 For he sayde, It is chaunced now vnto him peraduenture, as it did vnto the other seuen men that went in vnto her.
14 Nowe when they had made the graue, Raguel came againe to his wife, & said vnto her, Sende one of thy maydens to looke if he be dead, ỳ I may bury him afore it be light day.
15 So shee sent a mayden to see: which when she came into the chamber, found them whole and sound, sleeping together.
16 And so shee came againe, and brought good tydings: then Raguel and Anna his wife prayed the Lord, 17 And sayde, Prayse be thou, O Lorde God of Israel, that it is not happened vnto vs as we thought.
18 For thou hast dealt mercifully with vs, and put away from vs the enemie ỳ persecuted vs,
19 And hast shewed mercy vnto yonder two, the only borne children of their parents: O Lord, cause them to magnifie thee more perfectly, and to offer the sacrifice of thy prayse and of their health: that all people may knowe that thou onely art God in all the earth.
20 And immediatly Raguel commaunded his seruants to fill the graue that they had made, with earth, afore it was light:
21 And bade his wife prepare a feast, and to make ready all things that were necessarie for meate to such as went by the way.
22 He caused two fatte kyne also and foure wethers to be slayne, and meates to be prepared for all his neighbours and friendes.
23 And Raguel charged Tobias to remayne with him two weekes.
24 As for all the good that he had, he gaue Tobias the halfe of it, & made this writing, that the halfe which remayned, should fall vnto Tobias after their death.

The ix. Chapter.

The Angel goeth to Gabelus at the desire of Tobias: which deliuereth the letter, and receyueth the money.

1 THen Tobias called vnto him the Angel, whome he thought to haue bene a man, & sayd vnto him, Brother Azarias, I pray thee harke vnto my wordes.
2 If I should giue my selfe to be thy seruant, I shall not deserue thy prouidence,
3 Neuertheless, I beseech thee that thou wilt take the beastes, & the seruants, and go vnto Gabelus in Rages the citie of the Medes, and deliuer him his handwriting, and receyue the money of him, and pray him to come to my marriage.
4 For thou knowest thy selfe that my father doeth number the dayes: and if I tarrie one day too long, he will be sory in his minde.
5 Now seest thou how earnestly Raguel hath required me, so that I can not say him nay.
6 Then tooke Raphael foure of Raguels seruants, and two camels, and went vnto Rages the citie of the Medes: and when he had found Gabelus, he gaue him his hand writing, and receyued all the money.
7 He tolde him also of Tobias the sonne of Tobi, how all things had happened: and caused him to come with him to the marriage.
8 Nowe when he came into the house of Raguel, he founde Tobias sitting at the table: and he leaped vp, and they kissed one another, and Gabelus wept, and prayed God.
9 And sayd, The blessing of the God of Israel haue thou, for thou art the sonne of a right vertuous and iust man, and of one that feareth God, and giueth great almes:
10 And blessing haue thy wife, & your elders,
11 That ye may see your children, & your children's children vnto the third & fourth generation: & your seede be blessed of the God of Israel, which reigneth world without ende.
12 And when they all had sayde Amen, they went to the feast: but with the feare of the Lord held they the feast of the marriage.

The x. Chapter.

1 Tobias and his wife thinke long for their ſonne. 10 Raguel ſendeth away Tobias and Sara.

1 NOwe whyle yong Tobias made long tarying, by reaſon of the marryage, his father was full of care and heauineſſe, ſaying, Canſt thou thinke what ſhould be the cauſe that my ſonne taryeth ſo long? or why he ſhoulde be kept ſo long there?

2 Thinkeſt thou Gabelus is dead, and no man will giue him the money?

3 Thus beganne he to be very ſorowfull, he and Anna his wife with him: and began to weepe both together, becauſe their ſonne was not come againe vnto them at the daye appoynted.

4 As for his mother, ſhe wept with diſcomfortable teares, and ſayde, Wo is me my ſonne, Oh what ayled vs to ſende thee away into a ſtrange countrey, thou light of our eyes, thou * ſtaffe of our age, thou comfort of our life, thou hope of our generation?

Tob.5.19.

5 Seeing all the things that we haue are onely in thee, we ſhould not haue ſent thee away from vs.

6 Then Tobias [comforted her and] ſayde, Holde thy peace, and be not diſcomforted, our ſonne is whole and ſounde: the man that we ſent him withall, is faithfull ynough.

7 Neuertheleſſe, ſhee might in no wiſe be comforted: but dayly went out, looked about, and went about all the ſtreetes whereby ſhee thought he ſhould come againe, that if it were poſſible, ſhe might ſee him comming a farre off.

8 But Raguel ſayde vnto his ſonne in lawe, Deare here, and I ſhal ſend a meſſenger vnto thy father Tobias, to tell him that thou art in good health.

9 Tobias ſayde vnto him, I am ſure that my father and my mother count euery day, and that their hearts are ſory.

10 So when Raguel had prayed Tobias with many wordes, and he would in no wiſe heare him, he deliuered Sara vnto him, & the halfe part of all his goods, in ſeruantes, and handmaydens, in cheepe, in camels, and in kine, and much money: and ſo ſent him away from him with health and ioy, 11 And ſayde, The holy Angel of the Lorde be with you in your iourney, and bring you forth ſafe and ſounde: that ye may finde all things in good eaſe with your elders, and that mine eyes may ſee your children afore I dye.

12 So the elders embraced their daughter, kiſſed her, and let her goe.

13 Charging her to honour her father and mother in lawe, to loue her husband, to rule well her houſholde, to keepe her houſe in good order, and to ſhewe her ſelfe faultleſſe.

The xi. Chapter.

1 The returne of Tobias to his father. 11 How he was receiued. 15 His father hath his ſight reſtored, and prayſeth the Lord.

1 AS they nowe were going homewarde againe, vpon the eleuenth day they came to Charran, which lyeth in the halfe way towarde Niniue.

2 And the Angel ſayd, Brother Tobias, thou knoweſt how thou haſt left thy father.

3 Therefore if it pleaſe thee, we two will goe before, and let the houſholde, with thy wife and the cattell, come fayre and ſoftly after vs.

4 And when Tobias was content that they ſhould goe before, Raphael ſayde vnto him, Take of the gall of the fiſh with thee: for it ſhall be neceſſarie. So Tobias tooke of the gall, and they went their way:

5 But Anna the mother of Tobias ſate dayly by the way ſide vpon the toppe of an hill, from whence ſhe might ſee farre about her.

6 And whyle ſhee was waiting there for his comming, ſhe looked a farre off, and anon ſhee perceyued her ſonne comming, and ran and tolde her husband, ſaying, Behold, thy ſonne commeth.

7 And Raphael ſayde vnto Tobias, As ſoone as thou commeſt into the houſe, immediatly worſhip the Lorde thy God, and giue thankes vnto him: then go to thy father, and kiſſe him.

8 And ſtraightwayes ſtrike his eyes ouer with the gall of the fiſh that thou haſt brought with thee: for be ſure that his eyes ſhall ſtraightway be opened, and thy father ſhal ſee the light of heauen, and ſhall reioyce at the ſight of thee.

9 Then the dogge that had bene with them in their iourney ran before, and came as a meſſenger, and wagged his tayle for gladneſſe.

10 So the blinde father aroſe, and beganne to runne, & ſtumbled with his feete: and gaue a ſeruant his hand, & ranne to meete his ſonne, 11 Receiued him, and kiſſed him, he & his wife, and they both began to weepe for ioy.

12 Now when they had worſhipped and thanked God, they ſate downe.

13 Then tooke Tobias of the fiſh gall, and anointed his fathers eyes:

14 And taryed halfe an houre, and then began the blemiſh to goe out of his eyes, like as it had bene the white ſkinne of an egge:

15 Which Tobias tooke and drewe from his eyes, and immediatly he receyued his ſight.

16 Then they praiſed God, he and his wife, and all they that knewe him.

17 And Tobias ſayde, O Lord God of Iſrael, I giue thee prayſe and thankes, for thou haſt chaſtened me, and made me whole: and loe, now do I ſee my ſonne Tobias.

18 After ſeuen dayes came Sara his ſonnes wife alſo whole and ſounde, with all the houſholde houſhold and cattell, with Camels, and much money of his wiues, and with the money that he had receiued of Gabelus.

19 And he tolde his father and his mother, all the benefites which God had done for him by the man that led him.

20 Achior alſo and Nabath, Tobias ſiſters ſonnes came, and were glad, & reioyced with him, by reaſon of all the good things that God had ſhewed vnto him: and ſo for the ſpace of ſeuen dayes they made merrie, and were right ioyfull euery one.

The xii. Chapter.

2 Tobias declareth to his father, the pleaſures that Raphael had done him: 5 The which he woulde recompenſe.

1 THen Tobias called his ſonne vnto him, and ſaid, What may we giue this holy man that ‖ went with thee?

‖ Or, came.

2 Tobias anſwered his father, & ſaide, Father, what reward ſhall we giue him? or what thing can deſerue his benefites?

3 He hath bene my guide, and brought me ſafe againe, he receiued the money from Gabelus, he cauſed me to get my wife, he droue the euil ſpirit from her, he hath bene an occaſion of gladneſſe to her father and mother, he deliuered me that I was not deuoured of the fiſh, he hath made thee to ſee the light of heauen: yea, we all haue receiued great good of him.

4 Howe ſhoulde we worthily deſerue theſe things vnto him? But, I pray thee my father, that thou wilt deſire him, if haply he will vouchſafe, to take with him the halfe of all that we haue brought.

5 So the father and ỹ ſonne called him, tooke him aſide, & began to pray him, that he would be content to take in good worth, the halfe part of all that they had brought.

6 Then ſaid he ſecretely vnto them, Praiſe ye the God of heauen, and giue thankes vnto him before all men liuing: for he hath ſhewed his mercy vnto you.

7 It is good to hide the kings ſecrete: but to ſhewe and to praiſe the workes of God, it is an honourable thing.

8 Prayer is good with faſting, and mercy is better then to hoorde vp treaſures of golde.

9 For mercy deliuereth from death, cleanſeth ſinne, and cauſeth to finde mercie and life euerlaſting.

10 But they that doe ſinne and vnrighteouſnes, are the enemies of their owne ſoule.

11 Wherefore I tell you the trueth, and will hide no ſecrete thing from you.

12 When thou prayedſt with teares, & buriedſt the dead, and leſteſt thy dinner, and hiddeſt the dead in thine houſe vpon the day time, that thou mighteſt burie them in the night, I offered thy prayer before the Lord.

13 And becauſe thou waſt accept and beloued of God, it was neceſſarie that temptation ſhould trie thee.

14 And nowe hath the Lorde ſent me to heale thee, and to deliuer Sara thy ſonnes wife from the euill ſpirit.

15 For I am Raphael an angel, one of the ſeuen that ſtand before the Lord.

16 When they heard this, they were ſore afraide, and trembled, & fell downe vpon their faces vnto the ground.

17 Then ſaide the angel, Peace be with you, feare not.

18 For whereas I haue bene with you, it is the will of God: giue praiſe and thankes vnto him.

19 *You thought that I did eate and drinke with you, but I vſe meate that is inuiſible, and drinke that cannot be ſeene of men. Gene. 18. 8. iudi. 13. 16.

20 Nowe therefore is the time that I muſt turne againe vnto him that ſent me: but be ye thankfull vnto God, and tell out all his wonderous workes.

21 And when he had ſpoken theſe wordes, he was taken away out of their ſight, ſo that they could ſee him no more.

22 Then fell they downe flat vpon their faces, by the ſpace of three houres, and praiſed God: and when they roſe vp, they tolde al his wonderous workes.

The xiii. Chapter.

A thankeſgiuing of Tobias, who exhorteth all to praiſe the Lord.

1 THen olde Tobias opened his mouth, and praiſed the Lorde, and ſaide, Great art thou, O Lorde, for euermore, and thy kingdome world without end.

2 For thou * ſcourgeſt and healeſt, thou leadeſt vnto hell, and bringeſt out againe: and there is none that may eſcape thine hande. Deut. 32. 39. ſapi. 16. 13.

3 O giue thankes vnto the Lorde, ye children of Iſrael, and praiſe him in the ſight of the heathen:

4 For among the heathen which knowe him not, hath he ſcattered you, to the intent that ye ſhoulde shewe forth his marueilous workes, and cauſe them for to knowe, that there is none other God almighty but he.

5 He hath chaſtened vs for our miſdeedes, and for his owne mercies ſake ſhall he ſaue vs.

6 Conſider then how he hath dealt with you, and praiſe him with feare and dread: & magnifie the euerlaſting king in your workes.

7 I will praiſe him euen in the lande of my captiuitie, for he hath ſhewed his maieſtie vnto a ſinfull people.

8 Turne you therefore, O ye ſinners, and doe righteouſnes before God, and be ye ſure that he will ſhew his mercy vpon you.

9 As for me and my ſoule, we will reioyce in God.

10 O praiſe the Lorde all ye his choſen: holde the dayes of gladneſſe, and be thankefull vnto him.

11 O Hieruſalem thou citie of God, the Lorde hath puniſhed thee for the workes of thine owne handes.

12 O praiſe the Lord in thy good things, and giue thankes to the euerlaſting God, that he may builde vp his tabernacle againe in thee, that he may call againe vnto thee all ſuch as be in captiuitie, and that thou mayeſt haue ioy for euermore.

13 With a faire light ſhalt thou ſhine, and all the endes of the world ſhall honour thee.

Eſai 49.18. actes 2.5.

14 The * people ſhall come vnto thee frō farre, they ſhall bring giftes, and worſhip the Lord in thee, and thy lande ſhall they haue for a ſanctuarie: for they ſhall call vpon the great name in thee.

15 Curſed ſhall they be that deſpiſe thee, and all that blaſpheme thee ſhalbe condemned: but bleſſed ſhall they be that builde thee vp.

16 As for thee, thou ſhalt reioyce in thy children: for they all ſhalbe bleſſed, and gathered together vnto the Lord.

17 Bleſſed are all they that loue thee, and that be glad of thy peace.

18 Praiſe thou the Lorde, O my ſoule: for the Lord our God hath deliuered his citie Hieruſalem from all her troubles.

19 I will count my ſelfe happie, if my ſeede remaine to ſee the cleareneſſe of Hieruſalem.

Apo.21.18. 20 The * gates of Hieruſalem ſhalbe builded with Saphir and Smaragde, & al the compaſſe of her walles with pretious ſtones.

21 All her ſtreetes ſhalbe paued with white and faire ſtone, and in all ſtreetes ſhall Alleluia be ſung.

22 Praiſed be the Lord which hath exalted her, that his kingdome may be vpon her for euermore. Amen.

The xiiii. Chapter.

5 Leſſons of Tobias to his ſonne. 6 He prophecieth the deſtruction of Niniue, 7 and the reſtoring of Hieruſalem and the temple.

1 AND ſo Tobias made an ende of ſpeaking: and after that Tobias had gotten his ſight againe, he liued fourtie and two yeeres, and ſaw his childrens children.

2 Nowe when he was an hundred and two yeeres olde, [he died, and] was buried honourably in Niniue.

3 For when he was fiue and fiftie yeeres of age, he loſt the ſight of his eyes: and when he was threeſcore yeeres olde, he gate his ſight againe.

4 The reſidue of his life led he in ioy, and increaſed wel in the feare of God, and departed in peace.

5 But in the houre of his death, he called vnto him his ſonne Tobias, and ſeuen young ‖ ſpringales his ſonnes children, and ſaid vnto them, ‖ Or, young impes.

6 The deſtruction of Niniue is at hande (for the worde of the Lorde cannot faile) and our brethren that are ſcattered out of the land of Iſrael, ſhall come thither againe.

7 And ỹ whole land of it that hath bene waſte, ſhalbe filled, and the houſe of God that was * burnt in it, ſhalbe builded againe: and all ſuch as feare God, ſhall returne thither. 1. Eſdr. 3.8. and 6.14.

8 The Heathen then alſo ſhall forſake their idoles, and come to Hieruſalem, and dwell there:

9 And all the kings of the earth ſhalbe glad in her, and worſhip the Lord God of Iſrael.

10 And therefore, my children, heare your father, * ſerue the Lorde in the trueth, ſeeke after his will, to doe the thing that pleaſeth him: Deut. 6.13. ioſu. 24.14. 1. reg. 7.8.

11 Commande your children that they doe right, giue almes, be mindefull of God, and euer to be thankfull vnto him in trueth, and with all their power.

12 Heare me now therfore, my children, and abide not here: but in what day ſoeuer ye haue buried your mother by me in one ſepulchre, get you from hence:

13 For I ſee that the wickednes of it ſhal bring it to [deſtruction and] ende.

14 After the death of his mother, Tobias departed away from Niniue, with his wife and children, and with his childrens children, and came againe to his father and mother in lawe, 15 And found them whole, and in a good age, and tooke the care of them: & he cloſed their eyes, and was heire vnto all Raguels goods, and ſawe the fifth generation, and his childrens children.

16 And ninetie and nine yeeres beyng ended in the feare of God, they buryed him with ioy.

17 And all his kinred and poſteritie continued in a good life and holy conuerſation: ſo that they were loued and accepted both of God and men, and of all the people of the lande.

The end of the booke of Tobias.

The

The booke of Iudith.

The first Chapter.

1 The building of Ecbatanis. 5 Nabuchodonosor made warre against Arphaxad, and ouercame him. 12 He threatneth them that would not helpe him.

1 ARpharad the King of the Medes, subdued many people vnto his dominion, and builded a strong citie, which he called Ecbatanis,

2 The walles of it made he of free stone, foure square, seuentie cubites high, and thirtie cubites broade: he made towres thereupon an hundred cubites high,

3 But along the foure corners, euery one was twentie foote broade, he made the portes in the height, like as the towres.

4 [This king] trusted in his mightie hoste, and in his glorious charrets.

5 So in ỳ twelfth yeere of his reigne, it happened that Nabuchodonosor the king of the Assyrians, which reigned in the great citie of Ninive, fought against Arpharad:

6 And ouercame him in the great fielde called Ragau, beside Euphrates, and Tigris, and Jadason, in the fielde of Erioth the king of the Elikes.

7 Then was the kingdome of Nabuchodonosor exalted, and his heart was lift vp: and he sent vnto all them that dwelt in Cilicia, in Damascus and Libanus:

8 And vnto the heathen that dwelt in Carmel and Cedar, and to such as dwelt in Galilee in the great fielde of Esdrelon:

9 To all them that dwelt in Samaria, and beyonde the water of Jordane vnto Hierusalem, and the whole land of Jesse, vnto the borders of Ethiopia:

10 Vnto al these did Nabuchodonosor the king of the Assyrians send messengers.

11 But they all with one consent would not agree vnto him, & sent the messengers againe emptie, and put them away without honour.

12 Then Nabuchodonosor the king tooke indignation at all those lands, and sware by his throne and by his kingdome, that he would be auenged of all those countreyes.

The ii. Chapter.

Nabuchodonosor commanded presumptuously that all people should be brought in subiection.

1 IN the thirteenth yeere of king Nabuchodonosor, vpon the twentie & two day of the first moneth, it was deuised in the court of Nabuchodonosor the king of the Assyrians, that he would reuenge himselfe.

2 So he called vnto him all the elders, all his captaines and men of warre, and shewed them his secrete counsell,

3 And told them that his purpose was to bring the whole earth vnder his dominion.

4 Now when they were all content with this saying, Nabuchodonosor the king called Holophernes the chiefe captaine of his warres,

5 And saide vnto him, Goe thy way forth against all the kingdomes of the West, and specially against those that haue despised my commandement.

6 Thou shalt spare no realme, all strong cities shalt thou bring in subiection vnto me.

7 Then Holophernes called together all the captaines and rulers of all the power in Assyria, & mustered the souldiers vnto the hoste, like as the king commanded him, [namely] an hundred and twentie thousande fighting men vpon foote, and twelue thousand archers vpon horseback.

8 All his ordinance sent he before with an vnnumerable multitude of Camels, so that the hoste was well prouided for with oxen and smal cattell, and that without number.

9 He appointed to prepare corne out of al Syria to his passage.

10 Much golde and siluer also tooke he out of the kings house.

11 So he tooke his iourney, & all his host, with charrets, horsemen, & archers: of whom there were so many, that they couered the grounde of the land, like the grashoppers.

12 And when he was come past the borders of the Assyrians, he came toward ỳ great mountaines of Ange, which lie vpon the left side of Cilicia: and so he went vp into all their castles, and wonne euery strong holde.

13 As for the wealthie citie of Melothus he brake it downe, and spoyled all the children of Tharsis, and the Ismaelites, which lay toward the wildernes, and vpon the South side of the land of Chellon.

14 He went ouer Euphrates also, and came into Mesopotamia, & brake downe all the high cities that were there, from the brooke of Mambre, till a man come to the sea:

15 And he tooke the borders in, from Cilicia vnto the coastes of Japhet, towarde the South.

16 He carryed away all the Madianites, and spoyled all their goods, and whosoeuer withstoode him, he slue them with the swoorde.

17 After this, he went downe into the fielde of Damascus in the time of harueste, and burnt vp all the corne, and all the trees and vines he caused to be cut downe:

18 And the feare of him fell vpon all them that dwelt in the earth.

The iii. Chapter.

1 The people subiect to Holophernes. 12 He destroyed their gods, that Nabuchodonosor might onely be worshipped.

1 SO the kings and princes of al the cities and landes, sent their Ambassadours, namely, they of Syria & Mesopotamia, Syria Sobal, and Libia, and Cilicia, which came to Holopherues, and said
2 Let thy wrath cease toward vs, it is better for vs to serue the great king Nabuchodonosor with our liues, and to be subiect vnto thee, then that we should die and with our slaughter suffer the euils of our bondage.
3 All our cities & possessions, all mountaines and hilles, all fieldes, great and small, cattell, sheepe, goates, horses, and camels, all our goods and housholdes, be in thy power, vnder thy subiection: all that we haue.
4 We our selues, and also our children, wil be thy seruants.
5 Come vnto vs, peaceable lorde, and vse our seruice at thy pleasure.
6 Then came Holopherues downe from the mountaines with horsemen, a great power, and conquered all strong fenced cities, and all that dwelt in the land.
7 And out of all cities he tooke strongemen, and such as were meete for the warre, [to helpe him.]
8 And there came such a feare vpon the countreys that the inhabiters of all the cities, the princes and rulers, and the people together, went forth to meete him as he came:
9 And receyued him [honourably] with garlandes and torches, with daunces, tabrets, and pypes.
10 Neuertheles, though they did this, yet might they not swage his rigorous stomacke, 11 But he destroyed their cities, and hewed downe their woods.
12 For Nabuchodonosor the King had commanded him that he should roote out all the goddes of the ‖ land, to the intent that he onely might be called [and taken] for god of the nations which Holopherues with his power might bring vnder him.
13 So went he thorow Syria Sobal, and thorowe al Apamea, and all Mesopotamia, and came to the Amorites in the lande of Gabaa.
14 And tooke their cities, and remained there thirtie dayes, in which space he caused all the whole multitude of his hoste to be gathered together.

‖ Or, earth.

The iii. Chapter.

Eliacim the priest writeth to Bethulia, that they should fortifie themselues. 8 They cried to the Lorde, and humbled themselues before him.

1 WHen the children of Israel that dwelt in Iuda heard this, they were sore afraide of him.
2 There came such trembling also and feare vpon them, least he should doe vnto the citie of Hierusalem and the temple of the Lorde, as he had done to other cities and their temples.
3 So they sent into all Samaria rounde about vnto Jericho, [tooke in] and occupied al the toppes of the mountaines,
4 And made fast the townes with walles, and prepared corne for their againste the battaile.
5 Eliacim also the priest wrote vnto them that dwelt toward Esdrelon, which lyeth ouer against the great plaine by Dothain, and vnto all those by whom men might haue passage vnto them,
6 That they should take in the wayes of the mountaines, whereby there might be any way vnto Hierusalem, and that they should holde diligent watch where any straight was betwixt the mountaines.
7 And the children of Israel did as Eliacim the Priest of the Lorde had commanded them.
8 And all the people cryed vnto the Lord earnestly, and humbled their soules with fasting and prayers, they and their wiues:
9 The priestes put on sackcloth, and laid the yong babes before the temple of the Lorde, and couered the altar of the Lorde with an hearie cloth:
10 And with one accorde they cryed vnto the Lord God of Israel, that their children should not be giuen into a pray, and their wiues into a spoyle, that their cities should not be laide waste, and that their ‖ sanctuarie should not be vnhalowed, and so they to be a shame and rebuke vnto the heathen.

‖ Or, holy things.

11 Then Eliacim the high priest of the Lorde, went rounde about all Israel, and spake vnto them, 12 Saying, Be ye sure that the Lorde will heare your petitions, if ye continue stedfast in fastings and prayers in the sight of the Lorde.
13 Remember Moses the seruant of the Lord, which ouerthrew the Amalekites that trusted in their might & power, in their hoste, in their shieldes, in their charets, and horsemen, not with weapons, but with holy prayers. Exod. 17. 12.
14 Euen so shall all the enemies of Israel be, if ye continue in this worke that ye haue begun.
15 So vpon this exhortation, they continued in prayer before the Lord.
16 Insomuch that they which offered burnt sacrifices vnto the Lorde, offered the offerings vnto the Lord, being arayed in hearie clothes, and had ashes vpon their heades.
17 And they al besought God from their whole heart, that he would visite his people of Israel.

The v. Chapter.

Achior the Ammonite doeth declare to Holophernes of the manner of the Israelites.

1 AND woꝛde came to Holophernes the ꝓince of the warre of the Aſſyꝛians, that the childꝛen of Iſrael ꝓpared themſelues to make reſiſtance, & howe they had ſtopped the wayes betwixt the mouꝛtaines.

2 Then was he exceeding wꝛoth, and called all the ꝓinces of Moab, and the captaines of Ammon,

3 And ſaid vnto them, Tell me, what people is this that keepeth in the mountaines? Oꝛ what maner, and how great cities theirs are? What is their power? Oꝛ what maner of hoſte haue they? Who is their captaine?

4 And why doe they deſpiſe vs moꝛe then all thoſe that dwell in the Eaſt, and come not foꝛth to meete vs, that they might receiue vs with peace?

Iud.11.7. 5 Then * Achiоꝛ the captaine of all the Ammonites, anſwered, and ſaide, Sir, if it pleaſe thee to heare, I wil tell the trueth beforе thee, concerning this people that dwell in ẏ̄ mountaines, and there ſhall no vntrueth goe out of my mouth.

6 This people is of the generation of the Chaldees:

Gene.11.31. 7 They dwelt firſt in * Meſopotamia, foꝛ they would not followe the gods of their fathers that were in the land of the Chaldees:

8 And ſo foꝛſooke they the cuſtome of their foꝛefathers which had many goddes, & woꝛſhipped one God that made heauen & earth: which alſo * commanded them ẏ they ſhould goe from thence and dwell at Charran.

Gene.41.54. and 46.6. 9 * Nowe when there came a dearth into the whole land, they went downe to Egypt, and there they dwelt foure hundꝛed yeeres, in the which they multiplyed greatly, that their hoſte might not be numbꝛed.

Exod.1.8. 10 * And when the king of Egypt oppꝛeſſed them, & yoked them in building of his cities, with making of clay & bꝛicke, they cried vnto God their Loꝛde, which puniſhed the whole land of Egypt with diuers plagues.

Exod.14.4. 11 * And when the Egyptians had caſt them out, and the plague ceaſſed from them, & they following after them to take them, & to bꝛing them againe into their bondage:

12 While they were fleeing away, the God of heauen opened the ſea, ſo that ẏ waters ſtoode faſt vpon both the ſides as a wall: and theſe went thoꝛow the bottome of the ſea dꝛyſhod.

13 In the which place when an innumerable people of the Egyptians followed vpon thē, they were ſo ouerwhelmed with the waters, that there remained not one to tell them that came after how it happened.

14 So when this people was paſſed thoꝛow ẏ̄ Exod.16.1. * red ſea, they came into ẏ̄ wildernes of mount Sina, where neuer man might dwell afoꝛe, and where the ſonne of man had neuer reſted.

15 There were the bitter * waters made ſweete foꝛ them, that they might dꝛinke, and fourtie yeeres had they meate from heauen. Exod.15.25.

16 Whereſoeuer they went, without bowe and arꝛowe, without buckler oꝛ ſwoꝛde, their God fought foꝛ them, and cauſed them to haue the victoꝛy.

17 Yea, no man was able to hurt this people, except it were when they departed vnfaithfully from the woꝛſhipping of the Loꝛd their God.

18 But as oft as they woꝛſhipped any other beſide their God, he gaue thē ouer to be ſpoyled, to be ſlaine, and to be put to confuſion.

19 Neuertheleſſe, as oft as they were ſoꝛy foꝛ their departing from ẏ woꝛſhip of their God: the ſame God of heauen gaue them power and ſtrength to withſtand [their enemies.]

Ioſu.12.21. 20 Moꝛeouer, they * ſlue the king of the Chanaanites, Iebuſites, Pherezites, Hethites, Heuites, and Amoꝛites, and all the mightie in Heſebon, and tooke their landes and cities in poſſeſſion:

21 And ſo long as they ſinned not in the ſight of their God, it went wel with them: foꝛ their God hateth vnrighteouſneſſe.

Iudi.2.11. 1.king.25.1. 22 * Foꝛ in times paſt, when they went out of the way which God had giuen them, that they ſhoulde walke in it, they were deſtroyed in diuers battailes of many nations, and many of them were caried away ꝓiſoners vnto a ſtrange countrey.

1.Eſdr.1.1. 23 * But nowe lately they haue turned themſelues againe vnto the Loꝛde their God, and are come together againe out of ẏ̄ countreys where they were ſcattered abꝛoade: and thus haue they conquered theſe mountaines, and dwell therein: and as foꝛ Hieruſalem where their ſanctuarie is, they haue it againe in poſſeſſion.

24 And therefoꝛe, my Loꝛde, make diligent inquiſition, if this people haue done wickednes in the ſight of their God, then let vs goe vp againſt them: foꝛ doubtleſſe their God ſhall deliuer them into thine handes, and ſubdue them vnto thy power.

25 But if this people haue not diſpleaſed their God, we ſhall not be able to withſtand them: foꝛ their God ſhall defend them, and ſo ſhall we be a ſhame to all the woꝛld.

26 Nowe when Achiоꝛ had ſpoken out theſe woꝛdes, all the great men of Holophernes were wꝛoth, and thought to ſlay him, and ſaid one to another, 27 What is he this which dare ſay that the childꝛen of Iſrael are able to withſtande Nabuchodonoſoꝛ the king, and his hoſtes? wheꝛas they are an vnweaponed people, without ſtrength oꝛ vnderſtanding of the feates of warre.

28 That Achiоꝛ theꝛefoꝛe may knowe that he hath deceiued vs, we will goe vp into the mountaines: and when the mightie men of them are taken, he with them shalbe stickt with the swoꝛde:

29 That all the people may knowe that Nabuchodonoſoꝛ is the god of the earth, and that there is none other beside him.

The vi. Chapter.

Holophernes blaſphemeth GOD whom Achior confeſſed.

1 SO when they had left off speaking, Holophernes tooke ſoꝛe indignation, and ſaid vnto Achioꝛ,

2 Foꝛ ſo much as thou haſt pꝛophecied vnto vs, ſaying that ẏ people of * Iſrael ſhalbe defended of their God: I will ſhewe thee that there is no God but Nabuchodonoſoꝛ. Iud.5.5.

3 Yea, when we ſlay them al as one man, thou alſo ſhalt periſh with them thꝛough the ſwoꝛd of the Aſſyꝛians, and al Iſrael ſhalbe deſtroyed with thee:

4 And then ſhalt thou feele that Nabuchodonoſoꝛ is the loꝛde of the whole earth: then ſhal the ſwoꝛd of my knighthood go thoꝛow thy ſides, and thou ſhalt fall downe ſtickt among the wounded of Iſrael, and ‖ ſhalt not come to thy ſelfe againe, but be vtterly deſtroyed with them. ‖ Or, ſhalt not drawe breath againe.

5 Furthermoꝛe, if thou thinkeſt thy pꝛophecie to be true, why doeſt thou then change thy colour? why art thou afraide? Thinkeſt thou ẏ my woꝛdes are not able to be perfourmed?

6 But that thou maieſt knowe that thou ſhalt feele theſe things with them, beholde, from this houre foꝛth, will I ſend thee vnto yonder people, that when the puniſhment of my ſwoꝛde (which they haue woꝛthily deſerued) falleth vpon them, thou maieſt be puniſhed with them.

7 So Holophernes commanded his ſeruants to take Achioꝛ, and to carrie him vnto Bethulia, and to deliuer him into the handes of the childꝛen of Iſrael.

8 Then Holophernes ſeruantes tooke him, and went thoꝛow the plaine fielde: but whē they dꝛew nigh vnto the moũtaines, the ſling caſters came out againſt them.

9 Neuertheleſſe, they gate them away by the ſide of the mountaine, and bounde Achioꝛ hande and foote to a tree, and ſo left him bounde with wythes, and turned againe vnto their loꝛde.

10 After that, the childꝛē of Iſrael went downe from Bethulia, came vnto him, looſed him, bꝛought him into Bethulia, ſet him in the middeſt of the people, and aſked him what the matter was that the Aſſyꝛians had left him bound?

11 Oſias the ſonne of Micha, of the tribe of Simeon, and Charmi, which is alſo called Gothoniel, were the pꝛincipall rulers at the ſame time.

12 Now when Achioꝛ ſtoode in the middeſt of the Senatours, and befoꝛe them all, he tolde them what anſwere he gaue Holophernes to the thing that he aſked him, and howe Holophernes people woulde haue ſlaine him foꝛ ſo ſaying, 13 And how Holophernes himſelf was wꝛoth, and commanded him foꝛ the ſame cauſe to be deliuered vnto the Iſraelites: that when he ouercame the childꝛen of Iſrael, he might command Achioꝛ alſo to be put to death with diuers toꝛments, becauſe he ſaide, The God of heauen is their defender.

14 And when Achioꝛ had plainely tolde out all theſe things, all the people fell downe vpon their faces, pꝛaiſing the Loꝛd, & powꝛed out their pꝛayers together vnto the Loꝛd, with a generall complaint and weeping,

15 And ſaide, O Loꝛde God of heauen and of earth, behold their pꝛide, and looke vpon our lowlineſſe, and conſider how it ſtandeth with thy ſaintes, and make it to be knowen that thou foꝛſakeſt not thoſe which hold them faſt by thee, and how that thou hꝛingeſt them low that pꝛeſume of themſelues, and make their boaſt in their owne ſtrength.

16 So when the weeping and pꝛayer of the people (which they had made the whole day long, was ended) they comfoꝛted Achioꝛ, 17 Saying, The God of our fathers, whoſe powꝛ and ſtrength thou haſt pꝛaiſed, ſhall ſo reward thee, that thou ſhalt rather ſee their deſtruction.

18 When the Loꝛd our God then ſhal giue his ſeruants this libertie, God be alſo with thee among vs: ſo that as it ſhall pleaſe thee, ſo thou with al thine mayeſt dwell with vs.

19 Nowe when Oſias had ended the counſell, he tooke him into his houſe, and made a great ſupper, 20 Called the elders to it: and ſo they refreſhed themſelues after the faſting.

21 And afterward was all the people called together, which made their pꝛayers al the night long ‖ in the congregation, and beſought the God of Iſrael foꝛ helpe. ‖ Or, within the Church.

The vii. Chapter.

Holophernes doeth beſiege Bethulia.

1 THe next day Holophernes commanded his hoſte to goe vp againſt Bethulia.

2 There were an hundꝛed and twentie thouſand fighting men on foote, and two and twentie thouſande hoꝛſemen, beſide the pꝛeparing of them that were wonne, and came to them on euery ſide out of the countreys and cities which he had taken.

3 All theſe pꝛepared themſelues vnto the battaile againſt the Iſraelites, and came on by the hill ſide, vnto the top that looketh ouer againſt Dothain, from ẏ place which is called Belma, Belma, vnto Chelmon, that lyeth towarde Esdrelon.

4 Nowe when the children of Israel sawe so great a multitude of the Assyrians, they fell downe flat vpon the grounde, strawed ashes vpon their heades, and prayed with one accorde that the God of Israel would shewe his mercie vpon his people.

5 And so they tooke their weapons, and sate betwixt the mountaines in the narrow place, and kept the way day and night.

6 But while Holophernes was going rounde about, he found the water spring, which from the South side was conueyed into the citie by a conduite, and he commanded their conduite to be cut in sunder.

7 There were welles also not farre from the walles, which they vsed secretely, more for pleasure, ‖ then for necessitie.

‖ Or, then to drinke them.

8 Then went the Ammonites and the Moabites vnto Holophernes, and said, The children of Israel trust neither in speare nor arrowe, but haue taken in and kept the mountaines, and steepe hilles defend them.

9 That thou maiest ouercome them therefore without the striking of any battaile, set men to keepe the welles, that they draw no water out of them, so shalt thou destroy them without sworde: or at the least they shalbe so feeble, that they must be faine to giue ouer the citie, which they thinke not able to be wonne, for so much as it lyeth in the mountaines.

10 These wordes pleased Holophernes well, and all his men of warre, and he set an hundred at euery well round about.

11 And when this watch had endured twentie dayes, the cesternes and all that had water, failed them that dwelt in ỹ citie of Bethulia, so that in the whole citie they had not drinke ynough for one day, for the people had water giuen them dayly in a measure.

12 Then came the men and women, yong persons and children, all vnto Osias, and said all with one voyce,

Exod. 5. 21.

13 God be * iudge betwixt vs and thee, for thou hast dealt euill with vs: thou wouldest not speake peaceably with the king of the Assyrians, therefore hath God solde vs into their handes.

14 And there is no man to helpe vs, whereas we are brought downe before their eyes in thirst and great destruction.

15 Therefore gather now together all the people that be in the citie, that we may all yeelde our selues willingly vnto the people of Holophernes:

16 For better it is that we be captiue, & praise the Lord with our liues, then to be slaine and perish, and to be laughed to scorne, and shamed of euery man, when we see our wiues and children die before our eyes.

17 We take heauen and earth this day to record, and the God of our fathers, which punisheth vs according [to the deseruing of] our sinnes, [and giue you warning] that ye giue vp the citie now into the power of Holophernes hoste, that our end may be short with the sworde, which els shall endure long for want of water, and for thirst.

18 When they had spoken out these wordes, there was a great weeping and howling in the whole congregation, [and that of euerie man,] and they cryed a ‖ whole houre long vnto God with one voyce,

‖ Or, many houres.

19 Saying, * We haue sinned with our fathers, we haue done amisse, we haue dealt wickedly: Psal. 105. 6.

20 Thou that art gratious, haue mercie vpon vs, or punish our vnrighteousnesse with thine owne scourge, and giue not those ouer that knowledge thee, vnto a people which knowe thee not:

21 That they may not say among the Heathen, Where is their God?

22 And when they were so wearie with this crying & weeping, that they held their peace,

23 Osias stoode vp with watry eyes, and said, O take good hearts vnto you, deare brethren, [and be of good cheare,] and let vs waite yet these fiue dayes for mercie of the Lord.

24 Peraduenture he shall put away his indignation, and giue glory vnto his name.

25 But if he helpe vs not when the fiue dayes are past, we shall doe as ye haue said.

The viii. Chapter.

The parentage, life, and conuersation of Iudith.

1 AND it happened when these wordes came to the eares of Judith, a widow, which was the daughter of Merari the sonne of Idor, the sonne of Joseph, the sonne of Osia, the sonne of Elai, the sonne of Jamnor, the sonne of Gedeon, the sonne of Raphaim, the sonne of Achitob, the sonne of Melchia, the sonne of Enan, the sonne of Nathania, the sonne of Salathiel, the sonne of Simeon, the sonne of Ruben:

2 And her husbande was called Manasses, which dyed in the dayes of the barley harueste.

3 For while he was binding the sheaues together in the fielde, the heate came vpon his head, and he dyed at Bethulia his citie, and there was he buried beside his fathers.

4 Nowe was Judith his desolate widdowe three yeeres and sixe moneths.

5 And in ỹ higher parts of her house she made her selfe a priuie chamber, where she dwelt, being closed in with her maidens:

6 She ware a smocke of heare, and fasted all the dayes of her life, except ỹ Sabboths, and newe moones, and the solemne dayes that the people of Israel kept.

7 She was a very faire and beautifull person, her husband also had left her great riches, a plenteous housholde, great vnmoueable possessions, and many cattell.

8 This Judith was a woman of a very good report with euery one, for she feared the Lord greatly: and there was no body that spake an euill word of her.

9 When this Judith heard howe Ozias had promised ỹ people, that after the fifth day he woulde giue vp the citie vnto the Assyrians, she sent for the elders, Chabri and Charmi.

10 And when they came to her, she said, What thing is this, wherein Ozias hath consented, that if God helpe not within fiue dayes, he will giue ouer the citie to the Assyrians?

11 What are ye, that ye tempt the Lord?

12 This deuice obteyneth no mercie of God, but prouoketh him vnto wrath and displeasure.

13 Will ye set the mercy of the Lorde a time, and appoint him a day after your will?

14 Neuertheless, for so much as the Lorde is pacient, let vs rather repent in this, powring out teares, and beseeching him of grace.

15 For God threatneth not as man, neither will he be prouoked vnto wrath, as the children of men.

16 And therefore let vs heartily fall downe before him, and serue him with a meeke spirit,

17 And with weeping eyes say vnto the Lord, that he deale with vs according to his owne will speedily in mercy: that like as our heart is now vexed and brought lowe through the pride of thē, it ‖ may so be comforted through his grace,

‖ Or, we may be glory.

18 In so much as we followe not the sinnes of our fathers, which forsooke their God, and worshipped other gods:

19 For the which sinne they perished with the sword, were spoyled and brought to shame of all their enemies: as for vs, we know none other God but onely him.

20 For whose comfort let vs tary with meekenesse, and he shall require and make inquisition for our blood from the vexations of our enemies: he shall bring downe all the heathen that rise vp against vs, and put them to dishonour, euen the Lord our God.

21 Therefore deare brethren, seeing ye are the [honourable and] elders in ỹ people of God, & their life hangeth al vpon you, lift vp their hearts with your exhortation, ỹ they may cal to remēbrance how our fathers also in times past were tempted, that they might be proued if they worshipped their God aright.

Gene. 22. 1. 22 They ought to remember *how our father Abraham being tempted, and tryed through many tribulations, ‖ was founde a louer and friend of God.

‖ Or, was made.

Gene. 28. 7. 23 So was Isahac, so was *Jacob, so was Moses: and all they that pleased God, passed stedfast in faith through manifold troubles.

24 Againe, they that receiued not their temptations with the feare of God, but put themselues forth with impatiencie and murmuring against God, 25 *Perished of the destroyer, and were slaine of serpents. 1. Cor. 10. 10.

26 And therefore shoulde we not vndertake to be auenged for the things that are done vnto vs:

27 *But to consider that al these punishments are farre lesse then our sinnes & misdeedes, & beleeuing that this correction commeth vnto vs as to the seruants of God, for amendment, and not for our destruction. Rom. 8. 17.

28 Then saide Ozias and the elders vnto Judith, All that thou speakest is true, and no man can reproue thy wordes.

29 Pray thou for vs now therfore [vnto God,] for thou art an holy woman, and fearest God.

30 And Judith saide vnto them, Seeing ye know that my wordes are of God, 31 Then proue my counsaile and deuice if it be of God: and beseech God that he will bring my counsaile to good ende.

32 [Thus haue I deuised,] Ye shall stand this night before the port, & I will goe forth with Abra my maiden: and pray ye therefore vnto God, that he will gratiously remember his people of Israel within fiue dayes, as ye haue saide.

33 As for the thing that I goe in hand withall, aske ye no questions of it: and till I bring you word againe of it, doe ye nothing els but pray vnto the Lord our God for me.

34 Then Ozias the prince of the people of Juda saide vnto her, Goe thy way in peace, the Lorde be with thee, that we may be auenged of our enemies. And so they went from her againe.

The ix. Chapter.

1 Iudith humbleth her selfe before the Lorde, and maketh her prayers for the deliuerance of her people.

1 NOwe when they were ‖ gone their way, Judith went into her closet, put on a heary smocke, strawed ashes vpō her head, fell downe before the Lorde, and cried vnto him, saying,

‖ Or, gone vp.

2 O Lord God of my father *Simeon, which gauest him a sworde for ‖ a defence against the enemies that vsed violence in their vncleanesse, and that rauished the virgin, [and] put her to shame and confusion: Gene. 34. 25. ‖ Or, to reuengement of the straungers.

3 Thou that gauest their wiues into a pray, & their daughters into captiuitie, and all their pray for a spoyle vnto thy seruantes which bare a zeale vnto thee: helpe me widowe, O Lord my God, I beseech thee.

4 For thou hast made the first things: and after that, looke what thou hast taken in hande and deuised, it came euer to passe.

and

5 For all thy wayes are prepared, and thy iudgements are put in thy euerlasting foreknowledge.

‖Or, tentes. 6 O looke now vpon the ‖ armies of the Assyrians, like as it was thy pleasure sometime to looke vpon the hoste of the Egyptians, when they being weaponed, persecuted thy seruants, and put their trust in their charets, horsemen, and in the multitude of their men of warre.

7 But thou lookedst vpon their hoste, casting a thicke darkenesse before them.

8 And when they came into the deepe, the waters ouerwhelmed them.

9 Euen so Lord, let it go with these that trust in the power and multitude of their men of warre, in their charets, arrowes, & speares,

10 And know not that thou onely art our God, which destroyest warres from the beginning, and ‖ that thou art the Lord.

‖Or, and that it appertaineth to thee to be called Lord.

11 O lift vp thine arme [now] like as euer from the beginning, and in thy power bring their power to nought: cause their might to fall in thy wrath, which make their boast that they will vnhalow and defile thy sanctuarie, and to waste the tabernacle of thy name, and to cast downe the horne of thine altar with their sword.

12 Bring to passe, O Lord, that the pride of ‖ the enemie may be cut downe with his owne sword,

‖Or, of this man.

13 That he may be taken with the snare of his eyes in me, and that thou mayest smite him with the lips of my loue.

14 O giue me a stedfast minde, that I may despise him and his strength, and that I may destroy him.

15 This shall bring thy name an euerlasting remembrance, if the * hand of a woman ouerthrow him.

Iudg. 4.21.

16 * For thy power, O Lord, standeth not in the multitude [of men,] neither hast thou any pleasure in the strength of horses, neither was there from the beginning any proud persons that pleased thee: but in the prayer of the humble and meeke hath thy pleasure bene euermore.

Iudith 7.2. 2.chro.14.11.

17 O thou God of the heauens, thou maker of the waters, and Lord of all creatures, heare me poore woman calling vpon thee, and putting my trust in thy mercy,

18 Remember thy couenant, O Lord, and minister wordes in my mouth, and stablish this deuice in my heart, that thy house may continue still in holinesse:

19 And that all the heathen may know that thou art God, and that there is none other but thou.

The x. Chapter.

1 Iudith decketh her selfe, and goeth foorth of the citie.

11 She is taken of the watch of the Assyrians, and brought to Holophernes.

1 AND when shee had left off crying vnto the Lorde, shee rose vp from the place where shee had lien flat before ỹ Lord,

2 And called her maiden Abra, went downe into her house, laid the heary cloth frõ her, put off the garments of her widowhood,

3 Washed her body, anoynted her selfe with pretious things of sweete sauour, braided and platted her heare, set a coyffe vpon her head, and put on such apparell as belonged vnto gladnesse, slippers vpon her feete, bracelettes, spangs, eare rings, finger rings, and decked her selfe with all her best aray.

4 The Lorde gaue her also a speciall beautie and fairenesse, for all this decking of her selfe was not done for any voluptuousnesse, but of a right discretion and vertue: therfore did the Lorde encrease her beautie, so that shee was exceeding amiable and well fauoured in all mens eyes.

5 She gaue her maiden Abra also a bottell of wine, a pot with oyle, pottage, cake bread and cheese, and went her way.

6 Now when they came to the porte of the citie, they found Ozias and the elders of the citie waiting there.

7 Which when they sawe her, they were astonied, and maruelled greatly at her beautie.

8 Neuertheless, they * asked no question at her, but let her goe, saying, The God of our fathers giue thee grace, and with his power performe all the deuice of thy heart, that Hierusalem may reioyce ouer thee, and that thy name may be in the number of the holy and righteous. Iudith 8.33.

9 And all they that were there, said with one voyce, So be it, so be it.

10 Judith made her prayer vnto the Lord, and went out at the port, she and her maid Abra.

11 And as she was going downe the mountain, it happened that about the spring of the day, the spies of the Assyrians met with her, and tooke her, saying, Whence commest thou? or whither goest thou?

12 She answered, I am a daughter of the Hebrewes, and am fled from them: for I know that they shall be giuen vnto you to bee spoiled, because they thought scorne to yeld themselues vnto you, that they might finde mercy in your sight.

13 Therefore haue I deuised by my selfe after this maner: I will goe before the prince Holophernes, and tell him all their secrets, and will shew him how he may come by them, and winne them: so that not one man of his hoste shall perish.

14 And when these men had heard her wordes, & considered her faire face, they were astonied (for they wondred at her excellent beautie,)

15 And

15 And sayd vnto her, Thou hast saued thy life by finding out this deuice, that thou wouldest come downe to our Lord.
16 And be thou sure, that when thou commest vnto him, he shall entreat thee well, and thou shalt please him at ẏ heart. So they brought her into Holophernes pauilion, and told him of her.
17 Now when shee came in before him, immediatly hee was ouercome and taken with her beautie.
18 Then said his seruants, Who would despise the people of the Iewes, that haue so fayre women? should we not by reason fight against them for these?
19 So when Iudith saw Holophernes sitting in a canopy, that was wrought of purple silk, golde, smaragde, and precious stones, 20 She looked fast vpon him, bowed her selfe, and fell downe vpon the earth: and Holophernes seruantes tooke her vp agayne at their lordes commaundement.

The xi. Chapter.

1 Holophernes comforteth Iudith, 3 and asketh the cause of her comming. 5 She deceiueth him by her fayre wordes.

1 THen sayd Holophernes vnto her, Be of good cheare, and feare not in thine heart: for I neuer hurtmã that would serue Nabuchodonosor the king.
2 As for thy people, if they had not despised me, I shoulde not haue lift vp my speare agaynst them.
3 But tel me now, what is the cause that thou art departed from them, and wherefore art thou come vnto vs?
4 And Iudith sayd vnto him, Syr, vnderstand the wordes of thy handmayden: for if thou wilt doe after the wordes of thy handmaiden, the Lorde shall bring thy matter to a prosperous effect.
5 As Nabuchodonosor the king of the earth liueth, and as his power liueth, which is in thee to the punishment of all men that goe wrong: all men shal not onely be subdued vnto him through thee, but all the beastes also of the field.
6 For all people speake of thy prudent actiuitie, and it hath euer bene reported how thou onely art good and mightie in all his kingdome, and thy ‖ discretion is commended in all landes.
7 The thing is manifest also that * Achior spake, and it is well knowne what thou commaundedst to do vnto him.
8 For this is playne, and of a surety, that our God is so wroth with vs by the reason of our sinnes, that he hath shewed by his Prophetes vnto the people, how that for theyr sinnes he will deliuer them ouer [vnto the enemy.]
9 And for so much as ẏ children of Israel know that they haue so displeased theyr God, they are sore afrayd of thee.
10 They suffer great hunger also, and for want of water, they are dead now in a maner.
11 Moreouer, they are appoynted to slaye all theyr cattell, that they may drinke the bloud of them:
12 And are purposed to spende the holy things of theyr God, which he hath forbidden them to touch, [as] of corne, wine, and oyle, & they will consume those things which they ought not to touch with their handes: Seeing now that they doe these things, it is a playne case that they must needes be destroyed.
13 Which when I thy handmaiden perceiued, I fled from them, and the Lord hath sent me to shew thee these things.
14 For I thy handmayden worship God, euen now here beside thee: and thy handmayden shall goe foorth, and I will make my prayer vnto God.
15 And he shall tell me when he will reuarde them their sinne, then shall I come and shew thee, and bring thee thorow the middest of Hierusalem, so that thou shalt haue all the people of Israel as sheepe without a shepheard, and there shall not so much as one dog barke against thee.
16 For these things are shewed me by the prouidence of God.
17 And for so much as God is displeased with them, he hath sent me to tell thee the same.
18 These wordes pleased Holophernes, and al his seruantes: which marueiled at the wisedome of her, and said one to another, 19 There is not such a woman vpon earth, in fauour, in beauty, and discretion of wordes.
20 And Holophernes said vnto her, God hath done well that he hath sent thee hither before thy people, that thou mayest giue them into our handes.
21 And for so much as thy promise is good, if thy God performe it vnto me, he shall be my God also, and thou shalt be excellent, & great in the Court of Nabuchodonosor, and thy name shalbe spoken of in all the land.

The xii. Chapter.

Iudith woulde not pollute her selfe with the meate of the Gentiles.

1 THen commaunded he her to goe in where his treasure laye, and charged that she shoulde haue her dwelling there, & appointed what shoulde be giuen her from his table.
2 Iudith answered him, and saide, As for the *meate that thou hast commãded to giue me, Gen. 43. 32.
I may not eate of it as nowe, lest I displease my God: but will eate of such as I haue brought with me.
3 Then saide Holophernes vnto her, If these things that thou hast brought with thee faile, what what shall we do vnto thee?

4 And Judith said, As thy soule liueth, my lord, thy handmaiden shall not spend all this, till God hath brought to passe in my hand the things that I haue deuised. So his seruants brought her into the tent whereas he had appointed.

5 And as she was going in, she desired that she might haue leaue to goe foorth by night and before day to her prayer, and to make intercession vnto the Lord.

6 Then commanded Holophernes his chamberlains, that she should goe out and in at her pleasure, to pray vnto God those three dayes.

7 And so in the night season she went foorth into the valley of Bethulia, and washed her selfe in the well water.

8 And comming vp, she besought the Lorde God of Israel that he would prosper her way, for the deliuerance of his people.

9 And so she went in, and remained cleane in her tent, till she tooke her meate in ỳ euening.

10 Upon the fourth day it came to passe, that Holophernes made a supper vnto his seruãts, and said vnto Vagao his chamberlaine, Goe thy way, and counsell this Hebrewesse, that she may bee willing to consent to keepe company with me.

11 For it were a shame vnto all the Assyrians, that a womã should so laugh a man to scorne, that she were come from him vnmedled withall.

12 Then went Vagao vnto Judith, and sayd, Let not the good daughter be afraid to come in to my lord, that she may be honoured before him, that she may eate and drinke wine, and be mery with him.

13 Unto whom Judith answered, Who am I, that I should say my lord nay?

14 Whatsoeuer is good & best before his eyes, I shall doe it: and looke what is his pleasure, that shall I thinke well done as long as I liue.

15 So she stood vp, and deckt her selfe with her apparell, and went in, and stood before him.

16 And Holophernes heart was whole moued: for he burnt in desire toward her.

17 And Holophernes said vnto her, Drinke now, and sit downe, and be mery, for thou hast found fauour before me.

18 Then said Judith, Sir, I will drinke, for my minde is merier to day then euer it was in all my life.

19 And she tooke, and did eate, and dranke before him the things that her maiden had prepared for her.

20 And Holophernes was mery with her, and dranke more wine then euer he did afore in his life.

The xiii. Chapter.

7 Iudith prayeth for strength. 10 She smiteth off Holophernes head. 12 She returneth to Bethulia, and reioyceth her people.

1 NOw when it was late in the night, his seruants made haste euery man to his lodging, and Vagao shut the chamber doores, and went his way:

2 *For they were all ouerladen with wine. Eccl.31.30.

3 So was Judith alone in the chamber.

4 As for Holophernes, hee lay vpon the bed [all drunken,] and of very drunkennesse fell asleepe.

5 Then commaunded Judith her maiden to stand without before the doore, and to waite.

6 And Judith stoode before the bed, making her prayers with teares, and moued her lips secretly,

7 And said, Strengthen me, O Lord God of Israel, and haue respect vnto the workes of mine hands in this houre, that thou mayest set vp thy citie of Hierusalẽ, like as thou hast promised: and graunt that I may performe the thing, which in hope that it may bee done by thee, I haue deuised.

8 And when she had spoken this, she went to ỳ pillar that was at Holophernes beds head, and loosed his sword that hanged vpon it, and drew it out:

9 And when she had taken it out of the scabberd, she tooke hold of the heary lockes of his head, and said, Strengthẽ me, O Lord God, in this houre.

10 *And with that she gaue him two strokes vpon the necke, and smote off his head: then tooke she the canopie away from the pillars, and rolled the dead body aside. 1.Sa.17.15.

11 Immediatly she gate her foorth, and deliuered the head of Holophernes vnto her maidẽ, and bade her put it in her wallet.

12 And so these two went foorth together after their custome, as though they would pray: and so passed by the hoste, and came about thorow the valley vnto the port of the citie.

13 And Judith cried a farre off vnto ỳ watchmen vpon the wals, Open the gates, [sayd she,] for God is with vs, which hath shewed his power in Israel.

14 And when they heard her voyce, they called the elders of the citie [together.]

15 And they came al to meete her, litle & great, yong and old: for they thought not that she should haue come so soone.

16 So they lighted candles, & gathered about her euery one: but she went vp into an high place, and caused silence to be proclaimed.

17 And when euery man now held his peace, Judith said, O praise the Lord our God, for he hath not despised nor forsaken them that put their trust in him:

18 And in me his handmaiden he hath performed his mercy, which he promised vnto the house of Israel: Yea, in my hand this same nigh[t] night hath he slaine the enemie of his people.

19 And with that she tooke foorth the head of Holophernes out of the wallet, and shewed it them, saying, Behold the head of Holophernes the captaine of the armie of the Assyrians, and this is his canopie wherein he lay in his drunkennesse, where the Lord our God hath slaine him by the hand of a woman.
20 But as the Lord liueth, his angel hath kept me, going thither, remaining there, and comming hither againe from thence: & the Lord hath not suffered me his handmaiden to bee defiled, but without any defiling of sinne hath he brought me againe vnto you, & that with great victorie, so that I am escaped, and ye deliuered.
Psal.105.2. 21 *O giue thanks vnto him euery one, for he is gracious, and his mercy endureth for euer.
22 So they praised the Lord all together, [and gaue thanks vnto him,] and to her they said, The Lord hath blessed thee in his power, for through thee he hath brought our enemies to nought.
23 And Ozias the chiefe ruler of the people of Israel, said vnto her, O daughter, blessed art thou of the Lord the high God, aboue all women vpon earth.
24 Blessed be the Lord the maker of heauen & earth, which hath guided thee aright to smite off the head of the captaine of our enemies.
25 For this day he hath made thy name so honourable, that thy praise shall neuer come out of the mouth of men, which shall alway remember the power of the Lord, seeing thou hast not spared thine owne selfe, [but put thee in icopardie,] considering the anguish of thy people, and so hast helped their fal before God our Lord.
26 And all the people said, Amen, Amen.
27 Achior also was called, and he came: then said Judith vnto him, The God of Israel, vnto whom thou gauest witnesse that he would be auenged of his enemies, euen he hath this night through my hand smitten off the head of all the vnfaithfull.
28 And that thou mayest see that it so is, behold, this is the head of Holophernes, which in his presumptuous pride despised the God of Israel, and threatened thee with destruction, saying, When the people of Israel is taken, I shall cause thee also to be stickt with the sword.
29 When Achior sawe Holophernes head, he fell downe vpon his face to the ground, for very anguish and feare, so that he swooned withall.
30 But after that he was come againe to him selfe, he fell downe before her, and praised her, saying,
31 Blessed art thou of thy God in all the tabernacles of Jacob: for all the people that heare of thy name, shall praise the God of Israel, because of thee.

The xiiii. Chapter.

1 Iudith causeth to hang vp the head of Holophernes. 5 Achior ioyneth himselfe to the people of God. 7 The Israelites goe out against the Assyrians.

1 IUdith said vnto all the people, Brethren, heare me, *Sticke vp his head vpon our walles: 2.Mach.15.35.
2 And when the Sunne ariseth, take euery man his weapon, and fall out violently: not as though ye would go beside them, but to run vpon them with violence.
3 When the spies see this, they shall of necessitie be compelled to flee backward, & to raise vp their captaine to the battell.
4 So when their captaines come into Holophernes pauilion, and finde the dead body wrapped in the blood, fearefulnesse shall fall vpon them.
5 And when ye perceiue that they flee, follow them without all care, for God shall ‖ deliuer them vnto you to be destroyed. ‖ Or, the Lord shall breake them vnder your feete.
6 The Achior seeing the power of God, which he had shewed vnto the people of Israel, fell off from his heathenish belefe, & put his trust in God, and let himselfe be circumcised, and so was he numbred among the people of Israel, he and all his posteritie vnto this day.
7 Now as soone as it was day, they stickt vp Holophernes head vpon the walles, and euery man tooke his weapon, and so they went out with an horrible cry.
8 When the spies sawe that, they ranne vnto Holophernes tent.
9 And they that were within the tent, came before his chamber, and made a great rushing, that Holophernes might awake, not by stirring him vp, but by their noise.
10 For there durst not one of ỹ Assyriãs knocke, goe in, or open.
11 But when the captaines and princes, and all the chiefe in the king of the Assyrians hoste came together, they said vnto the chamberlaines, 12 Goe your way in, and wake him vp: for the mice are crept out of their holes, and dare prouoke vs vnto battell.
13 Then Vagao went into his chamber, stood before the ‖ bed, and clapped with his hands: for he thought he had bene sleeping with Judith. ‖ Or, curtaine.
14 But when he hearkened perfectly with his eares, and could perceiue no stirring, he went nigher to the ‖ bed, and lift it vp, and when he sawe ỹ dead body of Holophernes lying there without a head, weltring in his blood vpon the earth, he cried with a loude voyce, & with weeping, rent his clothes, ‖ Or, curtaine.
15 And went into Judiths tent, and found her her not.

16 And so he lept out vnto the people, and said, One woman of the Iewes hath brought all Nabuchodonosors people to shame: for loe, Holophernes lieth vpon the ground, & hath no head.

17 When the chiefe of y Assyrians hoste heard that, they rent their clothes, & there fell an intolerable feare and trembling vpon them: so that their minds were sore afraid.

18 And there was an exceeding great cry in ‖ the whole hoste. ‖Or, middest of the hoste.

The xv. Chapter.

1 The Assyrians are afraid and flee. 6 The Iewes pursue them.

1 NOw when all the hoste heard that Holophernes was beheaded, their minde and counsell fell from them: & beyng amazed in feare and trembling, they saued themselues by fleeing away.

2 One spake not to another, but hyged vpone their heads, left all behind them, and made haste to escape from the Hebrewes: for they heard that they were hasting to come after with their weapons, and so they fled by the wayes of the fields, and thorow all the footepathes of the ‖ dales. ‖Or, woods.

3 And when the children of Israel saw that they fled, they followed vpon them, and went downe with trumpets, blowing, and making a great cry after them.

4 As for the Assyrians, they had no order, and kept not themselues together, but fled their way: neuertheless, the children of Israel fell vpon them with one company and order, and discomfited as many as they might get.

5 And Oziss sent messengers vnto all the cities and countries of Israel,

6 So all the region and euery citie sent out their best men after them in harnesse, & smote them with the sword, till they came to the vttermost part of their borders.

7 And the other that were in Bethulia, came into the tents of the Assyrians, and tooke all that they which were fled had left behind thē, and so they found great good.

8 And they that came againe to Bethulia frō the battell, tooke with them such things as had bene theirs: there was no number of the cattell, and of all goodly iewels, so that from the lowest vnto the highest, they were al made rich of the spoiles of them.

9 And Joachim the high priest came frō Hierusalem to Bethulia, with all the elders, that they might see Iudith.

10 And when she came out vnto them, they blessed her with one voice, saying, Thou worship of y citie of Hierusalem, thou ioy of Israel, thou honour of our people.

11 Thou hast done manly, and thy heart is comforted, & for that thou hast loued cleanlinesse and chastitie, and hast known no man but thine owne husband: therefore hath the hand of the Lord comforted thee, and blessed shalt thou be for euer.

12 And all the people said, So be it, so be it.

13 In thirtie dayes could the people of Israel scarse gather vp the spoiles of the Assyrians.

14 And all that belonged vnto Holophernes, & had bene his specially, whether it were of gold or siluer, precious stone, clothing, and all ornaments, they gaue it vnto Iudith, and it was deliuered vnto her of the people.

15 And all the people reioyced, both women, maidens, and young people, with pipes and harpes.

The xvi. Chapter.

1 Iudith prayseth God with a song. 19 She offreth to the Lord Holophernes stuffe. 26 Her continencie, life, and death. 29 All Israel lamenteth her.

1 THen sang Iudith this song vnto the Lord, saying,

2 Begin vnto the Lord vpon the tabrets, sing vnto the Lorde vpon the cymbales, & sing vnto him a new song of thanksgiuing, be ioyfull, and call vpon his name.

3 For it is the Lord that destroyeth warres, euen the Lord is his name:

4 Which hath pitched his tents in the midst of his people, that he might deliuer vs from the hand of all our enemies.

5 Assur came out of the mountaines of the North in the multitude of his strength: his people stopped the water brookes, and their horses couered the valleis.

6 He purposed to haue burnt vp my ‖land, and to slay my young men with the sword. ‖Or, borders.

7 He would haue caried away my children & virgins into captiuitie, but y almighty Lord hindered him, and deliuered him into y hands of a woman ‖ which brought him to confusion. ‖Or, which did sticke him thorow.

8 For their mightie was not destroyed of the young men, it was not the sonnes of Titan that slew him, neither haue the great giants set themselues against him: but Iudith the daughter of Merari, with her faire beautie hath discomfited him, [and brought him to nought.]

9 For she laid away her widowes garment, & put on the apparel of gladnesse, to the reioycing of the children of Israel.

10 She anointed her face with ointment, and bound vp her heare in a coife, and tooke a new ‖ stole to beguile him. ‖Or, garment.

11 Her slippers rauished his eyes, her beautie captiuated his minde, with the sword smote she off his necke.

12 The Persians were astonied at her stedfastnesse, faſtneſſe, and the Pewes at her boloneſſe.

13 Then howled the armies of the Aſſyrians, when my ſimples appeared vp of thirſt.
14 The ſonnes of the daughters haue pearced them thorow, and ſlaine thē as fugitiue children, they periſhed in the battell, ‖for ỹ very feare of the Lord my God.
15 Let vs ſing a ſong of thankſgiuing vnto the Lord, a new ſong of prayſe will we ſing vnto our God.
16 Lord, Lord, thou art a great God, mightie in power, whom no man may ouercome.
17 All thy creatures muſt ſerue thee: for thou ſpakeſt but the worde, and they were made, thou ſendeſt thy ſpirit, and they were created, and no man can withſtand thy voyce.
18 The mountaines ſhall mooue from ỹ foundations with the waters, the ſtonie rocks ſhal melt before thee like waxe.
19 But they that feare thee, ſhalbe great with thee in all thinges.
20 Wo vnto the people that roſe vp againſt my generation: for the almightie Lorde will auenge himſelfe of them, & in the day of iudgement will he viſite them.
21 For he ſhall giue fire and wormes in their fleſh, that they may burne and feele it for euermore.
22 After this it happened, that after the victorie, all the people came to Hieruſalem, to giue praiſe and thanks vnto the Lord: & when they were purified, they offered all their whole burnt ſacrifices, and their vowes, and their promiſed offrings.
23 And Judith offered all Holophernes weapons, [and al the iewels] that the people had giuen her, & the canopie that ſhe tooke from his bed, & hanged them vp ‖vnto the Lord.
24 The people were ioyfull as the vſe is: and this ioy with Judith, by reaſon of the victory, endured three moneths.
25 So after theſe dayes, euery man went home againe, and Judith was in great reputatiō at Bethulia, and right honourably taken in all the land of Iſrael.
26 Vnto her vertue alſo was chaſtitie ioyned, ſo that after her huſband Manaſſes died, ſhe neuer knew man all the dayes of her life.
27 Vpon the high ſolemne dayes, ſhe went out with great worſhip.
28 She dwelt in her huſbands houſe an hundred and fiue yeeres, and left her handmaiden Abra free, 29 And died, and was buried beſide her huſband in Bethulia: and all the people mourned for her ſeuen dayes.
30 So long as ſhe liued, there was none that troubled Iſrael, and many yeeres alſo after her death.
31 The day wherein this victorie was gotten, was ſolemnly holden, and reckoned of the Iewes in the number of the holydaies, as it is yet greatly holden of the Iewes euer ſince, vnto this day.

The dreame of Mardocheus.

1 MArdocheus the ſonne of Jairi, the ſonne of Semei, the ſonne of Cis, of the tribe of Beniamin,
2 A Iewe, which had his dwelling in the citie of Suſis, a man of great reputation, and excellent among al them that were in the kings court:
3 Neuertheleſſe, he was one of the priſoners whom *Nabuchodonoſor the king of Babylō had caried away from Hieruſalem vnto Babylon, with Jechonias the king of Juda.
4 In the ſecond yeere of the reigne of great Artaxerxes, in the firſt day of the moneth Niſan, had this Mardocheus ſuch a dreame.
5 He thought he heard a great tempeſt, horrible thunderclaps, earthquakes, & great vproze in the land,
6 And that he ſawe two great dragons, ready to fight one againſt another.
7 Their cry was great: at the which roaring and cry, all the heathen were vp to fight againſt the righteous people.
8 And the ſame day was full of darkeneſſe, and very vncleare, full of trouble and anguiſh, yea, a great fearefulneſſe was there in the land.
9 The righteous were amazed, for they feared the plague and euill that was deuiſed ouer them, and were at a point with themſelues to die: So they cried vnto God.
10 And while they were crying, the litle well grew into a great riuer, and into many waters.

*4. Reg. 24. 15. Jere. 24. 1.

11 And with that it was day, and the ſunne roſe vp againe: and the lowly were exalted, & deuoured the glorious and proud.

12 Now when Mardocheus had ſeene this dreame, he awoke, and muſed ſtedfaſtly in his heart what God would do: and ſo he deſired to know all the matter, and his minde was thereupon vntill night.

The xii. Chapter.

Mardocheus vttereth the treaſon deuiſed againſt the king, and is therefore rewarded of him.

1 AT the ſame time dwelt Mardocheus with Bagatha & Thara in the kings court, the kings chamberlains & porters of the palace.

2 But when he heard their deuice, and had diligently conſidered their imaginations, hee perceiued that they went about to lay their [cruel] hands vpon the king Artaxerxes, and ſo he certified the king thereof.

3 Then cauſed the king to examine the two ‖gelded with torments: and when they had granted it, they were put to death.

‖Or, chamberlaines,

4 This the king cauſed to be put in the chronicles for an euerlaſting remembrance, and Mardocheus wrote vp the ſame matter.

5 So the king commaunded that Mardocheus ſhould remaine in the court, and for this faithfulnes of his, he gaue him a reward.

6 But Aman, the ſonne of Amadathu the Agagite, which was holden in great honour and reputation in the kings court, vndertooke to hurt Mardocheus and his people, becauſe of the two chamberlaines that were put to death.

The xiii. Chapter.

1 The copie of the letters of Artaxerxes againſt the Iewes. 9 The prayer of Mardocheus.

1 THe great king Artaxerxes, which reigneth from India vnto Ethiopia, ouer an hundred and twentie & ſeuen lands, ſendeth his friendly ſalutation vnto all the princes & deputies of the countrey, which be ſubiect vnto his dominion.

2 When I was made lord ouer many people, and had ſubdued the whole earth vnto my dominion, my minde was not with crueltie and wrong to exalt my ſelfe, by the reaſon of my power: but purpoſed with equitie alway and gentlenes, to gouerne thoſe that be vnder my iuriſdiction, and wholy to ſet them in a peaceable life, and thereby to bring my kingdome vnto tranquillitie, that men might ſafely goe thorow on euery ſide, and to renew peace againe, which all men deſire.

3 Now when I aſked my counſellers how theſe things might be brought to a good end, there was one by vs excellent in wiſedome, whoſe good will, trueth, and faithfulnes hath oft bene ſhewed and proued, (which was alſo the principall and next vnto the king) Aman by name,

4 Which certified vs, how that in all landes there was ſcattered abroad a rebellious folke, that made ſtatutes and lawes againſt al other people, and haue alway deſpiſed the proclaimed commandements of kings, and how that for this cauſe it were not to bee ſuffered, that ſuch rule ſhould continue by you, and not to be put downe.

5 Seeing now we perceiue the ſame, that this people alone are contrary vnto euery man, vſing ſtrange and other maner of lawes, and withſtand our ſtatutes and doings, and goe about to ſtabliſh ſhrewd matters, ỹ our kingdome ſhould neuer come to good eſtate [and ſtedfaſtneſſe,]

6 Therefore haue we commaunded, that all they that are appointed in writing, and ſhewed vnto you by Aman, which is ordeined & ſet ouer all our lands, and the moſt principall next vnto the king, and in maner as a father, ſhall with their wiues and children be deſtroied and rooted out with the ſword of their enemies and aduerſaries, and that there ſhall be no mercy ſhewed, and no man ſpared: & this ſhalbe done the fourteenth day of the moneth called Adar, of this yeere:

7 That they which of old, and now alſo haue euer bene rebellious, may in one day with violence be thruſt downe into the hell, to the intent that after this maner our empire may haue peace and tranquillitie.

8 But Mardocheus thought vpon al ỹ works and noble acts of the Lord, & made his prayer vnto him, 9 Saying, O Lord, Lord, thou valiant and almighty king, for all things are in thy power: and if thou wilt helpe and deliuer Iſrael, there is no man that can withſtand nor let thee.

10 For thou haſt made heauen and earth, and what wonderous thing ſo euer is vnder the heauen.

11 Thou art Lord of all things, and there is no man that can reſiſt thy maieſtie, O Lord.

12 Thou knoweſt all things, thou woteſt Lord that it was neither of malice nor preſumptiõ, nor for any deſire of glory, that I would not bowe downe my ſelfe, nor worſhip yonder proud preſumptuous Aman:

13 (For I would haue bene content, and that with good will, if it might haue done Iſrael any good, to haue kiſt euen his footeſteps.)

14 But that I did it becauſe I would not ſet the honour of a man in the ſtead of the glory of God, and becauſe I would worſhip none but onely thee, my Lord: and this haue I done in no pride nor preſumption.

15 And therefore, O Lord, thou God and king, haue mercy vpon thy people, for they imagine how they may bring vs to nought, yea, their mind

minde and desire is to destroy & to ouerthrow thy people that hath euer bene thine inheritance of olde.

16 O despise not thy portion, which thou hast deliuered and brought out of Egypt for thine owne selfe.

17 Heare my prayer, and bee mercifull vnto thy people whom thou hast chosen for an heritage vnto thy selfe, turne our complaint and sorow into ioy, that we may liue, O Lorde, and prayse thy name: O Lord, suffer not the mouthes of them that prayse thee, to bee destroyed.

18 All the people of Israel in like maner cried as earnestly as they could vnto the Lord, for their death and destruction stoode before their eyes.

The xiiii. Chapter.

The prayer of Esther for the deliuerance of her and her people.

1 QUeene Esther also beeing in the ‖ battell of death, resorted vnto the Lord, ‖ Or, perill.

2 Laid away her glorious apparel, and put on the garments that serued for sighing and mourning: In the stead of precious ointment, she scattered ashes and dung vpon her head: and as for her body, she humbled it with fasting, and brought it very lowe: All the places where she was woont to haue ioy afore, those filled she with her owne heare that she pluckt off.

3 She prayed also vnto the Lord God of Israel with these words, O my Lord, thou onely art our king, helpe me desolate woman, which haue no helper but thee:

4 For my miserie and destruction is hard at my hand.

Deut. 4. 20.

5 * From my youth vp, I haue heard out of the kinred of my father, that thou tookest Israel from among all people, and so haue our fathers of their fore elders, that they should be thy perpetuall inheritance, and looke what thou diddest promise them, thou hast made it good vnto them.

6 Now Lord, we haue sinned before thee, therfore hast thou giuen vs into the hands of our enemies.

7 Because we worshipped their gods: Lord thou art righteous.

8 Neuertheless, it satisfieth them not that we are in bitter and heauie captiuitie, & oppressed among them, but they haue laid their hands vpon the hands of their gods,

9 So that they begin to take away the thing that thou with thy mouth hast ordeined & appointed, to destroy thine inheritance, to shut and to stop the mouthes of them that prayse thee, to quench the glory and worship of thy house and thine altar:

10 And to open the mouthes of the heathen, that they may prayse the power and vertue of the gods, and to magnifie the fleshly king for euer.

11 O Lord, giue not thy scepter vnto them that be nothing, least they laugh vs to scorne in our misery and fall: but turne their deuice vpon themselues, and punish him that hath begun the same ouer vs, and set him to an example.

12 Thinke vpon vs, O Lord, & shew thy selfe vnto vs in the time of our distresse, and of our trouble: strengthe me, O thou king of gods, thou Lord of all power:

13 Giue me an eloquent and pleasant speach in my mouth before the lion: turne his heart into the hate of our enemie, to destroy him, and all such as consent vnto him.

14 But deliuer vs with thy hand, and helpe me thy handmaid, which haue no defence nor helper, but onely thee Lord.

15 Thou knowest all things, thou wotest that I loue not the glory and worship of the vnrighteous, and that I hate and abhorre ỹ bed of all the vncircumcised, and of all heathen.

16 Thou knowest my necessitie, that I hate the token of my preeminence and worship, which I beare vpon my head what time as I must shew my selfe and be seene, and that I abhorre it as an vncleane cloth, & that I weare it not when I am quiet and alone by my selfe.

17 Thou knowest also that I thy handmaiden haue not eaten at Amans table, and that I haue had no pleasure nor delight in the kings feast, that I haue not drunke the wine of the drinke offrings, 18 And that I thy handmaiden haue no ioy, since the day that I was brought hither, vnto this day, but onely thee, O Lorde, O thou God of Abraham.

19 O thou mighty God aboue all, heare ỹ voice of them that haue no other hope, and deliuer vs out of the hand of the wicked, and deliuer me out of my feare.

The xv. Chapter.

1 Mardocheus mooueth Esther to goe in vnto the king, and make intercession for her people. 9 And she performed his request.

1 MArdocheus also bade Esther go in vnto the king, and pray for her people, and for her countrey.

2 —— Remember (saieth he) the dayes of thy lowe estate, how thou wast nourished vnder my hand: for Aman which is next vnto the king, hath giuen sentence of death against vs:

3 Call thou therefore vpon the Lord, & speake for vs vnto the king, & deliuer vs from death.

4 And vpon the third day it happened, that Esther laid away the mourning garments, and put on glorious apparell,

5 And deckt her selfe goodly (after that shee had had called vpon God, which is the beholder and sauiour of all things) [and] tooke two maydens with her:

6 Upon the one shee leaned her selfe, as one that was tender:

7 The other folowed her, and bare the trayne of her vesture.

8 The shine of her beautie made her face rose coloured, ꝑ similitude of her face was cheerefull and amiable: but her heart was sorowfull for great feare.

9 She went in thorow all the doores, & stoode before the king: the king sate vpon the throne of his kingdome, & was clothed in his goodly aray, all shining with golde, and set with precious stones, and he was very terrible.

10 He lift vp his face that shone in the clearenesse, and looked grimly vpon her: then fel the Queene downe, was pale and faynt, leaned her selfe vpon the head of her maide that went with her.

Pro.21.1. 11 Neuertheless, God * turned the kinges minde, that he was gentle, that he leaped out of his seate for feare, & gate her in his armes, and helde her vp till shee came to her selfe againe, he gaue her louing wordes also, and sayde vnto her,

12 Esther, what is the matter? I am thy brother, be of good cheare:

13 Thou shalt not dye, for our commandement toucheth the cõmons, & not thee: come nigh.

14 And with that he helde vp his golden rod, and layde it vpon her necke, 15 And imbraced her friendly, and sayde, Talke with me.

Gen.33.10. 2.reg.19.27. 16 Then sayd she, * I sawe thee, O Lord, as an angel of God, and my heart was troubled for feare of thy maiestie and clearenesse.

17 For excellent and wonderfull art thou, O lord, and thy face is full of amitie.

18 But as she was thus speaking vnto him, she fell downe againe for fayntnesse:

19 For the which cause the king was afrayde, and all his seruants comforted her.

The xvi. Chapter.

The copie of the letters of Artaxerxes, whereby he reuoketh those which he first sent forth.

Esther.1.1. 1 The great king Artaxerxes, * which reigneth from India vnto Ethiopia, ouer an hundred and twentie & seuen landes, sendeth vnto the princes and rulers of the same landes, such as loue him, his friendly salutation.

Esai.3.16. 2 There * be many that for the sundry friendshippes and benefites which are diuerslye done vnto them for their worship, be euer the more proude and high minded:

3 And vndertake not onely to hurt our subiects (for plenteous benefites may they not suffer, & begin to imagine some thing against those that do them good,

4 And take not onely all thankefulnesse away from men) but in pride and presumption, as they that be vnmindefull and vnthankfull for the good deedes, they goe about to escape the iudgement of God that seeth all things, which iudgement hateth and punisheth all wickednesse.

5 It happeneth oft also, that they which be set in office by the higher power, and vnto whome the businesse and causes of the subiects are cõmitted to be handled, waxe proude, and defile themselues with shedding of innocent blood, which bringeth them to intolerable hurt.

6 Which also with false & deceitfull wordes, and with lying tales, deceyue and betray the innocent goodnesse of princes.

7 Now is it profitable and good that we take heede, make search thereafter, and consider not onely what hath happened vnto vs of old, but the shameful, vnhonest, & noysome things that the deputies haue now taken in hand before our eyes,

8 And thereby to beware in time to come, that we make the kingdome quiet and peaceable for al men, and that we might sometime vnto it to a change.

9 And as for the thing that now is present before our eyes, to withstande it, and to put it downe after the most friendly maner.

10 What time nowe as * Aman the sonne of Amadathu the Macedonian, a stranger verily of the Persians blood, & farre from our goodnesse, was come in among vs as an aliant, Esther.3.1.

11 And had obteyned the friendship that wee beare toward all people, so that he was called our father, & had in high honour of euery mã, as the next and principall vnto the king:

12 He could not forbeare himselfe from his pride, hath vndertaken not onely to robbe vs of the kingdome, but of our life:

13 With manifold deceyte also hath he desired to destroy Mardocheus our helper and preseruer, which hath done vs good in all things, and innocent Esther the like partaker of our kingdome, with all her people.

14 For his minde was (whē he had taken them out of the way, and robbed vs of them) by this meanes to translate the kingdome of the Persians, vnto them of Macedonia.

15 But we finde that the Iewes (which were accused of the wicked, that they might be destroyed) are no euill doers, but vse reasonable and right lawes:

16 And that they be the children of the most high liuing God, by whome the kingdome of vs, and of our progenitours, hath bene wel ordered hitherto.

17 Wherefore, as for the letters and commandementes that were put forth by Aman, the sonne of Amadathu, ye shal do wel if ye holde them them of none effect.

18 For he that set them vp and inuented them, hangeth at Sulis before the port, with all his kinred: and God, which hath all things in his power, hath rewarded him after his deseruing.
19 And vpon this ye shal publish and set vp the copie of this letter in all places: that the Iewes may freely & without hinderance hold themselues after their owne statutes:
20 And that they may be helped, and that vpon the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth Adar, they may be auenged of them, which in the time of their anguish and trouble woulde haue oppressed them.
21 For the God that gouerneth al things, hath turned to ioy the day wherein the chosen people should haue perished.
22 Moreouer, among the hye solemne dayes that ye haue, ye shall holde this day also with all gladnesse:
23 That nowe, and in time to come, this day may be a remembrance of good, for all such as loue the prosperitie of the Persians: but a remembrance of destruction to those that be seditious vnto vs.
24 All cities and landes that doe not this, shall horribly perish, and be destroyed with the swoorde and fire, and shal not onely be no more inhabited of men, but be abhorred also of the wilde beastes and foules.

1 LOue righteousnesse, ye that be *Iudges of the earth: consider deepely of the Lord in goodnesse, and seeke him in singlenesse of heart. *3.Reg.3.3. esai.56.1.
2 *For he wil be founde of them that tempt him not, and appeareth vnto such as put no distrust in him. Deut.4.29.
3 For wicked thoughtes separate from God, and [his] power when it is ‖tryed, reproueth the vnwise. ‖Or, tempted.
4 For why? wisedome shall not enter into a wicked soule, nor dwel in the body that is subiect vnto sinne.
5 *For the holy spirit of discipline fleeth from deceyte, and withdraweth himselfe from thoughtes that are without vnderstanding, & is vexed when wickednesse commeth. Iere.4.22.
6 *For the spirite of wisedome is louing, and will not absolue him that blaspheneth with his lippes, for God is witnesse of his reynes, and a true beholder of his heart, and an hearer of his tongue. Gal.5.22.
7 For the spirite of the Lord filleth the round compasse of the worlde, and the same that vpholdeth all things, hath knowledge also of the voyce.
8 Therefore hee that speaketh vnrighteous things, can not be hid, neither shall the iudgement of reproofe let him escape.
9 And why? inquisition shall be made for the thoughts of the vngodly, and the sound of his wordes shall come vnto God, so that his wickednesse shalbe punished.
10 For the eare of ielousie heareth all things, & the noyse of the grudgings shal not be hyd.
11 Therefore beware of murmuring, which is nothing worth, & refrayne your tongue from slaunder: for there is no worde so secret that it shal goe for nought, and the mouth that speaketh lyes, slayeth the soule.
12 O seeke not your owne death in the errour of your life, *destroy not your selues through the workes of your owne handes: Deut.4.28.
13 *For God hath not made death, neither hath he pleasure in the destruction of the lyuing: Eze.18.32.
14 For he created all things, that they might haue their being, and ‖the generations of the worlde were healthful, and there is no poyson of destruction in them, nor the kingdome of hell vpon the earth. ‖Or, beginning.
15 For righteousnes is [euerlasting &] immortall: but vnrighteousnesse bringeth death.
16 Neuertheless, the vngodly * call [a] it vnto them both with workes & wordes: and while they thinke to haue it their friende, they come to nought, and they haue made an agreement with it, for they are worthie to be of her part. Wisd.15.6. [a] To wit, death.

The ii. Chapter.

The imaginations and desires of the wicked, and their counsell against the faithfull.

1 FOr the vngodly say, reasoning with themselues, but not aright, Our life is short and tedious, and in the death of a man there is no remedy, neither is there any man knowen to haue returned from the graue.
2 For we are borne at all aduenture, and we shall be hereafter, as though we had neuer bene: for our breath is as a smoke in our nostrels, and words as a sparke raised out of our heartes:
3 Which being extinguished, our body shalbe turned into ashes, and our spirite shall vanish as the soft ayre.

4 Our life shall passe away as the trace of a cloude, and come to nought as the mist that is driuen away with the beames of the sunne, & put downe with the heate thereof: our name also shalbe forgotten by litle and litle, and no man shall haue our workes in remembrance.

1.Chro.29.17. 5 *For our time is a very shadow that passeth away, and after our ende there is no returning: for it is fast sealed, so that no man commeth againe.

Esa.22.13. 6 *Come on therefore, let vs enioy the pleasures that are present, and let vs chearefully vse the creatures like as in youth:

7 Let vs fill our selues with good wine and oyntment, and let there no flowre of the time escape vs.

8 Let vs crowne our selues with rose buddes, afore they be withered.

a This sentence of the medowe is not in the Greke. 9 aLet there be no fayre meddow, but our lust goe thorowe it. Let euery one of vs be partakers of our voluptuousnesse, let vs leaue some token of our pleasure in euery place: for that is our portion, and this [onely] our lot.

10 Let vs oppresse the poore righteous, let vs not spare the widdow nor olde man, let vs not regard the heads that are gray for age.

11 Let the lawe of vnrighteousnesse be our strength: for the thing that is feeble is nothing worth.

12 Therfore let vs defraude the righteous: and why? he is not for our profite, yea, he is cleane contrary to our doings, he checketh vs for offending against the lawe, and slaundereth the faultes of our maner of liuing.

Matth.27.43. 13 *He maketh his boast to haue the knowledge of God, yea, he calleth himselfe Gods sonne.

Iohn.7.6. 14 * He is made vnto vs for reproofe of our thoughts.

Esa.53.8. 15 * It grieueth vs also to looke vpon him, for his life is not like other mens, his wayes are of another fashion.

‖ Or, counterfaite coyne. 16 He counteth vs but ‖ vaine persons, he withdraweth himselfe from our wayes as from filthinesse, he commendeth greatly the latter ende of the iust, & maketh his boast that God is his father.

17 Let vs see then if his wordes be true, let vs proue what shal happen in the ende of him.

Psal.21.9. mat.27.43. 18 *For if the iust man be the sonne of God, he will receyue him, and deliuer him from the handes of his enemies.

Iere.11.19. 19 Let vs examine him with * despitefull rebuke and tormenting, that we may know his meekenes, and proue his patience.

20 Let vs condemne him with the most shamefull death: for, as himselfe sayth, he shalbe rewarded [of God.]

21 Such things do they imagine, & go astray, for their owne wickednes hath blinded them.

22 As for the mysteries of God, they vnderstād them not, they neyther hope for the rewarde of righteousnesse, nor regard the worship that holy soules shal haue.

Gen.1.27. 23 * For God created man to be vndestroyed: yea, after the image of his owne likenesse made he him.

Gen.3.1. 24 * Neuertheless, through enuie of the deuill came death into the worlde, & they that holde of his side do finde it.

The iii. Chapter.

1 The conseruation and assurance of the righteous. 7 The reward of the faithful. 11 Who are miserable.

Deut.33.3. 1 BUt the * soules of the righteous are in the hande of God, and there shall no torment touch them.

Heb.11.34. 2 * In the sight of the vnwise they appeared to dye, & their end is taken for miserie, 3 And their departing from vs to be vtter destruction: but they are in rest.

Rom.8.24. 4 For though they suffer payne before men, yet * is their hope full of immortalitie.

Exod.16.2. deut.8.2. 5 They are punished but in few things, neuertheless in many things shall they be well rewarded, for * God proueth them, and findeth them meete for himselfe.

6 As golde in the furnace doeth he try them, & receiueth them as a burnt offering: and when the time commeth, they shalbe looked vpon.

Mat.13.43. 7 *They shal shine and runne thorow, as the sparkles among the stubble, Mat.19.28. 8 *They shall iudge the nations, and haue dominion ouer the people: and their Lord shall reigne for euer.

9 They that put their trust in him, shal vnderstand the trueth, and such as be faithfull, shall perseuere with him in loue: for his Saintes haue grace and mercy, and he hath care for his elected.

Mat.25.41. 10 * But the vngodly shall be punished according to their owne imaginations, for they haue despised the righteous, and forsaken the Lorde.

‖ Or, discipline. ‖ Or, heir miserable. 11 For whoso despiseth wisedome & ‖ nurture, he is ‖ vnhappy, and as for the hope of such it is but vayne, their labours vnfruitefull, and their workes vnprofitable.

12 Their wiues are vndiscreete, and their children most vngodly.

13 Their offspring [or progenie] is cursed: wherfore blessed is the barren that is vndefiled, * which hath not knowen the sinfull bed, shee Esa.56.5. shal haue fruite in the visitation of soules:

14 And the gelded which with his handes hath wrought no vnrighteousnesse, nor imagined wicked things against God: for vnto him shall be giuen the speciall gift of faith, and the most acceptable portion in the temple of God.

15 For glorious is the fruite of the good labour, and the roote of wisedome shall neuer fade away.

16 As for the children of adulterers, they shall not come to a perfect ende, and the seede of an vnrighteous bed shalbe rooted out.

17 And though they liue long, yet shall they be nothing regarded, and their last age shall be without honour.
18 If they dye quickly, they haue no hope, neyther comfort in the day of iniquitie.
19 For horrible is the ende of the vnrighteous generation.

The iiii. Chapter.

1 Of vertue, & the commoditie thereof. 10 The death of the righteous & the condemnation of the vnfaithfull.

1 O How fayre is a chaste generation with vertue: the memoriall thereof is immortall: for it is knowen with God and with men.
2 When it is present, men take example at it, and if it go away, yet they desire it: it is crowned, & euer triumpheth, when it hath wonne the reward of the vndefiled battels.
3 But the multitude of the vngodly abounding in children, shal profite nothing, nor giue deepe roote by the seede of adulterie, nor lay any fast foundation.
Iere.17.8. mat.7.19. 4 For * though they bud forth in the branches for a time, yet shall they be shaken with the wind, for they stand not fast, & through the vehemencie of the winde they shalbe rooted out.
5 The vnperfect branches shalbe broken, their fruite shalbe vnprofitable, and sowre to eate, yea, meete for nothing.
6 And why: all the children that are borne of the wicked bed, must beare recorde of the wickednesse against their fathers and mothers when they be asked.
7 But though the righteous be ouertake with death, yet shal he be in rest.
8 For honourable age is not that which standeth in length of time, nor that that is measured by number of yeeres:
9 But a mans wisedome is the gray heare, and an vndefiled life is the olde age.
Gen.5.24. heb.11.5. 10 He * pleased God, and was beloued of him, so that whereas he liued among sinners, he translated him.
11 Yea, speedily was he taken away, to the intent that wickednesse should not alter his vnderstanding, and that deceite shoulde not beguile his soule.
12 For wickednesse with bewitching, doeth darken the honest things: and the lightnesse of ‖ voluptuous desire, ‖ turneth aside the single minde.
‖ Or, concupiscence. ‖ Or, changeth, or altereth.
13 Though he was soone dead, yet fulfilled he much time:
14 For his soule pleased God, therfore hasted he to take him away ‖ from among the wicked.
‖ Or, from out of the middest of wickednesse.
15 This the people see, and vnderstande it not, they lay not vp such things in their heartes, how that the louing fauour and mercie [of God] is vpon his saintes, and that he hath respect vnto his chosen.
16 Thus the righteous that is dead, condemneth the vngodly which are liuing: and the youth that is soone brought to an ende, the long life of the vnrighteous.
17 For they see the ende of the wise: but they vnderstande not what God hath deuised for him, and wherefore the Lorde hath taken him away to be in safetie.
18 And why: they see him, & despise him, therefore shal God also laugh them to scorne.
19 So that they themselues shal dye hereafter without honour, yea, in shame among the dead for euermore: for without any voyce shall he hurst those that be puft vp, & shake them from the foundations, so that they shalbe layde as vtterly wasted: they shalbe in sorow, and their memoriall perish.
20 So they shall come afraide in remembrance of their sinnes, and their owne iniquities before their face shall conuince them.

The v. Chapter.

1 The constantnesse of the righteous before their persecutors. 14 The hope of the vnfaithfull is vaine. 15 The blessednesse of the saintes and godly.

1 THen shall the righteous stand in great boldenesse before the face of such as haue dealt extremely with them, and taken away their labours.
2 When they see it, they shall be vexed with horrible feare, and shall wonder at his health, so farre beyond all that they looked for.
3 And changing their opinion, with groning for the redresse of minde, they shall say, This is he whom sometime we had in derision, and iested vpon.
4 *We fooles thought his life very madnesse, and his ende to be without honour: Wisd.3.3.
5 But lo how he is counted among ỹ children of God, & his portion is among the saintes.
6 Therefore haue we erred from the way of truth, the light of righteousnesse hath not shined vnto vs, and the sunne of vnderstanding rose not vpon vs.
7 We haue wearyed our selues in the way of wickednesse & destruction, yea, we haue gone thorow tedious desarts, but as for the way of the Lord, we haue not knowen it.
8 What good hath pride done vnto vs: or what profite hath the pompe of riches brought vs:
9 *All those things are passed away like a shadow, and as a Poste that hasteth by: 1.Chro.19.15.
10 As a ship that passeth ouer the waues of the water, which when it is gone by, the trace thereof can not be found, neither the path of it in the floods:
11 * Or as a byrde that flyeth thorowe in the ayre, and no man can see any token where she is flowen, but onely heareth the noyse of her wings, beating the light winde, parting the ayre through the vehemencie of her going, & Pro.30.19.

flieth on shaking her wings, whereas afterward no token of her way can be found:

12 Or like as when an arrowe is shotte at a marke, it parteth the ayre, which immediatly commeth together againe, so that a man can not knowe where it went thorow:

13 Euen so we in like maner, as soone as we were borne, began immediatly to draw to our ende, and haue shewed no token of vertue, but are consumed in our owne wickednesse.

This verse is only in the olde interpreter. Iob.8.9. ‖Or,dust. 14 Such wordes they that haue sinned speake in the hell:

15 For the hope of the *vngodly is like a ‖dry thystell flowre that is blowen away with the winde, like a thinne ‖scumme that is scattered abroade with the storme, like as the smoke which is dispersed here and there with the winde, and as the remembrance of a stranger that tarieth but a day, and then departeth.

‖Or,some. Psal.39.5. 16 But the *righteous shal liue for euermore, their rewarde also is with the Lorde, and the care for them is with the highest.

17 Therefore shal they receiue a glorious kingdome, and a beautifull crowne of the Lordes hande: for with his right hand shall he couer them, and with his arme shal he defend them.

Psal.17.9. 18 *His iealousie also shall take on harnesse, and he shall arme the creature to be reuenged of his enemies.

Ephe.6.13. 19 *He shall put on righteousnesse for a brestplate, and take vnfaigned iudgement in steade of an helmet.

20 The inuincible shielde of equitie shall hee take.

21 His fierce wrath shal he sharpen for a sword, and the whole compasse of the worlde shall fight with him against the vnwise.

‖Or,straight. 22 Then shal the thunder boltes go ‖right out of the lightnings, and come as out of the well bent bowe of the cloudes, to the place appoynted.

23 And as from an angry caster of stones, there shall fall thicke hayles, and the water of the sea shalbe wroth against them, and the floods shal runne roughly together.

24 Yea, a mighty winde shal stande vp against them, and a storme shal scatter them abroade: thus vnrighteous dealing shall bring all the land to a wildernesse, and wickednesse shall ouerthrow the royall ‖seates of the mighty.

‖Or,thrones.

The vi. Chapter.

1 The calling of Kings, Princes, and Iudges, which are also exhorted to search wisedome.

This verse is only in the olde interpreter. Pro.16.32. 1 WYsedome is *better then strength: & a man of vnderstanding is more worth then one strong.

2 Heare therefore (O ye kings) and vnderstande, O learne, ye that be iudges of the endes of the earth.

3 Giue eare, ye that rule the multitudes, and glory in the number of peoples.

4 *For the power is giuen you of the Lorde, and the strength from the highest, which shall trye your workes, and search out your imaginations: Rom.13.1.

5 Howe that ye being officers of his kingdome, haue not giuen true iudgement, haue not kept the lawe of righteousnesse, nor walked after the will of God.

6 Horribly, and that right soone, shall he appeare vnto you: for an hard iudgement shall they haue that beare rule.

7 Mercy is granted vnto the lowest: but they that be in authoritie, shalbe sore punished.

Deut.10.17. ‖Or,feare, or,spare. 8 *For he which is Lord ouer all, shal ‖accept no mans person, neither shall he stand in awe of any mans greatnesse: for he hath made the small and great, and careth for all alike.

9 But the mightie shall haue the sorer tryall.

10 Unto you therefore (O ye kings) doe I speake, that ye may learne wisedome, and not goe amisse.

‖Or,holy things. 11 For they that keepe holinesse ‖holily, shalbe iudged holy: and they that haue learned such things, shall finde defence.

‖Or,couet my wordes. ‖Or,be instructed & learned. 12 Wherfore ‖set your delight vpō my words, and desire them, so shal ye ‖come by nurture.

13 Wisedome is a noble thing, and neuer fadeth away: yea, she is easily seene of them that loue her, and founde of such as seeke her.

14 She preuenteth them that desire her, that she may shew her selfe vnto them.

15 Whoso awaketh vnto her betimes, shal haue no great trauayle: for he shal finde her sitting ready at his doores.

16 To thinke therefore vpon her, is perfect vnderstanding: and whoso watcheth for her, shal quickly be dispatched of care.

17 For shee goeth about seeking such as are meete for her, sheweth her selfe chearefully vnto them ‖in their goings, and meeteth them with ‖all diligence.

‖Or,in their wayes. ‖Or, euery thought.

18 For the vnfaigned desire of ‖reformation is her beginning: to care for nurture, is loue: ‖Or,discipline.

19 And loue is the keeping of her lawes: and the keeping of her lawes, is the assurance of immortalitie:

20 And immortalitie maketh a man familiar with God.

21 And so the desire of wisedome leadeth to the kingdome [euerlasting.]

Num.27.16. 22 *If your delight be then in royall seates and sceptres, (O ye kings of the people) set your ‖lust vpon wisedome, that ye may reigne for euermore. ‖Or,honour.

This verse is only in the olde interpreter. 23 O loue the light of wisedome, all ye that be rulers of the people.

24 As for wisedome, what she is, and howe she came vp, I will tell you, and will not hide the mysteries [of God] from you: but will seeke her out from the beginning of her natiuitie, and bring the knowledge of her into light, and will not keepe backe the trueth.

25 Neither wil I haue to doe with consuming enuie: for such a man shal not be partaker of wisedome.
26 But the multitude of the wise is the welfare of the worlde: and a wise king is the ‖vpholding of the people. ‖Or,stay.
27 Receiue nurture then through my words, and it shall do you good.

The vii. Chapter.

Wisedome ought to be preferred aboue all things.

1 I My selfe also am a mortall man, like as all other, and am come of the earthly generation of him that was first made,
Iob.10.10. 2 And in my *mothers wombe was fashioned to be flesh in ỹ time of ten moneths, being brought together in blood, through the seede of man, & the pleasure that came with sleepe.
3 And when I was borne, I receiued like ayre as other men, and fel vpon the earth which is of like nature, crying and weeping at the first as all other doe.
4 I was wrapped in swadling clothes, and brought vp with cares.
5 For there is no king that hath had any other beginning of byrth:
Iob.1.21. 1.tim.6.7. 6 *All men then haue one entrance vnto life, and one going out in like maner.
7 Wherefore I desired, and vnderstanding was giuen me: I called, and the spirite of wisdome came into me.
8 I set more by her, then by kingdomes and royall seates, and counted riches nothing in comparison of her.
Iob.28.15. 9 *As for precious stone, I compared it not vnto her, for all golde is but a litle grauel vnto her, and siluer shalbe counted but clay before her sight.
‖Or,health. 10 I loued her aboue ‖welfare and beautie, and purposed to take her for my light: for her light can not be quenched.
3.Reg.3.13. 11 *All good things together came to me with her, & innumerable riches through her hands.
12 And I was glad in all things, because wisedome went before them: and I knew not that she was the mother of them.
13 And I my selfe learned vnfaynedly, & make other men partakers of her without enuie, and hide her riches from no man.
14 For shee is an infinite treasure vnto men: which whoso vse, become partakers of the loue[and friendship]of God, and are accepted vnto him for the giftes of ‖wisedome. ‖Or,knowledge.
15 God hath graunted me to speake what my minde conceiueth, and to thinke as is meete for the things that are giuen mee: for it is he that leadeth vnto wisedome, and teacheth to vse wisedome aright.
16 For in his hand are both we and our words, yea, all our wisdome and knowledge of[his] workes.
17 For he hath giuen me the true science of the things that are, so that I know how ỹ worlde was made, and the powers of the elements:
18 The beginning, ending, and middest of the times, howe the times alter, howe one goeth after another, and howe they are fulfilled,
19 The course of the yeere, the ordinances of the starres,
20 The natures of liuing things, the furiousnesse of beastes, the power of the windes, the imaginations of men, the diuersities of pong plantes, the vertues of rootes:
21 And all such things as are eyther secrete or manifest, them haue I learned.
22 For wisedome, which is the worker of all things, hath taught me: for in her is the spirite of vnderstanding, which is holy, one onely, manifold, subtile, ‖quicke, mouing, cleare, vndefiled, playne, sweete, louing the thing that is good, sharpe, which can not be letted, doing good, ‖Or,liuely.
23 Kinde to man, stedfast, sure, free from care, hauing all ‖vertues, ‖circumspect in al things, and passing through all vnderstanding, cleane and subtile spirites. ‖Or,power. ‖Or,hauing regarde of,
24 For wisedome is nimbler then all nimble things, she goeth through, and attayneth to all things, because of her cleannesse.
25 For shee is the breath of the power of God, and a pure influence flowing from the glorie of the almightie[God:]therefore can no defiled thing come to her.
26 For *she is the brightnesse of the euerlasting light, the vndefiled mirror of the maiestie of God, and the image of his goodnesse. Heb.1.3.
27 And being[but]one, she can doe all things: and remayning in her selfe, she renueth all, & in all ages of times entring into holy soules, she maketh Gods friendes, and Prophets:
28 For God loueth none, if he dwell not with wisedome.
29 For shee is more beautifull then the sunne, ‖and giueth more light then the starres, and the day is not to be compared vnto her. ‖Or,aboue all the order of starres.
30 For vpon ‖the day commeth night: but wickednesse can not ouercome wisedome. ‖Or,it.

The viii. Chapter.

The effects of wisedome.

1 WIsedome reacheth from one end ‖to another mightily, and ‖louingly doeth she order all things. ‖Or,she. ‖Or,profitably.
2 I haue loued her, and ‖laboured for her from my youth vp: I did my diligence to marrie my selfe with her, such loue had I vnto her beautie. ‖Or,sought.
3 That she hath the companie of God, it commendeth her nobilitie: yea, the Lorde of all things himselfe loueth her.
4 For she is the schoolemistresse of the knowledge of God, & the chuser out of his workes. ‖Or, if riches be a possession that a man would desire.
5 If ‖a man would desire riches in this life, desire.

What

what is richer then wisedome that worketh all things:

6 For if prudencie worke, what is it among al things that worketh better:

7 And if a man loue righteousnes, her labours are but vertues: For why: she teacheth sobernesse & prudence, ‖ righteousnesse & strength, which are such things as men can haue nothing more profitable in their life.

‖Or, iustice and manhood.

8 If a man desire much ‖ knowledge, shee can tell the things that are past, & discerne things for to come: shee knoweth the subtilties of wordes, and can expound darke sentences: she foreseeth signes & wonders or euer they come to passe, & the ‖ endes of all times and ages.

‖Or, much experience.

‖Or, succesſe of times.

9 Therefore I purposed after this maner: I will take her into my companie, that she may liue with me, knowing for certaintie she shall giue me good counsell, and speake comfortably vnto me in my carefulnesse and griefe.

10 For her sake shall I be well [and honestly] taken among the commons, and with honor among the elders, though I be yong.

11 I shalbe found to be of sharpe iudgement, so that I shalbe marueilous in the sight of great men: ‡ and the faces of princes shall wonder at mee.

‡This part of the eleuenth verse is only in the olde translation.

12 When I hold my tongue, they shal bide my leasure, and when I speake, they shall giue good eare vnto me, and if I talke much, they shal lay their handes vpon their mouth.

13 Moreouer, by the meanes of her, I shall obteyne immortalitie, and leaue behinde me an euerlasting memorial among them that come after me.

‖Or, I shall gouerne the people.

14 ‖ I shall set the people in order, and the nations shalbe subdued vnto me.

15 Horrible tyrants shalbe afrayde when they doe but heare of mee, among the multitude I shalbe counted good, and mightie in battell.

16 When I come home, I shall finde rest with her: for her companie hath no bitternesse, and her felowship hath no tediousnesse, but myrth and ioy.

17 Now when I considered these things by my selfe, & pondered them in my heart, howe that to be ioyned vnto wisedome is immortalitie, 18 And great pleasure to haue her friendship, and that in the workes of her handes are infinite riches, & that whoso ‖ keepeth company with her, shalbe wise, and that he which talketh with her shal come to honour: I went about seeking how to get her vnto me.

‖Or, exerciseth talke with her.

19 For I was a lad of ripe wit, and had a good ‖ vnderstanding.

‖Or, spirite with me.

20 ‖ But when I grew to more vnderstanding, I came to an vndefiled body.

‖Or, yea rather being good.

21 Neuertheless, when I perceyued that I could not enioy it, except God gaue it [me,] & that was a poynt of wisedome also to know whose gift it was, I stepped vnto the Lorde, and besought him, and with my whole heart I sayd after this maner.

The xi. Chapter.

A prayer of Solomon to obtaine wisedome.

1 O God of ‖ [my] fathers, and Lorde of mercie, thou hast made al things with thy worde,

‖Or, the.

2 And ordeined man through thy wisdome, that he shoulde haue dominion ouer the creatures which thou hast made,

3 That he should ‖ order the world according to equitie and righteousnesse, & execute iudgement with a ‖ true heart:

‖Or, gouerne.

‖Or, vpright.

4 * Giue me wisedome, which is euer sitting about thy seate, and put mee not out from among thy children:

3.Reg.3.9.

5 * For I thy seruant and sonne of thy handmayden am a feeble person, & of a short time, ‖ and too yong to the vnderstanding of iudgement and lawes.

Psal.115.16.

‖Or, and yet lesse in.

6 And though a man be neuer so perfect amõg the children of men, yet if thy wisedome be not with him, he shalbe nothing regarded.

7 Thou hast chosen me to be a king vnto thy people, and the iudge of thy sonnes and daughters:

8 Thou hast commanded me to buylde a temple vpon thy holy mount, and an altar in the citie wherein thou dwellest, a likenesse of thy holy Tabernacle, which thou hast prepared from the beginning:

9 *And thy wisedome with thee, which knoweth thy workes, which also was with thee when thou madest the world, and knew what was acceptable in thy sight, and right in thy commandements.

Pro.8.22.

10 O send her out of thy holy heauens, & from the throne of thy maiestie, that shee may be with me, and labour [with me,] that I may know what is acceptable in thy sight.

11 For she knoweth & vnderstandeth al things, and she shall leade me soberly in my workes, and preserue me ‖ in her power.

‖Or, by.

12 So shal my workes be acceptable, and then shal I gouerne thy people righteously, and be worthie to sit in my fathers seate.

13 * For what man is he that can knowe the counsell of God: or who can thinke what the will of God is:

Esa.40.13.

14 For the thoughts of mortall men are ‖ miserable, and our forecasts are but vncertaine.

‖Or, dreadfull.

15 For why: a corruptible body is heauie vnto the soule, and the earthie mansion keepeth downe ‖ that vnderstanding that museth vpon many things.

‖Or, the minde that hath many cares.

16 Very hardly can wee discerne the things that are vpon earth, and ‖ great labour haue we or we can finde the things which are before our eyes: and who hath then sought out the grounde of the things that are done in heauen:

‖Or, and with much labour finde we out the things that are in our handes.

17 [Oh Lorde] who can haue knowledge of thy[‖ vnderstãding &]meaning, except thou giue wisedome, and send thy holy Ghost from aboue?

‖Or, counsaile.

18 For so the wayes of them which liued on the earth were refourmed, and men haue learned the things that are pleasant vnto thee, and were preserued through wisedome.

The x. Chapter.

The deliuerance of the righteous, and destruction of the enemies commeth through wisedome.

1 SHe preserued the first fourmed father of the worlde that was created alone, and brought him out of his fall:

Gene.2.20. 2 * And gaue him powre to rule all things.

3 But when the vnrighteous went away in his wrath from her, * he perished by the furious desire to murder his brother.

Gene.4.8.

Gene.7.21. 4 For whome when the water * destroyed the whole worlde, wisedome againe preserued it her selfe, gouerning the iust man by no costly worke of wood.

Gene.11.1. 5 *Moreouer, when the nations were cõfounded [or ioyned together] in their malicious confederacie, she found out the righteous, and preserued him faultlesse vnto God, and kept him strong against the loue of his sonne.

Gene.19.17. 6 *She preserued the righteous when he fled from the vngodly that perished, what time as the fire fell downe vpon the fiue cities.

7 Like as yet this day the [vnfruitfull] waste [and] smoking land giueth testimony of their wickednesse: yea, the ‖ vnripe and vntimely fruites that growe vpon the trees, & for a token of a remembrance of the vnfaithful soule, there standeth a pillar of salt.

‖Or, neuer riping.

8 For all such as regarded not wisedome, gat not onely this hurt, that they knewe not the things which were good: but also left behinde them vnto men a memoriall of their foolishnesse, so that in the things wherein they sinned, they could not be hid.

9 But as for such as tooke heede vnto wisedome, she hath deliuered them from sorowe.

Gene.28.5. 10 * When the righteous fled because of his brothers wath, ‖ wisedome led him the right way, shewed him the kingdome of God, gaue him knowledge of holy things, made him rich in his labours, and brought to passe the things that he went about.

‖Or, she.

‖Or, couetousnesse. 11 In the ‖ deceitfulnesse of such as defrauded him, she stoode by him, and made him rich.

12 She saued him from the enemies, and defended him from the ‖ deceiuers: in a strong battell shee gaue him the victorie, that he might knowe how that the feare of God is stronger then all things.

‖Or, lyers in wayte.

Gene.37.28. actes.7.10. 13 *When the righteous was sold, she forsooke him not, but deliuered him from sinne: shee went downe with him into the ‖ dungeon,

‖Or, prison.

14 * And fayled him not in the handes, till she had brought him the scepter of the realme, and power against those that oppressed him: as for them that had accused him, she declared them to be lyers, and brought him to perpetuall ‖ worship.

Gene.41.40.

‖Or, glory.

15 * She deliuered the righteous people, and faultlesse seede, from the nations that oppressed them.

Exod.1.6.

16 *She entred into the soule of the seruant of the Lorde, and stoode by him in wonders and tokens against the dreadfull kings.

Exod.3.10.

17 She gaue the ‖ righteous the rewarde of their labours, and ledde them forth a marueylous way: on the day time she was a shadowe vnto them, and a light of starres in the night season.

‖Or, the saintes.

18 *She brought them thorow the redde sea, and caried them thorowe the great water.

Exod.14.21.

19 But she drowned their enemies [in the sea,] but brought thẽ out of the bottome of ẏ deepe.

20 * So the righteous tooke the spoyles of the vngodly, and * praysed thy holy name, O Lorde, and magnified thy victorious hande with one accorde.

Exod.12.31. Exod.15.1.

21 For wisedome openeth the mouth of the dumbe, and maketh the tongues of babes to be eloquent.

The xi. Chapter.

1 The miracles done for Israel. 13 The vengeance of sinners. 28 The great power and mercy of God.

1 SHe ‖ ordered their workes in the *hands of the holy Prophet:

‖Or, directed, or prospered. Exod.16.1.

2 [So that] they went thorow the wildernesse that was not inhabited, and pitched their tentes in the waste desart.

3 * They stoode against their enemies, and were auenged of their aduersaries.

Exod.17.12.

4 *When they were thyrstie, they called vpon thee, and water was giuen them out of the [most] high rocke, and their thirst was quenched out of the hard stone.

Num.20.11.

5 For by the things wherethrough their enemies were punished, were the ‖ children of Israel helped in their neede.

‖Or, they, that is, the Israelites.

6 For in steade of a fountaine of the perpetual running flood, all troubled with gorie blood,

7 In reproche of the commaundement published to murder the infantes, thou gauest vnto them abundance of water, and that not looked for neyther:

8 Declaring by that thirst then, howe thou hadst punished thine aduersaries.

9 * For when they were tryed and nurtured with [fatherly] mercie, they knewe howe the vngodly were iudged and punished in the wath [of God.]

Exod.7.20.

10 * For these hast thou exhorted as a father, and proued them: but vnto the other thou hast bene a boysterous king, ‖ layde hard to their charge, and condemned them.

Deut.8.2.

‖Or, examined them straitely.

11 Whether

11 Whether they were absent or present, their punishment was alike.
12 For their griefe was double, and mourning for the remembrance of things past.
13 For when they perceiued that their punishments did them good, they ‖thought vpon the Lord.
‖Or, they felt.
14 For whome, in his casting out before as an abiect, they had denied with derision, him in the end, when they sawe what happened, they wondered at: for they were of another thirst then was the iust.
15 But for the foolish deuises of their wickednesse, wherewith being deceiued, they worshipped serpentes that had not the vse of reason, and vile beastes, thou sentest a multitude of vnreasonable beastes vpon them for reuengeance:
16 That they might knowe, that looke wherewithall a man sinneth, by the same also shall he be punished.
17 For vnto thy almightie hand that made the worlde of nought, it was not vnpossible to sende among them an heape of Beares, or wood Lions,
Leui.16.20 sapi. 16.1.iere.8.17.
18 *Or cruell beastes of a strange kinde, such as are vnknowen, or spoute fire, or cast out a smoking breath, or shoote horrible sparkes out of their eyes:
19 Which might not onely destroy them with hurting, but also kill them with their horrible sight.
20 Yea, without these [beastes] might they haue bene slayne with one winde, being persecuted by the reuengeance, and scattered abroade through the breath of they power: neuertheless, thou hast ordered all things in measure, number, and weight.
21 For thou hast euer had great strength and might, and who may withstand the power of thine arme?
22 For why? like as the small thing that the balance weigheth, so is the world before thee: yea, as a drop of the morning deawe that falleth downe vpon the earth.
Rom.2.4.
23 *But thou hast mercie vpon al, for thou hast power of all things, & makest thee as though thou sawest not the sinnes of men, because they should amende.
24 For thou louest all the things that are, and hatest none of them whome thou hast made: for thou wouldest not haue made any thing, if thou hadst hated it.
25 Yea, how might any thing endure, if it were not thy will? or howe could any thing be preserued, except it were called of thee?
26 But thou sparest all, for they are thine, O Lord, thou louer of soules.

The xii. Chapter.

2 The mercie of God toward sinners. 14 The workes of God are vnreproueable. 19 God giueth leasure to repēt.

1 FOr thy vncorruptible spirite, O Lorde, is in all things.
2 Therefore chastenest thou them measurably that go wrong, and warnest thē, by putting them in remembrance in what things they haue offended, that leauing their wickednesse, they may beleeue on thee, O Lord.
3 *As for those olde inhabiters of thy holy land, thou mightest not away with them: Deu.9.3.&12.29.
4 For they committed abominable woorkes [against thee,] as witchcraft, sorcerie, and wicked sacrifices:
5 They slewe their owne children without mercie, they did eate vp the bowels of mens flesh, and deuoured the blood in abominable banquets, and had their madde fannaticall priestes:
6 And the fathers were the chiefe murderers of the soules destitute of helpe, [these doers] thou wouldest destroy by the hands of our fathers:
7 That the lande which thou lotest aboue all other, might be a meete dwelling for the children of God.
8 Neuertheless, thou sparedst them also as men, and sentest the forerunners of thine host, euen hornets, to destroy them out by litle and litle.
9 Not that thou wast vnable to subdue the vngodly vnto the righteous in battayle, or with cruell beastes, or with one rough worde to destroy them together:
10 *But thy minde was in punishing them by litle and litle, to giue them place for amendement, knowing well that it was an vnrighteous nation, and wicked of nature, and þ their thought might neuer be altered: Exod.23.28. deut.7.22.
11 For it was a cursed seede from the beginning, yet hast thou not pardoned their sinnes wherein they offended, for that thou fearest any man.
12 *For who dare say [vnto thee,] What hast thou done? or who will stande against thy iudgement? or who will blame thee for the nations that perish, whome thou hast made? or who wil come before thy face to be reuenged for the vnrighteous men? Rom.9.20.
13 For there is none other God but thou, that carest for all things, that thou mayest declare howe that thy iudgement is not vnright. 1.Pet.5.7.
14 There dare neither king nor tyrant, in thy sight, require accountes of them whome thou hast ‖destroyed. ‖Or, punished.
15 For so much then as thou art righteous thy selfe, thou ordereſt all things righteously, thinking it vnseemely for thy power to condemne him that hath not deserued to bee punished.
16 For thy power is the beginning of righteousnesse, teousnesse, and because thou art Lorde of all things, it maketh thee to bee gratious vnto all.

17 For when men thinke thee not to be of a ful strength, thou declarest thy power, and reprouest the boldnesse of the wise.

‖Or, ruling. 18 But thou ‖ mastering thy power, doest iudge with equitie, and orderest vs with great fauour: for thou mayest vse power when thou wilt.

19 By such workes nowe hast thou taught thy people, that the iust man shoulde bee louing, and hast made thy children to bee of a good hope, because thou giuest roome to repentance for sinnes.

20 For in so much as thou hast punished, and with such deliberation and obtestation, the enemies of thy seruantes which were worthie to die, wherethrough thou gauest them time and place of amendement, that they might turne from their wickednesse:

21 With howe great circumspection then punishest thou thine owne children, vnto whose fathers thou hast sworne, & made couenantes of good promises?

‖Or, scourgest. 22 So whereas thou doest chasten vs, thou ‖ punishest our enemies a thousande times more: to the intent that when we punish, we

‖Or, iudged. should diligently thinke of thy goodnes, and when we our selues are ‖ punished, we should hope for mercie.

23 Wherefore, whereas men haue liued dissolutely and vnrighteously, thou hast punished them sore with their owne abominations.

Sapi. 11. 16. rom. 1. 23. 24 * For they went astray very ‖ long in the ‖Or, farre. wayes of errour, and held the beastes (which euen their enemies despised) for gods, deceiued as children of no vnderstanding.

25 Therefore hast thou sent them thy iudgement in scorne, as to children voyde of reason.

26 As for such as wil not be reformed by those scornes [and rebukes,] they shall feele the ‖Or, iudgement. worthie ‖ punishment of God.

‖Or, murmured and grudged. ‖Or, were chastised. ‖Or, murmuring. 27 For looke in what things they ‖ disdayned when they ‖ suffered for their sakes whome they counted gods, seeing them selues punished in the ‖ same, they perceiued that he was in deede the true God, whom before they had denied to knowe, and therefore came extreme damnation vpon them.

The xiii. Chapter.

1 All things be vaine, except the knowledge of God. 10 Idolaters and idols are mocked.

Rom. 1. 19. 1 SVrely vaine are al men by nature, which were ignorant of God, and * coulde not out of the good things that are seene, know him ỳ of himself is [euerlasting,] neither tooke so much regarde of the workes that are made, as thereby to knowe who was the craftesman of them:

Deut. 4. 19. 2 * But some tooke the fire, some the winde or swift ayre, some the course of the starres, some the running water, [some tooke Sunne and Moone,] or the lightes of heauen, for gods that rule the world.

3 But though they had such pleasure in their beautie, that they thought them to haue bene gods, yet shoulde they haue knowen howe much more ‖ fayrer he is that made them: for

‖Or, excellent. ‖Or, the first authour. the ‖ maker of beautie hath ordeined all these things.

4 Or if they marueiled at the power & worke of them, they shoulde haue perceiued thereby, howe much hee which made these things, is mightier then they.

5 For by the greatnesse of the beautie and of the creatures, the maker thereof, compared with them, may plainely be ‖ knowen.

‖Or, seene.

6 Notwithstanding, they are the lesse to bee blamed that seeke God, and would finde him, and yet peraduenture ‖ misse:

‖Or, erre.

Rom. 1. 21. 7 * For they being occupied in his woorkes, doe seeke him diligently, and are perswaded by the sight, because the things are beautifull that are seene.

8 Howbeit, yet neyther are they to bee excused.

9 For if their vnderstanding [& knowledge] be so great, that they can ‖ discerne the world

‖Or, coniecture. [and the creatures,] why doe they not rather finde out the Lord thereof?

‖Or, in dead things. 10 But miserable are they, and ‖ among the dead is their hope, that call them gods which are but the woorkes of mens handes, golde, siluer, and the thing that is founde out by

‖Or, arte. ‖ cunning, the similitude of beastes, or any vayne stone that hath bene made by hande of olde.

Eccle. 44. 12. ierem. 10. 3. 11 * Or as when a Carpenter cutteth downe a tree meete for the purpose, and pareth off all the barke cunningly, & so by arte comely maketh a vessell profitable to the vse of life:

12 And with that which is cut off from his woorke, doeth dresse his meate to fill his belly:

13 And as for the other part that is left, which is profitable for nothing (for it is a crooked piece of wood, and full of knobs) hee carueth it diligently by leasure, and according to the knowledge of his cunning, he giueth it some proportion, fashioneth it after the similitude of a man,

14 Or maketh it like some vile beast, straketh it ouer with redde, and paynteth it, and looke what foule spot is in it, he casteth some colour vpon it.

‖Or, an house worthie of it. 15 Then maketh he a ‖ conuenient tabernacle for it, setteth it in a wall, and maketh it fast with yron:

16 Prouiding so for it, least it happen to fall, ‖ for it is well knowen that it can not helpe it

‖Or, for he knoweth well. selfe:

selfe: for why? it is but an image, and must of necessitie be helped.

17 Then making prayer for his goods, for his marriage, and for children, hee is not ashamed to speake to that which hath no soule.

18 For health, hee maketh his petition vnto him that is ‖ sicke: for life, hee humbly prayeth vnto him that is dead: hee ‖ calleth vpon him for helpe, that hath no experience at all: and to sende him a good iourney, hee prayeth him that may not goe.

‖Or, weake.

‖Or, maketh supplication vnto him.

19 And for gayne, for worke, and for successe of his affayres, he asketh power of him which is without all maner of power.

The xiiii. Chapter.

1 The detestation and abominations of images. 8 A curse of him and of thē that make them. 14 Whereof idolatrie is proceeded. 23 What euils come of idolatrie.

1 AGaine, another man purposing to saile, and ‖ beginning to take his iourney through the raging ‖ sea, calleth for helpe vnto a stocke, that is farre weaker then the vessell that beareth him.

‖Or, preparing and making ready.

‖Or, waues, cryeth for helpe.

2 For as for it, couetousnesse of money hath found it out, and the crafts man made it with his cunning.

3 But thy prouidence, O father, gouerneth it: for thou hast * made a way euen in the sea, and a sure path in the middest of the waues,

Exod. 14. 21.

4 Declaring thereby that thou hast power to helpe ‖ in all things, yea though a man went to the sea without ‖ ship.

‖Or, euery way.

‖Or, arte.

5 Neuertheless, thou wouldest not that the workes of thy wisedome should be in vayne: and therefore doe men commit their liues to a small piece of wood, passing ouer the stormie sea in a ship, and are saued.

Gene. 6. 4. and 7. 10.

6 * For in the olde time also when the proude Giantes perished, hee in whome ‖ the hope was left to encrease the worlde, went into the shippe which was gouerned through thy hande, and so left seede behinde him vnto the world.

‖Or, the hope of the words.

‖Or, blessed.

7 For ‖ happie is the tree, where through righteousnesse commeth:

‖Or, the thing.

8 But cursed is ‖ [the idole] ẏ is made with * hands, yea, both it, and he that made it: he, because he made it: and it, because it was called God, whereas it is but a ‖ fraile thing.

Psal. 115. 8. baru. 6. 3.

‖Or, corruptible.

Psalm. 5. 7.

9 * For the vngodly and his vngodlinesse are both like abominable vnto God.

10 [Euen so] the worke, and hee that made it also, shalbe punished together.

11 Therefore shall there a plague come vpon the idoles of the heathen: for out of the creature of God they are become an abomination, a ‖ temptation vnto the soules of men, and a snare for the feete of the vnwise.

‖Or, a slaunder and offence, or stumbling blocke.

12 For why? the ‖ seeking out of idoles, is the beginning of whoredome, and the ‖ deuising of them, is the ‖ destruction of life.

‖Or, deuising.

‖Or, inuentions.

‖Or, the corruption.

13 For they were not from the beginning, neither shall they continue for euer.

14 The vayne glory of men hath founde them out vpon earth, therefore shal they come shortly to an ende.

15 For when a father mourned beauily for his sonne, ‖ sodainly taken away from him, hee made him an image: and him which then was but a dead man, he nowe began to worship as a God, and ordeined for his ‖ seruants ceremonies and sacrifices.

‖Or, soone.

‖Or, subiectes.

16 Thus by processe of time this ‖ vngratious custome being waxen strong, was kept as a lawe, and images were worshipped by commandement of tyrants.

‖Or, wicked.

17 As for those that were so farre off, that men myght not worshippe them present, their visage being drawen out from farre off, was made as the ‖ cleare image of an honourable king, that they myght with ‖ affection flatter as wel the absent as the present.

‖Or, gorgeous.

‖Or, diligence.

18 Againe, the singular ambition of the crafts man gaue the ignorant also a great occasion to encrease the superstition.

19 For hee willing to please one, peraduenture that ‖ bare rule, laboured with all his cunning to make the image of the best fashion.

‖Or, was of authoritie.

20 And so through the beautie of the worke, the ‖ common people being thereto allured, tooke him nowe for a God, which a litle before was but honoured as a man.

‖Or, multitude.

21 And this was to the deceiuing of mans life, when men either with calamitie or tyrannis oppressed, ascribed vnto stones and stockes that name [of God] which ought not to bee giuen to any thing [els.]

22 Moreouer, this was not ynough for them, that they erred in knowledge of God: but whereas they liued in the great warre of ignorance, those so [many and] great ‖ plagues, called they peace.

‖Or, euils.

23 * For either they slewe their owne children, and offered them in sacrifice, or vsed secrete ceremonies, or followed mad drunken dissolutenesse of rites in sacrifice.

Deu 18. 10. Ieie. 7. 9. and 10. 4.

24 So that they kept neither life nor marriage cleane: but eyther one slewe another trayterously, or grieued him by adulterie.

25 So that there reigned in all men without exception, blood, manslaughter, theft, ‖ dissimulation, corruption, vnfaithfulnesse, sedition, periurie, ‖Or, deceite.

26 Disquieting of good men, vnthankfulnes, defiling of soules, changing of birth, disordering of marriages, adulterie, and vncleannesse.

27 For

‖Or, of idoles that ought not once to be named of vs.

27 For why? the honouring of ‖ abominable images, is the beginning, the cause and ende of all euill.

28 For [they that worship idoles,] eyther they are mad whē they are mery, or prophecie lies, ‖Or, vniustly. or liue ‖ vngodly, or else lightly forsweare themselues.

29 For in so much as their trust is in the idoles which haue no ‖ soule, though they ‖Or, life. sweare falsely, yet they thinke it shall not hurt them.

30 Therefore commeth a great plague vpon them, and that worthily for both causes: for they haue an euill opinion of God that giue heed vnto idoles, and they sweare vniustly in deceite, despising holinesse.

31 For it is not the power of them by whome ‖Or, iudgement. they sweare, but it is the iust ‖ vengeance of sinners, that punisheth alwaies the offence of the vngodly doers.

The xv. Chapter.

The voyce of the faithfull praysing the mercie of God, by whose grace they serue not idoles.

1 BVt thou, O our God, art gratious, true, and long suffering, and in mercie ordrest thou all things.

2 Though we sinne, yet are we thine, for we know thy strength: but we will not sinne, because we knowe we are counted thine.

3 For to knowe thee, is perfect righteousnes: yea to knowe thy power, is the roote of immortalitie.

‖Or, for neither malitious deuise of men deceiued vs. 4 As ‖ for the thing that men haue founde out through their euill science, it hath not deceiued vs, nor the paynters vnprofitable labour, ‖Or, stayned. [to wit,] an image ‖ spotted with diuers colours,

‖Or, fourme. 5 Whose sight entiseth the ignorant to lust after it, and he desireth the ‖picture of a dead image that hath no breath.

6 Both they that make them, they that desire them, and they that worship them, loue euils, and are worthie to haue such things to trust vpon.

Rom.9.16. 7 * For the potter tempereth soft earth, laboureth it, and giueth it the fashion, of what so euer vessell serueth for our vse: and of the selfe same claye hee maketh both the vessels that serue for cleane vses, and also such as serue to the contrarie: whereunto euery vessell serueth, the potter him selfe being the iudge.

8 So by his wicked labour he maketh a vaine God of ꝑ same clay, this doeth euen he which a litle before was made of earth himselfe, and within a litle while after returneth to ꝑ same out of which he was taken, when the lone of his life shall bee demaunded from him againe.

9 Notwithstanding hee careth not the more for this that hee must labour, nor that his life is short: but striueth to excell goldesmithes and siluer smithes, and endeuoureth to doe like the copper smithes, and taketh it for an honour to make ‖ deceiueable ‖Or, false and counterfaite. things.

10 His heart is but ashes, his hope is more vaine then earth, and his life of ‖ lesse honour then ‖Or, more base. clay, 11 For as much as hee knoweth not his owne maker, that gaue him his soule of power to worke, and breathed in him the breath of life.

12 But they counted our life but a pastime, and [our] conuersation to bee but a market for gaine, and that men shoulde euery way bee getting, yea, though it were by euill meanes.

13 Nowe hee that of earth maketh frayle vessels and images, knoweth himselfe to offende aboue all other.

14 All the enemies of thy people that hold thē in subiection, are most vnwise, and are more miserable then ‖ very fooles. ‖Or, very babes

15 For they iudge all the idoles of the heathen to bee gods, which neither haue * eyesight to Psal.13.5. see, nor noses to ‖ smel, nor eares to heare, nor ‖Or, to draw the ayre or breath. fingers or handes to grope, and as for their feete they are [too] slowe to goe.

16 For man made them, and he that borowed his owne spirit fashioned them: but no man can make a god like vnto himselfe.

17 For seeing hee is but mortall, it is but mortall that hee maketh with vnrighteous handes: hee him selfe is better then they whom hee worshippeth, for hee liued, as they did neuer.

18 Yea they worshipped [such] beastes also as are ‖ most hatefull: for if they were compared, ‖Or, their most enemies. for ‖ madnesse they are worse then others. ‖Or, lacke of vnderstanding.

19 Neither haue they any beautie why to bee desired in respect of other beastes: but are all voyde of the prayse of God, and his blessing.

pouertie shoulde come vpon those which vsed tyrannie, and to shewe onely vnto the other howe their enimies were ‖ destroyed.

‖Or, tormented.

Num. 21.6. ‖Or, fiercenesse.

5 For when the * cruell ‖ woodnesse of the beastes came vpon them, and they perished through the stings of the cruell serpentes, [notwithstanding] thy wrath endured not perpetually.

‖Or, troubled.

6 But they were ‖ put in feare for a litle season, that they might be reformed, hauing a

‖Or, the brasen serpent.

‖ token of saluation, to remember the commandement of the lawe.

7 For he that looketh backe [to it,] was not healed by the thing he sawe, but by thee, O sauiour of all.

8 So in this thou shewest our enemies, that it is thou which deliuerest from all euill.

Exod. 10.4. apoc. 9.7.

9 * For then when they were bitten with grassehoppers and flyes, they dyed, neyther was there any remedie founde for their life, for they were worthie to bee punished by such.

10 But not ỹ very teeth of venemous dragons did ouercome thy children: for thy mercy was euer by them, and healed them.

11 For they were pricked, because they shoulde remember thy words, but speedily were they healed againe, least they shoulde fall into so deepe forgetfulnesse, that they might not bee called backe by thy benefite.

12 For it was neither herbe nor plaster that restored thē to health: but thy word, O Lord, which healeth all things.

Deut. 32.39. 1. sam. 2.2. ‖Or, downe to hell gates.

13 * It is thou, O Lord, that hast the power of life & death, thou leadest ‖ vnto deaths doore, and bringest vp againe.

14 A man in deed through his wickednesse may slay [another,] but when his spirite is gone forth, it turneth not againe, neither may hee call againe the soule that is taken away.

15 But it is not possible to escape thy hand.

Exod. 9.23.

16 * For the vngodly that woulde not knowe thee, were punished by the strength of thine arme: with strange raynes, hayles, and showres were they persecuted that they could not auoyde, and through fire were they consumed.

17 For it was a wonderous thing that fire might doe more then water which quencheth all things: but the world is the auenger of the righteous.

18 For sometimes was the fire so tame, that the beastes which were sent to punish the vngodly burnt not, and that because they should see and know that they were persecuted with the punishment of God.

19 And sometime burnt the fire in the middest of the water, that it might destroy the fruites of the vniust land.

Exod. 16.14.

20 In steade whereof, thou hast fed thine owne people with angels food, and sent them bread readie from heaue without their labour, ‖ being very pleasant and of good taste.

‖Or, being of force for all pleasures, and apt to euery taste.

21 For this thy substance vnto thy children declared thy sweetenes, and seruing to his appetite that tooke it, tempered it selfe according to his desire.

22 *But the snowe and yce abode the violence of the fire, and melted not, that they might knowe that the fire burning in the hayle, and sparkeling in the rayne, destroyed the fruit of the enemies. Exod. 9.23.

23 The fire also forgate his owne strength againe, that the righteous might be nourished.

24 For the creature that serueth thee which art the maker, is fierce in punishing the vnrighteous, but is easie [and gentle] to doe good vnto such as put their trust in thee.

25 Therefore did it alter at the same time into all fashions, and was obedient vnto thy grace, which is the nurse of all things, according to the desire of them that had neede thereof:

Deut. 8.3. matth. 4.4.

26 *That thy children, O Lorde, whom thou louest, might knowe that it is not the ‖ growing of fruites that feedeth men, but that it is thy word which preserueth thē that put their trust in thee.

‖Or, increase and reuenues.

27 For looke what ‖ might not be destroyed at all with the fire, assoone as it was warmed with a litle Sunne beame, it melted:

‖Or, coulde.

28 That all men might knowe, that thankes ought to be giuen vnto thee before the sunne rise, and that thou ought est to be ‖ worshipped before the day spring.

‖Or, prayed vnto.

29 For the hope of the vnthankfull shall melt away as the winter yce, and flowe away as vnprofitable water.

The xvii. Chapter.

The iudgements of God against the wicked.

1 FOr great are thy iudgemēts [O Lord,] and can not be expressed: therefore men doe erre that will not be reformed [by thy wisedome.]

2 For when the vnrighteous thought to haue thy holy people in subiectiō, they were bound with the bondes of * darknesse & long night, shut vp vnder roofes, and lay there to escape the eternall prouidence. Exod. 10.23.

3 And while they thought to be hid in ỹ darknesse of their sinnes, they were scattered abroade in the very middest of the darke couering of forgetfulnesse, put to horrible feare, and ‖ wonderously vexed.

‖Or, astonied with sights of strange apparitions.

4 For the corner where they lay hid, might not keepe thē from feare, because the sounds came round about them, and vexed them, yea, many terrible and ‖ strange visions appeared vnto them:

‖Or, phantasies with wofull countenances.

5 No power of the fire might giue thē light, neither might the cleare flames of the starres lighten the horrible night.

6 But

6 But there appeared vnto them sudden fire onely, very dreadfull: at ẏ which sight, wherein they sawe nothing throughly, they were so afraide, that they thought the thing which they sawe to be ‖ the more fearefull.

‖Or, the worse.

7 *As for the illusions of the magicall arte, they came to nought, & it was a most shamefull reproch of the pride that they had of their owne wisedome.

Exod. 7. 29.

8 For they that promised to driue away the feares and troubles from the sicke soule, were sicke them selues with feare, worthie to bee laughed at.

9 For though no terrible thing did feare them, yet were they afrayde at the beastes which passed by them, and at the hissing of the Serpents.

10 In so much that with trẽbling, they ‖ swooned, and ‖ sayde they sawe not the ayre, which no man yet may escape.

‖Or, dyed.

‖Or, and denied euen to see the ayre.

11 For malice is a dreadfull thing that is condemned by his owne witnesse: and being pressed with conscience, it euer ‖ suspecteth cruell things.

‖Or, foreeasteth.

12 For feare is nothing else but a ‖ betraying of the succours which reason offereth.

‖Or, a forsaking and reuolting of the helpes which reason suggesteth.

13 And looke howe much the lesse his hope is within, the greater doeth hee recount his ignorance of that cause that bringeth the torment.

14 But [they that did endure] the night that in deede was intollerable, and that came frõ the dungeons of intolerable hell, sleeping ẏ same sleepe, 15 Were sometimes chased with monsterous apparitions, and sometimes they swooned as their owne soules had betrayed them: for an hastie feare, and that was not looked for, came vpon them.

16 And thus whosoeuer was there fallen, he was in prison, but without chaynes.

17 For whether a man had occupied husbandry, or had bene an heardman, or labourer in the ‖ woods, if he were taken, he suffered ‖ intollerable necessitie.

‖Or, alone, or in the desartes.

‖Or, that coulde not be escaped.

18 For they were al bound with one chayne of darkenes: whether it were a blasing winde, or a sweete song of the birdes among the thicke branches of the trees, or the vehemencie of hastie running water,

19 Or great noyse of ẏ falling downe of stones, or the running of playing beastes, which they sawe not, or ẏ mightie noyse of roaring wilde beastes, or ‖ the sounde that answered againe in the holownesse of the mountaines: these terrible things made them swoone [for very feare.]

‖Or, echo.

20 For all the ‖ earth shyned with cleare light, and no man was hindered in his labour.

‖Or, worlde.

21 Onely vpon them there fel an heauie night, an image of darkenesse that was to come vpon them: yea, they were vnto thẽselues more heauie then darkenesse.

The xviii. Chapter.

3 The fiery pillar that the Israelites had in Egypt. 8 The deliuerance of the faithfull.

1 NEuertheless, thy *saintes had a very great light, whose voyce they hearing, and not seeing their figure, for that they suffred not the same things, they thought them blessed.

Exod. 10. 23.

2 And for that they did not hurt them nowe of whome they had bene wronged before, they thanked them, and besought them pardon of that they had bene enemies.

3 *Therefore thou gauest them a burning pillar of fire to lead them in the vnknowen way, and the Sunne not to hurt them in their honourable iourney.

Exod. 13. 21. psal. 77. 14.

4 But reason it was that they should leese the light, and bee put in the pryson of darknesse, which had kept thy children ‖ shut vp, by whom the vncorrupt light of the lawe was to be giuen vnto the world.

‖Or, in bondage.

5 * After, when they thought to slaye the babes of the saintes, one childe being cast out, and preserued to reproue them, thou tookest away the whole multitude of their children, and destroyedst them altogether in a mightie water.

Exo. 1. 16. & 2. 3.

6 *Of that night were our fathers certified afore, that they knowing vnto what othes they had giuen credence, might be of good cheare.

Exod. 14. 24.

7 Thus thy people receiued the health of the righteous, but the vngodly were destroyed.

8 For like as thou hast ‖ reuenged our enemies, so hast thou promoted vs whom thou hast called.

‖Or, punished.

9 For the righteous children of the good men offered secretely, and made a godly lawe with one consent, that the saintes shoulde in like maner receiue together both good and euil, and that the fathers now should first sing prayses.

10 But there was heard a disagreeing voyce of the enemies, and there was a miserable lamẽtation for children that were bewailed.

11 *The master and the seruant were punished after one maner: and like as the king, so suffered the common people.

Exod. 12. 37.

12 So they had innumerable that died with one kinde of death altogether, neither were the liuing sufficient to bury ‖ the dead: for in the twinckling of an eye the noblest offspring of them was destroyed.

‖Or, them.

13 For whereas they would've discredit all things, by reason of the enchauntmentes, in the destruction of the first borne, they acknowledged that this people was the childrẽ of God.

14 For

14 For while all thinges were still in silence, and when the night was in the middest of her course, thy almightie worde, O Lorde, leapt downe from heauen out of thy royall throne,

‖Or, fierce. 15 As a ‖ rough man of warre in the middest of the land that was destroyed,

16 And brought thine vnfained commandement as a sharpe sword, and standing vp, filled all things with death, yea, it stood vpō the earth, and reached vnto the heauen.

17 Then the sightes of the euill dreames vexed them suddenly, and fearefulnesse came vpon them vnawares.

18 Then lay there one here, another there, halfe dead, [halfe quicke,] and shewed the cause of his death.

19 For the visions that vexed them, shewed thē these things afore, that they might not be ignorant wherefore they perished.

20 Yea, the temptation of death touched ẏ righteous also, and ‖ among the multitude in the wrath endured not long.

Num. 16.46. 21 * For the blamelesse man went in al ẏ haste, and tooke the battell vpon him, brought forth the weapon of his ministration, euen prayer, and the reconciliation of incense, set himselfe against the wrath, and so brought the misery to an ende, declaring [thereby] that he was thy seruant.

‖Or, the destroyer. 22 For hee ouercame not the ‖ multitude with bodily power or force of weapons: but with ‖Or, that punished. the word he subdued him that ‖ vexed, alleagging the othe and couenant made vnto the fathers.

23 For when the dead were fallen downe by heapes one vpon another, he stood in the mid-that it might not come to the liuing.

Exod. 28.11. 24 * And why ẏ: in his long garment was all the beautie, and in the foure rowes of ẏ stones was the glory of the fathers grauen, and thy head.

25 Unto these the destroyer gaue place, & was afrayde of them: for it was ynough that they onely tasted of the wrath.

The xix. Chapter.

1 The death of the Egyptians, and the great ioy of the Hebrewes.

1 AS for the vngodly, ẏ wrath came vpon them without mercie vnto the end: for he knewe before what shoulde happen vnto them:

2 Howe that when they had consented to let them goe, and had sent them out with great ‖Or, pursue thē. diligence, they woulde repent, and ‖ followe vpon them.

Exod. 14.5. 3 * For whilest they were yet mourning and making lamentation by ẏ graues of the dead, they deuised another foolishnesse, so that they persecuted them in their flecing, whome they had[a] cast out afore with prayer.

a That is, the children of Israel, who they before had desired and prayed for to goe their way.

4 For the ‖ necessitie which they had deserued,
‖Or, destenie. brought them vnto this ende, and made them forget the things that had already happened, that they might by torments fulfill their punishment which remained:

5 And that thy people might trye a marueillous passage: and these might finde a strange death.

6 For euery creature in his kinde was fashioned againe of newe, seruing the peculiar offices, as was commanded them, that thy children might be kept without hurt:

7 For the cloud ouershadowed their tents, and the drye earth appeared where afore was water: so that in ẏ red sea there was a way without impediment, and the great deepe became a greene fielde:

8 Where thorowe all the people went that were defended with thy hand, seeing thy mar-uellous strange wonders.

9 For as the horses, right so they neighed, and leaped like lambes, playing thee (O Lorde) which hadst deliuered them.

10 And why ẏ: they were yet mindefull of the things that were done while they dwelt in the strange lande, howe the grounde brought forth flyes in stead of cattell, and howe the ri-uer scrawled with the multitude of frogges in steade of fishes.

Exod. 16.13. num. 11.31. 11 * But at the last they sawe a newe generation of birdes, what time as they were styred with lust, and desired delicate meates.

12 For why ẏ: the Quailes came vp to them frō the sea for their comfort: but punishment came vpō the sinners, not without the signes which came before to passe by vehemencie of the thicke lightnings: for they suffered worthily according to their wickednesse, because they dealt so churlishly and with an hate of strangers.

‖Or, ghestes vnknowen. 13 For some would not receiue ‖ men that came vnto them, and were vnknowen: and some brought the strangers into bondage that did them good.

14 Nor only so, but if they had bene any where regarded, they could not suffer it: for they entreated straungers very despitefully.

‖Or, rites. 15 Others that had receiued them with great ‖ solemnitie, when they were admitted vnto their societie, they afflicted them with grie-uous labours.

Gene. 19.11. 16 * Therefore were they stricken with blind-nesse, like as when they that were couered with sodaine darkenesse at the doores of the righteous, sought euery one of them the entrance of his doores.

17 Thus the elements being changed, agreed among

among them selues, like as when tunes are changed vpon an instrument of musicke, and yet keepe still a melodie: which may easily be perceiued by the sight of the things that are come to passe.

18 For the earthly things were turned into watrie: and ẏ thing that before swam in the water, nowe went vpon the ground.

19 The fire had power in the water, forgetting his owne vertue: and the water forgate his owne kinde to quenche [the fire.]

20 Againe, thy flames hurted not the flesh of the corruptible liuing things, though they walked therein, neither melted they that icie kinde of immortall meate, that was of nature apt to melt.

21 For in all things hast thou promoted thy people (O Lord) & brought them to honour, thou hast not despised them, but alway and in all places hast thou ‖ stand by them.

‖Or, assisted thē.

The ende of the booke of Wisedome.

The booke of Iesus the sonne of Sirach, which is called in Latine Ecclesiasticus.

The prologue of Iesus the sonne of Sirach vnto his booke.

MAny and great men haue declared wisedome vnto vs out of the Lawe, out of the Prophets, and out of other that followed them, in the which things, Israel ought to bee commended, by the reason of doctrine and wisedome: therefore they that haue it, and reade it, shoulde not onely them selues be wise therethrough, but serue other also with teaching and writing. After that my grandfather Iesus had giuen diligent labour to read the Law, the Prophets, and other bookes that were left vs of our fathers, and had well exercised him selfe therein: he purposed also to write some thing of wisedome and good maners, to the intent that they which were willing to learne, and to be wise, might haue the more vnderstanding, and bee the more apt to leade a good conuersation. Wherefore, I exhort you to receiue it louingly, to read it with diligence, and to take it in good worth, though our words be not so eloquent as the famous orators. For the thing that is written in the Hebrew tongue, soundeth not so well when it is translated into another speach: not onely this booke of mine, but also the lawe, the Prophets, and other bookes sound farre otherwise then they doe, when they are spoken in their owne language.

Nowe in the thirtie and eight yeere, when I came into Egypt, in the time of Ptolome Euerges, and continued there a long season, I founde bookes there left full of great and profounde learning. Wherefore, I thought it good and necessarie to bestowe my diligence and trauaile to interprete this booke: and considering that I had time, I laboured and did my best to perfourme this booke, and to bring it vnto light, that the strangers also which are disposed to learne, might applie themselues vnto good maners, and liue according to the lawe of the Lorde.

The first Chapter.

1 Wisedome commeth of God. 11 A prayse of the feare of God. 19 The meanes to come by wisedome.

1 ALl wisedome [commeth] of God the Lorde, and hath bene euer with him, ‖ and is before all time.

‖Or, and is with him for euer.

2 Who hath numbred the sande of the sea, the moppes of the rayne, and the dayes of ‖ time? Who hath measured the height of heauen, the breadth of the earth, and the deepenesse of the sea?

‖Or, the worlde.

3 Who hath sought out the grounde of Gods wisedome, which hath bene before all things?

4 Wisedome hath beene created before all things, and the vnderstanding of prudence from euerlasting.

5 (Gods word in the height is the well of wisdome, and the euerlasting commandementes are the entrance of her.)

6 *Unto whom hath ẏ roote of wisdome bene declared? or who hath knowen her wit? Rom. 11. 34.

7 Unto whome hath the doctrine of wisedome bene discouered and shewed? and who hath vnderstande the manifolde entrance of her?

8 There is one, euen the highest, the maker of al things, the almightie, the king of power, of whom men ought to stand greatly in awe, which which sitteth vpon his throne, being a God of dominion.

9 He hath created her through the holy ghost, he hath seene her, numbred her, and measured her.

10 He hath powred her out vpon all his works, and vpon all flesh, according to his gift he giueth her richly vnto them that loue him.

11 The feare of the Lorde is worship and triumph, gladnesse, and a ioyfull crowne.

12 The feare of ỹ Lord maketh a mery heart, giueth gladnes, ioy, and long life.

13 Whoso feareth the Lord, it shall goe well with him at the last, & in the day of his death he shalbe blessed.

14 The loue of God is honourable wisedome: looke vnto whom it appeareth, they loue it, for they see what wondrous things it doeth.

Pro. 1.7. psal. 110, 10. 15 * The feare of the Lord is the beginning of wisedome, and was made with the faithful in the mothers wombe, it shall goe with the chosen women, and shalbe knowen of the righteous and faithfull.

16 * The feare of the Lorde is the right Gods seruice, 17 That preserueth and iustifieth the heart, and giueth mirth and gladnesse.

18 Whoso feareth the Lord shall be happy, and when hee hath neede of comfort, he shall be blessed.

19 She hath built her euerlasting foundations with men, and is giuen to bee with their seede.

20 To feare God is the wisedome that maketh rich, and bringeth all good with her.

21 She filleth the whole house with her gifts, and the garners with her treasure.

22 The feare of the Lord is the crowne of wisdome, and giueth plenteous peace and health: he hath seene her and numbred her: both these are the gifts of God.

23 Knowledge and vnderstanding of wisedome hath he powred out as raine, & them that held her fast hath he brought vnto honour.

24 The feare of the Lord is the roote of wisedome, and her branches are long life.

25 In the treasures of wisedome is vnderstanding and deuotion of knowledge, but wisedome is abhorred of sinners, 26 The feare of the Lord driueth out sinne, and when she is present, she driueth away anger.

27 For he that is without feare cannot be made righteous, and his wilful boldnes is his owne destruction.

28 A patient man will suffer vnto the time, and then shall he haue the reward of ioy.

29 A good vnderstanding will hide his wordes for a time, and many mens lips shall speake of his wisedome.

30 In the treasures of wisedome is the declaration of doctrine: but the sinner abhorreth the worship of God.

31 My sonne, if thou desire wisdome, keepe the commandement, and God shall giue her vnto thee.

32 For the feare of the Lord is wisedome and nurture: he hath pleasure in faith and louing meekenesse, and he shall fill the treasures thereof.

33 Be not obstinate and vnfaithful to the feare of the Lord, and come not vnto him with a double heart.

34 Be not an hypocrite in the sight of men, and take good heede what thou speakest.

35 Exalt not thy selfe, lest thou happen to fall, and bring thy soule to dishonour: and so discouer thy secrets, and cast thee downe in the midst of the congregatiõ, because thou wouldest not receiue the feare of God, and because thy heart is ful of fainednesse and deceit.

The ii. Chapter.

1 He exhorteth the seruants of God to righteousnesse, loue, vnderstanding and patience, 11 To trust in the Lord. 13 A curse vpon them that are faint hearted and impatient.

1 MY sonne, if * thou wilt come into the seruice of God, stand fast in righteousnes and feare, and arme thy soule to temptation. Matth 4.1. 2.tim 3.12. 1.pet.4.12.

2 Settle thine heart, and bee patient, bowe downe thine eare, receiue the wordes of vnderstanding, and shrinke not away when thou art assaulted.

3 Hold thee fast vpon God, ioyne thy selfe vnto him, and suffer, that thy life may increase at the last.

4 Whatsoeuer happeneth vnto thee, receiue it: suffer in heauinesse, and be patient in thy trouble.

5 * For like as gold and siluer are tried in the fire, euen so are acceptable men in the furnace of aduersitie. Sap 3.6. pro. 17.3.

6 Beleeue in God, and he shall helpe thee: order thy way aright, and put thy trust in him: hold fast his feare, and growe therein.

7 O ye that feare the Lord, take sure hold of his mercy, shrinke not away from him, that ye fall not.

8 O ye that feare the Lord, beleeue him, and your reward shall not be emptie.

9 O ye that feare the Lorde, a trust in good things, and mercy shall come vnto you for pleasure.

a That is, looke for good things, & trust to haue the reward of euerlasting life, promised to them that with patience continue in his feare.

10 O ye that feare the Lord, set your loue vpon him, and your hearts shalbe lightned.

11 Consider the old generations of men (O ye children) and marke them well: was there euer any one confounded that put his trust in the Lord? who euer continued in his feare, & was forsaken? or whom did he euer despise that called faithfully vpon him?

Psal.37.25. 12 *For God is gracious and mercifull, hee forgiueth sinnes in the time of trouble, and is a defender for all them that seeke him in the trueth.

‖Or,double. 13 Wo be vnto thē that haue a ‖ fearefull heart, wicked lips, and euil occupied hands, and to the sinner that goeth two maner of wayes.

14 Woe bee vnto them that are faint hearted, which put not their trust in God, and therefore shall they not be defended of him.

‖Or,them. 15 Wo bee vnto ‖ you that haue lost patience, forsaken the right wayes, & are turned backe into froward wayes: what wil you do when the Lord shall begin to visite you?

Ioh.14.24. 16 *They that feare the Lord, will not disobey his word: and they that loue him, will keepe his commandements.

17 They that feare the Lord, wil seeke out the things that are pleasant vnto him: and they that loue him, be fulfilled with his lawe.

18 They that feare the Lorde, will prepare their hearts, and humble their soules in his sight.

19 They that feare the Lorde, keepe his commandements, and will be patient till they see him selfe,

2.Sam.24.14. 20 Saying, * If we doe not repent, we shall fall into the handes of the Lord, and not into the hands of men.

21 For his mercie is as great as him selfe.

The iii. Chapter.

1 To our father and mother ought wee to giue double honour. 10 Of the blessing and curse of the father and mother.

1 THe children of wisdome are a congregation of the righteous, and their offspring is obedience and loue.

2 Heare your fathers iudgement (O my deare children) and doe thereafter, that ye may be safe.

Exo.20.6. Deut.5.10. 3 *For the Lorde will haue the father honoured of the children: and looke what a mother commaundeth her children to doe, hee will haue it kept.

4 Whoso honoureth his father, his sinnes shalbe forgiuen him: and he shal absteine from them, and shall haue his daily desires.

5 And he that honoureth his mother, is like one that gathereth treasure together.

6 Whoso honoureth his father, shall haue ioy of his owne children: and when hee maketh his maier, he shalbe heard.

7 Hee that honoureth his father, shall haue a long life: and he that is obedient vnto ỹ Lord, shall comfort his mother.

8 He that feareth the Lord, honoureth his father and mother, and doeth them seruice as it were vnto lordes.

Exo.20.12. deut.5.16. 9 *Honour thy father and mother in deede, in worde, and in al patience, that thou maiest haue Gods blessing: and his blessing shall abide with thee at the last.

10 *The blessing of the father stablisheth the houses of the children: but the mothers curse rooteth out the foundations. Gen.27.27. deut.33.1.

11 Reioyce not when thy father is reproued: for it is not honour vnto thee, but a shame.

12 For the worship of a mans father, is his owne worship: and the reproch of the mother, is the dishonestie of the sonne.

13 My sonne, make much of thy father in his age, and grieue him not as long as he liueth.

14 And if his vnderstanding faile, haue pacience with him, and despise not him in thy strength.

15 For the good deede that thou shewest vnto thy father, shall not be forgotten: and when thou thy selfe wantest, it shall be rewarded thee: and for thy mothers offence thou shalt be recompensed with good, yea, it shalbe founded for thee in righteousnesse.

16 And in the day of trouble thou shalt be remembred: thy sinnes also shal melt away, like as the yce in the faire warme weather.

17 Hee that forsaketh his father, shal come to shame: and he that defieth his mother, is cursed of God.

18 My sonne, perfourme thy workes with louing meekenesse, so shalt thou be loued aboue other men.

23 But looke what God hath commāded thee, thinke vpon that alway, and be not curious in many of his workes: for it is not needeful for thee to see with thine eyes the things that are secret.

24 Make not too much search in superfluous things, and bee not curious in many of his workes: for many things are shewed vnto thee already, which be aboue the capacitie of men.

25 The medling with such hath beguiled many a man, and tangled their wits in vanitie.

Psal.40.2. dan.4.24. matth.5.7.

The iiii. Chapter.

1 Almes must be done with gentlenesse. 12 The study of wisedome and her fruite. 20 An exhortation to eschew euill, and to do good.

Deut.15.4. tob.4.7. matth.23.23.

1 MY* sonne, defraude not the poore of his almes, and turne not away thine eyes from him that hath neede.

2 Despise not an hungry soule, and defie not the poore in his necessitie.

3 Grieue not the heart of him that is helpelesse, & withdrawe not the gift from the needefull.

4 Refuse not the prayer of one that is in trouble, turne not away thy face from the needie.

5 Call not thine eyes aside from the poore for any euill will, that thou giue him not occasion to speake euill of thee.

6 For if he complaine of thee in the bitternesse of his soule, his prayer shalbe heard: euen hee that made him shall heare him.

7 Be courteous vnto the company of the poore, humble thy soule vnto thy elder, and bowe downe thy head to a man of worship.

8 Let it not grieue thee to bowe downe thine eare vnto the poore, [a] but pay thy debt, & giue him a friendly answere, and that with meekenesse.

a As a man must of duetie be curteous to the poore, humble to the ancient, bowe downe to the worshipfull: so is it his duetie to comfort, to helpe, and deliuer the innocent and simple soule from the crueltie of the vngodly.

9 Deliuer him that suffereth wrong, from the hand of the oppressour: and be not faynt hearted when thou sittest in iudgement.

10 Be mercifull vnto the fatherlesse as a father, and be in steade of an husband vnto their mother: so shalt thou be an obedient sonne of the highest, and hee shall loue thee more then thy mother doeth.

11 Wisedome exalteth her children, receiueth them that seeke her, and will goe before them in the way of righteousnesse.

12 He that loueth her, loueth life: and they that seeke her diligently, shall haue great ioy.

13 They that keepe her, shall inherite glory: for where she entreth in, there is the blessing of God.

14 They that honour her, shall be the seruants of the holy one: and they that loue her, are beloued of God.

15 Whoso giueth eare vnto her, shal iudge the heathen: and he that ‖ hath respect vnto her, shall dwell safely. ‖ Or, giueth.

16 He that beleeueth her, shall haue her in possession, and his generation shall endure.

17 For when he ‖ falleth, she doth go with him, and chuseth him among the best: feare, dread, and temptation shall she bring vpon him, and try him in her doctrine, till she haue so proued him in his thoughts, that he commit his soule vnto her. ‖ Or, walketh.

18 Then shall she stablish him, bring the right way vnto him, make him a glad man, shew him her secrets, and heape vpon him the treasures of knowledge, and vnderstanding of righteousnesse.

19 But if he go wrong, she shall forsake him, & giue him ouer into the handes of destruction and ruine.

20 *My sonne, make much of the time, eschew the thing that is euil: Rom.12.11.

21 And for thy life shame not to say the trueth: [b] for there is a shame that bringeth sinne, and there is a shame that bringeth worship and fauour.

b To be ashamed to confesse thy God, thy faith, to testifie the truth, & to reproone sinne, doth bring sinne vnto thee: the contrary shame bringeth worship.

22 Accept no person after thine owne will, that thou be not confounded to thine owne decay: Be not ashamed of thy neighbour in his aduersitie.

23 And keepe not backe thy counsell when it may do good, neither hide thy wisedome in her beautie.

24 For in the tongue is wisdome knowen, so is vnderstanding, knowledge, and learning, in the talking of the wise, and stedfastnes in the workes of righteousnes.

25 In no wise speake against ỹ word of trueth, but bee ashamed of the lies of thine owne ignorance.

26 Shame not to confesse thine errour, and resist not the course of the riuer.

27 And submit not thy selfe vnto a foolish man, neither accept the person of the mightie.

28 And striue thou not against the streame: but for righteousnesse take paines with all thy soule, and for the trueth striue thou vnto death, & God shall fight for thee against thine enemies.

29 Be not hasty in thy tongue, neither slacke and negligent in thy workes.

30 Bee not as a lion in thine owne house, destroying thy houshold folkes, and oppressing them that are vnder thee.

31 Let not thine hand bee stretched out to receiue, and shut when thou shouldest giue.

4 And say not, I haue sinned, and what euill hath happened me? for the almightie is a patient rewarder.
5 Because thy sinne is forgiuen thee, bee not therefore without feare, neither heape one sinne vpon another.
Eccl.35.1. 6 And say not, Tush, the * mercy of the Lord is great, he shal forgiue me my sinnes be they neuer so many: for like as he is mercifull, so goeth wrath from him also, and his indignation commeth downe vpon sinners.
Eccl.18.13. 7 * Make no tarying to turne vnto the Lord, and put not off from day to day: for sodainly shall his wrath come, and in the time of vengeance he shall destroy thee.
Pro.10.2. ecclus.7.13. 8 Trust not in * wicked riches, for they shall not helpe thee in the day of punishment and wrath.

16 Do not rashly, neither in great nor small.

The vi. Chapter.

1 It is the propertie of a sinner to be euil tongued. 6 Of friendship. 33 Desire to be taught.

1 BE not of a friend an enemie: [a] for such a man getteth an euill name, shame, and rebuke: and whosoeuer beareth enuie, and a double tongue, offendeth.
2 Be not proud in the deuice of thine vnderstanding: lest thy soule rent thee as a [b] bull,
3 And lest thy leaues wither, and thy fruite be destroyed, and so thou bee left as a dry tree in the wildernesse.
4 For a wicked soule destroyeth him that hath it, maketh him to be laughed to scorne of his enemies, and bringeth him to the portion of the vngodly.
5 A sweete word multiplieth friends, and pacifieth them that bee at variance: and a thankfull tongue wil be plenteous in a good man.
6 Hold friendship with many: neuertheless, haue but one counseller of a thousand.
7 If thou getteſt a friend, proone him first, and be not hastie to giue him credence.
8 For some man is a friend but for his owne turne, and wil not abide in the day of trouble.
9 And there is some friend that turneth to enmitie, and taketh part against thee: and if he know any hurt by thee, he telleth it out.
10 * Againe, some friend is but a companion at the table: and in the day of neede he continueth not. Eccl.37.5.
11 But in thy prosperitie he will bee as thou thy selfe, and deale plainely with thy household folke.
12 If thou be brought lowe, he will be against thee, and will be hidden from thy face.
13 Depart from thine enemies, yea, & beware of thy friends.
14 A faithful friend is a strong defence, whoso findeth such one, findeth a treasure.
15 A faithfull friend hath no peere, the weight of gold and siluer is not to be compared to the goodnesse of his faith.
16 A faithful friend is a medicine of life and immortalitie, and they that feare the Lord shall find him.
17 Whoso feareth the Lord, shall prosper with friends: and as hee is himselfe, so shall his friends be also.
18 My sonne, receiue doctrine from thy youth vp, so shalt thou finde wisedome till thou bee olde.
19 Goe to her as to one that ploweth and soweth, and waite patiently for her good fruits: for thou shalt haue but litle labour in her worke, but thou shalt eate of her fruites right soone.
20 O how exceeding sharpe is wisedome to vnlearned men: an vnstedfast body will not remaine in her.
21 Vnto such she is as it were a touchstone, & he casteth her from him in all the haste.
22 For wisedome is with him but in name, there are but few þ haue knowledge of her.
23 But with them that know her, she abideth euen vnto the appearing of God.
24 Giue eare, my sonne, receiue my doctrine, and refuse not my counsell.

poke vpon thy necke.

Matth.11.39. 26 *Bowe downe thy shoulder vnto her, beare her patiently, and be not wearie of her bands.

27 Come vnto her with thy whole heart, and keepe her wayes with all thy power.

28 Seeke after her, and she shalbe shewed thee: and when thou hast her, forsake her not.

29 For at the last thou shalt finde rest in her, & that shalbe turned to thy great ioy.

30 Then shall her fetters be a strong defence for thee, and her poke a glorious rayment.

31 For there is a golden ornament in her, and her bands are laces of purple colour.

32 Thou shalt put her on as a robe of honour, & shalt put her about thee as a crowne of ioy.

33 My sonne, if thou wilt take heede, thou shalt haue vnderstanding, and if thou wilt apply thy mind, thou shalt be wise.

34 If thou wilt bowe downe thine eare, thou shalt receiue doctrine: and if thou delight in hearing, thou shalt be wise.

Eccle.8.9. 35 *Stand with the multitude of such elders as haue vnderstãding, and consent vnto their wisedome with thine heart, 36 That thou mayest heare al godly sermons, & that the worthy sentences escape thee not.

37 And if thou seest a man of discreete vnderstanding, get thee soone vnto him, and let thy foote treade vpon the steps of his doores.

Psal.1.2. 38 Let thy *minde bee vpon the commaundements of God, and be earnestly occupied in his lawes: so shall he stablish thy heart, and giue thee wisedome at thine owne desire.

The vii. Chapter.

1 We must forsake euill, and yet not iustifie our selues.
23 The behauiour of the wise towarde his wife, his friend, his children, his seruants, his father & mother.

1 DOe no euill, so shall there no harme happen vnto thee.

2 Depart away from the thing that is wicked, and no misfortune shall meddle with thee.

3 My sonne, sowe no euill things in the furrowes of vnrighteousnesse, so shalt thou not reape them seuen folde.

4 Labour not to the Lorde for preeminence, neither vnto the king for the seate of honour.

Psal.142.2. eccle.7.17. iob.9.20. luke 18.11. 5 *Iustifie not thy selfe before God, for he knoweth the heart: and desire not to be reputed wise in the presence of the king.

6 Make no labour to be made a Iudge, except it were so that thou couldest mightily put downe wickednes: for if thou shouldest stand in awe of the presence of the mighty, thou shouldest fayle in giuing sentence.

7 Offend not in the multitude of the citie, and put not thy selfe among the people.

Eccle.12.5. 8 *Binde not two sinnes together: for in one sinne thou shalt not be vnpunished.

9 Say not, Tush, God will looke vpon the multitude of my oblations, and when I offer to the highest God, he wil accept it.

10 Be not faint hearted when thou makest thy prayer, neither slacke in giuing of almes.

11 Laugh no man to scorne in the beauinesse of his soule, for God (which seeth all things) is he that can bring downe, and set vp againe.

12 *Accept no leasing against thy brother, neither do the same against thy friend. 1.Sam.2.7.

13 Use not to make any maner of lye: for the custome thereof is not good.

14 Make not many wordes when thou art among the elders: & when thou prayest, make not much babbling.

15 Let no labourous workes be tedious vnto thee, neither the husbandry which the almighty hath created.

16 Make not thy boast in the multitude of thy wickednesse: but humble thy selfe euen from thine heart.

17 And remember that the wrath shall not be long in tarrying, & that the vengeance of the flesh of the vngodly is a very fire and worme.

18 Giue not ouer thy friend for any good, nor thy faithfull brother for the best gold.

19 Depart not from a discreete and good woman that is fallen vnto thee for thy portion in the feare of the Lord: for the gift of her honestie is aboue golde.

20 *Whereas thy seruant worketh truely, entreate him not euill, nor the hireling that is faithfull vnto thee. Leuit.19.13.

21 Loue a discrete seruant as thine own soule, defraude him not of his libertie, neither leaue him a poore man.

22 *If thou haue cattel, looke well to them: and if they be for thy profite, keepe them. Deut.25.4.

23 If thou hast sonnes, bring them vp in nurture and learning, & holde them in awe from their youth vp.

24 If thou haue daughters, keepe their body, & shewe not thy face cheareful toward them.

25 Marry thy daughter, and so shalt thou performe a weightie matter: but giue her to a man of vnderstanding.

26 If thou haue a wife after thine owne mind, forsake her not: but commit not thy selfe vnto the hatefull.

27 Honour thy father from thy whole heart: and forget not the sorowfull trauaile that thy mother had with thee.

28 Remember that thou wast borne through them, and how canst thou recompense them the things that they haue done for thee?

29 Feare the Lorde with all thy soule, and honour his ministers.

30 Loue thy maker with all thy strength, and forsake not his seruants.

31 Feare the Lorde with all thy soule, and honour his Priests: giue them their portion of the first fruites & increase of the earth, like as it is commaunded thee, and reconcile thy selfe of thy negligence with the litle flocke, giue them the shoulders, and their appointed offerings, and firstlings.

32 Reach thine hand vnto the poore, that God may blesse thee with plenteousnesse.

33 Be liberall vnto all men liuing: yet let not but doe good euen to them that are [a] dead.

34 Let not them that weepe bee without comfort, but mourne with such as mourne.

35 Let it not grieue thee to visite the sicke, for that shall make thee to be beloued.

36 Whatsoeuer thou takest in hand, remember the end, and thou [b] shalt neuer do amisse.

a To burp their bodies with honour, against the day of the resurrection, as did Abraham, Joseph, &c. to succour and helpe, and deale faithfully and truely with their children committed to thy charge, as did Dauid with the children of his friend Jonathan. b Doe all things to the glory of God, and the profite of thy neighbour, or otherwise remember the day of death, of the last iudgement of euerlasting ioy and paine.

The viii. Chapter.

We must take heede with whom we haue to doe.

1 STriue not with a mightie man, lest thou chaunce to fall into his hands.

Matt.5.25. 2 *Make no variance with a rich man, lest he happen to bring vp an harde quarell against thee: for *golde and siluer hath vndone many a man, yea, euen the hearts of kings hath it made to fall. Eccl.31.6.

3 Striue not with a man that is ful of words, and lay no stickes vpon his fire.

4 Keepe no company with the vnlearned, lest he giue thy kinred an euill report.

Gal.6.2. 2.cor.2,6. 5 *Despise not a man that turneth him selfe away from sinne, and cast him not in the teeth withall: but remember that we are fraile euery one.

Leuit.19.32. 6 *Thinke scorne of no man in his olde age: for we waxe olde also.

7 Be not glad of the death of thine enemie: but remember that we must die all the sort of vs, and faine would we come into ioy.

Gal.6.33. 8 *Despise not the sermons of such elders as haue vnderstanding, but acquaint thy selfe with the wise sentences of them: for of them thou shalt learne wisedome, and the doctrine of vnderstanding, and how to serue great men without complaint.

9 Goe not from the doctrine of the elders, for they haue learned it of their fathers: for of them thou shalt learne vnderstanding, so that thou mayest make answere in the time of neede.

10 Kindle not the coales of sinners when thou rebukest them, lest thou be burnt in the fierie flames of their sinnes.

11 Resist not the face of the blasphemer, that they lay not waite for thy mouth.

Eccl.19.4. 12 *Lende not vnto him that is mightier then thy selfe: if thou lendest him, count it but lost.

13 Be not suretie aboue thy power: if thou be, then thinke surely to pay it.

14 Goe not to lawe with the Iudge: for he will iudge according to his owne honour.

15 *Trauaile not by the way with him that is braineless, lest he do thee euil: for he followeth his owne wilfulnesse, and so shalt thou perish through his folie. Gen.4.8.

16 *Striue not with him that is angrie and cruell, and goe not with him into the wildernes: for blood is nothing in his sight, & where there is no helpe, he shall murder thee. Pro.22.24.

17 Take no counsaile at fooles: for they can not keepe a thing close.

18 Doe no secrete thing before a stranger: for thou canst not tell what will come of it.

19 Open not thy heart vnto euery man, lest he be vnfaithfull to thee, & put thee to reproofe.

The ix. Chapter.

1 Of ielousie. 12 An olde friend is to be preferred before a newe.

1 BE not ielous ouer the wife of thy bosome, that shee shewe not some shrewde poynt, [a] lest thou teach her an euill lesson against thy selfe.

a Let her not haue rule ouer thee, for then will she be contrary vnto thee, take away thy heart and strength, and bring thee to confusion among thine enemies, as did Eua to Adam, Dalila to Samson, and strange wome to Solomon.

2 Giue not the power of thy life vnto a woman, lest she come in thy strength, and so thou be confounded.

3 Looke not vpon a woman that is desirous of many men, lest thou fall into her snares.

4 Use not the company of a woman that is a player and a dauncer, and heare her not, lest thou perish through her entising.

5 Beholde not a maiden, that thou be not hurt in her beautie.

6 Cast not thy minde vpon harlots in any maner of thing, lest thou destroy both thy selfe and thine heritage.

7 Goe not about gasing in euery lane of the citie, neither wãder thou abroad in the streets thereof.

8 *Turne away thy face from a beautifull woman, and looke not vpon the faireneſſe of other: many a mã hath bin deceiued through the beauty of women, for through it the desire is kindled as it were a fire. Gen.34.22. 1.sam.11.2. iudith 10.17.

9 An adulterous woman shall be troden vnder foote as myre, of euery one that goeth by the way.

10 Many a man woondering at the beautie of a strange woman, hath bene cast out: for her woordes kindle as a fire.

11 Sit not with another mans wife by any meanes, lie not with her vpon the bed, make no woords with her at ỹ wine, lest thine heart consent vnto her, and so thou with thy blood fall into destruction.

12 Forsake not an olde friend, for the newe shall not be like him: a newe friend is newe wine, let him be olde, and thou shalt drinke him with pleasure.

13 Desire not the honour and riches of a sinner: for thou knowest not what *destruction is Iudith 9.3.

for

for to come vpon him.
14 Delight not thou in the thing that the vngodly hath pleasure in, being sure that ỳ vngodly shal not be accepted vntill their graue.
15 Keepe thee from the man that hath power to slay, so needest thou not to bee afraid of death: & if thou comest vnto him, make no fault, least he happen to take away thy life: remember that thou goest in the middest of snares, & vpon the bulwarkes of the citie.
Eccl.7,8. 16 *Beware of thy neighbour as nigh as thou canst, and meddle with such as bee wise, and haue vnderstanding.
17 Let iust men be thy ghestes, let thy mirth be in the feare of God.
18 Let the remembrãce of God be in thy mind, and let all thy talking bee in the commandements of the highest.
19 In the hands of craftesmen shal the workes be commended: so shal the princes of the people in the wisedome of their talking.
20 A man full of wordes, is perillous in his citie: and he that is rash in his talking, shal be abhorred.

The x. Chapter.

1 Of kings and iudges. 7 Pride and couetousnesse are to be abhorred. 38 Labour is praised.

1 A Wise iudge wil order his people with discretion: and where a man of vnderstanding beareth rule, there goeth it well.
Pro.29.12. 2 *As the iudge of the people is himselfe, euen so are his officers: and looke what maner of man the ruler of the citie is, such are they that dwell therein also.
3 An vnwise king destroyeth his people: but where they that bee in authoritie are men of vnderstanding, there the citie prospereth.
4 The power of the earth is in the hand of God, and al iniquitie of the people is to be abhorred, and when time is, he shall set a profitable rule vpon it.
5 In the hand of God is the prosperitie of man, and vpon the person of the scribe shal he lay his honour.
Leuit.19.17. 6 *Be not angry for any wrong of thy neighbour, and meddle thou with no vnrighteous workes.
a That is, chiefly idolatry in false religion, & wantonnesse and banitie in life. 7 Pride is hatefull before God and man, [a]and all wickednes of the heathē is to be abhorred.
8 Because of vnrighteous dealing, wrong, blasphemies, & diuers deceites, a realme shall be translated from one people to another.
9 There is nothing worse then a couetous man: why art thou proud, O thou earth and ashes? there is not a more wicked thing then to loue money: and why? such one hath his soule to sell, yet is he but filthy dung while he liueth.
10 Many annie is of small endurance, and the disease that is hard to heale, grieueth the Physition.
11 And though the physition shew his helpe neuer so long, yet in conclusion it goeth after this maner, To day a king, to morow dead.
12 For when a man dieth, he is the heire of serpents, beasts, and wormes.
13 The beginning of mans pride, is to fall away from God: and why? his heart is gone from his maker.
14 For pride is the originall of all sinne: who so taketh hold thereof, shall be filled with cursings, and at the last it shall ouerthrowe him: therefore hath the Lord brought the congregations of the wicked to dishonour, and destroyed them to the end.
15 God hath destroyed the seates of proud princes, and set vp the meeke in their stead.
16 God hath withered the rootes of the proud heathen, and planted the lowly for them.
17 God hath ouerthrowen the lands of the heathen, & destroyed them vnto the ground: hee hath caused them to wither away, hee hath brought them to nought, & made the memoriall of them to cease from out of the earth.
18 God hath destroyed the name of the proud, and left the name of the humble in mind.
19 Pride was not made for man, neither wrathfulnesse for mens children.
20 The seede of men that feareth God, shall be brought to honour: but the seed which transgresseth the commaundements of the Lord, shalbe shamed.
21 He that is the ruler among brethren, is holden in honour among them: and he that regardeth such as feare the Lord, is acceptable in his sight.
22 The feare of the Lord causeth that the kingdome faileth not: but the kingdome is lost by crueltie and pride.
23 The glory of the riche, of the honourable, and of the poore, is the feare of God.
24 Despise not thou ỳ iust poore man that hath vnderstanding, and magnifie not the rich vngodly.
25 Great is the iudge, and mighty in honour, yet is there none greater then he that feareth God.
26 *Vnto the seruaunt that is discreete, shall the free doe seruice: he that is wise and well nurtured, will not grudge when he is reproued, and an ignorant body shall not come to honour. Pro.17.2. 2.sam.12.1.&c.
27 Be not proud to do thy worke, and dispaire not in the time of aduersitie.
28 *Better is he that laboureth, & hath plenteousnesse of all things, then he that is gorgeous, and wanteth bread. Pro.12.9.
29 My sonne, get thy soule honour by meekenesse, and giue her her due honour.
30 Who shall iustifie him that sinneth against himselfe? Who will honour him that dishono-reth his owne soule?

31 The poore is honoured for his faithfulnesse and trueth: but the rich is had in reputation because of his goods.

32 He that ordereth himselfe honestly in pouertie, how much more shall he behaue himselfe honestly in riches? and whoso ordereth himselfe honestly in riches, how much more shall he behaue himselfe honestly in pouertie?

The xi. Chapter.

1 The praise of humilitie. 2 After the outward appearance ought we not to iudge.

Gen.41.40. dan.6.3. 1 THe *wisedome of him that is brought lowe, shall lift vp his head, and shall make him to sit among great men.

2 Commend not thou a man in his beautie, neither despise a man in his vtter appearance.

3 The Bee is but a small beast among the foules, yet is her fruit exceeding sweete.

Ecclus 12.21. 4 *Bee not proud of thy raiment, and exalt not thy selfe in the day of thy honour: for the workes of the highest onely are wonderfull: yea, glorious, secret, and vnknowen are his workes.

5 Many tyrants haue bene faine to sit downe vpon the earth; and the vnlikely hath worne the crowne.

1.Reg.15.28. esth.6.10. 6 *Many mighty men haue bene brought lowe, and the honourable haue bene deliuered into other mens hands.

Deut.12.24. 7 *Condemne no man before thou haue tried out the matter: and when thou hast made inquisition, then reforme righteously.

Pro.8.13. 8 *Giue no sentence before thou hast heard the cause: but first let men tell out their tales.

9 Striue not for a matter that toucheth not thy selfe, and stand not in the iudgement of sinners.

Matt.19.22. 1.tim.6.9. 10 *My sonne, meddle not with many matters: & if thou gatne much, thou shalt not be blameless, and if thou follow after it, thou shalt not attaine it, and though thou runnest thy way afore, yet shalt thou not escape.

Pro.10.13. 11 *There is some man that laboureth and taketh paine, and the more he wearieth himself, the lesse he hath.

12 Againe, some man is slouthfull, hath need of helpe, wanteth strength, and hath great pouertie:

Iob 34.10. 13 *And Gods eye looketh vpon him to good, setteth him from his lowe estate, and lifteth vp his head: so that many men maruel at him, and giue honour vnto God.

Iob 1.21. eccli.28.4. 14 *Prosperitie, and aduersitie, life, and death, pouertie, and riches, come all of the Lord.

15 Wisedome, nurture, and knowledge of the lawe are with God, loue, & the wayes of good are with him.

16 Errour and darkenes are made for sinners, and they that exalt themselues in euill, waxe olde in euil.

17 The gift of God remaineth for the righteous: and his good will shall haue prosperitie for euer.

18 Some man is rich by his care and nigardship, and that is the portion of his reward:

19 In that he saith, *Now haue I gotten rest, and now will I eate and drinke of my goods my selfe alone: and yet hee considereth not that the time draweth nigh, and death approcheth that he must leaue all these things vnto other men, and die himselfe. Luk.12.9.

20 *Stand thou fast in thy couenant, and exercise thy selfe therein: & remaine in the worke vnto thy age. Matt.10.22.

21 Maruell not at the workes of sinners, but put thy trust in God, and bide in thy labour: for it is but an easie thing in the sight of God to make a poore man rich, & that suddenly.

22 The blessing of God hasteth to the reward of the righteous, and maketh his fruits soone to flourish and prosper.

23 Say not, What helpeth it me? and what good thing shall I haue hereafter?

24 Againe, say not, I haue ynough, how can I want?

25 When thou art in *welfare, forget not thine aduersitie, & when it goeth not wel with thee, haue a good hope that it shalbe better: Eccl.18.2.

26 For it is but a small thing vnto God in the day of death, to reward euery man according to his wayes.

27 The aduersitie of an houre maketh one to forget all pleasure: and when a man dieth, his workes are discouered.

28 Iudge no man blessed before his death: for a man shalbe knowen in his children.

29 Bring not euery man into thine house: for the deceitfull laieth waite diuersly, and [a] are like stomacks that belch filthily.

a That is, after they know thy secrets, better the same with filthy railings.

30 Like as a partrich in a maund, so is the heart of the proud: and like as a spie that looketh vpon the fall of his neighbour.

31 For he turneth good vnto euill, and slandereth the chosen.

32 Of one sparke is made a great fire, & of one deceitful man is blood encreased: and an vngodly man laieth waite for blood.

33 Beware of the deceitfull, for he imagineth wicked things, to bring thee into a perpetual shame.

34 If thou takest an aliant vnto thee, hee shall destroy thee in vnquietnes, & driue thee from thine owne wayes.

The xii. Chapter.

2 Vnto whom we ought to do good. 10 Enemies ought not to be trusted.

1 WHen thou wilt do good, know to whom thou doest it, and so shalt thou bee greatly thanked for thy benefites.

2 Doe good vnto the righteous, and thou shalt finde great rewarde, though not of him, yet [no doubt] the Lord him selfe shall reward thee.

3 Hee standeth not in a good case that is alway occupied in euill, and giueth no almes: for the highest hateth the sinners, and hath mercie vpon them that shewe the workes of repentance.

4 Giue thou vnto such as feare God, and receiue not a sinner.

5 As for the vngodly and sinners, hee shall recompense vengeance vnto them, and keepe them to the day of wrath.

6 Giue thou vnto the good, and receiue not the sinner, doe well vnto him that is lowly, but giue not to the vngodly: Let not the head bee giuen him, that he be not mightier then thy selfe therein: for so shalt thou receyue twise as much euill, in all that good that thou doest vnto him.

7 And why? the highest hateth sinners, & shal reward vengeance to the vngodly.

8 In prosperitie a friend shalbe knowen, and in aduersitie an enemie shal not be hid.

9 For when a man is in wealth, it grieueth his enemies: but in heauinesse and trouble a mans very friend will depart from him.

10 Trust neuer thine enemie: for like as yron rusteth, so doeth his wickednesse.

11 And though hee make much crouching and kneeling, yet keepe well thy minde, and beware of him, and thou shalt be to him as hee that wipeth a glasse, and thou shalt knowe that all his rust hath not bene well wiped away.

12 Set him not by thee, neither let him sit at thy right hand: least he turne him, get into thy place, take thy roome, and seeke thy seate, and so thou at the last remember my wordes, and be pricked at my sayings.

13 Bind not two sinnes together: for there shal not one be vnpunished.

14 Who wil haue pitie of the Charmer that is stinged of the Serpent, or of all such as come nigh the beastes?

15 Euen so is it with him that keepeth companie with the wicked man, and lappeth himselfe in his sinnes.

16 For a season will he bide with thee: but if thou stumble, he tarieth not.

Iere.41.6. 17 An enemie is sweete in his *lippes, hee can make many wordes, and speake many good things: Yea, he can weepe with his eyes, but in his heart hee imagineth howe to throwe thee into the pit, and if hee may finde opportunitie, he will not be satisfied with blood.

18 If aduersitie come vpon thee, thou shalt find him there first: and though he pretende to do thee helpe, yet shall he vndermine thee.

19 He shall shake his head and clap his handes ouer thee for very gladnes: and while he maketh many wordes, he shall disguise his countenance.

The xiii. Chapter.

1 The companies of the proud and of the rich are to be eschewed. 15 The loue of God. 17 Like do companie with their like.

1 WHoso toucheth pitch, shalbe defiled withall: *and he that is familiar with the proude, shall clothe himselfe with pride. Deut.7.2.

2 He taketh a burden vpon him, that accompanieth a more honourable man then himselfe, therefore keepe no familiaritie with one that is richer then thy selfe: Howe agree the kettle and the pot together? for if the one bee smitten against the other, it shalbe broken.

3 The rich dealeth vnrighteously, and threatneth withall: but the poore being oppressed, and wrongfully dealt withal, suffereth scarcenesse, and giueth faire wordes. If the rich haue done wrong, yet must he bee entreated: but if the poore haue done it, he shal straightwayes be threatned.

4 If thou be for his profite, he vseth thee: but if thou haue nothing, he shall forsake thee.

5 As long as thou hast any thing of thine owne, he shalbe a good fellow with thee: yea, he shall make thee a bare man, and not be sorie for thee.

6 If he haue neede of thee, hee shall defraude thee, and with a priuie mocke shal he put thee in an hope, and giue thee all good words, and say, What wantest thou?

7 Thus shall he shame thee in his meate, vntil he haue supt thee cleane vp twise or thrise, and at the last shall he laugh thee to scorne: afterward, when hee seeth that thou hast nothing, he shall forsake thee, & shake his head at thee.

8 Submit thy selfe vnto God, and wait vpon his hand.

9 Beware that thou be not deceiued & brought downe in thy simplenesse: be not too humble in thy wisdome, least when thou art brought low, thou be deceiued through foolishnesse.

10 If thou be called of a mighty mã, absent thy selfe, so shall hee call thee to him the more oft.

11 Preasse not thou vnto him, that thou bee not shut out: but go not thou farre off, lest he forget thee.

12 Withdrawe not thy selfe from his speach, but beleeue not his many wordes: for with much communication shal he temper her, and with a priuie mocke shall hee question with thee of thy secrets.

13 The vnmercifull minde of his shall marke thy wordes, hee shall not spare to doe thee hurt, and to put thee in prison.

14 Beware and take good heede to thy selfe, for thou walkest in perill of thy ouerthrowing:

ing: Now when thou hearest his words, make thee as though thou wast in a dreame, and wake vp.

15 Loue God all thy life long, and call vpon him in thy neede.

16 Euery beast loueth his like: euen so let euery man loue his neighbour.

17 All flesh will resort to their like, and euery man will keepe company with such as he is himselfe.

18 But as the Woolfe agreeth with ỹ lambe: so doeth the vngodly with the righteous.

a That is, with a sinner that returneth continually to his sin againe as a dogge to his vomite: or els after the other translation, Hyena is a subtill beast, watching about sheepheards folds, resembling a mans voyce, and learning certaine names, doeth call the forth, and so destroy them, whose nature is contrary to the dog, which is a keeper of the folds, & friendly vnto man.

19 *What peace is there betweene Hyena and a dogge? how can the rich and the poore agree together?

20 The wilde Asse is the Lions pray in ỹ wildernesse: euen so are poore men the meate of the rich.

21 Like as the proude may not away with lowlinesse: euen so doeth the rich abhorre the poore.

22 If a rich man fall, his friendes set him vp againe: but when the poore falleth, his acquaintance forsake him.

23 If a rich man fall into an error, he hath many helpers, he speaketh proude wordes, and yet men iustifie him: but if a poore man goe wrong, he is punished, yea though he speake wisely, yet can it haue no place.

24 When the rich man speaketh, euery body holdeth his tongue, and looke what he saieth, they praise it vnto the clouds: but if the poore man speake, they say, What fellowe is this? and if he doe amisse, they shall destroy him.

25 Riches are good vnto him ỹ hath no sinne in his conscience: and pouertie is a wicked thing in the mouth of the vngodly.

26 The heart of man changeth his countenance, whether it be in good or euill.

27 A chearefull countenance is a token of a good heart: for els it is an hard thing to know the thought.

The xiiii. Chapter.

1 The offence of the tongue. 17 Man is but a vaine thing. 21 Happy is he that continueth in wisedome.

Eccle. 19.16. and 25.11. iames 3.2.

1 BLessed* is the man that hath not fallen with the word of his mouth, and is not pricked with the conscience of sinne.

2 Happie is he that hath no heauinesse in his minde, and is not fallen from his hope in the Lorde.

3 It becommeth not a couetous man and a niggarde to be rich: and what should an enuious man doe with money?

4 He that with all his carefulnesse heapeth together vnrighteously, gathereth for other folkes, and another man shall make good cheare with his goods.

5 He that is wicked vnto himselfe, how should he be good vnto others? how can such one haue any pleasure of his goods?

6 There is nothing worse then when one disfauoureth himselfe: and this is a rewarde of his wickednesse.

7 If he doeth any good, he doeth it, not knowing thereof and against his will, and at the last he declareth his vngratiousnesse.

8 A niggard hath a wicked eye, he turneth away his face, and despiseth men.

9 *A couetous mans eye hath neuer ynough in the portion of wickednesse, vntill the time that he wyther away, and haue lost his owne soule. Prou. 17.20.

10 aA wicked eye enuieth bread, and there is scarcenesse vpon his table.

a For he that is couetous & enuious, coueteth all lost that is not laide vp for himselfe, & pyneth away at another mans wealth.

11 My sonne, doe good to thy selfe of that thou hast, and giue the Lord his due offerings.

12 Remember that death tarieth not, and how that the bgraue is not shewed vnto thee: for the couenant of this world shall die the death.

b Though death be certaine, yet the time of it is vnknowen to thee. Tob. 4 7. luke 14.13.

13 *Doe good vnto thy friend before thou die, and according to thy habilitie reache out thy hand, and giue vnto the poore.

14 Be not disappointed of the good day, and let not the portion of the good desire ouerpasse thee.

15 Shalt thou not leaue thy trauailes and labours vnto other men? In the diuiding of the heritage giue and take, and sanctifie thy soule.

16 Worke thou righteousnes before thy death: for in the hell there is no meate to finde.

17 *All flesh shall fade away like a garment, and like a flourishing leafe in a greene tree. Esai 40.5. iames 1.10. 1.pet. 1.24.

18 Some growe, some are cast downe: euen so is the generation of flesh and blood: one commeth to an ende, another is borne, and this is the condition of all times, thou shalt die the death.

19 All transitorie things shall faile at the last, and the worker thereof shall goe withall.

20 Euery chosen worke shalbe iustified, and he that medled withall, shall haue honour therein.

21 *Blessed is the man that keepeth him in wisedome, and exerciseth himselfe in vnderstanding, and with discretion shall thinke vpon the foreknowledge of God, Psal. 1.2.

22 Which considereth the wayes of wisedome in his heart, hath vnderstanding in her secretes, 23 Goeth after her as one that seeketh her out, and continueth in her wayes.

24 He looketh in at her windowes, and harkeneth at her doores.

25 He taketh his rest beside her house, and fastneth his stake in her walles: he shall pitch his tent nigh vnto her hand, and in his tent shall good things rest for euermore.

26 He shall set his children vnder her couering, and shall dwell vnder her branches.

27 Vnder her couering shall he be defended fro the the heate, and in the glory shall he rest.

The xv. Chapter.

1 The goodnes that followeth him which feareth God. 8 God reiecteth and casteth off the sinner. 11 God is not the authour of euill.

1 HE that feareth God, wil doe good, and whoso keepeth the lawe, shal obteine wisedome.

2 As an honourable mother shall shee meete him, and [a] she as his wife maryed of a virgin shall receiue him.

a As a pure virgin newly maryed, doeth friendly entreate her husband: so shall iustice pure and undefiled, gently entertaine her louers. Matth.4.4. Iohn.4.10.

3 *With the bread of life and vnderstanding shall she feede him, and giue him the water of wholsome wisedome to drinke.

4 If he be constant in her, he shall not be moued, and if he holde him fast by her, he shal not come to confusion.

5 She shall bring him to honour among his neighbours, and in the middest of the congregation shall shee open his mouth: With the spirit of wisedome and vnderstanding shal she fill him, and clothe him with the garment of glory.

6 She shall heape the treasure of myrth and ioy vpon him, and giue him an euerlasting name to heritage.

7 Foolish men will not take holde vpon her, but such as haue vnderstanding will meete her: foolish men shall not see her, for she is farre from pride and deceite.

8 Men that goe about with lies, will not remember her: but men of trueth shalbe found in her, and shall prosper euen vnto the beholding of God.

9 Praise is not seemely in the mouth of the vngodly, for he is not sent of the Lord.

10 But if praise come of wisedome, & be plenteous in a faithfull mouth, then the Lord will prosper it.

11 Say not thou, It is the Lords fault that I am gone by: for thou shalt not doe the thing that God hateth.

12 Say not thou, He caused me to doe wrong: for he hath no neede of the vngodly.

13 God hateth all abomination of errour, and they that feare God, will loue none such.

Gene.1.20. 14 God made man from the *beginning, & left him in the hand of his counsell: he gaue him his commandements and preceptes.

Matth.19.17. 15 *If thou wilt obserue ỹ commandements, and keepe acceptable faithfulnesse for euer, they shall preserue thee.

16 He hath set water and fire before thee, reach out thine hand vnto which thou wilt.

Iere.21.8. 17 *Before man is life and death, good and euill: looke what him liketh, shalbe giuen him.

18 For the wisedome of God is great & mighty in power, and beholdeth all things continually.

Psal.33.16. 19 *The eyes of the Lord are vpon them that feare him, and he knoweth all the workes of man.

20 He hath commanded no man to doe vngodly, neither hath he giuen any man licence to sinne: for he desireth not a multitude of infidels and vnprofitable children.

The xvi. Chapter.

1 Of vnhappie and wicked children. 39 No man can hide himselfe from God.

1 DElite not thou in the multitude of vngodly children, and haue no pleasure in them, if they feare not God.

2 Trust not thou to their life, and regard not their labours.

3 For one sonne that feareth God, is better then a thousand vngodly: & better it is for a man to die without children, then to leaue behinde him such children as are vngodly.

4 For by one that hath vnderstanding, may a whole citie be vpholden: but though the vngodly be many, yet shall it be wasted through them.

5 Many such things hath mine eye seene, and greater things then these haue I heard with mine eares.

6 *In the congregation of the vngodly shall a fire burne, and among vnfaithfull people shall the wrath be kindled. Eccle.21.10.

7 *The olde giantes obteyned no grace for their sinnes, which were destroyed trusting to their owne strength. Gene.6.4.

8 *Neither spared he them among whom Lot was a stranger: but smote them, & abhorred them, because of the pride of their workes. Gene.19.24.

9 He had no pitie vpon them, but destroyed all the people that were so stoute in sinne.

10 And forasmuch as he ouersawe ỹ *fyre hundred thousande that gathered themselues together in the hardnesse of their heart, in afflicting them, in pitying them, in smiting them, and healing them with mercie and chastisement: it were marueile if one being hardnecked should be free. Num.14.15.

11 For *mercie and wrath is with him, he is both mightie to forgiue, and to powre out displeasure. Eccle.5.16.

12 Like as his mercie is great, euen so is his punishment also: he iudgeth a man according to his workes.

13 The vngodly shall not escape in his spoyle, and the long patience of him that sheweth mercie, shall not bide behinde.

14 He will make a place for euery mercifull deede, and euery man shall finde according to his workes.

15 The Lord hardened Pharao that he should not know him, and that his workes might be knowen vpon the earth vnder the heauen.

16 His mercie is knowen to all creatures, he hath separated his light from the darkenesse with an Adamant.

17 Say

17 Say not thou, I will hide my selfe from God: for who will thinke vpon mee from aboue? I shall not be knowen in so great an heape of people: for what is my soule among so many creatures?

2.Pet.7.10. 18 *Behold the heauen, yea, the heauen of heauens of God, the deepe, the earth, and all that therein is, shalbe mooued at his presence.

19 The mountaines, the hilles, and the foundations of the earth shall shake for feare, whē God visiteth them.

20 These things doeth no heart vnderstande worthily: but he vnderstandeth euery heart.

21 And who vnderstandeth his wayes? no man seeth his stormes, and the most part of his workes are secrete.

22 Who will declare the workes of his righteousnesse? or who shalbe able to abide them? for the couenant is farre from some, and trying out of men is in the ende.

23 He that is humble of heart, thinketh vpon such things: but an vnwise & erronious man casteth his minde vnto foolish things.

24 My sonne, hearken thou vnto me, & learne vnderstanding, and marke my wordes with thine heart: I will giue thee a sure doctrine, and plainely shall I instruct thee.

25 Marke my wordes then in thine heart: for in righteousnesse of the spirit doe I speake of the wonders that God hath shewed among his workes from the beginning, and in the trueth doe I shew the knowledge of him.

26 God hath set his workes in good order from the beginning, and part of them hath he sundred from the other.

27 He hath garnished his workes from euerlasting, and their beginnings according to their generations: they are not hungry nor wearied in their labours, nor ceasse from their offices.

28 None of them hindred another, neither was any of them disobedient vnto his wordes.

29 After this God looked vpon the earth, and filled it with his goodnesse.

30 With all maner of liuing beasts hath he couered the ground, and they all shalbe turned vnto earth againe.

The xvii. Chapter.

1 The creation of man, and the goodnesse that God hath done vnto him. 20 Of almes, 26 and repentance.

Gene.1.27. 1 GOd *shaped man of the earth, & made him after his owne image, and turned him vnto earth againe, and clothed him with his owne strength.

Gene.1.26. 1.cor,11.7. 2 *He gaue him the number of dayes, and certaine time, yea, and gaue him power of the things that are vpon earth.

3 He made all flesh to stande in awe of him, so that he had the dominion of all beastes and foules.

4 *He made out of him an helper like vnto himselfe, & gaue them discretion and tongue, eyes, and eares, and a heart to vnderstand: Gene.2.21.

5 He gaue them a spirit, and a speache to declare his workes, and filled them with instruction and vnderstanding.

6 He created for them also the knowledge of the spirit, filled their heartes with vnderstanding, and shewed them good and euill.

7 He set his eye vpon their heartes, declaring vnto them his great and noble workes,

8 That they shoulde praise his holy name together, reioyce of his wonders, and be telling of his noble actes.

9 Besides this, he gaue them instruction, and the law of life for an heritage, that they might now know that they were [a] mortall.

a Through their owne transgression.

10 He made an euerlasting couenant with thē, and shewed them his righteousnesse & iudgements.

11 They sawe the maiestie of his glory with their eyes, and their eares heard the maiestie of his voyce, and he said vnto them, Beware of all vnrighteous things.

12 *He gaue euery man also a commandement concerning his neighbour. Exod.20. 21.22.23.

13 Their wayes are euer before him, and are not hid from his eyes.

14 *Euerie man from his youth is giuen to euill, and their stonie heartes cannot become [b] flesh. Rom.13.1.

b That is, soft & gentle, for the holy ghost to write his lawes in. Deut.4.20.

15 He hath set a ruler vpon euery people, *but Israel is the Lordes portion:

16 Whom he nourisheth with discipline as his first borne, and giueth him most louing light, and doeth not forsake him.

17 All their workes are as the Sunne in the sight of God, and his eyes are alway looking vpon their wayes.

18 All their vnrighteousnesses are manifest vnto him, and all their wickednesses are open in his sight.

19 And as he is mercifull, and knoweth his worke, he doeth not leaue them, nor forsake them, but spareth them.

20 The mercie that a man sheweth, is [c] as a seale with him, and the grace that is giuen to man, preserueth him as the apple of an eye, and giueth repentance to their sonnes and daughters.

c As a thing sealed vp is surely found againe, so is mercy laide vp in store.

21 At the last he shall awake, and rewarde euery man vpon his head, and shall turne them together into the neathermost partes of the earth:

22 But vnto them that wil *repent, he hath giuen the way of righteousnes: as for such as be weake, he comforteth thē, suffereth them, and sendeth them the portion of the veritie. Acts 3.19.

23 *O turne then vnto the Lord, forsake thy sinnes, make thy prayer before the Lord, doe the lesse offence. Iere.3.12.

24 Turne

24 Turne againe vnto the Lorde, for he will bring thee from darkneſſe vnto wholeſome light, forſake thine vnrighteouſneſſe, be an vtter enemie to abomination.

25 Learne to knowe the righteouſnes & iudgements of God, ſtande in the portion that is ſet forth for thee, and in the prayer of the moſt high God.

26 Goe in the portion of the holy worlde with ſuch as be liuing, & giue thankes vnto God.

Pſal.6.6. eſai.38.19. 27 *Who will praiſe the Lord in the hel: abide not thou in the errour of the vngodly, but giue thankes before death.

28 As for the dead, thankefulneſſe periſheth from him as nothing: giue thou thankes in thy life, yea while thou art liuing and whole ſhalt thou giue thankes, and praiſe God, and reioyce in his mercy.

29 O how great is the louing kindneſſe of the Lord, and his mercifull goodneſſe vnto ſuch as turne vnto him:

30 For all things may not be in man, & why: the ſonne of man is not immortall, and he hath pleaſure in the vanitie of wickedneſſe.

31 What is more cleare then the Sunne: yet ſhall it faile.

32 What is more wicked then the thing that fleſh and blood hath imagined: and that ſame ſhalbe reprooued.

33 The Lord ſeeth the power of the high heauen, and all are but earth and aſhes.

The xviii. Chapter.

1 The marueilous workes of God. 6 The miſerie and wretchedneſſe of man. 9 Againſt God ought we not to complaine.

Gene.1.1. 1 HE that *liueth for euermore, made all things together: God onely is righteous, and there is none other but he, & remaineth a victorious king for euer.

2 He ordereth the world with the power of his hand, and all things obey his will: for he gouerneth all things by his power, and diuideth the holy things from the prophane.

3 Who ſhalbe able to expreſſe the workes of him: who will ſeeke out the grounde of his noble actes:

4 Who ſhall declare the power of his greatneſſe: or who will take vpon him to tell out his mercy:

5 As for the wonderous workes of the Lord, there may nothing be taken from them, nothing may be put vnto them, neither may the ground of them be found out.

6 But when a man hath done his beſt, he muſt begin againe: and when he thinketh to be come to an ende, he muſt goe againe to his labour.

7 What is man: whereto is he worth: what good or euill can he doe:

Pſal.89.10. 8 *If the number of a mans dayes be almoſt an hundred yeeres, it is much: and no man hath certaine knowledge of his death.

9 Like as the droppes of raine are vnto the ſea, and as a grauell ſtone is in compariſon of the ſand: ſo are theſe few yeeres to the dayes of euerlaſting.

10 Therefore is the Lorde patient with them, and powreth out his mercie vpon them.

11 He ſawe and perceiued the thoughtes and imaginations of their heart that they were euil, therefore heaped he vp his merciful goodneſſe vpon them, and ſhewed them the way of righteouſneſſe.

12 The mercy that a man hath, reacheth to his neighbour, but the mercy of God is vpon all fleſh: he chaſteneth, he teacheth and nurtureth: yea, euen as a ſhepheard turneth againe his flocke, ſo doeth he all them that receiue chaſtening, nurture, and doctrine.

13 Mercifull is he vnto them that diligently ſeeke after his iudgements.

14 My ſonne, when thou doeſt good, make no grudging at it: and whatſoeuer thou giueſt, ſpeake no diſcomfortable wordes.

15 Shall not the deawe coole the heate: euen ſo is a word better then a gift.

16 Is not a friendly word a good honeſt gift: but a gratious man giueth them both.

17 A foole ſhal caſt a man in the teeth, and that roughly: and a gift of the niggarde putteth out the eyes.

18 Get thee righteouſneſſe before thou come to iudgement, learne before thou ſpeake, and goe to phiſike or euer thou be ſicke.

19 Examine and iudge thy ſelfe before ỹ iudgement come, and ſo ſhalt thou finde grace in the ſight of God.

20 *Humble thy ſelfe afore thou be ſicke: and whileſt thou maieſt [a] ſinne, ſhewe thy conuerſion. 1.Cor.11.28.

21 Be not let to pay thy vowe in good time, & tarry not to be iuſtified vnto thy death: for the reward of God endureth for euer.

22 Before thou prayeſt, prepare thy ſoule, and be not as one that tempteth God.

23 Thinke *vpon the wrathfull indignation that ſhalbe at the ende, and the houre of vengeance when he ſhall turne away his face. Eccle.7.18.

24 When thou haſt pnough, *remember the time of hunger: and when thou art rich, thinke vpon the time of pouertie and ſcarceneſſe. Eccle.11.27.

25 From the morning vntill the euening the time is changed, and all ſuch things are ſoone done in the ſight of God.

26 A wiſe man feareth God in all things, and in the dayes of tranſgreſſion he keepeth himſelfe from ſinne: but the foole doeth not obſerue the time.

27 A diſcrete man hath pleaſure in wiſedome, and hee that findeth her, maketh much of her.

[a] For he is more perfect that may ſinne and doth reſiſt it, then he that doeth follow after it.

28 They

28 They that haue had vnderstanding, haue dealt wisely in wordes, haue vnderstande the trueth and righteousnes, and haue sought out wise sentences and iudgements.

29 The chiefe authoritie of speaking is of the Lorde alone: for a mortall man hath but a dead heart.

Rom.6.6. and 13.14. 30 *Folow not thy lustes, but turne thee from thine owne will.

31 For if thou giuest thy soule her desires, it shall make thine enemies to laugh thee to scorne.

32 Take not thy pleasure in great voluptuousnesse, and meddle not too much withall.

33 Make not too great cheare of the thing that thou hast wonne by aduantage, least thou fall into pouertie, and haue nothing in thy purse, els thou shouldest slanderously lie in wait for thine owne life.

The xix. Chapter.

1 Wine and whoredome bringeth men to pouertie. 6 In thy wordes must thou vse discretion.

1 A Labouring man that is giuen vnto drunkennesse, shall not be rich: and he that maketh not much of smal things, shall fall by little and little.

Gen.19.33. 2 *Wine and women make wise men runnagates, and put men of vnderstanding to reproofe.

3 And he that companieth adulterers, shal become an impudent man: mothes and wormes shal haue him to heritage, yea, he shalbe set vp to a great example, and his soule shalbe rooted out of the number.

Rom.12.11. 4 *He that is hastie to giue credence, is light minded, and doeth against himselfe.

5 Whoso reioyceth in wickednesse, shalbe punished: but hee that resisteth pleasures, crowneth his owne soule: hee that refraineth his tongue, may liue with a troublesome man: he that hateth to be reformed, his life shall bee shortened: and he that abhorreth babbling of wordes, quencheth wickednesse.

6 He that offendeth against his owne soule, shall repent it: and hee that reioyceth in wickednesse, shalbe punished.

7 Rehearse not a wicked and churlish worde twise, and thou shalt not be hindered.

8 Shew thy secrets neither to friend nor foe: and if thou hast offended, tell it not out.

9 For he shall hearken vnto thee, and marke thee, and when hee findeth opportunitie, hee shall hate thee, and so shall he be alway about thee.

Eccl.2.27. 10 *If thou hast heard a worde against thy neighbour, let it be dead within thee: and bee sure thou shalt haue no harme thereby.

11 A foole trauaileth with a worde, like as a woman that is payned with bearing of a childe.

12 Like as an arrow shot in a thigh of flesh, so is a worde in a fooles heart.

Leuit.19.10. matth.18.19. luke 18.3. 13 *Tell thy friend his fault, least he be ignorant, and say, I haue not done it: or if he haue spoken, that he doe it no more.

14 Reproue thy neighbour, that he keepe his tongue: and if he haue spoken, that he say it no more.

15 Tell thy neighbour his fault, for oft times an offence is made: and giue not credence to euery worde.

Eccl.14.1. 16 *A man falleth sometime with his tongue, but not with his will: for what is he that hath not offended in his tongue?

17 Giue thy neighbour warning before thou threaten him: and giue place vnto the lawe of the Lorde.

18 The feare of the Lorde is the first degree to be receyued of him: and wisedome obteineth his loue.

19 The knowledge of the commaundements of the Lorde, is the doctrine of life: and they that obey him, shall receyue the fruite of immortalitie.

20 The feare of God is all wisedome: and hee that is a righteous man, keepeth the law.

21 If a seruant say vnto his master, I will not doe as it pleaseth thee: though afterwarde he doe it, hee shall displease him that nourisheth him.

22 As for the doctrine of wickednesse, it is no wisedome, and the prudence of sinners is no good vnderstanding: it is but wickednesse and abomination, and a blaspheming of wisedome.

23 A simple man of small vnderstanding that feareth God, is better then one that hath much wisedome, and transgresseth the law of the highest.

24 A craftie subtill man can be wise, but he is vnrighteous, and with gifts he wasteth the open and manifest lawe: againe, there is that is wise, and iudgeth righteously.

25 A wicked man can behaue himselfe humbly, and can ducke with his head, and yet is he but a deceiuer within: he hideth his face, and disguiseth it, and because hee shoulde not bee knowen, he preuenteth thee, to hurt thee.

Matth.6.16. 26 *And though he be so weake, that he can do thee no harme, yet when he may find opportunitie, he shall doe some euill.

27 A man may be knowen by his face, and one that hath vnderstanding may be perceiued by the looke of his countenance.

Eccl.21.23. 28 *A mans garment, laughter, and going, declare what he is.

The xx. Chapter.

1 Of correction and repentance. 6 Of the gift of the wise man, and of the foole. 23 Of lying.

1 SOme man reproueth his neighbour oft times, but not in due season: againe, some man holdeth his tongue, and he is wise and discreete.

2 It is much better to giue warning and to reproue, then to beare euill will: for he that knowledgeth himselfe openly, shalbe preserued from hurt and destruction.

Eccle.30.11. 3 *Like as when a gelded man through desire and lust defileth a maiden: euen so is it with him that vseth violence and vnrighteousnesse in the lawe.

4 O howe good a thing is it, a man that is reproued, to shew openly his repentance: for so shalt thou escape wilfull sinne.

5 Some man keepeth silence, and is founde wise: but he that is not ashamed what he saieth, is hatefull.

6 Some man holdeth his tongue, because he hath not vnderstanding of the language: and some man keepeth silence, waiting a conuenient time.

Eccle.32.6. 7 *A wise man will holde his tongue till he see opportunitie, but a wanton and vndiscreete body shall regard no time.

8 He that vseth many wordes, shall hurt his owne soule: and he that taketh authoritie vpon him vnrighteously, shalbe hated.

9 Some man hath oft times prosperitie in wicked things: againe, some man getteth much, and hath harme and losse.

10 There is some gift that is nothing worth: againe, there is some gift whose rewarde is double.

11 There is an humilitie for glories sake, and some commeth to worship from lowe estate.

12 Some man bupeth much for a little price, and must pay for it seuen folde.

Eccle.6.5. 13 *A wise man with his words maketh himselfe to be beloued: but the merrie tales of fooles shalbe powred out.

14 The gift of the vnwise shall doe thee no good, nor yet of the enuious: for his importunitie is seuen folde, for he looketh to receiue many things for one.

Eccle.18.1. 15 *He shall giue little, and say he gaue much: he openeth his mouth & cryeth out, as it were one that cryed out wide.

16 To day he lendeth, to morrowe asketh he againe: and such a man is to be hated of God and man.

17 The foole sayth, I haue no friende, I haue no thanke for all my good deedes, yea, euen they that eate my bread speake no good of me: O howe oft, and of howe many shall he be laughed to scorne?

18 He taketh a more perillous fall by such words, then if he fel vpon the ground: euen so shall the fall of wicked men come hastily.

19 In the mouth of him that is vntaught, are many vnconuenient and vnmeete wordes.

20 A wise sentence shall not be alowed at the mouth of the foole: for he speaketh not it in due season.

21 Some man sinneth not, because he hath not wherewithall, and in his rest he shalbe stinged.

22 Some man there is that destroyeth his owne soule with shame, and for an vnwise bodies sake destroyeth he it, and with accepting of persons shall he vndoe himselfe.

23 Some man promiseth his friende a gift for very shame: and getteth an enemie of him for nought.

24 A lie is a wicked shame in a man: yet shall it be euer in the mouth of the vnwise.

25 A thiefe is better then a man that is accustomed to lie: but they both shall haue destruction to heritage.

26 The conditions of liers are vnhonest: and their shame is euer with them.

27 *A wise man shal bring himselfe to honour with his wordes: and he that hath vnderstanding, shalbe set by among great men. Gene.41.44.

28 *He that tilleth his lande, shall increase his heape of corne: he that worketh righteousnes, shalbe exalted, and he that pleaseth great men, shall escape much euill. Prou.12.11.

29 *Rewardes and giftes blinde the eyes of the wise, and make him dumbe that he cannot tell men their faultes. Eccle.23.8.

30 *Wisedome that is hid, and treasure that is hoorded vp, what profite is in them both? Eccle.41.18.

31 Better is he that keepeth his ignorance secrete, then a man that hideth his wisedome.

32 The necessarie patience of him that followeth the Lord, is better then he that gouerneth his life without the Lord.

The xxi. Chapter.

1 Not to continue in sinne. 5 The prayer of the afflicted. 6 To hate to be reproued. 17 The mouth of the wise man. 26 The thought of the foole.

1 MY sonne, *if thou hast sinned, doe it no more: but pray for thy foresinnes, that they may be forgiuen thee. Exod.3.4.

2 Flee from sinne, euen as from a serpent: for if thou commest too nigh her, she wil bite thee: the teeth thereof are as the teeth of a Lion, to slay the soules of men.

3 The wickednesse of man is as a sharpe two edged sworde, which maketh such woundes that they can not be healed.

4 Strife and wrongfull dealing shall waste away a mans goods, and through pride a rich house shalbe brought to nought: so the riches of the proude shalbe rooted out.

5 *The prayer of the poore goeth out of the mouth, and commeth vnto the eares, and his vengeance [or defence] shall come hastily. Eccle.3.5.

6 Whoso hateth to be reformed, it is a token of an vngodly person: but he that feareth God, will remember himselfe.

7 A mightie man is knowen a farre off by his tongue: but he that hath vnderstanding, perceiueth that he shall haue a fall.

8 Whoso

8 Whoso buildeth his house with other mens coste, [a] is like one that gathereth stones to make his graue.

a With goods borowed and not payed again, robbed, stollen, or craftily conueyed: gathereth stones in winter to builde when the frost doeth so congeale the morter, that it can not holde the stones together. Eccle.36.7.

9 *The congregation of the vngodly is like stubble gathered together, their end is a flame of fire.

10 The way of the vngodly is set with stones: but in their ende, is hell, darkenesse, and paines.

11 He that keepeth the lawe, will holde fast the vnderstanding thereof: and the ende of the feare of God, is wisedome and vnderstanding.

12 He that is not wise, will not be taught in good, but the vnwise man aboundeth in wickednesse: and where bitternesse is, there is no vnderstanding.

13 The knowledge of the wise shall flowe like water that runneth ouer: and his counsayle is like a pure fountaine of life.

Eccle.33.5. 14 *The heart of a foole is like a broken vessell, he can keepe no wisedome.

15 When a man of vnderstanding heareth a wise worde, he shall commende it, and make much of it: but if a voluptuous man heare it, he shall haue no pleasure therein, but cast it behinde his backe.

16 The talking of a foole is like an heauie burden by the way: but to heare a wise man speake, it is pleasure.

17 Where a doubt is in the congregation, it is asked at the mouth of the wise, and they shall ponder his wordes in their heartes.

18 Like as is a house that is destroyed, euen so is wisedome vnto a foole: As for the knowledge of the vnwise, it is but darke wordes.

19 Doctrine is vnto him that hath no vnderstanding, euen as fetters about his feete, and like manicles vpon his right hand.

Eccle.19.17. 20 *A foole lifteth vp his voyce with laughter: but a wise man shal scarse laugh secretly.

21 Learning is vnto a wise mã a iewel of gold, and like an armelet vpon his right arme.

22 A foolish mans foote is soone in his neighbours house: but one that hath experience, shalbe ashamed at the person of the mightie.

23 A foole will peepe in at the windowe into the house: but he that is well nurtured will stand without.

24 A foolish man standeth hearkening at the doore: but he that is wise will be ashamed.

25 The lippes of the vnwise wil be telling foolish things: but the wordes of such as haue vnderstanding, shalbe weighed in the balance.

26 The heart of fooles is in their mouth: but the mouth of the wise is in his heart.

b For while he curseth an other, he doeth the same thing, and so curseth himselfe. Eccle.28.19. 27 When the vngodly curseth the [b] blasphemer, he curseth his owne soule.

28 *A prince accursed of other men, shall defile his owne soule: and be hated of euery man: but he that keepeth his tongue & is discreete, shall come to honour.

The xxii. Chapter.

1 Of the sluggard. 12 Not to speake much to a foole. 16 A good conscience feareth not.

1 A Slouthfull body is moulded [a] of a stone of clay, & euerie man wil speake to his dispraise.

a That is, like as the idle stone gathereth mosse and filth, so doeth the slouthfull both sicknesse of body, and corruption of minde: and as euery mã doth auoide the filthinesse of dung, and shaketh it off: so doth he auoide the company of idle loyterers, least he be accounted like vnto them.

2 A slouthful body is made of the dung of oxen, & euery one that toucheth him, must wash his hands againe.

3 A misnurtured sonne is the dishonour of the father: a foolish daughter shalbe little regarded.

4 A wise daughter is an heritage vnto her husband: but she that commeth to dishonestie, bringeth her father in heauinesse.

5 A daughter that is past shame, dishonoureth both her father and her husband: the vngodly shall regard her, but they both shall despise her.

6 A tale out of time, is as musike in mourning: but wisedome knoweth the seasons of correction and doctrine.

7 If children liue honestly, and haue wherewithal, they shall put away the shame of their parentes:

8 But if children be proude with hautinesse and foolishnesse, they blot out the nobilitie of their kinred.

9 Whoso teacheth a foole, is euen as one that gleweth a potshard together, as one that telleth a tale to him that heareth him not, and as one that raiseth a man out of a heauie sleepe.

10 Whoso telleth a foole of wisedome, is euen as a man which speaketh to one that is a sleepe, when he hath tolde his tale, he saieth, What is the matter?

11 *When one dieth, lamentation is made for him, because the light faileth him: euen so, let men mourne ouer a foole, for he wanteth vnderstanding. Make but litle weeping because of the dead, for he is come to rest: but the life of the foole is worse then the death. Eccle.38.16.

12 *Seuen dayes doe men mourne for him that is dead, but the lamentation ouer the vnwise and vngodly, should endure all the dayes of their life. Gene.50.10.

13 Talke not much with a foole, and goe not with him that hath no vnderstanding: beware of him, least it turue thee to trauayle, and thou shalt not be defiled with his sinne: Depart from him, and thou shalt finde rest, and shalt not be drawen backe into his foolishnesse.

14 [b] What is heauier then lead? and what should a foole be called els but lead?

b Though lead be heauie, yet may it be borne: but the insolent foole may not be borne as heauie is the stone, and weightie is the sande: but the furp of a foole doth passe them both. Prouer.28.

15 Sand, salt, and a lumpe of yron, is easier to beare, then an vnwise, foolish, and vngodly man.

16 Like as the band of wood bound together in the foundation of the house cannot be loosed: euen euen so is it with the heart that is stablished in the thought of counsayle. The thought of the wise shall neuer feare, nor bee offended at any time.

17 Like as a fayre plastered wall in a winter house and a high building may not abide the winde and stormes: euen so is a fooles heart afrayde in his imagination, he feareth at euery thing, and can not endure.

18 A wauering heart in the imagination of a foole, will not euer stand in awe: but hee that abideth in the commandementes of God, will alway feare.

1.Cor.14.14. heb.4.12. 19 *He that nippeth a mans eye, bringeth forth teares: and he that pricketh the heart, bringeth forth the meaning and thought.

20 Whoso casteth a stone at the birdes, fraieth them away: & he that blasphemeth his friend, breaketh friendship.

21 Though thou drewest a sword at thy friend, yet despayre not: for thou mayest come againe to thy friend.

22 If hee speake sowrely, feare not: for ye may bee agreed together againe, except it bee that thou blaspheme him, disdayne him, open his secretes, and wounde him trayterously: for all such thinges shall driue away a friende.

23 Bee faithfull vnto thy neighbour in his pouertie, that thou mayest reioyce with him also in his prosperitie: abide stedfast vnto him in the time of his trouble, that thou mayest bee heire with him in his heritage: for pouertie is not alwayes to be cõtemned, nor the rich that is foolish to be had in estimation.

24 Like as the vapour and smoke goeth out at the ouen before the fire: euen so euill wordes, rebukes, and threatnings, goe before bloodshedding.

25 Be not ashamed to defend thy frende: as for me, I will not hide my face from him though he should do me harme: whoso euer heareth it, shall beware of him.

Psal.141.3. 26 *Who shall set a watch before my mouth, and a sure seale vpon my lippes, that I fall not with them, and that my tongue destroy me not?

The xxiii. Chapter.

1 A prayer against pride, lecherie, and gluttonie. 23 Many sinnes proceed of adulterie. 27 Of the feare of God.

1 O Lord, father and gouernour of my life, leaue me not in their imagination and counsell: oh let mee not fall in such reproofe.

2 Who wil keepe my thought with ỹ scourge, and the doctrine of wisedome in mine heart: that he spare not mine ignorance, that I fall not with them.

3 Lest mine ignorances increase, that mine offences bee not many in number, and that my sinnes exceede not: lest I fall before mine enemies, and so mine aduersaries reioyce, whose hope is farre from thy mercie.

4 O Lord, thou father & God of my life, leaue me not in their imagination: O let mee not haue a proude looke, but turne away al voluptuousnesse from me.

5 Take from me the lustes of the body, let not the desires of vncleannesse take holde vpon me.

6 And giue mee not ouer into an vnshamefast and obstinate minde.

7 Heare mee, O yee children, I will giue you a doctrine howe ye shall order your mouth: whoso keepeth it, shall not perish through his lippes, nor bee hurt through wicked workes.

8 As for the sinner, he shalbe take in his owne vanities: he that is proude and cursed shall fall therein.

9 * Let not thy mouth bee accustomed with swearing, for in it there are many falles: * let not the naming of God bee continually in thy mouth, and meddle not with the names of Saintes, for thou shalt not bee excused of them. Exod.20.7. Eccle.27.15.

10 For like as a seruant which is oft punished, can not be without some sore: euen so, what so euer bee bee that sweareth, and nameth God, shall not be cleane purged from sinne.

11 A man that vseth much swearing, shall bee filled with wickednesse, and the plague shall neuer goe from his house, if hee beguile his brother, his fault shalbe vpon him, if he knowledge not his sinne, hee maketh a double offence, and if hee sweare in vaine, hee shall not be found righteous: for his house shall be full of plagues.

12 The wordes of the swearer bring death, God graunt that it bee not founde in the house of Jacob: but they that feare God esthewe all such, and lie not waltering in sinne.

13 *Use not thy mouth to vnhoneſt and filthy talking, for in it is the word of sinne. Ephe.5.4.

14 Remember thy father and thy mother whē thou art set among great men: least God forget thee in their sight, and least thou dating in thy custome, suffer rebuke, and wish not to haue bene borne, and so curse the day of thy natiuitie.

15 *The man that is accustomed with ỹ wordes of blasphemie, will neuer be reformed al the dayes of his life. 2.Sam.16.7.

16 To sinne twise is too much, but the thirde bringeth wrath and destruction: An hot stomacke can not be quenched (euen like a burning fire) til it haue swalowed vp some thing: euen so an vnchaste man hath no rest in his flesh, till he haue kindled a fire.

17 All bread is sweete to an whoremonger, hee will not leaue off till he die.

Esay 29.15.

18 *A man that breaketh wedlocke, and regardeth not his soule, but sayth, Tush, who seeth me? I am compalled about with darkenesse, the walles couer me, no body seeth me, whom needs I to feare? the highest will not remember my sinnes:

19 Hee vnderstandeth not that his eyes see all things, for all such feare of men driueth away the feare of God from him: for he feareth only the eyes of men, and considereth not that the eyes of the Lorde are clearer then the sunne, beholding all the wayes of men, & the ground of the deepe, and looking euen to mens hearts in secrete places.

20 The Lord God knew al things or euer they were made, and after they be brought to passe also he looketh vpon them all.

21 The same man shall bee openly punished in the streetes of the citie, and shall bee chased abroad like a young horse foale: & when he thinketh least vpon it, he shalbe taken.

22 Thus shal he be put to shame of euery man, because he would not vnderstand the feare of the Lord: and * thus shal it go also with euery wife that leaueth her husband, & getteth inheritance by a strange mariage.

Exod.20.14.

Leuit.22.10. deut.22.22.

23 * First, shee hath bene vnfaithfull vnto the lawe of the highest: secondly, she hath forsake her owne husband: thirdly, she hath played the whore in aduulterie, and gotten her children by another man.

24 She shalbe brought out of the congregatiō, and her children shalbe looked vpon.

25 Her children shall not take roote: and as for fruite, her branches shall bring forth none.

26 A shameful report shal she leaue behinde her, and her dishonour shall not be put out.

27 And they that remaine, shal know that there is nothing better then the feare of God, and that there is nothing sweeter then to take heede vnto the commaundementes of the Lord.

28 A great worship is it to follow the Lord: for long life shalbe receiued of him.

The xxiiii. Chapter.

1 A prayse of wisdome proceeding forth of the mouth of God. 6 Of her woorkes and place where shee resteth.

1 WIsdome shall prayse her selfe, and be honoured in God, and reioyce in the middest of the people.

2 In ỹ congregations of the highest shall shee open her mouth, and triumph in the beholding of his power.

3 In the middest of her people shall she be exalted, and wondred at in the holy fulnesse.

4 In the multitude of the chosen she shall bee commended, and among such as bee blessed, she shalbe praysed, and shall say,

5 I am come out of the mouth of the highest, first borne before all creatures.

6 I caused the light that fayleth not to arise in the heauen, and couered all the earth as a cloude.

7 My dwelling is aboue in the height, and my seate is in the pillar of the cloude.

8 I my selfe alone haue gone round about the compasse of heauen, and pearced the grounde of the deepe.

9 I haue walked in the floods of the sea, and haue stand in all landes, my dominion is in euery people, and in euery nation, and with my power haue I troden downe the hearts of all both high and lowe.

10 In all these things also I sought rest, and a dwelling in some inheritance.

11 So the creator of all things gaue mee a commandement, and hee that made me, appointed me a tabernacle, and sayde vnto mee, Let thy dwelling bee in Jacob, and thine inheritance in Israel, and roote thy selfe among my chosen.

12 *I was created from the beginning, and before the world, and shall not leaue off vnto the worlde to come: in the holy * habitation haue I serued before him, and so was I stablished in Sion. Prou.8.23. Exod.31.3.

13 In the holy * citie rested I in like maner, and in Hierusalem was my power. Psalm.131.8.

14 I tooke roote in an honourable people, euen in the portion of the Lord, and in his heritage, and kept me in the fulnesse of the saints.

15 I am set vp on high like a Cedar vpon Libanus, and as a Cypresse tree vpon the mount Hermon.

16 I am exalted like a Palme tree in Cades, & as a Rose plant in Jericho, as a fayre Olive tree in the field, and am exalted like as a Plantane tree by the water side.

17 I haue giuen a smell in the streetes as the Cynamom and Balme that hath so good a sauour, yea, a sweete odour haue I giuen as it were myrrhe of ỹ best: I haue made my dwellings to smell as it were of Rozin, Galbanum, of Cloues, Incense, and as Libanus, when it is not hewen downe, and mine odour is as the pure Balme.

18 As the [a] Terebint haue I stretched out my branches, and my branches are the branches of honour, and louing fauour.

19 As the vine haue I brought forth fruite of a sweete sauour, and my flowres are the fruite of honour and riches.

20 I am the mother of beautifull loue, of feare, of knowledge, and of holy hope: I giue eternall things to all my children to whome God hath commanded.

21 In me is all grace of life and trueth, in me is all hope of life and vertue.

22 O come vnto me, all yee that bee desirous of me, and fill your selues with my fruites.

23 For my spirit is sweeter then honey, and so is mine a Terebint, is a hard tree spred abroade with long boughs, where out runneth the gumme called a pure Turpentine, which cleanseth the stomacke of putrified humours, and purifieth the eares: so the wisedome of God declared in his scriptures, spreadeth abroade her manifolde branches of knowledge & vnderstanding to purge the inwarde eares and corruptiō of the soule.

mine inheritance more then the hony combe: the remembrance of me endureth for euermore.

24 They that eate mee, shall haue the more hunger: and they that drinke mee, shall thirst the more.

25 Whoso hearkeneth vnto me, shall not come to confusion, and they that worke in me, shall not offende: they that take me to be knowen, shall haue euerlasting life.

26 All these things are the booke of life, the couenant of the highest, and the knowledge of the trueth.

27 Moses commanded the law in the precepts of righteousnes for an *heritage vnto ỹ house of Jacob, and committed the promise vnto Israel. Exod.20.1.

28 Be not wearie to behaue your selues valiantly with ỹ Lord, that he may also confirme you: cleaue vnto him, for the Lord Almighty is but one God, and besides him there is no other sauiour.

29 (Out of Dauid his seruant hee ordeyned to raise vp a most mighty king, sitting in ỹ seate of honour for euermore.)

30 This filleth with wisdome, *like as ỹ flood of Phison, and as ỹ flood of Tygris, when the newe fruites are a growing. Gene.2.11.

31 This bringeth plenteous vnderstanding like Euphrates, and filleth vp as *Jordane in the time of haruest. Iosu.3.15.

32 This maketh nurture to breake forth as the light, and as the water Gehon in the haruest.

33 The first hath not knowen her perfectly: no more shall ỹ last seeke out the ground of her.

34 For her thought is fuller then the sea, & her counsaile is profounder then the great deepe.

35 I wisedome haue cast out floods, I am as a great water brooke out of the riuer, I am as the riuer Dorix, and as a water conduite am I come out of the garden of pleasure.

36 I said, I will water the garden of my yong plants, and fill the fruite of my birth: So my water brooke became exceeding great, and my riuer approched vnto the sea.

37 For I make doctrine to bee vnto all men as light as the faire morning, and I shall make it to be euer the clearer.

38 I will pearse thorowe all the lower parts of the earth, I will looke vpon all such as be a sleepe, and lighten all them that put their trust in the Lord.

39 I shall yet powre out doctrine like as prophecy, and leaue it vnto such as seeke after wisdome, and their generation shall I neuer faile vnto the holy euerlasting world.

40 *Behold how that I haue not laboured for my selfe onely: but for all them that seeke after the trueth. Eccle.33.18.

The xxv. Chapter.

1 Of three things which please God, and of three which he hateth. 7 Of nine things that be not to be suspect, and of the tenth. 15 Chiefly of the malice of a woman.

1 THree things there are that my spirite fauoureth, which be also alowed before God and men: The vnitie of *brethren, the loue of neighbours, a man * and wife that agree well together. Gene.13.8. Rom.12.10.gen 2.4.

2 Three things there bee which my soule hateth, and I vtterly abhorre the life of them: A poore man that is proude, a rich man that is a liar, and an olde body that doteth, and is vnchaste.

3 If thou hast gathered nothing in thy youth, what wilt thou finde then in thine age?

4 O howe pleasant a thing is it when graye headed men are discreete, and when the elders can giue good counsaile?

5 O how comely a thing is wisedome vnto aged men? yea, vnderstanding and counsell to men of honour is a glorious thing.

6 The crowne of olde men is to haue much experience: and the feare of God is their worshippe.

7 There be nine things which I haue iudged in my heart to be happie, and the tenth will I tell foorth vnto men with my tongue: A man that while hee liueth hath ioy of his children and seeth the fall of his enemies.

8 *Well is him that dwelleth with an huswife of vnderstanding, and that hath not fallen with his tongue, and that hath not bene faine to serue such as are vnmeete for him. Eccle.25.16 and 26.1.Iacob.3.2.

9 Well is him that findeth ‖ a faithfull friend: and well is him which talketh of wisdome to an eare that heareth him. ‖Or, prudent.

10 O howe great is hee that findeth wisedome and knowledge? Yet is he not aboue him that feareth the Lord.

11 The feare of God hath set it selfe aboue all things.

12 Blessed is the man vnto whom it is granted to haue the feare of God: vnto whom shall he be likened that keepeth it fast?

13 The feare of God is the beginning of his loue, and the beginning of faith, is to cleaue fast vnto it.

14 The heauinesse of the heart is al the punishment, and the wickednesse of a woman goeth aboue all.

15 All punishment and plague is nothing in comparison to the plague of the heart: euen so, all wickednesse is nothing to the wickednesse of a woman.

16 Whatsoeuer happeneth vnto a man, is nothing in comparison of it that his euill willers do vnto him: and al vengeance is nothing to the vengeance of the enemie.

17 There is not a more wicked head then the head of the serpent: and there is no wrath aboue the wrath of a woman.

18 I will rather dwell with a *Lion and Prou.21.19.

Dragon, then to keepe house with a wicked wife.

19 The wickednesse of a woman changeth her face, she shall muffle her countenance as it were a beare, and as a sacke shall she shewe it among the neighbours.

20 Her husbande is brought to shame among his neighbours because of her, and when hee heareth it, it maketh him to sigh.

21 All wickednes is but litle to the wickednes of a woman: the portion of the vngodly shall fall vpon her.

22 Like as the clyming vp a sandy way is to the feete of the aged: euen so is a wife full of wordes to a still quiet man.

Eccle.42.12. 2.king.13.2.

23 *Looke not too narrowly vpon the beautie of a woman, least thou bee prouoked in desire toward her.

24 The wrath of a woman is dishonour & great confusion: if a woman get the masterie, then is she contrary to her husband.

Gene.36.

25 *A wicked wife maketh a sory heart, an heauie countenance, and a dead wounde: Weake handes and feeble knees, is a woman that her husband is not the better for.

a 1.Tim.2 Adam was not deceiued. But the Rom.5. By sinne. Here by the woman. The occasion was offered by the woman, but the fault was finished by the man consenting therevnto.

26 Of the woman came þ a beginning of sinne, and through her we all are dead.

27 Giue thy water no passage, no not a litle, neither giue a wicked woman her will.

28 If she walke not after thy hand, she shall cõfound thee in the sight of thine enemies: cut her off then from thy flesh, that she doe not alway abuse thee.

The xxvi. Chapter.

3 The prayse of a good woman. 6 Of the iealousie and drunkennesse of a woman.

1 HAppie is the man that hath a vertuous wife: for the number of his yeres shal be double.

2 An honest woman maketh her husband a ioyfull man, and she shall fill the yeres of his life in peace.

3 A vertuous woman is a noble gift, which shall be giuen for a good portion vnto such as feare God.

4 Whether a man bee riche or poore, hee may haue a merry heart, and a chearefull countenance.

5 There bee three things that my heart feareth, and my face is afrayde of the fourth: treason in a citie, a seditious people, and nayfome tongues: all these are heauier then the death.

6 When one woman is ielous ouer another, it bringeth payne and sorowe vnto the heart: and a woman that telleth out all things, is a scourge of the tongue.

7 When one hath an euill wife, it is euen as when an vnlike payre of oxen muste drawe together: hee that getteth her, getteth a scorpion.

8 A drunken woman is a great plague: for she can not couer her owne shame.

9 The whoredome of a womã may be knowen in the pride of her eyes and eye lidds.

10 *If thy daughter be not shamefast, hold her straightly, least she abuse her selfe through auermuch libertie. Eccle.42.11.

11 Beware of al the dishonestie of her eyes, and maruaile not if she do against thee.

12 As a wayfaring man that is thirstie, when he hath found a well, drinketh of euery next water: so will shee sit downe by euery hedge, and make her self common to euery man that passeth by.

13 A louing wife reioyceth her husbande, and feedeth his bones with her wisedome.

14 A woman of fewe wordes is a gift of God: to all nurtured mindes may nothing be compared.

15 An honest and manerly woman is a gift aboue other gifts: and there is no weight to be compared vnto a minde that can rule it selfe.

16 Like as the sunne when it ariseth is an ornament in the high heauen of the Lorde: so is a vertuous wife the beautie of her house.

17 Like as the cleare light is vpõ the holy candlesticke: so is the beautie of the face vpon an honest body.

18 Like as the golden pillars are vpon the sockets of siluer: so are the fayre feete vpon a woman that hath a constant minde.

19 Perpetuall are the foundations that bee layde vpon a whole stonie rocke: so are the commandements of God vpon the heart of an holy woman.

20 There be two things that grieue my heart, and in þ thirde is displeasure come vpon me: When an expert man of warre suffereth scarcenesse and pouertie, when men of vnderstanding and wisedome are not set by, & when one departeth from righteousnes vnto sinne: whoso doeth such, the Lord hath prepared him vnto the sword.

21 There bee two maner of things which me thinke to bee hard and perilous: A marchant can not lightly keepe him from wrong, neyther a tauerner himselfe from sinne.

The xxvii. Chapter.

1 Of the poore that woulde be rich. 5 The probation of the man that feareth God. 20 The wicked imagineth euill, which returneth vpon himselfe.

1 BEcause of *pouertie haue many one offended: and he that seeketh to bee riche, turneth his eyes aside. 2.Tim.6.9.pro.23.4.

2 Like as a nayle in the wall sticketh fast betwixt two stones, euen so doeth sinne sticke betwixt the buyer and the seller.

3 If he hold him not diligently in the feare of the Lorde, his house shall soone bee ouerthrowen.

4 Like as when one sifteth, the filthinesse remaineth maineth in the liue: so remaineth there some vncleane thing in the thought of man.

5 The ouen proueth the potters vessell: so doeth temptation of trouble trye righteous men.

Prou.27.21. 6 The tree of the field is knowen by his fruit: so is the thought of mans heart knowen by his words.

7 Praise no man, except thou haue heard him, for a man is knowen by his words.

8 If thou followest righteousnesse, thou shalt get her, and put her vpon thee as a faire garment: and thou shalt dwell with her, and shee shall defende thee for euer, and in the day of knowledge thou shalt finde stedfastnesse.

9 The birdes resort vnto their like: so doeth the trueth turne vnto them that bee occupied withall.

10 The Lion waiteth the pray: so doeth sinne vpon them that worke vnrighteousnesse.

11 The talking of him that feareth God is nothing but wisdome: as for a foole, he changeth as the moone.

12 If thou be among the vndiscreete, keepe thy words to a conuenient time: but among such as be wise, speake on hardly.

13 The talking of fooles is abomination, and their sport is voluptuousnesse, and misnurture.

Eccle.13.9. 14 *Much swearing maketh the heare to stande vp: and to striue with such, stoppeth the eares.

15 The strife of the proude is bloodshedding, and their blaspheming is heauie to beare.

Eccle.19.10. and 22.28. 16 Whoso *discouereth secrets, leeseth his credence, and findeth no friende after his will.

17 Loue thy friend, and binde thy selfe in faithfulnesse with him: but if thou bewray his secretes, thou shalt not get him againe.

18 For like as the man is that destroyeth his enemie: so is he also that dealeth falsly in the friendship of his neighbour.

19 Like as one that letteth a birde go out of his hand, can not take her againe: euen so thou, if thou giue ouer thy friende, thou canst not get him againe.

20 Yea, thou cast not come by him: for he is too farre off: he is vnto thee as a Roe escaped out of the snare, for his soule is wounded.

21 As for wounds they may bee bounde vp againe, and an euill worde may bee reconciled: but whoso bewrayeth the secretes of a freind, there is no more hope to be had vnto him.

Prou.10.10. 22 He that *winketh with the eyes, imagineth some euill: and he that knoweth him, will let him alone.

23 When thou art present, he shall highly commende and prayse thy wordes: but at the last, he shall turne his tale, and slaunder thy saying.

24 Many things haue I hated, but nothing so euil: for the Lord himself also abhorreth such a one.

25 Whoso casteth a stone on high, it shall fall vpon his owne head: and he that smiteth with guile, woundeth himselfe.

26 *Who so diggeth a pit, shall fal therein, and he that layeth a stone in his neighbours way, shall stumble thereon, & he that layeth a snare for another, shalbe taken in it himselfe. Prou.26.27. eccle.10.8.

27 Whoso giueth a wicked noysome counsell, it shal come vpon himselfe, & he shal not know from whence.

28 The proude blaspheme, and are scornefull: but vengeance lurketh for them as a Lion.

29 They that reioyce at ỹ fall of the righteous, shalbe take in the snare: anguish of heart shall consume them before they die.

30 Anger and rigorousnesse are two abominable things, and the vngodly hath them both vpon him.

The xxviii. Chapter.

1 We ought not to desire vengeance, but to forgiue the offence. 13 Of the vices of the tongue, and of the dangers thereof.

1 HE that seeketh *vengeance, shal finde vengeance of the Lorde, which shall surely keepe his sinnes. Deut.32.35. rom.12.19.

2 Forgiue thy neighbour the hurt that he hath done thee, and so shall thy sinnes bee forgiuen thee also when thou prayest.

3 *A man ỹ beareth hatred against another, how dare he desire forgiuenesse of God? Matt.6.14.

4 Hee that sheweth no mercie to a man which is like himselfe, howe dare he aske forgiuenes of his sinnes?

5 If he that is but flesh, beareth hatred, & keepeth it, who will entreate for his sinnes?

6 Remember the ende, and let enmitie passe, which seeketh death & destruction, and abide thou in the commandements.

7 Remember the cõmandements, so shalt thou not bee rigorous ouer thy neighbour: thinke vpon the couenaunt of the highest, and forgiue thy neighbours ignorance.

8 *Beware of strife, and thou shalt make thy sinnes fewer. Eccle.8.1.

9 For an angry man kindleth variance: and the vngodly disquieteth friends, and putteth discorde among them that be at peace.

10 The *more wood there is, the more vehement is the fire, and the mightier that men be, the greater is the wrath according to his riches, his anger encreaseth, and the longer the strife endureth, the more it burneth. Prou.26.21.

11 An hastie brawling kindleth a fire, & an hastie strife sheadeth blood: a tongue also that beareth false witnesse, bringeth death.

12 If thou blowe the sparke, it shall burne, if thou spit vpon it, it shall go forth, & both these come out of the mouth.

13 † The slaunderer and double tongued is Eccle.28.13.

cursed: for many one that be friendes, setteth he at variance.

14 The ‖ thirde tongue hath disquieted many one, and driuen thē from one land to another: strong cities of the riche hath it broken downe, and ouerthrowen the houses of great men: the strength of the people hath it brought downe, and bene the decay of mightie nations.

‖Or, a double tongue, which sayth and vnsayeth, or speaketh one thing, and thinketh an other. The third tongue do some take for that which speaketh neither out of the olde nor the newe Testamēt, but of their owne braine.

15 The thirde tongue hath cast out many an honest woman, and robbed them of their labours.

16 Whoso hearkeneth vnto such, shall neuer finde rest, and neuer dwell safely.

17 The stroke of the rod maketh prints in the skin: but the stroke of the tongue smiteth the bones in sunder.

18 There be many that haue perished with the sword: but many moe through the tongue.

19 Well is him þ is kept from an euil tongue, and commeth not in the anger thereof, which draweth not þ yoke of such, and is not bounde in the bandes of it.

20 For the yoke thereof is of yron, and þ bande of it of ‖ steele.

‖Or, brasse.

21 The death thereof is a very euill death: hell were better for one, then such a tongue.

22 But the fire of it may not oppresse them that feare God, and the flame thereof may not burne them.

23 Such as forsake the Lord, shall fall therein, and it shall burne them, and no man shalbe able to quench it: it shal fall vpon them as a Lion, and deuoure them as a Leopard.

24 Thou hedgest thy goods with thornes: why doest thou not rather make doores and barres for thy mouth?

25 Thou weighest thy gold and siluer: why doest thou not weigh thy wordes also vpon the ballance, and make a doore and a barre, and a sure bridle for thy mouth?

26 Beware that thou slide not in thy tongue, and so fall before thine enimies that lay waite for thee, and thy fall bee incurable, euen vnto death.

The xxix. Chapter.

1. How wee ought to lende out money, and doe almes.
15. Of a faithfull man vndertaking for his friend. 21. Of liberalitie and hospitalitie.

WHoso will shewe mercie, let him lende vnto his neighbour: and hee that is able, let him keepe the cōmandements.

2 Lende vnto thy neighbour in time of his neede, and pay thou thy neighbour againe in due season.

3 Keepe thy worde, and deale faithfully with him: and thou shalt alway find the thing that is necessarie for thee.

4 There hath bene many, that when a thing was lent them, reckned it to be founde, and made them trouble that had holpen them.

5 While they receiue any thing, they kisse the hands of such as giue them, and for their neighbours good they humble their voyce: but when they should pay againe, they keepe it backe, and giue euill wordes, and make many excuses by reason of the time.

6 And though he be able, yet giueth hee scarse the halfe againe, and reckneth the other to be founde: and if he withholde not his money, yet hath hee an enemie of him, and that vndeserued: hee payeth him with cursing and rebuke, and giueth him euil wordes for his good deede.

7 There bee many one which are not glad for to lende, not because of euill, but they feare to lose the thing that they lend.

8 Yet haue thou patience with the simple, and withhold not mercie from him.

9 Helpe the poore for the commaundementes sake, and let him not go emptie from thee, because of his necessitie.

10 Lose thy money for thy brother and neighbours sake, & bury it not vnder a stone where it rusteth and corrupteth.

11 Gather thy treasure after the commaundement of the highest, and so shall it bring thee more profite then gold.

12 * Lay vp thine almes in the ‖ hande of the poore, and it shall keepe thee from all euill. Dan.4.24.luke 11.41.act.10.4. ‖Or, in þ secrete chambers.

13 * A mans almes is as a purse with him, and shall keepe a mans fauour as the apple of an eye: and afterwarde shall it arise, and pay euery man his reward vpon his head. Eccle.17.18.

14 It shal fight for thee against thine enemies, better then the shielde of a Gyant, or speare of the mightie.

15 A good honest man is a suretie for his neighbour: but a wicked person letteth him come to shame.

16 Forget not the friendship of thy suretie: for he hath giuen his soule for thee.

17 The vngodly despiseth the good deede of his suretie.

18 [a] The wicked will not become suretie, and the vnthankful and ignorant leaueth his suretie in danger.

a As he is a foole that is suretie for euery man: so is he vngodly þ will be suretie for no man.

19 Some man promiseth for his neighbour: and when he hath lost his honestie, he shal forsake him.

20 Suretiship hath destroyed many a rich man, and remoued them as the waues in the sea, mightie people hath it driuen away, and caused them to wander in strange countreys.

21 An vngodly man transgressing the cōmandement of the Lord, shal fal into an euill suretiship: and though he force himself to get out, yet shall he fall into iudgement.

22 Helpe thy neighbour out after thy power, and and beware that thou thy selfe fall not in such debt.

Eccle.39.31. 23 * The chiefe thing that keepeth thy life, is water, and bread, clothing, and lodging, to couer thy shame.

24 Better is it to haue a poore liuing in a mans owne house, then delicate fare among the strange.

25 Be it litle or much that thou hast, holde thee content withall: and thou shalt not be blamed as a vagabound.

26 For a miserable life is it to go from house to house, and where a man is [b] fremde, hee dare not open his mouth.

b That is, a stranger without any acquaintance or kinred.

27 Though one be lodged, and haue meate and drinke, yet he shall be taken as vnworthie, and heare many bitter rough words, [namely thus,]

28 Goe thy way thou stranger, and prepare a table for thy selfe, and feede mee also of that thou hast.

29 Giue place thou stranger to an honorable man, my brother cõmeth into my house: and so telleth him the necessitie of his house.

30 These things are heauie to a man that hath vnderstanding, [namely,] the forbidding of the house, and that ỹ lender casteth him in the teeth.

The xxx. Chapter.

1 Of the correction of children. 14 Of the commoditie of health. 17 Death is better then a sorowfull life.

Pro.13.24.and 23.13. 1 WHoso * loueth his childe, holdeth him still vnder correction, that he may haue ioy of him afterwarde, and that hee grope not after his neighbours doores.

Deut.6.7. 2 He that * teacheth his sonne, shall haue ioy in him, and needs not to be ashamed of him among his acquaintance.

3 Whoso enfourmeth and teacheth his sonne, grieueth the enemie: and before his friendes he may haue ioy of him.

4 Though his father die, yet is he as though he were not dead: for he hath left one behinde him that is like him.

5 In his life he sawe him, and had ioy in him, and was not sorie in his death, neither was he ashamed before the enemies.

6 For he left behinde him an auenger against his enemies, & a good deed vnto the friendes.

7 For the life of children hee shall bynde the woundes together, and his heart is grieued at euery crye.

8 An vntamed horse will be hard, and a wanton childe will be wilfull.

9 If thou bring vp thy sonne delicately, hee shall make thee afraide: and if thou play with him, he shall bring thee to heauinesse.

10 Laugh not with him, least thou weepe with him also, and least thou gnash with thy teeth at the last.

11 * Giue him no libertie in his youth, and excuse not his folly. Eccle.7.25.

12 Bow downe his necke while he is yong, bit him vpon the sides while hee is but a childe: least he waxe stubborne, & giue no more force of thee, and so shalt thou haue heauinesse of soule.

13 Teach thy childe, and bee diligent therein, least it be to thy shame.

14 Better is the poore being whole and strong, then a man to bee riche, and not to haue his health.

15 Health and welfare is aboue all golde, and a whole body aboue all treasure.

16 There is no riches aboue a sound bodie, and no ioy aboue the ioy of the heart.

17 Death is better then a bitter life, and eternall rest better then continuall sickenesse.

18 [a] The good things that are put in a close mouth, are like as when meate is layde vpon the graue.

a Like as meate that is set vpon the graues of dead men, is vnprofitable, for that they eate it not: euen so, knowledge in him that openeth not his mouth to vtter it, is vnprofitable, Eccle. 41. wisedome that is hid, &c.

19 What good doth the offring vnto an idole? for he can neither eate, taste, nor smell: euen so is hee that is chased of the Lorde, and heareth the reward of iniquitie.

20 Hee seeth with his eyes, and groneth like a gelded man that lieth with a virgin, & sigheth.

21 Giue not ouer thy minde into heauines, and vexe not thy selfe in thine owne counsell.

22 The ioy and chearefulnes of the heart is the life of man, and a mans gladnesse is the prolonging of his dayes.

23 Loue thine owne soule, and comfort thine heart, as for sorowe & heauinesse, driue it farre from thee: for heauinesse hath slayne many a man, and bringeth no profite.

24 Zeale and anger shorten the dayes of the life, carefulnesse and sorowe bring age before the time.

25 Vnto a merry heart euery thing hath a good taste that he eateth.

The xxxi. Chapter.

1 We ought to giue diligent heede to honestie. 2 Of the that take paine to gather riches.

1 TRauaile and carefulnesse for riches, taketh away the sleepe, and maketh the flesh to consume.

2 When one lieth and taketh care, hee waketh euer vp, like as a great sickenes bleareth the sleepe.

3 The rich hath great labour in gathering his riches together, and then with the pleasure of his riches he taketh his rest, and is refreshed.

4 But whoso laboureth, and prospereth not, he is poore: and though he leaue off, yet is hee a begger.

5 He ỹ loueth riches, shal not be iustified: and who so followeth corruptiõ, shal haue ynough thereof.

6 * Many one are come in great misfortune Eccle.8.5.

by the reason of golde, and haue founde their destruction before them.

7 It is a tree of falling vnto them that offer it vp, and all such as be foolish fall therein.

Luke 6.24. 8 *Blessed is the rich which is found without blemish, and hath not gone after gold, nor hoped in money and treasures.

9 Where is there such a one, and we shal commend him, and call him blessed: for wonderfull things doeth he among his people.

10 Whoso is tryed and founde perfect in such things, shall be commended and prayed: who might offende, and hath not offended: who coulde do euill, and hath not done it:

11 Therefore shall his good be stablished, & the whole congregation shal declare his almes.

12 If thou sit at a great mans table, open not thy mouth wide vpon it, and say not, There is much meate on it.

13 Remember that an euil eye is a shrew: what thing created is worse thē a wicked eye: therefore weepeth it before euery mans face.

Matth. 7.2. 14 *Lay not thine hand vpon euery thing that thine eye seeth, and striue not with him in the dish.

15 Ponder by thy selfe what thy neighbour would faine haue, & be discreet in euery point.

16 Eate the thing that is set before thee manerly as it becommeth a man: and eate not too much, least thou be abhorred.

17 Leaue thou off first of al, because of nurture, least thou bee bee whome no man may satisfie, which may turne to thy decay.

18 When thou sittest among many men, reach not thine hand out first of all, neither cal thou first for drinke.

Eccle. 37.32. 19 *O howe well content is a wise man with a litle wine: so that in sleepe thou shalt not bee sicke thereof, nor feele any payne.

20 A sweete wholesome sleepe shall such a one haue, and feele no inwarde griefe: he riseth vp betimes in the morning, and is well at ease in him selfe: but an vnsatiable eater sleepeth vnquietly, and hath ache and payne of the body.

21 If thou feelest that thou hast eaten too much, arise, go thy way, cast it off thy stomacke, and take thy rest, and it shall ease thee, so that thou shalt bring no sickenesse vnto thy body.

22 My sonne, heare me, and despise me not, and at the last thou shalt finde as I haue told thee: in all thy workes bee diligent and quicke, so shall there no sickenesse happen vnto thee.

Prou. 22.9. 23 *Whoso is liberal in dealing out his meate, many men shall blesse him, & praise him with their lips, and the same is a sure token of his loue and faithfulnesse.

24 But he that is vnfaithfull in meate, the whole citie shall complayne of him: and that is a sure experience of his infidelitie and wickednesse.

25 *Shewe not thy valiantnesse in wine, for wine hath destroyed many a man. Iudith. 13.2.

26 The fire proueth the hard iron: euen so doeth wine proue the hearts of the proude, whē they be drunken.

27 Wine *soberly dronken, quickeneth ꝓ life of man: if thou drinkest it measurably, thou shalt be temperate: what is the life of him that is ouercome with wine: what taketh away the life: euen death. Psalm. 104.15. Pro. 31.4.

28 Wine was made from the beginning to make men glad, & not for drunkennesse: wine measurably dronken, is a reioycing of the soule & body: a measurable drinking, is health to soule and body.

29 But if it be dronken with excesse, it maketh bitternesse and sorowe vnto the minde.

30 Drunkennesse filleth the minde of the foolish with shame and ruine, minisheth the strength, and maketh woundes.

31 *Rebuke not thy neighbour at the wine, and despise him not in his mirth: giue him no despitefull wordes, & presse not vpon him with contrary sayings. Eccle. 20.2.

The xxxii. Chapter.

1 Of the discretion and praise of the preacher, and of the hearer. 15 Of the feare, faith, and confidence of God.

1 IF thou be made a ruler, pride not thy selfe therein, but bee thou as one of the people: take diligent care for them, and looke well thereto.

2 And when thou hast done all thy duetie, sit thee downe, that thou mayest bee mery with them, and receiue a crowne of honour.

3 Speake thou that art the elder, for it becommeth thee, but with sure knowledge: hinder not musike.

4 Speake not where there is no *audience: & powre not foorth wisedome out of time at an importunitie. Eccle. 3.3.

5 Like as the Carbuncle stone shineth that is set in golde, so doeth a song garnish the wine feast.

6 And as the Smaragde that is set in golde: so is the sweetnesse of musike by the mirth of wine.

7 Giue eare, and be still, and for thy good behauiour thou shalt be loued.

8 Thou yong man speake that becommeth thee, and that is profitable: and yet scarse whē thou art twise asked.

9 Comprehend much with few words, in many things bee as one that is ignorant: giue eare, and hold thy tongue withall.

10 If thou bee among men of high authoritie, desire not to compare thy selfe vnto them: and when an elder speaketh, make not thou many words therein.

11 Before the thunder goeth lightning: and before nurture and shamefastnesse goeth loue and fauour.

12 Stande vp betimes, and be not the laſt: but get thee home ſoone.
13 And there take thy paſtime, and doe what thou wilt: ſo that thou doe no euill, and defie no man.
14 But for all things giue thankes vnto him that hath made thee, and replenished thee with his goodneſſe.
15 Whoſo feareth the Lorde, will receyue his doctrine: and they that get them to him betimes, ſhal finde grace.
16 He that ſeeketh the law, ſhalbe filled withal: as for him that is but fayned, he will be offended thereat.
17 They that feare the Lorde, ſhall finde the iudgement: and their righteouſneſſe ſhall be kindeled as light.
18 An vngodly man will not be reformed, but can helpe himſelfe with the example of others in his purpoſe.
19 A man of vnderſtanding deſpiſeth no good counſell: but a wilde and proude body hath no feare, yea, euen when he hath dealt raſhly with another man: but his owne doings ſhalbe his rebuke.
20 My ſonne, do nothing without aduiſement: ſo ſhal it not repent thee after the deede.
21 Goe not in the way where thou mayeſt fall, nor where thou mayeſt ſtumble againſt the ſtone: againe, neyther truſt thou to the way that is playne.
22 And beware of thine owne children, and take heede of them that be of thine owne houſeholde.
23 In all thy workes put thy truſt in God, from thy whole heart: for that is the keeping of the commaundements.
24 Whoſo beleeueth Gods worde, taketh heede to the commaundementes: and he that putteth his truſt in the Lord, ſhal want nothing.

The xxxiii. Chapter.

1 The deliuerance of him that feareth God. 12 Man is in the hand of God, as the earth is in the hand of the potter.

1 THere ſhall no euill happen vnto him that feareth God: but when he is in temptation the Lord ſhal deliuer him, and keepe him from euill.
2 A wiſe man hateth not the lawe, but an hypocrite [a] is as a ſhip in a raging water.
3 A man of vnderſtanding giueth credence vnto the lawe of God, and the lawe is faithfull vnto him.
4 Be ſure of the matter, then talke thereof: be firſt well inſtruct, then mayeſt thou giue anſwere.
5 The heart of the foolith is like a cart wheele, & his thoughts runne about like the axeltree.
6 [b] Like as a wilde horſe that neyeth vnder euery one that ſitteth vpon him, ſo is it with a ſcornefull friende.
7 Why doeth one day excell another, ſeeing all the dayes of the yeere come of the ſunne?
8 The wiſedome of the Lorde hath ſo parted them aſunder, and ſo hath he ordeyned the times and ſolemne feaſtes.
9 Some of them hath he choſen and halowed before other dayes.
10 And all men are made of the ground, and out of the earth of Adam: in the multitude of ſcience hath the Lorde ſundred them, and made their wayes of diuers faſhions.
11 Some of them hath he bleſſed, made much of them, halowed them, and claymed them to himſelfe: but ſome of them hath he curſed, brought them lowe, and put them out of their eſtate.
12 Like as the clay is in the potters hand, and all the ordering thereof at his pleaſure: ſo are men alſo in the hand of him that made them, ſo that he may giue them as liketh him beſt.
13 * Againſt euill, is good, and againſt death, is life: ſo is the vngodly againſt ſuch as feare God. 2. Cor. 6. 14.
14 Behold, theſe are the workes of the higheſt, and there are euen two againſt two, and one ſet againſt another.
15 I am awaked vp laſt of all, as one that gathereth after in harueſt, in the giftes of God, and in his bleſſing I am encreaſed, and haue filled my winepreſſe like a grape gatherer.
16 * Beholde howe I haue not laboured onely for my ſelfe, but for all ſuch as loue nurture and wiſedome. Eccle. 24. 36.
17 Heare mee, O ye great men of the people, and hearken with your eares ye rulers of the congregation.
18 Giue not thy ſonne & wife, thy brother and friend, power ouer thee while thou liueſt: and giue not away thy ſubſtance and good to an other, leſt it repent thee, and thou be fayne to aſke of them againe.
19 As long as thou liueſt and haſt heath, [c] let no man change thee.
20 For better it is thy children to pray thee, then that thou ſhouldeſt be fayne to looke in their handes.
21 In all thy workes be excellent, that thy honour be neuer ſtayned.
22 At the time when thou ſhalt ende thy dayes and finiſh thy life, diſtribute thine inheritances.
23 The fodder, the whippe, and the burden belong vnto the Aſſe: meate, correction, and worke vnto the ſeruant.
24 If thou ſet thy ſeruant to labour, thou ſhalt finde reſt: but if thou let him goe yole, he ſhall ſeeke libertie.
25 The yoke and the whippe bowe downe the hard necke: but tame thou thy euill ſeruant with bondes and correction.
26 Sende him to labour, that he goe not yole: for

[a] As a ſhip in the ſurging waues without a guide, daſheth againſt rocks, or runneth on the ſand: ſo the hypocrite that is not ſtayed vpon Gods word, is ouerthrowen with euery blaſt of trouble and temptation.
[b] As a horſe carpeth euery man, and yet neyeth after euery mare: ſo is a ſcornefull friend that will flatter & ſerue euery man, & yet laugh him to ſcorne.
[c] Let no man vſe thee as his ſeruant, when thou haſt committed all thy goods into his handes.

for idlenesse bringeth much euill.
27 Set him to worke, for that belongeth vnto him, and becommeth him well.
28 If he be not obedient, binde his feete: but do not too much vnto him in any wise, and without discretion do nothing.
Eccle.7.22. 29 *If thou haue a [faithfull] seruant, let him be vnto thee as thine owne soule: entreate him as a brother, for in blood hast thou gotten him: if thou haue a seruant, holde him as thy selfe, for thou hast neede of him, as of thy selfe.
30 If thou entreatest him euil, and keepest him hard, and makest him to be proude, & to runne away from thee, thou canst not tell what way thou shalt seeke him.

The xxxiiii. Chapter.

1 Of dreames, diuinations, and enchantments. 6 We ought to confute vayne hope, and lying. 13 The praise of them that feare God.

1 VAnwise people beguile themselues with vayne and deceitfull hope, ‖ and fooles trust in dreames.
‖ Or, dreames make fooles to haue wings: for honour, riches, pleasures, and such like are but as dreames, wherein fooles do glorie: for whē they awake from their long sleepe, this thing shalbe vanished cleane away.
2 Whoso regardeth dreames, is like him that will take holde of a shadowe, and followe after the winde.
3 Euen so is it with ỹ appearings of dreames: before the face is the likenesse of a face.
4 Who can be cleansed of the vncleane? or what trueth can be spoken of a lyar?
5 Soothsaying, witchcraft, sorcerie, and dreaming, is but vayne: like as when a woman trauayleth with childe, and hath many fantasies in her heart.
6 Whereas such visions come not of God, set not thine heart vpon them.
7 For dreames haue deceyued many a man, & they fayled that put their trust therein.
8 The lawe shalbe fulfilled without lyes, and wisedome is sufficient to a faithfull mouth: what knowledge hath he that is not tryed?
9 A wise man that is well instruct, vnderstandeth much: and he that hath good experience, can talke of wisedome.
10 He that hath no experience, knoweth litle, and he that erreth, causeth much wickednes: he that is not tryed, what things knoweth he? he that hath bene deceyued, is full of subtiltie.
11 When I was yet in errour, I learned much also: yea, I was so learned, that I coulde not expresse it all,
12 And came oft in perill of death therefore, til I was deliuered from it through the grace of God.
13 Now I see that they which feare God haue the right spirit, for their hope standeth in him that can helpe them: and the eyes of the Lord are on them that loue him.
14 Whoso feareth the Lord, standeth in awe of no man, and is not afrayde: for the Lorde is his hope and comfort.
15 Blessed is the soule of him that feareth the Lord: in whome putteth he his trust? who is his strength?
16 For the eyes of the Lorde haue respect vnto them that loue him, he is their mighty protection & strong ground, a defence for the heate, a refuge for the hot noone day, a succour for stumbling, and an helpe for falling.
17 He setteth vp the soule, and lightneth the eyes, he giueth health, life, and blessing.
18 *He that giueth an offering of vnrighteous good, his offering is refused: and the scorneful dealings of the vnrighteous please not God. Pro.21.27.
19 The Lorde is theirs onely that patiently abide him in the way of the trueth and of righteousnesse.
20 *The highest doth not allowe the gifts of the wicked: and God hath no delight in the offrings of the vngodly, neither may sinne be reconciled in the multitude of oblations. Pro.15.8.
21 Whoso bringeth an offring out of the goods of the poore: doeth euen as one that killeth the sonne before his fathers eyes.
22 The head of the needefull is the life of the poore: he that defraudeth him thereof, is a man of blood.
23 Whoso robbeth his neighbour of his liuing, doeth as great sinne as though he slue him to death: he that defraudeth the labourer of his hyre, is a blood shedder.
24 When one buyldeth and another breaketh downe, what profite haue they then but labour?
25 a When one prayeth and another curseth, whose voyce will the Lord heare?
26 He that washeth himselfe because of a dead body, and then toucheth the dead againe, what doeth his washing?
27 So is it with a man that fasteth for his sinnes, & doth them againe: who will heare his prayer, or what doeth his fasting helpe him?

a When one rich man hauing gotte his goods by robberie, extortid, briberie, or by craft & subtiltie, vsurie, or symonie, or withholding seruants or labourers wages, & of that will offer a gift vnto God, that he may heare his prayer: on the other part, the poore which is oppressed or defrauded, prayeth to God to see & iudge his cause, whose prayer thinke you will God most chiefly heare?

The xxxv. Chapter.

1 It is well done to pray and to doe sacrifice. 14 The prayer of the fatherlesse, and of the widow, and of him that humbleth himselfe.

1 WHoso keepeth the lawe, bringeth offerings ynowe: he that holdeth fast the commandementes, *offereth the right health offering. Iere.7.2.
2 He that is thankful and recompenseth, offereth fine flower: whoso is mercifull & giueth almes, that is the right thanke offering.
3 God hath pleasure when one departeth from sinne: and to forsake vnrighteousnesse, reconcileth vs with him.
4 *Thou shalt not appeare emptie before the Lorde: Exod.23.15.
5 For all such is done because of the commandement of God.
6 *The offering of the righteous maketh the Gene.4.4.

altar

altar fatte, and a ſweete ſmell is it before the higheſt.

7 The offering of the righteous is acceptable vnto God, and ſhal neuer be forgotten.

8 Giue God his honor with a cheareful heart: & keepe not backe ẏ firſtlings of thine hands.

2.Cor.9.7. 9 * In all thy giftes ſhewe a cheareſull countenance, and halow thy tythes vnto God with gladneſſe.

Tob.4.6. 10 * Giue vnto God according as he hath enriched and proſpered thee: and looke what thine hand is able, giue with a cheareſull eye.

11 For the Lord recompenſeth and giueth thee ſeuen times as much againe.

Leuit.22.21. deut.15.20. 12 * Giue no vnrighteous giftes, for ſuch will he not receyue: beware of wrong offerings, Deut.10.17. for the Lord is a righteous Iudge, & * regardeth no mans perſon.

13 He accepteth not the perſon of the poore: but he heareth the prayer of the oppreſſed.

14 He deſpiſeth not the deſire of the fatherleſſe, nor the widdowe when ſhee powreth out her prayer before him.

15 Doeth not God ſee the teares that runne downe the cheekes of the widdow? for heareth he not the complaint ouer ſuch as make her to weepe? For from her cheekes doe the teares goe vp vnto heauen, and the Lorde which heareth them, doeth accept them.

16 Whoſo ſerueth God after his pleaſure, ſhal be accepted: and his prayer reacheth vnto the cloudes.

17 The prayer of him that humbleth himſelfe, goeth thorow the cloudes: tyll ſhe come nygh ſhe will not be comforted, nor go her way tyll the higheſt God haue reſpect vnto her, giue true ſentence, and performe the iudgement.

18 And the Lorde will not be ſlacke in comming, nor tarry long, till he haue ſmitten in ſunder the backes of the vnmercifull, and auenged himſelfe of the heathen, til he haue taken away the multitude of the cruel, and broken the ſcepter of the vnrighteous, till he giue euery man after his workes, and reward them after their doings, till he haue deliuered his people, mainteyned their cauſe, and reioyced them in his mercie.

19 O howe fayre a thing is mercie in the time of anguiſh and trouble: it is like a cloude of rayne that commeth in the time of drought.

The xxxvi. Chapter.

1 A prayer to God in the perſon of all faithfull men. 22 The prayſe of a good woman.

1 HAue mercie vpon vs, O Lorde, thou God of all things, haue reſpect vnto vs: ſhewe vs the light of thy mercies,

2 And ſend thy feare among the heathen and ſtrangers which ſeeke not after thee, that they may knowe that there is no God but thou, and that they may ſhewe thy wonderous workes.

3 * Lift vp thine hande ouer the outlandiſh heathen, that they may learne to knowe thy might and power. Iere.10.25.

4 Like as thou art halowed in vs before them: ſo bring to paſſe that thou mayeſt be magnified alſo in them before vs,

5 That they may know thee, like as we know thee: for there is none other God but onely thou, O Lord.

6 Renewe the tokens, and change the wonderous workes: ſhewe thine hande and thy right arme gloriouſly.

7 Rayſe vp thine indignation, and powre out thy wrath: take away the aduerſarie, and ſmite the enemie.

8 Make the time ſhort, remember the couenãt, that thy wonderous workes may be prayſed.

9 Let the wrath of the fire conſume them that liue ſo careleſſe: and let them periſh that doe thy people hurt.

10 Smite in ſunder the head of the Princes that be our enemies, and ſay, There is none other but we.

11 Gather all the tribes of Jacob together againe, that they may knowe howe that there is none other God but onely thou, that they may ſhewe thy wonderous workes: and be thou thy peoples heritage, like as from the beginning.

12 O Lorde haue mercy vpon the people that hath thy name, and vpon * Iſrael whom thou haſt likened to a firſt borne ſonne. Exod.4.22.

13 O be mercifull vnto Hieruſalem the citie of thy ſanctuarie, the citie of thy reſt.

14 Fill Sion with thine vnſpeakable vertues, and thy people with thy glory.

15 Giue witneſſe vnto thy creature whom thou madeſt from the beginning, & raiſe vp the prophecies that haue bene ſhewed in thy name.

16 Reward them that wayte for thee, that thy Prophets may be founde faithfull.

17 * O Lord, heare the prayer of thy ſeruants, accoyding to the bleſſing of Aaron ouer thy people, and guide thou vs in the way of righteouſnes: that all they which dwell vpon the earth may knowe that thou art the Lorde the eternall God, which is from euerlaſting. Num.6.23.

18 The belly deuoureth all meates: yet is one meate better then another.

19 Like as the tongue taſteth veniſon: ſo doeth an heart of vnderſtanding marke falſe words.

20 A frowarde heart griefeth heauineſſe: but a man of experience lifteth him vp againe.

21 The woman receyueth euery man: yet is one daughter better then another.

22 A fayre wife reioyceth her husbande: and a man loueth nothing better.

23 If there be in her tongue gentleneſſe, meekeneſſe, and wholeſome talke: then is not her husband like other men.

24 He that hath gotten a vertuous wife, hath hath a goodly possession: thee is vnto him a helpe, and pillar whereon he resteth.

25 Where no hedge is, there the goods are spoyled: and where no huswife is, there the friendlesse mourneth.
26 Like as there is no credence giuen to a robber that goeth from one citie to another: so is not the man beleeued that hath no nest, & must turne in where he may abide in the night.

The xxxvii. Chapter.

1 How a man should know friendes and counsellers, 12 and search the companie of an holy man.

1 EVery friende sayth, I will be friendly vnto him also: but there is some friende, which is onely a friende in name.
2 Remaineth not there heauinesse vnto death, when a companion and friende is turned to an enemie?
3 O most wicked presumption, from whence art thou sprung vp to couer the earth with falsehood and deceyte?
Eccle.6.10. 4 *There is some companion which in prosperitie reioyceth with his friend: but in the time of trouble he taketh part against him.
‖ Or, There is some cõpanion that helpeth his friende for the bellies sake, and taketh vp the buckler against the enemie. 5 ‖ There is some companion that mourneth with his friend for the bellies sake: but when trouble commeth, he taketh hold of ỹ shielde.
6 Forget not thy friende in thy minde, and thinke vpon him in thy riches:
7 Seeke no counsel at thy kinsmen, & hide thy counsel from such as beare thee no good will.
Eccle.8.2. and 9.21. 8 *Euery counseller praiseth his counsell: neuertheless, there is some that counselleth but for his owne profite.
9 Beware of the counseller, & be aduised afore whereto thou wilt vse him (for he wil counsel for himselfe) lest he cast the lot vpon thee,
10 And say vnto thee, Thy way and purpose is good: and afterward he stand against thee, and looke what shal become of thee.
11 Aske no counsel at him that suspecteth thee for an enemie, and hyde thy counsel from such as hate thee: aske no counsell for religion of him that is without religion, nor for iustice, of him that hath no iustice: aske no counsell at a woman, touching her of whome she is iealous, nor at a feareful and faynt hearted body, in matters of warre: or at a marchant, howe deare he will cheape thy wares towarde his: or at a buyer, of selling: or at an enuious man, of thankes giuing: or at the vnmercifull, of louing kindnesse: or at an vnhonest man, of honestie: or at the slouthfull, of working: or at an hyreling which hath no house, of profite or wealth: or at an idle body, of much labour: take no such folkes to counsell.
12 But be diligent to seeke counsell at a vertuous man that feareth God, such a one as thou knowest to be a keeper of the cõmandements, which hath a minde afeer thine owne minde, and is sory for thee when thou stumblest, 13 And holde thy counsel fast in thine heart: for there is no man more faithful to keepe it, then thou thy selfe.
14 For a mans minde is sometime disposed to tell out more, then seuen watchmen that sit aboue in an high place, looking about them.
15 And aboue all this, pray the highest, that he wil leade thy way in faithfulnesse and trueth.
16 Before all thy workes, aske counsell first: & or euer thou doest any thing, be well aduised.
17 There be foure things that declare a changed heart, whereout there springeth euill and good, death and life, and a masterfull tongue that babbleth much.
18 Some man is apt, and well instructed in many things, and yet very vnprofitable vnto himselfe.
19 Some man there is that can giue wise and prudent counsell, and yet is he hated, and continueth a begger, 20 For that grace is not giuen him of God to be accepted.
21 Another is robbed of all wisedome: yet is he wise vnto himselfe, and the fruite of vnderstanding is commendable in his mouth.
22 A wise man maketh his people wise, and the fruites of his wisedome fayle not.
23 A wise man shall be plenteously blessed of God: and all they that see him, shall speake good of him.
24 The life of man standeth in the number of the dayes: but the dayes of Israel are innumerable.
25 A wise man shall obteyne faithfulnesse and credence among his people, and his name shal be perpetuall.
26 My sonne, proue thy soule in thy selfe, and if thou see any euil thing, giue it not vnto her:
1.Cor.6.12. 27 * For all things are not profitable for all men, neither hath euery soule pleasure in euery thing.
Eccle.31.22. 28 *Be not greedie in euery eating, and be not too hastie vpon all meates.
29 For excesse of meates bringeth sickenesse, and gluttonie commeth at the last to an vnmeasurable heate.
30 Through surfet haue many one perished: but he that dieteth himselfe temperately, prolongeth his life.

The xxxviii. Chapter.

1 A physicion is commendable. 16 To burie the dead. 24 The wisedome of him that is learned.

1 HOnour the Physicion, honour him with that honour that is due vnto him, because of necessitie, for God hath created him.
2 For of the highest commeth medicine, and & he shall receiue giftes of the king.
3 The wisdome of the Physicion bringeth him to great worship, and in the sight of the great men of this world he shalbe honorably taken.

4 The

4 The Lord hath created medicine of ẏ earth: and he that is wise will not abhorre it.

Exod.15.25. iud.5.15. 5 * Was not the bitter water made sweete with a tree, that men might learne to knowe the vertue thereof?

6 The Lorde hath giuen men wisedome and vnderstanding, that he might be honoured in his wonderous workes.

7 With such doeth he heale men, and taketh away their paynes.

8 Of such doeth the Pothecarie make a confection, yet can no man perfourme all his workes: for of the Lord commeth prosperous wealth ouer all the earth.

Eccl.38.2. 9 * My sonne, despise not this in thy sickenesse: but pray vnto the Lorde, and he shall make thee whole.

10 Leaue off from sinne, and order thy hands aright, cleanse thine heart from all wickednes.

11 Giue a sweete sauoured offering, and the fine floure for a token of remembrance: make the offering fatte, as one that giueth the first fruites.

12 And giue roume to the Physicion, for the Lorde hath created him, let him not goe from thee, for thou hast neede of him.

13 The houre may come, that the sicke may be helped through them,

14 When they pray vnto the Lord, that he may recouer and get health to liue longer.

15 He that sinneth before his maker, shall fall into the handes of the Physicion.

Eccle.22.10. 1.thes.4.13. 16 My sonne, * bring forth thy teares ouer the dead, and begin to mourne, as if thou haddest suffered great harme thy selfe: and then couer his body after a conuenient maner, and despise not his buryall.

17 Enforce thy selfe to weepe, and prouoke thy selfe to mourne, and make lamentation expediently, & be earnest in mourning, and vse lamentation as he is worthie, and that a day or two, lest thou be euil spoken of: and then comfort thy selfe, because of the heauinesse.

Pro.15.13. and 17.22. 18 * For of heauinesse commeth death, the heauinesse of the heart breaketh strength.

19 Heauinesse and pouertie grieueth the heart in temptation and offence.

20 Take no heauinesse to heart, driue it away, and remember the last things.

21 Forget it not, for there is no turning againe, thou shalt do him no good, but hurt thy selfe.

22 Remember his iudgement, thine also shall be likewise: vnto mee yesterday, vnto thee to day.

2.Sam.12.20. 23 Let the * remembrance of the dead ceasse in his rest, and comfort thee againe ouer him, seeing his spirite is departed from him.

24 The wisedome of the Scribe is at conuenient time of rest: and he that ceasseth from exercises and labour, shalbe wise.

25 Howe can he get wisedome that holdeth the plough, and he that hath pleasure in the goade and in driuing the oxen, and is occupyed in their labours, and his talke is but of the breeding of bullockes?

26 He setteth his heart to make furrowes, and is diligent to giue the kyne fodder.

27 So is euery Carpenter also & workemaister that laboureth still night and day: he carueth, graueth, cutteth out, & his desire is in sundrie cunning things, his heart imagineth how he may cunningly cast an image, his diligence also and watching perfourmeth the worke.

28 The yron Smith in like maner bideth by his stithie, and doeth his diligence to labour the yron: the vapour of the fire burneth his flesh, and he must fight with the heate of the furnace: the noyse of the hammer euer soundeth in his eares, & his eyes looke still vpon the thing that he maketh: he hath set his minde thereupon, that he will make out his worke, and therefore he watcheth howe he may set it out, and bring it to an ende.

29 So doeth the potter sit by his worke: he turneth the wheele about with his feete, he is diligent and carefull in all doings, and maketh his worke in number.

30 He fashioneth the claye with his arme, and with his feete he tempereth it, his heart imagineth how he may make it pleasant, and his diligence is to cleanse the ouen.

31 All these hope in their hands, and euery one thinketh to be cunning in his worke.

32 Without these may not the citie be maynteyned, inhabited, nor occupyed:

33 Yet come they not high in the cõgregation, neither sit they vpon the iudgement seates: they vnderstand not the couenant of the lawe, they can not declare equitie and iudgement, they can not finde out the darke sentences.

34 But through them shall the creature of the worlde be maintained, their desire concerneth onely the worke and labour of cunning.

The xxxix. Chapter.

1 A wise man. 16 The workes of God. 24 Vnto the good, good things doe profite: but vnto the euill, euen good things are euill.

1 HE that applyeth his minde to vnderstand the lawe of God, doeth diligently seeke out the wisedome of them of the olde time, and exerciseth himselfe in the Prophets.

2 He keepeth the saying of famous men, and preasseth to the vnderstanding of darke sentences of wisedome.

3 He seeketh out ẏ mysterie of secret sayings, and exerciseth himselfe therein continually.

4 He doeth seruice among great men, and appeareth before the prince, hee goeth into a straunge countrey, and trauayleth thorowe it: looke what good or euill is among men, hee proueth and seeketh it out.

5 He

5 He purposeth in his heart to resort early vnto the Lord that made him, and to pray before the highest God: he openeth his mouth in prayer, and prayeth for his sinnes.

6 When the great Lorde will, he shalbe filled with the spirite of vnderstanding, that he may then powre out wise sentences, & giue thanks vnto the Lord in his prayer.

7 He shal order his deuise, and leade his knowledge aright, and giue him vnderstanding of secrete things.

8 He shall shewe forth the science of his learning, and reioyce in the couenant of the lawe of the Lord.

9 The whole congregation shal commend his wisedome, and it shal neuer be put out: the remembrance of him shall neuer be forgotten, and his name shal continue from one generation to another.

Eccle.44.14. 10 * His wisedome shall be spoken of among the people, and the whole congregation shall openly declare his prayse.

11 Whyle he liueth, he hath a greater name then a thousande beside: and after death, the same name remayneth vnto him.

12 Yet will I speake of moe men of vnderstanding, for I am full as the moone.

13 Hearken vnto me ye holy vertuous children, bring forth fruite as the rose that is planted by the brookes of the fielde.

14 And giue ye a sweete smell as incense, florish as the rose garden, sing a song of praise, & giue thankes vnto God ouer all his workes.

15 Giue magnificence vnto his name, and set him forth in his prayse with your lippes, and with musike and harmonie: yea, euen with the song of your lippes, with Harpes and playing, and in giuing thanks vnto him, say after this maner:

Gene.1.31. mark.7.37. 16 * All the workes of the Lord are exceeding good, and all his commandements are meete and conuenient in due season.

17 A man needs not to say, What is that? what is that? for at a time conuenient they shall all be sought: at his commaundement the water was as a wall, and at the worde of his mouth the water stoode still.

18 In his commãdement is euery thing acceptable and reconciled, and his health can not be minished.

19 The workes of all flesh are before him, and there is nothing hid from his eyes.

20 He seeth from euerlasting to euerlasting, and there is nothing too wonderfull or high vnto him.

21 A man needs not to say then, What is this, or that? for he hath made all things to doe good vnto man.

22 His blessing shall runne ouer as the streame, and moysture the earth like a flood of water.

23 Like as he maketh the drouth: so shall his wrath fall vpon the heathen.

24 His wayes are playne and right vnto the iust: but the vngodly stumble at them.

25 *For the good, are good things created from the beginning, & euil things for the vngodly. * The creatures of God are good by creation. But as good men vse them to the glory of God, the profite of others, & their owne necessitie: so the vngodly doe not acknowledge them as the good giftes of God, but abuse them either in riot & excesse, or els in miserable keeping of them, take them for their god. 1. Tim.4.4.

26 All things necessarie for the life of man, are created from the beginning: water, fire, yron, and salt, meale, wheate, and honie, milke, and wine, oyle and clothing.

27 * All these things are created for the best to the faithfull: but to the vngodly shall all these things be turned to hurt and harme.

28 There be spirites that are created for vengeance, and in their rigorousnesse haue they fastned their torments: in the time of the ende they shal powre out their strength, and ‖ pacifie the wrath of him that made them. ‖ Or, accomplish. Eccle.40.9.

29 * Fire, hayle, hunger, and death: all these things are created for vengeance.

30 The teeth of wilde noysome beasts, the scorpions, serpents, & the sworde, are created also for vengeance, to ẏ destruction of ẏ vngodly.

31 They shalbe glad to do his cõmandements, & when neede is, they shalbe ready vpon earth: and when their houre is come, they shall not ouerpasse the commandement of the Lord.

32 Therfore haue I taken a good courage vnto me from the beginning, and haue thought to put these things in writing, and to leaue them behinde me:

33 * All the workes of the Lorde are good, and he giueth euery one in due season, and when neede is. Gene.1.31.

34 So that no man needs to say, This is worse then that: for in due season they are all pleasant and good.

35 And therfore prayse ẏ Lord with whole heart and mouth, and giue thankes vnto his name.

The xl. Chapter.

1 Many miseries light in a mans life. 11 All things passe away, but a firme and stable faith remayneth. 14 Of the blessing of the righteous, and prerogatiue of the feare of God.

1 A Great trauaile is created for all men, & an heauie yoke vpon all the sonnes of Adam, from the day that they go out of their mothers wombe, til they be buryed in [the earth] the mother of all things.

2 [Namely,] their thoughtes and imaginations, feare of the heart, counsell, meditations, longing and desiring the day of death:

3 From the highest that sitteth vpon the glorious seate, vnto the lowest and most simple vpon the earth:

4 From him that is gloriously arayed, and weareth a crowne, vnto him that is but homely and simply clothed.

5 There is nothing but wrath, zeale, fearefulnesse, vnquietnesse, and feare of death, rigorousnesse, anger, and strife: and in the night when one should rest and sleepe vpon his bed, the the sleepe changeth his vnderstanding and knowledge.

6 A litle or nothing is his rest in the sleepe, as well as in the day of labour: he feareth, and is disquieted in the vision of his heart, as one that runneth out of a battell.

7 And in the time of health he awaketh, and marueyleth that the feare was nothing.

8 Such things happen vnto al flesh, both man and beast, but seuen folde to the vngodly.

Eccle.39.35. 9 *Moreouer, death, bloodshedding, strife, and swoorde, oppression, hunger, destruction, and punishment:

10 These things are all created against the vngodly, * and for their sakes came the flood also.

Gen.7.11. Gen.3.19. 11 * All that is of the earth, shall turne to earth againe, & all waters ebbe againe into the sea.

12 All bribes and vnrighteousnesse shall be put away: but faithfulnesse and trueth shall endure for euer.

13 The substance and goods of the vngodly shal be dryed vp, and sinke away as a water flood, a and they shal make a sound like a great thunder in the rayne.

a That is, with great tumult & trouble shall they be dispersed, and scattered abroade like as the roaring thunder.

14 Like as the righteous reioyceth when he openeth his hand: so shal the transgressours be payne, when their goods vanish and consume away.

15 The children of the vngodly shall not obteine many branches:

16 And the vncleane rootes vpon the hygh rockes, shalbe rooted out before the grasse by the water side, and vpon the riuer bankes.

17 Friendlinesse and liberalitie in the increase and blessing of God, is like a paradise and garden of pleasure: such mercy also and kindnesse endureth for euer.

2.Tim.6. Phil.4.12. 18 * To labour and to be content with that a man hath, is a sweete pleasant life: and that is, to finde a treasure of all treasures.

19 To beget children and to repaire the citie, maketh a perpetuall name: but an honest woman is more worth then they both.

20 Wine and minstrelsie reioyceth the heart: but the loue of wisedome is aboue them both.

21 Piping and harping make a sweete noyse: but a friendly tongue goeth beyond thē both.

22 Thine eye desireth fauour and beautie: but a greene seede time, rather then them both.

23 A friende and companion come together at opportunitie: but aboue them both is a wife that agreeth with her husband.

24 Brethren and helpers are profitable in time of trouble: but almes shall deliuer more then they both.

25 Golde and siluer fasten the feete: but a good counsell is more pleasant then they both.

26 Temporal substance and strength lift vp the minde: but the feare of the Lorde more then they both: the feare of the Lord wanteth nothing, and needeth no helpe.

27 The feare of the Lorde is a pleasant garden of blessing, and nothing so beautifull as it is.

28 My sonne, leade not a beggers life: for better it were to dye then to begge.

29 The life of him that looketh vpon another mans table, is not to be counted for a life, for he defyleth his soule in other mens meate: but a wise and wel nurtured man will beware thereof.

30 Begging is sweete in the mouth of the vnshamefast: but in his belly there burneth a fire.

The xli. Chapter.

1 Of the remembrance of death. 3 Death is not to be feared. 8 A curse vpon them that forsake the lawe of God.

1 O Death, a howe bytter is the remembrance of thee to a man that seeketh rest and comfort in his substance and riches, vnto the man that hath nothing to vexe him, and that hath prosperitie in all things, yea, vnto him that yet is able to receyue meate?

a Compared death is pure to some, bitter of men, to infidels, that looke for no life after this: for comfort to them that set their pleasure in their riches. from whence then do you not neede be warned, to chuse that rather to dye of the crosse: seeyng to the that be strong & lusty in body, for that they strogip struggle with death: but were vnto the cōtrary.

2 O death, howe acceptable and good is thy iudgement vnto the needefull, and vnto him whose strength faileth, and that is now in his last age, and that in all things is full of care & fearefulnesse, vnto him also that is in despaire, and hath no hope nor patience?

3 Be not thou afraid of death, remember them that haue bene before thee, and that come after thee: this is the iudgement of the Lorde ouer all flesh.

4 And why wouldest thou be against this pleasure of the hyghest? Whether it be tenne, an hundred, or a thousand yeeres, ‖ death asketh not how long one hath liued.

‖ Or, there is no defence for life against the graue.

5 The children of the vngodly are abominable children, and so are they that keepe companie with the vngodly.

6 The inheritance of vngodly children shall come to nought, and their posteritie shal haue a perpetuall shame and confusion.

7 The children complayne of an vngodly father: and why? for his sake they are rebuked and despised.

8 Woe be vnto you, O ye vngodly, which haue forsaken the law of the highest God: for though ye do encrease, yet shal you perish.

9 If ye doe liue, ye shalbe accursed: if ye dye, the curse shalbe your portion.

10 *All that is of the earth, shall turne to earth againe: so go the vngodly also out of the curse into destruction. Eccle.40.11.

11 Though men mourne for their body: yet the * name of the vngodly shalbe put out, for it is nothing worth. Pro.22.1.

12 Labour to get thee a good name: for that shall continue surer by thee then a thousande great treasures of golde.

13 A good life hath a number of dayes: but a good good name endureth euer.

14 My children, keepe wisedome in peace: for wisedome that is hid, and a treasure that is not seene, what profite is in them both?

15 A man that hideth his foolishnesse, is better then a man that hideth his wisedome.

16 Therefore be ye turned at my wordes: for it is not good in all things and alway to be ashamed; b true faith must proue and measure it.

17 Be ashamed of whoredome before father and mother: be ashamed of leasing before the prince and men of authoritie:

18 Of sinne, before the iudge and ruler: of offence, before the congregation and people: of vnrighteousnesse, before a companion and friende:

19 Of theft, before thy neyghbours: as for the truth of God and his couenant, be not ashamed thereof: c be ashamed to lye with thine elbowes vpon the bread, or to be reproued for giuing or taking:

20 And of silence, vnto them that salute thee: be ashamed to looke vpon harlots:

21 Be ashamed to turne away thy face frō thy kinsman: be ashamed ‖ to take & not to giue:

22 Be ashamed also to looke vpō another mans wife, and to make many tryfling wordes with her mayden, or to stand by her bed side:

23 Be ashamed to vpbrayde thy friende: when thou giuest any thing, cast him not in the teeth withall:

24 Or to repeat the matter that thou hast heard, or to disclose the secrete wordes: so shalt thou well be shamefast, and shalt finde fauour with all men.

b True faith doth al things in season & opportunite, when & howe euery one ought to be ordered. For strong meate & hard bread nourisheth some, & strangleth ather: some one [illegible]

c [illegible] to the [illegible] place [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

The xliii. Chapter.

The summe of the creation of the workes of God.

1 THe glory of the height, is the faire and cleare firmament, the beautie of ỹ heauen is his glorious clearenesse.

2 The Sunne when it appeareth, declareth the day in the going out of it, a marueilous worke of the highest.

3 At noone it burneth the earth, and who may abide for the heate thereof?

4 Whoso keepeth an Ouen when it is hotte, three times more doeth the Sunne burne vpon the mountaines: when it breatheth out the fierie beames & shineth, with the brightnesse of it, it blindeth the eyes.

5 Great is the Lorde that made it, and in his commandement he causeth it to run hastily.

Gene.1,16. 6 *The Moone also in all things accoording to her season, is a declaration of the time, and a signe for the world.

Exod.12.2. 7 The *token of the solemne feast is taken of the moone, a light that minisheth and increaseth againe.

8 The moneth is called after the Moone, it groweth wonderously in her changing.

9 The armie of heauen also is in the height: in the firmament of heauen it giueth a cleare and a glorious shine: this is the clearenesse of the starres, the beautifull apparell of heauen, the apparell that the Lorde lighteneth in the height.

10 In his holy worke they continue in their order, and not one of them faileth in his watch.

Gene.9.14. 11 *Looke vpon the Rainebowe, and praise him that made it: very beautifull is it in his shine.

12 He compasseth the heauen about with a glorious circle, the *handes of the highest haue bended it.

Esai.40.12.

13 Through his commandement he maketh the snow to fall, and the thunder of his iudgement to smite hastily.

14 Through his commandement the treasures are opened, and the cloudes flee as the fowles.

15 In his power hath he strengthened the cloudes, and broken the hailestones.

‖Or, moone. 16 The mountaines ‖ leape at the sight of him, the winde bloweth accoording to his will.

17 The sound of his thunder beateth the earth, & so doth the storme of the North: the whirle winde also lighteth downe as a feathered fowle, casteth out, and spreadeth the snowe abroade, and as the Grashoppers that destroy all, so falleth it downe.

18 The eye marueileth at the beautie of the whiteneſſe thereof, and the heart is afraide at the raine of it.

19 He powreth out the frost vpõ earth like salt, and when it is frozen, it is as sharpe as the pricke of a thistle.

20 When the colde North winde bloweth, hard Crystall commeth of the water: he lighteth downe vpon all the gatherings together of water, and putteth on the water as a breastplate.

21 He deuoureth the mountaines, and burneth the wildernesses: and looke what is greene, he putteth it out like fire.

22 The medicine of all these is, when a cloude commeth hastily, and whẽ a deawe commeth vpon the heate, it shalbe refreshed againe.

23 In his worde he stilleth the winde, in his counsaile he appeaseth the deepe, and hath planted Ilandes in it.

24 They that saile ouer the sea, tel of the perils and harmes thereof, and when we heare it with our eares, we marueile thereat.

25 For there be strange wonderous workes, diuers maners of nice beastes, & Whale fishes.

26 Through him are all things set in good order and perfourmed, & in his word all things endure.

27 I speake much, but I cannot sufficiently atteine vnto it: for he himselfe onely is the perfection of all wordes.

28 We shoulde praise the Lorde after all our power, for he is great in all his workes.

29 The Lorde is to be *feared, yea, very great is he, and marueilous is his power. Psal.96.4.

30 Praise the Lord, and magnifie him as much as ye may, yet doeth he farre exceede al praise: O magnifie him with all your power and labour earnestly, yet are ye in no wise able sufficiently to praise him.

31 *Who hath seene him, that he might tell vs? Who can magnifie him so greatly as he is? Psal.106.2.

32 For there are hid yet greater things then these be: as for vs, we haue seene but fewe of his workes.

33 For the Lorde hath made all things, and giuen wisedome to such as feare God.

The xliiii. Chapter.

1 The praise of certaine holy men, 16 Enoch, 17 Noah, 18 Abraham.

1 LEt vs commend the noble famous men, and the generation of our forefathers and fathers.

2 Many more glorious actes hath the Lord done in them, & shewed his great power euer since the beginning.

3 *The noble famous men reigned in their kingdomes, and bare excellent rule in their wisedome and vnderstanding, they followed the counsell shewed in the prophecies. Eccl.44.10.

4 They led the folke through the counsel and wisedome of the scribes of the people, wise sentences are found in their instructions:

5 They sought the sweetenesse and melodie of musike, and brought forth the pleasant songs in scripture:

6 They were rich also, and could comfort and pacifie those that dwelt with them.
7 All these were very noble and honourable men in their generations, and were well reported of in their times.
8 These haue left a name behind them, so that their praise shall alway be spoken of.
Gene.7.22. 9 Afterward there were some whose *remembrance is gone, they came to nought and perished, as though they had neuer bene, and became as though they had neuer beue borne, yea, and their children also with them.
10 Neuertheless, these are louing men, whose righteousnesse shall neuer be forgotten, but continue by their posteritie.
11 Their children are an holy good heritage: their seede endured fast in the couenant.
12 For their sakes shall their children and seede continue for euer, and their praise shall neuer be put downe.
13 Their bodies are buried in peace, but their name liueth for euermore.
Iosh.24.31. 14 *The people can speake of their wisedome, and the congregation can talke of their praise.
Gene.5.24. 15 *Henoch walked right & acceptably before the Lorde, therefore was he translated for an example of amendment to the generations.
Gene.6.9. and 7.6. 16 *Noe was a stedfast and righteous man, and in the time of wrath he became a reconciling: therefore was he left a remnant vnto the earth when the flood came.
Gene 9.11. 17 *An euerlasting couenant was made with him, that all flesh should perish no more with the water.
Gene.17.4. 18 *Abraham was a great father of many people, in glory was there none like vnto him.
19 He kept the law of the highest, and came into a couenant with him.
20 He set the couenant in his flesh, and when he was proued, he was found faithfull.
Gene.22.16. 21 *Therefore swore God vnto him with an othe, that he woulde blesse all people in his seede, that he woulde multiply and increase him as the dust of the earth, and to exalt his seede as the starres: yea, and that his seede should haue the possession and inheritance of the land, from sea to sea, and from the riuer vnto the borders of the world.
a He did alow him, & made him worthy and meete for such blessings of riches and increase: or els he made be knowen by this blessing Laban his vncle so often changing his wages, yet did God prosper him that it did wel appeare he bare a fauour to him as to Ioseph and Dan. &c.
22 With Isahac did he stablish the same couenant, for Abraham his fathers sake: Yea, that gratious blessing and health of all men, and couenant did he stablish with Isahac, & made it rest vpon the head of Jacob.
23 aHe knewe him in that he prospered him so well and richly, and gaue him an heritage, and sundred his portion by it selfe, and parted among the twelue tribes.
24 Mercifull men brought hee out of him, which found fauour in the sight of all flesh.

The xlv. Chapter.

1 The praise of Moses, 6 Aaron, and Phinehes.

1 MOses *beloued of God & men, whose remembrance is in high praise: Exod.11.3. actes.7.22.
2 Him þ the Lord made like in the glory of the saintes, and magnified him, so that the enemies stoode in awe of him.
3 Through his wordes he did great wonders: he made him glorious in the sight of kings, gaue him commandement before his people, and shewed him glorious power.
4 *He stablished him with faithfulnesse and meekenesse, and chose him out of all men. Num.12.3.
5 For he heard his voyce, and he ledde him in the darke cloude, and there he *gaue him the commandementes, yea, the lawe of life and wisedome: that he might teach Jacob the couenaut, and Israel his lawes. Exod.19.7.
6 *He chose Aaron his brother also out of the tribe of Leui, exalted him, and made him such like. Exod.4.14.
7 An euerlasting couenant made hee with him, and gaue him the priesthood in the people: he made him glorious in beautifull aray, and clothed him with the garment of honour.
8 He put perfect ioy vpon him, and girded him with strength, he deckt him with side clothes and a tunicle, with an ouerbody coate also, and a girdle.
9 *Round about made he him belles of gold, and that many: that when he went in, the sound might be heard, that they might make a noise in the sanctuarie, and giue the people warning. Exod.28.29.
10 The holy garment was wrought and bordered with golde, pelowe silke and purple: and in the breastlap there was a goodly worke, wherein was fastened light and perfectnesse.
11 Upon the same also there was a worke fastened and set with costly pretious stones, all bounde with gold, and this he brought in his ministration: the stones were fastened for a remembrance, after the number of the twelue tribes of Israel.
12 Upon his miter there was a plate of pure golde, a grauen image of holinesse, a famous and noble worke, garnished, and pleasant to looke vpon.
13 Before him were there seene no such faire ornaments, and these it behoued him alway to vse: there might none other put them on, but onely his children, and his childrens children perpetually.
14 Dayly perfourmed he his burnt offerings two times.
15 *Moses filled a his handes, and anointed him with holy oyle: this was now confirmed Leuit.8.12.
a That was, either to put into his hand the booke of the lawe written, to reade vnto the people, or els some sacrifice, that he might offer vnto God for their offences.

him

him with an euerlasting couenant, and to his seede as the dayes of heauen, namely, that his children shoulde alway minister before him, and performe the office of the priesthood, and wish the people good in his name.

16 Before all men liuing chose he him, that he shoulde offer incense before the Lorde, and make odours for a sweete sauour and remembrance, that he shoulde reconcile the people of the Lord with him againe.

Deut.17.10. 17 *He gaue him authoritie also in his commandements, and in the couenant, that he should teache Jacob the statutes and testimonies, and enfourme Israel in the lawe.

Num.16.1. 18 *Therefore there stoode vp certaine against him, and had enuie at him in the wildernesse: namely, they that were of Dathan and Abirams sort, and the furious congregation of Chore.

19 This the Lorde sawe, and it displeased him, and in his wrathfull indignation were they consumed: a great wonder did he vpon them, and consumed them with the fire.

Num.27.8. 20 Besides this, he made *Aaron yet more honourable and glorious, he gaue him an heritage, and parted the first fruites vnto him: vnto him specially he appointed the bread of sustenance.

21 For the priestes did eate of the offerings of the Lorde: this gaue he vnto him and his seede.

Deut.12.12. and 18.1. 22 *But had he no heritage nor portion in the land and with the people: for the Lorde himselfe is his portion and inheritance.

Num.25.13. 1.mac.2.26. 23 The third noble and excellent man is *Phinees the sonne of Eleazar, which pleased the God of Israel, because he had the zeale & feare of the Lord: for when the people were turned backe, he put himselfe forth right soone, and that with a good will, to pacifie the wrath of the Lord toward Israel.

24 Therefore was there a couenant of peace made with him, that he shoulde be the principall among the righteous in the people, that he and his posteritie shoulde haue the office of the priesthood for euer.

25 Like as there was made a couenant with Dauid of the tribe of Juda, that from among his sonnes onely there should be a king, and that Aaron also and his seede should be an heritage, to giue vs wisedome in our heart, to iudge his people in righteousnesse, that his goodes should not come into forgetfulnes, and that their honour might endure for euer.

The xlvi. Chapter.

1 The pride of Iobe, 2 Caleb, 3 Samuel,

MAnly and strong in battaile was Jesus the sonne of Nave, and was the Iosu.11.7. num.27.18. deut.34.9. iosue 1.3. successour of Moses in prophecies, & was ordeined to be captaine of ye people, which according vnto his name was a great sauiour vnto the elect of God, to punish the enemies that rose vp against Israel, that Israel might obteine their inheritance.

2 *O how great, noble, and excellent was he, Iosu.8.3. when he lift vp his hande, and drewe out his swerde against the cities.

3 Who stoode so manly before him? for the Lord himselfe brought in the enemies.

4 *Stoode not the sunne still at his commandement, and one day was as long as two? Iosu.10.12.

5 He called vpon the highest and most mightie, when the enemies preased vpon him on euery side, and the mightie Lorde heard him with the haile stones.

6 They smote the heathenish people mightily, and in falling downe they slue all the aduersaries: so that the Heathen knewe his hoste, and all his defence, that the Lorde himselfe fought against them: for he followed vpon the mightie men of them.

7 In the *time of Moses also, he and Caleb Num.14.6. ye sonne of Jephune did a good worke, which stoode against the enemies, withheld the people from sinne, and stilled the wicked murmuring.

8 *And of sixe hundred thousande people of Num.26.65. foote, they two were preserued to bring them into the heritage, namely, a land that floweth with milke and hony.

9 The Lorde *gaue strength also vnto Caleb, which remained with him vnto his age: so that he went vp into the high places of the land, and his seede conquered the same for an heritage:

Iosu.14.12.

10 That all the children of Israel might see howe good a thing it is to be obedient vnto the Lord.

11 And the iudges or rulers, euery one after his name, whose heart went not a whoring, nor departed from the Lorde, and that forsooke not the Lorde vnfaithfully, whose remembrance hath a good report:

12 Yea, their bones sprung out of their place, and their names shall neuer be changed: but honour remaineth still with the children of those holy men.

13 Samuel the Prophet, *beloued of the Lord 1.Sam.10.1. his God, ordeined a king, and anointed the princes ouer the people.

14 In the law of the Lord ruled he, and iudged the congregation, and the Lorde had respect vnto Jacob.

15 By Prophet was founde diligent in his faithfulnesse: yea, and he is answered faithfull in his wordes, because he sawe the God of light.

16 He called vpon the Lord almightie, when 1.Sam.7.10. the enemies preased vpon him on euerie side, what time as he offered the sucking lambe.

17 And the Lorde thundered from heauen, and made his voyce to be heard with a great noyse.

18 He discomfited the princes of Tyre, and all the rulers of the Philistines.

2.Sam.12.7. 19 *Before his last ende, he made protestation in the sight of the Lord and his anointed, that he tooke neither substance nor good of any man, no not so much as a shoe: and no man might accuse him.

20 After this he told that his end was at hand, and shewed the king also his ende and death, and from the earth lift he vp his voyce in the prophecie, that the vngodly people shoulde perish.

The xlvii. Chapter.

1 The praise of Nathan, 2 Dauid, 12 and Solomon.

1 AFterward in the time of king Dauid, 2.Reg.12.2. there *rose vp a Prophet called Nathan.

2 For like as the fat is taken away frō the offering: so was Dauid chosen out of the children of Israel.

3 He played with the Lions as with Kids, and with Beares, like as with lambes of sheepe.

2.Sam.17.34. 4 *Slewe he not a Giant when he was yet but young, and tooke away the rebuke from his people, what time as he tooke the stone in his hande, and smote downe proude Goliath with the sling?

5 For he called vpon the highest Lord, which gaue him strength in his right hande, so that he ouerthrewe the mightie Giant in the battaile, that he might set vp the horne of his people againe.

6 *So he glorified him in ten thousande, and made him to haue a good report in the praise of the Lorde, that he shoulde weare a crowne of glory.

7 *For he destroyed the enemies on euerie side, rooted out the Philistines his aduersaries, and brake their horne in sunder, like as it is broken yet this day.

8 In all his workes he praised the highest and holiest, and ascribed the honour vnto him: with his whole heart did he praise the Lorde, and loued God that made him.

9 He set *singers also before the altar, and in their time he made sweete songs, that they might giue praises euery day to God with songs.

10 He ordained to keepe the holy dayes worshipfully, that the solemne feastes, though the whole yeare shoulde be honourably holden with praising the name of the Lorde, and with singing betimes in the morning in the sanctuarie.

2.Sam.12.13. 11 *The Lorde tooke away his sinnes, and exalted his horne for euer: he gaue him the couenant of the kingdome, and the throne of 1.Reg.4.21. worship in Israel.

12 After him there rose vp the wise sonne [called Solomon,] who by him dwelt in a large possession, and for his sake he drowe the enemies away farre off.

13 This *Solomon reigned with peace in his time, and he obteined glory: for God gaue him rest from his enemies on euery side, that he might builde him an house in his name, and prepare the sanctuarie for euer. 3.Reg.4.21.

14 How wise wast thou in thy youth, and filled with wisedome and vnderstanding, as it were with a water flood?

15 Thou coueredst and filledst the whole lande with similitudes, and wise prudēt sentences.

16 Thy name went abroade in the Iles, because of thy peace, thou wast beloued.

17 All lands maruelled at thy songs, prouerbes, similitudes, and at thy interpretations.

1.Reg.10.27. 18 *And in the name of the Lorde God, which is called the God of Israel, thou gatheredst golde as tinne, and thou haddest as much siluer, as leade.

1.Reg.11.1. 19 *Thou was mooued in inordinate loue towarde women, and wast ouercome in affection.

20 Thou stainedst thy honour & worship, yea, thy posteritie defiledst thou also, in bringing the wrath of the Lord vpon thy children, and hast felt sorow for thy follie.

1.Reg.12.17. 21 So that thy kingdome was deuided, * and Ephraim became an vnfaithfull and a rebellious kingdome.

2.Sam.7.15. 22 *Neuertheless, God forsooke not his mercie: neither was he vtterly destroyed, because of his workes, that he shoulde leaue him no posteritie: as for the seede that came vpon him, which he loued, he thought it not vtterly to nought, but gaue yet a remnant vnto Jacob, and a roote vnto Dauid out of him.

23 Thus rested Solomon with his fathers, and out of his seede he left behind him a very foolishnesse of the people, and such one as had no vnderstanding: euen *Roboam, which 1.Reg.12.16. turned away the people through his counsaile, and Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat, 1.Reg.12.28. *which caused Israel to sinne, and shewed Ephraim the way of vngodlinesse.

24 In so much that their sinnes and misdeedes had the vpper hand so sore, that at ỹ last they were driuen out of the land for the same.

25 Yea, he sought out and wrought vp all wickednes, till the vengeance came vpon them.

The xlviii. Chapter.

The praise of Elias, Eliseus, Ezechias, and Esaias.

1 THen stoode vp *Elias the Prophet as 3.Reg.17.1. a fire, and his word burnt like a creasset.

2 He brought an hunger vpon them, and in his zeale he made them fewe in number: for they might not away with the commandements of the Lord.

3 *Through

3.Reg.18.38. 3 *Through the worde of the Lorde he shutte the heauen, and three times wrought he the fire downe.

4 O Elias, howe honourable art thou in thy wonderous deedes: who may make his boast to be like thee:

3.Reg.17.22. 5 *One that was dead thou raisedst vp from death, and in the worde of the highest thou wroughtest him out of the graue againe.

6 Thou hast cast downe kings, and destroyed them, and the honourable from their seate.

3.Reg.19.15. 7 Upon the mount *Sina thou heardest the iudgement, and vpon Horeb the iudgement of the vengeance:

3.Reg.19.17. 8 *Which diddest anoint kings to recompense, and ordeinedst Prophets after thee.

4.Reg.2.11. 9 *Thou wast taken vp in the storme of fire, in a charret of fierie horses.

10 Thou wast ordeined in the reproouings in time, to pacifie the wrath of the Lorde before it raged, to turne the heartes of the fathers vnto the children, and to set vp the tribes of Jacob againe.

11 Blessed were they that sawe thee, and were garnished in loue, for we liue in life: but after death we shall haue no such name.

4.Reg.2.11. 12 *Elias was couered in the storme, but Elizeus was filled with his spirit: while he liued, he was afraide of no prince, and no man might ouercome him.

4.Reg.13.21. 13 *There could no word deceiue him, and after his death his body prophecied.

4.Reg.5.14. 14 He did wonders in his *life, and in death were his workes marueilous.

15 For all this the people amended not, neither departed they from their sinnes, till they were carryed away prisoners out of the land,

4.Reg.18.12. *and were scattered abroade in al countreys, so that of them there remayned but a very litle people, and a prince vnto the house of Dauid.

16 Howbeit, some of them did right, and some heaped vp vngodlinesse.

4.Reg.18.2. 17 *Ezechias made his citie strong, conueyed water into it, digged thorow the stonie rocke with yron, and made vp a wall by the water side.

4.Reg.18.13. 18 In his time came *Sennacherib vp, and sent Rabsakes, lift vp his hande against Sion, and defied them with great pride.

19 Then trembled their heartes and handes, so that they sorrowed like a woman trauailing with childe.

20 So they called vpon the Lorde which is merciful, and lift vp their handes before him, immediately the Lorde hearde them out of heauen.

21 He thought no more vpon their sinnes, nor gaue them ouer to their enemies: but deliuered them by the hand of Esaias.

4.Reg.19.22. 22 *He smote the hoste of the Assyrians, and his angel destroyed them.

23 For Ezechias had done the thing that pleased the Lorde, and remained stedfastly in the way of Dauid his father, as Esaias the great and faithfull Prophet in the sight of God had commanded him.

24 *In his time the Sunne went backwarde, and he lengthned the kings life. 4.Reg.20.10.

25 *With a right spirit prophecied he what shoulde come to passe at the last: and to such as were sorrowfull in Sion, he gaue consolation, wherewith they might comfort themselues for euermore. Esai 38.1.

26 He shewed things that were for to come and secrete, or euer they came to passe.

The xlix. Chapter.

Of Iosias, Ezechias, Dauid, Ieremie, Ezechiel, Zorobabel, Iesus, Nehemias, Enoch, and Ioseph.

1 THe remembrance of *Josias, is like as when the Apothecarie maketh many pretious sweete smelling things together: his remembrance shalbe sweete as hony in all mouthes, and as the playing of musike at a banquet of wine. 4.Reg.22.1. 2.chro.34.1.

2 He was appointed to turne the people againe, and to take away all abominations of the vngodly.

3 He directed his heart vnto the Lorde, and in the time of the vngodly he set vp the worship of God againe.

4 All kings, except [a]Dauid, Ezechias, and Josias, committed wickednesse: for euen the kings of Juda also forsooke the lawe of God.

5 For they gaue their horne vnto other, their honour and worship also to a strange people.

6 Therefore was the elect citie of the sanctuarie burnt with fire, and the streetes thereof laid desolate and waste in the [b]hand of Jeremie.

7 For they entreated him euill, which neuertheless was a Prophet, ordeined from his mothers wombe, that he might roote out, breake off, & destroy: and that he might build vp, and plant againe.

8 Ezechiel sawe the glory of the Lorde in a vision, which was shewed him vpon the charet of the Cherubims.

9 For he thought vpon the enemies in the raine, to doe good vnto such as had ordered their wayes aright.

10 And the bones of the twelue Prophets flourished from out of their place, for they gaue comfort and consolation vnto Jacob, and deliuered them faithfully.

11 *How shall we praise Zorobabel, which was as a ring on the right hand. Agge 1.14. 1.esdr. 3.2.

12 So was *Jesus also the sonne of Josedec: Zach.3.1.
these men in their times builded the house, a These all were sinners, but either they were not idolaters, which here is chiefely counted sinne: or els they did repent, so þ their sinnes were couered, for that they were enemies to idolatrie.

b That is, according to the prophecie of Jeremie: for þ hand in scripture is taken for any mans office and function.

and set vp the sanctuarie of the Lord againe, which was prepared for euerlasting worship.

Nehe.7.1. 13 And among ỹ elect was * Nehemias, whose renowme was great, which set vp for vs the walles that were broken downe, made the portes and barres againe, and builded our houses anewe.

Gene.5.24. 14 But vpon the earth there is no man created like * Enoch: for he was taken vp from the earth.

15 Neither was there a like man vnto Joseph, which was lorde of his brethren, and the vpholder of his people: c his bones were couered and kept.

c For that he prophecied of ỹ deliuerance of Israel from Egypt into Chanaan, and also of the resurrection to be made by Christ.

16 Seth and Sem were in great honour among the people, and so was Adam aboue all the beastes when he was created.

The l. Chapter.

1 Of Simon the sonne of Onias. 22 An exhortation to praise the Lord.

2.Mac.3.4. 1 SImon the sonne of * Onias the high priest, which in his life set vp the house againe, and in his dayes made fast the temple.

2 The height of the temple also was founded of him, the double building, and the high walles of the temple.

3 In his dayes the welles of water flowed out, and were exceeding full as the sea.

4 He tooke care for his people, and deliuered them from destruction: he kept his citie, and made it strong, that it shoulde not be besieged.

5 Howe honourable was his conuersation among the people, and when he came out of the house couered with the vayle:

6 He gaue light as the morning starre in the middest of the cloudes, & as the moone when it is full:

7 He shined as the sunne in the temple of God, he is as bright as the raynebowe in the faire cloudes,

8 And flourisheth as the flowres and Roses in the spring of the yeere, and as Lilies by the riuers of water, like as the branches vpon the mount Libanus in the time of sommer:

9 As a fire and incense that is kindled, like as an whole ornament of pure golde set with all maner of pretious stones,

10 And as an Olyue tree that is fruitefull, and as a Cypresse tree which groweth vp on high.

11 When he put on the garment of honour, and was clothed with all beautie, when he went to the holy altar, he made the garment of holinesse honourable.

12 When he tooke the portions out of ỹ priests hande, he himselfe stoode by the hearth of the altar, and his brethren rounde about in order, as the branches of Cedar tree vpon the mount Libanus, so stoode they rounde about him:

13 And as the branches of the Olyue tree, so stoode all the sonnes of Aaron in their glory, and the oblations of the Lord in their handes, before all the congregation of Israel.

14 And that he might sufficiently perfourme his seruice vpon the altar, and garnish the offering of the highest God, 15 He stretched out his hand, and tooke of the drinke offering, and powred in of the wine: so he powred vpon the bottome of the altar a good smell vnto the highest prince.

16 Then began the sonnes of Aaron to sing, and to blowe with trumpets, and to make a great noise, for a remembrance and praise vnto the Lorde.

17 Then all the people together were hasted, and fell downe to the earth vpon their faces, to worship the Lorde their God, and to giue thankes to the almightie God.

18 They sung goodly also with their voyces, so that there was a pleasant noise in the great house of the Lorde.

19 And the people in their prayer besought the Lorde the highest, that he woulde be mercifull, till the honour of the Lord were perfourmed, and they had ended their ministration and seruice.

20 Then went he downe, and stretched out his handes ouer the whole multitude of the people of Israel, that they should giue praise and thankes out of their lippes vnto the Lorde, and to reioyce in his name.

21 He began yet once also to pray, that he might openly shew the thankesgiuing before the highest,

22 [Namely thus,] O giue praise and thanks all ye vnto the Lord our God, which hath euer done noble and great things, which hath increased our dayes from our mothers wombe, and dealt with vs according to his mercie:

23 That he will giue vs the ioyfulnes of heart, and peace for our time in Israel:

24 Which faithfully keepeth his mercie for vs euermore, and alway deliuereth vs in due season.

25 There be two maner of people that I abhorre from my heart, as for the thirde whom I hate, it is no people:

26 They that sit vpon the mountaine of Samaria, the Philistines, and the foolish people that dwell in Sichimis.

27 I Jesus, the sonne of Sirach, Eleazarus of Hierusalem, haue tokened vp these informations and documentes of wisedome and vnderstanding in this booke, and powred out the wisedome of my heart.

28 Blessed is he that exerciseth himselfe therein: and whoso taketh such to heart, shalbe wise for euer.

29 If he doe these things, he shalbe strong in al: for the light of ꝑ Lorde leadeth him, which giueth wisedome to the godly: the Lorde be praised for euermore, so be it, so be it.

The li. Chapter.

The prayer of Iesus the sonne of Sirach.

1 I Will thanke thee, O Lorde and king, and praise thee, O God my sauiour: I will yeelde praise vnto thy name.

2 For thou art my defender and helper, and hast preserued my body frō destruction, from the snares of trayterous tongues, and from the lips that are occupied with lyes.

3 Thou hast bene my helper from such as stoode vp against mee, and hast deliuered me after the multitude of thy mercie, and for thy holy names sake, from the roaring of them that prepared themselues to deuoure me, out of the handes of such as sought after my life, from the multitude of them that trouble me,

4 And from them that went about to set fire vpon me on euery side, so that I am not burnt in the middest of the fire:

5 From the deepe of hell, from an vncleane tongue, from lying wordes, from false accusation to the king, and from an vnrighteous tongue.

6 My soule shall praise the Lorde vnto death: for my lyfe drewe nigh vnto hell downewarde.

7 They compassed me rounde about on euerie side, and there was no man to helpe me: I looked about mee if there were any man that would succour me: but there was none.

8 Then thought I vpon thy mercy, O Lord, and vpon thy actes that thou hast done euer of olde: [namely,] that thou deliuerest such as put their trust in thee, and riddest them out of the handes of the heathen.

9 Thus lift I vp my prayer from the earth, and prayed for deliuerance from death.

10 I called vpon the Lorde the father of my Lorde, that he would not leaue me without helpe in the day of my trouble, and in the time of the proude.

11 I wil praise thy name continually, yeelding honour and thankes vnto it: and so my prayer was heard.

12 Thou sauedst me from destruction, and deliueredst me from ꝑ vnrighteous time: therefore will I acknowledge and praise thee, and magnifie the name of the Lorde.

13 When I was yet but yong, or euer I went astray, I desired [a] wisedome openly in my prayer.

14 I came therefore before the temple, & sought her vnto the last: then flourished she vnto me, as a grape that is soone ripe.

15 My heart reioyced in her, then went my foote the right way: yea, from my youth vp sought I after her.

16 I bowed downe mine eare, and receiued her: I founde me much wisedome, and prospered greatly in her.

17 Therefore will I ascribe the glory vnto him that giueth me wisedome.

18 For I am aduised to doe thereafter, I will be ielous to cleaue vnto ꝑ thing that is good, so shall I not be confounded.

19 My soule hath wrestled with her, and I haue bene diligent to be occupied in her: I lift vp my hands on high, then was my soule lightened through wisedome, and I knowledged my foolishnesse.

20 I ordered my soule after her, she and I were one heart from the beginning, and I founde her in cleannesse, and therefore shall I not be forsaken.

21 My heart longed after her, and I gate a good treasure.

22 Through her the Lorde hath giuen mee a new tongue, wherewith I will praise him.

23 * O come vnto me ye vnlearned, and dwell in the house of wisedome. Esai 55.1.

24 Withdrawe not your selues from her, but talke and commune of these things: for your soules are very thirstie.

25 I opened my mouth, and spake, O come and buy wisedome without money.

26 Bowe downe your necke vnder her yoke, and your soule shall receiue wisedome: she is hard at hand, and is content to be found.

27 * Behold with your eyes, how that I haue had but little labour, and yet haue founde much rest. Eccle. 6.28.

28 O receiue wisedome, and ye shall haue plenteousnesse of siluer and golde in possession.

29 Let your minde reioyce in his mercie, and be not ashamed of his praise.

30 Worke his worke betimes, and he shal giue you your reward in due season.

[a] Wisedome is obteined by one of these three meanes: first, by prayer, as Solomon did and Iacob: secondly, by diligent reading of Gods booke, wherein wisedome is contained, psal. 19. Sap. 6. Thirdly, by godly conuersation & continuing in the feare of God, Prou. 2. Ioh. 7. If any man will doe my will, he shall knowe my doctrine.

The ende of the booke of Iesus the sonne of Sirach, which is called in Latine Ecclesiasticus.

The booke of the Prophet Baruch.

The first Chapter.

1 Baruch wrote a booke during the captiuitie of Babylon, which he read before Iechonias and all the people. 10 The Iewes sent the booke with money vnto Hierusalem to their other brethren, to the intent that they should pray for them.

a Baruch was secretary to Jeremie the Prophet, of whom in Jeremie is often made mention.

1 AND these are the wordes of the booke, which were [a] written by Baruch the sonne of Nerias, the sonne of Maasias, the sonne of Sedechias, the sonne of Helchias, at Babylon,

2 In the fifth yeere, and in the seuenth day of the moneth, what time as the Chaldees tooke Hierusalem, and burnt it vp with fire.

3 And Baruch did reade the wordes of this booke, that Iechonias the sonne of Joachim king of Juda might heare, and in the presence of al the people that were come to heare the booke,

4 And before all the nobles, the kings sonnes, and before the elders, and before the whole people, from the lowest vnto the highest, before all them that dwelt at Babylon, by the water of ‖ Sodi:

‖ Or, Sud.

5 Which when they heard it, wept, fasted, and prayed before the Lord.

6 They made a collection also of money, according to euery mans power:

7 And sent it to Hierusalem vnto Joachin the sonne of Helchia, the sonne of Salom priest, with the other priestes, and to all the people which were with him at Hierusalem,

‖ Or, ornaments.

8 (What time as they had gotten the ‖ vessels of the temple of the Lorde that were taken away out of the temple, that they might bring them againe into the land of Juda the tenth day of the moneth [b] Sinan, [namely] siluer vessels, which Sedechias the sonne of Josias king of Juda had made,) b Sinan containeth part of May, and part of June, it is the thirde moneth after the reckoning of the Iewes.

9 After that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon had taken Iechonias, with al his princes, lordes, and all the people, and led them captiue from Hierusalem vnto Babylon:

10 And they sayd, Beholde, we haue sent you money to buy you burnt offerings and incense withall, prepare a meate offering, and offer for sinne vpon the altar of the Lorde our God:

c By this example we are taught to pray for kings and princes, as 1. Tim. 2.

11 And [c] pray for the prosperitie of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, & for the welfare of Balthasar his sonne, that their dayes may be vpon earth as the dayes of heauen:

12 That God also may giue vs strength, and lighten our eyes, that we may liue vnder the defence of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and vnder the protection of Balthasar his sonne, that we may long doe them seruice, and finde fauour in their sight.

13 Pray for vs also vnto the Lord our God: for we haue sinned against the Lorde our God, and vnto this day is not his wrath turned yet away from vs.

14 And see that ye reade this booke, which we haue sent vnto you, to be rehearsed in the temple of the Lorde vpon the high dayes, and at time conuenient.

15 Thus shall ye say, * The Lorde our God is righteous, but we are worthie of confusion and shame, like as it is come to passe this day vnto all Juda, and to euery one that dwelleth at Hierusalem, Baru. 2.6.

16 To our kings, princes, priestes, prophetes, and to our fathers.

17 * We haue sinned before the Lord our God, we haue not put our trust in him, nor giuen him credence. Dan. 9.5.

18 We haue not obeyed him, we haue not hearkened vnto the voyce of the Lord our God, to walke in the commandements that he gaue vs openly.

19 Since the day that he brought our forefathers out of the lande of Egypt, vnto this present day, we haue bene euer a misbeleeuing and an vnfaythfull people vnto the Lorde our God, destroying our selues vtterly, and shrinking backe, that we shoulde not heare his voyce.

20 Wherefore, there are come vpon vs great plagues, & diuers curses, like as the Lord * deuised by Moses his seruant, which brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt, to giue vs a land that floweth with milke and hony, like as it is to see this day. Deu. 28.15.

21 Neuertheless, we haue not hearkened vnto the voyce of the Lorde our God, according to all the wordes of the Prophets, whom he sent vnto vs [and to our rulers.]

22 But euery man followed his owne minde & wicked imagination, to offer vnto strange goddes, and to doe euill in the sight of the Lord our God.

The ii. Chapter.

1 The Iewes confesse that they iustly suffer for their sinnes. 21 The Lord will that we obey vnto princes, although they be euill.

1 FOr the which cause the Lorde our God hath performed his deuice, whereof he certified vs, and our heads that ruled in Hierusalem, yea, and our kings, our princes, with all Israel and Juda:

2 And such plagues hath the Lorde brought vpon vs, as neuer came to passe vnder the heauen, like as it is fulfylled in Hierusalem, lem, *according as it is written in the lawe of Moses,

Deut.28.53.

3 That a man should eate ye flesh of his owne sonne, and the flesh of his owne daughter.

4 Moreouer, he hath deliuered them into the hands of all the kings that are round about vs, to be confounded and desolate, & scattered them abroad in all lands and nations.

5 Thus are we brought beneath, and not aboue, because wee haue sinned against the Lord our God, and haue not been obedient vnto his voyce.

Baruc.1.15.

6 Therefore * the Lord our God is righteous, and we with our fathers [as reason is] are brought to open shame, as it is to see this day.

7 And as for these plagues that are come vpon vs already, the Lorde had deuised them for vs.

8 Yet would we not pray vnto the Lord our God, that we might euery man turne from his vngodly wayes.

9 So the Lord hath caused such plagues to come vpon vs: for he is righteous in all his workes which he hath commanded vs.

10 Which wee also haue not done, nor hearkened vnto his voyce, for to walke in the commandements of the Lord, that he hath giuen vnto vs.

Dan.9.15.

11 And *now, O Lorde God of Israel, thou that hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt with a mightie hand, with tokens and wonders, with thy great power and outstretched arme, & hast gotten thy selfe a name, as it is come to passe this day:

12 O Lord our God, we haue sinned, we haue done wickedly, we haue behaued our selues vngodly in all thy righteousnesse.

13 Turne thy wrath frō vs [we beseech thee,] for we are but a few left among the heathen where thou hast scattered vs.

14 Heare our prayers, O Lord, and our petitions, bring vs out of captiuitie for thine owne sake, get vs fauour in the sight of them which haue led vs away:

15 That all lands may know that thou art the Lord our God, and that Israel and his generation calleth vpon thy name.

Deut.26.15. esai 63.15.

16 O Lord, *looke downe from thy holy house vpon vs, encline thine eare, and heare vs.

Psal.113.17.

17 * Open thine eyes and beholde, for the dead that be gone downe to their graues, and whose soules are out of their bodies, ascribe vnto the Lord neither prayse nor righteousnesse.

18 But the soule that is vexed for the multitude [of her sinnes,] which goeth on heauily and weakely, whose eyes begin to faile, yea, such a soule ascribeth praise and righteousnes vnto the Lord.

19 For we powre out our prayers before thee, and require mercy in thy sight, O Lord our God, not for any godlines of our fathers:

20 But because thou hast sent out thy wrath and indignation vpon vs, according as thou didst threaten by thy seruants ye prophets, saying,

21 Thus saieth the Lord, Bowe downe your shoulders and necks, and serue the king of Babylon: so shal ye remaine still in the land that I gaue vnto your fathers.

22 *But if ye will not heare the voyce of the Lord your God to serue the king of Babylon, Iere.27.17.

23 I will destroy you in the cities of Iuda, within Hierusalem and without. I will also take from you the voyce of mirthe & the voice of ioy, the voyce of the bridegroome, and the voyce of the bride, and there shal no man dwell more in the land.

24 But they would not hearken vnto thy voice, to do the king of Babylon seruice: and therefore hast thou performed the words that thou spakest by thy seruants the Prophets: [namely,] that the bones of our kings, & the bones of our fathers should be translated out of their places:

25 And loe, now are they laid out in the heate of the sunne, and in the cold of the night, and dead in great miserie, with hunger, with sword, [with pestilence,] and are cleane cast foorth.

26 As for the temple wherein thy name was called vpon, thou hast laid it waste, as it is to see this day, and that for the wickednes of the house of Israel, and the house of Iuda.

27 O Lord our God, thou hast intreated vs after all thy goodnesse, and according to all that great louing mercy of thine.

28 * Like as thou spakest by thy seruant Moses, in the day when thou diddest commaund him to write thy lawe before the children of Israel, saying, Leuit.18.14. deut.28.15.

29 If ye will not hearken vnto my voyce, then shall this great multitude be turned into a very small people among the nations, for I will scatter them abroad.

30 Notwithstanding, I am sure that this folke wil not heare me, for it is an hard necked people: but in the land of their captiuitie they shall remember themselues, 31 And learne to know that I am ye Lord their God, when I giue them an heart to vnderstand, and eares to heare.

32 Then shall they prayse me in the land of their captiuitie, and thinke vpon my name.

33 Then shall they turne them from their hard backes, and from their vngodlines: then shal they remember the things that happened vnto their fathers which sinned against me.

34 So will I bring them againe into the land which I promised with an othe vnto their fathers Abraham, Isahac, and Iacob, and they shalbe lordes of it, yea, I will encrease them, and not minish them.

35 And I will make an other couenant with them, such one as shal endure for euer: [namely,] that I will be their God, and they shalbe my people: and I wil no more driue my people the children of Israel out of the land that I haue giuen them.

The iii. Chapter.

36 Onely God was the finder of wisedome. 37 Of the incarnation of Christ.

1 AND now, O Lord almighty, thou God of Israel, the soule that is in trouble, and the spirit that is vexed, crieth vnto thee:

2 Heare vs, O Lord, and haue pitie vpon vs, for thou art a merciful God: be gracious vnto vs, for we haue sinned before thee.

3 Thou endurest for euer: should we then vtterly perish?

4 O Lord almighty, thou God of Israel, heare now the prayer of the dead Israelites, and of their children which haue sinned before thee, and not hearkened vnto the voice of the Lord their God, for the which cause these plagues hang now vpon vs.

5 O Lord, remember not the wickednesse of our forefathers, but thinke vpon thy power and name now at this time:

6 For thou art the Lord our God, and thee, O Lord, will we praise.

7 For thou hast put thy feare in our hearts, to the intent that we should call vpon thy name, and praise thee in our captiuitie, and that we might turne from the wickednesse of our forefathers that sinned before thee.

8 Behold, we are yet this day in our captiuitie, whereas thou hast scattred vs, to bee an abomination, curse, and subiect to exactions: like as it hath happened vnto our fathers also, because of all their wickednesse and departing from thee, O Lord our God.

9 O Israel, heare the commaundements of life, ponder them well with thine eares, that thou mayest learne wisedome.

10 But how happeneth it, Israel, that thou art in thine enemies land? thou art waxen olde in a strange countrey, and defiled with the dead.

11 Why art thou become like them that goe downe to their graues?

12 Euen because thou hast forsaken the well of wisedome.

13 For if thou hadst walked in the way of God truely, thou shouldst haue remained still safe in thine owne land.

14 O learne then where is wisedome, where ‖ vertue is, where vnderstanding is: that thou mayest know also from whence cōmeth long continuance and life, the light of the eyes, and quietnesse.

‖ Or, strength.

15 Who euer found out her place? or who came euer into her treasures?

16 Where are the princes of the heathen become, and such as ruled the beastes vpon the earth,

17 They that had their pastime with the foules of the aire, they that hoorded vp siluer & gold wherein men trust so much, and made no end of their gathering?

18 What is become of them that coined siluer, and were so careful, and could not bring their workes to passe?

19 They be rooted out, and gone downe to hel, and other men are come vp in their steads.

20 Yong men haue seene light, and dwelt vpon earth: but the way of reformation haue they not knowen, 21 Nor vnderstand the pathes thereof: neither haue their children receiued it, yea, right farre is it from them.

22 It hath not bene heard of in the land of Chanaan, neither hath it bene seene at Theman.

23 The Agarenes sought after wisedome, but that which is earthly, like as the marchants of the land do: they of Theman are cunning also, they labour for wisedome and vnderstanding: but the way of true wisedome they know not, neither doe they thinke vpon the pathes thereof.

24 O Israel, how great is the house of God? and how large is the place of his possession?

25 Great is he, and hath none ende: yea, high and vnmeasurable.

26 What is become of those famous giantes, that were so great of bodies, and so worthy men of warre?

27 Those hath not the Lord chosen, neither haue they found the way of reformation:

28 Therefore were they destroyed, and for so much as they had no wisedome, they perished because of their foolishnesse.

29 Who hath gone vp into heauen to take wisdome there, and brought her downe from the cloudes?

30 Who hath gone ouer the sea to finde her, & hath chosen her aboue gold, and so brought her hither?

31 No man knoweth the wayes of wisedome, neither is there any that can seeke out her pathes.

32 But hee that woteth all things, knoweth her, and hath found her out with his foreknowledge, the same is hee which prepared the earth at the beginning, and filled it with all maner of foules and beasts.

33 When he sendeth out the light, it goeth: and when he calleth it againe, it obeyeth him with feare.

34 The starres keepe their watch, & giue their light, yea, and that gladly: When he calleth them, they say, Here we be: and so with chere-

fulnesse they shew light vnto him that made them.

35 This is our God, and there shall none other be compared vnto him.

36 It is hee that hath found out all wisedome, and hath giuen her vnto Jacob his seruant, and to Israel his beloued.

37 Afterward did he shew himselfe vpon earth, and dwelt among men.

The iiii. Chapter.

1 The reward of them that keepe the lawe, and the punishment of them that despise it.

1 THis is the booke of the commandements of God, and the law that endureth for euer: all they that keepe it shall come to life, but such as forsake it shall come to death.

2 Turne thee, O Jacob, and take hold of it, walke by this way through his brightnesse and shine.

3 Giue not thine honour to another, and thy worship to a strange people.

4 O Israel, how happy are we, seeing that God hath shewed vs such things as are pleasant vnto him?

5 Be of good cheare, thou people of God, O thou ancient Israel.

6 Now are ye sold among the heathen, howbeit, not for your vtter destruction: but because ye prouoked God the Lord to wrath & displeasure, therefore were ye deliuered vnto your enemies.

7 For ye displeased the euerlasting God that made you, offering vnto deuils, and not to God.

8 Ye haue forgotten him that brought you vp, and ye haue grieued Hierusalem that nursed you.

9 When she sawe that the wrath of God was comming vpon you, she said, Hearken, O yee that dwell about Sion, for God hath brought me into great heauinesse.

10 And why? I see the captiuitie of my people, of my sonnes and daughters, which the euerlasting God will bring vpon them.

11 With ioy did I nourish them: but now must I leaue them with weeping and sorow.

12 Let no man reioyce ouer me widow and forsaken, which for the sinnes of my childrē am desolate of euery man: for why? they departed from the law of God.

13 They would not know his righteousnesse, nor walke in the wayes of his commaundements: and as for the pathes of trueth and godlinesse, they had no lust to go in them.

14 O ye dwellers about Sion, come and let vs call to remembrance the captiuitie that the euerlasting God hath brought vpō my sonnes and my daughters.

15 He hath brought a people vpon them from farre, an vncourteous people, and of a strāge language, which neither regard the olde, nor pitie the yong.

16 These haue caried away the deare beloued of the widowes, leauing me alone both desolate and childlesse.

17 But alas, what can I helpe you?

18 Now hee that brought these plagues vpon you, deliuer you also from the hands of your enemies.

19 Goe your way, O my children, goe your way: for I am desolate and forsaken.

20 I haue put off the clothing of peace, & put vpon me the sackcloth of prayer, and for my time I will call vpon the most highest.

21 Be of good cheare, O my children, cry vnto the Lord, and he shall deliuer you from y power of the princes your enemies.

22 For verily I haue euer a good hope of your prosperous health, yea, a very gladnesse is come vpon me from the holy one, because of the mercy that ye shal haue of our euerlasting sauiour.

23 With mourning and weeping did I let you goe fro me: but with ioy and perpetual gladnesse shall the Lorde bring you againe vnto me.

24 Like as the neighbours of Sion sawe your captiuitie from God: euen so shall they also see shortly your health in God, which shall come on you with great honour and euerlasting worship.

25 O my children, suffer patiently the wrath that shall come vpon you: for the enemy hath persecuted thee, but shortly thou shalt see his destruction, and shalt tread vpon his necke.

26 My darlings haue gone rough hard waies, for they are led away as a flocke that is scattred abroad with the enemies.

27 But be of good comfort, O my childrē, and cry vnto the Lord: for he that led you away, hath you yet in remembrance.

28 And like as yee haue bene minded to swarue frō your God: so shal ye now endeuour your selues ten times more to turne againe, and to seeke him.

29 For he that hath brought these plagues vpon you, shall bring you euerlasting ioy againe with your health.

30 Take a good heart vnto thee, O Hierusalem: for he which gaue thee that name, exhorteth thee so to doe.

31 The wicked doers that now put thee to trouble, shall perish: and such as haue reioyced at thy fall, shalbe punished.

32 The cities whom thy children serue, and that haue caried away thy sonnes, shal be corrected.

33 For like as they be now glad of thy decay, and reioyce at thy fall: so shall they mourne in their owne destruction.

34 The ioy of their multitude shall be taken away, away, and their cheare shall be turned to sorow.

35 For a fire shall fall vpon them from the euerlasting God, long to endure, and it shall be inhabited of deuils for a great season.

36 O Hierusalem, looke about thee toward the East, and behold the *ioy that commeth vnto thee from God. Baruc.5.6.

37 For loe, thy sonnes whom thou hast forsaken, and that were scattred abroad, come gathered together from the East and West, reioycing in the word of the holy one, vnto the honour of God.

The v. Chapter.

1 Hierusalem is mooued vnto gladnesse for the returne of her people, & vnder the figure thereof, the Church.

1 PVt off thy mourning clothes, O Hierusalem, and thy sorow, and decke thee with the worship and honour that commeth vnto thee from God with euerlasting glory.

2 God shal put the garment of righteousnesse vpō thee, and set a crowne of euerlasting worship vpon thy head:

3 For vpon thee will God declare his brightnesse, that is vnder the heauen.

4 Yea, an euerlasting name shalbe giuen thee of God, with peace of righteousnesse, and the honour of Gods feare.

5 Arise, O Hierusalem, stand vp on high, looke about thee toward the East, and behold thy children gathered from the East vnto ỹ West, which reioyce in the holy word, hauing God in remembrance.

6 They departed from thee on foote, & were led away of their enemies: but now *shal the Lord bring them caried with honour, as children of the kingdome. Baruc.4.36.

7 For God is purposed to bring downe all stonie mountains, yea, and all high rockes, to fil the valleys, and so to make them euen with the ground, that Israel may bee diligent to liue vnto the honour of God.

8 The woods and all pleasant trees shall ouershadowe Israel at the commandement of God.

9 For hither shall God bring Israel with ioyfull mirth, and in the light of his maiestie, with the mercy and righteousnesse that commeth of himselfe.

The vi. Chapter.

A copie of the epistle that Ieremie sent vnto the Iewes, which were led away prisoners by the king of Babylon: wherein he certifieth them of the thing that was commanded him of God.

In this Chapter are the makers and maintainers of images mightily confuted.

1 BEcause of the sinnes that ye haue done against God, ye shalbe led away captiue vnto Babylon, euen of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon.

2 So when ye be come into Babylon, ye shall remaine there many yeeres, and for a long season, [namely,] aseuen generations: & after that will I bring you away peaceably from thence. a That is, seuentie yeeres.

3 *Now shal ye see in Babylon gods of gold, of siluer, of wood, and of stone, borne vpon mens shoulders, to cast out a fearefulnesse before the heathen. Esai.44.10.

4 But looke that ye doe not as the other: bee not ye afraid, and let not the feare of them ouercome you.

5 Therfore when ye see the multitude of people worshipping them behind and before, say ye in your hearts, O Lord, it is thou ỹ oughtest onely to be worshipped.

6 Mine angel also shall be with you, and I my selfe will care for your soules.

7 As for the ‖timber of those gods, the carpenter hath polished them: yea, gilted be they, & laid ouer with siluer, yet are they but vaine things, and cannot speake. ‖ Or, tongue.

8 Like as a wench that loueth paramours is trimly decked: euen so are these made, & hanged with gold.

9 Crownes of gold verily haue their gods vpon their heads: so the priests themselues take gold and siluer from them, and put it to their owne vses:

10 Yea, they giue of the same vnto harlots, and trim their whores withall: againe they take it from the whores, and decke their gods therwith:

11 Yet cannot these gods deliuer themselues from rust and mothes.

12 When they haue couered them with clothing of purple, they wipe their faces for the dust of the temple, whereof there is much among them.

13 One hath a scepter in his hand as though he were iudge of the countrey, yet can he not slay such as offend him.

14 Another hath a sword or an axe in his hand: for all that he is neither able to defend himselfe from battel, nor from murderers.

15 By this ye may vnderstand that they be no gods: therefore see that ye neither worship them, nor feare them.

16 For like as a vessel that a man vseth, is nothing worth when it is broken, euen so is it with their gods: when they be set vp in the temple, their eyes be full of dust through the feete of those that come in.

17 And like as the doores are shut in round about vpon him that hath offended the king, or as it were a dead body kept beside the graue: euen so the priests keepe ỹ doores with barres and lockes, least their gods bee spoiled with robbers.

18 They set vp candles before them, yea verily and that many, whereof they can not see one: but euen as blockes so stand they in the temple.

19 It is said, that the serpents & wormes which come of the earth, gnawe out their hearts, eating them and their clothes also, and yet they feele it not.

20 Their faces are blacke, through the smoke that is in the temple.

21 The owles, swalowes, and birdes flie vpon them, yea, and the cattes runne ouer their heads.

22 By this ye may bee sure that they are no gods, therefore feare them not.

23 The gold that they haue, is to make them beautifull: for all that, except some body dight off their rust, they will giue no shine, and when they were cast into a forme, they felt it not.

Esai 46.7. 24 *They are bought for money, and haue no breath of life within them.

25 They must bee borne vpon mens shoulders as those that haue no feete, whereby they declare vnto men that they bee nothing worth: confounded be they then that worship them.

26 For if they fall to the ground, they cannot rise vp againe of themselues: Yea, though one helpe them vp, and set them right, yet are they not able to stand alone, but must haue props set vnder them like dead men.

27 As for the thing that is offered vnto them, their priests sel it, and abuse it, yea, the priests wiues take thereof: but vnto the sicke and poore they giue nothing of it.

28 The womã with child, and the menstruous lay hands of their offrings: By this ye may be sure that they are no gods, therefore be not ye afraid of them.

29 From whence commeth it then that they be called gods: because women ‖ sit before the gods of siluer, gold, and wood,

‖ Or, bring gifts.

30 And the priests sit in their temples hauing ‖ open clothes, whose heads and beardes are shauen, and haue nothing vpon their heads,

‖ Or, rent.

31 Roaring and crying vpon their gods, as mẽ do at the feast when one is dead.

32 The priests also take away the garments of the images, and decke their wiues and children withall.

33 Whether it be good or euill that any mã do vnto them, they are not able to recompense it: they can neither set vp a king, nor put him downe.

34 In like maner, they may neither giue riches, nor reward euil: though a man make a vowe vnto them, and keepe it not, they will not require it.

35 They can saue no man from death, neither deliuer the weake from the mightie.

36 They cannot restore a blind mã to his sight, nor helpe any man at his neede.

37 They can shew no mercy to the widow, nor do good to the fatherlesse.

38 Their gods of wood, stone, gold, and siluer, are but euen as other stones that be hewen of the mountaine: they that worship them, shall be confounded.

39 How should they then bee taken for gods? yea, how dare men call them gods?

40 ‖ And though the Chaldees worshipped thẽ not, hearing that they were but dumbe, and could not speake:

‖ Or, read, The Chaldees also dishonour them, the which, if they shal see a dumbe one that cannot speake, do present it to Bel, and do require that it may speake.

41 Yet they themselues offer vnto Bel, and would faine haue him to speake: as who say they could feele that may not moue.

42 But when these men come to vnderstãding, they shal forsake them, for their gods haue no feeling.

43 A great sort of women girt with cordes, sit in the streetes, and burne ‖ alme berries: How if one of them be conueied away, and lie with such as come by, she casteth her neighbours in the teeth, because she was not worthily reputed, nor her corde broken.

‖ Or, straw.

44 Whatsoeuer is done for them, it is but in vaine and lost: How may it then bee thought or said that they are gods?

45 Carpenters and goldsmiths make them: neither be they any other thing but euẽ what the workeman will make of them.

46 Yea, the goldsmiths themselues that make them, are of no long continuance: how should then the things that are made of them bee gods?

47 Vaine therefore are the things, yea, very shame is it that they leaue behinde them for their posteritie.

48 For as soone as there commeth any warre or plague vpon them, thẽ the priests imagine where they may hide themselues with them.

49 How can men then thinke that they bee gods, which neither may defend themselues from warre, nor deliuer them from misfortune?

50 For seeing they be but of wood, [of stone,] of siluer, & of gold, all people and kings shall know hereafter, þ they be but vaine things: yea, it shall be openly declared that they be no gods, but euen the very workes of mens hands, and that God hath nothing to do with them.

51 It is manifest then, that they are no gods, but the works of mens hands, and no worke of God in them.

52 They can set no king in the land, nor giue raine vnto men.

53 They can giue no sentence of a matter, neither defend the iand from wrong: for they are not able to do so much as a crowe that flieth betwixt heauen and earth.

54 When there happeneth a fire into the house of those gods of wood, and siluer, & of gold, the priests will escape and saue themselues, but the gods burne as the balkes therein.

55 They

55 They cannot withstand any king or battel: how may it then bee thought or granted that they be gods?

56 Moreouer, these gods of wood, of stone, of gold and siluer, may neither defend themselues from thieues nor robbers.

57 Yea, the very wicked are stronger then they: these strip them out of their apparel that they be clothed withall, these take their gold and siluer from them, and so get them away, yet can they not helpe themselues.

58 Therefore it is much better for a man to be a king, and so to shew his power, or els a profitable vessell in a house, wherein he that oweth it might haue pleasure, yea, or to be a doze in a house, to keepe such things safe as bee therein, then to be such a vaine god.

59 The sunne, the moone, and all the starres, seeing they giue their shine and light, are obedient, and do men good.

60 When the lightning glistreth, all is cleare.

61 The wind bloweth in euery countrey: and when God commandeth the cloudes to goe round about the whole world, they do as they are bidden.

62 When the fire is sent downe from aboue to consume, it burneth vp hils and woods: but as for these gods, they are not like vnto these things, neither in beautie, neither in strength.

63 Wherefore men should not thinke nor say that they be gods, seeing they cã neither giue sentence in iudgement, nor do men good.

64 For so much now as ye are sure that they be not gods, then feare them not.

65 For they can neither speake euill nor good of kings.

66 They can shew no tokens in heauens for the heathen, neither shine as the sunne, nor giue light as the moone:

67 Yea, the vnreasonable beasts are better then they: for they can get them vnder the roofe, and do themselues good.

68 So can ye bee certified by no maner of meanes that they bee gods, therefore feare them not.

69 For like as a scarrow in a garde of herbes keepeth nothing: euen so are their gods of wood, of siluer, and gold.

70 And like as a white thorne in an orchard that euery birde sitteth vpon, yea, like as a dead body that is cast in the darke: euen so is it with these gods of wood, siluer, and gold.

71 By the purple and scarlet which they haue vpon them, and soone rotteth away, yee may vnderstand that they bee no gods: yea, they themselues shall be consumed at ẏ last, which shalbe a great confusion of the land.

72 ¶ Blessed is the godly man that hath no ymages [and worshipped none:] for he shall be farre from reproofe. ¶ Or, better.

The end of the booke of the Prophet Baruch.

The song of the three children, which were put into the hote burning ouen. The common translation readeth this song in the third Chapter of Daniel.

25 The prayer of Azarias. 46 The crueltie of the king. 48 The fire deuoureth the Chaldeans. 49 The angell of the Lord was in the furnace.

24 AND they walked in ẏ midst of the flame, praising God, and magnifying the Lord.

25 Then Azarias stood vp, & prayed in this maner, euen in the midst of the fire opened he his mouth, and said, 26 Blessed bee thou, O Lorde God of our fathers, right worthy to be praised and honoured is that name of thine for euermore.

27 For thou art righteous in all ẏ things that thou hast done to vs, yea, faithfull are all thy workes, thy wayes are right, & all thy iudgements true.

28 In all the things that thou hast brought vpon vs, and vpon the holy citie of our fathers, euen Hierusalem, thou hast executed true iudgement, yea according to right and equitie hast thou brought all these things vpõ vs, because of our sinnes:

29 For why? we haue offended and done wickedly, departing from thee.

30 In all things haue wee trespassed, and not obeied thy commandements, nor kept them, neither done as thou hast bidden vs, that we may prosper.

31 Wherefore all that thou hast brought vpon vs, and euery thing that thou hast done to vs, thou hast done them in true iudgement:

32 As in deliuering vs into the handes of our enemies, among vngodly and wicked abominations, and to an vnrighteous king, yea, the most froward vpon earth.

33 And now we may not open our mouthes, we are become a shame and reproofe vnto thy seruants, and to them that worship thee.

34 Yet for thy names sake [we beseech thee] giue vs not vp for euer, breake not thy couenant.

35 And take not away thy mercy from vs for thy beloued Abrahams sake, for thy seruant

Isahacs

Iſahacs ſake, and for thy holy Iſraels ſake:
36 To whom thou haſt ſpoken and promiſed, that thou wouldeſt multiplie their ſeede as the ſtarres of heauen, and as the ſande that lieth vpon the ſea ſhore.
37 For we, O Lorde, are become leſſe then any people, and be kept vnder this day in all the world, becauſe of our ſinnes.
38 So that now we haue neither prince, duke, prophet, burnt offering, ſacrifice, oblation, incenſe, nor ſanctuarie before thee.
39 Neuertheleſſe, in a contrite heart and an humble ſpirit let vs be receiued, that we may obteine thy mercie.
40 Like as in the burnt offering of rammes and bullockes, and like as in thouſandes of fat lambes: ſo let our offering be in thy ſight this day, that it may pleaſe thee: for there is no confuſion vnto them that put their truſt in thee.
41 And now we folow thee with all our heart, we feare thee, and ſeeke thy face.
42 Put vs not to ſhame: but deale with vs after thy louing kindeneſſe, and according to the multitude of thy mercies.
43 Deliuer vs by thy miracles, O Lorde, and get thy name an honour, that all they which doe thy ſeruants euil, may be confounded:
44 Let them be aſhamed through thy almightie power, and let their ſtrength be broken:
45 That they may know how that thou onely art the Lorde God, & honor worthy throughout all the world.
46 And the kings ſeruants that put them in, ceaſſed not to make the ouen hot with [a] wilde fire, drie ſtraw, pitche, towe, and faggots.
47 So that the flame went out of the ouen vpon a fourtie and nine cubites:
48 Yea it tooke away and burnt vp thoſe Chaldees that it gate holde vpon beſide the ouen.
49 But the angel of the Lord came downe into the ouen to Azaria & his felowes, and ſmote the flame of the fire out of the ouen,
50 And made the middes of the ouen as it had beene a colde winde blowing: ſo the fire neither touched them, grieued them, nor did them hurt.
51 Then theſe three, as out of one mouth, praiſed, honoured, and bleſſed God in the fornace, ſaying, 52 Bleſſed be thou, O Lord God of our fathers: for thou art praiſe and honour worthy, yea, and to be magnified for euermore.
53 Bleſſed be the holy name of thy glory, for it is worthy to be praiſed and magnified in all worldes.
54 Bleſſed bee thou in the holy temple of thy glory: for aboue al things thou art to be praiſed, yea and more then worthy to be maguified for euer.
55 Bleſſed be thou in the throne of thy kingdome: for aboue al thou art worthy to be well ſpoken of, and to be more then magnified for euer.
56 Bleſſed bee thou that lookeſt thorowe the deepe, and ſitteſt vpon the Cherubims: for thou art worthie to be praiſed, and aboue all to be magnified for euer.
57 Bleſſed be thou in the firmament of heauen: for thou art praiſe and honor worthy for euer.
58 O all ye workes of the Lord, ſpeake good of the Lord: praiſe him, and ſet him vp for euer.
59 O yee Angels of the Lorde, ſpeake good of the Lord: praiſe him, and ſet him vp for euer.

61 O all yee waters that bee aboue the firmament, ſpeake good of the Lorde: praiſe him, and ſet him vp for euer.

66 O all ye windes of God, ſpeake good of the Lorde: praiſe him, and ſet him vp for euer.
67 O yee fire & heate, ſpeake good of the Lord: praiſe him, and ſet him vp for euer.
68 O yee Winter & Sommer, ſpeake good of the Lorde: praiſe him, and ſet him vp for euer.
69 O yee dewes and froſtes, ſpeake good of the Lord: praiſe him, and ſet him vp for euer.
70 O ye froſt and cold, ſpeake good of the Lord: praiſe him, and ſet him vp for euer.
71 O yee yce & ſnow, ſpeake good of the Lord: praiſe him, and ſet him vp for euer.
72 O yee nights and daies, ſpeake good of the Lord: praiſe him, and ſet him vp for euer.
73 O ye light and darkneſſe, ſpeake good of the Lord: praiſe him, and ſet him vp for euer.
74 O yee lightnings and cloudes, ſpeake good of the Lord: praiſe him, & ſet him vp for euer.
75 O let ỹ earth ſpeake good of the Lord: yea, let it praiſe him, and ſet him vp for euer.
76 O yee mountaines and hilles, ſpeake good of the Lorde: praiſe him, and ſet him vp for euer.
77 O all yee greene things vpon the earth, ſpeake good of the Lorde: praiſe him, and ſet him vp for euer.
78 O ye welles, ſpeake good of the Lord: praiſe him, and ſet him vp for euer.
79 O yee ſeas and floods, ſpeake good of the Lord: praiſe him, and ſet him vp for euer.
80 O ye Whales, and all that moue in the waters, ſpeake good of the Lord: praiſe him, and ſet him vp for euer.
81 O all yee fowles of the aire, ſpeake good of the Lorde: praiſe him, and ſet him vp for euer.
82 O all

[a] Which is called Naphtha, which is a certaine kinde of fat and chalkie clay.

82 O all ye beastes and cattell, speake good of the Lorde: prayse him and set him vp for euer.
83 O ye children of men, speake good of the Lord: praise him, and set him vp for euer.
84 O let Israel speake good of the Lord: praise him, and set him vp for euer.
85 O ye Priests of the Lorde, speake good of the Lord: praise him, and set him vp for euer.

89 O Anania, Azaria, and Misael, speake ye good of the Lord, praise ye him, and set him vp for euer: which hath deliuered vs from the hell, kept vs from the hand of death, rid vs from the midst of the burning flame, and saued vs euen in the middest of the fire.
90 O giue thanks therefore vnto the Lord, for he is kinde hearted: and his mercy endureth for euer.
91 O all deuout men, speake ye good of ỹ Lord, the God of all gods: O praise him, and giue him thanks, for his mercy endureth world without end.

The storie of Susanna, which is the thirteenth Chapter of Daniel after the Latine.

8 The two gouernours are taken with the loue of Susanna. 19 They take her alone in the garden. 20 They entice her to wickednes. 23 She chooseth rather to obey God, though it bee to the danger of her life. 34 She is accused. 45 Daniel doth deliuer her. 62 The gouernours are put to death.

1 THere dwelt a man in Babylon, called Joacim,
2 That tooke a wife, whose name was Susanna, the daughter of Helchia, a very faire woman, and such one as feared God.
3 Her father and her mother also were good people, and taught their daughter according to the lawe of Moses.
4 Now Joacim [her husband] was a great rich man, and had a faire orchard ioyning vnto his house, and to him resorted the Iewes commonly, because he was a man of reputation among them.
5 The same yeere were there made two iudges, such as the Lord speaketh of, The wickednesse of Babylon commeth from the elders, [that is,] from the iudges which seeme to rule the people.
6 These came oft to Joacims house: and all such as had any thing to do in the lawe, came thither vnto them.
7 Now when the people departed away at noone, Susanna went into her husbands orchard to walke.
8 The two elders seeing this, that she went in daily and walked, they burned for lust to her,
9 Yea, they were almost out of their wits, and cast downe their eyes, that they should not see heauen, nor remember that God is a righteous iudge.
10 For they were both wounded w the loue of her, neither durst one shew another his griefe:
11 And for shame they durst not tell her their inordinate lust, that they would faine haue had to do with her:
12 Yet they laid waite for her earnestly from day to day, that they might [at the lest] haue a sight of her.
13 And the one said to the other, Up, let vs goe home, for it is dinner time. So they went their way one from another.
14 When they returned againe, they came together, enquiring out the matter betwixt thẽselues, yea, the one told the other of his wicked lust: Then appointed they a time when they might take Susanna alone.
15 It happened also that they spied out a conuenient time, when she went foorth to walke, as her maner was, and no body with her but two maidens, and thought to wash her selfe in the garden: for it was an hote season.
16 And there was not one person there, except the two elders that had hid themselues to behold her.
17 So she said to her maidens, Go, fetch me oile and sope, and shut the orchard doore, that I may wash me.
18 And they did as she bade them, and shut the orchard doore, and went out themselues at a backe doore to fetch the thing that she had cõmanded: ‖ but Susanna knew not that the elders lay there hid within.
19 Now when the maidens were gone foorth, the two elders gate them vp, and ranne vpon her, saying,
20 Now the orchard doores are shut, that no mã can see vs, we haue a lust vnto thee, therefore consent vnto vs, and lie with vs.
21 If thou wilt not, we shall bring a testimoniall against thee, that there was a yong fellow with thee, and that thou hast sent away thy maidens from thee for the same cause.
22 Susanna sighed, and said, Alas, I am in trouble on euery side: though I follow your minde, it will bee my death: and if I consent not vnto you, I cannot escape your handes.

‖ Or, but they sawe not the elders, because they were hid.

23 Well,

23 Well, it is better for me to fall into your hande without the deede doing, then to ſinne in the ſight of the Lord.

24 And with that ſhee cryed out with a loude voyce: the elders alſo cryed out againſt her.

25 Then ranne there one to the Orchard dooꝛe, and ſmote it open.

26 Nowe when the ſeruants of the houſe heard the crye in the Orcharde, they ruſhed in at the backe dooꝛe, to ſee what the matter was.

27 So when the elders tolde them, the ſeruants were greatly aſhamed: for why? there was neuer ſuch a repoꝛt made of Suſanna.

28 On the moꝛow after came the people to Ioacim her huſbande, and the two elders came alſo ful of miſchieuous imaginations againſt Suſanna, to bring her vnto death, 29 And ſpake thus before the people, Send for Suſanna the daughter of Helchias, Ioacims wife. And immediatly they ſent for her.

30 So ſhee came with her father and mother, her children, and all her kinred.

31 Nowe Suſanna was a tender perſon, and marueilous fayre of face.

32 Therefore the wicked men commanded to take her clothes from her face (for ſhe was couered) that at the leaſt they might ſo be ſatisfied in her beautie.

33 Then her friendes, yea, and all they that knew her, began to weepe.

34 Theſe two elders ſtoode vp in the middes of the people, and layde their handes vpon the head of Suſanna, 35 Which wept, and looked vp toward heauen: for her heart had a ſure truſt in the Lorde.

36 And the elders ſayde, As we were walking in the Orcharde alone, this woman came in with her two maydens, whome ſhe ſent away from her, and ſparred the Orchard dooꝛes:

37 With that a yong felowe which there was hid, came vnto her, and lay with her.

38 As for vs, we ſtoode in a corner of the Orcharde: and when we ſawe this wickednelle, we ranne to them, and we ſawe them as they were together.

39 But we could not hold him, for he was ſtronger then we. Thus he opened the dooꝛe, and gate him away.

40 Nowe when we had taken this woman, we aſked her what yong felow this was, but ſhe would not tell vs. This is the matter, and we be witneſſes of the ſame.

41 The common ſort beleeued them, as thoſe that were the elders and iudges of the people, and ſo they condemned her to death.

42 Suſanna cryed out with a loude voyce, and ſayde, O euerlaſting God, thou ſearcher of ſecretes, thou that knoweſt all things before they come to paſſe:

43 Thou woteſt that they haue borne falſe witneſſe againſt me, & behold, I muſt die, where as I neuer did any ſuch things as theſe men haue malitiouſly inuented againſt me.

44 And the Lord heard her voyce.

45 For when ſhee was led forth to death, the Lorde raiſed vp the ſpirite of a yong childe, whoſe name was Daniel, 46 Which cryed with a loude voyce, I am cleane from this blood.

47 Then all the people turned towardes him, and ſayd, What meane theſe wordes that thou haſt ſpoken?

48 Daniel ſtoode in the middes of them, & ſaid, Are ye ſuch fooles, O ye children of Iſrael, that ye can not diſcerne & knowe the trueth? Ye haue here cõdemned a daughter of Iſrael vnto death, & know not the trueth wherefore.

49 Goe ſit in iudgement againe: for they haue ſpoken falſe witneſſe againſt her.

50 Wherefore the people turned againe in all the haſte: & the elders, [that is the principall heads,] ſaid vnto him, Come ſit downe here among vs, & ſhewe vs this matter, ſeeing God hath giuen thee as great honour as an elder.

51 And Daniel ſayd vnto them, Put theſe two aſide one from another, and then ſhall I examine them.

52 When they were put aſunder one from another, he called one of them, and ſayde vnto him, O thou olde cankered carle, that haſt vſed thy wickednelle ſo long, thine vngratious deedes which thou haſt done afore, are nowe come to light.

53 For thou haſt giuen falſe iudgements, thou haſt oppreſſed the innocẽt, & letten the guiltie goe free: whereas yet the Lord ſayth, * The innocent and righteous ſee thou ſlay not. Exod. 23. 7.

54 Well then, if thou haſt ſeene her, tell me vnder what tree ſaweſt thou them companying together? He anſwered, Vnder a ‖ Mulberie tree. ‖ Or, lentiſke tree.

55 And Daniel ſayd, Very well, now thou lieſt euen vpon thine head: lo, the meſſenger of the Lord hath receiued the ſentence of him to cut thee in two.

56 Then put he him aſide, and called for the other, & ſaid vnto him, O thou ſeede of Chanaan, but not of Iuda, fayreneſſe hath deceyued thee, and luſt hath ſubuerted thine heart.

57 Thus dealt ye afore with the daughters of Iſrael, and they for feare conſented vnto you: but the daughter of Iuda would not abyde your wickednelle.

58 Nowe tell me then, vnder what tree didſt thou take thẽ companying together? He anſwered, Vnder a ‖ Pomegranate tree. ‖ Or, a prune tree, or a miſtill tree.

59 Then ſayde Daniel vnto him, Very well, now thou lyeſt alſo euen vpon thine head: the meſſenger of the Lord ſtandeth wayting with the ſwoꝛde to cut thee in two, & ſlay you both.

60 With that all the whole multitude gaue a great ſhowte, and prayſed God, which alway deliuereth them that put their truſt in him.

61 And they came vpon the two elders, whome Daniel had conuict with their owne mouth, that they had giuen falſe witneſſe,
62 And dealt with them euen likewiſe as they would haue done with their neighbours, yea, they did * according to the law of Moſes, and put them to death: Thus the innocent blood was ſaued the ſame day.

Deu. 19. 19. pro. 19. 5.

63 Then Helcias and his wife praiſed God for their daughter Suſanna, with Joacim her huſband, and all the kinred, that there was no diſhoneſtie found in her.
64 From that daye forth was Daniel had in great reputation in the ſight of the people.
65 And king Aſtyages was layde with his fathers, and Cyrus of Perſia reygned in his ſteade.

The ende of the ſtorie of Suſanna.

The ſtorie of Bel and of the Dragon, which is the fourteenth chapter of Daniel, after the Latine.

1 Daniel did eate at the kings table, & was had in reuerence aboue all his friendes.
2 There was at Babylon an image called Bel, and there were ſpent vpon him euery day twelue cakes, fourtie ſheepe, & ſixe great pottes of wine.
3 Him did the king worſhip himſelfe, and went dayly to honour him, but Daniel worſhipped his owne God: and the king ſayde vnto him, Why doeſt not thou worſhip Bel?
4 He anſwered and ſayd, Becauſe I may not worſhip things that be made with handes, but the liuing God which made heauen & earth, and hath power vpon all fleſh.
5 The king ſaid vnto him, Thinkeſt thou not that Bel is a liuing God? or ſeeſt thou not how much he eateth and drinketh euery day?
6 Daniel ſmiled, & ſayde, O king, deceiue not thy ſelfe: for this is but made of clay within, and of braſſe without, neyther eateth he euer any thing.
7 Then the king was wroth, and called for his prieſts, & ſaid vnto thē, If ye tell me not who is this ẏ eateth vp theſe expences, ye ſhall dye:
8 But if ye can certifie mee that Bel eateth them, then Daniel ſhall dye: for he hath ſpoken blaſphemy againſt Bel. And Daniel ſaid vnto the king, Let it ſo be, according as thou haſt ſayde.
9 The prieſts of Bel were three ſcore and ten, beſides their wiues & children: And the king went with Daniel into the temple of Bel.
10 So Bels prieſtes ſayde, Lo, we will go out: and ſet thou the meate there, O king, and powre in the wine, then ſhut the doore faſt, and ſeale it with thine owne ſignet:
11 And to morowe when thou commeſt in, if thou findeſt not that Bel hath eaten vp all, we will ſuffer death: or els Daniel that hath lyed vpon vs.
12 The prieſts thought thēſelues ſure ynough: for vnder the ‖ altar they had made a priuie entrance, and there went they in euer, and did eate vp what there was.

‖ Or, table.

13 So when they were gone forth, the king ſet meates before Bel: Nowe Daniel had commanded his ſeruants to bring aſhes, and theſe he ‖ ſifted throughout all the temple, that the king might ſee: then went they out, and ſparred the doore, ſealing it with the kings ſignet, and ſo departed.

‖ Or, ſtrowed.

14 In the night came the prieſtes, with their wiues and children, as they were wont to do, and did eate and drinke vp all.
15 In the morning betimes, at the breake of the day, the king aroſe, and Daniel with him.
16 And the king ſayde, Daniel, are the ſeales whole yet? He anſwered, Yea, O king, they be whole.
17 Nowe as ſoone as he had opened the doore, the king looked vnto the ‖ altar, and cryed with a loude voyce: Great art thou, O Bel, and with thee is no decepte.

‖ Or, table.

18 Then laughed Daniel, & held the king that he ſhould not go in, & ſayd, Behold the pauement, marke wel, whoſe footeſteps are theſe?
19 The king ſayd, I ſee the footeſteps of men, women, and children.
20 Therefore the king was angry, and tooke the prieſtes, with their wiues and children: and they ſhewed him the priuie doores where they came in, and did eate vp ſuch things as were vpon the altar:
21 For the which cauſe the king ſlue them, and deliuered Bel into Daniels power, which deſtroyed him and his temple.
22 And in that ſame place there was a great Dragon, which they of Babylon worſhipped.
23 And the king ſaid vnto Daniel, Sayeſt thou that this is but a god of braſſe alſo? Loe, he liueth, he eateth and drinketh, ſo that thou canſt not ſay that he is no liuing God: therefore worſhip him.
24 Daniel ſayde vnto the king, I will worſhip the Lorde my God, he is the true liuing God: as for this, he is not the God of life.

25 But

25 But giue me leaue, O king, and I shall destroy this Dragon without sworde, or staffe. The king sayd, I giue thee leaue.

26 Then Daniel tooke pitch, fatte, and hearie wooll, and did seethe them together, and made lumpes thereof: this he put in the Dragons mouth, and so the Dragon burst in sunder. And Daniel sayde, Loe, there is he whome ye worshipped.

27 When they of Babylon heard that, they tooke great indignation, and gathered them together against the king, saying, The king is become a Iewe, and he hath destroyed Bel, he hath slaine ẏ Dragō, & put ẏ Priests to death.

28 So they came to the king, and sayd, Let vs haue Daniel, or els we will destroy thee and thine house.

29 Now when the king sawe that they rushed in so sore vpon him, & that necessitie constrayned him, he deliuered Daniel vnto them:

30 Which cast him into the Lions denne, where he was sixe dayes.

31 In the denne there were seuen Lions, and they had giuen them euery day two bodyes, & two sheepe: which then were not giuen them, to the intent that they might deuour Daniel.

32 There was in Iurie a Prophet called Habacuc, which had made pottage, and broken bread in a bowle, & was going into the fielde for to bring it to the reapers.

33 But the angel of ẏ Lord said vnto Habacuc, Go cary the meate that thou hast, into Babylon, vnto Daniel, which is in ẏ Lions denne.

34 And Habacuc sayd, Lord, I neuer sawe Babylon, and as for the denne, I know it not.

Exech.8.3. 35 *Then the Angel of the Lord tooke him by the top, and bare him by the heare of the head, and through a mightie winde set him in Babylon vpon the denne.

36 And Habacuc cried, saying, O Daniel, thou seruant of God, hatie, take the ‖ breakefast that God hath sent thee. ‖ Or, dinner.

37 And Daniel said, O God, hast thou thought vpon me? well, thou neuer faylest them that loue thee.

38 So Daniel arose, and did eate. And the Angel of the Lord set Habacue in his owne place againe immediatly.

39 Upon the seuenth day the king went to beweepe Daniel: & when he came to the denne, he looked in, and beholde, Daniel sate [in the middest of the Lions.]

40 Then cryed the king with a loude voyce, saying, Great art thou, O Lord God of Daniel, and there is none other besides thee.

41 And he drewe him out of the Lions denne, and cast those that were the cause of his destruction into the denne, and they were deuoured in a moment before his face.

42 After this wrote the king vnto all people, kinreds, & tongues, that dwelt in al countries,

43 Saying, Peace be multiplied with you: my commandemēt is in all the dominion of my realme, that men feare and stande in awe of Daniels God: for he is the liuing God, which endureth euer:

44 His kingdome abydeth vncorrupt, and his power is euerlasting.

45 It is he that can deliuer and saue, he doeth wonders and marueilous workes in heauen and in earth: for he hath saued Daniel from the power of the Lions.

The prayer of Manasses king of Iuda, when he was holden captiue in Babylon.

O Lorde almightie, God of our fathers, Abraham, Isahac, and Iacob, and of the righteous seede of them, which hast made heauen and earth, with all the ornament thereof, which hast ‖ ordeyned the sea by the worde of thy commaundement, which hast shut vp the deepe, and hast sealed it for thy fearefull and laudable name, which all men feare, and tremble before the face of thy power, & not for ẏ anger of thy threatning, the which is importable to sinners, but the mercie of thy promise is great and vnsearcheable: for thou art the Lord God most high aboue all the earth, long suffering, and exceeding mercifull, and repentant vpon the malice of men: thou Lorde after thy goodnesse hast promised repentance of the remission of sinnes, and thou that art the God of the righteous, hast not put repentance to the righteous Abraham, Isahac, and Iacob, vnto them that haue not sinned against thee: but because I haue sinned aboue the number of the sandes of the sea, and that mine iniquities are multiplied, I am ‖ humbled with many bands of yron, and there is in me no breathing, I haue prouoked thine anger, and haue done euil before thee, in committing abominations, and multiplying offences: and now I bowe the knees of my heart, requiring goodnesse of thee, O Lord. I haue sinned, Lord, I haue sinned, & know mine iniquitie. I desire thee by prayer, O Lorde, forgiue me, forgiue me, and destroy me not with mine iniquities, neither do thou alwayes remember mine euils to punish them: but saue me (which am vnworthie) after thy great mercy, and I wil prayse thee euerlastingly all the dayes of my life: for al the power of heauen prayseth thee, and vnto thee belongeth glory, worlde without ende. Amen.

A neceſſarie Table for the knowledge of the ſtate of Iuda, from the beginning of the Monarchie of the Greekes (where the Table that we haue ſet forth vpon Eſdras endeth) vntill the death and paſſion of Ieſus Chriſt.

The 70. weekes foreſhewed by Daniel, Dan. 9.	The Monarchie of the Greekes.	The ſtate of the Iewes.

THe Angel of the Lord ſent to Daniel, ſaid, that it was ſeuentie weekes of yeeres, that is to ſay, ſeuentie times ſeuen, which commeth to 490. from the giuing forth of the commandement that Hieruſalem ſhould be buylded againe and reſtored, vntill Chriſt the Prince. This commãdement was giuen forth by the mouth of Darius Longhand, Monarch of the Perſians, the yeere of his reigne, as it is written in Nehem. 2. Therefore the ſayd ſeuentie weekes ought to begin there, though all agree not therein: for ſome begin it in the ſecond yeere of the ſayd Darius: other, the firſt yeere of Cyrus. So that from ẏ beginning of the ſayd weekes, till the time that Alexander vſurped the Monarchie, we recken foure yeeres & eightеene weekes, which maketh 130. yeeres. To ſhewe the verifying of the ſaid weekes, according to ẏ aforeſaid prophecie of Daniel. 9. we wil proportion them with the yeres in which ẏ kings of Syria (ſet here in order on ẏ right ſide) haue ended their kingdom eche of them in order.

ALexander the great, ſonne to Philip king of Macedo, conquered the Monarchie of the Perſians from Darius, the 192. yeere of Cyrus the firſt Monarch, and tranſported it to the Greekes: he reigned ſixe whole yeeres, and the ſeuenth dyed, leauing diuers ſucceſſours, to whome he deuided the ſayde Monarchie before his death, that is, the kingdomes of Syria, Aſia, Egypt, and Macedonia. We will here treate of his ſucceſſours the kings of Syria onely, becauſe the ſcripture maketh mention thereof, & maketh the ſupputation of the yeres by the time that the ſaid kings reigned, beginning at the firſt, as appeareth in the firſt booke of the Machabees. And we will orderly ſet their names, and the time that eche of them hath reigned, to cõferre them with the number of the weekes placed on the left ſide of this Table, to the ende the ſayde weekes may be verified, and that the prophecie of Daniel may be playnely vnderſtood, touching the cõming & death of our Sauiour Chriſt.

After the people of the Lorde were deliuered from the captiuitie of Babylon by Cyrus, and returned vnto their lande vnder the conduct of Zorobabel, there was no more name of King in Iuda, but of Prince and Gouernour, which were for the moſt part of the line of Iuda, and are theſe that folowe.

The first booke of the Machabees.

The first Chapter.

1. After the death of Alexander the king of Macedonia,
11. Antiochus taketh the kingdome.

1 AFter that Alexander king of Macedonia, sonne of Philip, went forth of the lande of ‖ Cethim, and slew Darius king of the Persians and Medes, and reigned for him as he had done before in Grecia:

‖ Or, Chettim.

2 It happened that he tooke great warres in hande, wanne very many strong cities, and slue many kings of the earth,

3 Going thorow to the endes of the world, and getting many spoyles of the people, insomuch that the whole worlde stoode in awe of him, and therefore was he proude in his heart.

a The first battell with the Carthaginenses was fought at this time.

b The beginning of the kingdome of Egypt.

4 b Nowe when he had gathered a mightie strong hoste,

5 And subdued the landes and people, with their Princes, so that they became tributaries vnto him,

6 Then he fell sicke, and when he perceyued that he must needes dye,

7 He called for his noble estates, which had bene brought vp with him of children, and parted his kingdome among them while he was yet aliue.

8 So Alexander reygned twelue yeeres, and then dyed.

c The beginning of the kingdome of Syria.

9 c After his death fell the kingdome vnto his Princes, and they obteined it euery one in his roome,

10 And caused themselues to be crowned as kings: and so did their children after them many yeeres, and much wickednesse encreased in the worlde.

‖ Or, Epiphanes.

11 Out of these came the vngratious roote ‖ noble Antiochus, the sonne of Antiochus the king, which had bene a pledge at Rome: and he reigned in the hundred thirtie and seuen yeere of the Empire of the Grecekes.

d The beginning of the kingdome of the Parthians.

12 d In those dayes went there out of Israel wicked men, which moued much people with their counsell, saying, Let vs goe and make a couenant with the heathen that are rounde about vs: for since we departed from them, we haue had much sorowe.

13 So this deuice pleased them well.

e Iosephus lib. 12. cap. 6.

14 e And certaine of the people tooke vpō them for to goe vnto the king, which gaue them licence to do after the ordinance of of ẏ heathē.

f The wicked fall headlong into mischiefe.

15 f Then set they vp an open schoole at Hierusalem, of the lawes of the Heathen:

g Epiphanius lib. de ponderib. & mensuris, sayth, that it was by drawing the skinne ouer that part that was circumcised.

16 g And made themselues vncircumcised, but forsooke the holy testament, and ioyned themselues to the heathen, and were cleane solde to do mischiefe.

17 So when Antiochus began to be mightie in his kingdome, he went about to obteine the lande of Egypt also, that he might haue the dominion of two realmes.

18 Upon this entred he into Egypt with a strong hoste, with charets, Elephants, horsemen, and a great number of shippes, h The second battell with the Carthaginenses.

19 h And began to warre against Ptolome the king of Egypt: but Ptolome was afrayde of him, and fledde, and many of his people were wounded to death.

20 Thus Antiochus wanne many strong cities in Egypt, and tooke away great good out of the land of Egypt.

21 And after that Antiochus had smitten Egypt, he turned againe in the hundredfourtie and three yeere, and went toward Israel,

22 And came to Hierusalem with a mightie people,

23 And entred proudly into the sanctuarie, and tooke away the golden altar, the candlesticke, and all the ornaments thereof, the table of the shew bread, the powring vessels, the chargers, the golden spoones, the vayle, the crownes, and golden apparell of the temple, and brake downe all in pieces.

24 He tooke also the siluer & gold, the precious iewels, & the secrete treasures that he found.

25 And when he had taken away all together, caused a great murder of men, & spoken very proudly, he departed vnto his owne land.

26 Therefore there was great lamentation thorowout all Israel.

27 The Princes and the elders of the people mourned, the yong men and the maydens were ‖ defiled, and the fayre beautie of women was changed,

‖ Or, made feeble.

28 The bridegrome and the bryde tooke them to mourning,

29 The land and those that dwelt therein, was moued: for al the house of Jacob was brought to confusion.

i The battell of Macedonia.

30 i After two yeeres the king sent his chiefe treasurer vnto ẏ cities of Juda, which came to Hierusalē with a great multitude of people,

31 Speaking peaceable wordes vnto them, but all was deceite: for when they had giuen him credence, 32 He fell suddenly vpon the citie, and smote it sore, and destroyed much people of Israel.

33 And whē he had spoyled ẏ citie, he set fire on it, casting down houses & walles on euery side.

34 The women and their children tooke they captiue, and led away their cattell.

35 Then buylded they the citie of Dauid with a great and thicke wall, and with mightie towres, and made it a strong holde for them.

36 Beside all this, they set wicked people, and vngodly vngodly men to keepe it,

37 Stored it with weapons & victuals, gathered the goods of Hierusalem, and layde them vp there: thus became it a thieuish castel.
38 Thus they became a heauie burden, laying wayte for the people that went into the sanctuarie, and for the cruel destruction of Israel.
39 Thus they shed innocent blood on euery side of the sanctuarie, and defiled it:
40 Insomuch that the citizens were fayne to depart, and the citie became an habitation of strangers, being desolate of her owne seede: for her owne natiues were faine to leaue her.
41 Her sanctuarie was cleane wasted, her holy dayes were turned into mourning, her Sabboths were had in derision, and her honour brought to nought.
k Ioseph. lib. 12. cap. 6. & 7.
42 k Looke howe great her glory was before, so great was her confusion, and her ioye turned into sorowe.
43 Antiochus also the king sent out a commission vnto all his kingdome, that all the people should be one.
44 Then they left euery man his lawe, and all the heathen agreed to the commandement of king Antiochus:
45 Yea, many of the Israelites consented thereunto, offering vnto idoles, and defiling the Sabboth.
46 So the king Antiochus sent his messengers with his commission vnto Hierusalem, and to all the cities of Juda, that they shoulde followe the lawes of the heathen:
47 And forbade the whole burnt offring, meate offering, or peace offering to be made in the temple of God, and that there should no Sabboth nor high day be kept:
48 But commanded that the sanctuarie and the holy people of Israel should be defiled:
49 He commanded also, that there should be set vp altars, temples, & idoles, to offer vp swines flesh, and vncleane beastes,
50 That men should leaue their children vncircumcised, to defile their soules with al maner of vncleanesse and abominations:
51 That they might so forget the lawe, and change all the holy ordinances of God,
52 And that whosoeuer would not do according to the commaundement of king Antiochus, should suffer death.
53 In like maner commanded he thorowout al his realme, and set rulers ouer the people, for to compell them to doe these things:
54 Commanding all the cities of Juda to doe sacrifice [vnto idoles]
55 Then went the people vnto the heathen by heapes, forsooke the lawe of the Lorde, and committed much euill in the lande:
56 And they droue the Israelites into secrete places, euen whereseoeuer they coulde flee for succour.
57 The fifteenth day of the moneth ‖ Casleu, in the hundred three score and fifth yeere, set king Antiochus an abominable idole of desolation vpon the altar of God, and they buylded altars thorowout all the cities of Juda on euery side, ‖ Nouember.
58 Before the doores of the houses, and in the streetes, where they burnt incense and did sacrifice.
59 And as for the bookes of the lawe of God, they [l] burnt them in the fire, and rent them in pieces.
60 Whatsoeuer he was that had a booke of the testament of the Lord found by him, yea, whosoeuer endeuoured himselfe to keepe the lawe of the Lord, the kings commandement was, that they should put him to death.
61 And thorough his authoritie they executed these things euery moneth, vpon the people of Israel that were found in the cities.
62 The twentie and fifth day of the moneth, what time as they did sacrifice vpon the altar, which stoode in the steade of the altar of the Lorde,
63 According to the commaundement of king Antiochus, they put certaine women to death, which had caused their children to bee circumcised:
64 Not only that, but they hanged vp the children by the neckes thorowout al their houses, slew the circumcisers of them:
65 Yet were there many of the people of Israel, which determined in themselues that they would not eate vncleane things: but chose rather to suffer death, then to be defiled with vncleane meates.
66 So because they would not breake the blessed law of God, they were cruelly slayne.
67 And this great tyrannie encreased very sore vpon the people of Israel.

[l] It is a manifest note of the enemies of God, to burne the bookes of the law. Histo. ecclesiast. lib. 8. cap. 2.

The ii. Chapter.

The mourning of Mathathias and his sonnes for the destruction of the holy citie.

1 IN those dayes there did stand vp one Mathathias the sonne of John, the sonne of Simeon the Priest, out of the kinred of Joarib, from Hierusalem, and dwelt vpon the mount of Modin,
2 And had fiue sonnes: John called Gaddis,
3 Simon called Thasi,
4 Judas, otherwise called Machabeus,
5 Eleazar, otherwise called Abaron, and Jonathan, whose surname was Apphus.
6 These sawe the euill that was done among the people of Juda and Hierusalem.
7 And Mathathias sayd, Woe is me, alas that euer I was borne, to see this miserie of my people, & the pitious destruction of the holy citie, and thus to sit so still, it being deliuered into the handes of the enemies.
8 Her Sanctuarie is come into the power of strangers, her temple is as it were a man that hath lost his good name:

9 Her precious ornaments are carryed away captiue, her old men are slaine in the streetes, and her yong men are fallen through the swoorde of the enemies.

10 What people is it that hath not some possession in her kingdome: or who hath not gotten some of her spoyles?

11 All her glory is taken away, she was a free woman, and nowe shee is become an handmayde.

12 Beholde, our sanctuarie, our beautie and honour is wasted away, and defiled by the Gentiles.

13 What helpeth it vs then to liue?

14 And Mathathias rent his clothes, he and his sonnes, and put sackcloth vpon them, and mourned very sore.

15 Then came the men thither, which were sent of king Antiochus, to compell such as were fled into the citie of Modin, for to doe sacrifice, and to burne incense vnto idoles, and to forsake the lawe of God.

16 So many of the people of Israel consented and enclined vnto them: but Mathathias and his sonnes remayned stedfast.

17 Then spake the Commissioners of king Antiochus, and sayde vnto Mathathias, Thou art a noble man, of high reputation, and great in this citie, hauing many fayre children and brethren.

18 Come thou therefore first, and fulfill the kings commaundement, like as all the heathen haue done, yea, and the men of Juda, and such as remayne at Hierusalem, so shalt thou and thy children be in the kings fauour, and enriched with golde, siluer, and great rewardes.

19 Mathathias answered, & spake with a loude voyce, Though all nations obey the king Antiochus, & fall away euery man from keeping the lawe of their fathers, though they consent to his commandements:

a The father promiseth for his children that they shal serue God, so doth Josue for his houlholde, Josu. 24.

20 [a] Yet wil I and my sonnes and my brethren not fall from the lawes of our fathers, 21 God forbid we shoulde: that were not good for vs that we should forsake the law and ordinances of God, and to agree vnto the commandement of king Antiochus.

22 Therefore we will do no such sacrifice, neyther breake the statutes of our lawe, to goe an other way.

23 And when he had spoken these words, there came one of the Jewes, which openly in the sight of all did sacrifice vnto the idoles vpon the altar in the citie of Modin, according to the kings commandement.

b It is a griefe to the godly to see the people offend.

24 When Mathathias sawe this, it grieued [b] him at the heart, so that his reynes shooke withall, and his wrath kindled for very zeale of the lawe: with that he start vp, and killed the Jewe beside the altar,

25 Yea, and slue the kings Commissioner that compelled him to doe sacrifice, and destroyed the altar at the same time:

26 *Such zeale had he vnto the lawe of God, like as Phinehes did vnto Zambri the sonne of Salomi. Num. 25.7.

27 And Mathathias cryed with a loude voyce thorow the citie, saying, Whoso is feruent in the lawe, and will keepe the couenant, let him folowe me.

28 So he & his sonnes fled into the mountaines, and left all that euer they had in the citie.

29 Many other godly men also which liued iustly and vprightly, departed into the wildernesse, with their children, their wiues, & their cattell, and remayned there: for the tyrannie encreased sore vpon them.

30 Nowe when the kings seruantes, and the hoste which was at Hierusalem in the citie of Dauid, heard that certaine men had broken the kings commaundement, and were gone their way to the wildernesse into secrete places:

31 Then many pursued after them, and after they had ouertaken them, they camped themselues, and set the battel in aray against them in the Sabboth day, 32 And sayd vnto them, Wil ye yet rebell? Get you hence, and doe the commaundement of king Antiochus, and ye shall liue.

33 They answered, We wil not goe [for thee,] neither wil we do the kings commandement, to defile the Sabboth day.

34 Then beganne they to fight against them:

35 But the other gaue them none other answere, neither cast they one stone at them, nor made fast their priuie places:

36 But sayd, We wil die all in our innocencie, heauen and earth shall testifie with vs, that ye put vs to death wrongfully.

37 Thus they fought against them vpon the Sabboth, and slue both men and cattell, their wiues and their children, to the number of a thousand people.

38 When Mathathias and his friendes heard this, they mourned for them right sore, 39 And sayd one to another, If so be that we all doe as our brethren haue done, and fight not for our liues, and for our lawes against the heathen, then shal they the sooner roote vs out of the earth.

40 So they concluded among themselues at the same time, saying,

41 Whatsoeuer he be that commeth to make battel with vs vpon the Sabboth day, we wil fight against him, & not dye al as our brethren that were murdered in the wildernesse.

42 Upon this came the assemblie of the Assideans vnto them, which were of the strongest men men in Israel, and al such as were feruent in the lawe:

43 And all they that were fled for persecution, came to helpe them, and to stand by them:

44 Insomuch that they gathered an host of mē, and slewe the wicked doers in their ielousie, & the vngodly men in their wrath: but the rest fled vnto the heathen, and escaped.

45 Then Matthathias and his friendes went about, and destroyed the altars,

46 And circumcised the children that had not yet receiued circumcision, as many as they found within the coasts of Israel, 47 And followed mightily vpon the proud men: and this act prospered in their hands.

48 Insomuch that they kept the lawe against the power of the Gentiles and the kings, and gaue not ouer their dominion vnto wicked doers.

49 After this, when the time drewe on fast that Mathathias shoulde die, hee sayde vnto his sonnes, Now is pride and persecution encreased, nowe is the time of destruction & wrathfull displeasure:

50 Wherefore, O my sonnes, bee ye feruent in the lawe, and ieoparde your liues for the testament of the fathers.

51 Cal to remembrance what actes our fathers did in their time, so shall ye receiue great honour, and an euerlasting name.

Gene.22.9. 52 *Remember Abraham: was not he founde faithfull in temptation, and it was reckoned vnto him for righteousnesse?

Gen.41.40.num. 25.15. 53 *Joseph in time of his trouble kept the commandement, and was made a lorde of Egypt.

Eccle.45.28. 54 *Phinehes our father was so feruent for the honour of God, that he obteined the couenant of an euerlasting priesthood.

Iosu.1.2.num. 14.6. 55 *Josuah for fulfilling the word of God, was made the captaine of Israel.

Iosu.14.13. 56 *Caleb bare record before the congregation, and receiued an heritage.

2.Reg.2.4. 57 *Dauid also in his mercifull kindenesse, obteyned the throne of an euerlasting kingdome.

4.Reg.2.11. 58 *Elias being zelous and feruent in ꝑ lawe, was taken vp into heauen.

Dani.3.16. 59 *Ananias, Azarias, and Misael, remayned stedfast in faith, and were deliuered out of the fire.

Dani.6.22. 60 *In like maner Daniel being vnguiltie, was saued from the mouth of the Lions.

61 And thus ye may consider throughout all ages since the world beganne, that whosoeuer put their trust in God, were not ouercome.

62 Feare not yee then the woordes of an vngodly man, for his glory is but doung and wormes:

63 To day hee is set vp, and to morowe hee is gone: for he is turned into earth, and his purpose is come to nought.

64 Wherefore, O my sonnes, take good heart vnto you, & quite your selues like men in the lawe: for if ye do the things that are commanded you in the lawe of the Lord your God, ye shall obteine great honour therein.

65 And beholde, I knowe that your brother Simon is a man of wisedome: see that yee giue eare vnto him alway, he shall be a father vnto you.

66 As for Judas Machabeus, he hath euer bene mightie & strong from his youth vp: let him be your captaine, and order the battaile of the people.

67 Thus shall ye bring vnto you all those that fauour the lawe, and see that yee auenge the wrong of your people, 68 And recompense the heathen againe, and applie your selues wholy to the commaundement of the lawe.

69 So he gaue them his blessing, and was laid by his fathers,

70 And died in the hundred fourtie and first yere at Modin, where his sonnes buried him in his fathers sepulchre, and all Israel made great lamentation for him.

The iii. Chapter.

1 Iudas is made ruler ouer the Iewes. 11 He killeth Apollonius and Seron the princes of Syria.

1 THen stoode vp Judas Machabeus in his fathers steade, Ioseph.cap.8.9, 10,11,12.Lat.

2 And all his brethren helped him, and so did al they that held with his father, and fought with chearefulnesse for Israel.

3 So Judas gat his people great honour: he put on a brestplate as a Giant, and araied him selfe with his harnesse, and defended the host with his sworde.

4 In his actes he was like a lion, and as a lions whelpe roaring at his pray.

5 Hee was an enemie to the wicked, and hunted them out, and burnt vp those that vexed his people:

6 So that his enemies fled for feare of him, and all the workers of vngodlinesse were put to trouble: such lucke and prosperitie was in his hand.

7 This grieued diuers kings: but Jacob was greatly reioyced through his actes, & he gate himselfe a great name for euer.

8 He went thorow the cities of Juda, destroying the vngodly out of them, turning away the wrath from Israel, 9 And receiuing such as were oppressed: and the fame of him went vnto the vttermost part of the earth.

10 Then Apollonius [a prince of Syria,] gathered a mightie great host of the heathē, and out of Samaria, to fight against Israel:

11 Which when Judas perceiued, hee went foorth to meete him, fought with him, slewe him, him, and a great multitude with him: the remnant fled, and he tooke their substance.

12 Judas also tooke Appollonius owne sword, and fought with it all his life long.
13 Nowe when Seron, a prince of the armie of Syria, heard say that Judas had gathered vnto him the congregation & Church of the faithfull, 14 He sayde, I will get me a name and a praise throughout the Realme: for I will goe fight with Judas and them that are with him, as many as haue despised the kings commandement.
15 So he made him readie, and there went with him a great mightie host of the vngodly to stand by him, and to be auenged of the children of Israel.
16 And when they came nigh vnto Bethoron, Judas went forth against them with a small companie.
17 And when his people sawe such a great host before them, they sayde vnto Judas, Howe are we able, being so fewe, to fight against so great a multitude, and so strong, seeing we be so wearie, and haue fasted al this day?
18 But Judas said, It is a small matter for many to be ouercome with fewe: yea, there is no difference to the God of heauen, to deliuer by a great multitude, or by a small companie:
19 For the victorie of the battaile standeth not in the multitude of the host, but the strength commeth from heauen.
20 Beholde, they come against vs with a cruell and proud multitude, to destroy vs, our wiues and our children, and to robbe vs:
21 But wee will fight for our liues, and for our lawes,
22 And the Lord himselfe shal destroy them before our face: therefore bee not yee afrayde of them.
23 As soone as he had spoken these words, he leapt suddenly vpon them: Thus was Seron smitten, and his host put to flight,
24 And Judas followed vpon them beyonde Bethoron, vnto the playne fielde, where there were slaine eight hundred men of them, and the residue fled into the lande of the Philistines.
25 Then all the heathen on euery side were afraide of Judas and his brethren:
‖ Or, feare. 26 So that the ‖ rumour of him came vnto the kings eares: for all the Gentiles coulde tell of the warres of Judas.
27 So when king Antiochus heard these tidings, he was angry in his minde: wherefore he sent forth, & gathered an host of his whole realme, very strong armies:
28 And opened his treasurie, and gaue his host a peres wages in hand, commanding them to be ready at all times.
29 Neuertheless, when he saw that there was not money ynough in his treasuries, and that through the discord and persecution which he made in the lande, to put downe the lawes that had bene of olde times, his customes and tributes of the land were minished:
30 He feared that hee was not able for to beare the costes and charges any longer, nor to haue such giftes to giue so liberally as he did afore, more then the kings that were before him.
31 Wherefore hee was heauie in his minde, and thought to goe vnto Persides, for to take tributes of the lande, and so to gather much money.
32 So he left Lysias, a noble man of the kings blood, to oversee the kings businesse, from the water Euphrates, vnto the borders of Egypt:
33 And to keepe well his sonne Antiochus till he came againe.
34 Moreouer, he gaue him halfe of his host, and Elephants, and committed vnto him euery thing, and gaue him the charge of all things that hee woulde haue done, concerning those which dwelt in Juda and Hierusalem:
35 That he shoulde sende out an armie against them, to destroy and roote out the power of Israel, and the remnant of Hierusalem, to put out their memoriall from that place:
36 To set stragers for to inhabite al their quarters, and to part their land among them.
37 Thus the king tooke the other part of the host, and departed from Antioch, a citie of his realme, ouer the water Euphrates, in the hundred and fourtie & seuen yeere, and went thorowe the high countreyes.
38 And Lysias chose vnto him Ptolome the sonne of Dorymenius, Nicanor, & Gorgias, mightie men, and the kings friendes. Ioseph cap. 12. lib. anti.
39 These he sent with fourtie thousande footemen, and seuen thousand horsemen, for to goe into the land of Juda, and to destroy it, as the king commanded.
40 So they went forth with all their power, & came to Emmaus into the playne fielde.
41 When the marchants of the countrey heard the rumour of them, they and their seruantes tooke very much siluer and golde, for to buy the children of Israel to bee their bondmen: there came vnto them also yet moe men of warre on euery side, out of Syria, and from the Palestines.
42 Nowe when Judas and his brethren sawe that trouble encreased, and that the host drew nigh vnto their borders, considering ỹ kings words which he commanded vnto the people, [namely,] that they should vtterly waste and destroy them:
43 They sayde one to another, Let vs redresse the decay of our people, let vs fight for our folke, folke, and for our sanctuarie.

44 Then the congregation were soone readie gathered to fight, to pray, and to make supplication vnto God for mercy and grace.
45 As for Hierusalem it lay voyde, and was as it had bene a wildernesse: there went no man in nor out at it, and the sanctuarie was troden downe, the aliants kept the castle, there was the habitation of the heathen, the mirth of Iacob was taken away, the Pipe & the Harpe was gone from among them.
46 The Israelites gathered them together, and came to Maspha before Hierusalem: for in Maspha was the place where they prayed aforetime in Israel.
47 So they fasted that day, and put sackclothes vpon them, cast ashes vpon their heads, rent their clothes,
48 And layd forth ỹ bookes of the lawe, wherevnto the heathen sought to paynt the likenesse of their images,
49 And brought the Priestes ornamentes, the firstlings, and the tithes: they set there also the Nazarites, which had accomplished their ‖ vowes before God:
50 And cried with a loude voyce toward heauē, saying, What shall wee doe with these, and whither shall we cary them away?
51 For thy sanctuarie is troden downe and defiled, the Priestes are come to heauinesse and dishonour.
52 And beholde, the heathen are come together for to destroy vs: thou knowest what things they imagine against vs.
53 Howe may wee stande before them, except thou (O God) be our helpe?
54 Then they blewe out the trumpet also with a loude voyce.
55 Then Iudas ordeyned captaines ouer the people, ouer thousandes, ouer hundreds, ouer fiftie, and ouer ten.
56 *But as for such as builded them houses, maried wiues, planted them vineyardes, and those that were feareful, he commanded them euery man to go home againe according to the lawe.
57 So the host remoued, and pitched vpon the South side of Emmaus.
58 And Iudas said, Arme your selues, be strong, O my children, make you ready against to morow in ỹ morning, that ye may fight with these people, which are agreed together to destroy vs and our sanctuarie.
59 Better is it for vs to die in battaile, then to see our people and our sanctuarie in such a miserable case.
60 Neuertheless, as thy will is, O God in heauen, so be it.

Or, dayes.

Deut. 20. 5. iudic. 7. 3.

The iiii. Chapter.

Iudas goeth against Gorgias, which lyeth in waite,

1 THen tooke Gorgias fiue thousand men of foote, & a thousand of the best horsemen, and remoued out of the campe by night,
2 To come nigh where the Iewes host lay, and so to slay them suddenly: (Now the men that kept the castle, were the conueyers of them.)
3 Nowe when Iudas heard this, he remoued, and all the strong men that were with him, to smite the thiefe and principall of the kings host at Emmaus:
4 For the armie was not yet come together.
5 In the meane season came Gorgias by night vnto Iudas tents, and when he found no man there, he sought them in the mountaines, and thought they had bene fled away because of him.
6 But when it was day, Iudas shewed himselfe in the fielde with three thousand men only, which had neither harnesse, nor swords to their mindes.
7 But on the other side they saw that the heathen were mightie and well harnessed, & their horsemen about them, and all these well expert in feates of warre.
8 Then said Iudas to the men that were with him, Feare not ye the multitude of thē, be not afraide of their violent running.
9 *Remember howe our fathers were deliuered in the red sea, when Pharao followed vpon them with a great host.
10 Euen so let vs also cry nowe towarde heauen, and the Lord shall haue mercie vpon vs, and remember the couenant of our fathers, yea, and destroy this host before our face this day:
11 And all the heathen shall knowe that it is God him selfe which deliuereth and saueth Israel.
12 Then the heathen lift vp their eyes, & when they sawe that they were comming against them,
13 They went out of their tentes into the battaile, and they that were with Iudas blewe vp the trumpets.
14 So they buckled together, and the heathen were discomfited, and fledde ouer the playne fielde:
15 But the hindmost of them were slayne with the sworde: for they followed them vnto ‖ Assaremoth, and into the fieldes of Idumea, towarde Azot and Iamnia: so that there were slayne of them vpon a three thousande men.
16 So Iudas turned againe with his host,
17 And said vnto the people, Be not greedie of the spoyles, we haue yet a battaile to fight.
18 For Gorgias and his host are here by vs in the mountaines, but stande yee fast against Ioseph. lib. 12. cap. 10.

Exod. 14. 9.

Or, Gazeron.

gainſt our enemies, and ouercome them, then may ye ſafely take the ſpoyles.

19 As Iudas was ſpeaking theſe woꝛdes, beholde, there appeared one part of them vpon the mount.

20 But when Goꝛgias ſawe that they of his part were fled, and the tentes burnt vp (foꝛ by the ſmoke they might vnderſtande what was done) they perceiuing this, were very ſoꝛe afraide:

21 And when thy ſawe alſo that Iudas and his hoſte were in the fielde readie to ſtrike battaile, 22 They fled euery one into the land of the heathen.

23 So Iudas turned againe to ſpoyle ꝑ tents, where they gate much golde, and ſiluer, pretious ſtones, purple, and great riches.

24 Thus they went home, and ſung a Pſalme of thankeſgiuing, and praiſed God in heauen: foꝛ he is gracious, and his mercie endureth foꝛ euer.

25 And ſo Iſrael had a great victoꝛie in that day.

26 Nowe all the heathen that eſcaped, came and tolde Lyſias euery thing that had happened.

27 Wherefoꝛe Lyſias was ſoꝛe afraide, & grieued in his minde, becauſe Iſrael had not gotten ſuch miſfoꝛtune as he would they ſhould, neither as the king commanded.

28 The next yeere following, gathered Lyſias thꝛeeſcoꝛe thouſand choſen men of foote, and fiue thouſand hoꝛſemen, to fight againſt Hieruſalem.

29 So they came into Iurie, and pitched their tentes at Bethoꝛon: where Iudas came againſt them with ten thouſand men.

30 And when he ſawe ſo great and mightie an hoſte, he made his prayer, and ſaide, Bleſſed be thou, O ſauiour of Iſrael, * which didſt deſtroy the violent power of the giant in the hand of thy ſeruant Dauid, *and gaueſt the hoſte of the heathen into the hande of Ionathan the ſonne of Saul, and of his harneſſe bearer:

1.Reg.17.15.

1.Reg.14.13.

31 Put this hoſte nowe into the hand of thy people of Iſrael, and let them be confounded in their multitude and hoꝛſemen.

32 Make them afraide, and diſcomfite the boldneſſe of their ſtrength, that they may be mooued thꝛough their deſtruction.

33 Caſt them downe thꝛough the ſwoꝛde of thy louers, then ſhal al they that know thy name, praiſe thee with thankeſgiuing.

34 So they ſtrooke the battell, and there were ſlaine of Lyſias hoſte fiue thouſand men.

35 Then Lyſias ſeeing the diſcomfiting of his men, and the manlineſſe of the Iewes, howe they were ready either to liue oꝛ to die like men: he went vnto Antioch, and choſe out men of warre, that when they were gathered together, they might come againe into Iurie.

36 Then ſayde Iudas and his bꝛethꝛen, Beholde, our enemies are diſcomfited, let vs nowe goe vp to cleanſe and repayꝛe the Sanctuarie.

37 Vpon this, al the hoſt gathered them together, and went vp into mount Sion.

38 Nowe when they ſawe the Sanctuarie layde waſte, the altar defiled, the dooꝛes burnt vp, the ſhꝛubbes growing in the courtes, like as in a wood, oꝛ vpon mountaines, yea, and that the Pꝛieſts chambers were bꝛoken downe,

39 They rent their clothes, and made great lamentation, caſt aſhes vpon their heads, 40 Fell downe flat to the ground vpon their faces, made a great noyſe with the trumpets, and cryed toward heauen.

41 Then Iudas appoynted certaine men to fight againſt thoſe which were in the caſtle, till they had cleanſed the ſanctuarie.

42 So he choſe Pꝛieſtes that were vndefiled, ſuch as had pleaſure in the lawe of God:

43 And they cleanſed the Sanctuarie, and bare out the defiled ſtones into an vncleane place.

44 And foꝛaſmuch as the altar of burnt offerings was vnhalowed, hee tooke aduiſement what he might do withall.

45 So hee thought it beſt to deſtroy it, leaſt it ſhould happen to doe them any ſhame, foꝛ the heathen had defiled it: & therfoꝛe they bꝛake it downe.

46 As foꝛ the ſtones, they layde them vp vpon the mountaine by the houſe in a conuenient place, till there came a Pꝛophet to ſhewe what ſhould be done with them.

47 So they tooke whole ſtones, accoꝛding to the lawe, and builded a newe altar, ſuch one as was befoꝛe,

48 And made vp the Sanctuarie within and without, and halowed the houſes and the courtes:

49 They made new holy oꝛnaments, & bꝛought the candleſticke, the altar of incenſe, and the table, into the Temple.

50 The incenſe layde they vpon the altar, and lighted the lampes which were vpon the candleſticke, that they might burne in the Temple:

51 They ſet the ſhewe bꝛead vpon the table, and hanged vp the vaile, and finiſhed al the woꝛks which they had begun to make.

52 And vpon the twentie and fifth day of the ninth moneth (which is called the moneth of ‖Caſleu) in the hundꝛed, fourtie, and eight yeere, ‖Nouember.

53 They roſe vp betimes in the moꝛning, foꝛ to doe ſacrifice accoꝛding to the lawe, vpon the the newe burnt offering altar that they had made.

54 After the time and season that the heathen had defiled it, the same day was it set vp againe, with songs, pipes, harpes, and cymbales.

55 And all the people fel vpon their faces, worshipping and thanking the God of heauen, which had giuen them the victorie.

56 So they kept the dedication of the altar eyght dayes, offering burnt sacrifices and thanke offerings with gladnesse:

57 They deckt the forefront of the Temple also with crownes and shieldes of gold, and hallowed the ports and celles, and hanged doores vpon them.

58 Thus there was very great gladnes among the people, because the blasphemie of the heathen was put away.

Ioh.10.22. 59 * So Iudas and his brethren, with ỹ whole congregation of Israel, ordeyned, that ỹ time of the dedication of the altar shoulde bee kept in his season from yeere to yeere, by the space of eyght dayes, from the twentie and fifth day of the moneth ‖ Caslue, with mirth and gladnesse. ‖November.

60 And at the same time builded they vp the mount Sion, with high walles and strong towres round about, least the Gentiles should come and tread it downe as they did afore.

61 Therefore Iudas set men of warre in it, to keepe it, and made it strong for to defende Bethsura, that ỹ people might haue a refuge against the Edomites.

The v. Chapter.

Iudas vanquisheth the Heathen that goe about to destroy Israel, and is holpen of his brethren Simon and Ionathas.

Ioseph. ca.xii. Lib.xiii.

1 IT happened also, that when the Heathen round about heard howe that the altar and the sanctuarie were set vp in their olde estate, it displeased them very sore.

2 Wherefore they thought to destroy the generation of Iacob that was among them: in so much that they began to slay and to persecute certaine of the people.

3 Then Iudas fought against the children of Esau in Idumea at Arabathane: for they dwelt rounde about the Israelites, where he slewe and spoyled a great multitude of them.

4 Hee thought also vpon the malice and vnfaithfulnesse of the children of Bean, howe they were a snare & stop vnto the people, and how they laid wait for them in the high way.

5 Wherefore he shut them vp into the towres, and came vnto them, besieged them, and destroied them vtterly, & burnt vp their towres, with all that were in them.

6 Afterwarde went he against the children of Ammon, whereof he found a mightie power, and a great multitude of people with Timothie their chiefe captaine.

7 So hee stroke many battailes with them, which were destroyed before him.

8 And when he had slayne them, hee wan Gazer the citie, with the townes belonging therto, and so turned againe into Iurie.

9 The heathen also in Galaad gathered them together against the Israelites that were in their quarters, to slay them: but they fled to the castle of Datheman,

10 And sent letters vnto Iudas and his brethren, saying, The heathen that are about vs, are gathered against vs on euery side, to destroy vs:

11 And nowe they make them readie for to come and laye siege to the castle whereunto we are fled, and Timothie is captaine of their host.

12 Come therefore, and deliuer vs out of their handes, for there is a great multitude of vs slayne already.

13 Yea, and our brethren that were at Tubin are slayne and destroyed, welnigh a thousande men, and their wiues, their children, and their goods haue the enemies led away captiue.

14 While these letters were yet a reading, behold, there came other messengers from Galilee with rent clothes, which tolde euen the same tidings,

15 And said, that they of Ptolemais, of Tyrus, and of Sidon, were gathered against them, and that all Galilee was filled with ‖enemies to destroy Israel. ‖Or, strangers

16 When Iudas and the people heard this, they came together a great congregation, to deuise what they might doe for their brethren that were in trouble, and besieged of their enemies.

17 And Iudas sayde vnto Simon his brother, Choose thee out certaine men, and goe, deliuer thy brethren in Galilee: as for me & my brother Ionathas, we will goe into Galaaditim.

18 So he left Iosephus the sonne of Zacharie, and Azarias to bee captaines of the people, to keepe the remnant of the host in Iurie, 19 And commanded them, saying, Take the ouersight of this people, and see that yee make no warre against the heathen, vntill the time that we come againe.

20 And vnto Simon hee gaue three thousande men, for to goe into Galilee: but Iudas himselfe had eight thousand in Galaaditim.

21 Then went Simon into Galilee, and stroke diuers battailes with the heathen, whome he discomfited, 22 And followed vpon them into the port of Ptolemais: and there were slayne of the heathen almost three thousand men.

23 So he tooke the spoyles of them, and caried away away the Israelites that were in Galilee and Arbatis, with their wiues, their children, and al that they had, and brought them into Iurie with great gladnesse:

24 Iudas Machabeus also, and his brother Ionathas, went ouer Iordane, & trauailed three dayes iourney in the wildernesse:

25 Where the Nabathees met them, and receiued them louingly, and told them euery thing that had happened vnto their brethren in Galaaditim:

26 And howe that many of them were besieged in Barasa, Bosor, Alimis, Casbon, Mageth, and Carnaim (all these are strong walled and mightie great cities,)

27 And that they were kept in other cities of Galaaditim also, and to morowe they are appointed to bring their host vnto these cities, to take them, and to destroy them in one day.

28 So Iudas and his host turned in all the haste in the wildernesse towarde Bosor, and wanne the citie, slewe all the males with the sword, tooke all their goods, and set fire vpon the citie:

29 And in the night they tooke their iourney from thence, and came to the castle:

30 And betimes in the morning when they looked vp, beholde, there was an innumerable people bearing ladders & other instruments of warre, to take the castle, and to ouercome them.

31 When Iudas sawe that the battaile began, and that the noyse thereof went vp and rang into the heauen, and that there was so great a cry in the citie,

32 He sayde vnto his host, Fight this day for your brethren:

33 And so came behinde their enemies in three companies, and blewe vp the trumpets, and cryed in their prayer to God.

34 But so soone as Timotheus host perceiued that Machabeus was there, they fled frō him: and hee slewe them right sore, so that there were killed of them the same day almost eight thousand men.

35 Then departed Iudas vnto Masipha, layde siege vnto it, and wanne it, slewe al the males in it, spoyled it, and set fire vpon it.

36 From thence went hee and tooke Casbon, Mageth, Bosor, and the other cities in Galaaditim.

37 After this gathered Timothie another host, which pitched their tentes before Raphon, beyond the water.

38 Iudas also sent to spye the host, and they brought him worde againe, saying, All the heathen that bee rounde about vs, are gathered vnto him, and the host is very great:

39 Yea, they haue hyred the Arabians to helpe them, and haue pitched their tentes beyond the water, and are readie to come and fight against thee. So Iudas went on to meete them.

40 And Timothie sayde vnto the captaines of his host, When Iudas and his host come nigh the riuer, if he go ouer first, we shall not be able to withstand him: for why? he will be too strong for vs.

41 But if hee dare not come ouer, so that he pitch his tent beyonde the water: then will we go ouer, for we shall be strong ynough against him.

42 Nowe as soone as Iudas came to the riuer, hee appointed certaine scribes of the people by the riuer, and commanded them, saying, See that yee leaue none behinde vpon this side of the riuer, but let euery man come to the battell.

43 So hee went first ouer vnto them, and all his people after him, and all the heathen were discomfited before him, and let their weapons fall, and ranne into the Temple that was at Carnaim,

44 Which citie Iudas wanne, and burnt the Temple, with all that were in it: So was Carnaim subdued, and might not withstande Iudas.

45 Then Iudas gathered all the Israelites that were in Galaaditim, from the least vnto the most, with their wiues and their children, a very great host, for to come into the lande of Israel.

46 So they came vnto Ephron, which was a mightie, great, & strong citie, and lay in their way: for they could not goe by it, neither on the right hande, nor on the left, but must goe thorowe it.

47 Neuertheless, they that were in the citie would not let them goe thorowe, but walled vp the ports with stones: and Iudas sent vnto them with peaceable wordes, saying,

48 Let vs passe thorowe your lande, that wee may goe into our owne country, there shall no bodie doe you harme, we will but onely go through on foote. But they would not let them in.

49 Wherefore Iudas commaunded a proclamation to bee made throughout the host, that euery man should assault the citie in his order.

50 And so they did their best, like valiant men: and Iudas besieged the citie all that day, and all that night, and so wanne it:

51 Where they slewe as many as were males with the edge of the sworde, and destroyed the citie, and spoyled it, and went thorowe all the citie ouer them that were slayne.

52 Then went they ouer Iordane, into ỹ plaine fielde before Bethsan.

53 And Iudas helped those forward ỹ came behinde, and gaue the people good exhortation all all the way through, till they were come into the land of Juda.

54 Thus they went vp vnto the mount Sion, where they offered whole burnt offerings with mirth and thankesgiuing, because there were none of them slayne, but came home againe peaceably.

55 Nowe what time as Judas and Jonathas were in the land of Galaad, and Simon their brother in Galilee before Ptolomais:

56 Then Josephus the sonne of Zacharie, and Azarias, the captaines, hearing of the actes that were done, and of the battailes that were stricken, sayde, 57 Let vs get vs a name also, & go fight against the heathen that are round about vs.

58 So they gaue their host a commandement, and went toward Jamnia.

59 Then came Gorgias and his men out of the citie to fight against them:

60 Josephus also and Azarias were chased vnto the borders of Jurie, and there were slayne that day of the people of Israel two thousand men: so that there was a great miserie among the people of Israel, 61 And al because they were not obedient vnto Judas & his brethrē, but thought they should quite themselues manfully.

62 Neuertheless, they came not of the seede of these men by whom Israel was helped.

63 But the men that were with Judas, were greatly commended in the sight of all Israel, and all the heathen whersoeuer their name was heard vpon.

64 And the people came vnto them, bidding thē welcome.

65 After this went Judas forth with his brethren, and fought against the children of Esau in the lande that lieth toward the South, where hee wanne the citie of Hebron, and the townes that lie beside it: and as for the walles and towres rounde about it, hee burnt them vp.

66 Then remoued he to goe into the land of the ‖Philistines, and went thorowe Samaria.

‖Or, strangers.

67 At the same time were there many priestes slayne in the battaile, which wilfully & without aduisement went out for to fight to get them honour.

68 And when Judas came to Azot, in the Philistines lande, hee brake downe their altars, burnt the images of their idoles, spoyled their cities, and came againe into the lande of Juda.

The vi. Chapter.

Antiochus willing to take the citie of Elimas for a pray, is driuen away of the citizens.

1 NOwe when king Antiochus trauailed thorowe the high countreyes, hee heard that Elimas in Persia was a noble and plenteous citie in siluer and golde,

2 And that there was in it a very rich temple, whereas were clothes, coate armours, and shields of gold, which Alexander the sonne of Philip king of Macedonia that reigned first in Grecia had left behind him.

3 Wherefore hee went about to take the citie, and to spoyle it, but hee was not able: for the citizens were warned of it, and fought with him.

4 And so he fled, and departed with great heauinesse, and came againe into Babylon.

5 Moreouer, there came one which brought him tydings in Persia, that his hostes which were in the lande of Juda were driuen away:

6 And howe that Lysias went forth first with a great power, and was driuen away of the Jewes, how that they had wonne the victory, and gotten great goods out of the hostes that perished:

7 Howe they had broken downe the abomination which he set vp vpon the altar at Hierusalem, and fenced the sanctuarie with high walles, like as it was afore, yea, and Bethsura his citie also.

8 So it chaunced, that when the king heard these wordes, hee was afrayde, and grieued very sore: wherefore hee layde him downe vpon his bedde, and fell sicke for very sorowe, and all because it had not happened as hee had deuised.

9 And there continued hee long: for his griefe was euer more and more, so that hee sawe hee must needes die.

10 Therefore he sent for all his friendes, and sayde vnto them, The sleepe is gone frō mine eyes, for the very sorow and vexation of heart that I haue.

11 For when I consider in my minde the great aduersitie that I am come vnto, & the floods of heauinesse which I am come in, whereas aforetime I was so merie, and so greatly set by, by reason of my power:

12 Againe, considering the euill that I haue done at Hierusalem, from whence I tooke all the riches of golde and siluer that were in it, and sent to destroy the inhabiters of Jurie without any reason why:

13 I knowe that these troubles are come vpon mee for the same cause: and beholde, I must dye with great sorowe in a strange lande.

14 Then called hee for one Philip, a friende of his, whom he made ruler of all his realme, 15 And gaue him the crowne, his robe, and his ring, that he should take his sonne Antiochus vnto him, & bring him vp, til he might reigne himselfe.

16 So the king Antiochus dyed there, in the hundred, fourtie and nine yere. Ioseph. cap. 14. lib. 12.

17 When

17 When Lysias knewe that the king was dead, he ordeined Antiochus his sonne, whom he had brought vp, to reigne in his fathers steade, and called him Eupator.

18 Nowe they that were in the castle [at Hierusalem,] kept in the Iewes rounde about the sanctuarie, and sought euer still to doe them harme, and the strēgthening of the heathen.

19 Wherefore Iudas thought to destroy them, and called all the people together, that they might lay siege vnto them.

20 So they came together in the hundred and fiftie yeere, and besieged them, laying foorth their ordinance and instrumentes of warre.

21 Then certaine of them that were besieged, went forth: vnto whom some vngodly men of Israel ioyned themselues also,

22 And went vnto the king, saying, How long will it be yer thou punish, and auenge our brethren?

23 We haue euer bene minded to doe thy father seruice, to walke in his statutes, and to obey his commandements:

24 Therefore our people fell from vs, & whersoeuer they founde any of vs, they slue them, and spoyled our inheritance.

25 And they haue not onely medled with vs, but with all our countreyes.

26 And behold, this day are they besieging the castle at Hierusalem, to take it, & haue made vp the strong holde at Bethsura.

27 And if thou doest not preuent them right soone, they will doe more then these, and thou shalt not be able to ouercome them.

28 When the king hearde this, he was very angry, and called all his friendes, the captaines of his armie, and [all his footemē and] horsemen:

29 He hired mē of warre also of other realmes, perteining to the kings that were confederate with him, and of the Iles of the sea, which came vnto him.

30 And the number of his hoste was an hundred thousande footemen, and twentie thousand horsemen, & thirtie and two Elephantes well exercised to battell.

31 These came thorow Idumea vnto Bethsura, and besieged it a long season, and made diuers instruments of warre against it: but the Iewes came out and burnt them with fire, and fought like men.

32 Then departed Iudas from the castle [at Hierusalem,] and remoued the hoste toward Bethzacharan, ouer against the kings army.

33 So the king arose before the day, & brought the power of his hoste into the way to Bethzacharan, where the hostes made them readie to the battaile, blowing the trumpets.

34 And to prouoke the Elephants for to fight, they shewed them the sappe of redde grapes and mulberies,

35 And diuided the Elephantes among the hoste: so that by euery Elephant there stoode a thousand men well harnessed, and helmets of steele vpon their heades: yea, vnto euery one of the Elephantes also were ordeined fiue hundred horsemen of the best,

36 Which waited on the Elephant, going whersoeuer he went, and departed not from him.

37 Euery Elephant was couered with a strōg tower of wood, fastened thereon with instruments, whereupon were thirtie and two valiant men with weapons to fight, and within was a man of Inde to rule the beast.

38 As for the remnant of the horsemen, he set them vpon both the sides in two parts, with trumpets to prouoke the hoste, and to stirre vp such as were slowe in the armie.

39 And when the sunne shone vpō their shields of golde and steele, the mountaines glistered againe at them, and were as bright as the cressets of fire.

40 The kings hoste also was diuided, one part vpon the high mountaines, the other lowe beneath: so they went on, taking good heede, and keeping their order.

41 And all they that dwelt in the lande, were afraide at the noise of their hoste, when the multitude went forth, and whē the weapons smote together: for the hoste was both great and mightie.

42 Iudas also and his hoste entered into the battel, and slue sixe hundred men of the kings armie.

43 Nowe when Eleazar the sonne of ‖ Saura did see one of the Elephantes deckt with the kings badge, and was a more goodly beast then the other, he thought the king should be vpon him: ‖ Or, Abaron.

44 And ieoparded himselfe to deliuer his people, and to get him a perpetuall name:

45 Wherefore, he ranne with a courage vnto the Elephant in the middest of the hoste, smiting them downe on both the sides, and slue many about him.

46 So went he to the Elephants feete, and gat him vnder him, [a] & slue him: then fell the Elephant downe vpon him, and there he died. a This example is not to be followed, because it is contrarie to the commandement.

47 Iudas also and his men, seeing the power of the king, and the mightie violence of his hoste, departed from them.

48 And the kings armie went vp against them toward Hierusalem, and pitched their tentes in Iurie beside mount Sion.

49 Moreouer, the king tooke truice with them that were in Bethsura: but when they came out of the citie, because they had no victuals, but were shut vp within, and the land lay vntilled,

50 The

50 The king tooke Bethſura, and ſet men to keepe it, and turned his hoſte to the place of the ſanctuarie, 51 And laid ſiege to it a great while, where he made all maner ordinance, handbowes, fierie dartes, rackets to caſt ſtones, ſcorpions to ſhoote arrowes, and ſlings.
52 The Iewes alſo made ordinance againſt theirs, and fought a long ſeaſon.
53 But in the citie there were no victuals, for it was the ſeuenth yeere of the warres, and thoſe heathen that remained in Iurie, had eaten vp all their ſtore.
54 And in the ſanctuarie were fewe men left: for the hunger came ſo vpon them, that they were ſcattered abroad, euery man to his owne place.
55 So when Lyſias heard that Philip, whom Antiochus the king, while he was yet liuing, had ordeined to bring vp Antiochus his ſonne that he might be king,
56 Was come againe out of Perſia and Media with the kings hoſte, and thought to obtaine the kingdome, with the gouernance of all things:
57 He gate him to the king in all the haſte, and to the captaines of the hoſte, and ſaid, We decreaſe daily, and our victuals are but ſmall: againe, the place that wee lay ſiege vnto is very ſtrong, and it were our part to ſee for the realme:
58 Let vs agree with theſe men, & take truce with them, and with all their people,
59 And graunt them to liue after their lawe as they did afore: for they be grieued, and do all theſe things againſt vs, becauſe we haue ‖ deſpiſed their lawe.
‖ Or, broken.
60 So the king and the princes were content, and ſent vnto them to make peace: and they receiued it.
61 Now when the king and the princes had made an othe vnto them, they came out of the caſtle,
62 And the king went vp to mount Sion: but when he ſawe that the place was wel fenced, he brake the othe that he had made, and commanded to deſtroy the wall round about.
63 Then departed he in all the haſte, and returned vnto Antioch, where he found Philip hauing dominion of the citie: ſo hee fought againſt him, and tooke the citie againe into his hands.

The vii. Chapter.

1 Demetrius reigned after he had killed Antiochus and Lyſias.

1 IN the hundred fiftie and one yeere, came Demetrius the ſonne of Seleucus, from the citie of Rome, with a ſmall company of men, vnto a citie of the ſea coaſt, & there he bare rule.
2 And when he came to Antioche, the citie of his progenitours, his hoſte tooke Antiochus and Lyſias, to bring them vnto him.
3 But when it was told him, he ſaid, Let me not ſee their faces.
4 So the hoſte put them to death. Now when Demetrius was ſet vpon the throne of his kingdome,
5 There came vnto him wicked and vngodly men of Iſrael, whoſe captaine was Alcimus, that would haue bene made high prieſt.
6 Theſe men accuſed the people of Iſrael vnto the king, ſaying, Iudas and his brethren haue ſlaine all thy friends, and driuen vs out of our owne land.
7 Wherefore, ſend now ſome man to whom thou giueſt credence, that he may goe, and ſee all the deſtruction which hee hath done vnto vs, and to the kings land, and let him be puniſhed, with all his friends and fauourers.
8 Then the king choſe Bacchides a friend of his, which was a man of great power in the realme beyond the water, and faithfull vnto the king, and ſent him [to ſee the deſtruction that Iudas had done.]
9 And as for that wicked Alcimus, hee made him high prieſt, and commanded him to be auenged of the children of Iſrael.
10 So they departed [from the king] and came with a great hoſte into the land of Iuda, ſending meſſengers to Iudas and his brethren, & ſpeaking vnto them with peaceable words, but vnder deceit.
11 Therefore Iudas and his people beleeued not their ſaying: for they ſawe that they were come with a great hoſte.
12 After this came the Scribes together vnto Alcimus and Bacchides, to entreat of reaſonable couenants.
13 And the Aſſideans were the firſt among the children of Iſrael that required peace of them,
14 Saying, Alcimus the prieſt is come of the ſeed of Aaron, how can he deceiue vs, though he come with an armie?
15 So he gaue them louing words, and ſware vnto them, & ſaid, We will do you no harme, neither your friends.
16 And they beleeued him: but the very ſame day tooke hee threeſcore men of them, and ſlew them, according to the wordes that are written,
17 They haue [caſt] the *fleſh of thy ſaintes, and ſhed their blood round about Hieruſalem, and there was no man that would bury them. * Pſal.79.3.
18 So there came a great feare and dread among all the people, ſaying, There is neither trueth nor righteouſneſſe in them: for they haue broken the appointment and othe that they made.
19 And Bacchides remooued his hoſte from Hierusalem, and pitched his tent at Bethzecha, where he sent foorth and tooke many of them that had forsaken him: hee slew many of the people also, and cast them into a great pit.

20 Then committed hee the land vnto Alcimus, and left men of warre with him to helpe him: and Bacchides himselfe went vnto the king.

21 And thus Alcimus defended his high priesthood.

22 And all such as vexed Israel, resorted vnto him: in so much that they obtained the land of Juda, and did much euill vnto the Israelites.

23 Now when Judas sawe all the mischiefe that Alcimus and his company had done (yea more then the heathen themselues) vnto the Israelites, 24 He went foorth round about all the borders of Jurie, and punished those vnfaithful runnagates, so that they came no more out into the countrey.

25 So when Alcimus sawe that Judas & his people had gotten the vpper hand, and that he was not able to abide thē, he went againe vnto the king, and said all the worst of them that he could.

2.Mach.15.2. 26 *Then the king sent Nicanor, one of his chiefe princes, which bare euill will vnto Israel, and commanded him that he should vterly destroy the people.

27 So Nicanor came to Hierusalem with a great hoste, and sent vnto Judas and his brethren with friendly wordes: but vnder deceit, saying, 28 There shall be no warre betwixt me & you, I will come with a fewe men, to see how yee do, with friendship.

29 Upon this he came vnto Judas, and they saluted one another peaceably: but ẏ enemies were appointed to take Judas by violence.

30 Neuertheless, it was told Judas that he came vnto him but vnder deceit, wherefore he gate him away from him, and would see his face no more.

31 When Nicanor perceiued that his counsell was bewrayed, he went out to fight against Judas beside ‖ Capharsalama:

‖ Or, Carphasalama.

32 Where there were slaine of Nicanors hoste fiue thousand men, and the residue fled vnto the citie of Dauid.

33 After this came Nicanor vp vnto mount Sion, and the priests with the elders of ẏ people, went foorth to salute him peaceably, and to shew him the whole burnt sacrifices that were offred for the king.

34 But he laughed them & the people to scorne, mocked them, defiled their offerings, & spake disdainfully:

35 Yea, and swore in his wrath, saying, If Judas and his hoste bee not deliuered now into my hands, as soone as euer I come againe & fare well, I shal burne vp this house. With that went he out in a great anger.

36 Then the priests came in, and stoode before the altar of the temple, weeping, and saying,

37 Forsomuch as thou, O Lorde, hast chosen this house, that thy name might be called vpon therein, and that it should bee an house of prayer and petition for thy people:

38 Be auenged of this man and his hoste, and let them be slaine with the sword: remember the blasphemies of them, and suffer not them to continue any longer.

39 When Nicanor was gone from Hierusalem, he pitched his tent at Bethoron, & there an hoste met him out of Syria.

40 And Judas came to Adarsa with three thousand men, and made his prayer vnto God, saying, 41 *O Lord, because the messengers of king Sennacherib blasphemed thee, ẏ angel went foorth, and slew an hundred fourescore & fiue thousand of them: Esai 37.36. eccl.48.24. 2.mac.8.19.

42 Euen so, destroy thou this hoste before vs this day, that other people may know how ẏ he hath blasphemed thy sanctuarie, & punish him according to his maliciousnesse.

43 And so the hostes stroke the field the thirteenth day of the moneth ‖ Adar, and Nicanors hoste was discomfited, and he himselfe was first slaine in the battell. ‖ Februarie.

44 When Nicanors men of warre sawe that he was killed, they cast away their weapons, and fled:

45 But the Jewes followed vpon thē a whole dayes iourney, from Adazer vnto Gazara, blowing with the trumpets, and making tokens after them.

46 So the Jewes came foorth of all ẏ townes round about, and blew out their hornes vpon them, and turned against them: thus were they all slaine, and not one of them left.

47 Then tooke they their substance for a pray, and smote off Nicanors head, and his right hand, which hee held vp so proudly, and brought it with them, and hanged it vp afore Hierusalem.

48 Wherefore the people were exceedingly reioyced, and passed ouer that day in great gladnesse.

49 And Judas ordeined that the same day, [namely,] the thirteenth day of the moneth Adar, should be kept in mirth euery yeere.

50 Thus the land of Juda was in rest a litle while.

The viii. Chapter.

1 Iudas considering the power & goodly policie of the Romanes, maketh peace with them. 22 The rescript of the Romanes sent vnto the Iewes.

1 IUdas heard also the fame of the Romanes, that they were mighty and valiant men, and agreeable to all things that are required of them, and make peace with all men which come vnto them,

2 And how they were doughty men of stregth: besides that, it was told him of their battailes and noble actes which they did in ‖ Galatia, howe they had conquered them, and brought them vnder tribute,

‖ Or, France.

3 And what great things they had done in Spaine: howe that with their wisedome and sober behauiour they had wonne the mines of siluer and gold that are there,

4 And obteined all the lande, with other places farre from them: howe they had discomfited and slaine downe the kinges that came vpon them from ỹ vttermost part of the earth, and howe other people gaue them tribute euery yeere:

5 How they had slaine and ouercome Philip and Perses kings of ‖ Tethim, and other moe in battaile, which had brought their ordinance against them:

‖ Or, the Macedonians.

6 Howe they discomfited great Antiochus king of Asia, that woulde needes fight with them, hauing an hundred and twentie Elephants, with horsemen, charrets, and a very great host:

7 Howe they tooke him selfe aliue, and ordeined him, with such as shoulde reigne after him, to paye them a great tribute, yea and to finde them good sureties and pledges besides all this:

8 Howe they had taken from him India, Media, and Lydia, his best lands, and giuen them to king Eumenus.

9 Againe, how they perceiuing ỹ the Greekes were comming to vexe them,

10 Sent against them a captaine of an hoste, which gaue them battel, slewe many of them, led away their wiues and children captiue, spoiled them, tooke possession of their lande, and destroyed their strong holds, and subdued them to be their bondmen vnto this day.

11 Moreouer, howe ỹ as for other kingdomes and Iles, which sometime withstoode them, they destroyed them, and brought them vnder their dominion:

12 But kept amitie with their owne friendes, and those that were confederate with them, & conquered kingdomes both farre and nigh: and that whosoeuer heard of their renowme, was afraid of them.

13 For whom they would helpe to their kingdomes, those reigned: and whom it liked not them to reigne, they put them downe: and how they were come to great preeminence,

14 Hauing no king among them, neither any man clothed in purple, to be magnified therethrough:

15 But had ordeined them selues a ‖ parliament, wherein there sate three hundred and twentie Senatours daily vpon the counsell, to dispatch euer the businesse of the people, and to keepe good order:

‖ Or, a counsaile, or Senate house.

16 And how that euery yeere they chose a ‖ Maior, to haue the gouernance of all their land, to whom euery man was obedient, and there was neither euill will, nor dissention among them,

‖ Or, one man.

17 Then Judas chose Eupolemus the sonne of John, the sonne of ‖ Jacob, and Jason the sonne of Eleazar, & sent them to Rome, for to make friendship, and a bond of loue with them,

‖ Or, Acchus.

18 That they might take from them the bondage of the Greekes: for the Iewes saw that the Greekes would subdue the kingdome of Israel.

19 So they wẽt vnto Rome, a very great iourney, and came vnto the ‖ parliament, and sayd,

‖ Or, senate house.

20 Judas Machabeus, with his brethren, and the people of the Iewes, hath sent vs vnto you, to make a bond of friendship and peace with you, and ye to note vs as your louers and friends.

21 And that matter pleased the Romanes right well.

22 Wherefore it was written vp: of the which the Romanes made a writing in tables of brasse, and sent it to Hierusalem, that they might haue by them a memoriall of the same peace and bond of friendship after this maner:

23 God saue the Romanes and the people of the Iewes both by sea and by land, and keepe the sword and enemie from them for euermore:

24 If there come first any warre vpon the Romanes, or any of their friends throwout all their dominion, 25 The people of the Iewes shall helpe them, as the time requireth, and that with all their hearts.

26 Also they shall neither giue nor send vnto their enemies victuals, weapons, money, nor ships: but fulfill their couenants at the Romanes pleasure, taking nothing of them therefore.

27 Againe, if the people of the Iewes happen first to haue warre, the Romanes shal stand by them with a good will, according as the time will suffer.

28 Neither shall they giue vnto the Iewes enemies victuals, weapons, money, or ships: Thus are the Romanes content to doe, & shal fulfill their charge without any deceit.

29 According to these articles the Romanes made the bond with the Iewes.

30 Now after these articles [said they,] If any of the parties will put to them, or take any thing from them, they shal do it with the consent of both: and whatsoeuer they adde vnto them, or take from them, it shall stand fast.

31 And as touching the euill that Demetrius hath done vnto the Iewes, we haue written vnto him, saying, Wherefore layest thou thy heauie yoke vpon the Iewes our friends and louers?

32 If they make any complaint of thee againe vnto vs, we shall defend them, and fight with thee by sea and by land, according to iustice.

The ix. Chapter.

1 After the death of Nicanor, Demetrius sendeth his armie against Iudas. 18 Iudas is slaine.

1 IN the meane season, when Demetrius heard that Nicanor and his hoste was slaine in the field, he proceeded further to send Bacchides and Alcimus againe into Iurie, and the chiefe strength of his host with them.

2 So they went forth by the way that leadeth vnto Galgala, and pitched their tentes before Masaloth (which is in Arbellis) and wanne the citie, and slew much people.

3 In the first moneth of the hundred fiftie and two yeere, they brought their hoste, and laid their siege against Hierusalem:

4 But raising their campe, they came to Berea with twentie thousand footemen, & two thousand horsemen.

5 Now Iudas had pitched his tent at ‖ Laisa, with three thousand chosen men, ‖ Or, Eleasa.

6 And when they sawe the multitude of the other armie that it was so great, they were sore afraid, and many conueied themselues out of the hoste, in so much that there abode no moe of them but eight hundred men.

7 When Iudas saw that his hoste failed him, and that he must needes fight, it brake his heart, that he had no time to gather them together: wherefore the man was in extreme trouble.

8 Neuertheless, hee said vnto them that remained with him, Up, let vs goe against our enemies, peraduenture we shalbe able to fight with them.

9 But they would haue stopped him, saying, We shall not bee able: therefore now let vs saue our liues, and turne againe to our brethren, for should we fight against them, being so fewe?

10 And Iudas said, [a] God forbid that we should flee from them: wherefore if our time be come, let vs die manfully for our brethren, and let vs not staine our honour.

a Ye which was woont to play and ouercome, is ouercome whē he trusteth in his strength, and omitteth prayer.

11 Then the hoste remooued out of the tentes, and stood against them, and the horsmen were deuided in two partes: and sling casters and archers went before the host, & all the mighty men were foremost in the field.

12 Bacchides himselfe was in the right wing of the battell, and the hoste drew nigh in two partes, and blew the trumpets.

13 They of Iudas side blew the trumpets also, and the earth shooke at the noise of the hostes: and they strake a field from the morow till night.

14 And when Iudas saw that Bacchides host was strongest on the right side, he tooke with him all the hardie men, 15 And brake the right wing of their order, and followed vpon them vnto mount Azot.

16 Now when they which were the left wing, sawe that the right side was discomfited, they pursued Iudas and them that were with him hard at the heeles.

17 Then was there a sore battell: for many were slaine & wounded on both the partes.

18 Iudas also himselfe was killed, & the remnant fled.

19 So Ionathas & Simon tooke Iudas their brother, and buried him in his fathers sepulchre in the citie of Modin.

20 And all the people of Israel made great lamentation for him, and mourned long, saying, 21 Alas þ this worthy should be slaine, which deliuered the people of Israel.

22 As for other things pertaining to the batels of Iudas, the noble acts that he did, and of his worthines, they are not writtē, for they were very many.

23 Now after the death of Iudas, wicked men came vp in all the coastes of Israel, and there arose all such as did worke vngodlinesse. Iosephus cap. lib. 13. ant.

24 In those dayes was there a great dearth in the land, and all the countrey gaue ouer themselues and theirs vnto Bacchides.

25 So Bacchides chose wicked men, & made them lordes in the land.

26 These sought out and made search for Iudas friends, and brought them vnto Bacchides, which auenged himselfe vpon them with great despite.

27 And there came so great trouble in Israel, as was not since the time that no Prophet was seene there.

28 Then came all Iudas friends together, and said vnto Ionathas,

29 For so much as thy brother Iudas is dead, there is none like him to goe forth against our enemies, against Bacchides, and such as are aduersaries of our owne people:

30 Wherefore this day we chuse thee for him, to bee our prince and captaine, to order our battell.

31 And Ionathas tooke the gouernance vpon him at the same time, and ruled in stead of his brother Iudas.

32 When Bacchides gate knowledge thereof, he ſought for to ſlay him.

33 But Jonathas and Simon his brother perceiuing that, fled into the wilderneſſe of Thecua, with all their companie, & pitched their tents by the water poole of Aſphar.

34 Which when Bacchides vnderſtoode, hee came ouer Jordane with all his hoſte vpon the Sabboth day.

35 Now had Jonathas ſent his brother [John] a captaine of the people, to pray his friendes the Nabuthites, that they would lende them their ordinance, for they had much.

‖Or, Ambri. 36 So the children of ‖ Jambri came out of Madaba, and tooke John, and all that he had, and went their way withall when they had taken it.

37 Then came worde vnto Jonathas and Simon his brother, that the children of Jambri made a great marriage, and brought ỹ bride from Madaba with great pompe: for ſhee was daughter to one of the nobleſt princes of Chanaan.

38 Wherefore they remembred the blood of John their brother, and went vp, & hid themſelues vnder the ſhadow of the mountaine.

39 So they lift vp their eyes, and looked, and behold, there was much a doe, and great preparation: for the bridegrome came forth, and his friendes and his brethren met them with Tympanies, inſtruments of muſike, and many weapons.

40 Then Jonathas, and they that were with him, roſe out of their lurking places againſt them, and ſlewe many of them: and the remnant fled into the mountaines, and they tooke all their ſubſtance.

41 Thus the marriage was turned to mourning, and the noiſe of their melodie into lamentation.

a Blood doeth require blood. 42 And ſo when they had auenged the a blood of their brother, they returned againe vnto Jordane.

43 Bacchides hearing this, came vnto the very border of Jordane, with a great power, vpon the Sabboth day.

44 And Jonathas ſayde to his company, Let vs get vp, and fight againſt our enemies, for it ſtandeth not with vs to day, as in time paſt.

45 Behold, our enemies are in our way, the water of Jordane vpon the one ſide of vs, with bankes, fennes, and woods on the other ſide, ſo that there is no place for vs to depart vnto.

46 Wherefore cry nowe vnto heauen, that yee may be deliuered from the power of your enemies: So they ſtrooke the battaile.

47 And Jonathas ſtretched out his hande to ſmite Bacchides, but he fled backwarde.

48 Then Jonathas and they that were with him, lept into Jordane, and ſwimmed ouer Jordane vnto the further banke: but the other would not paſſe ouer Jordane after him.

49 And there were ſlaine of Bacchides ſide that day a thouſand men.

50 Therefore Bacchides with his hoſte turned againe to Hieruſalem, & built vp the caſtles and ſtrong holdes that were in Jurie, Jericho, Emaus, Bethoron, Bethel, Thamnata, ‖ Phara, and ‖ Thapo, with high walles, with portes, and with lockes: ‖Or, Pharathoni. ‖Or, Tepho.

51 And ſet men to keepe them, that they might vſe their malice vpon Iſrael.

52 Hee walled vp the citie Bethſura, Gazara, and the caſtle, and prouided them with men and victuals.

53 Hee tooke alſo the chiefeſt mens ſonnes in the countrey for pledges, and put them in the caſtle at Hieruſalem to be kept.

54 Afterwarde, in the hundred fiftie and three yeere, in the ſeconde moneth, Alcimus commaunded that they ſhould deſtroy the walles of the inward court of the ſanctuarie, and hee pulled downe, and began to deſtroy the monuments of the Prophets.

55 But at the ſame time Alcimus was plagued, and ſmitten with a palſie, and his enterpriſes were hindered, and his mouth was ſtopped [by God,] ſo that hee couldo no more ſpeake, nor commaund any of his houſe concerning his buſineſſe.

56 Thus died Alcimus in great miſery at the ſame time.

57 And when Bacchides ſawe that Alcimus was dead, hee turned againe to the king: and ſo the land was in reſt two yeeres.

58 Then all the vngodly men helde a counſell, ſaying, Beholde, Jonathas and his companie are at eaſe, and dwel without care, wherefore let vs bring Bacchides hither, and hee ſhall take them all in one night.

59 So they went, and gaue Bacchides this counſell:

60 Which arose to come with a great hoſt, and ſent letters priuily to his adherents which were in Jurie, to take Jonathas and thoſe that were with him: but they might not, for the other had gotten knowledge of their deuice.

61 And Jonathas tooke fiftie men of the countrey, which were the ringleaders of them, and ſlewe them.

62 Then Jonathas and Simon, with their company, departed vnto the citie ‖ Bethbaſin, which lieth in the wilderneſſe, and repaired the decay thereof, and made it ſtrong. ‖Or, Bethbeſſen.

63 When Bacchides knewe this, he gathered all his hoſt, and ſent word to them that were in Jurie.

64 Then came he and laid ſiege to Bethbaſin, and fought againſt it a long ſeaſon, and made inſtruments of warre.

65 Now Jonathas left his brother Simon in the citie, and went foorth himselfe into the countrey, and came with a certaine number,

‖Or, Odared. 66 And slew ‖Odomeras and his brethren, and the children of Phaseron in their tentes, so that he began to be strong, and to increase in power.

67 As for Simon and his company they went out of the citie, and burnt vp the instruments of warre, 68 And fought against Bacchides, and discomfited him: and Bacchides was sore vexed, because his counsell and trauel was in vaine.

69 Wherefore he was wroth at the wicked men a Wicked counsell falleth on the counsellers. a that gaue him counsell to come into their land, and slew many of them: then purposed he with his company to goe away into his owne countrey.

70 Whereof when Jonathas had knowledge, he sent ambassadours vnto him, for to make peace with him, and that hee should deliuer him his prisoners againe.

71 To the which Bacchides consented gladly, & did according to his desire: yea, & made an othe that he should neuer doe him harme all the dayes of his life.

72 So hee restored vnto him all the prisoners that he had taken out of the land of Juda, and then turned and went his way into his owne land, neither proceeded he any further to come vnto the borders of Juda.

73 Thus Israel had no more warre, and Jonathas dwelt at Machmas, and began there to gouerne the people, and destroyed the vngodly men out of Israel.

The x. Chapter.

4 Demetrius desireth to haue peace with Ionathas. 48 Alexander mooueth warre against Demetrius. 50 Demetrius is slaine. 51 The friendship of Ptolomeus & Alexander.

1 IN the hundred and threescore yeere, came Alexander the sonne of ‖noble Antiochus, and tooke Ptolomais, whose citizens receiued him, and there he reigned.

‖Or, Epiphanes.

2 When Demetrius heard thereof, he gathered an exceeding great hoste, and went foorth against him to fight.

3 Wherefore Demetrius sent letters vnto Jonathas, with louing wordes, and praysed him greatly:

4 For he said, We will first make peace with him, before he binde himselfe with Alexander against vs:

5 Els he shal remember the euil that we haue done against him, his brother, and his people.

6 And so hee gaue Jonathas leaue to gather an hoste, to make weapons, and to be confederate with him, and commanded the pledges that were in the castle to bee deliuered vnto him.

7 Then came Jonathas to Hierusalem, and read the letters in the audience of all the people, and of them that were in the castle.

8 And therefore were they sore afraid, because they heard that the king had giuē him licence to gather an hoste.

9 Thus were the pledges deliuered vnto Jonathas, which restored them to their parents.

10 Jonathas also dwelt at Hierusalem, and began to build vp, and to repaire the citie:

11 Commaunding the workemen to wall it, and the mount Sion round about with free stone, to be a strong hold: and so they did.

12 As for the heathen that were in the castles which Bacchides had made vp, they fled:

13 So that euery man left the place, and went into his owne countrey.

14 Onely at Bethsura remained certaine of the Jewes, which had forsaken the lawe and commandements of God, for Bethsura was their refuge.

15 Now when king Alexander heard of ỳ promises that Demetrius had made vnto Jonathas, and when it was told him of the battails and noble acts which he and his brethren had done, and of the great trauels that they had taken,

16 He said, Where shall we finde such a man? well, we will make him our friend, & be confederate with him.

17 Upon this he wrote a letter vnto him, with these wordes:

18 King Alexander saluteth his brother Jonathas,

19 We haue heard of thee, that thou art a valiant man, and meete to be our friend:

20 Wherefore this day we ordeine thee to bee the high priest of thy people, and to bee called the kings friend, (vpon this hee sent him a purple clothing, and a crowne of gold) that thou mayest consider what is for our profite, and keepe friendship toward vs.

21 So in the seuenth moneth of the hundred & threescore yeere, vpon the solemne feast day of the tabernacles, Jonathas put the holy raiment vpon him: then gathered hee an hoste, and prepared many weapons.

22 Which when Demetrius heard, hee was maruailous sory,

23 And said, Alas, what haue wee done, that Alexander hath preuented vs, in getting the friendship of the Jewes for his owne defence?

24 Yet will I write louingly vnto them also, and promise them dignities and rewards, that they may be of my side.

25 Whereupon hee wrote vnto them these wordes, King Demetrius sendeth greeting vnto the people of the Jewes:

26 Whereas ye haue kept your couenant toward ward vs, and continued in our friendship, not inclining to our enemies, we were glad whē we heard thereof.

27 Wherefore remaine still, and be faithfull to vs, and we shall well recompense you for the things that ye haue done on our part:

28 We shall release you of many charges, and giue you rewards.

29 And now I discharge you & all the Iewes from tributes, I forgiue you the customes of salt, and release you of the crowne taxes, of the third part of seede,

30 And halfe the fruit of trees, which is mine owne duetie, I do release them from this day forth, so that they shal not be taken of ꝑ land of Iuda, nor of the three cities which are added thereunto out of Samaria and Galilee, from this day forth for euermore.

31 Hierusalem also, with all things belonging thereto, shall be holy and free, yea, the tithes & tributes shall pertaine vnto it.

32 As for the power of the castle which is at Hierusalem, I remit and giue it vnto ꝑ high priest, that he may set in it such men as he shal chuse to keepe it.

33 I freely deliuer all the Iewes that are prisoners throughout all my realme, so that euery one of them shall be free from paying any tribute, yea, euen of their cattell.

34 All the solemne feastes, Sabboths, newe moones, the dates appointed, the three dayes before and after the feast, shall be free for all the Iewes in my realme.

35 So that in them no man shall haue power to do any thing, or to vexe any of them in any maner of cause.

36 There shall thirtie thousand also of ꝑ Iewes bee written vp in the kings hoste, and haue their wages paid, as all other men of warre of the kings should haue: and of them shalbe stablished certaine to keepe the kings strong holdes, 37 Yea, and some of them shall be set ouer the kings secret affaires: & their gouernours & princes shall be of themselues, and liue after their owne lawes, as the king hath commanded in the land of Iuda.

38 And the three cities that are fallen vnto Iurie from the countrey of Samaria, shalbe taken as Iurie, and be vnder one, neither bee subiect to any strange power, but to the high priest.

39 As for Ptolomais and the land pertaining thereto, I giue it vnto the sanctuarie at Hierusalem, for the necessarie expenses of the holy things.

40 Moreouer, I will giue euery yeere fifteene thousand sicles of siluer of ꝑ kings reuenues, out of the places appertaining vnto me.

41 And all the ouerplus which they haue not paid for things due, as they did in the former yeeres, from henceforth they shall giue it towards the workes of the temple.

42 And besides this, the fiue thousand sicles of siluer which they receiued yeerely of the accompt appointed for the intertainment of the sanctuarie these yeeres passed, euen these things shall be released, because they appertaine to the priests that minister.

43 Item, whosoeuer they be that flee vnto the temple at Hierusalem, or within the liberties thereof, whereas they are fallen into ꝑ kings danger for any manner of businesse, they shall be pardoned, and all the goods that they haue in my realme shalbe free.

44 For the building also and repairing of the workes of the sanctuarie, expenses shall be giuen out of the kings reuenues.

45 Yea, & for the making of the walles round about Hierusalem, for the breaking downe of the olde, and for the setting vp of the strong holds in Iurie, shall the costs and charges be giuen out of the kings reuenues.

46 But when Ionathas and the people heard these words, they gaue no credence vnto thē, neither receiued them: for they remembred the great wickednes that hee had done vnto Israel, and how sore he had vexed them.

47 Wherefore they agreed vnto Alexander, for he was a prince that had bene friendly with them, and so they stood by him alway.

48 Then gathered king Alexander a great hoste, and brought his armie against Demetrius. Ioseph. cap. 6. lib. 13.

49 So the two kings strooke battel together, but Demetrius hoste fled, and Alexander followed after, and fell vpon them.

50 A mightie sore field was it, continuing till the sunne went downe: and Demetrius was slaine the same day.

51 And Alexander sent Ambassadours vnto Ptolome the king of Egypt, in these words, saying,

52 Forsomuch as I am come againe to my realme, and am set in the throne of my progenitors, & haue gotten the dominion, ouercommed Demetrius,

53 Conquered our land, and stucken a field with him, so that we haue discomfited both him and his hoste, and sit in the throne of his kingdome:

54 Let vs now make friendship together: giue me thy daughter to wife, so shal I be thy sonne in law, and both giue thee rewards and her, according to thy dignitie.

55 Ptolome the king gaue answere, saying, Happy be the day wherein thou art come again to the land of thy progenitours, and set in the throne of their kingdome:

56 And now will I fulfill thy writing: but meete me at Ptolomais, that we may see one another, and that I may marry my daughter vnto thee, according to thy desire.

57 So Ptolome went out of Egypt with his daughter Cleopatra, and came vnto Ptolomais in the hundred three score & two yeere, 58 Where king Alexander met him: and hee gaue Alexander his daughter Cleopatra, and married them at Ptolemais with great worship, like as the manner of kings is to be.

59 Then wrote king Alexander vnto Jonathas, that he should come and meete him.

60 So hee went honourably vnto Ptolemais, and there he met the two kings, & gaue them and their friends great presents of golde and siluer, and found fauour in their sight.

61 And there came together against Jonathas certaine wicked mē and vngratious persons of Israel, making complaints of him: but the king regarded them not.

62 As for Jonathas, the king commanded to take off his garments, and to cloathe him in purple: and so they did. Then the king appointed him to sit by him, 63 And saide vnto his princes, Goe with him into the middest of the citie, and make a proclamation, that no man complaine against him of any matter, and that no man trouble him for any maner of cause.

64 So it happened, that when his accusers saw the worship which was proclaimed of him, and that he was clothed in purple, they fled euery one.

65 And the king made much of him, wrote him among his chiefe friendes, made him a duke, and partaker of his dominion.

Ioseph. cap. 6. lib. 13. ant.

66 Thus Jonathas went againe to Hierusalem with peace and gladnesse.

67 In the hundred, threescore and fifth yeere, came Demetrius the sonne of Demetrius, from Creta, into his fathers lande:

68 Whereof when Alexander heard tell, he was sore sorry, and returned vnto Antioch.

69 And Demetrius chose Apollonius, which had the gouernance of Celosyria, to be his captaine, so he gathered a great host, & came vnto Jamnia, and sent worde vnto Jonathas the high priest, saying, 70 Darest thou withstande vs thy selfe alone? As for me, I am but laughed to scorne and shame, because thou vnderstaunt thy strength against vs in the mountaines.

71 Now therefore if thou trustest in thine owne strength, come downe to vs into the plaine field, and there let vs try the matter together, for thou shalt know that I haue the strength of many cities.

72 And aske knowe who I am, and the other that stande by mee, which say, That your foote is not able to stande before our face, for thy fathers haue twice chased in their owne lande.

73 And nowe howe wilt thou be able to abide so great an host of horsemen and footemen in the fielde, whereas is neither rocke, stone, nor place to flee vnto?

74 When Jonathas heard the words of Apollonius, hee was moued in his minde, wherefore he chose ten thousand men, and went out of Hierusalem: and Simon his brother met him, for to helpe him.

75 And they pitched their tents at Joppa: but the citie kept him forth, for Apollonius garison was in Joppa.

76 Then Jonathas laide siege to it, & they that were in the citie, for very feare let him in: and so Jonathas wan Joppa.

77 Apollonius hearing of this, take three thousande horsemen, with a great hoste on foote, and went to Azotus, as though he would goe further, and came immediatly into the plaine fielde, because he had so many horsemen, and put his trust in them.

78 So Jonathas followed vpon him to Azotus, and the armie skirmished with his rereward, and there they smoote the battaile.

79 Now had Apollonius left a thousand horsemen behinde them priuily in the tents.

80 And when Jonathas knew that such waite was laide behinde them, they went rounde about the enemies host, and shot dartes at the people, from the morning to the euening.

81 As for Jonathas people, they kept their order as hee had commanded them, and the enemies horses were weary.

82 Then brought Simon forth his host, and set them against the footemen (for the horsemen were weary already) and so he discomfited them, and they fled.

83 And they that were scattered in the fielde, gat them to Azotus, and came into the temple of Dagon their idol, that they might there saue their liues.

84 But Jonathas set fire vpon Azotus, and all the cities round about it, & tooke their goods, and burnt vp the temple of Dagon, with all them that were fled vnto it.

85 Thus were slaine & burnt well nigh eight thousand men.

86 So Jonathas remoued the host frō thence, and brought them to Ascalon, where the men of the citie came forth, & met him with great worship.

87 After this went Jonathas and his host againe to Hierusalem, with great substance of goods.

88 And when king Alexander heard these things, hee thought to doe Jonathas more worship:

89 And sent him a coller of golde, as the vse is to be giuen vnto such as are of the kings next blood: he gaue him also the citie of Accaron, with the landes belonging thereto in possession.

The

The xi. Chapter.

3 The diffention betweene Ptolomeus and Alexander his sonne in lawe. 17 The death of Alexander.

Iosephus cap. 7. lib. 13.

1 AND the king of Egypt gathered an hoste like the sand that lyeth vpon the sea shore, and many shippes, and went about through deceite to obteine the kingdome of Alexander, and to ioyne it vnto his owne realme.

2 Vpon this he tooke his iourney into Syria, vsing gentle wordes, so that he was letten into the cities, and men came forth to meete him: for king Alexander had commanded them so to doe, because he was his father in lawe.

3 Now when Ptolome entred into any citie, he left men of warre to keepe it: & this he did throughout all the cities.

4 And when he came to Azotus, they shewed him the temple of Dagon, and Azotus & was burnt vp, with the other things which were destroyed, the dead bodies cast abroade, & the graues that they had made by the wayes side for such as were slaine in the fielde.

5 And tolde the king that Jonathas had done all these things, to the intent they might get him euill will, but the king said not one word thereto.

6 And Jonathas met the king with great honour at Joppa, where they saluted one another, and tooke their rest.

7 So when Jonathas had gone with the king vnto the water that was called Eleutherus, he turned againe to Hierusalem.

8 Now Ptolome had gotten the dominion of the cities vnto Seleucia vpō the sea coast, imagining wicked counsels against Alexander, 9 And sent ambassadours vnto Demetrius, saying, Come, let vs make a bond betwixt vs, so shall I giue thee my daughter that Alexander hath, and thou shalt reigne in thy fathers kingdome.

10 I repent that I gaue Alexander my daughter, for he goeth about to slay me.

11 And thus he slandered Alexander, because he would haue had his realme.

12 Thus hee tooke his daughter from him, gaue her vnto Demetrius, and forsooke Alexander, so that his malice was openly knowen.

13 And Ptolome came to Antioch, where he set two crownes vpon his owne head, the crowne of Egypt, and of Asia.

14 In the meane season was king Alexander in Cilicia: for they that dwelt in those places had rebelled against him.

15 But when Alexander heard of this, he came to warre against him: so King Ptolome brought forth his hoste, and met him with a mightie power, and chased him away.

16 Then fled Alexander into Arabia, there to be defended: and king Ptolomeus honour increased.

17 And Zabdiel the Arabian smote off Alexanders head, and sent it vnto Ptolome.

18 But the third day after died King Ptolome himselfe, and they whom hee had set in the strong holdes, were slaine one of another.

19 And Demetrius reigned in the hundred threescore and seuenth yeere.

20 At the same time gathered Jonathas them that were in Jurie, to lay siege vnto the castle which was at Hierusalem, and so they made many instruments of warre against it.

21 Then went there certaine vngodly persons, which hated their owne people, vnto king Demetrius, and tolde him that Jonathas besieged the castle.

22 So when he hearde it, he was angry, and immediately came vnto Ptolomais, & wrote vnto Jonathas, that he should not lay siege to the castle, but come and speake with him at Ptolomais in all haste.

23 Neuertheless, when Jonathas heard this, he commanded to besiege it: he chose also certaine of the elders and priestes of Israel, and put himselfe in perill, 24 And tooke with him golde, siluer, clothing, and diuers presentes, and went to Ptolomais vnto the king, and founde him gracious.

25 And though certaine vngodly men of his owne people made complaints vpon him,

26 Yet the king intreated him like as his predecessours had done before, and promoted him in the sight of all his friendes,

27 Confirmed him in the high priesthood, with all the worship that he had afore, and made him his chiefe friend.

28 Jonathas also desired ỳ king that he would make Jurie free, with the three head cities of Samaria, and the landes perteining thereto: vpon this did Jonathas promise him three hundred talentes.

29 Wherevnto the king consented, and gaue Jonathas writing of the same, conteining these wordes, 30 King Demetrius sendeth greeting vnto his brother Jonathas, and to the people of the Jewes.

31 We sende you heere a copie of the letter which we did write vnto our cousin Lasthenus concerning you, that ye should know it.

32 King Demetrius sendeth greeting vnto Lasthenus his father.

33 For the faithfulnesse that our friendes the people of the Jewes keepe vnto vs, and for the louing kindnesse which they beare towarde vs, we are determined to doe them good.

34 Where-

34 Wherefore we assigne vnto the coastes of Iudea the three gouernmentes, Aphærema, Lydda, and Ramatha, which are added vnto Iurie from Samaria, and all the landes pertaining thereunto, to be freely kept ready for such as doe sacrifice in Hierusalem, both concerning the payments which the king tooke yerely aforetime, and the fruite also of the earth and trees:

35 As for other tythes and tributes that belonged vnto vs, we discharge them thereof from this time forth.

36 Neither mynde we to take them all the customes of salt, & crowne rates, which were brought vnto vs: and this freedome shall they haue from this time forth for euermore.

37 Therefore see that ye make a copie of these our letters, and deliuer it vnto Ionathas, that it may be set vpon the holy mount in a conuenient place.

38 After this, when Demetrius the king sawe that his lande was in rest, & that no resistance was made against him, he sent away all his hoste, euery man to his owne place, except certaine bandes of strangers, which he brought from the Iles of the heathen: wherefore all his fathers hoste hated him.

39 Now was there one Tryphon, that had been of Alexanders part afore, which when he sawe that all the hoste murmured against Demetrius, he went to Simalcue the Arabian, that brought vp Antiochus the sonne of Alexander, 40 And lay fore vpon him to deliuer him this young Antiochus, that he might reigne in his fathers steade: he told him also what griefe vnto Demetrius had done, and how his men of warre loued him not: and so remained there a long season.

41 Then Ionathas sent vnto king Demetrius, to driue them out which were in the castle at Hierusalem, and those that were in the fortresses, for they did Israel great harme.

42 So Demetrius sent word vnto Ionathas, saying, I will not onely doe these things for thee and thy people: but at time conuenient, I will doe both thee and thy people great worship.

43 Howbeit thou shalt doe me a pleasure, if thou wilt send me men to helpe me: for all my armie is gone from me.

44 So Ionathas sent him three thousande strong men vnto Antioch, and they came vnto the king, wherefore the king was very glad at their comming.

45 But they that were of the citie, euen an hundred and twentie thousande men, gathered themselues together in the middest of the citie, and would haue slaine the king:

46 Which fled into his court, and the citizens kept the streetes of the citie, and began to fight.

47 Then the king called for the Iewes helpe, which came vnto him all together, and went abroade thorow the citie, 48 And slue the same day an hundred thousand men, set fire vpon the citie, and gate many spoyles in that day, and deliuered the king.

49 So when the citizens sawe that the Iewes had gotten their will of the citie, and they themselues disappointed of their purpose, they made their supplication vnto the king, saying,

50 Graunt vs peace, and let the Iewes ceasse from troubling vs and the citie.

51 And vpon this they cast away their weapons: thus they made peace, and the Iewes gate great worship in the sight of the king, and in the sight of all that were in his realme, and were spoken of throughout the kingdome: and so they came againe to Hierusalem with great goods.

52 So the king Demetrius sate in the throne of his kingdome, and had peace in his land.

53 Neuertheless, he dissembled in all that euer he spake, and withdrewe himselfe from Ionathas, neither rewarded him according to the benefites which he had done for him, but troubled him very sore.

54 After this came Tryphon againe with yong Antiochus, which reigned, and was crowned king.

55 Then there gathered vnto him all the men of warre, whom Demetrius had put away: these fought against Demetrius, which fled, and turned his backe.

56 So Tryphon tooke the Elephantes, and wanne Antioche.

57 And young Antiochus wrote vnto Ionathas, saying, I confirme thee in thy priesthood, and make thee ruler of foure countreyes, that thou mayest be a friende of the kings.

58 Vpon this he sent him golden vessels to be serued in, & gaue him leaue to drinke in gold, to be clothed in purple, and to weare a coller of golde.

59 He made his brother Simon also captaine from the coastes of Tyrus, vnto the borders of Egypte.

60 Then Ionathas tooke his iourney, & went through the cities beyond the water of Iordane, and all the men of warre of Syria gathered them vnto him for to helpe him: so he came vnto Ascalon, and they of the citie receiued him honourably.

61 And from thence went he to Gaza, but they would not let him in: wherefore he laide siege vnto it, burning vp and spoyling the places that were about the citie.

62 And the citizens of Gaza submitted themselues selues vnto Jonathas, which made peace with thē: but tooke of their sonnes to pledge, sent them to Hierusalem, and went thorowe the countrey vnto Damascus.

63 Now when Jonathas heard that Demetrius princes were come into Cades, which is in Galilee, with a great hoste, purposing to driue him out of the countrey, 64 He came against them, and left Simon his brother in the land.

65 And Simon came to Bethsura, & laid siege to it a long season, and discomfited them.

66 So they desired to haue peace with him: which he graunted them, and afterwarde put them out from thence, tooke the citie, and set men to keepe it.

67 And Jonathas with his hoste came to the water of Genesar, & betimes in the morning gate them to the plaine fielde of Azor:

68 And beholde, the hostes of the heathen met them in the fielde, and laide watch for them in the mountaines,

69 So that whē Jonathas came against them, the other which were laide to watch, rose out of their places, and fought,

70 And they that were of Jonathas side fled euery man, and there was not one of them left, except Mathathias the sonne of Absalomus, and Judas the sonne of Calphi the captaine of the hoste.

71 Then Jonathas rent his clothes, laid earth vpon his head, [a] made his prayer, a Beholde the effect of prayer.

72 And turned againe to them in the fielde, where they fought together, & he put them to flight.

73 Nowe when his owne men that were fled, sawe this, they turned againe vnto him, and helped him to followe vpon all their enemies vnto their tentes at Cades, and there they camped.

74 So there were slaine of the heathen ỳ same day three thousand men: and Jonathas turned againe to Hierusalem.

The xii. Chapter.

1 Ionathas sendeth ambassadours to Rome, 2 and to the people of Sparta, to renue their couenāt of friendship. 20 Ionathas putteth to flight the princes of Demetrius, 40 Tryphon taketh Ionathas by deceite.

1 IOnathas seeing that the time was meete for him, chose certaine men, and sent them to Rome, for to stablish and to renue the friendship with them:

2 He sent letters also vnto Sparta, and to other places in like maner.

3 So they went vnto Rome, and entred into the ‖ counsell, and said, Jonathas the high priest, and the people of the Jewes, sent vs vnto you, for to renue the olde friendship and bond of loue.

‖ Or, senate.

4 Upon this the Romanes gaue them free passortes, that men shoulde leade them home into the land of Juda peaceably.

5 And this is the copie of the letters that Jonathas wrote vnto the Spartians,

6 Jonathas the high Priest, with the elders, priestes, and the other people of the Jewes, send greeting vnto the Spartians their brethren.

7 There were letters sent long agoe vnto Onias the high priest, from ‖ Arius which reigned then among you, that ye are our brethren, as the copie here vnder witten doeth specifie.

‖ Or, Darius.

8 And Onias entreated the Ambassadour that was sent, honourably, and receiued ỳ letters, wherein there was mention made of the bond of loue and friendship.

9 But as for vs, we neede no such writings, for why? we haue the holy bookes of scripture in our handes to our comfort.

10 Neuertheless we had rather sende vnto you for the renuing of the brotherhood and friendship, least we shoulde be straunge vnto you: for it is long since the time that ye sent word vnto vs.

11 Wherefore in the sacrifices that we offer, and other ceremonies vpon the high solemne dayes, & other, we alway remember you without ceassing, like as reason is, and as it becommeth vs to thinke vpon our brethren, 12 Yea, and are right glad of your prosperous honour.

13 And though we haue had great troubles and warres, so that the kings about vs haue fought against vs:

14 Yet woulde we not be grieuous vnto you, nor to other of our louers and friends in these warres.

15 For we had helpe from heauen that hath succoured vs, so that we are deliuered, and our enemies subdued.

16 Wherefore we chose Numenius the sonne of Antiochus, and Antipater the sonne of Jason, and sent them vnto the Romanes for to renue the old ‖ bond of friendship and loue with them.

‖ Or, league.

17 We commanded them also to come vnto you, to salute you, and to deliuer you our letters concerning the renouation of our brotherhood.

18 And now ye shall doe right well to giue vs an answere thereunto.

19 And this is the copie of the writing which Arius the king of Sparta sent vnto Onias.

20 Arius the king of the Spartians, sendeth greeting vnto Onias the high priest:

21 It is found in writing, that the Spartians and Jewes are brethren, and come out of the generation of Abraham:

22 And now, for so much as this is come to our knowledge, ye shall doe wel to write vnto vs of your prosperitie.

23 As for vs, we haue written our minde vnto you, our cattell and goods are yours, & yours ours: these things haue we commanded to be shewed vnto you.

24 When Jonathas heard that Demetrius princes were come forth to fight against him with a greater hoste then afore, 25 He went from Hierusalem, and met them in the land of Hemath: for he gaue them not space to come into his owne countrey.

26 And he sent spies vnto their tentes, which came againe and tolde him that they were appointed to come vpon him in the night season.

27 Wherefore when the Sunne was gone downe, Jonathas commanded his men to watch all the night, and to be ready with weapons for to fight, and set watchmen round about the hoste.

28 But when the aduersaries heard that Jonathas was ready with his men to the battaile, they feared, and were afraide in their heartes, and kindled fires in their tentes, brake vp, and gate them away.

29 Neuertheless, Jonathas and his company knewe it not till the morning, for they sawe the fires burning.

30 Then Jonathas followed vpon them, but he might not ouertake them, for they were gone ouer the water Eleutherus.

31 So Jonathas departed vnto the Arabians, which were called Zabadei, slue them, and tooke their goods.

32 He proceeded further also, and came vnto Damascus, and went thorowe all the countrey.

33 But Simon his brother tooke his iourney, and came to Ascalon, and to the next strong holdes, departing vnto Joppa, and wan it, 34 (For he hearde that they would deliuer the holde to them that tooke Demetrius part,) wherefore he set men of warre in the citie to keepe it.

35 After this came Jonathas home againe, and called the elders of the people together, and deuised with them for to builde vp the strong holdes in Jurie, 36 And to make the walles of Hierusalē higher, to set vp an high wall betwixt the castle and the citie, for to separate it from the citie, that it might be alone, and that men shoulde neither buy nor sell in it.

37 Vpon this they came together for to builde vp the citie, and for so much as the wall vpon the brooke of the East side, called Caphetetath, was fallen downe, they repaired it.

38 And Simon set vp Adiada in Sephela, and made it strong, setting portes and lockes vpon it.

39 Nowe when Tryphon purposed to reigne in Asia, to be crowned, and to slay the king Antiochus:

40 He was afraide that Jonathas would not suffer him, but fight against him, wherefore he went about to take Jonathas, and to kill him: so he departed, and came vnto Bethsan.

41 Then went Jonathas forth against him to the battaile, with fourtie thousande chosen men, and came vnto Bethsan also:

42 But when Tryphon sawe that Jonathas came with so great an hoste to destroy him, he was afraide:

43 And therefore he receiued him honourably, commended him vnto all his friendes, and gaue him rewards, and commanded his men of warre to be as obedient vnto him, as to himselfe:

44 And saide vnto Jonathas, Why hast thou caused this people to take such trauaile, seeing there is no warre betwixt vs?

45 Therefore sende them home againe, and choose certaine men to waite vpon thee, and come thou with mee to Ptolomais, for I wil giue it thee, with the other strong holdes, men of warre, and their officers, as for me, I must depart, this is onely the cause of my comming.

46 Jonathas beleeued him, and did as he saide, putting away his hoste, which went into the land of Juda.

47 He kept but three thousand by him, whereof he sent two thousand into Galilee, and one thousand went with himselfe.

48 Nowe as soone as Jonathas entred into Ptolomais, the citizens sparred the gates of the citie, and tooke him, and slue all them with the sworde that came in with him.

49 Then sent Tryphon an hoste of footemen and horsemen into Galilee, and into the great plaine fielde, to destroy all Jonathas company:

50 But when they knewe that Jonathas was taken, and all they slaine that waited vpon him, they tooke counsell together, and encouraged one another, and came forth against them ready to fight.

51 So when they which followed vpon them, sawe that it was a matter of life, they turned backe againe.

52 As for the other, they went into the land of Juda peaceably, and bewayled Jonathas and them that were with him right sore: and Israel made great lamentation.

53 Then all the heathen that were round about them, sought to destroy them.

54 For they said, Now haue they no captaine, nor any man to helpe them, therefore let vs ouercome them, and roote out their name from among them.

The xiii. Chapter.

1 After Ionathas was taken, Simon is chosen captaine.

17 Of whom Tryphon taking his children and money for the redemption of Ionathas, killeth him and his children.

1 NOwe when Simon heard that Tryphon gathered a great hoste to come into the lande of Juda, and to destroy it,

2 And saw that the people was in great featefulnesse and care: he came vp to Hierusalem, and gathered the people together,

3 And gaue them exhortation, saying, Ye knowe what great battailes I and my brethren, and my fathers house haue fought for the law and the sanctuarie, and what maner of troubles we haue seene.

4 Through occasion whereof, all my brethren are slaine for Israels sake, and I am left alone.

5 And nowe let me not spare mine owne life in any maner of trouble, for I am no better then my brethren:

6 But will auenge my people and the sanctuarie, our children and our wiues: for all the heathen are gathered together to destroy vs of very malice.

7 At these wordes the heartes of the people were kindled together,

8 So that they cryed with a loude voyce, saying, Thou shalt be our captaine in steade of Judas and Jonathas thy brethren:

9 Order thou our battaile, & whatsoeuer thou commandest vs, we shall doe it.

10 So he gathered all the men of warre, making haste to finish all the walles of Hierusalem, which he made strong round about.

11 Then sent he Jonathas the sonne of Absolomus, with a fresh hoste vnto Joppa, which droue them out that were in the castle, and remained there himselfe.

12 Tryphon also remooued from Ptolomais with a great armie, to come into the lande of Juda, and Jonathas with him in ward.

13 And Simon pitched his tentes at ‖ Addus, before the plaine fielde.

‖ Or, Addidis.

14 But when Tryphon knewe that Simon stoode vp in steade of his brother Jonathas, and that he would warre against him, he sent messengers vnto him, saying,

15 Whereas we haue kept Jonathas thy brother, it is for money that he is owing in the kings account, concerning the businesse that he had in hand.

16 Wherefore, send nowe an hundred talentes of siluer, and his two sonnes for suretie (that whē he is letten forth, he shall not forsake vs) and we shall send him againe.

17 Neuertheless, Simon knewe that he dissembled in his wordes: yet commanded he the money and children to be deliuered vnto him, least the Israelites might haue hated him, 18 And saide, Because he sent him not the money and the children, therefore is Jonathas dead.

19 So Simon sent him the children, and an hundred talents, but he dissembled, and would not let Jonathas goe.

20 Afterwarde came Tryphon into the lande to destroy it, and went rounde about by the way that leadeth vnto Ador: but whersoeuer they went, thither went Simon and his hoste also.

21 Now they that were in the castle, sent messengers vnto Tryphon, that he should make haste to come by the wildernesse, and to sende them victuals.

22 And Tryphon made ready all his horsemen to come the same night: neuertheless, it was a very great snowe, so that he came not because of the snowe, but he remooued & went into the countrey of Galaad.

23 And when he drue nigh Bascama, he slue Jonathas and his sonnes there, 24 And then turned for to goe home into his owne land.

25 Then sent Simon for to fetch his brothers dead coarse, and buried it in Modin his fathers citie.

26 So all Israel bewailed him with great lamentation, and mourned for him very long.

27 And Simon made vpon the sepulchre of his father, and his brethren, a building, high to looke vnto, of free stone, behind and before,

28 And set vp seuen pillars vpon it, one against another, for his father, his mother, and foure brethren, 29 And set great pillars rounde about them, with armes vpon them, for a perpetuall memorie, and carued shippes beside the armes, that they might be seene of men sailing in the sea.

30 This sepulchre which he made at Modin, standeth yet vnto this day.

31 Nowe as Tryphon went forth to walke with the young king Antiochus, he slue him traiterously, Iosephus ca. 20. lib. 13.

32 And reigned in his steade, crowned himselfe King of Asia, and did much euill in the land.

33 Simon also built vp the castles in Jurie, making them strong, with high towres, great walles, portes, and lockes, and laide vp victuals in the strong holdes.

34 And Simon chose certaine men, and sent them to king Demetrius, to desire him that he woulde discharge the lande from all bondage, for Tryphon had spoyled it very sore.

35 Whereupon Demetrius the king answered him, and wrote vnto him after this maner,

36 Demetrius the king sendeth greeting vnto Simon the high priest his friend, with the elders elders and people of the Iewes:

37 The golden crowne and pretious stone that ye sent vnto vs, haue we receiued, and are readie to make a stedfast peace with you, yea, and to write vnto our officers for to release you concerning the things wherein we haue you free.

38 And the appointment that we make with you, shalbe firme & stable: the strong holdes which ye haue builded, shalbe your owne.

39 As for any ouersight or fault committed vnto this day, we forgiue it, and the crowne tare that ye ought vs also: and whereas was any other tribute in Hierusalem, it shall now be no tribute:

40 And looke who are meete among you to be in our court, let him be written vp, that there may be peace betwixt vs.

41 Thus the yoke of the heathen was taken from Israel, in the hundred and seuentieth yeere.

42 And the people of the Iewes began to write in their letters and actes on this maner, In the first yeere of Simon the high priest, a gouernour and prince of the Iewes.

43 In those dayes went Simon vnto Gaza, and besieged it round about, where he set vp ordinance of warre, and wan a towre, which he tooke.

44 Sathey that gate into the towre, leapt into the citie, which was in a great feare:

45 In so much that the people of the citie rent their clothes, and climed vp vpon the walles, with their wiues and children, beseeching Simon to be at one with them, saying,

46 Dewarde vs not after our wickednesse, but be gratious vnto vs, [and we shall doe thee seruice.]

47 Then Simon for very pitie woulde fight no more against them, but put them out of the citie, and caused the houses, wherein the images were, to be cleansed, and so entred the citie with Psalmes of praise, giuing thankes vnto the Lord.

48 So when he had cast all abominations out of the citie, he set such men in it as kept the law [of God,] and made the citie strong, and builded a dwelling place for himselfe.

49 Now when they in the castle at Hierusalem were kept so straitely that they coulde not come forth, nor go into the countrey, & might neither buy nor sell, they were very hungry, and many of them famished to death:

50 In so much that they besought Simon to be at one with them, which he graunted them: so he put them out from thence, and cleansed the castle from filthinesse.

51 And vpon the twentie and three day of the seconde moneth, in the hundred threescore and eleuenth yeere, they entred into it with thanksgiuing, and branches of Palme trees, with Harpes, Croudes, Cymbales, & Lutes, singing Psalmes and songs of praise vnto God, for that the great enemie of Israel was ouercome.

52 And Simon ordeined that the same day should be kept euery yeere with gladnesse, 53 And made strong the hill of the temple that was before the castle, where he dwelt himselfe with his companie.

54 Simon also perceiuing that John his sonne was a mightie man of armes, made him captaine of all the hostes, and caused him to dwel at ‖ Gaza. ‖Or, Gazara.

The xiiii. Chapter.

1 Demetrius is ouercome of Arsaces. 11 Simon being captaine, there is great quietnes in Israel. 18 The couenant of friendship with the Romanes, and with the people of Sparta, is renued.

1 IN the hundred threescore & twelfth yeere, gathered king Demetrius his hoste, & departed vnto Media, to get him helpe for to fight against Tryphon.

2 Nowe when Arsaces the king of Persia and Media, heard that Demetrius was entred within his borders, he sent one of his princes to take him aliue, [and to bring him vnto him.]

3 So he went and slue Demetrius hoste, tooke himselfe, brought him to Arsaces, which kept him in ward.

4 And all the land of Iuda was in rest so long as Simon liued, for he sought the wealth of his people, therefore were they glad to haue him for their ruler, and to doe him worship alway.

5 Simon wan the citie of Joppa also for an hauen towne, and made it an entrance into the Iles of the sea.

6 He enlarged the borders of his people, and conquered them more land:

7 He gathered vp many of their people that were prisoners, he had the dominion of Gaza, Bethsura, and the castle which he cleansed from filthinesse, and there was no man that resisted him.

8 So that euery man tilled his grounde in peace, the lande of Iuda, and the trees gaue their fruite and increase.

9 The elders sate all in iudgement, and tooke their deuice for the wealth of the lande, the young men put on worship and harnesse vpon them.

10 He prouided victualles for the cities, and made goodly strong holdes of them, so that the fame of his worship was spoken of vnto the end of the world.

11 For he made peace throughout the land, and Israel was full of mirth and ioy.

12 Euery man sate vnder his Vine and Figge trees, and there was no man to fray them away.

13 There

13 There was none in the land to fight against them, for then the kings were ouercome.
14 He helped those that were in aduersitie among his people, he was diligent to see the lawe kept: as for such as were vngodly and wicked, he tooke them away.
15 He set vp the sanctuarie, and increased the holy vessels of the temple.
16 When the Romanes and Spartians had gotten worde that Jonathas was dead, they were right sory:
17 But when they heard that Simon his brother was made high priest in his steade, and howe he had wonne the land againe, with the cities in it:
18 They wrote vnto him in tables of brasse, to renue the friendship and bond of loue, which they had made afore with Judas and Jonathas his brethren.
19 Which writings were read before the congregation at Hierusalem. And this is ỹ copie of the letters that the Spartians sent:
20 The Senatours and Citizens of Sparta, send greeting vnto Simon the great priest, with the elders, priestes, and the other people of the Jewes their brethren:
21 When your Ambassadours, that were sent vnto our people, certified vs of your worship, honour, and prosperous wealth, we were glad of their comming,
22 And haue written the ambassage in the publique recordes in this maner: [namely] that Numenius the sonne of Antiochus, and Antipater the sonne of Jason, the Jewes ambassadours, are come vnto vs for to renue the olde friendship with vs.
23 Upon this, the people consented that the men should be honourably intreated, and that the copie of their ambassage shoulde be written in the speciall bookes of the people, for a perpetuall memoriall vnto the Spartians: yea, and that we shoulde send a copie of the same vnto Simon the great priest.
24 After this did Simon send Numenius vnto Rome with a golden shield of a thousande pounde weight, to confirme the friendship with them.
25 Which when the Romanes vnderstoode, they saide, What thankes shall wee recompense againe vnto Simon and his children?
26 For he and his brethren, and the house of his father, hath stablished Israel, and ouercommed their enemies, wherefore they graunted him to be free, and confirmed the libertie thereof: therefore they wrote this in tables of brasse, & set it vpon pillars in mount Sion.
27 The copie of the writing is this, The eighteenth day of the moneth Elul, in the hundred threescore and twelfth yeere, in the third yeere of Simon the high priest,
28 In the great congregation of the priestes, rulers of the people, and elders of the countrey at ‖ Saramel, were these wordes openly declared: ‖ Or, Hierusalem.
29 For so much as there was much warre in our land, therefore Simon the sonne of Mathathias, come of the children of Jarib, and his brethren, put themselues in perill, and resisted the enemies of their people, that their sanctuarie and law might be mainteined, and did their people great worship.
30 Jonathas in like maner, after that he had gouerned his people, and bene their high Priest, died, and lyeth buryed beside his elders.
31 After that woulde their enemies haue troden their holy things vnder foote, destroyed their lande, and vtterly wasted their sanctuarie.
32 Then Simon withstoode them, and fought for his people, spent much of his owne money, weaponed the valiant men of his people, gaue them wages, 33 Made strong ỹ cities of Juda, with Bethsura that lieth vpon the borders of Jurie, where the ordinance of their enemies lay sometime, and set Jewes there for to keepe it.
34 He made fast Joppa also, which lieth vpon the sea, and ‖ Gaza that bordereth vpon Azotus, where the enemies dwelt afore, and there he set Jewes to keepe it: and whatsoeuer was meete for the subduing of the aduersaries, that layed he therein. ‖ Or, Gazara.
35 Now when the people sawe the noble actes of Simon, and what worship he purposed to do for them, his godly behauiour and faithfulnesse which he kept vnto them, and howe he sought by all wayes ỹ wealth of his people, because he did all this, therefore they chose him to be their prince and high priest.
36 And in his time they prospered wel by him, so that the heathen were taken out of their land, and they also which were in the citie of Dauid at Hierusalem in the castle, where they went out, and defiled all things that were about the sanctuarie, & did great harme vnto cleanlinesse:
37 And Simon put men of the Jewes in it, for the defence of the land and citie, and set vp the walles of Hierusalem.
38 And king Demetrius confirmed him in his high priesthood
39 For these causes, made him his friende, and did him great worship:
40 For he heard that the Romanes called the Jewes their friendes, louers, and brethren: howe honourably they receiued Simons ambassadours:
41 Howe the Jewes and priestes consented that he should be their prince and high priest perperpetually, till God raised vp the true Prophet:

42 And that he should be their captaine to care for the sanctuarie, and to set officers vpon the workes thereof, ouer the lande, ouer the weapons, ouer the houses of defence, to make prouision for the holy things:

43 And to be obeyed of euerie man, and all the writings of the lande to be made in his name, that he should be clothed in purple and golde:

44 And that it shoulde be lawfull for none of the people nor priestes to breake any of these things, to withstand his wordes, nor to call any congregation in the lande without him: that he shoulde be clothed in purple, & weare a coller of golde.

45 And if there were any which disobeyed or brake this ordinance, that he shoulde be punished.

46 So all the people consented to allowe Simon, and to doe according to these wordes:

47 Simon also himselfe tooke it vpon him, and was content to be the high priest, the captaine and prince of the Iewes and priestes, and to gouerne them all.

48 And they commanded to make this writing in tables of brasse, and fasten it vnto the wall that compasseth the sanctuarie, in an open place:

49 And to lay vp a copie of the same in the treasurie, that Simon and his posteritie might haue it.

The xv. Chapter.

The Romanes write letters vnto kings and nations in the defence of the Iewes.

1 MOreouer King Antiochus the sonne of Demetrius, sent letters from the Iles of the sea, vnto Simon the high priest and prince of the Iewes, and to all the people,

2 Concerning these wordes, Antiochus the king sendeth greeting vnto Simon the high priest, and to the people of the Iewes.

3 For so much as certaine wicked men haue gotten the kingdome of our progenitours, I haue purposed to chalenge ẏ Realme againe, and to restore it to the old estate: Wherefore I haue gathered a great hoste, and made shippes of warre,

4 That I may goe thorowe the countrey, and be auenged of them which haue destroyed our lande, and wasted many cities in my realme.

5 And therefore nowe I make thee free also from all the tributes whereof all kings my progenitours haue discharged thee, and from other customes wherefrom they haue released thee, whatsoeuer they be.

6 Yea, I giue thee leaue to smite money of thine owne within thy land.

7 As for Hierusalem, I wil that it be holy and free, and all the weapons & houses of defence which thou hast builded, and keepest in thine handes, shalbe thine:

8 Whereas any thing is or shalbe owing vnto the king, I forgiue it thee, from this time forth, for euermore.

9 And when we haue obteined our kingdome, we shall doe thee, thy people, and the temple great worship: so that your honour shalbe knowen throughout the whole world.

10 In the hundred threescore and fourtenth yeere, went Antiochus into his fathers lande, and all the men of warre came together vnto him, so that fewe were left with Tryphon.

11 So the king Antiochus followed vpon him, but he fled vnto Dora, which lyeth by the sea side:

12 For he sawe that there was mischiefe comming vnto him, and that his hoste had forsaken him.

13 Then came Antiochus vnto Dora, with an hundred and twentie thousande men of armes on foote, and eight thousande horsemen: so he compassed the citie rounde about, and the shippes came by the sea.

14 Thus they vexed the citie by lande and by water, in so much that they suffered no man to go in nor out.

15 In the meane season came Numenius, and they that had bene with him, from the citie of Rome, hauing letters written vnto the kings and prouinces, wherein were conteined these wordes,

16 Lucius the consull of Rome, sendeth greeting vnto Ptolome the king:

17 The Ambassadours of the Iewes our friendes, being sent from Simon the high priest, and from ẏ people of the Iewes, came vnto vs for to renue the olde friendship and bond of loue, 18 Brought a shield of gold, weighing a thousand pounde.

19 Wherefore we thought it good to write vnto the kings and prouinces to doe them no harme, nor to take part against them, their cities, nor countreyes, neither to maintaine their enemies against them.

20 And we were content to receiue of them the shielde.

21 If there be any wicked persons therfore fled from their countrey vnto you, deliuer them vnto Simon the high priest, that he may punish them according to their owne lawe.

22 The same wordes wrote the Romanes also vnto Demetrius the king, to Attalus, Araba, Arsaces,

23 And to al regions: as Samsames, to them of Spartia, ‖ Delo, ‖ Mydo, Sicyon, Caria, Samos, Pamphylia, Lycia, Alicarnassem, and

‖ Or, Delus.
‖ Or, Mydus.

and to the Rhodes, to Facelidis, Coo, Sida, Arado, Coryna, Gnidum, to Cyprus, and Cyrene.

24 And of euery letter they sent a copie to Simon the high Priest.

25 So Antiochus the king brought his host vnto Dora the seconde time, to take it, where he made diuers ordinances of warre, & kept Tryphon in, that he shoulde not goe either in or out.

26 Then sent Simon vnto Antiochus two thousand chosen men to helpe him, with gold, siluer, and other plenteous things.

27 Neuertheless hee woulde not receiue them, but brake all the couenant which hee made with Simon afore, and withdrewe himselfe from him.

28 He sent Athenobius also a friende of his vnto Simon, for to reason with him, saying, Thou withholdest from me Joppa and Gaza, with the castle that is at Hierusalem, which are cities of my realme:

29 Whose borders ye haue destroyed, and done great euill in the lande, hauing the dominion in many other places of my kingdome:

30 Wherefore, deliuer nowe the cities which ye haue taken, with the tributes of the places that ye haue rule vpon without the borders of Jurie:

31 Or else giue mee fiue hundred talents of siluer, yea, and for the harme that yee haue done in the cities, and for the tributes of the same, other fiue hundred talents: if no, we shal come and fight against you.

32 So Athenobius the kings friende came to Hierusalem, and when he sawe the great worship & honour of Simon, in golde, siluer, and so great plentie of ornaments, he marueiled: & told Simon as the king commanded him.

33 Then answered Simon, and sayde vnto him, As for vs, wee haue neither taken other mens landes, nor withholden them: but onely our fathers heritage, which our enemies had vnrighteously in possession a certaine time.

34 This heritage of our fathers haue wee challenged in processe of time.

35 And whereas thou complainest concerning Joppa and Gaza, they did great harme to our people, and in our lande, yet will wee giue an hundred talents for them. Neuertheles, Athenobius answered him not one word:

36 But turned againe wrathfully vnto ỹ king, and tolde him all these wordes, and the great dignitie of Simon, with al that he had seene: and the king was very angry.

37 And in ỹ meane time fled Tryphon by ship vnto Dorothias.

38 Then the king made Cendebeus captaine of the sea coste, and gaue him an host of footemen and horsemen, 39 Commanding him to remoue ỹ host toward Jurie, and to builde vp the citie of Cedron, to make vp the portes, and to warre against the people of the Iewes: as for the king himselfe, he followed vpon Tryphon.

40 So Cendebeus came vnto Jamnia, and began to vexe the people, to tread downe Jurie, to take the people prisoners, to slay them, 41 And to builde vp Cedron: where he set horsmen, and other men of warre, that they might come forth, and goe through the streetes of Jurie, like as the king had commaunded him.

The xvi. Chapter.

Cendebeus the captaine of Antiochus host, is put to flight of the sonnes of Simon.

1 THen came vp John from Gaza, & tolde Simon his father what Cendebeus had done [among their people.]

2 Upon this called Simon two of his eldest sonnes, Judas and John, and said vnto them, I & my brethren, and my fathers house, haue euer from our youth vp vnto this day, fought ten against the enemies of Israel: and God gaue vs good fortune to deliuer Israel oftentimes.

3 And nowe, forasmuch as I am olde, & ye by Gods goodnesse are of a sufficient age, bee ye in steade of me and my brother, to go forth and fight for our people: and the helpe of God bee with you.

4 So he chose twentie thousand fighting men of the countrey, with horsemen also, which went forth against Cendebeus, and rested at Modin.

5 In the morning they arose, and went into the plaine fielde, and beholde, a mightie great host came against them, both of footemen and horsemen: nowe was there a water brooke betwixt them.

6 And John remoued the host towarde them: and when he saw that the people was afraide to goe ouer the water brooke, hee went ouer first himselfe: and the men seeing this, followed him.

7 Then John set his horsemen and footemen in order, the one by ỹ other: for their enemies horsemen were very many.

8 But when they blewe vp the ‖ priests trumpets, Cendebeus fled with his host: whereof many were slaine, and the remnant gate them to their strong holdes. ‖ Or, holy.

9 Judas also Johns brother was wounded at the same time, and John followed still vpon their enemies, till hee came to Cedron, which Cendebeus had builded.

10 The [enemies] fled also vnto ỹ townes that were in the fieldes of Azotus, and those did John burne vp with fire: thus there were slayne two thousand men of them, and John turned againe peaceably into Jurie.

11 And in the fielde of Jericho was Ptolome the ſonne of Abobus made captaine: which becauſe he had abundance of ſiluer and gold,
12 (For he had married the daughter of Simon the high Prieſt,) 13 Waxed proude in his minde, and thought to conquer the lande, imagining falſhood againſt Simon and his ſonnes, to deſtroye them.
14 Nowe as Simon was going about thorowe the cities that were in the countrey of Jurie, and caring for them, hee came downe to Jericho with Mathathias and Judas his ſonnes, in the hundred, threeſcore and ſeuenteenth yeere, in the eleuenth moneth, called Sabat.
15 Then [Ptolome] the ſonne of Abobus receiued them, but with deceite, into a ſtrong houſe of his, called Dochus, which hee had builded, where hee made them a banket, & had hid men there.
16 So whē Simon and his ſonnes were merry, and had dronken well, Ptolome ſtoode vp, with his men, [whom he had hid there,] and tooke their weapons, entred into the banket houſe, and ſlew Simon with his two ſonnes, and certaine of his ſeruants.
17 Such great vnfaithfulneſſe did Ptolome in Iſrael, and recompenſed euill for good.
18 Then wrote Ptolome theſe things, & ſent vnto king [Antiochus,] requiring him that he ſhoulde ſend him an hoſt to helpe him: and ſo ſhould he deliuer him the lande, with the cities and tributes of the ſame.
19 Hee ſent other men alſo vnto Gaza, for to take John, and wrote vnto the captaines to come to him, and he ſhoulde giue them ſiluer, golde, and rewardes.
20 And to Hieruſalem he ſent other, to take it, and the ſanctuarie.
21 Then ranne there one before, & tolde John in Gaza, that his father and his brethren were ſlayne, and howe that Ptolome had ſent to ſlay him alſo.
22 Whē John heard this, he was ſore abaſhed, and layd hands on them that were come to deſtroy him, and ſlewe them: for hee knewe that they went about to kill him.
23 As for other things concerning John, of his warres, of his noble actes, wherein he behaued him ſelfe manfully, of the building of walles which he made, and other of his deedes, 24 They are written in the Chronicles of his prieſthood, from the time forth that hee was made high Prieſt after his father.

The ende of the firſt booke of the Machabees.

The ſecond booke of the Machabees.

The firſt Chapter.

1 An Epiſtle of the Iewes that dwelt at Hieruſalem, ſent vnto them that dwelt in Egypt, wherein they exhorte them to giue thankes for the death of Antiochus. 19 Of the fire that was hid in the pit. 24 The prayer of Nehemias.

1 THe brethren of the Iewes which be at Hieruſalem, and in the lande of Jurie, wiſh vnto theſe brethren of the Iewes that are throughout Egypt, health and peace.
2 God be gracious vnto you, and thinke vpon his couenant that he made with Abraham, Iſahac, and Jacob, his faithfull ſeruants:
3 And giue you all ſuch an heart, that yee may loue and ſerue him, yea, and perfourme his will with an whole heart, and a willing minde:
4 Hee open your hearts vnto his lawe, and in his commaundementes, and ſende you peace,
5 Heare your prayers, be at one with you, and neuer forſake you in time of trouble.
6 For ſo much as nowe we here be praying for you,
7 What time as Demetrius reigned, in the hundred threeſcore and nine yeere, we Iewes wrote vnto you in the trouble and violence that came vnto vs in thoſe yeeres, after that Jaſon departed out of the holy land and kingdome,
8 They burnt vp the ports, and ſhed innocent blood: then made we our prayer vnto ẏ Lorde, and were heard, wee offered vp ſacrifices and fine floure, & lighted the lampes, and ſet forth the bread.
9 * And nowe come yee vnto the feaſt of tabernacles, in the moneth ‖ Caſleu. * Leuit. 23. 24. ‖ Nouember.
10 In the hundred foureſcore and eighteene yeere, the people that was at Hieruſalem, and in Jurie, the counſaile, and Judas himſelfe, ſent this wholſome ſalutation vnto Ariſtobulus king Ptolomes maſter, which came of the generation of the anointed Prieſts, and to the Iewes that were in Egypt:
11 Inſomuch as God hath deliuered vs from great perils, we thanke him highly, no leſſe at all then if wee had banquiſhed the king in battaile.
12 For whē he, with thoſe ẏ had fought againſt the holy citie, did ſet vpon Perſia:
13 For as he was in Perſia, [namely,] the captaine with the great hoſt, hee periſhed in the Temple

Temple of Naneas, being deceiued through the deuice of Naneas Priestes.

14 For when Antiochus, as hee that shoulde marrie with her, came, and his friendes with him, into the place to receiue by name of dowrie the money which the Priestes of Naneas had set forth, 15 Hee entred with a small companie into the compasse of the Temple, and so they shut the Temple.

16 Nowe when Antiochus entred by opening the priuie entrance of the Temple, the priests stoned the captaine to death, hewed them in peeces that were with him, smote off their heads, and threwe them out.

17 In all things God bee prayed, which hath deliuered the wicked into our handes [to bee punished.]

18 Whereas wee are nowe purposed to keepe the purificatiō of the Temple vpon the twentie and fifth day of the moneth Casleu, wee thought necessarie to certifie you thereof, that ye also might keepe the tabernacles feast day, and the day of the fire, which was giuen vs when Nehemias offered, after that he had set vp the Temple and the altar.

19 For what time as our fathers were ledde away into Persia, the Priestes which then fought the honour of God, tooke the fire priuily from the altar, & hid it in a valley, where as was a deepe drye pit: and therein they kept it, so that the place was vnknowen to euery man.

20 Nowe after many yeeres, when it pleased God that Nehemias shoulde be sent from the king of Persia, he sent the childrens children of those Priests which had hid the fire, to seeke it: and as they tolde vs, they found no fire, but thicke water.

21 Then commanded hee them to drawe it vp, and to bring it him, and the offerings withall: Nowe when the sacrifices were layde on, and ordered, Nehemias commaunded the Priestes to sprinkle them and the wood with water.

22 When this was done, & the time come that the Sunne shone which afore was hid in the cloude, there was a great fire kindled, insomuch that euery man marueiled.

23 Nowe all the Priestes prayed while the sacrifice was a making: Jonathas prayed first, and the other gaue answere.

24 And Nehemias prayer was after this maner, O Lorde God, maker of all things, thou fearefull and strong, thou righteous and mercifull, thou that art onely a gracious king,

25 Onely liberall, onely iust, almightie & euerlasting, thou that deliuerest Israel from all trouble, thou that hast chosen the fathers, and halowed them fauourably:

26 Receiue the offering for thy whole people of Israel, preserue thine owne portion, and halowe it, 27 Gather those together that are scattered abroade from vs, deliuer thē that are vnder the heathens bondage, looke vpon them which are despised & abhorred: that the heathen may know and see howe that thou onely art God, which art our God.

28 Punish them that oppresse & proudly put vs to dishonour.

29 Set thy people againe in thine holy place, like as * Moses hath spoken. Deut.30.5.

30 And the Priestes sung Psalmes of thankes giuing, so long as the sacrifice endured.

31 Nowe when the sacrifice was burnt, Nehemias cōmanded the great stones to bee sprinkled with the residue of the water.

32 Which when it was done, there was kindled a flame of them also: but it was consumed through the light that shined from the altar.

33 So when this matter was knowen, it was tolde the king of Persia, that in ỹ place where the Priests which were led away, had hid fire, there appeared water, and that Nehemias and his companie had purified the sacrifices withall.

34 Then the king, considering and pondering the matter diligently, inclosed the place, and consecrated a Temple, to proue ỹ thing that was done:

35 And when he founde it so in deede, hee gaue the Priests many giftes, and diuers rewards, yea, he tooke them with his owne hande, and gaue them.

36 And Nehemias called ỹ same place a Nephthar, which is as much to say, as a clensing: but many men call it Nephi.

a Ephthar, which is to say, a shining: it is also called Nephi, or Nephthar, which is a clensing.

The ii. Chapter.

4 Howe Ieremie hid the tabernacle, the arke, and the altar in the hill. 21 Of the fiue bookes of Iason conteyned in one.

1 IT is founde also in the * writings of Ieremie the Prophet, that hee commanded the which were caried away, to take fire, as it is sayd afore. Iere.29.5.

2 He commanded them also that they shoulde not forget the lawe and commandementes of the Lord, and that they should not erre in their mindes, when they see images of siluer and gold, with their ornaments.

3 These and such other things commaunded hee them, and exhorted them that they should not let the lawe of God goe out of their hearts.

4 It is written also, howe the Prophet at the commaundement of God, charged them to take the tabernacle and the arke with them: and he went forth vnto the mountaine where Moses climed vp, and sawe the heritage of God.

Deut. 34. 1. 5 * And when Jeremie came there, he founde an open caue, wherein he layd the tabernacle, the arke, and the altar of incense, and so stopped the dooze.

6 There came certaine men together also, following him to marke ẏ place, but they coulde not finde it.

7 Which when Jeremie perceiued, he reproued them, saying, As foz that place it shall bee vnknowen, vntill the time that God gather his people together againe, and receiue them vnto mercie.

8 Then shall God shewe them these things, and the maiestie of the Lozd shal appeare, and the cloude also, like as it was shewed vnto Moses: and like as when Solomon desired that the place might be honourably sanctified, and it was shewed him.

9 Foz bee being a wise man, handled honourably and wisely, 2. Reg. 8. 5. * offering vnto God in the halowing of the Temple when it was finished.

Luk. 10. 24. 10 * And like as when Moses prayed vnto the Lozde, the fire came downe from heauen, and consumed the burnt offering: euen so prayed 2. Chro. 7. 2. * Solomon also, and the fire came downe from heauen, and consumed the whole burnt offering.

Leuit. 10. 18. 11 And Moses sayde, * Because the sinne offering was not eaten, therefoze it is consumed.

12 In like maner Solomon kept the dedication [oz halowing,] eight dayes.

Some read, Nehemias. 13 In the annotations and writings of ‖ Jeremie were these things put also: and howe hee made a libzarie, and howe hee gathered out of all countreys the bookes of the kings, and of the Prophets, and of Dauid, and the Epistles of the kings concerning the holy gifts.

14 Euen so Judas also, looke what he learned by experience of warre, and such things as haue happened vnto vs, hee gathered them all together, and so we haue them by vs.

15 If ye now desire to haue the same, sende some body to fetch them vnto you.

16 Whereas wee then are about to celebzate the purification, wee haue written vnto you: therefoze ye shall do well if ye keepe the same dayes.

17 We hope also that the God which deliuered his people, and gaue them all the heritage, kingdome, priesthood, and sanctuarie, Deut. 30. 5. 18 * That hee promised them in the lawe, shall shoztly haue mercy vpon vs, and gather vs together from vnder the heauen into his holy place, foz hee hath saued vs from great perils, and hath clensed the place.

19 As concerning Judas Machabeus, and his bzethzen, the purification of the great Temple, the dedication of the altar:

20 Yea, and of the warres that concerne noble Antiochus, and Eupatoz his sonne:

21 And the miracles shewed from heauen vnto the valiant actes of those which defended the Jewes religion, so that a fewe ranne throughout the whole countrey, and made away the barbarous armies:

22 Repaired againe the Temple that was spoken of throughout all the woꝛld, deliuered the citie, doing their best, that the lawe of ẏ Lozde which was put downe, might with all tranquillitie be restozed againe vnto ẏ Lozde that was so mercifull vnto them:

23 As touching Jason also of Cyzene, we haue vndertaken compendiously to bzing into one booke the things that were comprehended of him in fine.

24 Foz wee considering the multitude of the bookes, and howe hard it shoulde be foz them that should meddle with stozies and acts, and that because of so diuers matters:

25 Haue vndertaken so to comprehende the stozies, that such as are disposed to reade, might haue pleasure and pastime therein, and that they which are diligent in such things, might the better thinke vpon them: yea, and that whosoeuer reade them, might haue profite thereby.

26 Neuertheless, we our selues that haue medled with this matter, foz the shoztening of it, haue taken no small labour, but great diligence, watchings, and trauaile.

27 Like as they that make a feast, would faine do other men pleasure: euen so we also foz many mens sakes, are very well content to take the labour:

28 Whereas wee may shoztly comprehende the things that other men haue truely written.

29 Foz he that buildeth an house anewe, must pzouide foz many things to ẏ whole building: but he that painteth it afterward, seeketh but only that is comely, meete, and conuenient to garnish it withall.

30 Euen so do we also in like maner: and why? hee that beginneth first to wzite a stozie, must with his vnderstanding gather the matter together, set his wozdes in ozder, and diligently seeke out euery part.

31 But hee that afterwarde will shozten it, vseth fewe wozdes, and toucheth not the matter at the largest: let this bee sufficient foz a pzologue.

32 Nowe will wee beginne to shewe the matter: foz it is but a foolish thing to make a long pzologue, and to bee shozt in the stozie it selfe.

The iii. Chapter.

1 Of the honour done vnto the Temple by the kings of the Gentiles. 6 Simon vttereth what treasure is in the Temple.

1 What time as the holy citie was inhabited in all peace & wealth, and whē the lawes were yet very well kept: for so was it ordeyned through the godlinesse of Onias the high priest, & other godly men that were enemies to wickednesse,

2 It came thereto, that euen the kings and princes themselues did the place great worshippe, and garnished the Temple with great gifts:

3 Insomuch that Seleucus king of Asia, of his owne rents bare all the costs belonging to the seruis of the offerings.

4 Then Simon of the tribe of Beniamin, being ruler of the Temple, vpon a variance risen betweene him and the high priest for wickednesse that was done in the citie,

5 For that he could not ouercome Onias, he gate him to Apollonius the sonne of Tharsia, which then was chiefe lord in Coelosyria, and Phenice;

6 And tolde him that the treasurie in Hierusalem was full of innumerable money, and howe that the common goods which belong not vnto the offerings, were exceeding great also: yea, and howe it were possible that all these might come vnder the kings power.

7 Nowe when Apollonius had shewed ẏ king of the money, as it was tolde him: the king called for Heliodorus his treasurer, and sent him with a commandement to bring him the same money.

8 Immediatly Heliodorus tooke his iourney, but vnder a colour as though hee woulde goe through Coelosyria & Phenice to visite the cities, but his purpose was to fulfill ẏ kings pleasure.

9 So when hee came to Hierusalem, and was louingly receiued of the high Priest into the citie, hee tolde what was determined concerning the money, and shewed the cause of his comming: he asked also if it were so in deede.

10 Then the high Priest told him, ẏ there was such money layde vp for the vpholding of widowes and fatherlesse children,

11 And howe that a certaine of it belonged vnto Hircanus the sonne of Tobias, a noble man, and that of all ẏ money (and not as that wicked Simon had reported) there were foure hundred talents of siluer, and two hundred of gold:

12 Yea, and that it were vnpossible for those mens meaning to be deceiued, that had put assured confidence in the holinesse of the place, and in the maiestie and vndoubted safetie of the Temple, which is had in worship thorow the whole worlde, for the maintenance and honour of the same.

13 Whereunto Heliodorus answered, that the king had cōmanded him in any wise to bring him the money.

14 So at the day appointed, Heliodorus entred into the Temple to order this matter: wherefore there was no small feare thorowout the whole citie.

15 The Priestes fell downe before the altar in their vestmentes, and called vnto heauen vpon him which had made a lawe concerning stuffe giuen to keepe, that they should be safely preserued for such as committed them vnto keeping.

16 Then whoso had looked the high Priest in the face, it woulde haue grieued his heart: for his countenance and the changing of his colour, declared the inwarde sorowe of his minde.

17 The man was all in heauinesse, and his body in feare: whereby they that looked vpon him might perceiue the griefe of his heart.

18 The other people also came out of their houses by heapes vnto the common prayer, because the place was like to come into confusion:

19 The women came together through the streetes with heary clothes about their breasts: the virgins also that were kept in, ranne to Onias, some of them ranne to the gates, some vp vpon the walles, other some looked out at the windowes, 20 Yea, they all helde vp their handes towarde heauen, and prayed.

21 A miserable thing was it to looke vpon the common people, and the high Priest, being in such trouble.

22 But they besought almightie God, that the goods which were cōmitted vnto thē, might be kept whole for those that had deliuered thē vnto their keeping.

23 Neuertheless, the thing that Heliodorus was determined to doe, that performed hee in the same place, hee him selfe personally being about the treasurie with his men of warre.

24 But the spirite of almightie God shewed him selfe openly, so that all they which presumed to obey Heliodorus, fell through the power of God, into a great fearefulnesse and dread.

25 For there appeared vnto them an horse, with a terrible man sitting vpon him, decke in goodly aray, and the horse smote at Heliodorus with his forefeete: nowe hee that sate vpon the horse had harnesse of golde vpon him.

26 Moreouer, there appeared two fayre & beautifull yong men, of notable strength, in goodly aray, which stoode by him, scourged him on both the sides, & gaue him many stripes without ceasing.

27 With that fell Heliodorus suddenly vnto the ground: so they tooke him vp, being compassed about with great darkenesse, and bare him out vpon a beere.

28 Thus hee that came with so many runners and men of warre into the sayd treasurie, was borne out, whereas no man might helpe him, being destitute of harnesse and weapons: and so the power of God was manifest and knowen.

29 He lay stil dumbe also by the power of God, destitute of all hope and life.

30 And they prayed the Lorde, that he had shewed his power vpon his place and Temple, which a litle afore was full of feare & trouble, and that through the reuelation of the almightie Lord it was filled with ioy and gladnesse.

31 Then certaine of Heliodorus friendes prayed Onias, that in all haste he would call vpon God, to grant him his life which was giuing vp the ghost.

32 So the high Priest, fearing least the king should suspect that the Iewes had done Heliodorus some [a] euill, he offered an offering for his health.

a In working some treacherie by sorcerie against him.

33 Nowe when the high Priest had obteyned his petition, the same yong men in the same clothing appeared, and stoode beside Heliodorus, saying, Thanke Onias the high Priest: for, for his sake hath the Lord graunted thee thy life.

34 Therefore seeing that God hath scourged thee, giue him prayse and thankes, and shewe euery man his might and power. And when they had spoken these wordes, they appeared no more.

35 So Heliodorus offered vnto God, made great vowes vnto him which had graunted him his life, thanked Onias, tooke his host, and went againe to the king.

36 Then testified he vnto euery man, of ỹ great workes of God, that hee had seene with his eyes.

37 And when the king asked Heliodorus who were meete to be sent yet once againe to Hierusalem, he sayde, 38 If thou hast any enemie or aduersarie vnto thy realme, sende him thither, and thou shalt haue him punished, if he escape with his life: for in that place [no doubt] there is a speciall power and working of God.

39 For he that dwelleth in heauen, visiteth, and defendeth that place, and all that come to doe it harme, he punisheth, and plagueth them.

40 This is nowe the matter concerning Heliodorus, and the keeping of the treasurie [at Hierusalem.]

The iiii. Chapter.

1 Simon reporteth euill of Onias. 7 Iason desiring the office of the high Priest, corrupted the king with rewardes.

1 THis Simon nowe (of whom we spake afore) being a bewrayer of the money, and of his owne naturall countrey, reported the worst of Onias, as though he had moued Heliodorus vnto this, and as though he had bene a hinger vp of euill.

2 Thus was hee not ashamed to call him an enemie of the realme, that was so faithfull an ouerseer and defender of the citie and of his people, yea, and so feruent in the lawe of God.

3 But whē the malice of Simon increased so farre, that through his friends there were certaine manslaughters committed:

4 Onias considered the peril that might come through this strife, and how that Apollonius the chiefe lorde in Coelosyria and Phenice was all set vpon tyrannie, and Simons malice increased the same,

5 He gate him to the king, not as an accuser of the citizens, but as one that by himselfe intended the common wealth of the whole multitude:

6 For hee sawe it was not possible to liue in peace, neither Simon to leaue off from his foolishnes, except the king did looke thereto.

7 But after the death of Seleucus, when Antiochus, which is called the noble, tooke the kingdome, Iason the brother of Onias laboured to be high Priest:

8 For hee came vnto the king, and promised him three hundred and threescore talentes of siluer, and of the other rentes fourescore talentes.

9 Besides this, hee promised him yet an hundred and fiftie more, if he might haue licence to set vp a schole and an exercise of weapons, and that hee might call them of Hierusalem, Antiochians.

10 Which when the king had graunted, and he had gotten the superioritie, he began immediately to drawe his kinsmen to the customs of the heathen,

11 Put downe the things that the Iewes had set vp of loue by John, the father of Eupolemus, which was sent Ambassador vnto Rome, for to make the bonde of friendship and loue, hee put downe all the lawes and liberties of the Iewes, and set vp the wicked statutes.

12 For when hee had made a schole of fence vnder the castle, he drewe all the chiefest yong men on his side, and trayned them to weare [a] hattes.

a These hats were tokens of wantonnesse that the Gentiles vsed.

13 And there was such a feruent desire to come to the maners of the heathen, and to take vp new strange fashions, brought in through the vngratious and vnheard wickednesse of Iason, which shoulde not bee called a Priest, but an vngodly person:

14 Insomuch that the Priestes were nowe no more occupied about the seruice of the altar: but but despised the Temple, regarded not the offerings, yea, gaue their diligence to learne to fight, to wrestle, to leape, to daunce, and to cast the stone:

15 Not setting by the honour of the fathers, but liked the glory of the Greekes best of all:

16 For the which they stroue perilously, and were griedie to followe their statutes, yea, their lust was in all things to bee like them, which afore were their enemies and destroyers.

17 Howbeit, to do wickedly against the lawe of God, shall not escape vnpunished: but of this we shall speake hereafter.

‡ These were kept euery fiftieth yere.

18 What time as the ‡ Olympian sports were plaied at Tyrus, the king himselfe being present, 19 This vngratious Iason sent wicked men, bearing from them of Hierusalem (which nowe were called Antiochians) three hundred drachmes of siluer for an offering to Hercules: these had they that caried them desired, vnder such a fashion as though they should not haue bene offered, but bestowed to other vses.

20 Neuertheless, he that sent them, sent them to the intent that they shoulde bee offered vnto Hercules: but because of those that were present, they were giuen as to the making of shippes.

21 And Apollonius the sonne of Menestheus was sent into Egypt, because of ỹ noble men of king Ptolome Philometor. Nowe when Antiochus perceiued that he was put out frõ b From his honour and gaines.

b medling in the realme, hee sought his owne profite, departed from thence, came to Ioppa, and then to Hierusalem, 22 Where he was honourably receiued of Iason, and of the citie, and was brought in with torch light, and with great prayse: and so hee turned his host vnto Phenices.

23 After three yeres, Iason sent Menelaus (the foresaid Simons brother) to beare the money vnto the king, and to bring him answere of other necessarie matters.

24 But he, whẽ he was commended to the king for magnifying of his power, turned ỹ priesthood vnto him selfe, laying vp three hundred talents of siluer for Iason.

25 So when he had gotten commandementes from the king, hee came hauing nothing that becommeth a priest, but bearing the stomacke of a cruell tyrant, and the wrath of a wilde bruite beast.

26 Then Iason, which had deceiued his owne brother, seeing that he himselfe was beguiled also, was faine to flee into the land of the Ammonites, 27 And Menelaus gat the dominion: but as for the money that hee had promised vnto the king, hee did nothing therein, albeit Sostratus the ruler of the castle required it of him.

28 For Sostratus was the man that gathered the customes: wherefore they were both called before the king.

29 Thus was Menelaus put out of the Priesthood, and Lysimachus his brother came in his stead, and Sostratus left Crates ouerseer of the c Cyprians.

c That is, of them that measured the corne.

30 It happened in the meane season, that the Tharsians and Mallotians made insurrection, because they were giuen for a present vnto Antiochis the kings concubine.

31 Then came the king in all haste to still them againe, and to pacifie the matter, leauing Andronicus there to be his deputie, as one meete therefore.

32 Nowe Menelaus supposing that hee had gotten a right conuenient time, stole certaine vessels of golde out of the Temple, and gaue them to Andronicus for a present: and some he solde at Tyrus, and in the cities thereby.

33 Which when Onias knewe of a suretie, hee reproued him: but he kept him in a sanctuarie beside Daphnis, that lieth by Antioche.

34 Wherefore Menelaus gat him to Andronicus, and prayed him that he would slay Onias. So when he came to Onias, he counselled him craftily to come out of the sanctuarie, giuing him his hande with an othe (howbeit he suspect him) and then he slewe Onias, without any regard of righteousnesse.

35 For the which cause not onely the Iewes, but other nations also, tooke indignation, & were displeased for ỹ vnrighteous death of so godly a man.

36 And when the king was come againe from Cilicia, the Iewes & certaine of the Greekes went vnto him, complayning for the vnrighteous death of Onias.

37 Yea, Antiochus him selfe was sory in his minde for Onias, so that it pitied him: and he wept, remembring his soberneſſe, and manerly behauiour.

38 Wherefore he was so kindled in his minde, that he commanded Andronicus to be stripped out of his purple clothing, and so to bee ledde throughout the citie, yea, and the vngratious man to be slayne in the same place where hee committed his wickednes vpon Onias: thus the Lord rewarded him his punishment, as he had deserued.

39 Nowe when Lysimachus had done many wicked deedes in the Temple through the counsell of Menelaus, and the voyce came abroad: the multitude gathered them together against Lysimachus, for hee had carried out nowe much golde.

40 So when the people arose, and were full of displeasure, Lysimachus armed three thousand vnthriftes to defende him, a certaine tyrant being their captaine, which was growen both in age and woodnesse.

41 They therefore seeing the enterprise of Lysimachus, caught vp, some stones, some blockes endes, and some handfulles of dust that was next at hand, and threwe them vpon the rebelles of Lysimachus band that had set vpon them.

42 Thus there were many of them wounded, some being slayne, and all the other chased away: but as for the wicked churchrobber him selfe, they killed him beside the treasurie.

43 Of these matters therefore there was kept a court against Menelaus.

44 Nowe when the king came to Tyrus, three men that were sent from the Senate, pleaded him guiltie before the king.

45 But Menelaus being nowe conuict, went and promised Ptolome the sonne of Dorymenes to giue him much money, if he would pacifie the king toward him.

46 So Ptolome went to the king into a court, whereas he was set to coole him, and brought him out of that minde:

47 Insomuch that hee discharged Menelaus from the accusations, that notwithstanding was cause of all mischiefe: and those poore men, which if they had tolde their cause, yea, before the Scythians, they shoulde haue bene iudged innocent, them he condemned to death.

48 Thus were they soone punished, which followed vpon the matter for ỹ citie, for the people, and for the holy vessels.

49 Wherefore they also of Tyrus, moued with hatred of that wicked deede, caused them to be very honourably buried.

50 And so through the couetousnes of thē that were in power, Menelaus remayned still in authoritie, encreasing in malice, to the hurt of the citizens.

The v. Chapter.

2 Of the signes and tokens seene in Hierusalem. 6 Of the ende and office of Iason. 11 The pursuite of Antiochus against the Iewes.

1 ABout the same time Antiochus vndertooke his seconde voyage into Egypt.

2 And then were there seene throughout all the citie [of Hierusalem] fourtie dayes long, horsemen running in the ayre, with robes of golde, and as bandes of spearemen,

3 And as troupes of horsemen set in aray, incountering and coursing one against another, with shaking of shieldes, and multitude of darts, and drawing of swordes, and shooting of arrowes, and the glittering of the golden armour seene, and harnesse of all sorts.

4 Wherefore euery man prayed, that those tokens might turne to good.

5 Now when there was gone forth a false rumour, as though Antiochus had bene dead, Iason tooke a thousande men, and came suddainely vpon the citie: the citizens ranne vnto the walles: at the last was the citie taken, and Menelaus fled into the castle.

6 As for Iason, hee spared not his owne citizens in the slaughter, neither considered hee what great euill it were, to destroy the prosperitie of his owne kinsmen: but did as one that had gotten the victorie of his enemies, and not of his friendes.

7 For all this gate he not the superioritie, but at the last receiued confusion for his malice, and fled againe like a vagabond into the lande of the Ammonites.

8 Finally, for a rewarde of his wickednesse, hee was accused before Aretha the king of the Arabians, insomuch that hee was fayne to flee from citie to citie, being despised of euery man as a forsaker of the lawes, and an abominable person: and at the last, as an open enemie of his owne naturall countrey and of the citizens, hee was driuen into Egypt.

9 Thus hee that afore put many out of their owne natiue land, perished frō home himselfe: he went to Lacedemon, thinking there to haue gotten succour by reason of kinred.

10 And he that afore had cast many one out vnburied, was throwen out him selfe, no man mourning for him, nor putting him in his graue: so that he neither enioyed the burial of a stranger, neither was he partaker of his fathers sepulchre.

11 Nowe when this was done, the king suspected that the Iewes woulde haue fallen from him, wherefore hee came in a great displeasure out of Egypt, and tooke the citie by violence.

12 He commanded his men of warre also, that they should kill and not spare: but slay downe such as withstoode them, or climed vp vpon the houses.

13 Thus was there a great slaughter of yong men, olde men, women, children, and virgins.

14 In three dayes were there slayne fourescore thousande, fourtie thousande put in prysson: and there were as many solde as were slayne.

15 Yet was he not content with this, but durst goe into the most holy Temple of all the world, Menelaus, that traytour to the lawes and to his owne naturall countrey, being his guide.

16 And with his wicked handes tooke the holy vessels, which other kings and cities had giuen thither for the garnishing and honour honour of the place, them tooke he in his handes vnworthily, and defiled them.

17 So mad was Antiochus, that he considered not howe that God was not a little wroth for the sinnes of them that dwelt in the citie, for ỹ which such confusion came vpon that place.

18 And why? if it had not happened them to haue bene lapped in many sinnes, this Antiochus as soone as he had come, had suddenly bene punished and shut out of his presumption, *like as Heliodorus was, whome Seleucus the king sent to robbe the treasurie.

19 Neuertheless, God hath not chosen the people for the places sake: but the place for the peoples sake.

20 And therefore is the place become partaker of the peoples trouble, but afterward shall it enioy the wealth of them: and like as it was now forsaken in the wrath of almightie God: so when the great God is reconciled, it shalbe set vp in high worship againe.

21 So when Antiochus had taken a thousand and eight hundred talents out of the temple, he gate him to Antioche in all the haste, thinking in his pride that hee might make men saple vpon the dry lande, and to goe vpon the sea, such an high minde had he.

22 He left deputies there to vexe the people: at Hierusalem left he Philip a Phrygian, in maners more cruel then himselfe that set him there:

23 At Garizim he left Andronicus and Menelaus, which were more grieuous to the citizens then other.

24 Nowe as he was thus set in malice against the Iewes, he sent Apollonius, a cruel prince, with an armie of twentie and two thousande, commaunding him to slay those that were of perfect age, and to sell the women, and the yonger sort.

25 When he came now to Hierusalem, he fayned peace, and kept him still vntill the Sabboth day: and then he commanded his men to take them to their weapons, for the Iewes kept holy day:

26 And so he slue all them that were gone forth to the open playne, running [here and there] thorow the citie with his men weaponed, and murdered a great number.

27 But Iudas Machabeus, which was the *tenth, fled into the wildernesse, led his life there with his company among wilde beasts, and vpon the mountaines, dwelling there, and eating herbes, lest they should be partakers of the filthinesse.

*6.Mach.3.24.

*Of them that fled for religion.

The vi. Chapter.

1 The Iewes are compelled to leaue the lawe of God. 4 The temple is defiled. 12 The readers are admonished that they shal not abhorre the aduersitie wherewith the Lord afflicteth them. 28 The grieuous payne of Eleazarus.

1 NOt long after this, sent the king an olde man of ‖Antioche, for to compell the Iewes to trãsgresse the ordinãces of the fathers, and of the law of God,

‖Or, Athens.

2 To defile the temple that was at Hierusalem, and to call it the temple of Iupiter Olympius: and that they should be in Garizim, as those which dwell at the place of Iupiter the barberous.

3 This wicked sedition of the vngodly, was heauie vpon all the people:

4 For the temple was full of voluptuousnes, bibbing and bolling of the heathen, of rybaudes and harlots together: the women went into the holy place, and bare in that was not lawfull.

5 The altar also was full of vnlawful things, which the lawe forbiddeth to lay vpon it,

6 The Sabboths were not kept, the other solemne feastes of the land were not regarded: to be playne, there durst no man be knowen that he was a Iewe.

7 In the day of the kings byrth they were compelled parforce to offer, and when the feast of Bacchus was kept, they were constrayned to weare garlandes of yuie, and so to goe about to the honour of Bacchus.

8 Moreouer, through the counsell of Ptolomeus, there went out a commaundement vnto the next cities of the heathen, against the Iewes, that the like custome and ‖banketting should be kept.

‖Or, eating of the flesh that was sacrificed.

9 And whoso would not conforme themselues to the maners of the Gẽtiles, should be put to death: then might a man haue seene the present miserie.

10 For there were two women accused to haue circumcised their sonnes: whome when they had led rounde about the citie, the babes hanging at their breastes, they cast them downe headlongs ouer the walles.

11 Some that were crept in dennes, and had kept the Sabboth, were accused vnto Philip, & burnt in the fire, because that for the feare of God they kept the commandement so stifly, and would not defend themselues.

12 Nowe I beseeche all those which read this booke, that they refuse it not for these falles of aduersitie, and iudge the things that are happened, for no destruction, but for a chastening of our people.

13 And why? When God suffereth not sinners long to folowe their owne minde, but shortly punisheth them, it is a token of his great louing kindnesse.

14 For this grace haue we of God, more then other people, that he suffereth not vs long to sinne vnpunished, like as other nations:

15 That when the day of iudgement commeth, he may punish them in the fulnesse of their sinnes.

16 If

16 If we ſinne, he correcteth vs, but he neuer withdraweth his mercy from vs: and though he puniſh with aduerſitie, yet doeth he neuer forſake his people.

17 But let this that we haue ſpoken now with few words, be for a warning and exhortation ‖ of the heathen: now will we come to the declaring of the matter.

‖ Or, vnto vs.

18 Eleazar one of the principall Scribes, an aged man, and of a well fauoured countenãce, was conſtrayned to gape with open mouth, and to eate ſwines fleſh.

19 But he deſiring rather to dye gloriouſly, then to liue with ſhame, offered himſelfe willingly to the martyrdome.

20 Nowe when he ſawe that he muſt needes goe to it, he tooke it patiently: for he was at a poynt with himſelfe, that he would not conſent to any vnlawfull thing for any pleaſure of life.

21 They that [a] ſtoode by, being moued with pitie (but not aright) for the olde friendſhip of the man, tooke him aſide priuily, and prayed him that he woulde let ſuch fleſh be brought him as were lawful to eate, and then to make a countenance as though he had eaten of the fleſh of the ſacrifice, like as the king commaunded, a They that had the charge of that wicked banket.

22 For ſo he might be deliuered from death: and ſo for the olde friendſhip of the man, they ſhewed him this kindeneſſe.

23 But he begaune to conſyder diſcreetely, and as became his age, and the excellencie of his ancient yeeres, and the honour of his graye heares whereunto he was come, and his moſt honeſt conuerſation from his childehood, but chiefly the holy law made and giuẽ by God, therefore he anſwered conſequently, and willed them ſtraightwayes to ſende him to the graue:

24 For it becommeth not mine age, ſayde he, in any wiſe to diſſemble, whereby many yong perſons might thinke that Eleazar being foureſcore yeres olde and ten, were nowe gone to a ſtrange religion:

25 And ſo through mine hypocriſie for a little time of a tranſitorie life, they might be deceiued: by this meanes alſo ſhould I defile mine age, and make it abominable.

26 For though I were nowe deliuered from the torments of men, yet ſhould I not eſcape the hande of almightie God, neyther alyue nor dead.

27 Wherefore I will dye manfully, and doe as it becommeth mine age:

28 Whereby I may peraduenture leaue an example of ſtedfaſtneſſe for ſuch as be yong, if I with a ready minde, and manfully, dye an honeſt death for the moſt worthie & holy lawes. When he had ſayd theſe wordes, immediatly he was drawen to the torment.

29 Nowe they that led him, and were milde a litle afore, began to take diſpleaſure, becauſe of the wordes that he ſayde: for they thought he had ſpoken them of an high minde.

30 But when he was in his martyrdome, hee mourned and ſayde, Thou, O Lorde, which haſt the holy knowledge, knoweſt openly, that whereas I might be deliuered frõ death, I ſuffer theſe ſore paynes of my body: but in my minde I am well content to ſuffer them, becauſe I feare thee.

31 Thus this man dyed, leauing the memorial of his death for an example, not onely vnto yong men, but vnto all the people to be ſtedfaſt and manly.

The vii. Chapter.

The puniſhment of the ſeuen brethren, and of their mother.

1 IT happened alſo that there were ſeuen brethren with their mother taken, & compelled by the king againſt the lawe to eate ſwines fleſh, [namely] with ſcourges and leatherne whippes.

2 And one of them which was the chiefe, ſaid, What ſeekeſt thou, and what requireſt thou of vs? As for vs, we are ready rather to ſuffer death, then to offend the lawes of God and the fathers.

3 Then was the king angry, and bade heate cauldrons, and braſen pottes: which when they were made hot,

4 Immediatly he commaunded the tongue of him that ſpake firſt, to be cut out, to pull the ſkinne ouer his head, to pare the edges of his handes and feete, yea, and that in the ſight of his mother, and the other of his brethren.

5 Nowe when he was cleane mangled, he cõmanded a fire to be made, and ſo (while there was any breath in him) to be fried in the cauldron: In the which when he had bene long payned, the other brethren with their mother, exhorted him to dye manfully, ſaying,

6 The Lord God ſhall regarde the trueth, and comfort vs, like as Moſes teſtifieth and declareth in his ſong, [ſaying,] And he will * haue compaſſion on his ſeruants. * Deut. 32. 43.

7 So when the firſt was dead after this maner, they brought the ſeconde, to haue him in deriſion, pulled the ſkinne with the heare ouer his head, & aſked him if he would eate ſwines fleſh, per he were payned in the other members alſo thorowout his body.

8 But he anſwered in his owne language, and ſayde, I will not do it: and ſo he was tormented like as the firſt.

9 And when he was euen at the giuing vp of the ghoſt, he ſaid, Thou moſt vngratious perſon putteſt vs nowe to death: but the king of the worlde ſhall rayſe vs vp which dye for his lawes, in the reſurrection of euerlaſting life.

10 After him was the third had in deriſion, and when he was required, he put out his tongue, and that right soone, holding forth his hands manfully:

11 And spake with a stedfast faith, These haue I of heauen, but now for the lawes of God I despise them: for my trust is that I shall receyue them of him againe.

12 Insomuch that the king & they which were with him, marueiled at the yong mans boldnesse, that he nothing regarded the paynes.

13 Now when he was dead also, they vexed the fourth with torments in like maner.

14 So when he was now at his death, he sayd, It is better that wee, being put to death of men, haue our hope and trust in God, for he shal raise vs vp againe: as for thee, thou shalt haue no resurrection to life.

15 And when they had spoken to the fifth, they tormented him.

16 Then looked he vnto the king, and sayde, Thou hast power among men, for thou art a mortall man also thy selfe, to doe what thou wilt: but thinke not that God hath forsaken our generation.

17 Abide thee, tary still a whyle, and thou shalt see the great power of God, howe he will punish thee and thy seede.

18 After him they brought the sixth, which being at the poynt of death, sayd, Be not deceyued, O king: for this we suffer for our owne sakes, because we haue offended our God, and therefore marueylous things are shewed vpon vs.

19 But thinke not thou which takest in hande to stryue against God, that thou shalt escape vnpunished.

20 This excellent mother, worthie to be well reported of, and had in remembrance, sawe her seuen sonnes dye in one day, and suffered it patiently, because of the hope that shee had in God:

21 Yea, shee exhorted euery one of them in her countrey language, and that boldly and stedfastly with perfect wisedome, waking vp her wyuish thought with a manly stomacke, and sayd vnto them,

22 I can not tell how ye sprang in my wombe, for I neyther gaue you breath, nor soule, nor life, it is not I that ioyned the members of your bodies together,

23 But the maker of the worlde, which fashioned the birth of man, & began all things: euen he also of his owne mercy shal giue you breath and life againe, like as ye nowe regarde not your owne selues for his lawes sake.

24 Now thought Antiochus that she had despised him, therefore he let her goe with her reproofes, and began to exhort the yongest sonne which was yet left, not only with wordes, but swore vnto him with an othe, that he shoulde make him a rich & wealthie man, if he would forsake the lawes of his fathers: yea, and that he should giue him whatsoeuer were necessarie for him.

25 But when the yong man would not be moued for all these things, he called his mother, and counselled her to saue her sonnes life.

26 And when he had exhorted her with many wordes, shee promised him that shee woulde speake to her sonne.

27 So shee turned her vnto him, laughing the cruel tyrant to scorne, & spake in her country language, O my sonne, haue pitie vpon me, that bare thee nine moneths in my wombe, that gaue thee sucke, nourished thee, and brought thee vp vnto this age:

28 I beseech thee, my sonne, looke vpon heauen and earth, and all that is therein, and consider that God made them and mans generation of nought:

29 So shalt thou not feare this hangman, but suffer death stedfastly, like as thy brethren haue done: that I may receyue thee againe in the same mercie with thy brethren.

30 While she was yet speaking these wordes, the yong man sayde, Whome looke ye for: [wherefore doe ye tary:] I will not obey the kings commandement, but the law that God gaue vs by Moses.

31 As for thou that imaginest all mischiefe against the ‖ Iewes, thou shalt not escape the hand of God. ‖ Or, Hebrues 32 For we suffer these things because of our sinnes.

33 And though the liuing Lord be angrie with vs a litle while, for our chastening, and reformation, yet shall he be at one againe with his seruantes.

34 But thou, O godlesse man, and of all other the most wicked, pride not thy selfe through vayne hope, in being so malicious vpon the seruants of God:

35 For thou hast not yet escaped the iudgements of God, which is almightie, and seeth all things.

36 My brethren that haue suffered a litle paine, are nowe vnder the couenant of euerlasting life: but through the iudgement of God, thou shalt be punished righteously for thy pride.

37 As for me, like as my brethren haue done, I offer my ‖ soule and my body for the lawes of our fathers, calling vpon God, that he will soone be mercifull vnto our people, yea, and with payne & punishment to make thee grant that he onely is God. ‖ Or, life.

38 In me now and in my brethren the wrath of almightie God is at an ende, which righteously is fallen vpon all our people.

39 Then the king, being kindled in anger, was more cruell vpon him then vpon all the other, and tooke indignation that he was so lightly regarded.

40 So

40 So this yong man dyed vndefiled, and put his truſt ſtill in the Lord.
41 Laſt of all, after the ſonnes, was the mother put to death alſo.
42 Let this nowe be ynough ſpoken concerning the offerings and extreme cruelneſſe.

The viii. Chapter.

1 Iudas gathereth together his hoſte. 9 Nicanor is ſent againſt Iudas. 27 The Iewes giue thankes after they haue put their enemies to flight, deuiding the ſpoyles vnto the fatherleſſe and widowes.

1 THen Iudas Machabeus, and they that were with him, went priuily into the townes, called their kinſfolkes and friendes together, tooke vnto them all ſuch as continued yet in the faith and lawe of the Iewes, and brought forth ſixe thouſand men.
2 So they called vpō the Lord, that he would haue an eye vnto his people which was troden downe of euery man, to be gratious vnto the temple that was defiled of the vngodly,
3 To haue compaſſion vpon the deſtruction of the citie, which was ſhortly like to be layde waſte, to heare the voyce of the blood that cryed vnto him,
4 To remember the moſt vnrighteous deaths of yong innocent children, the blaſphemies alſo done vnto his name, and to puniſh them.
5 Nowe when Machabeus had gathered this multitude together, he was too mightie for the heathen: for the wrath of the Lorde was turned into mercie.
6 He fell vpon the townes & cities vnwares, burnt them, tooke the moſt commodious places, and ſlue many of the enemies:
7 But ſpecially he made ſuch chaſes by night, inſomuch that his manlineſſe was ſpoken of euery where.
8 So when Philip ſawe that the man encreaſed by litle and litle, and that the matter proſpered with him for the moſt part: he wrote vnto Ptolome, which was a captaine in Coeloſyria & Phenice, to helpe him in the kings buſineſſe.
9 Then ſent he Nicanor the ſonne of Patroclus, a ſpeciall friend of his, in all the haſte, & gaue him of the common ſort of the heathen, no leſſe then twentie thouſand harneſſed men, to roote out the whole generation of the Iewes, hauing to helpe him one Gorgias a man of warre, which in matters concerning battels had great experience.
10 Nicanor ordeyned alſo the tribute which the Romanes ſhoulde haue had to be giuen vnto the king out of the captiuitie of the Iewes, [namely,] two thouſand talents.
11 And immediatly he ſent to the cities of the ſea coaſt, requiring them for to buy Iewes to be their ſeruants and bondmen, promiſing to ſell them foure ſcore and tenne for one talent: but he conſidered not the wrath of almightie God that was to come vpon him.
12 When Iudas knewe of this, he tolde the Iewes that were with him of Nicanors comming.
13 Now were there ſome of them feareful, not truſting vnto the righteouſneſſe of God, and fled their way, and abode not in that place:
14 But the other ſold all that they had left, and beſought the Lorde to deliuer them from that wicked Nicanor, which had ſold them or euer he came nigh them:
15 And though he woulde not doe it for their ſakes, yet for the couenant that he made with their fathers, and becauſe they called vpon his holy and glorious name.
16 And ſo Machabeus called his men together, [namely,] about ſixe thouſande, exhorting them not to agree vnto their enemies, neither to be afrayd for the multitude of their aduerſaries comming againſt them vnrighteouſly, but to fight manly,
17 Conſidering the reproofe that they had done to the holy place without cauſe, how they had deſpiſed and oppreſſed the citie, yea, and deſtroyed the lawes of the fathers.
18 For they, ſayde he, truſt in their weapons, and boldneſſe: but our confidence is in the almightie Lord, which in the twynckling of an eye, may both deſtroy them that come againſt vs, and all the worlde.
19 * He exhorted them alſo to call to remembrance the helpe that God ſhewed vnto their fathers, as when there periſhed * an hundred foure ſcore and fiue thouſande of Sennacheribs people: 4. Reg. 19. 35. Eccle. 48. 24. eſai. 37. 36.
20 And of the battell that they had in Babylon againſt the Galathians: how all the Macedonians that came to helpe them, being foure thouſand, ſtoode in feare: and how they, being onely but ‖ ſixe thouſand, ſlue an hundred and twentie thouſand, through the helpe that was giuen them from heauen, whereby they alſo had receyued many benefites. ‖ Or, eight thouſand.
21 Through theſe wordes, the men tooke good heartes vnto them, ready to dye for the lawe and the countrey.
22 So he ſet vpon euery company a captaine, one of his owne brethren, Simon, Joſeph, and Jonathas, giuing eche one fifteene hundred men.
23 He cauſed ‖ Eſdras alſo to reade the holie booke vnto them, and to giue them a token of the helpe of God: then he himſelfe, being captaine in the forefront of the battell, buckled with Nicanor. ‖ Or, Eleazarus.
24 And God was their helpe, inſomuch that they ſlue aboue nyne thouſand men, and compelled the more part of Nicanors hoſte to flee, they were ſo wounded and feeble.
25 Thus they tooke the money from thoſe that came came to buy them, and followed vpon them on euery side.

26 But when the time came vpon them, they returned, for it was the day before the Sabboth, and therefore they followed no more vpon them.

27 So they tooke their weapons and spoyles, and kept the Sabboth, giuing thankes vnto the Lord, which had deliuered them that day, and shewed them the beginning of his mercy.

28 After the Sabboth, they distributed the spoyles to the sicke, to the fatherlesse, and to widowes, & the residue had they themselues, with theirs.

29 When this was done, and they all had made a generall prayer, they besought the merciful Lord to be at one with his seruants.

30 Of those also that were with Timotheus and Bacchides, which fought against them, they slue twentie thousande, wanne high and strong holdes, and diuided moe spoyles, euer giuing an equall portion vnto the sicke, to the fatherlesse, to widowes, and to aged persons.

31 And when they had diligētly gathered their weapons together, they layd them all in conuenient places, & the remnant of the spoyles brought they to Hierusalem.

32 They slue also Philarches that wicked person, which was with Timotheus, and had vexed many Iewes.

33 And when they helde the thankes giuing at Hierusalem for the victorie, they burnt those that had set fire on the portes of the temple, [namely,] Callisthenes, which was fled into an house, and so they gate a worthy rewarde for their wickednesse.

34 As for that most vngratious Nicanor, which had brought a thousande marchantes to buy the Iewes, 35 Hee was through the helpe of the Lorde brought downe, euen of them whom he regarded not: insomuch that he put off his glorious raiment, fled by sea, & came alone to Antioche with great shame & dishonour, which he gate through the destruction of his hoste.

36 Thus he that promised the Romanes to pay them their tribute whē he tooke Hierusalem, began now to say playnely, that God was the defender of the Iewes, and therefore not possible to wounde them, because they followed the lawes which God had made.

The ix. Chapter.

1 Antiochus willing to spoyle Persepolis, is driuen to flight. 9 As he persecuted the Iewes, he is stricken of the Lorde. 13 The fained repentance of Antiochus. 28 He dyeth.

1 AT the same time came Antiochus againe with dishonour out of Persia.

2 For when he came to Persepolis, & vndertooke to robbe the temple, and to subdue the citie, the people ran together, and defended themselues, insomuch that he and his were fayne to flee with shame: and so after that flight, it happened that Antiochus came againe with dishonour.

3 But when he came to Ecbatana, hee gate knowledge what was happened vnto Nicanor and Timotheus.

4 Nowe as he was auaunting himselfe in his wrath, he thought he was able to auenge the iniurie that was done to them vpon ỹ Iewes: and therefore commanding to make ready his charret, hasting on his iourney without ceassing, the iudgement of God prouoking him, because he had spoken so proudely, that hee woulde come to Hierusalem, and make it a graue of the Iewes.

5 But the Lorde God of Israel that seeth all things, smote him with an incurable and inuisible plague, [which no man could heale:] For as soone as he had spoken these wordes, there came vpon him an horrible paine of his bowels, and a sore griefe of the inner partes,

6 And that was but right: for he had martyred other mens bowels with diuers and strange torments.

7 Howbeit, he woulde in no wise ceasse from his malice: yea, he was yet the prouder & more malicious against the Iewes: but while he was cōmanding to make haste in the matter, it happened that he fell downe violētly from the charret that ranne swiftly, so that it bruysed his body, and did him great payne.

8 And so he that thought a litle before he might command the floods of the sea, (so proude was he beyond the condition of man) & to weygh the high mountaines in a payre of balance, was nowe brought downe to the ground, and caryed vpon an horselytter, knowledging the manifest power of God vpon him:

9 So that the wormes came out of the bodie of this wicked man in abundance: and whiles he was aliue, his flesh fell off for payne and torment, and all his armie was grieued at his ‖ smell.

‖ Or, rottennes.

10 Thus he that a litle afore thought he might reache to the starres of heauen, him might no man nowe abide nor beare, for the vehemencie of stinke.

11 Therefore he being brought from his great pride, beganne to come to the knowledge of himselfe, for the punishment of God warned him, and his payne encreased euer more and more.

12 And when he himselfe might not abide his owne stinke, he sayd these words, It is reason to be obedient vnto God, & that a man which is mortall, thinke not through pride, himselfe to be equall vnto God.

13 This wicked person prayed also vnto the Lorde, who nowe would haue no mercie vpon him:

14 And

14 And as for the citie that he came vnto so hastily, to bring it downe to the grounde, and to make it a graue for dead men, now he desireth to deliuer it free.

15 And as touching the Iewes whome he had iudged not worthie to be buryed, but would haue cast them out with their children, for to be deuoured of the foules and wilde beastes, [saying that he would haue destroyed both olde and yong,] nowe he promised to make them like the citizens of Athens.

16 And whereas he had spoyled the holy temple afore, now he maketh promise to garnish it with great gifftes, to encrease the holy ornaments, & of his owne rentes to beare the costs and charges belonging to the offerings:

17 Yea, and that he would also become a Iewe himselfe, to goe thorowe euery place of the world that was inhabited, and to preache the power of God.

18 But when his paynes would not ceasse (for the righteous iudgement of God was come vpõ him) out of a very despaire he wrote vnto the Iewes a letter of intercession, conteyning these wordes:

19 The king and prince Antiochus, wisheth vnto the vertuous citizens of ỹ Iewes, much health, and good prosperitie.

20 If ye and your children fare well, and if all things goe after your minde, we giue great thankes.

21 In my sickenesse also do I remember you louingly: for as I came out of Persia, and was taken with sore disease, I thought it necessarie to care for the common wealth:

22 Neyther despayre I in my selfe, but haue a good hope to escape this sickenesse.

23 But considering that my father led an hoste sometime in the hygher places, and shewed who should reigne after him,

24 That if there happened any controuersie, or any hard thing were declared, they in the land might knowe their chiefe lorde, that there should be no insurrection:

25 Againe, when I ponder with my selfe how that all the mightie men, & neighbours round about, are laying wayte, and looke but for opportunitie to do harme: I haue ordeyned, that my sonne Antiochus shall reygne after mee, whom I oft cõmended to many of you when I was in the higher kingdomes, & haue written vnto him as it foloweth hereafter.

26 Therefore I pray you, and require you, to remember the benefites that I haue done vnto you generally, and in especial, & that euery man will be faithfull to me and my sonne.

27 For I hope that he shall be of sober and louing behauiour, and if he folow my deuice, he shalbe indifferent vnto you.

28 Thus that murderer & blasphemer of God was sore smitten: and like as he had entreated other men, so he dyed a miserable death in a strange countrey vpon a mountaine:

29 And his body, did Philip that went with him, carry away, which fearing the sonne of Antiochus, went into Egypt to Ptolome Philometor.

The x. Chapter.

Iudas Machabeus taketh the citie and ỹ temple. 10 He beginneth to shewe the acte of Eupator. 29 Fiue men appeare in the ayre to the helpe of the Iewes. 39 Timothie is slayne.

1 MAchabeus nowe and his companie, through the helpe of the Lord, wanne the temple and the citie againe,

2 Destroyed the altars and chappels that the heathen had buylded thorow the streetes,

3 Cleansed the temple, made another altar of hicke stone, and after two yeeres they offered sacrifices, set forth the incense, the lights, and shewe bread.

4 When that was done, they fell downe flatte vpon the ground, and besought the Lord that they might come no more into such trouble: but if they sinned any more against him, hee himselfe to chasten them with mercy, and not to come into the handes of those aliantes, and blasphemous men.

5 Now vpon the same day that the strangers polluted the temple, it happened that on the very same day it was cleansed againe, [namely] the twentie and fifth day of the moneth called ‖ Casleu. ‖Or, Nouember.

6 They kept eyght dayes in gladnesse, like as in the feast of the tabernacles, remembring that not long afore they held the feast of the tabernacles vpon the mountaynes, and in dennes, like beastes.

7 And for the same token they bare greene bowes, branches, and palmes, & sung psalmes before him that had giuen them good successe to cleanse his place.

8 They agreed also together, and made a statute, that euery yeere those dayes should be solemnely kept of all the people of the Iewes.

9 Howe Antiochus then, that was called the noble, dyed, it is sufficiently tolde.

10 Nowe will we speake of Eupator the sonne of that wicked Antiochus, howe it happened with him, and so with fewe wordes to comprehende the aduersitie that chaunced in the warres.

11 When he had taken in the kingdome, he made one Lysias, which had bene captaine of the hoste in Phenice and ‖ Syria, ruler ouer the matters of the realme. ‖Or, Coelosyria.

12 For Ptolome, that was called Macron, being a rulet for the Iewes, and specially to sit in iudgement for such wrong as was done vnto thẽ, vndertooke to deale peaceably with them.

13 For

13 For the which cause he was accused of his friendes before Eupator: and when he was suspect to be a traytour, because he had left Cyprus, that Philometor had cõmitted vnto him, and because he departed from noble Antiochus that he was come vnto, he poysoned himselfe, and dyed.

14 Now when Gorgias was gouernour of the same places, he tooke strangers, and vndertooke oft times to warre with the Iewes.

15 Moreouer, the Idumeans that helde the strong holdes, receyued those that were driuen from Hierusalem, and tooke in hand to warre also.

16 But they that were with Machabeus, besought and prayed vnto the Lorde, that he would be their helper, and so they fell vpon the strong holdes of the Idumeans, 17 And wan many places by strength: such as came against them they slue, & killed no lesse of all together then twentie thousand.

18 Neuertheless, some, no lesse then nine thousande, were fled into two strong townes, hauing all maner of ordinance to withstande them.

19 Then Machabeus leauing Simon, Joseph, Zacheus, & those that were with them, which were very many, went to besiege them, and to fight where most neede was.

20 Nowe they that were with Simon, being led with couetousnesse, were entreated for money, through certaine of those that lay in the castles, and tooke three score & ten thousande [a] drachmas, and let some of them escape.

a A drachma is the eyght part of an ounce, which is about three pence.

21 But when it was tolde Machabeus what had happened, he called the captaines of the people together, accusing those persons that they had solde the brethren for money, and let their enemies goe.

22 So he slue those traytours, and immediatly went in hand with the two castles.

23 And when they had ordered thẽselues manly with their weapons & handes, they slue in the two castles moe then twentie thousand.

24 Nowe Timotheus, whome the Iewes had ouercome afore, gathered a multitude of strange people, brought an hoste also of horsemen of the Asians, to win Jurie by strength.

25 But when he drewe nygh, Machabeus and they that were with him, fell to their prayer, sprinkled ashes vpon their heads, being gyrded with hearie cloth about their loynes,

26 Fell downe before the altar, & besought the Lord that he would be mercifull to them, but an enemie vnto their enemies, and to take part against their aduersaries, according as it is promised in the lawe.

27 So after the prayer they tooke their weapons, and went on further from the citie: and when they came nygh the enemies, they prepared themselues against them.

28 And betimes in the morning at the breake of the day, both the hostes buckled together: the one part had the Lorde for their refuge, which is the giuer of prosperitie, strength, and victorie, the other had a manly stomacke, which is a captaine of warre.

29 The battell nowe being great, there appeared vnto the enemies from heauen fiue goodly men vpon horsebackes, with bridles of golde, leading the Iewes:

30 And two of them hauing Machabeus betwixt them, that kept him safe on euery side with their weapons, but shot dartes & lightnings vpon the enemies, wherethrough they were confounded with blindenesse, and so sore afrayde, that they fell downe.

31 There were slayne of footemẽ twentie thousand & fiue hundred, & sixe hundred horsemen.

32 As for Timotheus himselfe, he fled vnto Gazara, a very strong holde, wherein Chereas was captaine.

33 But Machabeus & his company layde siege to it chearefully foure dayes.

34 Nowe they that were within, trusting to the strength of the place, cursed and banned exceedingly, and made great craking with wicked wordes.

35 Neuertheless, vpon the fifth day in the morning, twentie yong men of Machabeus companie, being set on fire in their mindes, because of the blasphemie, came manfully vnto the wall, and with bolde stomackes smote downe those that they met.

36 Others also climed vp vpon the towers, vndertaking to set fire vpon the portes, and to burne those blasphemous persons quicke with the fires that they had made: others brake open the gates, and receyued the rest of the armie, and tooke the citie.

37 Two dayes were they destroying the castle, which when they found Timotheus that was crept in a corner, they killed him, and slewe Chereas his brother in like maner, with Apollophanes.

38 When this was done, they sung Psalmes with prayses & thanks giuing vnto the Lord, which had done so great things for Israel, and giuen them the victorie.

The xi. Chapter.

1 Lysias goeth about to ouercome the Iewes. 8 Succour is sent from heauen vnto the Iewes.

1 NOt long after this, Lysias the kings steward, and a kinseman of his, which had the gouernance of his matters, tooke sore displeasure for the things that had happened.

2 And when he had gathered fourescore thousand men of foote, with al the hoste of the horsemen, he came against the Iewes, thinking to winne the citie, to make it an habitacion for the heathen:

3 And

3 And the temple woulde he haue to be an houſe of lucre, like as the other gods houſes of the heathen are, and to ſell the prieſts office euery yeere,

4 Not conſidering the power of God, but was wilde in his minde, truſting in the multitude of footemen, in thouſands of horſemen, and in his foure ſcore Elephants.

5 So he came into Iurie, and then to Bethſura, a caſtle of defence, lying in a narrow place, fiue furlongs from Hieruſalem, and layd ſore ſiege vnto it.

6 Nowe when Machabeus and his companie knewe that his ſtrong holdes were beſieged, they fell to their prayers with weeping and teares before the Lorde: and all the people in like maner beſought him, that he would ſend a good angel to deliuer Iſrael.

7 Machabeus himſelfe was the firſt that made him ready to ꝑ battel, exhorting the other that were with him, to ieopard themſelues, and to helpe their brethren.

8 And when they were going forth of Hieruſalem together with a ready & willing minde, there appeared before them vpon horſebacke, a man in white clothing, with harneſſe of golde, ſhaking his ſpeare.

9 Then they prayſed the Lord all together, which had ſhewed them mercie, and were comforted in their mindes, inſomuch that they were ready not only to fight with men, but with the moſt cruell beaſtes, yea, & runne thorow walles of yron.

10 Thus they went on willingly, hauing an helper from heauen, and the Lorde mercifull vnto them,

11 They fell mightily vpon their enemies like Lions, ſlewe eleuen thouſande footemen, ſixteene hundred horſemen, and put all the other to flight, 12 Many of them being wounded, and ſome gate away naked: yea, Lyſias himſelfe was fayne to flee ſhamefully, and ſo to eſcape.

13 Neuertheleſſe, that man was not without vnderſtanding, but conſidered by himſelfe that his power was miniſhed, and pondered howe the Iewes, being defended by the helpe of almightie God, were not able to be ouercome: wherefore he ſent them worde, 14 And promiſed that he would conſent to all things which were reaſonable, and to make the king their friende.

15 To the which prayer of Lyſias, Machabeus agreed, ſeeking in all things the common wealth: and whatſoeuer Machabeus wrote vnto Lyſias concerning the Iewes, the king graunted it.

16 For there were letters written vnto the Iewes from Lyſias, conteining theſe words, Lyſias ſendeth greeting to the people of the Iewes, 17 Iohn and ‖ Abſalon which were ſent from you, deliuered me writings, & required me to fulfill the things concerning their errande. ‖ Or, Abſalom.

18 Therefore looke what might be granted, I certified the king therof: and whatſoeuer was conuenient, he agreed thereto.

19 If ye nowe will be faithfull in theſe matters, I ſhal endeuour my ſelfe hereafter alſo to do you good.

20 As concerning theſe things, by euery article thereof, I haue committed them to your meſſengers, & to thoſe whom I ſent vnto you to cõmune with you of the ſame particularly.

21 Fare ye well. In the hundred fourtie and eyght yeere, the twentie and fourth day of the moneth Dioſcorinthius.

22 Nowe the kings letter conteyned theſe wordes, King Antiochus ſendeth greeting vnto his brother Lyſias:

23 Forſomuch as our father is nowe tranſlated vnto the gods, our will is, that they which are in our realme, liue without any inſurrection, and euery man to be diligent in his owne matters.

24 We vnderſtand alſo that the Iewes would not conſent to our father for to be brought vnto the cuſtome of the Gentiles, but ſtiffely to keepe their owne ſtatutes, for the which cauſe they require of vs alſo to let them remayne ſtill after their owne lawes.

25 Wherefore our minde is, that this people ſhalbe in reſt: we haue concluded and determined alſo to reſtore them their temple againe, that they may liue according to the vſe and cuſtome of their forefathers.

26 Thou ſhalt doe vs a pleaſure therefore, if thou ſend vnto them, and graunt them peace: that whē they are certified of our minde, they may be of good cheare, and looke to their owne wealth.

27 And this was the letter that the king wrote vnto the Iewes, King Antiochus ſendeth greeting vnto the counſell, and the other people of the Iewes, 28 If ye fare well, we haue our deſire: as for vs, we are in good health.

29 Menelaus came and tolde vs how that your deſire was to returne home, and peaceably to enioy your owne poſſeſſions.

30 Wherefore, thoſe that will come, we giue them free libertie vnto the thirtieth day of the moneth of ‖ April, ‖ Zanthicus.

31 That they may vſe the meates of the Iewes, and their owne lawes, like as afore, and none of them by any maner of waies to haue harme for things done in ignorance.

32 I haue ſent alſo Menelaus, that hee may comfort you.

33 Fare ye well. In the hundred fourtie and eyght yeere, the fifteenth day of the moneth of April.

34 The Romanes also sent a letter, conteining these wordes, Quintus Memmius, and Titus Manilius, ambassadours of the Romanes, send greeting vnto the people of the Jewes.

35 Looke what Lysias the kings kinsman hath graunted you, we graunt you the same also.

36 But as concerning the things which he referred vnto the king, sende hither some with speede, and ponder the matter diligently among your selues, that we may ‖ cast the best to your profite: for we must depart now vnto Antioch.

‖Or, consult.

37 And therefore write shortly againe, that we may knowe your minde.

38 Farewell. In the hundred fourtie and eight yeere, the fifteenth day of the moneth of Aprill.

The xii. Chapter.

2 Timotheus troubleth the Iewes. 3 The wicked deede of them of Ioppa against the Iewes.

1 WHen these couenants were made, Lysias went vnto the king: and the Jewes tilled their ground.

2 But Timotheus & Apollonius the sonne of Jennei, Jerome, & Demophon [the proud,] Nicanor ỹ captaine of Cypers, and they that lay in those places, woulde not let them liue in rest and peace.

3 They of Joppa also did euen such a shamefull deede: they prayed the Jewes that dwelt among them, to goe with their wiues & children into the shippes which they had prepared, and did with them as though they had ought them no euill will:

4 For so much then as there was gone foorth a generall proclamation thorowe the citie because of peace, they consented thereto, and suspect nothing: but when they were gone foorth into the deepe, they drowned no lesse then two hundred of them.

5 When Judas knew of this crueltie shewed vnto his people, he commanded those that were with him to make them ready,

6 Exhorting them to call vpon God ỹ righteous iudge, went foorth against those murderers of his brethren, set fire in the hauen by night, burnt vp the ships: & those that escaped from the fire, he slue [with the sword.]

7 And when he had done this, he departed, as though he would come againe, and roote out all them of Joppa.

8 But when he had gotten word that ỹ Jamnites were minded to doe in like maner vnto the Jewes which dwelt among them,

9 He came vpon the Jamnites by night, & set fire on the hauen, with the shippes: so that the light of the fire was seene at Hierusalem, vpon a two hundred and fourtie furlongs.

10 Nowe when they were gone from thence nine furlongs in their iourney towarde Timotheus, fiue thousande men on foote, and fiue hundred horsemen of ỹ Arabians fought with him.

11 So when the battell was earnest, & prospered with Judas through the helpe of God, the residue of the [a] Arabians being ouercome, besought Judas to be at one with them, & promised to giue him certaine ‖ pastures, and to doe him good in other things.

[a] The Nomades of Arabia, so called, because they were shepheardes.

‖Or, cattell.

12 Judas thinking that they should in deede be profitable concerning many things, promised them peace, wherevpō they shooke hands, and so they departed to their tentes.

13 Judas went also vnto a citie, which was very fast kept with bridges, fenced rounde about with walles, and diuers kindes of people dwelling therein, called Caspin.

14 They that were within it, put such trust in the strength of the walles, and in their store of victuals, that they were the slacker in their doings, cursing and reuiling Judas with blasphemies, and speaking such wordes as it becommeth not.

15 But Machabeus calling vpon the great prince of the world (which without any battaile rammes or ordinances of warre, did cast downe the walles of * Jericho in the time of Josuah) fell manfully vpon the walles, Iosu. 6. 20.

16 Tooke the citie, and through the helpe of the Lord made an exceeding great slaughter: in so much that a lake of two furlongs broad, which lay thereby, seemed to flowe with the blood of the slaine.

17 Then departed they from thence seuen hundred & fiftie furlongs, and came to ‖ Taraca, vnto the Jewes that are called Tubianei.

‖Or, Characa.

18 But as for Timotheus, they could not get him there: for (not one matter dispatched) he was departed from thence, and had left certaine men in a very strong hold.

19 But Dositheus, & Sosipater, which were captaines with Machabeus, slue those that Timotheus had left in the house of defence, more then ten thousand men.

20 And Machabeus prepared him with the fyre thousand men that were about him, set them in order by companies, & went foorth against Timotheus, which had with him an hundred and twentie thousand men of foote, two thousand and fiue hundred horsemen.

21 When Timotheus had knowledge of Judas comming, he sent the women, children, and the other baggage vnto a castle called Carnion: for it could not be wonne, and was hard to come vnto, the wayes of the same places were so narrowe.

22 And when Judas his first band came in sight, the enemies were smitten with feare through the presence of God, which seeth all things: in so much that they fleeing one here, another there, were rather discomfited of their owne people, and wounded with the strokes of their owne swordes.

23 Judas also was very earnest in following vpon them, punishing those vngodly, and slue thirtie thousand men of them.

24 Timotheus also himselfe fel into the hands of Dositheus and Sosipater, whom hee besought with much craft to let him goe with his life, because he had many of the Jewes fathers and brethren in prison: which, if they put him to death, should be despised.

25 So when he had promised faithfully to deliuer them againe according to the condition made, they let him goe without harme, for the health of the brethren.

26 Then Machabeus marched forth to Carnion, and Atargation, and there slue twentie and fiue thousand men.

27 Now after that he had chased away & slaine his enemies, he remooued the hoste towarde Ephron, a strong citie, wherein was Lysias, and a great multitude of diuers nations: and the strong young men kept the walles, defending them mightily: In this citie was much ordinance and prouision of dartes.

28 But when Judas & his company had called vpon almightie God, which with his power breaketh the strength of the enemies, they wanne the citie, and slue twentie & fiue thousand of them that were within.

29 From thence went they to the citie of the ‖Scythians, which lyeth sixe hundred furlongs from Hierusalem. ‖Or, Sythopolis.

30 But when the Jewes which were in the citie, testified that the citizens dealt louingly with them, yea, and entreated them kindly in the time of their aduersitie, 31 Judas & his company gaue them thankes, desiring them to be friendly still vnto them: and so they came to Hierusalem, the high feast of weekes being at hand.

32 And after the feast of Pentecost, they went forth against Gorgias the gouernour of Idumea, 33 Who came out with three thousand men of foote, and foure hundred horsemen.

34 Which when they met together, it chanced a fewe of the Jewes to be slaine.

35 And Dositheus one of the Bacenors, a mightie horseman, tooke holde of Gorgias, and would haue taken him quicke: but an horseman of Thracia fell vpon him, & smote of his arme, so that Gorgias escaped, and fled into ‖ Moresa. ‖Or, Maresa.

36 When they nowe that were of ‖ Gorgias side, had foughten long, and were wearie, Judas called vpon the Lorde, that he would be their helper, and captaine of the fielde: ‖Or, Esdrin.

37 And with that he began in his owne language, and sung Psalmes with a loud voice, in so much that he made the enemies afraid, & Gorgias men of warre tooke their flight.

38 So Judas gathered his hoste, and came into the citie of Odolla: and when the seuenth day came vpō them, they cleansed themselues as the custome was, and kept the Sabboth in the same place.

39 And vpon the day folowing, as necessitie required, Judas and his company came to take vp the bodies of them that were slaine, and to burie them in their fathers graues.

40 Nowe vnder the coates of certaine Jewes which were slaine, they founde iewels that they had taken [out of the temple, and] from the idoles of the Jamnites, *which thing is forbidden the Jewes by the lawe: then euery man saw that this was the cause wherefore they were slaine. *Deut. 7. 25.

41 And so euery man gaue thankes vnto the Lorde for his righteous iudgement, which had opened the thing that was hid.

42 They fel downe also vnto their prayers, & besought God that ỹ fault which was made, might be put out of remembrance: Besides that, Judas exhorted the people earnestly to keepe themselues frō such sinne, for so much as they sawe before their eyes that these men were slaine for the same offence.

43 So he gathered of euery one a certaine, and sent two thousande drachmes of siluer vnto Hierusalem, that there might a sacrifice be offered for the misdeede: in the which he did well and right, for he had some consideration and pondering of the life that is after this time.

44 For if he had not thought that they which were slaine should rise againe, it had bene superfluous and vaine to make any vowe or sacrifice for them that were dead.

45 But for so much as he sawe that they which die in the fauour and beliefe of God, are in good rest and ioy, he thought it to be good and honourable for a reconciling, to doe the same for those which were slaine, that the offence might be forgiuen.

The xiii. Chapter.

1 The comming of Eupator into Iurie. 4 The death of Menelaus.

1 IN the hundred fourtie and nine yeere, gat Judas knowledge that Antiochus Eupator was comming with a great power into Jurie,

2 And Lysias the Stewarde and ruler of his matters with him, hauing an hundred and ten thousande men of foote of the Grecians, fiue thousande horsemen, twentie and two Elephantes, and three hundred charrets set with hookes.

3 Menelaus also ioyned himselfe with them, but with great deceite, spake faire to the king, not for any good to the countrey, but because he thought to haue bene made some great great man of authoritie.

4 But the king of kings mooued Antiochus minde against this vngodly person, and Lysias enfourmed the king that this Menelaus was the cause of all mischiefe: so that the king commanded to bring him vnto Berea, and as the maner of them is, to put him vnto death in the same place.

5 There was also in the same place a towre of fiftie cubites high, heaped with ashes: and it had an instrument that turned round, and on euery side it rolled downe into the ashes, and there whosoeuer was condemned of sacrilege, or of any other grieuous crime, was cast of all men vnto the death.

6 Whereinto the king commanded ỳ shamefull person to be cast among the ashes, as one that was cause of all vngratiousnesse.

7 And reason it was that the vnthrift shoulde die such a death, and not to be buried:

8 For he had done much mischiefe vnto the altar of God, whose fire and ashes were holy: therefore was it right that he himselfe also should be destroyed with ashes.

9 But the king was wood in his minde, and came to shewe himselfe more cruell vnto the Iewes then his father was.

10 Which when Iudas perceiued, he commanded the people to call vpon the Lorde night and day, that he would now helpe them also, like as he had done alway: for they were afraide to be put from their lawe, from their naturall countrey, and from the holy temple:

11 And not to suffer the people which a little while afore began to recouer, to be subdued againe of the blasphemous nations.

12 So when they had done this together, and besought the Lord for mercy, with weeping and fasting three dayes long, flat vpon the ground, Iudas exhorted them to make themselues ready,

13 But he and the elders together deuised to goe foorth [first with the people,] afore the king brought his hoste into Iurie, and afore he besieged the citie, and so to commit the matter vnto God.

14 Wherefore he committed the charge of all things vnto God the maker of all the world, exhorting his people to fight manfully, yea, euen vnto death, for the lawes, the temple, the citie, their owne native countrey, and to defende the citizens: and he set his hoste before Modin.

15 He gaue them also that were with him a token of the victorie of God, choosing out the manliest young men, went by night into the kings pauilion, slue of ỳ hoste fourteene thousand men, and the greatest of the Elephantes, with those that sate vpon them.

16 Thus when they had brought a great feare and rumour among the tentes of their enemies, and all things went prosperously with them, 17 They departed in the breake of the day, God being their helper and defender.

18 Nowe when the king perceiued the manlinesse of the Iewes, he went about to take the strong places by craft, 19 And remooued his hoste vnto Bethsura, which was a well kept house of defence of the Iewes: but they were chased away, hurt, and discomfited.

20 And Iudas sent vnto them that were in it, such things as were necessarie.

21 In the Iewes host also there was one Rhodochus, which told the enemies their secrets: but they sought him out, and when they had gotten him, they put him in prison.

22 After this did ỳ king commune with them that were in Bethsura, tooke truice with thē, departed, and strooke a battaile with Iudas, which ouercame him.

23 But when he vnderstoode that Philip, whō he had left to be ouerseer of this businesse at Antioch, began to rebel against him, he was astonied in his minde, so that he yeelded himselfe to the Iewes, & made them an othe to doe whatsoeuer they thought right.

24 Nowe when he was reconciled with them, he offered, made much of the temple, gaue great giftes vnto it, 25 Embraced Machabeus, making him captaine and gouernour from Ptolomais vnto the Gerrhenes.

26 Neuertheless, whē he came to Ptolomais, the people of the citie were not content with the bond of friendship: for they were afraide that he would breake the couenant.

27 Then went Lysias vp into the iudgement seate, and excused the fact as wel as he could, and enfourmed the people, shewed them the cause why, and pacified them: so he came againe to Antioche. This is nowe the matter concerning the kings iourney, and his returne.

The xiiii. Chapter.

By the motion of Alcimus, Demetrius sendeth Nicanor to kill the Iewes.

1 AFter three yeeres was Iudas infourmed how that Demetrius the sonne of Seleucus was come vp with a great power and shippes, through the hauen of Tripolis,

2 To take certaine commodious places and countreyes, against Antiochus and his captaine Lysias.

3 Now Alcimus, which had bene high priest, and wilfully defiled himselfe in the time of the mixting, seeing that by no meanes he could be helped, nor haue any more entrance to the altar,

4 He came to king Demetrius in the hundred, fiftie and one yeere, presenting vnto him a crowne of gold, a palme, and an Olive tree, which as men thought belonged to the temple: and that day held his tongue.

5 But when he had gotte opportunitie for his madnesse, Demetrius called him to counsell, and asked him what things or counsels the Jewes leaned vnto:

6 He answered, The Jewes that be called Assidei (whose captaine is Judas Machabeus) mainteine warres, make insurrections, and will not let the realme be in peace.

7 For I being depriued of my fathers honour (I meane y high priesthood) am come hither:

8 Partly, because I was faithfull vnto the king, and partly, because I sought the profite of mine owne citizens: And why? all our people through the wickednesse of them are not a litle troubled.

9 Wherefore I beseech thee, O king, consider all these things diligently, and then make some prouision for the land and the people, according to the kindnesse that thou hast offered vnto them.

10 For as long as Judas liueth, it is not possible that men can liue in peace.

11 When he had spoken these wordes, other friends also hauing euil will at Judas, set the king Demetrius on fire [against him.]

12 Which immediatly sent Nicanor, ruler of the Elephantes, a captaine in Jurie, 13 Commanding him to slay Judas, & to scatter them that were with him, and to make Alcimus high priest of the great temple.

14 Then the heathen, which fled out of Jurie from Judas, came to Nicanor by flockes, thinking the harme and decay of the Jewes to be their welfare.

15 Now when the Jewes heard of Nicanors comming, and the gathering together of the heathen, * they sprinkled themselues with earth, and besought him which made them his people, and euer defended his owne portion with euident tokens, that he would preserue them still.

2.Mac.10.25.

16 So at the commandement of the captaine they remooued straightwayes from thence, and came to a towne called Dessau.

17 And Simon Judas brother fell in hand with Nicanor: but through the sodaine ‖ comming of the enemies, he was afraide.

‖ Or, silence.

18 Neuertheless, Nicanor hearing the manlinesse of them that were with Judas, and the bolde stomackes that they had to fight for their naturall countrey, durst not proue the matter with bloodshedding.

19 Wherefore he sent Posidonius, ‖ Theodonus, and Matthias, before, to giue and to take peace.

‖ Or, Theodosius, Matthias.

20 So when they had taken long aduisement thereupon, and the captaine shewed it vnto the multitude, they were agreed in one minde to haue peace.

21 And they appointed a day to sit vpon these matters quietly amõg themselues, & for euery one stooles also were brought, & set forth.

22 Neuertheless, Judas commanded certaine men of armes to waite in conuenient places, least there should suddenly arise any euill through the enemies: and so they communed reasonably together.

23 Nicanor, while he abode at Hierusalem, ordered himselfe not vnreasonably, but sent away the people that were gathered together.

24 He loued Judas euer with his heart, and fauoured him.

25 He prayed him also to take a wife, and to bring forth children. So he married, liued in rest, and they led a common life.

26 But Alcimus perceiuing the loue that was betwixt them, and how they were agreed together, came to Demetrius, and told him that Nicanor had taken strange matters in hand, and ordeined Judas, an enemy of the realme, to be the kings successour.

27 Then the king was sore displeased, and through the wicked accusations which Alcimus made of Nicanor, he was so prouoked, that he wrote vnto Nicanor, saying that he was very angry for the friendship and agreement which he had made with Machabeus, neuertheless, he commanded him in all the haste that he should take Machabeus prisoner, and send him to Antioch.

28 Which [letters] when Nicanor had seene, he was at his wits end, & sore grieued, that he should breake the things wherein they had agreed, specially seeing Machabeus was that man that neuer did him harme.

29 But because he might not withstande the king, he sought opportunitie to fulfil his commandement.

30 Notwithstanding, when Machabeus sawe that Nicanor began to be churlish vnto him, and that he entreated him more roughly then he was wont, he perceiued that such vnkindnesse came not of good, and therefore he gathered a fewe of his men, and withdrew himselfe from Nicanor.

31 Which when he knew that Machabeus had manfully preuented him, he came into the great and most holy temple, and commanded the priestes which were doing their vsuall offerings, to deliuer him the man.

32 And when they sware that they coulde not tell where the man was, whom he sought,

33 He stretched out his right hand toward the temple, and made an othe, saying, * If ye will not deliuer me Judas captiue, I shal remoue this temple of God into the plaine fielde, I shall breake downe the altar, and consecrate this temple vnto Bacchus,

1.Mac.7.35.

34 After

34 After these wordes, he departed. Then the priests lift vp their handes towarde heauen, and besought him that was euer the defender of their people, saying,

35 Thou, O Lorde of all, which hast neede of nothing, wouldest that the temple of thy habitation should be among vs:

36 Therfore now, O most holy Lord, keepe this house euer vndefiled, which lately was cleansed, & stop all the mouthes of ỹ vnrighteous.

37 Now was there accused vnto Nicanor one Razis, an Alderman of Hierusalem, a louer of the whole citie, and a man of good report, which for the kind heart that he bare vnto the people, was called a father of the Iewes.

38 This man oft times when the Iewes were minded to keepe themselues vndefiled, defended and deliuered them, being content stedfastly to spend his body and his life for his people.

39 So Nicanor willing to declare ỹ hate that he bare to the Iewes, sent fiue hundred men of warre to take him.

40 For he thought if he gate him, he shoulde bring the Iewes in great decay.

41 Now when the people began to rush in at his house, to breake the doores, & to set fire on it, he being now taken, [a] fel vpon his sworde, a This fact is not to be approoued, for that it is contrary to Gods commandement, Thou shalt not kil.

42 Choosing rather to die manfully, then to yeelde himselfe to those wicked doers: and because of his noble stocke, he had rather haue bene put to extreme crueltie.

43 Notwithstanding, what time he missed of his stroke for haste, and ỹ multitude rushed in violently betwixt the doores, he ranne boldly to the wal, and cast himselfe downe manfully among the heape of them:

44 Which gaue soone place to his fall, so that he fell vpon his belly.

45 Neuertheless, while there was yet breath within him, being kindled in his minde, he rose vp, and while his blood gushed out exceedingly (for he was very sore wounded) he ran through the middest of the people, and gate him to the toppe of a rocke.

46 So whē his blood was now gone, he tooke out his owne bowels, & with both his handes threwe them vpon the people, calling vpon the Lord of life and spirit to reward him this againe: and so he died.

The xv. Chapter.

1 Nicanor goeth about to come vpon Iudas on the Sabboth day. 5 The blasphemie of Nicanor.

1 NOwe when Nicanor knewe that Iudas & his companie were in the countrey of Samaria, he thought with all his power to strike a fielde with him vpon a Sabboth day.

2 Neuertheless, the Iewes that were compelled to goe with him, said, O doe not so cruelly and vnkindly, but halow the Sabboth day, and worship him that seeth all things.

3 [For all this] yet said ỹ vngratious person, Is there a mightie one in heauen that commanded the Sabboth day to be kept?

4 And whē they said, Yea, the liuing God, the mightie Lorde in heauen commanded the seuenth day to be kept,

5 He saide, And I am mightie vpon earth, to commande them for to arme themselues, and to performe the kings businesse: Notwithstanding, he might not haue his purpose.

6 Nicanor had deuised ỹ great pride to ouercome Iudas, and to bring away the victorie:

7 But Machabeus had euer a fast confidence and a perfect hope in God, that he woulde helpe him,

8 And exhorted his people not to be afraide at the comming of the heathen: but alway to remember the helpe ỹ had bene shewed vnto thē from heauen, yea, & to be sure now also ỹ almightie God would giue them the victorie.

9 He spake vnto them out of the lawe & Prophets, putting them in remembrance of the battailes that they had striken afore, & made them to be of good courage.

10 So when their heartes were pluckt vp, he shewed them also the deceitfulnesse of the Heathen, and how they would keepe no couenant nor othe.

11 Thus he weaponed them, not with the armour of shield and speare, but with wholsome wordes and exhortations, he shewed them a dreame also worthy to be beleeued, wherethrough he made them all glad.

12 Which was this: He thought that he sawe Onias, which had bene high priest, a vertuous and louing man, sad, and of honest conuersation, well spoken, and one that had bene exercised in godlinesse from a childe, holding vp his handes toward heauen, and praying for his people.

13 After this, there appeared vnto him another man, which was aged, honourable, and glorious.

14 And Onias said, This is a louer of the brethren, and of the people of Israel: this is he that prayeth much for the people, & for all the holy citie, Jeremie the Prophet of God.

15 He thought also that Jeremie helde out his right hand, and gaue vnto Iudas a sworde of golde, saying, 16 Take this holy sworde, a gift from God, wherewith thou shalt smite downe the enemies of the people of Israel.

17 And so they were well comforted through the words of Iudas, which were very sweete, and able to stirre vp their courage, and tooke courage vnto them, so that the young men were determined in their mindes to fight, and to abide stiffely at it, in so much that in the things which they tooke in hande, their boldnesse shewed the same, because the holy citie, ỹ sanctuarie, & the temple were in peril, 18 For the which they tooke more care, then for their wiues, children, brethren, and kinsfolkes.

19 Againe, they that were in the citie, were most carefull for those which were to fight.
20 Now when they were all in a hope that the iudgement of the matter was at hand, and the enemies drew nigh, the hoste being set in aray, the Elephantes and horsemen euery one standing in his place, 21 Machabeus considering the comming of the multitude, the ordinance of diuers weapons, the cruelnesse of the beasts, held vp his hands toward heauen, calling vpon the Lorde that doeth wonders, which giueth not the victorie after the multitude of weapons, and power of the hoste, but to them that please him, according to his owne will.
22 Therefore in his prayer he said these words,
4. Kings. 19. 35. tobi. 2. 21. eccle. 48. 24. esai 37. 36. * O Lord, thou that diddest send thine angell in the time of Ezechias king of Juda, and in the hoste of Sennacherib slewest an hundred, foure score, and fiue thousand:
23 Sende now also thy good angel before vs, O Lord of heauens, in the fearefulnesse and dread of thy mightie arme,
24 That they which come against thy holy people to blaspheme them, may be afraide. And so he made an ende of his wordes.
25 Then Nicanor & they that were with him, drue nigh, with trũpets & showtings for ioy:
26 But Judas & his company with prayer and calling vpon God, encoũtred with ỹ enemies.
27 With their handes they smote, but with their heartes they prayed vnto the Lord, and slue no lesse then thirtie and fiue thousande men: for through the present helpe of God they were gloriously comforted.
28 Now when they left off, and were turning againe with ioy, they vnderstoode that Nicanor himselfe was slaine with the other for all his armour.
29 Then they gaue a great showte and a crie, praising the almightie Lorde in their owne language.
30 And Judas, which was euer ready to spend his body & life for his citizens, commanded to smite off Nicanors head, with his arme and hande, and to bee brought to Hierusalem.
31 When he came there, he called all the people and the priestes to the altar, with those that were in the castle,
32 And shewed them Nicanors head, and his wicked hand, which he had presumptuously holden vp against the temple of God.
33 He caused the tongue also of that vngodly Nicanor to be cut in litle pieces, and to be cast to the foules, and that cruell mans hand to be hanged vp before the temple.
34 So euery man gaue thanks vnto the Lord, saying, Blessed be he that hath kept his place vndefiled.
35 As for Nicanors head, he hanged it vp vpon the high castle, for an euident and plaine tokẽ of the helpe of God.
36 And so they agreed al together to keepe that day holy, [namely] the thirteenth day of the moneth ‖ Adar: ‖ Februarie.
37 Which in the Syrians language is called, The next day before Mardocheus day.
38 Thus was Nicanor slaine, and from that time forth the Iewes had the citie in possession: and here will I now make an ende.
39 If I haue done well, and as the storie required, it is the thing that I desired: but if I haue spoken slenderly and barely, I haue done that I could.
40 For as it is hurtfull to drinke wine alone, and then againe water, and as wine tempered with water is pleasant, and delighteth the taste: so the setting out of the matter delighteth the eare of them that reade the storie: and here shalbe the ende.

IESVS CHRISTE.

FOR better vnderſtanding of the contents of this Table, yee ſhall note that the Euangeliſts, S. Matthew, and S. Luke, haue diuerſly recited the generation of our Sauiour Chriſt, according to the fleſh, & yet tende both to one ende: that is, to prooue (that according to that which is written of him in the prophecies) he is deſcended of the royall blood of Dauid, and rightly ſucceeded him in the kingdome. So the diuerſitie of the ſaide recitall conſiſteth in this: that S. Matthew ſetteth foorth the ſaide generation deſcending from father to ſonne: and S. Luke aſcendeth from ſonne to father, which come all to one ende. But to ſhewe the agreement of S. Luke, with S. Matthew, wee haue heere ſet forth the generation by him deſcribed, deſcending after the order of S. Matthew, to the ende that the one may be cōferred with the other. Furthermore, S. Matthew deſcribeth the generatiō of Ioſeph, though it belong nothing to Ieſus Chriſt after ỹ fleſh, and S. Luke ỹ of the virgin Marie: for it was very neceſſary to recite both, for as much as womē were cōmonly reputed of the line or kinred of their huſbands: And ſo as well on her huſbands ſide, as on her owne offſpring, it is manifeſt that ſhe was of the royall line of Dauid.

* Iuda of the line of Nathan, engendred Simeon, called Ioas, which came to the royall ſeat, becauſe the poſteritie of Solomon failed in Ochoſias: and therfore the kingdome belonged to Nathans poſteritie, according to the ordinance of Dauid, as Philo reciteth, that is, the yongeſt of the children of Beerſebe (which was Solomon) ſhould reigne after him, & that if the poſteritie failed, the kingdome ſhould come to ỹ poſteritie of the next yonger, which was Nathan: and therefore Nathan was called Abiſcar, that is to ſay, Brother of the prince, and they of his poſteritie, Abiſcarim, that is to ſay, Brothers of the prince, and Mathitim, which ſignifieth, Geuen to ſucceede. The ſaide Philo reciteth, that the poſteritie of the ſaid Nathan was ſo honoured of the king Ioſaphat, that hee called his children the brothers of Ioram his ſonne, & their children the brothers of Ochoſias his nephewe: and this is the cauſe why the Scripture ſayth, that Ioas was the ſonne of Ochoſias, though he were not his naturall ſonne, but the ſonne of Iuda, deſcended from Nathan.

Note that S. Matthew, going about to deſcribe the generation by fourteenes, did firſt leaue out Ioas, Amazias, and Azarias, which are ſet in betweene Ochoſias, the laſt of the race of Solomon, and Ioathan. Further, hee hath left out Ichaas, and Ioacim, placed betweene the ſame deſcription more perfect and plaine.

* For as much as it ſeemeth that S. Luke maketh no mention of the generation of Marie, but rather of Ioſeph, for he vſeth theſe woordes, that Ieſus was counted the ſonne of Ioſeph, which was of Heli, that is to ſay, the ſonne of Heli: we muſt vnderſtand that in this place the name of ſonne is taken for the name of ſonne in lawe, and that S. Luke meaneth, that Ioſeph was the ſonne in lawe to Heli, for that hee tooke to wife the virgin Marie daughter to the ſaid Heli, which maner of ſpeache is common in the ſcripture: for wee finde that Noemi calleth Ruth her daughter, which was but her ſtepdaughter, her ſonnes wife.

came wise men from the East to Hierusalem,
2 Saying, Where is he that is borne king of the Iewes? For we haue seene his starre in the East, and are come to worship him.
3 When Herode the king had heard these things, he was troubled, and all [the citie of] Hierusalem with him.
4 And when hee had gathered all the chiefe priests and scribes of the people together, hee demaunded of them where Christ should bee borne.
5 And they sayd vnto him, At Bethlehem in Iurie: For thus it is written by the Prophet, Mich.5.2. Iohn 7.41. 6 *And thou Bethlehem [in] the land of Iuda, art not the least among the princes of Iuda: For out of thee shall there come a captaine, that shall gouerne my people Israel.
7 Then Herode, when hee had priuily called the wise men, enquired of them diligently what time the starre appeared.
8 And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, Goe, and search diligently for the yong child, and when ye haue found him, bring me word againe, that I may come and worship him also.
9 When they had heard the king, they departed, and loe, the starre which they sawe in the East, went before them, till it came and stoode ouer [the place] wherein the yong child was.
10 When they sawe the starre, they reioyced exceedingly with great ioy, 11 And went into the house, and they sawe the yong child with Marie his mother, and fell downe, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, presented vnto him giftes, golde, and frankincense, and myrrhe.
12 And after they were warned of God in a dreame that they should not returne to Herode, they departed into their owne countrey another way.
The Gospel on Innocents day.
13 When they were departed, behold, the Angel of ỹ Lord appeared to Ioseph in a dreame, saying, Arise, and take the yong child, & a his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be thou there til I bring thee word: for it wil come to passe, that Herode shall seeke the yong child, to destroy him.
a Ioseph was not the father of Christ, as the Angel maketh mention that he said, Take the child and his mother, but take the child, & his mother.
14 When he arose, he tooke the yong child and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt:
15 And was there vnto the death of Herode, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the Prophet, saying, * Out of Egypt haue I called my sonne.
Ose 11.1.
16 Then Herode, when he sawe that hee was mocked of ỹ wise men, was exceeding wroth, and sent foorth, and slew all the children that were in Bethlehem, and in all the coasts thereof, as many as were two yeeres olde and vnder, according to the time, which he had diligently searched out of the wise men.
17 Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Ieremie the Prophet, saying,
18 In Rama was there a voyce heard, *lamentation, weeping, and great mourning, Rachel weeping [for] her children, and would not be comforted, because they were not. Iere.31.15.
19 But when Herode was dead, behold, an Angel of the Lord appeareth in a dreame to Ioseph in Egypt, 20 Saying, Arise, and take the yong child and his mother, and goe into the land of Israel: For they are dead, which sought the yong childes life.
21 And hee arose, and tooke the yong childe and his mother, and came into the lande of Israel.
22 But when hee heard that Archelaus did reigne in Iurie in the roome of his father Herode, he was afraid to goe thither: notwithstanding, after hee was warned of God in a dreame, hee turned aside into the partes of Galilee:
23 And when he was come thither, he dwelt in a city, which is called Nazareth, that it might bee fulfilled which was spoken by the Prophets, He shalbe called a Nazarite.

1 IN those dayes came *Iohn the Baptist, preaching in the wildernesse of Iurie, Mar.1.4. luke 3.3.
2 And saying, Repent a ye: for the kingdome of heauen is at hand. a This word is, after a fault to be wise, with a mind to amend.
3 For this is he that was spoken of by the Prophet Esaias, saying, *The voyce of one crying in the wildernes, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his pathes straight. Esai 40.3. mar.1.3.
4 *This Iohn had his raiment of camels heare, and a letherne girdle about his loines, his meate was locusts and wild hony. Mar.1.6.
5 *Then went out to him Hierusalem, and all Iurie, and all the region round about Iordane, Mar.1.5. luke 3.7.
6 And were baptized of him in Iordane, confessing their sinnes.
7 But when hee sawe many of the Pharisees & Sadducees come to his baptisme, he sayd vnto them, *O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the anger to come? Mat.13.34.
8 Bring foorth therefore fruits meete for repentance.
9 And be not of such minde, that ye would say within your selues, *We haue Abraham to [our] father: For I say vnto you, that God is able of these stones to raise vp children vnto Abraham. Iohn 8.30. act.13.26.

Luke 3.18.

13 * Then commeth Iesus from Galilee to Iordane, vnto Iohn, to be baptized of him.

Mar.1.8. luke 3.22.

14 But Iohn forbade him, saying, I haue need to bee baptized of thee, and commest thou to me?

15 Iesus answering, said vnto him, Suffer it to be so now: for thus it becommeth vs to fulfill all righteousnesse. Then he suffred him.

16 And Iesus, when he was baptized, went vp straightway out of the water: and loe, the heauens were opened vnto him, and [Iohn] saw the spirit of God descending like a doue, and lighting vpon him.

17 And loe, there [came] a voice from the heauens, saying, * This is my dearely beloued sonne, * in whom I am well pleased.

Deut.8.3.

5 Then the deuill taketh him vp into the holy citie, and setteth him on a pinacle of the temple,

9 And saith vnto him, All these things will I giue thee, if thou wilt fall downe and worship me.

10 Then saith Iesus vnto him, Get thee hence behind me, Satan: for it is written, * Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, & him onely shalt thou serue.

Deut.6.13. and 10.20.

11 Then the deuil leaueth him, and behold, the angels came and ministred vnto him.

Mar.1.14. luke 4.14. iohn 4.43.

13 And when he had left Nazareth, hee went and dwelt in Capernaum, which is [a citie] vpon the sea coast, in the borders of Zabulon and Nephthali:

The Gospel on S. Andrewes day. Mar.1.16.

19 And he saith vnto them, Follow me: and I will make you fishers of men.

20 And they straightway left their nets, & followed him.

21 And when he was gone foorth from thence, he sawe other two brethren, Iames the sonne of Zebedee, and Iohn his brother, in the ship with Zebedee their father, mending their nets: and he called them.

22 And they immediately left the ship and their father, and followed him.

23 And Iesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their Synagogues, and preaching the Gospell of the kingdome, and healing all maner of sickenesse, and all maner of disease among the people.

24 And his fame spred abroad thorowout all Syria: and they brought vnto him all sicke people that were taken with diuers diseases, and gripings, and them that were possessed with deuils, and those which were lunatike, and those that had the palsie, and hee healed them.

25 And there followed him great multitudes of people, from Galilee, [b] and from Decapolis, and from Hierusalem, and from Iurie, and from [the regions that lie] beyond Iordane.

b A countrey containing ten cities.

The v. Chapter.

In this Chapter, and in the two next following, is conteined the most excellent and louing sermon of Christ in the mount, which sermon is the very key that that openeth the vnderstanding into the lawe. In this fifth chapter specially, 3 he preacheth of the eight beatitudes, or blessings, 21 of manslaughter, 22 wrath, and anger, 33 of swearing.

The Gospel on all Saints day.

1 WHen he sawe the multitude, hee went vp into a mountaine: and when hee was set, his disciples came vnto him.

2 And when he had opened his mouth, hee taught them, saying,

Luke 6.20. 3 *Blessed [are] the poore in spirit: for theirs is the kingdome of heauen.

Esai 61.2. 4 *Blessed [are] they that mourne: for they shall be comforted.

Psal.38.11. 5 *Blessed [are] the meeke: for they shall inherite the earth.

Esai 65.9. 6 *Blessed [are] they which doe hunger and thirst [after] righteousnesse: for they shall be satisfied.

7 Blessed [are] the mercifull: for they shall obteine mercy.

Psal.24.4. 8 *Blessed [are] the pure in heart: for they shall see God.

9 Blessed [are] the peace makers: for they shal be called the children of God.

1.Pet.3.14. 10 *Blessed [are] they which haue bene persecuted for righteousnesse sake: for theirs is the kingdome of heauen.

11 Blessed [are] ye, whē [men] shal reuile you, and persecute [you,] & lying, shall say al maner of *euil saying against you, for my sake.

1.Pet.4.14. 12 Reioyce ye and be glad: for great is your reward in heauen. For so persecuted they the Prophets which were before you.

Mar.9.50. luke 14.34. 13 *Ye are the salt of the earth: But if the salt become vnsauorie, wherein shall it be salted? It is thencefoorth good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be troden vnder foote of men.

14 Ye are the light of the world. A citie that is set on an hill, cannot be hid.

Mar.4.21. luke 8.16. and 11.33. 15 *Neither doe men light a candle, and put it vnder a bushel: but on a candlesticke, and it giueth light vnto all that are in the house.

1.Pet.2.12. 16 Let your light so shine before men, *that they may see your good workes, and glorifie your father which is in heauen.

17 Thinke not that I am come to destroy the lawe or the Prophets. I am not come to destroy, but to fulfill.

Luke 17.17. 18 For truely I say vnto you, *Till heauen and earth passe, one iote or one title of the law shall not scape, till all be fulfilled.

Iam.2.10. 19 *Whosoeuer therefore shall breake one of these least commandements, and shall teach men so, he shal be called the least in the kingdome of heauen: but whosoeuer shall doe and teach [so,] the same shalbe called great in the kingdome of heauen.

The Gospel on the vi. Sunday after Trinitie. Luke 11.39. 20 For I say vnto you, *Except your righteousnesse shal exceede the righteousnesse of the Scribes and Pharisees, ye shal in no case enter into the kingdome of heauen.

21 Yee haue heard, that it was said to them of old time, *Thou shalt not kill: whosoeuer killeth, shalbe in danger of iudgement. Exo.20.13. deut.5.17.

22 But I say vnto you, that whosoeuer is angry with his brother vnaduisedly, shall be in danger of iudgement: And whosoeuer shall say vnto his brother, [Racha,] shalbe in danger of a counsell: but whosoeuer shall say [thou] foole, shalbe in danger of hell fire.

23 Therefore if thou bring thy gift to the altar, and there remembrest that thy brother hath ought against thee:

24 Leaue there thy gift before the altar, and go thy way, first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift.

25 *Agree with thine aduersarie quickly, Luke 12.58. whiles thou art in the way with him: least at any time the aduersarie deliuer thee to the iudge, and the iudge deliuer thee to the minister, and then thou be cast into prison.

26 Verily I say vnto thee, thou shalt by no meanes come out thence, till thou hast paid the vttermost farthing.

27 Ye haue heard that it was said vnto them of olde time, *Thou shalt not commit adulterie. Exo.20.14.

28 But I say vnto you, that whosoeuer looketh on a woman to lust after her, hath committed adulterie with her alreadie in his heart.

29 *If thy right eye offend thee, plucke it out, and cast it from thee: For it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell. Matt.18.8. mar.9.47.

30 And if thy right hand offend thee, cut it off, and cast it from thee: For it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that all thy body should bee cast into hell.

31 It hath bene said, *Whosoeuer will put away his wife, let him giue her a writing of diuorcement. Deut.24.1. matt.19.7. mar.10.4. luke 16.18. 1.cor.7.10.

32 But I say vnto you, That whosoeuer doeth put away his wife, except it be for fornicatiō, causeth her to commit adultery: and whosoeuer marrieth her that is diuorced, committeth adulterie.

33 Againe, ye haue heard that it hath bene sayd vnto them of olde time, *Thou shalt not forsweare thy selfe, but shalt performe vnto the Lord thine othes. Exod.20.7. leuit.19.12. deut.5.11.

34 But I say vnto you, Sweare not at all, neither by heauen, for it is Gods seate:

35 Nor by the earth, for it is his footestoole: neither by Hierusalem, for it is the city of the great king.

36 Neither shalt thou sweare by thy head, because thou canst not make one heare white or blacke.

37 *But

Iam.5.12. 37 *But let your communication be yea, yea: nay, nay: For whatsoeuer is more thē these, commeth of euil.

Exo.21.34. leuit.24.20. deut.19.21. 38 Ye haue heard that it hath bene said, *An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth.

Luke 6.29. rom.12.17. 1.cor.6.7. 39 But I say vnto you, *that ye resist not euil: but whosoeuer will giue thee a blowe on thy right cheeke, turne to him the other also.

40 And if any man will sue thee at the law, and take away thy coate, let him haue thy cloke also.

41 And whosoeuer will compell thee to goe a mile, goe with him twaine.

Deut.15.8. 42 *Giue to him that asketh thee: and from him that would borow of thee, turne not thou away.

43 Ye haue heard that it hath bene sayde, Leuit.19.18. *Thou shalt loue thy neighbour, and hate thine enemie:

Luke 6.27. 44 But I say vnto you, *Loue your enemies, blesse them that curse you, doe good to them that hate you, *pray for them which hurt you, and persecute you:

Luke 23.24. act.7.60. 1.cor.4.13. Luke 6.32. 45 *That ye may be the children of your father which is in heauen: for hee maketh his sunne to rise on the euil and on the good, and sendeth raine on the iust, and on the vniust.

46 For if ye loue them which loue you, what reward haue ye? Doe not the Publicanes euen the same?

‖Or, greete with imbracing. 47 And if ye ‖salute your brethren onely, what singular thing do ye? Doe not also the Publicanes likewise?

48 Ye shall therefore bee perfect, euen as your father which is in heauen is perfect.

The vi. Chapter.

1 Of almes, 5 praier, 16 of fasting. 19 Hee forbiddeth the carefull seeking of worldly things.

1 TAke heede that ye doe not your almes before men, to the intent that ye would be seene of them, or els ye haue no reward of your father, which is in heauē.

Rom.12.8. 2 Therefore, *when thou doest thine almes, doe not blowe a trumpet before thee, as hypocrites doe, in the Synagogues, and in the streetes, that they might be esteemed of men. Uerily I say vnto you, they haue their reward.

3 But when thou doest almes, let not thy left hand know, what thy right hand doeth:

4 That thine almes may be in secret: And thy father which seeth in secret, himselfe shall reward thee openly.

5 And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are: for they loue to pray standing in the Synagogues, and in the corners of the streetes, that they may be seene of men. Uerily I say vnto you, they haue their reward.

6 But when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy doore, pray to thy father which is in secret, and thy father which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly.

7 But when ye pray, babble not much, as the heathen do. For they thinke that they shall be heard, for their much babblings sake.

8 Be not ye therefore like vnto them: For your father knoweth, what things ye haue neede of, before ye aske of him.

9 After this maner therefore pray ye: *O our father which art in heauen, halowed bee thy name. Luke 11.2.

10 Let thy kingdome come. Thy will be done, as well in earth, as it is in heauen.

11 Giue vs this day our daily bread.

12 And forgiue vs our debts, as we forgiue our debters.

13 And lead vs not into temptation, *but deliuer vs from euill: for thine is the kingdome, and the power, and the glory, for euer, Amen. Matt.13.19.

14 For, *if yee forgiue men their trespasses, your heauenly father shall also forgiue you. Mar.11.25. eccl.28.2.

15 But, if ye forgiue not men their trespasses: no more shall your father forgiue [you] your trespasses.

16 Moreouer, when ye fast, be not of an heauy countenance, as the hypocrites are: for they disfigure their faces, that they might appeare vnto men to fast: Uerily I say vnto you, they haue their reward.

17 But thou, when thou fastest, anoint thine head, and wash thy face: The Gospel on the first Sunday in Lent.

18 That thou appeare not vnto men to fast, but vnto thy father which is in secret: and thy father which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly.

19 *Heape not vp for your selues treasures vpon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieues breake thorow, and steale. Luke 12.33. 1.tim.6.19.

20 *But lay vp for you treasures in heauen, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieues do not breake thorow, nor steale. Luke 12.34.

21 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

22 *The candle of the body is the eye: wherefore if thine eye be single, all thy body shall be full of light. Luke 11.34.

23 But if thine eye be wicked, all thy body shal be full of darkenesse. Wherefore, if the light that is in thee be darknesse, how great is that darknesse?

24 *No man can serue two masters: for either he shall hate the one and loue the other, or els he shall leane to the one and despise the other. Ye cannot serue God, and [a] Mammon. The Gospel on the xv. Sunday after Trinitie. Luke 16.13.

full for your life, what ye shall eate or drinke, nor yet for your body what ye shall put on: Is not the life more worth then meate? and the body then raiment?

26 Behold the foules of the aire: for they sowe not, neither doe they reape, nor carry into barnes, yet your heauenly father feedeth them. Are ye not much better then they?

27 Which of you by taking of careful thought, can adde one cubite vnto his stature?

28 And why care ye for raiment? Learne of the Lilies of the field, how they growe: they worke not [themselues] with labour, neither [do they] spinne.

Lilies.

29 And yet I say vnto you, that euen Solomon in all his royaltie, was not arayed like one of these.

30 Wherefore, if God so clothe the grasse of the field, which though it stand to day, is to morow cast into the ouen: shal he not much more [do] the same for you, [O] ye of litle faith?

31 Therefore take no thought, saying, What shall we eate? or, what shall we drinke? or, wherewith shall we be clothed?

32 (For after all these things doe the Gentiles seeke:) for your heauenly father knoweth that ye haue neede of all these things.

33 But seeke ye first the kingdome of God, and his righteousnesse, and all these things shalbe added vnto you.

b That is, the present day hath ynough of his owne griefe or affliction.

34 Care not then for the morow: for the morow shall care for it selfe: b Sufficient vnto the day, is the euill thereof.

The vii. Chapter.

Mar.25.4. luke 6.38.

3 *Why seest thou the mote that is in thy brothers eye, but perceiuest not the beame that is in thine owne eye?

Luke 6.41.

4 *Or how wilt thou say to thy brother, Suffer me, I wil cast out a mote out of thine eye: and behold, the beame is in thine owne eye?

5 Thou hypocrite, first cast out the beame out of thine owne eye: and then shalt thou see clearely to cast out the mote that is in thy brothers eye.

6 Giue not [that] which is holy vnto ỹ dogs, neither cast ye your pearles before the swine: least they tread them vnder their feete, and turning againe, all to rent you.

Matt.21.22. mar.11.24. luke 11.9. iohn 16.24. Iam.1.6.

7 *Aske ye, and it shalbe giuen you: seeke, and ye shall finde: knocke, and it shall be opened vnto you.

8 For euery one that asketh, receiueth: and he that seeketh, findeth: and to him that knocketh, it shalbe opened.

9 What man is there of you, if his sonne aske bread, will he giue him a stone?

10 Or if hee aske fish, will hee giue him a serpent?

11 If ye then being euill, know to giue your children good giftes: how much more will your father which is in heauen, giue good things to them that aske him?

12 Therefore all things * whatsoeuer yee would that men should doe to you, doe ye euen so to them: For this is the lawe and the Prophets. Luke 6.31. tobi.4.16.

13 *Enter ye in at the straite gate, for wide is the gate, and broad is the way that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which goe in thereat. Luke 13.24.

14 Because straite is the gate, and narow is the way which leadeth vnto life, and few there be that finde it.

15 Beware of the false prophets which come to you in sheepes clothing, but inwardly they are rauening wolues. The Gospel on the viii. Sunday after Trinitie.

16 Ye shall know them by their fruites: *Doe men gather grapes of thornes? or figges of thistles? Luke 6.43.

17 Euen so, euery good tree bringeth forth good fruit: but a corrupt tree bringeth forth euil fruit.

18 A good tree cannot bring forth bad fruite, neither can a bad tree bring forth good fruite.

19 *Euery tree that bringeth not forth good fruit, is hewen downe and cast into the fire. Matt.3.10.

20 Wherefore, by their fruites ye shall know them.

21 Not euery one that saieth vnto me, *Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdome of heauen: but he that doeth the will of my father which is in heauen. Rom.2.13. iam.1.22.

22 Many will say to me in that day, Lorde, Lord, haue we not prophecied [through] thy name? and [through] thy name haue cast out deuils? & done many great works [through] thy name?

23 *And then will I confesse vnto them, That I neuer knew you: *Depart from me all ye that worke iniquitie. Luke 13.26. Psal.6.9.

24 *Therefore, whosoeuer heareth of me these sayings, and doth the same, I will liken him vnto a wise man, which built his house vpon a rocke: Luke 6.47.

25 And the raine descended, & the floods came, and the windes blewe, and beat vpon that house: and it fell not, because it was grounded on a rocke.

26 And euery one that heareth of me these sayings, and doth them not, shall be likened vnto a foolish man, which built his house vpon the sand:

27 And the raine descended, and the floods came, came, and the windes blew, & beat vpon that house, and it fell, and great was the fall of it.

Mark.1.12. luk.4.32. 28 * And it came to passe, when Jesus had ended these sayings, the people were astonied at his doctrine.

29 For he taught them as one hauing power, and not as the Scribes.

The Gospel on the iii. sunday after the Epiphanie. Mark.1.4. luke.5.12.

1 WHen he was come downe from the mountaine, great multitudes followed him.

2 * And beholde, there came a leper, and worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me cleane.

3 And Jesus, when he had put forth his hand, touched him, saying, I will, be thou cleane. And immediatly his leprosie was cleansed.

Luke.7.1. 5 * And when Jesus was entred into Capernaum, there came vnto him a Centurion, beseeching him,

6 And saying, Lord, my seruant lyeth at home sicke of the palsie, grieuously payned.

7 And Jesus sayeth to him, When I come, I will heale him.

8 The Centurion answered, and sayd, Lorde, I am not worthy that thou shouldest come vnder my roofe: but speake the worde onely, and my seruant shalbe healed.

9 For I also my selfe am a man [set] vnder authoritie, hauing souldiers vnder me: and I say to this man, Go, and he goeth: and to another, Come, and he commeth: and to my seruant, Do this, and he doeth it.

10 When Jesus heard [these things,] he marueyled, and said to them that followed, Verily I say vnto you, I haue not founde so great faith, no not in Israel.

19 And a certaine Scribe came, and sayd vnto him, Master, I wil folow thee whithersoeuer thou goest.

20 And Jesus saith vnto him, The foxes haue holes, and the birdes of the ayre haue nestes: but the sonne of man hath not where to rest his head.

21 And another of his disciples sayd vnto him, Lord, suffer me first to goe, & bury my father.

22 But Jesus sayde vnto him, Folowe me, and let the dead bury their dead.

23 * And when he entred into a ship, his disciples folowed him. The Gospel on the iiii. sunday after the Epiphanie. Mark.4.35. luk.8.22.

24 And beholde, there arose a great tempest in the sea, insomuch that the shippe was couered with the waues: but he was a sleepe.

25 And his disciples came to him, and awoke him, saying, Lord, saue vs: we perish.

26 And he sayth vnto them, Why are ye fearefull, [O] ye of litle faith? Then he arose, and rebuked the windes and the sea, and there followed a great calme.

27 But the men marueyled, saying, What maner of man is this, that both the windes and the sea obey him?

28 * And when he was come to the other side, into the countrey of the Gergesenes, there met him two possessed with deuils, comming out of the graues, very fierce, [so] that no man might passe by that way. Mark.5.1. luk.8.26.

29 And behold, they cryed out, saying, O Jesu, thou sonne of God, what haue we to doe with thee? Art thou come hither to torment vs before the time?

30 And there was a good way off from them, an heard of many swine, feeding.

31 So the deuils besought him, saying, If thou cast vs out, suffer vs to go away into the heard of the swyne.

32 And he sayde vnto them, Goe. Then went they out, and departed into the heard of the swine: and beholde, the whole heard of the swine rushed headlong into the sea, and perished in the waters.

33 Then they that kept them, fled, & went their wayes into the citie, & talde euery thing, and what was done of ỹ possessed with the deuils.

2 *And behold, they brought to him a man sicke of the palsie, lying in a bed: and when Jesus saw the faith of them, he said vnto the sicke of the palsie, Sonne, be of good cheare, thy sinnes be forgiuen thee.
3 And beholde, certaine of the Scribes sayde within themselues, This man blasphemeth.
4 And when Jesus sawe their thoughtes, he said, Wherfore thinke ye euil in your hearts?
5 Whether is easier to say, Thy sinnes be forgiuen thee: or to say, Arise, and walke?
6 But that ye may knowe that the sonne of man hath power to forgiue sinnes in earth (Then said he to the sicke of the palsie) Arise, take vp thy bed, and goe vnto thine house.

The Gospel on the xxiiii. Sunday after Trinitie. Mark. 5. 22. luk. 8. 41.

18 *While he spake these things vnto them, behold, there came a certaine ruler [of the synagogue] and worshipped him, saying, My daughter is euen now dead: but come, and lay thy hand vpon her, and she shal liue.

22 But Jesus, when he had turned him about, & saw her, sayd, Daughter, be of good cõfort, thy faith hath made thee safe. And the woman was made whole from that same houre.)
23 And when Jesus came into the rulers house [of the synagogue,] and sawe the minstrels and the people making a noyse, 25 But when ỹ people were put forth, he went in, & tooke her by the hand: & the mayd arose.

26 And the fame of this went abroade into all that land.
27 And whẽ Jesus departed thence, two blinde men followed him, crying, and saying, O thou sonne of Dauid, haue mercy on vs.
28 And when he was come into the house, the blinde men came to him: and Jesus sayth vnto them, Beleeue ye that I am able to doe this? They sayd vnto him, Yea, Lord.
29 Then touched he their eyes, saying, According to your faith be it vnto you.
30 And their eyes were opened: and Jesus straytely charged them, saying, See that no man knowe [it.]
31 But they, when they were departed, spred abroade his name in all that land.
32 As they went out, beholde, they brought to him a dumbe man possessed with a deuil.

Luke.10.9.
7 As ye go, preache, saying, * The kingdome of heauen is at hand.

8 Heale the sicke, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out deuils: freely ye haue receyued, freely giue.

Mar.6.8. luk.9.3.&22.35.
9 * Possesse not golde, nor siluer, nor brasse in your purses:

10 Nor scrip towardes your iourney, neyther two coates, neyther shooes, nor yet a staffe: (* For the workman is worthy of his meate.)

1.Tim.5.38. luk.10.7. Luke.10.8.
11 * But to whatsoeuer citie or towne ye shall come, enquire who is worthy in it: and [a] there abide, till ye go thence.

a Shift not your lodging, vntil ye go out of that citie.

12 And when ye come into an house, salute the same.

13 And if the house be worthy, let your peace come vpon it: but if it be not worthy, let your peace returne to you againe.

Mark.6.11. actes.13.51.
14 * And whosoeuer shall not receiue you, nor will heare your preaching: when ye depart out of that house, or that citie, shake off the dust of your feete.

15 Verily I say vnto you, It shall be easier for the lande of the Sodomites & Gomorrheans in the day of iudgement, then for that citie.

Luk.10.3.
16 * Beholde, I send you forth as sheepe in the midst of Wolues: be ye therefore wise as the serpents, and harmelesse as the Doues.

17 But beware of men: for they shal deliuer you vp to the counsels, and shall scourge you in their Synagogues.

18 And ye shalbe brought to the head rulers and kings for my sake, ‖ in witnesse to them, and to the Gentiles.

‖ that this may be a witnesse to them, &c.

19 But when they deliuer you vp, take ye no thought, howe or what ye shall speake: for * it shalbe giuen you in that same houre what ye shall speake.

Mar.13.11. luke.12.11.
20 For it is not ye that speake, but the spirite of your father, [he it is] which speaketh in you.

21 The brother shall deliuer vp the brother to death, and the father the sonne: and the children shal rise against their fathers & mothers, and shall put them to death.

22 And ye shalbe hated of al men for my names sake: * but he that endureth to the ende, shall be saued. Mar.13.13. luke.21.9.

23 But when they persecute you in this citie, flee ye into another: for verily I say vnto you, ye shall not ende all the cities of Israel, tyll the sonne of man be come.

24 * The disciple is not aboue his master, nor the seruant aboue his lord. Luke.6.48. Disciple.

25 It is ynough for the disciple that he be as his master is, and [that] the seruant [be] as his lord is. * If they haue called the Lorde of the house Beelzebub, howe much more shall they call them of his houshold: Mat.12.24.

26 Feare them not therefore: * for there is nothing close, that shal not be opened, & nothing hid, that shall not be knowen. Mar.4.22. luk.8.17. & 12.2.

27 What I tell you in darkenesse, that speake ye in light: and what ye heare in the eare, that preache ye on the houses.

28 * And feare [ye] not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soule: But rather feare him which is able to destroy both body and soule in hell. Luke.12.5. Feare.

30 * Yea, euen all the heares of your head are numbred. 1.Reg.14.12. acts.27.34.

31 Feare ye not therefore, ye are of more value then many Sparowes.

32 * Euery one therefore that shall confesse me before men, him wil I confesse also before my father, which is in heauens. Mat.8.38. luk.9.26. and 12.8.

33 But whosoeuer shall deny mee before men, him will I also deny before my father, which is in heauens.

34 * Thinke not that I am come to send peace into the earth: I came not to send peace, but a sworde. Luk.12.51.

35 * For I am come to set a man at variance against his father, and the daughter against her mother, and the daughter in lawe against her mother in lawe. Mich.7.6.

The xi. Chapter.

1 Christ preacheth. 2 Iohn Baptist sendeth his disciples vnto him. 7 Christes testimonie concerning Iohn.

1 AND it came to passe, that when Jesus had made an ende of commanding his twelue disciples, he departed thence to teach, and to preach in their cities.

The Gospel on the iii. sunday in Aduent Luk.7.18. 2 *When Iohn had heard in the prison the workes of Christ, he sent two of his disciples, 3 And sayd vnto him, Art thou he that should come: Or do we looke for another:

4 Jesus answered, and sayde vnto them, Goe, and shew Iohn againe those things which ye do heare and see:

5 The blinde receyue their sight, the halt doe walke, the lepers are cleansed, and the deafe heare, the dead are raysed vp, & the poore haue the Gospel preached to them.

6 And happy is he, whosoeuer shall not be offended in me.

7 And as they departed, Jesus beganne to say vnto the multitude concerning Iohn, What went ye out into ỹ wildernesse to see: A reede shaken with the winde:

8 Or what went ye out for to see: A man clothed in soft rayment: Behold, they that weare soft [clothing,] are in kings houses.

9 But what went ye out for to see: A Prophet: yea, I say vnto you, and more then a Prophet.

Mala.3.1. 10 For this is he of whome it is written, * Behold, I sende my messenger before thy face, which shal prepare thy way before thee.

11 Verily I say vnto you, Among them that are borne of women, there hath not risen a greater then Iohn the Baptist: notwithstanding, he that is lesse in the kingdome of heauen, is greater then he.

Luk.16.16. 12 *From the dayes of Iohn the Baptist, vntil nowe, the kingdome of heauen suffereth violence, and the violent plucke it [vnto them.]

13 For all the Prophets, and the lawe it selfe, prophecied vnto Iohn.

Mala.4.5. 14 And if ye will receyue it, * this is Elias which was for to come.

Luk.7.31. 15 *Hee that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

16 But whereunto shall I liken this generation: It is like vnto litle children, sitting in the markets, and calling vnto their felowes, 17 And saying, We haue piped vnto you, and ye haue not danced: we haue a mourned vnto you, and ye haue not sorowed.

a We haue sung mourning songs vnto you.

18 For Iohn came neither eating nor drinking, and they say, He hath a deuill.

19 The sonne of man came eating and drinking, & they say, Beholde a man gluttonous, and a wine bibber, and a friende vnto publicanes and sinners: and wisedome was iustified of her children.

Luk.10.13. 20 *Then beganne he to vpbrayde the cities, wherein most of his mightie workes were done, because they repented not.

21 Woe vnto thee Chorazin, woe vnto thee Bethsaida: for if the mightie workes which were done in you, had bene done in Tyre and Sidon, they would haue repented long agoe in sackcloth and ashes.

22 But I say vnto you, It shall be easier for Tyre and Sidon et the daye of iudgement, then for you.

23 And thou Capernaum, which hast bene lifted vp into heauen, shalt be brought downe to hell: For if the mightie workes which haue bene done in thee, had bene done among them of Sodome, they would haue remayned vntil this day.

24 But I say vnto you, that it shalbe easier for the land of Sodome in the day of iudgement, then for thee.

The Gospel on Saint Mathias day. Luk.10.21. 25 *At that time Jesus answered, and sayde, I thanke thee, O Father, Lorde of heauen and earth, because thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast shewed them vnto babes.

26 Euen so, O father, for so was it thy good pleasure.

Iohn.3.36. and 6.46. 27 All things are giuen vnto me of my father: * and no man knoweth the sonne, but the father: neyther knoweth any man the father, saue the sonne, & he to whomsoeuer the sonne will open [him.]

28 Come vnto mee all ye that labour sore, and are laden, and I will ease you.

Iere.6.16. 29 *Take my yoke vpon you, and learne of me, for I am meeke and lowly in heart: and ye shal finde rest vnto your soules.

1.Iohn.5.3. 30 *For my yoke is easie, and my burden is light.

The xii. Chapter.

Christ excuseth his disciples which plucke the eares of corne.

Mark.2.23. luk.6.1. deut.23.25. 1 AT that time, * Jesus went on the Sabboth dayes thorow the corne, and his disciples were an hungred, and beganne to plucke the eares of corne, and to eate.

2 But when the Pharisees saw [them,] they sayde vnto him, Behold, thy disciples do that which which is not lawfull to doe vpon the Sabboth day.

3 But he sayde vnto them, Haue ye not read
1.Sam.21.6. * what Dauid did when he was an hungred, and they that were with him,

4 How he entred into the house of God, & did eate the shewe bread, which was not lawfull for him to eate, neyther for them which were with him, *but onely for the priestes?

Exod.29.33. Leuit.8.31. num.28.9.

5 Or haue ye not read in the *lawe, how that on the Sabboth dayes the priestes in the temple a prophane the Sabboth, and are blamelesse?

a That is, do vncleane workes.

6 But I say vnto you, that in this place is [one] greater then the temple.

7 But if ye had knowen what this meaneth, Ose.6.7. * I wil mercy, and not sacrifice, ye would not haue condemned the giltlesse.

8 For the sonne of man is Lorde of the Sabboth day.

Mark.3.1. luk.6.6. 9 * And when he was departed thence, hee went into their synagogue,

10 And behold, there was a man which had his hand dryed vp, and they asked him, saying, Is it lawful to heale on the Sabboth dayes? that they might accuse him.

11 And he sayde vnto them; What man of you will there be that shal haue one sheepe: and if it fall into a pit on the Sabboth day, will he not take holde of it, and lift it out?

12 Howe much more then is a man better then a sheepe? Wherefore it is lawfull to doe well on the Sabboth dayes.

13 Then sayth he to the man, Stretch forth thy hand: and he stretched it forth, and it was restored whole, like as the other.

14 Then the Pharisees went out, and helde a counsell against him, how they might destroy him.

15 But when Jesus knewe [it,] he departed thence: and great multitudes followed him, and he healed them all,

16 And charged them that they should not make him knowen:

17 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the Prophet, saying,

Esa.42.1. 18 *Beholde my childe whome I haue chosen, my beloued, in whome my soule well delighteth: I will put my spirite vpon him, and he shal shewe iudgement to the Gentiles.

19 He shall not striue, nor cry, neither shall any man heare his voyce in the streetes.

20 A bruised reede shall he not breake, and smoking flaxe shal he not quench, till he send forth iudgement vnto victorie.

21 And in his name shal the Gentiles trust.

Luk,11.14. 22 *Then was brought vnto him one possessed with a deuil, blinde, and dumbe: and he healed him, insomuch that the blinde and dumbe both spake and sawe.

23 And all the people were amazed, and sayde, Is not this that sonne of Dauid?

24 *But when the Pharisees heard [it,] they sayde, This [felowe] doeth not cast out deuils, but by Beelzebub the prince of the deuils. Mat.9.34. mark.3.22. luke.11.15.

25 But when Jesus knewe their thoughts, he sayde vnto them, Euery kingdome deuided against it selfe, is brought to desolation: and euery citie or house deuided against it selfe, shall not stande.

26 And if Satan cast out Satan, then were he deuided against himselfe, howe shall then his kingdome endure?

27 Also if I by Beelzebub cast out deuils, by whom do your children cast them out? Therefore they shalbe your Judges.

28 But if I cast out the deuils by the spirite of God, then is the kingdome of God come vpon you.

29 Or els, howe can one enter into a strong mans house, and spoyle his goods, except he first binde the strong man, and then wil spoyle his house?

30 He that is not with mee, is against mee: and he that gathereth not with me, scattereth abroade.

31 Wherefore I say vnto you, * All maner of sinne & blasphemie shalbe forgiuen vnto men: but the blasphemie against the [holy] spirite, shall not be forgiuen vnto men. Mar.3.28. luke.12.10. iohn.5.13.

32 And whosoeuer speaketh a word against the sonne of man, it shalbe forgiuen him: but whosoeuer speaketh against the holy ghost, it shall not be forgiuen him, neyther in this worlde, neither in the worlde to come.

33 Eyther make the tree good, and his fruite good: Or els make the tree euil, and his fruite euil: For the tree is knowen by his fruite.

34 O generations of vipers, howe can yee speake good things, when ye your selues are euill? * For out of the abundance of the heart, the mouth speaketh. Luke.6.45.

35 A good man out of the good treasure of the heart, bringeth forth good things: and an euil man out of the euill treasure, bringeth forth euill things.

36 But I say vnto you, That of euery idle word that men shall speake, they shall giue account thereof in the day of iudgement.

37 For of thy wordes thou shalt be iustified, and of thy wordes thou shalt be condemned.

38 * Then certaine of the Scribes, and of the Pharisees, answered him, saying, Master, we will see a signe of thee. Mat.16.1. luk.11.29. 1.cor.1.22.

39 But he answered, and sayd to them, An euil and adulterous generation seeketh a signe, & there shal no signe be giuen to it, but the signe of the Prophet Jonas, 40 * For as Jonas was three dayes and three nightes in the Whales bellie: so shall the sonne of man be three dayes and three nights Jonas.2.1.

in the heart of the earth.

41 The men of Niniue shall rise in the iudgement with this nation, and condemne it, * because they repented at ẏ preaching of Jonas, and behold, here [is] one greater then Jonas. Ionas.3.5.

42 * The Queene of the South shall rise in the iudgement with this generation, and shall condemne it: for she came from the vttermost partes of the earth to heare the wisedome of Solomon, and behold, in this place [is] one greater then Solomon. 3.King.10.1. 2chro.9.1.

43 When the vncleane spirite is gone out of a man, he walketh thorowout dry places seeking rest, and findeth none.

44 Then he sayth, I wil returne into my house from whence I came out. And when he is come, he findeth it emptie, swept, & garnished.

45 Then goeth he, and taketh with himselfe seuen other spirites worse then himselfe, and they enter in, and dwell there: * And the last state of that man is worse then the first. Euen so shall it be also vnto this froward generation. 2.Pet.2.20. heb.6.4.

46 While he yet talked to the people, * behold, his mother and his brethren stoode without, desiring to speake with him. Mark.3.31. luk.8.20.

47 Then one sayd vnto him, * Behold, thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to speake with thee. Mark.3.32. luk.8.21.

48 But he answered, and sayde vnto him that tolde him, Who is my mother? Or who are my brethren?

49 And when he had stretched forth his hande toward his disciples, he sayde, * Beholde my mother and my brethren. Iohn.15.7.

50 For whosoeuer shal do the will of my father which is in heauen, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother.

The xiii. Chapter.

3 The parable of the seede, 25 and of the tares.

1 THe same day whē Jesus was gone out of the house, * he sate by the sea side. Mark.4.1. luke.8.5.

2 And great multitudes were gathered together vnto him, [so] that he went into the shippe, and sate, and the whole multitude stoode on the shore.

3 And he spake many things to them in parables, saying, Beholde, the sower went forth to sowe.

4 And when he sowed, some seedes fell by the wayes side: and the foules came, and deuoured them vp.

5 Some fell vpon stonie places, where they had not much earth: and anon they sprung vp, because they had no deepenesse of earth.

6 And when the sunne was vp, they caught heate: and because they had not roote, they withered away.

7 Againe, some fell among thornes: and the thornes sprung vp, and choked them.

8 But some fell into good ground, & brought forth fruite, some an hundred folde, some sixtie folde, some thirtie folde.

9 Who hath eares to heare, let him heare.

10 And the disciples came, and sayde vnto him, Why speakest thou vnto them by parables?

11 He answered, and sayde vnto them, Because it is giuen vnto you to knowe the secretes of the kingdome of heauen, but to them it is not giuen.

12 * For whosoeuer hath, to him shalbe giuen, and he shall haue more abundance: but whosoeuer hath not, from him shalbe taken away, euen that he hath. Mat.25.29.

13 Therefore speake I to them in parables: because they seeing, see not: and hearing, they heare not, neyther do they vnderstand.

14 And in them is fulfilled the prophecie of Esaias, which sayth, * With the eare ye shall heare, and shal not vnderstand: and seeing, ye shall see, and shall not perceiue. Esa.6.9. mark.4.12. luke.8.10. iohn.12.40. actes.28.26. rom.11.8.

15 For this peoples heart is waxed grosse, and their eares are dull of hearing, and their eyes haue they closed: lest at any time they should see with their eyes, & heare with their eares, and should vnderstande with their heart, and should conuert, that I might heale them.

16 Blessed are your eyes, for they see: and your eares, for they heare.

17 Verily I say vnto you, * that many Prophets and righteous men haue desired to see those things which ye see, and haue not seene: and to heare those things which ye heare, and haue not heard. Luke.10.24.

18 * Heare ye therefore the similitude of the Sower. Mark.4.15. luke.8.11.

19 When one heareth the worde of the kingdome, and vnderstandeth it not, then commeth that euill, and catcheth away that which was sowen in his heart: this is he which receiued seede by the way side.

20 But he that receyued the seede into stonie places, the same is he that heareth the worde, and anon with ioy receiueth it:

21 Yet hath he not roote in himselfe, but dureth for a season: for when tribulation or persecution ariseth because of the worde, by and by he is offended.

22 He also that receiued seede into the thornes, is he that heareth the worde, and the care of this worlde, and the deceytfulnesse of riches choke vp the worde, and so is he made vnfruitefull.

23 But he that receyued seede into the good ground, is he that heareth the worde, and vnderstandeth it, which also beareth fruite, and bringeth forth, some an hundred folde, some sixtie folde, some thirtie folde.

24 Another parable put he forth vnto them, saying, * The kingdome of heauen is likened vnto a man, which sowed good seede in his fielde. The Gospel on the v. sunday after the Epiphanie.

25 But Mar.4.16.

25 But whyle men slept, his enemie came and sowed tares among the wheate, and went his way.
26 But when the blade was sprung vp, and had brought forth fruite, thē appeared ẏ tares also.
27 So, the seruantes of the housholder came, and sayd vnto him, Syr, diddest not thou sow good seede in thy fielde, from whence then hath it tares?
28 He sayde vnto them, The malicious man hath done this. The seruants sayde vnto him, Wilt thou then that we goe, and gather them vp?
29 But he sayde, Nay: lest whyle ye gather vp the tares, ye roote vp also the wheate with them.
30 Let both growe together vntill the harueste: and in time of harueste, I will say to the reapers, Gather ye together first the tares, and binde them in bundels to burne them: but cary the wheate into my barne.
31 Another parable put he foorth vnto them, saying, * The kingdome of heauen is like to a graine of mustard seede, which a man tooke, and sowed in his fielde. Mat.4.30. luk.13.18.
32 Which in deede is the least of all seedes: but when it is growen, it is the greatest among herbes, and is a tree: [so] that the byrdes of the ayre come and make their nestes in the branches thereof.
33 *Another parable spake he vnto them, [saying,] The kingdome of heauen is like vnto leauen, which a woman tooke, & hid in three peckes of meale, till all were leauened. Luk.13.20.
34 *All these things spake Jesus vnto the people in parables, and without a parable spake he not vnto them: Mark.4.33.
35 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Prophet, saying, * I wil open my mouth in parables, I wil speake forth things which haue bene kept secret from the foundation of the worlde. Psal.68.2.
36 Then Jesus, when he had sent the people away, went into the house: * And his disciples came vnto him, saying, Declare vnto vs the parable of the tares of the fielde. Mark.4.34.
37 He answered, and sayde vnto them, He that soweth the good seede, is the sonne of man.
38 The fielde, is the worlde. The good seede, these are the children of the kingdome. But the tares, are the children of the wicked.
39 And the enemie that sowed them, is the deuill. * The harueste, is the ende of the worlde. The reapers, be the Angels. Apoc.14.15. ioel.3.13.
40 Euen as the tares therefore are gathered and burnt in the fire: so shall it be in the ende of the worlde.
41 * The sonne of man shall send forth his Angels, and [they] shall gather out of his kingdome all things that offend, and them which doe iniquitie: Apoc.14.15.
42 And shall cast them into a furnace of fire: there shalbe wayling and gnashing of teeth.
43 *Then shal the righteous shine as the sunne in the kingdome of their father. Who hath eares to heare, let him heare. Sapi.3.7. dan.12.3.
44 Againe, the kingdome of heauen is like vnto treasure hid in the fielde: the which, when a man hath founde, hideth, and for ioy thereof goeth and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that fielde.
45 Againe, the kingdome of heauen is like vnto a marchant man, seeking goodly pearles:
46 Which when he had founde one precious pearle, went and solde all that he had, and bought it.
47 Againe, the kingdome of heauen is like vnto a nette that was cast into the sea, and gathered of all kinde, 48 Which, when it was ful, [the Fishers] drew to lande, and sate downe, & gathered the good into vessels, but cast the bad away.
49 So shall it be at the ende of the worlde: the angels shall come forth, & seuer the bad from among the iust,
50 And shall cast them into a furnace of fire: there shalbe wayling and gnashing of teeth.
51 Jesus sayth vnto them, Haue ye vnderstand all these things? They say vnto him, Yea, Lorde.
52 Then sayde he vnto them, Therefore euery Scribe which is taught in the kingdome of heauen, is like vnto a man that is an housholder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure things newe and olde.
53 And it came to passe, that when Jesus had finished these parables, he departed thence.
54 * And when he came into his owne countrey, he taught them in their Synagogue, in so much that they were astonyed, and sayde, Whence commeth this wisedome & mightie workes vnto him? Mark.6.1. luk.4.16.
55 * Is not this the Carpenters sonne? Is not his mother called Marie? and his brethren, James, and Joses, and Simon, and Judas? Iohn.6.42.
56 And are not all his sisters with vs? whence hath he then all these things?
57 And they were offended in him. But Jesus sayde vnto them, * A Prophet is not without honour, saue in his owne countrey, and in his owne house. Mark.6.4. luke.4.24. iohn.4.44.
58 And he did not many mightie workes there, because of their vnbelicfe.

The xiiii. Chapter.

10 Iohn is taken and beheaded. 19 Christ feedeth fiue thousand men with fiue loaues and two fishes.

1 AT that time * Herode the Tetrarche heard of the fame of Jesu, Mark.6.14. luke.9.7.
2 And sayde vnto his seruants, This is John the Baptist, he is risen from the dead, and therefore great workes do shew forth themselues in him.

Mar.6.17. luk.3.19.
3 * For Herode, when he had taken Iohn, he bounde him, & put him in prison for Herodias sake, his brother Philips wife.
Leuit.18.25.
4 For Iohn sayd vnto him, * It is not lawful for thee to haue her.
5 And when he would haue put him to death, he feared the people: Mat.21.16. * because they counted him as a Prophet.
6 But when Herodes byrth day was kept, the daughter of Herodias daunced before them, and pleased Herode.
7 Wherefore he promiseth with an othe, to giue her whatsoeuer she would aske.
‖Or, entised, or, enduced.
8 And she, being before ‖ instructed of her mother, sayd, Giue me here Iohn Baptists head in a platter.
9 And the king was sory: neuertheles, for the othes sake, and them which sate also at the table, he commanded it to be giuen her:
10 And sent [a tormentor,] and beheaded Iohn in the prison.
11 And his head was brought in a platter, and giuen to the damsell: and [she] brought it to her mother.
12 And his disciples came, and tooke vp his body, and buryed it: and went and tolde Iesus.
Mar.6.32. luk.9.10.
13 * When Iesus heard of it, he departed thẽce in a ship, vnto a desart place out of the way: and when the people had heard thereof, they folowed him on foote out of the cities.
14 And when Iesus went forth, he sawe much people, and was moued with mercy towarde them, and he healed their sicke.
Mar.6.35. luk.9.12. iohn.6.5.
15 * And when it was euening, his disciples came to him, saying, This is a desart place, and the houre is nowe past: let the people depart, that they may goe into the villages, and buy them victuals.
16 But Iesus sayde vnto them, They haue no neede to go away: giue ye them to eate.
17 They say vnto him, We haue not here but fiue loaues, and two fishes.
18 He sayde, Bring them hither to me.
19 And when he had commanded the people to sit downe on the grasse, and had taken the fiue loaues, and the two fishes, & lifted vp his eyes towarde heauen, he blessed: and when he had broken [them,] he gaue the loaues to his disciples: and his disciples to the people.
20 And they did all eate, and were sufficed: And they tooke vp (of the fragments that remayned) twelue baskets full.
21 And they that had eaten, were about fiue thousand men, beside women and children.
22 And strayghtway Iesus constrayned his disciples to get vp into a ship, and to goe before him vnto the other side, while he sent the people away.
23 And whē he had sent ỹ people away, he went vp into a mountaine alone to pray: Mark.6.46. iohn.6.16. * & when night was come, he was there himselfe alone:
24 But the ship was nowe in the middest of the sea, and was tost with the waues: for it was a contrary winde.
25 And in the fourth watch of the night, Iesus went vnto them, walking on the sea.
26 And when the disciples sawe him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, That it is a spirite: and they cryed out for feare.
27 But strayghtway Iesus spake vnto them, saying, Be of good cheare: it is I, be not afrayde.
28 Peter answered him, and sayde, Lorde, if it be thou, bidde me come vnto thee on the water.
29 And he sayde, Come. And when Peter was come downe out of the ship, he walked on the water, to goe to Iesus.
30 But when he sawe a mightie winde, he was afrayde: and when he began to sinke, he cried, saying, Lord, saue me.
31 And immediately Iesus, when he had stretched forth his hand, caught him, and sayd vnto him, O thou of litle faith, wherefore diddest thou doubt?
32 And when they were come into the ship, the winde ceassed.
33 Then they that were in the ship, came and worshipped him, saying, Of a trueth thou art the sonne of God.
Mark.6.54.
34 * And when they were gone ouer, they came into the land of Genezaret.
35 And when the men of that place had knowledge of him, they sent out into all that countrey rounde about, and brought vnto him all that were sicke, 36 And besought him that they might touch the hemme of his garment only: and as many as touched, were made perfectly whole.

The xv. Chapter.

Christ excuseth his disciples, and rebuketh the Scribes and Pharisees.

Mat.7.1.
1 THen * came to Iesus Scribes & Pharisees, which were come from Hierusalem, saying,
2 Why doe thy disciples transgresse the tradition of the elders? for they wash not their handes when they eate bread.
3 But he answered, and sayd vnto them, Why do you also transgresse the commandement of God by your tradition?
Exod.20.12. deut.5.16.
4 For God commanded, saying, * Honour thy father and thy mother: And he that curseth * father or mother, let him dye the death. Exod.21.17. leuit.20.9. pro.20.20.
5 But ye say, Whosoeuer shall say to his father or his mother, By the gift that [is offred] of me, thou shalt be helped:
6 And so shall he not honour his father or his mother. And thus haue ye made the commãdemẽt of God of none effect by your tradition.
7 Ye hypocrites, full well did Esaias prophecie of you, saying,

8 * This

Esa.29.13. 8 *This people draweth nigh vnto me with their mouth, and honoureth mee with their lippes: howbeit, their heart is farre from me.
9 But in vaine they doe worship me, teaching doctrines, precepts of men.
Mark.7.17. 10 *And when he had called the people to him, he saide vnto them, Heare and vnderstand.
11 That which goeth into the mouth, defileth not the man: but that which commeth out of the mouth, defileth the man.
12 Then came his disciples, and said vnto him, Knowest thou not that the Pharisees were offended after they heard this saying?
Iohn.15.8. 13 But he answered, and said, *Al maner planting which my heauenly father hath not planted, shalbe rooted vp.
Luke 6.39. 14 Let them alone: *they bee blinde leaders of the blinde. If the blinde leade the blinde, both shall fall into the ditch.
Mark.7.17. 15 *Then answered Peter, and said vnto him, Declare vnto vs this parable.
16 Iesus sayde, Are ye also yet without vnderstanding?
17 Doe not ye yet vnderstand, that whatsoeuer entreth in at the mouth, goeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught?
18 But those things which proceede out of the mouth, come foorth from the heart, and they defile the man.
Gene.6.5. 19 *For out of ỹ heart proceede euil thoughts, murders, adulteries, whoredomes, thefts, false witnesse, blasphemies.
20 These are the things which defile a man: But to eate with vnwashen handes, defileth not a man.
The Gospel on the ii. sunday in Lent. 21 *And Iesus, when hee went thence, departed into the coastes of Tyre and Sidon.
Mark.7.24. 22 And beholde, a woman of the Chanaanites, which came out of the same coastes, cryed vnto him, saying, Haue mercie on me, O Lorde, thou sonne of Dauid, my daughter is grieuously vexed with a deuill.
23 But he answered not a worde. And his disciples came, and besought him, saying, Sende her away, for she crieth after vs.
Matth.10.6. 24 But he answered, & said, I am not sent *but vnto the lost sheepe of the house of Israel.
25 Then came she, and worshipped him, saying, Lord, helpe me.
26 But he answered, and saide, It is not meete to take the childrens bread, and to cast it to litle dogges.
27 And she said, Yes, Lord: for the litle dogges also eate of the crummes which fal from their masters table.
28 Then Iesus answered, and sayde vnto her, O woman, great is thy faith: bee it done vnto thee euen as thou wilt. And her daughter was made whole euen from that same houre.
Matth.7.31. 29 *And Iesus, when hee was departed from thence, came nigh vnto the sea of Galilee, and when he was gone vp into a mountaine, hee sate downe there.
30 *Then great multitudes came vnto him, Esay 35.5. hauing with them those that were lame, blinde, dumbe, maymed, and other many, and cast them downe at Iesus feete, and he healed them:
31 In so much that the people wondered, when they sawe the dumbe speake, the maymed to bee whole, the lame to walke, and the blinde to see: and they glorified the God of Israel.
32 *Then Iesus called his disciples vnto him, and sayde, I haue compassion on the people, because they continue with me nowe three dayes, and haue nothing to eate: and I will not let them depart fasting, least they faint in the way. Mark.8.1
33 And his disciples say vnto him, Whence [should we get] so much bread in the wildernesse, as to suffice so great a multitude?
34 And Iesus sayeth vnto them, Howe many loaues haue ye? And they said, Seuen, and a fewe litle fishes.
35 And he commanded the people to sit downe on the ground.
36 And when he had taken the seuē loaues and the fishes, and had giuen thankes, hee brake [them,] and gaue to his disciples: and the disciples gaue them to the people.
37 And they did all eate, and were sufficed: and they tooke vp of the broken meate that was left, seuen baskets full.
38 And yet they that did eate, were foure thousand men, beside women and children.
39 And when he had sent away the people, hee tooke ship, and came into the parts of Magdala.

The xvi. Chapter.

1 The Pharisees require a token. 6 Iesus warneth his disciples of the Pharisees doctrine.

1 THe *Pharisees also, with the Sadducees, came, and tempting, desired him that he would shew them a signe from heauen. Mark.8.11. Iuke 12.54.
2 He answered, and saide vnto them, When it is euening, ye say, [It wil be] faire weather: for the skie is red.
3 And in the morning, [It wil be] foule weather to day: for the skie is lowring red. O ye hypocrites, ye can discerne the outwarde appearance of the skie: but can yee not discerne the signes of the times?
4 *A frowarde & adulterous nation requireth *a signe, and there shall no signe be giuen vnto it, but the signe of the Prophet Ionas. And he left them, and departed. Matth.12.34. Ionas.2.1.
5 And when his disciples were come to the other side of the water, they had forgotten to take bread [with them.]

6 Then

6 Then Jesus said vnto them, Take heed and beware of the leauen of the Pharisees, and of the Sadducees.

7 And they thought in thē selues, saying, For we haue taken no bread [with vs.]

8 [Which] when Jesus vnderstood, he sayde vnto them, O ye of litle faith, why thinke you within your selues, because yee haue brought no bread.

Matth.14.17. 9 *Do ye not yet perceiue, neither remember those fiue loaues of the fiue thousand, & howe many baskets tooke ye vp?

Matth,15.34. 10 *Neyther the seuen loaues of the foure thousande, and howe many baskets tooke ye vp?

11 Howe is it that ye do not vnderstand that I speake it not vnto you concerning bread, that ye should beware of ỹ leauē of the Pharisees, and of the Sadducees?

12 Then vnderstood they howe that he bad not them beware of the leauen of the bread: but of the doctrine of the Pharisees & of the Sadducees.

The Gospel on Saint Peters day. Mark.8.27. luk. 9.18. 13 When Jesus came into the coastes of Cesarea, [which is called] Philippi, hee asked his disciples, saying, *Whome doe men say that I the sonne of man am?

14 They sayd, Some say [that thou art] Iohn Baptist, some Elias, some Jeremias, or one of the Prophets.

15 He sayth vnto them, But whom say ye that I am?

Iohn 6.69. 16 Simon Peter answered, and saide, *Thou art Christ, the sonne of the liuing God.

17 And Jesus answered, & said vnto him, Happie art thou Simon Bar Iona: for flesh and blood hath not opened [that] vnto thee, but my father which is in heauen.

Iohn 1.42. 18 And I say also vnto thee, *that thou art Peter, and vpon this rocke I will builde my cōgregation: and the gates of hell shall not preuaile against it.

Iohn 20.21. 19 *And I will giue vnto thee the keyes of the kingdome of heauen: and whatsoeuer thou shalt binde in earth, shalbe bounde in heauen, and whatsoeuer thou shalt loose in earth, shall be loosed in heauen.

20 Then charged he his disciples ỹ they should tell no man that he was Jesus Christ.

21 From that time forth began Jesus to shewe vnto his disciples, howe that he must go vnto Hierusalem, and suffer many things of the Elders and high Priestes and Scribes, and [must] be killed, & be raysed againe the third day.

22 And when Peter had taken him aside, he began to rebuke him, saying, Lorde, fauour thy selfe, this shall not be vnto thee.

23 But hee turned him about, and sayde vnto Peter, Goe after mee, Satan, thou art an offence vnto mee: for thou sauourest not the things that [be] of God, but those that [be] of men.

24 *Then sayd Jesus vnto his disciples, If any man will go after me, let him forsake himselfe, and take vp his crosse, and followe me. Mat.10.38. mar. 8.34. and 9.23.

25 *For whosoeuer will saue his life, shal lose it: againe, whosoeuer wil lose his life for my sake, shall finde it. Mat.10.29.luk. 6.35.luk.9.24.

26 *For what is a man profited if hē shall win the whole worlde, and lose his owne soule? Or what shall a man giue for the ransome of his soule? Mat,8.26. luk.9. 15.

27 For the sonne of man shall come in the glorie of his father with his angels: and *then shall hee rewarde euery man according to his workes. Psal.62.12. rom. 2.6.

28 Verely I saye vnto you, *There bee some standing here, which shall in no wise taste of death, till they see the sonne of man comming in his kingdome. Mark.9.1.luk.9. 17.

The xvii. Chapter.

2 The transfiguration of Christ: 15 he healeth the lunatike.

1 AND *after sixe daies, Jesus taketh Peter, James, and John his brother, and bringeth them vp into an high mountaine, out of the way, Mark.9.2.luk.9. 27.

2 And was transfigured before them, and his face did shine as the Sunne, and his clothes were as white as the light.

3 And behold, there appeared vnto them Moses, and Elias talking with him.

4 Then answered Peter, and sayde vnto Jesus, Lorde, it is good for vs to bee here. If thou wilt, let vs make here three tabernacles: one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

5 *While he yet spake, behold, a bright cloud ouershadowed them: and behold, [there came] a voyce out of the cloud, which sayde, This is my beloued sonne, in whome I am well pleased, heare ye him. Mat.3.17.2.pet. 2.17.

6 And whē the disciples heard [these things,] they fell on their face, and were sore afraide.

7 And Jesus came and touched them, & sayd, Arise ye, and be not afraide.

8 And when they had lift vp their eyes, they sawe no man, saue Jesus onely.

9 And when they came downe from ỹ mountaine, Jesus charged them, saying, Shew the vision to no man, vntil the sonne of man be risen againe from the dead.

10 And his disciples asked him, saying, *Why then say the Scribes that Elias must first come? Mala.4.5.mat. 11.14.mar.9.13.

11 Jesus answered, and sayde vnto them, Elias truely shall first come, and restore all things:

12 But I say vnto you, that Elias is come alreadie, and they knewe him not, but haue done vnto him what so euer they listed:

Like-

Likewiſe ſhall alſo the ſonne of man ſuffer of them.

13 Then the diſciples vnderſtood that he ſpake vnto them of Iohn Baptiſt.

Mark.9.14. luke 9.37. 14 *And when they were come to the people, there came to him a certaine man, kneeling downe to him, and ſaying, 15 Lord, haue mercie on my ſonne, for he is lunatike, and ſore vexed: for oft times he falleth into the fire, and oft into the water.

16 And I brought him to thy diſciples, & they could not heale him.

17 Ieſus anſwered, and ſayde, O faithleſſe and peruerſe nation, howe long ſhall I bee with you? how long ſhall I ſuffer you? bring him hither to me.

18 And Ieſus rebuked the deuill, and he departed out of him: and the childe was healed euē that ſame time.

19 Then came the diſciples of Ieſus ſecretly, and ſaid, Why could not we caſt him out?

20 Ieſus ſaide vnto them, Becauſe of your vnbeliefe: for verily I ſay vnto you, *If ye haue faith ‖ as a graine of muſtarde ſeede, yee ſhall ſay vnto this mountaine, Remoue hence to yonder place: and it ſhall remoue, neither ſhall any thing be vnpoſſible vnto you.

Luke 17.6.

‖ As much.

‖ Of deuils. 21 Howbeit, this kinde ‖ goeth not out, but by prayer and faſting.

Matth.20.17. mark.9.31. luk.9.44. 22 *While they were conuerſant in Galilee, Ieſus ſayde vnto them, It will come to paſſe, that the ſonne of man ſhall be betrayed into the hands of men:

23 And they ſhall kill him, and the thirde day ſhall he riſe againe. And they were exceeding ſory.

24 And when they were come to Capernaum, they that receiued tribute money, came to Peter, and ſayde, Doeth not your maſter pay tribute?

25 He ſaith, Yes. And when he was come into the houſe, Ieſus preuēted him, ſaying, What thinkeſt thou, Simon? of whom do the kings of ỹ earth take tribute or toll? of their owne children, or of the ſtrangers?

26 Peter ſayeth vnto him, Of the ſtrangers. Ieſus ſayth vnto him, Then are the children free.

27 Notwithſtanding, leaſt wee ſhoulde offende them, goe thou to the ſea, and caſt an hooke, and take vp the fiſh that firſt commeth vp: and when thou haſt opened his mouth, thou ſhalt finde a piece of twentie pence: that take, and giue vnto them for me, and thee.

The xviii. Chapter.

3 He teacheth his diſciples to be humble, & harmeleſſe, 6 to auoyde occaſions of euill.

The Goſpel on S. Michael and all angels. Mark.9.33. 1 AT *the ſame time came the diſciples vnto Ieſus, ſaying, Who is the greateſt in the kingdome of heauen?

2 Ieſus called a litle childe vnto him, and ſet him in the middes of them,

3 And ſayde, Verily I ſay vnto you, * Except yee turne and become as litle children, yee ſhall not enter into the kingdome of heauen. Matt.19.14. luk. 9.46.1.cor.14.20

4 Whoſoeuer therefore ſhall humble himſelfe as this litle childe, the ſame is the greateſt in the kingdome of heauen.

5 And whoſo ſhal receiue ſuch a litle childe in my name, receiueth me.

6 * But whoſo ſhall offende one of theſe litle ones which beleeue in mee, it were better for him that a milſtone were hanged about his necke, and that he were drowned in ỹ deapth of the ſea. Mark.9.42.luk. 17.1.

7 Woe vnto the worlde becauſe of offences, it muſt needes bee that offences come: but woe to that man by whome the offence commeth.

8 If then * thy hande or thy foote offende thee, [a] cut them off, and caſt [them] from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life halt or maimed, [rather] then thou ſhouldeſt, hauing two hands or two feete, be caſt into the euerlaſting fire. Mat.5.30.mar. 9.43.

a We muſt cut off all our carnall & fleſhly concupiſcēce or affections, leaſt we be ꝺ them caſt into the fire of hell.

9 And if thine eye offende thee, plucke it out, and caſt [it] from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life with one eye, [rather] then hauing two eyes, to be caſt into hell fire.

10 Take heede that yee deſpiſe not one of theſe litle ones: for I ſay vnto you, that in heauen their [b] angels doe alwayes beholde the face of my father which is in heauen.

12 *How thinke ye? if a man haue an hundred ſheepe, and one of them bee gone aſtray, doeth he not leaue thoſe ninetie and nine, and goeth into the mountaines, and ſeeketh that which went aſtray? Luke 15.4.

13 And if it ſo bee that hee finde it, verely I ſay vnto you, hee reioyceth more of ỹ ſheepe, then of the ninetie and nine which went not aſtray.

14 Euen ſo it is not ỹ will of your father which is in heauē, that one of theſe litle ones ſhould periſh.

19 Againe, truely I say vnto you, that if two of you shal agree in earth as touching any thing that they [shall] aske, it shalbe done for them of my father which is in heauen.

20 For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the middest of them.

The Gospel on the xxii. sunday after Trinitie. Luke 17.4.

21 Then came Peter to him, and saide, Lorde, howe oft shall my brother sinne against mee, and I forgiue him? * till seuen times?

22 Iesus sayth vnto him, I say not vnto thee, vntill seuen times: but vntill seuentie times seuen.

23 Therefore is the kingdome of heauen likened vnto a certaine man ẏ was a king, which would take accompt of his seruants.

24 And when he had begun to reckon, one was brought vnto him which ought him ten thousand talents.

25 But forasmuch as he had not to pay, his lord commanded him to be solde, and his wife, and children, and all that hee had, and [payment] to be made.

26 The seruant therefore fell downe, and besought him, saying, Lord, haue patience with me, and I will pay thee all.

27 Then the lorde of that seruant, moued with pitie, loosed him, and forgaue him the debt.

28 But the same seruant went out, and founde one of his fellowes which ought him an hundred pence: and when he had layd handes on him, he tooke him by the throte, saying, Pay [me] that thou owest.

29 And his fellowe fell downe at his feete, and besought him, saying, Haue patience with me, and I will pay thee all.

30 And he would not: but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay the debt.

31 So when his fellowes saw what was done, they were very sory, and came, and told vnto their lord all that was done.

32 Then his lord, after that he had called him, sayde vnto him, O thou vngratious seruant, I forgaue thee all ẏ debt when thou desiredst me:

33 Shouldest not thou also haue had compassion on thy fellowe, euen as I had pitie on thee?

34 And his lord was wroth, and deliuered him to the tormentors, till he shoulde pay all that was due vnto him.

35 So likewise shall my heauenly father doe also vnto you, if yee from your heartes forgiue not euery one his brother their trespasses.

The xix. Chapter.

3 Christ giueth answere concerning marriage, 21 and teacheth, not to bee carefull, 22 nor to loue worldly riches.

1 AND it came to passe, * that when Iesus had finished these sayings, he gate him from Galilee, and came into ẏ coastes of Iurie beyond Iordane: Marke 10.1.

2 And great multitudes followed him, and he healed them there.

3 The Pharisees also came vnto him, tempting him, and saying vnto him, Is it lawfull for a man to put away his wife for euery cause?

4 He answered, and sayde vnto them, Haue ye not read * that he which created at the beginning, made them male and female? Gene.1.27.

5 And sayd, * For this cause shal a man leaue his father and his mother, and shall be knit to his wife: and they twaine shalbe one flesh. Gene.2.24.ephe. 5.31.1.cor.6.16.

6 Wherefore they are no more twaine, but one flesh. Let not man therefore put asunder, that which God hath coupled together.

7 They say vnto him, * Why did Moses then command to giue a writing of diuorcement, and to put her away? Deut.24.1.

8 He sayde vnto them, Moses, because of the hardnesse of your hearts, suffered you to put away your wiues: but from the beginning it was not so.

9 * I say vnto you, Whosoeuer shal put away his wife, except it be for fornication, and shall marrie another, cõmitteth adulterie: and who so marrieth her which is diuorced, doth commit adulterie. Matth.5.32. mar.10.11.luk. 6.18.1.cor.7.11.

10 His disciples say vnto him, If the case of the man be so with his wife, [then] is it not good to marrie.

11 But he sayde vnto them, All men can not receiue this saying, saue they to whome it is giuen.

12 For there are some chaste, which were so borne out of their mothers wombe: and there are some chaste, which were made chaste of men: and there bee chaste, which haue made them selues chaste for the kingdome of heauens sake. He that is able to receiue [it,] let him receiue [it.]

13 * Then were there brought vnto him yong children, that he shoulde put his hands on them, and pray: and the disciples rebuked them. Mark.10.13.luk. 18.15.

14 But Iesus sayde vnto them, Suffer ẏ yong children, and forbid them not to come vnto me: for to such belongeth the kingdome of heauen.

15 And when he had put his hands on them, he departed thence.

16 * And behold, one came, and saide vnto him, Good master, what good thing shal I do, that I may haue eternall life? Mark.10.17. luk.18.18.

17 Hee sayde vnto him, Why callest thou mee good? there is none good but one, [and that is] God: But if thou wilt enter into that life, keepe the commandements.

18 He

18 He sayth vnto him, Which? Jesus sayde, Exod.20,13. * Thou shalt doe no murder, Thou shalt not cõmit adulterie, Thou shalt not steale, Thou shalt not beare false witnesse, 19 Honour thy father and thy mother: &, Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe.
20 The yong man sayeth vnto him, All these [things] haue I kept frõ my youth vp: what lacke I yet?
21 Jesus sayde vnto him, If thou wilt bee perfect, goe and sell thy substance, and giue to the poore, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen: and come and followe me.
22 But when the yong man heard that saying, he went away sorry: for hee had great possessions.
23 Then Jesus said vnto his disciples, Verily I say vnto you, that a rich [man] shall hardly enter into the kingdome of heauen.
24 And againe I say vnto you, It is easier for a Camel to goe thorowe the eye of a needle, then for the rich to enter into the kingdome of God.
25 Whẽ the disciples heard [this,] they were exceedingly amazed, saying, Who then can be saued?
26 But Jesus behelde [them,] and sayde vnto them, With men this is vnpossible, but with God all things are possible.
The Gospel on the conuersion of S. Paul. Mark.10.21.luk. 19.28. 27 * Then answered Peter, and said vnto him, Beholde, we haue forsaken all, and followed thee, what shall we haue therefore?
28 Jesus sayde vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, that when the sonne of man shall sit in the throne of his maiestie, ye that haue followed me in the regeneration, * shal sit also vpon twelue seates, iudging the twelue tribes of Israel. Luke 22.30.
29 And euery one that hath forsaken houses, or brethrẽ, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or landes, for my names sake, shall receiue an hundred folde, and shall inherite euerlasting life.
Mark.10.31.luk. 13.30. 30 * But many that are first, shalbe last, and the last, shalbe first.

The xx. Chapter.

1 Christ teacheth by a similitude, that God is detter vnto no man. 20 Hee teacheth his disciples to bee lowly, 30 and giueth two blinde men their sight.

The Gospel on Septuagesima sunday. 1 For the kingdome of heauen is like vnto a man that is an housholder, which went out early in the morning to hyre labourers into his Vineyard.
2 And when hee had agreed with the labourers for a peny a day, hee sent them into his Vineyarde.
3 And when hee went out about the thirde houre, he sawe other standing idle in the market place,
4 And sayde vnto them, Goe yee also into the Vineyarde, and whatsoeuer is right, I will giue you. And they went their way.
5 Againe, when hee went out about the sixth and ninth houre, he did likewise.
6 And about the eleuenth houre, when hee went out, he founde other standing idle, and sayth vnto them, Why stande yee here all the day idle?
7 They say vnto him, Because no man hath hired vs. He saith vnto them, Goe ye also into the vineyarde: and whatsoeuer is right, that shall ye receiue.
8 So when euen was come, the lorde of the vineyarde saith vnto his Stewarde, Call the labourers, and giue thẽ their hire, beginning from the last, vnto the first.
9 And when they came that [were hired] about the eleuenth houre, they receiued euery man a peny.
10 But when the first came also, they supposed that they should haue receiued more: and they likewise receiued euery man a peny.
11 And when they had receiued it, they murmured against the good man of the house,
12 Saying, These last haue wrought but one houre, and thou hast made them equall vnto vs, which haue borne the burden and feruent heate of the day.
13 But he answered to one of them, and sayde, Friende, I doe thee no wrong: diddest thou not agree with me for a peny?
14 Take that thine is, and goe thy way, I will giue vnto this last, euen as vnto thee.
15 Is it not lawfull for me to doe that I will with mine owne? Is thine eye euill, because I am good?
16 * So the last shall be first, and the first [shall be] last: for many be called, but fewe [be] chosen. Mat.19.13.mar. 10.31.luk.13.40
17 * And Jesus going vp to Hierusalem, tooke the twelue disciples aside in the way, & sayde vnto them, Mark.10.32.luk. 18.31.
18 Beholde, we goe vp to Hierusalem, and the sonne of man shall be betrayed vnto the chiefe Priests, and vnto the Scribes, and they shall condemne him to death:
19 * And shall deliuer him to the Gentiles to bee mocked, and to bee scourged, and to bee crucified: and the thirde day hee shall rise againe. Iohn 18.32.
20 * Then came to him the mother of Zebedees children, with her sonnes, worshipping him, and desiring a certaine thing of him. The Gospel on S. Iames the Apostle. Mark.10.35.
21 And hee sayth vnto her, What wilt thou? She sayth vnto him, Graunt, that these my two sonnes may sit, the one on thy right hande, and the other on the left, in thy kingdome.
22 But Jesus answered, and sayde, Yee wote not what ye aske. Are ye able to drinke of the cup that I shall drinke of, and to be baptized with with the baptisme that I am baptized with?

They say vnto him, We are able.
23 He sayth vnto them, Ye shall drinke in deed of my cup, and be baptized with the baptisme that I am baptized with: But to sit on my right hande, and on my left, is not mine to giue, but to them for whome it is prepared of my father.
Mark.10.41.luk.22.25. 24 * And when the ten heard [this,] they disdayned at the two brethren.
25 But Iesus, when he had called them vnto him, sayde, Yee knowe that the princes of the Gentiles haue dominion ouer them, and they that are great, exercise authoritie vpon them.
26 It shall not be so among you: But whosoeuer will be great among you, let him be your minister.
27 And whoso will be chiefe among you, let him be your seruant.
Phil.2.7. 28 Euen as * the sonne of man came not to be ministred vnto, but to minister, and to giue his life a ransome for many.
Mark.10.46. luk.18.35. 29 * And as they departed frō Hiericho, much people followed him.
30 And beholde, two blinde men sitting by the way side, when they heard that Iesus passed by, they cryed, saying, O Lord, thou sonne of Dauid, haue mercie on vs.
31 And the people rebuked them, because they should hold their peace: but they cried ỹ more, saying, Haue mercie on vs, O Lorde, thou sonne of Dauid.
32 And Iesus stoode still, and called them, and sayd, What will ye that I shall doe vnto you?
33 They say vnto him, Lord, that our eyes may be opened.
34 So Iesus had compassion on them, & touched their eyes: and immediatly their eyes receiued sight, and they followed him.

The xxi. Chapter.

7 Hee rideth into Hierusalem, 12 driueth the marchants out of the Temple, 19 and curseth the figge tree.

The Gospel on the first Sunday in Lent. Mark.11.1. luk.19.29. 1 AND * when they drue nigh vnto Hierusalē, and were come to Bethphage, vnto the mount of Oliues, then sent Iesus two disciples,
2 Saying vnto them, Goe into ỹ village that lieth ouer against you, and anon yee shal finde an asse tied, and a colt with her, when ye haue loosed [them,] bring [them] vnto me.
3 And if any man say ought vnto you, ye shall say, The Lord hath need of them and straightway he will let them go.
4 All this was done, that it might bee fulfilled which was spoken by the Prophet, saying,
Esay 62.11.zach 9.9.ioha.12.15. 5 * Tell ye the daughter of Sion, Beholde, thy king commeth vnto thee, meeke, & sitting vpon an Asse, & a colt, the foale of [the Asse] vsed to the yoke.
6 The disciples went, and did as Iesus commanded them,
7 And brought the Asse, and the colt, and put on them their clothes, and he sate thereon.
8 And many of the people spred their garmentes in the way, other cut downe braunches from the trees, and strawed them in the way.
9 Moreouer, the multitudes that went before, and that came after, cryed, saying, Hosanna to the sonne of Dauid: Blessed is hee that cōmeth in the name of the Lord, Hosanna in the highest.
10 * And when he was come into Hierusalem, all the citie was mooued, saying, Who is this?
Mar.11.11.luk.9.45.iohn.2.13. 11 And the multitude said, This is Iesus that Prophet of Nazareth [a citie] in Galilee.
12 And Iesus went into the Temple of God, * and cast out all them that solde and bought in the Temple, and ouerthrewe the tables of the money changers, and the seates of them that solde Doues,
Deut.14.25.
13 And said vnto them, It is writtē, My house shalbe called the house of praier, * but ye haue made it a denne of thieues.
Esay.56.7.iere.7.11.
14 * And the blinde and the halt came to him in the temple, and he healed them.
Mar.11.17.luk.19.46.
15 When the chiefe Priestes & Scribes sawe the wonders that he did, and the children crying in the Temple, and saying, Hosanna to the sonne of Dauid, they disdained, 16 And saide vnto him, Hearest thou what these say? But Iesus saith vnto them, Yea, haue ye neuer read, * Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast ordeined prayse?
Psal.8.3.
17 And hee left them, and went out of the citie vnto Bethanie, and he lodged there.
18 In the morning, as he returned into the citie, he hungred.
19 * And when he sawe one figge tree in ỹ way, he came to it, and found nothing thereon but leaues onely, and sayde vnto it, Neuer fruite growe on thee hencefoorwarde. And anon the figge tree withered away.
Mark.11.13.
20 And when the disciples sawe it, they marueiled, saying, Howe soone is the figge tree withered away?
21 Iesus answered, and said vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, if ye haue faith, and doubt not, ye shal not onely do this [which is done] to the figge tree, but also, if yee shall say vnto this mountaine, Be thou remoued, & be thou cast into the sea, it shalbe done.
22 And all things whatsoeuer ye shall aske in prayer, beleeuing, ye shall receiue.
23 * And when hee was come into the Temple, the chiefe Priestes and the elders of the people came vnto him teaching, and say, By Mark.11.27.luk.10.1.

what

what authoritie doest thou these things? and who gaue thee this power?

24 Jesus answered, and sayd vnto them, I also wil aske you one question, which if ye tel me, I in like wise will tel you by what authority I do these things:

25 The baptisme of John, whence was it? frō heauen, or of men? And they reasoned with themselues, saying, If wee shall say, From heauen, he will say vnto vs, Why did ye not then beleeue him?

26 But if we shall say, Of men, then feare we the people, * for all [men] holde John as a Prophet. Matth.14.5.

27 And they answered vnto Jesus, and sayde, We can not tell. And he sayd vnto them, Neither tell I you by what authoritie I do these things.

28 But what thinke you? A certaine man had two sonnes, and when he came to the first, he said, Sonne, go and worke to day in my vineyarde.

29 He answered, and said, I will not: but afterward he repented, and went.

30 And whē he came to the second, he said likewise: And he answered, and sayd, I [go] syr, and went not.

31 Whether of them twaine did the wil of his father? And they said vnto him, The first. Jesus sayth vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, that the Publicanes and the harlots go into the kingdome of God before you.

32 For * John came vnto you by ỹ way of righteousnesse, and yee beleeued him not: but the Publicanes & the harlots beleeued him. And ye, when ye had seene [it,] were not mooued afterwarde with repentance, that yee might haue beleeued him. Matth.3.4.

33 Hearken another similitude. * There was a certaine man, an housholder, which planted a vineyarde, and hedged it round about, and digged a wine presse in it, and built a towre, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a strange countrey. May 5.v.iere.2. 21.mark.12.1. luk.20.9.

34 And when the time of the fruit drewe neere, he sent his seruantes to the husbandmen, that they might receiue the fruites of it.

35 And the husbandmen, when they had taken his seruantes, they beat one, killed another, & stoned another.

36 Againe, he sent other seruants, moe then the first, and they did vnto them likewise.

37 But last of all, hee sent vnto them his owne sonne, saying, They will stand in awe of my sonne.

38 But when the husbandmen sawe the sonne, they sayde among them selues, * This is the heyre, come, let vs kill him, and let vs season vpon his inheritance. Matth.26.3. john.11.53.

39 And they caught him, and thrust him out of the vineyard, and slue [him.]

40 When the Lorde therefore of the vineyarde commeth, what wil he do vnto those husbandmen?

41 They say vnto him, Hee will miserably destroy those wicked [men,] and wil let out his vineyard vnto other husbandmen, which shal render him the fruite in due seasons.

42 Jesus saith vnto them, * Did ye neuer read in the scriptures, The stone which ỹ builders disalowed, the same is become the head of the corner? This is the Lordes doing, and it is marueilous in our eyes. Psal.118.22.act. 4.11.

43 Therfore say I vnto you, The kingdome of God shall be taken from you, and giuen to a nation bringing forth the fruites thereof.

44 And * whosoeuer shal fall on this stone, shal bee broken in pieces: but on whomsoeuer it shall fall, it shall all to grinde him. Rom.9.33.1.pet. 2.7.esay.8.14.

45 And when the chiefe Priests and Pharisees had heard his parables, they perceiued that he spake of them.

46 And whē they sought to lay hands on him, they feared the multitudes, because they tooke him as a Prophet.

2 The kingdome of heauen is like vnto a man that was a king, which made a marriage for his sonne, Luk.14.16. apoc.19.9.

3 And sent forth his seruants, to cal them that were bidden to the wedding: and they would not come.

4 Againe he sent forth other seruants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Behold, I haue prepared my dinner, my Oxen and my fatlings are killed, & all things are ready: come vnto the marriage.

5 But they made light of it, and went their wayes, one to his farme, another to his marchandize:

6 And the remnant tooke his seruantes, & entreated them spitefully, and slue them.

7 But when the king heard [therof,] he was wroth, and whē he had sent forth his armies, hee destroyed those murderers, and burnt vp their citie.

8 Thē saith he to his seruants, The marriage in deede is prepared, but they which were bidden, were not worthie.

9 Goe ye therefore out into the high wayes, and as many as ye shall finde, bid to the marriage.

10 And the seruantes went out into the high wayes, and gathered together al, as many as they founde, both good and bad, and the wedding was furnished with ghestes.

11 When the king came in to see the ghestes, he spyed there a man, which had not on a wed-

12 And he saith vnto him, Friend, howe camest thou in hither, not hauing a wedding garment? And he was euen speachlesse.
13 Then said the king to the ministers, When ye haue bounde him hand and foote, take him vp, and cast him into vtter darknesse, * there shalbe weeping, and gnashing of teeth.

17 Tell vs therefore, howe thinkest thou? Is it lawfull to giue tribute vnto Ceasar, or not?
18 But Iesus, when hee knewe their wickednesse, said, Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites?

20 And hee sayth vnto them, Whose is this Image and superscription?

28 Therefore in ỹ resurrection whose wife shal she be of the seuen? For they all had her.

Luke 11.52. 13 *Woe vnto you Scribes and Phariſees hypocrites, for ye ſhut vp ẏ kingdome of heauen before men: ye neither go in your ſelues, neither ſuffer ye them that come, to enter in.
Mar.12.40. luke 20.47. 14 *Woe vnto you Scribes and Phariſees hypocrites, for ye deuour widowes houſes, & that vnder a pretence of long prayer, therefore ye ſhal receiue the greater damnation.
15 Woe vnto you Scribes and Phariſees hypocrites, for ye compaſſe the ſea and the land to make one [a] proſelyte, & when he is become one, ye make him two fold more the childe of hell then ye your ſelues [are.]
[a] One brought from Gentilitie to their religion.
16 Wo be vnto you ye blind guides, for ye ſay, Whoſoeuer ſhall ſweare by the temple, it is nothing, but whoſoeuer ſhall ſweare by the gold of the temple, he is a [b] debter.
[b] Both to God and to man for to performe it.
17 Ye fooles and blind, for whether is greater, the gold, or the temple that ſanctifieth the gold?
18 And whoſoeuer ſhall ſweare by the altar, it is nothing, but whoſoeuer ſweareth by the gift that is vpon it, he is a debter.
19 Ye fooles and blind, for whether is greater, the gift, or the altar that ſanctifieth the gift?

Luke 11.42. 23 *Woe vnto you Scribes and Phariſees hypocrites, for ye tithe mint, and anniſe, and cummin, and haue left the weightier matters of the law, iudgement, mercy, and faith: theſe ought ye to haue done, and not to leaue the other vndone.

Luke 11.39. 25 *Woe vnto you Scribes and Phariſees hypocrites, for ye make cleane the vtter ſide of the cup, and of the platter, but within they are full of briberie and exceſſe.
26 Thou blind Phariſee, cleanſe firſt ẏ which is within the cup and platter, that the outſide of them may be cleane alſo.
27 Woe vnto you Scribes and Phariſees hypocrites, for yee are like vnto painted ſepulchres, which in deede appeare beautifull outward, but are within full of dead [mens] bones, and of all filthineſſe.
28 Euen ſo, ye alſo outwardly appeare righteous vnto men: but within ye are full of hypocriſie and iniquitie.
29 Woe vnto you Scribes and Phariſees hypocrites, becauſe ye build the tombes of the Prophets, and garniſh the ſepulchres of the righteous, 30 And ſay, If we had bene in the dayes of our fathers, wee would not haue bene partners with them in the blood of the Prophets.
31 Wherefore ye be witneſſes vnto your ſelues, that ye are the children of them which killed the Prophets.
32 Fulfil ye alſo the meaſure of your fathers.
33 Ye ſerpents, ye generation of vipers, how will ye eſcape the damnation of hell?
34 Wherefore beholde, I ſend vnto you Prophets, and wiſe men, and Scribes, and ſome of them ye ſhal kill and crucifie, and ſome of them ſhall yee ſcourge in your ſynagogues, and perſecute them from city to city: The Goſpel on S. Steuens day.

The xxiiii. Chapter.

1 Chriſt ſheweth his diſciples the deſtruction of the temple, 6 the ende of the world, and the tokens of the latter dayes, 42 and warneth them to wake, 44 for the world ſhall ſodainly periſh.

Mar.13.1. luke.21.5. 1 AND *Jeſus went out, and departed from the temple: & his diſciples came [to him] for to ſhew him ẏ buildings of the temple.
2 Jeſus ſaid vnto them, See ye not all theſe things? Verily I ſay vnto you, *there ſhall not bee left here one ſtone vpon another, that ſhall not be deſtroyed. Luke 19.44.
3 And as hee ſate vpon the mount of Olives, the diſciples came vnto him ſecretly, ſaying, Tell vs, when ſhall theſe things be? & what [ſhalbe] the token of thy comming, and of the end of the world?
4 And Jeſus anſwered, and ſaid vnto them, Take *heede that no man deceiue you. Col.2.18. ephe.5.6.
5 For many ſhal come in my name, ſaying, I am Christ, and shall deceiue many.

6 It will come to passe, that ye shall heare of warres, and rumors of warres: See that you bee not troubled: for all [these things] must come to passe, but the end is not yet.
7 For nation shall rise against nation, and realme against realme, and there shall be famines, and pestilences, and earthquakes in ‖ certaine places.
‖ Some read, euery place.
8 All these are the beginning of sorowes.
Matt.10.17. luke 21.12. Iohn 16,2.
9 *Then shal they put you to trouble, and shal kill you: and ye shall bee hated of all nations for my names sake.
10 And then shall many be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another.
11 And many false prophets shall arise, & shall deceiue many.
12 And because iniquitie shall abound, the loue of many shall waxe cold.
13 But he that shall endure to the end, the same shalbe saued.
14 And this Gospell of the kingdome shall be preached in all the world, for a witnesse vnto all nations, and then shall the end come.
Mar.13.14. luke 21.20. dan.9.27.
15 *When ye therefore shall see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by Daniel the Prophet, stand in the holy place, (whoso readeth, let him vnderstand,)

17 And let him which is on the house toppe, not come downe to fetch any thing out of his house:
18 Neither let him which is in the field, returne backe to fetch his clothes.
19 Woe shalbe in those dayes to them that are with child, and to them that giue sucke.
20 But pray ye that your flight bee not in the winter, *neither on the Sabboth day:
Act.1.12.
21 For then shal be great tribulation, such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time, no, nor in any wise shalbe.
22 Yea, and except those dayes should be shortned, there should no flesh be saued: but for the chosens sake those dayes shalbe shortned.
Mar.13.21. luke 17.23.
23 Then if any man shall say vnto you, *Loe, here is Christ, or there: beleeue it not.
24 For there shal arise false Christes, and false prophets, and shall shew great signes, and wonders: in so much that (if it were possible) they shall deceiue the very elect.
25 Behold, I haue told you before.
26 Wherefore, if they shall say vnto you, Behold, he is in the desart, goe not foorth: Behold, he is in the secret places, beleeue it not.
27 For as the lightning commeth out of the East, and shineth into the West: so shall also the comming of the sonne of man be.
Luke 17.37.
28 *For wheresoeuer the dead carkeise is, euen there will the Eagles also bee gathered together.
29 Immediately, after the tribulation of those dayes, *shall the sunne be darkened; and the moone shal not giue her light, and the starres shall fall from heauen, and the powers of the heauens shalbe shaken.
Mark.13.24. luke 21.25. ioel 2.31.
30 And then shall appeare the signe of ꝑ sonne of man in heauen: and then shall all the kindreds of the earth mourne, *and they shall see the sonne of man comming in the cloudes of heauen, with power and great glory.
Act.1.7.

34 Verily I say vnto you, this generation shall in no wise passe, till all these things be fulfilled.
35 *Heauen and earth shall passe away, but my words shall in no wise passe away.
Mar.13.32.
36 But of that day and houre knoweth no man, no, not the angels of heauen, but my father onely.
37 But as the dayes of Noe were, so shal also the comming of the sonne of man be.
38 *For as in the dayes that were before the flood, they were eating, and drinking, marrying, and giuing in mariage, euen vntil the day that Noe entred into the arke, Gen.7.5. luke 17.28.
39 And knew not till the flood came, and tooke them all away: so shall also the comming of the sonne of man be.
40 *Then shall two bee in the field: the one is receiued, and the other is left alone.
Luke 17.35.
41 *Two [wome] shalbe grinding at the mill: the one is receiued, and the other left alone.

Luke 12.39. 2.thes.5.2. apoc.16.15.
44 Therefore bee ye also ready: for in such an houre as yee thinke not, the sonne of man commeth.
45 Who then is that faithfull and wise seruāt, whom his lord hath made ruler ouer his household, to giue them meate in season?
46 Blessed is that seruant, whom his lord whē he commeth, shall find so doing.
47 Verily I say vnto you, that he shal make him ruler ouer all his goods.
48 But and if that euill seruant shall say in his heart, My lord wil be long a comming:
49 And

49 And so begin to smite his fellowes, yea, and to eate and drinke with the drunken:
50 The same seruantes Lord shall come in a day when hee looketh not for him, and in an houre that he is not ware of:
51 And shall hewe him in pieces, and giue him his portion with the hypocrites: *there shal be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

Matt. 13.42. and 25.30.

The xxv. Chapter.

1 The ten virgins. 14 The talents deliuered to the seruants. 31 And of the generall iudgement.

1 THen shall the kingdome of heauen be likened vnto ten virgins, which when they had taken their lampes, went foorth to meete the bridegrome.
2 But fiue of them were wise, and fiue were foolish.
3 They that were foolish, when they had take their lampes, tooke none oile with them:
4 But the wise tooke oile in their vessels, with their lampes also.
5 While the bridegrome taried, they al slumbred and slept.
6 And eue at midnight there was a cry made, Behold, the bridegrome commeth, goe ye out to meete him.
7 Then all those virgins arose, and prepared their lampes.
8 So the foolish said vnto the wise, Giue vs of your oile, for our lampes are gone out.
9 But the wise answered, saying, [Not so,] lest there be not ynough for vs and you: but goe ye rather to them that sell, and buy for your selues.
10 And while they went to buy, the bridegrome came, and they that were ready, went in with him to the mariage, and the doore was shut vp.
11 Afterward came also the other virgins, saying, Lord, Lord, open to vs.
12 But he answered, and said, Verily I say vnto you, I know you not.
13 *Watch therefore, for ye know neither the day, nor yet the houre, wherein the sonne of man commeth.

Matt. 24.43. mar. 13.33.

14 *Likewise, as [when] a [certaine] man taking his iourney into a strange countrey, called his owne seruants, and deliuered vnto thē his goods.

Luke 19.12.

15 And vnto one he gaue fiue talents, to an other two, and to another one, to euery man after his abilitie, and straightway tooke his iourney.
16 Then he that had receiued the fiue talents, went and occupied with the same, and made [them] other fiue talents.
17 And likewise he that had receiued two, hee also gained other two.
18 But he that had receiued one, went and digged in the earth, and hid his lordes money.
19 After a long season, ỹ lord of those seruants commeth, and reckoneth with them.
20 And so hee that had receiued fiue talents, came and brought other fiue talents, saying, Lord, thou deliueredst vnto me fiue talents: behold, I haue gained besides them, fiue talents moe.
21 His lord said vnto him, Well done, thou good and faithfull seruaunt, thou hast bene faithfull ouer few things, I will make thee ruler ouer many things: enter thou into the ioy of thy lord.
22 He also that had receiued two talents, came, and said, Lord, thou deliueredst vnto me two talents: behold, I haue wonne two other talents besides them.
23 His lord said vnto him, Wel done, good and faithfull seruant, thou hast bene faithfull ouer few things, I will make thee ruler ouer many things: enter thou into the ioy of thy lord.
24 Then he which had receiued the one talent, came, and said, Lord, I knew thee that thou art an hard man, reaping where thou hast not sowen, and gathering where thou hast not strawed:
25 And therefore was I afraid, and went and hid thy talent in the earth: loe, there thou hast that thine is.
26 His lord answered, and said vnto him, Thou euill and slouthful seruant, thou knewest that I reape where I sowed not, and gather where I haue not strawed:
27 Thou oughtest therefore to haue deliuered my money to the exchangers, and then at my comming should I haue receiued mine owne with vantage.
28 Take therefore the talent from him, & giue it vnto him which hath ten talents.
29 *For vnto euery one that hath, shalbe giuē, and he shall haue abundance: but from him that hath not, shall be taken away, euen that which he hath.

Matt. 13.12. mar. 4.25.

30 And cast the vnprofitable seruant *into vtter darknesse, there shal be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

Matt. 8.12. and 22.13.

31 When the Sonne of man shall come in his glory, and all the holy angels with him, then shal he sit vpon the throne of his glory.
32 And before him shalbe gathered all nations, and he shall separate them one from another, as a shepeheard deuideth his sheepe from the goates.
33 And he shal set the sheepe on his right hand, but the goates on the left.
34 Then shall the king say vnto them [which shalbe] on his right hand, Come ye blessed of my father, inherite the kingdome, which hath bene prepared for you from the foundation of the world.
35 *For I was an hungred, and ye gaue mee meate: I was thirstie, and ye gaue me drinke:

Eccl.7.39. 36 Naked, and ye clothed me: * I was sicke, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came vnto me.
37 Then shall the righteous answere him, saying, Lord, when sawe we thee an hungred, and fed thee? or thirstie, and gaue thee drinke?
38 When sawe we thee a stranger, and tooke thee in? or naked, and clothed thee?
39 Or when sawe we thee sicke, or in prison, and came vnto thee?
40 And the king shall answere, and say vnto them, Verily I say vnto you, in as much as ye haue done it vnto one of the least of these my brethren, ye haue done [it] vnto me.
Psal.6.9. matt.7.23. luke 13.27. 41 *Then shal he say also vnto them on the left hand, Depart from me, ye cursed, into the euerlasting fire, which is prepared for the deuil and his angels.
42 For I was an hungred, and ye gaue me no meate: I was thirstie, and ye gaue me no drinke:
43 I was a stranger, and ye tooke me not in: naked, and ye clothed me not: sicke, & in prison, and ye visited me not.
44 Then shall they also answere him, saying, Lord, when sawe we thee an hungred, or a thirst, or a stranger, or naked, or sicke, or in prison, and did not minister vnto thee?
45 Then shall he answere them, saying, Verily I say vnto you, in as much as ye did it not to one of the least of these, yee did it not to me.
Dan.12.2. iohn 5.29. 46 And *these shall goe away into euerlasting paine: but the righteous into life eternall.

1 Marie Magdalene anointeth Christ. 16 They eate the Easter lambe.

The Gospel on the next Sunday after Easter. 1 AND it came to passe, when Jesus had finished all these things, he said vnto his disciples, Mar.14.1. luke 22.1. 2 *Ye know that after two dayes is the feast of Passeouer, and the sonne of man is betraied to be crucified.
Iohn 11.47. 3 *Then assembled together ỹ chiefe priests, and the Scribes, and the elders of the people, vnto the palace of the high priest, which was called Caiaphas,
4 And held a counsell, that they might take Jesus subtilly, and kill him.
5 But they said, Not on the feast [day,] least there be an vprore among the people.
Mar.14.3. iohn 12.2. 6 *When Jesus was in Bethanie, in the house of Simon the leper,
7 There came vnto him a woman, hauing an alabaster box of precious ointment, & powred it on his head as he sate [at the boord.]
8 But when his disciples sawe it, they had indignation, saying, To what purpose [is] this waste?
9 This ointment might haue bene solde for much, and giuen to the poore.
10 When Jesus vnderstood that, hee said vnto them, Why trouble ye the woman? for shee hath wrought a good worke vpon me.
Deut.15.11. 11 *For ye haue the poore alwayes with you, but me ye haue not alwayes.
12 For in that this woman hath cast this ointment on my body, she did it to burie me.
13 Verily I say vnto you, Whersoeuer this gospell shal be preached in the whole world, there shall also this that this woman hath done, be told for a memoriall of her.
Mar.14.10. luke 22.4. 14 *Then one of the twelue, called Judas Iscariot, went vnto the chiefe priests,
15 And said vnto them, What will ye giue me, and I will deliuer him vnto you? And they appointed vnto him thirtie siluer [pieces.]
16 And from that time forth, he sought opportunitie to betray him.
Mar.14.12. luke 22.7. 17 *The first [day] of sweete breade, the disciples came to Jesus, saying vnto him, Where wilt thou that we shal prepare for thee to eate the Passeouer?
18 And he said, Goe into the citie to such a mã, and say vnto him, The master saieth, My time is at hand, I make the Passeouer at thy house with my disciples.
19 And the disciples did as Jesus had appointed them, and they made ready the Passeouer.
Mar.14.17. luke 22.14. iohn 13.21. 20 *When the Euen was come, he sate downe with the twelue.
21 And as they did eate, he said, Verily I say vnto you, that one of you shall betray me.
22 And they being exceeding sorowfull, began euery one of them to say vnto him, Lorde, is it I?
23 He answered, and said, He that hath dipped his hand with me in the dish, the same shall betray me.
24 The sonne of mã truely goeth as it is written of him: but woe vnto ỹ man by whom the sonne of man is betrayed: It had bene good for that man if he had not bene borne.
25 Then Judas, which betrayed him, answered, and said, Master, is it I? Hee saide vnto him, Thou hast said.
1.Cor.11.24. 26 When they were eating, *Jesus, when he had taken the bread, and giuen thanks, hee brake [it] and gaue [it] to the disciples, and said, Take ye, eate ye, this is my body.
27 And when he had taken the cup, and giuen thanks, he gaue it them, saying, Drinke ye all of it:
28 For this is my blood of the new testament, ỹ is shed for many for the remission of sinnes.
29 But I say vnto you, I wil in no wise drinke hencefoorth of this fruite of the vine tree, vntill that day when I drinke it new with you in my fathers kingdome.

30 And

30 And when they had praised [God,] they went out vnto the mount of Oliues.

Mar.14.27. iohn 16.30. 31 *Then saieth Iesus vnto them, All ye shall be offended because of me this night: For it

Zach.13.7. is written, * I will smite the shepheard, and the sheepe of the flocke shalbe scattered abroad.

Mar.14.28. and 16.7. 32 But after I am risen againe, * I will goe before you into Galilee.

33 Peter answered, and said vnto him, Though all men shall be offended because of thee, yet will I neuer be offended.

Iohn 13.38. 34 Iesus said vnto him, *Verily I say vnto thee, that in this same night before the cocke crowe, thou shalt deny me thrise.

35 Peter said vnto him, Though I should die with thee, yet will I by no maner of meanes deny thee. Likewise also sayd all the disciples.

Mar.14.32. luke 22.39. 36 * Then commeth Iesus with them vnto a place called Gethsemane, and saieth vnto the disciples, Sit ye there while I goe and pray ponder.

37 And when he had taken with him Peter, & the two sonnes of Zebedee, he began to be sorowfull and heauy.

38 Then said Iesus vnto them, My soule is exceeding heauy, euen vnto the death: tary ye here, and watch with me.

39 And when hee had gone a little further, hee fell flat on his face, praying, and saying, O my father, if it be possible, let this cuppe passe from mé: neuertheles[se] not as I will, but as thou wilt.

40 And hee commeth vnto the disciples, and findeth them a sleepe, and saieth vnto Peter, What, could yee not watch with mee one houre?

41 Watch & pray, that ye enter not into temptation: The spirit in deed is willing, but the flesh[is]weake.

42 He went away againe the second time, and prayed, saying, O my father, if this cup may not passe away from me, except I drinke it, thy will be fulfilled.

43 And when he came, he findeth them a sleepe againe: for their eies were heauy.

44 And he left them, and went againe & praied the third time, saying the same words.

45 Then commeth hee to his disciples, and saith vnto them, Sleepe henceforth, & take your rest: beholde, the houre is at hand, and the sonne of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.

46 Rise, let vs be going: beholde, he is at hand that doeth betray me.

Mar.14.43. luke 22.47. iohn 18.3. 47 *While he yet spake, loe, Iudas one of the twelue came, and with him a great multitude with swordes and staues from the chiefe priests and elders of the people.

48 But he that betraied him, gaue them a token, saying, Whomsoeuer I shall kisse, that same is he, hold him fast.

49 And forthwith when he came to Iesus, he said, Haile master: and kissed him.

50 And Iesus said vnto him, Friend, wherfore art thou come? Then came they and laied hands on Iesus, and tooke him.

51 And behold, one of them which were with Iesus, stretched out his hand, and drew his sword, and after that he had striken a seruant of the hie priests, he smote off his eare.

52 Thē said Iesus vnto him, Turne backe thy sword into his place: *for all they that take the sword, shall perish with the sword. Gen.9.6. apoc.13.10.

53 Thinkest thou that I can not now pray to my father, and he shall cause to stand by mee more then twelue legions of angels?

54 But how then shall the scriptures be fulfilled, *that thus it must be? Esa.53.10.

55 In that same houre said Iesus to the multitudes, Ye be come out as it were vnto a thiefe with swords and staues for to take me: I sate daily with you teaching in the temple, and ye tooke me not.

56 But all this was done that the scriptures of the Prophets might be fulfilled. *Thē al the disciples hauing forsaken him, fled. Lamen.4.20. matt.26.31.

57 *But they that had taken Iesus, led him away to Caiaphas the hie priest, where the scribes and the elders were assembled. Mat.4.53. luke 22.54. iohn 18.14.

58 But Peter followed him a farre off, vnto the hie priests palace, and went in, & sate with the seruants to see the end.

59 *The chiefe priests and elders, and all the counsaile, sought false witnesse against Iesus, to put him to death, Mar.14.55.

60 But found none: yea, when many false witnesses came, yet found they none. At the last came two false witnesses, 61 And said, This [fellow] said, *I am able to destroy the temple of God, and to build it in three dayes. Iohn 2.19.

62 And the chiefe priest arose, and said vnto him, Answerest thou nothing? What[is that which] these witnesse against thee?

63 But Iesus held his peace. And the chiefe priest answered, and said vnto him, I charge thee by the liuing God, that thou tell vs whether thou be Christ the sonne of God?

64 Iesus saith vnto him, Thou hast said: Neuertheless, I say vnto you, *Hereafter shal ye see the sonne of man sitting on the right hand of the power[of God,] and comming in the cloudes of the skie. Matt.16.27. rom.14.10. 1.thes.4.14.

65 Then the hie priest rent his clothes, saying, He hath spokē blasphemie: what neede we of any moe witnesses? Beholde, now ye haue heard his blasphemie.

66 What thinke ye? They answered and said, He is worthy to die.

67 *Then did they spit in his face, and buffeted Esai 50.6.

Mar.14.66. luke 22.55. iohn 18.25.

69 *Peter sate without in the palace: And a damosell came vnto him, saying, Thou also wast with Iesus of Galilee.

70 But hee denied before them all, saying, I wote not what thou sayest.

71 When he was gone out into the porche, an other [wench] saw him, and said vnto them that were there, This fellow was also with Iesus of Nazareth.

72 And againe he denied with an othe, I do not know the man.

73 And after a while came vnto him they that stood by, and said to Peter, Surely thou art euen one of them: for thy speach bewraieth thee.

74 Then began hee to curse and to sweare, [saying,] I know not the man. And immediately the cocke crew.

75 And Peter remembred the wordes of Iesu, which said vnto him, Before the cocke crowe, thou shalt deny me thrise. And hee went out, and wept bitterly.

The xxvii. Chapter.

2 Christ is deliuered vnto Pilate. 5 Iudas hangeth himselfe.

Mar.15.1. luke 22.66. iohn 17.22.

1 WHen the morning was come, *all the chiefe priests and elders of the people held a counsell against Iesus to put him to death.

2 And when they had bound him, they led him away, and deliuered him to Pontius Pilate the deputie.

3 Then Iudas, which had betrayed him, when he sawe that hee was condemned, repented himselfe, and brought againe the thirtie ‖ siluer pieces to the chiefe priests and elders,

‖ Or, siluerlings.

4 Saying, I haue sinned, in that I haue betraied ỳ innocent blood. And they said, What is that to vs? see thou to that.

5 And when hee had cast downe the pieces of siluer in the temple, he departed, * and went his way, and hanged himselfe.

Act.1.18.

6 And the chiefe priests tooke the siluer [pieces,] and said, It is not lawfull for to put thē into the treasurie, because it is the price of blood.

7 And when they had taken counsell, they bought with them the potters field, to bury strangers in.

8 Wherefore that field was called, *The field of blood vntill this day.

Act.1.19.

9 (Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Ieremie the Prophet, saying, *And they tooke the thirtie siluer [pieces,] the price of him that was valued, whom they bought of the children of Israel:

Zach.11.13.

10 And gaue them for the potters field, as the Lord appointed me.)

11 Iesus stood before the deputie, and the deputie asked him, saying, Art thou the king of the Iewes? Iesus saieth vnto him, Thou saiest.

12 *And when hee was accused of the chiefe priests and elders, he answered nothing.

Mar.15.3.

13 Then saith Pilate vnto him, Hearest thou not how many things they witnesse against thee?

14 And he answered him to neuer a word: in so much that the deputie maruailed greatly.

15 *At that feast the deputie was woont to let loose vnto the people a prisoner, whom they would.

Mar.15.6. luke 23.17.

16 He had then a notable prisoner, called Barabbas.

17 Therefore when they were gathered together, Pilate said vnto them, Whether will ye that I giue loose vnto you Barabbas, or Iesus, which is called Christ?

18 For he knew that for enuie they had deliuered him.

19 When he was set downe on the iudgement seate, his wife sent vnto him, saying, Haue thou nothing to do with that iust man: For I haue suffered many things this day in a dreame because of him.

20 *But the chiefe priests and elders perswaded the people that they should aske Barabbas, and destroy Iesus.

Mar.15.11. luke 23.17. iohn 18.40. act.3.14.

21 The deputie answered, and said vnto them, Whether of the twaine wil ye that I let loose vnto you? They said, Barabbas.

22 Pilate said vnto them, What shal I do then with Iesus which is called Christ? They all said vnto him, Let him be crucified.

23 The deputie said, What euill hath he done? But they cried exceedingly, saying, Let him be crucified.

24 When Pilate sawe that hee could preuaile nothing, but that more businesse was made, he tooke water, and washed his hands before the people, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this iust person: see ye to it.

25 Then answered all the people, and said, His blood be on vs, and on our children.

26 Then let he Barabbas loose vnto them, and when he had scourged Iesus, hee deliuered him to be crucified.

27 *Then the souldiers of the deputie, when they had taken Iesus into the common hall, gathered vnto him al the band [of souldiers.]

Mar.15.16. iohn 19.1.

28 And when they had stripped him, they put on him a scarlet robe:

29 And when they had platted a crowne of thornes, they put it vpon his head, and a reede in his right hand: and when they had bowed the knee before him, they mocked him, saying, Haile king of the Iewes.

30 And

30 And when they had spit vpon him, they tooke the reede, and smote him on the head.
31 And after that they had mocked him, they tooke the robe off him, & put his owne raimẽt on him, and led him away to crucifie him.
Mar.15.28. luke 23.26. 32 *And as they came out, they found a man of Cyrene, Simon by name: him they compelled to beare his crosse.
Mar.15.22. luke 23.32. john 19.16. 33 *And when they were come vnto a place called Golgotha, that is to say, a place of a skull, 34 They gaue him vineger to drinke, mingled with gall: and when he had tasted thereof, he would not drinke.
Mar.15.24. 35 *When they had crucified him, they parted his garments, casting lots: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Prophet, Psal.22.19. *They parted my garments among them, and vpon my vesture did they cast lots.
36 And sitting downe, they watched him there:
37 And set vp ouer his head his accusatiõ written, THIS IS IESVS, THE KING OF THE IEWES.
38 Then are there two thieues crucified with him: one on the right hand, and another on the left.
39 They that passed by, reuiled him, wagging their heads,
Iohn 2.19. 40 And saying, *Thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three dayes, saue thy selfe: If thou bee the sonne of God, come downe from the crosse.
41 Likewise also the high priests mocking him, with the Scribes and Elders, said, 42 He saued other, himselfe can he not saue: If he be the king of Israel, let him now come downe from the crosse, and wee will beleeue him.
Psal.22.9. wisd.1.28. 43 *Hee hath trusted in God, let him deliuer him now if he will haue him: for he said, I am the sonne of God.
44 The thieues also which were crucified with him, cast the same in his teeth.
45 From the sixth houre was there darkenesse ouer all the land, vnto the ninth houre.
46 And about ỹ ninth houre, Iesus cried with a loud voyce, saying, Eli, Eli, Lamasabachthani, that is to say, *My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?
Psal.22.8. 47 Some of them that stoode there, when they heard that, said, This man calleth for Elias.
Psal.69.22. 48 And straightway one of them ranne, *and tooke a sponge, and whẽ he had filled it ful of vineger, and put it on a reede, he gaue him to drinke.
49 The rest said, Let be, let vs see whether Elias will come to saue him.
50 Iesus, when hee had cried againe with a loud voyce, yelded vp the ghost.
1.Chr.3.14. 51 *And beholde, the vaile of the temple was rent in two partes, from the top to the bottome, and the earth did quake, and the stones rent,
52 And graues were opened, and many bodies of saints which slept, arose.
53 And after that they were come out of the graues after his resurrection, came into the holy citie, and appeared vnto many.
54 When the [a]Centurion, and they that were with him watching Iesus, sawe the earthquake, and those things that were done, they feared greatly, saying, Truely this was the sonne of God.
a A captaine of one hundred men.
55 And many women were there (beholding him a farre off) which followed Iesus from Galilee, ministring vnto him, 56 Among which was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James and Joses, and the mother of Zebedees children.
57 *When the Euen was come, there came a rich man from [the city of] Arimathea, named Joseph, which also himselfe was Iesus disciple.
The Gospel on Easter euen. Mar.15.42. luke 23.50. iohn 19.38.
58 He went to Pilate, and begged the body of Iesus: then Pilate commanded the body to be deliuered.
59 And when Joseph had taken the body, hee wrapped it in a cleane linnen cloth, 60 And laid it in his new tombe which hee had hewen out in the roeke: and when he had rolled a great stone to the doore of the sepulchre, he departed.
61 And there was Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary, sitting ouer against the sepulchre.
62 The next day that followed the day of preparing, the high priests and Pharisees came together vnto Pilate, 63 Saying, Sir, we remember that this deceiuer said while he was yet aliue, After three dayes I arise againe.
64 Commaund therefore, that the sepulchre be made sure vntil the third day, least his disciples come by night, and steale him away, and say vnto the people, He is risen from the dead: and the last errour shall bee worse then the first.
65 Pilate said vnto them, Ye haue the watch, goe your way, make it as sure as ye know.
66 So they went, and when they had sealed vp the stone, they made the sepulchre sure with the watch.

The xxviii. Chapter.

2 The resurrection of Christ. 12 The high priests giue the souldiers money, to say that Christ was stollen out of his graue.

1 IN the latter* ende of the Sabboth day, which dawneth the first [day] of ỹ weeke, came Mary Magdalene, & the other Mary, to see the sepulchre. Mar.16.1. iohn 20.11.
2 And beholde, there was a great earthquake, for the angel of the Lord descended from heauen, and came and rolled backe the stone from the dore, and sate vpon it.

3 His countenance was like lightning, & his raiment white as snow.
4 And for feare of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men.
5 The angel answered, and said vnto the women, Feare ye not: for I know that ye seeke Iesus, which was crucified.
6 He is not here, he is risen, as he said. Come, see the place where that the Lord was laid,
7 And goe quickly, and tel his disciples that he is risen from the dead. And beholde, he goeth before you into Galilee, there shall ye see him: loe, I haue told you.
8 And they departed quickly from the sepulchre, with feare and great ioy, and did runne, to bring his disciples word.
9 And as they went to tell his disciples, behold, Iesus met them, saying, All haile. And they came, and held him by the feete, and worshipped him.
10 Then said Iesus vnto them, Be not afraid: goe tell my brethren that they goe into Galilee, and there shall they see me.
11 When they were gone, behold, some of the watch came into the citie, and shewed vnto the high priests all the things that were done.
12 And when they were assembled with the elders, and had taken counsell, they gaue large money vnto the souldiers, 13 Saying, Say ye, His disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept.
14 And if this come to the deputies [eares,] we wil perswade him, & make you careless.
15 So they, when they had taken the money, did as they were taught. And this saying was noised among the Iewes vntil this day.
16 Then the eleuen disciples went away into Galilee, into a mountaine where Iesus had appointed them.
17 And when they sawe him, they worshipped him: but some doubted.
18 And Iesus came, and spake vnto them, saying, All power is giuen vnto me in heauen and in earth.
19 *Goe ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the father, and of the sonne, and of the holy ghost: Mar.16.15.
20 Teaching them to obserue all things, whatsoeuer I haue commaunded you: and loe, I am with you alway, euen vnto the ende of the world.

WE haue in this description conferred the vſe and maner of the celebʒation of Easter that ẏ Iewes helde, with that which we vſe to recken and begin at, and alſo to name the dayes of the weeke, and haue added thereto certaine dayes of the moneth of March, in the yeere that Iesus Chʒiſt ſuffered, to declare the vnderſtanding of the ſaid difficultie. Wherein there is to be noted, that the Lord Iesus celebʒated not ẏ Passeouer the ſame day that the Iewes did: but that he which came not to bʒeake the lawe, but to fulfill the law in euery point, ate the Lambe with his diſciples at the time oʒdeined by the lawe, Exod. 12. which is the fourteenth day of the firſt Moneth (that is to ſay, March) in the afternoone, on the which began ẏ ſaid feaſt: which fell this yeere on the Friday, the Euen of the Sabboth oʒ day of reſt. On the which day, he which was the true Lambe was offered, to the ende that the trueth might agree with the figure: but the Iewes celebʒated the ſaid Passeouer the day following at Euen after Sunne ſet, Iesus Chʒiſt being in the graue: foʒ that by tradition of their pʒedeceſſoʒs, the ſaide feaſt which fell on the Friday, accoʒding to the lawe, was deferred to the next day, which was the day of their weekely Sabboth, becauſe they would not keepe two feaſtes together: foʒ this feaſt day they called the great Sabboth, John 19. and alſo becauſe (as enemies of the trueth) they would ſeeke all meanes poſſible to keepe him from being knowen foʒ the Meſſias.

Here is alſo to be noted, that where the eating of the Lambe, the inſtitution of the Sacrament, with the reſidue beforе mentioned, is referred to Thurſday and Friday: If ye recken accoʒding to the Iewes account, who begin their Friday night on Thurſday after Sunne ſet, & continueth that night and day vntill the next day after Sunne ſet, ye ſhall finde that Chʒiſt did eate ẏ Paſcal Lambe, inſtituted the Sacrament of his body and blood, was kiſſed by Iudas, and was crucified, dead, and buried on Friday. But if ye recken after our vſe, then Chʒiſt did eate the Paſcal Lambe, inſtituted the Sacrament of his body and blood, and was kiſſed of Iudas on Thurſday, but was crucified, dead, and buried on Friday.

The Gospell by Saint Marke.

The first Chapter.

2 The office of Iohn Baptist. 9 The baptisme of Christ, 13 his fasting, 14 and preaching.

1 THe beginning of ỳ Gospell of Jesus Christ, the sonne of God,

Mala.3.1. 2 As it hath bene written in the Prophets, * Beholde, I sende my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

Esai 40 3. Iohn 1.23. luke 3.4. 3 * A voyce of him that cryeth in the wildernesse, Prepare ye the way of the Lorde, and make his pathes straight.

Matth.3.4. 4 * Iohn was baptizing in the wildernes, and preaching the baptisme of repentance for the remission of sinnes.

Matth.3.5. 5 * And all the land of Jurie, and they of Hierusalem, went out vnto him, and were all baptized of him in the riuer of Jordane, confessing their sinnes.

6 Iohn was clothed with camels heare, and with a girdle of a skinne about his loynes: * & he did eate locustes and wilde honie, Leui.11.22. Matth.3.12. luke 3.16. Iohn 1.27. 7 * And preached, saying, He that is stronger then I, commeth after me, whose shoe latchet I am not worthie to stoupe downe, and vnloose.

8 I haue baptized you with water: but he shall baptize you with the holy ghost.

Actes 1.5. 9 * And it came to passe in those dayes, that Jesus came from Nazareth [a citie] of Galilee, * and was baptized of Iohn in Jordane.

Matth.3.14. luke 3.22. iohn 1.33. 10 And assoone as he was come vp out of the water, he saw heauen open, and the spirit descending vpon him like a Doue.

11 And there came a voyce from heauen, Thou art my deare sonne, in whom I am well pleased.

Matth.4.1. luke 4.1. 12 * And immediatly the spirit driueth him into wildernesse.

13 And he was there in the wildernesse fourtie dayes tempted of Satan, and was with the wilde beastes, and the angels ministred vnto him.

14 After that Iohn was deliuered [to prison,] * Jesus came into Galilee, preaching ỳ Gospell of the kingdome of God, Matth.4.12. luke 4.14. iohn 4.43. 15 And saying, The time is come, and ỳ kingdome of God is at hand: repent ye, and beleeue the Gospell.

Matth.4.18. luke 5.2. 16 * As he walked by the sea of Galilee, he saw Simon, and Andrew his brother, casting nets into the sea (for they were fishers.)

17 And Jesus said vnto them, Follow me, and I will make you to become fishers of men.

18 And straightway they forsooke their nets, and followed him.

19 And whē he had gone a litle further thence, he sawe James [the sonne] of Zebedee, and Iohn his brother, which also were in the ship mending their nets.

20 And anon he called them: and they left their father Zebedee in the ship with the hired seruantes, and followed him.

21 * And they came into Capernaum, and straightway on ỳ Sabboth dayes, he entred into the synagogue, and taught. Matth.4.23. luke 4.31.

22 * And they were astonied at his learning: for he taught them as one that had authoritie, and not as the Scribes. Matth.7.28. luke 4.32.

23 * And there was in their synagogue, a man vexed with an vncleane spirit, and he cryed aloude, Luke 4.33.

24 Saying, Let vs alone, what haue we [to doe] with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? Art thou come to destroy vs? I know thee what thou art, [euen] that holy one of God.

25 And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Holde thy peace, and come out of him.

26 And when the vncleane spirit had torne him, and cried with a loude voyce, he came out of him.

27 And they were all amazed, insomuch that they demanded one of another among themselues, saying, What thing is this? What newe doctrine is this? For with authoritie commandeth he the fowle spirites, and they doe obey him.

28 And immediately his fame spred abroade throughout all the region bordering on Galilee.

29 * And forthwith, when they were come out of the synagogue, they entred into the house of Simon, and Andrewe, with James and Iohn. Matth.8.14. luke 4.38.

30 But Simons wiues mother lay sicke of a feuer: and anon they tell him of her.

31 And he came and tooke her by the hand, and lift her vp: and immediatly the feuer forsooke her, and she ministred vnto them.

32 And at euen, when the sunne was downe, they brought vnto him all that were diseased, and them that were vexed with deuils:

33 And all the citie was gathered together at the doore.

34 And he healed many that were sicke of diuers diseases, and cast out many deuils, and suffered not the deuils to speake, because they knewe him.

35 And in the morning very earely before day, Jesus, when he was risen vp, went out, and departed into a solitarie place, & there prayed.

36 And Simon, and they that were with him, followed after him:

37 And when they had founde him, they saide vnto vnto him, All men seeke for thee.

38 And he said vnto them, Let vs goe into the next townes, that I may preach there also: for therefore am I come.
39 And he preached in their synagogues in all Galilee, and cast the deuils out.
Matth. 2.2. luke 5.12. 40 *And there came a leper to him, beseeching him, and kneeling downe to him, and saying vnto him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me cleane.
41 And Iesus, hauing compassion on him, whē he had put forth his hand, touched him, and saieth vnto him, I will, be thou cleane.
42 And as soone as he had spoken, immediatly the leprosie departed from him, and he was made cleane.
43 And after he had giuen him a straight commandement, he sent him away forthwith:
44 And sayth vnto him, See thou say nothing to any man: but get thee hence, shewe thy selfe to the priest, * and offer for thy clensing those things which Moses commanded, for a witnesse vnto them.
Leui. 14.4. luke 5.12.
Matth. 9.2. 45 *But he, as soone as he was departed, began openly to declare many things, & to publish this rumour: insomuch, that Iesus could no more openly enter into the citie, but was without in desart places: and they came to him from euery quarter.

The ii. Chapter.

3 He healeth the man of the palsie, 14 and calleth Leui the customer.

Mark. 9.1. 1 AFter [a fewe] dayes also, *he entred into Capernaum againe, and it was noysed that he was in the house.
2 And anon many were gathered together, [insomuch] that nowe there was no roome to receiue [them,] no not so much as about the doore: and he preached the word [of the Gospell] vnto them.
3 And they come vnto him, bringing one sicke of the palsie, which was borne of foure men.
4 And when they coulde not come nigh vnto him for preasse, they vncouered the roofe [of the house] that he was in: and when they had brokē vp the roofe, they do [with cordes] let downe the bed wherein the sicke of the palsie lay.
5 When Iesus sawe their faith, he saide vnto the sicke of the palsie, Sonne, thy sinnes be forgiuen thee.
6 But there were certaine of the Scribes sitting there, and reasoning in their heartes,
7 Why doeth he thus speake blasphemies? *Who can forgiue sinnes but God onely?
Iohn 14.4. esai 43.15.
8 And immediatly, when Iesus perceiued in his spirit that they so reason within themselues, he saieth vnto them, Why reason ye such things in your heartes?
9 Whether is it easier to say to the sicke of the palsie, Thy sinnes be forgiuen thee: or to say, Arise, take vp thy bed and walke?
10 But that ye may knowe that the sonne of man hath power in earth to forgiue sinnes, (He saieth to the sicke of the palsie,) 11 I say vnto thee, Arise, and take vp thy bed, and get thee hence into thine house.
12 And immediatly he arose, tooke vp the bed, & went forth before them all, insomuch that they were all amazed, and glorified God, saying, We neuer sawe it on this fashion.
Matth. 9.9. luke 5.27. 13 *And he went againe by the sea side, and al the people resorted vnto him, and he taught them.
14 And as Iesus passed by, he sawe Leui [the sonne] of Alphee sitting at the receite of custome, and saide vnto him, Follow me. And he arose, and followed him.
15 And it came to passe, that when Iesus sate at meate in his house, many publicanes and sinners sate also together at meate with Iesus and his Disciples: for there were many, and they followed him.
16 And when the Scribes and Pharisees sawe him eate with Publicanes and sinners, they saide vnto his Disciples, Howe is it that he eateth and drinketh with Publicanes and sinners?
17 When Iesus heard [that,] he saieth vnto them, They that be whole, haue no neede of the physicion, but they that are sicke: I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.
1. Tim. 1.13. matth. 9.14. luke 5.33. 18 *And the disciples of John, & of the Pharisees did fast: and they come and say vnto him, Why doe the disciples of John, and of the Pharisees fast, but thy disciples fast not?
19 And Iesus said vnto them, Can the childre of the bride chamber fast, while ỹ bridegrome is with them? As long as they haue the bridegrome with them, they cannot fast.
20 But the dayes will come, when the bridegrome shalbe taken away from them, and then shall they fast in those dayes.
21 No man also soweth a piece of newe cloth vnto an old garment: otherwaies, his newe piece taketh away [somewhat] from ỹ olde [garment,] and so the rent is made worse.
22 And no man powreth newe wine into olde vessels, els the newe wine doeth burst the vessels, and the wine runneth out, and the vessels will be marred: But newe wine must be put into new vessels.
Matth. 12.1. luke 6.1. 23 *And it came to passe, that he went thorow the corne fieldes on the Sabboth dayes, and his disciples began by the way to plucke the eares of corne.
24 And the Pharisees said vnto him, Beholde, why doe they on the Sabboth dayes that which is not lawfull?

25 And

1.Reg.21.6. 25 And he ſaid vnto them, * Haue ye neuer read what Dauid did, when he had neede, & was an hungred, both he, and they that [were] with him?

26 How he went into the houſe of God in the dayes of Abiathar the high Prieſt, and did eate the ſhewe bread, * which is not lawfull to eate but for the Prieſtes, and gaue alſo to them which were with him?

Exod.29.33. Leuit.8.31.

27 And he ſaid vnto them, The Sabboth was made for man, and not man for the Sabboth.

28 Therefore is the ſonne of man Lorde alſo of the Sabboth.

The iii. Chapter.

1 He helpeth the man with the dried hand, 14 and chooſeth his Apoſtles.

Matth.12.9. luke 6.6.

1 AND * he entred againe into the Synagogue, and a man was there which had a withered hand:

2 And they watched him, whether he would heale him on the Sabboth day, that they might accuſe him.

3 And he ſaid vnto the man which had the withered hand, Ariſe, [and ſtand] in the mids.

4 And he ſaieth vnto them, Is it lawful to doe good on the Sabboth dayes, or to doe euil? to ſaue life, or to kill? But they held their peace.

5 And when he had looked rounde about on them with anger, mourning for the hardneſſe of their hearts, he ſayth vnto ỹ man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he ſtretched it out: and his hand was reſtored as whole as the other.

6 And the Phariſees departed, & ſtraightway gathered a counſell with the Herodians againſt him, that they might deſtroy him.

7 But Jeſus auoyded, with his diſciples, to the ſea: and a great multitude followed him from Galilee, and from Jurie,

8 And from Hieruſalem, and from Idumea, and [from the region which is] beyond Jordane, and they that dwelt about Tyre & Sidon, a great multitude, when they had heard what things he did, came vnto him.

9 And Jeſus commanded his diſciples that a ſhip ſhould waite on him, becauſe of the people, leaſt they ſhould throng him.

10 For he had healed many, [inſomuch] that they preaſſed vpon him for to touch him, as many as had plagues.

11 And the vncleane ſpirites, when they ſawe him, they fel downe before him [at his feete,] and cried, ſaying, Thou art the ſonne of God.

12 And he ſtraightly charged them, that they ſhould not make him knowen.

Matth.10.1. luke 9.1.

13 * And he goeth vp into a mountaine, and calleth vnto him whom he would: and they came vnto him.

14 And he ordeined twelue, that they ſhould be with him, and that he might ſend them forth to preach:

15 And that they might haue power to heale ſicknes, and to caſt out deuils.

16 And he gaue vnto Simon to name, Peter.

17 And he called James [the ſonne] of Zebedee, and John James brother (and gaue them names, Boanerges, which is to ſay, The ſonnes of thunder.)

18 And Andrew, and Philip, & Bartholomew, and Matthewe, and Thomas, and James [the ſonne] of Alphee, and Thaddeus, and Simon the Chanaanite, 19 And Judas Iſcariot, which alſo betrayed him: and they come into an houſe.

20 And the people commeth together againe, ſo that they could not ſo much as eate bread.

21 And when they that belonged vnto him, heard [of it,] they went out to lay hands vpon him, for they ſaid, He is madde.

22 And the Scribes which came downe from Hieruſalem, ſaid, * He hath Beelzebub, and by the prince of the deuils, caſteth he out deuils.

Matth.9.34. and 12.24. luke 11.14.

23 And when he had called them vnto him, he ſaid vnto them in parables, How can Satan caſt out Satan?

24 And if a realme be diuided againſt it ſelfe, that realme cannot endure.

25 And if a houſe be diuided againſt it ſelfe, that houſe cannot continue.

26 And if Satan make inſurrection againſt himſelfe, and be diuided, he cannot continue, but hath an ende.

27 No mã can enter into a ſtrong mans houſe, and take away his goods, except he will firſt binde the ſtrong man, and then will ſpoyle his houſe.

28 * Verily I ſay vnto you, All ſinnes ſhalbe forgiuen vnto the children of men, & blaſphemies, wherewithſoeuer they ſhall blaſpheme:

Matth.12.31. luke 12.10. iohn 5.16.

29 But he that ſhall blaſpheme againſt the holy ghoſt, hath neuer forgiueneſſe, but is in danger of eternall damnation.

30 For they ſaid, He hath an vncleane ſpirit.

31 * There come his mother, and his brethren, and ſtanding without, ſent vnto him, calling him.

Matth.12.46. luke.8.19.

32 And the people ſate about him, and ſaid vnto him, Behold, thy mother, and thy brethren, and thy ſiſters ſeeke for thee without.

33 And he anſwered them, ſaying, Who is my mother, or my brethren?

34 And when he had looked rounde about on them which ſate about him, he ſaid, Beholde my mother and my brethren.

35 For whoſoeuer ſhall doe the will of God, the ſame is my brother, & my ſiſter, and mother.

The iiii. Chapter.

3 The parable of the Sower. 37 Chriſt ſtilleth the tempeſt of the ſea, which obeyeth him.

1 AND * he began againe to teach by the ſea ſide: and there gathered vnto him much people, ſo that he entred into a ſhip,

Matth.13.1. luke 8.4.

ſhip, and ſate in the ſea: and al the people was by the ſea ſide on the ſhore.

2 And he taught them many things by parables, and ſaid vnto them in his doctrine,

3 Hearken, Behold, there went out a Sower to ſowe:

4 And it fortuned as he ſowed, that ſome fell by the wayes ſide: and the fowles of the aire came, and deuoured it vp.

5 Some fell on ſtonie grounde, where it had not much earth: and immediatly it ſprang vp, becauſe it had no depth of earth.

6 But as ſoone as the ſunne was vp, it caught heate, and becauſe it had no roote, it withered away.

7 And ſome fel among thornes, & the thornes grewe vp, and choked it, and it gaue no fruit.

8 And ſome fell on good ground, and did yeelde fruite that ſprang vp, and grew, and brought forth, ſome thirtie, and ſome ſixtie, and ſome an hundred.

9 And he ſaid vnto them, He that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

10 And when he was alone, they that were about him, with the twelue, aſked of him the parable.

11 And he ſaide vnto them, Unto you it is giuen to knowe the myſterie of the kingdome of God: but vnto them that are without, all things are done by parables, Eſai 6.9. matth. 13 14. luke 8.10. Iohn 12.40. actes 28.26. rom. 11.8.

12 *That when they ſee, they may ſee, and not diſcerne: and when they heare, they may heare, and not vnderſtande, leaſt at any time they ſhould turne, and their ſinnes ſhoulde be forgiuen them.

13 And he ſaid vnto them, Knowe ye not this parable? And howe then will ye knowe all parables?

14 The Sower ſoweth the word.

15 And they that [receiued ſeede] by the way ſide, are thoſe where the word is ſowen, but when they haue heard, Satan commeth immediatly, and taketh away the word that was ſowen in their heartes.

16 And likewiſe they that receiue ſeede into the ſtonie ground, are they, which when they haue heard the worde, at once receiue it with gladneſſe:

17 Yet haue no roote in themſelues, and ſo endure but a time: and anon when trouble and perſecution ariſeth for the wordes ſake, immediatly they are offended.

18 And thoſe bee they that receiue ſeede among thornes: and they are ſuch as heare the worde,

1.Tim.6.17. 19 And the cares of this worlde, *and the deceitefulneſſe of riches, and the luſtes of other things entring in, choke the worde, and it is made vnfruitfull.

20 And they which receiued ſeede into good ground, are ſuch as heare the worde, and receiue it, ſo that one corne doeth bring forth thirtie, ſome ſixtie, ſome an hundred.

21 And he ſaid vnto them, *Is the candle lighted to be put vnder a buſhell, or vnder the table? and not to be put on a candleſticke? Matth. 5.15. luke 8.16. and 11.33.

22 *For there is nothing ſo priuie, that ſhal not be opened: neither hath it bene ſo ſecrete, but that it ſhall come abroade. Matth. 10.26. luke 8.17. and 12.2.

23 If any man haue eares to heare, let him heare.

24 And he ſaide vnto them, Take heede what ye heare: *With what meaſure yee mete, with the ſame ſhall it be meaſured to you againe: And vnto you that heare, ſhall more be giuen. Matth. 7.2. luke 6.38.

25 *For vnto him that hath, ſhall it be giuen: and from him that hath not, ſhalbe taken away, euen that which he hath. Matth. 13.12. and 25.29. luke 8.18. and 19.26.

26 And he ſaide, So is the kingdome of God, euen as if a man ſhoulde ſowe ſeede in the ground, 27 And ſhoulde ſleepe, and riſe night and day, and the ſeede ſhould ſpring and growe vp, he knoweth not how.

28 For the earth bringeth forth fruite of her ſelfe, firſt the blade, then the eare, after that the full corne in the eare.

29 But when the fruite is brought forth, anon he thruſteth in ỹ ſickle, becauſe the harueſt is come.

30 And he ſaide, *Whereunto ſhall we liken the kingdome of God? or with what compariſon ſhall we compare it? Matth. 13.32. luke 13.19.

31 It is like a graine of muſtard ſeede: which when it is ſowen in the earth, is leſſe then all ſeedes that be in the earth:

32 And when it is ſowen, it groweth vp, and is greater then al herbes, & beareth great branches, ſo that the fowles of the aire may make their neſtes vnder the ſhadowe of it.

33 *And with many ſuch parables preached he the worde vnto them, as they were able to heare it. Matth. 13.34.

34 But without parable ſpake he not vnto thē: but when they were alone, he expounded all things to his diſciples.

35 *And the ſame day when the Euen was come, he ſaieth vnto them, Let vs paſſe ouer vnto the other [ſide.] Matth. 8.23. luke 8.22.

36 And they left the people, and tooke him, euen as he was in the ſhip, and there were alſo with him other litle ſhippes.

37 And there aroſe a great ſtorme of winde, and the waues daſhed into the ſhip, ſo that it was now full.

38 And he was in the ſterne a ſleepe on a pillowe: and they awake him, and ſay vnto him, Maiſter, careſt thou not that we periſh?

39 And he aroſe, and rebuked the winde, & ſaid vnto the ſea, Peace, and be ſtill: and the winde ceaſſed, and there followed a great calme.

40 And

40 And he saide vnto them, Why are ye fearefull? How is it that ye haue no faith?
41 And they feared exceedingly, and saide one to another, Who is this, that both the wind and the sea obey him?

The v. Chapter.

8 Christ deliuereth the possessed from the vncleane spirit, 25 and the woman from the bloodie issue.

Matth.8.28. luke 8,26.

1 AND * they came ouer to ỹ other [side] of the sea, into the countrey of the Gadarenes.
2 And when he was come out of ỹ ship, immediatly there met him from among the tombes, a mā [possessed] of an vncleane spirit,
3 Which had his abiding among the tombes, and no man coulde binde him, no not with chaines:
4 Because that he had bene often bound with fetters and chaines, and the chaines had bene plucked asunder by him, and the fetters broken in pieces: neither coulde any man tame him.
5 And alwayes, night and day, he was in the mountaines, and in the tombes, crying, and all to cutting himselfe with stones.
6 But when he had spied Jesus a farre off, he ranne, and worshipped him,
7 And cryed with a loude voyce, and saide, What haue I to doe with thee, Jesus, thou sonne of the most highest God? I require thee in the name of God, that thou torment me not.
8 (For he saide vnto him, Come out of the man, thou foule spirit.)
9 And he asked him, What is thy name? And he answered, saying, My name is Legion: for we are many.
10 And he prayed him instantly that he woulde not send them away out of the countrey.
11 But there was there nigh vnto the mountaines, a great heard of swine, feeding.
12 And all the deuils besought him, saying, Send vs into the swine, that we may enter into them.
13 And anon Jesus gaue them leaue. And the vncleane spirites went out, and entred into the swine, and the heard ran headlong into the sea (they were about two thousande) and were choked in the sea.
14 And the swineheards fled, and tolde it in the citie, and in the countrey. And they went out for to see what was done:
15 And they come to Jesus, and see him that was vexed with the feend, and had the legion, sitting, and clothed, and in his right minde: and they were afraide.
16 And they that sawe [it,] tolde them howe it came to passe to him that was possessed with the deuill, and also of the swine.
17 And they began to pray him to depart out of their coastes.
18 And when he was come into the ship, he that had bene possessed with the deuill, prayed him that he might be with him.
19 Howbeit, Jesus suffered him not, but sayth vnto him, Goe home to thy friends, and shew them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and had compassion on thee.
20 And he departed, and began to publish in Decapolis, howe great things Jesus had done for him: and all men did mateile.
21 And when Jesus was come ouer againe by shippe vnto the other [side,] much people gathered vnto him, and he was nigh vnto the sea.
22 * And behold, there commeth one of ỹ rulers of the synagogue, Jairus by name: & when he sawe him, he fell downe at his feete, Matth.9.18. luke 8,41.
23 And besought him greatly, saying, My young daughter lyeth at point of death, [I pray thee] come and lay thy handes on her, that she may be safe, and she shall liue.
24 And [Jesus] went with him, and much people followed him, and thronged him.
25 And there was a certaine woman, which had bene diseased of an issue of blood twelue yeeres,
26 And had suffered many things of many Physicions, and had spent all that she had, and felt none amendment at all, but rather the worse.
27 When she had heard of Jesus, she came in the preasse behinde him, and touched his garment.
28 For shee saide, If I may but touche his clothes, I shalbe whole.
29 And straightway the fountaine of her blood was dried vp: and she felt in her body that she was healed of the plague.
30 And Jesus immediately knowing in himselfe that vertue proceeded from him, turned him about in the preasse, and saide, Who touched my clothes?
31 And his disciples said vnto him, Thou seest the people thrust thee, and askest thou, Who did touch me?
32 And he looked rounde about, for to see her that had done this thing.
33 But the woman fearing and trembling, knowing what was done within her, came and fell downe before him, and tolde him all the trueth.
34 And he saide vnto her, Daughter, thy faith hath saued thee, goe in peace, and be whole of thy plague.
35 While he yet spake, there come from the ruler of ỹ synagogues [house,] certaine which saide, Thy daughter is dead, why diseasest thou the master any further?
36 As soone as Jesus heard the word that was spoken, he saieth vnto the ruler of the synagogue, Be not afraide, onely beleeue.

37 And

37 And he suffered no man to follow him, saue Peter, and James, and John, the brother of James.
38 And he commeth to the house of the ruler of the synagogue, and seeth the tumult, & them that wept and wailed greatly.
39 And when he was come in, he saieth vnto them, Why make ye this adoe, and weepe? the Damosel is not dead, but sleepeth.
40 And they laught him to scorne: but he, after that he had put them all out, taketh the father and the mother of the Damosell, & them that were with him, and entreth in where the Damosell lay.
41 And when he had taken the Damosell by ỹ hande, hee sayeth vnto her, Talitha cumi, which is, being interpreted, Damosell (I say vnto thee) arise.
42 And straightway the Damosell arose, and walked, for she was of ỹ age of twelue yeeres: and they were astonied out of measure.
43 And he charged them straightly that no man should knowe of it: and commanded to giue her meate.

The vi. Chapter.

Of Christes doings and estimation in his owne countrey.

Matth. 13.54. luke 4.16.
1 AND he * departed thence, and came into his owne countrey, and his disciples follow him.
2 And when the Sabboth day was come, he began to teach in ỹ synagogue: And many hearing him, were astonied, saying, From whence hath hee these things? And what wisedome is this ỹ is giuen vnto him, and such mightie workes that are wrought by his handes?
3 Is not this the carpenter, Maries sonne, the brother of James and Joses, and of Juda and Simō? And are not his sisters here with vs? And they were offended at him.
Iohn 4.44. 4 Jesus saide vnto them, * A Prophet is not without honour, but in his owne countrey, and among his owne kinne, and in his owne house.
5 And he coulde there doe no mightie worke: but laide his handes vpon a fewe sicke folke, and healed [them:]
6 And he maruelled because of their vnbeliefe. * And he went about by the villages that lay on euery side, teaching.
Matth. 9.35. luke 13.22.
Matth. 10.1. luke 9.1.
7 * And he calleth the twelue, & began to send them forth, two & two, and gaue them power against vncleane spirites,
8 And commanded them that they should take nothing in their iourney, saue a staffe [a] onely: no scrippe, no bread, no money in their purse:
a They may take a staffe for their ease, and not to defende themselues, as in Matth. 10. Acts 12, 8.
9 But shoulde be shoged with * sandales: and that they should not put on two coates.
10 And he saide vnto them, Whersoeuer ye enter into an house, there abide till ye depart thence.
11 * And whosoeuer shall not receiue you, nor heare you, when ye depart thence, * shake off the dust that is vnder your feete, for a witnesse against them: I say verily vnto you, it shalbe easier for the Sodomites and the Gomorrheans in the day of iudgement, then for that citie.
Matth. 10.14. luke 9.5. Actes 13.51. and 18.6.
12 And they went out, and preached, that men should repent.
13 And they cast out many deuils, * and anointed many that were sicke, with oyle, and healed them.
Iames 5.14.
14 * And king Herode heard [of him,] (for his name was spred abroade:) and he saide that John Baptist was risen from the dead, and therefore mightie workes doe shewe foorth themselues in him.
Matth. 14.1. luke 9.7.

16 * But when Herode had heard of him, he said, It is John, whom I beheaded, he is risen from death.

17 For Herode himselfe had sent foorth ‖ and laide handes vpon John, and bounde him in prison for Herodias sake, his brother Philips wife, because he had married her.

18 For John said vnto Herode, * It is not lawfull for thee to haue thy brothers wife.
Leui. 18.16.
19 Therefore Herodias laid waite for him, and would haue killed him, but she could not.
20 For Herode feared John, knowing that he was a iust man, and an holy, and gaue him reuerence: and when he heard him, he did many things, and heard him gladly.
21 And when a conuenient day was come, that Herode on his birth day made a supper to the lordes, high captaines, and chiefe estates of Galilee:
22 And when the daughter of the same Herodias came in, and daunced, & pleased Herode, and them that sate at boorde also, ỹ king saide vnto the Damosell, Aske of me whatsoeuer thou wilt, and I will giue it thee.
23 And he sware vnto her, Whatsoeuer thou shalt aske of me, I will giue it thee, euen vnto the one halfe of my kingdome.
24 And she went foorth, and saide vnto her mother, What shall I aske? She saide, John Baptistes head.
25 And she came in straightway with haste vnto the king, and asked, saying, I will that thou giue me by and by in a charger, the head of John Baptist.
26 And the king was exceeding sorie, [howbeit] for his othes sake, and for their sakes which sate at supper also, he would not cast her off.
27 And immediately the king sent the hangman, and commanded his head to be brought in,

in, and he went and beheaded him in the prison, 28 And brought his head in a charger, and gaue it to the Damosel, & the Damosel gaue it to her mother.
29 And when his disciples heard [of it,] they came and tooke vp his body, and laide it in a tombe.
Luke.9.10. 30 *And the Apostles gather themselues together vnto Iesus, and tolde him all things, both what they had done, and what they had taught.

Matth.14.13. luke9.10. 32 *And they departed by ship out of the way into a desart place.
33 And the people spied them when they departed, and many knew him, and ran a foote thither out of all cities, and came thither before them, and came together vnto him.

36 Let them depart, that they may goe into the countrey round about, and into the villages, and buy them bread: for they haue nothing to eate.
37 He answered, and saide vnto them, Giue ye them to eate. And they say vnto him, [Shall we] goe and buy two hundred peniworth of bread, and giue them to eate?
38 He saieth vnto them, Howe many loaues haue ye? goe and looke.* Matth.14.17. luke 9.13. iohn 6.9. And when they had searched, they say, Fiue, and two fishes.
39 And he commanded them to make them all sitte downe by companies vpon the greene grasse.
40 And they sate downe, here a rowe, and there a rowe, [by] hundreds, and [by] fifties.
41 And when he had taken the fiue loaues, and the two fishes, and looked vp to heauen, he blessed, and brake the loaues, and gaue them to his disciples to set before them: and the two fishes deuided he among them all.
42 And they all did eate, and were satisfied.
43 And they tooke vp twelue baskets full of the fragments, and of the fishes.
44 And they that did eate the loaues, were about fiue thousand men.
45 And straightway he constrained his disciples to goe into the ship, and to goe ouer the sea before vnto Bethsaida, while he shoulde send away the people.
46 And when he had sent them away, he departed into a mountaine to pray.
47 *And when Euen was come, the ship was in the middest of the sea, and he alone on the land. Matth.14.23. iohn 6.16.
48 And he sawe them troubled in rowing (for the winde was contrary vnto them:) and about the fourth watch of the night, he commeth vnto them, walking vpon the sea, and would haue passed by them.
49 But when they saw him walking vpon the sea, they supposed it had bene a spirit, and cried out.
50 (For they all sawe him, and were troubled:) and anon he talked with them, & sayth vnto them, Be of good cheare, It is I, be not afraide.
51 And he went vp vnto them into the shippe, and the wind ceassed, and they were sore amazed in themselues beyond measure, and marueiled.

The vii. Chapter.

The Pharisees finde fault at the disciples eating of meate with vnwashen handes. 32 The healing of the deafe and dumbe.

1 AND *the Pharisees come together vnto him, and certaine of the Scribes, which came from Hierusalem. Matth.15.2.
2 And when they sawe some of his disciples eate bread with defiled (that is to say, with vnwashen handes) they found fault.
3 For the Pharisees, and all the Iewes, except they wash their handes oft, eate not, obseruing the tradition of the elders.
4 And [when they] come from the market, except they wash, they eate not. And many other thinges there be, which they haue taken vpon them to obserue, [as] the washing of cups and pots, brasen vessels, and of tables.
5 Then asked him the Pharisees & Scribes, Why walke not thy disciples accordyng to the tradition of the elders, but eate bread with vnwashen handes?

6 He

6 He answered and sayde vnto them, Surely Esaias hath propheried well of you hypocrites, as it is witten, * This people honoureth mee with their lippes, but their heart is farre from me.

Esay 29.13.

7 Howebeit in vayne doe they worshippe me, teaching doctrines, the commandementes of men.

8 For, the commaundement of God being layde apart, yee obserue the tradition of men, as the washing of pots and cups: and many other such like things ye do.

9 And he saide vnto them, Full well ye cast aside the commandement of God, that ye may keepe your owne tradition.

Exo.20.12.deu. 5.16.ephes.6.2. Exo.21.1.leuit. 20.9. pro.20.20.

10 For Moses sayde, * Honour thy father and thy mother: * and whoso curseth father or mother, let him die the death.

11 But ye say, If a man shal say to his father or mother, Corban (that is, by the gift) that [is offered] of me, thou shalt be helped,

12 And so ye suffer him no more to do ought for his father, or his mother, 13 Making the worde of God of none effect through your tradition, which ye haue ordeined: And many such things do ye.

Matth.15.10.

14 * And when he had called all the people vnto him, he saide vnto them, Hearken vnto me euery one of you, and vnderstand.

15 There is nothing without a man that can defile him, when it entreth into him: but the things which proceed out of a man, those are they that defile the man.

16 If any man haue eares to heare, let him heare.

17 And when he came into the house, away frō the people, his disciples asked him of the similitude.

18 And he saith vnto them, Are ye also so without vnderstanding? Do ye not perceiue that whatsoeuer thing from without entreth into the man, it can not defile him, 19 Because it entreth not into his heart, but into the belly, and goeth out into the draught, purging all the meates?

20 And he sayde, That which commeth out of the man, defileth the man.

Gene.9.5.and 8.21.

21 * For from within, euen out of the heart of men, proceede euill thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders,

22 Thefts, couetousnesse, wickednesse, deceite, wantonnes, a wicked eye, blasphemie, pride, foolishnesse:

Matth.15.21.

23 * All these euill things come from within, and defile the man.

24 And from thence he arose, and went into the borders of Tyre and Sidon, and entred into an house, and would that no man should haue knowen, but he could not be hid.

25 For a certaine woman, whose yong daughter had an vncleane spirite, whē she had heard of him, came and fell at his feete.

26 (The woman was a Grecke, out of the nation of Syrophenitla:) & she besought him that he would cast out ỳ deuill frō her daughter.

27 But Jesus sayde vnto her, Let the children first be fedde: for it is not meete to take the childrens bread, and to cast it vnto the litle dogges.

28 She answered, and said vnto him, Yes lord, for the litle dogges also eate vnder the table of the childrens crumbes.

29 And hee sayde vnto her, For this saying, goe thy way, the deuill is gone out of thy daughter.

30 And when she was come home to her house, she founde that the deuill was departed, and her daughter lying on the bed.

31 And when he was departed againe from the coasts of Tyre and Sidon, he came vnto the sea of Galilee, through ỳ middes of the coasts of Decapolis.

33 And when hee had taken him aside from the people, he put his fingers into his eares, and when he had spit, touched his tongue.

34 And when he had looked vp to heauen, sighed, and sayde vnto him, Ephphatha, that is to say, Be thou opened.

35 And straightway his eares were opened, and the string of his tongue was loosed, and he spake playne.

36 And he commanded them that they shoulde tell no man: but the more hee commanded them, so much the more a great deale they published it,

1 IN those dayes, * the company being very great, and hauing nothing to eate, when Jesus had called his disciples vnto him, he sayth vnto them,

The Gospel on the vii. sunday after Trinitie. Matth.15.32.

2 I haue compassion on the people, because they haue now bene with me three dayes, and haue nothing to eate:

3 And if I sende them away fasting to their owne houses, they shal fayne by the way: for diuers of them come from farre.

4 And his disciples answered him, From whence can a man satisfie these men with bread here in the wildernesse?

5 And he asked them, How many loaues haue ye? They sayd, Seuen.

6 And he commanded the people to ſit downe on the ground: and he tooke the ſeuen loaues, and when he had giuen thankes, he brake, and gaue to his diſciples to ſet before them: and they did ſet them before the people.

7 And they had a fewe ſmall fiſhes: and when he had bleſſed, he commanded to ſet them alſo before them.

8 So they did eate, and were ſufficed: & they tooke vp of the broken meat that was left, ſeuen baſkets full.

9 And they that had eaten, were about foure thouſand: And he ſent them away.

12 And when hee had ſighed deepely in his ſpirite, he ſayth, Why do this generation ſeeke a ſigne? Uerily I ſay vnto you, There ſhall no a ſigne be giuen vnto this generation.

a It is in the Greeke text, (if a ſigne) which the Hebrewes vſe as a vehement negation. Matth.16.4. Matth.16.5.

13 *And when hee had left them, and entred into the ſhip againe, he departed ouer the water.

14 *And they had forgotte to take bread [with them,] neither had they in the ſhip with them more then one loafe.

Matth.16.6. 15 And he charged them, ſaying, *Take heed, beware of the leaue of the Phariſees, & of the leauen of Herode.

16 And they reaſoned among themſelues, ſaying, We haue no bread.

17 And when Jeſus knewe [it,] he ſayth vnto them, Why reaſon yee, becauſe yee haue no bread? Perceiue ye not yet, neither vnderſtande? Haue ye your heart yet hardened?

18 Hauing eyes, ſee ye not? and hauing eares, heare ye not? Doe ye not remember?

Iohn 6.11. 19 *When I brake the fiue loaues among fiue thouſand [men,] howe many baſkets full of broken meate tooke yee vp? They ſay vnto him, Twelue.

20 When I brake the ſeuen among foure thouſand, how many baſkets of the leauings of the broken meate tooke ye vp? They ſaid, Seuen.

21 And he ſaide vnto them, Howe happeneth it that ye doe not vnderſtande?

22 And hee commeth to Bethſaida, and they bring a blinde man vnto him, and deſired him to touche him.

23 And when hee had caught the blinde by the hande, he ledde him out of the towne: and when hee had ſpit in his eyes, and put his handes vpon him, hee aſked him if hee ſawe ought.

24 And he looked vp, and ſaid, I ſee men: for I perceiue them walke as [they were] trees.

25 After that, he put his hands againe vpon his eyes, and made him ſee: and hee was reſtored, and ſawe euery man clearely.

26 And he ſent him home to his houſe, ſaying, Neither goe into the village, nor tell it to any in the village.

27 *And Jeſus went out, and his diſciples, into the villages that long to Ceſarea Philippi: and by the way he aſked his diſciples, ſaying vnto them, Whome doe men ſay that I am? Matth.16.13. luk.9.19.

29 And he ſayde vnto them, But whom ſay ye that I am? Peter anſwereth, and ſayth vnto him, Thou art very Chriſt.

30 And he charged them that they ſhoulde tell no man.

31 And hee began to teach them that the ſonne of man muſt ſuffer many things, and bee reproued of the elders, and of the high Prieſtes and Scribes, and bee killed, and after three dayes riſe againe.

32 And hee ſpake that ſaying openly. And Peter tooke him aſide, and began to rebuke him.

33 But when he had turned about, and looked on his diſciples, hee rebuked Peter, ſaying, Goe after me, Satan: for thou ſauoureſt not the things that [be] of God, but the things that be of men.

34 And when he had called ỹ people vnto him, with his diſciples alſo, hee ſayde vnto them, *Whoſoeuer will come after me, let him forſake himſelfe, and take vp his croſſe, & followe me. Matth.10.38. luk.9.23.

36 For what ſhall it profit a man, if he ſhal win all the world, and loſe his owne ſoule?

37 Or what ſhall a man giue for a raunſome of his ſoule?

38 *Whoſoeuer therefore ſhall bee aſhamed of me, and of my wordes, in this adulterous and ſinfull generation, of him alſo ſhall the ſonne of man be aſhamed, when hee commeth in the glory of his father, with the holy angels. Matth.10.33. luk.9.26.

4 And there appeared vnto them Elias with Moses: and they were talking with Jesus.
5 And Peter answered, and sayd to Jesus, Master, here is good being for vs: and let vs make three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.
6 For he wyst not what he should say: for they were sore afraid.
7 And there was a cloude that shadowed thē: & a voyce came out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloued sonne: heare him.

11 And they asked him, saying, Why then say the Scribes, that *Elias must first come?

12 Hee answered, and sayde vnto them, Elias verely when hee commeth first, restoreth all thinges: and the sonne of man, *as it is written of him, shall suffer many thinges, and bee set at nought.

16 And he asked the scribes, What dispute ye ‖among your selues?
‖Some reade, with them.
17 And one of the company answered, & sayde, Master, I haue brought vnto thee my sonne, which hath a dumbe spirite:
18 And whersoeuer he taketh him, he teareth him, and [he] fometh, and gnasheth with his teeth, and pineth away: and I spake to thy disciples that they should cast him out, & they could not.
19 Hee answereth him, and sayth, O faythlesse nation, howe long shall I bee with you, howe long shall I suffer you? Bring him vnto me.
20 And they brought him vnto him: and when he sawe him, straightway the spirit tare him, and when hee fell downe on the grounde, hee wallowed, foming.
21 And hee asked his father, Howe long is it agoe since this came vnto him? And hee sayde, Of a chylde.
22 And oft times it hath cast him into the fire, and into the waters, to destroy him: but if thou canst doe any thing, haue mercy on vs, and helpe vs.
23 Jesus saide vnto him, This thing if thou canst beleeue, all things are possible to him that beleeueth.
24 And straightway, when the father of the childe had cried with teares, he saide, Lorde, I beleeue, helpe thou mine vnbeliefe.
25 When Jesus sawe that the people came running together, he rebuked the fowle spirit, saying vnto him, Thou dumbe and deafe spirit, I charge thee come out of him, and enter no more into him.
26 And [the spirit] when he had cryed, & rent him sore, came out of him, and he was as one that had bene dead, insomuch that many said, He is dead.
27 But Jesus, when he had caught him by the hand, lifted him vp: and he arose.
28 And when he was come into the house, his disciples asked him secretely, Why could not we cast him out?
29 And he saide vnto them, This kinde ‖ can come forth by nothing, but by prayer and fasting.

32 But they vnderstoode not that saying, and were afraide to aske him.
33 *And hee came to Capernaum: and when he was come into the house, hee asked them, What was it that ye disputed among your selues by the way?
Matth.18.1. luk.9.46.
34 And they held their peace: For by the way they had reasoned among themselues, who [should be] the chiefest.

15 Uerily I say vnto you, Whosoeuer shal not receiue ỳ kingdome of God as a yong childe, he shall in no wise enter therein.
16 And when hee had taken them vp in his armes, putting his hands vpon them, he blessed them.
17 And when he was gone forth into the way, Matth.19.16. luk.18.18.
*there came one running, & kneeled to him, and asked him, Good master, what shal I doe that I may inherite eternall life?

Doe not steale, Doe not beare false witnesse, Defraude [no man,] Honour thy father and mother.
20 Hee answered, and sayde vnto him, Master, all these haue I obserued from my youth.
21 Iesus beheelde him, and loued him, and sayd vnto him, One thing thou lackest: Goe thy way, sell whatsoeuer thou hast, and giue to the poore, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen, and come followe me, when thou hast taken vp the crosse.
22 But he was discomforted because of ỳ saying, & went away mourning: for he had great possessions.
23 And when Iesus had looked rounde about, he sayth vnto his disciples, Howe hardly shal they that haue riches, enter into ỳ kingdome of God?
24 And ỳ disciples were astonied at his words. But Iesus answereth againe, and sayth vnto them, Children, howe hard is it for them that trust in riches, to enter into the kingdome of God?
25 It is easier for a Camel to goe thorowe the eye of a needle, then for the rich to enter into the kingdome of God.

38 But Jesus said vnto thē, Ye wot not what ye aske: Can ye drinke of ỳ cup that I drinke of? and be baptized with the baptisme that I am baptized with?

39 And they sayd vnto him, That we can. Jesus sayd vnto them, Ye shall in deede drinke of the cup that I drinke of: and with the baptisme that I am baptized withall, shall ye be baptized:

48 And many rebuked him, that he should hold his peace: but hee cried the more a great deale, Thou sonne of Dauid, haue mercy on me.

49 And Jesus stoode still, & commanded him to be called: and they call the blind, saying vnto him, Be of good comfort, rise, he calleth thee.

50 And when he had throwen away his cloke, he rose, and came to Jesus.

51 And Jesus answered, and sayde vnto him, What wilt thou that I doe vnto thee? The blind said vnto him, Master, that I might see.

52 Jesus sayde vnto him, Goe thy way, thy faith hath saued thee. And immediately hee receiued his sight, and followed Jesus in the way.

9 What ſhall therefore the Lord of the vineyard doe? He ſhall come and deſtroy the husbandmen, and will giue the vineyard vnto other.

10 Haue

Psal.118.22. matth.21.42. act.4.11.

10 Haue yee not read this Scripture? * The stone which ỹ builders disalowed, is become the chiefe stone of the corner?

11 This was the Lordes doing, and it is marueilous in our eyes.

12 They went about also to take him, and feared the people: for they knew that he had spoken the parable against them: and they left him, and went their way.

Matth.22.15. luke 20.20.

13 * And they sent vnto him certaine of the Pharisees and of the Herodians, to take him in his words.

14 And when they were come, they say vnto him, Master, wee knowe that thou art true, & carest for no man: for thou considerest not the persons of men, but teachest the way of God in trueth: Is it lawful to giue tribute to Ceasar, or not?

15 Shall wee giue, or shall we not giue? But he knowing their hypocrisie, sayde vntō thē, Why tempt ye me? Bring me a peny, that I may see it.

16 And they brought it: and hee sayth vnto thē, Whose is this image & superscription? And they said vnto him, Ceasars.

17 And Iesus answering, said vnto them, Giue to * Ceasar the things that [belong] to Ceasar: and to God, the things which [pertaine] to God. And they marueiled at him.

Rom.13.7.

Matt.22.23.luk. 20.27.

18 * There come also vnto him ỹ Sadducees, which say there is no resurrection, and they asked him, saying,

Deut.25.5.

19 Master, * Moses wrote vnto vs, If any mās brother die, and leaue his wife behinde him, and leaue no children, that his brother should take his wife, and rayse vp seede vnto his brother.

20 There were seuen brethren: and the first tooke a wife, and when he died, left no seede behinde him.

21 And the second tooke her, and died, neyther left he any seede: and the third likewise.

22 And seuen had her, and left no seede behinde them: last of all the wife died also.

23 In the resurrection therefore when they shal rise, whose wife shall she be of them? for seuen had her to wife.

24 And Iesus answering, said vnto them, Do ye not therefore erre, because ye know not the Scriptures, neither the power of God?

25 For when they shall ryse from the dead, they neither marrie, nor are giuen in marriage: but are as the angels which [are] in heauen.

26 As touching the dead that they rise: haue ye not read in the booke of Moses, how in the bush God spake vnto him, saying, * I [am] the God of Abraham, and the God of Isahac, and the God of Iacob?

Exod.3.6. matt. 22.32.

27 Hee is not the God of the dead, but God of the liuing: ye therefore doe greatly erre.

28 * And when there came one of the Scribes, and had heard them disputing together, and perceiued that he had answered them well, he asked him which is the first commandement of all.

Matth.22.35.

29 Iesus answered him, The first of all the cōmandementes [is,] * Heare, O Israel, the Lord our God is one Lord:

Deut.6.4.

30 And thou shalt loue the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soule, and with all thy minde, and with all thy strength. This [is] the first commandement:

31 And the seconde is like vnto [this,] Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe: there is none other cōmandement greater then these.

Leui.19.18.mat. 22.39.rom.13. 9.galat.5.14. iacob.2.8.

32 And the Scribe sayde vnto him, Well, master, thou hast saide the trueth: for there is one God, and there is none other but he.

33 And to loue him with all the heart, and with all the vnderstanding, and with all the soule, and with all the strength, & to loue a [mans] neighbour as himselfe, is greater then all the burnt offerings and sacrifices.

34 And when Iesus sawe that he answered discreetely, he sayd vnto him, Thou art not farre from the kingdome of God. And no man after that durst aske him any question.

35 * And Iesus answering, sayde, teaching in the Temple, Howe say the Scribes ỹ Christ is the sonne of Dauid?

Matth.22.42. luk.20.41.

36 For Dauid himselfe inspired with the holy ghost, sayd, * The Lord sayd to my Lord, Sit on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footestoole.

Psal.110.1.

37 Dauid himselfe calleth him Lord: & whence is he then his sonne? And much people heard him gladly.

38 And [hee] saide vnto them in his doctrine, * Beware of the Scribes, which desire to walke in long clothing, and [loue] salutations in the market places,

Matth.23.6.luk. 11.43.

39 And the chiefe seates in the Synagogues, and the vppermost roomes at feastes.

40 * Which deuoure widowes houses, and vnder a pretence make long prayers: These shal receiue greater damnation.

Matth.23.14. luk.20.47.

41 * And whē Iesus sate ouer against the treasurie, he beheld how ỹ people put money into the treasurie: and many that were rich, cast in much.

Luke.21.1.

42 And there came a certaine poore widdowe, and shee threwe in two mites, which make a farthing.

43 And when hee had called vnto him his disciples, he sayth vnto them, Verily I say vnto you, that this poore widdow hath cast more in, then all they which haue cast into the treasurie.

44 For all they did cast in of their superfluitie: but she of her want, did cast in all that she had, [euen] all her liuing.

The xiii. Chapter.

2 The destruction of the Temple. 24 Signes before Christes comming. 31 Gods worde shall not passe away.

Matth.24.1, luk. 21.5.

1 AND * as hee went out of the Temple, one of his disciples sayde vnto him, Master, see what stones and what buildings [are here.]

2 And Jesus answering, said vnto him, Seest thou these great buildings? * there shall not bee left one stone vpon another, that shall not be throwen downe.

Luke 19.43.

3 And as hee sate vpon the mount of Olives, ouer against the Temple, Peter, and James, and John, and Andrewe, asked him secretely,

4 Tell vs, when shall these things bee? And what shall be the signe when all these things shalbe fulfilled?

5 And Jesus answering them, began to say, * Take heede least any man deceiue you.

Exod.5,6.2.thes. 2.3.

6 For many shall come in my name, saying, I am [Christ:] and shall deceiue many.

7 When ye shall heare of warres, and tidings of warres, bee yee not troubled: For such [things] must needes be, but the ende [shall] not [be] yet.

8 For there shall nation rise against nation, & kingdome against kingdome: and there shall be earthquakes in diuers places, and famines shall there bee, and troubles: these are the beginnings of sorowes.

9 But take heede to your selues: for they shall deliuer you vp to counsels, & to synagogues, and ye shalbe whipped, yea & shall be brought before rulers and kings for my sake, [that this might be] for a witnesse against them.

Matth.10.19.

10 * And the Gospel must first bee published among all nations.

Luk.12.11.and 21.14.

11 * But when they shall leade you, deliuering you vp, bee not carefull afore hande, neyther take thought what ye shall speake: but whatsoeuer shall bee giuen you in the same houre, that speake ye: for it is not ye that speake, but the holy Ghost.

12 The brother shal betray ỹ brother to death, and the father the sonne: and the children shal rise against their fathers and mothers, & shall put them to death.

13 And ye shalbe hated of al men for my names sake: but he that shall endure vnto the end, the same shalbe safe.

Matth.14.15. luk.12,11,and 21.14.

14 * Moreouer, when ye see the abomination of desolation, whereof is spoken by Daniel the Prophet, standing where it ought not (let him that readeth, vnderstande) then let them that be in Jurie, flee to the mountaines:

15 And let him that is on the house top, not go downe into the house, neither enter therein, to fetch any thing out of his house.

16 And let him ỹ is in ỹ fielde, not turne backe againe for to take his garment with him.

17 Woe [shalbe] then to them that are with childe, and to them that giue sucke in those dayes.

18 But pray ye that your flight bee not in the winter:

19 For there shall be in those dayes [such] tribulation, as was not from the beginning of the creation which God created, vnto this time, neither shalbe in any wise.

20 And except that the Lord had shortened those dayes, no flesh should be saued: but for ỹ elects sake whom he hath chosen, hee hath shortened those dayes.

21 * And then, if any man shall say to you, Loe here is Christ, or, loe he is there: beleeue him not.

Matth.24.23. luk.21,8.

22 For false christs, and false prophets shal rise, and shall shewe signes and wonders, to deceiue, if it were possible, euen the elect.

23 But take ye heede: beholde, I haue shewed you all things before.

24 * Moreouer, in those dayes, after that tribulation, the Sunne shall bee darkened, and the Moone shal not giue her light:

Ezech.32.7.ek. 13,10, ioel.2,10

25 And the Starres of heauen shal fall, and the powers which [are] in heauen shal be shakē.

26 And then shall they see the sonne of man comming in the cloudes, with great power and glorie.

27 And then shall he sende his angels, and shall gather together his elect from the foure windes, from the ende of the earth, to the vttermost part of heauen.

28 Learne a parable of the Figge tree. When her branche is yet tender, and hath brought foorth leaues, yee knowe that Sommer is neere:

29 So ye in like maner, when ye shall see these things come to passe, vnderstand [a] that [it] is nigh, euen at the doores.

a That is, the kingdome of God.

30 Verely I say vnto you, that this generation shall in no wise passe, till all these things be done.

31 Heauen and earth shall passe away: but my words shall in no wise passe away.

32 But of that day and that houre knoweth no man, no not the angels which are in heauen, neither the sonne himselfe, saue the father onely.

33 * Take ye heede, watch & pray: for ye know not when the time is.

Matth.24.13.

34 ‖ As a man which is gone into a strange countrey, and hath left his house, and giuen authoritie to his seruantes, and to euery man his worke, and commaunded the porter to watch:

7 For ye haue poore with you alwayes, and whenſoeuer ye will, ye may doe them good: but me haue ye not alwayes.
8 She hath done that ſhe could: ſhe came afore hand to anoynt my body to the burying.
9 Verily I ſay vnto you, Whereſoeuer this Goſpel ſhalbe preached throwout the whole worlde, this alſo that ſhe hath done, ſhalbe rehearſed in remembrance of her.

37 And he commeth and findeth them sleeping, and sayth vnto Peter, Simon, sleepest thou? Couldest not thou watch one houre?
38 Watche ye and pray, lest ye enter into temptation: The spirite truely is ready, but the flesh is weake.
39 And againe he went aside, and prayed, and spake the same wordes.
40 And when he returned, he founde them a sleepe againe (for their eyes were heauie) neither wist they what to answere him.
41 And he commeth the thirde time, and sayth vnto them, Sleepe henceforth, and take your ease: it is ynough, the houre is come, behold, the sonne of man is betrayed into the handes of sinners.

58 We heard him say, * I will destroy this temple that is made with handes, and within three dayes I wil buylde another made without handes. Iohn.2.19
59 But yet their witnesse agreed not so together.
60 And the high priest stoode vp in the middes, and asked Iesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing? Howe [is it that] these beare witnesse against thee?
61 But he helde his peace, and answered nothing. Againe, the high priest asked him, and sayde vnto him, Art thou Christ the sonne of the blessed?
62 * And Iesus sayde, I am: And ye shall see the sonne of man sitting on the right hand of the power [of God,] and comming in the cloudes of heauen. Mat.24.30.
63 Then ỹ high priest, hauing rent his clothes, saith, What neede we any further witnesses?
64 Ye haue heard the blasphemie: what thinke ye? And they all condemned him to be worthy of death.
65 And some began to spit at him, and to couer his face, and to beate him with fists, and to say vnto him, Prophecie: And the seruantes did beate him with roddes.

69 And a damosel, when she sawe him, began againe to say to them that stoode by, This is [one] of them.
70 And he denyed it againe. And anon after, they that stoode by sayde againe to Peter, Surely thou art one of them: for thou art of Galilee, and thy speache agreeth thereto.
71 But he began to curse & to sweare, [saying,] I know not this man of whom ye speake.
72 * And the second time the Cocke crewe: and Peter remembred the word that Iesus sayde vnto him, Before the Cocke crowe twise, thou shalt denie mee three times: And he began to weepe. Mat.27.57. iohn.13.38.

8 And the people crying aloude, began to desire [that he would doe] according as he had euer done vnto them.
9 Pilate answered them, saying, Will ye that I let loose vnto you the king of the Iewes?
10 (For he knew that the high priestes had deliuered him for enuie.)
11 But the high priests moued the people, that he should rather deliuer Barabbas vnto thē.
12 Pilate answering againe, sayde vnto them, What will ye then that I shall doe vnto him whom ye call the king of the Iewes?
13 And they cried againe, Crucifie him.
14 Pilate saide vnto them, What euill hath he done? And they cryed the more feruently, Crucifie him.
15 And so Pilate, willing to content the people, let loose Barabbas vnto them, and deliuered vp Iesus, when he had scourged him, for to be crucified.

33 And when the sixth houre was come, darkenesse arose ouer all the earth, vntill the ninth houre.
34 And at the nynth houre, Iesus cried with a loude voyce, saying, *Eloi, Eloi, lamasabachthani? which is, if one interprete it, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me? Mat.27.46. Psal.21.2.

Matth. 28.1. iohn 20.12. 5 *And when they went into the ſepulchre, they ſaw a yong mã ſitting on the right ſide, clothed in a long white garment, and they were greatly amazed.

6 And he ſaith vnto them, Be not greatly amazed, ye ſeeke Jeſus of Nazareth, which was crucified, he is riſen, he is not here, behold the place where they had put him.

7 But go your way, and tel his diſciples, and Peter, that he goeth befoze you into Galilee, there ſhal ye ſee him, * as he ſaid vnto you. Matth. 26.32. mark. 14.28.

8 And they went out quickly, and fled from the ſepulchre, foz they trembled, and were amazed, neyther ſayde they any thing to any man, foz they were afraide.

Here endeth the Goſpel by Saint Marke.

The Goſpel by Saint Luke.

The firſt Chapter.

1 The preface of Luke. 5 Of Zacharias and Elizabeth. 40 Marie viſiteth Elizabeth.

1 FOꝛaſmuch as many haue taken in hand to ſet foꝛth in oꝛder the declaration of thoſe things which are moſt ſurely ‖ beleeued among vs, ‖ Or, proued.

2 Euen as they deliuered thẽ vnto vs, which from the beginning ſaw them themſelues with their eyes, & were miniſters of the a woꝛde: a That is, they were doers in ſuch things as be ſet foꝛth in the Goſpel.

3 It ſeemed good to mee alſo, hauing perfect vnderſtanding of all things from the beginning, to write vnto thee in oꝛder, moſt excellent Theophilus,

4 That thou mighteſt know the certeintie of thoſe things whereof thou haſt bene taught by mouth.

5 THere was in the dayes of Herode the king of Jurie, a certaine Pꝛieſt, named Zacharias, * of the courſe of Abia, and his wife [was] of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elizabeth. 1.Chro. 24.1.

6 They were both righteous befoze God, walking in all the commandements and oꝛdinances of the Loꝛd, blameleſſe.

7 And they had no childe, becauſe that Elizabeth was barren, and they both were nowe well ſtricken in age.

8 And

8 And it came to passe, that when Zacharias executed the Priestes office before God, as his course came,
9 According to ỹ custome of the Priests office, his lot was to burne incense when he went into the temple of the Lord.
Leui.16.17. exod.30.7.
10 * And the whole multitude of the people were without in prayer, while the incense was burning.
11 And there appeared vnto him an Angel of the Lord, standing on the right side of the altar of the incense.
12 And when Zacharias saw him, he was troubled, and feare fell vpon him.
13 But the Angel sayde vnto him, Feare not, Zacharias, for thy prayer is heard, & thy wife Elizabeth shall beare thee a sonne, and thou shalt call his name John.
14 And thou shalt haue ioye and gladnesse, and many shal reioyce at his byrth:
15 And he shalbe great in the sight of the Lord, & shal neyther drinke wine nor strong drinke; and he shalbe filled with the holy Ghost, euen from his mothers wombe.
Mal.4.5. mat.11.14.
16 * For many of the children of Israel shal he turne to their Lord God.
17 And he shall goe before him with the spirite and power of Elias, to turne the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wisedome of the iust men, to make ready a perfect people for the Lorde.
18 And Zacharias sayde vnto the Angel, By what token shal I know this? For I am old, and my wife well stricken in yeeres.
19 And the Angel answering, sayde vnto him, I am Gabriel that stande in the presence of God, and was sent to speake vnto thee, and to shew thee these glad tidings.
20 And behold, thou shalt be dumbe, & not be able to speake, vntil ỹ day that these things shal be performed, because thou beleeuedst not my words, which shalbe fulfilled in their season.
21 And the people wayted for Zacharias, and marueiled that he taried so long in ỹ temple.
22 And when he came out, he could not speake vnto them: & they perceiued that he had seene a vision in the temple: for he beckened vnto them, and remayned speachlesse.
23 And it came to passe, that assoone as the dayes of his office were out, he departed into his owne house.
24 And after those dayes, his wife Elizabeth conceyued, and hyd her selfe fiue moneths, saying,
The Gospel on the Annũciation of the virgin Marie.
25 Thus hath the Lorde dealt with me in the dayes wherein he looked on me, to take from me my rebuke [b] among men.
26 And in the sixth moneth, the Angel Gabriel was sent from God, vnto a citie of Galilee, named Nazareth, 27 To a virgin, spoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of Dauid, and the virgins name was Marie.
28 And when the Angel was come in vnto her, he sayd, Hayle [thou that art] in hygh fauour, the Lord is with thee: Blessed art thou among women.
29 And when she sawe him, she was troubled at his saying, and cast in her minde what maner of salutation this should be.
30 And the Angel sayde vnto her, Feare not, Marie, for thou hast found fauour with God.
Esa.7.14.
31 * For beholde, thou shalt conceyue in thy wombe, and beare a sonne, and shalt call his name Jesus.
32 He shalbe great, and shalbe called the sonne of the highest, and the Lord God shal giue vnto him the seate of his father Dauid.
Dan.7.14. miche.4.7.
33 * And he shall reygne ouer the house of Jacob for euer, and of his kingdome there shalbe none ende.
34 Then sayd Marie vnto the Angel, How shal this be, seeing I know not a man?
35 And the Angel answering, sayde vnto her, The holy Ghost shal come vpon thee, and the power of the highest shal [c] ouershadowe thee. Therefore also that holy thing which shall be borne, shalbe called the sonne of God.
c Shal worke secretly in thes aboue all reason.
36 And beholde, thy cousin Elizabeth, she hath also conceiued a sonne in her olde age, & this is her sixth moneth, which was called barren.
37 For with God shall no worde be vnpossible.
38 And Marie sayd, Beholde the handmayden of the Lorde, be it vnto me according to thy word: and the Angel departed from her.
39 And Marie arose in those dayes, and went into the hill countrey with haste, into a citie of Juda, 40 And entred into the house of Zacharie, and saluted Elizabeth.
41 And it came to passe, that when Elizabeth heard the salutation of Marie, the babe sprang in her wombe, and Elizabeth was filled with the holy Ghost.
42 And she spake out with a loude voyce, and sayd, Blessed art thou among women, and the fruite of thy wombe is blessed.
43 And whence commeth this to mee, that the mother of my Lord should come to me?
44 For loe, assoone as the voyce of thy salutation sounded in mine eares, the babe sprang in my wombe for ioy.
45 And blessed is shee that beleeued, for those things shall be performed which were tolde her from the Lord.
46 And Marie sayde, My soule magnifieth the Lorde, 47 And my spirite hath reioyced in God my sauiour,
48 For

b For it was a chiefe blessing of God, to be fruitefull in children, Gene.7. Exod.23. Psal.127. and 128. because it was a multiplying of the Lordes people, and fulfilling of Gods promise, Gene.13. and therefore was taken among the Iewes for a reproche to be barren.

48 For he hath looked on the lowlinesse of his handmayden: for loe, nowe from henceforth shal all generations call me blessed.
49 Because he that is mightie hath done to me great things, and holy is his name.
50 And his mercy is on them that feare him, from generation to generation.
51 He hath shewed strength with his arme, he hath scattered them that are proude, in * the imagination of their hearts.
52 He hath put downe the mightie from their seates, and exalted the lowly.
53 *He hath filled ỹ hungry with good things, and sent away the rich emptie.
54 *He hath helped his seruant Israel, in remembrance of his mercie.
55 *(Euen as he spake to our fathers Abraham, and to his seede) for euer.
56 And Marie abode with her about three moneths, and [afterward] returned to her owne house.
57 Elizabeths time came that she should be deliuered, and she brought forth a sonne.
58 And her neyghbours and her cousins heard howe the Lord had shewed great mercy vpon her, and they reioyced with her.
59 And it came to passe, that on the eyght day they came to circumcise the childe, and called him Zacharias, after the name of his father.
60 And his mother answering, sayde, Not so, but he shalbe called Iohn.
61 And they sayde vnto her, There is none in thy kinred that is called by this name.
62 And they made signes to his father, what he would haue him called.
63 And when he had asked for writing tables, he wrote, saying, His name is John: And they marueyled all.
64 And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue [loosed,] and he spake, prayssing God.
65 And feare came on all them that dwelt round about them, and all these sayings were noysed abroade thorowout all the hil countrie of Iurie.
66 And all they that had heard them, layd them vp in their heartes, saying, What maner of childe shal this be? And the hand of the Lorde was with him.
67 And his father Zacharias was filled with the holy Ghost, and prophecied, saying,
68 *Prayssed be the Lord God of Israel, for he hath visited and redeemed his people,
69 *And hath rayssed vp an [d] horne of saluation vnto vs, in the house of his seruant Dauid:
70 *Euen as he spake by the mouth of his holy Prophets, which were since the world began.
71 That he woulde saue vs from our enemies, and from the hand of all that hate vs.
72 That he woulde deale mercifully with our fathers, and remember his holy couenant.
73 * And that he woulde performe the othe which he [c] sware to our father Abraham, for to giue vs.
74 That we being deliuered out of the hands of our enemies, might serue him without feare, 75 * In holinesse & righteousnesse before him, all the dayes of our life.
76 And thou childe shalt be called the Prophet of the highest: for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord, to prepare his wayes.
77 To giue knowledge of saluation vnto his people, by the remission of their sinnes,
78 Through the tender mercie of our God, whereby the day spring * from an high hath visited vs,
79 To giue light to them that sit in darkenesse, and in the shadow of death, to guide our feete into the way of peace.
80 And the childe grewe, and waxed strong in spirit, & was in wildernesse till the day came [f] of his shewing vnto the Israelites.

The taxing of the worlde by Augustus Cesar.

1 AND it came to passe in those dayes, that there went a commãdement from Augustus Cesar, that all the [a] worlde should be taxed.
2 (And this first taxing was made when Cyrenius was Lieutenant of Syria.)
3 And all went to be taxed, euery man into his owne citie.
4 And Ioseph went vp frõ Galilee, out of the citie Nazareth, into Iurie, vnto the citie of Dauid, *which is called Bethlehem, (because he was of the house and linage of Dauid,)
5 To be taxed with Marie his spoused wife, being great with childe.
6 And so it was, that while they were there, the dayes were accomplished that shee should be deliuered.
7 And shee brought forth her first begotten [b] sonne, and swadled him, and layde him in a manger, because there was no roume for them in the Inne.
8 There were in ỹ same countrey shepheards abiding in the fielde, keeping watche ouer their flocke by night.
9 And loe, the Angel of the Lorde stoode hard by them, & the glory of the Lord shone round about them, and they were sore afrayde.
10 And the Angel sayde vnto them, Be not afrayde: For behold, I bring you good tidings of great ioy, that shalbe to all people.
11 For vnto you is borne this day, in the citie of Dauid, a sauiour, which is Christ the Lorde.
12 And take this for a signe, Ye shall finde the childe swadled, layde in a manger.
13 And suddenly there was with the Angel a multitude of heauenly souldiers, prayssing God, and saying,

15 And it came to passe, assoone as the Angels were gone away from them into heauen, the men the shepheards sayde one to another, Let vs go now euen vnto Bethlehem, and see this thing that is come to passe, which the Lorde hath shewed vnto vs.

16 And they came with haste, & founde Marie and Joseph, and the babe layde in a manger.

17 And when they had seene it, they published abroade the saying, which was tolde them of this childe.

18 And all they that heard it, wondered at those things which were tolde them of the shepheardes.

22 And when the dayes of her purification, after the lawe of Moses, were accomplished, they brought him to Hierusalem, to present him to the Lord,

25 And behold, there was a man in Hierusalem, whose name was Simeon, and the same man was iust & godly, looking for the consolation of Israel: and the holy Ghost was vpon him.

26 And a reuelation was giuen him of the holy Ghost, not to see death, before he had seene the Lordes Christ.

27 And he came by inspiration into the temple: and when the parentes brought in the childe Jesus, to doe for him after the custome of the lawe,

28 Then tooke he him vp in his armes, and praysed God, and sayde, 29 Lord, nowe lettest thou thy seruant depart in peace, according to thy promise.

c That is, prayed to God for them, & for the prosperitie of Christes kingdome.

30 For mine eyes haue seene thy saluation,

31 Which thou hast prepared before the face of all people.

d Christ is the head corner stone, vpon the which the elect are buylded, but the wicked vpon the same stone stumble, fall, & burst in peeces, Esa.8. Rom.9.

33 And his father and his mother marueyled at those things which were spoken of him.

34 And Simeon blessed [c] them, and sayde vnto Marie his mother, Behold, this child is set to be the fal & [d] vprising againe of many in Israel, and for a signe which is spoken against.

g That is, she was seuen yeers married.

37 And she had bene a widow about foure score and foure yeres, which departed not from the temple, but serued God with fastings and prayers night and day.

38 And shee comming at the same instant vpon them, gaue thankes likewise vnto the Lorde, and spake of him to all them that looked for redemption in Hierusalem.

39 And when they had performed all things according to the lawe of the Lorde, they returned into Galilee, to their owne citie Nazareth.

b All impediments shalbe taken away that may hinder vs frō our saluation in Christ, so that Christs way to vs, & our way to him shalbe playne and manifest. Mat.3.7.

6 And all flesh shal see the saluation of God.

7 Then sayd he to the people that were come forth to be baptized of him, * O generation of vipers, who hath forewarned you to flee from the wrath to come?

8 Bring forth therefore due fruites of repentance, & begin not to say within your selues, We haue Abraham to our father: For I say vnto you, that God is able of these stones to rayse vp children vnto Abraham.

c The vengeance of God is at hand. 9 Nowe also is the [c] axe layde vnto the roote of the trees: Euery tree therefore which bringeth not forth good fruite, is hewen downe, and cast into the fire.

35 And Iesus rebuked him, saying, Holde thy peace, and come out of him. And when the deuill had throwen him in the middes, he came out of him, and hurt him not.

36 And feare came on them all, and they spake among themselues, saying, What maner of saying is this? For with authoritie & power he commandeth the fowle spirites, and they come out.

The v. Chapter.

1 Christ teacheth out of a shippe. 36 Newe and olde agree not.

The Gospel on the v. sunday after Trinitie. Matth.4.18. mark.1.16.

1 IT * came to passe, that when the people preassed vpon him, to heare the worde of God, he was standing by the lake of Genezareth.

2 And he sawe two shippes stand by the lakes side: but the fishermen were gone out of them, and were washing their nets.

3 And when hee was entred into one of the shippes which perteined to Simon, he prayed him that he would thrust out a little from the land: and he sate downe, and taught the people out of the ship.

4 When he had left speaking, he saide vnto Simon, Launch out into the deepe, and let slip your nets to catch.

5 And Simon answering, said vnto him, Master, we haue laboured all night, and haue taken nothing: neuertheless, at thy commandement I will loose forth the net.

6 And when they had this done, they inclosed a great multitude of fishes, but their net brake:

7 And they beckened vnto their partners, which were in the other shippe, that they should come and helpe them. And they came, and filled both the shippes that they sunke [againe.]

8 When Simon Peter sawe [this,] he fell downe at Iesus knees, saying, Goe out from me, for I am a sinfull man, O Lord.

9 For he was vtterly astonied, & all that were with him, at the taking of the fishes, which they had caught together.

10 And so was also Iames and Iohn the sonnes of Zebedee, which were partners with Simon. And Iesus saide vnto Simon, Feare not, from henceforth thou shalt [a] catch men.

11 And when they had brought vp their boates to the shore, [b] they forsooke all, and followed him.

12 * And it came to passe, that when he was in a certaine citie, behold, [there was] a man ful of leprosie: and when he had spied Iesus, he fell flat on his face, and besought him, saying, Lorde, if thou wilt, thou canst make me cleane.

13 And when he had stretched foorth his hand, he touched him, saying, I will: be thou cleane. And immediatly the leprosie departed from him.

14 And he charged him to tell no man: but, Goe [saieth hee,] * and shewe thy selfe to the priest, and offer for thy clensing, according as Moses commanded, for a witnesse vnto them.

15 But so much the more went there a fame abroade of him, and much people came together to heare, and to be healed of him from their infirmities.

16 And he kept himselfe apart in the wildernesse, and prayed.

17 And it came to passe on a certaine day, as he was teaching, that there were Pharisees, and Doctours of the lawe sitting by, which were come out of all the townes of Galilee, and Iurie, and Hierusalem: and the power of the Lord was present, to heale them.

18 * And beholde, men brought in a bed a man which was taken with a palsie: and they sought meanes to bring him in, and to lay him

19 And when they could not finde on what side they might bring him in, because of ỹ preasse, they went vpon the top of the house, and let him downe through ỹ tyling with his couch, euen into the middest before Iesus.

20 When he saw their faith, he said vnto him, Man, thy sinnes are forgiuen thee.

21 And the Scribes and the Pharisees began to ‖ thinke, saying, What fellow is this which speaketh blasphemies? Who can forgiue sinnes, but God onely?

‖ Or, reason.

22 But when Iesus perceiued their thoughts, he answering, said vnto them, What thinke ye in your hearts?

23 Whether is easier to say, Thy sinnes be forgiuen thee: or to say, Rise vp and walke?

24 But that ye may knowe that the sonne of man hath power to forgiue sinnes on earth (he said vnto the sicke of the palsie,) I say vnto thee, Arise, and when thou hast taken vp thy couch, goe vnto thine house.

25 And immediatly he rose vp before them, and when he had taken vp his couch, whereon he lay, he departed to his owne house, glorifying God.

26 And they were all amazed, and they gaue the glory vnto God, & were filled with feare, saying, Doubtlesse we haue seene strange things to day.

Matth. 9. 9. mark. 2, 14.

27 *And after these things he went forth, and sawe a Publicane, named Leui, sitting at the receite of custome: and he said vnto him, Followe me.

28 And when he had left all, he rose vp, and followed him.

29 And Leui made him a great feast in his owne house: and there was a great companie of Publicanes, & of other that sate [at meate] with them.

30 But they that were Scribes and Pharisees among them, murmured against his disciples, saying, Why do ye eate and drinke with Publicanes and sinners?

31 And Iesus answering, saide vnto them, They that are whole neede not a Physicion: but they that are sicke.

Matth. 9. 14. mark. 2. 18.

34 *He said vnto them, Can ye make the children of the wedding chamber fast, while the bridegrome is with them?

35 But the dayes will come: and when ỹ bridegrome shalbe taken away from them, then shall they fast in those dayes.

36 He spake also vnto them a similitude, No man putteth a piece of a newe garment into an olde vesture: for then the new renteth [the olde,] and the piece that was [taken] out of the new, agreeth not with the olde.

37 And no man powreth newe wine into olde vessels: for if he doe, the new wine will burst the vessels, and runne out it selfe, and the vessels shall perish.

38 But newe wine must be put into newe vessels, and both are preserued.

39 No man also hauing drunke olde wine, wil straightway haue new: for he saieth, The old is better.

2 And certaine of the Pharisees saide vnto them, Why doe ye that which is not lawfull to doe on the Sabboth dayes?

7 And the Scribes and Pharisees watched him, whether he would heale on the Sabboth day: that they might finde howe to accuse him.

8 But he knew their thoughts, and said to the man which had the withered hand, Rise vp, and stand forth in the middes. And he arose, and stoode forth.

9 Then said Iesus vnto them, I will aske you a question, Whether is it lawful on the Sabboth dayes to doe good, or to doe euil? to saue ones life, or to destroy it?

10 And when he had beheld them all in compasse, he said vnto the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he did so: and his hand was restored againe as whole as the other.

The vii. Chapter.

1 He healeth the captaines seruant. 6 The faith of the Centurion. 37 The woman washeth his feete with her teares.

1 WHen he had ended all his sayings in the audience of the people, * he entred into Capernaum. Matth. 8. 1.

2 And a certaine Centurions seruant, which was deare vnto him, being sicke, was in perill of death.

3 And when he heard of Iesus, he sent vnto him the elders of the Iewes, beseeching him that he would come and heale his seruant.

4 And whē they came to Iesus, they besought him instantly, saying, He is worthy that thou shouldest doe this for him.

5 For he loueth our nation, and hath built vs a synagogue.

6 Then Iesus went with them. And when he was nowe not farre from the house, the Centurion sent friendes to him, saying vnto him, Lord, trouble not thy selfe: for I am not worthy that thou shouldest enter vnder my roofe.

7 Wherefore, I thought not my selfe worthy to come vnto thee: but say thou the word, and my seruant shalbe whole.

8 For I also am a man set vnder power, hauing vnder me souldiers: and I say vnto one, Goe, and he goeth: and to another, Come, and he commeth: and to my seruant, Doe this, and he doeth it.

9 When Iesus heard these things, he marueiled at him, and turned him about, and said vnto the people that followed him, I say vnto you, I haue not founde so great faith, no, not in Israel.

10 And they that were sent, when they were returned home, found the seruant whole that had bene sicke.

The Gospel on the xvi. sunday after Trinitie.

11 And it came to passe [the day] after, that he went into a citie called Naim: and many of his disciples went with him, and much people.

12 When he came nigh to the gate of the citie, beholde, there was a dead man carried out, [which was] the onely sonne of his mother, and she was a widowe: and much people of the citie was with her.

13 And when the Lorde sawe her, he had compassion on her, and saide vnto her, Weepe not.

14 And when he was come nigh, he touched the beere (and they that bare him stoode stil.) And he saide, Young man, I say vnto thee, Arise.

15 And hee that was dead, sate vp, and began to speake: and [he] deliuered him to his mother.

16 And there came a feare on them al, and they gaue the glory vnto God, saying that a great Prophet is risen vp amōg vs, and verily God hath visited his people.

17 And this rumor of him went forth throughout all Iurie, and throughout all the regions which lie round about.

18 *And the disciples of Iohn shewed him of all these things. Matth. 11. 2.

19 And Iohn, when hee had called vnto him two of his disciples, he sent them to Iesus, saying, Art thou he that commeth, or looke we for another?

20 When the men were come vnto him, they saide, Iohn Baptist hath sent vs vnto thee, saying, Art thou he that commeth, or looke we for another?

21 And in that same houre he cured many of their infirmities and plagues, and of euil spirites, and vnto many that were blind he gaue sight.

22 Then Iesus answering, said vnto them, Go your way, and bring worde againe to Iohn, what things ye haue seene and heard, howe that the blind see againe, the halt goe, the lepers are cleansed, the deafe heare, the dead rise, to the poore is the Gospell preached.

23 And happy is he whosoeuer shall not be offended at me.

24 And when the messengers of Iohn were departed, he began to speake vnto the people concerning Iohn: What went ye out into the wildernes for to see? A reede shaken with the winde?

25 But what went ye out for to see? A man clothed in soft rayment? Beholde, they which are gorgeously apparelled, and liue delicately, are in kings courtes.

26 But what went ye forth to see? A Prophet? Yea, I say vnto you, and more then a Prophet.

27 This is he of whom it is written, * Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee. Mala. 3. 1.

28 For I say vnto you, among womens children is there not a greater Prophet thē Iohn Baptist: neuertheless, he that is least in the kingdome of God, is greater then he.

29 And all the people that heard [him, and the Publicanes, being baptized with the baptisme of Iohn, [a] iustified God.

30 But the Pharisees and Lawyers despised the counsaile of God against themselues, being not baptized of him.

31 And the Lord saide, * Whereunto shall I liken the men of this generation? and to what [thing] are they like?

32 They are like vnto children sitting in the market place, and crying one to another, and saying, We haue piped vnto you, and ye haue not daunced: We haue mourned to you, and ye haue not wept.

33 For Iohn Baptist came, neither eating bread, nor drinking wine, and ye say, He hath a deuill.

34 The sonne of man is come, eating and drinking, and ye say, Behold a gluttonous man, and a wine bibber, a friend of Publicanes and sinners.

b That is, the children of wisedome, or the wise, which beleeue the Gospell, doe acknowledge the wisedome of God therein, which the Pharisees condemne: so that wisedome is the iustified of her children, when the Gospel is receiued. Mark 15.40. Iohn 20,11.

35 And wisedome is iustified of b all her children.

36 And one of the Pharisees desired him that he would eate with him. And he went into the Pharisees house, & sate downe to meate.

37 And beholde, a woman in that citie, which was a sinner, when she knew that Iesus sate at meate in the Pharisees house, she brought an Alabaster boxe of oyntment:

38 *And stoode at his feete behinde him, weeping, and began to wash his feete with teares, and did wipe them cleane with the heares of her head, and all to kissed his feete, and anointed them with the oyntment.

39 When the Pharisee which had bidden him, sawe [it,] he spake within himselfe, saying, If this man were a Prophet, he would surely know who, and what maner of woman this is that toucheth him: for she is a sinner.

40 And Iesus answering, saide vnto him, Simon, I haue somewhat to say vnto thee. And he saieth, Master, say on.

41 There was a certaine lender, which had two debters: ỳ one ought fiue hundred pence, and the other fiftie.

42 When they had nothing to pay, he forgaue them both. Tell me therefore, which of them will loue him most?

43 Simon answered, and said, I suppose, that he to whom he forgaue most. And he said vnto him, Thou hast truely iudged.

44 And he turned to the woman, and saide vnto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entred into thine house, thou gauest me no water for my feete: but she hath washed my feete with teares, and wyped them with the heares of her head.

45 Thou gauest me no kisse: but this woman, since the time I came in, hath not ceassed to kisse my feete.

46 Mine head with oyle thou diddest not anoint: but this woman hath anointed my feete with oyntment.

47 Wherefore, I say vnto thee, many sinnes are forgiuẽ her, for she loued much: to whom litle is forgiuen, the same loueth litle.

48 And he said vnto her, Thy sinnes are forgiuen thee.

49 And they that sate at meate with him, began to say within themselues, Who is this that forgiueth sinnes also?

50 And he said to the woman, Thy faith hath saued thee, goe in peace.

4 *When much people were gathered together, and were come to him out of all cities, he spake by a similitude. The Gospell on Sexagesima Sunday. Matth.13.3. mark.4.1.

5 The Sower went out to sowe his seede: and as he sowed, some fel by the way side, and it was troden downe, and the fowles of the aire deuoured it vp.

6 And some fell on stones, and as soone as it was sprung vp, it withered away, because it lacked moistnesse.

7 And some fell among thornes, ‖ and the thornes sprang vp with it, and choked it. ‖ Or, rather thus, And some fell among thistles, and the thistles sprang vp with it, and choked it.

8 And some fell on good ground, and sprang vp, and bare fruite an hundred folde. And as he saide these things, he cried, He that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

9 And his disciples asked him, saying, What maner of similitude is this?

10 And he said [vnto them,] Unto you it is giuen to know the secretes of the kingdome of God: but to other by parables, *that when they see, they should not see, and when they heare, they should not vnderstand. Esai 6.9. matth.13.14. mark.4.12. iohn 12.40. actes 28.26. rom.11.8.

11 *The parable is this, The seede is the word of God. Matth.13.8. mark.4.15.

12 Those that are beside the way, are they that heare: then commeth the deuill, and taketh away the word out of their heartes, least they should beleeue, and be saued.

13 They on the stones [are they,] which when they heare, receiue the word with ioy: & these haue no rootes, which for a while beleeue, and in time of temptation goe away.

14 And that which fel amõg thornes, are they, which when they haue heard, goe forth, and are choked with cares & riches, and voluptuous liuing, and bring forth no fruite.

15 But that [which fell] on the good ground, are they, which with a pure and good heart heare the word, and keepe it, and bring foorth fruite through patience.

16 *No man when he lighteth a candle, coue- Matth.5.15. mark.4.22.

reth it with a vessell, or putteth it vnder a bed: but setteth it on a candlesticke, ỳ they which enter in, may see the light.

Matth.10.26. mark.4.22. luke 12.33.

17 * For nothing is secrete, that shall not be made manifest: neither any thing hid, that shall not be knowen, and come to light.

Matth.13.12. mark.4.25.

18 Take heede therefore howe ye heare: * for whosoeuer hath, to him shalbe giuen: and whosoeuer hath not, from him shalbe taken, euen that same which he supposeth that he hath.

Matth.12.46. mark.3.31.

19 * Then came to him his mother and his brethren, and could not come at him for preasse.

20 And it was tolde him [by certaine] which said, Thy mother and thy brethren stand without, willing to see thee.

21 He answered and saide vnto them, My mother and my brethren [a] are these which heare the worde of God, and doe it.

a The spirituall kinred, to be preferred before the carnall. Matth.8.23. mark.4.36.

22 * And it came to passe on a certaine day, that he went into a shippe, and his disciples also: and he saide vnto them, Let vs goe ouer vnto the other side of the lake. And they launched forth.

23 But as they sailed, he fell asleepe, and there came downe a storme of wind on the lake, and they were filled [with water,] and were in ieopardie.

24 And they came to him, and awoke him, saying, Master, master, we are lost. Then he rose, and rebuked the winde, and the tempest of water: and they ceassed, and it waxed calme.

25 And he saide vnto them, Where is your faith? And they feared, and wondred, saying one to another, Who is this? For he commandeth both the windes and water, and they obey him.

Matth 8.8. mark.5.4.

26 * And they sailed vnto the region of the Gadarenites, which is ouer against Galilee.

27 And when he went out to land, there met him out of the citie a certaine man which had deuils long time, and ware no clothes, neither abode in [any] house, but in graues.

28 When he saw Jesus, and had cried aloude, he fell downe before him, and with a loude voyce said, What haue I to doe with thee Jesus, thou sonne of God most highest? I beseech thee torment me not.

29 (For he commanded ỳ fowle spirit to come out of the man: For oftentimes he had caught him, and he was bound with chaines, & kept with fetters: and he brake the bandes, and was carried of the feende into the wildernesse.)

30 And Jesus asked him, saying, What is thy name? And he saide, Legion: because many deuils were entred into him.

31 And they besought him that he would not command them to goe out into the deepe.

32 And there was there an heard of many swine feeding on an hil: and [b] they besought him that he would suffer them to enter into them: and he suffered them.

b That is, the deuils.

33 Then went the deuils out of the man, and entred into the swine: and the heard ranne headlong with violence into the lake, and were choked.

34 When the heardmen sawe what was done, they fled: and when they were departed, they told it in the citie, and in the villages.

35 Therefore they came out to see what was done, and came to Jesus, and found the man, out of whom the deuils were departed, sitting at the feete of Jesus, clothed, and in his right minde: and they were afraide.

36 They also which saw it, told them by what meanes he that was possessed of the deuils, was healed.

37 Then the whole multitude of the countrey about the Gadarenites, besought him that he would depart from them, for they were taken with great feare: and he gate him vp into the ship, and returned backe againe.

38 Then the man, out of whom the deuils were departed, besought him that he might be with him: but Jesus sent him away, saying, 39 Goe home againe to thine owne house, and shew what ‖ things soeuer God hath done for thee. And he went his way, and preached throughout all the citie, what things soeuer Jesus had done vnto him.

‖ Or, what great things God hath done vnto thee.

40 And it came to passe, that when Jesus was come againe, the people receiued him: for they were all waiting for him.

41 And behold, there came a man, named Jairus, * and he was a ruler in the Synagogue, and he fel downe at Jesus feete, praying him that he would come into his house:

Matth 9.18. mark.5.22.

42 For he had but one daughter onely, vpon a twelue yeeres of age, & she lay a dying. (But as he went, the people thronged him.

43 And a woman, hauing an issue of blood twelue yeeres, which had spent all her substance vpon Physicions, neither could be holpen of any,

44 Came behinde him, and touched ỳ hemme of his rayment: and immediatly her issue of blood stanched.

45 And Jesus saide, Who [is it] that touched me? Whē euery man denied, Peter and they that were with him, said, Master, the people thrust thee, and vexe thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me?

46 And Jesus said, Some body hath touched me: for I perceiue that vertue is gone out of me.

47 When the woman sawe that she was not hid, she came trembling, and fel [at his feete,] and tolde him before all the people, for what cause she had touched him, and howe she was healed immediatly.

48 And he saide vnto her, Daughter, bee of good comfort, thy faith hath saued thee, goe in peace.)

49 While he yet spake, there commeth one from the ruler of the synagogues house, saying to him, Thy daughter is dead, disease not the master.

50 But when Jesus heard [that word,] he answered him, [saying,] Feare not, beleeue onely, and she shalbe made whole.

51 And when he came into the house, he suffered no man to goe in with him, saue Peter, and James, and John, and the father and the mother of the maiden.

52 Euery body wept, and sorowed for her: and he said, Weepe not, the damosell is not dead, but sleepeth.

53 And they laughed him to scorne, knowing that she was dead.

54 And he thrust them al out, and tooke her by the hand, and cried, saying, Maide, arise.

55 And her spirit came againe, and she arose straightway: and he commanded to giue her meate.

56 And her parents were astonied: but he warned them that they should tell no man what was done.

The ix. Chapter.

1 The Apostles are sent to preach. 37 Of three that woulde followe Christ, but after diuers sortes of looking backe.

Matth. 10.1. mark. 3.13. and 6.7.

1 IEsus * when he had called the twelue together, gaue them power and authoritie ouer all deuils, and to heale diseases.

2 And he sent them to preach ỹ kingdome of God, and to heale the sicke.

3 And he saide vnto them, Take nothing to a your iourney, neither rodde, nor scrippe, neither bread, neither money, neither haue two coates apiece.

a Because this iourney was short, and but for a time, Christ willed ỹ they shoulde make haste, & take nothing with them, whereby they might be letted any thing at al from the businesse.

4 And whatsoeuer house ye enter into, there abide, and thence depart.

5 And whosoeuer wil not receiue you, whē ye go out of that citie, shake off ỹ very dust from your feete, for a testimonie against them.

6 And they departed, and went thorowe the townes, preaching the Gospell, and healing euery where.

Matth. 6.14. mark. 14.1.

7 * And Herode the Tetrarch heard of al that was done by him: and he doubted, because that it was said of some, that John was risen from death:

8 And of some, that Elias had appeared: and of some, that one of the olde Prophets was risen.

9 And Herode saide, John haue I beheaded: but who is this of whō I heare such things? And he desired to see him.

Matth. 14.13. mark 6.35.

10 And the Apostles when they returned, tolde him all that they had done. * And he tooke them, and went aside into a solitarie place, nigh vnto the citie called Bethsaida, 11 Which when the people knew, they followed him: and when he had receiued them, he spake vnto them of the kingdome of God, and healed them that had neede to be healed.

Matth. 14.16. mark. 6.35. iohn 6.5.

12 *And when the day began to weare away, then came the twelue, and saide vnto him, Send the people away, that they may goe into the villages and fieldes rounde about, and lodge, and get meate: for we are here in a place of wildernesse.

13 But he saide vnto them, Giue ye them to eate. And they said, We haue no moe but fiue loaues and two fishes, except we shoulde goe and buy meate for all this people.

14 And they were about fiue thousande men. And he saide to his disciples, Cause them to sit downe by fifties in a company.

15 And they did so, and made them al to sitte downe.

16 And when he had taken the fiue loaues, and the two fishes, and looked vp to heauen, he blessed them, and brake them, and gaue to the disciples to set before the people.

17 And they did all eate, & were satisfied. And there was taken vp of that remained to them, twelue baskets full of broken meate.

Matth. 16.13. mark. 8.27.

18 *And it came to passe, as he was alone praying, his disciples were with him: and he asked them, saying, Whom say the people that I am?

19 They answering, saide, John the Baptist: some say, Elias: and some say, that one of the olde Prophets is risen.

20 He saide vnto them, But whom say ye that I am? Peter answering, saide, [Thou art] that Christ, of God.

21 And he warned and commanded them to tell no man that thing:

Matth. 17.22. mark. 8.31.

22 Saying, * That the sonne of man must suffer many things, and be reprooued of the elders, and of the high priests and Scribes, and be slaine, and rise the thirde day.

Matth. 10.38.

23 * And he saide to them all, If any man will come after mee, let him denie himselfe, and take vp his crosse dayly, and follow me.

Matth. 10.39. mark. 8.35.

24 * For whosoeuer will saue his life, shal lose it: but whosoeuer will lose his life for my sake, the same shall saue it.

Matth. 16.26. mark. 9.36.

25 * For what auantageth it a man, if he winne the whole world, and lose himselfe, or runne in danger of himselfe?

Matth. 10.33. mark. 8.38.

26 * For whosoeuer shalbe ashamed of me, and of my wordes, of him shall the sonne of man be ashamed when he shall come in the glory of himselfe, and of his father, and of the holy angels.

Matth. 16.28. mark. 9.1.

27 * I tell you of a trueth, there be some standing here, which shal in no wise taste of death, till they see the kingdome of God.

28 *And

Matt.27.2. mar.9.2.

28 *And it came to passe, about an eight dayes after these sayings, he tooke Peter, & John, and James, and went vp into a mountaine to pray.

29 And it came to passe as he prayed, the fashion of his countenance was changed, & his garment shining very white.

30 And behold, there talked with him two men, which were Moses and Elias, 31 That appeared in glory, and spake of his departing, which hee should ende at Hierusalem.

32 But Peter, and they that were with him, were heauy with sleepe: and when they awoke, they sawe his glory, and the two men standing with him.

33 And it came to passe, as they departed from him, Peter said vnto Iesus, Master, it is good being here for vs, and let vs make three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias: not knowing what hee said.

34 While hee thus spake, there came a cloude and ouershadowed them, and they feared, whē they were come into the cloud.

35 And there came a voice out of the cloud, saying, This is my deare sonne, heare him.

36 And as soone as the voice was past, Iesus was found alone: and they kept it close, and told no mā in those dayes any of those things which they had seene.

Matt.17.14. mar.9.17.

37 * And it came to passe, that on the next day, when they were come downe from the hill, much people met him.

38 And behold, a mā of the company cried out, saying, Master, I beseech thee behold my sonne, for he is all that I haue:

39 And see, a spirit taketh him, and suddenly he crieth, and teareth him that he foameth againe, and with much paine departeth from him, when he renteth him.

40 And I besought thy disciples to cast him out, and they could not.

41 Iesus answering, said, O faithlesse and peruerse nation, how long shall I be with you, & shall suffer you? bring thy sonne hither.

42 As hee was yet a comming, the feend rent him, and tare him: and Iesus rebuked the vncleane spirit, and healed the child, and deliuered him againe to his father.

43 And they were all amased at the maiestie of God: But while they wondred euery one at all things which Iesus did, he said vnto his disciples,

Matt.17.22. mar.9.35.

44 * Let these sayings sinke downe into your eares: for it will come to passe, that the sonne of man shall bee deliuered into the handes of men.

45 But they vnderstood not what that word meant, & it was hid from them, that they should not vnderstand it: and they feared to aske him of that saying.

46 *Then there arose a disputation among them, which of them should be the greatest. Matt.18.1. mar.9.33.

47 When Iesus perceiued the thought of their heart, he tooke a childe, and set him hard by him, 48 And said vnto them, Whosoeuer shall receiue this child in my name, receiueth me: & whosoeuer shall receiue me, receiueth him that sent me: For he that is least among you all, the same shalbe great.

49 *And Iohn answering, said, Master, wee sawe one casting out deuils in thy name, and we forbade him, because hee followeth not [thee] with vs. Mar.9.38.

50 And Iesus said vnto him, Forbid ye [him] not: for he that is not against vs, is with vs.

51 And it came to passe, when the time was come that he should be receiued vp, hee stedfastly set his face to goe to Hierusalem, 52 And sent messengers before his face, & they went and entred into a village of the Samaritanes, to make ready for him.

53 And they did not receiue him, because his [b]face was as though he would goe to Hierusalem.

b Because they knew that he was a Iew, and the Samaritanes could not agree with the Iewes, Ioh.4. for that they differed in religion.

54 When his disciples, Iames and Iohn sawe this, they said, Lord, wilt thou that wee commaund fire to come downe from heauen, and consume them, euen as Elias did?

55 Iesus turning about, rebuked them, saying, Ye wote not what maner spirit ye are of.

56 *For the sonne of man is not come to destroy mens liues, but to saue them. And they went to another village. Matt.8.19.

57 And it came to passe, that as they went walking in the way, a certaine man said vnto him, I will follow thee, Lord, whithersoeuer thou goest.

58 And Iesus said vnto him, Foxes haue holes, and birds of the aire haue nests: but the sonne of man hath not where to lay his head.

59 *And he said vnto another, Folow me: And the same said, Lord, suffer me first to goe and bury my father. Matt.8.21.

60 Iesus said vnto him, Let the dead bury their dead: but go thou and preach the kingdome of God.

61 And another said, Lord, I will follow thee: but let me first goe bid them farewell [c]which are at home at my house.

c When Christ calleth, we may not looke at any thing which may hinder vs frō our vocation, but with all speede follow it.

62 Iesus said vnto him, No man hauing put his hand to the plough, and looking backe, is apt to the kingdome of God.

c The power of Satan is beaten downe by preaching the Gospell.

18 And he said vnto them, I sawe Satan [c] as it had bene lightning, falling downe from heauen.

19 Behold, I giue vnto you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and ouer all maner power of the enemie: and nothing shall by any meanes hurt you.

20 But in this reioice not, that the spirits are subdued vnto you: but rather reioice, because your names are written in the heauens.

21 The same houre Iesus reioiced in the spirit, and said, I confesse vnto thee, father, Lord of heauen and earth, that thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast opened them vnto babes: euen so father, for so it pleased thee.

22 All things are giuen mee of my father: no man knoweth who the sonne is, but ỹ father: and who the father is, but the sonne, and he to whom the sonne will reueale him.

28 And he said vnto him, Thou hast answered right: this doe, and thou shalt liue.

29 But he, willing to iustifie himselfe, said vnto Iesus, And who is my neighbour?

30 And Iesus answering, said, A certaine man descended from Hierusalem to Iericho, and fell among thieues, which robbed him of his raiment, and wounded him, and departed, leauing him halfe dead.

31 And it befell, that there came downe a certaine priest that same way, and when he sawe him, he passed by on the other side.

32 And likewise a Leuite, when hee went nigh to the place, came and looked on him, and passed by on the other side.

33 But a certaine Samaritane as he iourneied, came by him: and when he sawe him, he had compassion on him, 34 And went to him, & bound vp his wounds, powring in oile and wine, and set him on his owne beast, and brought him to a [common] inne, and made prouision for him.

35 And on the morow when he departed, hee tooke out [d] two pence, and gaue them to the hoste, and said vnto him, Take cure of him, and whatsoeuer thou spendest more, when I come againe, I will recompense thee.

d Which was about ix. pence of sterling money.

36 Which now of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbour vnto him that fell among the thieues?

39 And

39 And this woman had a sister, called Mary, which also sate at Jesus feete, and heard his word:

The xi. Chapter.

2 Christ teacheth his disciples to pray. 14 He driueth out a dombe deuill.

1 AND so it was, that as he was praying in a certaine place, when he ceased, one of his disciples said vnto him, Lord, teach vs to pray, as John also taught his disciples.

2 And he said vnto them, When ye pray, say, Mat. 6.9. * O our Father which art in heauen, Halowed bee thy name, Thy kingdome come, Thy will bee done, euen in earth also as it is in heauen.

3 Our daily bread giue vs this day.

4 And forgiue vs our sinnes: for euen we forgiue euery man that trespasseth vs. And lead vs not into temptation, but deliuer vs from the euill.

5 And he said vnto them, Which of you shall haue a friend, and shall goe vnto him at midnight, & say vnto him, Friend, lend me three loaues:

6 For a friend of mine is come out of the way to me, and I haue nothing to set before him.

7 And he from within shall answere, and say, Trouble me not, the doore is now shut, and my children are with me in bed: I cannot rise and giue thee.

24 When the vncleane spirit is gone out * of a Matt. 12.43. man, he walketh thorow dry places, seeking rest: and finding none, he saith, I wil returne vnto my house, whence I came out.

25 And when he commeth, he findeth it swept, and garnished.

26 * Then goeth he, and taketh to him seuen other spirits worse then himselfe, and they enter in, and dwell there, and the last state of that man is worse then the first. Heb. 6.4. 1. pet. 2.20.

27 And it came to passe as he spake these things, a certaine woman of the company lift vp her voyce, & said vnto him, Happy is the wombe that bare thee, and the paps which thou hast sucked.

28 But he said, Yea, rather happy are they that heare the word of God, and keepe it.

29 * When the people were gathered thicke Matt. 12.38. together, he began to say, This is an euil nation: they seeke a signe, and there shall no signe be giuen them, * but the signe of Jonas Ionas 2.1. the Prophet.

30 For as Jonas was a signe vnto the Niniuites, so shall also the sonne of man be to this nation.

31 * The Queene of the South shall rise in 3. Reg. 10.1. 2. chro. 9.1. iudgement with the men of this nation, and condemne them: for she came from ỳ vtmost partes of the earth, to heare the wisedome of Solomon: and behold, a greater then Solomon is here.

Matt.5.15. mar.4.21. luke 8.16. 33 *No man when he hath lighted a candle, putteth it in a priuie place, neither vnder a buſhel: but on a candleſticke, that they which come in, may ſee the light.

Matt.6.22. a That is, the light. 34 *The [a]candle of the body is the eye: therefore when thine eye is ſingle, all thy body alſo is full of light: but if thine eye be euil, all thy body alſo is full of darkneſſe.

35 Take heede therefore, that the light which is in thee, be not darkneſſe.

36 If all thy body therefore be cleare, hauing no part darke: then ſhall it all be full of light, euen as when a candle doeth light thee with brightneſſe.

37 And as he ſpake, a certaine Phariſee beſought him to dine with him: And Ieſus went in, and ſate downe to meate.

38 When the Phariſee ſawe it, he marueiled that he had not firſt waſhed before dinner.

Mat.23.29. 39 *And the Lord ſaid vnto him, Nowe doe ye Phariſees make cleane the outſide of the cup, and the platter: but your inward part is full of rauening and wickedneſſe.

40 Ye fooles, did not he that made that which is without, make that which is within alſo?

b Chriſt requireth here two things. Firſt, that we come truely by our meate: next, that we giue almes: for charitie is the perfection of the lawe. ‖ Or, preſent. 41 But rather [b]giue almes of thoſe things which are ‖ within: and behold, al things are cleane vnto you.

42 But woe vnto you Phariſees: for ye tithe mint, and rue, and all maner herbes, and paſſe ouer iudgement, and the loue of God: Theſe ought ye to haue done, and yet not to leaue the other vndone.

Matth.23.6. mar.12.38. 43 *Woe vnto you Phariſees: for ye loue the vppermoſt ſeates in the ſynagogues, & greetings in the markets.

44 Woe vnto you Scribes and Phariſees hypocrites: for ye are as graues which appeare not, and the men that walke ouer them, are not ware of them.

45 Then anſwered one of the lawyers, and ſaid vnto him, Maiſter, thus ſaying, thou puttest vs to rebuke alſo.

Matt.23.4. ad.15.10. 46 *And he ſaide, Woe vnto you alſo ye lawyers: for ye lade men with burdens grieuous to be borne, and ye your ſelues touch not the burdens with one of your fingers.

47 Woe vnto you, for ye builde the ſepulchres of the Prophets, & your fathers killed them.

48 Truely ye beare witneſſe that ye alowe the deedes of your fathers: for they killed them, and ye build their ſepulchres.

49 Therefore ſaid the wiſedome of God, I wil ſend them Prophets and apoſtles, and [ſome] of them they ſhall ſlay and perſecute:

50 That the blood of all the Prophets, which was ſhed from the foundation of the world, may be required of this generation,

Gen.4.8. 1.chro.24.22. 51 *From the blood of Abel, vnto the blood of Zacharie, which periſhed betweene the altar and the temple: Uerily I ſay vnto you, it ſhalbe required of this nation.

c The pure doctrine, and true vnderſtanding of the ſcriptures. 52 Woe vnto you lawyers, for ye haue taken away the [c]key of knowledge: ye entred not in your ſelues, and them that came in, ye forbade.

53 When he thus ſpake vnto them, ỹ lawyers and the Phariſees beganne to vrge [him] vehemently, and to prouoke him to ſpeake many things:

54 Laying wait for him, and ſeeking to catche ſomething out of his mouth, whereby they might accuſe him.

The xii. Chapter.

1 The leauen of the Phariſees is to be auoided. 20 Againſt care of earthly things.

Matt.16.5. mar.8.14. 1 IN* the meane time, when there were gathered together an innumerable multitude of people, [inſomuch] that they trode one another, he begã to ſay vnto his diſciples, Firſt of all beware of the leauen of the Phariſees, which is hypocriſie.

Matt.10.26. mar.4.22. 2 *For there is nothing couered, that ſhall not be vncouered, neither hid, that ſhall not be knowen.

3 Therefore, what ſo euer yee haue ſpoken in darkeneſſe, ſhalbe heard in the light: and that which ye haue ſpoken in the eare, euen in ſecrete places, ſhalbe preached [a]on the toppe of the houſes.

a Openly, that all men may heare. Matt.10.28. 4 *And I ſay vnto you my friendes, Be not afraide of them that kill the body, & after that, haue no more that they can doe.

5 But I will forewarne you whom you ſhall feare: Feare him, which after he hath killed, hath power to caſt into hell, yea, I ſay vnto you, Feare him.

Matt.10.29. 6 *Are not fiue ſparrowes ſolde for two farthings, and not one of them is forgotten before God?

7 But, euen the very heares of your head are numbred: Feare not therefore, yee are more of value then many ſparowes.

Matt.10.23. luke 9.26. 2.tim.2.12. 8 *Alſo I ſay vnto you, Who ſo euer ſhall cõfeſſe me before men, him ſhall the ſonne of man knowledge alſo before ỹ angels of God.

9 But he that ſhall denie me before men, ſhall be denied before the angels of God.

b He that ſhal reſiſt againſt the word of God purpoſely of malice, or againſt his owne conſcience. Matt.10.29. 10 And who ſo euer ſhal ſpeake a word againſt the ſonne of man, it ſhall be forgiuen him: but vnto him that blaſphemeth the holy [b]Ghoſt, it ſhall not be forgiuen.

11 *And when they bring you vnto the Synagogues, and vnto the rulers and officers, take ye no thought how or what thing ye ſhall anſwere, or what ye ſhall ſpeake:

mar.13.11. 12 For the holy Ghoſt ſhal teach you in ỹ ſame houre, houre, what ye ought to say.

13 One of the company said vnto him, Master, speake to my brother, that he deuide the inheritance with me.
14 And he said vnto him, Man, who made me a iudge, or a deuider ouer you?
15 And he said vnto them, Take heede, and beware of couetousnesse: for no mans life standeth in the abundance of the things which he possesseth.
16 And hee put foorth a similitude vnto them, saying, *The ground of a certaine rich man brought foorth plentiful fruits. Eccl.11.19.
17 And hee thought within himselfe, saying, What shall I doe, because I haue no roume where to bestowe my fruits?
18 And he said, This will I doe, I will pull downe my barnes, and build greater, and therein will I gather all my fruites and my goods.
19 And I will say to my soule, Soule, thou hast much goods laid vp [in store] for many yeeres, take thine ease, eate, drinke, and bee mery.
20 But God said vnto him, Thou foole, this night doe they require thy soule againe from thee: then whose shal those things be, which thou hast prouided?
21 So is he that gathereth riches to himselfe, and is not rich towards God.
22 And he spake vnto his disciples, Therefore I say vnto you, *Take no thought for your life what ye shall eate, neither for the body what ye shall put on. Matt.6.25. 1.pet.5.7. psal.54.26.
23 The life is more then meate, and the body is more then raiment.
24 Consider the rauens, for they neither sowe nor reape, which neither haue storehouse nor barne, and [notwithstanding] God feedeth them: How much more are ye better thē the foules?
25 Which of you with taking thought, can adde to his stature one cubite?
26 If yee then bee not able to doe that thing which is least, why take ye thought for the remnant?
27 Consider the Lilies how they growe, they labour not, they spinne not: and yet I say vnto you, that Solomon in all his royaltie, was not clothed like one of these.
28 If God so clothe the grasse, which is to day in the field, and to morow is cast into the furnace: how much more [will he clothe] you, [O] ye of litle faith?
29 And aske not yee what yee shall eate, or what ye shall drinke, neither bee ye of doubtfull minde.
30 For all such things doe the people of the world seeke for: and your father knoweth that ye haue need of these things.
31 But rather seeke ye after the kingdome of God, and all these things shall be added vnto you.
32 Feare not [O] litle flocke, for it is your fathers good pleasure to giue you a kingdome.
33 Sell that ye haue, and giue almes: *and prepare you bags which waxe not old, [euen] a treasure that faileth not in the heauens, where no thiefe approcheth, neither moth corrupteth. Matth.6.20.
34 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.
35 *Let your loines be gird about, and [your] lights burning, 1.Pet.1.13.
36 And ye your selues [be] like vnto men that waite for their lord, when hee will returne from the wedding, that when he shall come and knocke, they may open vnto him immediatly.
37 Happy are those seruants, whom the lord when he commeth, shall find waking: Verily I say vnto you, That he shal gird himselfe, and make them to sit downe to meate, & will come foorth, and minister vnto them.
38 And if he shall come in the second watch, yea, if he shal come in the third watch, & finde them so, happy are those seruants.
39 *This vnderstand ye, that if the good man of the house had known what houre the thiefe would come, he would surely haue watched, and not haue suffered his house to bee broken thorow. Matt.24.43. apoc.16.15.
40 Be ye therefore ready also: for the sonne of man commeth at an houre when ye thinke not.
41 Then Peter said vnto him, Master, tellest thou this similitude vnto vs, or to all?
42 And the Lord said, Who is a faithfull and wise steward, whom his lord shall make ruler ouer his houshold, to giue them their portion of meate in due season?
43 Happy is that seruant, whom his lord when he commeth, shall find so doing.
44 Of a trueth, I say vnto you, That he will make him ruler ouer all his substance.
45 But and if that seruant say in his heart, My lord delaieth his comming: and shall begin to smite the seruants and maidens, & to eate and drinke, and to be drunken,
46 The lord of that seruant wil come in a day when he looketh not for him, and at an houre when he is not ware, and wil hewe him in pieces, and will set him his portion with the vnbeleeuers.
47 And the seruant that knew his masters wil, and prepared not himselfe, neither did according to his will, shall bee beaten with many [stripes.]
48 But hee that knew not, and did commit things worthy of stripes, shalbe beaten with fewe [stripes.] For vnto whomsoeuer much is giuen, of him shall be much required: and c Ignorance will not excuse.

to

to whom men haue committed much, of him will they aske the more.

d That is, the Gospel, which is as a vehement fire, and maketh a change of things through all the world.

49 I am come to send fire [d] on the earth, and what is my desire, [e] if it be already kindled?

e That is, but that it be.

50 Notwithstanding, I must be baptized with a baptisme, [f] and how am I pained till it bee ended?

f He compareth affliction and his death to baptisme. Matt. 20.22.

51 * Suppose ye that I am come to send peace on earth? I tell you, Nay, but rather [g] diuision.

g Christ is not the cause that there is destruction for the Gospell, but the wickednesse of worldlings, which by malice contemning the Gospel, be at variance with all that professe it.

52 For from henceforth there shall bee fiue in [one] house deuided, three against two, and two against three.

53 The father shall be deuided against the sonne, and the sonne against the father: the mother against the daughter, & the daughter against the mother: the mother in lawe against her daughter in lawe, and the daughter in lawe against her mother in lawe.

54 He said also to the people, * When ye see a cloud rise out of the West, straightway ye say, There commeth a shower: and so it is.

Matt. 16.2.

55 And when ye see the South wind blow, ye say, It will be hote, and it commeth to passe.

56 Ye hypocrites, ye can discerne the face of the skie, and of the earth: but how is it that ye do not discerne this time?

57 Yea, and why iudge yee not of your selues what is right?

Matt. 5.25.

58 * When thou goest with thine aduersary to the ruler: as thou art in the way, giue diligence that thou mayest be deliuered from him, least he draw thee violently to the iudge, and the iudge deliuer thee to the sergeant, and the sergeant cast thee into prison.

59 I tell thee, Thou shalt not depart thence, till thou haue made good the vttermost mite.

The xiii. Chapter.

6 Of the figge tree that bare no fruit. 24 Few enter into the kingdome of Christ.

1 THere were present at the same season, certaine men that shewed him of the Galileans, whose blood [a] Pilate had mingled with their owne sacrifice.

a Pilate murdered them as they were sacrificing.

2 And Iesus answering, said vnto them, Suppose ye that these Galileans were greater sinners then all the other Galileans, because they suffred such punishment?

3 I tell you, Nay: but except ye repent, yee shall all likewise perish.

4 Or those eighteene, vpon which the tower in [b] Siloe fell, and slew them, thinke ye that they were sinners aboue all men that dwelt in Hierusalem?

b Which tower stood by the fishpoole or riuer Siloam in Hierusalem.

5 I tell you, Nay: but except ye repent, yee shall all likewise perish.

6 He told also this similitude: A certaine man had a figge tree planted in his vineyard, and he came and sought fruite thereon, and found none.

7 Then said he to the dresser of his vineyard, Beholde, this three yeeres I come seeking fruit in this figge tree, and finde none: cut it downe, why cumbreth it the ground?

8 And he answering, said vnto him, Lord, let it alone this yeere also, till I shall dig round about it, and dung it:

9 And if it beare fruite, [thou mayest let it alone:] and if it beare not, then after that thou shalt cut it downe.

10 And he was teaching in one of their Synagogues on the Sabboth dayes.

11 And behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmitie eighteene yeeres, & was bowed together, and could in no wise lift vp [her selfe.]

12 When Iesus saw her, he called her to him, and said vnto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thy disease.

13 And he laid his hands on her, and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God.

14 And the ruler of the synagogue answered with indignation, because that Iesus had healed on the Sabboth day, and said vnto the people, There are sixe dayes in which men ought to worke: in them therefore come, that ye may be healed, and not on the Sabboth day.

15 But the Lord answered him, and said, Thou hypocrite, doeth not eche one of you on the Sabboth day loose his ox or his asse from the stal, and leade him to the water?

16 And ought not this daughter of Abraham, whom Satan hath bound loe eighteene yeeres, bee loosed from this bonde on the Sabboth day?

17 And when hee said these things, all his aduersaries were ashamed: and all the people reioyced for al the excellent deedes that were done by him.

18 * Then said [Iesus,] What is the kingdome of God like? or whereto shall I compare it? Matt. 13.31. mar. 4.31.

19 * It is like a graine of mustard seede, which a man tooke, and sowed in his garden, and it grew, and waxed a great tree: and the foules of the aire made nests in the branches of it. Matt. 13.33.

20 * And againe he said, Whereunto shal I liken the kingdome of God? Matt. 9.35.

21 It is like leauen, which a woman tooke and hid in three peckes of meale, till all was leauened.

22 * And he went through all townes and villages, teaching, and iourneying towards Hierusalem. Mar. 6.6.

23 Then said one vnto him, Lord, are there few that be saued? and he said vnto them, 24 * Striue [c] to enter in at the straite gate: for many, I say vnto you, will seeke to enter in, and shall not be able. Matt. 7.13.

c We must endeuour to cut off all impediments that let vs.

25 When the good man of the house is risen vp, and hath shut to the doore, and ye begin to stand ſtand without, and to knocke at the doze, ſaying, Lord, Lord, open vnto vs, and he ſhall anſwere, and ſay vnto you, I know you not whence you are:

26 Then ſhall ye begin to ſay, We haue eaten and dzunken in thy preſence, and thou haſt taught in our ſtreetes.

Matt.7.23. 27 *And he ſhall ſay, I tell you, I know you not whence ye are, depart from me all ye that wozke iniquitie.

28 There ſhalbe weeping & gnaſhing of teeth, when ye ſhall ſee Abzaham, and Iſaac, and Jacob, and all the Pzophets in the kingdome of God, and ye your ſelues thzuſt out.

d The Gentiles which then were ſtrangers. 29 And they d ſhal come from the Eaſt, & from the Weſt, and from the Nozth, and from the South, and ſhall ſit downe in the kingdome of God.

Mat.19.30. 30 *And beholde, there are laſt, which ſhall be e firſt, and there are firſt, which ſhalbe f laſt.

e That is, the Gentiles, which beleeue the Goſpell, that were called after the Iewes. f The Iewes, which though they had the law, yet refuſing the Goſpell, are ſhut out. 31 The ſame day came there certaine of ỹ Phariſees, ſaying vnto him, Get thee out, and depart hence, foz Herode will kill thee.

32 And he ſaid vnto them, Goe ye and tell that foxe, behold, I caſt out deuils, and I do cures to day and to mozow, and the third day I ſhal be perfected.

33 Neuertheleſſe, I muſt walke to day and to mozow, and the day following, foz it cannot be that a Pzophet periſh out of Hieruſalem.

Matt.23.37. 34 *O Hieruſalem, Hieruſalem, which killeſt Pzophets, and ſtoneſt them that are ſent vnto thee, how often would I haue gathered thy childzen together, as a henne doth gather her yong vnder her wings, and ye would not:

g That is, the temple and Hieruſalem ſhould be deſtroied. 35 Beholde, your g houſe is left vnto you deſolate. Uerily I ſay vnto you, ye ſhall not ſee me, vntill the time come that yee ſhall ſay, Bleſſed is hee that commeth in the name of the Lord.

The Goſpel on the xvii. Sunday after Trinitie.

1 AND it came to paſſe, as hee went into the houſe of one of the chiefe Phariſees to eate bzead on the Sabboth day, they were watching him.

2 And behold, there was a certaine man befoze him which had the dzopſie.

3 And Jeſus anſwering, ſpake vnto the lawyers and Phariſees, ſaying, Is it lawfull to heale on the Sabboth day?

4 And they held their peace. And hee tooke him, and healed him, and let him goe,

5 And anſwered them, ſaying, Which of you ſhall haue an aſſe oz an oxe fallen into a pit, and will not ſtraightway pull him out on the Sabboth day?

6 And they could not anſwere him againe to theſe things.

The xv. Chapter.

The great mercy of God is set foorth in the parable of the lost sheepe.

The Gospel on the iii. Sunday after Trinitie.
1 THen resorted vnto him all the Publicanes and sinners, for to heare him.
2 And the Pharisees and Scribes murmured, saying, He receiueth sinners, and eateth with them.
3 But he put foorth this parable vnto them, saying,
Matth. 18.12.
4 *What man of you, hauing an hundred sheepe, if he lose one of them, doeth not leaue ninetie and nine in the wildernesse, and go after that which is lost, vntill he finde it?
5 And when he hath found it, hee laieth it on his shoulders, reioycing.
6 And when he commeth home, he calleth together his friends and neighbours, saying vnto them, Reioyce with me: for I haue found my sheepe which was lost.
7 I say vnto you, that likewise ioy shall be in heauen ouer one sinner that repenteth, more then ouer ninetie and nine iust persons, which need no repentance.
a One piece of this money, is to vnderstand more then fiue pence of our sterling money.
8 Either what woman hauing a ten pieces of siluer, if she lose one piece, doeth not light a candle, and sweepe the house, and seeke diligently till she find [it?]
9 And when she hath found it, she calleth her friends and her neighbours together, saying, Reioyce with me, for I haue found the piece which I had lost.
10 Likewise I say vnto you, there is ioy in the presence of the angels of God ouer one sinner that repenteth.
11 And he said, A certaine mã had two sonnes:
12 And the yonger of them said to his father, Father, giue [me] the portion of the substãce that to me belongeth. And hee deuided vnto them his liuing.
13 And not many daies after, when the yonger sonne had gathered all that he had together, he tooke his iourney into a farre countrey, and there wasted his substance with riotous liuing.
14 And when hee had spent all, there arose a great dearth in that land, and hee began to lacke.
15 And going, he ioyned himselfe to a citizen of that countrey: and hee sent him into his fields to feede swine.
16 And hee would faine haue filled his belly with the cods that the swine did eate: and no man gaue vnto him.
17 And whẽ he came to himselfe, he said, How many hired seruants of my fathers haue bread ynough and spare, and I perish with hunger?
18 I will arise, and goe to my father, and will say vnto him, Father, I haue sinned against heauen, and before thee, 19 And am no more worthy to bee called thy sonne: make me as one of thy hired seruants.
20 And he arose, and came to his father. But when he was yet a great way off, his father sawe him, and had compassion, and ranne, and fell on his necke, and all to kissed him.
21 And the sonne said vnto him, Father, I haue sinned against heauen, and in thy sight, & am no more worthy to be called thy sonne.
22 But the father said to his seruants, Bring foorth the best garment, and put it on him, and put a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feete, 23 And bring [hither] that fat calfe, and kil it, and let vs eate, and be merry.
24 For this my sonne was dead, and is aliue againe: he was lost, and is found. And they began to be merry.
25 The elder brother was in the field: & when he came and drew nigh to the house, he heard minstrelsie, and dauncing, 26 And called one of his seruantes, and asked what those things meant.
27 And he said vnto him, Thy brother is come, & thy father hath killed the fat calfe, because he hath receiued him safe and sound.

28 And

28 And [he] was angry, and would not goe in: therefore came his father out, and entreated him.

29 He answering, sayd to his father, Loe, these many yeeres doe I serue thee, neither brake I at any time thy commaundement, and yet thou neuer gauest me a kidde, that I might make merry with my friendes:

30 But as soone as this thy sonne was come, which hath deuoured thy liuing with harlots, thou hast for his pleasure killed that fat Calfe.

31 And he said vnto him, Sonne, thou art euer with me, and all that I haue is thine.

32 It was meete that we shoulde make merry, and be glad: for this thy brother was dead, & is aliue againe: and was lost, and is found.

The xvi. Chapter.

13 No man can serue two masters. 19 The rich glutton, and Lazarus.

The Gospel on the ix. Sunday after Trinitie.

1 AND he sayde vnto his disciples, There was a certaine riche man which had a Stewarde, and the same was accused vnto him that he had wasted his goods.

2 And when he had called him, he sayde vnto him, How is it that I heare this of thee? Giue accomptes of thy stewardship: for thou mayest be no longer Stewarde.

3 The Steward sayd within himselfe, What shall I doe, for my master taketh away from me the stewardship? I can not digge, and to begge I am ashamed.

4 I wote what to do, that when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receyue me into their houses.

5 So when he had called all his masters detters together, he sayde vnto the first, Howe much owest thou vnto my master?

6 And he saide, An hundred measures of oyle. And he sayde vnto him, Take thy bill, and sit downe quickly, and write fiftie.

a Ye speaketh after the common sort, not that such vntruethis praise worthie, but because it is thought wisedome in the eyes of the worlde.

7 Then sayd he to another, How much owest thou? And he sayde, An hundred measures of wheate. He sayd vnto him, Take thy bill, and write foure score.

8 And the Lord cõmended [a] the vniust Steward, because he had done wisely: for the children of this worlde are in their nation wiser then the children of light.

b Lay vp your treasure in heauen.

c Not that riches are euill of themselues, but that for the most part they be occasions of euill.

9 And I say vnto you, Make you [b] friendes of the vnrighteous [c] Mammon, that when ye shal haue neede, they may receiue you into the euerlasting [d] habitations.

d God for their cause shal receyue you into life euerlasting, & reward your good doings, not for the worthinesse thereof, but for his promise sake.

10 He that is faithfull in that which is least, is faithfull also in much: and he that is vnrighteous in the least, is vnrighteous also in much.

11 So then, if ye haue not bene faithfull in the vnrighteous Mammon, who shal truste you in the true [treasure?]

12 And if ye haue not bene faithfull in that which is another mans, who shall giue you that which is your owne?

13 No seruant can serue two masters, for either he shal hate the one, and loue the other: or els he shal leane to the one, and despise the other: ye can not serue God and Mammon.

14 All these things heard the Pharisees also which were couetous: and they mocked him greatly.

15 And he sayde vnto them, Ye are they which iustifie your selues before men, but God knoweth your hearts: for that which is highly esteemed among men, is abomination in the sight of God.

19 There was a certaine rich man, which was clothed in purple and fine white, and fared very delitiously euery day. The Gospel on the first Sunday after Trinitie.

20 And there was a certaine begger named Lazarus, which was layde at his gate full of sores:

21 And desiring to be refreshed with ỳ crummes which fell from the rich mans boorde, [And no man gaue vnto him:] but the dogs came and licked his sores.

22 And it came to passe that the begger dyed, and was caryed by the Angels into [e] Abrahams boſome: the rich man also dyed, and was buried. e The kingdome of heauen.

23 And being in hell in torments, when he had lifted vp his eyes, he seeth Abraham a farre off, and Lazarus in his bosome:

24 And he cryed, and sayde, Father Abraham, haue mercie on mee, and sende Lazarus, that he may dippe the tippe of his finger in water, and coole my tongue, for I am tormented in this flame.

25 But Abraham sayd, Sonne, remember that thou in thy life time receyuedst thy pleasure, and likewise Lazarus paynes, but nowe is he comforted, and thou art tormented.

26 Besides all this, betweene vs and you there is a great gulfe stedfastly set, so that they which would goe from hence to you, can not, neyther haue they passage to vs that woulde come from thence.

27 Then he said, I pray thee therfore father, ỳ thou wouldest sende him to my fathers house:

28 For I haue fiue brethren, that he may witnesse vnto them, lest they also come into this place of torment.

29 Abraham sayeth vnto him, They haue Moses and the Prophets, let them heare them.
30 And he sayd, Nay, father Abraham: but if one come vnto them from the dead, they will repent.
31 He sayde vnto him, If they heare not Moses and the Prophets, f neither will they beleeue though one rose from death.

8 And will not rather say vnto him, Dresse wherewith I may suppe, & girde vp thy selfe, and serue me, till I haue eaten and dronken: and afterward thou shalt eate and drinke:
9 Doeth he thanke that seruant because he did the things that were commanded vnto him: I trowe not.

The xviii. Chapter.

2 Christ teacheth to continue in prayer. 31 He foreshewth his death.

1 AND he put forth a parable vnto them, [to this ende,] that men ought * alwayes to pray, and not to be [a] weary:

1.Thes.5.17.

a The Greeke worde signifieth, not to shrinke backe, as cowardes in warre, or in dangers.

2 Saying, There was in a certaine citie a certaine Iudge, which feared not God, neither regarded man.

3 And there was a certaine widowe in the same citie, and she came vnto him, saying, ‖Auenge me of mine aduersarie:

‖Or, do me iustice against mine aduersarie.

4 And he woulde not for a while. But afterwarde he sayde within himselfe, Though I feare not God, nor care for man,

5 Yet because this widowe [much] troubleth me, I will auenge her, least she come at the last, and make me weary.

6 And the Lord sayd, Heare what the vnrighteous Iudge sayth.

7 And shall not God auenge his elect, which cry day and night vnto him, yea, though [b] he deferre them?

b That is, although he seeme slowe in reuenging their iniuries.

8 I tell you that he wil auenge them, and that quickly. Neuertheless, when the sonne of mã commeth, shal he finde faith on the earth?

The Gospel on the xi. Sunday after Trinitie.

9 And he tolde this parable vnto certaine which trusted in themselues that they were righteous, and despised other:

10 Two men went vp into the temple to pray, the one a Pharisee, & the other a Publicane.

11 The Pharisee stoode and prayed thus with himselfe, God, I thanke thee, that I am not as other men are, extortioners, vniust, adulterers, or as this Publicane.

12 I fast twise in the weeke, I giue tithe of all that I possesse.

13 And the Publicane standing a farre off, woulde not lift vp his eyes to heauen: but smote vpon his breast, saying, God be mercifull to me a sinner.

14 I tell you, this man departed [home] to his house iustified rather then the other: * For euery one that exalteth himselfe, shalbe brought lowe: and he that humbleth himselfe, shall be exalted.

Mar.23.12. luk.14.11.

c The worde signifieth sucking babes.

15 They brought vnto him also [c] infants, that he shoulde touche them: when his disciples sawe, they rebuked them.

d That is, those that carp the babes.

16 But Iesus, when he had called them [d] vnto him, sayd, Suffer litle children to come vnto me, and forbid them not: for vnto such [c] belongeth the kingdome of God.

c Both infants in age, & also in simplicitie & playnesse.

17 Verily I say vnto you, Whosoeuer shal not receiue ỹ kingdome of God as a [f] litle childe, shall in no wise enter therein.

f Laying aside all malice and pride.

18 And a certaine ruler asked him, saying, Good maister, what ought I to doe to possesse eternall life?

Mat.19.16.

19 * Iesus sayd vnto him, Why callest thou me good? None is good, saue God onely.

20 Thou knowest the commandements, Doe * not commit adulterie, Doe not kill, Do not steale, Doe not beare false witnesse, Honour thy father and thy mother.

Exod.20.13.

21 And he sayd, All these haue I kept from my youth vp.

22 When Iesus heard that, he sayde vnto him, Yet lackest thou one thing: Sell all that thou hast, and distribute vnto the poore, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen, and come, folowe me.

23 When he heard this, he was very sory: for he was very rich.

24 When Iesus sawe that he was very sory, he sayd, How hardly shal they that haue money, enter into the kingdome of God?

25 For it is easier for a Camel to goe thorow a needles eye, then for a rich man to enter into the kingdome of God.

26 And they that heard [it,] said, And who then can be saued?

27 And he sayd, The things which are vnpossible with men, are possible with God.

28 Then Peter said, Loe, we haue forsaken all, and folowed thee.

Mat.19.27. mar.10.28.

29 He sayde vnto them, Verily I say vnto you, there is no man that hath forsaken house, eyther parents, eyther brethren, or wife, or children, for the kingdome of Gods sake, 30 Which shall not receyue manifolde more in this worlde, and in the worlde to come life euerlasting.

31 * Iesus tooke vnto him the twelue, and sayd vnto them, Behold, we go vp to Hierusalem, and all things shall be fulfilled to the sonne of man that are written by the Prophets.

The Gospel on Quinquagesima Sũday. Mat.20.17. mark.10.32.

32 For he shall be deliuered vnto the Gentiles, and shalbe mocked, and spitefully entreated, and spitted on:

33 And when they haue scourged him, they wil put him to death, & the third day he shall rise.

34 And they vnderstoode none of all these things: and this saying was hid from them, so that they perceyued not the things which were spoken.

35 * And it came to passe, that as he was come nigh vnto Iericho, a certaine blinde man sate by the wayes side, begging.

Mat.20.29. mark.10.46.

36 And when he heard the people passe by, he asked what it meant.

37 And they sayd vnto him, that Iesus of Nazareth passeth by.

38 And he cryed, saying, Iesu, thou sonne of Dauid, haue mercy on me.

39 And they which went before, rebuked him, that he should holde his peace: but he cryed so much the more, Thou sonne of Dauid, haue mercy on me.

40 And Iesus staying, commaunded him to be brought vnto him: and when he was come neere, he asked him, 41 Saying, What wilt thou that I shal do vnto thee? And he sayde, Lorde, that I may receiue my sight.

42 And Iesus sayde vnto him, Receyue thy sight, thy faith hath saued thee.
43 And immediatly hee receyued his sight, and followed him, glorifying God: and all the people when they saw [it,] gaue prayse vnto God.

The xix. Chapter.

Christ rideth to Hierusalem, and weeping ouer it, foresheweth the destruction thereof.

1 AND [Iesus] entred in, and went thorowe Iericho.
2 And beholde, there was a man named Zacheus, which was the chiefe among the Publicanes, and was rich [also:]
3 And he sought [meanes] to see Iesus what he shoulde be, and could not for the preasse, because he was litle of stature.
4 And he ranne before, and climed vp into a wilde figge tree, to see him: for he was to come that way.
5 And when Iesus came to the place, he looked vp, and saw him, & sayd vnto him, Zache, come downe at once: for to day I must abide at thy house.
6 And he came downe haskily, and receyued him ioyfully.
7 And when they all sawe it, they murmured, saying that he was gone in to tarry with a man that is a sinner.
8 And Zache stoode forth, and sayde vnto the Lord, Behold, Lord, the halfe of my goods I giue to the poore, and if I haue taken from any man by forged ‖ cauillation, I restore him foure folde.

‖ Or, false accusation.

9 Iesus sayd vnto him, This day is saluation come to [a] this house: because that he is also the childe of [b] Abraham.
10 *For the sonne of man is come to seeke, and to saue that which was lost.
11 And as they heard these things, he added, & spake a parable, because he was nygh to Hierusalem, and because they thought that the kingdome of God should shortly appeare.
12 *He sayde therefore, A certaine noble man went into a farre countrey, to receiue for him selfe a kingdome, and to come againe.
13 And when he had called his ten seruants, he deliuered them ten ‖ pieces of money, saying vnto them, [c] Occupie till I [d] come.
14 But his citizens hated him, and sent a message after him, saying, We will not haue this man to reigne ouer vs.
15 And it came to passe, that when he had returned, receiuing his kingdome, then he commanded these seruants to be called vnto him, to whome he had giuen the money, that he might knowe how much euery man had gayned [by occupying.]
16 Then came the first, saying, Lord, thy piece hath gayned ten pieces.
17 And he sayde vnto him, Well, thou good seruant: because thou hast bene faithfull in a very litle thing, haue thou authoritie ouer tenne cities.
18 And the second came, saying, Lord, thy piece hath encreased fiue pieces.
19 And to the same [he] sayd, Be thou also [ruler] ouer fiue cities.
20 And another came, saying, Lorde, beholde, here is thy piece, which I haue layde vp in a napkin:
21 For I feared thee, because thou art a strayte man: thou takest vp ẏ thou laydest not downe, and reapest that thou diddest not sowe.
22 [Then] he sayth vnto him, Of thine owne mouth will I iudge thee, thou euill seruant: Knewest thou that I am a straite man, taking vp that I layde not downe, and reaping that I did not sowe:
23 And wherefore gauest not thou my money into the banke, and at my comming I might haue required mine owne with vantage?
24 And he sayd vnto them that stoode by, Take from him that piece, and giue it to him that hath ten pieces.
25 And they sayde vnto him, Lorde, he hath ten pieces.
26 For I say vnto you, * That vnto euery one which hath, shalbe giuen: and from him that hath not, shalbe taken away euen that he hath. Mat. 13.12. and 25.39. mark. 4.25. luk. 8.18.
27 Moreouer, those mine enemies which would not that I should reigne ouer them, bring hither, and slay them before me.
28 And when he had thus spoken, he went forward, ascending vp to Hierusalem.
29 * And it came to passe, when he was come nigh to Bethphage and Bethanie, besides the mount which is called Oliuet, he sent two of his disciples, Mat. 21.1. mark. 11.1.
30 Saying, Go ye into the towne which is ouer against you, in the which at your entring ye shal finde a Colt tyed, whereon yet neuer man sate: loose him, and bring him hither.
31 And if any man aske you, Why do ye loose him? Thus shal ye say vnto him, Because the Lord hath neede of him.
32 They that were sent, went their way, and found euen as he had sayd vnto them.
33 And as they were a loosing the Colte, the owners thereof sayde vnto them, Why loose ye the Colt?
34 And they sayde, For the Lorde hath neede of him.
35 * And they brought him to Iesus: and their garments being cast on the Colt, they set Iesus thereon. Mat. 21.7. iohn 12.14.

17 And he behelde them, and ſayde, * What is this then that is written, The ſtone that [b] the buylders diſalowed, the ſame is become the head of the corner.

Pſal. 118. 22. b By the corner ſtone, he meaneth Chriſt himſelfe, who was refuſed of the Iewes.

18 Whoſoeuer ſhall ſtumble vpon that ſtone, ſhalbe broken: but on whomſoeuer it ſhal fall, it will grinde him to powder.

19 And the hygh Prieſtes and the Scribes the ſame houre went about to lay handes on him, and they feared the people: for they perceyued that he had ſpoken this ſimilitude againſt them.

20 And they watched him, and ſent forth ſpies, which ſhoulde fayne themſelues righteous men, that they might take hold of his wordes, to deliuer him vnto the power and authoritie of the deputie.

21 And they aſked him, ſaying, * Maiſter, we know that thou ſayeſt and teacheſt right, neyther conſidereſt thou the outwarde appearance of any man, but teacheſt the way of God truely:

Mat. 22. 16. mark. 12. 14.

22 Is it lawfull for vs to giue tribute vnto Ceſar, or no?

23 When he had perceyued their craftineſſe, he ſayd vnto them, Why tempt ye me?

24 Shewe me a penie: whoſe image and ſuperſcription hath it? They anſwering, ſayde, Ceſars.

25 And he ſayde vnto them, * Giue then vnto

Cesar the things which [belong] vnto Cesar: and to God, the things that perteyne vnto God.

26 And they could not reproue his sayings before the people: and they maruelled at his answere, and helde their peace.

Mat.22.23. mark.12.18. 27 Then * came to him certaine of the Sadducees (which deny that there is any resurrection) and they asked him, 28 Saying, Master, Moses wrote vnto vs, Deut.25.5. *If any mans brother dye, hauing a wife, and he dye without children, that then his brother should take his wife, and raise vp seede vnto his brother.

29 There were therefore seuen brethren, and the first, when he had taken a wife, dyed without children.

30 And the seconde tooke her to wife, and he dyed childlesse.

31 And the third tooke her, and in like wise [the residue of] the seuen, and left no children behinde them, and died.

32 Last of all, the woman dyed also.

33 Nowe in the resurrection, whose wife of them is she? for seuen had her to wife.

34 Jesus answering, sayde vnto them, The children of this [c] worlde marrie wiues, and are married:

c That is, all that remayne in the worlde, & are abiding therein.

35 But they which shall be counted worthie to enioy that worlde, and the resurrection from the dead, doe not marrie wiues, neyther are marryed:

36 For neyther can they dye any more, for they are equal vnto the Angels, and are the sonnes of God, in as much as they are the children of the resurrection.

Exod.3.6. 37 And that the dead be raysed, * Moses also shewed besides the bramble bush, when he calleth the Lorde, the God of Abraham, and the God of Isahac, and the God of Jacob.

38 For he is not a God of dead, but of liuing: for all liue vnto him.

39 Then certaine of the Pharisees answering, sayde, Master, thou hast well sayde.

40 And after that, durst they not aske him any question at all.

Mat.22.24. mark.12.35. 41 And he sayd vnto them, * How say they that Christ is Dauids sonne,

Psal.110.1. 42 And Dauid himselfe sayeth in the booke of the Psalmes, * The Lord sayde to my Lorde, Sit thou on my right hand, 43 Til I make thine enemies thy footestoole.

44 Dauid therefore calleth him Lord, and how is he then his [d] sonne?

d For a sonne is not Lorde ouer his father, & therefore it followeth that Christ is God.

45 Then in the audience of all the people, he sayde vnto his disciples,

Mat.23.6. mark.12.38. 46 * Beware of the Scribes, which will goe in long robes, & loue greetings in the markets, and the highest seates in the Synagogues, and the chiefe roumes at feastes, 47 Which deuoure widdowes houses, vnder colour of long prayers: the same shal receiue greater damnation.

The xxi. Chapter.

2 The liberalitie of the poore widowe. 27 Of the ende of the worlde.

Mark.12.41. 1 AS he looked vp, * he saw the rich men which cast their giftes into the treasurie.

2 He saw also a certaine poore widow, casting in thither two mites.

3 And he sayde, Of a trueth I say vnto you, that this poore widowe hath put in more then they all.

4 For all these haue of their superfluitie cast in vnto the offerings of God, but she of her penurie hath cast in all the liuing that she had.

Mat.24.1. mark.13.1. luk.19.43. 5 * And vnto some that spake of the temple, how it was garnished with goodly stones and giftes, he sayde,

6 [As for] those things which ye beholde, the dayes will come, in the which there shall not be left one stone vpon another, that shal not be throwen downe.

7 And they asked him, saying, Master, when shal these things be? and what signe wil there be, when these things shal come to passe?

8 And he sayde, Take heede that ye be not deceyued: for many shall come in my name, saying, I am [Christ,] & the time draweth neere: go ye not therefore after them.

9 But when ye shall heare of warres and seditions, be not afrayde: for these things must first come to passe, but the ende foloweth not by and by.

10 Then sayd he vnto them, Nation shal rise against nation, & kingdome against kingdome:

Mat.24.8. mark.13.9. 11 * And great earthquakes shall be in diuers places, and hungers, and pestilences, and fearefull things: and great signes shal there be from heauen.

12 But before all these, they shall laye their handes on you, and persecute you, deliuering you vp to the Synagogues, and into prisons, and shal bring you vnto kings, and rulers, for my names sake.

13 And it shal turne to you for a testimoniall.

Luk.12.12. mat.10.19. mark.13.11. 14 * Be at a sure poynt therfore in your hearts, not to studie before what ye shal answere.

15 For I wil giue you a mouth and wisedome, whereagainst all your aduersaries shal not be able to speake, nor resist.

16 Yea, ye shalbe betrayed also of your parents, and brethren, and kinsfolkes, and friends, and [some] of you shall they put to death,

17 And hated shall yee be of all men for my names sake.

Mat.10.30. a Those possesse their soules in patience, vnto whom God giueth a ioyful minde vnder the crosse, euen vnto the ende.

18 * And there shall in no case one heare of your head perish.

19 Possesse ye your soules by your [a] patience.

20 * And when ye shal see Hierusalem besieged with an hoste, then be sure that the desolation of the same is nygh.

21 Then let them which are in Iurie, flee to the mountaines, and let them which are in the middes of it, depart out, and let not them that are in other countries, enter therein.
22 For these be the dayes of vengeance, that all things which are written may be fulfilled.
23 But wo vnto them that are with childe, and to them that giue sucke in those dayes, for there shall be great distresse in the lande, and wrath ouer this people.
24 And they shall fall through the edge of the swoorde, and shall be led away captiue into all nations, & Hierusalem shalbe troden downe of the Gentiles, vntil the time of the Gentiles be fulfilled.

25 *And there shalbe signes in the Sunne, and in the Moone, and in the starres, and vpon the earth trouble among the nations, with perplexitie, the sea and the water roaring:
26 And mens heartes fayling them for feare, and for looking after those things which are comming on the worlde: For the powers of heauen shalbe shaken.
27 And then shall they see the sonne of man comming in a cloude, with power and great glory.
28 And when these things beginne to come to passe, then looke vp, and lift vp your heads, Rom.8.23. * for your redemption draweth nygh.
29 And he shewed them a similitude, Beholde the figge tree, and all the trees, 30 When they shoote forth [their buddes,] ye beholding, knowe of your owne selues that sommer is then nigh at hande.
31 So likewise ye, when ye see these things come to passe, be ye sure that the kingdome of God is nygh.
32 Verily I say vnto you, this generation shall in no wise passe, till all be fulfilled.
33 Heauen and earth shal passe, but my wordes shall in no wise passe.
34 Take heede to your selues, lest at any time your hearts be ouercome with surfeting, and drunkennesse, and cares of this life, and so that day come vpon you vnawares.
35 For as a snare shall it come on all them that dwell on the face of the whole earth.
36 Watche ye therefore, at all times praying, that ye may be accompted worthie to escape all these things that shal come, & that ye may stand before the sonne of man.
37 In the day time he was teaching in the temple, and at night he went out, and abode in the mount that is called Oliuet.
38 And all the people came earely in the morning to him in the temple, for to heare him.

The xxii. Chapter.

4 Iudas selleth Christ. 7 They eate the Passeouer.

1 THe feast of sweete bread drewe nygh, which is called the Passeouer. The Gospel on wednesday next before Easter.

3 * Then entred Satan into Judas, whose sirname was Iscariot, being of the number of the twelue. Mat.26.14. mark.14.10.
4 * And he went his way, and cōmuned with the high priests and captaines, how he might betray him vnto them. Mat.26.17. mark.14.13.

8 And he sent Peter and John, saying, Goe & prepare vs the Passeouer, that we may eate.
9 They sayd vnto him, Where wilt thou that we should prepare [it?]
10 And he sayde vnto them, Beholde, when ye are entred into the citie, there shal a man meete you, bearing a pitcher of water, him folow into the same house that he entreth in.
11 And ye shall say vnto the good man of the house, The master sayth vnto thee, Where is the ghest chamber, where I shall eate the Passeouer with my disciples?
12 And he shall shewe you a great vpper chamber prepared, there make ready.
13 And they went, & found as he had sayd vnto them, and they made ready the Passeouer.
14 * And when the houre was come, he sate downe, and the twelue Apostles with him. Mat.26.20. mark.14.18.
15 And he sayd vnto them, With [heartie] desire, I haue desired to eate this Passouer with you before that I suffer.
16 For I say vnto you, Henceforth I will not in any wise eate of it any more, vntill it be fulfilled in the kingdome of God.
17 And when he had taken the cup, and giuen thankes, he sayde, Take this, and diuide it among you.
18 For I say vnto you, I will not in any wise drinke of the fruite of the vine, vntil the kingdome of God shal come.
19 * And when he had taken bread, and giuen thankes, he brake [it,] and gaue vnto them, saying, This is my body which is giuen for you, this do in the remembrance of me. Mat.26.26. mark.14.22. 1.cor.11.24.
20 Likewise also when he had supped, he tooke the cuppe, saying, This cuppe is the newe Testament in my blood, which is shed for you.
21 *Yet behold, the hand of him that betrayeth me, is with me on the table. Mat.26.21. mark.14.19. ioh.13.18.

26 But ye shall not be so: but he that is greatest among you, shall be as the yonger, and he that is chiefe, shall be as he that doeth ministre.

The Gospel on Saint Bartholomewes day. 27 For whether is greater, he that sitteth at meate, or he that serueth? Is not he that sitteth at meate? But I am among you as he that ministreth.

28 Ye are they which haue continually bidden with me in my temptations.

29 And I appoynt vnto you a kingdome, as my father hath appoynted vnto me,

Mat.19.28. 30 That ye may eate and drinke at my table in my kingdome, *and sit on seates, iudging the twelue tribes of Israel.

1.Pet.5.8. 31 * And the Lord sayde, Simon, Simon, behold, Satan hath earnestly desired to sift you, as it were wheate:

33 And he sayde vnto him, Lord, I am ready to go with thee both into prison, and to death.

Mat.26.34. mark.14.30. iohn 13.38. 34 *And he saide, I tell thee Peter, the Cocke shal in no wise crow this day, before that thou shalt thrise denie that thou knowest me.

Mat.10.9. 35 *And he sayd vnto them, When I sent you without wallet, and scrip, and shoes, lacked ye any thing? And they sayde, No.

36 Then sayd he vnto them, But nowe he that hath a wallet, let him take it vp, and likewise his scrippe: and he that hath none, let him sell his coate, and buy a sworde.

37 For I say vnto you, that yet the same which is written must be performed in me, Esa.53.12. which is, *Euen among the wicked was he reputed: For those things which are written of me, haue an ende.

41 And hee was pulled away from them about a stones cast, and kneeled downe, and prayed, 42 Saying, Father, if thou wilt, remoue this cup from me, neuertheless, not my will, but thine be done.

43 And there appeared an Angel vnto him from heauen, comforting him.

44 And he was in an [a] agonie, and he prayed more earnestly, & his sweate was like droppes of blood, trickling downe to the grounde.

[a] Ye felt the horrour of Gods wrath & iudgement against sinne.

45 And when he rose vp from prayer, and was come to his disciples, he found them sleeping for heauinesse,

Mat.26.47. mark.14.43. iohn 18.3. 47 While he yet spake, beholde, [*there came] a companie, and he that was called Judas, one of the twelue, went before them, & preased nigh vnto Jesus, to kisse him.

48 But Jesus sayde vnto him, Judas, betrayest thou the sonne of man with a kisse?

49 When they which were about him, sawe what would folow, they said vnto him, Lord, shall we smite with sworde?

50 And one of them smote the seruant of the high priest, and tooke away his right eare.

51 Jesus answered, and sayde, Suffer ye thus farre forth. And when he touched his eare, he healed him.

52 Then Jesus sayd vnto the high priests and ‖ rulers of the temple, and the elders which were come to him, Be ye come out as vnto a thiefe, with swordes and staues?

‖ Or, captaines.

53 When I was dayly with you in the temple, ye stretched forth no handes against me: But this is euen your very houre, and the power of darkenesse.

57 And he denyed him, saying, Woman, I know him not.

58 And after a while another sawe him, and said, Thou art also of them. And Peter sayd, Man, I am not.

59 And about the space of an houre after, another affirmed, saying, Verily this felowe was with him also: for he is of Galilee.

60 And Peter sayde, Man, I wote not what thou sayest. And immediatly while he yet spake, the Cocke crewe.

61 And the Lorde turned backe, & looked vpon Peter: and Peter remembred the worde of the Lord, how he had saide vnto him, *Before the Cocke crowe, thou shalt denie me thrise.

Mat.26.34. iohn 30.31.

62 And Peter went out, and wept bitterly.

63 And the men that held Jesus, mocked him, and smote him.

64 And when they had blindfolded him, they strooke him on the face, & asked him, saying, Areede, who is it that smote thee?

65 And

65 And many other things blasphemously spake they against him.

Matth.27.1.mar. 15.1.iohn 18.28. 66 * And as soone as it was day, the elders of the people, & the high Priests, & the Scribes came together, and led him into their counsell, saying, 67 Art thou very Christ? Tell vs. And he sayd vnto them, If I tel you, you will not beleeue in any wise.

68 And if I aske you, you will not in any wise answere me, nor let me goe.

69 Hereafter shall the sonne of man sit on the right hand of the power of God.

70 Then saide they all, Art thou then the sonne of God? He saide, Ye say that I am.

71 And they saide, What neede we any further witnesse? For wee our selues haue heard of his owne mouth.

The xxiii. Chapter.

Iesus is accused before Pilate, and sent to Herode.

The Gospel on the thursday next before Easter. 1 AND the whole multitude of thē arose, and led him vnto Pilate.

2 And they began to accuse him, saying, We found this fellow peruerting the people, * & forbidding to giue tribute to Cesar, saying that he is Christ a king.

Matth.22.21. mar.12.17.

Mat.27.11.mar. 15.2.iohn 18.33. 3 * And Pilate asked him, saying, Art thou the king of the Iewes? Hee answered him, and sayde, Thou sayest it.

4 Then saide Pilate to the high Priestes, and to the people, I finde no fault in this man.

5 And they were the more fierce, saying, He moueth the people, teaching throughout all Iurie, and began at Galilee, euen to this place.

6 When Pilate heard [mention] of Galilee, he asked whether the man were of Galilee.

7 And as soone as hee knewe that he belonged vnto Herodes iurisdiction, he sent him to Herode, which was also at Hierusalē at that time.

8 And when Herode sawe Iesus, hee was exceeding glad, for hee was desirous to see him of a long season, because hee had heard many things of him, and hee trusted to haue seene some miracle done by him.

9 Then he questioned with him many words, but he answered him nothing.

10 The high Priests and Scribes stood forth, and accused him straitly.

11 And Herode with his men of warre despised him, and when he had mocked him, he arayed him in white clothing, and sent him againe to Pilate.

Matth.27.23. mark.15.14. iohn 18.38. 12 *And the same day Pilate and Herode were made friendes together, for before they were at variance betweene themselues.

13 And Pilate, when hee had called together the high Priestes, and the rulers, and the people,

14 Said vnto them, Ye haue brought this man vnto me, as one ỳ peruerteth the people, & behold, I hauing examined him before you, haue founde no fault in this man, of those things whereof ye accuse him, 15 No, nor yet Herode: for I sent you to him, and loe, nothing woorthie of death is done to him.

16 I will therefore chasten him, and let him loose.

17 For of necessitie hee must haue let one loose vnto them at the feast.

18 And all the people cryed aloude, saying, Away with him, and deliuer to vs Barabbas, 19 Which for a certaine insurrection made in the citie, and for murder, was cast in prison.

20 Pilate therefore spake againe to them, willing to let Iesus loose.

21 But they cryed, saying, Crucifie him, crucifie him.

22 He saide vnto them the thirde time, What euill hath he done? I haue found no cause of death in him, I wil therefore chasten him, and let him goe.

23 And they were instant with loude voyces, requiring that he might bee crucified: and the voyces of them, and of the high Priests, preuailed.

24 And Pilate gaue sentence that it shoulde be as they required.

25 And he let loose vnto thē, him that for insurrection & murder was cast into prison, whom they had desired, and hee deliuered Iesus to their will.

Matth.27.32. mark.15.21. 26 *And as they led him away, they caught one Simon of Cyrene, comming out of the field, and on him laid they the crosse, that he might beare it after Iesus.

27 And there followed him a great companie of people, and of women, which also bewayled and lamented him.

28 But Iesus turning backe vnto them, sayd, [Ye] daughters of Hierusalem, weepe not for me, but weepe for your selues, and for your children.

29 For beholde, the dayes are comming, in the which they shall say, Happie are the barren, and the wombes that neuer bare, & the paps which neuer gaue sucke.

30 Then shall they beginne to say to the mountaines, * Fall on vs, and to the hilles, Couer vs.

Esay 2.19 osee. 10.8.apoc.6.16.

31 For if they doe these things in a moyst tree, what shalbe done in the dry?

Matth.22.38. 32 *And there were other two euill doers led with him, to be put to death.

Matth.27.38. mar.15.27. iohn 19.18. 33 * And after that they were come to ỳ place which is called Caluarie, there they crucified him, and the euill doers, one on ỳ right hand, and the other on the left.

34 Then sayde Iesus, Father, forgiue them, for for they wote not what they do: And they parted his rayment, and cast lots.

35 And the people stood, beholding, and the rulers mocked him with them, saying, He saued other [men,] let him saue himselfe, if he be very Christ the chosen of God.

36 The souldiers also mocked him, comming to him, and offering him vineger, 37 And saying, If thou bee the king of Iewes, saue thy selfe.

38 And a superscriptiõ was written ouer him, with letters of Greeke, and Latine, and Hebrewe, THIS IS THE KING OF THE IEWES.

39 And one of the euill doers, which were hanged, railed on him, saying, If thou bee Christ, saue thy selfe and vs.

40 But the other answering, rebuked him, saying, Fearest thou not God, seeing thou art in the same damnation?

41 And we truely are righteously [punished,] for wee receiue according to our deedes, but this man hath done nothing amisse.

42 And he said vnto Iesus, Lord, remember me when thou commest into thy kingdome.

43 And Iesus sayde vnto him, Verily I say vnto thee, to day shalt thou be with me in paradise.

44 And it was about the sixth houre, and there was a darkenesse ouer all the earth, vntill the ninth houre.

45 And the Sunne was darkened, and the vaile of the Temple was rent, euen thorowe the middes.

46 And when Iesus had cryed with a loude voyce, he said, * Father, into thy hands I wil commende my spirit: And when hee thus had sayd, he gaue vp the ghost. Psalm. 30.6.

47 When the Centurion saw what was done, he glorified God, saying, Verily this was a righteous man.

48 And all the people that came together to that sight, when they sawe the things which were done, smote their breasts, and returned.

49 And all his acquaintance, and the women that folowed him from Galilee, stoode a farre off, beholding these things.

50 * And beholde, there was a man named Ioseph, a counseller, and he was a good man, and a iust, Matth. 27.25. mark. 15.43. iohn 19.38.

51 (The same had not consented to the counsell and deede of them) which was of Arimathea, a citie of ỹ Iewes, which same also waited for the kingdome of God, 52 Hee went vnto Pilate, and begged the body of Iesus.

53 And when he had taken it downe, he wrapped it in a linnen cloth, and layde it in a sepulchre that was hewen in stone, wherein neuer man before was layde.

54 And that day was ỹ preparing of the Sabboth, and the Sabboth drewe on.

55 The women that followed after, which had come with him from Galilee, behelde the sepulchre, and howe his body was layd.

56 And they returned, & prepared sweet odours and oyntments, but rested the Sabboth day, according to the commandement.

The xxiiii. Chapter.

13 Christ appeareth to the two disciples that went to Emaus.

1 BUt * vpon ỹ a first day of the Sabboths, very early in the morning, they came vnto the sepulchre, bringing the sweete odours, which they had prepared, and other women with them. a That is, the first day of the weeke. Mark. 16.1. iohn 20, 21.

2 And they founde the stone rolled away from the sepulchre.

3 And they went in, but found not the body of the Lord Iesu.

4 And it came to passe, as they were amazed thereat, behold, two men stood by them in shining garments.

5 And as they were afrayd, and bowed downe their faces to the earth, they sayde vnto them, Why seeke ye the liuing among the dead?

6 He is not here, but is risen: * Remember howe he spake vnto you when hee was yet in Galilee, Matth. 17.23. mark. 9.31. luk. 9.22.

7 Saying, The sonne of man must be deliuered into the hands of sinfull men, and be crucified, and the thirde day rise.

8 And they remembred his words,

9 And returned from the sepulchre, and tolde all these things vnto those eleuen, and to all the remnant.

10 It was Marie Magdalene, and Ioanna, and Marie Iacobi, and other that were with them, which tolde these things vnto the Apostles.

11 And their wordes seemed to them fained things, neither beleeued they them.

12 * Then arose Peter, and ranne vnto the sepulchre, and when he had looked in, hee sawe the linen clothes layd by them selues, and departed, wondring in him selfe at that which was come to passe. Iohn 10.6.

13 * And beholde, two of them went that same day, to a village called Emaus, which was from Hierusalem about threescore b furlongs. The Gospel on the munday in Easter weeke. Mark. 16.12. b That is, viii. miles and a halfe.

14 And they talked together of al these things that had come to passe.

15 And it came to passe, that while they communed together, & reasoned, Iesus himselfe drewe neare, and went with them.

16 But their eyes were holdē, that they should not knowe him.

17 And he saide vnto them, What maner of cōmunications are these that yee haue one to another as ye walke, and are sad?

18 And

18 And the one of them, whose name was Cleophas, answering, saide to him, Art thou onely a stranger in Hierusalē, and hast not knowen ỹ things which are come to passe there in these dayes?
19 He sayde vnto them, What things? And they sayde vnto him, Of Iesus of Nazareth, which was a Prophet, mightie in deede and word before God and all the people, 20 And howe the high Priestes and our rulers deliuered him to be condemned to death, and haue crucified him.
21 But wee trusted that it had bene hee which should haue redeemed Israel: and as touching all these things, to day is euen the thirde day since they were done.
22 Yea, and certaine women also of our companie made vs astonied, which came earely vnto the sepulchre,
23 And when they founde not his body, they came, saying that they had seene a vision of angels, which say that he was aliue.
24 And certaine of them which were with vs, went to ỹ sepulchre, & found it euen so as the women had said, but him they sawe not.
25 And he saide vnto them, O fooles, and slow of heart, to beleeue al that the Prophets haue spoken:
26 Ought not Christ to haue suffered these things, and to enter into his glory?
27 And he beganne at Moses, and all the Prophetes, and throughly interpreted vnto them in all the Scriptures, those things which were written of himselfe.
28 And they drew nigh vnto the village which they went vnto, and hee made as though hee would haue gone further.
29 And they constrayned him, saying, Abide with vs, for it draweth towarde night, and the day is farre passed: And he went in to tary with them.
30 And it came to passe, as he sate at meate with them, he tooke bread, and [c] blessed it, & brake, and gaue to them.
31 And their eyes were opened, & they knewe him, and he vanished out of their sight.
32 And they saide one vnto another, Did not our hearts burne within vs, while hee talked with vs by the way, and opened to vs the Scriptures?
33 And they rose vp the same houre, and returned [againe] to Hierusalem, and founde the eleuen gathered together, and them that were with them, 34 Saying, The Lord is risen in deede, & hath appeared to Simon.
35 And they tolde what things were done in the way, and how he was knowen of them in the breaking of the bread. The Gospel on the tuesday in Easter weeke.
36 * And as they thus spake, Iesus him selfe stoode in the middes of them, and sayeth vnto them, Peace be vnto you. Mark. 16, 14. iohn 20, 19.
37 But they were abashed and afraid, & supposed that they had seene a spirit.
38 And he saide vnto them, Why are ye troubled, and why doe thoughtes arise in your hearts?
39 Behold my hands & my feete, that it is euen I my selfe: handle me and see, for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me haue.
40 And when hee had thus spoken, hee shewed them his hands and his feete.
41 And while they yet beleeued not for ioy, and wondred, he said vnto them, Haue ye here any meate?
42 And they offered him a piece of a broyled fish, and of an hony combe.
43 And he tooke it, and did eate before them.
44 And hee sayde vnto them, These are the words which I spake vnto you, while I was yet with you, that all must [needes] be fulfilled which were written of mee in the lawe of Moses, and in the Prophetes, and in the Psalmes.
45 Thē opened he their ‖ wits, that they might vnderstand the Scriptures, ‖ Or, minde.
46 And said vnto them, Thus is it written, and thus it behoued Christ to suffer, and to rise from death the third day:
47 And that repentance and remission of sinnes should be preached in his name among all nations, and must begin at Hierusalem.
48 And ye are witnesses of these things.
49 * And beholde, I will sende the promise of my father vpon you: But tarie ye in the citie of Hierusalē, vntill ye be indued with power from on high. Iohn 15, 26. act. 1, 4.
50 And he led them out into Bethanie, and lift vp his hands, and blessed them.
51 * And it came to passe, as hee blessed them, he departed from them, and was caried vp into heauen. Marke 16, 19. act. 1, 9.
52 And when they had worshipped him, they returned to Hierusalem, with great ioy:
53 And were continually in the Temple, praysing and lauding God. Amen.

The

The Gospell by Saint Iohn.

The first Chapter.

1 The diuinitie, humanitie, and office of Christ. 15 The testimonie of Iohn. 39 The calling of Andrewe, Peter, Philip, and Nathanael.

The Gospel on Christmas day.

1 IN the beginning was the worde, and the worde was with God, and ‖ God was that word.

‖ Or, and that word was God. Gene. 1, 1.

2 * The same was in the beginning with God.

3 All things were made by it, & without[a] it, was made nothing that was made.

a Without Christ no creature was made.

4 In it was life, and the life was the light of men.

5 And the light shineth in the darkenesse, and the darkenesse comprehended it not.

Mat. 3, 1. mar. 1, 2. luk. 3, 2.

6 * There was a man sent from God, whose name was Iohn:

7 The same came for a witnes, that he should beare witnesse of the [b] light, that all men through him might beleeue.

b That is, of Christ, which is the true light.

8 Hee was not that light, but [was sent] to beare witnesse of the light.

9 That [light] was the true light, which lighteth euery man that commeth into the world.

Hebr. 11, 4.

10 Hee was in the worlde, * and the worlde was made by him, and the worlde knewe him not.

11 He came into his owne, and his owne receiued him not.

12 But as many as receiued him, to them gaue he [c] power to be the sonnes of God, [euen] to them that beleeued on his name, c Meaning, priuiledge, or dignitie.

13 Which ‖ were borne not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor yet of the wil of man, but of God.

‖ Or, was made.

Matth. 1, 16. luk. 2, 7.

14 * And the same worde became [d] flesh, and dwelt among vs (and we sawe the glory of it, as the glory of the onely begotten sonne [that came] from the father) full of grace and trueth.

d That is to say, man.

15 Iohn beareth witnesse of him, and cryed, saying, This was he of whom I spake, Hee that cõmeth after me, is preferred before me, for he was ‖ before me.

‖ Or, worthier then I. Colos. 1, 19.

16 And of his * fulnesse haue all we receiued, and grace [e] for grace.

e That is, God doeth fauour vs, and giueth grace to so many as beleeue in Christ, & are become his members, that God in his sonne is well pleased. 1. Iohn. 4, 12. 1. tim. 6, 16.

17 For the law was giuen by Moses, but grace and trueth came by Iesus Christ.

18 * No man hath seene God at any time, the onely begotten sonne, which is in the bosome of the father, he hath declared him.

The Gospel on the fourth sunday in Aduent.

19 And this is the recorde of Iohn, when the Iewes sent Priests and Leuites from Hierusalem to aske him, What art thou?

20 And he confessed, and denied not, and sayde playnely, I am not that Christ.

21 And they asked him, What then? Art thou Elias? And he saith, I am not. Art thou that Prophet? And he answered, No.

22 Then sayde they vnto him, What art thou, that we may giue an answere to them that sent vs? What sayest thou of thy selfe?

23 * He sayde, I [am] ẏ voyce of a cryer in the wildernes: Make straight ẏ way of the Lord, as said the Prophet Esaias.

Esay 40. 3. mat. 3, 3. luk. 3, 4.

24 And they which were sent, were of the Pharisees.

25 And they asked him, and sayde vnto him, Why baptizest thou then, if thou bee not that Christ, nor Elias, neyther ‖ a Prophet?

‖ Or, that Prophet.

26 Iohn answered them, saying, I baptize with water, but there standeth one among you, whom ye knowe not,

27 * He it is, which though he came after me, was before me, whose shoes latchet I am not worthie to vnloose.

Matth. 3, 2. mar. 1, 7. luk. 3, 16. act. 19, 4.

28 These things were done in ‖ Bethabara beyonde Iordane, where Iohn was baptizing.

‖ Or, some reade, Bethania.

29 The next day, Iohn seeth Iesus comming vnto him, and sayeth, Beholde the Lambe of God, which taketh away the sinne of the world.

30 This is he of whom I saide, After me commeth a man, which is preferred before me: for he was before me.

31 And I knewe him not: but that hee shoulde bee declared to Israel, therefore am I come baptizing with water.

32 * And Iohn bare recorde, saying, I sawe the Spirite descending from heauen, like vnto a Doue, and it abode vpon him.

Matth. 3, 16. mar. 1, 10. luk. 3, 22.

33 And I knewe him not: but hee that sent me to baptize with water, the same said vnto me, Vpon whom thou shalt see the Spirit descending, and tarying still on him, the same is he which baptizeth with the holy ghost.

34 And I sawe, and bare recorde, that this is the sonne of God.

35 The next day after, Iohn stood againe, and two of his disciples.

36 And when hee behelde Iesus walking, hee sayth, Behold the Lambe of God.

37 And the two disciples heard him speake, and they followed Iesus.

38 And Iesus, when he turned about, and saw them following [him,] saith vnto thẽ, What seeke yee? They sayde vnto him, Rabbi, (which is to say if one interprete it, Master) where dwellest thou?

39 He sayeth vnto them, Come and see. They came, and sawe where hee dwelt, and abode with him that day: for it was about the [f] tenth houre.

f That was about two houres before night.

40 One

40 One of the two which heard John speake, and followed him, was Andrew, Simon Peters brother.
41 The same findeth his brother Simon first, and sayeth vnto him, We haue founde the Messias, which is by interpretation, the ‖ anoynted, 42 And brought him to Jesus. And when Jesus beheld him, hee saide, Thou art Simon the sonne of Jona, thou shalt bee called Cephas, which is by interpretation, a stone.
43 The day following, Jesus would goe forth into Galilee, and findeth Philip, and sayeth vnto him, Followe me.
44 Philip was of Bethsaida, out of the citie of Andrewe and Peter.
45 Philip findeth Nathanael, and sayeth vnto him, Wee haue founde [him] of whome * Moses in the lawe and the * Prophets did write, Jesus of Nazareth the sonne of g Joseph.
46 And Nathanael said vnto him, Can there any good thing come out of Nazareth? Philip saith vnto him, Come and see.
47 Jesus sawe Nathanael comming to him, & sayeth of him, Beholde a right Israelite, in whom is no guile.
48 Nathanael saith vnto him, Whence knowest thou me? Jesus answered, and said vnto him, Before that Philip called thee, being vnder the figge tree, I sawe thee.
49 Nathanael answered, and sayeth vnto him, Rabbi, thou art euen the [very] sonne of God, thou art the king of Israel.
50 Jesus answered, and said vnto him, Because I said vnto thee, I sawe thee vnder the figge tree, thou ‖ beleeuest: thou shalt see greater things then these.
51 And he saith vnto him, Verily, verily I say vnto you, hereafter shall ye see heauen open, and the angels of God ascending and descending vpon the sonne of man.

‖Or, the Christ.
Gene.49.18. esay 4.2.
g He speaketh after the common opinion, for most men supposed him to be Josephs sonne.
‖Or, beleeuest thou?

The ii. Chapter.

Christ turneth water into wine.

1 AND the third day was there a mariage in Cana [‖ a citie] of Galilee, and the mother of Jesus was there.
2 And both Jesus was called and his disciples vnto the mariage.
3 And when they wanted wine, the mother of Jesus sayeth vnto him, They haue no wine.
4 Jesus sayeth vnto her, Woman, what haue I to doe with thee? mine houre is not yet come.
5 His mother saith vnto ỹ ‖ ministers, Whatsoeuer he sayeth vnto you, doe it.
6 And there were set there sixe water pots of stone, after the maner of the purifying of the Jewes, conteyning two or three ‖ firkins apiece.
7 Jesus sayth vnto them, Fill the water pots with water. And they filled them vp to the brimme.
8 And he sayth vnto them, Drawe out nowe, and beare vnto ỹ gouernour of the feast. And they bare it.
9 When the ruler of the feast had tasted ỹ water that was made wine (& knew not whence it was, but the ministers which drewe the water knewe) the gouernour of the feast calleth the bridegrome,
10 And sayth vnto him, Euery man at the beginning doeth set forth good wine, and when the ghests haue well drunke, then that which is worse: but thou hast kept the good wine vntill nowe.
11 This beginning of miracles did Jesus in Cana of Galilee, and shewed his glory: and his disciples beleeued on him.
12 After this hee went downe to Capernaum, and his mother, and his brethren, and his disciples, and there continued not many dayes.
13 And the Jewes Passeouer was at hand, and Jesus went vp to Hierusalem, 14 And found sitting in the Temple those that solde oxen, and sheepe, and doues, & changers of money.
15 And whē he had made [as it were] a scourge of small cordes, he droue them all out of the Temple, with the sheepe & oxen, and powred out the changers money, and ouerthrewe the tables:
16 And saide vnto them that solde doues, Haue these things hence, and make not my fathers house an house of marchandise.
17 And his disciples remembred that it was written, * The zeale of thine house hath euen eaten me.
18 Then answered the Jewes, and sayde vnto him, What token shewest thou vnto vs, seeing that thou doest these things?
19 Jesus answered, and sayd vnto them, * Destroy this Temple, and in three dayes I will reare it vp.
20 Then sayd the Jewes, Fourtie & sixe yeres was this Temple a building, and wilt thou reare it vp in three dayes?
21 But he spake of the Temple of his body.
22 When therefore hee was risen from death, his disciples remēbred that he thus had sayd: and they beleeued the scripture, & the wordes which Jesus had sayd.
23 When hee was in Hierusalem at the Passeouer, in the feast day, many beleeued on his name, when they saw his miracles which he did.
24 But Jesus did not commit him selfe vnto them, because he knewe all men, 25 And needed not that any shoulde testifie of man: for he knewe what was in man.

The iii. Chapter.

3 Christ teacheth Nicodemus. 16 The loue of God towarde the world.

The Gospel on Trinitie Sunday.

1 THere was a man of the Pharisees, named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Iewes:
2 The same came to Iesus by night, & sayde vnto him, Rabbi, we knowe that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man can doe these miracles that thou doest, except God be with him.
3 Iesus answered, and said vnto him, Verily, verily I say vnto thee, except a man be borne from aboue, he can not see the kingdome of God.
4 Nicodemus sayeth vnto him, Howe can a man be borne when he is olde? can hee enter the second time into his mothers wombe, and be borne?
5 Iesus answered, Verily, verily I say vnto thee, except a man bee borne of water and of the spirit, he can not enter into the kingdome of God.
6 That which is borne of the flesh, is flesh, and that which is borne of the spirite, is spirite.
7 Marueile not thou that I sayde vnto thee, Ye must be borne from aboue.
8 The winde bloweth where it lusteth, & thou hearest the sounde thereof, but canst not tell whence it commeth, and whither it goeth: So is euery one that is borne of the spirit.
9 Nicodemus answered, and sayde vnto him, Howe can these things be?
10 Iesus answered, and said vnto him, Art thou a master of Israel, and knowest not these things?
11 Verily, verily I say vnto thee, We speake that wee doe knowe, and testifie that we haue seene: and ye receiue not our witnesse.
12 If I haue tolde you earthly things, and yee beleeue not: howe shall yee beleeue if I tell you of heauenly things?
13 And no man hath ascended vp to [a] heauen, but he that came downe from heauen, [euen] the sonne of man which is in [b] heauen.
14 * And as Moses lift vp the serpent in the wildernesse: euen so must the sonne of man be lift vp:
15 That whosoeuer beleeueth in him, shoulde not perish, but haue eternall life.
16 *† For God so loued the world, that he gaue his onely begotten sonne: that whosoeuer beleeueth in him, shoulde not perish, but haue euerlasting life.
17 For God sent not his sonne into the worlde to condemne the worlde: but that the [c] worlde through him might be saued.
18 He that beleeueth on him, is not condemned: but he that beleeueth not, is condemned already, because he hath not beleeued in the name of the onely begotten sonne of God.
19 And this is the condemnation, *that light is come into the worlde, and men loued darkenesse rather then light: because their deedes were euill. Iohn 1.4
20 For euery one that euill doeth, hateth the light, neither commeth to the light, least his deedes should be reproued.
21 But hee that doeth trueth, commeth to the light, that his deedes may bee made manifest, that they are wrought in God.
22 After these things, came Iesus and his disciples into the lande of Iurie, and there he taried with them, and [d] baptized.
23 *And Iohn also was baptizing in Aenon, neare to Salim, because there was much water there: and they came, and were baptized.
24 For Iohn was not yet cast into prison.
25 And there arose a question betweene Iohns disciples and the Iewes, about purifying.
26 And they came vnto Iohn, and sayde vnto him, Rabbi, hee that was with thee beyonde Iordane, *to whome thou barest witnesse, behold, the same baptizeth, and all men come to him. Iohn 1.17
27 Iohn answered, and sayde, A man can receiue nothing, except it bee giuen him from heauen.
28 Ye your selues are witnesses, howe that I sayde, *I am not that Christ, but am sent before him. Iohn 1.20
29 Hee that hath the bride, is the bridegrome: but the friende of the bridegrome, which standeth and heareth him, reioyceth greatly because of the bridegromes voyce: This my ioy therefore is fulfilled.
30 He must increase, but I must decrease.
31 He that commeth from on high, is aboue all: he that is of the earth, is earthly, & speaketh of the earth: he that commeth from heauen, is aboue all:
32 And what hee hath seene and heard, that hee testifieth, and no man receiueth his testimonie.
33 He that hath receiued his testimonie, *hath set to his seale, that God is true. Rom. 3.4.
34 For he whome God hath sent, speaketh the words of God: For God giueth not the spirit by measure [vnto him.]
35 *The father loueth the sonne, and hath giuē all things into his hand. Mat. 10.26.
36 *He that beleeueth on the sonne, hath euerlasting life: he that beleeueth ‖ not the sonne, shall not see life: but the wrath of God abideth on him. Habac. 2.4. 1. Iohn 5.10. ‖ Or, he that obeieth not the sonne.

a No man by his owne wit can knowe the mysteries of Christs kingdome, but by Christ him selfe.
b This is spoken for the vnitie of person: and ꝑ which is proper to one nature, is transferred to the other, as Act. 20. & 28. and so Christ was in heauen, according to his diuine nature. Num. 21.9. 1. Iohn 4.9.

Gene. 33. 19. and 48. 22. ioſ. 24. 32.
6 And there was Jacobs well. Jesus then being wearie of his iourney, sate thus on ỹ wel: and it was about the [a] sixth houre.
a That is, twelue of the clocke.
7 And there commeth a woman of Samaria to draw water: Jesus saith vnto her, Giue me drinke.
8 For his disciples were gone away vnto the towne to buy meate.
9 Then sayeth the woman of Samaria vnto him, Howe is it that thou, being a Jewe, askest drinke of me, which am a woman of Samaria? For the Jewes meddle not with the Samaritanes.
10 Jesus answered, and sayde vnto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that sayth to thee, Giue me drinke: thou wouldest haue asked of him, and he would haue giuen thee water of life.
11 The woman sayth vnto him, Syr, thou hast nothing to drawe with, and the well is deepe: from whence then hast thou that water of life?
12 Art thou greater then our father Jacob, which gaue vs the well, and hee him selfe dranke thereof, and his children, and his cattell?
13 Jesus answered, and sayde vnto her, Whosoeuer drinketh of this water, shall thirst againe:
14 But whosoeuer drinketh of the water that I shall giue him, shall neuer be more a thirst: but the water that I shall giue him, shalbe in him a well of water springing vp into euerlasting life.
15 The woman sayth vnto him, Syr, giue me of that water, that I thirst not, neither come hither to drawe.
16 Jesus sayth vnto her, Go, call thy husband, and come hither.
17 The woman answered, and sayde vnto him, I haue no husbande. Jesus sayde vnto her, Thou hast well sayde, I haue no husband.
18 For thou hast had fiue husbandes: and hee whom thou nowe hast, is not thy husband: In that saydest thou truely.
19 The woman sayeth vnto him, Syr, I perceiue that thou art a Prophet.
20 Our fathers worshipped in this mountaine, and yee say that * in Hierusalem is the place where men ought to worship.
Deut. 12. 6.
21 Jesus sayth vnto her, Woman, beleeue me, the houre commeth, when yee shall neither in this mountaine, nor yet at Hierusalem worship the father.
22 *Ye worship ye wote not what, wee knowe what wee worship: for saluation commeth of the Jewes.
4. Reg. 17. 29.
23 But the houre commeth, and nowe is, when the true worshippers shall worship the father in spirit, and in trueth: for such the father also requireth to worship him.
24 *God is a spirite, and they that worshippe him, must worshippe him in spirite, and in the trueth.
2. Cor. 3. 17.
25 The woman sayeth vnto him, I wote that Messias commeth, which is called Christ: When he is come, he will tell vs all things.
26 Jesus sayth vnto her, I ỹ speake vnto thee, am [he.]
27 And immediatly came his disciples, & marueiled that he talked with the woman: Yet no man said, What seekest thou, or, Why talkest thou with her?
28 The woman then left her water pot, and went her way into the citie, and sayth to the men, 29 Come, see a man which tolde mee all things that euer I did: Is not hee that Christ?
30 Then they went out of the citie, and came vnto him.
31 In ỹ meane while his disciples prayed him, saying, Master, eate.
32 He said vnto them, I haue meate to eate that ye wote not of.
33 Therefore sayde the disciples one to another, Hath any man brought him ought to eate?
34 Jesus sayth vnto them, My meate is that I do the will of him that sent me, and finish his worke.
35 Say not yee, There are yet foure moneths, and then commeth harueſt? Beholde, I say vnto you, Lift vp your eyes, and looke on the regions: *for they are white alreadie vnto harueſt.

39 Many of the Samaritanes of that citie beleeued on him, for the saying of the woman, which testified, That hee told me al that euer I did.
40 So, when the Samaritanes were come vnto vnto him, they besought him that he would tarrie with them: and hee abode there two dayes.

41 And many moe beleeued, because of his owne worde:

42 And sayde vnto the woman, Nowe wee beleeue, not because of thy saying: for we haue heard him our selues, and knowe that this is euen that Christ, the Sauiour of the world.

43 After two dayes hee departed thence, and went [away] into Galilee.

Matth.13.58. mark.6.4. luk.4.24.

44 * For Iesus him selfe testified, that a Prophet hath none honour in his owne countrey.

45 Then when hee was come into Galilee, the Galileans receiued him, when they had seene all the things that he did at Hierusalem at the feast: For they went also vnto the feast day.

The Gospel on the xix. Sunday after Trinitie. Iohn 2.1.

46 * So Iesus came againe into Cana of Galilee, where hee made the water wine. And there was a certaine ruler, whose sonne was sicke at Capernaum.

47 When the same heard that Iesus was come out of Iurie into Galilee, he went vnto him, and besought him that he would come down, and heale his sonne: for hee was euen at the point of death.

48 Then sayde Iesus vnto him, Except yee see signes and wonders, yee will in no wise beleeue.

49 The ruler saith vnto him, Sir, come downe or euer that my sonne die.

50 Iesus sayeth vnto him, Goe thy way, thy sonne liueth. And the man beleeued the word that Iesus had spoken vnto him, & hee went his way.

51 And as he was nowe going downe, the seruantes met him, and tolde him, saying, Thy sonne liueth.

52 Then enquired hee of them the houre when he began to amende: and they saide vnto him, Yesterday at the seuenth houre the feuer left him.

53 So the father knew, that it was [done] the same houre, in ỹ which Iesus saide vnto him, Thy sonne liueth: and he beleeued, and al his household.

Leuit.23.2. deut. 16.1.

1 AFter * this, there was a feast day of the Iewes, and Iesus went vp to Hierusalem.

a Where sheepe were solde. Or else by the sheepe poole: that is, where they washed sheepe, or where sheepe drank.

2 And there is at Hierusalē by ỹ a sheepe [market,] a poole, which is called in the Hebrue tōgue [Bethesda,] hauing fiue porches:

3 In which lay a great multitude of sicke folke, of blinde, halte, and withered, waiting for the mouing of the water.

4 For an angel went downe at a certaine season into the poole, and troubled the water: Whosoeuer then first after the troubling of ỹ water stepped in, was made whole of whatsoeuer disease he had.

5 And a certaine man was there, which had bene diseased thirtie and eight yeres.

6 When Iesus sawe him lie, and knewe that he nowe long time had bene diseased, he saith vnto him, Wilt thou be made whole?

7 The sicke man answered him, Sir, I haue no man when the water is troubled, to put me into ỹ poole: but in the meane time, while I am about to come, another steppeth downe before me.

8 Iesus sayth vnto him, Rise, take vp thy bed, and walke.

9 And immediatly the man was made whole, and tooke vp his bed, and walked: And on the same day was the Sabboth.

10 The Iewes therefore said vnto him ỹ was made whole, It is ỹ Sabboth day, * it is not lawfull for thee to carrie thy bed. Iere.17.21.

11 He answered them, He that made me whole, said vnto me, Take vp thy bed, and walke.

12 Then asked they him, What man is that which sayde vnto thee, Take vp thy bed, and walke?

13 And hee that was healed, wist not who it was: for Iesus had gotten himselfe away, because that there was preasse of people in that place.

14 Afterwarde Iesus findeth him in the Temple, and said vnto him, Behold, thou art made whole: sinne no more, least a worse thing come vnto thee.

15 The man departed, and tolde the Iewes that it was Iesus which had made him whole.

16 And therefore did the Iewes persecute Iesus, and sought [the meanes] to slay him, because hee had done these things on the Sabboth day.

17 Iesus answered them, My father worketh hitherto, and I worke.

18 Therefore the Iewes sought the more to kill him, not onely because he had broken the Sabboth, but saide also, that God was his father, and making himselfe equal with God.

19 Then answered Iesus, and said vnto them, Verily, verily I say vnto you, The sonne can doe nothing of himselfe, but that he seeth the father doe: for whatsoeuer hee doeth, that also doeth the sonne likewise.

20 For the father loueth the sonne, and sheweth him all things that he himselfe doeth: and hee will shew him greater workes then these, because ye should maruaile.

21 For

21 For likewise as the father raiseth vp the dead, and quickeneth them: euen so the sonne quickeneth whom he will.
22 Neither iudgeth the father any man: but hath committed all iudgement vnto ỹ sonne,
23 Because that all men should honour the sonne, euen as they honour the father. He that honoureth not the sonne, [the same] honoureth not the father which hath sent him.
24 Verily, verily I say vnto you, He that heareth my word, and beleeueth on him that sent me, hath euerlasting life, and shall not come into damnation: but is escaped from death vnto life.
25 Verily, verily I say vnto you, The houre is comming, and now is, when the [b]dead shall heare the voyce of the sonne of God: and they that heare, [c] shall liue.
b Meaning those that are drowned in sinne.
c That is, they that receiue it by faith.
26 For as the father hath life in himselfe: so likewise hath hee giuen to the sonne to haue life in himselfe:
27 And hath giuen him power also to iudge, because he is the sonne of man.
28 Marueile not at this: for the houre is comming, in the which all that are in the graues, shall heare his voice,
Matt. 25. 41.
29 And shall come forth, *they that haue done good, vnto the resurrection of life, and they that haue done euill, vnto the resurrection of damnation.
30 I can of mine owne selfe do nothing: as I heare, I iudge: and my iudgement is iust, because I seeke not mine owne will, but the will of the father, which hath sent me.
Iohn 8. 14.
31 *If I beare witnesse of my selfe, my witnes is not true.
Matt. 3. 17.
32 *There is another that beareth witnesse of me, and I am sure that the witnesse which he witnesseth of me, is true.
Iohn 1. 27.
33 *Ye sent vnto Iohn, and hee bare witnesse vnto the trueth.
34 But I receiue not the record of man: neuertheless, these things I say, that ye might be saued.
35 Hee was a burning and a shining light: and ye would for a season haue reioiced in his light.
36 But I haue greater witnesse then [the witnesse] of Iohn: for the workes which the father hath giuen me to finish, the same workes that I doe, beare witnesse of me, that the father hath sent me.
Matt. 3. 17. and 17. 5. Deut. 4. 12.
37 And the father himselfe which hath sent mee, *hath borne witnesse of mee. Yee haue not heard his voyce at any time, *nor seene his shape.
38 And his word haue ye not abiding in you: for whom he hath sent, him ye beleeue not.
39 Search the scriptures, for in them ye thinke ye haue eternall life: and they are they which testifie of me.
40 And yet will yee not come to me, that yee might haue life.
41 I receiue not the praise of men.
42 But I know you, that ye haue not the loue of God in you.
43 I am come in my fathers name, and ye receiue me not: *if another shall come in his owne name, him wil ye receiue.
Iohn 12. 43.
44 How can ye beleeue, which receiue honour one of another, and seeke not the honour that commeth of God onely?
45 Doe not thinke that I will accuse you to my father: there is one that accuseth you, euen Moses, in whom ye trust.
46 For had ye beleeued Moses, ye would haue beleeued me: *for he wrote of me.
Gen. 3. 15. deut. 18. 15.
47 But if ye beleeue not his writings, how shal ye beleeue my wordes?

The vi. Chapter.

29 Faith is the worke of God. 35 Of the bread of life. 40 Of faith.

1 AFter these things, Iesus went his way ouer the sea of Galilee, which is the sea of Tiberias:
2 And a great multitude followed him, because they sawe his miracles which he did on them that were diseased.
3 And Iesus went vp into a mountaine, and there he sate with his disciples.
4 And the Passeouer, *a feast of the Iewes, was nigh.
Leuit. 23. 2. deut. 16. 1.
5 *When Iesus then lift vp his eies, & sawe a great company come vnto him, he saith vnto Philip, Whence shall we buy bread, that these may eate?
The Gospel on the 25. Sunday after Trinitie.
Matt. 14. 16. mar. 6. 38. luke 9. 13.
6 (This he said to proue him: for he himselfe knew what he would doe.)
7 Philip answered him, Two hundred [a] penyworth of bread are not sufficient for them, that euery man may take a little.
a This summe amounteth to about fiue pound sterling.
8 One of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peters brother, saith vnto him, 9 There is a litle lad here, which hath fiue barley loaues, and two fishes: but what are they among so many?
10 And Iesus said, Make the people sit downe. There was much grasse in the place. So the men sate downe, in number about fiue thousand.
11 And Iesus tooke the bread, and whē he had giuen thanks, he distributed to the disciples, and the disciples to thē that were set downe, and likewise of the fishes, as much as they would.
12 When they were filled, he said vnto his disciples, Gather vp the broken meate that remaineth, that nothing be lost.
13 And they gathered it together, and filled twelue baskets with the broken meate of the fiue barley loaues, which [broken meate] remained vnto them that had eaten.

14 Then those men, when they had seene the miracle that Iesus did, said, This is of a trueth the same Prophet that should come into the world.

15 When Iesus therefore perceiued that they would come and take him vp by force, to make him king, hee departed againe into a mountaine himselfe alone.

Matt.14.23. mar.6.47. 16 *And when euen was now come, his disciples went downe vnto the sea,

17 And gate vp into a ship, and went ouer the sea towards Capernaum: and it was now darke, and Iesus was not come to them

18 And the sea arose with a great winde that blew.

19 So when they had rowed about xxv. or xxx. furlongs, they sawe Iesus walking on the sea, and drawing nigh vnto the ship: & they were afraid.

20 But he saieth vnto them, It is I, bee not afraid.

21 And they would haue receiued him into the ship, and immediately the ship was at the land whither they went.

22 The day following, when the people which stoode on the other side of the sea, sawe that there was none other ship there, saue that one whereinto his disciples were entred, and that Iesus went not in with his disciples into the ship, but that his disciples were gone [away] alone:

23 Howbeit, there came other ships from Tiberias, nigh vnto the place where they did eate bread, after that the Lord had giuen thanks.

24 When the people therefore saw that Iesus was not there, neither his disciples, they also tooke shipping, and came to Capernaum, seeking for Iesus.

25 And when they had found him on the other side of the sea, they said vnto him, Rabbi, whē camest thou hither?

26 Iesus answered them, and said, Verily, verily I say vnto you, Ye seeke me, not because ye saw the miracles, but because ye did eate of the loaues, and were filled.

27 Labour not for the meate which perisheth, but for that meat which endureth vnto euerlasting life, which [meate] the sonne of man shall giue vnto you: *for him hath God the father sealed.

Matt.3.17. and 17.3. Iohn 1.32.

28 Then said they vnto him, What shal we do, that we might worke the works of God?

1.Iohn 3.23. 29 Iesus answered, and said vnto them, *This is the worke of God, that ye beleeue on him whom he hath sent.

30 They said therefore vnto him, What signe shewest thou then, that we may see, and beleeue thee? What doest thou worke?

Exo.16.14. num.11.7. psal.78.24. wisd.16.20. 31 Our fathers did eate Manna in the desart, as it is written, *He gaue them bread from heauen to eate.

32 Then Iesus said vnto them, Verily, verily I say vnto you, Moses gaue you not that bread from heauen, but my father giueth you the true bread from heauen.

33 For the bread of God, is he which commeth downe from heauen, and giueth life vnto the world.

34 Then said they vnto him, Lord, euermore giue vs this bread.

35 And Iesus said vnto them, I am the bread of life: he that commeth to me, shall not hunger in any wise: * and hee that beleeueth on me, shall neuer thirst. Eccl.24.19.

36 But I say vnto you, that ye also haue seene me, and yet ye beleeue not.

37 All that the father giueth me, shall come to me, and him that commeth to me, I will in no wise cast out.

38 For I came downe from heauen, not to doe mine owne will, but the will of him that sent me.

39 And this is the fathers will which hath sent me, that of all which he hath giuen mee, I shall lose nothing, but raise it vp againe at the last day.

40 And this is the wil of him that sent me, that euery one which seeth the sonne, and beleeueth on him, may haue euerlasting life: and I will raise him vp at the last day.

41 The Iewes thē murmured at him, because he said, I am the bread [of life] which came downe from heauen.

42 And they said, * Is not this Iesus, ỹ sonne of Ioseph, whose father & mother we know? How is it then that he saieth, I came downe from heauen? Matt.13.55.

43 Iesus answered, and said vnto them, Murmure not among your selues.

44 No man can come to me, except the father, which hath sent me, drawe him: and I will raise him vp at the last day.

45 It is written in the Prophets, * And they shalbe all taught of God. Euery man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the father, commeth vnto me, Esai 54.13. ierc.31.33.

46 Not that any man hath seene the father, *saue he which is of God, the same hath seene the father. Matt.11.27.

47 Verily, verily I say vnto you, He that putteth his trust in me, hath euerlasting life.

48 I am that bread of life.

49 Your fathers did eate * Manna in the wildernesse, and are dead. Exo.16.15.

50 This is that bread which commeth downe from heauē, that if any man eate thereof, [he] should not die.

51 I am that liuing bread, which came downe from heauen. If any man eate of this bread, he shall liue for euer: and the bread that I wil giue, is my flesh, which I wil giue for the life life of the woꝛld.

52 The Jewes therefoꝛe ſtroue amongſt themſelues, ſaying, How can this fellow giue vs that fleſh of his to eate?
53 Then Jeſus ſaid vnto them, Uerily, verily I ſay vnto you, Except ye eate the fleſh of the ſonne of man, and dꝛinke his blood, ye haue no life in you.
1.Cor.11.27. 54 *Whoſo eateth my fleſh, and dꝛinketh my blood, hath eternall life, and I will raiſe him vp at the laſt day.
55 Foꝛ my fleſh is meate in deede, & my blood is dꝛinke in deede.
56 He that eateth my fleſh, and dꝛinketh my blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him.
57 As the liuing father hath ſent me, & I liue by the father: Euen ſo, he that eateth me, ſhal liue by [the meanes of] me.
58 This is that bꝛead which came downe from heauen: not as your fathers did eate Manna, and are dead: he that eateth of this bꝛead, ſhal liue euer.
59 Theſe things ſaid he in the ſynagogue, as he taught in Capernaum.
60 Many therefoꝛe of his diſciples, when they had heard [this,] ſaid, This is an hard ſaying, who can abide the hearing of it?
61 When Jeſus knew in himſelfe that his diſciples murmured at it, he ſaid vnto thē, Doth this offend you?
62 [What] and if ye ſhall ſee the ſonne of man aſcend * vp thither where he was befoꝛe?
Iohn 3.13.
63 It is the ſpirite that quickeneth, the fleſh profiteth [a] nothing: The woꝛdes ỳ I ſpeake vnto you, are ſpirit and life.
a To wit, if it be ſeparate from the ſpirit, whereof it hath the force. Foꝛ it commeth of the power of the ſpirit, that the fleſh giueth vs life, & feedeth vs: And therfoꝛe, that we may be truelỳ fed and nouriſhed with it, we muſt bring the ſpiritual mouth of faith to receiue it.
64 But there are ſome of you that beleeue not. Foꝛ Jeſus knew from the beginning, which they were that beleeued not, and who ſhould betray him.
65 And he ſaid, Therefoꝛe ſaid I vnto you, that no man can come vnto me, except it were giuen vnto him of my father.
66 From that time many of his diſciples went backe, and walked no moꝛe with him.
67 Then ſaid Jeſus vnto the twelue, Will ye alſo goe away?
68 Then Simon Peter anſwered him, Loꝛd, to whom ſhall we goe? Thou haſt the woꝛds of eternall life:
Matt.16.16. 69 *And we beleeue and are ſure that thou art that Chriſt, the ſonne of the liuing God.
70 Jeſus anſwered them, Haue not I choſen you twelue, and one of you is a deuil?
71 He ſpake of Judas Iſcariot [the ſonne] of Simon: foꝛ he it was that ſhould betray him, being one of the twelue.

The vii. Chapter.

1 Ieſus fled the murmuring Iewes. 5 Chriſtes kinſmen beleeued not on him.

1 AFter theſe things, Jeſus went about in Galilee: foꝛ he would not go about in Jurie, becauſe that the Jewes ſought to kill him.
2 The Jewes feaſt of tabernacles *[a] was at hand.
Leuit.23.34. a At this feaſt they dwelled ſeuen dayes in their tents.
3 His bꝛethꝛen therefoꝛe ſaid vnto him, Get thee hence, & go into Jurie, that thy diſciples alſo may ſee the woꝛkes that thou doeſt.
4 Foꝛ there is no man that doth any thing in ſecret, and he himſelfe ſeeketh to be knowen openly: If thou doe ſuch things, ſhew thy ſelfe to the woꝛld.
5 Foꝛ neither his bꝛethꝛen beleeued in him.
6 Then Jeſus ſaid vnto them, My time is not yet come: but your time is alway ready.
7 The woꝛld cannot hate you, but me it hateth, becauſe I teſtifie of it, that the woꝛkes thereof are euil.
8 Goe ye vp vnto this feaſt: I goe not vp yet vnto this feaſt, *foꝛ my time is not yet full come.
Iohn 8.20.
9 When he had ſaid theſe woꝛdes vnto them, he abode ſtill in Galilee.
10 But when his bꝛethꝛen were gone vp, then went he alſo vp vnto the feaſt, not openly, but as it were priuily.
11 Then ſought him the Jewes at the feaſt, and ſaid, Where is he?
12 And much murmuring of him was there among the people: Foꝛ ſome ſaid, Hee is good: Other ſaid, Nay: but hee deceiueth the people.
13 Howbeit, no man ſpake openly of him, foꝛ feare of the Jewes.
14 Now when halfe of the feaſt was done, Jeſus went vp into the temple, and taught.
15 And the Jewes marueiled, ſaying, How knoweth he the ſcriptures, ſeeing that he neuer learned?
16 Jeſus anſwered them, & ſaid, My doctrine is not mine, but his that ſent me.
17 If any man will do his will, he ſhall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, oꝛ whether I ſpeake of my ſelfe.
18 Hee that ſpeaketh of himſelfe, ſeeketh his owne gloꝛy: but he that ſeeketh his gloꝛy that ſent him, the ſame is true, and no vnrighteouſneſſe is in him.
19 *Did not Moſes giue you the lawe, and [yet] none of you keepeth the lawe? *Why goe ye about to kill me?
Exo.24.3. Iohn 5.18.
20 The people anſwered, and ſaid, Thou haſt the deuil: Who goeth about to kill thee?
21 Jeſus anſwered, and ſaid vnto them, I haue done one woꝛke, and ye al marueile, 22 *Moſes therefoꝛe gaue vnto you the circumciſion (not becauſe it is of Moſes, *but of the fathers) and yet ye on the Sabboth day circumcile a man.
Leuit.12.3. Gen.17.10.
23 If a man on the Sabboth day receiue circumciſion, without bꝛeaking of ỳ law of Moſes: diſdaine ye at me, becauſe I haue made a man euery whit whole on the Sabboth day?

Deut.1.16. 24 *Iudge not after the [vtter] appearance, but iudge with a righteous iudgement.
25 Then said some of them of Hierusalem, Is not this he, whom they goe about to kill?
‖Or, openly. 26 But loe, he speaketh ‖boldly, and they say nothing vnto him: Doe the rulers know in deede that this is very Christ?
27 Howbeit, we know this man whence he is: but when Christ commeth, no man knoweth whence he is.
28 Then cried Iesus in the tẽple as he taught, saying, Yee both know me, and whence I am, ye know, and I am not come of my selfe, but he that sent me is true, whom ye know not.
29 But I know him, for I am of him, and hee hath sent me.
30 Then they sought to take him: but no man laid hands on him, because his houre was not yet come.
31 Many of the people beleeued on him, and said, When Christ commeth, will hee doe moe myracles then these that this man hath done?
32 The Pharisees heard that the people murmured such things concerning him: And the Pharisees and the high priests sent seruants to take him.
33 Then said Iesus vnto them, Yet am I a litle while with you, and then I goe vnto him that sent me.
Iohn 13.33. 34 *Ye shall seeke me, and shall not finde mee: and where I am, thither can ye not come.
35 Then said the Iewes among themselues, Whither will he goe, that we shall not finde him? Will he goe vnto the dispersed among the Grecians, and teach the Gentiles?
36 What [maner] of saying is this that hee said, Ye shall seeke me, and shall not find me? and where I am, thither can ye not come.
Leuit.23.36. 37 In the last day, that * great day of the feast, Iesus stood, and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come vnto me, and drinke.
Deut.18.15. 38 *He that beleeueth on me, as the scripture hath said, out of his belly shall flowe riuers of water of life.
Ioel 2.28. acts 2.17. 39 (*But this spake he of the spirit which they that beleeue on him, should receiue. For the holy ghost was not yet ‖[there,] because that Iesus was not yet glorified.)
‖Or, giuen: vnderstanding by the holy ghost, the visible gifts of the holy ghost. 40 Many of the people therefore, when they heard this saying, said, Of a trueth this is the Prophet.
41 But other said, This is Christ. But some said, Shall Christ come out of Galilee?
Miche.5.2. matt.2.5. 42 *Hath not the scripture said, that Christ commeth of the seed of Dauid, and out of the towne of Bethlehem where Dauid was?
43 So was there dissention among the people because of him.
44 And some of them would haue taken him, but no man laid hands on him.
45 Then came the seruants to the high priests and Pharisees, and they said vnto them, Why haue ye not brought him?
46 The seruants answered, Neuer man spake as this man doeth.
47 Then answered them the Pharisees, Are ye also deceiued?
48 Haue any of the rulers or of the Pharisees beleeued on him?
49 But this [common] people which know not the law, are cursed.
50 Nicodemus saieth vnto them, * (Hee that Iohn 3.2. came to Iesus by night, being one of them,) 51 Doeth our lawe iudge any man before it heare him, *and know what he doeth? Deut.17.8. and 19.15.
52 They answered, and said vnto him, Art thou also of Galilee? search, and looke: for out of Galilee ariseth no Prophet.
53 And euery man went vnto his owne house.

The viii. Chapter.

12 Christ the light of the world. 56 Abraham did see Christes day.

1 IEsus went out vnto mount Oliuet:
2 And early in the morning he came againe into the temple, & all the people came vnto him, and he sate downe, and taught them.
3 And the Scribes and Pharisees brought vnto him a woman taken in adulterie, and when they had set her in the midst,
4 They say vnto him, Master, this woman was taken in adulterie, euen as the deed was a doing.
5 * Moses in the law commãded vs that such Luke 20.20. should be stoned: but what sayest thou?
6 This they said, tempting him, that they might accuse him. But Iesus stouped downe, and with his finger wrote on the ground, as though he heard them not.
7 So when they continued asking him, hee lift vp himselfe, and said vnto them, *Let him Deut.17.7. that is among you without sinne, first cast the stone at her.
8 And againe, he stouped downe, and wrote on the ground.
9 And when they heard this, being accused of their owne consciences, they went out one by one, beginning at the eldest, euẽ vnto the last: and Iesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the mids.
10 When Iesus had lift vp himselfe, and sawe no man but the womã, he said vnto her, Woman, where are those thine accusers? hath no man condemned thee?
11 She said, No man, Lord. And Iesus said, Neither do I condemne thee: Go, and sinne no more.
12 Then spake Iesus againe vnto them, saying, *I am the light of the world: He that fo- Iohn 1.5. and 9.5.

loweth me, shall not in any wise walke in darkenesse, but shall haue the light of life.

13 The Pharisees therefore said vnto him, Thou beerest record of thy selfe, thy record is not true.

14 Iesus answered, & said vnto them, *Though I beare record of my selfe, yet my record is true: for I know whence I came, and whither I go: but ye cannot tel whence I come, and whither I goe.

15 Ye iudge after the flesh, I iudge no man.

16 And if I iudge, my iudgement is true: for I am not alone, but I and the father that sent me.

17 *It is also written in your lawe, that the testimonie of two men is true.

18 I am one that beareth witnesse of my selfe, and the father that sent me, beareth witnesse of me.

19 Then said they vnto him, Where is thy father? Iesus answered, Ye neither know me, nor yet my father: if ye had knowen me, yee should haue knowen my father also.

20 These wordes spake Iesus in the treasurie, as he taught in the temple: and no man laid hands on him, for his houre was not yet come.

21 Then said Iesus againe vnto them, I goe my way, and yee shall seeke mee, and shall die in your sinnes: Whither I goe, thither can ye not come.

22 Then said the Iewes, Will he kil himselfe, because he saieth, Whither I goe, thither can ye not come?

23 And he said vnto them, Ye are frō beneath, I am from aboue: ye are of this world, I am not of this world.

24 I said therefore vnto you, that ye shall die in your sinnes. For if ye beleeue not that I am he, ye shall die in your sinnes.

25 Then said they vnto him, Who art thou? And Iesus saieth vnto them, Euen the very same thing that I said vnto you from the beginning.

26 I haue many things to say, and to iudge of you: Yea, and he that sent me is true, and I speake to the world those things which I haue heard of him.

27 Howbeit, they vnderstood not that he spake to them of his father.

28 Then said Iesus vnto them, When ye haue lift vp [on high] the sonne of man, then shall ye know that I am he, and that I do nothing of my selfe: but as my father hath taught me, euen so I speake these things.

29 And he that sent me, is with me: the father hath not left mee alone: for I doe alwaies those things that please him.

30 As he spake those wordes, many beleeued on him.

31 Then said Iesus to those Iewes which beleeued on him, If ye continue in my word, then are ye my very disciples.

32 And ye shal know the trueth, and the trueth shal make you free.

33 They [a] answered him, We bee Abrahams seede, and were neuer bond to any man: how saiest thou then, Ye shalbe made free?

34 Iesus answered them, Verily, verily I say vnto you, *That whosoeuer cōmitteth sinne, is the seruant of sinne.

35 And the seruant abideth not in the house for euer: but the sonne abideth euer.

36 If the sonne therefore shall make you free, then ye shalbe free in deede.

37 I know that ye are Abrahams seede, but ye seeke [meanes] to kill me, because my word hath no place in you.

38 I speake that which I haue seene with my father: and ye doe that which ye haue seene with your father.

39 They answered, and said vnto him, Abraham is our father. Iesus saieth vnto them, If ye were Abrahams children, ye would do the workes of Abraham.

40 But now ye goe about to kill me, a mā that hath told you the trueth, which I haue heard of God: this did not Abraham.

41 Ye do the deeds of your father. Then said they to him, We be not borne of fornication, we haue one father, euen God.

42 Iesus said vnto them, If God were your father, truely ye would loue me, for I proceeded forth, and came from God: neither came I of my selfe, but he sent me.

43 Why do ye not know my speach? euen because ye cannot heare my word.

44 *Yee are of your father the deuill, and the lusts of your father will ye do: he was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the trueth, because there is no trueth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his owne: For he is a lier, and the father of it.

45 And because I tell you the trueth, therefore ye beleeue me not.

46 *Which of you rebuketh me of sinne? If I say the trueth, why doe ye not beleeue me?

47 He that is of God, heareth Gods words: Ye therefore heare them not, because ye are not of God.

48 Then answered the Iewes, and said vnto him, Say we not wel that thou art a Samaritane, and hast a deuill?

49 Iesus answered, I haue not a deuil: but I honour my father, and ye do dishonour me.

50 I seeke not mine owne glory, there is one that seeketh, and iudgeth.

51 Verily, verily I say vnto you, If a man keepe my saying, he shal neuer see death.

52 Then said the Iewes vnto him, Now know we that thou hast a deuill. Abraham is dead, and the Prophets: and thou saiest, If a 53 Art thou greater then our father Abraham, which is dead? and the Prophets are dead: whom makest thou thy selfe?

54 Iesus answered, If I glorifie my selfe, my glory is nothing: It is my father that glorifieth me, which ye say, that he is your God:

The ix. Chapter.

Christ restoreth sight vpon the Sabboth day to him that was borne blind.

1 AND as Iesus passed by, he sawe a man which was blind from his birth.

2 And his disciples asked him, saying, Master, who did sinne, this man, or his parents, that he was borne blind?

3 Iesus answered, Neither hath this man sinned, nor yet his parents: but that the workes of God should be made manifest in him.

4 I must worke the workes of him that sent me, while it is [a] day: The night commeth, when no man can worke.

a While opportunitie serueth.

Ioh. 1. 9. & 8. 12. and 12. 35.

5 As long as I am in the world, * I am the light of the world.

6 When he had thus spoken, hee spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, & he anointed the clay vpon the eies of the blind,

7 And said vnto him, Goe wash thee in ỹ poole of Siloe (which by interpretatiõ is [as much to say, as] sent.) He went his way therefore, and washed, and came [againe] seeing.

8 The neighbours therfore, and they that had seene him before when he was blind, said, Is not this he that sate and begged?

9 Some said, This is he: Other said, Hee is like him. He himselfe said, I am [euen] he.

10 Therefore said they vnto him, How were thine eies opened?

11 He answered, and said, The man that is called Iesus, made clay, and anointed mine eies, and said vnto me, Goe to the poole Siloe, and wash: and when I went and washed, I receiued [my] sight.

12 Then said they vnto him, Where is he? He said, I cannot tell.

13 They brought to the Pharisees him, that a litle before was blind.

14 And it was the Sabboth day when Iesus made the clay, and opened his eies.

15 Then againe the Pharisees also asked him how he had receiued his sight. Hee said vnto them, He put clay vpon mine eies, and I washed, and do see.

16 Therfore said some of the Pharisees, This man is not of God, because he keepeth not the Sabboth day. Other said, How can a man that is a sinner doe such myracles? and there was a ‖ strife among them.

‖ Or, schisme.

17 They say vnto the blind man againe, What saiest thou of him, because hee hath opened thine eies? He said, Hee is a Prophet.

18 But the Iewes did not beleeue the mã how that he had bene blind, and receiued his sight, vntill they called the parents of him that had receiued his sight.

19 And they asked them, saying, Is this your sonne, whom ye say that he was borne blind? how doeth he now see then?

20 His parents answered them, and said, We know that this is our sonne, and that he was borne blind:

21 But by what meanes he now seeth, we can not tell, or who hath opened his eies, cannot we tell, he is of age, aske him, he shall speake for himselfe.

22 Such wordes spake his parents, because they feared the Iewes: for the Iewes had agreed already, that if any mã did confesse that he was Christ, he should be excommunicate out of the synagogue.

23 Therefore said his parents, Hee is of age, aske him.

24 Then againe called they the man that was blind, and said vnto him, Giue God ỹ praise, we know that this man is a sinner.

25 He answered, and said, Whether he be a sinner or no, I cannot tell: One thing I am sure of, that whereas I was blinde, now I see.

26 Then said they to him againe, What did he to thee? How opened he thine eies?

27 He answered them, I told you yer while, and yee did not heare: wherefore would you heare it againe? Will yee also bee his disciples?

28 Then rated they him, and said, Thou art his disciple: we are Moses disciples.

29 We are sure that God spake vnto Moses: as for this fellow, we know not from whẽce he is.

30 The man answered, and said vnto thẽ, This is a marueilous thing, that ye wote not from whence hee is, and yet he hath opened mine eies.

31 For we bee sure that God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, and doeth his will, him heareth he.

32 Since the world began was it not heard that any man opened the eies of one that was

was borne blind:

33 If this man were not of God, he could doe nothing.

34 They answered, and said vnto him, Thou art altogether borne in sinne, and doest thou teach vs? And they cast him out.

35 Iesus heard that they had excommunicate him: and when hee had found him, hee said vnto him, Doest thou beleeue on the sonne of God?

36 He answered and said, Who is he, Lord, that I might beleeue on him?

37 And Iesus said vnto him, Thou hast both seene him, and it is hee that talketh with thee.

b He declared his faith by his outward profession. Iohn 3.17. and 12.47.

38 And he said, Lord, I beleeue: and he [b] worshipped him.

39 And Iesus said vnto him, * I am come vnto iudgement in this world, that they which see not, might see: and that they which see, might be made blind.

40 And some of ỹ Pharisees which were with him, heard these wordes, and said vnto him, Are we blind also?

41 Iesus said vnto them, If ye were blinde, ye should haue no sinne, but now ye say, We see: therefore your sinne remaineth.

1 Christ the true shepeheard, and the dore. 34 Princes called gods.

The Gospel on the Tuesday after Whitsonday.

1 VErily, verily I say vnto you, He that entreth not in by the doze into ỹ sheepefold, but climeth vp some other way, the same is a thiefe, and a robber.

2 But he that entreth in by the doze, is ỹ shepeheard of the sheepe.

3 To him the porter openeth, and the sheepe heare his voyce, & he calleth his owne sheepe by name, and leadeth them out.

4 And whē he hath put forth his owne sheepe, he goeth before them, and the sheepe follow him: for they know his voyce.

5 A stranger will they in no wise follow, but will flee from him, for they know not the voice of strangers.

6 This prouerbe spake Iesus vnto them: but they vnderstood not what things they were which he spake vnto them.

7 Then said Iesus vnto them againe, Verily, verily I say vnto you, I am the doze of the sheepe.

a He meaneth all false prophets, who led not men to Christ, but frō him to other, or els preached themselues.

8 All, [a] euen as many as came before me, are thieues and robbers: but the sheepe did not heare them.

9 I am the doze: by me if any man enter in, he shalbe safe, and shall go in, and goe out, and find pasture.

10 The thiefe commeth not, but for to steale, kill, and to destroy: I am come that they might haue life, and that they might haue it more abundantly.

11 I am the *good shepeheard: the good shepeheard giueth his life for the sheepe. The Gospel on the second Sunday after Easter. Esay 40.11. ierem.34.23.

12 An hireling, and he which is not the shepeheard, neither the sheepe are his owne, seeth the wolfe comming, and leaueth the sheepe, and fleeth: and the wolfe catcheth them, and scattereth the sheepe.

13 The hireling fleeth, because hee is an hireling, and careth not for the sheepe.

14 I am the good shepeheard, and know my sheepe, and am knowen of mine.

15 As the father knoweth me, euen so know I also the father: and I giue my life for the sheepe.

b To wit, they among the Gentiles whē they were strangers from Gods church. Ezech.37.22. Esay 53.7.

16 And other [b] sheepe I haue, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall heare my voyce, * and there shall be one fold [and] one shepeheard.

17 Therefore doth my father loue me, *because I put my life [from me,] that I might take it againe.

18 No man taketh it frō me, but I put it away of my selfe: I haue power to put it frō me, and I haue power to take it againe. *This commaundement haue I receiued of my father. Acts 4.28.

19 There was a dissension therefore againe among the Iewes for these things.

20 And many of them said, He hath a deuil, and is mad, why heare ye him?

21 Other said, These are not the wordes of him that hath a deuil. Can a deuil open the eies of the blind?

22 *And it was at Hierusalem the feast of the dedication, and it was winter: 1.Mach.4.59.

23 And Iesus walked in the temple, euen in Solomons porch.

24 Then came the Iewes round about him, and said vnto him, How long doest thou make vs to doubt? If thou be Christ, tell vs plainly.

25 Iesus answered them, I told you, and ye beleeued not: the workes that I doe in my fathers name, they beare witnesse of me.

26 But ye beleeue not, because yee are not of my sheepe, as I said vnto you.

27 My sheepe heare my voice, and I know thē, and they follow me:

28 And I giue vnto them eternal life, and they shall neuer perish, neither shal any mā plucke them out of my hand.

29 My father which gaue them me, is greater then all: and no man is able to take them out of my fathers hand.

30 I and my father are one.

31 Then the Iewes tooke vp stones, to stone him [withall.]

32 Iesus answered them, Many good workes haue I shewed you from my father, for which worke of them do ye stone me?

33 The Iewes answered him, saying, For a good good worke we stone thee not, but for thy blasphemie, and because that thou, being a man, makest thy selfe God.

Psal. 82.6. 34 Iesus answered them, * Is it not written in your lawe, I said, Ye are gods?

35 If he called them gods, vnto whom ẏ word of God was spoken, and the scripture cannot be broken:

36 Say ye of him whom the father hath sanctified and sent into the world, Thou blasphemest: because I said, I am the sonne of God?

37 If I do not the works of my father, beleeue me not.

38 But if I do, and if ye beleeue not me, beleeue the works: that yee may know and beleeue that the father is in me, and I in him.

39 Againe they went about to take him: and he escaped out of their hand, 40 And went away againe beyond Iordane, into the place where Iohn was first baptizing: and there he abode.

41 And many resorted vnto him, and said, Iohn did no myracle: but all things that Iohn spake of this man, were true.

42 And many beleeued on him there.

The xi. Chapter.

43 Christ raiseth Lazarus from death. 45 Certaine Iewes beleeue in Christ.

1 A Certaine man was sicke, named Lazarus, of Bethanie, the towne of Mary and her sister Martha.

2 (It was that Mary which anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feete with her heare, whose brother Lazarus was sicke.)

3 Therefore his sister sent vnto him, saying, Lord, behold, he whom thou louest is sicke.

4 When Iesus heard that, he said, This infirmitie is not vnto death, but for the glory of God: that the sonne of God might be glorified thereby.

5 Iesus loued Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus.

6 When he had heard therefore that hee was sicke, he abode two dayes still in ẏ same place where he was.

7 Then after that, saieth he to his disciples, Let vs goe into Iurie againe.

8 His disciples say vnto him, Master, the Iewes lately sought to stone thee, and goest thou thither againe?

9 Iesus answered, Are there not twelue houres of the day? If any man walke in the day, he stumbleth not, because hee seeth the light of this world.

10 But if a man walke in the night, hee stumbleth, because there is no light in him.

11 These things said he, and after that, hee saieth vnto them, Our friend Lazarus sleepeth, but I goe, that I may awake him out of sleepe.

12 Then said his disciples, Lord, if he sleepe, he shall do well ynough.

13 Howbeit, Iesus spake of his death: but they thought that hee had spoken of taking of rest in sleepe.

14 Then said Iesus vnto them plainly, Lazarus is dead:

15 And I am glad for your sakes that I was not there (because ye may beleeue:) Neuertheless, let vs goe vnto him.

16 Then said Thomas, which is called Didymus, vnto his fellow disciples, Let vs also go, that we may die with him.

17 Then when Iesus came, he found that hee had lien in his graue foure dayes already.

18 (Bethanie was nigh vnto Hierusalem, about [a] fifteene furlongs off:) a Which is about two miles.

19 And many of the Iewes came to Martha and Mary, to comfort them ouer their brother.

20 Martha, as soone as she heard that Iesus was comming, went and met him: but Mary sate still in the house.

21 Then said Martha vnto Iesus, Lord, if thou haddest bene here, my brother had not died.

22 But euen now I know, that whatsoeuer thou wilt aske of God, God will giue it thee.

23 Iesus saith vnto her, Thy brother shall rise againe.

24 Martha saieth vnto him, I know that hee shall rise againe in the * resurrection at the last day. Iohn 5.29. luke 14.14.

25 Iesus said vnto her, I am the resurrection, and the *life: he that beleeueth on mee, yea, though he were dead, yet shall he liue. Iohn 6.35.

26 And whosoeuer liueth, and beleeueth on me, shall neuer die. Beleeuest thou this?

27 She saieth vnto him, Yea Lord, I beleeue that thou art Christ the sonne of God, which should come into the world.

28 And when she had so said, she went her way, and called Mary her sister secretly, saying, The master is come, and calleth for thee.

29 As soone as she heard that, she ariseth quickly, and commeth vnto him.

30 Iesus was not yet come into the towne: but was in that place where Martha met him.

31 The Iewes then which were with her in the house, and comforted her, when they sawe Mary that she rose vp hastily, and went out, followed her, saying, Shee goeth vnto the graue, to weepe there.

32 Then when Mary was come where Iesus was, and sawe him, she fel downe at his feete, saying vnto him, Lord, if thou haddest bene here, my brother had not bene dead.

33 When Iesus therefore sawe her weeping, and the Iewes also weeping which came with her, he groned [b] in the spirite, and was troubled b For compassion, feeling in himselfe our miseries.

troubled in himselfe, 34 And said, Where haue ye laide him? They say vnto him, Lord, come, and see.
35 Iesus wept.
36 Then said the Iewes, Beholde howe he loued him.
37 And some of them saide, Coulde not this man, *which opened the eyes of the blinde, haue caused that this man also shoulde not haue died?
38 Iesus therefore againe groning in himselfe, commeth to the graue: It was a caue, and a stone laide on it.
39 Iesus saide, Take ye away the stone. Martha, the sister of him that was dead, saieth vnto him, Lord, by this time he stinketh: for he hath bene dead foure dayes.
40 Iesus sayth vnto her, Said I not vnto thee, that if thou wouldest beleeue, thou shouldest see the glory of God?
41 Then they tooke away the stone from the place where the dead was laide. And Iesus lift vp his eyes, and saide, Father, I thanke thee that thou hast heard me.
42 Howbeit, I knowe that thou hearest me alwayes: but because of the people which stand by, I said it, that they may beleeue that thou hast sent me.
43 And when he thus had spoken, he cried with a loude voyce, Lazarus, come forth.
44 And he that was dead, came foorth, bound hand and foote with graue clothes: & his face was bound about with a napkin. Iesus sayth vnto them, Loose him, and let him goe.
45 Then many of the Iewes which came to Marie, and had seene the things which Iesus did, beleeued on him.
46 But some of them went their wayes to the Pharisees, and tolde them what Iesus had done.
47 Then gathered the high Priestes and the Pharisees a counsell, and said, What do we? for this man doeth many myracles.
48 If we let him scape thus, all men will beleeue on him, & the Romanes [c] shal come, and take away both our roome, and the people.
49 And one of them, named Caiaphas, being the high Priest that same yeere, saide vnto them, Ye perceiue nothing at all,
50 *Nor consider that it is expedient for vs, that one man shoulde die for the people, and not that all the nation perish.
51 This spake he not of himselfe: but being high Priest that same yeere, he prophecied that Iesus should die for that nation:
52 And not for that nation onely, but that also he should gather together in one the children of God that were scattered abroade.
53 Then from that day forth, they tooke counsell together for to put him to death.
54 Iesus therefore walked no more openly among the Iewes: but went his way thence vnto a countrey nigh to a wildernesse, into a citie which is called Ephraim, and there continued with his disciples.
55 And the Iewes Easter was nigh at hand, and many went out of the countrey vp to Hierusalem before the Easter, to purifie themselues.
56 Then sought they for Iesus, and spake among themselues, as they stoode in the temple, What thinke ye, seeing he commeth not to the feast day?

3 Then tooke Marie a pound of oyntment, of Spikenarde, very costly, and anointed Iesus feete, and wyped his feete cleane with her heare: and the house was filled with the odour of the oyntment.
4 Then saieth one of his disciples, Iudas Iscariot, Simons sonne, which shoulde betray him,
5 Why was not this oyntment solde for three hundred pence, and giuen to the poore?
6 *This he said, not that he cared for ỳ poore: but because he was a theefe, & had the [a] bagge, and bare that which was giuen.
7 Then said Iesus, Let her alone, against the day of my burying hath she kept this.
8 For the poore alwayes ye haue with you: but me haue ye not alwayes.
9 Much people of the Iewes therefore had knowledge that hee was there: and they came, not for Iesus sake onely, but that they might see Lazarus also, whom he raised from death.
10 But the high Priestes helde a counsell, that they might put Lazarus to death also,
11 Because ỳ for his sake many of the Iewes went away, and beleeued on Iesus.

2 ‖And when it was nowe supper (after that the deuill had put in the heart of Judas Iscariot Simons [sonne] to betray him)
3 Jesus knowing that the father had giuen al things into his hands, and that he was come from God, and went to God:
4 He riseth from supper, and layeth aside his vpper garmentes: and when he had taken a towel, he girded himselfe.
5 After that, he powreth water into a bason, and began to wash the disciples feete, and to wipe them cleane with the towel wherewith he was girded.
6 Then commeth he to Simon Peter: and Peter sayth vnto him, Lorde, doest thou wash my feete?
7 Jesus answered, and saide vnto him, What I doe, thou wotest not nowe: but thou shalt knowe hereafter.
8 Peter sayeth vnto him, Thou shalt neuer wash my feete. Jesus answered him, If I wash thee not, thou hast no part with me.
9 Simon Peter saieth vnto him, Lorde, not my feete onely, but also my handes, and my head.
10 Jesus sayth to him, He that is washed, needeth not saue to wash his feete, but is cleane euery whit: And ye are cleane, but not all.
11 For he knewe who it was that shoulde betray him: therefore saide he, Ye are not all cleane.
12 So after he had washed their feete, and receiued his clothes, & was set downe againe, he saide vnto them, Wote ye what I haue done to you?
13 Ye call me Master and Lorde, and ye say wel: for so am I.
14 If I then your Lorde and Master haue washed your feete, ye also ought to wash one anothers feete.
15 For I haue giuen you an ensample, that ye should doe as I haue done to you.
John 15.20. mark.10.24. luke 6.40. 16 *Verily, verily I say vnto you, the seruant is not greater then his master, neither the messenger greater then he that sent him.
17 If ye knowe these things, happie are ye if ye doe them.
18 I speake not of you all, I knowe whom I haue chosen: but that the scripture may be fulfilled, *He that eateth bread with me, hath lift vp his [a] heele against me.
Psal.41.10.
[a] Vnder pretence of friendship, seeketh his destruction.
19 Nowe tell I you before it come, that when it is come to passe, ye might beleeue that I am he.
Matth.10.40. luke 10.16. 20 *Verily, verily I say vnto you, he that receiueth whomsoeuer I sende, receiueth me: and he that receiueth me, receiueth him that sent me.
Matth.26.21. mark.14.18. luke 22.21. 21 *When Jesus had thus saide, he was troubled in spirit, and testified, and saide, Verily, verily I say vnto you, that one of you shall betray me.
22 Then the disciples looked one on another, doubting of whom he spake.
23 There was one of Jesus disciples leaning on Jesus bosome, [euen he] whom Jesus loued.
24 To him beckened Simon Peter therefore, that he should aske who it should be of whom he spake.
25 He then, when he leaned on Jesus breast, said vnto him, Lord, who is it?
26 Jesus answered, He it is to whom I shall giue a sop, when I haue dipped it. And when he had dipped the sop, he gaue it to Judas Iscariot [the sonne] of Simon.
27 And after ‖the sop, Satan entred into him. Then said Jesus vnto him, That thou doest, doe quickly. ‖he had taken.
28 That wist no man at the table, for what intent he spake vnto him.
29 Some of them thought, because Judas had the bagge, that Jesus had said vnto him, Buy those things that we haue neede of against the feast: or that he shoulde giue some thing to the poore.
30 As soone then as he had receiued the sop, he went immediatly out: and it was night.
31 Therefore, when he was gone out, Jesus said, Now is the sonne of man glorified: and God is glorified in him.
32 If God be glorified in him, God shall also glorifie him in himselfe, & shall straightway glorifie him.
33 Litle children, yet a litle while am I with you. *Ye shall seeke me: and as I saide vnto the Jewes, Whither I goe, [thither] can ye not come: to you also say I now, Iohn 7.34.
34 *A new commandement giue I vnto you, That ye loue together, as I haue loued you, that euen so ye loue one another. Iohn 15.18. leuit.19.18.
35 By this shall all men knowe that ye are my disciples, if ye haue loue one to another.
36 *Simon Peter said vnto him, Lorde, whither goest thou? Jesus answered him, Whither I goe, thou canst not folow me now: but thou shalt folow me afterwardes. Matth.26.24. mark 24.30. luke 22.34.
37 Peter said vnto him, Lorde, why can not I follow thee now? I will ieoparde my life for thy sake.
38 Jesus answered him, Wilt thou ieoparde thy life for my sake? Verily, verily I say vnto thee, the Cocke shall not crowe, till thou haue denied me thrise.

The xiiii. Chapter.

He armeth his disciples with consolation against trouble.

1 [And he saide vnto his disciples,] Let not your heart be troubled: ye beleeue in God, beleeue also in me. The Gospell on Saint Philip and Iames day.
2 In my fathers house are many dwelling places: if it were not so, I wold haue told you:

you: I goe to prepare a place for you.
3 And if I goe and prepare a place for you, I will come againe, and receiue you [euen] vnto my selfe, that where I am, there may ye be also.
4 And whither I goe, ye knowe, and the way ye knowe.
5 Thomas saieth vnto him, Lorde, we knowe not whither thou goest: and howe can we knowe the way?
6 Iesus saieth vnto him, I am the way, and the trueth, and the life: No man commeth vnto the father, but by me.
7 If ye had knowen me, ye should haue knowē my father also: and nowe ye knowe him, and haue seene him.
8 Philip saieth vnto him, Lord, shewe vs the father, and it sufficeth vs.
9 Iesus saieth vnto him, Haue I bene so long time with you, and yet hast thou not knowen me? Philip, he that hath seene me, hath seene the father: and how sayest thou then, Shewe vs the father?
10 Beleeuest thou not that I am in the father, and the father in mee? The wordes that I speake vnto you, I speake not of my selfe: but the father that dwelleth in me, is he that doth the workes.
11 Beleeue me that I am in the father, and the father in me: or els beleeue me for ỹ workes sake.
12 Verily, verily I say vnto you, he that beleeueth on mee, the workes that I doe, the same shall he doe also, and greater workes then these shall he doe, because I goe vnto the father.
Matth. 7. 7. mark. 11. 24. iames 1. 5.
13 *And whatsoeuer ye shal aske in my name, that will I doe, that the father may be glorified in the sonne.
14 If ye shall aske any thing in my name, I will doe it.
The Gospell on Whitsunday.
15 If ye loue me, keepe my commandementes,
16 And I will pray the father, and he shal giue you another comforter, that he may bide with you for euer,
17 [Euen] the spirit of trueth, whom ỹ world cannot receiue, because the worlde seeth him not, neither knoweth him: but ye knowe him, for he dwelleth with you, and shalbe in you.
18 I will not leaue you comfortlesse, I come to you.
19 Yet a little while, and the worlde seeth mee no more: but ye see me, because I liue, and ye shall liue [also.]
20 That day shall ye knowe, that I am in my father, and you in me, and I in you.
21 He that hath my commandements, and keepeth them, the same is he that loueth me: and he that loueth me, shalbe loued of my father, and I will loue him, and will shewe mine owne selfe to him.
22 Iudas sayth vnto him, not [Iudas] Iscariot, Lorde, what is done, that thou wilt shewe thy selfe vnto vs, and not vnto the world?
23 Iesus answered, & said vnto him, If a man loue me, he will keepe my sayings: & my father will loue him, and we will come vnto him, and make our dwelling with him.
24 He that loueth me not, keepeth not my sayings, and the worde which ye heare, is not mine, but the fathers which sent me.
25 These things haue I spoken vnto you, being yet present with you.
26 But the comforter [which is] ỹ holy Ghost, whom the father will sende in my name, he shall teach you al things, and bring al things to your remembrance, whatsoeuer I haue saide vnto you.
27 Peace I leaue with you, my peace I giue vnto you: not as the world giueth, giue I vnto you: let not your heart be troubled, neither let it feare.
28 Ye haue heard howe I saide vnto you, I goe away, and come againe vnto you. If ye loue me, ye would verily reioyce, because I said, I goe vnto the father: for the father is greater then I.
29 And now haue I shewed you before it come to passe, that when it is come to passe, ye might beleeue.
30 Hereafter will I not talke many wordes vnto you: for the [a] prince of this worlde commeth, and hath nought in [b] me.
a Satan is the prince of the world, because he exerciseth tyrannie in this world, & worldlings are subiect vnto him.
b Because Christ was without sin.
31 But that the world may knowe that I loue the father: and as the father gaue me commandement, euen so doe I: Rise, let vs goe hence.

The xv. Chapter.

5 The consolation betweene Christ and his members, vnder the parable of the vine.

1 I Am the true vine, and my father is the husbandman.
The Gospell on S. Markes day. Matth. 15. 13.
2 Euery *branch that beareth not fruite in me, he taketh away: and euery branche ỹ beareth fruite, he purgeth, that it may bring forth more fruite.
3 *Now are ye cleane through ỹ word which I haue spoken vnto you. Iohn 13. 11.
4 Bide in me, and I in you: As the branch can not beare fruit of it selfe, except it bide in the vine: no more can ye, except ye [a] abide in me.
a Those bring forth no fruite, that are not graft in Christ.
5 I am the vine, ye are the branches: He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruite: For without me can ye doe nothing.
6 If a man bide not in mee, he is cast foorth as a branch, and withereth, and men gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they burne.
7 If ye bide in mee, and my wordes abide in you, ye shall aske what ye will, and it shalbe done done for you.

8 Herein is my father glorified, that ye beare much fruite, and become my disciples.

9 As the father hath loued me, [euen] so haue I loued you: continue you in my [b] loue.

b That is, the loue wherewith Christ loued vs.

10 If ye keepe my commandements, ye shall abyde in my loue, euen as I haue kept my fathers commandementes, and abide in his loue.

11 These things haue I spoken vnto you, that my ioy might remaine in you, and that your ioy might be full.

The Gospell on S. Barnabe Apostle. Iohn.13.34. 1.iohn 3.11. 1.thess.4.9.

12 *This is my commandement, that ye loue together, as I haue loued you.

13 Greater loue hath no man then this, that a man bestowe his life for his friendes.

14 Ye are my friendes, if ye doe whatsoeuer I command you.

15 Henceforth call I not you seruants, for the seruant knoweth not what his lorde doeth, but you haue I called friendes: for al [c] things that I haue heard of my father, haue I made knowen vnto you.

c Do that there is nothing omitted that is necessary for our saluation. Matth.28.19.

16 *Ye haue not chosen me, but I haue chosen you, and ordeined you, that you should go and bring forth fruite, and that your fruite should remaine: that whatsoeuer ye shall aske of the father in my name, he may giue it you.

The Gospell on S. Simon and Iudes day.

17 This commande I you, that ye loue together.

18 If the world hate you, ye knowe that it hated me before it hated you.

19 If ye were of the world, the world would loue his owne: howbeit, because ye are not of the world, but I haue chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you.

Iohn 13.16. mat.10.24.

20 *Remember the word that I said vnto you, The seruant is not greater then the lord: if they haue persecuted me, they will also persecute you: if they haue kept my saying, they will keepe [d] yours also.

d It is called their worde, not that it doth disagree from Gods word, but because they preach it, 2. Cor.in.4.

21 But all these things will they doe vnto you for my names sake, because they haue not knowen him that sent me.

22 If I had not come, and spoken vnto them, they should haue had no sinne: but now haue they nothing to cloke their sinne withall.

23 He that hateth me, hateth my father also.

24 If I had not done among them the workes which none other man did, they should haue had no [e] sinne: but now haue they both seene, and hated both me and my father.

e They are without excuse that follow not the word of God preached vnto them. Psal.35.19.

25 But [this commeth to passe,] that the word might be fulfilled that is written in their law, *They hated me without a cause.

The Gospell on the sunday after Ascension day. Iohn.14.26. Luke 24.49.

26 But when the comforter is come, *whom I will send vnto you from the father, euen the spirit of trueth, which proceedeth of the father, he shall testifie of me.

27 And ye shall beare witnesse also, because ye haue bene with me from the beginning.

The xvi. Chapter.

Of the holy Ghost, and of his office. 17 Of Christs ascension. 23 To aske in the name of Christ.

1 THese things haue I said vnto you, because ye should not be offended.

2 They shall put you out of their synagogue: yea, the time commeth, that whosoeuer killeth you, will thinke that hee doeth God seruice.

3 And such things will they doe vnto you: because they haue not knowen the father, neither yet me.

4 But these things haue I told you, that when the time shall come, ye may remember then that I told you: These things said I not vnto you at the beginning, because I was present with you. The Gospell on the iiii. sunday after Easter.

5 But nowe I goe my way to him that sent me, and none of you asketh me, Whither goest thou?

6 But because I haue said such things vnto you, sorow hath filled your hearts.

7 Neuertheless I tell you the trueth, it is expedient for you that I goe away: For if I goe not away, that Comforter wil not come vnto you: but if I depart, I will sende him vnto you.

8 And when he is come, hee will ‖ rebuke the worlde of sinne, and of righteousnesse, and of iudgement. ‖ Or, convince.

9 Of sinne, because they beleeued not on me.

10 Of righteousnesse, because [a] I goe to my father, and ye see me no more.

a That when the world shall see after his ascension the power of his spirit, shedde vpon the apostles by him, they shalbe compelled in conscience to confesse that he was iust, and that he was not condemned of God for a blasphemer, (as they had iudged) but approoued and receiued, Actes 2.27.

11 Of iudgement, because the prince of this world is iudged [already.]

12 I haue yet many things to say vnto you, but ye cannot beare them away now.

13 Howbeit, when he is come [which is] the spirit of trueth, he will leade you into al truth. He shall not speake of himselfe: but whatsoeuer he shall heare, that shall he speake: and he will shewe you things to come.

14 He shall glorifie me, for he shall receiue of mine, and shall shewe vnto you.

15 All things that the father hath, are mine: therefore said I [vnto you,] that he taketh of mine, and shall shewe vnto you.

16 After a while, and ye shall not see me: and againe after a while, and ye shall see me: for I goe to the father. The Gospell on the third sunday after Easter.

17 Then said [some] of his disciples betweene themselues, What is this that he saieth vnto vs, After a while, and ye shall not see me, and againe, After a while, and ye shall see mee, and, That I goe to the father?

18 They said therefore, What is this that he saieth, After a while? we cannot tell what he saieth.

19 Iesus perceiued that they would aske him, and said vnto them, Doe ye enquire among your selues of that I said, After a while, while, and ye shal not see me: and againe, After a while, and ye shall see me:

20 Verily, verily I say vnto you, that ye shall weepe and lament, the world shall reioyce: ye shall sorrowe, but your sorrowe shalbe turned to ioy.

21 A woman, when she trauaileth, hath sorowe, because her houre is come: but as soone as she is deliuered of the childe, she remembreth no more the anguish, for ioy that a man is borne into the world.

22 And ye nowe therefore haue sorowe: but I will see you [b] againe, and your hearetes shall reioyce, and your ioy no man taketh from you.

b By the power of the holy spirit, which I will sende to you, whereby your hearetes shalbe comforted. The Gospell on the fifth sunday after Easter. March. 7. 7.

23 And in that day shall ye aske me no question: *Verily, verily I say vnto you, Whatsoeuer ye shall aske the father in my name, he will giue it you.

24 Hitherto haue ye asked [c] nothing in my name: aske, and ye shall receiue, that your ioy may be full.

c That is, nothing without me, or without my name: for whatsoeuer we aske the father in my name, that shall we receiue, if it be profitable for vs. Wherefore all prayer, without the name of Christ, is vnprofitable.

25 These things haue I spoken vnto you by prouerbes: the time commeth when I shall no more speake vnto you by prouerbes, but I shall shew you plainely of my father.

26 At that day shall ye aske in my name: and I say not vnto you that I will pray vnto my father for you:

27 For the father himselfe loueth you, because ye haue loued me, and haue beleeued that I came out from God.

28 I went out from the father, and came into the world: againe, I leaue the world, and goe to the father.

29 His disciples say vnto him, Loe, now talkest thou plainely, and speakest no prouerbe.

30 Nowe are we sure that thou knowest all things, and needest not that any man should aske thee [any question:] therefore beleeue we that thou camest from God.

31 Iesus answered them, Doe ye nowe beleeue?

32 *Beholde, the houre draweth nigh, and is alreadie come, that ye shalbe scattered, euery man to his owne, and shall leaue me alone: and yet am I not alone, for the father is with me.

33 These wordes haue I spoken vnto you, that in me ye might haue peace, for in the worlde ye haue tribulation: but be of good cheare, I haue ouercome the world.

The xvii. Chapter.

Christ prayeth to his father, that their glorie might be made manifest.

1 THese wordes spake Iesus, and lift vp his eyes to heauen, and saide, Father, the houre is come, glorifie thy sonne, that thy sonne also may glorifie thee:

2 *As thou hast giuen him power ouer all flesh, that he shoulde giue eternall life to as many as thou hast giuen him.

3 This is the life eternall, that they might knowe thee the onely true God, and Iesus Christ whom thou hast sent.

4 I haue glorified thee on the earth: I haue finished the worke which thou gauest me to doe.

5 And nowe glorifie thou me, O father, with thine owne selfe, with the glory which I had with thee per the world was.

6 I haue declared thy name vnto the men [a] which thou gauest me out of the world: thine they were, and thou gauest them me, and they haue kept thy word.

a That is, to the Apostles.

7 *Nowe they haue knowen that all things whatsoeuer thou hast giuen me, are of thee:

8 For I haue giuen vnto them the wordes which thou gauest me, and they haue receiued them, and haue knowen surely that I came out from thee, and they haue beleeued that thou diddest send me.

9 I pray for them, I pray not for the [b] world: but for them which thou hast giuen me, for they are thine.

b That is, the reprobate, that seeke the world, & not Christ.

10 And all mine, are thine, and thine, are mine: and I am glorified in them.

11 And nowe am I not in the world, and they are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy father, keepe through thine owne name them, which thou hast giuen me, that they may also be [c] one, as we are.

c That they may be ioyned together in loue, & vnite of loue, faith, and spirit.

12 While I was with them in the worlde, I kept them in thy name: those that thou gauest me, haue I kept, and none of them is lost, but that [d] lost childe: *that the scripture might be fulfilled.

d That is, Iudas Iscariot. Psal. 109. 8.

13 Now come I to thee, & these wordes speake I in the world, that they might haue my ioy fulfilled in themselues.

14 I haue giuen them thy worde, and the world hath hated them, because they are not of the worlde, euen as I also am not of the world.

15 I pray not that thou shouldest take them out of the worlde, but that thou shouldest keepe them from the euill.

16 They are not of the world, as I also am not of the world.

17 Sanctifie them through thy trueth: thy word is the trueth.

18 As thou diddest send me into the world: euen so haue I also sent them into the world.

19 And for their sakes sanctifie I my selfe, that they also might be sanctified through the trueth.

20 [Neuertheless,] I pray not for them alone: but for them also which shall beleeue on me through their preaching:

21 That they all may be one, as thou father art in me, and I in thee, and that they also may be one in vs: that the world may beleeue that

Matth. 26. 31. mark. 14. 27.

Matth. 28. 18.

that thou hast sent me.
22 And the glory which thou gauest me, I haue giuen them: that they also may be one, as we also are one.
23 I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one, and that the worlde may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loued them, as thou hast loued me.
Iohn.12.16. 24 * Father, I will that they which thou hast giuen mee, be [c] with me where I am, that they may see my glory which thou hast giuen me: for thou louedst me before the foundation of the world.
c That is, after they haue fulfilled their course in this life, they may enioy eternall life.
25 O righteous father, the world also hath not knowen thee: but I haue knowen thee, and these haue knowen that thou hast sent me.
26 And I haue declared vnto them thy name, and will declare it: that the loue wherewith thou hast loued me, may be in them, and I in them.

The xviii. Chapter.

3 Christ is betrayed by Iudas. 40 The Iewes aske Barabbas to be let loose.

The Gospell on good Friday. Matth.26.36. mark.14.32. luke22.39.
1 WHē Iesus had spokē these words, * he went forth with his disciples ouer the brooke Cedron, where was a garden, into the which he entred and his disciples.
2 Iudas also which betrayed him, knewe the place: for Iesus oft times resorted thither with his disciples.
Matth.26.47. mark.14.43. luke22.47.
3 * Iudas then, after he had receiued a band of men, and officers of the high priestes and Pharisees, commeth thither with lanternes, and torches, and weapons.
4 And Iesus knowing all things that should come on him, went forth, and said vnto them, Whom seeke ye?
5 They answered him, Iesus of Nazareth. Iesus sayth vnto them, I am [he.] Iudas also which betrayed him, stoode with them.
6. As soone then as he had saide vnto them, I am he, they went backward, and fell to the ground.
7 Then asked he them againe, Whom seeke ye? They said, Iesus of Nazareth.
8 Iesus answered, I haue told you that I am [he:] If ye seeke me therefore, [a] let these goe their way.
a The Apostles and disciples that are with me.
9 That the saying might be fulfilled which he spake, * Of them which thou gauest me, haue I not lost one.
Iohn 17.12.
10 Then Simon Peter hauing a sword, drew it, and smote the high priests seruant, and cut off his right eare: The seruantes name was Malchus.
11 Therefore saide Iesus vnto Peter, Put vp thy sworde into the sheath: Shall I not drinke of the cuppe which my father hath giuen me?
12 Then the companie, and the captaine, and officers of the Iewes, tooke Iesus, and bound him,
13 * And led him away to Annas first, (for he was father in lawe vnto Caiaphas) which was the high priest that same yeere. [And Annas sent Christ bound vnto Caiaphas the high priest.] Luke 3.2.
14 * Caiaphas was he which gaue counsell to the Iewes, that it was expedient that one man should die for the people. Iohn 11.50.
15 * And Simon Peter followed Iesus, and so did another [b] disciple: That disciple was knowen vnto the high priest, & went in with Iesus into the palace of the high priest. Matth.26.58. b That is, Iohn.
16 But Peter stoode at the doore without. Thē went out that other disciple, which was knowen vnto the high priest, and spake vnto the Damosell that kept the doore, & brought in Peter.
17 Then sayth the damosel that kept the doore vnto Peter, Art not thou also one of this mans disciples? He sayth, I am not.
18 The seruants & officers stoode there, which had made a fire of coales (for it was cold) and they warmed themselues: Peter also was standing among them, warming him.
19 The high priest then asked Iesus of his disciples, and of his doctrine.
20 Iesus answered him, I spake openly to the world, I euer taught in the synagogue, and in the temple, whither all the Iewes resort, and in secrete haue I said nothing:
21 Why askest thou mee? Aske them which heard me what I haue saide vnto them: behold, they can tell what I said.
22 When he had thus spoken, one of the officers which stoode by, smote Iesus [with a rodde,] saying, Answerest thou the high priest so?
23 Iesus answered him, If I haue euill spoken, beare witnesse of the euill: but if I haue well spoken, why smitest thou me?
24 * Nowe Annas had sent him bounde vnto Caiaphas the high priest. Matth.26.57.
25 Simon Peter was standing, and warming himselfe: * Then said they vnto him, Art not thou also one of his disciples? He denyed it, and said, I am not. Matth.26.69.
26 One of the seruantes of the high priestes (his cousin whose eare Peter smote off) sayth vnto him, Did not I see thee in the garden with him?
27 Peter therefore denied againe, and immediately the cocke crewe.
28 * Then led they Iesus from Caiaphas, into the hall of iudgement: It was in ỹ morning, & they themselues went not into the iudgement hall, least they shoulde be defiled: * but that they might eate the Passeouer. Matth.27.2. mark.15.1. luke 23.1. Acts 10.28.
29 Pilate then went out vnto them, and saide, What accusatiō bring you against this mā?
30 They

30 They answered and saide vnto him, If he were not an euil doer, we would not haue deliuered him vnto thee.

31 Then said Pilate vnto them, Take ye him, and iudge him after your owne lawe. The Iewes therefore saide vnto him, It is not lawfull [c] for vs to kill any man.

c Because the Romanes had taken that authoritie from them. Matth. 27. 19.

32 * That the wordes of Iesus might be fulfilled, which he spake, signifying what death he should die.

Matth. 27. 11.

33 * Then Pilate entred into the iudgement hall againe, and called Iesus, and saide vnto him, Art thou the king of the Iewes?

34 Iesus answered him, Sayest thou this thing of thy selfe? or did other tell it thee of me?

35 Pilate answered, Am I a Iewe? Thine owne nation and high priestes haue deliuered thee vnto me: what hast thou done?

36 Iesus answered, My kingdome is not of this worlde: if my kingdome were of this world, then would my seruants surely fight, that I should not be deliuered to the Iewes: but now is my kingdome not from hence.

37 Pilate therefore saide vnto him, Art thou a king then? Iesus answered, Thou sayest that I am a king: For this cause am I borne, and for this cause came I into the worlde, that I should beare witnesse vnto the trueth: and all that are of the trueth heare my voyce.

38 Pilate saieth vnto him, What is trueth? And when he had saide this, he went out againe vnto the Iewes, and saieth vnto them, I finde in him no fault at all.

Acts 3. 14.

40 * Then cried they all againe, saying, Not him, but Barabbas. This Barabbas was a robber.

The xix. Chapter.

1 Christ is whipped, beaten, and crowned. 11 All power is of God.

1 THen Pilate tooke Iesus therefore, and scourged him.

Matth. 27. 26. mark. 15. 18.

2 * And the souldiers, when they had wound a crowne of thornes, they did put it on his head, and they did cast about him a purple garment,

3 And saide, Haile king of the Iewes: and strooke him with roddes.

4 Pilate went forth againe, and saide vnto them, Behold, I bring him forth to you, that ye may know that I finde no fault in him.

5 Then came Iesus forth, wearing ỹ crowne of thorne, and the robe of purple: and [Pilate] saieth vnto them, Behold the man.

6 When the high priestes therefore and officers sawe him, they cryed, saying, Crucifie him, crucifie him. Pilate saieth vnto them, Take ye him, and crucifie him: for I finde no fault in him.

7 The Iewes answered him, We haue a law, and by our lawe he ought to die: because he made himselfe the sonne of God.

8 When Pilate heard that saying, he was the more afraide,

9 And went againe into the iudgement hall, and sayth vnto Iesus, Whence art thou? But Iesus gaue him no answere.

10 Then saieth Pilate vnto him, Speakest thou not vnto me? Knowest thou not that I haue power to crucifie thee, and haue power to loose thee?

11 Iesus answered, Thou couldest haue no power at all against me, except it were giuen thee from aboue: therefore he that deliuered me vnto thee, hath the more sinne.

12 And from thencefoorth sought Pilate [meanes] to loose him: but the Iewes cryed, saying, If thou let him go, thou art not Caesars friend: For whosoeuer maketh himselfe a king, speaketh against Caesar.

13 When Pilate heard ỹ saying, he brought Iesus forth, and he sate downe in the iudgement seate, in a place that is called the pauement, but in the Hebrue tongue, Gabbatha.

14 It was the preparing of the Passeouer, and about the sixth houre: and he sayth vnto the Iewes, Behold your king.

15 They cryed, Away with him, away with him, crucifie him. Pilate sayth vnto them, Shal I crucifie your king? The high priests answered, We haue no king but Caesar.

16 * Then deliuered hee him therefore vnto them to be crucified: and they tooke Iesus, and led him away.

Matth. 27. 31. mark. 15. 21. luke 23. 26.

17 And [he] bearing his crosse, went forth into a place which is called the place of a skul, but in the Hebrue, Golgotha:

18 Where they crucified him, and two other with him, on either side one, & Iesus in the mids.

19 And Pilate wrote a title, and put it on the crosse. The writing was, IESVS OF NAZARETH, THE KING OF THE IEWES.

20 This title read many of the Iewes: for the place where Iesus was crucified, was nigh to the citie: and it was written in Hebrue, and Greeke, and Latine.

21 Then said the high priestes of the Iewes to Pilate, Write not the king of the Iewes: but that he said, I am king of the Iewes.

22 Pilate answered, What I haue written, that haue I written.

23 * Then the souldiers, when they had crucified Iesus, tooke his garments, (and made foure partes, to euery souldier a part) and also his coate: the coate was without seame, wouen from the toppe throughout.

Matth. 27. 35. mark. 15. 14. luke 23. 33.

24 They said therefore among themselues, Let vs not diuide it, but cast lottes for it, whose it shalbe: that the scripture might be fulfilled, saying,

Psalm.22.18 saying, *They parted my rayment among them, and for my coate did they cast lots. And the souldiers did such things in deede.

25 There stoode by the crosse of Jesus, his mother, and his mothers sister, Mary [the wife] of Cleophas, and Marie Magdalene.

26 When Jesus therefore saw his mother and the disciple standing by, whom he [a] loued, he sayeth vnto his mother, Woman, behold thy sonne.

a That is, John.

27 Then sayth hee to the disciple, Beholde thy mother. And frō that houre the disciple tooke her vnto his owne [house.]

28 After these things, Jesus knowing that all things were nowe perfourmed, * that the Scripture might be fulfilled, he saith, I thirst.

Psalm.69.22.

29 So there stoode a vessell by, full of vineger: Therefore whē they had filled a spunge with vineger, and put it vpon hysope, they offered it to his mouth.

30 When Jesus therefore had receiued the vineger, he sayd, It is [b] finished, & when he had bowed his head, he gaue vp the ghost.

b The mysterye of mans redemption and salmation, is perfected by the onely sacrifice of Christ, the promise to the fathers fulfilled, the ceremonies of the lawe ended.

31 The Jewes therefore, because it was the preparing [of the Sabboth,] that the bodies shoulde not remayne vpon the crosse on the Sabboth day (for that Sabboth day was an high day) besought Pilate that their legges might be broken, and that they might bee taken downe.

c Because they were not yet dead, for that was their custome.

32 Then came the souldiers, and [c] brake the legges of the first, and of the other which was crucified with him.

33 But when they came to Jesus, and sawe that he was dead alreadie, they brake not his legges.

34 But one of ỳ souldiers with a speare thrust him into the side, and forthwith came there out blood and water.

35 And he that sawe it, bare recorde, and his recorde is true, and hee knoweth that he sayeth true, that ye might beleeue also.

36 For these things were done that the Scripture should be fulfilled, * A bone of him shall not be broken.

Num.9.12. exod. 12.46.

Zach.12.10.

37 And againe another scripture sayth, * They shall looke on him whom they pearsed.

Matth.27.57. mark.15.42. luk.23.50.

38 * After this, Joseph of Arimathea (being a disciple of Jesus, but secretly for feare of the Jewes,) besought Pilate that he might take downe the body of Jesus, and Pilate gaue him licence: he came therefore, and tooke the body of Jesus.

39 And there came also Nicodemus, which at the beginning came to Jesus by night, and brought of myrhe and aloes mingled together, about an hundred pound [waight.]

40 Then tooke they the body of Jesus, and wound it in linnen clothes, with the odours, as the maner of the Jewes is to bury.

41 And in the place where hee was crucified there was a garden, and in the garden a newe sepulchre, wherein was neuer man yet layde.

42 There layde they Jesus therefore, because of the preparing [of ỳ Sabboth] of ỳ Jewes, for the sepulchre was nigh at hand.

The xxi. Chapter.

Christ foretelleth Peter of his death and persecution.

1 AFterwarde did Jesus shewe him selfe againe to his disciples at ỹ sea of Tiberias, and on this wise shewed he him selfe.

2 There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas, which is called Didymus, and Nathanael of Cana in Galilee, and the sonnes of Zebedee, and two other of his disciples.

3 Simon Peter sayth vnto them, I goe a fishing. They say vnto him, We also goe with thee. They went their way, and entred into a ship immediately, and that night caught they nothing.

4 But when the morning was nowe come, Jesus stoode on the shore: neuertheless, the disciples knewe not that it was Jesus.

5 Jesus saith vnto them, ‖ Children, haue ye any meate? They answered him, No.

‖Or, Syrs.

6 And he sayth vnto them, Cast out the net on the right side of the shippe, and ye shall finde. They cast out therefore, and anone they were not able to drawe it for the multitude of fishes.

7 Then sayd the disciple whom Jesus loued, vnto Peter, It is the Lorde. When Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he gird his coate vnto him (for hee was naked) and did cast himselfe into the sea.

8 The other disciples came in a litle shippe, (for they were not farre from lande, but as it were two hundred cubites) drawing the net with fishes.

9 As soone then as they were come to lande, they sawe hote coales, and fish layde thereon, and bread.

10 Jesus sayeth vnto them, Bring of the fish, which ye haue nowe caught.

11 Simon Peter went vp, & drewe the net to the land ful of great fishes, an hundred & fifty and three, and for all there were so many, yet was not the net broken.

12 Jesus sayth vnto them, Come, and dine. And none of the disciples durst aske him, Who art thou? knowing that it was the Lord.

13 Jesus then commeth, and taketh bread, and giueth them, and fish likewise.

14 This is nowe the third time that Jesus appeared to his disciples, after that hee was risen from death.

15 So when they had dined, Jesus saith to Simon Peter, Simon ‖ Joanna, louest thou me more thē these? He saith vnto him, Yea Lord, thou knowest that I loue thee. He saith vnto him, Feede my lambes.

7 And he saide vnto them, It is not for you to knowe the times or the seasons, which the father hath put in his owne power.

Actes 2.1. 8 * But yee shall receiue power after that the holy ghost is come vpon you, and ye shall bee witnesses vnto mee, both in Hierusalem, and in all Jurie, and in Samaria, and euen vnto the worldes ende.

10 And while they looked vp stedfastly toward heauen, as he went, behold, two men stood by them in white apparell, 11 Which also sayde, Yee men of Galilee, why stande ye gazing vp into heauen? This same Jesus which is taken vp from you into heauen, shall so come, euen as yee haue seene him go into heauen.

12 Then returned they vnto Hierusalem, from the mount that is called Oliuet, which is frō Hierusalem a Sabboth dayes iourney.

13 And when they were come in, they went vp into a parlour, where abode both Peter, and James, and John, and Andrewe, Philip, and Thomas, Bartholomewe, and Matthewe, James [the sonne] of Alpheus, and Simon Zelotes, and Judas [the brother] of James.

14 These all cōtinued with one accord in prayer and supplicatiō with the women, & Marie the mother of Jesus, and with his brethren.

1 AND when the day of Pentecost was fully come, they were all with one accord in one place.

Actes 11.15.

2 *And sudainely there came a sounde from heauen, as it had bene the comming of a mightie winde, & it filled all the house where they were sitting.

3 And there appeared vnto thē clouē tongues, like as they had bene of fire, and [it] sate vpon eache of them.

a It is most like that the miracle was both in the speakers, and also in the hearers. In the speakers, for that they speaking the Hebrewe tongue, did well perceiue that strangers of diuers natiōs and languages did vnderstand them: And in the hearers, for that euery man heard sensibly his owne countrey language out of ỹ Apostles, speaking in their mother tongue.

4 And they were al filled with the holy ghost, and began to speake with other tongues, as the spirit gaue them vtterance.

5 There were dwelling at Hierusalē Jewes, deuoute men, out of euery nation of thē that are vnder heauen.

6 Whē this was noysed about, the multitude came together, & were astonied, because that euery man heard them speake in his owne language.

7 They wondred all, and maruelled, saying one to another, Behold, are not al these which speake, of Galilee?

8 And howe heare wee euery man his owne [a] tongue, wherein we were borne?

9 Parthians, and Medes, and Elamites, and the dwellers in Mesopotamia, and in Jurie, and in Capadocia, in Pontus, and Asia,

10 Phrygia, and Pamphylia, in Egypt, and in the parties of Lybia, which is beside Cyrene, and strangers of Rome, Jewes and [b] Proselites, b That is, such as were conuerted to the Jewes religiō, and whose auncetours were no Jewes.

11 Cretes, and Arabians, wee doe heare them speake in our tongues the wonderful workes of God.

12 They were all amazed, and were in a doute, saying one to another, What meaneth this?

13 Other mocking, sayd, These men are ful of newe wine.

14 But Peter standing forth with the eleuen, lift vp his voyce, and said vnto them, Ye men of Jurie, and all ye that dwell at Hierusalem, bee this knowen vnto you, and heare my words, 15 For these are not drunken, as yee suppose, seeing it is but the [c] third houre of the day.

16 But this is that which was spoken by the Prophet Joel,

17 *And it shalbe in the last dayes (saith God) of my spirite I will power out vpon all flesh: and your sonnes and your daughters shall prophecie, & your yong men shal see visions, and your olde men shall dreame dreames:

18 And on my seruants, & on my handmaidens, I will powre out of my spirit in those dayes, and they shall prophecie:

19 And I will shewe wonders in heauē aboue, and tokens in ỹ earth beneath, blood, and fire, and the vapour of smoke.

20 *The Sunne shalbe turned into darknes, and the Moone into blood, before that great and notable day of the Lord come. Ioel 2.31.

21 *And it shall come to passe, that whosoeuer shall call on the name of the Lord, shalbe saued. Rom.10.13.

22 Ye men of Israel, heare these words, Jesus of Nazareth, a man approued of God among you, with miracles, wonders, & signes, which God did by him in the middes of you, as yee your selues also knowe, 25 For Dauid speaketh of him, *I sawe the Lorde alwayes set forth before my face, for he is on my right hand, that I should not be moued. Psalm.16.8.

26 Therefore did my heart reioyce, and my tongue was glad: Moreouer also, my flesh shal rest in hope, d By fellowſhip is meant a godly companying together, in practiſing the workes of charitie, in tendering and helping one another, in diſpoſing by almes their goods to their needie neighbours. 44 And all that beleeued were together, & had all things common,

46 And they continuing dayly with one accord in the Temple, and breaking bread frõ houſe to houſe, did eate their meate together with gladneſſe of heart, 47 Praying God, & hauing fauour with al the people. And the Lorde added to the Church dayly ſuch as ſhould be ſaued.

The iii. Chapter.

7 The halt is reſtored to his feete. 12 Peter preached Chriſt vnto the people.

1 NOwe Peter and John went vp together into the Temple at the ninth houre of prayer.

2 And a certaine man that was lame frõ his mothers wombe was brought, whom they laide daily at ỹ gate of ỹ Temple which is called beautifull, to aſke almes of thẽ that entred into the Temple.

3 Which ſeeing Peter and John about to go into the Temple, aſked almes.

4 And Peter faſtening his eyes vpon him, with John, ſayd, Looke on vs.

5 And hee gaue heede vnto them, truſting to receiue ſomething of them.

6 Then ſayd Peter, Siluer and golde haue I none, but ſuch as I haue, giue I thee: In the name of Jeſus Chriſt of Nazareth riſe vp, & walke.

7 And he tooke him by the right hand, and lift him vp, and immediately his feete and ancle bones receiued ſtrength.

8 And he leaping vp, ſtoode, and walked, and entred with them into the Temple, walking, and leaping, and praying God.

9 And all the people ſaw him walking & praying God.

10 And they knewe him, that it was hee which ſate for the almes at the beautiful gate of the Temple: and they wondered, and were ſore aſtonied at that which had happened vnto him.

11 And as the lame which was healed held Peter & John, al the people ran together greatly amazed vnto them in the porch, that is called Solomons.

The iiii. Chapter.

7 The Apostles are brought before the counsell. 31 The Church encreaseth in doctrine, and exercises of all godlinesse.

1 AND as they spake vnto the people, the priests and the ‖ ruler of the Temple, and the Sadduces came vpon them,
2 Taking it grieuously ỹ they taught the people, and preached in Jesus the resurrection from the dead.
3 And they layde hands on them, and put thē in holde vnto the next day: for it was nowe euentide.
4 Howbeit, many of them which heard the worde, beleeued, and the number of the men was about fiue thousand.
5 And it came to passe on ỹ morow, that their rulers, and elders, and Scribes,
6 And Annas the chiefe Priest, & Caiaphas, and John, and Alexander, and as many as were of the kinred of the high Priestes, were gathered together at Hierusalem.
7 And when they had set them before them, they asked, By what power, or in what name
haue ye done this?
8 Then Peter full of the holy ghost, sayd vnto them, Yee rulers of the people, and elders of Israel,
9 If we this day be examined of ỹ good deede done to the sicke man, by what meanes he is made whole,
10 Be it knowen vnto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whome yee crucified, whom God raysed againe from the dead, euē by him, doeth this man stand here before you, whole.
11 * This is the stone which was set nought by of you builders, which is the head of the a corner.
12 Neither is there b saluation in any other:
for among men vnder heauen, there is gi-

13 Nowe when they sawe the boldnesse of Peter and John, and vnderstood that they were vnlearned, and ignorant men, they marueiled, and they knewe them that they had bene

14 And beholding also the man which was healed standing with them, they coulde not say against it.
15 But when they had commanded them to go aside out of the counsell, they counselled among themselues,
16 Saying, What shall wee doe to these men?
for a manifest signe is done by them, and is openly knowen to al them that dwell in Hierusalem, and we can not denie it.
17 But that it bee noysed no farther among the people, let vs threaten, and charge them that they speake henceforth to no man in this name.
18 And they called them, and commanded thē, that in no wise they should speake nor teache in the name of Jesu.
19 But Peter and John answered, and sayde vnto them, Whether it bee right in the sight of God, to hearken vnto you more then to God, iudge ye.
20 For we can not but speake that, which wee haue seene and heard.
21 So when they had more sharpely threatned them, they let them go, finding nothing how to punish them, because of the people: for all men glorified God, because of that which was done.
22 For the man was about fourtie yeeres olde, on whome this miracle of healing was shewed.

26 The kings of the earth stood vp, and the rulers came together against the Lorde, and against his Christ.

27 For of a trueth against thy holy childe Iesus, whom thou hast anoynted, both Herode, and also Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles, and ỹ people of Israel, gathered themselues together, 28 For to do whatsoeuer thy hand & thy counsell determined before to be done.

31 And as soone as they had prayed, the place mooued where they were assembled together, & they were al filled with the holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God boldly.

32 And the multitude of them that beleeued, were of one heart, and of one soule: Neyther sayde any of them, that ought of the things which hee possessed was his owne, but they had all things common.

33 And with great power gaue the Apostles witnesse of the resurrection of the Lord Iesu, and great grace was with them all.

34 Neither was there any among them that lacked: For as many as were possessours of lands, or houses, solde them, and brought the price of the things that were solde,

35 And layde it downe at the Apostles feete: And distribution was made vnto euery man according as he had neede.

36 And Joses, which was also called of the Apostles Barnabas (that is to say, if ye interprete it, The sonne of consolation) being a Leuite, and of the countrey of Cypers, 37 Hauing lande, solde it, and brought the money, and layde it downe at the Apostles feete.

The v. Chapter.

12 Miracles are done by the Apostles. 34 The sentence of Gamaliel.

1 BUt a certaine man named Ananias, with Sapphira his wife, solde a possession,

2 And kept away [part] of the price, his wife also being of counsell, and brought a certaine part, and layde it downe at the Apostles feete.

3 But Peter sayde, Ananias, howe is it that Satan hath filled thine heart, to lye vnto the holy Ghost, & keepe away [part] of the price of the land?

4 Whiles it remained, was it not thine owne? & after it was solde, was it not in thine owne power? why hast thou conceiued this thing in thine heart? thou hast not lyed vnto men, but vnto God.

5 Ananias hearing these wordes, fell downe, and gaue vp the ghost: and great feare came on all them that heard these things.

6 And the yong men rose vp, and put him apart, and caried him out, and buried him.

7 And it came to passe, that as it were about the space of three houres after, his wife came in, not knowing that which was done.

8 And Peter sayde vnto her, Tell me, solde ye not the land for so much? And she sayd, Yea, for so much.

9 Then Peter sayde vnto her, Why haue yee agreed together, to tempt the spirite of the Lord? beholde, the feete of them which haue buried thy husband, are at the doore, and shall carrie thee out.

10 Thē fell she downe straightway at his feete, and yeelded vp the ghost: And the yong men came in, and found her dead, & caried her out, and buried her by her husband.

11 And great feare came vpon all the Church, and vpon as many as heard these things.

12 And by the hands of the Apostles, were manie signes and wonders shewed among the people. (And they were al together with one accord in Solomons porch.

13 And of other durst no man ioyne himselfe to them: neuertheless, the people magnified them.

14 The number of them that beleeued in the Lorde, both of men and women, grewe more and more.)

15 Insomuch that they brought the sicke into the streetes, and layde them on beddes and couches, that at the least way the [a] shadow of Peter when he came by, might shadowe some of them.

[a] God at the first publishing of his Gospel, wrought wonders by these things that seemed trifles to the world, which things, as they were done for a time, so nowe the like must not be looked for.

16 There came also a multitude of the cities rounde about vnto Hierusalem, bringing sicke folkes, and thē which were vexed with vncleane spirites: and they were healed euery one.

17 Then the cheife Priest rose vp, and all they that were with him (which is the sect of the Sadducees) and were full of indignation, 18 And layde handes on the Apostles, and put them in the common prison.

19 But the angel of the Lord by night opened the prison doores, and brought them foorth, and sayd, 20 Go, and stande and speake in the Temple to the people all the wordes of this life.

21 And when they heard that, they entred into the Temple early in ỹ morning, and taught: but the chiefe Priest came, and they that were with him, and called a counsell together, and all the elders of the children of Israel, & sent to the prison to fetch them.

22 But when the officers came, and found thē not in the prison, they returned, and tolde, 23 Saying, The prison truly founde wee shut with all diligence, and the keepers standing without before the doores, but when we had opened, we found no man within.

24 Then when the chiefe Priest, and the captaine of the Temple, and the high Priestes heard these things, they doubted of thē whereunto this would growe.

25 Thē came one and shewed them, [saying,] Beholde, the men that yee put in prison, are standing in the Temple, and teaching ỹ people.

26 Thē went the captaine of the Temple with the officers, and brought them without violence: (For they feared the people, least they should haue bene stoned.)

27 And when they had brought them, they set them before the counsell, and the chiefe Priest asked them,

Acts 4.18. 28 Saying, * Did not wee straitly commande you that yee shoulde not teache in this name? And beholde, ye haue filled Hierusalem with your doctrine, & intende to bring [b] this mans blood vpon vs.

b By this speach, they meane that they woulde charge them as guiltie of Christs blood that was shed.

29 Then Peter and the other Apostles answered, and sayde, We ought more to obey God then men.

30 The God of our fathers raised vp Jesus, whom ye slewe, and hanged on tree.

31 Him hath God lift vp with his right hande, to be a Prince and a Sauiour, for to giue repentance to Israel, and forgiuenes of sinnes.

32 And we are recordes of these things which wee say, and so is also the holy ghost, whome God hath giuen to them that obey him.

33 When they heard that, they claue asunder, and sought meanes to slay them.

34 Then stoode there vp one in the counsell, a Pharisee, named Gamaliel, a doctour of lawe, had in reputation among all the people, and commanded to put the Apostles forth a litle space, 35 And sayd vnto them, Ye men of Israel, take heede to your selues, what ye intend to doe as touching these men.

36 For before these dayes rose vp one Theudas, reporting him selfe to bee some great man, to whome a number of men, about a foure hundred, ioyned them selues: which was slayne, and they all which ‖ beleeued him were scattered abroade, and brought to nought.

‖ Or, agreed vnto.

37 After this man rose vp one Judas of Galilee, in the dayes of tribute, and drewe away much people after him: hee also perished, and all, euen as many as obeyed him, were scattered abroad.

38 And nowe I say vnto you, refrayne your selues from these men, and let them alone: for if this counsell or this worke be of men, it wil come to nought:

39 But and if it be of God, yee can not destroy it, least haplie ye bee founde to striue against God.

40 And to him they agreed: and when they had called the Apostles, and beaten them, they cōmanded that they shoulde not speake in the name of Jesu, and let them goe.

41 And they departed from the face of the counsell, reioycing that they were counted worthy to suffer shame for his name.

42 And daily in ỹ Temple, and in euery house, they ceased not to teache and preache Jesus Christ.

1 AND in those dayes, when the number of the disciples grewe, there arose a grudge among ỹ Grecians against the Hebrues, because their widowes were despised in the daily ministerie.

2 Then the twelue called the multitude of the disciples together, and saide, It is not good that we should leaue the word of God, & serue tables.

3 Wherefore brethren, looke yee out among you seuen men of honest report, and ful of the holy ghost, and wisedome, to whome we may commit this businesse.

4 But we will giue our selues continually to prayer, and to the ministerie of the word.

5 And the saying pleased the whole multitude: * and they chose Steuen, a man full of Acts 11.8. fayth and of the holy ghost, and Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Permenas, and Nicholas a conuert of Antioche.

6 These they set before the Apostles: & when they had prayed, they layde their handes on them.

7 And the word of God encreased, & the number of the disciples multiplied in Hierusalem greatly, and a great companie of the Priests were obedient to the faith.

8 And Steuen full of fayth and power, did great wonders and miracles among the people.

9 Then there arose certaine of the [a] synagogue, which is called [the synagogue] of the Libertines, & Cyrenians, and of Alexandria, and of Cilicia, & of Asia, disputing with Steuen:

a Or, Colledge. For in the citie of Hierusalem there were erected many houses or scholes, wherein the youth of the Jewes and strangers were instructed: as nowe a dayes are vsed in our vniuersities.

10 And

10 And they could not resist the wisedome and the spirite by the which he spake.

11 Then they priuily prepared men, which sayde, [b] We haue heard him speake blasphemous wordes against Moses, and against God.

b The wicked setteth forth falsewitnesses, when they by reasoning can not preuaile against the trueth: And thus malice seeketh false cauilles, when the trueth fayleth her.

12 And they moued the people, and the elders, and the Scribes, and came vpon him, and caught him, and brought him to the counsel:

13 And brought foorth false witnesses, which sayde, This man ceasseth not to speake blasphemous wordes against this holy place, and the lawe.

14 For we heard him say, that this Iesus of Nazareth shall destroy this place, and shall change the ordinãces which Moses gaue vs.

15 And all that sate in the counsell, looking stedfastly on him, sawe his face as it had bene the face of an angel.

The vii. Chapter.

1 Steuen maketh answere to his accusation, 51 rebuketh the hard necked Iewes, 58 and is stoned to death.

1 Then sayde the chiefe Priest, Are these things so?

2 And he sayde, Ye men, brethren, and fathers, hearken: The God of glory appeared vnto our father Abraham, when he was in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Charran,

3 And sayde vnto him, Get thee out of thy countrey, and from thy kinred, * and come into the land which I shall shewe thee. Gene.12.13.

4 Then came he out of the lande of the Chaldeans, and dwelt in Charran: & from thence, when his father was dead, he brought him into this land wherein ye now dwell.

5 And he gaue him none inheritance in it, no not the breadth of a foote: & promised that he woulde giue it to him to possesse, and to his seede after him, when as yet he had no childe.

a This is not to be vnderstãd, that they should be euill intreated the whole foure hũdred yeres: but by excesse of speach, called Hyperbole, is signified ỳ they should be euill intreated within the space of foure hũdred yeres.

6 God verily spake on this wise, that his seede should sojourne in a strange lande, & that they should keepe it in bondage, & entreate them euill foure hundred [a] yeres.

7 And the nation to whome they shall be in bondage, will I iudge, sayde God: And after that shall they come forth, and serue me in this place.

8 * And he gaue him the couenant of circumcision: * and so [Abraham] begate Isahac, and circumcised him the eyght day: * and Isahac [begate] Iacob, * and Iacob [begate] the twelue patriarkes. Gen.17.9. Gene.21.2. Gene.25.24. Gene.29.33.

9 * And the patriarkes moued with enuie, sold Ioseph into Egypt: and God was with him, Gen.37.28.

10 And deliuered him out of all his aduersities, * and gaue him fauour and wisedome in the sight of Pharao king of Egypt: and he made him gouernour ouer Egypt, and [ouer] all his housholde. Gen.41.37.

11 But there came a dearth ouer all the land of Egypt and Chanaan, & great affliction, that our fathers found no sustenance.

12 * But when Iacob heard that there was corne in Egypt, he sent our fathers first. Gen.42.1.

13 * And at the seconde [time] Ioseph was knowen of his brethren, and Iosephs kinred was made knowen vnto Pharao. Gen.45.4.

14 Then sent Ioseph, and caused his father Iacob to be brought, and all his kinne, three score and fifteene soules.

15 * And Iacob descended into Egypt, and dyed, both he and our fathers. Gen.46.5.

16 * And were caryed ouer into Sichem, and layde in the sepulchre that Abraham bought for [b] money of the sonnes of Emor, the sonne of Sichem. Gen.49.33. and.50.7.

b Here appeareth an errour. For Abraham seemeth to be put in the text in the steade of Iacob. For Iacob bought the sepulchre of Emor, & not Abraha, who bought before a fielde of Ephron.

17 But when the time of the promise drewe nigh, which God had sworne to Abraham, the people grewe and multiplied in Egypt:

18 Till another king arose, which knew not of Ioseph.

19 The same dealt subtilly with our kinrede, and euill entreated our fathers, & made them cast out their yong children, that they shoulde not remaine aliue.

20 * The same time was Moses borne, and was acceptable vnto God, and nourished vp in his fathers house three moneths: Exod.2.1. heb.11.23.

21 And when he was cast out, Pharaos daughter tooke him vp, and nourished him for her owne sonne.

22 And Moses was learned in all maner of wisedome of the Egyptians, and was mightie in deedes and in wordes.

23 And when he was full fourtie yeeres olde, it came into his heart to visite his brethren the children of Israel.

24 * And when he sawe one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, and auenged his quarel that had the harme done to him, and smote the Egyptian: Exod.2.11.

25 For he supposed his brethren woulde haue vnderstand, how that God by his hand should deliuer them: but they vnderstoode not.

26 * And the next day he shewed himselfe vnto them as they stroue, and would haue set them at one againe, saying, Sirs, ye are brethren, why do ye wrong one to another? Exod.20.13.

27 But he that did his neighbour wrong, thrust him away, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a Iudge ouer vs?

28 Wilt thou kill mee, as thou diddest the Egyptian yesterday?

29 Then fled Moses at that saying, and was a stranger in the land of Madian, where he begate two sonnes.

30 * And when fourtie yeeres were expired, there appeared to him [c] in the wildernesse of mount Sina, an Angel of the Lord in a flame of fire in a bramble bush. Exod.3.2.

c That is to say, Moses.

31 * When

31 When Moses sawe it, he wondered at the sight: and as he drewe neere to beholde, the voyce of the Lord came vnto him, 32 [Saying,] I [am] the God of thy fathers, the God of Abraham, and the God of Isahac, and the God of Jacob. Then Moses trembled, and durst not beholde.

33 Then sayde the Lorde to him, Put off thy shoes from thy feete: for the place where thou standest, is holy grounde.

34 I haue seene, I haue seene the affliction of my people which is in Egypt, and I haue heard their groning, and am come downe to deliuer them: And now come, and I wil send thee into Egypt.

35 This Moses whome they forsooke, saying, Who made thee a ruler & a Judge? the same did God sende to be a ruler and a deliuerer, by the handes of the Angell which appeared to him in the bramble bush.

Exod.7.9. 36 * He brought them out, after that he had shewed wonders and signes in Egypt, and in the red sea, * and in the wildernesse fourtie yeeres.

Exod.16.1.

37 This is that Moses, which sayde vnto the children of Israel, * A Prophet shall the Lord your God rayse vp vnto you of your brethren, like vnto me: him shal ye heare.

Deut.18.15.

Exod.19.2. 38 * This is he that was in the Church in the wildernesse with the Angel, which spake to him in the mount Sina, and with our fathers: this man receyued the worde of life, to giue vnto vs.

39 To whome our fathers would not obey, but thrust [him] from them, and in their heartes turned backe againe into Egypt, Exod.32.1. 40 Saying vnto Aaron, * Make vs gods to go before vs. For as for this Moses that brought vs out of the lande of Egypt, we wote not what is become of him.

41 And they made a Calfe in those dayes, and offered sacrifice vnto the idole, and reioyced ouer the workes of their owne handes.

Amos 5.25. 42 * Then God turned himselfe away, & gaue them vp to worship the hoste of heauen, as it is written in the booke of the Prophetes, O ye house of Israel, haue ye offered to mee [d] slayne beastes, and sacrifices by the space of fourtie yeeres in the wildernesse?

d God tooke their offerings to be abominable, & vtterly none at all: partly for that they offered with a dissembling heart & a wicked life, & partly because they mingled together the seruice deuised by man with the true seruice of God. Exod.25.40.

43 Yea, ye tooke vnto you the tabernacle of Moloch, and the starre of your god Remphan, figures which ye made, to worship them: and I wil cary you away beyond Babylon.

44 Our fathers had the tabernacle of witnesse in the wildernesse, as he had appoynted, speaking vnto Moses, that he should make * it according to the fashion that he had seene:

45 Which also our fathers that came after, brought in with Jesus into the possession of the Gentiles, whom God draue out before the face of our fathers, vnto the dayes of Dauid, 46 Which founde fauour before God, & would fayne haue founde a tabernacle for the God of Jacob.

47 *But Solomon built him an house. 1.Chro.17.12.

48 *Howbeit, he that is highest of all, dwelleth not in temples made with [e] handes, as sayth the Prophet, Act.17.24.

e Here is reproued the grosse dulnesse of the people, who vainely fantased that Gods power was contened within the temple, which is the place of my rest, not the house bupit with mens handes, but an humble and a quiet spirite, which trembleth at my holy worde.

49 Heauen is my seate, and earth is my foote-stoole: What house will ye build me, sayth the Lord? Or which is the place of my rest?

50 Hath not my hand made all these things?

51 Ye stifnecked and of vncircumcised heartes and eares, ye do alwaies resist the holy Ghost, as your fathers did, [so] doe ye.

52 Which of the Prophetes haue not your fathers persecuted? And they haue slayne them which shewed before of the comming of the Just, of whom ye haue bin now the betrayers and murderers:

53 Which also haue receiued the lawe by the disposition of angels, and haue not kept it.

54 When they heard these things, their hearts claue asunder, and they gnashed on him with their teeth.

55 But he being full of the holy Ghost, looked vp stedfastly into heauen, and sawe the glorie of God, and Jesus standing on the right hand of God, The Epistle on Saint Steuens day.

56 And sayd, Beholde, I see the heauens open, and the sonne of man standing on the right hand of God.

57 Then they gaue a shoute with a loude voyce, and stopped their eares, and ran vpon him all at once, f He prayed for himselfe standing, but praying for his enemies he kneeled downe, meaning thereby, first that their great iniquitie required a greater and a more feruent prayer: secondly, he declareth his mightie charitie, praying so earnestly for his enemies.

58 And cast him out of the citie, and stoned him: and the witnesses layde downe their clothes at a yong mans feete, whose name was Saul.

59 And they stoned Steuen, calling on, and saying, Lord Jesu, receiue my spirite.

60 And he kneeled downe, [f] and cryed with a loude voyce, Lorde, lay not this sinne to their charge. And when he had thus spoken, he fell a sleepe.

The viii. Chapter.

4 The Apostles are scattered abroade. 38 Philip baptizeth the Eunuch.

1 AND Saul was consenting vnto his death: & at that time there was a great persecution against the Church which was at Hierusalem, and they were all scattered abroade throughout the regions of Jurie, and Samaria, except the Apostles.

2 And deuoute men caryed Steuen together to his buriall, and made great lamentation ouer him.

3 As for Saul, he made hauocke of the Church, entring into euery house, and drawing out both men and women, did put them into prison.

4 Therefore they that were scattered abroade, went went euery where preaching ỹ worde of God.

5 Then came Philip into the citie of Samaria, and preached Christ vnto them.
6 And the people gaue heede vnto those things which Philip spake, with one accorde, hearing and seeing the miracles which he did.
7 For vncleane spirites, crying with loude voyce, came out of many that were possessed with them: and many taken with palsies, and many that halted, were healed.
8 And there was great ioy in that citie.
9 But there was a certaine man called Simon, which before time in the same citie vsed witchcraft, and bewitched the people of Samaria, saying that he was a man that coulde do great things:
10 To whom they all gaue heede, from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is the great power of God.
11 And him they set much by, because that of long time he had bewitched them with sorceries.
12 But when they beleeued Philips preaching of the kingdome of God, and of the name of Iesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women.
13 Then Simon himselfe beleeued also: and when he was baptized, he continued with Philip, and wondred, beholding the miracles and signes which were done.
14 When the Apostles which were at Hierusalem, heard say that Samaria had receyued the worde of God, they sent vnto them Peter and Iohn.
15 Which when they were come downe, prayed for them that they might receyue the holy ghost.
16 (For as yet he was come downe vpon none of them: but they were baptized [a] only in the name of Christ Iesu.)
17 Then layed they their handes on them, and they receyued the holy Ghost.
18 And when Simon saw that through laying on of the Apostles hands, the holy Ghost was giuen, he offered them money,
20 Saying, Giue me also this power, that on whomsoeuer I put the hands, he may receiue the holy Ghost,
20 But Peter sayde vnto him, Thy money perish with thee, because thou hast thought that the gyft of God may be obteyned with money.
21 Thou hast neyther part nor felowshippe in this businesse: for thy heart is not right in the sight of God.
22 Repent therefore of this thy wickednesse, and pray God, if perhaps the thought of thine heart may be forgiuen thee.
23 For I perceiue that thou art [b] in the gall of bytternesse, and in the bonde of [c] iniquitie.
24 Then answered Simon, and sayd, Pray ye to ỹ Lord for me, that none of [these things] which ye haue spoken, fall on me.
25 And they, when they had testified and preached the worde of the Lord, returned towarde Hierusalem, and preached the Gospel in many villages of the Samaritanes.
26 And the Angel of the Lord spake vnto Philip, saying, Arise, and go toward the South, vnto the way that goeth downe from Hierusalem vnto Gaza, which is desart.
27 And he arose, and went on: and beholde, a man of Ethiopia, an Eunuch, & of great authoritie with Candace, Queene of the Ethiopians, & had the rule of all her treasure, which came to Hierusalem for to worship.
28 And as he returned home againe, sitting in his charet, he read Esaias the Prophet.
29 Then the spirite sayde vnto Philip, Come neere, and ioyne thy selfe to this charet.
30 And Philip ranne thither to him, and heard him reade the Prophet Esaias, and sayd, Understandest thou what thou readest?
31 And he sayd, Howe can I, except some man should guyde me? And he desired Philip that he would come vp, and sit with him.
32 The tenor of the Scripture which he read, was this, * He was lead as a sheepe to the slaughter, and like a lambe dumbe before the shearer: so opened not he his mouth. Esa. 53.7.
33 In his humilitie, his iudgment is exalted: but who shal declare his generation? For his life is taken from the earth.
34 And the Eunuch answered Philippe, and sayde, I pray thee, of whome speaketh the Prophete this? of himselfe, or of some other man?
35 Then Philip opened his mouth, and began at the same Scripture, and preached vnto him Iesus.
36 And as they went on their way, they came vnto a certaine water: and the Eunuch sayd, See, here is water, what doeth let mee to be baptized?
37 Philip sayde [vnto him,] If thou beleeuest with all thine heart, thou mayest. And he answered, and sayd, I beleeue that Iesus Christ is the sonne of God.
38 And he commaunded the charret to stande still: and they went downe both into the water, both Philip, and also the Eunuch, and he baptized him.
39 And as soone as they were come out of the water, the spirite of the Lorde caught away Philip, that the Eunuch sawe him no more: and he went on his way reioycing.
40 But Philip was founde at Azotus: and he walked thorowout the countrey, preaching in all the cities, till he came to Cesarea.

The ix. Chapter.

3 The conuersion of Saul. 34 Peter healeth Eneas, 40 and rayseth vp Tabitha.

1 And

The Epistle on the Tuesday in Whitsun weeke.

[a] They that were baptized only in ỹ name of Christ, no doubt had receiued the holy Ghost sufficiently touching their saluatiõ: but for further cõfirmation of Christes religiõ, now newly set forth, the manifest and vnwont giftes of the holy Ghost appeared among the Christians, by laying on of the handes of the Apostles.

[b] Thou art filled with melancholy & enuie. Thou wouldest haue doings with the highest, otherwise thou cãst not be quiet.

[c] Through the desire of monye & colourable couetousnesse. Take heede ye symoniakes, that onely for liuing enter into the ministerie.

Rom.9.3. The Epistle on the conuersion of S. Paul.

1 AND * Saul [a] yet breathing out threatnings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lorde, went vnto the high Priest, a Saul breathed & blustred with rage and cruelti against Christes Church, which declareth whereunto man is led by his rash zeale, before he hath the true knowledge of God.

2 And desired of him letters [to carry] to Damascus, to the Synagogues, that if he found any of this way, whether they were men or women, he might bring them bounde vnto Hierusalem.

3 And when he iourneyed, it came to passe, that as he was come nigh to Damascus, suddenly there shined rounde about him a light from heauen.

4 And he fell to the earth, and heard a voyce, saying vnto him, * Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

1.Cor.15.8.

5 And he sayde, Who art thou, Lorde? And the Lord sayde, I am Jesus whome thou persecutest: It is hard for thee to kicke against the prickes.

6 And he both trembling and astonied, sayde, Lord, what wilt thou haue me to do? And the Lord sayd vnto him, Arise, & go into the citie, and it shalbe told thee what thou must do.

7 The men also which iourneyed with him, stoode amazed, [b] hearing a voyce, but seeing no man.

b No marueile though weake & corruptible flesh was amazed at heauenly things, and at the talke of God, whereby it came to passe, that they heard a voyce, as here is written, and heard no voyce, as is written in the 22. chapter. For they heard a voyce, & vnderstoode it not.

8 And Saul arose from the earth, and when his eyes were opened, he sawe no man: but they led him by the hand, and brought him into Damascus.

9 And he was three dayes without sight, and neither did eate nor drinke.

10 And there was a certaine disciple at Damascus, named Ananias: and to him said the Lord in a vision, Ananias. And he sayd, Beholde, I [am here,] Lord.

11 And the Lord sayd vnto him, Arise, and goe into the streete, which is called Straight, and seeke in the house of Judas, after one called Saul, of Tarsus: for behold, he prayeth, 12 And hath seene in a vision, a man named Ananias, cõming in to him, & putting his hands on him, that he might receiue his sight.

13 Then Ananias answered, Lorde, I haue heard by many of this man, how much euil he hath done to thy saintes at Hierusalem:

14 And here he hath authoritie of the high priestes, to binde all that call on thy name.

15 The Lord sayde vnto him, Goe thy way: for he is a chosen vessell vnto mee, to beare my name before the Gentiles, and kings, and the children of Israel:

16 For I will shewe him howe great things he must suffer for my names sake.

17 And Ananias went his way, and entred into the house, and put his hands on him, & sayde, Brother Saul, the Lord (euen Jesus that appeared vnto thee in the way as thou camest) hath sent me, that thou mightest receyue thy sight, and be filled with the holy Ghost.

18 And immediatly there fell from his eyes as it had bene scales, and he receiued sight forthwith, and arose, and was baptized.

19 And when he had receyued meate, he was comforted. Then was Saul certaine dayes with the disciples which were at Damascus.

20 And straightway he preached Christ in the synagogues, that he is the sonne of God.

21 But all that heard him, were amazed, and said, Is not this he that destroyed them which called on this name in Hierusalem, and came hither for that intent, that he might bring them bound vnto the high priestes?

22 But Saul increased the more in strength, & confounded the Jewes which dwelt at Damascus, proouing by conferring [one Scripture with another,] that this is very Christ.

23 And after that many dayes were fulfilled, the Jewes tooke counsell together to kill him.

24 But their laying awayte was knowen of Saul: * and they watched the gates day and night to kill him. 2.Cor.11.32.

25 Then the disciples tooke him by night, and put him downe by the wal, and let him downe in a basket.

26 And when Saul was come to Hierusalem, he assayed to couple himselfe to the disciples, but they were all afraide of him, and beleeued not that he was a disciple.

27 But Barnabas tooke him, and brought him to the Apostles, & declared vnto them how he had seene the Lorde in the way, & that he had spoken to him, and how he had preached boldly at Damascus in the name of Jesus.

28 And he was with them comming in, and going out at Hierusalem, 29 Speaking boldly in the name of the Lorde Jesus, and he spake and disputed against the Greekes: but they went about to slay him.

30 Which when the brethren knewe, they brought him to Cesarea, and sent him forth to Tarsus.

31 Then had the Churches rest throwout all Jurie, and Galilee, and Samaria, and were edified, and walked in the feare of the Lord, & multiplied by the comfort of the holy Ghost.

32 And it came to passe, as Peter walked throwout al quarters, he came also to the saints which dwelt at Lydda.

33 And there he founde a certaine man named Eneas, which had kept his bed eight yeeres, and was sicke of the palsie.

c Tabitha is called Dorcas. Dorcas signifieth a Roe bucke, a beast of sharp sight. Such an one was Tabitha, to this effect, that she being on earth farre from heauen, did behold heauenly things, and drewe nere vnto heauen with godly workes, 34 And Peter sayde vnto him, Eneas, Jesus Christ maketh thee whole: arise, and make thy bed. And he arose immediatly.

35 And all that dwelt at Lydda and Saron, saw him, which turned to the Lord.

36 There was also at Joppa a certaine woman, a disciple, named Tabitha, which by interpretation is called [c] Dorcas: the same was full full of good workes, and almes deedes, which ſhe did.

37 And it came to paſſe in thoſe dayes that ſhe was ſicke, and died: whom when they had waſhed, they layde her in an vpper chamber.

38 And foraſmuch as Lydda was nygh to Joppa, and the diſciples had heard that Peter was there, they ſent vnto him two men, deſiring him that he would not be grieued to come to them.

39 Then Peter aroſe, and came with them: when he was come, they brought him into the vpper chamber: And all the widowes ſtoode rounde about him weeping, and ſhewing the coates and garmentes which Dorcas made whyle ſhe was with them.

40 And Peter put them all forth, and kneeled downe, and prayed, & turned him to the body, and ſayde, Tabitha, ariſe. And ſhe opened her eyes, and when ſhe ſaw Peter, ſhe ſate vp.

41 And Peter gaue her the hande, and lift her vp: and when he had called the ſaints and widowes, he deliuered her aliue.

42 And [it] was knowen throughout al Joppa, and many beleeued in the Lord.

43 And it came to paſſe, that he taryed many dayes in Joppa, with one Simon a Tanner.

The x. Chapter.

11 The viſion that Peter ſawe. 17 He was ſent to Cornelius.

1 THere was a certaine man in Ceſarea, called Cornelius, a captaine of the band, called the Italian band,

2 A deuoute man, and one that feared God with all his houſhold, which gaue much almes to the people, and prayed God alway.

3 The ſame ſawe by a viſion euidently, about the ninth houre of the day, an Angell of God comming in to him, and ſaying vnto him, Cornelius.

4 And when he looked on him, he was afrayd, and ſayd, What is it, Lord? And he ſayd vnto him, Thy [a] prayers and thine almes are come vp into remembrance before God.

5 And nowe ſende men to Joppa, and call for one Simon, whoſe ſyrname is Peter.

6 He lodgeth with one Simon a Tanner, whoſe houſe is by the ſea ſide: He ſhal tel thee what thou oughteſt to doe.

7 And when the Angell which ſpake vnto Cornelius, was departed, he called two of his houſholde ſeruants, and a deuoute ſouldier of them that wayted on him,

8 And told them all the matter, and ſent them to Joppa.

9 On the morowe as they went on their iourney, and drew nigh vnto the citie, Peter went vp into the higheſt part of the houſe to pray, about the ſixth houre.

10 And when he waxed hungry, he would haue eaten: But while they made ready, he fell into a traunce,

11 And he ſeeth [b] heauen opened, and a certaine veſſel come downe vnto him, as it had bene a great ſheete, knitte at the foure corners, and let downe to the earth:

12 Wherein were all maner of foure footed beaſtes of the earth, and wilde beaſtes, and ſuch as creepe, and foules of the ayre.

13 And there came a voyce to him, Riſe, Peter: kill, and eate.

14 But Peter ſayde, Not ſo, Lord: for I haue neuer eaten any thing that is common or vncleane.

15 And the voyce ſpake vnto him againe the ſecond time, What God hath cleanſed, that ‖ call not thou common.

16 This was done thryſe: and the veſſell was receiued vp againe into heauen.

17 Nowe whyle Peter doubted in himſelfe what this viſion which he had ſeene ſhoulde meane: behold, the men which were ſent from Cornelius, had made enquirãce for Simons houſe, and ſtoode before the doore, 18 And called, & aſked whether Simon, which was ſyrnamed Peter, were lodged there.

19 While Peter thought on ỹ viſion, the ſpirit ſaid vnto him, Behold, three men ſeeke thee.

20 Ariſe therefore, and get thee downe, and go with them, doubting nothing: for I haue ſent them.

21 Then Peter went downe to the men which were ſent vnto him from Cornelius, & ſayd, Beholde, I am he whome ye ſeeke: what is the cauſe wherefore ye are come?

22 And they ſayde, Cornelius the captaine, a iuſt man, & one that feareth God, and of good report among all the people of the Jewes, was warned by an holy angel, to ſend for thee into his houſe, and to heare words of thee.

23 Then called he them in, and lodged them: And on the morowe Peter went away with them, and certaine brethren from Joppa accompanied him.

24 And the third day after, entred they into Ceſarea: and Cornelius wayted for them, and had called together his kinſmen and ſpeciall friendes.

25 And it came to paſſe as Peter came in, Cornelius met him, and fell downe [c] at his feete, and worſhipped [him.]

26 But Peter tooke him vp, ſaying, Stand vp, I my ſelfe alſo am a man.

27 And as he talked with him, he came in, and findeth many that were come together.

28 And he ſayd vnto them, Ye know how that it is an vnlawfull thing for a man that is a Jewe, to company or come vnto one of another nation: but God hath ſhewed me, that I ſhould not cal any man common or vncleane.

29 Therefore came I vnto you without delay, as ſoone as I was ſent for: I aſke therfore for what a The prayers and almes of Cornelius pleaſed God before he was baptized: but without faith God cã not be pleaſed. Cornelius therfore (as Bede truly noteth) had faith, whereby his prayers & almes pleaſed God. For (ſayth he) he came not to faith through workes, but to workes through faith.

b This viſion doeth teache manifold myſteries. Firſt, that the reſtraint of meates made vnto ỹ Jewes, is take away, & hindreth not ỹ Chriſtians: For nowe to the cleane, all meates are cleane. Secõdly, the graces & gifts of God are cõmon alſo to the heathen, who before this time were excluded: which thing is ſignified by the foure cornerd ſheete, which ſignifieth the foure coaſtes of the worlde. Now heauen is open to all that is incloſed in the ſheete, which is the holy cõgregation of God. ‖ Or, do not thou pollute.

c Cornelius did reuerence Peter more then he ought to haue done, ſuppoſing him either to be a God, either to be indued with ſuch power & vertue, for the which he ſhould be honored as God.

what intent ye haue sent for me?

30 And Cornelius sayd, Foure dayes agoe vntill this houre I was fasting, and at the ninth houre I prayed in my house, & beholde, a man stoode before me in bright clothing, 31 And sayde, Cornelius, thy prayer is heard, & thine almes deedes are had in remembrance in the sight of God.

32 Sende therefore to Joppa, and call for Simon, whose syrname is Peter, he is lodged in the house of one Simon a Tanner, by the sea side, who when he commeth, shall speake vnto thee.

33 Then sent I for thee immediatly, and thou hast well done that thou art come. Now therfore are we all here present before God, to heare all things that are commaunded vnto thee of God.

The Epistle on Munday in Whitsun weeke.

34 Then Peter opened his mouth, and sayde, * Of a trueth I perceyue that God hath no regard of persons:

Deut. 10.17. rom. 2.11. 1.pet.1.17.

35 But in euery nation, he that feareth him, & worketh righteousnesse, is accepted with him.

36 Touching the worde which God sent vnto the children of Israel, preaching peace by Jesus Christ (he is Lord ouer all.)

37 Ye knowe howe the worde was published throughout all Jurie, beginning in Galilee, after the baptisme which John preached:

38 Howe God anoynted Jesus of Nazareth with the holy Ghost, and with power, who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the deuill: for God was with him.

39 And we are witnesses of al things which he did in the land of the Jewes, and at Hierusalem, whome they slue, when they had hanged him on a tree.

40 Him God raysed vp the third day, and shewed him openly.

41 Not to all the people, but vnto vs witnesses, chosen before of God, euen to vs which did eate and drinke with him after he rose from the dead.

42 And he commanded vs to preache vnto the people, and to testifie that it is he which was ordeyned of God to be the Judge of quicke and dead.

Acts.15.9. iere.31.34. miche.7.11.

43 * To him giue all the Prophetes witnesse, that through his name whosoeuer beleeueth in him, shal receiue remission of sinnes.

44 While Peter yet spake these words, the holy Ghost fell on all them which heard ỹ word.

45 And they of the circumcision which beleeued, were astonyed, as many as came with Peter, because that on the Gentiles also was powred out the gift of the holy Ghost.

46 For they heard them speake with tongues, and magnifie God. Then answered Peter, 47 Can any man forbid water, that these should not be baptized, which haue receiued the holy Ghost as well as we?

48 And he commanded them to be baptized in the name of the Lorde. Then prayed they him to tary certaine dayes.

The xi. Chapter.

22 Barnabas and Paul preach at Antiochia. 28 Agabus prophecieth dearth to come.

1 AND the Apostles & brethren that were in Jurie, heard that the heathen had also receyued the worde of God.

2 And when Peter was come vp to Hierusalem, they that were of the circumcision contended against him,

3 Saying, Thou wentest in to men vncircumcised, and diddest eate with them.

4 But Peter rehearsed the matter from the beginning, and expounded it by order vnto them, saying,

5 I was in the citie of Joppa praying, and in a traunce I sawe a vision, a certaine vessel descend, as it had bene a great sheete, let downe from heauen by foure corners, and it came euen vntill me.

6 Upon the which when I had fastened mine eyes, I considered, and saw foure footed beasts of the earth, and wilde beastes, and such as creepe, and foules of the ayre.

7 And I heard a voyce, saying vnto me, Arise Peter, slay, and eate.

8 But I sayd, Not so, Lord: for nothing common or vncleane hath at any time entred into my mouth.

9 But the voyce answered mee againe from heauen, Doe not thou make them [a] common which God hath cleansed.

a What meats soeuer the Jewes vsed contrary to the order of Gods law, they called it common or vncleane.

10 And this was done three times: and all were taken vp againe into heauen.

11 And beholde, immediatly there were three men already come vnto the house where I was, sent from Cesarea vnto me.

12 And the spirite sayde vnto me, that I should go with them, nothing doubting: Moreouer, these sixe brethren accompanyed me, and we entred into the mans house:

13 And he shewed vs howe he had seene an Angel in his house, which stoode and sayde vnto him, Send men to Joppa, & call for Simon, whose syrname is Peter:

14 He shal tell thee words, whereby both thou, and all thy house shalbe saued.

15 And as I began to speake, the holy Ghost fell on them, * as he did on vs at the beginning.

Acts.2.4.

16 Then remembred I the worde of the Lord, how that he said, *John baptized with water: but ye shalbe baptized with [b] the holy Ghost.

John 1.17. acts.1.5.

b To be baptized with the holy Ghost, is to receiue the visible graces & giftes of the holy Ghost.

17 Forasmuch then as God gaue them the like gift as he did vnto vs when we beleeued on the Lorde Jesus Christ: what was I that I should haue withstand God?

18 When they heard these things, they helde their their peace, and glorified God, saying, Then hath God also to the Gentiles graunted repentance vnto life.

Acts.11. 19 * They also which were scattered abroade through the affliction that arose about Steuen, walked thorowout vnto Phenice, and Cypres, and Antioche, preaching the worde to no man, but vnto the Iewes onely.

20 And some of them were men of Cypres and Cyrene, which when they were come to Antioche, spake vnto the Greekes, and preached the Lord Iesus.

21 And the hand of the Lorde was with them: and a great number beleeued, and turned vnto the Lord.

The Epistle on Saint Barnabe Apostle. 22 Then tydings of these things came vnto the eares of the Church which was in Hierusalem: and they sent forth Barnabas, that he should goe vnto Antioche.

23 Which when he came, and had seene the grace of God, was glad, and exhorted them all, that with purpose of heart they would cleaue vnto the Lord.

24 For he was a good man, and full of the holy Ghost, and of faith: and much people was added vnto the Lord.

c Not for that they were the first Christians: but for that the people both of the Iewes & gentiles, grew into one body, & were more bolde freely to confesse ꝑ faith of Christ.

25 Then departed Barnabas to Tharsus, for to seeke Saul.

26 And when he had founde him, he brought him vnto Antioche. And it came to passe, that a whole yeere they had their cõuersation with the Church there, and taught much people: insomuch that the disciples of Antioche were the c first that were called Christians.

The Epistle on S. Iames the Apostle.

27 And in those dayes came prophetes from Hierusalem vnto Antioche.

d By these wordes Saint Luke doth signifie that the spirite of God was ꝑ author of this prophecie, that thereby we might vnderstand the knowledge not to be gathered eyther of the course of the starres, or any other naturall causes.

28 And there stoode vp one of them, named Agabus, and signified by the d spirite, that there shoulde be great dearth thorowout all the worlde: which came to passe in the dayes of Claudius Cesar.

29 Then the disciples, euery man according to his habilitie, purposed to sende succour vnto the brethren which dwelt in Iurie.

30 Which thing they also did, and sent it to the elders, by the handes of Barnabas and Saul.

The xii. Chapter.

1 Herode persecuteth the Christians. 24 The Gospel florisheth.

The Epistle on Saint Peters day.

1 AT the same time Herod the king stretched forth his handes to vexe certaine of the Church.

2 And he killed Iames the brother of Iohn with the sworde.

3 And because he sawe it pleased the Iewes, he proceeded further, and tooke Peter also. (Then were the dayes of sweete bread.)

4 And when he had caught him, he put him in prison also, & deliuered him to foure a quaternions of souldiers to be kept, intending after Easter to bring him forth to the people.

a That is, to foure souldiers.

5 And Peter was kept in prison, but prayer was made without ceassing of the Church vnto God for him.

6 And when Herode would haue brought him forth vnto the people, the same night Peter was sleeping betweene two souldiers bound with two chaynes, and the keepers before the doore kept the prison.

7 And behold, the angel of the Lord was there present, and a light shined in the prison: and he smote Peter on the side, and stirred him vp, saying, Arise vp quickly. And his chaines fell off from his handes.

8 And the Angel sayde vnto him, Girde thy selfe, and binde on thy Sandales. And so he did. And he saith vnto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and folow me.

9 And [Peter] came out, & folowed him, and wist not that it was trueth which was done by the Angel: but thought he had seene a vision.

10 When they were past the first and the secõd watche, they came vnto the Iron gate that leadeth vnto the citie, which opened to them by the owne accorde: and they went out, and passed thorowe one streete, and forthwith the angel departed from him.

11 And when Peter was come to himselfe, he sayd, Now I know of a suertie that the Lord hath sent his Angel, and hath deliuered mee out of the hande of Herode, and from all the wayting for of the people of the Iewes.

12 And as he considered the thing, he came to the house of Mary the mother of Iohn, whose syrname was Marke, where many were gathered together in prayer.

13 As Peter knocked at the entrie doore, a damosell came forth to hearken, named Rhoda.

14 And when she knewe Peters voyce, she opened not the doore for gladnesse, but ran in, and tolde how Peter stoode before the doore.

15 And they said vnto her, Thou art mad. But she affirmed that it was euen so. Then sayde they, It is his b angel.

b For they did know by gods word, that angels were appointed to defend the faithful, and also in those dayes they were accustomed to see such sights.

16 But Peter continued knocking: and when they had opened the doore, and saw him, they were astonied.

17 And when he had beckened vnto them with the hande, that they might holde their peace, he tolde them by what meanes the Lorde had brought him out of the prison: And he sayde, Goe shewe these things vnto Iames, and to the brethren. And he departed, and went into another place.

18 Now as soone as it was day, there was no litle adoe among the souldiers, what was become of Peter.

19 And when Herode had sought for him, and found him not, he examined the keepers, and cõmanded them to be caried away. And he descended frõ Iurie to Cesarea, & there abode.

20 And

20 And Herode was displeased with them of Tyre and Sidon: but they came all with one accorde to him, and made intercession vnto Blastus the kings chamberlaine, and desired peace, because their countrey was nourished by the kings countrey.

21 And vpon the day appointed, Herode arayed him in royall apparell, & set him in his seate, and made an oration vnto them.

22 And the people gaue a shoute, [saying,] It is the voyce of a God, and not of a man.

c The vilenesse of the punishment declareth here that, God detesteth pride and tyrannie. His grandfather also was eaten of lice.

23 And immediately the Angell of the Lorde smote him, because he gaue not God the honour, and he was eaten of c wormes, and gaue vp the ghost.

d The more that tyrants goe about to suppresse gods word, & more doeth it encrease and multiplie.

24 And the worde of God grewe, and d multiplied.

25 And Barnabas and Saul returned to Hierusalem, when they had fulfilled their office, and tooke with them John, whose syrname was Marke.

The xiii. Chapter.

7 Of Sergius Paulus, and Elimas the sorcerer. 26 The Iewes are reiected.

Act. 14. 26.

1 THere * was also in the Church that was at Antioche, certaine prophets, & teachers: as Barnabas, and Simon that was called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene, & Manahen, which had bene nourished vp with Herode the Tetrarch, and Saul.

a The worde signifieth, to execute a publique office, as the Apostles was, so that here is shewed that they preached & prophecied, & did not offer a sacrifice, or say Masse at Antioche, as some untruely gather.

2 As they ministred to the a Lorde, and fasted, the holy Ghost sayd, Separate me Barnabas and Saul, for the worke whereunto I haue called them.

3 And when they had fasted and prayed, and layde their handes on them, they let them go.

4 And they, after they were sent forth of the holy Ghost, departed vnto Celeucia, and from thence they sayled to Cyprus.

5 And when they were at Salamine, they preached the worde of God in the synagogues of the Iewes: and they had also John to their minister.

6 And when they had gone thorowe the Ile vnto Paphos, they found a certaine sorcerer, a false prophet, a Iewe, whose name was Barieſu:

7 Which was with the deputie of the countrey, one Sergius Paulus, a prudent man: the same when he had called vnto him Barnabas and Saul, desired to heare the worde of God.

8 But Elimas the sorcerer (for so is his name by interpretation) withstoode them, seeking to turne the deputie away from the faith.

9 Then Saul (which also is called Paul) being ful of the holy Ghost, set his eyes on him,

10 And sayde, O full of all subtiltie and all mischiefe, thou childe of the deuill, thou enemie of all righteousnesse, wilt thou not ceasse to peruert the right wayes of the Lorde?

11 And nowe beholde, the hand of the Lorde is vpon thee, and thou shalt be blinde, not seeing the sunne for a season. And immediatly there fell on him a myst and a darkenesse, and he went about, seeking [them] that should leade him by the hand.

12 Then the deputie, when he sawe what was done, beleeued, and wondered at the doctrine of the Lord.

13 Now when they that were with Paul, were departed from Paphos, they came to Perga in Pamphylia: and John, when he departed from them, returned to Hierusalem.

14 But when they departed from Perga, they came to Antioche in Pisidia, and went into the synagogue on the Sabboth day, and sate downe.

15 And after the reading of the lawe and the Prophetes, the rulers of the synagogue sent vnto them, saying, Ye men and brethren, if ye haue any word to exhort the people, say on.

16 Then Paul stoode vp, and when he had beckened with the hande for silence, sayde, Men of Israel, and ye that feare God, giue audience.

26 Ye men and brethren, children of the generation of Abraham, and whosoeuer among you feareth God, to you is the worde of this saluation sent. The Epistle on Tuesday in Easter weeke.

27 For

27 For they that dwel at Hierusalem, and their rulers, because they knewe him not, nor yet the voyces of the Prophets which are read euery Sabboth day, they haue fulfilled them in condemning him.

28 And though they found no cause of death in him, * yet desired they Pilate that he shoulde be slaine.

Matth.23.22. luke 23.23.

29 And when they had fulfilled all that were written of him, they tooke him downe from the tree, and put him in a sepulchre.

30 * But God raised him from the dead:

Matth.28.2. mark.16.6. luke 24.7. iohn 20.19.

31 And hee was seene many dayes of them which came vp with him from Galilee to Hierusalem, which are his witnesses vnto the people.

32 And we declare vnto you glad tidings, how that the promise which was made vnto the fathers, 33 God hath fulfilled the same vnto vs their children, in that he hath raised vp Iesus againe, as it is also written in the seconde Psalme: * Thou art my sonne, this day haue I begotten thee.

Psal.2.7. hebre.1.5.

34 And as concerning that he raised him vp from the dead, nowe no more to returne to corruption, he said on this wise, * I will giue you the holy things of Dauid, which are [b] faithfull.

Isai.55.3.

35 Wherefore he saieth also in another place, * Thou shalt not suffer thine holy one to see corruption.

36 For Dauid after he had serued his time, by the wil of God, * fell on sleepe, and was laide vnto his fathers, and sawe corruption:

37 But he whom God raised againe, sawe no corruption.

38 Be it knowen vnto you therefore, ye men & brethren, that * through this man is preached vnto you the forgiuenesse of sinnes:

Pfal.16.10. 3.Reg.2,10.

39 And by him, all that beleeue, are iustified from all things, from which ye coulde not be iustified by the lawe of Moses.

40 Beware therefore, least that fall on you, which is spoken of in the Prophets.

Abac.1.5.

41 * Behold, ye despisers, and wonder, and perish ye: for I doe a worke in your dayes, a worke which ye shall in no wise beleeue, though a man declare it to you plainely.

42 And when they were gone out of the Synagogue of the Iewes, ỳ Gentiles besought that these wordes might be preached to them the next Sabboth.

43 Nowe when the congregation was broken vp, many of the Iewes, and vertuous Proselytes followed Paul and Barnabas, which speaking to them, exhorted them to continue in the grace of God.

44 And the next Sabboth day came almost the whole citie together to heare the word of God.

45 But when the Iewes sawe the people, they were full of indignation, and spake against those things which were spoken of Paul, speaking against, and railing.

46 Then Paul and Barnabas waxed bold, and said, It was necessarie that the word of God should first haue bene spoken to you: but seeing ye put it from you, and thinke your selues vnworthy of euerlasting life, loe, we turne to the Gentiles.

47 For so hath the Lorde commanded vs, [saying,] * I haue made thee a light of the Gentiles, that thou be the saluation vnto the ende of the world.

Esai 49.10.

48 And when the Gentiles heard this, they were glad, and glorified the word of ỳ Lord: and as many as were ordeined to eternal life, beleeued.

49 And the worde of the Lorde was published throughout all the region.

50 But the Iewes mooued the deuoute [c] and honest women, and the chiefe men of the citie, and raised persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and expelled them out of their coastes.

c These were wealthy and substantiall women, and yet superstitious, being led with a blinde zeale, whom the common people esteemed very godly, and therefore Luke speaketh here of these women, as the world esteemed them.

51 But they shooke off ỳ dust of their [d] feete against them, and came vnto Iconium.

d This they did according to the commandement of the Gospell, for a witnesse of their trauaile, that they came into their citie, and offered to them the doctrine of the Gospell, which they contemned, and thereby signified also that they so detested their company, for this their contempt, that they woulde not haue the dust of their citie hang vpon their shoes.

52 And the disciples were filled with ioy, and with the holy Ghost.

b Meaning, that he would faithfully accomplish the promises which he made of his free mercie with the forefathers, that Christ should be borne of the stocke of Dauid.

The xiiii. Chapter.

1 God giueth successe to his worde. 19 Paul is stoned.

1 AND it came to passe in Iconium, that they went both together into the Synagogue of the Iewes, and so spake, that a great multitude both of the Iewes, and also of the Greekes beleeued.

2 But the vnbeleeuing Iewes stirred vp, and corrupted the mindes of the Gentiles against the brethren.

3 Long time therefore abode they there, speaking boldly with the helpe of the Lord, which gaue testimonie vnto the worde of his grace, and graunted signes and wonders to be done by their handes.

4 But the multitude of the citie [a] was diuided: and part helde with the Iewes, and part with the Apostles.

a As it is a cursed vnitie ỳ which worketh separate vs from God, so it is better an hundred times that a fewe depart from all the world, and to be at vnitie with God, then being at variance with him, to be in peace with the world.

5 And when there was an assault made both of the Gentiles, and also of the Iewes, with their rulers, to doe them violence, and to stone them,

6 They were ware of it, and fled vnto Lystra and Derbe, cities of Lycaonia, and vnto the region that lyeth round about.

b The perſecution of the Goſpel, is an occaſion oftentimes of further aduancement of the Goſpell.

7 And there were they preaching the b Goſpell.
8 And there ſate a certaine man at Lyſtra, weake in his feete, being a creeple from his mothers wombe, and neuer had walked.
9 The ſame heard Paul ſpeake: which beholding him, and perceiuing that he had faith to be whole,
10 Saide with a loude voyce, Stande vpright on thy feete: And he ſtart vp, and walked.
11 And when the people ſawe what Paul had done, they lift vp their voyces, ſaying in the ſpeach of Lycaonia, The goddes are come downe to vs in the likeneſſe of men.
12 And they called Barnabas Iupiter, and Paul Mercurius, becauſe he was the chiefe ſpeaker.
13 Then Iupiters Prieſt, which was before their citie, brought Oxen, and garlandes vnto the doore, and woulde haue done ſacrifice with the people.
14 Which when the Apoſtles, Barnabas and Paul heard of, they rent their clothes, and ran in among the people, crying,
15 And ſaying, Sirs, Why do ye theſe things? We alſo are mortall men like vnto you, and preach vnto you the Goſpell, that ye ſhoulde turne from theſe vanities, vnto the liuing God,* which made heauen and earth, and the ſea, and all things that are therein.
16 The which in times paſt,* ſuffered all nations to walke in their owne wayes.
17 Neuertheleſſe, hee left not himſelfe without witneſſe, in that he ſhewed his benefites from heauen, in giuing vs raine, and fruitefull ſeaſons, filling our heartes with foode and gladneſſe.
18 And with theſe ſayings ſcarſe refrained they the people, that they had not done ſacrifice vnto them.
19 Then thither came certaine Iewes from Antioch and Iconium, which when they had perſwaded the c people,* & had ſtoned Paul, drewe him out of the citie, ſuppoſing he had bene dead.
20 Howbeit, when the diſciples ſtoode round about him, he roſe vp, and came into the citie, and the next day he departed, with Barnabas to Derbe.
21 And when they had preached the Goſpell to that citie, and had taught many, they returned againe to Lyſtra, and to Iconium, and Antioche,
22 And ſtrengthened the diſciples ſoules againe, and exhorted them to continue in the faith, and that we muſt through much tribulation enter into the kingdome of God.
23 And when they had ordeined them Elders by election in euery Church, and had prayed with d faſting, they commended them to the Lord, on whom they beleeued.
24 And when they had gone throughout Piſidia, they came to Pamphylia.
25 And when they had ſpoken the worde [of God] in Perga, they deſcended into Attalia, 26 And thence departed by ſhippe to Antioch, from whence they were committed vnto the grace of God, to the worke which they fulfilled.
27 And when they were come, and had gathered the Church together, they rehearſed all that God had done with them, and howe hee had opened the doore of faith vnto the Gentiles.
28 And there they abode long time with the diſciples.

d Here we learne, that whenſoeuer we goe about any waighty matter, we ought with abſtinence prepare our minds vnto prayer, that it may be the more earneſt.

c They that a litle before would haue worſhipped Paul as God, nowe they are content that he ſhould be ſtoned as a wicked man: ſuch inconſtancie is in ye ignorant multitude. 2.Cor.11.22.

Gene.1.1. pſal.146.6. apoca.14.7. Pſal.81.13.

The xv. Chapter.

1 The decree of the Apoſtles concerning circumciſion, and other ceremonies of the Iewes. 35 Paul and Barnabas preach in Antioch. 39 Paul and Barnabas falling at ſtrife, breake company.

1 AND certaine men which came downe from Iurie, taught the brethren, [and ſaid,] *Except ye be circumciſed after the maner of Moſes, ye cannot be ſaued. Gene.5.1.
2 So when there was riſen diſſention & diſputing not a litle vnto Paul and Barnabas againſt them, they determined that Paul and Barnabas, and certaine other of them, ſhould goe vp to Hieruſalem vnto the Apoſtles and Elders, about this queſtion.
3 And after they were brought on their way by the Church, they paſſed thorow Phenice and Samaria, declaring the conuerſation of the Gentiles: and they brought great ioy vnto all the brethren.
4 And when they were come to Hieruſalem, they were receiued of the Church, and of the Apoſtles, and Elders, and they declared all things that God had done with them.
5 Then roſe vp certaine of the ſect of ẏ Phariſees which did beleeue, ſaying, ẏ it was needefull to circumciſe them, & to commande to keepe the lawe of Moſes.
6 And the Apoſtles and Elders came together for to conſider of this matter.
7 And when there had bene much diſputing, Peter roſe vp, and ſaid vnto them, *Ye men and brethren, ye know how that a good while agoe, God did chooſe among vs, that the Gentiles by my mouth ſhould heare the worde of the Goſpell, and beleeue. Actes 10.30. and 11.13.
8 And God, which knoweth the heartes, bare them witneſſe, and gaue vnto them the holy Ghoſt, euen as he did vnto vs:
9 *And put no difference betweene vs and them, purifying their heartes by faith. Actes 10.43. 1.cor.1.1. matth.23.4.
10 Nowe therefore why tempt ye God, to put on on the disciples neckes the [a] yoke, which neither our fathers nor we were able to beare?

11 But we beleeue that through the grace of the Lorde Jesus Christ, we shalbe saued, euen as they.

12 Then all the multitude kept silence, and gaue audience to Barnabas and Paul, which told what signes & wonders God had shewed among the Gentiles by them.

13 And when they held their peace, James answered, saying, Men and brethren, hearken vnto me.

14 Simeon tolde howe God at the beginning did visite, to receiue of the Gentiles a people in his name.

15 And to this agree the wordes of ỳ Prophets, as it is written,

16 * After this I will returne, and will builde againe the [b] tabernacle of Dauid, which is fallen downe: and that which is fallen in decay of it, will I builde againe, and I will set it vp:

17 That the residue of men might seeke after the Lorde, and all the Gentiles vpon whom my name is called, saieth the Lorde, which doeth all these things.

18 Knowen vnto God are all his workes from the beginning of the world.

19 Wherefore my sentence is, that we trouble not them, which from among the Gentiles are turned to God:

20 But that we write vnto them, that they abstaine themselues from filthinesse of idoles, and from fornication, and from strangled, and from blood.

21 For Moses of olde time hath in euery citie them that preach him in the Synagogues, when he is read euery Sabboth day.

22 Then pleased it the Apostles and Elders, with the whole Church, to sende chosen men of their owne company to Antioche, w Paul and Barnabas: [That is,] Judas, whose surname was Barsabas, and Silas, which were chiefe men among the brethren, 23 And wrote letters by them after this maner, The Apostles, and Elders, and brethren, send greeting vnto the brethren, which are of the Gentiles in Antiochia, Syria, and Cilicia.

24 For as much as wee haue heard that certaine which departed from vs, haue troubled you with wordes, and cumbred your mindes, saying, Ye must be circumcised, and keepe the law, to whom we gaue no such commandement:

25 It seemed therefore to vs a good thing, whē we were come together with one accorde, to send chosen men vnto you, with our beloued Barnabas and Paul,

26 Men that haue ieoparded their liues for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.

27 We haue sent therefore Judas and Silas, which shall also tell you the same things by mouth.

28 For it seemed good to the holy Ghost and to vs, to lay vpon you no greater burden then these necessary things.

29 [That is to say,] That ye abstaine from things offered to idoles, and from blood, and from strangled, and from fornication: from which if ye keepe your selues, ye shall doe well. So fare ye well.

30 Nowe therefore, when they were departed, they came to Antioch: and when they had gathered the multitude together, they deliuered the Epistle.

31 Which when they had read, they reioyced of the consolation.

32 And Judas and Silas, being Prophets also themselues, exhorted the brethren with many wordes, and strengthened them:

33 And after they had tarried there a space, they were let goe in peace of the brethren vnto the Apostles.

34 Notwithstanding, it pleased Silas to abide there still.

35 Paul also and Barnabas continued in Antioch, teaching and preaching the worde of the Lord, with other many also.

36 But after a certaine space, Paul saide vnto Barnabas, Let vs goe againe and visite our brethren in euery citie where we haue vttered the worde of the Lorde, and knowe [and see] how they doe.

37 And Barnabas gaue counsell to take with them John, whose surname was Marke.

38 But Paul woulde not take him vnto their companie, which departed from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them to the worke.

39 And [c] the contentiō was so sharpe betweene them, that they departed asunder one from the other: and so Barnabas tooke Marke, and sailed vnto Cyprus.

40 And Paul chose Silas, and departed, being committed of the brethren vnto the grace of God.

41 And he went throwe Syria and Cilicia, stablishing the Churches.

The xvi. Chapter.

1 Paule circumciseth Timothie. 7 The spirit calleth them from one countrey to another. 24 Lydia is conuerted.

1 THen came he to Derbe, and to Lystra: & behold, a certaine disciple was there, named * Timotheus, a womans sonne which was a Jewesse, and beleeued: but his father was a Greeke.

2 Which was well reported of the brethren that were at Lystra and Iconium.

3 Paul would that he shoulde goe forth with him, a Ye meaneth the holy lawe, and not the ceremonies onely, and calleth it a yoke not able to be borne, because no man, not the most holyest and perfectest that euer was (Christ onely excepted) was able to performe the same in all points, both outwardly according to the letter, and inwardly according to the spirit.

Amos 9.11.

b The Prophet in this place, prophecied of Christs comming in ỳ flesh, which should builde againe the tabernacle of Dauid, which figured Gods Church, but then vtterly defaced and brought to ruine, by the Pharisaicall and Jewish superstitions.

c God suffereth the most perfect to fall, & yet turneth their infirmities to the setting forth of his glory, as this breach of company, caused the Gospel to be preached in moe places.

him, and tooke and circumcised him, because of the Iewes which were in those quarters: for they knewe all that his father was a Greeke.

4 And as they went through the cities, they deliuered them the decrees for to keepe, that Actes 15.28. were *ordeined of the Apostles and Elders which were at Hierusalem.

5 And so were the Churches stablished in the faith, and increased in number dayly.

6 Nowe when they had gone throughout Phrygia, and the region of Galatia, & were forbidden of the holy Ghost to preach the word in Asia,

7 They comming to Mysia, sought to goe into Bithynia: but the spirit suffered them not.

8 And they passing thorowe Mysia, came downe to Troada.

9 And a vision appeared to Paul in the night: There stoode a man of Macedonia, and prayed him, saying, Come into Macedonia, and helpe vs.

10 And after he had seene the vision, immediatly we prepared to go into Macedonia, gathering by conference, that the Lord had called vs for to preach the Gospell vnto them.

11 Then we being caried from Troada, came with a straight course to Samothracia, and the next day to Neapolis:

12 And from thence to Philippos, which is the chiefe citie in the parties of Macedonia, and a free citie: and we were in that citie abiding certaine dayes.

13 And on the day of the Sabboths we went out of the citie, besides a riuer, where prayer was wont to be made, and we sate downe, and spake vnto the women which resorted thither.

14 And a certaine woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the citie of the Thyatirians, which worshipped God, gaue vs audience: Whose heart the Lorde opened, that she attended vnto the things which were spoken of Paul.

15 And when she was baptized, and her household, she besought vs, saying, If ye haue iudged me to be faithfull to the Lorde, come into my house, and abide there. And she constrained vs.

16 And it came to passe, as we went to prayer, a certaine damosell possessed with a spirit of a Which could tell of things past, and gesse of things to come, which knowledge in many things God permitteth to the deuil: to this end (as Master Hoteby) that he might the more mightily deceiue those that woulde beleeue him. a soothsaying, met vs: which brought her masters much vantage with soothsaying.

17 The same folowed Paul and vs, and cryed, saying, These men are the seruantes of the most high God, which shew vnto vs the way of saluation.

18 And this did she many dayes: but Paul not content, turned about, and said to the spirit, I commande thee in the name of Iesu Christ, that thou come out of her. And he came out the same houre.

19 And when her masters sawe that the hope of their gaines was gone, they caught Paul & Silas, and drew them into the market place, vnto the rulers,

20 And brought them to the officers, saying, These men being Iewes, doe exceedingly trouble our citie:

21 And preach ordinances, which are not lawfull for vs to receiue, neither to obserue, seeing we are Romanes.

22 And the people ranne against them, and the officers rent their clothes, and commanded
1.Cor.1.25. 1.thes2.2. * to beate them with roddes.

23 And when they had laide many stripes vpon them, they cast them into prison, commanding the iaylour of the prison to keepe them diligently.

24 Which when he had receiued such commãdement, thrust them into the inner prison, and made their feete fast in the stockes.

25 And at midnight, Paul and Silas prayed and lauded God: and the prisoners heard them.

26 And sodainely there was a great earthquake, so that the foundation of the prison was shaken: and immediately all the doores opened, and euery mans bands were loosed.

27 When the keeper of the prison waked out of his sleepe, and saw the prison doores open, he drewe out his swoorde, and would haue killed himselfe, supposing that the prisoners had bene fled.

28 But Paul cryed with a loude voyce, saying, Doe thy selfe no harme, for we are all here.

29 Then he called for a light, and sprang in, and came trembling, and fell downe before Paul and Silas, 30 And brought them out, and saide, Syrs, what must I doe to be saued?

31 And they saide, Beleeue on the Lorde Iesus Christ, and thou shalt be saued, and thy household.

32 And they spake vnto him the worde of the Lord, and to all that were in his house.

33 And hee tooke them the same houre of the night, and washed their woundes, and was baptized himselfe, and all they of his household straightway.

34 And when hee had brought them into his house, he set meate before them, & ioyed that he with all his household beleeued on God.

35 And when it was day, the officers sent the sergeantes, saying, Let those men goe.

36 And the keeper of the prison tolde this saying to Paul, The officers haue sent worde to loose you: Nowe therefore, get you hence, and goe in peace.

37 Then saide Paul vnto them, They haue beaten vs openly vncondemned, being Romanes, manes, and haue caſt vs into priſon, now doe they thruſt vs out priuily? Nay verily: but let them come themſelues, and fetch vs out.

38 And the ſergeantes tolde theſe wordes vnto the officers: and they feared when they heard that they were Romanes.

39 And they came and beſought them, and brought them out, and deſired them to depart out of the citie.

40 And they went out of the priſon, and entred into [the houſe] of *Lydia, and whē they had ſeene the brethren, they comforted them, and departed. Actes.5.14.

The xvii. Chapter.

Paul commeth to Theſſalonica, where the Iewes ſet the citie in an vprore.

1 AS they made their iourney thorowe Amphypolis, & Apollonia, they came to Theſſalonica, where was a Synagogue of the Iewes.

2 And Paul, as his maner was, went in vnto them, and three Sabboth dayes diſputed with them out of the ſcriptures,

3 Opening and alleaging, that Chriſt muſt needes haue ſuffered and riſen againe from the dead: and that this is Chriſt Ieſus which I preach vnto you.

4 And ſome of them beleeued, and ioyned with Paul and Silas, and of the deuoute Greekes a great multitude, and of the chiefe women not a fewe.

5 But the Iewes which beleeued not, mooued with enuie, tooke vnto them certaine vagabondes, and euill men, and gathered a companie, and ſet all the citie on a rore, and made aſſault vnto the houſe of Iaſon, and ſought to bring them out to the people.

6 And when they found them not, they drewe Iaſon and certaine brethren vnto the heads of the citie, crying, Theſe that haue troubled the world, are come hither alſo,

7 Whom Iaſon hath receiued [priuily:] and theſe all doe contrary to the decrees of Caeſar, [a] ſaying that there is another king, [one] Ieſus.

a Like quarel picking they vſed againſt Chriſt: & theſe be ꝑ weapons wherebp the world continuallp fighteth againſt the members of Chriſt, treaſon and ſedition.

8 And they troubled the people, and the officers of the citie, when they heard theſe things.

9 And when they had taken ſufficient ſuretie of Iaſon, and of the other, they let them goe.

10 And the brethren immediately ſent away Paul and Silas by night vnto Berea: which when they were come thither, they entred into the ſynagogue of the Iewes.

11 Theſe were the nobleſt of birth among them of Theſſalonica, which receiued ꝑ word with all readineſſe of minde, and ſearched the ſcriptures dayly, whether thoſe things were ſo.

12 Therefore many of them beleeued: alſo of honeſt women which were Greekes, and of men not a fewe.

13 But when the Iewes of Theſſalonica had knowledge that the worde of God was preached of Paul at Berea, they came thither, and mooued the people.

14 And then immediately the brethren ſent away Paul, to goe as it were to the ſea: but Silas and Timotheus abode there ſtill.

15 And they that guided Paul, brought him vnto Athens, and receiued a commandement vnto Silas and Timotheus, for to come to him with ſpeede, and went their way.

16 While Paul waited for them at Athens, his ſpirit was mooued in him, when he ſawe the citie giuen to worſhipping of idoles.

17 Therefore diſputed hee in the Synagogue with the Iewes, & with the deuoute perſons, and in the market dayly with them that came vnto him by chance.

18 Then certaine philoſophers of the [b] Epicures, & of the [c] Stoikes, diſputed with him: & ſome ſaid, What wil this babbler ſay? Other ſome, He ſeemeth to be a ſetter forth of newe gods: becauſe he preached vnto them Ieſus, and the reſurrection.

b The Epicures were a ſect of learned mē, which (being without the knowledge of God) helde opinió, ꝑ there was no life or ioy after this life, but that al mans felicitie did conſiſt in the pleaſures of this world.

19 And they tooke him, and brought him into the ſtreete of Mars, ſaying, May we know what this newe doctrine whereof thou ſpeakeſt, is?

20 For thou bringeſt certaine ſtrange things to our eares: we would know therefore what theſe things meane.

c The Stoikes were another kinde of learned mē, which likewiſe wanting the knowledge of God, affirmed that mans whole felicitie & happineſſe did conſiſt in the qualities and vertues of the minde.

21 (For all the Athenians & ſtrangers which were there, had leaſure to nothing els, but either to tell or to heare ſome new thing.)

22 Then Paul ſtoode in the middes of the ſtreete of Mars, and ſaid, Ye men of Athens, I perceiue that in all things ye are too ſuperſtitious.

23 For as I paſſed by, and behelde the maner how ye worſhip your gods, I founde an altar wherein was written, Unto an vnknowen God. Whom ye then ignorantly worſhip, him ſhewe I vnto you.

24 *God that made the world, and all that are in it, ſeeing that he is Lorde of heauen and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with handes: Actes.7.48.

25 *Neither is worſhipped with mens hands, as though hee needed of any thing, ſeeing he himſelfe giueth life and breath to all euery where: Pſal.50.8.

26 And hath made of one blood all nations of men, for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and alſo the boundes of their habitation:

27 That they ſhoulde ſeeke the Lorde, if perhappes they might haue felt and founde him, though he be not farre from euery one of vs.

28 For in him we liue, and moue, and haue our being, as certaine of your owne Poets haue said, For we are also his offspring.

Esai 40.18.

d The Apostle termeth vs the generation of God, not that we be of the substance and nature of God, but because God hath created vs, and by his sonne Jesus Christ hath redemed vs, and made vs his children by adoption.

29 * For as much then as we are the d offspring of God, we ought not to thinke that the Godhead is like vnto gold, siluer, or stone, grauen by arte and mans deuice.

30 And the time of this ignorance God winked at, but nowe biddeth all men euery where to repent:

31 Because he hath appointed a day in ỹ which he will iudge the world in righteousnesse, by that man whom he hath appointed, and hath offered faith to all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead.

32 And when they heard of the resurrection from the dead, some mocked: and other saide, We will heare thee againe of this matter.

33 So Paul departed from among them.

34 Howbeit, certaine men claue vnto him, and beleeued: among the which was Dionys Areopagita, and a woman named Damaris, and other with them.

The xviii. Chapter.

3 Paul preacheth at Corinth. 24 Of Apollos, 26 Aquila and Priscilla.

1 AFter these things, Paul departed frõ Athens, and came to Corinth,

2 And founde a certaine Iewe named * Aquila, borne in Pontus, lately come from Italie with his wife Priscilla, (because that Claudius had commanded all Iewes to depart from Rome) and he came vnto them.

Rom. 16.3.

3 And because he was of the same craft, he abode with them, and wrought (for by their occupation they were Tent makers.)

4 And hee disputed in the Synagogue euery Sabboth, and exhorted the Iewes, and the Greekes.

5 And when Silas & Timotheus were come from Macedonia, Paul was constrained by the spirit to testifie to the Iewes that Iesus was Christ.

6 And when they said contrarie, and blaspheme, * he shooke his rayment, and saide vnto them, Your blood be a vpon your owne heads: from henceforth will I goe blameless vnto the Gentiles.

Matth. 10.14. actes 13.51.

a By this Hebrue speach he signifieth, that he that dieth & perisheth, shall perish through his owne fault.

7 And he departed thence, and entred into a certaine mans house, named Justus, a worshipper of God, whose house ioyned hard to the Synagogue.

8 * And one Crispus, the chiefe ruler of the Synagogue, beleeued on the Lorde with all his houshold: and many of the Corinthians hearing, beleeued, and were baptized.

1.Cor.1.14.

9 Then spake the Lorde to Paul in the night by a vision, Be not afraide, but speake, and holde not thy peace.

10 For I am with thee, and no man shal inuade thee, to hurt thee: For I haue much people in this citie.

11 And hee continued there a yeere and sixe moneths, teaching the worde of God among them.

12 And when Gallio was ỹ deputie of Achaia, the Iewes made insurrection with one accord against Paul, and brought him to the iudgement seate, 13 Saying, This fellow counselleth men to worship God contrarie to the lawe.

14 And when Paul nowe was about to open his mouth, Gallio saide vnto the Iewes, If it were a matter of wrong, or an euill deede, O ye Iewes, reason would that I shoulde beare with you:

15 But if it be a question of words & names, or of your lawe, looke ye to it your selues: for I will be no iudge of such matters.

16 And hee draue them from the iudgement seate.

17 Then all the Greekes tooke Sosthenes the chiefe ruler of the Synagogue, and smote him before the iudgement seate: and Gallio cared for none of those things.

18 And Paul after this taried [there] yet a good while, and then tooke his leaue of the brethren, and sailed thence into Syria, (Aquila and Priscilla accompanying him.) And he shore his head in b Cenchrea: for he had a vowe.

b Cenchrea is a hauē at Corinth, where Paul taking ship, did cleare his head, according to his vowe. For according to the law of Moses, they that vowed themselues to God, were commanded to suffer their heare to growe as long as they would continue Nazarites, and afterward to shear it, and to burne it. This did Paul, not forgetting what he had before decreed with the Apostles, touching the abolishing of the law: but least ỹ Iewes which beleeued should be offended, he fained himselfe a Iewe, to winne the Iewes, 1.Cor.1. 2.Cor.4.15. iames 4.16. 1.Cor.1.12.

19 And he came to Ephesus, & left them there: but he himselfe entred into the Synagogue, and reasoned with the Iewes.

20 When they desired him to tarrie longer time with them, he consented not:

21 But bade them farewell, saying, I must needes at this feast that commeth, be in Hierusalem, but I will returne againe vnto you, * if God will: And he sailed from Ephesus.

22 And when he was come vnto Cesarea, and ascended vp, and saluted the Church, he went to Antioch.

23 And when he had taried there a while, he departed, and went ouer all the countrey of Galatia & Phrygia by order, strengthening all the disciples.

24 * And a certaine Iewe, named Apollos, borne at Alexandria, came to Ephesus, an eloquent man, and mightie in the scriptures.

25 The same was informed in the way of the Lord, and being feruent in the spirit, he spake and taught diligently the things of the Lord, knowing onely the baptisme of Iohn.

26 And the same beganne to speake boldly in the Synagogue: Whom when Aquila and Priscilla had heard, they tooke him vnto them, and c expounded vnto him the way of God perfectly.

c Apollo being a wittie & a learned man was not ashamed to be taught and instructed in the doctrine of Christ of a poore craftes man and his wife.

27 And when he was disposed to goe into Achaia, the brethren wrote, exhorting the disciples to receiue him: Which when he was come, helped them much which had beleeued through grace.

28 For he ouercame the Iewes mightily, and that openly, shewing by the scriptures that Iesus was that Christ.

The xix. Chapter.

3 Of baptisme. 6 Of the holy Ghost giuen by Paules hands. 9 The Iewes blaspheme the doctrine of Paul.

1 AND it came to passe, that while Apollos was at Corinth, Paul passed thorowe the vpper coastes, and came to Ephesus, and founde certaine disciples,

2 And saide vnto them, Haue ye receiued the [a] holy Ghost since ye beleeued? And they said vnto him, We haue not heard whether there be any holy Ghost or no.

3 And he saide vnto them, Vnto what then were yee baptized? And they saide, Vnto [b] Iohns baptisme.

4 Then saide Paul, Iohn verily baptized with the baptisme of repentance, saying vnto the people, that they should beleeue on him which shoulde come after him, that is, on Christ Iesus.

5 When they heard this, they were baptized in [c] the name of the Lord Iesus.

6 And when Paul had laide his handes vpon them, the holy Ghost came on them, and they spake with tongues, and prophecied.

7 And all the men were about twelue.

8 And he went into the synagogue, and spake boldly for the space of three moneths, disputing and perswading those things that [appertaine] to the kingdome of God.

9 But when diuers waxed hardhearted, and beleeued not, but spake euil of the way [of the Lorde,] and that before the multitude, he departed from them, and separated ỹ disciples: and he disputed dayly in the schoole of one called Tyrannus.

10 And this continued by the space of two yeeres, so that all they which dwelt in Asia, heard ỹ word of the Lord Iesus, both Iewes and Greekes.

11 And God wrought speciall miracles by the handes of Paul:

12 So that from his body were brought vnto the sicke, napkins, and partlets, and the diseases departed from them, and the euill spirites went out of them.

13 Then certaine of the vagabound Iewes, exorcistes, tooke vpon them to call ouer them which had euill spirites, the name of the Lord Iesus, saying, Wee adiure you by Iesus whom Paul preacheth.

14 And there were seuen sonnes of one Sceua a Iewe, and chiefe of the Priestes which did so.

15 And the euill spirit answered, and saide, Iesus I knowe, and Paul I knowe, but who are ye?

16 And the man in whom the euill spirit was, ranne on them, and ouercame them, and preuailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded.

17 And this was knowen to all the Iewes and Greekes also which dwelt at Ephesus, and feare came on them all, and the name of the Lord Iesus was magnified.

18 And many that beleeued, came, and confessed, and shewed their workes.

19 Many also of them which vsed curious craftes, brought their bookes, and burned them before all men: & they counted the price of them, and found it fiftie thousand pieces of siluer.

20 So mightily grewe the worde of God, and preuailed.

21 After these things were ended, Paul purposed in the spirit, when he had passed ouer Macedonia and Achaia, to goe to Hierusalem, saying, After I haue bene there, I must also see Rome.

22 So sent he into Macedonia two of them that ministred vnto him, Timotheus and Erastus, but he himselfe remained in Asia for a season.

23 And the same time there arose no litle a doe about that way.

24 For a certaine man, named Demetrius, a siluer smith, which made siluer shrines for Diana, ministred no small gaine vnto the craftesmen:

25 Whom he called together, with the workemen of like occupation, and saide, Syrs, ye knowe that by this craft we haue aduantage.

26 Moreouer, ye see and heare, that not alone at Ephesus, but almost throughout all Asia, this Paul hath perswaded and turned away much people, saying that they be no goddes which are made with hands.

27 So that not onely this our craft commeth into perill to be set at nought: but also that the temple of ỹ great goddesse Diana should be despised, and her magnificence shoulde be destroyed, whom all Asia and the world worshippeth.

28 And when they heard these sayings, they were full of wrath, and cried out, saying, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

29 And all the citie was on a roze, and they rushed into the common hall with one assent, and caught Gaius and Aristarcus, men of Macedonia, Pauls companions.

30 When Paul would haue entred in vnto the people, the disciples suffered him not.

31 But certaine of the chiefe of Asia, which a By the holy Ghost, here he meaneth the visible graces of the holy spirit.

b By this place, Iohns baptisme signifieth Iohns doctrine, which therefore is so called, for that he sealed his doctrine with the seale of baptisme in them that beleeued.

c They that were baptized, were not baptized with water, being before baptized of Iohn with water: but they were baptized with visibles giftes of the holy Ghost, which Saint Luke declaring how it was, witneth that it was by the laying on of Saint Pauls handes.

were his friends, sent vnto him, desiring him that he woulde not preasse into the common hall.

32 Some therefore cried one thing, and some another: & the assembly was all out of quiet, and the more part knewe not wherefore they were come together.

33 And [certaine] of the people drew Alexander out of the multitude, the Iewes thrusting him forwardes. And Alexander beckened with the hand, and would haue giuen the people an answere.

34 But when they knew that he was a Iewe, there arose a shoute almost for the space of two houres, of all men, crying, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

35 And when the towne clarke had pacified the people, he saide, Ye men of Ephesus, what man is it that knoweth not how that the citie of the Ephesians is ‖ the temple keeper of the great goddesse Diana, and of the [image] which came downe from Iupiter?

‖ Some reade, a worshipper.

36 Seeing then that these things cannot be spoken against, ye ought to be quiet, and to doe nothing rashly.

37 For ye haue brought hither these men, which are neither robbers of Churches, nor yet blasphemers of your goddesse.

38 Wherefore if Demetrius, & the crafts men which are with him, haue a matter against any man, the law is open, and there are deputies, let them accuse one another.

39 But if ye enquire any thing concerning other matters, it shalbe determined in a lawfull assembly.

40 For we are in ieopardie to be accused of this dayes vprore, forasmuch as there is no cause whereby we may giue a reckoning of this concourse of people.

41 And when he had thus spoken, he let the assembly depart.

The xx. Chapter.

1 Paul goeth into Macedonia and Grecia: 7 he celebrateth the Lordes Supper, and preacheth.

1 AND after the vprore was ceassed, Paul called the disciples, & tooke his leaue of them, and departed, for to goe into Macedonia:

2 And when he had gone ouer those partes, & had giuen them a long exhortation, he came into Greece,

3 And there abode three moneths: and when þ Iewes laide waite for him, as he was about to saile into Syria, he purposed to returne throwe Macedonia.

4 And there accompanied him into Asia Sopater of Berea: and of the Thessalonians Aristarcus, and Secundus, and Gaius of Derbe, and Timotheus: and out of Asia Tychicus and Trophimus.

5 These going before, taried vs at Troas:

6 And we sailed away from Philippos, after the dayes of sweete breade, & came vnto them to Troas in fiue dayes, where we abode seuen dayes.

7 And vpon one of the Sabboth dayes, when the disciples came together for to *breake breade, Paul reasoned with them, ready to depart on the morowe, and continued the talke vnto midnight. * Acts 2.46.

8 And there were many lightes in an vpper chamber where they were gathered together.

9 And there sate in a window a certaine yong man named Eutychus, being fallen into a deepe sleepe: & as Paul was long reasoning, he was the more ouercome with sleepe, and fell downe from the third loft, and was taken vp dead.

10 But when Paul went downe, he fel on him, and embraced him, and said, Make nothing a doe: for his life is in him.

11 When he therefore was come vp againe, and had broken breade and eaten, and talked a long while, euen till the morning, so he departed.

12 And they brought the yong man aliue, and were not a litle comforted.

13 And we went afore to ship, and sailed vnto Asson, there to receiue Paul: for so had he appointed, minding himselfe to goe afoote.

14 And when he was come to vs to Asson, we tooke him in, and came to Mitylene.

15 And we sailed thence, & came the next day ouer against Chios, and the next day we arriued at Samos, and taried at Trogyllium: the next day we came to Miletum.

16 For Paul had determined to saile ouer by Ephesus, because he woulde not spende the time in Asia: for he hasted, if it were possible for him, to be at Hierusalem the day of Pentecost.

17 And from Miletum he sent to Ephesus, and called the elders of the Church.

18 Which when they were come to him, he said vnto them, Ye know from the first day that I came into Asia, after what maner I haue bene with you at all seasons,

19 Seruing the Lorde with all humblenesse of minde, and with many teares, and temptations, which came vnto me by the layings of waite of the Iewes:

20 And howe I kept backe nothing that was profitable vnto you, but haue shewed you, and haue taught you openly and throughout euerie house,

21 Witnessing both to the Iewes and also to the Greekes, the repentance that is towarde God, and the faith which is toward our Lord Iesus Christ.

22 And nowe beholde, I goe bounde[a] in the spirit vnto Hierusalem, not knowing the things a That is to say, I goe by the impulsion and commandement of the holy Ghost, who drawes me as with a band.

things that shall come vnto me:
23 But that the holy ghost witnesseth in euery citie, saying that bondes and troubles abide me.
24 But none of these things moue mee, neither count I my life deare vnto my selfe, so that I might fulfill my course with ioy, and the ministerie which I haue receiued of the Lord Iesu, to testifie the Gospel of the grace of God.
25 And now behold, I am sure that henceforth ye all, among whom I haue gone preaching the kingdome of God, shall see my face no more.
26 Wherefore, I take you to record this day, that I am pure from the blood of all men.
27 For I haue kept nothing backe, but haue shewed you all the counsell of God.
28 Take heede therefore vnto your selues, and to all the flocke, ouer the which the holy ghost hath made you ouerseers, to rule the church of God, which he hath purchased [b] with his owne blood.
29 For I know this, that after my departing, shall grieuous wolues enter in among you, not sparing the flocke.
30 Also of your owne selues shall men arise, speaking peruerse things, to [c] draw away disciples after them.
31 Therefore watch, and remember that by the space of three yeeres I ceased not to warne euery one night and day with teares.
32 And now brethren, I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build further, and to giue you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified.
33 I haue desired no mans siluer, or gold, or vesture.
34 Yea, ye your selues know, that these *hands haue ministred vnto my necessities, & to them that were with me.
35 I haue shewed you all things, how that so labouring ye ought to helpe the weake, and to remember the wordes of the Lord Iesu (how that he said) It is more blessed to giue, then to receiue.
36 And when he had thus spoken, hee kneeled downe, and prayed with them all.
37 And they all wept sore, and fell on Pauls necke, and kissed him, 38 Sorowing most of all for the words which hee spake, that they should see his face no more: And they accompanied him vnto the ship.

b That which appertaineth to Christes manhood (which is shedding of blood) is here spoken of his Godhead, because of the communion of the properties and vnion of two natures in one person.
c Through their ambitiō, which is mother of al sects and heresies.

1.Cor.4.12. 1.thes.2.9. 2.thes.3.8.

The xxi. Chapter.

1 Pauls iourney by ship. 8 Of Philip the Euangelist, 10 and Agabus the Prophet.

1 AND when it came to passe that we had lanched foorth, and were departed frō them, we came with a straight course vnto Choos, and the day following vnto the Rhodes, and from thence vnto Patara.
2 And when we had found a ship sailing vnto Phenice, we went aboord, and set foorth.
3 Now when Cyprus began to appeare [vnto vs,] we left it on the left hand, and sailed into Syria, and came vnto Tyre: for there the ship vnladed the burden.
4 And whē we had found disciples, we taried there seuen dayes: who said to Paul through the spirit, that he should not goe vp to Hierusalem.
5 And when the dayes were ended, we departed, and went our way, and they all brought vs on our way, with wiues and children, till we were come out of the citie: and we kneeled downe on the shore, and prayed.
6 And when we had taken our leaue one of another, we tooke ship, & they returned home againe.
7 When we had full ended the course from Tyre, we went downe to Ptolomaida, and saluted the brethrē, and abode with them one day.
8 And the next day, wee that were of Pauls company, departed, and came vnto Cesarea, and we entred into the house of Philip the Euangelist (* which was one of the seuen) and abode with him. Act. 6.5.
9 And the same man had foure daughters, virgins, which did prophecie.
10 And as we taried there a good many of daies, there came a certaine prophete from Iurie, named Agabus.
11 And when hee was come vnto vs, he tooke Pauls girdle, and bound his owne hands and feete, and saide, Thus sayeth the holy ghost, So shall the Iewes at Hierusalem binde the man that oweth this girdle, and shall deliuer him into the hands of the Gentiles.
12 And when we heard these things, both we and other which were of the same place, besought him, that he would not goe vp to Hierusalem.
13 Then Paul answered, What do ye weeping and vexing mine heart? for I am ready not to be bound onely, but also to die at Hierusalem for the name of the Lord Iesus.
14 And when we could not turne his mind, we ceased, saying, The will of the Lord bee fulfilled.
15 And after those dayes we tooke vp our burdens, and went vp to Hierusalem.
16 There went with vs also [certaine] of the disciples of Cesarea, and brought with them one Mnason of Cyprus, an old disciple, with whom we should lodge.
17 And when wee were come to Hierusalem, the brethren receiued vs gladly.
18 And on the morow Paul went in with vs vnto [a] James, & all the elders came together.
19 And

a This James was the Lordes brother the sonne of Marie, which was the sister of the blessed virgin: which James afterwards was bishop of Hierusalem.

19 And when he had saluted them, he told by order all things that God had wrought among the Gentiles by his ministery.
20 And when they heard[it,]they glorified the Lord,and said vnto him,Thou seest, brother, how many thousand Iewes there are which beleeue, and they are all earnest folowers of the lawe.
21 And they are enformed of thee, that thou teachest all the Iewes, which are among the Gentiles,to forsake Moses,saying that they ought not to circumcise their children, neither to walke [after] the customes.
22 What is it therefore? the multitude must needes come together: for they shall heare that thou art come.
23 Doe therefore this that we say to thee:We haue foure men which haue a vowe on them, 24 Them take,and purifie thy selfe with them, and do cost on them,that they may shaue their
Num.6.18. heads: * and all shall know that those things which they haue heard concerning thee, are nothing, but that thou thy selfe also walkest and keepest the lawe.
25 As touching the Gentiles which beleeue,
Act.15.20. * we haue written and concluded, that they obserue no such thing, saue onely that they keepe themselues frō things offred to idoles, and from blood,and from strangled,and from fornication.
26 Then Paul tooke the men,and the next day
Num.6.13. purifying himselfe with them,entred into the temple, * declaring the accomplishment of the dayes of the purification,vntil that an offring should be offred for euery one of them.
27 And when the seuen dayes were almost ended, the Iewes which were of Asia, when they sawe him in the temple, mooued all the people,and laid hands on him,
28 Crying, Men of Israel, helpe: this is the man that teacheth all men euery where against the people,and the law,and this place: he hath also brought Greekes into the temple,and hath polluted this holy place.
29 (For they had seene before with him in the citie, Trophimus an Ephesian, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple.)
30 And all the citie was mooued, and the people swarmed together: and they tooke Paul, and drew him out of the temple: and foorthwith the doores were shut.
31 And as they went about to kil him, tidings came vnto the high captaine of the souldiers, that all Hierusalem was in an vprore.
b God often-times appointeth his magistrates to deliuer his faithfull ministers from all dangers of their enemies.
32 Which [immediately] tooke b souldiers, & vndercaptaines,and ranne downe vnto them: and when they sawe the chiefe captaine & the souldiers,they left smiting of Paul.
33 Then the chiefe captaine came neere, and tooke him,and commanded him to bee bound with two chaines,& demaunded who he was, and what he had done.
34 And some cried one thing, some another, among the people: & when he could not know the certaintie for the rage,he commanded him to be caried into the castle.
35 And when he came vpon the staires, it was so that he was borne of the souldiers for the violence of the people.
36 For the multitude of the people folowed after,crying,Away with him.
37 And when Paul began to be caried into the castle,he said vnto the high captaine, May I speake vnto thee? Who said, Canst thou speake Greeke?
38 *Art thou not that Egyptian which before Act.5.36. these dayes madest an vprore, and leddest out into the wildernesse foure thousand men that were murderers?
39 But Paul said, I am a man which am a Iewe of *Tarsus,a citie in Cilicia, a citizen Act.21.3. of no vile citie: and I beseech thee suffer me to speake vnto the people.
40 And when he had giuen him licence, Paul stoode on the staires, and beckened with the hand vnto the people: and when there was made a great silence, hee spake vnto them in the Hebrew tongue,saying,

The xxii. Chapter.

3 Paul rendreth an account of his life and doctrine. 25 He escapeth the whippe,by reason he was a citizen of Rome.

1 MEn, brethren, and fathers, heare ye mine answere which I make vnto you.
2 (And whē they heard that he spake in the Hebrew tongue to them, they kept the more silence: and he saith,)
3 I am verily a man which am a Iewe,borne in Tarsus [a citie] in Cilicia, & yet brought vp in this citie at the feete of Gamaliel, and taught according to the perfect maner of the law of the fathers, and was zelous towards God,as ye all are this same day.
4 And*I persecuted this way vnto the death, Act.9.8. binding and deliuering into prisons both mē and women,
5 As also the chiefe priest doeth beare me witnesse,and all the estate of the elders: of whom also I receiued letters vnto the brethren, and went to Damascus, to bring them which were there,bound vnto Hierusalem, for to be punished.
6 And it came to passe, that as I made my iourney,and was come nigh vnto Damascus about noone, sodainly there shone from heauen a great light round about me:
7 And I fel vnto the earth,and heard a voyce saying vnto me,Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?
8 And I answered,Who art thou,Lord? And he he said vnto mee, I am Jesus of Nazareth [a] whom thou persecutest.

a Jesus was now in heauen, and could not be persecuted of Paul: But the persecution which Paul exercised against the faithful being his members, Christ counted it as done to himselfe.

9 And they that were with me, saw verily the light, and were afraid: but they heard not the voyce of him that spake to me.

10 And I said, What shal I do, Lord? And the Lord said vnto me, Arise, and goe into Damascus: and there it shall be told thee of all things which are appointed for thee to doe.

11 And when I saw nothing for the brightnes of the light, being led by the hand of them that were with me, I came into Damascus.

12 And one Ananias, a deuout man as pertaining to the lawe, hauing a good report of all the Jewes which there dwelt, 13 Came vnto me, and stood, and said vnto me, Brother Saul, receiue thy sight. And the same houre I looked vp vpon him.

14 And he said, the God of our fathers hath ordeined thee before, that thou shouldest know his will, and see that iust one, and shouldest heare the voyce of his mouth.

15 For thou shalt be his witnesse vnto all men, [of those things] which thou hast seene and heard:

16 And now, why tariest thou? Arise, and bee baptized, and wash away thy sinnes, in calling on the name of the Lord.

17 And it came to passe, that whē I was come againe to Hierusalem, and prayed in the temple, I was in a traunce, 18 And sawe him saying vnto me, Make haste, and get thee quickly out of Hierusalem: for they will not receiue thy witnesse concerning me.

Acts 8.3. 19 And I said, Lord, they know ỳ * I prisoned, and beat in euery synagogue them that beleeued on thee.

20 And when the blood of thy witnesse Steuen was shed, * I also was standing by, and consenting vnto his death, and kept the raiment of them that slew him.

Acts 7.58.

21 And he said vnto me, Depart: for I will send thee farre hence vnto the Gentiles.

22 And they gaue him audiēce vnto this word, and then lift vp their voices, and said, Away with such [a fellow] from the earth: for it is no reason that he should liue.

23 And as they cried, and cast off their clothes, and threw dust into the aire, 24 The chiefe captaine commanded him to be brought into the castle, & bade that hee should be scourged, and examined: that hee might know wherefore they cried so on him.

b He was not borne at Rome, but at Tarsus: the citizens whereof, enioy the priuiledge of the citie of Rome, and were counted as Romans.

25 And as they bound him with thongs, Paul said vnto the Centurion that stood by, Is it lawfull for you to scourge a man that is [b] Romane, and vncondemned?

26 When the Centurion heard that, he went & told the chiefe captaine, saying, Take heede what thou doest, for this man is a Romane.

27 Then the chiefe captaine came, and said vnto him, Tell me, art thou a Romane? He said, Yea.

28 And the chiefe captaine answered, With a great summe obtained I this freedome. And Paul said, I was free borne.

29 Then straightway departed from him they which should haue examined him: & the chiefe captaine also was afraid after hee knew that he was a Romane, and because he had bound him.

30 On the morow, because hee would haue knowen the certaintie wherefore he was accused of the Jewes, he loosed him from his bandes, and commanded the high priests and all the counsaile to come together, & brought Paul forth, and set him before them.

The xxiii. Chapter.

1 Paul commeth before the counsaile. 2 Ananias causeth him to be stricken.

1 AND Paul earnestly beholding ỳ counsaile, said, Men and brethren, I haue liued in all good conscience before God vntill this day.

2 And the high priest Ananias commaunded them that stood by, to smite him on ỳ mouth.

3 Then said Paul vnto him, God shall smite thee thou [a] painted wall: for sittest thou and iudgest me after the lawe, and commaundest me to be smitten contrary to the lawe?

a Paul doeth not curse the high priest, but denounce sharply the punishment of God, which should light vpon him in the way of prophecying. Exo. 21.18.

4 And they that stood by, said, Reuilest thou Gods high priest?

5 Then said Paul, I wist not brethren, [b] that he was the high priest: For it is written, *Thou shalt not curse the ruler of thy people.

b It is thought that Paul in mockerie thus excused himself, as though thus he should say, I see nothing in this man worthy the office of the high priest. Phil. 3.5. acts 24.22.

6 But when Paul perceiued that the one part were Saducees, and the other Pharisees, he cried out in the counsaile, * Men and brethren, I am a Pharisee, the sonne of a Pharisee: of the hope and resurrection of the dead I am iudged.

7 And when he had so said, there arose a debate betweene the Pharisees and the Saducees: and the multitude was diuided.

8 * For the Saducees say that there is no resurrection, neither angell, nor spirit: but the Pharisees confesse both.

Matt. 22.33.

9 And there arose a great cry: and when the Scribes which were of the Pharisees part arose, they stroue, saying, Wee finde no euill in this man: but if a spirit or an angell hath spoken to him, let vs not striue against God.

10 And when there arose a great debate, the chiefe captaine fearing lest Paul should haue bene pluckt asunder of them, commaunded the souldiers to goe downe, and to take him from among them, and to bring him into the castle.

11 And the night following, the Lord stood by him, him, and said, Be of good cheare, Paul: for as thou hast testified of me in Hierusalem, so must thou beare witnesse also at Rome.

12 And when it was day, certaine of ỹ Iewes gathered themselues together, and made a [c]vowe, saying that they would neither eate nor drinke till they had killed Paul.

c The word properly signifieth cursing, as when a man either sweareth, voweth, or wisheth himselfe to die, or to be giuen to the deuil, except he bring his purpose to passe.

13 And they were more then fourtie [men,] which had made this conspiracie.

14 And they came to the chiefe priests and elders, and said, Wee haue bound our selues with a vowe, that we will eate nothing vntill we haue slaine Paul.

15 Now therefore giue ye knowledge to the chiefe captaine, and to the counsaile, that hee bring him forth vnto you to morow, as though ye would know something more perfectly of him: and we, or euer he come neere, are ready to kill him.

16 And whē Pauls sisters sonne heard of their laying awaite, hee went and entred into the castle, and told Paul.

17 And Paul called one of the vndercaptaines vnto him, and said, Bring this yong man vnto the high captaine: for hee hath a certaine thing to shew him.

18 And he tooke him, and brought him to the high captaine, and said, Paul the prisoner called me vnto him, and prayed me to bring this yong man vnto thee, which hath a certaine matter to shew thee.

19 Then the high captaine tooke him by the hand, and went with him out of the way, and asked him, What is it that thou hast to tell me?

20 And he said, The Iewes are determined to desire thee, that thou wouldest bring forth Paul to morow into the counsaile, as though they would enquire somewhat of him more perfectly.

21 But follow not thou their mindes: for there lie in waite for him of them moe then fourtie men, which haue bound themselues with a vowe, that they will neither eate nor drinke, till they haue killed him: and now are they ready, and looke for a promise from thee.

22 The chiefe captaine then let the yong man depart, and charged him, See thou tell it out to no man, that thou hast shewed these things to me.

23 And he called vnto him two vndercaptains, saying, Make ready two hundred souldiers to goe to Cesarea, and horsemen threescore & ten, and spearemen two hundred, at the third houre of the night:

24 And deliuer them beasts, that they may set Paul on, and bring him safe vnto Felix the high deputie.

25 And he wrote a letter after this maner,

26 Claudius Lysias, vnto the most mighty ruler Felix, sendeth greetings.

27 This man was taken of the Iewes, and should haue bene killed of them: Then came I with an army, and rescued him, and perceiued that he was a Romane:

28 And when I would haue knowen the cause wherefore they accused him, I brought him forth into their counsaile.

29 Whom I perceiued to be accused of questions of their law, but hauing nothing laid to his charge worthy of death, or of bondes.

30 And when it was shewed me how that the Iewes laid waite for the man, I sent [him] straightway to thee, and gaue commandemēt to his accusers, that the things which they haue against him, they should tell before thee. Farewel.

31 Then the souldiers, as it was commanded them, tooke Paul, and brought him by night to Antipatridis.

32 On the morow, they left the horsemen to go with him, and returned vnto the castle.

33 Which when they came to Cesarea, & deliuered the epistle to the deputie, presented Paul also before him.

34 And whē the deputie had read [the letter,] he asked of what prouince he was. And when he vnderstoode that he was of Cilicia:

35 I will heare thee, said he, when thine accusers are come also. And hee commanded him to be kept in Herodes iudgement hall.

The xxiiii. Chapter.

Paul being accused, answereth for his life and doctrine.

1 AND after fiue dayes, Ananias the high priest descended, with the elders, and with a certaine Orator, named Tertullus, which appeared before the deputie against Paul.

2 And when Paul was called forth, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying, Seeing that we haue [a] obtained great quietnesse by the meanes of thee, and that many good things are done vnto this nation through thy prouidence, a Felix by his diligence had taken Eleazarus the captaine of the murderers, and put the Egyptians to flight, which raised vp tumults in Iurie. For these the Orator praised him: otherwayes he was both cruell and couetous.

3 That allow we euer, and in all places, most noble Felix, with all thanks.

4 Notwithstanding, that I be not tedious vnto thee, I pray thee, that thou wouldest heare vs of thy courtesie a few wordes.

5 For we haue found this man a pestilent fellow, and a mouer of debate vnto all ỹ Iewes in the whole world, and a maintainer of the sect of the Nazarites.

6 Which also hath gone about to pollute the temple: whom we tooke, and would haue iudged according to our lawe.

7 But the high captaine Lysias came vpon vs, and with great violence tooke him away out of our hands,

8 Commanding his accusers to come vnto thee, of whom thou mayest, if thou wilt enquire, quire, know the certaintie of all these things whereof we accuse him.

9 And the Iewes likewise affirmed, saying that these things were so.

10 Then Paul, after that the deputie himselfe had beckened vnto him that he should speake, answered, With a more quiet minde do I answere for my selfe, for as much as I vnderstand that thou hast bene of many yeeres a iudge vnto this nation:

11 Because that thou maiest know, that there are yet but twelue dayes, since I went vp to Hierusalem for to worship.

12 And they neither found mee in the temple disputing with any mã, neither raising vp the people, neither in the synagogues, nor in the citie:

13 Neither can they proove the things whereof they accuse me.

14 But this I confesse vnto thee, that after the way which they call [b] heresie, so worship I the God of my fathers, beleeuing all things which are written in the Lawe and the Prophets, b No maruell though in our time Gods true religion be called heresie, for so it was counted of the wicked, euen in the beginning of Christes kingdome.

15 And haue hope towards God, that the resurrection of the dead, which they themselues looke for also, shall bee both of the iust and vniust.

16 And herein study I, to haue alway a cleare conscience toward God, and toward men.

17 Now after many yeeres, I came & brought almes to my nation, and offrings:

Acts 21.27.

18 *In the which they found mee purified in the temple, neither with multitude, nor yet with vnquietnesse.

19 Howbeit, there were certaine Iewes out of Asia, c These accusers spake but vpon false reports, which the bellowes of Satan had blowen abroad, and durst not for shame appeare themselues. Acts 23.7.

20 Which ought to bee here [c] present before thee, and accuse me, if they had ought against me.

21 Or els let these same here say, if they haue found any euill doing in mee while I stand here in the counsaile.

22 Except it be for this one voyce, that I cried standing among them, * That of the resurrection from the dead, am I iudged of you this day.

23 And when Felix heard these things, he deferred them: for hee knew very well of that way, and said, When Lysias the captaine is come downe, I will know the vttermost of your matter.

24 And hee commaunded an vndercaptaine to keepe Paul, and to let him haue rest, and that he should forbid none of his acquaintance to minister vnto him, or to come vnto him.

25 And after certaine daies, when Felix came with his wife Drusilla, which was a Iewesse, he called foorth Paul, and heard him of the faith which is toward Christ.

26 And as he reasoned of righteousnesse, temperance, & iudgement to come, Felix [d] trembled, and answered, Goe thy way for this time, when I haue a conuenient season, I wil send for thee.

d Such is the might & force of Gods heauenly word, that it causeth the very wicked to tremble and quake.

27 He hoped also that money should haue bene giuen him of Paul, that he might loose him: wherefore he sent for him the oftener, & communed with him.

28 But after two yeeres, Portius Festus came into Felix roume: and Felix willing to shew the Iewes a pleasure, left Paul bound.

The xxv. Chapter.

2 The Iewes accuse Paul before Festus. 8 Hee answereth for himselfe.

1 NOw when Festus was come into the prouince, after three dayes he ascended from Cesarea to Hierusalem.

2 Thẽ enformed him the high priest, & the chiefe of the Iewes, against Paul, & they besought him,

3 And desired fauour against him, þ he would send for him to Hierusalem, laying waite in the way to kill him.

4 But Festus answered, that Paul should be kept at Cesarea, and that he himselfe would depart shortly thither.

5 Let them therefore, sayd he, which among you are able, come downe with vs, and accuse him, if there be any fault in this man.

6 And when he had taried among them more then ten dayes, hee went downe vnto Cesarea, and the next day sate downe in the iudgement seate, and commaunded Paul to bee brought.

a Whiles Paul liued vnder the law like other Iewes, his conuersation was perfect & notable, and after his conuersion vnto Christ, he became a more notable example of innocencie: but it is a common case, that the seruants of God are euil spoken of for their well doing.

7 Who being come, the Iewes which were come from Hierusalem, stoode about [him,] and laid many and grieuous complaints against Paul, which they could not [a] proue,

8 While he answered [for himselfe] þ neither against the law of the Iewes, neither against the temple, nor yet against Cesar, haue I offended any thing at all.

9 But Festus willing to do the Iewes a pleasure, answered Paul, and said, Wilt thou go vp to Hierusalem, & there bee iudged of these things before me?

b The iniquitie of þ iudge, who contrary to equitie, willing to pleasure þ Iewes, deuised how to betray Paul, driue Paul to appeale, which is the vttermost remedy for such as by wrong iudgement are oppressed: and this appellation by Gods prouidence, was a meane that Paul should testifie of Christ at Rome also.

10 Then said Paul, I stand at Cesars iudgement seate, where I ought to bee iudged, to the Iewes haue I done no wrong, as thou very well knowest.

11 For if I do any wrong, or haue committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to die: but if there bee none [of these things] whereof they accuse me, no man may deliuer me vnto them. I appeale vnto [b] Cesar.

12 Then spake Festus with the counsaile, and answered, Hast thou appealed vnto Cesar? vnto Cesar shalt thou goe.

13 And after certaine daies, king Agrippa and Bernice, came vnto Cesarea, to salute Festus.

14 And

14 And when they had bene there a good season, Festus rehearsed Pauls cause vnto the king, saying, There is a certaine man left in bonds of Felix.

15 About whom, when I came to Hierusalem, the high priests and the elders of the Iewes enformed me, and desired to haue iudgement against him.

16 To whom I answered, It is not the maner of the Romans, for fauour to deliuer any mã that he should perish, before that hee which is accused, haue the accusers face to face, and haue licence to answere for himselfe, concerning the crime laid against him.

17 Therefore when they were come thither, without any delay, on the morow I sate on the iudgement seate, and commanded ẏ man to be brought forth.

18 Against whom, when the accusers stood vp, they brought none accusation of such things as I supposed:

19 But had certaine questions against him of their owne superstition, and of one Iesus, which was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be aliue.

20 And because I doubted of such maner of questions, I asked him whether he would go to Hierusalem, and there bee iudged of these matters.

21 But when Paul had appealed to bee kept vnto the knowledge of Augustus, I commãded him to be kept, till I might send him to Cesar.

22 Then Agrippa said vnto Festus, I would also heare the man my selfe. To morow said he, thou shalt heare him.

23 And on the morow whẽ Agrippa was come and Bernice, with great pompe, and was entred into the counsaile house, with the chiefe captaines, and chiefe men of the citie, at Festus commaundement was Paul brought forth.

24 And Festus said, King Agrippa, & all men which are here present with vs, yee see this man, about whom all the multitude of the Iewes haue intreated mee, both at Hierusalem, and also here, crying that he ought not to liue any longer.

25 Yet found I nothing worthy of death that he had committed: Neuertheless, seeing that he hath appealed to Augustus, I haue determined to send him, 26 Of whom I haue no certaine thing to write vnto my Lord: Wherefore I haue brought him forth before you, and specially before thee, O king Agrippa, that after examination had, I might haue somewhat to write.

27 For me thinketh it vnreasonable for to send a prisoner, and not to shew the causes which are laid against him.

The xxvi. Chapter.

1 King Agrippa heareth Paul. 25 Pauls modest answere against the iniurie of Festus.

1 THen Agrippa said vnto Paul, Thou art permitted to speake for thy selfe. Then Paul stretched forth the hand, and answered [for himselfe.]

2 I thinke my selfe happy, king Agrippa, because I shall answere this day before thee of all the things whereof I am accused of the Iewes:

3 Namely, because thou are expert in all customes and questions which are among [a] the Iewes: wherfore I beseech thee to heare me patiently.

4 My life that I haue led of a childe, which was at the first among mine owne nation at Hierusalem, know all the Iewes,

5 Which knew me from the beginning, (if they would testifie) that after the most straitest sect of our [b] religion, I liued a Pharisee.

6 And now I stand, and am iudged for the hope of the promise made of God vnto our fathers:

7 Unto which promise our twelue tribes instantly seruing God day and night, hope to come: For which hopes sake, king Agrippa, I am accused of the Iewes.

8 Why should it bee thought a thing incredible vnto you, that God raiseth the dead?

9 I also verily thought in my selfe, ẏ I ought to doe many contrary things, cleane against the name of Iesus of Nazareth:

10 *Which thing I also did in Hierusalem, and many of the saintes did I shut vp in prison, hauing receiued authoritie of the high priests, and when they were put to death, I gaue the sentence. Act. 8.3.

11 And I punished thẽ oft in euery synagogue, and compelled them to blaspheme, and was yet more mad vpon thẽ, and persecuted them euen vnto strange cities.

12 *About which things as I went to Damascus, with authoritie and commission of the high priests, Act. 9.2.

13 Euen at midday, O king, I sawe in ẏ way a light from heauen, aboue the brightnesse of the sunne, shine round about mee, and them which iourneied with me.

14 And when we were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voice speaking vnto me in ẏ Hebrew tongue, and saying, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? It is hard for thee to kicke against the prickes.

15 And I said, Who art thou, Lord? And hee said, I am Iesus whom thou persecutest.

16 But rise and stand vpon thy feete, for I haue appeared vnto thee for this purpose, to make thee a minister and a witnesse, both of these things which thou hast seene, and of those things in the which I wil appeare vnto thee, a Ye knew much, but he failed in the right applying of his knowledge, as they doe which be wise in their owne conceits only, and haue the zeale of God, but not according to knowledge.

17 Deli-

b He taketh the sect of the Pharisees to be perfectest, because their doctrine was better then the other sects. The Saduces denied the resurrection of the dead. The Essees glorying in straitnesse of life, little regard true doctrine.

17 Deliuering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, vnto whom now I send thee,
18 To open their eies, that they may be turned from darkenesse to light, and from the power of Satan vnto God, that they may receiue forgiuenes of sinnes, and inheritance among them which are sanctified by faith that is in me.
19 Wherefore, O king Agrippa, I was not disobedient vnto the heauenly vision:
20 But shewed first vnto them of Damascus, and at Hierusalem, and throughout all the coasts of Iurie, and then to the Gentiles, that they should repent and turne to God, and doe such workes as become them that repent.
21 For this cause the Iewes caught me in the temple, and went about to kill me.
22 Seeing therefore that I haue obteined helpe of God, I continue vnto this day, witnessing both to small and great, saying none other things then those which the Prophets & Moses did say should come:
23 That Christ should suffer, & that he should be the first that should rise from the dead, and should shew light vnto the people, and to the Gentiles.
24 And as he thus spake for himselfe, Festus sayd with a loud voyce, Paul, thou art beside thy [c] selfe, much learning doeth make thee madde.
25 But he said, I am not madde, most noble Festus, but speake foorth the words of trueth and sobernesse.
26 For the king knoweth of these things, before whom also I speake freely, neither beleeue I, that any of these things are hidde from him, for this thing was not done in a corner.
27 King Agrippa, beleeuest thou the Prophets? I wote well that thou beleeuest.
28 Then Agrippa said vnto Paul, Somewhat thou perswadest [d] me to be a christian.
29 And Paul said, I would to God, that not onely thou, but also all that heare me to day, were both somewhat, & also in a great deale such as I am, except these bonds.
30 And when he had thus spoken, the king rose vp, and the deputie, and Bernice, & they that sate with them.
31 And when they were gone apart, they talked betweene themselues, saying, This man doth nothing worthy of death, or of bonds.
32 Then said Agrippa vnto Festus, This mã might haue bene let loose, if he had not appealed vnto Cesar.

c Festus being much troubled with Pauls declaration, and hauing nothing to say against it, yet would not yeld vnto it, but clamorously condẽned it as wicked and superstitions: For worldlings are loth to be cumbred with godly matters, & count all such foolish that trouble themselues therewith.
d He sawe a little light, but it was soone out, like vnto those that hearing a sermon, are for a time well minded, but after returne to their old trade.

The xxvii. Chapter.

1 Paul shippeth toward Rome. 3 Iulius the captaine entreateth him courteously.

1 AND when it was concluded that wee should saile into Italy, they deliuered both Paul and certaine other prisoners, vnto one named Iulius, an vndercaptaine of Augustus band.
2 *And we entred into a shippe of Adramyttium, and loosed from land, appointed to saile by the coastes of Asia, one Aristarchus out of Macedonia, of the countrey of Thessalonica, tarying still with vs. *2. Cor. 11. 32.
3 And the next day we came to Sidon: And Julius courteously entreated Paul, & gaue him libertie to go vnto his friends, and to refresh himselfe.
4 And when we had lanched from thence, we sailed hard by Cyprus, because the windes were contrary.
5 And when we had sailed ouer the sea of Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Myra [a citie] which is in Lysia,
6 And there the vndercaptaine found a ship of Alexandria sailing into Italie, and he put vs therein.
7 And whē we had sailed slowly many daies, and scarse were come ouer against Gnidum, because the winde withstood vs, wee sailed hard by ‖ Candie, ouer against Salmone,
8 And with much worke sailed beyond it, and came vnto a place which is called the Faire hauens, nigh whereunto was the citie of Lasea.
9 When much time was spent, and when sailing was now icopardous, because also that the fast was now alreadie past, Paul put them in remembrance,
10 And said vnto them, Sirs, I perceiue that this voiage will bee with hurt and much damage, not of the lading and ship onely, but also of our liues.
11 Neuertheless, the vndercaptaine beleeued the gouernour and the master of the shippe, more then those things which were spoken of Paul.
12 And because the hauen was not commodious to winter in, many tooke counsaile to depart thence, if by any meanes they might attaine to Phenice, and there to winter, which is an hauen of Candie, and lieth toward the Southwest and Northwest wind.
13 And when the South wind blew softly, they supposing that they had obtained their purpose, loosed vnto Asson, and sailed past Candie.
14 But not long after, there arose against their purpose a flaw of wind out of the Northeast, which is called Euroclydon.
15 And when the ship was caught, & could not resist the wind, we let her go, and were driuen with the weather.
16 But wee were caried into an Ile, which is called Clauda, and had much worke to come by a boate,
17 Which they tooke vp, and vsed helpe, and made fast the ship, fearing least they should fall into the Syrtes: and so they let downe a ‖ vessel,

‖ Or, Creta, which was an high hill of Candie.

‖ Some read, the sailes.

‖ vessel, and were caried.

18 The next day when wee were tossed with an exceeding tempest, they lighted the ship:

19 And the third day we cast out with our owne hands the tackling of the ship.

20 And when neither the sunne nor starres in many dayes appeared, and no small tempest lay vpon vs, all hope that we should be saued was then taken away.

21 But after long abstinence, Paul stood forth in the middes of them, and said, Sirs, yee should haue hearkened vnto me, and not haue loosed from Candie, and to haue gained vnto vs this harme and losse.

22 And now I exhort you to be of good cheere: for there shall bee no losse of any mans life among you, but of the ship.

23 For there stood by me this night the angell of God, whose I am, and whom I serue, 24 Saying, Feare not, Paul, thou must bee brought before Cesar, and loe, God hath giuen thee [a] all them that saile with thee.

a The graces and blessings which God giueth to his children, driue many times the enemies, which are vnworthy to receiue the fruit thereof.

25 Wherefore sirs, be of good cheere: for I beleeue God, that it shall be euen as it was told me.

26 Howbeit, we must bee cast into a certaine Iland.

27 But when the fourteenth night was come, as we were sailing in Adria about midnight, the shipmen deemed that they drew neere to some countrey:

28 And sounded, and found it twentie fadomes: and when they had gone a litle further, they sounded againe, & found it fifteene fadomes.

29 Then fearing least we should haue fallen on some rocke, they cast foure ankers out of the sterne, and wished for the day.

30 And as the shippemen were about to flee out of the ship, when they had let downe the boate into the sea, vnder a colour as though they would haue cast ankers out of the foreship, 31 Paul said to the vndercaptaine, and to the souldiers, Except these abide in the ship, yee [b] cannot be saued.

b Paul would vse such meanes as God had ordeined, lest hee should seeme to haue tempted him.

32 Then the souldiers cut off the rope of the boate, and let it fall away.

33 And when the day began to appeare, Paul besought them all to take meate, saying, This is the fourteenth day that ye haue tarried and cõtinued fasting, receiuing nothing at all.

34 Wherefore, I pray you to take meate, for this no doubt is for your health, for there shall not [c] an heare fal from the head of any of you.

c By this Hebrew speach is ment, that they should be in all points safe and sound.

35 And when hee had thus spoken, hee tooke bread, and gaue thanks to God in presence of them all: and when he had broken it, hee began to eate.

36 Then were they al of good cheere, and they also tooke meate.

37 And we were altogether in the shippe, two hundred, threescore, and sixteene soules.

38 And when they had eaten ynough, they lighted the ship, and cast out the wheate into the sea.

39 And when it was day, they knew not ỹ land: but they spied a certaine hauen with a banke, into the which they were minded, if it were possible, to thrust in the ship.

40 And when they had taken vp the ankers, they committed [‖ themselues] vnto the sea, ‖ or, the ship. and loosed the rudder bandes, and hoised vp the maine saile to the wind, and drew to land.

41 And when they fell into a place which had the sea on both sides, they thrust in the ship, and the forepart stucke fast and mooued not, but the hinder part brake with the violence of the waues.

42 And the souldiers counsaile was to kill the prisoners, least any of them, when hee had swomme out, should run away.

43 But the vndercaptaine, willing to saue Paul, kept them from their purpose, and commanded that they which could swimme, should cast themselues first into the sea, and scape to land:

44 And the other, some on boords, and some on broken pieces of the ship: and so it came to passe, that they escaped all safe to land.

The xxviii. Chapter.

5 The Viper hurteth not Pauls hand. 23 Paul preacheth Christ at Rome.

1 AND when they were escaped, thē they knewe that the Ile was called Melita.

2 And the barbarous people shewed vs no little kindnesse, for they kindled a fire, and receiued vs euery one, because of the present raine, and because of the cold.

a Such is the peruerse iudgment of men, that they condemne them whom they se in any affliction.

3 And when Paul had gathered a bundle of stickes, and laid them on the fire, there came a Viper out of the heate, and caught him by the hand.

4 And when the strangers saw the beast hang on his hand, they said among themselues, No doubt this mã is a [a] murderer, whom though he haue escaped the sea: yet vengeance suffreth not to liue.

b By this miracle, God performed his promise made to his disciples, that neither serpents nor poison should hurt them, and also by the same, was confirmed the Gospel of his sonne Iesus Christ, which Paul preached vnto the world.

5 And he shooke off the Viper into the fire, and [b] felt no harme.

6 Howbeit, they waited when he should haue swollen, or fallen downe dead sodainly: but after they had looked a great while, and sawe no harme come to him, they changed their mindes, and said that he was a [c] God.

c Behold the extremitie of Infidels: for after any rage and errour, they fall foorthwith into the contrary.

7 In the same quarters were possessions of the chiefe man of the Ile, whose name was Publius, which receiued vs, and lodged vs three dayes curteously.

8 And

8 And it came to passe that the father of Publius lay sicke of a feuer, and of a bloody flixe, to whom Paul entred in, & prayed, and layde his handes on him, and healed him.

9 So when this was done, other also which had diseases in the Ile, came, & were healed:

10 Which also did vs great honour, and when we departed, they laded vs with such things as were necessary.

11 And after three moneths we departed in a ship of Alexandria, which had wintered in the Ile, whose badge was [d] Castor and Pollux.

d These the Hebrues sayned to be Iupiters children, gods of the sea.

12 And when we came to Syracusa, we taried there three dayes.

13 And from thence we fet a compasse, & came to Rhegium, and after one day the South winde blewe, and we came the next day to Puteolus:

14 Where we found brethren, and were desired to tarry with them seuen dayes: and so we came toward Rome.

15 And from thence, when the brethren heard of vs, they came to meete vs at Appii forum, and at the three tauernes: When Paul sawe them, he thanked God, and waxed bolde.

16 And when we came to Rome, the vnder captaine deliuered the prisoners to the chiefe captaine of the hoste: but Paul was suffered to dwell by himselfe, with a souldier that kept him.

17 And it came to passe, that after three dayes, Paul called the chiefe of the Iewes together. And when they were come together, he sayd vnto them, Men and brethren, though I haue committed nothing against the people or lawes of the fathers, yet was I deliuered prisoner from Hierusalem into the handes of the Romanes.

18 Which when they had examined me, would haue let me go, because there was no cause of death in me.

19 But whē the Iewes spake contrary, I was constrained to appeale vnto Cesar, not that I had ought to accuse my nation of.

20 For this cause then haue I called for you, euen to see [you,] and to speake with you: because that for the [c] hope of Israel I am bound with this chayne.

c That is, for Iesus Christs sake, whome they had long looked for, to be the redeemer of the worlde.

21 And they sayde vnto him, We neither receiued letters out of Iurie concerning thee, neither any of the brethren that came, shewed or spake any harme of thee.

22 But we will heare of thee what thou thinkest: for as concerning this sect, we knowe that euery where it is spoken against.

23 And when they had appoynted him a day, there came many to him in his lodging, to whom he expounded & testified the kingdome of God, perswading them concerning Iesus, both out of the lawe of Moses, and out of the Prophets, euen from morning to night.

24 And some were perswaded in the things which were spoken, and some beleeued not.

25 And whē they agreed not among thēselues, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one worde, [that is to say,] Well spake the holy Ghost by Esaias ỹ prophet, vnto our fathers, 26 Saying, * Goe vnto this people, and say, With your eares shall ye heare, and shall not vnderstande, and with your eyes shall ye see, and not perceyue.

Esai.6.9. mat.13.14. mark.4.12. luk.8.10. iohn 12.40. rom.11.8.

27 For the heart of this people is waxed grosse, and their eares are dull of hearing, and their eyes haue they closed, lest they should see with their eyes, and heare with their eares, and vnderstand with their hearts, and should be conuerted, and I should heale them.

28 Be it knowen therefore vnto you, that this saluation of God is sent vnto the Gentiles, and they shal heare it.

29 And when he had sayde these wordes, the Iewes departed, and had great reasoning among themselues.

30 And Paul dwelt two yeeres ful in his owne hyred house, and receiued all that came in vnto him, 31 Preaching the kingdome of God, and teaching those things which concerne the Lorde Iesus Christ, with all confidence, no man forbidding him.

The

The Epistle of the Apostle Saint Paul to the Romanes.

The first Chapter.

1 Paul sheweth to whom & to what purpose he is called. 16 What the Gospel is. 18 The vengeance of God vpon the wicked. 20 The vse of the creatures. 24 The ingratitude and punishment of the wicked.

1 PAul the seruant of Jesus Christ, [a] called [to be] an Apostle, seuered into ỹ Gospel of God,

2 Which he had promised afore by his Prophetes in the holy Scriptures

3 Of his sonne, which was made of the seede of Dauid after the flesh:

4 And hath bene declared to be the sonne of [b] God, with power after the spirite that sanctifieth, by the resurrection from the dead, of Jesus Christ our Lord:

5 By whom we haue receyued grace & Apostleship, that obedience might be giuen vnto the faith in his name among all Heathen,

6 Among whome, ye are also the called of Jesus Christ:

7 To all that be in Rome, beloued of God, saints by calling: Grace to you, & peace from God our father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

8 First verily I thanke my God through Jesus Christ for you all, that your faith is published throwout all the worlde.

9 For God is my witnes, whom I serue with my spirite in the Gospel of his sonne, that without ceassing I make mention of you:

10 Praying alwayes in my prayers, that by some meane at the last, one time or other, I might take a prosperous iourney by the will of God, to come vnto you.

11 For I long to see you, that I might bestow among you some spiritual gift, that ye might be stablished.

12 That is, that I might haue consolation together with you, each with others faith, yours and mine.

13 I would that ye should know, brethren, how that I haue oftentimes purposed to come vnto you (and haue bene let hitherto) that I might haue some fruite also among you, as among other of the Gentiles.

14 I am detter both to the Greekes, and to the [c] barbarous, both to the wise, and to the vnwise.

15 So that as much as in mee is, I am ready to preach the Gospel to you that are at Rome also.

16 For I am not ashamed of the Gospell of Christ, because it is the power of God vnto saluation to all that beleeue, to the Jew first, and also to the Greeke.

17 For by it is the righteousnesse of God opened from faith to faith: as it is written, The iust shal liue by faith.

18 For the wrath of God [d] is reuealed from heauen, against all vngodlinesse and vnrighteousnesse of men, which [e] withholde the trueth in vnrighteousnesse.

19 For that that may be knowen of God, is manifest among them, because God hath shewed it vnto them.

20 For his inuisible things, being vnderstanded by his workes, through the creation of the worlde, are seene, that is, both his eternal power and Godhead, so that they are without excuse:

21 Because that when they knewe God, [notwithstãding] they glorified him not as God, neither were thankfull, but waxed full of vanities in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was blinded.

22 When they counted themselues wise, they became fooles:

23 And turned the glory of the vncorruptible God vnto an image, made not onely after the similitude of a corruptible man, but also, of byrdes, and foure footed beastes, and of creeping beastes.

24 Wherefore God gaue them vp to vncleanesse, through the lustes of their owne hearts, that their owne bodies shoulde be defiled among themselues.

25 Which changed his [f] trueth for a lye, and worshipped and serued the creature, more then the creator, which is to be praysed for euer, Amen.

26 Wherefore God gaue them vp vnto shameful lusts, for euen their women did change the natural vse, into that which is against nature.

27 And likewise also, the men left the naturall vse of the woman, & brent in their lustes one with another, and men with men wrought filthinesse, and receyued in themselues the reward of their errour (as it was according.)

28 And as they regarded not to knowe God: [euen so,] God deliuered thē vp vnto a lewde minde, that they should do those things which were not comely:

29 Being full of all vnrighteousnesse, fornication, craftinesse, couetousnesse, malitiousnesse, full of enuie, murder, debate, deceite, euil conditioned, whisperers,

30 Backbiters, haters of God, despitefull, proude, boasters, bringers vp of euill things, disobedient to father and mother:

31 Without vnderstanding, couenant breakers, without naturall affection, truce breakers, vnmercifull.

Ppp.iii. 32 The a By this he declareth that he came not into the office of the Apostleship by his owne arrogãcie, but by the calling of god, whereby he differeth from the false Apostles.

b This maner of wapes Paul theweth here Christ to be declared the sonne of God. First, by power or working of miracles. Secondly, by the holy Ghost appearing in visible signes. Thirdly, by his resurrection from the dead.

c All those that were not Jewes, by a common word were called Heathen. And here they are diuided into Greckes and Barbarous. By Greckes, he vnderstandeth those that were learned, ciuil, & of good bringing vp. By barbarous, he meaneth rude and sauage people, with whome no man could well haue to doe.

d Which appearance the worlde knoweth nothing of. For ỹ sight of God al men are godles, sinners, and the children of wrath, & when they know any thing of God, yet they be nought, because they neither thanke him, nor serue him, & therefore plagues are powred vpon them frō heauen.

e They holde the trueth in vnrighteousnes, which vnderstand the trueth, and do not expresse the same in their deedes & life.

f By his trueth here he vnderstandeth the glory of God, and his true religion: & a lye he calleth idoles, because the idolaters went about to take away frō wood & stone that which they were, thinking them to be neyther wood nor stone but attributed to them that they were not, that is, diuine power and nature.

32 The which knowing the righteousnesse of God (howe that they which commit such things, are worthy of death) not onely doe the same, but also haue pleasure in them that doe them.

The ii. Chapter.

1. Gods iudgement vppon the hypocrites. 13 All men are sinners.

1 THerefore art thou inexcusable, O man, whosoeuer * thou bee that [a] iudgest: For in that same wherein thou iudgest another, thou condemnest thy selfe. For thou that iudgest, dost euen the selfe same things.

Mat. 17. 1.

a Saint Paul speaketh here against those men only, who being themselues filled with all wickednesse & impietie, yet be of all other most busie and curious in noting & reprehending other mens faultes: not of any godly zeale, but to iustifie themselues, & to bring other men into hatred and contempt.

2 But we are sure that the iudgement of God is according to ỹ trueth, against them which commit such things.

3 Thinkest thou this, O thou man that iudgest them which do such things, and doest the same [thy selfe,] that thou shalt escape the iudgement of God?

4 Either despisest thou the riches of his goodnesse, and patience, and long sufferance, not knowing that the goodnesse of God leadeth thee to repentance?

5 But thou, after thy stubbernnesse and heart that can not repent, heapest vnto thy selfe wrath, against the day of wrath and declaration of the righteous iudgement of God:

Mat. 16. 27.

6 *Which will reward euery man according to his [b] deedes:

b Not that our workes be of such merite that they deserue rewarde: but the scriptures vse this kinde of speaking, ỹ thereby it may prouoke and stirre vp men vnto good liuing, whereby our faith may the more appeare, which good workes God of his free grace doth reward. 2. Par. 19. 7. acts 10. 34.

7 To them which by continuing in well doing seeke for glory, and honour, and immortalitie, eternall life:

8 But vnto them that are contentious, and do not obey the trueth, but obey vnrighteousnesse, [shal come] indignation and wrath.

9 Tribulation, and anguish, vpon euery soule of man that doeth euill, of the Iewe first, and also of the Greeke:

10 But glory, and honour, and peace, to euery man that doeth good, to the Iewe first, and also to the Greeke.

11 * For there is no respect of persons with God.

12 For whosoeuer hath sinned without lawe, shall also perish without lawe: and as many as haue sinned in the lawe, shall be iudged by the lawe,

Iam. 1. 22.

13 (For in the sight of God, * the hearers of the lawe are not righteous: but the doers of the lawe shalbe iustified.

14 For when the Gentiles which haue not the lawe, do of nature the things conteined in the lawe: they hauing not the lawe, are a lawe vnto themselues,

15 Which shew the workes of the law written in their hearts, their conscience bearing them witnesse, and their thoughts accusing one another, or excusing,)

16 At the day when God shall iudge the secretes of men by Iesus Christ, according to my [c] Gospel.

c It is his gospel, both for ỹ feruent loue and zeale that he beareth to it, & also for the great paynes that he hath taken in setting forth the same.

17 Beholde, thou art called a Iewe, and [d] restest in the lawe, and makest thy boaste of God, d He awaketh the Iewes which were asleepe through a certaine securitie and confidence in the lawe.

18 And knowest [his] will, and allowest the things that be excellent, infourmed by the lawe:

19 And beleeuest that thou thy selfe art a guide of the blinde, a light of them [which are] in darkenesse, 20 An infourmer of them which lacke discretion, a teacher of the vnlearned: which hast the fourme of knowledge, and of the trueth in the lawe.

21 Thou therefore which teachest another, teachest thou not thy selfe? Thou preachest a man should not steale, yet stealest thou?

22 Thou that sayest a man should not commit adulterie, breakest thou wedlocke? Thou abhorrest idoles, and yet committest sacrilege?

23 Thou that makest thy boaste of the lawe, through breaking the law, dishonourest thou God?

24 For the name of God is euill spoken of among the Gentiles through you, as it is written,

25 For circumcision verily auayleth, if thou keepe the lawe: but if thou be a breaker of the law, thy circumcision is made vncircumcision.

26 Therefore, if the [e] vncircumcision keepe the ordinances of the lawe, shal not his vncircumcision be counted for circumcision?

e By this worde he meaneth all ỹ people, of what countrey or nation soeuer they be, which haue not receiued the signe of circumcisiõ, according to ỹ law of Moses.

27 And shall not vncircumcision which is by nature, if it keepe the lawe, iudge thee, which being vnder the letter and circumcision, doest transgresse the lawe?

28 For he is not a Iewe, which is [a Iewe] ‖ outwarde. Neyther is that circumcision, which is outward in the flesh.

‖ Or, openly.

29 But he is a Iewe, which is one ‖ inwardly, and the circumcision of the heart, which consisteth in the spirite, and not in the letter [is circumcision] whose praise is not of men, but of God.

‖ Or, secretly.

The iii. Chapter.

1 The Iewes haue a prerogatiue. 24 All are iustified by grace through faith, and not through workes.

1 WHat preferment then hath the Iewe? or what profite is there of circumcision?

2 Much euery way. First, for because that vnto them were committed the wordes of God.

3 What then though some of them did not beleeue? Shall their vnbeliefe make the [a] faith of God without effect?

a Which is ỹ performãce of Gods promis. For faith is take after two sortes, both for our beleefe, whẽ we assure our selues that God will performe his promise, & also for the stedfastnes of Gods promise to his people. For although some of the Iewes did not beleeue, yet gods trueth neuer fayled.

4 God forbid: Yea, let God be true, and euery man a lyar, as it is written, That thou mightest be iustified in thy sayings, and ouercome when thou art iudged.

5 But

5 But if our vnrighteousnesse setteth forth the righteousnesse of God, what shall we say? Is God vnrighteous which taketh vengeance? (I speake after the maner of men,)
6 God forbid: for howe then shall God iudge the worlde?
7 For if the trueth of God hath more abounded through my lye vnto his glory, why am I as yet iudged as a sinner?
8 And not rather (as we be slaunderously reported, and as some affirme that we say) let vs doe euill, that good may come thereof? whose damnation is iust.
9 What then, are we better [then they?] No, in no wise: for we haue before accused both Iewes and Gentiles, that they are all vnder sinne:
Gal.3.22. 10 As it is written, *There is none righteous, no not one:
Psa.13.2.&52.3. 11 *There is none that vnderstandeth, there is none that seeketh after God.
12 They are all gone out of the way, they are all become vnprofitable, there is none that doeth good, no not one.
13 Their throte is an open sepulchre, with their tongues they haue deceiued, the poyson of Aspes is vnder their lippes.
Psal.9.7. 14 *Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitternesse:
Pro.1.16. esa.19.7. Psal.16.1. 15 *Their feete are swift to shead blood.
16 *Hearts griefe & miserie are in their waies:
17 And ỹ way of peace haue they not knowen.
Psal.36.2. 18 *There is no feare of God before their eyes.
19 Nowe we knowe that what things soeuer the lawe sayth, it sayeth it to them which are vnder the lawe: that euery mouth may bee stopped, and that all the world may be endangered to God.
b He includeth here the whole lawe, both the ceremoniall & morall, whose works can not iustifie, because they be imperfect in all men. Rom.2.17. 20 Because that by ỹ deedes of the [b] law, there shall no flesh be iustified in his sight: For by the law commeth the knowledge of sinne.
21 *But now the righteousnesse of God without the lawe is made manifest, being witnessed by the lawe and the Prophets.
22 The righteousnesse of God [commeth] by the faith of Iesus Christ, vnto all, & vpon all them that beleeue. There is no difference:
23 For all haue sinned, and haue neede of the glory of God, e Which is a pacifying of Gods displeasure. That whereas we were somtime bondslaues to sinne, God made his only sonne Christ Iesus a sacrifice for our sinnes, to reconcile vs again by faith into Gods fauour. 24 [But are] iustified freely by his grace, through the redẽption that is in Christ Iesu:
25 Whome God hath set forth to be a [c] propitiation, through faith in his blood, to declare his righteousnesse, by the forgiuing of the sinnes that are past,
26 Which God did suffer, to shewe at this time his righteousnesse: that he might be iust, & the iustifier of him which beleeueth on Iesus.
27 Where is then thy boasting? It is excluded. By what lawe? Of workes? Nay: but by the law of faith.
28 Therefore, we holde that a man is iustified by faith, without the deedes of the lawe.
29 Is he the God of the Iewes onely? Is he not also of the Gentiles? Yes, euen of the Gentiles also.
30 For it is one God which shal iustifie the circumcision by [d] faith, and vncircumcision through faith.
d Meaning, that the Iewe & the Gentile are both iustified by one meanes, which is by faith. 31 Do we then destroy the law through faith? God forbid: but we rather mainteine the law.

The iiii. Chapter.

7 Iustification is the free gift of God, as it appeareth by Dauid and Abraham, 13 and also by the office of law and faith.

1 WHat shal we say then that Abrahã our father, as pertayning to the flesh, did finde?
2 For if Abraham were iustified by workes, then hath he wherein to boast, but not before God.
3 For what sayth the Scripture? *Abraham beleeued God, and it was counted vnto him for righteousnesse. Gen.15.6. Gal.3.6. Iames 2.23.
4 To him that worketh, is the reward not reckened of grace, but of duetie.
5 To him that worketh [a] not, but beleeueth on him that iustifieth the [b] vngodly, his faith is counted for righteousnesse.
a That is, which meaneth not to obteine saluation through the worthinesse of his workes. b God is sayd to iustifie the vngodly, because he pardoneth his sinnes, & of a wicked man maketh him good. Psal.32.1. The Epistle on new yeeres day. 6 Euen as Dauid describeth the blessednesse of the man vnto whome God imputeth righteousnesse without workes:
7 [Saying,] *Blessed are they whose vnrighteousnesse are forgiuen, and whose sinnes are couered.
8 Blessed is that man to whom the Lord will not impute sinne.
9 [Came] this blessednesse then vpon the circumcision onely, or vpon the vncircumcision also? For we say that faith was reckened to Abraham for righteousnesse.
10 How was it then reckened? when he was in the circumcision, or [when he was] in the vncircumcision? Not in the circumcision, but in vncircumcision.
Gen.17.11. 11 *And he receiued the signe of circumcision, as the [c] seale of the righteousnesse of faith, which he had yet being vncircumcised: that he should be the father of al them that beleeue, though they be not circumcised, that righteousnesse might be imputed vnto them also.
c So was Abrahams circumcision called, because thereby was sealed ỹ righteousnesse that through faith was imputed to him before his circumcision. 12 And that he might be father of circumcision, not vnto them onely which came of the circumcised, but vnto them also that walke in the steppes of the faith that was in our father Abraham, before the time of circumcision.
13 For the promise that he should be the heyre of the world, [was] not to Abraham, or to his seede through the lawe, but through the righteousnesse of faith.
14 For if they which are of the lawe be heyres, then is faith but vayne, and the promise made of none effect:

15 Because the law causeth wrath: For where no law is, there is no transgression.
16 Therefore by faith [is the inheritance giuen] that it might [be] by grace, that the promise might be sure to all the seede, not to that onely which is of the lawe, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham, which is the father of vs all.
Gen. 17.4. 17 (As it is written, * I haue made thee a father of many nations) before God whome ye beleeued, which restoreth the dead vnto life, and calleth those things which be not, as [d] though they were.
d In the creation of the world this appeared: For when he commanded any thing to be, forthwith it was.
18 Who contrary to hope, [c] beleeued in hope, that he should be the father of many nations: according to that which was spoken, * So shal thy seede be.
19 And he fainted not in the faith, nor considered his owne body nowe dead, when he was almost an hundred yeres olde, neyther yet the [f] deadnesse of Saraes wombe.
c That is, which beleeued and hoped for those things which God did promise, when as to mans reason they were without hope. Gen. 15.5.
20 He staggered not at the promise of God through vnbeliefe: but was strong in faith, giuing glory to God.
21 And being full certified, that what he had promised, he was able also to performe.
f For that she was past child bearing.
22 And therefore was it reckened to him for righteousnesse.
23 Neuertheless, it is not written for him only, that it was reckened to him:
24 But also for vs, to whom it shalbe reckened, so that we beleeue on him that raysed vp Iesus our Lord from the dead,
25 Which was deliuered for our sinnes, and was raysed againe for our iustification.

The v. Chapter.

1 The fruite of faith. 12 From whence commeth death, and from whence life.

1 THerefore being iustified by faith, we are at [a] peace with God, through our Lord Iesus Christ:
a By peace, which is the fruite of faith, is ment the incredible and most constant ioy of minde, our conscience being quiet, & established in Gods grace. Ephe. 2.23. Iames 1.3.
2 *By whom also we haue had an entrance by faith, vnto this grace wherein we stand, & reioyce in hope of the glory of God.
3 Not that onely: * but also we reioyce in tribulations, knowing that tribulation worketh patience:
4 Patience proofe, proofe hope:
5 And hope maketh not [b] ashamed, because the loue of God is shed abroade in our heartes by the holy Ghost, which is giuen vnto vs.
b Both for that the hope of the godly is not disappointed of ꝑ which they hope for, & also for that they are not ashamed of any affliction in this worlde, as the worldly minded be: but constantly abide without shame, whatsoeuer trouble God doth send to them.
6 For when we were yet weake, according to the time, Christ dyed for the vngodly.
7 Now scarse will any man dye for the righteous: Yet peraduenture for the good, some man durst dye.
8 But God setteth out his loue toward vs, seeing that while we were yet sinners, Christ dyed for vs.
9 Much more then nowe, we that are iustified by his blood, shall be saued from wrath through him.
10 For if when we were enemies, we were reconciled to God by the death of his sonne: much more, seeing we are reconciled, we shal be saued by his life.
11 Not only so, but we also ioy in God, through our Lorde Iesus Christ, by whome we haue now receyued the atonement.
12 Wherefore, as by one man sinne entred into the world, & death by sinne: euen so, death entred into al men, insomuch as al haue sinned.
13 For vnto the lawe was sinne in the worlde: but sinne is not imputed whē there is no law.
14 Neuertheless, death reigned from Adam to Moses, euer them also that had not sinned with like transgression as did Adam, which is the figure of him that was to come.
15 But not as the sinne, so is the free gift. For if through the sinne of one many be dead: much more the grace of God, and the gift by grace, which [is] by one man Iesus Christ, hath abounded vnto many.
16 And not as by one that sinned [euen so] the gift, for the sinne entred by one [offence] into condemnation: but the gift [c] of many sinnes into iustification.
c For by Christ we are not onely deliuered from the sinnes of Ada, but also from all such sinnes as we haue added thereunto.
17 For if by the sinne of one, death reigned by the meanes of one, much more [they] which receiue abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousnesse, shal reigne in life by ꝑ meanes of one, Iesus Christ.
18 Likewise then, as by the sinne of one [sinne came] on all men to condemnation: euen so, by the righteousnesse of one [good came] vpon all men to the righteousnesse of life.
19 For as by one mans disobedience many became sinners: so by the obedience of one, shal many be made righteous.
20 But the lawe in the meane time entred in, that sinne shoulde increase. But where sinne was plenteous, grace was more plenteous.
21 That as sinne hath reigned vnto death: euen so might grace reigne through righteousnes vnto eternal life, by Iesus Christ our Lord.

The vi. Chapter.

Newnesse of life foloweth iustification, to the which he exhorteth.

1 WHat shall we say then? Shall we continue in sinne? that grace may abounde, God forbid.
2 Howe shal we that are dead [a] to sinne, liue any longer therein?
a Ye dyeth to sinne, in whis the strength of sinne is broke by the power of Christ.
3 Knowe ye not, that all we which haue bene baptized into Iesus Christ, haue bene baptized [b] into his death?
b That is, that sinne through Christes death may be abolished and dye in vs: & that as we are made cleane outwardly with water in our baptisme, so inwardly our sinnes may be washed away, & cleansed by ꝑ blood of Christ
4 We are buryed then with him by baptisme into his death, that likewise as Christ was raysed vp from the dead by the glory of the father: euen so, we also shoulde walke in newnesse of life.
The Epistle on [c] ẏ vi. sunday after Trinitie.
5 For

5 For if we be graft together by the likenesse of his death: euen so shall we be [partakers] of the resurrection:

6 Knowing this, that our old man is crucified with him also, that the body of sinne might vtterly be destroyed, that hereforth we should not serue sinne.

7 For he that is dead, is iustified from sinne.

8 And if we be dead with Christ, wee beleeue that we shall also liue with him:

9 Knowing that Christ being raised from the dead, dieth no more, death hath no more power ouer him.

10 For as touching that he died, he died concerning sinne once: And as touching that hee liueth, he liueth vnto God.

11 Likewise recken your selues to be dead vnto sinne: but aliue vnto God, through Iesus Christ our Lord.

12 Let not sinne reigne therefore in your mortall body, that yee shoulde thereunto obey by the lustes of it.

13 Neither giue ye your mẽbers ‖as instrumẽts of vnrighteousnesse vnto sinne: but giue your selues vnto God, as they that are aliue from the dead, and your members ‖ as instruments of righteousnesse vnto God.

‖Or, weapons.

‖Or, weapons.

14 For sinne shall not haue power ouer you, because ye are not vnder the [c] law, but vnder grace.

[c] That is, vnder the curse of the law, whose office is to accuse and condemne: but vnder grace, whereby we haue forgiuenesse of our sinnes, and are sanctified by the holy ghost into the newenesse of life. Iohn 8. 34.

15 What then? Shall wee sinne, because wee are not vnder the law, but vnder grace? God forbid.

16 *Knowe ye not howe that to whom so euer ye commit your selues as seruantes to obey, his seruãts ye are to whom ye obey: whether it be of sinne vnto death, or of obedience vnto righteousnesse?

17 But God be thanked, that yee were the seruants of sinne: but ye haue obeyed with heart the fourme of doctrine, into ỹ which ye were brought vnto.

18 Being then made free from sinne, ye are become the seruants of righteousnesse.

[d] Men vse to speake gently to their friends, and not to exact so much as they might, but so farre forth as reason requireth.

19 I speake after [d] the maner of men, because of the infirmitie of your flesh. For, as ye haue giuen your members seruants to vncleannes and iniquitie, vnto iniquitie: euen so now giue your members seruantes to righteousnesse, vnto holinesse.

20 For when ye were the seruants of sinne, yee were free from righteousnesse.

21 What fruite had yee then in those things, whereof ye are nowe ashamed? For the ende of those things, is death.

22 But nowe yee being made free from sinne, and made the seruantes of God, haue your fruite vnto holines, & the end euerlasting life.

23 For the reward of sinne is death: but ỹ gift of God is eternall life, through Iesus Christ our Lord.

The vii. Chapter.

The fight betweene the lawe of the flesh, and the lawe of the spirit.

1 KNowe ye not brethren (for I speake to them that knowe the [a] lawe) [howe] that the law hath power ouer a man, as long as he liueth?

[a] Before the comming of Christ, all men were married and bound to the law, which did then none other seruice but disclosed their sinne and wickednesse, forcing them to seeke helpe for their sinne else where. Now then the lawe being abolished for her imperfection, and they clensed through Gods grace, are spoused vnto a husband, him to serue in newnes of life.

2 For the woman which hath an husbande, is bound by the lawe to her husband, as long as he liueth: but if the husband be dead, she is loosed from the lawe of her husband.

3 So then if while her husbande liueth, shee couple her selfe with another man, she shalbe ‖ counted a wedlocke breaker: but if her husband be dead, she is free from the lawe, so that she is no wedlocke breaker, though she couple her selfe with another man.

4 Euen so, yee also my brethren, are dead concerning the lawe by the [b] body of Christ, that ye should be coupled to another, who is raised frõ the dead, that we should bring forth fruite vnto God.

‖Or, called.

[b] Because the body of Christ is made an offering and a sacrifice for our sinnes, whereby God is pleased, and his wrath appeased: and for Christes sake the holy ghost is giuen to all beleeuers, whereby the power of sinne is in vs daily weakened: we are counted dead to the lawe, for that the lawe hath no dominion ouer vs.

5 For when we were in the flesh, the lustes of sinne [which were] by the lawe wrought in our members, to bring forth fruite vnto death.

6 But nowe are wee deliuered from the lawe, and dead vnto it whereunto wee were in bondage, that we shoulde serue in newnes of spirit, and not in the oldnesse of the letter.

7 What shall we say then? Is the law sinne? God forbid. Neuertheless, I knew not sinne, but by the lawe: For I had not knowen lust, except the lawe had sayd, Thou shalt not lust.

8 But sinne taking occasion by the commaundement, wrought in mee all maner of concupiscence. For without the lawe sinne [was] dead.

9 I once liued without lawe: but when the cõmandement came, sinne reuiued,

10 And I was dead: and the very same commaundement which was [ordeyned] vnto life, was found [to be] vnto me an occasion of death.

11 For sinne taking occasion by the commandement, hath deceiued mee, and by the same slewe [me.]

12 Wherefore the lawe is holy, and the cõmandement holy, and iust, and good.

13 Was that then which was good, made death vnto me? God forbid. But sinne, that sinne might appeare, by that which was good to worke death in mee: that sinne by the commandement might be out of measure sinfull.

[c] Like as bond men are violently thrust, hailed, & tormoyled, as it pleaseth their cruell master: So are we through heapes of sinnes drawen to many euill doings, which we doe neither like nor alowe, 14 For wee knowe that the lawe is spirituall: but I am carnall, solde vnder [c] sinne.

15 For that which I do, I alowe not: for what I would, that do I not: but what I hate, that doe I.

16 If

16 If I doe nowe that which I woulde not, I consent vnto the lawe that it is good.
17 Nowe then, it is not I that doe it: but sinne that dwelleth in me.
18 For I know, that in me (that is to say in my flesh) dwelleth no good thing. For to will, is present with mee: but I finde no meanes to perfourme that which is good.
19 For the good that I woulde, doe I not: but the euill which I would not, that do I.
20 And if I do that I would not, then is it not I any longer that doeth it, but sinne ỳ dwelleth in me.
21 I finde then by the law, that when I would do good, euill is present with me.
22 For I delite in the lawe of God, after the inward man.
23 But I see another lawe in my members, rebelling against the lawe of my minde, & subduing me vnto the lawe of sinne, which is in my members.
24 O wretched man that I am: who shall deliuer me from the [d] body of this death?
25 I thanke God through Iesus Christ our Lord. So then, with ỳ minde I my selfe serue the lawe of God: but with the flesh, the lawe of sinne.

The viii. Chapter.

1 The assurance of the faithfull. 6 The fruits of the holy ghost.

1 THere is then no dãnation to thẽ which are in Christ Iesu, which walke not after the flesh, but after the spirit.
2 For the lawe of the [a] spirite of life, through Iesus Christ, hath made me free frõ the lawe of sinne and death.
3 For what the lawe could not do, in as much as it was weake through ỳ flesh, God hauing sent his owne sonne, in the similitude of sinfull flesh, euen by sinne, [b] condemned sinne in the flesh:
4 That the righteousnesse of the lawe might bee fulfilled in vs, which walke not after the flesh, but after the spirit.
5 For they that are carnal, are [c] carnally minded: but they that are spirituall, are spiritually minded.
6 To be carnally minded, is death: but to bee spiritually minded, is life and peace:
7 Because that the fleshly minde is enimitie against God: for it is not obedient to the lawe of God, neither can be.
8 So then, they that are in the flesh, can not please God.
9 But ye are not in the flesh, but in the spirit, if so be that the spirit of God dwell in you. If any man haue not the spirit of Christ, ỳ same is none of his.
10 And if Christ be in you, the body is dead because of [d] sinne: but the spirit is life for righteousnes sake.
11 But if the spirite of him that raysed vp Iesus from the dead, dwell in you: euen he that raysed vp Christ from the dead, shal also quicken your mortall bodies, because that his spirit dwelleth in you.
12 Therefore brethren, wee are detters, not to the flesh, to liue after the flesh.
13 For if ye liue after the flesh, ye shall die: but if ye through the spirit, do mortifie the deedes of the bodie, ye shall liue. The Epistle on the eight Sunday after Trinitie.
14 For as many as are led by the spirit of God, they are the sonnes of God.
15 For yee haue not receiued the spirit of bondage againe to feare: but ye haue receiued the spirit of adoption, whereby we cry, Abba, father.
16 The spirit it selfe beareth witnes to our spirit, that we are the sonnes of God.
17 If we be sonnes, then are we also heires, the heires of God, and ioynt heires with Christ: so that we suffer together, that we may be also glorified together.
18 For I am certainly [e] perswaded, that the afflictions of this time, are not woorthie of the glory which shalbe shewed vpon vs. The Epistle on the fourth Sunday after Trinitie.
19 For the earnest expectation of the creature abideth, looking when the sonnes of God shal appeare:
20 Because the [f] creature is subiect to vanitie, not willing, but for him which hath subdued the same in hope.
21 For the creature it selfe shall bee made free from the bondage of corruption, into the glorious libertie of the sonnes of God.
22 For we knowe that euery creature groneth with vs also, and trauaileth in paine with vs, euen vnto this time.
23 Not onely [they,] but wee also which haue the first fruites of the spirite, and wee our selues mourne in our selues, wayting for the adoption, [euen] the deliuerance of our body.
24 For we are saued by hope: But hope that is seene, is no hope. For how can a man hope for that which he seeth?
25 But and if we hope for that we see not, then doe we with patience abide for it.
26 Likewise, the spirit also helpeth our infirmities. For we knowe not what to desire as we ought: but the spirit it selfe maketh great intercession for vs, with gronings, which can not be expressed.
27 And he that searcheth the heartes, knoweth what is the meaning of the spirit: for hee maketh intercession for the saintes, according to the pleasure of God.
28 For we knowe that al things worke for the best, vnto them that loue God, to them which also are called of purpose.
29 For those which he knew before, he also did predestinate, that they should be like fashioned vnto d It is called the body of sinne, for that it is an whole lumpe of sinne, rolling & tormenting the whole man, and plucking him frõ God, whereby plagues and miseries are heaped on, and man liueth as he were in the middest of death.

a The lawe of the spirite and the lawe of sinne, is here taken improperly for the power and strength of the lawe & sinne: and it is called the spirite of life, because it quickeneth & giueth life.
b God through the sacrifice of shame, which Christ his only sonne offered vpon the crosse in his flesh, hath condemned and abolished sinne, which reigned in our mortall flesh.
c φρονῶσι and φρόνημα Greeke words do not so much signifie wisedome and prudence, as affection, carefulnes, and minding of any thing.
d Albeit we haue a body which is dead to all goodnes, by reason of sinne, which so strongly raineth in it, yet when we are grafted in Christ, his spirit of life giueth vs life, and iustifieth vs.

e λογιζομαι signifieth to weigh, or to consider. But because the matter was certaine, and Saint Paul nothing doubted thereof, it is thus made: I am perswaded.
f The creatures shall not be restored before gods children be brought to their perfection. In the meane season they desire, grone, and waike.
g The right fourme and affection of prayer, commeth by the holy ghost, who maketh intercession for vs, not that he prayeth and mourneth: but that he stirreth our hearts, that we lift them vp to heauen earnestly and feruently, which is the true prayer.

vnto the shape of his sonne, that he might bee the first begotten among many brethren.

30 Moreouer, whom hee did predestinate, them also he called: and whom hee called, them also he iustified: and whom hee iustified, them also he glorified.

31 What shall wee then say to these things? If God bee on our side, who can bee against vs?

32 Which spared not his owne sonne, but gaue him for vs all: how shall he not with him also giue vs all things?

33 Who shall lay any thing to the charge of Gods chosen? It is God that iustifieth:

34 Who is he that condemneth? It is Christ which dyed, yea rather which is raysed againe, which is also on the right hand of God, and maketh intercession for vs.

35 Who shal separate vs frō the loue of Christ? [shal] tribulation, or anguish, or persecution, eyther hunger, either nakednesse, either peril, either sword?

Psal.43.23. 36 (As it is written, * For thy sake are we killed all day long, and are counted as sheepe for the slaughter.)

37 Neuertheless, in all these things we ouercome, through him that loued vs.

38 For I am sure, that neither death, neither life, neither angels, nor rule, neither power, neither things present, neither things to come,

39 Neither height, nor deapth, neither any other creature, shall be able to separate vs from the loue of God, which is in Christ Iesu our Lord.

The ix. Chapter.

Paul declareth his feruent loue toward his nation.

1.Cor.15.7.] 1 I Say the trueth in Christ, I lye not (my conscience also bearing me witnesse by the holy ghost)

2 That I haue great heauinesse, and continuall sorowe in my heart.

a He sawe the losse and destruction of his whole nation, falling so farre from gods true religion, he considered howe sore God should be dishonoured, whē his wonderful benefites and blessings bestowed vpon his people, should take none effect, but vtterly be defaced, which so mightily moued him, that he wished rather to be cut off frō Christ, then those things should come to passe.

3 For I haue wished my selfe to be cursed frō a Christ, for my brethren, my kinsmen as pertaineth to the flesh,

4 Which are the Israelites: to whome pertaineth the adoption, and the glory, and the couenants, and the lawe that was giuen, and the seruice of God, and the promises:

5 Of whome are the fathers, and of whome as concerning the flesh Christ [came] which is God, in all things to be praysed for euer, Amen.

6 And it can not be, that ỹ worde of God hath taken none effect. For they are not all Israelites, which are of Israel:

7 Neither are they all children, that are the seed of Abraham: but in Isahac shall thy seed be called.

8 That is to say, They which are the childrē of the flesh, these are not the children of God: but they which be the children of promise, are counted the seede.

9 For this is the worde of promise, * About this time will I come, and Sara shall haue a sonne. Gene.18.10.

10 Not onely this, but also * Rebecca was with childe by one, [euen] by our father Isahac. Gene.25.21.

11 For yet the [children] were borne, when they had neither done good, neither bad, (that the purpose of God by b election might stand: not by reason of woorkes, but by the caller) b The will and purpose of god, is the cause of the election & reprobation. For his mercie and calling through Christ, are ỹ meanes of saluation, and the withdrawing of his mercie, is the cause of damnation.

12 It was saide vnto her, The elder shall serue the yonger.

13 As it is written, Jacob haue I loued, but Esau haue I hated.

14 What shall wee say then? is there any vnrighteousnesse with God? God forbid.

15 For hee sayth to Moses, I will shewe mercie, to whom so euer I shewe mercie: and wil haue compassion, on whomsoeuer I haue cōpassion.

16 So then [election] is not of the willer, nor of the runner: but of God that taketh mercie.

17 For the scripture sayth vnto Pharao, * Euen for this same purpose haue I stirred thee vp, that I might shew my power in thee, and that my name might be declared throughout all the world. Exod.9.16.

18 So hath hee mercie on whom hee will, and whom he will he hardeneth.

19 Thou wilt say then vnto mee, Why then blameth he [vs] yet? For who hath resisted his will?

20 But O man, what art thou which disputest with God? * Shall the woorke say to the workeman, Why hast thou made me on this fashion? Esay 45.9.

21 * Hath not the Potter power ouer the clay, euen of the same lumpe to make one vessell vnto honour, and another vnto dishonour? Wis.15.7.iere. 18.6.

22 What if God, willing to shewe his wrath, & to make his power knowen, suffered with long patience the vessels of wrath ordained to destruction, 23 To declare the riches of his glorie on the vessels of mercie, which he had prepared vnto glory?

24 Whom also he called, [I meane] vs, not of the Iewes onely, but also of the Gentiles.

25 As hee sayeth also in Osee, * I will call them my people, which were not my people: and her beloued, which was not beloued. Osee 2.23. 1.pet. 2.10.

26 * And it shal come to passe, that in the place where it was saide vnto them, Ye are not my people: there shall they bee called the children of the liuing God. Osee 1.10.

27 And Esaias cryeth concerning Israel,

[*Though]

[*Though] the number of the children of Israel be as the sand of the sea, yet [but] a remnant shalbe saued.

28 For hee finisheth the [c] worde, and maketh it short in righteousnesse: for a short worde will the Lord make on earth.

29 And as Esaias sayd before, Except ỹ Lord of Sabboth had left vs [d] seede, wee had bene made as Sodoma, and had bene likened to Gomorrha.

30 What shal we say then? That the Gentiles which followed not righteousnesse, haue obteined righteousnesse: euen the righteousnes [which commeth] of faith:

31 But Israel which followed the law of righteousnesse, hath not atteined to the lawe of righteousnesse.

32 Wherefore? Because [they sought it] not by faith, but as it were by the workes of the lawe: For they haue stumbled at the stumbling stone, 33 As it is written, Beholde, I put in [e] Sion a stumbling stone, and a rocke of offence, and whosoeuer beleeueth on him, shall not be confounded.

Esay 10.22.

c The worde here is take for a thing or matter. The Lorde diminished his people by sundrie plagues, persecutions, & banishmentes, and brought them to a very fewe. Likewise meneth Paul, that a fewe of them shall be saued, which fewe notwithstanding shall abounde in righteousnesse to the glory of God.

d The seede is Christ Jesus, sowen abroad by his Apostles and disciples.

e Christ doeth iustifie vs by faith without workes, which thing ỹ Jewes & Iusticiaries can not beleeue. Therfore they stumble at Christ, and are offended with him.

The x. Chapter.

1 BRethren, my hearts desire and prayer to God for Israel is, that they might bee saued.

2 For I beare thē recorde, that they haue a [a] zeale of God: but not according to knowledge.

3 For they being ignorant of Gods righteousnesse, and going about to stablish their [b] owne righteousnesse, haue not bene obedient vnto the righteousnesse of God.

4 For Christ is the ende of the lawe, [c] for righteousnesse to all that beleeue.

5 For Moses writeth of the righteousnesse which [is] of the lawe, howe that the man which doeth those things, shall liue by them.

6 But the righteousnes which is of faith, speaketh on this wise: Say not thou in thine heart, Who shall ascend into [d] heauen? that is, to fetch Christ downe from aboue.

7 Either who shall descende into the deepe? that is to fetche vp Christ againe from the dead.

8 But what saith he, The word is nigh thee, euen in thy mouth, & in thy heart. This same is the word of faith, which we preach.

9 † For if thou shalt knowledge wt thy mouth the Lorde Jesus, and shalt beleeue in thine heart that God raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saued.

10 For with ỹ heart man beleeueth vnto righteousnesse, and with the mouth confession is made vnto saluation.

11 For the scripture sayeth, Whosoeuer beleeueth on him, shall not be confounded.

12 There is no difference betweene the Jewe and the Greeke: for the same Lord ouer all, is rich vnto all that call vpon him.

13 For whosoeuer shall call on the name of the Lord, shall be saued.

14 Howe then shall they call on him, on whom they haue not beleeued? Howe shall they beleeue on him, of whome they haue not heard? Howe shall they heare without a preacher?

15 And howe shall they preache, except they bee sent? As it is written, Howe beautifull are the feete of them which bring good tidings of peace, & bring good tidings of good things?

16 But they haue not all obeyed the Gospel: for Esaias sayeth, Lorde, who hath beleeued our sayings?

17 So then faith commeth by hearing, & hearing commeth by the word of God.

18 But (I aske) haue they not heard? No doubt, their sounde went out into all lands, and their wordes into the endes of the worlde.

19 But I demand whether Israel did knowe, or not? First Moses sayth, *I will prouoke you to enuie by them that are no people, and by a foolish nation I will anger you. Deut. 32.21.

20 And Esaias is bold, and saith, *I haue bene found of thē that sought me not: I haue bene made manifest vnto them that asked not after me. Esay 65.1.

21 But against Israel hee sayeth, * All day long haue I stretched out my handes vnto a people that beleueth not, but speaketh against me. Esay 65.12.

a That is, a certaine affection, but not after knowledge. For no zeale, nor good intent can be acceptable vnto God, but onely ỹ which is grounded vpon faith, & the knowledge of God.

b It is called our owne righteousnes, whē we refuse the righteousnesse which cōmeth by Christ, and imagine another righteousnesse which cōmeth by our owne workes and deuices.

c That is, Christ hath fulfilled the whole lawe, and therefore whosoeuer beleeueth in him, is counted iust before God, as well as he had fulfilled the whole lawe himselfe.

† The Epistle on Saint Andrewes day.

d For sayth teacheth vs that Christ is ascended vp into heauen, to take vs with him, and hath descended into the depth of death, and to destroy death, to deliuer vs.

The xi. Chapter.

29 God repenteth him not of his gifts. 33 The deapth of Gods iudgements.

1 I Say then, hath God cast away his people? God forbid. For I also am an Israelite, of the seede of Abraham, of the tribe of Beniamin.

2 God hath not cast away his people which he knewe before. Wote yee not what the scripture sayth of Elias? howe hee maketh intercession to God against Israel,

3 *Saying, Lorde, they haue killed thy Prophets, and digged downe thine [a] altars, and I am left alone, and they seeke my life. 1.King.19.10.

4 But what sayeth the answere of God vnto him? I haue reserued vnto my selfe seuen thousand men, which haue not bowed ỹ knee to [the image of] Baal.

5 Euen so at this time there is a remnant, according to the election of grace.

6 If it bee of grace, then is it not nowe of workes: for then grace is no more grace. But if it be of workes, then is it now no grace, for then worke is no more worke.

a Those altars he meaneth whereupon Abraham, Isahac, and Iacob did offer sacrifices in times past, vpon the which it was lawfull for the Iewes to doe sacrifice, vntill the building of the Temple.

7 What then? Israel hath not obteyned that which hee seeketh for, but the election hath obteined it, the remnant hath bene ‖blinded.

‖Or, hardened. Esay 29.10. mat. 13.14.

8 (According as it is written, * God hath giuen them the spirite of [b] remorse: eyes, that they should not see, & eares, that they should not heare) euen vnto this day.

[b] That is, pricking and inquiernesse of conscience.

9 And Dauid sayth, Let their table be made a snare, and a trappe, and a stumbling stocke, and a recompence vnto them.

‖Or, darkened.

10 Let their eyes bee ‖blinded, that they see not, and bowe thou downe their backes alway.

11 I say then, Haue they therefore stumbled, that they should fal? God forbid: but through their fal, saluation [is come] vnto the [c] Gentiles, for to prouoke them withall.

[c] That is, for that ye Iewes contemning the Gospel of Christ, fell away frō God, the preaching of the Gospel came vnto the Gentiles, which is their saluation.

12 Now if the fall of them, be the riches of the worlde, and the minishing of them, the riches of the Gentiles: Howe much more their fulnesse?

13 For I speake to you Gentiles, in as much as I am the Apostle of the Gentiles, I magnifie mine office, 14 If by any meane I may prouoke them which are my flesh, and might saue some of them.

15 For if the casting away of them, be the reconciling of the worlde, what shall the receiuing [of them] be, but life from the dead?

16 For if the first fruites bee holy, the whole lumpe also [is holy.] And if the roote bee holy, the branches also.

[d] These broken branches, were the vnbeleeuing Iewes, which for their vnbeliefe, were cut off from the promise of God, in whose stede was the wilde Olive, that is, ye Gentiles, grafted through faith.

17 And if some of the branches be broken [d] off, and thou being a wilde Olive tree, wast graft in among them, & made partaker of the roote and fatnesse of the Olive tree:

18 Boast not thy selfe against the branches. For if thou boast thy selfe, thou bearest not the roote, but the roote thee.

19 Thou wilt say then, The branches are broken off, that I might be graft in.

20 Well: because of vnbeliefe they were broken off, and thou stoodest stedfast in faith. Be not high minded, but feare.

21 For seeing that God spared not the natural branches, [take heede] least it come to passe, that he spare not thee.

22 Beholde therefore the kindnesse and rigorousnesse of God: on thē which fell, rigorousnesse: but towards thee, kindnesse, if thou continue in kindnesse: or else thou also shalt bee hewen off.

23 And they, if they bide not still in vnbeliefe, shall bee grafted in: for God is of power to graffe them in againe.

24 For if thou were cut out of a natural wilde Olive tree, and were graffed, contrarie to nature, in a true Olive tree: howe much more shal these which be the naturall branches, be graffed in their owne Olive tree?

25 For I would not, brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this mysterie, (least ye shoulde be wise in your owne conceites) that partly ‖blindnesse is happened in Israel, vntill the fulnesse of the Gentiles be come in. ‖Or, hardnesse.

26 And so all Israel shalbe saued, as it is written, * There shall come out of Sion hee that doeth deliuer, and shall turne away vngodlinesse from Iacob. Esay 59.20.

27 And this is my couenant vnto them * when I shall take away their sinnes. Esay 27.9.

28 As cōcerning the Gospel, they are enemies for your sakes: but as touching the election, they are loued for the fathers [sakes.]

29 For the free giftes and calling of God, are without repentance.

30 For as yee in time past haue not beleeued God, yet haue yee nowe obteyned mercie through their vnbeliefe:

31 Euen so nowe haue they not ‖beleeued the mercie shewed vnto you, that they also may obteine mercie. ‖Or, obeyed.

32 For God hath shut vp all [nations] in vnbeliefe, that he might haue mercie on all.

33 O the deepenesse of the riches both of the wisedome and knowledge of God: howe vnsearchable are his iudgemēts, and his wayes past finding out!

34 For * who hath knowen the minde of the Lord? Or who hath bene his counseller? Sapi.9.13.esa.40. 13.1.cor.2.16.

35 Either who hath giuen vnto him first, [e] and he shalbe recompenced againe?

[e] By this the Apostle declareth that God by his frée will and election, doeth giue saluation vnto men, without any deserts of their owne.

36 For of him, and through him, and for him, are all things: to whom bee glory for euer, Amen.

The xii. Chapter.

Howe euery man shoulde walke in his seuerall calling.

The Epistle on the first Sunday after the Epiphanie.

1 I Beseech you therefore brethren, by the mercifulnesse of God, that yee ‖giue vp your bodies a quicke [a] sacrifice, holy, acceptable vnto God, [which is] your reasonable seruice. ‖Or, present.

[a] The Iewes in Moses lawe were cōmanded to offer vp the dead carkeises of beastes: but Christians should exhibite their own liues & bodies for a sacrifice to God, in mortifying their carnall lustes, and framing themselues by faith to godlinesse and charitie.

2 And bee not yee fashioned like vnto this world: but be ye changed in your shape, by the renuing of your minde, that yee may proue what is the good, and acceptable, and perfect will of God.

3 For I saye, through the grace giuen vnto me, to euery man that is among you, that no man esteeme of him selfe more then hee ought to esteeme: but so esteeme [him selfe] that he behaue him selfe discretely, according as God hath dealt to euery man the measure of faith.

4 For as wee haue many members in one body, and all members haue not one office:

5 So we, being many, are one body in Christ, and euery one, members one of another.

6 Seeing that we haue diuers giftes, according to the grace that is giuē vnto vs: either propheprophecie, after the measure of faith:

The Epistle on the ii. Sunday after the Epiphanie.

7 Either office, in administration: or he that teacheth, in teaching:

8 Or he that exhorteth, in exhorting: hee that giueth, in singlenesse: hee that ruleth, in diligence: hee that is mercifull, in cheerefulnesse:

9 Loue, without dissimulation, hating euill, cleauing to good.

10 Affectioned one to another with brotherly loue, in giuing honour, going one before another.

11 Not lither in businesse, feruent in spirit, seruing the Lord.

12 Reioycing in hope, patiēt in trouble, instant in prayer.

13 Distributing to the necessitie of saintes, giuen to hospitalitie.

14 *Blesse them which persecute you, blesse, & curse not.

15 Reioyce with them that do reioyce, & weepe with them that weepe.

16 *Being of like affection one towardes another, being not high minded: but making your selues equall to them of the lower sort. † Be not wise in your owne opinions.

17 *Recompencing to no man euill for euill. Prouiding afore hand things honest, [not only before God, but also] in the sight of al men.

18 *If it be possible, as much as lieth in you, liue peaceably with all men.

†The Epistle on the iii. Sunday after the Epiphanie.

19 Dearely beloued, auenge not your selues, but rather giue place vnto wrath. For it is writtē, Uengeance is mine, I wil repay, saith the Lord.

d For ether thou shalt win him with thy benefite, or els his conscience shall beare him witnesse, that Gods burning wrath hangeth ouer him.

20 Therfore, if thine enemie hunger, feed him: if hee thirst, giue him drinke: for in so doing, thou shalt heape [d] coales of fire on his head.

21 Be not ouercome of euil, but ouercome euil with good.

The xiii. Chapter.

1 Of obedience to the rulers, which beare not the sword in vayne. 8 Charitie must measure all our doings.

The Epistle on the fourth Sunday after the Epiphanie. Sapi. 6. 4.

1 LEt euery soule be subiect vnto the higher powers: For *there is no power but of God. The powers that be, are ordeyned of God.

2 Whosoeuer therefore resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinance of God: and they that resist, shall receiue to themselues damnation.

3 For rulers are not feareful to good workes, but to the euil. Wilt thou not feare the power? Do wel, and thou shalt haue prayse of the same.

4 For he is the minister of God for thy welth. But if thou doe euill, feare, for hee beareth not the sword in vaine: For he is the minister of God, reuenger of wrath on him that doeth euill.

5 Wherefore ye must needs be subiect, not only for feare of ‖ punishmēt: but also because of [a] conscience.

‖ Or, wrath.

a For we are bound in conscience by the word of God, to obey the higher powers and in disobeying, we should hurt the consciences of others thorowe our euill example.

6 And for this cause pay yee tribute, for they are Gods ministers, seruing for the same purpose.

7 Giue to euery man therefore his duetie, tribute to whome tribute [is due,] custome to whom custome, feare to whom feare, honour to whom honour [belongeth.]

The Epistle on the first Sunday in Aduent. Exo. 20. 14. deu. 5. 18. Leui. 19. 18. mar. 22. 39. mar. 12. 31. galat. 5. 14. iames 2. 8.

8 Owe nothing to no man, but to loue one another: (For he that loueth another, hath fulfilled the lawe.

9 For this, *Thou shalt not commit adulterie, thou shalt not kill, thou shalt not steale, thou shalt not beare false witnesse, thou shalt not lust: *and if there be any other commandement, it is in fewe words comprehended in this saying: Namely, Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe.

10 Charitie worketh no ill to his neyghbour, therefore the fulfilling of the lawe is charitie.)

11 And chiefly considering the season, how that it is time that we shoulde nowe awake out of sleepe: For now is our saluation [b] nearer thē when we beleeued.

b The further we go, the nearer are we to the end. Now therefore our perfect and ful saluation, is nearer vnto vs, then when we first began to beleeue. Luke 21. 14.

12 The night is passed, the day is come nigh. Let vs therefore cast away the deedes of darkenesse, *and let vs put on the armour of light.

13 Let vs walke honestly, as in the day, not in ryoting and drunkennesse, neither in chambring and wantonnes, neither in strife and enuying.

14 But put yee on the Lorde Iesus Christ, and make not prouision for the flesh, to [fulfill] the lustes [thereof.]

The xiiii. Chapter.

One ought to beare with anothers conscience in charitie.

1 HIm that is weake in the faith receiue, not to doutfulnesse of [a] disputations.

a That is, not to this end, contentiously to dispute with him in matters of religiō, whereunto thorowe the weakenesse of faith, he cānot as yet attaine, least he should depart with a greater scruple of conscience, or be offended with vncharitable reasoning.

2 One beleeueth that hee may eate euery thing: another which is weake, eateth herbes.

3 Let not him that eateth, despise him that eateth not: and let not him which eateth not, iudge him that eateth. For God hath receiued him.

4 What art thou that iudgest another mans seruant? To his owne master hee standeth or falleth: Yea, he shalbe holden vp, for God is able to make him stand.

5 This man putteth difference betweene day and day. Another man counteth all dayes alike. Let euery man be fully perswaded in his owne [b] minde.

b We must be assured in our conscience by Gods word of all things that we doe, that if we be strong, we may know what is our libertie: and if we be weake, we may learne to profite dayly.

6 He that esteemeth the day, esteemeth it vnto the Lorde: and he that esteemeth not the day, to the Lorde he doeth not esteeme it. Hee that eateth, eateth, eateth to the Lorde, for he giueth God thankes: and he that eateth not, eateth not to the Lord, and giueth God thankes.

7 For none of vs liueth to himselfe, & no man dieth to himselfe.

8 For if we liue, we liue vnto the Lorde: and if we die, wee die vnto the Lorde: Whether wee liue therefore, or die, wee are the Lords.

9 For to this ende Christ both died, and rose, and reuiued, that hee might be Lorde both of dead and quicke.

10 But why doest thou then iudge thy brother? Either, why doest thou set at nought thy brother? *we shall al stand before the iudgement seate of Christ. 2.Cor.1.10.

11 For it is written, *I liue, sayth the Lorde, and all knees shall bow to me, and al tongues shall giue prayse to God. Esay 45.23. phil.2.10.

12 So shall euery one of vs giue account of himselfe to God.

13 Let vs not therefore iudge one another any more: but iudge this rather, that no man put a stumbling blocke, or an occasion to fall, in his brothers way.

14 For I knowe, and am perswaded by ỹ Lord Iesus, that there is nothing common of it selfe, but vnto him that iudgeth it to bee common, to him it is common.

15 But if thy brother bee grieued with thy meate, nowe walkest thou not charitablie: *destroy not him with thy meate, for whome Christ dyed. 1.Cor.8.11.

16 Let not your good be euill spoken of.

17 For the kingdome of God is not meate and drinke: but righteousnesse, and peace, and ioy in the holy ghost.

18 For hee that in these things serueth Christ, pleaseth God, and is commended of men.

19 Let vs therefore follow those things which make for peace, and things wherewith one may edifie another.

20 Destroye not the woorke of God for meates sake: *all thinges are pure, but it is euill for that man which eateth with offence. Titus 1.15.

c Faith is here taken for a full perswasion of the christian liberty in things indifferent.

21 It is good neither to eate flesh, neither to drinke wine, neither [any thing] whereby thy brother stumbleth, either is offended, or is made weake.

d This sentence, both Augustine & Dasigine doe take to be generally meant of all mens woorkes whatsoeuer they be which proceede not of a right conscience, and an vndoubted faith grounded vpon the word of God.

22 Hast thou c fayth? Haue it with thy selfe before God. Happie is hee that condemneth not himselfe in that [thing which] he alloweth.

23 For hee that maketh conscience, is damned if he eate, because [hee eateth] not of fayth: For whatsoeuer is not of faith, is d sinne.

The xv. Chapter.

14 Paul sheweth his zeale towarde them, 30 and requireth the like of them.

1 WE which are strõg, ought to beare the frailenes of the weake, & not to stand in our owne conceites.

a To edifie, signifieth to do all maner of dueties to our neighbours, either to bring him to Christ, or if he be won, that he may go forward to vertue.

2 Let euery man please his neighbour in that that is good to a edifying.

3 For Christ pleased not himselfe, but as is written, The rebukes of them which rebuked thee, fell on me.

4 For whatsoeuer things haue bene written afore time, were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures, might haue hope. The Epistle on the ii. Sunday in Aduent.

5 The God of patience and consolation, * graunt you to bee like minded one towardes another, after the ensample of Christ Iesu: 1.Cor.1.10.

6 That yee all agreeing together, may with one mouth prayse God, and the father of our Lord Iesus Christ.

7 Wherefore, receiue ye one another, as Christ receiued vs, to the glory of God.

8 And I say, that Iesus Christ was a minister of the circumcision for the trueth of God, to confirme the promises [made] vnto the fathers:

9 And that the Gentiles might glorifie God, for his mercie, as it is written, * For this cause I wil prayse thee among the Gentiles, and sing vnto thy name. 1.Reg.21.50. psal.18.50.

10 And againe hee sayth, *Reioyce yee Gentiles with his people. Deut.32.49.

11 And againe, * Prayse the Lorde all yee Gentiles, and laude him all yee people together. Psalm.117.1.

12 And againe, Esaias sayth, * There shall be the roote of Iesse, and hee that shall rise to reigne ouer the Gentiles, in him shall the Gentiles trust. Esay 11.10.

13 The God of hope fill you with all ioy and peace in beleeuing, that yee may bee rich in hope, through the power of the holy ghost.

14 I my selfe am perswaded of you, my brethren, that ye also are full of goodnesse, and filled with all knowledge, able also to exhort one another.

15 Neuertheless, brethren, I haue somewhat more boldly written vnto you, as putting you in remembrance through the grace that is giuen to me of God,

16 That I should bee the minister of Iesus Christ to the Gentiles, ‖ and should minister the Gospel of God, that the offering of the b Gentiles might be acceptable, and sanctified by the holy ghost. ‖ Or, sacrificing.

b He calleth here the offering of the Gentiles, the people of the Gentiles, whom he won to God by preaching of the Gospel.

17 I haue therefore whereof I may reioyce through Christ Iesus, in those things which pertaine to God.

18 For I will not be bolde to speake of any of those things which Christ hath not wrought by mee, to make the Gentiles obedient with word and deede,

19 In

19 In mightie signes and wonders, by the power of the spirit of God, so that from Hierusalem, and the coastes round about vnto Illyricum, I haue fully preached the Gospel of Christ.

20 So haue I enforced my selfe to preache the Gospel, not where Christ was named, least I should haue built vpon another mans [c] foundation.

[c] Another mans foundation he calleth here the Churches that were taught and instructed of other apostles. Esai. 52. 15.

21 But as it is written, * To whome hee was not spoken of, they shall see: and they that heare not, shall vnderstand.

22 For this cause I haue bene oft let, that I coulde not come vnto you:

23 But nowe hauing no more to doe in these countreys, and also hauing a great desire many yeres to come vnto you.

24 When so euer I take my iourney into Spaine, I will come to you: For I trust to see you in my iourney, and to be brought on my way thitherwarde by you, after that I bee somewhat filled with you.

25 But nowe goe I vnto Hierusalem, to minister vnto the [d] saints.

[d] That is, to carry to ỳ poore saintes that liued at Hierusalem, ỳ almes that he gathered for them among the Gētiles where he preached. 1. Cor. 9. 11.

26 For it hath pleased them of Macedonia and Achaia, to make a certaine common gathering for the poore saintes which are at Hierusalem.

27 * It hath pleased them verily, and their detters are they. For if the Gentiles bee made partakers of their spirituall things, their duety is to minister vnto them in carnal things.

28 When I haue performed this, and haue [e] sealed to them this fruit, I will come to you into Spayne.

[e] That is, whē I shal faithfully deliuer it to thē, as it were sealed moste surely. By fruit, he meaneth almes, which is the frute of ỳ faith of those that had receiued the gospel.

29 And I am sure that when I come vnto you, I shall come with abundance of the blessing of the Gospel of Christ.

30 I beseech you brethren for the Lorde Jesus Christes sake, and for the loue of the spirite, that yee helpe mee in my businesse with your prayers to God for me:

31 That I may be deliuered from them which beleeue not in Jurie, and that this my seruice which I haue at Hierusalem, may bee accepted of the saints:

32 That I may come vnto you with ioy by the will of God, and may with you bee refreshed.

33 The God of peace be with you all, Amen.

The xvi. Chapter.

1 A number of salutations. 17 Paul willeth them to beware of false brethren. 20 Hee prayeth and giueth thankes for them.

1 I Commende vnto you Phebe our sister, which is a minister of the [a] Church of Cēchrea:

[a] In the primatiue church ancient widdowes, & other vertuous women, were chosen & appoynted to minister vnto the needy, and therefore called Ministers: and not because they had any publique authoritie to teach in the congregation.

2 That yee receiue her in the Lord, as it becommeth saintes, and that yee assist her in whatsoeuer businesse shee hath neede of you: For she hath succoured many, and my selfe also.

3 * Greete Priscilla, and Aquila, my helpers in Christ Jesu: Acts 18. 3.

4 (Which haue for my life layde downe their owne neckes: Unto whom, not onely I giue thankes, but also all ỳ Churches of the Gentiles.)

5 Likewise [greete] the Church that is in their house. Salute my welbeloued Epenetus, which is the first fruites of Achaia in Christ.

6 Greete Mary, which bestowed much labour on vs.

7 Salute Andronicus and Junia my cousins, and prysoners with mee also, which are well taken among the Apostles, & were in Christ before me.

8 Greete Amplias my beloued in the Lord.

9 Salute Urban, our helper in Christ, & Stachys my beloued.

10 Salute Apelles, approued in Christ. Salute them which are of Aristobulus household.

11 Salute Herodion my kinsman. Greete thē that be of the household of Narcissus, which are in the Lord.

12 Salute Tryphena and Tryphosa, which labour in the Lorde. Salute the beloued Persis, which laboured much in the Lord.

13 Salute Ruphus chosen in the Lord, and his mother and mine.

14 Greete Asyncritus, Phlegon, Herman, Patrobas, Mercurius, and the brethrē which are with them.

15 Salute Philologus, & Julia, Nereus and his sister, and Olimpas, and all the saintes which are with them.

16 * Salute one another with an holy [b] kisse. The Churches of Christ salute you. 2. Cor. 13. 12.

[b] This was a signe of amitie among the Jewes, which S. Paul willeth to be holy, that is, that come from a minde full of godly charitie.

17 Nowe I beseech you brethren, [c] marke thē which cause diuision, and giue occasion of euill, contrary to the doctrine which yee haue learned, and auoyde them.

[c] There are two markes to knowe the false Apostles by: the one is, when they leaue Christ, & serue their belie: the other, when they regarde not the holy scripture, but preache lies, and their owne fantasies.

18 For they that are such, serue not the Lorde Jesus Christ, but their owne belly, and with sweete and flattering words deceiue ỳ hearts of the innocents.

19 For your obedience is gone abroad vnto all men. I am glad therefore on your behalfe: but yet I woulde haue you wise vnto that which is good, and simple concerning euill.

20 The God of peace shal treade Satan vnder your feete shortly. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. Amen.

21 *Timotheus my worke fellow, and Lucius, and Jason, and Sosipater my kinsmen salute you. Actes 16. 1. phi. 2. 19.

22 I Tertius, which wrote this Epistle, salute you in the Lord.

23 Gaius

23 Gaius mine hoste, & of the whole church, saluteth you. Erastus the chamberlaine of the citie saluteth you, and Quartus his brother.
24 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ bee with you all, Amen.
Ephes.3.20. 25 *To him that is of power to stablish you, according to my Gospell, & preaching of Jesus Christ, *by reuealing of the mysterie which Ephes.3.9. coloss.1.2. 1.tim.1.7. titus 1.1. was kept secret since the world began,
26 But now is opened, & by the scriptures of the Prophets, at the commandement of the euerlasting God, to the obedience of faith, among all nations published, 27 To [the same] God, wise onely, be glory, through Jesus Christ, for euer, Amen.

¶ This Epistle was written to the Romanes from Corinthus, [and sent] by Phebe the minister of the Church at Cenchrea.

The first Epistle of Saint Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians.

The first Chapter.

1 He praiseth the great graces of God shewed toward them, 10 Exhorting them to concord and humilitie.

1 PAul called [to bee] an Apostle of Jesus Christ, through the will of God, & brother Sosthenes:
2 Unto the church of God which is at Corinthus, to them that *are sanctified in Christ Jesus, [a] saintes by calling, *with all that call on the name of ỳ Lord Jesus Christ in euery place, both of theirs and ours:
Actes 15.9. a Made holy by ỳ free mercy and calling of God. Rom.1.7.
3 Grace be vnto you, and peace from God our father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.
The Epistle on the xviii. sunday after Trinitie. 4 I thanke my God alwaies on your behalfe, for the grace of God which is giuen you n Jesus Christ,
5 That in all things ye are enriched in him, in all vtterance and in all knowledge:
6 As the testimony of Jesus Christ was confirmed in you.
7 So that ye are destitute of no gift, waiting for the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ.
‖Or, confirme. 8 Which shal also ‖ strengthen you vnto the ende, that ye may be [b] blameless in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ.
b For there is no condemnation to them that are grafted in Christ Jesus. 1.Thess.5.24. 9 *God is faithfull, by whom yee haue bene called vnto the fellowship of his sonne Jesus Christ our Lord.
10 Now I beseech you brethren by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speake one thing, and that there be no dissentions among you: but that ye be perfectly ioined together in the same minde, and in the same meaning.
11 For it hath bene declared vnto me, my brethren, of you, by them which are of the house of Cloe, that there are contentions among you.
12 This I say, that euery one of you saieth, I am of Paul, and I am of *Apollo, and I am of Cephas, and I am of Christ.
Act.18.24. 13 Is Christ diuided? was Paul crucified for you? either were ye baptized in the name of Paul?
14 I thanke God that I baptized none of you but *Crispus and Gaius: Act.18.8.
15 Least any should say that I had baptized in mine owne name.
16 I baptized also the household of Stephana: Besides, I know not whether I baptized any other.
17 For Christ sent mee not to baptize, but to preach the Gospell: *not with wisedome of [c] wordes, least the crosse of Christ should bee made of none effect. Gal.5.2. 2.pet.1.16. c When men should attribute that vnto eloquence, which only belongeth to the power of God.
18 For the preaching of the crosse is to thē that perish, foolishnesse: but vnto vs which are saued, *it is the power of God. Rom.1.16.
19 For it is written, I will destroy the wisedome of the wise, and will cast away the *vnderstanding of the prudent. Esa.29.14.
20 Where is the wise? where is the Scribe? where is the disputer of this world? Hath not God made the wisedome of this world foolish?
21 For after that in the wisedome of God, the world through their wisdome knew not God, it pleased God through foolishnesse of preaching, to saue them that beleeue.
22 For *the Iewes require a signe, and the Greekes seeke after wisedome. Matt.12.38.
23 But wee preach Christ crucified, vnto the Iewes a stumbling blocke, & vnto ỳ Grekes, foolishnesse:
24 But vnto them which are called, both Iewes and Greekes, Christ, the power of God, and the wisedome of God.
25 For the foolishnesse of God is wiser then men: and the weakenesse of God is stronger then men.
26 Brethren, ye see your calling, how that not many wise men after the flesh, not many mightie, not many noble [are called:]
27 But God hath chosen ỳ foolish things of ỳ world, to confound the wise: & God hath chosen the weake things of the world, to confound the things which are mightie:
28 And vnnoble things of the world, & things which are despised, hath God chosen, [yea] and things which are not, to bring to nought things that are:

29 That no flesh should glory in his presence.

30 And of him are ye in Christ Iesus, which of God is made vnto vs wisedome, & righteousnesse, and sanctification, and redemption:

Iere.9.23. 31 That according as it is written, *He that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord.

The ii. Chapter.

He putteth for example his maner of preaching, which was according to the tenor of the Gospel.

1 AND I, brethren, when I came to you, Wisd.7.17. *came not in ‖ gloriousnesse of words, or of wisedome, shewing vnto you the [a] testimonie of God.

[a] That is, the Gospel, wherby God doeth manifest himselfe to the world, or wherof God is the author and witnesse. 2.Pet.1.10.

2 For I esteemed not to know any thing among you, saue Iesus Christ, and him crucified.

3 And I was among you in weakenesse, and in feare, and in much trembling.

4 And my words and my preaching *was not with enticing words of mans wisedome, but in shewing of the spirit, and of power:

5 That your faith should not stand in ỹ wisedome of men, but in the power of God.

6 And we speake wisedome among them that are perfect: not the wisedome of this world, neither of the princes of this world, which come to nought:

7 But we speake the wisedome of God in a mysterie, [euen] the hid [wisedome] which God ordained before the world, vnto our glory.

8 Which none of the princes of this world knew: for had they knowen it, they would not haue crucified the Lord of glory.

Esai 64.4. 9 But as it is written, *The eye hath not seene, and the eare hath not heard, neither haue entred into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that loue him.

10 But God hath reuealed them vnto vs by his spirit: for the spirit searcheth all things, yea the deepe things of God.

11 For what man knoweth the things of a mã, saue the [b] spirit of man which is in him? Euen so the things of God knoweth no man, but the spirit of God.

[b] Mans mind which vnderstandeth and iudgeth.

12 And we haue not receiued the spirite of the world, but the spirit which is of God, that we might know the things that are giuen to vs of God.

2.Pet.1.16. 13 *Which things also we speake, not in the words which mans wisedome teacheth, but which the holy Ghost teacheth: comparing spiritual things with spiritual things.

14 But the naturall man perceiueth not the things of the spirit of God, for they are foolishnes vnto him: Neither can he know [thē] because they are spiritually discerned.

15 *But he ỹ is spiritual, discerneth al things, yet he himselfe is iudged of no man. Pro.27.19.

16 *For who hath knowen the mind of ỹ Lord, that he might instruct him? But we haue [c] the mind of Christ. Rom.11.34. esai 40.13. c That is, Christes spirit.

The iii. Chapter.

3 Paul rebuketh the sects and authors thereof. 13 Christ is the foundation of the Church.

1 AND I could not speake vnto you brethrē, as vnto spiritual, but as vnto carnal, [euen] as vnto [a] babes in Christ.

a Being ingrafted in Christ by faith, we begin to moone by his spirit: & as we profit in faith, we grow vp in a ripe age. And here let him take heed that teacheth, lest for milke he giue poison. For milke and strong meate in effect are one, but only differ in maner and forme.

2 I haue nourished you with milke, & not with meate: for ye then were not strong, neither are ye as yet.

3 For ye are yet carnall: Seeing then there is among you enuying, and strife, and sectes, are ye not carnal, and walke as men?

4 For while one saieth, I am of Paul, & another, I [am] of Apollo, are ye not carnal?

5 For what is Paul? what is Apollo? but ministers by whom ye beleeued, euen as the Lord gaue to euery man.

6 I haue planted, Apollo watered: but God gaue the encrease.

7 So then, neither is he ỹ planteth any thing: neither hee that watereth: but God that giueth the encrease.

8 He that planteth, and he that watereth, are one: *and euery man shal receiue his reward according to his labour. Psal.62.13. gal.6.5.

9 For wee together are Gods labourers, yee are Gods husbandry, ye are gods building.

10 According to the grace of God which is giuen vnto me, as a wise master builder haue I laid the foundation, & another buildeth thereon. But let euery man [b] take heede how hee buildeth vpon.

b He reproueth the ministers of Corinth, as teachers of curious doctrines and questions.

11 For other foundation can no man lay then that is laid, which is Iesus Christ.

12 If any man build on this foundation, gold, siluer, precious stones, timber, hay, [or] stubble:

13 Euery mans worke shall be made manifest. The day shall declare it, because it shall be reuealed by the fire, and the fire shall try euery mans worke what it is.

14 If any mans worke that he hath built vpon abide, he shal receiue a reward.

15 If any mans worke burne, hee shall suffer losse, but he shall be sake himselfe: yet as [it were] through fire.

16 *Know ye not that yee are the temple of God, and that the spirite of God dwelleth in you? 1.Cor.6.19.

17 If any man ‖ defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy: for the temple of God is holy, which [temple] ye are. ‖Or, destroy.

18 Let no man deceiue himselfe: If any man among you seeme [to himselfe] to be wise in this world, let him become a foole, that hee may be wise.

19 For

19 For the wisedome of this world, is foolishnesse with God: for it is written, *He compasseth the wise in [c] their owne craftinesse.
Iob 5.13.
c When they themselues are entangled in the same snares which they laid for others.
20 And againe, The Lord knoweth ỳ thoughts of the wise, that they be vaine.
21 Therefore let no man glory in [d] men, for all things are yours:
d But in God, who worketh by his ministers to his owne glory, and the comfort of his church.
22 Whether Paul, or Apollo, or Cephas, either the world, either life, or death, whether things present, or things to come, all are yours:
23 But ye are Christes, and Christ [is] Gods.

The iiii. Chapter.

1 After that he had described the office of a true Apostle, 3 seeing they did not acknowledge him such, 4 he appealeth to Gods iudgement.

The Epistle on the 3. Sunday in Aduent.

1 LEt a man so esteeme of vs as the ministers of Christ, and disposers of the secrets of God.
2 Furthermore, it is required in the disposers, that a man be found faithfull.
3 With me it is but a very small thing that I should bee iudged of you, either of mans iudgement: yea, I iudge not [a] mine owne selfe.
a Whether I haue great gifts or little, few or many.
4 For I know nothing by my selfe, yet am I not thereby iustified: but he that iudgeth me, is the Lord.
Matt. 7.1. rom. 2.1.
5 *Therefore iudge nothing before the time, vntill the Lord come, who will lighten ỳ hidden things of darkenesse, and open the counsels of the hearts: and then shall euery man haue praise of God.
6 And these things brethren, I haue figuratiuely applied vnto my selfe and to Apollos, for your sakes: that yee might learne by vs, not to be wise aboue that which is written, that you swell not one against another for any mans cause.
b To wit, from other men, and preferreth thee?
7 For who [b] separateth thee? And what hast thou that thou hast not receiued? If thou hast receiued it, why doest thou glory as though thou hadst not receiued it?
8 Now ye are full, now ye are rich, ye haue reigned as kings without vs, and I would to God yee did reigne, that wee also might reigne with you.
9 For mee thinketh that God hath set foorth vs which are the last Apostles, as it were men appointed to death. For we are made a gasing stocke vnto the world, and to angels, and to men.
e By this bitter taunting, in abiecting himselfe, and exalting the Corinthians, he maketh the ashamed of their vaine glory.
10 We [are] [e] fooles for Christes sake, but ye [are] wise in Christ. Wee [are] weake, but ye [are] strong: Yee [are] honourable, but we [are] despised.
11 Euen vnto this ‖ time we both hunger and thirst, and are naked, and are buffeted, & haue no certaine dwelling place,
‖ Or, houre. Act. 20.34. 1.thes. 2.9. 2.thes. 3.8.
12 *And labour, working with our owne hands: being reuiled, we bless: being persecuted, we suffer it:
Matt. 5.44.
13 *Being defamed, we pray: we are made as the filthinesse of the world, [and are] the offscouring of all things vnto this day.
14 I write not these things to shame you, but as my beloued sonnes I warne you.
15 For though yee haue ten thousand instructers in Christ, yet [haue ye] not many fathers: For in Christ Iesus I haue begotten you through the Gospel.
16 Wherefore I desire you, be ye followers of me.
17 For this cause haue I sent vnto you Timotheus, which is my beloued sonne, and faithful in the Lord, who shall put you in remembrance of my wayes which be in Christ, as I teach euery where in all churches.
18 Some are swollē, as though I would come no more at you:
19 *But I will come to you shortly, if the Lord will, and will know, not the wordes of them which are swollen, but the power.
Act. 19.21. iam. 4.15.
20 For the kingdome of God is not in word, but in [d] power.
d Of the holy ghost.
21 What will ye? Shal I come vnto you with a rodde, or in loue, and in the spirit of meekenesse?

The v. Chapter.

1 He reproueth sharply their negligence in punishing him that had committed incest, 3 willing them to excommunicate him, 7 to imbrace puritie, 9 and flee wickednesse.

1 IT is reported commonly that there is fornication among you, & such fornication as is not named among the [a] Gentiles: that one should haue his fathers wife.
a Who would thinke that you would suffer that mischiefe vnpunished, which the most barbarous nations abhorre to speake of. Col. 2.5.
2 And ye are puffed vp, and haue not rather sorowed, that he ỳ hath done this deed, might be taken away from among you.
3 *For I verily, as absent in body, but present in spirite, haue determined already, as though I were present, that he that hath so done this deed,
4 In the name of our Lord Iesus Christ, you being gathered together, and my spirite with you, with the power of the Lord Iesus Christ,
5 *To deliuer such [a one] vnto Satan for ỳ destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saued in the day of the Lord Iesus.
1. Tim. 1.20.
6 Your glorying is not [b] good. *Know ye not that a litle leauen leaueneth ỳ whole lumpe?
b Seeing you suffer such monstruous vices vnpunished. Gal. 5.9.
7 Purge out therefore the olde leauen, that ye may be a new lumpe, as yee are vnleauened. For [euen] Christ our Passeouer is ‖ offered vp for vs.
‖ Or, is slaine.
8 Therefore let vs keepe holyday, not with old leauen, neither with the leauen of maliciousnesse and wickednesse: but with the vnleauened [bread] of pureness and trueth.

9 I wrote vnto you in an epistle, ẏ ye should not company with fornicatours.
10 [I did not meane] not at all with the fornicatours of this world, or with the couetous, or extortioners, or with idolaters: for then must ye needes haue gone out of the world.
11 But now [this] I write vnto you, not to company together, if any that is called a brother be a fornicatour, or couetous, or a worshipper of idols, or a railer, or a drunkard, or an extortioner: with him that is such, not to eate.
12 For what haue I to doe to iudge them that are without? doe not ye iudge them that are within?
13 Them that are without, God shall iudge. And ye shall put away from among you that wicked person.

The vi. Chapter.

7 Christians ought rather to suffer. 12 He reproueth the abusing of christian libertie, 15 and sheweth that we ought to serue God purely, both in body and soule.

1 DAre any of you, hauing busines ‖ with another, be iudged vnder the [a] vniust, and not rather vnder the saints?
2 Do ye not know that the saints shal iudge the world? If the world shalbe iudged by you, are ye vnworthy to iudge the smallest matters?
3 Know ye not how that wee shall iudge the angels? How much more, things that pertaine to this life?
4 If then yee haue iudgement of things pertaining to this life, set vp thē to iudge which are least esteemed in the church.
5 I speake it to your shame. Is it so that there is not a wise man among you? no not one that shalbe able to iudge betwene his brethrē?
6 But brother goeth to law with brother, and that vnder the vnbeleeuers?
7 Now therefore, there is vtterly a ‖ fault among you, because ye goe to law one with another: * Why rather suffer yee not wrong? why rather suffer ye not harme?
8 Nay, *ye your selues do wrong, & do harme, and that to your brethren.
9 Know ye not that the vnrighteous shal not inherite the kingdome of God? Bee not deceiued: neither fornicatours, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of thē selues with mankind,
10 Nor thieues, nor couetous, nor drunkards, nor reuilers, nor ‖ pillers, shall inherite the kingdome of God.
11 *And some such like you were: but ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are iustified in the name of the Lord Iesus, and by the spirit of our God.
12 All things are lawfull vnto mee, but all things are not profitable: all things are lawful for me, but I will not bee brought vnder the [b] power of any.
13 Meates for the belly, & the belly for meates: but God shal destroy both it and them. Now the body [is] not for [c] fornication, but for the Lord: and the Lord for the body.
14 And God both hath raised vp the Lord, *and also shall raise vs vp by his power.
15 Know ye not that your bodies are the members of Christ? Shal I then take ẏ members of Christ, and make them the members of an harlot? God forbid.
16 What, know yee not that he which is coupled with an harlot, is one ‖ body? *For two (saith he) shalbe one flesh.
17 But he that is coupled vnto the Lord, is one spirite.
18 Flee fornication: Euery sinne that a man doeth, is without the body: but hee that committeth fornication, sinneth against his owne body.
19 What, *know yee not that your body is the temple of the holy Ghost [which is] in you, whom ye haue of God, and yee are not [d] your owne?
20 * For ye are bought with a price: therefore glorifie God in your body, and in your spirit, which are gods.

The vii. Chapter.

The Apostle answereth to certaine questions which the Corinthians desired to know.

1 NOw as concerning the things whereof ye wrote vnto me: It is [a] good for a man not to touch a woman.
2 Neuertheless, to auoid fornication, let euery man haue his owne wife, and let euery woman haue her owne husband.
3 *Let the husband giue vnto the wife due beneuolence: Likewise also the wife vnto the husband.
4 The wife hath not the power of her owne body, but the husband: And likewise also the husband hath not the power of his owne body, but the wife.
5 Defraud you not the one the other, except [it bee] with both your consents for a time, that yee may giue your selues to fasting and praier: and afterward come together againe, that Satan tempt you not for your incontinencie.
6 This I say ‖ of fauour, and [b] not of commandement.
7 For I would that all men were euen as I my selfe: but euery man hath his proper gift of God, one after this maner, another after that.
8 I say therefore to the vnmaried & widowes, it is good for them if they abide euen as I:
9 But if they cannot abstaine, let them marry: for it is better to marry then to burne.

10 Unto the maried commaund, not I, but the Lord, * Let not the wife depart from her husband:

Mat. 5. 32. and 19. 9.

11 But and if she depart, let her remaine vnmarried, or bee reconciled to her husband [againe:] And let not the husband put away his wife.

12 But to the remnant speake I, not the Lord, If any brother haue a wife that beleeueth not, and she consent to dwel with him, let him not put her away.

13 And the woman which hath to her husband an infidel, and he consent to dwell with her, let her not put him away.

14 For the vnbeleeuing husband is sanctified by the wife, & the vnbeleeuing wife is sanctified by the husband: els were your children vncleane, but now are they c holy.

c They that are borne of either of the parents faithfull, are also counted members of Christs church, because of the promise.

15 But if the vnbeleeuing depart, let him depart. A brother or a sister is not made subiect in such [things:] but God hath called vs in peace.

16 For how knowest thou, O woman, whether thou shalt saue thy husband? or how knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt saue thy wife?

17 But as God hath distributed to euery man, as the Lord hath called euery one, so let him walke, and so ordaine I in all churches.

18 Is any man called being circumcised? let him not adde [vncircumcision:] Is any called in vncircumcision, let him not bee circumcised.

19 Circumcision is nothing, and vncircumcision is nothing, but the keeping of the commãdements of God.

Ephe. 4. 1.

20 *Let euery man abide in the same calling wherein he was called.

21 Art thou called a seruant? care not for it: neuertheless, if thou mayest be made free, vse it rather.

22 For he that is called in the Lord [being] a seruant, is the Lordes free man: likewise also he that is called [being] free, is Christes seruant.

1. Pet. 1. 20.

23 *Ye are bought with a price, bee not ye the seruants of men.

24 Brethren, let euery man wherein he is called, therein abide d with God.

d Or, sincerely, as in the presence of God.

25 Now concerning virgins, I haue no commandement of the Lord: yet giue I counsel, as one that hath obtained mercy of the Lord to be faithfull.

26 I suppose therefore that it is good for the present necessitie, that [I say,] it is good for a man so to be.

27 Art thou bound vnto a wife? seeke not to be loosed. Art thou loosed from a wife? seeke not a wife.

28 But and if thou marry, thou hast not sinned, and if a virgin marry, she hath not sinned: neuertheless, such shall haue trouble in ẏ flesh: but ‖ I beare with you.

‖ Or, spare you.

29 But this say I brethren, because the time is short: it remaineth that they also which haue wiues, be as though they had none:

30 And they that weepe, as though they wept not: and they that reioyce, as though they reioiced not: and they that bye, as though they possessed not:

31 And they that vse this world, as not abusing it: for the fashion of this world goeth away.

32 I would haue you without care. Hee that is vnmaried, careth for the things that belong to the Lord, how hee may please the Lord:

33 But hee that hath married, careth for the things that are of the world, how hee may please his wife.

34 There is difference betweene a virgine and a wife: the vnmarried woman careth for the things that are of the Lord, that shee may be holy both in body and in spirit: but she that is married, careth for the things that pertaine to the world, how shee may please her husband.

35 This speake I for your profite: not that I may cast a snare vpon you, but for comelines sake, and sitting fast vnto the Lord without separation.

36 But if any man thinke that it is vncomely for his virgin if she passe the time of mariage, c and need so require, let him do what he will, he sinneth not: let them be married.

c That is, that she should marie to auoid fornication.

37 Neuertheless, he that standeth stedfast in his heart, hauing no neede, but hath power ouer his owne will, & hath so decreed in his heart that he will keepe his virgin, doeth well.

38 So then hee that giueth in marriage doeth well: but he that giueth not in mariage, doth better.

39 * The wife is bound to the ‖ lawe as long as her husband liueth: but if her husband bee dead, she is at libertie to be maried to whom she will, onely in the Lord.

Rom. 7. 1.
‖ Or, by the lawe of mariage.

40 But she is happier if she so abide, after my iudgement: *and I thinke verily that I haue the spirit of God.

1. Thes. 4. 8.

The viii. Chapter.

He rebuketh them that vse their libertie to the slander of other, in going to the idolatrous sacrifices.

1 AS touching things offered vnto idols, we know that we al haue knowledge. Knowledge maketh a man swel: but charitie edifieth.

2 If any man thinke that hee knoweth any thing, he knoweth nothing yet as he ought to know.

3 But if any man loue God, ẏ same is ‖ knowen of him.

‖ Or, taught.

4 As concerning therefore the eating of those things that are offred in sacrifice vnto idols, we know that an idol is nothing in ỹ woꝛld, and that there is none other God but one.

5 And though there be that are called gods, whether in heauen oꝛ in earth (as there bee gods many, and [a] loꝛdes many:)

a Which being idols, yet are esteemed of mẽ as Loꝛdes and Seigneours. Iohn 13.13. 1.cor.12.3.

6 Yet vnto vs is there but one God, [which is] the father, of whom are all things, and we in him, *and one Loꝛd Iesus Chꝛist, by whõ are all things, and we by him.

7 But there is not in euery man that knowledge: foꝛ some hauing conscience of the idol vnto this houre, eate as a thing offered vnto idols, and their conscience being weake, is defiled.

8 But meate doeth not commend to God: Foꝛ neither if we eate, haue we the moꝛe: neither if we eate not, haue we the lesse.

9 But take heede least by any meanes this liberty of yours become a stumbling to them that are weake.

10 Foꝛ if any man see thee which hast knowledge, sit at meate in the idols temple: shall not the conscience of him which is weake, be [b] boldened to eate those things which are offered to idols, b By thine example, without any ground of doctrine.

11 And thꝛough thy knowledge shal ỹ [c] weake bꝛother perish, foꝛ whom Chꝛist died?

c Which eateth against his conscience.

12 But when ye sinne so against the bꝛethren, and wound their weake conscience, ye sinne against Chꝛist.

Rom.14.21.

13 Wherefoꝛe, *if meate offend my bꝛother, I will eate no flesh while the woꝛld standeth, least I should offend my bꝛother.

The ix. Chapter.

He exhorteth them by his example to vse their libertie to the edification of others.

1 AM I not an Apostle? am I not free? haue I not seene Iesus Chꝛist our Loꝛd? Are not yee my woꝛke in the Loꝛd?

2 If I be not an Apostle vnto other, yet doubtlesse am I vnto you: foꝛ the [a] seale of mine Apostleship are ye in the Loꝛd.

a I needе no further declaration, but the woꝛkes that I haue wꝛought among you.

3 Mine answere to them that aske me, is this,

4 Haue we not power to eate and to dꝛinke?

5 Haue we not power to lead about a [b] sister a woman, as wel as other apostles, and as the bꝛethren of the Loꝛd and Cephas?

b Oꝛ a sister, a wife. S. Paul vseth none other woꝛd to expresse a wife then γυνή, valla, what needeth it to adde a womã, where was premised a sister? Wherfore I thinke (saieth he) it ought to be translated a wife, specially, because it is expressed in the singular number γυνεῖκα. The olde translation printed, transposeth the woꝛdes, saying, Mulierem sororem, where the most olde written copies constantly haue Sororem mulierem, as all the Greeke copies haue it, γυναῖκα.

6 Is the libertie of not labouring ‖ taken fꝛõ me and Barnabas onely?

‖ with the hands.

7 Who goeth a warfare any time at his owne cost? who planteth a vineyard, & eateth not of the fꝛuit thereof? oꝛ who feedeth a flocke, and eateth not of the milke of the flocke?

8 Say I these things after the maner of mẽ? oꝛ saieth not the lawe the same also?

9 Foꝛ it is wꝛittẽ in the law of Moses, Thou shalt not moosell the mouth of the oxe that treadeth out the coꝛne. Doeth God take care foꝛ oxen?

10 Either saieth hee it not altogether foꝛ our sakes? Foꝛ our sakes no doubt [this] is wꝛitten: that he which eareth, should eare in hope: and that hee which thꝛesheth in hope, should be partaker of his hope.

11 If wee haue sowen vnto you spirituall things, is it a great thing if we shall reape your carnal things?

12 If others be partakers of [their] power ouer you, [wherefoꝛe are] not we rather? Neuertheless, we haue not vsed this power: but sufker all things, least we should hinder the Gospel of Chꝛist.

13 Doe ye not know that they which minister about holy things, eate of the things of the temple? and they which waite at the altar, are partakers with the altar?

14 Euen so hath the Loꝛd oꝛdained, that they which pꝛeach the Gospell, should liue of the Gospel.

15 Bnt I haue vsed none of these things. Neuertheless, I wꝛote not these things, that it should be so done vnto me: Foꝛ it were better foꝛ me to die, then that any man should make my ‖ reioycing vaine.

‖ Or, boasting.

16 Foꝛ if I pꝛeach the Gospel, I haue nothing to ‖ reioyce of: foꝛ necessitie is laid vpon me. But woe is vnto me if I pꝛeach not the Gospell.

‖ Or, boast of.

17 Foꝛ if I do this thing with a good will, I haue a reward: but if against my will, the [c] dispensation is committed vnto me.

c The Greeke woꝛd signifieth a guidãce, bestowing, oꝛ distribution of things, as it were to the pꝛofite of an household.

18 What is my reward then? Uerily that whẽ I pꝛeach the Gospel, I may make ỹ Gospell of Chꝛist free, that I misuse not mine authoritie in the Gospel.

19 Foꝛ though I be free from all men, yet haue I made my selfe seruant vnto all men, that I might winne the moꝛe.

20 Unto the Iewes, I became as a Iewe, that I might winne the Iewes: to them that are vnder the law, as vnder the law, that I might winne them that are vnder the law:

21 To them that are without lawe, as without law (when I was not without lawe as pertaining to the law of God, but was in ỹ lawe of Chꝛist) that I might winne them that are without lawe.

22 To the weake became I as weake, that I might win the weake: I am made all things to all men, that I might by all meanes saue some.

23 And this I do foꝛ the Gospels sake, that I might be pertaker thereof.

24 Know yee not, that they which runne in a race, runne all, but one receiueth the reward? So runne, that ye may obtaine.

The Epistle on Septuagesima Sunday.

25 Euery

25 Euery man that proueth masteries, abstaineth from all things: and they [do it] to obtaine a corruptible crowne, but wee [to obtaine] an incorruptible [crowne.]

d Least ye should be reproued of me when they should see him do contrary, or contemne that thing which he taught other to doe.

26 I therefore so runne, not as at an vncertaine thing: so fight I, not as one that beateth the aire:

27 But I tame my d body, and bring it into subiection: least by any meanes that when I haue preached to other, I my selfe should be a castaway.

The x. Chapter.

1 He feareth them with the examples of the Iewes, that they put not their trust carnally in the graces of God, 14 exhorting them to flee all idolatrie, 23 and offence of their neighbour.

The Epistle on the 9. Sunday after Trinitie.

1 BRethren, I would not that ye should be ignorant, how that all our fathers were vnder the cloud, and all passed thorow the sea:

‖ That is, into Moses lawe, as some read, or, as S. Augustine readeth, by Moses.

2 And were all baptized ‖ vnto Moses in the cloud, and in the sea:

a That is, Manna, which was the outward signe or sacrament of the spirituall grace.

3 And did all eate of ỹ same a spiritual meate:

b That is, signified Christ, as all sacraments do.

4 And did all drinke of the same spirituall drinke: (For they dranke of that spirituall rocke that followed them: and that rocke was b Christ.)

5 But in many of them had God no delight: for they were ouerthrowen in the wildernes.

6 These things verily are our ensamples, that we should not be lusters after euil things, as they also lusted.

‖ Or, did commit fornication.

7 Neither be ye idolaters, as [were] some of them, as it is written, * The people sate downe to eate and drinke, and rose vp to play.

Exo. 32. 6.

8 Neither let vs commit fornication, as some of them committed ‖ fornication, and fell in one day three and twentie thousand.

9 Neither let vs tempt Christ, as some of thē tempted, and were destroyed of serpents.

10 Neither murmure ye, as some of thē murmured, and were destroyed of the destroyer.

c How God wil plague vs, if we be subiect to the like vices.

11 All these things happened vnto them for ensamples: but they are written c for our admonition, vpon whom the ends of the world are come.

12 Wherefore, let him that thinketh hee standeth, take heede least he fall.

13 There hath no temptation taken you, but such as followeth the nature of man: but God is faithfull, which shall not suffer you to bee tempted aboue that you are able: but shall with the temptation make a way to escape, that ye may be able to beare it.

14 Wherefore my dearely beloued, flee from idolatrie.

15 I speake as vnto them which haue discretion: iudge ye what I say.

16 The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the partaking of the blood of Christ? The bread which we breake, is it not the partaking of the body of Christ?

17 For we that are many, are one bread, & one body, in as much as wee all are partakers of one bread.

18 Behold Israel [which is] after the flesh: are not they which eate of the sacrifices, partakers of the altar?

19 What say I then? that ỹ idoll is any thing? or that it which is offered in sacrifice to idols in any thing?

20 But [this I say] that the things which the Gentiles offer in sacrifice, they offer to deuils, and not to God: And I would not that yee should haue d felowship with the deuils.

d Which is, to assemble in that company, where idols are called vpon.

21 Yee cannot drinke the cuppe of the Lord, and the cup of deuils: Ye cannot bee partakers of the Lordes table, and of the table of deuils.

22 Either doe we prouoke the Lord to anger? What, are we stronger then he?

23 * All things are lawful for me, but al things are not expedient: All things are lawful for me, but all things edifie not.

Eccl. 37. 31.

24 Let no man seeke his owne: but euery man anothers [wealth.]

‖ Or, in the market of victuals.

25 Whatsoeuer is sold in the ‖ market, that eate, asking no question for conscience sake.

26 For * the earth is the Lordes, and the plentie thereof.

Psal. 24. 1.

27 If any of them which beleeue not, bid you [to a feast] and ye be disposed to goe, whatsoeuer is set before you, eate, asking no question for conscience sake.

28 But if any man say vnto you, This is offered in sacrifice vnto idols, eate not for his sake that shewed it, and for conscience sake. The earth is the Lordes, and the plentie thereof.

29 Conscience I say, not of thine owne selfe, but of the other: For why is my e liberty iudged of another mans conscience?

e We must take heed that through our abuse, our libertie be not condemned.

30 For, if I by [Gods] benefite may be partaker [of the gifts of God,] why am I euil spoken of, for that whereof I giue thanks?

31 * Whether therefore yee eate or drinke, or whatsoeuer ye do, do all to the glory of God.

Col. 3. 7.

32 See that yee giue none offence, neither to the Iewes, nor yet to the Grecians, neither to the church of God.

33 Euen as I please all men in all things, not seeking mine owne profite, but [the profite] of many, that they may be saued.

The xi. Chapter.

1 Hee rebuketh the abuses which were crept into their church, 4 as touching prayer, or prophecying, 18 & ministring the Lordes supper, 23 bringing them againe to the first institution thereof.

1 BE * ye followers of me, euen as I [am] of Christ.

2. Thes. 3. 9.

2 I commend you brethren, that yee remember al my ‖ things, and keepe the ordinances, as I deliuered them to you.

‖ Or, precepts.

Ephe.5.23.

3 *But I will that ye know, that Chriſt is the head of euery man: and the man is the womans head, and God is Chriſtes head.

4 Euery man praying or prophecying, hauing any thing on his head, ſhameth his head.

5 But euery woman that prayeth or prophecieth bareheaded, diſhonoureth her head: for that is euen all one as if ſhe were ſhauen.

6 If the woman bee not couered, let her alſo be ſhorne: if it be a ſhame for a woman to be ſhorne, or ſhauen, let her be couered.

7 A man ought not to couer his head, *for as much as he is the image and glory of God: but the woman is the glory of the man.

Gen.1.26. col.3.10.

8 For the man is not of the woman: but the woman of the man.

Gen.2.23.

9 *Neither was the man created for the woman: but the woman for the man.

10 For this cauſe ought the woman to haue [a]power on her head, for the angels ſakes.

a Some thing to couer her head in ſigne of ſubiection.

11 Neuertheleſſe, neither is the man without the woman, neither the woman without the man, in the Lord.

12 For as the woman is of the man, euen ſo is the man alſo by the woman, but all things of God.

13 Iudge in your ſelues, whether it be comely that a woman pray vnto God bareheaded?

14 Doeth not nature it ſelfe teach you, that it is a ſhame for a man, if he haue long heare?

15 But if a woman haue long heare, it is a prayſe for her: for her heare is giuen her for a couering.

16 If any man luſt to ſtriue, we haue no ſuch cuſtome, neither the churches of God.

The Epiſtle on Thurſday next before Eaſter.

17 This I warne you of, and commend not, that ye come together not for the better, but for the worſe.

18 For firſt of all, when yee come together in the church, I heare that there be diſſentions among you, and I partly beleeue it.

19 For there muſt be alſo hereſies among you, that they which are ‖approoued among you, might be knowen.

‖Or, tried.

20 When ye come together therefore into one place, ‖you cannot eate the Lordes ſupper:

‖Or, this is not to eate.

21 For euery one preuenteth other, in eating his owne ſupper: and one is hungry, and another is drunken.

22 What, haue yee not houſes to eate and to drinke in? Or deſpiſe ye the church of God, and ſhame them that haue not? What ſhal I ſay vnto you, ſhall I praiſe you? in this I praiſe you not.

23 That which I deliuered vnto you, I receiued of the Lord, that the Lord Ieſus the ſame night in the which hee was betraied, tooke bread:

24 And when hee had giuen thanks, hee brake [it,] and ſaid, *Take ye, eate ye, this is my body which is broken for you: this doe ye in the remembrance of me.

Mat.26.26. mar.14.22. luke 22.19.

25 After the ſame maner alſo [he tooke] the cup when he had ſupped, ſaying, This cup is the new Teſtament in my blood: this do yee, as oft as ye drinke it, in remembrance of me.

26 For as often as ye eate this bread, & drinke this cup, ye doe ſhew the Lordes death till he come.

27 Wherefore, whoſoeuer ſhal eate this bread, and drinke this cup of the Lord [b]vnworthily, ſhall be guiltie of the body and blood of the Lord.

b By permitting the true and pure vſe of the ſame.

28 *But let a man examine himſelfe, and ſo let him eate of this bread, and drinke of this cuppe.

2.Cor.13.1.

29 For he that eateth and drinketh vnworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation vnto him [c]ſelfe, making no difference of the Lordes body.

c But as though thoſe holy myſteries of the Lordes body & blood were common meates, ſo without reuerence hee commeth vnto thē.

30 For this cauſe many are weake and ſicke among you, and many ſleepe.

31 For if we would iudge our ſelues, we ſhould ſhould not be ‖iudged.

‖Or, puniſhed.

32 But when we are ‖iudged, we are ‖chaſtened of the Lord, that we ſhould not be damned with the world.

‖Or, puniſhed.

33 Wherefore my brethren, when ye come together to eate, tary one for another.

‖Or, inſtructed.

34 If any man hunger, let him eate at home, that ye come not together vnto condemnation. The reſt wil I ſet in order, when I come.

The xii. Chapter.

1 The diuerſitie of the gifts of the holy ghoſt, ought to be vſed to the edifiyng of Chriſtes church, 12 as the members of mans body ſerue to the vſe one of another.

The Epiſtle on the fourth Sunday after Trinitie.

1 COncerning ſpiritual [gifts] brethren, I would not haue you ignorant.

2 Ye know that ye were Gentiles, caried away vnto dumbe idols, euen as ye were [a]led.

a By Satans ſuggeſtion. Mar.9.39.

3 Wherefore I declare vnto you, that *no man ſpeaking by the ſpirite of God ‖defieth Ieſus: *alſo no man can ſay ‖that Ieſus is the Lord, but by the holy ghoſt.

‖Or, calleth Ieſus accurſed. Iohn 13.13. phil.2.10. ‖Some read, the Lord Ieſus.

4 There are diuerſities of gifts, but it is the ſelfe ſame ſpirit.

5 And there are differences of adminiſtratiōs, but it is the ſelfe ſame Lord.

6 And there are diuers maners of operations, but it is the ſelfe ſame God, which worketh all in all.

7 The manifeſtation of the ſpirit, is giuen to euery man to profite withall:

8 For to one is giuen by the ſpirite the worde of wiſedome, to another the worde of knowledge by the ſame ſpirit:

9 To another [is giuen] faith by the ſame ſpirit, to another the gift of healing by the ſame ſpirite:

10 To another power to [do] miracles, to another b Meaning the declaration of Gods mysteries.

other b prophecie, to another discerning of spirits, to another diuers kinds of tongues, to another the interpretation of tongues.

Rom. 12. 3. ephe. 4. 8.

11 *But these all worketh euen that one and the selfe same spirit, diuiding to euery man seuerally euen as he will.

12 For as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of that one body, being many, are one body: euen so is Christ also.

13 For by one spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether [we be] Iewes or Gentiles, whether [we be] bond or free: and haue all drunke of one spirit.

14 For the body is not one member, but many.

15 If the foote doe say, Because I am not the hand, I am not of the body: is it therefore not of the body?

16 And if the eare doe say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body: is it therefore not of the body?

17 If all the body [were] an eye, where were then the hearing? If all [were] hearing, where were the smelling?

18 But nowe hath God set the members, euery one of them seuerall in the body, as it hath pleased him.

19 If they were al one member, where were the body?

20 Now are there many members, yet but one body.

21 And the eye can not say vnto the hande, I haue no neede of thee: nor againe, the head to the feete, I haue no neede of you.

22 Yea rather a great deale those members of the body which seeme to be more c feeble, are necessarie:

c Whose vse seemeth to be more vile.

23 And vpon those [members] of ỹ body which we thinke to be lesse honourable, we owe d more honour: and our vncomely [partes] haue more comelinesse.

d We are more carefull to cou-ner them.

24 For our comely [members] neede it not: but God hath tempered the body together, hauing giuen the more honour to that [part] which lacked,

25 That there should be no strife in the body: but that the members should haue the same care one for another.

26 And if one member suffer, all the members suffer with it. If one member be honoured, all the members reioyce with it.

e That is, euery one is a member of the body of Christ for his part. Ephes. 4. 11.

27 Ye are the body of Christ, and members e in part.

28 *And God hath ordeined some in ỹ Church, first Apostles, secondarily Prophets, thirdly Teachers, then them that doe miracles: after that, ỹ gifts of healing, helpers, gouernours, ‖ diuersities of tongues.

‖ Or, kindes.

29 Are all Apostles? are all Prophets? are all Teachers? are all doers of miracles?

30 Haue all the giftes of healing? doe al speake with tongues? doe all interprete?

31 Couet after the best giftes: And yet shew I vnto you a more excellent way.

The xiii. Chapter.

Because loue is the fountaine and rule of edifying the Church, he setteth forth the nature, office, and praise thereof.

1 THough I speake with the tongues of men, and of a angels, and haue not charitie, I am [as] sounding brasse, or [as] a tinckling Cymbale.

The Epistle on Quinquagesima Sunday.

a If the Angels had tongues, and I had the vse thereof, & did not bestowe them to profite my neighbour, it were nothing but vaine babling.

2 And though I haue prophecie, and vnderstande all secretes, and all knowledge: yea if I haue all faith, so that I can remoue mountaines, and haue not charitie, I am nothing.

3 And though I bestowe all my goodes to feede the poore, and though I giue my body that I shoulde be burned, and haue not charitie, it profiteth me nothing.

4 Charitie suffereth long, and is courteous: Charitie enuieth not, charitie doeth not frowardly, ‖ swelleth not,

‖ Or, is not puffed vp.

5 Dealeth not dishonestly, seeketh not her owne, is not bitter, thinketh not euill,

6 Reioyceth not in iniquitie, but reioyceth in the trueth:

7 Suffereth all things, beleeueth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

8 Though that prophecyings faile, eyther tongues cease, or knowledge vanish away, [yet] charitie falleth neuer away.

9 For our knowledge is ‖ vnperfect, and our prophecying is vnperfect:

‖ Or, in part.

10 But when that which is perfect is come, then that which is vnperfect shalbe done away.

11 When I was a childe, I spake as a childe, I vnderstood as a childe, I imagined as a childe: but as soone as I was a man, I put away childishnesse.

12 Nowe we see in a b glasse, euen in a darke speaking: but then [shall we see] face to face. Now I know vnperfectly: but then shall I know, euen as I am knowen.

b The mysteries of God.

13 Nowe abydeth faith, hope, and charitie, these three, but the chiefe of these is charitie.

The xiiii. Chapter.

He exhorteth to charitie, commendeth the gift of tongues, and other spirituall giftes. 5 But chiefely prophecying.

1 FOllow after charitie, and couet spirituall [giftes:] but most chiefely that ye may prophecie.

2 For he ỹ speaketh with [an vnknowne] tongue, speaketh not vnto men, but vnto God: For no man a heareth [him:] howbeit, in the spirit he speaketh mysteries.

a Vnderstandeth him.

3 But hee that prophecieth, speaketh vnto men to edifying, and exhortation, and comfort.

4 He ỳ ſpeaketh with [an vnknowen] tongue, edifieth himſelfe: but he that prophecieth, edifieth the Church.

b Tongue, in this place and ſuch like, ſignifieth not the inſtrument that we ſpeake with, but propriete of ſome language that the hearer vnderſtandeth not without an interpreter.

5 I would that ye all ſpake with [b] tongues, but rather that ye prophecied: For greater is he that prophecieth, then he that ſpeaketh with tongues, except he expound it, that the Church may receiue edifying.

6 Now brethren, if I come vnto you ſpeaking with tongues, what ſhall I profite you, except I ſhall ſpeake to you either by reuelation, or by knowledge, or by prophecying, or by doctrine?

7 And euē things without life, giuing ſound, whether [it be] a pipe, or an harpe, except they giue a diſtinction in the ſoundes, howe ſhall it be knowen what is piped or harped?

8 For if the Trumpe giue an vncertaine ſound, who ſhalbe prepared to the warre?

9 So likewiſe you, except ye vtter wordes by the tongue eaſie to be vnderſtoode, howe ſhall it be knowen what is ſpoken? For ye ſhall ſpeake in the [c] aire.

c Your wordes ſhalbe loſt, for ye ſhal neither glorifie God thereby, nor profite man.

10 There are happily ſo many kinds of voyces in the world, and none [of them] are without ſignification.

11 Therefore if I knowe not the meaning of the voyce, I ſhalbe vnto him that ſpeaketh an aliant, and he that ſpeaketh ſhalbe an aliant vnto me.

12 Euen ſo ye, for as much as ye couet ſpirituall [giftes,] ſeeke that ye may excel, vnto the edifying of the Church.

13 Wherefore, let him that ſpeaketh with tongue, pray that he may interprete.

14 For if I pray with [an vnknowen] tongue, my ſpirit prayeth, but my vnderſtanding is vnfruitefull.

15 What is it then? I will pray with the ſpirit, and will pray with the vnderſtanding alſo: I will [d] ſing with the ſpirit, and wil ſing with the vnderſtanding alſo.

d Or giue thankes by ſinging.

16 For when thou ſhalt bleſſe with the ſpirit, how ſhall he that ‖ occupieth the roome of the vnlearned ſay Amen at thy giuing of thanks, ſeeing he vnderſtādeth not what thou ſayeſt?

‖ Or, filleth.

17 Thou verily giueſt thankes well, but the other is not edified.

18 I thanke my God, I ſpeake with tongues more then ye all.

19 Yet had I rather in the Church to ſpeake fiue wordes with my vnderſtanding, that by my voyce I might teach other alſo, then ten thouſand words in [an vnknowen] tongue.

20 Brethren, be not children in vnderſtanding: howbeit, as concerning naughtineſſe be ye children, but in vnderſtanding be perfect.

21 In the law it is written, * With [men of] ſundry tongues and ſundry lippes, will I ſpeake vnto this people: and yet for all that, will they not heare me, ſaieth the Lord.

Eſai 28.11.

22 Wherefore tongues are for a ſigne, not to them that beleeue, but to them that beleeue not: but prophecying [ſerueth] not for them that beleeue not, but for them which beleeue.

23 If therefore all the Church be come together into one place, & al ſpeake with tongues, and there come in they that are vnlearned, or they which beleeue not, will they not ſay that ye are mad?

24 But if all prophecie, and there come in one that beleeueth not, or one vnlearned: he is rebuked of all men, he is iudged of all men.

25 And ſo are the ſecretes of his heart made manifeſt, and ſo hauing fallen downe on his face, he will worſhip God, ſaying that God is in you of a trueth.

26 Howe is it then brethren? When ye come together, euery one of you hath a Pſalme, hath a doctrine, hath a tongue, hath a reuelation, hath an interpretation: Let all things be done vnto edifying.

27 If any man ſpeake with tongue, let it be by two, or at the moſt by three, & that by courſe, and let one interprete.

28 But if there be no interpreter, let him keepe ſilence in the Church, and let him ſpeake to himſelfe, and to God.

29 Let the Prophets ſpeake two or three, and let the other iudge.

30 If any reuelation be made to another that ſitteth by, let the firſt hold his peace.

31 For ye may all prophecie one by one, that all may learne, and all may be comforted.

32 And the [e] ſpirites of the Prophetes are ſubiect to the Prophets.

e That is, the doctrine that they do bring, as being put in minde by the ſpirit of God.

33 For God is not [the authour] of confuſion, but of peace, as in all Churches of the ſaintes.

34 * Let your women keepe ſilence in ỳ Churches: for it is not permitted vnto them to ſpeake, but [they are commanded] to be vnder obedience, * as ſaieth the lawe.

1. Tim. 2. 12.

Gene. 3. 16.

35 If they will learne any thing, let them aſke their huſbandes at home: For it is a ſhame for women to ſpeake in the Church.

36 Sprong the word of God from you? either came it vnto you onely?

37 If any man thinke himſelfe to be a Prophet, either ſpirituall, let him knowe that the things that I write vnto you, are the commandements of the Lorde.

38 But if any man be ignorant, let him be ignorant.

39 Wherefore brethren, couet to prophecie, and forbid not to ſpeake with tongues.

40 Let all things be done honeſtly, and in order.

The xv. Chapter.

1 Hee proueth the reſurrection of the dead, 3 and firſt that Chriſt is riſen.

1 More-

The Epistle on the xi. Sunday after Trinitie. Galat.1.11.

1 MOreouer, *brethren, I declare vnto you, the Gospell which I preached vnto you, which also yee haue receiued, & wherein ye haue ‖ continued, ‖ Or, stoode.

2 By the which also ye are saued, if ye keepe the doctrine which I preached vnto you, except ye haue beleeued in vaine.

3 For I deliuered vnto you first of all, þ which also I [a] receiued, how that Christ died for our sinnes, according to the scriptures:

a He sheweth that nothing ought to be taught, which we haue not learned by Gods word. Iohn 2.1. Iohn 20,19.

4 *And that he was buried, & that he arose the thirde day, according to the scriptures:

5 *And that he was seene of Cephas, then of the twelue:

6 After that hee was seene of moe then fiue hundred brethren at once: of which, the more part remaine vnto this day, and some are fallen asleepe.

7 And after that he was seene of Iames, then of all the Apostles.

Actes 9.4. ephe.3.8.

8 *And last of al he was seene of me, as of one borne out of due time.

9 For I am the least of the Apostles, which am not worthy to bee called an Apostle, because I persecuted the Church of God.

Ephe.3.7.

10 *But by the grace of God, I am that I am, and his grace which is in me, was not vaine: but I laboured more abundantly then they all, yet not I, but the grace of God which is with me.

11 Therefore, whether it were I or they, so we preach, and so haue ye beleeued.

12 If Christ be preached, howe that he rose frō the dead: howe say some among you, that there is no resurrection of the dead?

13 If there be no rising of the dead, then is Christ not risen.

14 If Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vaine, and your faith is also [b] vaine.

b For if Christ be swalowed vp of death, there remaineth no hope of life any more.

15 Yea, and we are founde false witnesses of God, because we haue testified of God, howe that he raised vp Christ: whom he raised not vp, if so be that the dead rise not.

16 For if the dead rise not, then is not Christ risen.

17 If it be so that Christ is not risen, then is your faith vaine, ye are yet in your sinnes:

18 But also they which are fallen a sleepe in Christ, are perished.

19 If in this life onely we haue hope in Christ, then are we of all men most miserable.

c As by the offering of the first fruite, the whole fruit is sanctified: so by Christ, which is the first that is raised, all haue assurance of the resurrection.

20 But nowe is Christ risen from the dead, he is become the [c] first fruites of them that slept.

21 For since by man [came] death, euen so by man [came] the resurrection of the dead.

22 For as by ‖ Adam all die, euen so ‖ by Christ shall all [d] be made aliue,

‖ Or, in Adam. ‖ Or, in Christ.

23 But euery man in his owne order. The first fruites [is] Christ, afterward, they that are Christes at his comming.

d To wit, the faithfull.

24 Then [commeth] þ end, when he shal haue deliuered vp the kingdome to God the father, when he shall haue put downe all rule, and all authoritie, and power.

25 For he must reigne * till he shal haue put al his enemies vnder his feete.

Psal.110.1. actes 2.34. heb.1.13.

26 The last enemie that shalbe destroyed, [is] death.

27 *For he hath put downe all things vnder his feete: But when he sayth, All things are put vnder him, it is manifest that he is excepted which did put all things vnder him.

Psal.8.7. hebr.2.8.

28 When all things shalbe subdued vnto him, then shall the sonne also himselfe be subiect vnto him that put all things vnder him, that God may be all in all.

29 Els what shall they doe which are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not at all? Why are they then baptized for the dead?

30 And why stande wee in ieopardie euerie houre?

31 [I protest] by our reioycing which I haue in Christ Iesus our Lord, I die dayly.

32 If I haue fought with beastes at Ephesus, after the [e] maner of men, what auantageth it me, if the dead rise not? *Let vs eate and drinke, for to morowe we die.

e That is, hauing regarde to this present life, and not to Gods glory, & to life euerlasting. Esai.22.13.

33 Be ye not deceiued: Euill wordes corrupt good maners.

34 Awake to righteousnesse, and sinne not: for some haue not þ knowledge of God, I speake this to your shame.

35 But some man will say, Howe are the dead raised vp? With what body doe they come?

36 Thou ‖ foole, that which thou sowest, is not quickened, except it die.

‖ Or, mad man.

37 And that which thou sowest, thou sowest not that body that shalbe, but bare corne, it may chaunce of wheate, or of some other [corne.]

38 But God giueth it a body, as it hath pleased him, and to euery seede his owne body.

39 All flesh, is not ‖ the same flesh, but there is one [maner of] flesh of men, another flesh of beastes, another of fishes, and another of birdes.

‖ Or, one maner of flesh.

40 There are also celestiall bodies, and bodies terrestial: but the glory of the celestial is one, and [the glory] of the terrestriall another.

41 There is one glory of the [f] sunne, and another glory of the moone, and another glory of the starres: For [one] starre differeth from [another] starre in glory.

f Euen as the sunne and the moone being of one substance, differ in dignitie: so in the resurrection, our bodies shall haue more excellent qualities then they haue nowe.

42 So is the resurrection of the dead. It is sowen in corruption, it riseth in incorruption.

43 It is sowen in [g] dishonour, it riseth in honour. It is sowen in weakenesse, it riseth in power.

g For what is more vile to looke vnto then the dead carkeise.

44 It is sowen a naturall body, it riseth a spirituall body: There is a naturall body, and there is a spirituall body.

45 And

45 And so it is also written: The first man
Gene.2.7. *Adam was made a liuing soule, and the last Adam was made a quickening spirit.
46 Howbeit, that is not first which is spirituall, but that [which is] naturall, and then that [which is] spirituall.
47 The first man [is] of the earth, earthy, the second man [is] the Lord from heauen:
48 As is the earthy, such [are] they that are earthy: and as is the heauenly, such [are] they also that are heauenly.
49 And as we haue borne the image of the earthy, we shall also beare the image of the heauenly.
50 This say I brethrẽ, that flesh and blood can not inherite the kingdome of God: neither doeth corruption inherite incorruption.
51 Beholde, I shewe you a mysterie. We shall not all sleepe, but we shall all be changed.
52 In a moment, in the twinckling of an eye,
Matth.24.31. 1.thes.4.16. *at the last trumpe (for the trumpe shal blow) and the dead shall rise incorruptible, and we shalbe changed.
53 For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortall [must] put on immortalitie.
54 When this corruptible shall haue put on incorruption, and this mortall shall haue put on immortalitie, then shalbe brought to passe the saying that is written, Death is swallowed vp in victorie.
1.Iohn.5.5. ‖ Or, graue. 55 *O death, where is thy sting? O ‖ hel, where is thy victorie?
h Sinne first brought in death, and giueth it power ouer vs, & the strength of sin is the law, because it doeth reueale the iudgement of God against vs: or els the chiefe cause of our destruction is in our selues. 56 The sting of death [is] sinne, & the h strength of sinne is the lawe.
57 But thankes be vnto God, which giueth vs the victory through our Lord Iesus Christ.
58 Therefore my beloued brethren, be ye stedfast, vnmoueable, alwayes abounding in the worke of the Lord, for as much as ye know that your labour is not in i vaine in the Lord.

i The hope of resurrection, causeth the faithfull to surmount all difficulties.

The xvi. Chapter.

He putteth them in remembrance of the gathering for the poore brethren at Hierusalem.

Actes 11.29. 1 COncerning the * collection for the saintes, as I haue ordeined in ẏ Churches of Galatia, euen so doe ye.
‖ Or, euery first day of the weeke. 2 ‖ Upon some Sabboth day, let euery one of you put aside by himselfe, laying vp as God hath prospered him, that then there be no gatherings when I come.
3 When I am come, whomsoeuer ye shall allowe by [your] letters, them will I send to bring your liberalitie vnto Hierusalem.
4 And if it be meete that I goe also, they shall goe with me.
5 I wil come vnto you, after I shal haue gone ouer Macedonia, (For I doe nowe passe thorow Macedonia.)
6 And it may be that I wil abide, yea, or winter with you, that ye may bring me on my way, whither soeuer I goe.
7 For I will not see you now in my passage, but I trust to abide a while with you, if the Lord suffer me.
8 I will tarrie at Ephesus vntill Whitsuntide:
9 For a great doore and effectuall is opened vnto me, and there are many aduersaries.
10 If Timotheus come, see that hee may be without feare with you: for he worketh the worke of the Lorde, as I doe.
11 Let no man therefore dispise him, but conuey him foorth in peace, that he may come vnto mee: for I looke for him with the brethren.
12 As touching [our] brother Apollo, I greatly desired him to come vnto you with the brethren, but his will was not at all to come at this time: but he wil come when he shall haue conuenient time.
13 a Watch ye, stande ye fast in the faith, quite you like men, be strong.
a Least Satan steale vpõ you at vnwares.
14 Let all your things be done with charitie.
15 I beseech you brethren, (ye know the house of Stephana, that it is the b first fruites of Achaia, and that they haue addicted themselues to the ministerie of the saintes,) b That is, the first which imbraced the Gospel.
16 That ye be also obedient vnto such, and to all that helpe with vs, and labour.
17 I am glad of the comming of Stephana, and Fortunatus, & Achaicus: for that which was lacking [vnto me] on your c part, they haue supplied.
c The griefe that I tooke for your absence, was greatly asswaged by their presence.
18 For they haue comforted my spirit & yours: therefore know ye them that are such.
19 The Churches of Asia salute you: Aquila and Priscilla salute you much in the Lorde, with the Church that is in their house.
20 All the brethren greete you. *Greete ye one another with an holy kisse.

23 The grace of our Lorde Iesus Christ [be] with you.
24 My loue be with you all in Christ Iesus, Amen.

¶ The first Epistle to the Corinthians, was written from Philippos, by Stephana, and Fortunatus, and Achaicus, and Timotheus.

¶ The

The second Epistle of Saint Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians.

The first Chapter.

He declareth the great profit that commeth to the faithfull by their afflictions.

1 PAul an Apostle of Iesu Christ, by the will of God, and brother Timotheus, vnto the Church of God, which is at Corinthus, with all the saintes which are in all Achaia:

2 Grace [be] with you, and peace from God ỷ father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

Ephes.1.3. 1.pet.1.3. 3 *Blessed be God the father of our Lord Iesus Christ, [which is] the father of mercies, and the God of all comfort:

4 Which comforteth vs in all our tribulation, ỷ we may be able to comfort them which are in all maner trouble, with the comfort wherewith we our selues are comforted of God.

a Which I suffer for Christ, or which Christ suffereth in me. 5 For as the a afflictions of Christ are plenteous in vs: euen so is our consolation plenteous by Christ.

6 Whether we be troubled, [it is] for your consolation & saluation, which [saluation] is wrought by the suffering of the same afflictions which we also suffer: or whether we be comforted, [it is] for your consolation & saluation, and our hope of you is stedfast:

7 Knowing that as ye are partakers of the afflictions, so [ye shalbe partakers] also of the consolation.

8 For we would not, brethren, haue you ignorant of our trouble which came vnto vs in Asia: that we were grieued out of measure, passing strength, in so much that we were in great doubt, euen of life.

9 But we receiued the sentence of death in our selues, that we shoulde not put our trust in our selues, but in God, which raiseth the dead:

10 Who deliuered vs from so great a death, and doeth deliuer: in whom we trust that hereafter also he will deliuer [vs:]

Rom.15.30. 11 *You also helping together by prayer for vs, that for the benefites [bestowed] vpon vs by the meanes of many persons, thanks may be giuen of many on our behalfe.

b Vsing that wisedome which God gaue me from heauen. 12 For our reioycing is this, the testimonie of our conscience, that in simplicitie and godly pureuesse, not with fleshly wisedome, b but by the grace of God, we haue had our conuersation in the worlde, and most of all to youwardes.

13 For we write none other things vnto you then that ye reade, and also that ye acknowledge: and I trust ye shall acknowledge vnto the ende.

14 Euen as ye haue acknowledged vs partly, that we are your reioycing, euen as ye are c ours in the day of the d Lord Iesus.

c Because we haue won you to Christ. d Which shall abolish all worldly glory.

15 And in this confidence was I minded first to haue come vnto you, that ye might haue had ‖ one pleasure more:

‖ Or, the second benefite.

16 And to passe by you into Macedonia, and to come againe out of Macedonia vnto you, and to be led forth of you into Iurie.

17 When I therefore was thus minded, did I vse lightnesse? or minde I e carnally those things which I minde, ỷ with me shoulde be yea yea, and nay nay?

e Not to affirme one thing, & then to denie it, which is a signe of inconstancie.

18 Yea f God is faithfull, for our preaching to you, was not yea, and nay.

19 For Gods sonne Iesus Christ, which was preached among you by vs, euen by me, and Syluanus, and Timotheus, was not yea and nay, but in him it was yea.

f He taketh God to witnes, that he preacheth the trueth.

20 For all the promises of God in him are yea, and are in him, Amen, vnto the glory of God through vs.

21 And hee which stablisheth vs with you in Christ, and hath anointed vs, [is] God:

22 Which hath also sealed vs, and hath giuen the earnest of the spirit in our heartes.

23 I call God for a record vnto my soule, that to spare you, I came not as yet vnto Corinthus.

24 Not that we be lordes ouer your faith, but are helpers of your ioy: for by faith ye stand.

The ii. Chapter.

Paul reioyceth in God for the efficacie of his doctrine.

1 BUt I determined this in my selfe, that I would not come againe to you in heauinesse.

2 For if I make you sory, who is he that maketh me glad, but the same which is made a sory by me?

a Which was giuen to Satan, but now doeth repent.

3 And I wrote this same vnto you, least when I came, I shoulde take heauinesse of them of whom I ought to reioyce, hauing confidence in you all, that my ioy, is [the ioy] of you all.

4 For in great afflictiõ and anguish of heart, I wrote vnto you with many teares: not that ye shoulde be made sorie, but that ye might perceiue the loue which I haue most abundantly vnto you.

5 But if any man hath caused sorow, the same hath not made me sory, but partly, least I should ouergriue you all.

6 It is sufficient vnto the same man that hee was rebuked of many.

7 So that now contrariwise ye ought rather to forgiue him, and comfort him, least that same same [person] should be swallowed vp with much heauinesse.

8 Wherefore, I pray you, that you woulde confirme your loue towardes him.

9 For to this ende also did I write, that I might know the proofe of you, whether ye be obedient in all things.

10 To whom ye forgiue any thing, I [forgiue] also: For if I forgiue any thing, to whom I forgaue it, for your sakes [forgaue I it] in the [b] sight of Christ, b That is, truely and from mine heart, euen as in the presence of Christ.

11 Least we should be circumuented of Satan: for we are not ignorant of his deuises.

12 Furthermore, when I came to Troada, to [preach] Christes Gospell, and a doore was opened vnto me of the Lord, 13 I had no rest in my spirit, because I founde not Titus my brother, but when I had taken my leaue of them, I went away into Macedonia.

14 Now thankes be vnto God, which alwayes causeth vs to triumph in [c] Christ, and openeth the sauour of his knowledge by vs in euery place.

c In working mightily by vs, he maketh vs partakers of his victorie and triumph.

15 For we are vnto God the sweete sauour of Christ in them that are saued, and in them which perish.

16 To the one [are we] the sauour of death, vnto death: and vnto the other, the sauour of life, vnto life: * And who is meete vnto these things?

Rom.11,16.

17 For we are not as many are, which chop and change with the word of God: but as of purenesse, but as of God in the sight of God, speake we ‖ in Christ.

‖ Or, of Christ.

The iii. Chapter.

Paul exalteth his apostleship against the braggers of the false Apostles.

1 DO we begin to commend our selues againe? Or neede we, as some [other] Epistles of commendation vnto you? or [letters] of commendation frō you?

2 Ye are our Epistle written in our heartes, ‖ vnderstoode and read of all men:

‖ Or, knowen.

3 For as much as ye are manifestly declared that ye are the Epistle of Christ ministred by vs, written not with inke, but with the spirit of the liuing God, not in stony tables, but in fleshy tables of the heart.

The Epistle on the xii. Sunday after Trinitie.

4 Such trust haue we through Christ to Godward,

5 Not that we are sufficient of our selues, to thinke any thing, as of our selues: but our sufficiencie [is] of God:

6 Which hath made vs able ministers of the new testament, not of the letter, but of the spirit: for the letter killeth, but the [a] spirit giueth life.

a Meanth spirituall doctrine which is in our hearts

But if the ministration of death in letters figured in stones, was with glory, so that the children of Israel could not stedfastly behold the face of Moses, for [b] the glory of the countenance, which [glory] is done away:

b After that God had spoken with him, and giuen him the lawe.

8 How shall not the ministration of the spirit be much more in glory?

9 For if the ministration of condemnation be glory: much more doeth the ministration of righteousnesse exceede in glory.

10 For euen that which was glorified, was not glorified in this behalfe, because of the exceeding glory.

11 For if that which is put away was glorious: much more that which remaineth, is glorious.

12 Seeing then that we haue such hope, wee vse great boldnesse of speach:

c Moses shewed the lawe as it was couered with shadowes, so that ꝑ Iewes eyes were not lightened, but blinded, and so couldnot come to Christ, who was the ende thereof. Againe, ꝑ Gospell setteth forth the glory of God clearely, not couering our eyes, but driuing the darknes away frō them.

13 And not as Moses, [c] which put a vaile ouer his face, that the children of Israel should not stedfastly looke into the ende of that which is abolished.

14 But their mindes were ‖ blinded: for vntill this day remaineth the same vaile vntaken away in the reading of the olde testament, which [vaile] is put away in Christ.

‖ Or, hardened. Iohn 4.24.

15 But euen vnto this day when Moses is read, the vaile is laid vpon their heart.

16 Neuertheless, when it shall turne to the Lord, the vaile shalbe taken away.

17 * The Lord is the spirit: and where the spirit of the Lord [is,] there [is] libertie.

18 But we all beholding [as] in a [d] myrrour the glory of the Lord, with his face open, are changed vnto the same image from glory to glory, euen as of the spirit of the Lord.

d In Christ who is God manifest in the flesh, we see God ꝑ father as in a mall cleare glasse.

The iiii. Chapter.

1 Hee declareth his diligence and roundnesse in his office, 17 shewing what profite commeth thereby.

1 THerefore, seeing that wee haue such a ministerie, as we haue receiued mercy, we faint not:

The Epistle on Saint Matthewe the Apostle.

2 But haue cast from vs the clokes of vnhonestie, walking not in craftinesse, neither handling the worde of God deceitefully, but in opening of the trueth, commending our selues to euery mans conscience in the sight of God.

3 If our Gospel be hid, it is hid in them that are lost:

4 In whom the [a] God of this world hath blinded the mindes of them which beleeue not, least the light of the Gospell of the glory of Christ should shine vnto them, (which is the image of God.)

a To wit, Satan.

5 For we preach not our selues, but Christ Iesus the Lord, & our selues your seruantes for Iesus sake.

6 For it is God that * commanded the light to shine out of darkenesse, who hath shined in our heartes, for [to giue] the light of the knowledge of the glory of God, in the face of Iesus Christ.

Gen.1.3.

7 But

7 But we haue this treasure in earthen vessels, that the excellencie of the power may be Gods, and not of vs.

8 We are troubled on euery side, yet are we not ‖ without shift: We are in pouertie, but not in extreme pouertie.

‖ Or, driuen into a narowe corner.

9 We are persecuted, but are not forsakē therin: we are cast downe, but we perish not:

10 We alwayes beare about in the body ẏ dying of our Lord Jesus, that the life of Jesus might also be made manifest in our body.

11 For we which liue, are alwayes deliuered vnto death for Jesus sake, that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our mortal flesh.

12 So then, death worketh in vs, but life in you.

13 Seeing then that we haue the same spirit of faith (according as it is witten, * I beleeued, and therefore haue I spoken:) We also beleeue, and therefore speake:

Psal. 116. 10.

14 Knowing that he, which raised vp the Lord Jesus, shall raise vp vs also by the meanes of Jesus, and shall set vs with you.

15 For al things ‖ [doe I] for your [sakes,] ẏ the plenteous grace by thankesgiuing of many, may redound to the praise of God.

‖ Or, are done.

16 Wherefore we are not wearied: but though our outward man perish, yet the inward man is renued day by day.

17 For the momentanie [b] lightnesse of our tribulation, prepareth an exceeding and an eternall weight of glory vnto vs:

b Which is so called, in respect of the euerlasting life.

18 While we looke not on the things which are seene, but on the things which are not seene: for the things which are seene, are temporall: but the things which are not seene, are eternall.

The v. Chapter.

Paul proceedeth to declare the vtilitie that commeth by the crosse.

1 a For we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were destroyed, we haue a building of God, [euen] an habitation not made with handes, but eternall in heauen.

a After this body shalbe dissolued, it shalbe made incorruptible and immortal.

2 For therefore sigh we, desiring [vpon our clothing] to be further clothed with our house which is from heauen:

3 If so be that we * being clothed, shall not be founde naked.

Apo. 16. 15.

4 For we that are in this tabernacle, sigh, being burdened, because we woulde not put off our clothing, but vpon the same put on more, that mortalitie might be swalowed vp of life.

5 He that hath ordeined vs for the selfe same thing, [is] God, which hath also giuen vnto vs the earnest of the spirit.

6 Therefore we are alway of good cheare, and knowe that as long as we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord.

7 (For we walke by faith, not after outwarde appearance.)

8 Neuertheless, we are of good comfort, and had rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord.

9 Wherefore, whether we be at home, or from home, we endeuour our selues to be accepted vnto him.

10 * For we must all appeare before the iudgement seate of Christ, that euery man may receiue the works of his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad.

Rom. 14. 10.

11 Knowing therefore the feare of the Lorde, we persuade men, for we are [b] knowen well ynough vnto God: I trust also that we are knowen in your consciences.

b By imbracing the same faith which we preach to others.

12 For we commende not our selues againe vnto you, but giue you an occasion to glory on our behalfe, that ye may haue somewhat against them which glory in the face, and not in the heart.

13 For [c] if we be too feruent, to God are we [too feruent:] Of if we keepe measure, for your cause [keepe we measure.]

c The Greeke soundeth thus: Whether we be out of wit, to God we be out of wit: whether we be wise, to you we be wise.

14 For the loue of Christ constraineth vs, because we thus iudge, that if one died for all, then were all dead.

15 And he dyed for all, that they which liue, shoulde not henceforth liue vnto themselues, but vnto him which dyed for them, and rose againe.

16 Wherefore henceforth knowe we no man after the [d] flesh: Insomuch though we haue knowen Christ after the flesh, now yet henceforth know we him no more.

d According to the estimation of ẏ flesh: but as he is guided by the spirit of God.

17 * Therefore if any man [be] in Christ, he is a newe creature: Olde things are passed away, behold, all things are become newe.

Esai 43. 19. apoca. 21. 5.

18 And all things are of God, which hath reconciled vs vnto himselfe by Jesus Christ, and hath giuen to vs the ministerie of reconciliation.

19 For God was in Christ, reconciling the world to himselfe, not imputing their sinnes vnto them, and hath committed to vs ẏ preaching of the atonement.

20 Nowe then are we messengers for Christ, euen as though God did beseech you through vs: [so] pray we you in Christes steade, that ye be reconciled vnto God.

21 For he hath made him to be sinne for vs, which knew no sinne, that we should be made the righteousnesse of God in him.

The vii. Chapter.

He exhorteth them by the promise of God to keepe thē-selues pure.

1 HAuing therfore these promises (dearly beloued) let vs cleanse our selues a That is, of body & soule.
from all filthinesse of the flesh & a spirit, perfecting holinesse in the feare of God.
‖ Or, vnderstand. b To preach the Gospel vnto you.
2 ‖ Receiue b vs: we haue wronged no man, we haue corrupted no man, we haue defrauded no man.
3 I speake not this to condemne [you,] for I haue shewed you before, that ye are in our heartes to die and liue with you.
4 I vse great boldnesse of speach towardes you, I glory greatly in you: I am filled with comfort, and am exceeding ioyous in all our tribulation.
5 For when we were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no rest, but we were troubled on euery side: without were fightings, within were feares.
6 Neuertheless, God that comforteth ỳ humble, comforted vs by the comming of Titus.
7 And not by his comming onely, but also by the consolation which hee receiued of you, when he tolde vs your vehement desire, your weeping, your feruent minde toward me: so that I reioyced the more.
8 For though I made you sory with a letter,
I repent not, though I did repent: For I perceiue that the same Epistle made you so-rie, though it were but for a season.
9 I now reioyce: not that ye were made sory, but that ye were made sory to repentance: for ye were made sory to Godward, that in nothing ye might be hurt by vs.

saluation, not to be repented of: but the so-rowe of the world causeth death.
11 For behold, this selfe same thing ỳ ye were made sory to Godward, howe much carefulnesse it hath wrought in you: yea [what] ment: for in all things ye haue shewed your selues that ye were cleare in that matter.

12 Wherefore, though I wrote vnto you, [I did it] not for his cause that had done ỳ hurt, neither for his cause that was hurt: ‖ but that among you in the sight of God.

13 Therefore we are comforted in your comfort: yea and exceedingly the more ioyed we for the ioy of Titus, because his spirit was refreshed by you all.
14 But if I haue boasted any thing vnto him of you, I haue not bene shamed [therein,] for as we speake all things vnto you in trueth, euen so our boasting which I made vnto Titus, is found a trueth.

dant toward you, while he remembreth the obedience of you all, how with feare and trembling ye receiued him.
16 I reioyce that I haue confidence in you in all things.

The viii. Chapter.

1 By the example of the Macedonians, 9 and Christ, he exhorteth them to continue in releeuing the poore saintes, commending their good beginning.

1 MOreouer, we do you to wit, brethren, of the grace of God, which was giuē in the Churches of Macedonia,
2 Howe that in much triall of affliction their ioy abounded, and their deepe pouertie abounded into the riches of their liberalitie.
3 For to their powers (I beare them record) yea and beyonde their powers, they [were] willing of themselues:
4 Praying vs wt great instance, that we would receiue this a grace and societie of the ministerie which is toward the saints.
5 [And this they did] not as wee looked for: but gaue their owne selues first to the Lorde, and [after] vnto vs by the will of God,
6 That we should desire Titus to accomplish the same grace among you also, euen as hee had begun.
7 Nowe therefore, as ye are plenteous in all things, in fayth, and in worde, and in knowledge, and in all feruentnesse, and in loue, which ye haue to vs: euen so, see that ye bee plenteous in this grace also.
8 This say I not by commandement, ‖ but because of the feruentnes of other, and prouing the vnfaignednesse of your loue.
9 For ye knowe the grace of our Lord Iesus Christ, that though he was rich, yet for your sakes hee became poore, that yee through his pouertie might be made rich.
10 And I giue counsell herein: for this is expedient for you, which haue begun not to doe onely, but also to will a yeere agoe.
11 Nowe therefore perfourme to doe [it] also: that as there [appeared in you] a readinesse to will, euen so there may appeare a readinesse to perfourme, of that which ye haue.
12 For if there be first a willing minde, it is accepted according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not.
13 Truely, not that other be set at ease, and you burdened:
14 But of like condition now at this time your abundance [supplieth] their want, that their abundance also may supplie your want, that there may be equalitie:
15 As it is written, * He that [had gathered] much, had nothing ouer, and he that [had gathered] litle, had no lacke.
16 Thankes be vnto God, which put the same earnest care for you in the heart of Titus.
17 Because hee accepted the exhortation: and being the more carefull, came of his owne accord vnto you.
18 We haue sent with him that brother b whose prayse is in the Gospel throughout all the Churches:
19 (And not that onely, but he was also chosen of the Churches to bee a fellowe with vs in our iourney, concerning this ‖ grace that is ministred by vs vnto the glorie of the same Lorde, and [declaration] of your readie minde,)
20 Eschewing this, that any man should rebuke vs in this plenteous distributiō that is ministred by vs:
21 Making prouisiō for c honest things, not only in the sight of the Lord, but also in the sight of men.
22 We haue sent with them a brother of ours, whom we haue oftentimes proued diligent in many things, but nowe much more diligent, for the great confidence [‖ which I haue] in you:
23 Whether [any do inquire] of Titus, he is my fellowe and helper concerning you: or of other which are our brethrē, they are the messengers of the Churches, [and] the glory of Christ.
24 Wherefore, shewe ye vnto them the proofe of your loue, and of our boasting on your behalfe in the sight of the Churches.

The ix. Chapter.

The cause of Titus and his companions comming to them.

1 FOr of the ministring to the saints, it is superfluous for me to write vnto you:
2 For I knowe the readinesse of your minde, whereof I boast on your behalfe vnto them of Macedonia, that Achaia was prepared a yeere agoe: and ‖ your zeale hath prouoked many.
3 Yet haue I sent the brethren, least our boasting of you shoulde bee in vayne in this behalfe, that (as I haue sayd) ye may be prepared.
4 Least haply if they of Macedonia come with me, and finde you vnprepared, we (I wil not say you) should be ashamed in this boldnesse of boasting.
5 Therefore I thought it necessarie to exhort the brethren, that they would come before vnto you, and prepare your forepromised beneficence, that it might be readie as a beneficence, and a not as an extortion.
6 This yet [I say,] he which soweth sparingly, shall reape sparingly: and hee that soweth bountifully, shall reape bountifully.
7 * Euery man according as hee purposeth in his heart, so let him giue, not grudgingly, or of necessitie: * for God loueth a chearefull giuer.
8 God is able to make you plentifull in all grace, that ye in all things hauing alwayes sufficient vnto the vttermost, may bee plentifull in euery good worke.
9 As it is writtē, * He hath b dispersed abroad, he hath giuen to the poore, his righteousnes remaineth for euer.

12 For the administration of this seruice, not onely supplieth the want of the saintes: but also is abundant by the thankes giuing of many vnto God,

The x. Chapter.

He toucheth the false apostles, and defendeth his authoritie, exhorting them to obedience.

1 I Paul my selfe beseech you by the meekenesse and gentlenesse of Christ, which in presence am lowly among you: but am bold toward you being absent.

2 I beseeche you, that I may not [neede] to bee bolde when I am present, with that same boldnesse, wherewith I ‖ am supposed to haue bene bolde against some, which repute vs as though wee walked according to the flesh.

‖Or, Wherewith I meane to be bolde.

3 For walking in ỹ flesh, yet we do not warre according to the flesh.

4 (For the weapons of our warfare are not carnall, but mightie through God, to the ouerthrowing of strong holdes,)

5 Wherewith wee ouerthrowe counsels, and euery high thing that is exalted against the knowledge of God, and bring into captiuitie all imagination to the obedience of Christ:

6 And hauing in a readinesse wherewith to take vengeance on al disobedience, whē your obedience is fulfilled.

7 Looke ye on things after the vtter appearance? If any man trust in him selfe that hee is Christes, let him consider this againe of him selfe, that as hee [is] of Christ, euen so [are] we of Christ.

8 For though I should boast somewhat more of our authoritie, which the Lord hath giuen to vs for edification, and not for your destruction, I should not be ashamed, 9 Least I should seeme as it were to make you afraide by letters.

a Meaning a certaine man among them, which thus spake of Paul.

10 For the letters [a] (saith he) are sore & strong: but [his] bodily presence is weake, and his speach nothing worth.

11 Let him that is such a one, thinke on this wise, that as we are in worde by letters when we are absent, such also are we in deede when we are present.

12 For we dare not number or compare our selues with certayne which prayse them selues: neuertheless, while they measure them selues with them selues, and compare themselues with themselues, they vnderstand not.

13 But we wil not boast aboue measure: but according to the [b] measure of the rule which God hath distributed vnto vs, a measure to reach euen vnto you.

b That is, the giftes and vocation which God had giuen him to win others by.

14 For wee stretch not out our selues beyonde measure, as though we reached not vnto you: For euen to you also haue we come with the Gospel of Christ:

15 Not boasting our selues out of measure in other mens labours: but hoping when your faith is encreased, to be magnified among you according to our measure abundantly,

16 That I may preach the Gospel in those [regions] which [are] beyond you: and not glorie of those things which by an other mans measure are prepared alreadie.

The xi. Chapter.

2 He declareth his affection toward them. 5 The excellencie of his ministerie. 9 And his diligence in the same.

1 WOuld to God ye could suffer a litle [my] foolishnesse, and in deede suffer me.

2 For I am ielous ouer you wᵗ godly iealousie: for I haue coupled you to one mā, to present [you] a chaste virgin vnto Christ.

3 But I feare least by any meanes, that as the *serpent beguiled Eue through his subtiltie, euen so your minds should be corrupted from the singlenesse that is toward Christ.

Gene. 3. 4.

4 For if he that commeth, preacheth an other [a] Iesus, whom we haue not preached: or if ye receiue another spirite whom yee haue not receiued: eyther another Gospel which yee haue not receiued, you would well haue suffered [him.]

a That is, more perfect doctrine concerning Iesus Christ.

5 Verily, I suppose that I was not behind the chiefe Apostles.

6 But though [I bee] rude in speaking, yet not in knowledge: but in all things among you wee haue bene well knowen to the vttermost.

7 Haue I cōmitted an offence because I submitted my selfe, that yee might bee exalted, because I preached to you the Gospel of God freely?

8 I robbed other Churches, taking wages of them to do you seruice.

9 And when I was present with you, and had
2.Cor.12.13. neede, * I was chargeable to no man by my idlenesse: for that which was lacking vnto me, the brethrē which came from Macedonia supplied: and in all things I haue kept my selfe not chargeable to you, and [so] will I keepe my selfe.

b Let not the trueth of Iesus Christ be thought to be in me, if I suffer my ioy to be shut vp, which I haue conceiued of Grecia.

10 bThe truth of Christ is in me, that this boasting shall not be shut vp against me in the regions of Achaia.

11 Wherefore? because I loue not you? God knoweth.

12 But what I do, that will I do, ỳ I may cut away occasion from them which desire occasion: that they might be founde like vnto vs, in that wherein they glory.

13 For such false apostles, are deceitefull workers, transfourmed into the Apostles of Christ.

14 And no maruaile: for Satan him selfe is transfourmed into an angell of light.

15 Therefore it is no great thing if that his ministers also bee transfourmed as the ministers of righteousnesse: whose ende shalbe according to their workes.

16 I saye againe, Let no man thinke that I am foolish: or else euen nowe take yee me as a foole, that I also may boast my selfe a litle.

18 Seeing that many glory after the flesh, I will glory also.

20 For yee suffer, if a man bring you into bondage, if a man deuoure, if a man take, if a man exalt him selfe, if a man smite you on the face.

1 IT is not expedient doubtlesse for mee to glory, I will come to visions and reuelations of the Lord.

Actes 9.3. a That is, christian, or I speake in Christ.

2 * For I knewe a man in aChrist, aboue fourteene yeeres agoe (whether in the body I can not tell, or whether out of the bodie I can not tell, God knoweth) taken vp into the third bheauen:

b That is to say, into the highest heauen.

3 And I knewe the same man (whether in the body, or out of the body, I can not tell, God knoweth,) c Paus infirmitie was not able to declare them, neyther were they shewed vnto him for that ende.

4 Howe that he was taken vp into cparadise, and heard vnspeakable wordes, which is not lawfull for man to vtter.

‖ Or, thing.

5 Of such ‖ [a man] will I glory, yet of my selfe will I not glory, but in mine infirmities.

6 For though I would desire to glory [of thē,] I shal not be a foole, for I will say the trueth, but I nowe refraine, least any man shoulde thinke of me aboue [that] which hee seeth me [to be,] or [that] he heareth of me.

7 And least I shoulde bee exalted out of measure through the abundance of the reuelations, there was giuen to mee a pricke to the flesh, the messenger of Satan to buffet me, because I shoulde not bee exalted out of measure.

8 For this thing besought I the Lord thrise, that it might depart from me.

9 And he said vnto me, My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made perfect in weakenesse. Most gladly therefore I will rather glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ might dwell in me.

10 Therfore haue I delectation in infirmities, in rebukes, in necessities, in persecutions, in anguishes for Christes sake: For when I am weake, then am I strong.

11 I am become a foole in glorying, yee haue compelled me: for I ought to haue bene commended of you. For nothing was I inferiour vnto ỹ chiefe Apostles, though I be nothing.

12 Truely ỹ signes of an Apostle were wrought among you, in all patience, in signes, & wonders, and mightie deedes.

13 For what is it wherein yee were inferiour vnto other Churches, except [it be] that I was not chargeable vnto you by my idlenes: forgiue me this wrong.

14 Beholde nowe the thirde time I am readie to come vnto you, & yet will I not be chargeable vnto you by my idlenesse. For I seeke not yours, but you. For the children ought not to lay vp for the parents, but the parents for the children.

15 I will very gladly spend, and will be spent for your soules, though the more abundantly I loue you, the lesse I be loued againe.

16 But be it, [that] I was not chargeable vnto you: [d] neuertheless, being craftie, I caught you with guile.

d Thus sayde his aduersaries, ỹ though ye tooke it not by him selfe, yet he did it by the imanes of others.

17 Did I pil you by any of them whom I sent vnto you?

18 I desired Titus, and with him I sent a brother: Did Titus defraude you of any thing? Haue we not walked in the same spirite? not in the same steppes?

19 Againe, thinke you ỹ wee excuse our selues vnto you? Wee speake in Christ in the sight of God: but [we do] all things dearely beloued for your edifying.

20 For I feare least when I come, I shall not finde you such as I woulde, and that I shall be founde vnto you, such as yee woulde not: least there be debates, enuyings, wrathes, strifes, backebitings, whisperings, swellings, and seditions:

21 And that when I come againe, my God bring me lowe among you, and I shall bewaile many of them which haue sinned alreadie, and haue not repented of the vncleannes, and fornication, and wantonnesse which they haue committed.

The xiii. Chapter.

1 He threatneth the obstinate, 5 and declareth what his power is, by their owne testimonie.

1 NOwe come I the third time vnto you. *In ỹ mouth of two or three witnesses shall euery word be established. Deut.19.15. matth.18.16. iohn 8.17. heb.10.28.

2 I told you before, and tel you before, as though I had bene present [with you] the seconde time, so write I nowe being absent, to them which in time past haue sinned, and to all other: that if I come againe, I will not spare,

3 Seeing that yee seeke experience of Christ which speaketh in me, which to youwarde is not weake, but is mightie in you.

4 For though hee was crucified of weakenesse, yet liueth hee of the power of God: And we also are weake in him, but we shall liue with him by the might of God towarde you.

5 *Examine your selues whether you are in the faith: Proue your owne selues. Knowe ye not your owne selues how that Iesus Christ is in you, except ye be reprobates? 1.Cor.11.28.

6 But I trust ỹ ye shal knowe that we are not reprobates.

7 Truely I pray to God that ye do none euil, not that we shoulde seeme approued, but that ye should do that which is honest, though we be as [a] reprobates.

a In that he humbled himselfe, and tooke vpon him ỹ fourme of a seruant.

8 For we can doe nothing against the trueth, but for the trueth.

9 For we are glad when we are weake, and ye are strong. Truely this also wee wish, euen your perfection.

10 Therfore write I these things being absent, least being present, I shoulde vse sharpnesse, according to the power which the Lorde hath giuen mee to edification, and not to destruction.

11 Finally brethren, farewell, be perfect, be of good comfort, bee of one minde, liue in peace, and the God of loue and peace shall be with you.

12 Greete one another in an holy kisse.

13 All the saints salute you.

14 The grace of ‖ our Lorde Iesus Christ, and the loue of God, and the ‖ communion of the holy ghost, be with you all, Amen. ‖Or, the Lord. ‖Or, fellowship.

¶ The seconde Epistle to the Corinthians, was written from Philippos, [a citie] of Macedonia, by Titus and Lucas.

The ende of the seconde Epistle to the Corinthians.

The Epistle of the Apostle saint Paul to the Galathians.

The first Chapter.

Paul rebuketh their inconstancie, which suffered themselues to be seduced by the false Apostles.

1 PAUL an Apostle not of men, neyther by man, but by Iesus Christ, and by God the Father, which rayled him vp from the dead:

2 And all the brethren which are with me, vnto the Churches of Galatia:

3 Grace [be] with you, and peace from God the father, and from our Lorde Iesus Christ:

4 Which gaue himselfe for our sinnes, to deliuer vs from this [a] present euill world, according to the will of God, and our father:

a Which is the corrupt life of man without Christ.

5 To whom [be] glory for euer and euer, Amen.

6 I maruaile that ye are so soone turned from him that had called you in ỹ grace of Christ, vnto another Gospel:

7 Which is not another [Gospel,] but that there be some which trouble you, and intende to peruert the Gospel of Christ.

8 Neuertheless though we, or an angel from heauen, preach any other Gospel vnto you, then that which we haue preached vnto you, let him be accursed.

9 As wee sayde before, so say I nowe againe, If any man preach any other Gospel vnto you, then [that] ye haue receiued, let him bee accursed.

10 Doe I nowe perswade men, or God? Either doe I seeke to please men? For if I yet pleased men, I shoulde not be the seruant of Christ.

1.Cor.15.1. 11 *I certifie you, brethren, that the Gospel which was preached of mee, is not after man.

12 For I neyther receiued it of man, neither was I taught [it,] but by the reuelation of Iesus Christ.

13 For yee haue heard of my conuersation in time past, *in the Iewes religion, [howe] that beyond measure I persecuted ỹ Church of God, and spoyled it:

Acts 9.1.

14 And profited in the Iewes religion aboue many of my ‖ companions in mine owne nation, being a very feruent mainteiner of the [b] traditions of my fathers.

‖Or, mine age.

b That is, of the lawe of God, which was giuen to the ancient fathers.

15 But when it pleased God, which separated me frõ my mothers wombe, and called [me] by his grace,

16 To reueale his sonne by me, that I shoulde by the Gospel preach him among ỹ heathen: immediatly I communed not with [c] flesh and blood:

c That is, with any man, as though I had nede of his counsell to approue my doctrine.

17 Neither went I vp to Hierusalem, to them which [were] Apostles before mee: but went my wayes into Arabia, and came againe vnto Damascus.

18 Then after three yeeres, I went vp to Hierusalem to see Peter, and abode with him fiftene dayes.

19 But other of the Apostles saw I none, saue Iames the Lords brother.

20 The things therefore which I write vnto you, behold, before God I lie not.

21 Afterward I came into the coasts of Cyria and Cilicia, and was vnknowen in face vnto the Churches of Iurie which were in Christ:

22 But they had heard only, that he which persecuted vs in times past, nowe preacheth the [d] faith, which before he destroyed.

d That is, the Gospel, which is the doctrine of fayth.

23 And they glorified God in me.

The ii. Chapter.

1 Confirming his Apostleship to be of God, 3 he sheweth why Titus was not circumcised.

1 THen fourteene yeres after, I went vp againe to Hierusalem with Barnabas, and tooke Titus with me.

2 I went vp by reuelation, and I declared vnto them the Gospel which I preach among the Gentiles: but priuately with them which were esteemed the chiefe, least by any meanes I shoulde runne, or had runne in vaine.

3 But neyther Titus which was with mee, being a Greeke, was compelled to be circumcised:

4 And that because of incommers, being false brethren, which came in priuily to spye out our libertie which wee haue in Christ Iesu, that they might bring vs into bondage.

5 To whome, no not for an ‖ houre, wee gaue place by subiection, that ỹ trueth of the Gospel might continue with you.

‖Or, moment.

6 Of them which seemed to bee somewhat (what they [a] were in times passed it maketh no matter to me, *God accepteth no mãs person:) for they which seemed chiefe, [b] added nothing [to me.]

a Albeit they had bene conuersant with Christ afore time.

Deut.10.17. Iob.34.19.

7 But contrariwise, when they sawe that the Gospel of the vncircumcision was committed vnto me, as the Gospel of the circumcisiõ was committed vnto Peter:

b That is, they taught me not but approued my doctrine perfect in all poynts.

8 (For hee that was mightie in Peter to the Apostleship of the circumcisiõ, the same was mightie in me toward the Gentiles:)

9 When they perceiued the grace that was giuen vnto me, [then] Iames, Cephas, and Iohn, which seemed to be pillars, gaue to me and Barnabas the right handes of fellowship: that we [shoulde be Apostles] vnto the Heathen, and they vnto the circumcision.

‖they admonished,

10 Onely ‖ that wee shoulde remember the poore: wherein also I was diligent to doe the same.

11 But when Peter was come to Antioch, I withstood him [c] to the face, because he was to be blamed.

c Meaning, before all men.

12 For before that certaine came from James, he did eate with the Gentiles: but when they were come, he withdrewe, and separated him selfe, fearing them [which were] of the circumcision.

13 And the other Iewes dissembled likewise with him: insomuch that Barnabas also was brought into their simulation.

14 But when I sawe that they went not the right way to the trueth of the Gospel, I sayde vnto Peter before them all, If thou being a Iewe, liuest after the maner of the Gentiles, and not as doe the Iewes: Why compellest thou the Gentiles to liue as do the Iewes?

15 We [which are] Iewes by nature, and not [d] sinners of the Gentiles, d For so the Iewes called the Gentiles in reproch.

16 Know that a man is not iustified by ỹ deedes of the lawe, but by the faith of Iesus Christ: and wee haue beleeued on Iesus Christ, that wee might be iustified by the fayth of Christ, and not by the deedes of the lawe: because by the deedes of the lawe, no flesh shall bee iustified.

Rom.3.19.

17 *If then while we seeke to be made righteous by Christ, wee our selues also are founde sinners: is therefore Christ the minister of sinne? God forbid.

18 For if I builde againe the things which I destroyed, then make I my selfe a trespasser.

19 For I, through the lawe, am dead to the lawe, that I might liue vnto God: I am crucified with Christ.

20 Neuertheless, I liue: yet nowe not I, but Christ liueth in me: and the life which I now liue in the flesh, I liue by the fayth of the sonne of God, which loued me, and gaue him selfe for me.

21 I reiect not the grace of God: For if righteousnesse [come] of the lawe, then Christ is dead in vaine.

The iii. Chapter.

1 He rebuketh them sharply, 10 and proueth by diuers reasons, that iustification is by faith.

2 To whom Christ was so liuely preached, as if his liuely image were set before your eyes, or else had bene crucified among you.

1 O Foolish Galathians, who hath bewitched you, that ye shoulde not obey the trueth: to whome Iesus Christ was before [a] described before the eyes, and among you crucified?

2 This only would I learne of you, whether ye receiued the spirit by the deeds of the law, or by the hearing of the faith?

3 Are yee such fooles, that after yee haue begunne in the spirite, ye woulde nowe ende in the flesh?

4 Haue yee suffered so great things in vayne? If it be yet in vaine.

5 He therefore that ministreth to you the spirite, and worketh myracles among you, doeth he it through the deedes of the lawe, or by hearing of the faith?

6 *Euen as Abraham beleeued God, and it was ascribed to him for righteousnesse. Gene.15.6. rom. 4.3. iames 2.23.

7 Knowe ye therefore, that they which are of faith, the same are the children of Abraham.

8 For the Scripture seeing afore hande that God woulde iustifie the Heathen through fayth, shewed before hande glad tidings vnto Abraham, [saying,] *In thee shall all nations be blessed. Gene.22.3. ecc. 44.20.

9 So then, they which be of faith, are blessed with the faithfull Abraham.

10 For as many as are of the [b] deedes of the lawe, are vnder the curse: for it is written, *Cursed is euery one that cõtinueth not in al things which are written in the booke of the lawe, to doe them. b Which think to be iustified by them. Deut.27.26.

11 But that no man is iustified by the lawe in the sight of God, it is euident: *for the iust shall liue by faith. Abac.2.4.rom. 1.17.

12 And the lawe is not of faith: *but the man that doeth them, shall liue in them. Leuit.18.5.

13 Christ hath redeemed vs from the curse of the lawe, being made a curse for vs: For it is written, *Cursed is euery one that hangeth on tree: Deut.21.23.

14 That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Iesus Christ, that wee might receiue the promise of the spirite through faith.

15 Brethren, [c] I speake after the maner of men, *though it bee but a mans testament, yet if it bee alowed, no man reiecteth it, or addeth thereto. c I will vse a common example, ỹ you may be ashamed to attribute lesse vnto God, then to such couenãts which one man maketh to another. Hebr.9.17.

16 †* To Abraham and his seede were the promises made. He sayth not, To the seedes, as of many: but, To thy seed, as of one, which is Christ. †The Epistle on the xiii. Sunday after Trinitie. Gene.17.7.

17 This I saye, that the lawe which began afterwarde beyonde foure hundred and thirtie yeeres, doeth not disanull the testament that was confirmed afore of God vnto Christwarde, to make the promise of none effect.

18 For if the inheritance be of the lawe, then not nowe of promise. But God gaue [the inheritance] vnto Abraham by promise.

19 Wherefore then [serueth] the law? It ‖ was added because of transgressions, till the seede should come to whom the promise was made: and it was ordeyned by angels in the hand of a mediatour. ‖The Lawe.

20 A mediatour is not [a mediatour] of one, but God is [d] one.

[d] Constant, & alwayes like himselfe.

21 Is the lawe then against the promise of God? God forbid. For if there had bene a lawe giuen which could haue giuen life, then no doubt righteousnesse shoulde haue bene by the lawe.

Rom.3.4. 22 *But the scripture hath concluded all vnder sinne, that the promise by the fayth of Jesus Christ should be giuen vnto them that beleeue.

23 But before faith came, we were kept vnder the lawe, & were shut vp vnto the faith which shoulde afterwarde be reuealed.

Rom.10.4. 24 *Wherefore the lawe was our scholemaster vnto Christ, that we should be iustified by faith.

25 But after that faith is come, wee are no longer vnder a scholemaster.

26 For ye are all the children of God by fayth in Christ Jesus.

Rom.6.3. ‖Some reade, all ye that are baptized into Christ, haue put on Christ. 27 * For ‖ all yee that are baptized, haue put on Christ.

28 There is no Jewe, neither Greeke, there is neyther bonde, nor free, there is neyther male nor female: for yee are all one in Christ Jesus.

29 If [ye be] Christes, then are ye Abrahams seede, and heires according to the promise.

The iiii. Chapter.

Hee sheweth wherefore the ceremonies were ordeyned, which being shadowes, must ende when Christ the trueth commeth.

The Epistle on the ii. Sunday after Christmas. 1 AND I say, That the heire as long as he is a childe, differeth nothing from a seruant, though he be Lord of all:

2 But is vnder tutours & gouernours, vntill the time appointed of the father.

3 Euen so we, when wee were children, were in bondage vnder the [a] rudimentes of the world:

a That is, the law, which before he called a scholemaster. Rom.8.15.

4 But when the fulnesse of the time was come, God sent his sonne made of a woman, and made vnder the lawe, b For our adoption vnto Christ sealed by him.

5 To redeeme them that were vnder the lawe, *that we might receiue the adoption of children.

c He instructeth both Jewes and Gentiles to call God their father in euery language, so that none are excepted.

6 Because ye are sonnes, God hath sent forth the [b] spirit of his sonne into your hearts, crying [c] Abba father.

7 Wherefore thou art no more a seruant, but a sonne: if thou bee a sonne, thou art also an heyre of God, through Christ.

d When yee receiued the Gospel, ye were idolaters, therefore it is shame for you to refuse liberty and become seruants, yea, and seeing the Jewes desire to be out of their fellowship.

8 Notwithstanding, whē ye [d] knew not God, ye did seruice vnto them which by nature are no gods.

9 But nowe after that ye haue knowen God, yea rather are knowen of God, how turne ye againe vnto the weake & beggerly rudimēts, whereunto againe yee desire afresh to bee in bondage.

10 Ye obserue dayes, and moneths, and times, and yeeres.

11 I am in feare of you, least I haue bestowed on you labour in vaine.

12 Brethrē, I beseech you, be as I [am,] for I [am] as ye are: Ye haue not iniured me at al.

13 Yee knowe howe through infirmitie of the flesh, I preached the Gospel vnto you at the first:

14 [c] And my temptation which was in my flesh ye despised not, neither abhorred: but receiued me as an angel of God, euē as Christ Jesus.

c That is, the troubles and vexations which God sent to trye me while I was among you.

15 What is then your felicitie? for I beare you recorde, that if it had bene possible, ye woulde haue plucked out your owne eyes, and haue giuen them to me.

16 Am I therfore become your enemie, because I tell you the trueth?

17 They are ielous ouer you [f] amisse: Yea, they intende to excludes you, that ye should be feruent to themwarde.

f For they are but ambitions.

18 It is good alwayes to bee zelous in a good thing, and not onely when I am present with you.

g They would turne you frō me, that you might followe them.

19 My litle children, of whome I trauaile in birth againe, vntill Christ be [h] fashioned in you.

h And imprinted so in your hearts, that ye loue one another.

20 But I desire to be present with you nowe, and to change my voyce: for I stande in doubt of you.

The Epistle on the iiii. Sunday in Lent. 21 Tell me, ye that desire to be vnder the law, do ye not heare the lawe?

22 For it is written that Abraham had two sonnes: *the one by a bond mayde, *the other by a free woman. Gene.16.15. Gene.21.1.

23 But hee which was of the bonde woman, was borne after the flesh: but hee which was of the free woman [was borne] by promise.

24 Which things are spoken by [i] an allegorie: for these are two testaments: the one from the mount Sina, which gendreth vnto bondage, which is Agar:

i By an allegorie, that is, an other thing is meant.

25 For ‖ Agar is the mount Sina in Arabia, and bordereth vpon the citie which [is] now [called] Hierusalem, and is in bondage with her children.

‖Or, reade, for Sina is a mount in Arabia.

26 But *Hierusalem which is aboue, is free, which is the mother of vs all. Esay 45.2.

27 For it is written, *Reioyce thou barren that beareste no children, breake forth and cry, thou that trauailest not: for the desolate hath many moe children then shee which hath an husband. Esay 54.1.

28 But brethren, we are *after Isahac the children of promise. Rom.9.8.

29 But as then he that was borne after ỳ flesh, persecuted him that was borne after the spirit: euen so is it nowe.

30 Neuertheles, what sayeth the Scripture?

Gene.21.10. *Put away the bondwoman and her sonne: for the sonne of the bondwoman shall in no wise bee heire with the sonne of the free woman.

31 So then brethren, we are not children of the bondwoman, but of the free.

The v. Chapter.

1 He laboureth to draw them away from circumcision, 7 and sheweth them the battaile betwixt the spirit and the flesh, and the fruites of them both.

Actes 15.1. 1 STande * fast therefore in the libertie wherewith Christ hath made vs free, and bee not entangled ‖ againe with the yoke of bondage.

‖Or, contrariwise.

2 Beholde, I Paul say vnto you, that if yee bee [a] circumcised, Christ shall profite you nothing.

a For we are of the Church of Christ, which is our mother, and not of the synagogue, which is servant vnder the lawe. 3 For I testifie againe to euery man which is circumcised, that he is a detter to do the whole lawe.

4 Christ is become but vaine to you, as many of you as are iustified by the lawe, are fallen from grace.

5 For we through the spirit, waite for the hope of righteousnesse by faith.

6 For in Iesus Christ, neyther is circumcision any thing worth, neyther yet vncircumcision: but fayth, which worketh by loue.

7 Ye did runne well, who was a let vnto you, that ye should not obey the trueth?

8 This perswasion commeth not of him that called you.

1.Cor.5.6. 9 *A litle leauen leaueneth the whole lumpe of dowe.

10 I haue trust toward you in the Lord, that ye will be none otherwise minded: but hee that troubleth you, shall beare iudgement, what so euer he be.

11 And brethren, if I yet preach circumcision, why doe I yet suffer persecution? Then is the slaunder of the crosse ceassed.

12 I woulde to God they were cut off which trouble you.

13 For brethren, ye haue bene called vnto libertie: onely * let not libertie be an occasion to the flesh, but by loue serue one another.

Rom.13.9.mat. 22.39.mar.12. 31. 14 For all the lawe is fulfilled in one worde, [which is this,] *Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe.

Leuit.19.18. Iacob.2.8.

15 If ye bite & deuoure one another, take heede least ye be consumed one of another.

The Epistle on the xiiii. sunday after Trinitie. Rom.13.14. 1.pet.2.11. 16 *Then I say, walke in the spirit, and ye shal not fulfill the lustes of the flesh.

17 For the flesh lusteth contrary to the spirite, and the spirite contrary to the flesh: these are contrary one to the other, so that yee can not do what ye would.

18 But and if ye be led of the spirit, then are ye not vnder the lawe.

19 The deedes of the flesh are manifest, which are these, adulterie, fornication, vncleannesse, wantonnesse,

20 Worshipping of images, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulations, wrath, strife, seditions, sectes, 21 Enuyings, murders, drunkennesse, glutonies, and such like, of the which I tell you before, as I haue tolde you in time past, that [euen] they which doe such things, shall not inherite the kingdome of God.

22 But the fruite of the spirite is loue, ioy, peace, long suffering, gentlenesse, goodnesse, faith, 23 Meekenesse, temperance: against such there is no lawe.

b Christ hath not onelye remitted their sinnes, but sanctified them into newenesse of life. 24 They truely that [are] Christes, [b] haue crucified the flesh, with the affections and lustes.

25 If we liue in the spirite, let vs also walke in the spirite.

26 Let vs not bee desirous of vaine glorie, prouoking one another, enuying one another.

The vi. Chapter.

1 Hee exhorteth them to vse gentlenesse towarde the weake, 2 and to shewe their brotherly loue and modestie, 6 also to prouide for their ministers.

1 BRethren, if a man bee preuented in any faulte, yee which are spirituall, restore such a one in the spirite of meekenesse, considering thy selfe, least thou also bee tempted.

2 Beare ye one anothers burden, and so fulfill the lawe of Christ.

3 For if any man seeme to himselfe that he is somewhat, when hee is nothing, the same deceiueth himselfe in his owne fantasie.

4 But let euery man proue his owne worke: and then shall he haue [a] reioycing onely in his owne selfe, and not in another.

a For his reioycing is a testimonie of a good conscience. 1.Cor.3.8. 5 *For euery man shall beare his owne burden.

6 Let him that is taught in the worde, minister vnto him that teacheth him, in all good things.

7 Be not deceiued, God is not mocked: for whatsoeuer a man soweth, that shall hee also reape.

8 For hee that soweth in his flesh, shall of the flesh reape corruption: but he that soweth into the spirit, shall of the spirit reape life euerlasting.

9 Let vs not be wearie in wel doing: for in due season we shall reape, if we faint not.

10 While wee haue therefore time, let vs doe good vnto al men, specially vnto them which are of the houshold of faith.

11 Yee see howe large a letter I haue written vnto you with mine owne hand.

The Epistle on the xv. Sunday after Trinitie.

12 As

‖Or, in the flesh.

12 As many as desire with outward appearãce to please ‖ carnally, the same constraine you to be circumcised: onely lest they shoulde suffer persecution for the crosse of Christ.

13 For they themselues which are circumcised, keepe not the law: but desire to haue you circumcised, that they might glory in your flesh.

14 God forbid that I shoulde glory, but in the crosse of our Lord Jesus Christ: whereby the b worlde is crucified vnto me, and I vnto the worlde.

b By ye world, he meaneth all outwarde pompes, ceremonies, and things which please mens fantasies.

15 For in Christ Jesu neyther circumcision auayleth any thing, nor vncircumcision, but a newe creature.

16 And as many as walke according to this rule, peace be on them, and mercie, and vpon the c Israel [that is] of God.

c That is, vpō the Jewes, as Rom. 11.

17 From henceforth let no man put me to businesse: for I beare in my body the markes of the Lord Jesus.

18 Brethren, the grace of our Lorde Jesus Christ be with your spirite, Amen.

¶ The Epistle vnto the Galathians, was written from Rome.

The Epistle of Saint Paul the Apostle vnto the Ephesians.

The first Chapter.

After his salutation, 4 he sheweth that the chiefe cause of their saluation standeth in the free election of God through Christ. 16 He declareth his good will toward them, giuing thanks, and praying God for their faith. 21 The maiestie of Christ.

1,Cor,1,1. 1 PAul * an Apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, to the saintes which are at Ephesus, and to the faithful in Christ Jesus,

2 Grace [be] with you, and peace from God our father, and [from] the Lord Jesus Christ.

1,Cor,1,3. 2,pet,1,2. 3 * Blessed be God the father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which hath blessed vs in all spirituall blessing in heauenly things by Christ:

2,Tim,1,9. Colos,1,29. 4 * According as he had chosen vs in him, before the foundation of the worlde, * that wee shoulde be holy, and without blame before him through loue.

a Wheras we were not the natur all childrē, he receiued vs by grace, & made vs his children.

5 Who hath predestinated vs into the adoption of a childrē by Jesus Christ vnto himselfe, according to the good pleasure of his will:

6 To the prayse of the glory of his grace, wherein he hath made vs accepted in the beloued.

7 In whom we haue redemption through his blood, the forgiuenesse of sinnes, according to the riches of his grace,

8 Wherein he hath abounded towarde vs in all wisedome and prudence.

9 And hath opened vnto vs the mysterie of his wil, according to his good pleasure, which he had purposed in himselfe,

10 That in the dispensation of the fulnesse of the times, he might gather together in one all things in Christ, both which are in heauens, and which are in earth, in him.

11 In whome also we are chosen, being predestinate according to the purpose of him who worketh all things after the counsell of his owne will:

12 That we shoulde be vnto the prayse of his glory, which before beleeued in Christ.

13 In whome also ye [hoped] after that ye heard the worde of trueth, the Gospel of your saluation: wherin also after that ye beleeued, ye were sealed with ỹ holy spirit of promise, 14 Which is the earnest of our inheritance, vnto the b redemption of the purchased possession, vnto the prayse of his glory.

b Though we be redeemed from the bondage of sinne by the death of Christ, Rom. 6. yet we hope for this second redēption, which shalbe whē we shal possesse our inheritāce in the heauēs, whereof we haue the holy Ghost for a gage, as cha. 4.

15 Wherefore I also, after that I heard of the faith which ye haue in the Lorde Jesus, and loue vnto all the saintes,

16 Ceasse not to giue thankes for you, making mention of you in my prayers,

17 That the God of our Lorde Jesus Christ, the father of glory, may giue vnto you the spirite of wisedome and reuelation, in the knowledge of him,

18 The eyes of your mindes being lightened: that ye may knowe what the hope is of his calling, and what the riches of the glory of his inheritance [is] in the saintes:

19 And what is the exceeding greatnesse of his power to vsward which beleeue, * according to the working of his mightie power,

Colos,2,13.

20 Which he wrought in Christ, when he raysed him from the dead, & set him on his right hand in heauenly [places,]

21 Farre aboue all rule, and power, and might, and dominion, and euery name that is named, not onely in this worlde, but also in the worlde to come.

22 And hath put all things vnder his feete, and gaue him [to be] the head ouer all things to the Church, 23 Which is his body, the fulnesse of him that filleth all in all.

The ii. Chapter.

To magnifie the grace of Christ, which is the only cause of saluation.

1 AND [he quickened] you that were *dead in trespasses and sinnes:

Colos,2,13.

2 In the which in time passed ye walked, * according to the course of this worlde, worlde, after the gouernour that ruleth in the ayre, the spirite that now worketh in the childzen of disobedience.

Ephe,6,11.

3 Among whom we all had our conuersation also in time past in the lustes of our flesh, fulfilling the will of the flesh, and of the minde, and [a] were by nature the childzen of wrath, euen as other:

a Not by creation, but by Adams transgression, and so by birth.

4 But God which is riche in mercie, for his great loue wherewith he loued vs,

5 Euen when we were dead by sinnes, hath quickened vs together with Christ, by [whose] grace ye are saued,

6 And hath rayled [vs] vp together, and made [vs] sitte together in heauenly things in Christ Jesus,

7 That in ages to come he might shew the exceeding riches of his grace, in [his] kindnesse to vs warde, through Christ Jesus.

8 For by grace are yee made safe through faith, and that not of your selues: it is the gift of God,

9 Not of workes, least any man should boaste himselfe.

10 For we are his workemanship, created in Christ Jesus vnto good workes, which God hath before ordeyned, that we shoulde walke in them.

11 Wherefore, remember that ye being in time passed Gentiles in the flesh, called vncircumcision of that which is called circumcision in the flesh, made by handes:

12 That at that time ye were without Christ, being aliantes from the common wealth of Israel, and strangers from the *Testaments of promise, hauing no hope, and without God in this worlde.

Rom. 9. 4.

13 But nowe in Christ Jesus, ye which sometime were farre off, are made nygh by the blood of Christ.

14 For he is our peace, which hath made both one: and hath broken downe the [b] middle wal that was a stop betweene vs, b That is, the cause of the diuision that was betwéene the Iewes & the Gentiles. Col. 2, 14.

15 Taking away in his flesh the hatred, [euen] the *law of commandements [conteyned] in ordinances, for to make of twayne one newe man in himselfe, so making peace:

16 And that he might reconcile both vnto God in one body through [his] crosse, and slue hatred thereby:

17 And came and preached the glad tydings of peace to you [which were] a farre off, and to them that were nygh.

18 For through him we haue both an entrance in one spirite vnto the father.

The Epistle on Saint Thomas day.

19 Nowe therefore, ye are no more strangers and forreiners: but fellow citizens with the saintes, and of the houshold of God,

20 And are buylt vpon the foundation of the Apostles and Prophets, Jesus Christ himselfe being the head corner stone, 21 In whom al the building coupled together, groweth vnto an holy temple in the Lord.

22 In whome also ye are buylded together for an habitation of God through the spirite.

The iii. Chapter.

1 He sheweth the cause of his imprisonment, 13 and desireth them not to faint because of his trouble.

1 For this cause I Paul [am] a prisoner of Jesus Christ for you heathen:

The Epistle on the Epiphanie.

2 If ye haue heard of the dispensation of the grace of God, which is giuen me to youwardes:

3 For by reuelation shewed [God] the [a] mysterie vnto mee (as I wrote afore in fewe wordes, a Mysterie is that secret hidden purpose of saluation through Christ.

4 Whereby when ye reade, ye may vnderstād my knowledge in the mysterie of Christ.)

5 Which [mysterie] in other ages was not opened vnto the sonnes of men, as it is nowe reuealed vnto his holy Apostles & Prophets by the spirite:

6 [That] the Gentiles should be inheritours also, and of the same body, and partakers of his promise in Christ by the Gospel:

7 Wherefore I was made a minister, according to the gift of the grace of God, which is giuen vnto me *after ỹ working of his power.

Ephe. 1. 19.

8 Unto me which am lesse then the least of all saintes is this grace giuen, that I shoulde preach among the Gentiles the vnsearchable riches of Christ,

9 And bring to light to all men what the fellowship of the mysterie is, which from the beginning of the worlde hath bene hid in God, which made al things through Jesus Christ:

10 To the intent that now vnto the rulers and powers in heauenly [things] might bee knowen by the [b] Church, the very manifolde wisedome of God, b The Church being gathered of so many kindes of people, is an example or a glasse for the angels to behold the wisedome of God in, who hath turned their particular discordes, into an vniuersal concord & of the synagogue of bondage, hath made the Church of fredome.

11 According to the eternall purpose which he wrought in Christ Jesus our Lord:

12 By whom we haue boldnesse and entrance in the confidence by faith of him.

13 † Wherefore I desire that ye faynt not for my tribulations for you, which is your glory.

† The Epistle on the xvi. Sunday after Trinitie.

14 For this cause I bowe my knees vnto the father of our Lord Jesus Christ,

15 Of whome all the familie in heauen and earth is named:

16 That he would grant you according to the riches of his glory, to be strengthened with might by his spirite in the inner man,

17 That Christ may dwell in your heartes by faith: that ye being rooted and grounded in loue,

18 Might be able to comprehende with all saintes, what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and heyght:

19 And to knowe the loue of Christ, which excelleth [all] knowledge, that ye might be filled with all fulnesse of God.

20 Unto him that is able to do exceeding abundantly aboue al that we aske or thinke, according to the power that worketh in vs,
21 Be glory in the Church by Christ Iesus throughout all ages, worlde without ende, Amen.

The iiii. Chapter.

He exhorteth them vnto meekenesse, long suffering, and vnto loue and peace.

The Epistle on the xvi. sunday after Trinitie.

1 I therefore a prisoner ‖ in the Lord exhort you, that ye walke worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called,
2 With all lowlinesse & meekenesse, with log suffering, forbearing one another in loue,
3 Endeuouring to keepe the vnitie of the spirite in the bond of peace.
4 One body, and one [a] spirite, euen as ye are called in one hope of your calling.
5 One Lord, one faith, one baptisme.
6 One God and father of all, which is aboue all, and through all, and in you all.
7 †But *vnto euery one of vs is giuen grace, according to the measure of the gift of Christ.
8 Wherefore he sayeth, When he * went vp on hygh, he led captiuitie captiue, and gaue giftes vnto men.
9 (But that he ascended, what is it but that he also descended first into the lower parts of the earth?
10 *He that descended, is euen the same also that ascended vp farre aboue all heauens, to fulfill all things.)
11 *And he gaue some Apostles, and some Prophets, and some Euangelists, and some shepheardes, and teachers,
12 To the gathering together of the saintes, into the worke of ministration, into the edifying of the body of Christ:
13 Tyll we all meete together into the vnitie of faith and knowledge of the sonne of God, vnto a perfect man, vnto the measure of the age of the fulnesse of Christ:
14 That we henceforth be no more children, wauering & caryed about with euery winde of doctrine, and in the wylinesse of men, in craftinesse, to the laying [b] wayte of deceyte.
15 But following trueth in loue, let vs growe vp into him in all things which is the head [euen] Christ:
16 In whome all the body being conueniently coupled, and knit together by euery ioynt, yeelding nourishment according to the effectual power in the measure of [c] euery part, maketh increase of the body, vnto the edifying of it selfe in loue.
17 This I say therefore, & testifie in the Lord, that ye henceforth walke not * as other Gentiles walke, in vanitie of their minde:
18 Darkened in cogitation, being alienated from the life of God, by the ignorance that is in them by the ‖ blindnesse of their hearts.
19 Which being past [d] feeling, haue giuen themselues ouer vnto wantonnesse, to worke all vncleannesse with greedinesse.
20 But ye haue not so learned Christ.
21 If so be that ye haue heard him, & haue bene taught in him, as the trueth is in Iesus,
22 To lay downe *according to the former conuersation, the [e] olde man, which is corrupt according to the lustes of errour:
23 To be renued in the spirite of your minde,
24 And to put on that new man, which after God is shapen in righteousnesse, and holinesse of trueth.
25 *Wherefore, putting away lying, speake euery man trueth vnto his neyghbour: forasmuch as we are members one of another.
26 *Be ye [f] angry, and sinne not: let not the sunne go downe vpon your wrath.
27 Neyther giue place to the deuill.
28 Let him that stole, steale no more: but let him rather labour, working with his handes the thing which is good, that he may giue vnto him that needeth.
29 Let no filthy communication proceede out of your mouth, but that which is good to edifie withall, as oft as neede is, that it may minister grace vnto the hearers.
30 And [g] grieue not the holy spirite of God, by whome ye are sealed vnto the day of redemption.
31 Let all bytternesse, & fiercenesse, and wrath, and crying, and euill speaking, be put away from you, with all naughtinesse.
32 Be ye curteous one to another, merciful, forgiuing one another, euen as God for Christs sake hath forgiuen you.

The v. Chapter.

He intreateth of corporall mariages, and of the spirituall betwixt Christ and his Church.

The Epistle on the iii. sunday in Lent.

1 Be ye therefore followers of God, as deare children:
2 *And walke ye in loue, euen as Christ hath loued vs, and hath giuen himselfe for vs, an offering and a sacrifice of a sweete smelling sauour to God.
3 *But fornication, and all vncleannesse, or couetousnesse, let it not be once named among you, as it becommeth saintes:
4 Neyther filthinesse, neyther foolish talking, neyther iesting, which are not comely: but rather giuing of thankes.
5 For this ye knowe, that no whoremonger, neither vncleane person, nor couetous person, which is a worshipper of images, hath any inheritãce in the kingdome of Christ, & of God.
6 *Let no man deceyue you with vayne words: For because of such things commeth the wrath of God vpon the children of disobedience.
7 Be not ye therefore companions of them.
8 For ye were sometimes darkenesse, but now are a So that ye can not dissent one from another, seeing the spirite which ioyneth you in one body, can not dissent from himselfe.

27 That he might present it vnto himselfe a glorious church, not hauing spot or wrinckle, or any such thing: but that it should be holy, and without blame.

28 So ought men to loue their wiues as their owne bodies: he that loueth his wife, loueth himselfe.

29 For no man euer yet hated his owne flesh: but nourisheth and cherisheth it, euen as the Lord the Church:

10 Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might.

11 Put on all the armour of God, that ye may stand against the assaults of the deuill. The Epistle on the xxi. sunday after Trinitie.

12 For we wrestle not against [a] blood and flesh, but against rulers, against powers, against worldly gouernours of the darkenesse of this worlde, against spirituall wickednesse in heauenly [places.]

a The faithful haue not onely to striue against men, & themselues: but against Satan the spirituall enemie, who is most dangerous: for he is ouer our heads, so that we can not reach him, but he must be resisted by Gods peace.

13 Wherefore take vnto you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to resist in the euill day, and hauing finished all things, to stand fast.

1 PAul and Timotheus the seruants of Jesus Christ, to all the saintes in Christ Jesus, which are at Philippos, with the bishops and deacons:

2 Grace [be] vnto you, and peace from God our father, and [from] the Lorde Jesus Christ.

2.Thes.1.3. The Epistle on the xii. sunday after Trinitie.

3 * I thanke my God with all remembrance of you:

4 (Alwayes in all my prayer for all you, making prayer with gladnesse:)

5 For your felowship in the Gospel, from the first [a] day vntill nowe:

a That ye receiued the Gospel.

6 Being perswaded of the same thing, that he which hath begun a good worke in you, will perfourme it vntill the day of Jesus Christ:

7 As it becommeth me to iudge this of you al, because I haue you in my heart, and in my bondes, in the defence & confirmation of the Gospel, you al being partakers of my [b] grace.

b Of this peculiar benefite to suffer for Christes sake.

8 For God is my record, how greatly I long after you all in the [c] bowels of Jesus Christ.

c That is, frō the very heart rote of Jesus Christ.

9 And this I pray, that your loue may abound yet more and more in knowledge, and in all vnderstanding:

10 That yee may discerne things that differ: that ye may be pure and without offence tyll the day of Christ,

11 Being filled with the fruites of righteousnesse, which [are] by Jesus Christ, vnto the glory and prayse of God.

12 But I woulde ye shoulde vnderstande, brethren, that the things which [came] vnto me, haue come rather vnto the furtherance of the Gospel.

d Which I sustayne for Christes cause.

13 [So] that my [d] bondes in Christ are manifest thorowout all the iudgement hall, and in all other places.

14 And many of the brethren in the Lorde, being incouraged through my bondes, dare more plentifully speake the worde without feare.

15 Some preach Christ of enuie and strife, and some of good will:

16 The one preache Christ of strife, not sincerely, supposing to adde more affliction to my bondes:

17 But the others of loue, knowing that I am set to the defence of the Gospel.

18 What then? so that Christ be preached any maner of way, whether it be by pretence, or by trueth, I ioy therein, and will ioy.

19 For I knowe that this shal turne to my saluation through your prayer, and ministring of the spirite of Jesus Christ, 20 According to my earnest expectation & my hope, that in nothing I shalbe ashamed: but that with all boldenesse, as alwayes, [so] nowe also Christ shall be magnified in my body, whether it be by life, or by death.

21 For Christ [is] to mee life, and death is to me aduauntage.

22 But whether to liue in the flesh, this [be] the fruite of my labour, & what I shall chuse, I wote not.

23 For I am in a strayte betwixt two, hauing a desire to depart, & to be with Christ, which is much farre better.

24 Neuertheless, to abide in the ‖ flesh, [is] more needefull for you. ‖ Or, body.

25 And this I am sure of, that I shall abide and continue with you all, for your furtherance and ioy of faith:

26 That your reioycing may bee the more abundant in Jesus Christ for me, by my coming to you againe.

27 Onely let your conuersation * be as it becommeth the Gospel of Christ, that whether I come and see you, or els be absent, I may yet heare of your matters, that ye continue in one spirite, in one soule, holding together in defence of the faith of the Gospel. Ephe.4.1. colos.1.10. 1.thes.2.12.

28 And in nothing fearing your aduersaries, which is to them a token of perdition: but to you

c God sheweth by this meanes of bearing the crosse, who are his, and who are not.

you of saluation, and c that of God.
29 For vnto you it is giuen for Christ, not onely this to beleeue on him: but also this, to suffer for his sake,
30 Hauing the same fight which ye saw in me, and nowe heare in me.

The ii. Chapter.

3 He exhorteth aboue all things to humilitie, whereby pure doctrine is chiefly mainteined.

a If you so loue me that you desire my comfort.

1 YF [there be] therefore any a consolation in Christ, if any comfort of loue, if any felowship of the spirite, if any compassion and mercy:
2 Fulfill ye my ioy, that ye be like minded, hauing the same loue, being of one accorde, of one minde.
3 Let nothing [be done] through strife or vaine glory, but in meekenesse euery man esteeme one the other better then himselfe.
4 Looke not euery man on his owne things, but euery man also on the things of others.

The Epistle on the sunday next before Easter.

5 Let the same minde be in you, which was in Christ Jesus:
6 Who being in the fourme of God, thought it not b robbery to be equall with God:

b For he that was God should therein haue done no iniurie to the godhead. Mat.20.28. Heb.2.9.

7 *But made himselfe of no reputation, taking on him the fourme of a seruant, & made in the likenesse of men, & found in figure as a man:
8 *He humbled himselfe, made obedient vnto death, euen the death of the crosse.
9 Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and giuen him a name, which is aboue euery name:

c Worship & be subiect to him.

10 That in the name of Jesus euery c knee should bow, of [things] in heauen, & [things] in earth, and [things] vnder the earth:

Esa.45.23. rom.14.11. iohn 13.13. 1.cor.8.6.

11 And that euery tongue should *confesse that the Lord is Jesus Christ, to the glory of God the father.
12 Wherefore, my dearly beloued, as ye haue alwayes obeyed, not as in my presence only, but nowe much more in my absence, worke d out your owne saluation with feare and trembling.

d Our health hãgeth not on our workes, & yet are they said to worke out their health, who do runne in the race of iustice. For although we be saued freely in Christ by faith, yet must we walke by the way of iustice vnto our health.

13 For it is God which worketh in you, both to will and to doe, of good will.
14 Do all things without murmuring and disputing:
15 That ye may bee blamelesse and pure, the sonnes of God, without rebuke in the middes of a crooked and peruerse nation, among whom shine ye as lightes in the worlde, 16 Holding fast the worde of life, to my reioycing in the day of Christ, that I haue not run in vayne, neyther laboured in vayne.
17 Yea, and though I be offered vp vpon the sacrifice and seruice of your faith, I reioyce, and reioyce with you all.
18 For the same cause also doe ye reioyce, and reioyce with me.
19 But I trust in the Lorde Jesus, to sende * Timotheus shortly vnto you, that I also Acts 16.1. may be of good comfort, when I knowe your state.
20 For I haue no man like minded, who will naturally care for your state.
21 * For all seeke their owne, not the things 1.Cor.10.24. which are Jesus Christes.
22 Ye know the proofe of him, that as a sonne with the father, he hath serued with me in the Gospel.
23 Him therefore I hope to send, as soone as I know my state.
24 But I trust in the Lord, that I also my selfe shall come shortly.
25 But I supposed it necessary, to send to you Epaphroditus my brother and companion in labour, and felow souldier, but your Apostle, and the minister of my neede.
26 For he longed after you all, and was full of heauinesse, because that ye had heard that he had bene sicke.
27 And no doubt hee was sicke nygh vnto death, but God had mercy on him: and not on him onely, but on me also: lest I should haue sorowe vpon sorowe.
28 I sent him therefore the more diligently, that when ye see him againe, ye may reioyce, and that I may be the lesse sorowfull.
29 Receyue him therefore in the Lord with all gladnesse, and make much of such:
30 Because for the worke of Christ he was nigh vnto death, not regarding his life, to fulfill your lacke of seruice toward me.

The iii. Chapter.

2 He warneth them to beware of false teachers, 3 against whome he setteth Christ.

1 MOreouer, my brethren, reioyce in the Lord. It grieueth me not to write the same things often to you, for to you it is a sure thing.

a Which barke against the true doctrine, to fill their bellies.

2 Beware of a dogges, beware of euill workers, beware of b concision.

b S. Paul here alludeth vnto circumcision by semblance of a like worde, because that they who craked thereof, did rather cause a scisme, diuision, or cutting and tearing in sunder, then an accord in the Church. 2.Cor.11.22.

3 For we are the circumcision, which worship God in the spirite, and reioyce in Christ Jesus, and haue no confidence in the flesh.
4 Though I might also haue cõfidence in the flesh. If any other man thinketh that he hath whereof he might trust in the flesh, I more:
5 Circumcised the eyght day, of the kinred of Israel, of the tribe of Beniamin, * an Hebrue of the Hebrues, after the law a Pharisee.
6 Concerning feruentnesse, persecuting the Church: touching the righteousnesse which is in the lawe, I was blamelesse.
7 But the things that were vauntage vnto me, those I counted losse for Christes sake.
8 Yea, I thinke all things but losse for the excellencie of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lorde: for whose sake I haue lost all things, and doe iudge them but ‖ doung, that I may winne Christ,

‖ Or, pelfe, or chaffe.

9 And be found in him, not hauing mine owne righteousnesse, which is of the lawe: but that which is through the faith of Christ, the righteousnesse which commeth of God through faith:

10 That I may knowe him, and the power of his resurrection, & the felowship of his passions, being made conformable vnto his death, ‖Assaying. 11 ‖ If by any meanes I might atteyne vnto the resurrection of the dead.

c Or haue now taken full possession thereof, not that he doubted to attaine vnto it, but because he would declare the excellencie thereof. 12 c Not as though I had already atteyned, either were already perfect: but I folow, if that I may comprehend, wherein also I am comprehended of Christ Jesus.

13 Brethren, I count not my selfe as yet that I haue atteyned: but this one thing [I say,] I forget those things which are behinde, and endeuour my selfe vnto those things which are before.

14 And I preasse towarde the marke, for the price of the hygh calling of God in Christ Jesus.

15 Let vs therefore, as many as be perfect, be thus minded: and if ye be otherwise minded, God shal reueale the same also vnto you.

16 Neuertheless, vnto that which we haue attained vnto, *let vs proceede by one rule, that we may be of one accorde.

Rom.15.5.

The Epistle on the xxv. sunday after Trinitie.

17 Brethren, be folowers together of mee, and looke on them which walke so as ye haue vs for an ensample.

18 For many walke, of whom I haue told you often, and nowe tell you weeping, [that they are] the * enemies of the crosse of Christ:

Rom.16.17.

19 Whose ende [is] damnation, whose god [is their] belly, and glory to their shame, which minde earthly things.

20 But our conuersation is in heauen, from whence also we looke for the Sauiour, the Lord Jesus Christ:

1.Cor.1.3. 21 Who shall * change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like vnto his glorious body, according to the working whereby he is able to subdue all things vnto himselfe.

The iiii. Chapter.

1 He exhorteth them to be of honest conuersation, 15 and thanketh them because of the prouision that they made for him being in prison.

1 Therefore my brethren, dearly beloued, and longed for, my ioy and crowne, so continue in the Lorde, my dearely beloued.

a This booke Ezechiel calleth the writing of ꝑ house of Israel, and the secret of the Lord. Apoc.3.5. †The Epistle on the iiii. sunday in Aduent. 2 I pray Euodias, and beseeche Syntiches, that they be of one accord in the Lorde.

3 Yea, and I beseeche thee also faithfull yokefelowe, helpe those [women] which laboured with me in the Gospel, & with Clement also, and with other my labour felowes, whose names are in the a * booke of life.

4 †Reioyce in the Lord alway: and againe I will say reioyce.

5 Let your patient minde be knowen vnto all men. The Lord is at hand.

6 Be careful for nothing: but in all things let your petition be manifest vnto God, in prayer and supplication, with giuing of thankes.

7 And the peace of God which passeth all vnderstanding, shall b keepe your heartes and mindes through Christ Jesus.

b From Satan, who seeketh to take from vs this peace of conscience.

8 Furthermore, brethren, whatsoeuer things are true, whatsoeuer things [are] honest, whatsoeuer things [are] iust, whatsoeuer things [are] pure, whatsoeuer things pertayne to loue, whatsoeuer things [are] of honest report: if there be any vertue, and if there be ‖ any prayse, thinke on these things:

‖Or, any thing prayse worthie.

9 Which ye haue both learned, and receyued, and heard, and seene in me, those things doe: and the God of peace shalbe with you.

10 But I reioyce in the Lord greatly, that now at the last yee are reuiued againe to care for me, in that wherein ye were also carefull, but ye lacked opportunitie.

c That I was not able to endure my pouertie. 11 I speake not because of c necessitie: for I haue learned, in whatsoeuer estate I am, therwith to be content.

12 I know how to be lowe, and I know howe to exceede: euery where and in al things I am instructed both to be full, and to be hungry, both to haue plentie, and to suffer neede.

13 I can doe all things through Christ, which strengtheneth me.

14 Notwithstanding, ye haue well done, that ye did communicate to my affliction.

d When I first preached the Gospel vnto you. 15 Ye Philippians know also, that in the d beginning of the Gospel, when I departed from Macedonia, no Church communicated to me, as concerning giuing and receyuing, but ye onely.

16 For euen in Thessalonica ye sent once, and againe vnto my necessitie.

17 Not that I desire a gift: but I desire fruite abounding to your accompt.

18 But I haue receyued all, and haue plentie: I was euen filled after that I had receiued of Epaphroditus the things [which were sent] from you, an odour of a sweete smell, a sacrifice acceptable, pleasant to God.

19 My God shal supplie al your neede through his riches in glory, in Christ Jesus.

20 Unto God and our father [be] glory for euermore.

21 Salute all the saints in Christ Jesus: The brethren which are with me, greete you.

22 All the saintes salute you, most of all they that are of Cesars householde.

23 The grace of our Lorde Jesus Christ [be] with you all. Amen.

The Epistle of Saint Paul the Apostle vnto the Colossians.

The first Chapter.

3 He giueth thankes vnto God for their faith. 7 Confirming the doctrine of Epaphras, 9 he prayeth for the encrease of faith.

1 PAul an Apostle of Jesus Christ, by the will of God, & Timotheus the brother,

2 To the saintes & faithful brethren in Christ, which are at Colossa, grace be vnto you, and peace from God our father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

The Epistle on the xxiii. sunday after Trinitie.

3 We giue thanks to God & the father of our Lord Jesus Christ alwaies for you, praying:

4 Since we heard of your faith [a] in Christ Jesus, & of the loue which ye haue to all saintes:

a For without Christ there is no faith to be saued by, but only a vayne opinion.

5 For the hopes sake which is layd vp for you in heauen, of which [hope] ye heard before in the worde of trueth of the Gospel,

6 Which is come vnto you euen as [it is] in all the worlde, and is fruiteful, as it is also in you, from the day ye heard [of it,] and knewe the grace of God in trueth.

7 As yee also learned of Epaphras our deare felow seruant, which is for you a faithful minister of Christ:

b Which commeth of the holy Ghost.

8 Who also declared vnto vs your loue [b] in the spirite.

9 For this cause wee also since the day we heard it, doe not ceasse to pray for you, and to desire that ye might be fulfilled with knowledge of his will, in all wisedome and spirituall vnderstanding:

24 Nowe reioyce I in my sufferings for you, and fulfill that which is behinde of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh, for his bodies sake, which is the Church,

The ii. Chapter.

1 Hauing protested his good will towarde them, 4 he admonisheth them not to turne backe from Christ.

1 FOr I woulde that ye knewe what great fight I haue for you, and for them that [are] at Laodicea, & for as many as haue not seene my face in the flesh:

2 That their heartes might be comforted, being knit together in loue, and in all riches of certayntie of vnderstanding, to knowe the mysterie of God, and of the Father, and of Christ:

4 This I say, least any man shoulde beguile you with perswasion of wordes.
1.Cor.5.3. 5 * For though I be absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit, ioying and beholding your order, and your stedfast faith in Christ.

Rom.2.29. 8 Beware least any man spoyle you through a philosophie and vaine deceite, after the tradition of men, and after the rudiments of the world, and not after Christ:
9 For in him dwelleth all the fulnesse of the Godhead bodily:
10 And ye are complete in him, which is the head of all principalitie and power.

13 And ye being dead in your sinnes, and the vncircumcision of your flesh, hath he quickened with him, hauing forgiuen all your trespasses,
14 [And] when he had blotted out the hand writing of ordinances that was against vs, and that was contrarie to vs, euen that hath he taken out of the way, hauing fastened it to his crosse:
15 [And] hauing spoyled all principalities & powers, hath made a shewe of them openly, triumphing ouer them in himselfe.
16 Let no man therefore iudge you in meate or in drinke, or in part of an holy day, or of the newe Moone, or of the Sabboth [dayes:]

The iii. Chapter.

1 He sheweth where we shoulde seeke Christ. 5 He exhorteth to mortification, 10 to put off the olde man, and to put on Christ.

The Epistle on Easter day. 1 IF ye then be risen with Christ, seeke those things which are aboue, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God:
a Which either serue but for a time, or els are inuented by man. 2 Set your affection on a things aboue, not on things on the earth.
3 For ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God.
4 Whensoeuer Christ which is our life shall appeare, then shall ye also appeare with him in glory.
Ephes.5.3. 5 Mortifie therefore your members which are vpon the earth: * fornication, vncleannesse, inordinate affection, euill concupiscence, and couetousnesse, which is worshipping of images:

Rom.6.4. ephes.4.25. hebr.12.1. 8 * But nowe put ye off also all wrath, fiercenesse, malitiousnesse, blasphemie, filthy communication out of your mouth.
9 Lie not one to another, seeing that ye haue put off the olde man with his workes:

14 And aboue all things [put on] charitie, which is the bond of perfectnesse.
15 And let the peace of God haue the victorie in your hearts, to the which also ye are called in one body: and see that ye be thankefull.
16 Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisedome, teaching and admonishing your owne selues, in Psalmes, and hymnes, and spirituall songes, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord.

20 Children, obey your parents in all things, for that is well pleasing vnto the Lord.

Ephes.6.5. titus 2.9. 1.pet.2.18. 22 *Seruants, obey in all things your bodily masters: not with eye seruice as men pleasers, but in singlenesse of heart, fearing God.

23 And whatsoeuer ye doe, doe it heartly, as to the Lord, and not vnto men:

24 Knowing, that of the Lorde ye shall receiue the reward of inheritance: for ye serue the Lord Christ.

25 But he that doeth wrong, shall receiue for the wrong which he hath done: *and there is no respect of persons.

The iiii. Chapter.

1 He exhorteth them to be feruent in prayer, 5 to walke wisely toward them that are not yet come to the true knowledge of Christ, 10 he saluteth them, and wisheth them all prosperitie.

1 MAsters, doe vnto your seruantes that which is iust and equall: knowing that ye also haue a master in heauen.

Ephes.5.15. 5 *Walke in wisedome toward them that are without, redeeming the time.

6 Let your speach be alway in grace, powdered with salt, to knowe howe ye ought to answere euery man.

17 And say to Archippus, Take heede to the ministerie that thou hast receiued in ỹ Lorde, that thou fulfill it.

18 The salutation by the hand of me Paul. Remember my bondes. Grace be with you, Amen.

¶ Written from Rome to the Collossians, by Tychicus and Onesimus.

The first Epistle of Saint Paul the Apostle to the Theſſalonians.

The first Chapter.

1 He thanketh God for them, that they are so stedfast in faith and good workes.

PAul and Siluanus and Timotheus, vnto the Church of ỹ Thessalonians [which is] in a God the father, and in the Lorde Jesus Christ, Grace [be] vnto you, and peace from God our father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

a For there is no Church which is not ioyned together in God.

1.Thes.1.2. 2 *We giue thankes to God alwayes for all you, making mention of you in our prayers.

3 Without ceassing calling to remembrance the worke of your faith, & labour of loue, and patient abiding in ỹ hope of our Lord Jesus Christ, in the sight of God and our father.

4 Knowing, brethren beloued, your election of God.

5 For our Gospel came not vnto you in word onely, but also in power, and in the holy Ghost, and in much certaintie, as ye knowe after what maner we were among you for your sake.

6 And ye became followers of vs, and of the Lorde, hauing receiued the worde in much affliction, affliction, with [b] ioy of the holy Ghost:

7 So that ye were an ensample to all that beleeue in Macedonia and Achaia.

8 For from you sounded out the worde of the Lorde, not onely in Macedonia and Achaia, but also in euery place your faith to Godward is spread abroade, so that we neede not to speake any thing.

9 For they themselues shew of you, what maner of entring in we had vnto you, and howe ye turned to God from [c] images, to serue the liuing and true God:

10 And to tarrie for his sonne from heauen, whom he raised from the dead, [euen] Jesus which deliuereth vs from the wrath to come.

[b] To beleeue, and to be fully perswaded to haue the giftes of the holy Ghost, and toyfully to suffer for Christes sake, are most certaine signes of our election.

[c] For images are dead things, and onely feigned fantasies.

The ii. Chapter.

1 He commendeth his diligence in preaching, 13 and theirs in obeying.

1 For ye your selues, brethren, knowe our entrance in vnto you, that it was not in [a] vaine:

2 *But euen after that we had suffered before, and were shamefully entreated as ye knowe at Philippos, we were bolde in our God, to speake vnto you the Gospell of God, in much striuing.

3 For our exhortation was not of deceite, neither of vncleannesse, neither in guile:

4 But as we were alowed of God to be put in credite with the Gospell, euē so we speake, not as pleasing men, but God, which tryeth our heartes.

5 For neither at any time vsed we flattering wordes, as ye knowe, neither cloke of couetousnesse, God [is] record,

6 Neither sought we praise of men, neither of you, nor yet of others:

7 When we might haue bene in ‖ authoritie, as the Apostles of Christ, but were tender among you, euen as a [b] nurse cherisheth her children.

8 So, being tenderly affected towarde you, our good wil was to haue dealt vnto you, not the Gospell of God onely, but also our owne soules: because ye were deare vnto vs.

9 For ye remember, brethren, our labour and trauaile: *for we labouring night and day, because we woulde not be chargeable vnto any of you, preached vnto you the Gospell of God.

10 Ye [are] witnesses, and God [also,] howe holily, & iustly, and vnblameably, we behaued our selues among [c] you that beleeue.

11 And ye know how that as a father his children, so we haue exhorted, comforted, and besought euery one of you, 12 That ye woulde walke worthie of God, *who hath called you vnto his kingdome and glory.

13 For this cause thanke we God also without ceassing, because when ye had receiued the worde of God which ye heard of vs, ye receiued it not as the word of men (but as it is in deede) the worde of God, which effectuously worketh also in you that beleeue.

14 For ye, brethren, became followers of the Churches of God, which in Jurie are in Christ Jesus: for ye also haue suffered like things of your countreymen, as they haue of the Jewes:

15 Who both killed the Lord Jesus, and their owne prophetes, and haue persecuted vs: and God they please not, and are contrarie to [d] all men:

16 And hinder vs to speake to the Gentiles, that they might be saued, to fulfil their sinnes alway. For the wrath [of God] is come on them to the vttermost.

17 Forasmuch, brethren, as we are kept from you for a short season, in person, not in heart, *we enforced the more to see you personally with great desire.

18 And therefore we woulde haue come vnto you (euen I Paul) once and againe: but Satan hindered vs.

19 For what is our hope, or ioy, or crowne of reioycing? Are [e] not ye it in ỳ presence of our Lord Jesus Christ at his comming?

20 Yea, ye are our glory and ioy.

[a] Not in outwarde shewe and in pompe, but in trauel, and in ỳ feare of God. Acts 16.22.

[c] For it is not possible to auoide the reproch of the wicked, which euer hate good doings. Ephes. 4.1.

[d] And would hinder all men from their saluation.

Rom. 1.11.

[e] Therefore I could not forget you, except I would forget my selfe.

The iii. Chapter.

2 He sheweth how greatly he was affectioned towarde them, both in that he sent Timotheus to them, 10 and also prayed for them.

1 WHerefore, since we could no longer forbeare, we thought it good to remaine at Athens alone:

2 *And sent Timotheus, our brother & minister of God, and felow labourer in the Gospell of Christ, to stablish you, and to comfort you concerning your faith:

3 That no man should be mooued in these afflictions: for ye your selues knowe that we are appointed thereunto.

4 For verily when we were with you, we told you before, ỳ we should suffer tribulation: euen as it came to passe, and [as] ye know.

5 For this cause when I [a] coulde no longer forbeare, I sent [him] to knowe your faith, least by some meanes the tempter had tempted you, and our labour had bene vaine.

6 But nowe lately when Timotheus came from you vnto vs, and brought vs good tidings of your faith and charitie, and howe that yee haue good remembrance of vs alwayes, desiring greatly to see vs, as we also [to see] you:

7 Therefore, brethren, we were comforted ouer you, in al our aduersitie and necessitie, because of your faith:

8 For nowe we [b] liue, if ye stande fast in the Lord.

9 For what thankes can we recompence to

[a] His great affection toward the smal flocke.

Acts 16.1.

[b] If ye remaine constant in faith & true doctrine, I shall reioyce that all mine afflictions be so many pictures, & shalbe restored from death to life.

God againe for you, for all the ioy wherewith we ioy for your sakes before our God,

Rom.1.10. 10 Praying night and day exceedingly to see you personally, and repaire the wantings of your faith:

11 Nowe God himselfe, and our father, and our Lorde Jesus Christ, guide our way vnto you.

12 And the Lorde increase you, and make you abounde in charitie one towarde another, and toward all men, euen as we also towarde you:

2.Cor.1.8. 13 To stablish your heartes vnblameable *in holinesse before God and our father, in the comming of our Lorde Jesus Christ with all his saintes.

The iiii. Chapter.

1 He exhorteth them to holinesse, 6 and innocencie, 9 loue, 11 labour, 13 and moderation in lamenting for the dead.

The Epistle on the ii. Sunday in Lent.

1 FUrthermore we beseeche you brethren, and exhort you by the Lord Jesus, that ye increase more and more, as ye haue receiued of vs, howe ye ought to walke and to please God.

2 For ye knowe what commandements we gaue you by the Lord Jesus.

‖ Or, sanctification. Rom.12.1. ephes.5.27. a That is, that ye should dedicate your selues wholy to God.

3 For this is the wil of God, [euen] you ‖ holinesse, *a that ye should abstaine from fornication:

4 That euery one of you should know how to possesse his vessel in holinesse and honour:

5 Not in the lust of concupiscence, euen as the Gentiles which knowe not God.

1.Cor.6.8. 6 *That no man oppresse and defraude his brother in [any] matter, because that ỹ Lord is the auenger of all such, as we also haue forewarned you, and testified.

1.Cor.1.2. 7 *For God hath not called vs vnto vncleanesse, but vnto holinesse.

8 Hee therefore that despiseth, despiseth not man, but God, who hath also giuen to you his holy spirit.

Iohn 13.34. 1.iohn 3.8. 9 *But as touching brotherly loue, ye neede not that I write vnto you: for ye are taught of God to loue one another.

10 Yea, and that thing verily ye doe vnto all the brethren, which are in all Macedonia: but we beseeche you brethren, that ye increase more and more:

11 And that ye studie to be quiet, & to doe your owne businesse, & to worke with your owne handes, as we commanded you:

12 That ye may walke honestly toward them that are without, and that ye may haue lacke of nothing.

b Ye shortly may condemne all kinde of sorrow, but that which proceedeth of infidelitie.

13 But I would not haue you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning them which sleepe, that ye b sorowe not, euen as other which haue no hope.

14 For if we beleeue that Jesus died, and rose againe, euen so them also which sleepe by Jesus, will God bring with him.

15 For this we say vnto you in the word of the Lord: that we which *liue, which remaine vnto the comming of the Lord, shall not preuent them which sleepe. 1.Cor.15.51.

16 *For the Lord himselfe shall descende from heauen in a shoute, [and] in the voyce of the Archangel, * and in the trumpe of God: and the dead in Christ shall rise first. Matth.24.31. 1.Cor.15.52.

17 Then we which liue, which remaine, shalbe caught vp together with them in the clouds, to meete the Lord in the ayre: and so shall we euer be with the Lord.

18 Wherefore, comfort your selues one another in these wordes.

The v. Chapter.

He enformeth them of the day of iudgement, and comming of the Lord.

1 BUt of the times and seasons, brethren, ye haue no neede that I write vnto you.

2 *For ye your selues knowe perfectly that the day of the Lord so commeth, euen as a thiefe in the night. Matth.24.44. 2.pet.3.10. apoc.3.3.

3 For when they shal say peace & safetie: then sudainely destruction commeth vpon them, a as sorowe vpon a woman with childe, and they shall not escape in any wise. a That is, suddenly and vnlooked for.

4 But ye, brethren, are not in darkenesse, least that day should ouertake you as a thiefe.

5 Ye are all the children of light, and the children of the day: we are not of the night, neither of darkenesse.

b Here sleepe is taken for contempt of saluation, when men continue in sinnes, and will not awake to godlinesse.

6 Therefore let vs not b sleepe, as [doe] other: but let vs watch, and be sober.

7 For they that sleepe, sleepe in the night: and they that be drunken, are drunken in the night.

8 But let vs which are of the day, be sober, *putting on the brestplate of faith and charitie, and a helmet, the hope of saluation. Esai 59.17. ephes.6.17.

9 For God hath not appointed vs to wrath: but to obteine saluation by our Lorde Jesus Christ,

10 Which died for vs, that whether we wake or sleepe, we should liue together with him.

11 Wherefore, comfort your selues together, and edifie euery one another, euen as ye doe.

12 And we beseech you, brethrē, to know them which labour among you, and haue the ouersight of you in the Lord, and admonish you:

13 That ye haue them in high reputation, in loue for their worke: and be at peace among your selues.

14 We exhort you, brethren, warne them that are vnruly, comfort the feeble minded, lift vp the weake, be patient toward all men.

15 *See that none recompence euil for euil vnto any man: but euer follow ỹ which is good, both among your selues, and to all men. Matth.5.44.

16 Re-

16 Reioyce euer.
Luke 18.1. 17 *Pray continually.

19 Quench not the spirit.
c The preaching of the word of God. 20 Despise not c prophecyings.

¶The first Epistle vnto the Thessalonians, written from Athens.

The second Epistle of Saint Paul the Apostle to the Thessalonians.

The first Chapter.

3 He thanketh God for their faith, loue, and patience. 11 He prayeth for the increase of the same, 12 and sheweth what fruite shall come thereof.

1 PAul and Siluanus, and Timotheus, vnto the Church of the Thessalonians, in God our father, & the Lorde Iesus Christ:
2 Grace vnto you, and peace from God our father, and the Lorde Iesus Christ.
1.Thes.1.2. 3 *We are bounde to thanke God alwayes for you, brethren, as it is meete, because that your faith groweth exceedingly, and the charitie of euery one of you towardes another aboundeth:
4 So that we our selues reioyce in you in the Churches of God, for your a patience and faith in all your persecutions & tribulations that ye suffer.
a Which proceedeth of your faith as a most notable fruite.
b The faithful by their afflictions, see as in a cleare glasse, the end of Gods iust iudgement, when as they shall reigne with Christ which haue suffered with him: and the wicked shall feele his extreme wrath & vengeance. 5 [Which is] a b token of ỹ righteous iudgement of God, that ye may be counted worthy of the kingdome of God, for which ye also suffer.
6 For it is a righteous thing with God, to recompence tribulation to them that trouble you:
7 And to you which are troubled, rest with vs, in the reuelation of the Lorde Iesus from heauen, with the angels of his power,
8 In flaming fire, rendring vengeance vnto them that knowe not God, and that obey not the Gospell of our Lorde Iesus Christ,
9 Which shalbe punished with euerlasting damnation from the presence of the Lorde, and from the glory of his power:
10 When he shall come to be glorified in his saints, and to be made marueilous in al them that beleeue (because our testimonie towarde you was beleeued) in that day.
11 Wherefore also we pray alwayes for you, that our God would make you worthy of the calling, and fulfill all good pleasure of goodnesse in the c worke of faith in power:
c Faith is Gods wonderfull worke in vs. 12 That the name of our Lorde Iesus Christ may be glorified in you, and ye in him, according to the grace of our God, and the Lord Iesus Christ.

The ii. Chapter.

3 He sheweth them that the day of the Lorde shall not come, till the departing of the faith come first, 9 and the kingdome of Antichrist, 15 and therefore hee exhorteth them not to be deceiued, but to stand stedfast in the things that he hath taught them.

1 WE beseeche you, brethren, by the comming of our Lorde Iesus Christ, and by our assembling vnto him,
2 That yee be not sudainely mooued from [your] minde, nor be troubled, neither by a spirit, nor by worde, nor yet by letter, as from vs, as though the day of Christ were at hand.
a As false reuelations or dreames.
Ephe.5.6. 3 *Let no man deceiue you by any meanes, for [the Lorde shall not come,] except there come a falling away first, & that that man of sinne be reuealed, the sonne of b perdition.
b Who as he destroyeth other, shalbe destroyed himselfe. 4 [Which is] an aduersarie, and is exalted aboue al ỹ is called God, or that is worshipped: so that hee as God sitteth in the temple of God, shewing himselfe that he is God.
5 Remember ye not, that when I was yet with you, I tolde you these things?
6 And now ye know what withholdeth, that he might be reuealed in his time.
7 For the mysterie of iniquitie doeth alreadie worke, onely he which now letteth [will let,] vntill he be taken out of the way.
8 And then shall that wicked bee reuealed * whom the Lorde shall consume with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy with the brightnesse of his comming: Esai 11.4.
9 [Euen, him] whose comming is after the working of Satan, in all power and signes, and wonders of lying,

10 And in all deceiueablenesse of vnrighteousnesse, in them that perish: because they receiued not the loue of the truth, that they might be saued.
11 And therefore God shall sende them strong delusion, that they should beleeue lies:
12 That all they might be damned which beleeued not the trueth, but had pleasure in vnrighteousnesse.
13 But we are bounde to giue thankes alway to God for you, brethren, beloued of the Lord, because that God hath from the beginning chosen you to saluation, in sanctifying of the spirit, and [in] faith of the trueth.
14 Whereunto he called you by our Gospell, to the obteining of the glory of the Lord Iesus Christ.
15 Therefore, brethren, stande fast, and holde the ordinances which ye haue bene taught, whether it were by our preaching, or by our Epistle.
16 Our Lorde Iesus Christ, and God of our father which hath loued vs, and hath giuen vs euerlasting consolation, and good hope in grace, 17 Comfort your heartes, and stablish you in all good saying and doing.

The iii. Chapter.

He desireth them to pray for him, that the Gospell may prosper.

Ephe.6.19. Colos.4.3.
1 FUrthermore, brethren, *pray ye for vs, that the worde of the Lorde may haue free passage, and be glorified, euen as with you:
2 And that we may bee deliuered from disordered and euill men: For all men haue not [a] faith.
a Although they boast themselues therof.
3 But the Lord is faithful, which shall stablish you, and keepe you from euil.
4 And we haue confidence in the Lord to youward, that ye both doe, and wil doe the things which we command you.
5 And the Lorde guide your heartes to the loue of God, and to the patient waiting for Christ.
6 We commaund you, brethren, in the name of our Lorde Iesus Christ, that ye withdrawe your selues from euery brother that walketh inordinately, and not after the [b] institution which he receiued of vs.
b Which is, to trauaile if he will eate.
7 For ye your selues know *how ye ought to follow vs: * For we behaued not our selues inordinately among you, 1.Cor.11.1. 1.Thess.4.11.
8 *Neither tooke wee bread of any man for nought: but wrought with labour & sweat night and day, because we woulde not be chargeable to any of you. Acts 20.34. 1.thess.2.9.
9 Not because we haue not authoritie, but to make our selues an ensample vnto you to followe vs.
10 For when we were with you, this we warned you of, that if any would not worke, the same should not eate.
11 For we heare that there are some which walke among you inordinately, working not at all, but be busibodies.
12 Them that are such, we commande, and exhort by our Lorde Iesus Christ, ỳ they working in quietnesse, eate their owne bread.
13 And ye, *brethren, be not wearie in wel doing. Galat.6.9.
14 If any man obey not our doctrine, signifie him by an Epistle, *and haue no companie with him, that he may be ashamed. Matth.18.17. 2.cor.5.9.
15 Yet count him not as an [c] enimie, but warne him as a brother.
c The ende of excommunication is, not to driue from the Church such as haue fallen, but to winne them to the Church by amendment.
16 Nowe the very Lorde of peace, giue you peace alwayes, by all meanes. The Lorde be with you all.
17 The salutation of mee Paul, with mine owne hand, which is the token in euery Epistle. So I write.
18 The grace of our Lorde Iesus Christ be with you all, Amen.

¶ The second to the Thessalonians, was written from Athens.

The first Epistle of Saint Paul the Apostle vnto Timothie.

The first Chapter.

He exhorteth Timothie to waite vpon his office, namely, to see that nothing be taught but Gods word.

1 PAul the Apostle of Iesus Christ, by the commission of God our sauiour, and Lorde Iesus Christ [which is] our hope.
Acts 16.2. a So called, because he followed the simplicitie of the Gospell.
2 Vnto *Timothie a natural [a] sonne in the faith: Grace, mercy, [and] peace frō God our father, & Iesus Christ our Lord.
3 As I besought thee to abide still at Ephesus, when I departed into Macedonia, [so doe,] that thou commaund some that they teach no other doctrine:
4 Neither giue heede to fables, and endlesse genealogies, which breede questions, more then godly edifying, which is in faith.
5 But the [b] ende of the commaundement, is charitie out of a pure heart, and of a good b Because these questionists preferred their curious fables to all other knowledge, and beautified them with the law, as if they had bene the very law of God: S. Paul sheweth that the ende of Gods law is loue, which cannot be without a good conscience, neither good conscience without faith, nor faith without the worde of God: & their doctrine, which is an occasion of contention, is worth nothing.

conscience, conscience, and of faith vnfeigned.

6 From the which things, some hauing erred, haue turned vnto vaine iangling:
7 Coueting to be doctours of the law, not vnderstanding what they speake, neither whereof they affirme.
8 But we know that the law is good, if a man vse it lawfully:
9 Knowing this, that the law is not giuen vnto a righteous man, but vnto the lawlesse and disobedient, to the vngodly, and to sinners, to vnholy, & vncleane, to murderers of fathers, and murderers of mothers, to manslears,
10 To whoremõgers, to them that defile themselues with mankinde, to manstealers, to lyers, to periured, & if there be any other thing that is contrary to wholesome doctrine:
11 According to the Gospell of the glory of the blessed God, which is committed vnto me.
12 And I thanke Christ Iesus our Lord, which hath made me strong: for hee counted mee faithfull, putting me into the ministerie, 13 Who was before a blasphemer, and an oppressour: But yet I obteined mercy, because I did it c ignorantly, in vnbeliefe.
c Not knowing that I fought against God.
14 Neuertheless, the grace of our Lorde was exceeding abundant, with faith, and loue, which is in Christ Iesus.
15 This is a faithfull saying, & by all meanes worthy to be receiued, * that Christ Iesus came into the world to saue sinners, of whom I am chiefe.
Matth.9.13. mark.2.17.
16 Notwithstanding, for this cause was mercy shewed vnto me, that in me the first, Iesus Christ might shew all long suffering, to the example of them which should beleeue on him to life euerlasting.
d Ye bursteth forth into these godly affections, considering Gods great mercy toward him.
17 d Now vnto the king euerlasting, incorruptible, inuisible, vnto God onely wise, [be] honour and glory for euer and euer. Amen.
18 This commandement commit I vnto thee sonne Timotheus, according to the prophecies which went before vpon thee, that thou in them shouldest fight a good fight:
19 Hauing faith and good conscience, which some hauing put away, as concerning faith, haue made shipwracke.
1.Cor.5.5. e Excommunicate, or cast out of the Church.
20 Of whom is * Hymeneus and Alexander, whom I haue e deliuered vnto Satan, that they may learne not to blaspheme.

The ii. Chapter.

1 Hee exhorteth to pray for all men, 4 wherefore, 8 and how. 9 As touching the apparell and modestie of women.

1 I Exhort you therefore, that first of all prayers, supplications, intercessions, and giuing of thankes be made for all men:
2 For kings, and for all that are in authoritie, that we may leade a quiet and peaceable life, in all godlinesse and honestie.
3 For that is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Sauiour,
4 Who will haue all men to be saued, and to come vnto the knowledge of the trueth.
5 For [there is] one God, and one mediatour of God and men, the man Christ Iesus:
6 Who gaue himselfe, a a raunsome for all, a testimonie in due times:
a Ye sheweth that there can be no mediatour, except he be also the redeemer.
7 * Whereunto I am ordeined a Preacher and an Apostle (I tel the trueth in Christ, and lie not) a teacher of the Gentiles in faith, and veritie.
2.Tim.1.11.
8 I will therefore that the men pray euerywhere, lifting vp holy handes without wrath and reasoning.
9 * Likewise also the women, that they aray themselues in comely apparel, with shamefastnesse and discreete behauiour, not in braided heare, either golde, or pearles, or costly aray:
2.Pet.3.1.
10 But (that becommeth women professing godlinesse) through good workes.
11 * Let the woman learne in silence with all subiection.
1.Cor.14.34.
12 But I suffer not a woman to teach, neither to vsurpe authoritie ouer the man, but to be in silence.
13 * For Adam was first fourmed, then Eue.
Gene.1.27.
14 And Adã was not deceiued, * but the womã being deceiued, was b in the transgression.
Gene.3.6. b That is, giltie of the trãsgression.
15 Notwithstanding, through bearing of children she shalbe saued, if they continue in faith and charitie, and holinesse, with modestie.

The iii. Chapter.

2 He declareth what is the office of Ministers, 11 and as touching their families. 15 The dignitie of the Church, 16 and the principall point of the heauenly doctrine.

1 [T]His is a faithfull saying: If a man desire the office of a Bishop, he desireth a good worke.
2 * A Bishop therefore must be blamelesse, the husband of one wife, watching, sober, comely appareled, a louer of hospitalitie, apt to teach,
Tit.1.6.
3 Not giuen to ouermuch wine, no striker, not greedie of filthy lucre: but gentle, abhorring fighting, abhorring couetousnesse:
4 One that ruleth well his owne house, hauing children in subiection with all grauitie.
5 (For if a man knowe not to rule his owne house, howe shall he care for the Church of God?)
6 Not a yong scholler, least he, being puffed vp, a fall into the condemnation of the deuil.
a least being proude of his degree, be be likewise condemned as the deuill was for lifting vp himselfe by pride.
7 Hee must also haue a good report of them which are without, least he fal into the rebuke and snare of the deuill.
8 Likewise must the ‖ ministers be graue, not double tongued, not giuen to much wine, neither greedy of filthy lucre:
‖ Or, deacons.

b Hauing the true doctrine of the Gospell, and the feare of God.

9 b Holding the mysterie of the faith in a pure conscience.
10 And let them first be proued, then let them minister, being blameless.
11 Euen so must their wiues be graue, not euil speakers, sober, faithfull in all things.
12 Let the deacons be the husbandes of one wife, and such as can rule their children wel, and their owne households.
13 For they ẏ haue ministred well, get themselues a good degree, & great liberty to speake in the faith [which is] in Christ Iesus.
14 These things write I vnto thee, hoping to come shortly vnto thee:
15 But if I tarry long, that thou maiest know how thou oughtest to behaue thy selfe in the house of God, which is the Church of the liuing God, the pillar & ‖ ground of the trueth.
16 And without doubt, great is that mysterie of godlinesse: God was shewed manifestly in the flesh, was iustified in the spirit, was seene among the angels, was preached vnto the Gentiles, was beleeued on in the world, and was receiued vp in glory.

‖ Or, stay.

The iiii. Chapter.

2 Hee teacheth him what doctrine he ought to flee, 6. 8. 11 and what to follow, 15 and wherin he ought to exercise himselfe continually.

1 NOwe the spirit speaketh euidently, that * in the latter times some shal depart from the faith, giuing heede vnto spirites of errour, and doctrines of deuils,

2. Tim. 3. 13. 1. pet. 2. 3. iude. 1. 18.

2 Which speake false in hypocrisie, hauing their a conscience seared with an hot iron:
3 Forbidding to marrie, [and commãding] to abstaine from meates which God hath created to be receiued with giuing thankes, of thẽ which beleeue and know the trueth.
4 For euery creature of God [is] good, and nothing to be refused, if it be receiued with thankesgiuing.
5 For it is sanctified by the word of God, and prayer.
6 If thou put the brethren in remembrance of these things, thou shalt be a good minister of Iesus Christ, which hast bene nourished vp in the words of faith, and of good doctrine, which thou hast continually followed.
7 *But cast away prophane and olde wiues fables, and exercise thy selfe rather vnto godlinesse:
8 For bodily exercise profiteth litle, but godlinesse is profitable vnto all things, hauing promises of the life that is nowe, and of that which is to come.
9 [This is] a sure saying, and by all meanes worthy to be receiued:
10 For therefore we both labour, and suffer reproke, because we haue hoped in the liuing God, who is the Sauiour of all men, specially of those that beleeue.

a Their dull consciences, first waxed hard, then after, canker and corruption bred therein: last of all, it was burnt off with an hot iron, so that he meaneth such as haue no conscience, Ephes 4.

1. Tim. 2. 13. titus 3. 9.

11 These things command and teach.
12 Let no man despise thy youth: but be thou a paterne of the beleeuers, in word, in conuersation, in charitie, in spirit, in faith, in chastitie.
13 Till I come, giue attendance to reading, to exhortation, to doctrine.
14 Despise not the gift that is in thee, which was giuen thee b through prophecie, with the laying on of handes, by the authoritie of the eldership.
15 Haue a care of these things, and giue thy selfe vnto them, that it may be seene howe thou profitest in all things.
16 Take heede vnto thy selfe, and vnto doctrine, and continue therein: for in doing this, thou shalt both c saue thy selfe, and them that heare thee.

b A reuelation of the holy Ghost.

c Thou shalt faithfully doe thy duetie, which is an assurance of thy saluation.

The v. Chapter.

1 He teacheth him how he shall behaue himselfe in rebuking all degrees. 3 An order concerning widowes.

1 REbuke not an Elder, but exhort him as a father, the yonger men as brethren:
2 The elder women as mothers, the yonger as sisters, in all chastitie.
3 Honour widowes, which are widowes in deede.
4 But if any widowe haue children or nephues, let them learne first to rule their owne houses godly, and to recompence also their elder kinsfolkes: for that is good and acceptable before God.
5 And she that is a widowe a in deede, and left alone, hopeth in God, and continueth in supplications and prayers night and day.
6 But she that liueth in pleasure, is dead, being aliue.
7 And these things commande, that they may be blamelesse.
8 But if any prouide not for his owne, and specially for them of his household, he hath denied the faith, and is worse then an infidel.
9 Let not a widow be chosen vnder threescore yeeres old, hauing bene the wife of one man,
10 And well reported of in good workes, if she haue brought vp children, if she haue lodged strangers, if she haue washed the Saintes feete, if she haue ‖ ministred vnto them that were in aduersitie, if she haue bene continually giuen to euery good worke.
11 But the yonger widowes refuse, for when they haue begun to waxe wanton against Christ, they will marrie:
12 Hauing damnation, because they haue cast away their first faith.
13 They learne to wander about from house to house idle, yea not idle onely, but also tatlers and busibodies, speaking things that are not comely.
14 I will therefore that the yonger women doe marry, a Which hath no maner of worldly meanes to helpe her selfe with.

‖ Or, holpen them.

marry, to beare children, to guide the house, to giue none occasion to the aduersary to speake slanderously.

15 For certaine of thē are already turned backe after Satan.

16 If any man or woman that beleeueth haue widowes, let them sustaine them, and let not the church bee charged, that it may sustaine them that are widowes in deed.

17 The elders that rule well, let them be counted worthy of double honour, most specially they which labour in the worde and teaching.

Deut.25.4. 18 For the scripture saieth, * Thou shalt not muosel the oxe that treadeth out the corne: &, Matt.10.10. * The labourer is worthy of his reward.

19 Against an elder receiue none accusation, but vnder two or three witnesses.

20 Them that sinne, rebuke before all, that other also may feare.

21 I testifie before God, and the Lord Iesus Christ, and the elect angels, that thou obserue these things without hastines of iudgement, and do nothing after parcialitie.

22 Lay hands suddainly on no man, neither bee partaker of other mens sinnes. Keepe thy selfe chaste.

23 Drinke no longer water: but vse a litle wine for thy stomackes sake, and thine often diseases.

b Their sinnes folow, which for a time haue deceiued the godly, and after are detected, as Saul, Iudas, and other hypocrites.

24 Some mens sinnes are open before hand, hasting before vnto iudgement, and in some b they follow after.

25 Likewise also good workes are manifest before hand, and they that are otherwise, cannot be hid.

The vi. Chapter.

1 The duetie of seruants toward their masters. 3 against such as are not satisfied with the word of God.

1 LEt as many seruants as are vnder the yoke, count their masters worthy of all honour, that the name of God and his doctrine be not blasphemed.

2 And they which haue beleeuing masters, let them not despise them, because they are brethren, but rather let them doe seruice, for as much as they are beleeuing and beloued, and partakers of the a benefite: These things teach and exhort.

a That is, the grace of God.

3 If any man teach otherwise, and consenteth not vnto the wholesome wordes of our Lord Iesus Christ, and to the doctrine which is according to godlinesse:

4 He is puft vp, knowing nothing, but doting about * questions, and strifes of words, whereof commeth enuy, strife, railings, euil surmisings, Chap. 1.4.

5 Vaine disputatiōs of men of corrupt minds, destitute of the trueth, thinking lucre to bee godlinesse: From such be thou separate.

6 Godlinesse is great lucre, if a man bee content with that he hath.

7 * For we brought nothing into the world, & it is certaine that we may cary nought away. Iob 1.21.

8 But hauing foode & raiment, we must therewith be content.

9 For they b that will be rich fall into temptation and snares, and into many foolish & noisome lustes, which drowne men in perdition and destruction.

b That set their felicitie in riches.

10 For loue of money is the roote of all euill, which while some lusted after, they ‖ erred from the faith, & c pierced themselues through with many sorowes.

‖ Or, haue missed the marke concerning the faith.

c For they are quiet, neither in soule nor body.

11 But thou, O man of God, flee these things, and follow after righteousnesse, godlinesse, faith, loue, patience, meekenesse.

12 Fight the good fight of faith, lay hand on eternall life, whereunto thou art also called, and hast professed a good profession before many witnesses.

13 I giue thee charge in the sight of God, who quickeneth all things, & before Iesus Christ, * which vnder Pontius Pilate witnessed a good profession, Matt.27.11. ioh.18.37.

14 That thou keepe the commandement without spot, vnrebukeable, vntill the appearing of our Lord Iesus Christ:

15 * Which in his times hee shall shew that is blessed and prince onely, d the king of kings, and lord of lordes. Apoc.17.14.

d By this mightie power of God, the faithfull are admonished boldly to stand in their vocation, although the world, Satan, and hell, rage against them.

16 Who onely hath immortalitie, dwelling in the light that no man can attaine vnto, whom no mā hath seene, neither can see, vnto whom be honour and power euerlasting, Amen.

17 Charge them which are rich e in this world, that they bee not high minded, nor * trust in vncertaine riches, but in the liuing God (which giueth vs aboundantly all things to enioy:)

e In things pertaining to this life. Matt.4.19. luke.12.15.

18 That they do good, that they be rich in good workes, that they be ready to giue, glad to distribute:

19 * Laying vp in store for themselues a good foundation against the time to come, that they may lay hold on eternall life. Matt.6.20.

20 O Timotheus, saue f that which is giuen thee to keepe, auoiding prophane [and] vaine babblings, and g oppositions of science, falsly so called:

f The gifts of God for the vtilitie of the church.

g As when question engendereth question.

21 Which some professing, haue erred concerning the faith. Grace [be] with thee, Amen.

The second Epistle of Saint Paul to Timothie.

The first Chapter.

Paul exhorteth Timotheus to stedfastnesse and patience in persecution, and to continue in the doctrine that he had taught him.

1 PAul an Apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, [a] according to the promise of life, which is in Christ Jesus, a Being sent of God to preach that life which he had promised in Christ Jesus.

2 To Timothie my dearely beloued sonne: grace, mercy, and peace from God the father, and Christ Jesus our Lord.

Act.22.3. 3 I thanke God, *whom I worship frō [my] forefathers in pure conscience, that without ceasing I haue remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day,

4 Greatly desiring to see thee, being mindful of thy teares, that I may be filled with ioy.

5 When I call to remembrance the vnfained faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and in thy mother Eunica, and I am assured that [it dwelleth] in thee also.

b The gift of God, is a certaine liuely flame, kindled in our hearts, which Satan and the flesh labour to quench, and therefore we must nourish it, and stirre it vp, Rom.1.

6 Wherefore I put thee in remembrance that thou [b] stirre vp the gift of God, which is in thee, by the putting on of my hands.

7 For God hath not giuen to vs the spirite of feare, but of power, and of loue, and of a sound minde.

8 Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimonie of our Lord, neither of mee his prisoner, but suffer thou aduersitie with the Gospel, according to the power of God,

1.Cor.1.1. 9 Who hath *saued vs, and called vs with an holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his owne purpose and grace, which was giuen vs in Christ Jesus, *before the world began:

Rom.16.25. 10 But is now made manifest by the appearing of our sauiour Jesus Christ, who hath put away death, and hath brought life & immortalitie vnto light through the Gospel:

1.Tim.2.7. 11 *Whereunto I am appointed a preacher, & an Apostle, and a teacher of the Gentiles.

12 For the which cause I also suffer these things, neuertheless, I am not ashamed, for I know whom I haue beleeued, and I am perswaded that he is able to keepe that which I haue committed to him against that day.

13 See thou haue the paterne of wholesome words, which thou hast heard of mee in faith and loue, [that is] in Christ Jesus.

c The grace of the holy ghost. 14 That [c] good thing which was committed to thy keeping, hold fast through the holy Ghost which dwelleth in vs.

15 This thou knowest, that all they which are in Asia bee ‖ turned from me, of whom are Phygellus and Hermogenes. ‖ Or, abhorred me.

16 The Lord giue mercy vnto the house of Onesiphorus, for he oft refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my chaine.

17 But when he was in Rome, he sought mee out very diligently, and found me.

18 The Lord graunt vnto him that hee may finde mercy with the Lord in that day: And in how many things he ministred vnto me at Ephesus, thou knowest very well.

The ii. Chapter.

He exhorteth him to bee constant in trouble, to suffer manly, to abide fast in the wholesome doctrine of our Lord Iesus Christ.

1 THou therefore my sonne, be strong in the grace that is in Christ Jesus.

2 And the things that thou hast heard of me by many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithfull men, which shall be apt to teach other also.

3 Thou therefore suffer afflictions as a good souldiour of Jesus Christ.

4 No man that warreth, entangleth himselfe with the affaires of [this] life, that hee may please him which hath chosen him to bee a souldiour.

5 And if a mā also wrestle, yet is he not crowned, except he wrestle lawfully.

6 The labouring husbandman [a] must first be partaker of the fruits. a So that the paine must go before the recompence.

7 Consider what I say: & the Lord giue thee vnderstanding in all things.

8 Remember that Jesus Christ, of the seed of Dauid, was raised from the dead, according to my Gospel:

9 Wherein I suffer trouble as an euill doer, euen vnto bonds: but the word of God is not bound.

10 Therefore I suffer all things for the elects sakes, that they might also obtaine the saluation which is in Christ Jesus, with eternall glory.

11 [It is] a faithful saying: *for if we be dead with him, we shall also liue [with him:] Rom.6.5.

12 If we be patient, we shall also reigne [with him:] * If we deny him, he also shal deny vs. Matt.10.33. mar.6.38.

13 * If we be vnfaithfull, he abideth faithfull, Rom.3.3. he cannot deny himselfe.

14 Of these things put them in remembrance, testifie before the Lord, that they striue not about words to no profite, [but] to the peruerting of the hearers.

15 Study to shew thy selfe approoued vnto God, a workeman not to be ashamed, rightly diuiding the word of trueth.

16 But prophane voices of vanitie passe ouer: for for they will increaſe vnto greater vngodlineſſe.

17 And their word ſhal fret as doeth a canker: of whom is Hymeneus and Philetus.

‖ Or, miſſed the marke.

18 Which about the trueth haue ‖ erred, ſaying that the reſurrection is paſt already, and do ouerthrow the faith of ſome.

b Ye groundeth vpon Gods election and mans faith.

19 But the ſtrong foundation of God ſtandeth ſtill, hauing this ſeale, b The Lord knoweth them that are his: and, Let euery one that nameth the name of Chriſt, depart frō iniquitie.

20 But in a great houſe are not onely veſſels of gold, & of ſiluer, but alſo of wood & of earth: ſome to honour, and ſome to diſhonour.

21 If a man therefore purge himſelfe frō theſe, he ſhal be a veſſell ſanctified vnto honour, and meete for the vſes of the Lord, and prepared vnto euery good worke.

2. Cor. 1. 2.

22 Luſtes of youth auoid: but follow righteouſnes, faith, charitie, peace, *with them that call on the Lord out of a pure heart.

1. Tim. 1. 4.

23 *But fooliſh and vnlearned queſtions put from thee, knowing that they doe but gender ſtrife.

c Ye meaneth not this of Apoſtates or heretikes, whom he willeth to flee: but of them onely which as yet are not come to the knowledge of the trueth, and fal through ignorance.

24 And the ſeruant of the Lord muſt not ſtriue: but be gentle vnto all men, apt to teach, ſuffering euill.

‖ Or, held aliue.

25 In meekeneſſe inſtructing them which are c contrary minded, if God at any time will giue them repentance, to the knowledge of the trueth:

26 And that they may come to themſelues againe, out of the ſnare of the deuil, which are ‖ taken captiue of him at his will.

The iii. Chapter.

1 He prophecieth of the perilous times, 16 alſo what profite commeth of the ſcriptures.

1. Tim. 4. 1. 1. pet. 1. 3. iude 1. 18.

1 THis know alſo, that *in the laſt dayes perilous times ſhalbe at hand.

2 For men ſhalbe louers of their owne ſelues, couetous, boaſters, proud, blaſphemers, diſobedient to parents, vnthankful, vngodly:

3 Without natural affection, trucebreakers, falſe accuſers, riotous, fierce, deſpiſers of thē which are good:

4 Traitours, heady, high minded, louers of pleaſures more then louers of God:

5 Hauing a forme of godlineſſe, but denying the power thereof: Turne away from theſe.

6 Theſe are they which enter into houſes, and leade captiue [ſimple] women laden with ſinne, carried with diuers luſtes:

7 Euer learning, & neuer able to come vnto the knowledge of the trueth:

Exod. 7. 11.

8 * For as Jannes and Jambres withſtoode Moſes, ſo do theſe alſo reſiſt the trueth: Men of a corrupt mindes, reprobate concerning the faith:

a Which can iudge nothing aright.

9 But they ſhal preuaile no longer. For their madneſſe ſhall be manifeſt vnto all [men] as alſo theirs was.

10 But thou haſt followed my doctrine, faſhion of liuing, b purpoſe, faith, long ſuffering, charitie, patience, b Not onely what I taught and did, but alſo what my will and mind was.

11 Perſecutions, afflictions, which came vnto me at Antioch, at Iconium, at Lyſtra, which perſecutions I ſuffered patiently: and from them all, the Lord deliuered me.

12 Yea, and all that will liue godly in Chriſt Jeſus, ſhall ſuffer perſecution.

13 But the euill men and deceiuers, ſhall waxe worſe and worſe, deceiuing, and being deceiued.

‖ Or, wherein alſo thou haſt bene confirmed and perſwaded.

14 But continue thou in the things which thou haſt learned, ‖ which alſo were committed vnto thee, knowing of whom thou haſt learned [them:]

15 And that from an infant thou haſt knowen the ſcriptures, which are able to make thee wiſe vnto ſaluation, through faith which is in Chriſt Jeſus.

2. Pet. 1. 20.

16 * All ſcripture [is] giuen by inſpiration of God, and [is] profitable to doctrine, to reproue, to correction, to inſtruction which is in righteouſneſſe, c Which is content to be gouerned by Gods word.

17 That the c man of God may be perfect, inſtructed vnto all good workes.

The iiii. Chapter.

He exhorteth Timotheus to be feruent in the word, and to ſuffer aduerſitie.

1 I Teſtifie therefore before God, & the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, which ſhall iudge the quicke and ỹ dead at his appearing, and his kingdome:

a Leaue none occaſion to preach, and to profite.

2 Preach the word, be a inſtant in ſeaſon, out of ſeaſon, improoue, rebuke, exhort in all long ſuffering and doctrine.

3 For the time will come, when they ſhal not ſuffer wholeſome doctrine: but after their owne luſtes, ſhall they whoſe eares itche, get them an heape of teachers:

4 And ſhal turne away their hearing from the trueth, and ſhalbe turned vnto fables.

The Epiſtle on S. Luke the Euangeliſts day.

5 But watch thou in all things, ſuffer afflictions, doe the worke of an Euangeliſt, fulfill thy miniſterie:

6 For I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my diſſolution is at hand.

7 I haue fought a good fight, I haue fulfilled [my] courſe, I haue kept the faith.

8 Henceforth there is laid vp for me a crowne of righteouſneſſe, which the Lord the righteous iudge ſhall giue mee at that day: not to me onely, but vnto them alſo that haue loued his appearing.

9 Do thy diligence to come ſhortly vnto me.

1. Col. 4. 9.

10 For Demas hath forſaken me, hauing loued this preſent world, & is departed vnto Theſſalonica, Creſcens to Galatia, Titus vnto Dalmatia.

b Hereby it is manifeſt that Peter as yet was not at Rome, and if euer he were there, it is vncertain.

11 *b Onely Luke is with me. Taking Marke, bring bring him with thee, for he is profitable vnto me for the ministration.

12 And Tychicus haue I sent to Ephesus.

13 The cloke that I left at Troas with Carpus, when thou comest, bring [with thee,] and the bookes, but specially the parchments.

14 Alexander the coppersmith shewed me much euil: the Lord [c] reward him according to his deedes:

c For Paul sawe in him manifest signs of reprobation.

15 Of whom be thou ware also: for hee hath greatly withstand our preaching.

16 At my first answering no man assisted mee, but all forsooke me: [I pray God] that it may not be laid to their charges.

17 Notwithstanding the Lord assisted me, and strengthened me, that by me the preaching should bee fulfilled to the vttermost, and that all the Gentiles should heare, and I was deliuered out of the mouth of the Lion.

18 And the Lord shall deliuer mee from euery [d] euil worke, and wil preserue me vnto his heauenly kingdome: to whom [bee] prayse for euer and euer, Amen.

d That I commit nothing vnworthy mine office.

19 Salute Prisca and Aquila, and the household of * Onesiphorus.

Tit. 1. 16.

20 Erastus abode at Corinthum: but Trophimus haue I left at Miletum sicke.

21 Doe thy diligence to come before winter. Eubolus greeteth thee, and Pudens, and Linus, and Claudia, and all the brethren.

22 The Lord Jesus Christ [be] with thy spirit: Grace be with you, Amen.

¶ The second Epistle vnto Timotheus ordained the first bishop of the church of the Ephesians, was written from Rome, whē Paul was presented the second time vnto the Emperour Nero.

The Epistle of Saint Paul vnto Titus.

The first Chapter.

5 He aduertiseth Titus touching the gouernment of the church. 7 The ordinance and office of ministers. 21 The nature of the Cretians, and of them which sowe abroad Iewish fables, and inuentions of men.

1 PAul a seruant of God, & an Apostle of Jesus Christ, according to the [a] faith of Gods elect, & the knowledge of the trueth, which is after godlinesse:

a That is, to preache the faith, to increase their knowledge, to teache them to liue godly, that at length they may obtaine eternall life. Rom. 16. 25.

2 In the hope of eternal life, which God that cannot lie, *promised before the world began:

3 But hath made manifest his word at ỳ time appointed through preaching, which is committed vnto me according to the ordinance of God our Sauiour:

b In respect of faith, which was common to them both, so that hereby they are brethren: but in respect of the ministerye, Paul begate him as his sonne in faith. 2. Tim. 3. 2.

4 To Titus a natural [b] sonne after the common faith, Grace, mercy, [and] peace from God the father, and the Lord Jesus Christ our Sauiour.

5 For this cause left I thee in Creta, ỳ thou shouldst reforme the things that are left, and ordaine elders in euery citie, as I had appointed thee.

6 *If any be blamelesse, the husband of one wife, hauing faithfull children, not accusable of riot, or vntractable.

7 For a bishop must be blamelesse, as ỳ steward of God: not stubborne, not angry, not giuen to wine, no striker, not giuen to filthie lucre:

8 But a louer of hospitalitie, a louer of goodnesse, sober, righteous, godly, temperate:

9 Holding fast the faithfull word which is according to doctrine, that he may be able both to exhort in wholesome doctrine, and to improoue them that say against it.

10 For there are many vnruly and vayne talkers, and deceiuers of mindes, specially they [that are] of the [c] circumcision:

c Which were not onely the Iewes, but also the Hebionites and Cherinthians, heretikes, which taught that the lawe must be ioyned with Christ.

11 Whose mouthes must bee stopped, which subuert whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, for filthy lucre sake.

12 One of themselues, [euen] a Prophet of their owne, said, The Cretians [are] alway liars, euil beasts, slowe bellies.

13 This witnesse is true: wherefore rebuke them sharply, that they may be sound in the faith, 14 * Not taking heede to Iewes fables, and commandements of men, turning from the trueth. 2. Ti. 1. 4.

15 *Unto the pure [are] all things pure: but vnto them that are defiled and vnbeleeuing, [is] nothing pure, but euen the minde & conscience of them is defiled. Rom. 14. 20.

16 They confesse that they know God: but with workes they deny him, seeing they are abominable and disobedient, and vnto euery good worke reprobate.

The ii. Chapter.

1 He commendeth vnto him the wholesome doctrine, and telleth him how he shall teach all degrees to behaue themselues, 11 through the benefite of the grace of Christ.

1 BUt speake thou the things which become [a] wholesome doctrine.

a Wherewith our soules are fed and maintained in health.

2 That the elder men bee watching, graue, sober, sound in faith, in charitie, in patience:

3 The elder women likewise, that [they be] in such behauiour as becommeth holinesse, not false accusers, not giuen to much wine, teachers teachers of good things:

4 That they may make the yong women ſober minded, to loue their huſbands, to loue their children.

b Not running to and fro without neceſſary occaſions, which is a ſigne of lightneſſe.

5 [To be] diſcreete, chaſte, b houſekeepers, good, * obedient vnto their owne huſbands, that the word of God be not blaſphemed.

6 Yong men likewiſe exhort, to bee ſober minded:

14 Which gaue himſelfe for vs, that he might redeeme vs from all vnrighteouſneſſe, and purge vs a peculiar people vnto himſelfe, zelous of good workes.

15 Theſe things ſpeake and exhort, and rebuke with all authoritie: Let no man deſpiſe thee.

5 He reioiceth to heare of the loue and faith of Philemon, 9 whom he deſireth to forgiue his ſeruant Oneſimus, and louingly to receiue him againe.

1 PAul a priſoner of Jeſus Chriſt, and brother Timotheus, vnto Philemon my dearely beloued, and our fellow labourer,

2 And to our dearely beloued Apphia, and to Archippus our fellow ſouldier, and to the Church in thy houſe:

1.Cor.1.3. 2.cor.1.3. gal.1.3.

3 * Grace to you, and peace from God our father, and the Lord Jeſus Chriſt.

4 I thanke my God, making mention alwayes of thee in my prayers, a Thy benenolence towardes the ſaintes, whiche proceadeth of a liuely and effectuall faith.

5 Hearing of thy loue and faith which thou haſt toward the Lord Jeſus, and toward all ſaintes:

effectuall in the knowledge of euery good [worke] which is in you toward Christ Iesus.

7 For we haue great ioy and consolation in thy loue, because the bowels [b] of the saintes are refreshed by thee, brother.

b Meaning, their inwarde partes and affections were through his charitie comforted.

8 Wherefore, though I might be much bold in Christ, to enioyne thee that which is conuenient,

9 Yet for loues sake, I rather beseech thee, being such a one as Paul the aged, and now also a prisoner of Iesus Christ,

Colloss. 4.9. 10 I beseech thee for my sonne * Onesimus, whom I haue begotten in my bonds:

11 Which in time passed was to thee vnprofitable, but now profitable to thee and to me,

12 Whom I haue sent againe: thou therefore receiue him, that is, mine owne bowels,

13 Whom I would haue retained with mee, that in thy stead he might haue ministred vnto me in the bonds of the Gospell:

14 But without thy minde would I doe nothing, that thy benefite should not bee as it were of necessitie, but willingly.

15 For haply hee therefore departed for a season, that thou shouldst receiue him for euer:

16 Not now as a seruant, but aboue a seruant, a brother beloued, specially to me: but how much more vnto thee, both in the flesh, and in the Lord?

17 If thou count me therefore a fellow, receiue him as my selfe.

18 If hee haue iniured thee, or oweth [thee ought] that lay to my charge.

19 I Paul haue written it with mine owne hand, I will recompence it: albeit, I doe not say to thee how thou owest vnto me euē thine owne selfe besides.

20 Yea, brother, let me enioy [this] ‖ pleasure of thee in the Lord: comfort my [c] bowels in the Lord.

‖ Or, fruit.

c Graunt me this benefite, which shalbe most acceptable vnto me of all other.

21 Trusting in thine obedience, I wrote vnto thee, knowing that thou wilt also doe more then I say.

22 Moreouer, prepare me also a lodging: for I trust that through your prayers I shall be giuen vnto you.

23 There salute thee Epaphras my fellow prisoner [d] in Christ Iesus, d That is, for Christes cause.

7 And vnto the angels he saieth, * He maketh his angels [c] spirits, and his ministers a flame of fire:

Pſal. 104.4. c He compareth the angels to ꝑ windes, which are here beneath as Gods messengers.

8 But vnto the sonne [he saieth,] Thy seate, O God, [shal be] for euer and euer: the scepter of thy kingdome [is] a scepter of righteousnesse, 9 Thou hast loued righteousnesse, and hated iniquitie: therefore God, euen thy God, hath anointed thee with the oyle of gladnesse aboue thy fellowes.

10 * And, thou Lord, in the beginning hast layd the foundation of the earth, and the heauens are the works of thy hands:

Pſal. 102.26.

11 They shall perish, but thou endurest: & they all shall waxe old as doth a garment, 12 And as a vesture shalt thou fold them vp, & they shall be changed: but thou art the same, and thy yeeres shall not faile.

13 But vnto which of the angels said he at any time, * Sit on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footestoole?

Pſal. 110.1. 1.cor. 15.25.

14 Are they not all ministring spirites, sent foorth into ministerie for their sakes which shalbe heires of saluation?

The ii. Chapter.

He exhorteth vs to be obedient vnto the new law, which Christ hath giuen vs.

1 WHerefore wee ought to giue the more earnest heede to the things which we haue heard: lest at any [a]time we should let them slip.

a We must diligently keepe in memory, the doctrine which we haue learned, least like vessels full of chops, we leake and run out on euery part.

2 For if the [b]worde spoken by angels, was stedfast, & euery transgression and disobediēce receiued a iust recompence of reward:

b As the Gospel is, which onely offereth saluation. Mar.16.20.

3 How shall we escape if we neglect so great saluation: which at the first began to be preached of the Lord, and was confirmed vnto vs ward by them that heard it,

4 *God bearing witnesse [thereto] both with signes and wonders also, & with diuers powers, and gifts of the holy Ghost, according to his owne will.

5 For vnto the angels hath he not put in subiectiō the world to come, whereof we speake.

6 But one in a certaine place witnessed, saying, *What is man, that thou art mindfull of him: or the sonne of man, that thou visitest him?

Psal.8.5.

7 Thou madest him for a litle while lower thē the angels, thou hast crowned him with [c]glory and honour, and *hast set him aboue the works of thy hands.

c In making him fellow heire with Christ. 1.Cor.15.27.

8 Thou hast put all things in subiection vnder his feete. In that he put all things vnder him, he left nothing that is not put vnder him. But now we see not yet all things put vnder him.

Phil.2.8.

9 *But him that for a while was made lesse then the angels, we see [that it was] Iesus, who through the suffring of death, was crowned with glory and honour, that he by ỹ grace of God, should taste of death for all.

10 For it became him, for whom are al things, and by whom are all things, after hee had brought many sonnes vnto glory, ỹ he should make the captaine of their saluation perfect through afflictions.

11 For both he that sanctifieth, and they which are sanctified [are] al of one: for which cause, he is not ashamed to call them brethren,

Psal.22.23.

12 Saying, *I will declare thy name vnto my brethren, in the middest of the church will I prayse thee.

13 And againe, I wil put my trust in him. And againe, Behold here am I, and the children which God hath giuen me.

14 Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himselfe likewise tooke part with them, *that through death, he might destroy him that had lordship ouer death, that is, the deuil:

Osee.13.14. 1.cor.15.54.

15 And that hee might deliuer them which through feare of death, were all their life time in danger of bondage.

d Not the nature of angels, but of men.

16 For he in no place taketh on him the [d] angels: but the seede of Abraham taketh he on him.

17 Wherefore in all things it became him to be made like vnto his brethren, that he might bee mercifull, and a faithfull high priest in things concerning God, for to purge the peoples sinnes.

18 For in that hee himselfe suffered, and was tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted.

The iii. Chapter.

1 He requireth them to bee obedient vnto the word of Christ, 3 who is more worthy then Moses.

1 THerefore holy brethren, partakers of the celestiall calling, [a]consider the Apostle and high priest of our profession Christ Iesus, a Take heede to his wordes, and heare him.

2 Being faithfull to him that appointed him, as also *Moses [was faithfull] in all his house.

Num.12.7.

3 For this [man] was counted worthy of more glory then Moses, in as much as hee which hath builded the house, hath more honour then the house.

4 For euery house is builded of some man, but he that builded all things, is God.

5 And Moses verily was faithfull in all his house, as a seruant, for a witnesse of those things which were to be spoken after:

6 But Christ as a sonne hath rule ouer his owne house: [b]whose house are we, if we hold fast the confidence and the reioycing of that hope vnto the end.

b For in obeying the sonne, we are made the house of God.

7 Wherefore, as the holy Ghost saieth, *To day if ye will heare his voyce,

Psal.95.8.

8 Harden not your hearts, as in the prouocation in the day of temptation in the wildernesse:

9 Where your fathers tempted mee, prooued me, and saw my workes fourtie yeeres.

10 Wherefore I was grieued with this generation, and said, They do alway erre in heart, they verily haue not knowen my wayes.

11 So that I sware in my wrath, [c]If they shal enter into my rest.

c Here note the Hebrew phrase, meaning that they shal not enter.

12 Take heede brethren, least at any time there be in any of you an euil heart of vnbeliefe, to depart from the liuing God:

13 But exhort ye one another daily, while it is called to day: least any of you bee hardened through the deceitfulnesse of sinne.

14 For we are made partakers of Christ, if we keepe sure vnto the ende [d]the beginning of the substance.

d Which is, by faith to imbrace and hold fast the true doctrine of Iesus Christ.

15 ‖So lōg as it is said, *To day if ye wil heare his voyce, harden not your hearts, as in the prouocation.

‖ Or, while. Psal.95.8. The Lord.

16 For some whē they had heard, did prouoke ‖: howbeit, not all that came out of Egypt by Moses.

17 But with whom was he displeased fourtie yeeres:

peeres?: Not with them that had sinned, whose carkeises fell in the desart?

18 And to whom sware he that they should not enter into his rest, but vnto them that were not obedient?

19 And we see that they could not enter in, because of vnbeliefe.

The iiii. Chapter.

2 The word without faith is vnprofitable. 3 The Sabboth or rest of the Christians. 6 Punishment of vnbeleeuers. 12 The nature of the word of God.

1 LEt vs feare therefore, least at any time by forsaking the promise of entring into his rest, any of you should seeme to bee defrauded.

2 For vnto vs was the Gospell preached, as well as vnto them: but the word which they heard, did not profite them, not being coupled with faith to them that heard.

3 For we which haue beleeued, doe enter into his rest, as he said, * Euen as I haue sworne in my wrath, if [a] they shal enter into my rest: although the workes were made perfect from the foundation of the world.

Psal.95.11.

a Although that God by his rest after the creation of his workes, signified the spiritual rest of the faithful: yet he sware to giue rest in Chanaan, which was but a figure of the heauenly rest, and dured but for a time. Gen.2.3.

4 For he spake in a certaine place of the seuenth day on this wise: * And God did rest the seuenth day from all his workes.

5 And in this place againe, If they shal enter into my rest.

6 Seeing therefore it followeth that some must enter thereinto, and they to whom the Gospel was first preached entred not therein for vnbeliefe.

Psal.95.8.

7 Againe, he appointeth a certaine day, by to day, saying in Dauid after so long a time, (as it is said) * To day if ye will heare his voyce, harden not your hearts.

b By Jesus, is meant Josua.

8 For if [b] Jesus had giuen them rest, then would he not afterward haue spoken of another day.

9 There remaineth therefore yet a rest to the people of God.

10 For he that is entred into his rest, hath ceassed also from his owne workes, as God [did] from his.

11 Let vs study therefore to enter into that rest, least any man fall ‖ after the same example of disobedience.

‖ Or, into.

12 For the word of God is quicke and mighty in operation, and sharper then any two edged sword, and entreth through euen vnto the diuiding asunder of the [c] soule and the [d] spirite, and of the iointes, and the marow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and of the intents of the heart.

c Where the affections are.

d Mightily commanding vnto action.

13 Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in the sight of him: but all things [are] naked and open vnto the eies of him of whom we speake.

14 Seeing then that wee haue a great high priest, which is entred into heauens, Jesus the sonne of God, let vs hold fast [this] confession.

15 For we haue not an high priest which can not be touched with the feeling of our infirmities: but was in all points tempted like as we are, and yet without sinne.

16 Let vs therefore come boldly vnto ỹ throne of grace, that we may obtaine mercy, & finde grace to helpe in time of neede.

The v. Chapter.

He compareth Iesus Christ with the Leuiticall priestes, shewing wherein they either agree, or dissent.

1 FOr euery high priest taken from among men, is ordained for men, in things [pertaining] to God, to offer [a] gifts, and sacrifices for sinne:

a He whereby that man can haue none accesse to God without an hie priest, because that of himselfe he is prophane and sinfull.

2 Which can sufficiently haue compassion on the ignorant, and on them that erre out of the way, forasmuch as he himselfe also is compassed with infirmitie.

3 And for the same [infirmitie] hee is bound to offer for sinnes, as well for himselfe, as for the people.

4 And no mã taketh the honour vnto himselfe, but he that is called of God, * as was Aaron. 1.Chro.23.13.

5 Euen so, Christ also glorified not himselfe to be made the high priest: but hee that said vnto him, * Thou art my sonne, to day haue I begotten thee, [giue it him.] Psal.2.7.

6 As he saieth also in another place, * Thou art a priest for euer, after the order of Melchisedech. Psal.110.4.

7 Which in the dayes of his flesh, when hee had offered vp prayers & supplications, with [b] strong crying and teares vnto him that was able to saue him from death, and was heard in that which he [c] feared:

b He meaneth the most earnest prayer which Christ prayed in the garden when he sweat drops of blood.

c Being in perplexitie, and fearing the horrors of death.

8 Though he were the sonne, yet learned hee obedience, by these things which he suffred.

9 And being perfect, was made the authour of eternal saluation vnto al them ỹ obey him:

10 And is called of God an high priest after the order of Melchisedech.

11 Of whom we haue many things to say, and hard to be vttred, seeing ye are dul of hearing.

12 For when as concerning the time, ye ought to be teachers, yet haue ye neede againe that we teach you the first principles of the beginning of the worde of God, and are become such as haue neede of milke, and not of strong meate.

13 For euery one ỹ vseth milke, is vnexpert of the word of righteousnesse, for he is a babe.

14 But strong meate belongeth to them that are perfect, euen those which by reason of vse, haue their wits exercised to discerne both good and euil.

The vi. Chapter.

1 He proceedeth in reproouing them, & exhorteth them not to faint, 12 but to be stedfast and patient, 18 for as much as God is sure in his promise.

1 THerfore leauing the doctrine of the beginning [a] of Christ, let vs go forth vnto perfection, not laying againe the foundation of repentance from dead workes, and of faith toward God, a Whereby it may appeare, that you are fully perswaded of life euerlasting.

2 Of the doctrine of baptismes, and of laying on of handes, and of resurrection of the dead, and of eternall iudgement.

3 And this will we do, if God permit.

Mat.12.45. 2.pet.2.20.

4 *For it can not be that they which were once lightened, & haue tasted of the heauenly gift, & were become partakers of the holy Ghost,

5 And haue tasted of the good worde of God, and the powers of the worlde to come:

6 And they fal away, should be renued againe into repentance, crucifying to themselues the sonne of God afresh, and making a mocke of him.

7 For the earth which hath dronken in the rayne that commeth oft vpon it, and bringeth forth herbes, meete for them by whom also it is tylled, receyueth blessing of God:

8 But that grounde which beareth thornes and bryers, is reproued, and is nigh vnto cursing, whose ende is to be burned.

9 Neuertheless, deare friends, we are perswaded better things of you, & things which accompany saluation, though we thus speake.

10 For God is not vnrighteous, to forget your worke & labour of loue, which ye haue shewed toward his name, hauing ministred to the saintes, and [do] minister.

11 Yea, and we desire that euery one of you doe shew the same diligence, to the full assurance of hope vnto the ende, 12 That ye faynt not, but be followers of [b] them, which through faith and patience inherite the promises.

b As the holy fathers, prophetes, & martyrs that were before vs.

13 For when God made the promise to Abraham, because he coulde sweare by no greater, he sware by himselfe,

Gen.12.2.

14 Saying, * Surely, blessing, I will blesse thee, and multiplying, I will multiplie thee.

15 And so after that he had taryed patiently, he obteyned the promise.

16 For men verily sweare by the greater, and an othe of confirmation, is to them an ende of all strife.

c Because of mans wickednesse, which wil not beleeue God, except he sweare.

17 Wherein God willing more [c] abundantly to shew vnto the heyres of promise the stablenesse of his counsell, confirmed by an othe:

d Gods word & othe, are two things in him vnchangeable.

18 That by [d] two immutable things, in which it was impossible for God to lye, we might haue a strong consolation, which haue fled to holde fast the hope layde before vs:

19 Which [hope] we holde as an anker of the soule both sure and stedfast, an entring in into that thing which is within the vayle:

20 Whither the forerunner is for vs entred, [euen] Iesus, after the order of Melchisedech made a priest for euer.

The vii. Chapter.

He compareth the priesthoode of Christ vnto Melchisedech, 11 also Christes priesthood with the Leuites.

1 FOr this *Melchisedech king of Salem, priest of the most high God, who met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kings, and blessed him, Gen.1.18.

2 To whome also Abraham gaue tythe of all things: first being called by interpretation king of righteousnesse: and after that also, king of Salem, which is king of peace,

3 Without [a] father, without mother, without kinne, hauing neyther beginning of dayes, neither end of life, but likened vnto the sonne of God, continueth a priest for euer.

a So called, because that Moses maketh no mention of his parents or kinsfolkes, but as he had bene suddenly sent of God into the worlde, to be a figure of Christ, or euerlasting priest, & shortly taken out of y world again. So Christ, as touching his humanitie, had no father, and concerning his diuinitie, no mother. Num.1.18.

4 Nowe consider how great this [man] was, vnto whome also the Patriarche Abraham * gaue tithe of the spoyles.

5 And verily they which are of the children of Leui, which receyue the office of the priesthood, haue a commandement to take tythe of the people, according to the lawe, that is, of their brethren, though they came out of the loynes of Abraham.

6 But he whose kinred is not counted among them, receyued tithe of Abraham, and blessed him that had the promises.

7 And without all controuersie, the lesse is blessed of the better.

8 And here men that dye, receiue tythes: but there he [receiueth them] of whom it is witnessed that he liueth.

9 And (to say the trueth) Leui also, which receyueth tithes, payed tithes in Abraham:

10 For he was yet in the loynes of his father, when Melchisedech met Abraham.

11 If therefore perfection was by the priesthood of the Leuites, (for vnder that priesthood the people receiued the lawe) what needeth it furthermore that another priest should rise after the order of Melchisedech, and not to be called after the order of Aaron?

12 For if the priesthoode be translated, of necessitie also there is made a translation of the lawe.

13 For he of whome these things are spoken, pertayneth vnto another tribe, of which no man gaue attendance at the altar.

14 For it is euident that our Lorde sprong out of Juda, of which tribe spake Moses nothing concerning priesthood:

15 And [it is] yet a farre more euident thing, if after the similitude of Melchisedech there arise another priest,

16 Which is not made after the law of the carnall commaundement, but after the power of the endlesse life:

17 For he thus testifieth, * Thou art a priest for euer, after the order of Melchisedech. Psal.110.4. heb.5.6.

18 For there is truely a disanulling of the commandement going before, for the weakenesse and vnprofitablenesse therof.

19 For the lawe made nothing perfect, but [was] the bringing of a better hope, by the which we draw nygh vnto God.
20 And inasmuch as that was not without an othe, (For those priestes were made without an othe:
21 But this priest with an othe, by him that sayd vnto him, *The Lord sware, and wil not repent him, thou art a priest for euer, after the order of Melchisedech,) Psal.110.4.
22 By so much was Iesus made a suertie of a better testament.
23 And among them many were made priests, because they were forbidden by death to endure:
24 But this man, because he endureth euer, hath [b] an vnchangeable priesthood.
25 Wherefore he is able also euer to saue them to the vttermost, that come vnto God by him, seeing he euer liueth, to make intercession for them.
26 For such an high priest became vs, [which is] holy, harmelesse, vndefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher then heauens.
27 Which needeth not dayly, as those hygh priests, to offer vp sacrifice * first for his owne sinnes, and then for the peoples: for that did he once, when he offered vp himselfe. Leuit.16.11.
28 For the law maketh men high priests which haue infirmitie, but the worde of the othe which was after the law [maketh] the sonne, which is perfect for euermore.

b Therefore all others are blasphemous, that either make themselues his successours, or pretend any other sacrifice.

The viii. Chapter.

6 He proueth the abolishing aswell of the Leuiticall priesthoode, as of the olde couenant, by the spirituall and euerlasting priesthood of Christ, 8 and by the newe couenant.

1 BUt of the things which we haue spoken, [this is] the summe: We haue such an hygh priest, that sitteth on the right hand of the throne of the maiestie in the heauens,
2 A minister of holy things, and of the true tabernacle, which the Lorde pyght, and not man.
3 For euery hygh priest is ordeyned to offer giftes and sacrifices: Wherefore it is of necessitie, that this man haue somewhat also to offer.
4 For he were not a priest, if he were on the earth, seeing that there are priests, that according to the law offer giftes,
5 Who serue vnto the example and shadowe of heauenly things, as Moses was admonished of God, when he was about to finish the tabernacle: * For see, sayth he, that thou make all things according to the paterne shewed to thee in the mount. Exod.25.40. actes.7.44.
6 But now hath he obteyned a more excellent office, by how much also he is the mediatour of a better ‖ couenant, which was confirmed in better promises. ‖ Or, testament.
7 For if that first [couenant] had bene faultlesse, then shoulde no place haue bene sought for the second.
8 For in rebuking them, he sayth, * Beholde, the dayes [a] come, sayth the Lorde, and I will finish vpon the house of Israel, and vpon the house [b] of Iuda, a newe couenant: Iere.31.31.
9 Not like that, that I made with their fathers, in the day when I tooke them by the hand, to leade them out of the land of Egypt: because they continued not in my couenant, and I regarded them not, sayth the Lord.
10 For this is the couenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those dayes, sayth the Lorde: giuing my lawes into their minde, and in their heart I will write them, and I will be to them a God, and they shall be to me a people.
11 And they shall not [c] teache euery man his neighbour, & euery man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for all shall knowe me, from the litle of them, to the great of them.
12 For I will be mercifull to their vnrighteousnesse, and their sinnes and their iniquities will I thinke vpon no more.
13 In that he sayth a new [couenant,] he hath worne out the first: for that which is worne out and waxed olde, is ready to vanish away.

a That is, whē Christ shall remit our sinnes by the preaching of the Gospel.
b Signifying that there should be no more diuision, but all shalbe made one Church.
c When shal not in the time of the Gospel be so ignorant as they were before: but shall knowe God much more perfectly through Christ

The ix. Chapter.

1 Howe that the ceremonies and sacrifices of the lawe are abolished, 11 by the eternitie and perfection of Christes sacrifice.

1 THe first [couenant] then had verily ‖ iustifying ordinances, seruings of God, and worldly holinesse. ‖ Or, ceremonies of seruice.
2 * For there was a tabernacle made, the first [truely] wherein was the cãdlesticke, and the table, and the shewe bread, which is called holy. Exod.26.1.
3 But after the [a] second vaple, [was] a tabernacle, which is called holiest of all:
4 Which had the golden sencer, and the arke of the couenant ouerlayde rounde about with golde, wherein was the golden potte hauing Manna, and * Aarons rodde that had budded, and * the tables of the couenant: Num.17.10. 1.King.8.9.
5 * And ouer it the Cherubims of glory, shadowing the mercy seate: Of which things we can not now speake particularly. Exod.25.22.
6 When these things were thus ordeined, the priestes went alwayes into the first tabernacle, accomplishing the seruice of God.
7 But into ỳ second [went] the hygh priest alone, once euery yeere, not without blood, which he offered for himselfe, and for the ignorances of the people.
8 The holy ghost this signifying, that ỳ [b] way of holy things, was not yet made manifest, while as yet ỳ first tabernacle was standing:
9 Which a That is, on the inwarde side of the vaple which was hid from the people.

b So long as the hygh priest offered once a yeere for his owne sinnes & for the peoples, and also while this earthly tabernacle stoode, the way to the heauenly tabernacle, which is made open by Christes blood, could not be entred into.

9 Which [was] a similitude for the time then present, in which were offered giftes, and sacrifices, that coulde not make the worshipper perfect as pertayning to the conscience,

10 With only meates and drinkes, and diuers washings, and iustifyings of the flesh, which were layde vp vntill the time of reformation.

The Epistle on the v. sunday in Lent.

11 But Christ being come an hygh Priest of good things that shoulde be, by a greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hãds, that is to say, not of this buylding, 12 Neyther by the blood of Goates, and Calues: but by his owne blood he entred in once into the holy place, and founde eternall redemption.

c The Leuiticall priestes offered beastes blood: But Christ the true and eternall priest, offered his own blood, which was most holy and pure. The Leuiticall priest offered purely, & therefore did only represent the true holinesse: but Christ by one onely sacrifice hath made holy for euer them that beleeue.

13 For if the c blood of Oxen and of Goates, and the ashes of a yong Cow, sprinckling the vncleane, sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh:

14 Howe much more the blood of Christ, which through the eternal spirite offered himselfe without spot to God, shall purge your conscience from dead workes, to serue the liuing God?

15 And for this cause is he the mediatour of the newe couenant, that through death, which was for the redemption of the transgressions [that were] vnder the first ‖ couenant, they which are called, might receyue the promise of eternall inheritance.

‖ Or, testament.

The Epistle on the wednesday before Easter.

16 For whereas is a testament, there must also of necessitie be the death of him that made the testament.

17 For a testament is confirmed when men are dead: for it is yet of no value, as long as he that made the testament is aliue.

18 For which cause also, neyther the first [testament] was dedicated without blood.

19 For when Moses had spoken euery precept to all the people according to the law, taking the blood of Calues, & of Goates, with water, and purple wooll, and hysope, he sprinckled both the booke it selfe, and all the people,

Exod.24.8.

20 Saying, * This [is] the blood of the testament, which God hath enioyned vnto you.

21 And likewise he sprinckled with blood both the tabernacle, and all the vessels of the ministerie.

22 And almost all things are by the lawe purged with blood, & without shedding of blood is no remission.

23 It is neede then that the paternes of heauenly things be purified with such things: but the heauenly things themselues [be purified] with better sacrifices then are those.

d Therefore to make any other offering or sacrifice for sinne, after that Christes body was once offered, is blasphemie.

24 For Christ is not entred into the holy places made with handes, [which are] paternes of true things: but into heauen it selfe, now to appeare in the sight of God for vs.

25 Not that he should offer himselfe d often, as the high priest entreth into the holy places, euery yeere in strange blood.

26 (For then must hee haue often suffered since the foundation of the worlde:) but now once in the ende of the worlde hath hee appeared, to put away sinne, by the sacrifice of himselfe.

27 And as it is appoynted vnto men once to dye, and after this the iudgement:

28 *Euen so Christ once offered to take away the sinnes of many, the seconde time shall be seene without sinne, of them which wayte for him vnto saluation.

Rom.5.9. 1.pet.3.18.

The x. Chapter.

1 The olde lawe had no power to cleanse away sinne, 10 but Christ did it with offering of his body once for all.

The Epistle on good Friday.

1 For the law hauing the a shadow of good things to come, and not the very fashion of the things themselues, cã neuer with those sacrifices which they offer yeere by yeere continually, make the commers thereunto perfect.

a Which was as it were the first draught & purtract of the liuely paterne to come.

2 For would not then those [sacrifices] haue ceassed to haue bene offered, because that the offerers once purged, should haue had no more conscience of sinnes?

3 Neuertheless, in those [sacrifices] is mention made of sinnes euery yeere.

4 For it is not possible that the blood of bulles and of goates, should take away sinnes.

5 Wherefore when hee commeth into the world, he sayth, *Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not haue: but a body hast thou ordeyned me.

Psal.40.7.

6 In burnt sacrifices [and offerings] for sinne thou hast had no pleasure.

7 Then sayde I, Loe, I come, (In the beginning of the booke it is writtten of me) to doe thy will, O God.

8 Aboue when he sayeth, that sacrifice, and offering, & burnt offerings, [and offerings] for sinne thou wouldest not, neither haddest pleasure [therein] (which are offered by the law:)

9 Then sayde he, Loe, I come to do thy will, O God: He taketh away the first, b to stablish the c second.

b That is, sacrifices.

c Which is the will of God, to stand content with Christes sacrifice.

10 In the which will we are made holy, euen by the offering of the body of Iesus Christ once for all.

11 And euery priest standeth dayly, ministring, and offering oftentimes the same sacrifices, which can neuer take away sinnes:

12 But this man, after he hath offered one sacrifice for sinnes, *is set downe for euer on the right hand of God,

Heb.1.13.

13 From henceforth tarying * till his foes be made his footestoole.

1.Cor.15.25.

14 For with one offering hath he made perfect for euer them that are sanctified.

15 And the holy Ghost also beareth vs recorde: For after that he had tolde before, Iere.31.33. ‖Or, testament.

16 * This is the ‖ couenant that I will make vnto them after those dayes (sayth the Lord) giuing my lawes in their heart, and in their mindes will I write them:

17 And their sinnes and iniquities wil I in no wise remember any more.

18 And where remission of these things [is,] there [is] no more offering for sinne.

d We by Christ haue that libertie which the ancient fathers could not haue by the lawe. e The blood of Christ is alwayes fresh & liuely before the father, to sprinckle and quicken vs.

19 Hauing therefore, brethren, libertie to enter into holy [places] in the d blood of Iesus,

20 By the new and e liuing way, which he hath prepared for vs through the vayle, that is to say, his flesh:

21 And [seeing we haue] an high priest ouer the house of God:

22 Let vs draw nygh with a true heart, in assurãce of faith, sprinckled in our heartes from an euill conscience, and washed in body with pure water.

23 Let vs holde the profession of the hope without wauering, (for he is faithfull that promised:)

24 And let vs consider one another, to prouoke vnto loue, and good workes, 25 Not forsaking the assembling of our selues together, as the maner of some [is,] but exhorting one [another,] and so much the more, as ye see the day approching.

Heb.6.4.

26 * For if we sinne willingly, after that wee haue receyued the knowledge of the trueth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sinnes:

27 But a fearefull looking for of iudgement, & violent fire, which shal deuour ỹ aduersaries.

28 He that despiseth Moses law, dieth without mercy * vnder two or three witnesses:

Deut.19.15. mat.18.16. 2.cor.13.1.

29 Of howe much sorer punishment [suppose ye] shall he be worthy, which hath troden vnder foote the sonne of God: and hath counted the blood of the couenant, wherein hee was sanctified, an vnholy thing, and hath done despite vnto the spirite of grace:

Deut.32.35. rom.12.19.

30 For we knowe him that hath sayde, * Vengeance [belongeth] vnto me, I will render, sayth the Lorde: And againe, the Lorde shall iudge his people.

31 It is a fearefull thing to fall into the hands of the liuing God.

32 Call to remembrance the former dayes, in the which after ye had receyued light, ye endured a great fight of aduersities:

33 Partly while ye were made a gasing stocke, both by reproches and afflictions, and partly while ye became companions of them which were so tossed to and fro.

34 For ye suffered also with my bondes, and tooke in worth the spoyling of your goods with gladnesse: knowing in your selues how that you haue in heauen a better and an enduring substance.

35 Cast not away therefore your confidence, which hath great recompence of reward.

36 For ye haue neede of patience, that after ye haue done the will of God, ye might receyue the promise.

37 For yet a very little while, and he that shall come, will come, and will not tarry.

38 And * the iust shall liue by faith: And if he withdrawe himselfe, my soule shall haue no pleasure in him.

Abac.2.4. rom.1.17. galat.3.11.

39 We are not of them which withdrawe our selues vnto perdition: but we pertayne vnto faith, to the winning of the soule.

The xi. Chapter.

What faith is, and a commendation of the same.

1 FAith is the ‖ ground of things hoped for, the euidence of things not seene.

‖ Or, representation.

2 For by it ‖ the elders [a] obteyned a good report.

‖ Or, our forefathers. a Haue bene approued, and so obteyned saluation.

3 Through faith wee vnderstande that the *worldes were ordeyned by the word of God, and that things which are seene, were made of things which were not seene.

Gen.1.1.

4 By faith, Abel offered vnto God a more excellent sacrifice then Cain, * by which hee was witnessed to be [b] righteous, God testifying of his gifts: by which also he being dead, yet speaketh.

Gen.4.24. b Because God receyued him to mercy, therefore he imputed him righteous.

5 By faith was * Enoch translated, that he should not see death, neyther was he founde, for God had taken him away: For afore he was taken away, he was reported of to haue pleased God.

Mat.23.35. Gen.5.24. eccle.44.14.

6 But without faith it is vnpossible to please him: for he that commeth to God, must beleeue that God is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seeke him.

7 * By faith, Noe being warned of God of things not seene as yet, moued with reuerence, prepared the arke, to the sauing of his house, through the which [arke] he condemned the worlde, and became heyre of the righteousnesse which is by faith.

Gen.6.13.

8 By faith, * Abraham when he was called, obeyed [God] to goe out into a place which he should afterwarde receyue to inheritance: and he went out, not knowing whither he should goe.

Gen.12.4.

9 By faith, he remoued into the lande of promise, as into a strange countrey, when he had dwelt in tabernacles, with Isahac & Iacob, heyres with him of the same promise:

10 For he looked for a citie hauing a fundatiõ, whose buylder and maker is God.

11 Through faith also * Sara her selfe receyued strength to conceyue seede, & was deliuered of a childe when she was past age, because she iudged him faithfull which had promised.

Gen.21.3.

12 And therefore sprang there of one, euen of one which was as good as dead, [so many] in multitude as are the starres in the skye, and as the sande which is by the sea shore innumerable.

13 These

13 These al died according to faith, not hauing receyued the promises, but when they had seene them a farre off, and beleeued, and saluted, and confessed that they were straungers and pilgrimes on the earth.

14 For they that say such things, declare that they seeke a countrey.

15 Also if they had bene mindefull of that [countrey,] from whence they came out, they had leasure to haue returned:

16 But nowe they desire a better [countrey,] that is, a heauenly: Wherefore God is not ashamed of them to be called their God, for he hath prepared for them a citie.

Gen 12.10. ecclc.44.15. c For it might seeme to the flesh, that the promise was contrary to the commaundement, to sacrifice his sonne. Gen.21,12.

17 *By faith Abraham offered vp Isahac when he was c prooued: and he that had receyued the promises, offered vp his onely begotten sonne, 18 To whom it is sayde, * That in Isahac shal thy seede be called.

19 For he considered that God was able to raise the dead vp againe, from whence also he receyued him in a [certaine] similitude [of the resurrection.]

Gen.27.27.

20 *By faith did Isahac blesse Iacob and Esau concerning things to come.

Gen.41.13.

21 * By faith, Iacob when he was a dying, blessed both the sonnes of Ioseph, and worshipped ‖ toward the top of his scepter.

‖Some reade, leaning vpon his staffe. Gen.10.24.

22 * By faith, Ioseph when he dyed, remembred the departing of the children of Israel: and gaue commandement of his bones.

Exod.2.1. actes 7.2.

23 *By faith, Moses when he was borne, was hid three moneths of his father & mother, because they sawe he was a proper childe, neyther feared they the kings commaundement.

Exod.2,12.

24 * By faith, Moses when he was great, refused to bee called the sonne of Pharaos daughter:

25 Chusing rather to suffer aduersitie with the people of God, then to enioy the pleasures of sinne for a season:

26 Esteeming the rebuke of Christ, greater riches then the treasures of Egypt: For he had respect vnto the recompence of the rewarde.

Exod.12.27.

27 * By faith he forsooke Egypt, fearing not the wrath of the king: For he endured, euen as though he had seene him which is inuisible.

Exod,12.22.

28 *Through faith he ordeyned the Passeouer and the effusion of blood, lest he that destroyed the first borne, should touch them.

Exod.14,21.

29 * By faith they passed thorowe the red sea, as by dry lande: which the Egyptians assaying to doe, were drowned.

Iosu,6.20.

30 *By faith the walles of Iericho fell downe, after they were compassed about seuen dayes.

Iosu,2.1.

31 * By faith the harlot Rahab perished not with them that were disobedint, when she had receyued the spies with peace.

32 And what shall I more say? for the time woulde fayle mee, to rehearse of Gedeon, of * Barac, and of * Samson, and of * Iepthah, of * Dauid also and * Samuel, and of the Prophets:

Iudi.6,11. Iudi. 4.6. Iudi.13.24. Iudi,11,1. 1.Reg.13.14.

33 Which through faith subdued kingdomes, wrought righteousnesse, obteined the promises, stopped the mouthes of the Lions, 34 Quenched the violence of fire, escaped the edge of the sworde, out of weakenesse were made strong, waxed valiant in fight, turned to flight the armies of the aliantes.

35 The women receyued their dead raysed to life againe: Other were racked, not looking for deliuerance, that they might receiue a better resurrection.

36 And others were tryed with mockings, and scourgings: Yea moreouer, with bondes and prisonment:

37 They were stoned, were hewē asunder, were tempted, were slayne with sworde, wandred about in sheepes skinnes, & goates skinnes, being destitute, afflicted, [and] tormented:

38 Of whom the world was not worthy: They wandred in wildernesse, and in mountaines, and in dennes, and caues of the earth.

39 And these al through faith, hauing obteined good report, receiued d not the promise:

40 Whereas God hath prepared a better thing for vs, that they without vs shoulde not be made perfect.

d They had not such cleare light as we, for they looked for that which we haue, therefore it were shame for vs, if at the least we haue not as great constancie as they.

The xii. Chapter.

1 An exhortation to be patient and stedfast in trouble and aduersitie, vpon hope of euerlasting rewarde.
25 A commendation of the newe Testament aboue the olde.

1 WHerefore, seeing that we are compassed with so great a cloude of witnesses, all * layde away that a presseth downe, & the ‖sinne that hangeth so fast on, let vs runne with patiēce vnto the battell that is set before vs:

Ephe.4.24.

a As riches, cares, and such like, and to become Christes disciples by denying our selues, and taking our crosse to folowe him. ‖Or, that so lightly vpō euery circumstance or occasion taketh hold of vs.

2 Looking vnto Iesus the ‖captaine and finisher of our faith, which for the ioye that was set before him, endured the crosse, hauing despised the shame, and is set downe on the right hand of the throne of God.

‖Or, beginner.

3 Consider therefore him that endured such speaking against him of sinners, least you should be wearied, faynting in your mindes.

4 Ye haue not yet resisted vnto [the shedding of] blood, striuing against sinne.

5 And yee haue forgotten the exhortation which speaketh vnto you as vnto children, * My sonne, despise not thou the chastening of the Lorde, neyther faynt when thou art rebuked of him.

Prou.3.12.

6 For whom the Lord loueth, he chasteneth, & scourgeth euery sonne that he receyueth.

7 If ye endure chastening, God tendreth you as his sonnes: for what sonne is he whom the father chasteneth not?

8 But if ye be without chastisement, whereof all are partakers, then are ye bastardes, and not sonnes.

9 Furthermore, wee haue had fathers of our flesh, which corrected vs, & we gaue [them] reuerence: shal we not then much rather be in subiection vnto the father of spirits, and liue?

10 For they verily for a fewe dayes chastened vs after their owne pleasure: but he, for our profite, that we might be partakers of his holinesse.

11 No chastising for the present seemeth to be ioyous, but grieuous: neuertheless, afterward it bringeth the quiet fruite of righteousnesse, vnto them which are exercised thereby.

12 Straighten vp therefore the hands which were let downe, and the weake knees:

13 And make right steps vnto your feete, lest that which is [b] halting, be turned out of the way: but let it rather be healed.

b Their halting partly declared their slowenesse, and partly their inconstancie in doctrine: therfore they were in bondage to be punished. Rom.12.18.

14 *Folow peace with all men, and holinesse, without the which no man shall see the Lord:

15 Taking heede that no man fall away from the grace of God, lest any roote of bitternesse springing vp, trouble you, and thereby many be defiled.

16 Let there be no fornicatour or vncleane person, as *Esau, which for one morsel of meate solde his byrthright.

Gene.25.33.

17 *For yee knowe howe that afterwarde, when he woulde haue inherited the blessing, he was reprobated: For he found no place of repentance, though he sought it carefully with teares.

Gene.27.38.

18 For ye are not come vnto the *mount that is [c] touched, and vnto burning fire, and vnto stormе and darkenesse, & tempests of weather,

Exod.19.16.

c Which might be touched & seene, for it was material, but God commanded y none should touch it.

19 And sounde of a trumpe, and the voyce of wordes: which [voyce,] they that heard it, wished away, that the worde should not be spoken to them:

20 (For they did not abide that which was commanded. *And if so much as a beast touch the mountaine, it shalbe stoned, or thrust thorowe with a dart.

Exod.19.12.

21 And so terrible was the sight which appeared, that Moses sayde, I feare exceedingly, and quake:)

22 But ye are come vnto the mount Sion, and to the citie of the liuing God, the celestiall Hierusalem, and to an innumerable company of [d] angels, d By the gospell, we are ioyned with the angels and patriarches.

23 And vnto the cõgregation of the first borne, which are written in heauen, and to God the iudge of all, and to the spirites of iust and perfect men:

24 And to Iesus the mediatour of the new ‖ couenant, and to the blood of sprinckling, that speaketh better then [did the blood] of Abel.

‖Or, testament.

25 See that ye despise not him that speaketh: For if they escaped not, which refused him that spake on earth, much more shall we [not escape] if we turne away from him that [speaketh] from heauen:

26 Whose voyce then shooke the earth, & now hath declared, saying, *Yet once more I shake, not the earth onely, but also heauen.

Agge.2.7.

27 And this [worde] yet once more, signifieth remouing of those things which are ‖shaken, as of things which are made, that the things which are not ‖shaken, may remayne.

‖Or, changeable

‖Or, changeable

28 Wherfore, we receiuing a kingdome which can not be mooued, let vs haue grace, whereby we may so serue God acceptable, with reuerence and godly feare.

Deut.4.24.

The xiii. Chapter.

1 He exhorteth vs vnto loue, 2 to hospitalitie, 3 to thinke vpon such as are in aduersitie, 4 to maintaine wedlocke, 5 to auoyde couetousnesse.

1 LEt brotherly loue continue.

2 *Be not forgetfull to lodge strangers: for thereby some haue lodged angels vnawares.

Rom.12.10. 1.pet.4.9. gen.19.3.

3 Remember them that are in bondes, as bound with them: And them which suffer aduersitie, as being your selues also in the body [subiect to aduersitie.]

4 Wedlocke is honourable among all men, and the bed vndefiled: But whoremongers and adulterers, God will iudge.

5 Let your conuersation be without couetousnesse, being content with such things as yee haue. For he hath sayde, *I will in no case fayle thee, neyther forsake thee.

Iosu.1.5.

6 So that we may boldly say, *The Lorde is my helper, and I will not feare what man may doe vnto me.

Psal.19.6.

7 Remember them which haue the ouersight of you, which haue spoken vnto you the word of God: whose ende of conuersation ye considering, folow their faith.

8 Iesus Christ [a] yesterday, and to day, and the same for euer.

a Ye was, is, and shalbe the fundation of the Church for euer.

9 Be not caryed about with diuers & strange doctrines: For it is a good thing that the heart be stablished with grace, and not with meates, which haue not profited them that haue bene occupied therein.

10 We haue an altar, whereof they haue no right to [b] eate, which serue in the tabernacle.

b They that sticke to the ceremonies of the lawe, can not eate, that is, can not be partakers of our altar, which is, thanks giuing and liberalitie, which two sacrifices or offerings, are now only left to the Christians.

11 For the bodies of those beastes, whose blood is brought into the holy place, by the hygh priest for sinne, are [c] burnt without the tents.

c So that the priests had no piece thereof.

12 Therefore Iesus also, that he might sanctifie the people with his owne blood, suffered without the gate.

13 Let vs goe forth therefore vnto him out of the tentes, bearing his reproche.

14 For here haue we no continuing citie: but we seeke one to come.

15 By him therfore let vs offer sacrifice of laude alwayes to God, that is, the fruite of lippes confessing confessing his name.

16 To do good, and to distribute, forget not, for with such sacrifice God is well pleased.
17 Obey them that haue the ouersight of you, and submit your selues: for they watche for your soules, as they that must giue accounts, that they may doe it with ioy, and not with griefe: for that is vnprofitable for you.
18 Pray for vs: for wee trust we haue a good conscience, in all things willing to liue honestly.
19 But I desire you the more earnestly that ye so do, that I may be restored to you the sooner.
20 The god of peace, that brought againe from the dead our Lord Jesus, the great shepheard of the sheepe, through the blood of the euerlasting couenant, 21 Make you perfect in all good workes to do his will, working in you that which is pleasant in his sight, through Jesus Christ, to whome be glory for euer and euer, Amen.
22 And I beseech you, brethren, suffer the word of exhortation, for I haue written vnto you in fewe wordes.
23 Know ye, that [our] brother Timotheus is deliuered: with whom (if he come shortly) I will see you.
24 Salute all them that haue the ouersight of you, and all the saintes. They of Italie salute you.
25 Grace be with you all, Amen.

The Epistle of Saint Iames.

The first Chapter.

2 He exhorteth to reioyce in trouble, 6 to be feruent in prayer, with stedfast beliefe, 17 and to looke for all good things from aboue.

The Epistle on S. Philip & Iames day.

1 Iames a seruant of God, and of the Lorde Jesus Christ, to the twelue tribes which are scattered abroad, greeting.
2 My brethren, count it all ioy when ye fall into diuers temptations:
Rom.5.3. 3 *Knowing [this] that the trying of your faith worketh patience,
4 And let patience haue [her] perfect worke, that ye may be perfect, and sounde, lacking nothing.
5 If any of you lacke wisedome, let him aske of God, that giueth to all men indifferently, and casteth no man in the teeth: and it shalbe giuen him.
Mat.7.7. mark.11.24. luk.11.9. 6 *But let him aske in faith, nothing wauering: For he that wauereth, is like a waue of the sea, tost of the wind, & caried with violēce:
7 Neyther let that man thinke that he shal receyue any thing of the Lord.
8 A double minded man is vnstable in all his wayes.
9 Let the brother of lowe degree, reioyce in that he is [a] exalted:
a That he is called to the companie of Christ and his angels. Esa.40.6. eccle.14.18. 1.pet.1.14. 10 Againe, the riche, in that he is made lowe: *Because as the flowre of the grasse he shall passe away.
11 For [as] the Sunne hath risen with heate, and the grasse hath withered, and his floure hath fallen away, & the beautie of the fashion of it hath perished: so also shall the rich man fade away in his wayes.
Iob.5.17. 12 *Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tryed, he shal receyue the crowne of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that loue him.
b Ye meaneth nowe of inward temptations, as of our disordered appetites, which cause vs to sinne. 13 Let no man say when he is [b] tempted, I am tempted of God: For God can not be tempted with euill, neyther tempteth he any man.
14 But euery man is tempted, when hee is drawen away, and entised with the bayte of his owne concupiscence.
15 Then when lust hath conceiued, it bringeth forth sinne: and sinne, when it is finished, bringeth forth death.
16 Do not erre, my deare brethren.
The Epistle on the iiii. sunday after Easter. c Seeing all good things come of God, we ought not to make him the authour of euill. 17 Euery good [c] giuing, and euery perfect gift is from aboue, and commeth downe from the father of lightes, with whome is no variablenesse, neyther shadow of turning.
18 Of his owne will begate he vs, with the worde of trueth, that we shoulde be the first fruites of his creatures.
Pro.17.17. 19 Wherefore, my deare brethren, * let euery man be swift to heare, slowe to speake, slowe to wrath.
20 For the wrath of man, worketh not that which is righteous before God.
‖ Or, malitiousnesse. 21 Wherefore lay apart all filthinesse, and superfluitie of ‖ naughtinesse, and receyue with meekenesse the worde that is graffed in you, which is able to saue your soules.
The Epistle on ỹ v. sunday after Easter. Rom.2.13. mat.7.21. 22 And *be ye doers of the worde, and not hearers only, deceyuing your owne selues.
d So Gods worde is a glasse, wherein we must beholde our selues & become like vnto him. 23 For if any be a hearer of the worde, and not a doer, he is like vnto a man beholding his bodily face in a [d] glasse.
24 For he hath considered himselfe, and is gone his wayes, and hath forgotten immediately what his fashion was.
25 But whoso looketh in the perfect lawe of libertie, & continueth [therein,] he being not a forgetfull hearer, but a doer of the worke, shalbe blessed in his deede.
‖ Or, religious. 26 If any man among you seeme to be ‖ deuout, and refraineth not his tongue, but deceyueth his owne heart, this mans ‖ deuotion is vaine.

[Or, religion.

27 Pure deuotion & vndefiled before God and the father, is this, To visite the fatherlesse & widowes in their aduersitie, and to keepe himselfe vnspotted of the worlde.

The ii. Chapter.

1 He forbiddeth to haue any respect of persons, 5 but to regard the poore as well as the rich.

1 MY brethren, *haue not the faith of our Lord Iesus Christ the Lorde of glory, [a] with respect of persons.

Leuit. 19. 15. pro. 24. 24.

a As esteeming faith and religion by the outwarde appearance of men.

2 For if there come into your ‖ companie a man wearing a golde ring, in goodly apparell, and there come in also a poore man, in vile rayment:

‖ Or, congregation.

3 And ye haue respect to him that weareth the gay clothing, & say vnto him, Sit thou here in a good place: and say to the poore, Stande thou there, or sit here vnder my footestoole:

4 Are ye not partiall in your selues, and are made iudges of euill thoughts?

5 Hearken, my deare beloued brethren, Hath not God chosen the poore of this world, [that they might be] rich in faith, and heyres of the kingdome, which he promised to them that loue him?

6 But ye haue despised the poore. Doe not rich men oppresse you by tyrannie, and drawe you before the iudgement seates?

7 Doe not they blaspheme that good [b] name, by the which ye are named?

b The name of God & Christ, whereof you make profession: and in that they dishonor God, it is not meete that you his children should honour them.

8 If ye fulfill the royal lawe according to the scripture, *Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe, ye do well:

Mat. 22. 39. Leuit. 19. 19.

9 But if ye regarde one person more then another, ye commit sinne, and are rebuked of the lawe as transgressours.

10 *Whosoeuer shal keepe the whole law, and yet faile in one poynt, he is guiltie of all.

11 For he that sayd, Do not commit adulterie: sayd also, Do not kill. Though thou do none adulterie, yet if thou kill, thou art become a transgressour of the lawe.

12 So speake ye, and so do, as they that shalbe iudged by the lawe [c] of libertie.

c By the mercie of God which deliuereth vs from the curse of the lawe.

13 For he [shal haue] iudgement without mercie, that hath shewed no mercie: and mercie reioyceth against iudgement.

14 What profiteth it, my brethren, though a man say, he hath faith, and hath not deedes? can faith saue him?

15 *If a brother or a sister be naked, and destitute of dayly foode, Iak. 3. 11. 1. iohn 3. 17.

16 And one of you say vnto them, Depart in peace, be you warmed & filled: notwithstanding, ye giue them not those things which are needefull to the body: what [shal it] profite?

17 Euen so faith, if it haue not deedes, is dead in it selfe.

18 But some man will say, Thou hast faith, and I haue deedes: shewe me thy faith by thy [d] deedes, and I will shewe thee my faith by my deedes.

d Here deedes are considered, as ioyned with the true faith.

19 Thou beleeuest that there is one God, thou doest well: the deuils also beleeue, & tremble.

20 But wilt thou knowe, O thou vayne man, that that faith [which is] without workes, is dead?

21 Was not Abraham our father iustified through workes, when he had offered *Isaac his sonne vpon the altar?

Gen. 22. 10.

22 Seest thou not how that faith wrought with his deedes, and through the deedes was the faith made perfect?

23 And the scripture was fulfilled, which saith, *Abraham beleeued God, and it was reputed vnto him for righteousnesse: and he was called the friend of God.

Gen. 15. 6. rom. 4. 3. galat. 3. 6.

24 Ye see then, how that of deedes a man is iustified, and not of faith onely.

25 Likewise also, was not *Rahab the harlot iustified through workes, when she had receyued the messengers, and had sent them out an other way?

Iosu. 2. b

26 For as the body without the spirite is dead: euen so faith without workes is dead also.

The iii. Chapter.

2 He forbiddeth all ambition to seeke honour aboue our brethren. 3 He describeth the propertie of the tongue.

1 MY brethren, be not many masters, knowing howe that we shall receiue the greater damnation.

2 For in many things we sinne all. *If a man sinne not in [a] worde, the same is a perfect man, & able also to bridle all the body:

Eccle. 14. 1.

a He that is able to moderate his tongue, hath attayned to an excellent vertue.

3 Behold, we put bittes in ỹ horses mouthes, that they may obey vs, and we turne about their whole body:

4 Behold also the ships, which though they be so great, & are driuen of fierce windes, yet are they turned about with a very small helme, whithersoeuer the lust of the gouernour wil:

5 Euen so the tongue is a litle member also, and boasteth great things: behold how great a matter a litle fire kindleth.

6 And the tongue is fire, euen a worlde of wickednesse: so is the tongue set among our members, that it defileth the whole body, and [b] setteth on fire the course of nature, and it is set on fire of hell.

b The intemperancie of the tongue is a flame of hell fire.

7 All the nature of beastes, and of byrdes, and of serpents, and things of the sea, is meeked and tamed of the nature of man:

8 But the tongue can no man tame, [it is] an vnruly euill, full of deadly poyson:

9 Therewith blesse we [our] God and father: and therewith curse we men, which are made after the similitude of God.

10 Out of one mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing: My brethren, these things ought not so to be.

11 Doeth

11 Doeth a fountaine sende foorth at one hole sweete [water,] and bitter [also?]
12 Can the figge tree, my brethren, beare Olive beries? eyther a vine beare figges? so [can] no fountaine giue both salt water, and fresh also.
13 Who is a wise man, & endued with knowledge among you? let him shewe his workes out of a good conuersation with meekenesse of wisedome.
14 But if yee haue bitter enuying and strife in your heart, glory not, neither be lyars against the trueth.
15 For such wisedome descendeth not from aboue: but is earthly, sensuall, and deuilish.
16 For where enuying and strife is, there is sedition, and all maner of euill workes.
17 But the wisedome that is from aboue, is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easie to be entreated, full of mercie and good fruites, without iudging, without simulation.
18 Yea, and the fruit of righteousnes is sowen in peace, of them that make peace.

The iiii. Chapter.

4 He exhorteth them to loue God, 7 and submit them selues to him.

1 FRom whence commeth warres & fightings among you? Come they not hence, [euen] of your lustes that [a] fight in your members?
2 Ye lust, and haue not: ye enuie, and haue indignation, and can not obtaine: Yee fight and warre, ye haue not, because ye aske not.
3 Ye aske, and receiue not, because ye aske amisse, euen to consume it vpon your lustes.
4 Ye adulterers, and [b] adultresses, knowe you not howe that the friendship of the world is enimitie with God? whosoeuer therefore will be a friende of the worlde, is made the enimie of God.
5 Eyther do ye thinke that the scripture saith in vaine, The [c] spirite that dwelleth in vs lusteth to enuie?
6 But [the scripture] offreth more grace, and therefore saith, * God resisteth the proud, but giueth grace vnto the lowly.
7 Submit your selues therefore to God: but resist the deuill, and he will flee from you.
8 Drawe nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you: cleanse your hands [ye] sinners, and purifie your hearts [ye] double minded.
9 Suffer afflictions, and mourne, and weepe: Let your laughter be turned to mourning, & your ioy to heauinesse.
10 *Humble your selues in the sight of ỹ Lord, and he shall lift you vp.
11 Backbite not one another, brethren: Hee that backbyteth his brother, and hee that iudgeth his brother, backbiteth the lawe, and iudgeth the lawe: but and if thou iudge the lawe, thou art not an obseruer of the law, but a iudge.
12 There is one lawe giuer, which is able to saue, and to destroy: * What art thou that iudgest another?
13 Goe to nowe yee that say, [d] To day and to morowe let vs goe into such a citie, and continue there a yeere, and buye, and sell, and winne:
14 (And yet can ye not tel what [shal happen] on the morowe: For what thing is your life? It is euen a vapour that appeareth for a litle [time,] and then he vanisheth away)
15 For that ye ought to say, * If the Lord wil, and if we liue, let vs do this, or that.
16 But nowe ye reioyce in your boastings: All such reioycing is euill.
17 Therefore to him that knoweth how to doe good, and doeth it not, to him it is sinne.

a For the lawe of the mẽbers continually fighteth against the lawe of the minde.

b Ye calleth adulterers here after the maner of the Scriptures, them which preferre the pleasures of the worlde, to the loue of God.

d We ought to submit our selues to the prouidence of God.

1.Cor.4.19.

The v. Chapter.

1 He threatneth the wicked rich men, 7 exhorteth vnto patience, 12 and to beware of swearing.

1 GO to nowe yee riche men, weepe, and howle for your miseries that shal come vpon you.
2 Your riches be corrupt, your garmẽts are moth eaten:
3 Your golde and siluer is cankred, and the rust of them shall be a [a] witnesse against you, and shall eate your flesh as it were fire. Yee haue heaped treasure together in the [b] last dayes.
4 Beholde, ỹ hire of the labourers which haue reaped downe your fields, which hire is of you kept backe by fraude, cryeth: and the cryes of them which haue reaped, are entred into the eares of the Lord of Sabboth.
5 Yee haue liued in pleasure on the earth, and bene wanton: Ye haue nourished your hearts, as in a day of slaughter.
6 Yee haue condemned and killed the iust, and he doeth not resist you.
7 Bee patient therefore brethren, vnto ỹ coming of the Lorde, beholde, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruite of the earth, & hath long patience thereupon, vntil he receiue the early and latter rayne.
8 Be ye also patient, and settle your heartes: for the comming of the Lord draweth nigh.
9 Grudge not one against another, brethren, least ye be damned: behold, the iudge standeth before the doore.
10 Take, my brethren, the Prophets for an example of suffering aduersitie, and of patience, which spake in the name of the Lord.
11 Behold, we count thẽ happie which endure. Ye haue heard of the patience of Job, & haue seene the end of the Lord: For the Lord is very pitifull and mercifull.
12 *But aboue all things, my brethren, sweare not, neither by heauen, neither by the earth, neither by any other othe: Let your yea, be yea, a And kindle the wrath of God against you.

b To suffer till the ende of the world.

Matth.5.34.

c That which must be affirmed, affirme it simply, & without others: the wise that which must be denied. By this he taketh not from the magistrate his authoritie, who may require an othe for the maintenance of iustice, & yea, and your nay, nay, least you fall into condemnation.

13 Is any among you afflicted? let him pray. Is any mery? let him sing Psalmes.

14 Is any diseased among you? let him cal for the elders of the Church, and let them pray for him, and * anoint him with oyle in ỹ name of the Lord:

Marke 6.13.

15 And the prayer of faith shall saue the sicke, and the Lord shall rayse him vp: and if hee haue committed sinnes, they shalbe forgiuen him.

16 Knowledge your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed: [For] the feruent prayer of a righteous man auaileth much.

17 *Elias was a man vnder infirmities cuẽ as we are, & he praied in his praier that it might not raine: and it rayned not on the earth, by the space of three yeres and sixe moneths. 1.Reg.17.1. luk.4.25.

18 And he prayed againe, and the heauen gaue raine, and the earth brought forth her fruite.

19 Brethren, * if any of you doe erre from the trueth, and an other conuert him, Matth.18.15.

20 Let the same knowe, that he which conuerteth the sinner from going astray out of his way, shall saue a soule from death, and shall hide the multitude of sinnes.

The ende of the Epistle of Saint Iames.

The first Epistle of S. Peter the Apostle.

The first Chapter.

1 He sheweth that through the abundant mercie of God, we are elect and regenerate to a liuely hope, 7 and howe faith must be tryed.

1 PEter an Apostle of Jesus Christ, to a them that dwell here and there as strangers throughout Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia:

a Which were Jewes, to whom he was appointed to be an Apostle.

2 Elect according to the b foreknowledge of God the father, vnto ỹ sanctifying of the spirit, through obedience and sprinckling of the blood of Jesus Christ: Grace and peace bee multiplied vnto you.

b The free election of God, is the efficient cause of our salnation: the materiall cause is Christes obedience: our effectuall calling is the formal cause: and the finall cause, is our sanctification.

3 Blessed bee God the father of our Lorde Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercie begate vs againe vnto a liuely hope, by the rising of Jesus Christ from the dead,

4 To an inheritance incorruptible, and vndefiled, & that fadeth not away, reserued in heauen for you,

5 Which are kept by ỹ power of God through faith vnto saluation, readie to bee shewed in the last time.

6 In the which ye reioyce, though nowe for a season (if neede require) ye are in heauinesse through manifolde temptations:

7 That the tryall of your faith, being much more precious thẽ gold that perisheth, though it be tryed with fire, might bee founde [to bee vnto you] vnto laud, honour, and glory, at the appearing of Jesus Christ,

8 Whom ye haue not seene, & yet loue him, in whom euen nowe though yee see him not, yet do ye beleeue [him,] and reioyce with ioy vnspeakable and glorious:

9 Receiuing the ende of your faith, euen the saluation of your soules.

10 Of which saluation haue the Prophetes enquired and searched diligently, which prophecied of the grace that [shoulde come] vnto you:

11 Searching when or what time the spirit of Christ which was in them shoulde signifie, [which spirite] testified before the passions that shoulde happen vnto Christ, & the glorie that should followe after.

12 Unto which Prophets it was also reuealed, that not vnto themselues, but vnto vs, they shoulde minister the things which are nowe shewed vnto you of them, which by the holy ghost sent downe from heauẽ, haue in the Gospel preached vnto you, the things which the angels desire to beholde.

13 Wherfore girde vp ỹ loynes of your minde, be sober, and trust perfectly on the grace that is brought vnto you by the reuelatiõ of Jesus Christ:

14 As obedient children, not fashioning your selues vnto the former lustes of your ignorance:

15 But as hee which called you is holy, * euen so bee ye holy also in all maner of conuersation. Luke 1.71.

16 Because it is written, * Bee yee holy, for I am holy. Leuit.11.44.

17 And if so bee that yee call on the father, * which without respect of person iudgeth according to euery mans woorke, see that yee passe the time of your dwelling here, in feare. Deut.10.27. rom.2.11. galat.2.6.

18 For as much as ye knowe, howe that yee were not redeemed w corruptible [things,] as siluer and gold, from your vaine conuersation, which ye receiued by the tradition of the fathers:

19 *But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a Lambe vndefiled, and without spot: Heb.9.14. 1.iohn 1.7. apoc.1.5.

20 Which was ordeined beforehande, euen before the world was made, but was declared in the c last time for your sakes:

c When Christ appeared vnto the world, and when the Gospel was preached.

21 Which by his meanes doe beleeue on God that that rayſed him vp from the dead, and gaue him glory, that ye might haue faith and hope toward God:

22 Euen yee which haue purified your ſoules, Rom.12.10. thorough the ſpirit in obeying ỹ trueth, * with brotherly loue vnfaigned, ſee that ye loue one another with a pure heart feruently:

23 For ye are borne a newe, not of corruptible ſeede: but of incorruptible, by the worde of God, which liueth and lasteth for euer.

Eſay 40.6. eccle. 14.18. iam.1.10. 24 * For all fleſh is as graſſe, and all the glory of man is as the floure of graſſe: the graſſe withereth, and the floure falleth away:

25 But the word of the Lord endureth euer: and this is the word which by ỹ Goſpel was preached vnto you.

Rom.5.6.heb. 9.15. 18 *For as much as Christ hath once suffered for sinnes, the iust for the vniust, to bring vs to God, and was killed as pertayning to the flesh, but was quickened in the spirit.

19 In which spirit, hee also went and preached vnto the spirits that were in prison,

20 Which sometime had bene disobedient, whē once the long suffering of God abode in the dayes of Noe, while ꝑ arke was a preparing, wherein fewe (that is to say) eight soules were saued in the water.

21 To the which also the figure agreeth that nowe saueth vs, euen baptisme, (not the putting away the filth of the flesh, but in that a good conscience maketh request to God) by the resurrection of Jesus Christ:

22 Which is on the right hand of God, and is gone into heauen, angels, powers, and might subdued vnto him.

The iiii. Chapter.

1 He exhorteth men to cease from sinne, 7 to be sober, and apt to pray.

1 FOr as much then as Christ hath suffered for vs in the flesh, arme yee your selues likewise with the same minde: for hee which suffereth in the flesh, ceaseth from sinne:

2 That hee hencefoorth shoulde liue, as much time as remaineth in the flesh, not after the lustes of men, but after the will of God.

Ephe.4.23. 3 *For it is sufficient for vs that wee haue spent the time that is past of the life, after the will of the Gentiles, walking in wantonnesse, lustes, in excesse of wines, in excesse of eating, in excesse of drinking, and abominable idolatrie.

4 And it seemed to them a strange thing, that ye runne not also with them vnto the same excesse of ryot, and therefore speake they euill of you:

5 Which shall giue accountes to him that is ready to iudge quicke and dead.

6 For vnto this purpose verily was ꝑ Gospel preached also vnto the [a] dead, that they should be iudged like other men in ꝑ flesh, but should liue before God in the spirit.

a Although the wicked thinke this Gospel newe, and here you that imbrace it, yet hath it bene preached to the of time past, which nowe are dead: to the intent that they might haue bene condemned or dead to sinne, in the flesh, and so might haue lined to God in the spirite, which two are ꝑ effect of the Gospel. †The Epistle on the Sunday after Ascension day.

7 † The ende of all things is at hande. Be ye therefore sober, and watch vnto prayer,

8 But aboue all things haue feruent charitie among your selues: for charitie shal couer the multitude of sinnes.

9 Be yee harberous one to another, without grudging.

10 As euery man hath receiued the gift, euen so minister the same one to another, as good stewardes of the manifolde grace of God.

11 If any man speake, [let him talke] as the words of God: if any man minister, let him doe it as of the ability which God ministreth [vnto him,] that God in all things may be glorified through Jesus Christ, to whom be prayse and dominion for euer and euer, Amen.

12 Dearely beloued, thinke it not strange concerning the fierie trial, which thing is to trie you, as though some strange thing happened vnto you.

13 But reioyce, in as much as ye are partakers of Christes passions: that when his glory appeareth, ye may be merie and glad.

14 *If

matth.5.10. 14 *If yee bee rayled vpon for the name of Christ, happie [are ye:] for the spirit of glorie and of God resteth vpon you: on their part he is euill spoken of, but on your part hee is glorified.

15 See that none of you be punished as a murderer, or as a thiefe, or an euil doer, or as a busie bodie in other mens matters.

16 If any [man suffer] as a Christian man, let him not be ashamed, but let him glorifie God on this behalfe.

17 For the time is [come] that iudgement must begin at the house of God. If it first [begin] at vs, what shal the ende be of them which beleeue not the Gospel of God?

18 And if the righteous scarsely be saued, where shall the vngodly and the sinner appeare?

19 Wherefore, let them that are troubled according to the will of God, commit the keeping of their soules to him with well doing, as vnto a faithfull creator.

The v. Chapter.

The duetie of pastours is to feed the flocke of Christ: and what reward they shall haue if they be diligent.

a Elders, he vnderstandeth all them which preach, teach, or minister in the Church.

1 THe a elders which are among you I exhort, which am also an elder, and a witnesse of the afflictions of Christ, and also a partaker of the glory that shalbe opened:

2 Feede you Gods flocke which is committed vnto you, taking the ouersight of them, not as compelled thereunto, but willingly: not for the desire of filthie lucre, but of a cheareful minde:

3 Not as though yee were lordes ouer Gods heritage: but that yee bee an ensample to the flocke.

4 And whē the chiefe shepheard shal appeare, yee shall receiue an incorruptible crowne of glory.

5 Likewise yee younger, submit your selues vnto the elder: Submit your selues euery man one to another, decke your selues inwardly in lowlinesse of minde: * For God resisteth the proude, and giueth grace to the humble. The Epistle on the third Sunday after Trinitie. Iames 4.6.

6 * Submit your selues therefore vnder the mightie hand of God, that he may exalte you when the time is come. Iames 4.10. matth.6.25. luke 12.24.

7 Cast all your care vpon him, for he careth for you.

8 Be sober and watch: * for your aduersarie the deuill, as a roaring Lion walketh about, seeking whom he may deuoure. Luke 21.34.

9 Whom resist stedfast in the faith: knowing that the same afflictions are accomplished in your brethren that are in the world.

10 But the God of all grace himselfe, which hath called vs vnto his eternall glory by Christ Jesus, after that ye haue suffered a litle affliction, make you perfect, settle, strengthen, and stablish you.

11 To him be glory and dominion for euer and euer, Amen.

12 By Syluanus a faithfull brother, vnto you (as I suppose) I haue writtē briefely, exhorting and testifying, howe that this is the true grace of God, wherein ye stand.

13 The Church that is at Babylon elected together with you, saluteth you, and so doeth Marcus my sonne.

14 * Greete ye one another with a kisse of charitie. Peace be with you all which are in Christ Jesus, Amen. Rom.16.16. 1.cor.16.20.

The second Epistle of Saint Peter.

The first Chapter.

For asmuch as the power of God hath giuen thē al things pertaining vnto life, he exhorteth them to flee the corruption of worldly lustes.

1 SImon Peter, a seruant and an Apostle of Jesus Christ, to them which haue obtayned like precious faith with vs, through the righteousnesse of our God and Sauiour Jesus Christ:

2 Grace and peace bee multiplied vnto you, through the knowledge of God, and of Jesus our Lord, a The summe of our saluation and religion is, to be led by Christ to the father, who calleth vs in the sonne.

3 According as his godly power hath giuen vnto vs all things that [pertaine] vnto life and a godlinesse, through the knowledge of him that hath called vs vnto glorie and vertue:

4 By the which are giuen vnto vs excellent and most great promises, that by the meanes thereof, yee might bee partakers of the godly nature, if ye flee the corruption of worldly lustes.

5 And hereunto giue al diligēce, in your faith minister vertue, in vertue knowledge,

6 In knowledge temperance, in temperance patience, in patience godlinesse,

7 In godlinesse brotherly kindnesse, in brotherly kindnesse charitie.

8 For if these things bee among you, and bee plenteous, they make you that ye neither shal be idle, nor vnfruitfull in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.

9 But he that lacketh these things, is blinde, and can not see farre off, and hath forgotten that he was purged from his olde sinnes.

10 Wherfore, brethren, giue ẏ more diligence: for b Albeit it bee sure in it selfe, forasmuch as God can not change: yet we must confirme it in our selues by the fruites of the spirite, knowing that the purpose of God electeth, calleth, sanctifieth, and iustifieth vs.

for to make your calling and election b sure: for if ye do such things, ye shall neuer fall.

11 Yea and by this meanes an entring in shall be ministred vnto you abundantly, into the euerlasting kingdome of our Lord and Sauiour Iesus Christ.

12 Wherefore I will not bee negligent to put you alwayes in remembrance of such things, though yee knowe them your selues, and bee stablished in the present trueth.

13 Notwithstanding I thinke it meete, as long as I am in this tabernacle, to stirre you vp, by putting you in remembrance:

14 Knowing that shortly I must put off this my tabernacle, * euen as our Lorde Iesus Christ shewed me.

John 21.19.

15 I will euer also giue my diligence, that yee may haue wherewith to stirre vp the remembrance of these things after my departing.

16 * For wee haue not followed deceitfull fables, when wee opened vnto you the power & comming of our Lord Iesus Christ, but with our eyes we sawe his maiestie:

1. Cor. 1.17.

17 Euen then verily when he receiued of God the father honour and glory, and when there came such a voyce to him from the excellent glory: * This is my deare beloued sonne in whom I delight.

Matth. 17.5.

18 This voyce wee heard come from heauen, when we were with him in the holy mount.

19 We haue also a right sure word of prophecie, whereunto if ye take heed, as vnto a light that shineth in a darke place, ye do well, vntil the day dawne, and the day starre arise in your hearts.

20 So that ye first know this, that no prophecie in the scripture is of any priuate ‖ motion.

‖ Or, interpretation.

21 For the prophecie came not in olde time by the will of man: but holy men of God, spake as they were mooued by the holie ghost.

The ii. Chapter.

He prophecieth of false teachers, & sheweth their punishment.

1 THere were false Prophets also among the people, euen as there shall bee false teachers among you, which priuily shall bring in damnable heresies, euen denying the Lorde that hath bought thē, and bring vpon themselues swift damnation.

2 And many shall followe their damnable wayes, by whom the way of trueth shall be euill spoken of:

a That is euidently seene in the Pope and his Priestes, which by lyes and flatteries sell mens soules: so that it is certaine that he is not the successour of Simon Peter, but of Simon Magus. Iob 4.12.

3 And through couetousnesse shall they with faigned wordes make a marchandize of you, whose iudgement nowe of long time ceaseth not, and their damnation sleepeth not.

4 For if * God spared not the angels that sinned, but cast them downe into hell, and deliuered them into chaynes of darkenesse, to be kept vnto iudgement:

5 * Neither spared the olde worlde, but saued Noe the eight [person,] a preacher of righteousnesse, and brought in the flood vpon the world of the vngodly,

Gene. 7.1.

6 And turned their cities of * Sodome, and Gomorrhe into ashes, ouerthrewe them, damned them, and made them an ensample vnto those that after should liue vngodly:

Gene. 19.13.

7 And iust Lot, vexed with the vncleane conuersation of the wicked, deliuered he.

8 (For hee being righteous, and dwelling among them, in seeing and hearing, vexed his righteous soule from day to day with [their] vnlawfull deedes.)

9 The Lorde knoweth howe to deliuer the godly out of temptation, and to reserue the vniust vnto the day of iudgement for to be punished.

10 But chiefly them that walke after the flesh in the lust of vncleannesse, and despise authoritie. Presumptuous [are they,] and stand in their owne conceit, which feare not to speake euill of them that excell in worship.

11 When the angels which are greater both in power and might, giue not b rayling iudgement against them before the Lord.

b Albeit the angels condemne the vice and iniquitie of wicked magistrates, yet they blame not the authoritie and power which is giuen them of God.

12 But these as bruite beastes, led with sensualitie, and made to be taken & destroyed, speake euill of the things that they vnderstande not, and shall perish through their owne corruption:

13 And receiue the reward of vnrighteousnes, they count it pleasure to liue delitiously for a season: spots they are and blots, c delighting themselues in their deceiuings, in feasting with you:

c For in your holy feastes, they sit as members of the Church, where as in deede they be but spots, and so deceiue you.

14 Hauing eyes full of adulterie, & that can not cease from sinne, laying bayte for vnstable soules: hearts they haue exercised with ‖ robberie, they are cursed children,

‖ Or, couetousnesse.

15 Which haue forsaken the right way, & are gone astray, following the way of Balaam [the sonne] of Bosor, which loued the reward of vnrighteousnesse:

16 But was rebuked of his iniquitie. * The dumbe beast, and vsed to the yoke, speaking with mans voyce, forbade the madnesse of the Prophet.

Numb. 22.25.

17 *These are welles without water, cloudes that are caried with a tempest, to whome the mist of darkenesse is reserued for euer.

Iude 1.12.

18 For when they speake the great swelling wordes of vanitie, they entice through lustes with the baite of wantonnesse of the flesh, thē that were cleane escaped from them, which are wrapped in errour:

19 While they promise them libertie, whereas they them selues are the bondseruantes of corruption: * For of whome a man is ouercome, vnto the same is he brought in bondage.

John 8.34. rom. 6.20.

10 * For

Heb.6.4. 20 * For if they, after they haue escaped from the filthines of the world, through the knowledge of the Lord & the sauiour Iesus Christ, are yet tangled againe therein, and ouercome, then is the latter end worse with them then the beginning.

21 For it had bene better for them not to haue knowen the way of righteousnesse, then after they haue knowen it, to turne from the holy commaundement that was giuen vnto them.

22 But the same is happened vnto them that is vsed to bee spoken by the true prouerbe, * The dogge is turned to his owne vomite againe, and the Sowe that was washed, [is turned againe] to her wallowing in the myre.

Prou.26.11.

The iii. Chapter.

3 Hee sheweth the impietie of them which mocke at Gods promises. 7 After what sort the ende of the worlde shall bee. 8 That they prepare them selues thereunto. 16 Who they are which abuse the writings of Saint Paul, and the rest of the Scriptures, 18 Concluding with eternall thankes to Christ Iesus.

1 THis is the second Epistle that I nowe write vnto you, dearely beloued, wherwith I stirre vp and warne your pure mindes,

2 To be mindefull of the wordes which were tolde before of the holy Prophetes, and also the ‖ commandement of vs, which be Apostles of the Lord and Sauiour:

‖Or, doctrine.

1.Tim.4.1. 2.tim.3.1. 3 * Knowing this first, that there shall come in the last dayes mockers, walking after their owne lustes,

4 And saying, Where is the promise of his comming? For since the fathers fell a sleepe, al things continue alike from the beginning of the creation.

a Ye meaneth them which had once professed Christian religion, but became afterward contemners and mockers, as Epicures and Atheistes.

5 For this they knowe not (and that a wilfully) howe that the heauens were of olde, and the earth consisting of the water and by the water, by the word of God:

6 By the which things the worlde that then was, perished, being then ouerrunne with water.

7 But the heauens and earth which are nowe, be kept by his word in store, and reserued vnto fire against the day of iudgement, and perdition of vngodly men.

8 Dearely beloued, bee not ignorant of this one thing, * howe that one day is with the Lord as a thousande yeeres, and a thousande yeeres as one day. Psalm.90.4.

9 The Lord that hath promised, is not slacke (as some men count slackenesse) * but is patient to vswarde, [forasmuch] as hee woulde haue no man lost, but will receiue all men to repentance. 1.Tim.2.4.

10 Neuertheless, * the day of the Lorde will come as a thiefe in the night, in the which the heauens shall passe away with a great noyse, and the elementes shall melt with feruent heate, the earth also, and the workes that are therein, shalbe vtterly burned. Matth.24.4. 1.thes.5.2. apoc.3.3.

11 Seeing then that all these things shall perish, what maner persons ought ye to be in holy conuersation and godlinesse, 12 Looking for, and hasting vnto the comming of the day of God, ‖ by whom the heauen shal perish with fire, and the elementes shall melte with feruent heate. ‖Some reade, wherein.

13 *Neuertheles, we according to his promise, looke for a newe heauen, and a newe earth, wherein dwelleth righteousnesse. Apoc.21.1. esay 65.17.

14 Wherefore dearely beloued, seeing that ye looke for such things, be diligent that ye may bee founde of him in peace without spot, and vndefiled:

15 * And suppose that the long suffering of the Lorde is saluation, euen as our dearely beloued brother Paul also, according to the wisedome giuen vnto him, hath written vnto you. Rom.2.4.

16 Yea almost in euery Epistle, speaking of such things, among which are many things hard to bee vnderstande, which they that are vnlearned and vnstable, peruert, as they doe also the other Scriptures, vnto their owne destruction.

17 Ye therefore beloued, seeing ye bee warned aforehande, beware least ye also, being led away with the errour of the wicked, fall from your owne stedfastnesse:

18 But growe in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lorde and sauiour Iesus Christ: To whome be glory both nowe and for euer, Amen.

Here endeth the seconde Epistle of Saint Peter.

The first Epistle of Saint Iohn the Apostle.

The first Chapter.

1 The true witnesse of the euerlasting worde of God. 7 The blood of Christ is the purgation of sinne. 10 No man is without sinne.

The Epistle on S. Iohn the Euangelists day.

1 THat which was from the beginning, which wee haue heard, which we haue seene with our eyes, which wee haue looked vpon, and our handes haue handled, of the worde of life:

2 (And the life appeared, and wee haue seene, and beare witnesse, and shewe vnto you that eternall life which was with the father, and appeared vnto vs:)

3 That which wee haue seene and heard, declare wee vnto you, that yee also may haue [a] fellowship with vs, and that our fellowship may bee with the father, and his sonne Iesus Christ.

a The effect of the Gospel is, that we all being ioyned together in Christ by faith, should be the sonnes of God. Iohn 8.12.

4 And these things write wee vnto you, that your ioy may be full.

5 And this is the tydings which wee haue heard of him, and declare vnto you, * that God is light, and in him is no darkenesse at all.

6 If we say ỳ wee haue fellowship with him, and walke in darkenesse, we lie, and do not the trueth.

7 But if we walke in the light, euen as hee is in the light, then haue wee fellowship [b] one with another, *and the blood of Iesus Christ his sonne cleanseth vs from all sinne.

b That is, Christ with vs, and we th our selues. Heb.9.28. 1.kin. 8.46. 2.Chro.6.36.

8 * If we say that wee haue no sinne, wee deceiue our selues, and the trueth is not in vs.

9 If we knowledge our sinnes, he is faithfull and iust to forgiue vs our sinnes, & to cleanse vs from all vnrighteousnesse.

10 If wee say that wee haue not sinned, wee make him a lyar, and his worde is not in vs.

The ii. Chapter.

1 Christ is our aduocate. 10 Of true loue, and howe it is tryed, 18 to beware of Antichrist.

1 MY litle children, these things write I vnto you, that ye sinne not. And if any man sinne, we haue an aduocate with the father, Iesus Christ the righteous:

2 And hee is the atonement for our sinnes, not for our [sinnes] onely, but also for the [sinnes] of all the world.

a That is, by faith, and so of by him: for knowledge can not be without obedience.

3 And hereby we are sure that we [a] know him, if we keepe his commandements.

4 He that sayeth, I knowe him, and keepeth not his commandements, is a liar, and the ‖ veritie is not in him.

‖ Or, trueth.

5 But who so keepeth his word, in him is the loue of God perfect in deede: Hereby knowe we that we are in him.

6 He that sayeth he abideth in him, ought him selfe to walke, euen as he walked.

7 Brethren, I write no newe commaundement vnto you, but an olde commaundement which yee haue heard from the beginning. The olde commaundement, is the worde which yee haue heard from the beginning.

8 Againe, a newe commandement I write vnto you, that is true in him, and [the same is true] also in you, for the darkenesse is past, & the true light nowe shineth.

9 He that sayeth howe that he is in the light, and yet hateth his brother, is in darkenesse euē vntill this time.

10 * Hee that loueth his brother, abideth in the light, and there is none occasion of euill in him. 1.Iohn 3.14.

11 He that hateth his brother, is in darkenesse, and walketh in darkenesse: and can not tell whither he goeth, because that darkenes hath blinded his eyes.

12 Babes I write vnto you, because your sinnes are forgiuen you for his names sake.

13 I write vnto you fathers, because yee haue knowen him that is from the beginning. I write vnto you yong men, because ye haue ouercome the wicked.

14 I write to you litle children, because ye haue knowen the father. I haue written to you fathers, because ye haue knowen him that [is] from the beginning. I haue written vnto you yong men, because ye are strong, and the worde of God abideth in you, and yee haue ouercome the wicked.

15 See that ye loue not the worlde, neither the things that are in the worlde. If any man loue the worlde, the loue of the father is not in him.

16 For all that is in the worlde, as the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the father, but of the worlde.

17 And the worlde passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that fulfilleth the will of God, abideth for euer.

18 Litle children, it is the last time: and as yee haue heard howe that antichrist shall come, euen nowe there are many antichrists: whereby we knowe that it is the last time.

19 They went out from vs, but they were not of vs: For if they had bene of vs, they woulde no doubt haue continued with vs: But ‖ that it might appeare that they are not all of vs,

‖ Or, this commeth to passe.

20 Neuer-

b The grace of the holy ghost.

20 Neuertheless, ye haue an [b]ointment of him that is holy, and ye know all things.
21 I haue not written vnto you as though ye knew not the trueth: but because ye know it, and that no lie is of the trueth.
22 Who is a liar, but he that denieth that Iesus is Christ: the same is Antichrist, that denieth the father and the sonne.
23 Whosoeuer denieth ỹ sonne, the same hath not the father: [But hee that knowledgeth the sonne, hath the father also.]
24 Let therefore abide in you, that same which ye heard from the beginning: if that which ye haue heard frõ the beginning shal remaine in you, ye also shal continue in the sonne, and in the father.
25 And this is the promise that he hath promised vs, [euen] eternall life.
26 These things haue I written vnto you, cõcerning them that deceiue you.
27 And the anointing which ye haue receiued of him dwelleth in you: and ye need not that any man teach you, but as the same [c]anointing teacheth you of all things, & it is true, and not lying: and as it taught you, ye shall abide in it.
28 And now [d] babes, abide in him: that when he shal appeare, we may be bold, and not be ashamed ‖ of him at his comming.
29 If ye know that he is righteous, know also that euery one which doeth righteousnesse, is borne of him.

c Christ communicateth himselfe vnto you, and teacheth you by the holy ghost and his ministers.

d By this name, he meaneth the whole church of Christ in generall.

‖ Or, before.

The iii. Chapter.

1 The singular loue of God toward vs, 7 and how we againe ought to loue one another.

1 BEhold what charitie the father hath shewed vs [euen] that we should be called the sonnes of God: for this cause the world knoweth vs not, because it hath not knowen him.
2 Dearely beloued, now are we the sonnes of God, and yet it doeth not appeare what wee shalbe: But we know that when he shall appeare, we shalbe like him: for we shal see him as he is.
3 And euery man that hath this hope in him, purgeth himselfe, euen as he also is pure.
4 Whosoeuer committeth sinne, trãsgresseth also the lawe: for sinne is the transgression of the lawe.
5 And ye know that hee appeared to * take away our sinnes, and in him is no sinne.
6 As many as bide in him, sinne not: whosoeuer sinneth, hath not seene him, neither knowen him.
7 Babes, let no man deceiue you: he that doth righteousnesse, is righteous, euen as hee is righteous.
8 * He that committeth sinne, is of the deuill, for the deuil sinneth since the beginning: For this purpose appeared the sonne of God, to loose the works of the deuil.
9 Whosoeuer is borne of God, sinneth not: for his seede remaineth in him, and he cannot sinne, because he is borne of God.
10 In this are the children of God knowen, & the children of the deuil: whosoeuer doth not righteousnesse, is not of God, neither he that loueth not his brother.
11 * For this is the tidings that ye heard from the beginning, that ye should loue one another.
12 Not as * Caine [which] was of ỹ wicked, and slew his brother: And wherefore slew he him? because his owne works were euil, and his brothers righteous.
13 Marueil not, my brethren, if the world hate you.
14 We know that we are translated frõ death vnto life, because wee [a] loue the brethren: hee that loueth not his brother, abideth in death.
15 Whosoeuer hateth * his brother, is a manslear: and ye know that no manslear hath eternall life abiding in him.
16 Hereby perceiue wee loue, because he layd downe his life for vs: and we ought to lay downe our liues for the brethren.
17 * But whoso hath this worlds good, and seeth his brother haue need, and shutteth vp his compassion from him: how dwelleth the loue of God in him?
18 My babes, let vs not loue in word, neither in tongue, but in deed and in veritie.
19 Hereby we know that we are of the trueth, and shal assure our hearts before him.
20 For if our heart condemne vs, God is greater then our heart, and knoweth all things.
21 Dearely beloued, if our heart condemne vs not, then haue we boldnesse toward God.
22 And * whatsoeuer we aske, wee receiue of him, because we keepe his commandements, and doe those things which are pleasing in his sight.
23 * And this is his commandement, that wee should beleeue on the name of his sonne Iesus Christ, and loue one another, as hee gaue vs commandement.
24 * And he that keepeth his commandements, dwelleth in him, and he in him: and hereby we know that he abideth in vs, [euen] by the spirit which he hath giuen vs.

The iiii. Chapter.

1 Difference of spirites, 2 how the spirit of God may be knowen from the spirit of errour.

1 DEarely beloued, beleeue not euery spirite, but proue the spirites whether they are of God, or not: for many false prophets are gone out into the world.
2 Hereby shall ye know the spirit of God: Euery spirit that confesseth that Iesus Christ is come in the flesh, is of God:

a Who being here by God raised from his graue, & after him many other.

Isai 53.5. 1. pet. 2.22.
Iohn 8.44.

3 And euery spirit which confesseth not that Iesus Christ is come in the flesh, is not of God, and this is that [spirit] of Antichrist, of whō ye haue heard how that he should come: and euen now already is he in the world.

4 Litle childrē, ye are of God, and haue ouercome them: for greater [is] he that is in you, then he that is in the world.

5 They are of the world, therefore speake they of the world, and the world heareth them.

Ioh.8.47. 6 *We are of God, hee that knoweth God, heareth vs: he that is not of God, heareth vs not. Hereby know we the spirit of veritie, and the spirit of errour.

The Epistle on the first Sunday after Trinitie. 7 Dearely beloued, let vs loue one another, for loue commeth of God: and euery one that loueth, is borne of God, and knoweth God.

8 He that loueth not, knoweth not God: for God is loue.

Ioh.3.16. 9 *In this appeared the loue of God to vs-ward, because God sent his onely begotten sonne into the world, that wee might liue through him.

10 Herein is loue, not that we loued God, but that he loued vs, and sent his sonne to be the agreement for our sinnes.

11 Dearely beloued, if God so loued vs, wee ought also to loue one another.

1.Ioh.1.12. 1.tim.6.16. 12 *No man hath seene God at any time. If we loue one another, God dwelleth in vs, and his loue is perfect in vs.

13 Hereby know wee that we dwell in him, and he in vs: because he hath giuen vs of his spirite.

14 And we haue seene, and doe testifie that the father sent his sonne [to be] the sauiour of the world.

15 Whosoeuer confesseth that Iesus is the sonne of God, in him dwelleth God, and hee in God.

16 And we haue knowen and beleeued the loue that God hath to vs. God is loue, and he that dwelleth in loue, dwelleth in God, and God in him.

17 Herein is the loue perfect in vs, that wee should haue boldnesse in the day of iudgement: For as hee is, euen so are we in this world.

18 There is no feare in loue, but perfect loue casteth out feare: for feare hath painfulnesse. He that feareth, is not perfect in loue.

19 We loue him, for he loued vs first.

20 If a man say, I loue God, and yet hate his brother, he is a liar: For how can he that loueth not his brother whom he hath seene, loue God whom he hath not seene?

Ioh.13.34. and 15.12. 21 *And this commandement haue we of him, that he which loueth God, should loue his brother also.

The v. Chapter.
Of the fruits of faith.

1 WHosoeuer beleeueth that Iesus is Christ, is borne of God: and euery one that loueth him which begate, loueth him also which is begotten of him.

Matt.22.37. 2 *By this we know that we loue the childrē of God, when we loue God, and keepe his commandements.

1.Cor.15.57. 3 For this is the loue of God, that we keepe his commandements: and *his commandements are not grieuous.

The Epistle on the first Sunday after Easter. 4 For all that is borne of God, ouercommeth the world: and this is the victory that hath ouercome the world, [euen] our faith.

5 Who is it that ouercommeth the world, but he which beleeueth that Iesus is the sonne of God?

6 This Iesus Christ is he that came by water and [a] blood: not by water onely, but by water & blood: and it is the spirit that beareth witnesse, because the spirit is [b] trueth.

a The water and blood that came out of his side, declare that we haue our sinnes washed by him, and he hath made ful satisfaction for the same.

b Which testifieth to our hearts, that we be the children of God.

7 For there are three which beare record in heauen, the father, the word, & the holy ghost, and these three are one.

8 And there are three which beare record in earth, the spirite, and water, and blood, & these three agree in one.

9 If we receiue the witnesse of men, the witnesse of God is greater: For this is the witnesse of God, which he testifieth of his sonne.

10 *He that beleeueth on the sonne of God [illegible] 37. hath the witnesse in himselfe: He that beleeueth not God, hath made him a liar, because he beleeued not the record that God gaue of his sonne.

11 And this is the record, that God hath giuen vnto vs eternall life, and this life is in his sonne.

12 He that hath the sonne, hath life: and he that hath not the sonne of God, hath not life.

13 These things haue I written vnto you that beleeue on the name of the sonne of God, that ye may know that ye haue eternall life, and that ye may beleeue on the name of the sonne of God.

1.Ioh.3.22. 14 And this is the trust that we haue in him: that *if we aske any thing according to his will, he heareth vs.

15 And if we know that he heare vs whatsoeuer we aske, we know that we haue the petitions that we desire of him.

16 If any man see his brother sinne a sinne [which is] not vnto death, he shal aske, and he shall giue him life for them that sinne not vnto death. There is a sinne vnto death: I say not that ye should pray for it.

Matt.12.31. mar.3.29. 17 *All vnrighteousnesse is sinne: and there is sinne not vnto death.

18 Wee know that whosoeuer is borne of God, sinneth not: but he that is begotten of God, kepeth himselfe, & that wicked toucheth him him not.

19 We know that we are of God, & the whole world lieth in wickednesse.

20 We know that the sonne of God is come, Luke 19.45. & hath * giuen vs a mind to know him which is true: & we are in him that is true, through his sonne Iesus Christ: This same is very God, and eternal life.

Amen.

The second Epistle of Saint Iohn.

1 He writeth vnto a certaine Lady, her children walke in the trueth, 4 reioycing that 5 and exhorteth them vnto loue.

1 THe elder vnto the elect Lady and her children, whom I loue in the [a] trueth, and not I onely, but also all that haue knowen the trueth:

a According to godlines, and not with any worldly affections.

2 For the truthes sake which dwelleth in vs, and shalbe with vs for euer:

3 Grace be with you, mercy, and peace from God the father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ, the sonne of the father in [b] trueth and loue.

b We cannot receiue þ grace of God, except we haue the true knowledge of him, of the which knowledge loue proceedeth.

4 I reioyced greatly that I found of thy children walking in [c] trueth, as we haue receiued a commandement of the father.

c According to Gods word.

5 And now I beseech thee, Lady, not as though I wrote a new commandement vnto thee: but that same which wee haue had from the beginning, that we should loue one another.

6 And this is the loue, that we should walke after his commandements: This is the commandement, that as ye haue heard from the beginning, ye should walke in it.

7 For many deceiuers are entred into the world, which confesse not that Iesus Christ is come in the flesh. This is a deceiuer, and an Antichrist.

8 Looke on your selues, that we lose not that we haue wrought: but that wee may haue a full reward.

9 Whosoeuer transgresseth, and abideth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God: He that endureth in the doctrine of Christ, hath both the father and the sonne.

10 If there come any vnto you, and bring not this learning, * him receiue not to house, neither bid him God speede. Rom. 16.17.

11 For he that biddeth him God speede, is partaker of his euil deedes.

12 Hauing many things to write vnto you, I would not write with paper and inke: but I trust to come vnto you, and speake with you mouth to mouth, that our ioy may be full.

13 The sonnes of thy elect sister greete thee, Amen.

The ende of the second Epistle of Saint Iohn.

The third Epistle of Saint Iohn.

2 He is glad of Gaius that he walketh in the trueth, 8 and exhorteth to be louing vnto the poore christen in their persecution.

1 THe elder vnto the welbeloued Gaius, whom I loue in the trueth.

2 Beloued, I wish in all things that thou prospectest and farest well, euen as thy soule prospereth.

3 For I reioyced greatly when the brethren came, & testified of the trueth that is in thee, how thou walkest in the trueth.

a That is, in godly conuersation, as they which haue both þ knowledge and feare of God.

4 I haue no greater ioy, then [for] to heare how that my sonnes walke [a] in veritie.

5 Beloued, thou doest faithfully whatsoeuer thou dealest to the brethren, and to strangers:

6 Which haue borne witnesse of thy charitie before the church: whom if thou bring forwards on their iourney after a godly sort, thou shalt do well.

7 Because that for his names sake they went forth, taking nothing of the Gentiles.

8 We therefore ought to receiue such, that we might be helpers to the trueth.

9 I wrote vnto the church: but Diotrephes which loueth to haue the preeminence among them, receiueth vs not.

10 Wherefore if I come, I will declare his deedes which he doeth, telling on vs with malicious wordes: and not content therewith, neither he himselfe receiueth the brethren, and forbiddeth them that would, and thrusteth them out of the church.

11 Beloued, follow not that which is euil, but that which is good. He that doeth well, is of God, but hee that doeth euill, hath not seene God.

12 Demetrius hath good report of all men, and of the trueth it selfe: Yea, and we our selues also beare record, and yee know that our record is true.

13 I had many things to write: but I will not with inke and penne write vnto thee.

14 I trust I shall shortly see thee, and we shall speake mouth to mouth. Peace be vnto thee. The louers salute thee. Greete our friends by name.

The Epistle of Saint Iude.

Saint Iude admonisheth all churches generally to take heede of deceiuers, which goe about to draw away the hearts of the simple people from the trueth of God.

The Epistle on Saint Simon & Iudes day.

1 IVde the seruant of Iesus Christ, ỹ brother of Iames, to them which are called and sanctified in God the father, and preserued in Iesus Christ:

2 Mercy vnto you, and peace, and charitie be multiplied.

3 Beloued, whē I gaue all diligence to write vnto you of the common saluation, it was needefull for me to write vnto you, exhorting you that ye should earnestly [a] contend for the faith which was once giuen vnto the saintes.

a Against assaults of Satan and heretikes.

4 For there are certaine vngodly men craftily crept in, which were before of olde ordained to this condemnation, turning the grace of our God vnto wantonnesse: and denying God, which is the onely Lord, and our Lord Iesus Christ.

5 My minde is therefore to put you in remēbrance [hereof,] forasmuch as ye once know this, how that the Lord after that he had deliuered the people out of Egypt, * destroied thē which afterward beleeued not.

Num.14.37.

2.Pet.2.4. 6 * The Angels also which kept not their first estate, but left their owne habitation, he hath reserued in euerlasting chaines vnder darkenesse, vnto the iudgement of the great day.

Gen.19.24. 7 * Euen as Sodome and Gomorrhe, and the cities about them, which in like maner defiled themselues with fornication, and followed strange flesh, are set foorth for an ensample, & suffer the paine of eternal fire.

8 Likewise these being deceiued by dreames, defile the flesh, despise rulers, and speake euil of them that are in authoritie.

9 Yet Michael the archangel, when he stroue against the deuil, and disputed about the body of Moses, durst not giue railing sentence, but said, The Lord rebuke thee.

10 But these speake euil of those things which they know not, and what things they know naturally, as beasts which are without reason, in those things they corrupt themselues.

11 Woe be vnto them, for they haue gone in the way of * Cain, and are vtterly giuen to the errour of * Balaam for lucres sake, and haue perished in the gainesaying of * Core.

Gen.4.8. Num.22.21. num.16.1. 2.Pet.2.15.

14 Enoch the seuenth from Adam prophecied before of such, saying, Behold, the Lord shall come with thousands of saintes, 15 To giue iudgement against all men, and to rebuke all that are vngodly among them, of all their vngodly deedes which they haue vngodly committed, and of all their cruel speakings, which vngodly sinners haue spoken against him.

16 These are murmurers, complainers, walking after their owne lustes, * whose mouths speake proud things, they haue men in great reuerence because of aduantage.

Psal.17.10.

17 But ye beloued, remēber the words which were spokē before of the Apostles of our Lord Iesus Christ.

19 These are makers of sects, fleshly, hauing not the spirit.

20 But ye dearely beloued, edifie your selues in your most holy faith, praying in the holy Ghost.

21 And keepe your selues in the loue of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Iesus Christ vnto eternall life,

22 And haue compassion of some, * separating them:

The Reuelation of Saint Iohn the Diuine.

The first Chapter.

1 The cause of this Reuelation. 3 Of them that read it. 4 Iohn writeth to the seuen churches. 5 The maiestie and office of the sonne of God. 20 The vision of the candlestickes, and starres.

a Of things which were hid before.
b Christ receiued this Reuelation out of his fathers bosome as his owne doctrine, but it was hid in respect of vs, so þ Christ as Lord and God reuealeth it to Iohn his seruant, by the ministery of his angel, to the edification of his church.

THe a Reuelation of Jesus Christ, which b God gaue vnto him, for to shew vnto his seruants things which must shortly come to passe: and when hee had sent, hee shewed by his Angell vnto his seruaunt John,

2 Which bare record of the word of God, and of the testimonie of Jesus Christ, and of all things that he saw.

3 Happy is he that readeth, & they that heare the wordes of this prophecie, and keepe those things which are written therein: for the time is at hand.

4 John to the seuen churches in Asia, Grace [bee] vnto you, and peace from him which *is, and which was, and which is to come, & from the seuen spirites which are before his throne:

Exod. 3. 14.

5 And from Jesus Christ, [which is] a faithfull witnesse and *first begotten of the dead, & Lord ouer the kings of the earth: vnto him that loued vs, and washed vs from our sinnes in his owne blood,

1. Cor. 15. 21.

6 And made *vs kings and priests vnto God and his father: to him be glory and dominion for euermore, Amen.

Heb. 9. 14.

7 Behold, he commeth with the cloudes, and all eyes shall see him, and they also which pearced him, and all kinreds of the earth shal waile before him: euen so. Amen.

8 I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning & the ending, saieth the Lord almighty, which is, and which was, and which is to come.

9 I John your brother, and companion in tribulation, and in the kingdome and patience of Jesus Christ, was in the Ile that is called Pathmos, for the word of God, and for þ witnessing of Jesus Christ.

10 I was in the spirit on the ‖ Lordes day, and heard behind me a great voyce, as it had bene the voyce of a trumpe,

‖ Or, Sunday.

11 Saying, I am Alpha and Omega, the first and the last: that thou seest write in a booke, and send it vnto the seuen churches which are in Asia, vnto Ephesus, & vnto Smyrna, and vnto Pergamos, and vnto Thyatira, and vnto Sardis, and vnto Philadelphia, and vnto Laodicea.

12 And I turned backe to see the voyce that spake to me. And when I was turned, I saw seuen golden candlesticks, 13 And in the middest of the seuē candlesticks, [one] like vnto the sonne of man, clothed with a garment downe to the feete, and girt about the pappes with a golden girdle.

14 His head and his heares were white as white wooll, and as snow, and his eyes were as a flame of fire.

15 And his feete like vnto fine brasse, as though they burnt in a fornace: and his voyce as the sound of many waters.

16 And he had in his right hand seuen starres: and out of his mouth went a sharpe two edged sword: and his face shone euen as the Sunne in his strength.

17 And when I sawe him, I fell at his feete euen as dead: and he laid his right hand vpon me, saying vnto me, Feare not, *I am þ first and the last,

Esa. 44. 6.

18 I am aliue, and was dead: and behold I am aliue for euermore, Amen, and haue the keyes of hell and of death.

19 Write therefore the things which thou hast seene, and the things which are, & the things which shalbe fulfilled hereafter.

20 The mysterie of the seuen starres which thou sawest in my right hand, and the seuen golden candlesticks. The seuen starres are the Angels of the seuen churches: and the seuen candlesticks which thou sawest [are] the seuen churches.

The ii. Chapter.

1 He exhorteth foure churches, 5, to repentance, 10 to perseuerance, patience and amendment, 14 20 23 as well by threatnings, 7 10 17 26 as by promises of reward.

1 VNto the Angel of the church of Ephesus, write, These things saieth he that holdeth the seuen starres in his right hand, and that walketh in the middest of the seuen golden candlesticks:

2 I know thy workes, and thy labour, and patience, & how thou canst not forbeare them which are euill: and hast examined thē which say they are apostles, and are not, and hast found them liars:

3 And hast suffered, and hast patience, and for my names sake hast laboured, and hast not fainted.

4 Neuertheless, I haue [somewhat] against thee, because thou hast left thy first loue.

5 Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first workes: or els, I will come vnto thee shortly, and wil remoue thy candlesticke out of his place, except thou repent.

6 But this thou hast, because thou hatest the deedes of the Nicolaitans, which [deedes] I also hate.

7 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the spirite saieth vnto the churches: To him that ouercommeth, will I giue to eate of the tree of life, which is in the middest of the paradise of God.

8 And vnto the Angel of the church of Smyrna, write, These things saieth he that is first and the last, which was dead, and is [a] aliue:

a The eternall diuinitie of Iesus Christ, is here most plainly declared, with his manhood and victory ouer death, to assure his, that they shall not be ouercome by death.

9 I know thy works, and tribulation, and pouertie, (but thou art [b] rich:) and I know the blasphemie of them which call themselues Iewes, and are not, but [are] the synagogue of Satan.

b In spirituall treasure.

10 Feare none of those things which thou shalt suffer: behold, the deuill shall cast some of you into prison to tempt you, and ye shall haue tribulation ten dayes: be thou faithfull vnto the death, and I will giue thee a crowne of life.

11 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the spirite saieth vnto the churches. He that ouercommeth, shall not bee hurt of the second death.

12 And to the Angel of the church in Pergamos, write, These things saith he which hath the sharpe [c] sword with two edges.

c The word of God is the sword with two edges.

13 I know thy works, & where thou dwellest, [euen] where Satans seate is, & [that] thou holdest fast my name, and hast not denied my faith, euen in those dayes, when Antipas my faithful martyr was slaine among you, where Satan dwelleth.

14 But I haue a few things against thee, because thou hast there them that maintaine the doctrine of * Balaam, which taught ‖ Balac to put a stumbling blocke before the children of Israel, that they should eate of meate sacrificed vnto idols, and commit fornication.

Num. 24. 14. ‖ Some read, taught in Balac.

15 Euen so hast thou them that maintaine the doctrine of the Nicolaitans, which thing I hate.

16 Repent, or els I will come vnto thee shortly, and will fight against them with ỹ sword of my mouth.

17 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the spirite saieth vnto the churches. To him that ouercommeth, will I giue to eate Manna that is hid, and will giue him a white stone, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth, sauing he that receiueth it.

18 And vnto the Angel of the church of Thyatira, write, These things saieth the sonne of God, who hath eyes like vnto a flame of fire, and his feete [are] like fine brasse:

19 I know thy workes, and thy charitie, seruice, and fayth, and thy patience, and thy deedes, which are moe at the last then at the first.

20 Notwithstanding, I haue a few things against thee, because thou suffrest that woman Iezabel, which called her selfe a prophetisse, to teach, and to deceiue my seruants, to make them commit fornication, and to eate meate sacrificed vnto idols.

21 And I gaue her space to repent of her fornication, and she repented not.

22 Beholde, I will cast her into a bedde, and them that commit fornication with her into great aduersitie, except they repent of their deedes.

23 And I will kil her children with death, and all the churches shall know that * I am hee which searcheth the reynes and hearts: and I will giue vnto euery one of you according to his workes. Iere. 11. 20. and 17. 10.

24 Vnto you I say, and vnto other of them of Thyatira, as many as haue not this learning, and which haue not knowen the deepenes of Satan, as they say, I wil put vpon you none other burden:

25 But that which ye haue already, hold fast til I come.

26 And whosoeuer ouercommeth, and keepeth my workes vnto the ende, to him will I giue power ouer nations:

27 * And he shall rule them with a rod of iron: and as the vessels of a potter shal they be broken to shiuers: Psal. 2. 9.

28 Euen as I receiued of my father, so will I giue him the morning starre.

29 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the spirit saith to the churches.

The iii. Chapter.

He exhorteth the Churches or ministers to the true profession of faith, and to watching.

1 AND write vnto the angel of ỹ Church that is at Sardis, These things sayth he that hath the seuen spirites of God, and the seuen starres, I knowe thy workes, [euen] that thou hast a name that thou liuest, and thou art dead.

2 Be awake, and strengthē the things which remaine, that are readie to die: For I haue not not found thy workes perfect before God.

3 Remember therefore howe thou hast receiued and heard, and hold fast, and repent. *If thou shalt not watch, I will come on thee as a thiefe, and thou shalt not know what houre I will come vpon thee.

1. Thes. 5. 2. 2. pet. 3. 10.

4 Thou hast a fewe names in Sardis, which haue not defiled their garments, and they shal walke with me in white: for they are worthy.

5 He that ouercommeth, shalbe thus clothed in white aray, and I will not blot out his name out of the *booke of life: and I will confesse his name before my father, and before his angels.

Apoc. 20. 12. philip. 4. 4.

6 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the spirit saieth vnto the Churches.

7 And write vnto the angel of the Church of Philadelphia, These things sayth he that is holy and true, which hath the key of Dauid, which openeth, and no man shutteth, [and] shutteth, and no man openeth.

8 I know thy workes: behold, I haue set before thee an open doore, and no man can shut it: for thou hast a litle strength, and hast kept my sayings, and hast not denied my name.

9 Behold, I wil make them of the synagogue of Satan, which call themselues Iewes, and are not, but doe lie: behold, I wil make them that they shall come and worship before thy feete, and shall know that I haue loued thee.

10 Because thou hast kept the wordes of my patience, therefore I will keepe thee from the houre of temptation, which will come vpon all the world, to trie them that dwell vpon the earth.

11 Behold, I come shortly, hold that fast which thou hast, that no man take away thy crowne.

12 Him that ouercommeth, will I make a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall goe no more out: and I will write vpon him the name of my God, and the name of the citie of my God, [which is] new Hierusalem, which commeth downe out of heauen from my God: and [I will write vpon him] my newe name.

13 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the spirit sayth vnto the Churches.

14 And vnto the angel of the Church which is in Laodicea, write, These things sayth Amen, the faithful and true witnesse, the beginning of the creatures of God.

15 I know thy workes, that thou art neither cold nor hot: I would thou were cold or hot.

16 So then because thou art luke warme, and neither cold nor hot, I will spewe thee out of my mouth:

17 Because thou sayest, I am rich, and increased with goods, and haue neede of nothing: and knowest not how that thou art wretched, and miserable, and poore, and blinde, and naked.

18 I counsaile thee to buy of me golde tried in the fire, that thou maiest be rich, and white rayment, that thou maiest be clothed, that thy filthy nakednesse doe not appeare, and anoint thine eyes with eye salue, that thou maist see.

19 *As many as I loue, I rebuke and chasten, be feruent therefore, and repent.

Prou. 3. 12. hebr. 12. 5.

20 Behold, I stand at the doore, and knocke: if any man heare my voyce, and open the doore, I will come in to him, and will suppe with him, and he with me.

21 To him that ouercommeth, will I graunt to sit with me in my throne, euen as I ouercame, and haue sitten with my father in his throne.

22 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the spirit sayth vnto the Churches.

The iiii. Chapter.

1 The vision of the maiestie of God. 2 He seeth the throne, & one sitting vpon it, 3 and foure and twentie seates about it, with foure and twentie Elders sitting vpon them, and foure beastes praising God day and night.

1 AFter this I looked, and behold, a doore was open in heauen: and the first voyce which I heard, was as it were of a trumpet, talking with me, which said, Come vp hither, and I wil shew thee things which must be fulfilled hereafter.

The Epistle on Trinitie Sunday.

2 And immediately I was in the spirit: and behold, a throne was set in heauen, and [one] sate on the throne.

3 And he that sate, was to looke vpon like a Iasper stone, and a Sardine stone: and there was a rainebowe about the throne, in sight like vnto an Emeralde.

4 And about the throne were foure and twentie seates, and vpon the seates I sawe foure and twentie Elders sitting, clothed in white rayment, & they had on their heades crownes of golde.

5 And out of the throne doe proceede lightnings, and thundrings, and voyces: and there were seuen lampes of fire burning before the throne, which are the seuen spirites of God.

6 And before ỳ throne there was a sea of glasse, like vnto Crystal: and in the middest of the throne, & round about the throne, were foure beastes full of eyes before and behinde.

7 And the first beast was like a Lion, and the second beast like a Calfe, and the third beast had a face as a man, and the fourth beast was like a flying Egle.

8 And the foure beastes had eche of them sixe wings about him, and they were full of eyes within, & they had no rest day nether night, saying, Holy, holy, holy, Lorde God almightie, which was, and is, and is to come.

9 And when those beastes gaue glory, and honour, and thankes to him that sate on the throne, which liueth for euer and euer,

10 The foure and twentie Elders fell downe before him that sate on the throne, & worshipped him that liueth for euer and euer, and cast their crownes before the throne, saying,

Apoc. 5. 12. 11 *Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receiue glory, and honour, and power: for thou hast created al things, and for thy pleasures sake they are, and were created.

The v. Chapter.

1 He seeth the Lambe opening the booke, 8 14 and therefore the foure beastes, the foure and twentie Elders, and the angels praise the Lambe, and doe him worship, 9 for their redemption and other benefits.

1 AND I sawe in the right hande of him that sate on the throne, a booke writtē within, and on the backeside, sealed with seuen seales.

2 And I saw a strong Angel preaching with a loude voyce, Who is worthy to open the booke, and to loose the seales thereof?

3 And no man in heauen, nor in earth, neither vnder the earth, was able to open the booke, neither to looke thereon.

4 And I wept much, because no man was found worthy to open, and to read the booke, neither to looke thereon.

5 And one of ỹ Elders sayth vnto me, Weepe not: behold, that Lion that is of the tribe of Iuda, the roote of Dauid, hath obteined to open the booke, and to loose the seuen seales thereof.

6 And I beheld, and loe, in the middes of the throne, & of the foure beastes, and in ỹ middes of the Elders stoode a Lambe as though he had bene killed, hauing seuen hornes and seuen eyes, which are the seuen spirits of God, sent into all the earth.

7 And he came, and tooke the booke out of the right hand of him that sate vpon the throne.

8 And when he had taken the booke, ỹ foure beastes and foure and twentie Elders fell downe before the Lambe, hauing euery one of them harpes & golden vials full of odours, which are the prayers of saintes:

9 And they sung a newe song, saying, Thou art worthy to take the booke, and to open the seales thereof: for thou wast killed, and hast redeemed vs to God by thy blood, out of all kinreds, & tongues, & peoples, and nations:

1. Pet. 2. 10 And hast made vs vnto our God *kings and priests, and we shall reigne on the earth.

11 And I beheld, and I heard the voyce of many angels about the throne, and [about] the beastes and the Elders, and heard thousand thousands, 12 Saying with a loude voyce, Worthy is the Lambe that was killed to receiue power, and riches, and wisedome, and strength, and honour, and glory, and blessing.

13 And all the creatures which are in heauen, and on the earth, and vnder the earth, and in the sea, and all that are in them, heard I saying, Blessing, honour, glory, and power be vnto him that sitteth vpon the throne, & vnto the Lambe for euermore.

14 And the foure beastes saide, Amen. And the foure & twentie Elders fell vpon their faces, and worshipped him that liueth for euermore.

The vi. Chapter.

The Lambe openeth the sixe seales, and many things followe the opening thereof.

1 AND I sawe when the Lambe opened one of the seales, and I heard one of the foure beastes say, as it were the noise of thunder, Come and see.

2 And I saw, and behold [there was] a white horse, and he that sate on him had a bowe, and a crowne was giuen vnto him, and he went forth conquering, and for to ouercome.

3 And when he had opened the second seale, I heard the second beast say, Come and see.

4 And there went out another horse that was red: and power was giuen to him that sate thereon to take peace from the earth, and that they should kill one another: and there was giuen vnto him a great sword.

5 And when he had opened the thirde seale, I heard the third beast say, Come and see. And I beheld, & loe, a blacke horse: & he that sate on him, had a paire of ballances in his hand.

6 And I heard a voyce in the middes of the foure beastes say, A measure of wheate for a peny, & three measures of barley for a peny, and oyle and wine see thou hurt not.

7 And when he had opened the fourth seale, I heard ỹ voyce of the fourth beast say, Come and see.

8 And I looked, and behold a pale horse, and his name that sate on him was death, and hell followeth with him: and power was giuen vnto him ouer the fourth part of the earth, to kill with sworde, and with hunger, and with death, and with the beastes of the earth.

9 And when he had opened the fifth seale, I sawe vnder the altar the soules of them that were killed for the word of God, and for the testimonie which they had.

10 And they cryed with a loude voyce, saying, How long [tarriest] thou Lord holy and true, to iudge and to auenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth.

11 And long white garments were giuen vnto euery one of them, & it was said vnto them that they should rest yet for a litle season, vntill their felow seruantes, and their brethren that should be killed as they were, should be fulfilled.

12 And I beheld when he had opened the sixth seale, and loe, there was a great earthquake, & the sunne was as blacke as sackcloth made of heare, and the moone waxed al euen as blood.

13 And the starres of heauen fell vnto the earth,

euen as a figge tree casteth her vntimely figs when she is shaken of a mightie winde.

14 And heauē vanished away as a scrowle whē it is rolled together, and all mountaines and Iles were mooued out of their places.

15 And the kings of the earth, and the great men, and the rich men, & the chiefe captaines, and the mightie men, and euery bondman, and euery free man, hidde themselues in the dennes, and in the rockes of the hilles:

Esai 2.19. ofee.10.8. luke 23.30. 16 And saide to the hilles and rockes, * Fall on vs, and hide vs from the face of him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lambe:

17 For the great day of his wrath is come, and who is able to endure?

The vii. Chapter.

4. 9 He seeth the seruants of God sealed in their foreheades, out of all nations, and people, 15 which though they suffer trouble, yet the Lambe feedeth them, leadeth them to the fountaines of liuing water, 17 and God shall wipe away all teares from their eyes.

1 AND after that, I sawe foure angels standing on the foure corners of the earth, holding the foure windes of the earth, that the winde should not blowe on the earth, neither on the sea, neither on any tree.

The Epistle on all Saints day. 2 And I sawe another angel ascending from the rising of the Sunne, hauing the seale of the liuing God: and he cryed with a loude voyce to the foure angels to whom power was giuen to hurt the earth and the sea, 3 Saying, Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, neither the trees, till we shall haue sealed the seruants of our God in their foreheades.

4 And I heard ỹ number of them which were sealed: and there were sealed an hundred and fourtie and foure thousand, of all the tribes of the children of Israel.

5 Of the tribe of Iuda were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Ruben were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Gad were sealed twelue thousand.

6 Of the tribe of Aser were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Nephthali were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Manasses were sealed twelue thousand.

7 Of the tribe of Simeon were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Leui were sealed twelue thousande. Of the tribe of Isachar were sealed twelue thousand.

8 Of the tribe of Zabulon were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Ioseph were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Beniamin were sealed twelue thousand.

9 After this I beheld, and loe, a great multitude which no man could number, of all nations, and kinreds, and people, and tongues, stoode before the throne, & before the Lambe, clothed with white garments, and palmes in their handes:

10 And cryed with a loude voyce, saying, Saluation [be ascribed] to him that sitteth vpon the throne of our God, and vnto the Lambe.

11 And all the angels stoode in the compasse of the throne, and of the Elders, and of the foure beastes, and fell before the throne on their faces, and worshipped God, 12 Saying, Amen: Blessing, and glory, and wisedome, and thanks, and honour, & power, and might, be vnto our God for euermore, Amen.

13 And one of the Elders answered, saying vnto me, What are these which are arayed in white garments? and whence came they?

14 And I saide vnto him, Lorde, thou wotest. And he said to me, These are they which came out of great tribulation, & haue washed their long robes, and made [a] them white by the blood of the Lambe.

a That is, the said long robes.

15 Therefore are they in the presence of the throne of God, and serue him day and night in his temple: and he that sitteth in the throne will dwell among them.

16 * They shall hunger no more, neither thirst, neither shall the Sunne light on them, neither any heate. Esai 49.10.

17 For the Lambe which is in the middest of ỹ throne shall feede them, & shall leade them vnto liuing fountaines of waters: * & God shal wipe away all teares from their eyes. Esai 25.8. apoca.21.4.

The viii. Chapter.

1 The seuenth seale is opened, there is silence in heauen. 6 The foure angels blowe their Trumpets, and great plagues folow vpon the earth.

1 AND when he had opened the seuenth seale, there was silence in heauē about the space of halfe an houre.

2 And I sawe the seuen angels which stoode before God, and to them were giuen seuen trumpets.

3 And another angel came and stoode before the altar, hauing a golden censer, and many odours were giuen vnto him, that he should offer with the prayers of all saints vpon ỹ golden altar which was before the throne.

4 And the smoke of the odours which came of ỹ prayers of saints, ascended vp before God, out of the angels hand.

5 And the angel tooke the censer, and filled it with fire of the altar, & cast it into the earth: and voyces were made, and thunderings, and lightnings, and earthquake.

6 And the seuen angels which had the seuen trumpets, prepared themselues to blow.

7 The first angel blewe, and there was made haile & fire mingled with blood, & they were cast into the earth, and the third part of trees was burnt, and all greene grasse was burnt.

8 And

8 And the second angel blew, and as it were a great mountaine burning with fire was cast into the sea, and the thirde part of the sea turned to blood.

9 And the thirde part of the creatures which were in the sea, and had life, died, & the thirde part of the ships were destroyed.

10 And the thirde angel blew, and there fell a great starre from heauen, burning as it were a lampe, and it fell into the third part of the riuers, and into fountaines of waters:

11 And the name of the starre is called wormewood, & the third part was turned to wormewood, and many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.

12 And the fourth angel blewe, and the thirde part of the Sunne was smitten, and the third part of the Moone, and the thirde part of starres, that the thirde part of them shoulde be darkened: and the day was [smitten] that the thirde part of it should not shine, and likewise the night.

13 And I beheld, and heard an angel flying through the middes of heauen, saying with a loude voyce, Wo, wo, wo to the inhabiters of the earth, because of the voyces to come of the trumpe of the three angels which were yet to blowe.

The ix. Chapter.

1 The first woe is past. 14 The foure angels that were bound are loosed. 18 And the third part of men is killed.

1 AND the fifth angel blewe, and I saw a starre fal from heauen vnto the earth: and to him was giuen the key of the bottomlesse pit.

2 And hee opened the bottomlesse pit, and the smoke of the pit arose, as the smoke of a great furnace, and the Sunne and the ayre were darkened, by the reason of the smoke of ỹ pit.

3 And there came out of the smoke Locustes vpon the earth, and vnto them was giuen power, as the Scorpions of the earth haue power.

4 And it was commaunded them that they should not hurt the grasse of the earth, neither any greene thing, neither any tree: but onely those men which haue not the seale of God in their foreheades.

5 And to them it was giuen that they shoulde not kill them, but that they should be vexed fiue moneths, and their paine was as ỹ paine that commeth of a Scorpion, when he shall haue stricken a man.

Esai 2.19. ose. 10.8. 6 *And in those dayes shall men seeke death, and shall not finde it, and shall desire to die, and death shall flee from them.

Wis. 16.9. 7 *And the similitude of the Locustes was like vnto horses prepared vnto battaile, and on their heades [were] as it were crownes like vnto golde, and their faces were as it had bene the faces of men.

8 And they had heare as the heare of women, and their teeth were as the teeth of Lions.

9 And they had habergions, as it were habergions of iron, and the sounde of their wings was as the sound of charets when many horses run to battaile.

10 And they had tailes like vnto Scorpions, and there were stings in their tailes: & their power was to hurt men fiue moneths.

11 And they had a king ouer them, which is the angel of the bottomlesse pit, whose name in the Hebrue tongue is Abaddon, but in the Greeke tongue hath his name Appollyon, [that is to say, A destroyer.]

12 One woe is past, & behold, two woes come yet after this.

13 And the sixth angel blewe, and I heard a voyce from the foure hornes of the golden altar, which is before God,

14 Saying to the sixth angel which had the trumpe, Loose the foure angels which are bound in the great riuer Euphrates.

15 And the foure angels were loosed, which were prepared for an houre, and a day, and a moneth, and a yeere, for to slay the thirde part of men.

16 And the number of the horsemen of the armies were twentie thousand times ten thousand: And I heard the number of them.

17 And thus I sawe the horses in the vision, and them that sate on them, hauing fierie habergions of a Jacinct colour, and brimstone, and the heades of the horses were as ỹ heades of Lions, and out of their mouthes commeth forth fire, and smoke, and brimstone.

18 And of these three was the third part of mẽ killed, [that is to say,] of the fire, and of the smoke, and of the brimstone, which proceeded out of the mouthes of them.

19 For their powers be in their mouthes, and in their tailes: for their tailes were like vnto Serpents, hauing heads, and with them they doe hurt.

20 And the remnant of the men which were not killed by these plagues, repented not of the deedes of their hands, that they should not worship deuils, *and idoles of golde, and siluer, and brasse, and stone, and of wood, which neither can see, neither heare, neither goe: Psal. 115.4 and 135.15

21 Also they repented not of their murders, and of their sorceries, neither of their fornication, neither of their thefte.

The x. Chapter.

1 The Angel hath the booke open, 6 he sweareth there shalbe no more time, 9 he giueth the booke vnto Iohn, which eateth it vp.

1 AND I sawe another mightie Angel come downe from heauen, clothed with a cloude, and the rainebowe vpon his head: and his face as it were the the Sunne, and his feete as it were pillars of fire.

2 And he had in his hand a litle booke open: and he put his right foote vpon the sea, and his left foote on the earth:

3 And cried with a loude voyce, as when a Li, on roareth: and whē he had cried, seuen thunders vttered their voyces.

4 And when the seuen thunders had vttered their voyces, I was about to write: & I heard a voyce from heauen, saying vnto me, Seale vp those things which the seuen thunders vttered, and write them not.

5 And the angel which I sawe stand vpon the sea, and vpon the earth, lift vp his hand to heauen,

6 And sware by him that liueth for euermore, which created heauen, and the things that therein are, and the earth, and the things that therein are, and the sea, and things which therein are, that there shoulde be no longer time.

7 But in the dayes of the voyce of the seuenth angel, when he shall begin to blowe, and the ministerie of God shalbe finished, as he declareth to his seruants the Prophets.

8 And the voyce which I heard from heauen, spake vnto me againe, and said, Goe, and take the litle booke [which is] open in the hand of the angel which standeth vpon the sea, and vpon the earth.

9 And I went vnto the angel, and saide vnto him, Giue me the litle booke. And he said vnto me, Take it, and eate it vp, & it shall * make thy belly bitter, but it shal be in thy mouth as sweete as hony.

* Ezech. 2. 9.

10 And I tooke the litle booke out of the angels hande, and ate it vp, and it was in my mouth as sweete as hony: and as soone as I had eaten it, my belly was bitter.

11 And he said vnto me, Thou must prophecie againe among the people, and nations, and tongues, and to many kings.

The xi. Chapter.

1 The temple is measured. 3 Two witnesses raised vp by the Lord, are murdered by the beast.

1 AND then was giuen me a reede like vnto a rod, and the angel stoode by, saying, Rise and mete the temple of God, and the altar, and them that worship therein.

2 But the court which is without the temple cast out, and mete it not: for it is giuen vnto the Gentiles, & the holy citie shal they treade vnder foote fourtie and two moneths.

3 And I wil giue [power] vnto my two witnesses, and they shall prophecie a thousande, two hundred, and threescore dayes, clothed in sackcloth.

4 These are two Oliue trees, and two candlestickes, standing before the God of the earth.

5 And if any man will hurt them, fire proceedeth out of their mouthes, & consumeth their enemies: and if any man will hurt them, this wise must he be killed.

6 These haue power to shutte heauen, that it raine not in the dayes of their prophecying: and haue power ouer waters, to turne them to blood, and to smite the earth with all maner plagues, as often as they will.

7 And when they haue finished their testimonie, the beast that commeth out of the bottomlesse pit, shall make warre against them, and shall ouercome them, and kill them.

8 And their bodies shall lie in the streetes of the great citie, which spiritually is called Sodome and Egypt, where also our Lorde was crucified.

9 And they of the people, and kinreds, and tongues, & they of the nations, shall see their bodies three dayes and an halfe, and shall not suffer their bodies to be put in graues.

10 And they that dwel vpon the earth shall reioyce ouer them, and be glad, and shall sende giftes one to another: for these two prophets vexed them that dwelt on the earth.

11 And after three dayes & an halfe, the spirit of life [comming] from God, entred into thē: and they stoode vpon their feete, and great feare fell vpon them which sawe them.

12 And they heard a great voyce from heauen, saying vnto them, Come vp hither. And they ascended vp to heauen in a cloud, and their enemies sawe them.

13 And the same houre was there a great earthquake, & the tenth part of the citie fell, and in the earthquake were slaine names of men seuen thousand: and the remnant were afraide, and gaue glory to the God of heauen.

14 The seconde woe is past, and beholde, the third woe commeth anon.

15 And the seuenth angel blewe, and there were made great voyces in heauen, saying, The kingdomes of this world are our Lords, and his Christes, and he shall reigne for euermore.

16 And the foure and twentie Elders which sit before God on their seates, fell vpon their faces, and worshipped God, 17 Saying, We giue thee thankes, O Lorde God almightie, which art, and wast, and art to come: for thou hast receiued thy great might, and hast reigned.

18 And the nations were angry, & thy wrath is come, and ỹ time of the dead that they shoulde be iudged, and that thou shouldest giue reward vnto thy seruantes the Prophetes and Saintes, and to them that feare thy name, smal and great, and shouldest destroy them which destroy the earth.

19 And the temple of God was opened in heauen, and there was seene in his temple the arke arke of his testament: and there folowed lightnings, and voyces, and thundrings, & earthquake, and much haile.

The xii. Chapter.

There appeareth in heauen a woman clothed with the Sunne, &c.

‖ Or, signe.

1 AND there appeared a great ‖ wonder in heauen, A woman clothed with the Sunne, and the Moone vnder her feete, and vpon her head a crowne of twelue starres:

2 And she being with child, crieth, trauailing in birth, and pained ready to be deliuered.

3 And there appeared another wonder in heauen, for beholde a great red Dragon, hauing seuen heads, and ten hornes, & seuen crownes vpon his heades.

4 And his taile draweth the thirde part of the starres of heauen, & he cast them to the earth: And the Dragon stoode before the woman which was ready to be deliuered, for to deuoure her childe as soone as it were borne.

5 And she brought forth a man childe, which shall rule all nations with a rod of yron: and her sonne was taken vp vnto God, and [to] his throne.

6 And the woman fled into the wildernesse, where she hath a place prepared of God, that they should feede her there a thousande, two hundred, and threescore dayes.

The Epistle on saint Michael and all angels.

7 And there was a battaile in heauen, Michael and his angels fought with the Dragon, and the Dragon fought and his angels,

8 And preuailed not, neither was their place found any more in heauen.

9 And the great Dragon, that olde Serpent, called the deuill and Satanas, was cast out, which deceiueth all the world: and he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.

10 And I heard a loude voyce saying in heauen: Nowe is come saluation, and strength, and the kingdome of our God, and the power of his Christ: For the accuser of our brethren is cast downe, which accused them before our God day and night.

11 And they ouercame him by the blood of the lambe, and by the word of his testimonie, and they loued not their liues vnto the death.

12 Therfore reioyce ye heauēs, & ye that dwel in them. Woe to the inhabiters of the earth, and of the sea: for the deuill is come downe vnto you, which hath great wrath, because he knoweth that he hath but a short time.

13 And when the Dragon sawe that he was cast vnto the earth, he persecuted the woman which brought forth the man childe.

14 And to the woman were giuen two wings of a great Eagle, that she might flee into the wildernesse into her place, where she is nourished for a time, and times, and halfe a time, from the face of the Serpent.

15 And the serpent cast out of his mouth water after the woman, as it had bene a flood: that he might cause her to be caried away of the flood.

16 And the earth holpe the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and swalowed vp the riuer which the Dragon cast out of his mouth.

17 And the Dragon was wroth with the woman, and went and made warre with the remnant of her seede, which keepe the commandements of God, and haue the testimonie of Jesus Christ.

18 And ‖ I stoode on the sea sand.

‖ Some read, and he stood.

The xiii. Chapter.

1. 8 The beast deceiueth the reprobate, 2. 4. 12 and is confirmed by another. 17 The priuiledge of the beastes marke.

1 AND I sawe a beast rise out of the sea, hauing seuen heades, and ten hornes, and vpon his hornes ten crownes, and vpon his heads the name of blasphemie.

2 And the beast which I saw, was like a Leoparde, and his feete were as [the feete] of a Beare, and his mouth as the mouth of a Lion: and the Dragon gaue him his power, and his seate, and great authoritie.

3 And I sawe one of his heades as it were wounded to death, and his deadly wounde was healed: and all the world wondred after the beast.

4 And they worshipped the Dragon which gaue power vnto the beast, and they worshipped the beast, saying, Who is like vnto the beast? Who is able to warre with him?

5 And there was giuen vnto him a mouth, speaking great things, and blasphemies, and power was giuen vnto him, to doe fourtie and two moneths.

6 And he opened his mouth vnto blasphemie against God, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heauen.

7 And it was giuen vnto him to make warre with the saints, and to ouercome them: And power was giuen him ouer all kinreds, and tongues, and nations.

8 And al that dwel vpon the earth, shall worship him, whose names are not written in the booke of life of the lambe, which was killed from the beginning of the world.

9 If any man haue an eare, let him heare.

10 *He that leadeth into captiuitie, shall goe into captiuitie: He that killeth with a sword, must be killed with a sword. Here is the patience and the faith of the saintes.

Gene. 9. 6. matth. 26.

11 And I behelde another beast comming vp out of the earth, and he had two hornes like a lambe, and he spake as did the Dragon.

12 And he doeth all that the first beast could do in in his presence, and he causeth the earth and them which dwell therein to worship the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed.

13 And he doeth great wonders, so that he maketh fire come downe from heauen on the earth in the sight of men,

14 And deceiueth them that dwel on the earth, by the meanes of those signes which he had power to doe in the sight of the beast, saying to them that dwel on ỹ earth, that they should make an image to the beast which hath the wound of a sword, and did liue.

15 And he had power to giue a spirit vnto the image of the beast, that the image of ỹ beast should both speake, and should cause that as many as would not worship the image of the beast, should be killed.

16 And he causeth all, both small and great, rich and poore, free and bond, that he shoulde giue them a marke in their right hand, or in their foreheads.

17 And that no man might buy or sell, saue he that had the marke, or the name of the beast, or the number of his name.

18 Here is wisedome. Let him that hath wit, count the number of the beast: For it is the number of a man, and his number is six hundred threescore and six.

The xiiii. Chapter.

1 The notable company of the lambe. 6 One announceth the Gospell. 8 Another, the fall of Babylon, 9 And the thirde warneth to flee from the beast. 18 Of the Lordes harueste.

The Epistle on Innocents day.

1 AND I looked, and loe, a Lambe stoode on the mount Sion, and with him an hundred fourtie and foure thousande, hauing his fathers name written in their foreheades.

2 And I heard a voyce from heauen as the sounde of many waters, and as the voyce of a great thunder: and I heard ỹ voyce of Harpers, harping with their Harpes:

3 And they sung as it were a newe song before the throne, and before the foure beastes, and the Elders, and no man could learne that song, but the hundred and fourtie and foure thousande, which were redeemed from the earth.

4 These are they which were not defiled with women, for they are virgins: These are they which followe the Lambe whithersoeuer he goeth: These were redeemed from men, being the firstfruites vnto God, and to the Lambe.

5 And in their mouth was founde no guile: for they are without spot before the throne of God.

6 And I saw another angel flee in the middest of heauen, hauing the euerlasting Gospell, to preach vnto them that dwell on the earth, and to all nations, and kinreds, and tongues, and people,

7 Saying with a loude voyce, * Feare God, Psal.146.6. and giue glory to him, for the houre of his iudgement is come: * and worship him that Acts.14.15. made heauen and earth, and the sea, and fountaines of waters.

8 And there followed another angel, saying, *Babylon is fallen, is fallen, that great citie, Esai 21.8. for she made all nations drinke of the wine of ierem.51.8. the wrath of her fornication.

9 And the third angel followed them, saying with a loude voyce, If any man worship the beast and his image, and receiue his marke in his forehead, or in his hand,

10 The same shall drinke of the wine of the wrath of God: [yea,] of the pure wine which is powred in the cup of his wrath, & he shalbe punished in fire and brimstone before the holy angels, and before the Lambe,

11 And the smoke of their torment ascendeth vp euermore: And they haue no rest day nor night which worship the beast and his image, and whosoeuer receiueth the print of his name.

12 Here is the patience of the saints: Here are they that keepe the commandements of God, and the faith of Jesus.

13 And I heard a voyce from heauen, saying vnto me, Write, Blessed are the dead, which hereafter die in ỹ Lord. Euen so saith the spirit, that they may rest from their labour, and their workes follow them.

14 And I looked, and beholde a white cloude, and vpon the cloud one sitting like vnto the sonne of man, hauing on his head a golden crowne, and in his hand a sharpe sickle.

15 And another angel came out of the temple crying with a loude voyce to him that sate on the cloud: *Thrust in thy sickle and reape, Ioel.3.13. for the time is come to reape, for the * haruest Matth.13.39. of the earth is ‖ ripe. ‖ Or, dried.

16 And hee that sate on the cloude thrust in his sickle on the earth, and the earth was reaped.

17 And another angel came out of the temple which is in heauen, hauing also a sharpe sickle.

18 And another angel came out from the altar, which had power ouer fire, and cried with a loud cry to him that had the sharpe sickle, saying, Thrust in thy sharpe sickle, and gather the clusters of the vineyard of the earth, for her grapes are ripe.

19 And the angel thrust in his sharpe sickle on the earth, and cut downe the vineyard of the earth, and cast it into the great winefat of the wrath of God.

20 And the winefat was troden without the citie, and blood came out of the fat euen vnto the horse bridles, by the space of a thousande and fiue hundred furlongs.

The xv. Chapter.

The ſong of them that ouercome the beaſt.

1 AND I ſawe another ſigne in heauen great and marueilous, ſeuen angels hauing the ſeuen laſt plagues, for in them is fulfilled the wrath of God.

2 And I ſaw as it were a glaſſie ſea, mingled with fire, & them that had gotten the victorie of the beaſt, & of his image, and of his marke, and of the number of his name, ſtand on the glaſſie ſea, hauing the harpes of God.

3 And they ſing the ſong of Moſes the ſeruãt of God, and the ſong of the Lambe, ſaying, Great and marueilous are thy workes, Lord God almightie,* iuſt and true are thy wayes, thou king of ſaintes. Pſal.111.6.

4 *Who ſhall not feare thee, O Lord, & glorifie thy name? for thou onely art holy: And all Gentiles ſhall come, and worſhip before thee, for thy iudgements are made manifeſt. Iere.10.7.

5 And after that I looked, and behold, ỹ temple of the tabernacle of the teſtimonie was open in heauen:

6 And the ſeuen angels came out of the temple, hauing the ſeuen plagues, clothed in pure and bright linnen, and hauing their breſtes girded with golden girdles.

7 And one of the foure beaſtes gaue vnto the ſeuen angels ſeuen golden vials, full of the wrath of God which liueth for euermore.

8 And the temple was full of the ſmoke of the glorie of God, and of his power, and no man was able to enter into the temple, till the ſeuen plagues of the ſeuen angels were fulfilled.

The xvi. Chapter.

1 The angels powre out their vials ful of wrath, 6 and what plagues follow thereof. 15 Admonition to take heede and watch.

1 AND I heard a great voyce out of the temple, ſaying to the ſeuẽ angels, Goe your wayes, powre out the vials of the wrath of God vpon the earth.

2 And the firſt [angel] went, and powred out his vial vpon the earth, and there fell a noyſome and a ſore botch vpon the men which had ỹ marke of the beaſt, & vpon them which worſhipped his image.

3 And the ſecond angel ſhed out his vial vpon the ſea, and it turned as it were into the blood of a dead man: and euery liuing thing dyed in the ſea.

4 And the thirde angel ſhed out his vial vpon the riuers and fountaines of waters, & they turned to blood.

5 And I heard the angel of the waters ſay, Lorde, which art, and waſt, thou art righteous and that holy one, becauſe thou haſt giuen ſuch iudgements:

6 For they haue ſhed out the blood of ſaints & Prophets, and therefore haſt thou giuẽ them blood to drinke: for they are worthy.

7 And I heard another out of the altar, ſay, Euen ſo Lord God almightie, true and righteous are thy iudgements.

8 And the fourth angel powred out his vial on the Sunne, and power was giuen vnto him to vexe men with feruent heate of fire.

9 And men boyled in great heate, and blaſphemed the name of God, which hath power ouer theſe plagues, and they repented not to giue him glory.

10 And the fifth angel powred out his vial vpon the ſeate of the beaſt, and his kingdome waxed darke, and they gnewe their tongues for ſorowe, 11 And blaſphemed ỹ God of heauen, for their ſorowes, and for their ſores, and repented not of their deedes.

12 And the ſixth angel powred out his vial vpon the great riuer Euphrates, and the water thereof dried vp, that the way of the kings of the Eaſt ſhould be prepared.

13 And I ſawe three vncleane ſpirites like frogges, come out of the mouth of the Dragon, and out of the mouth of the beaſt, and out of the mouth of the falſe prophet.

14 For they are the ſpirits of deuils working miracles, to goe out vnto the kings of the earth, and of the whole world, to gather them to the battaile of that great day of God almightie.

15 *Beholde, I come as a thiefe. Happie is he that watcheth, and keepeth his garments, leaſt he walke naked, and men ſee his filthineſſe. March.24.4 luke 12.39.

16 And he gathered them together into a place, called in the Hebrue tongue Armagedon.

17 And the ſeuenth angel powred out his vial into the ayre: and there came a great voyce out of the temple of heauen, from the throne, ſaying, It is done.

18 And there followed voyces, thundrings, & lightenings: and there was a great earthquake, ſuch as was not ſince men were vpon the earth, ſo mightie an earthquake, and ſo great.

19 And the great citie was diuided into three partes, and the cities of the nations fell: And great Babylon came in remembrance before God,* to giue vnto her the cup of the wine of the fiercenesſe of his wrath. Iere.25.15.

20 Euery Ile alſo fledde away, and the mountaines were not found.

21 And there fell a great haile, as it had bene talentes, out of heauen, vpon the men, and the men blaſphemed God, becauſe of the plague of the haile: for the plague thereof was exceeding great.

The xvii. Chapter.

3 The deſcription of the great whore, 8 and her ſinnes, and puniſhment.

1 And

1 AND there came one of the seuen angels, which had the seuen vials, and talked with mee, saying vnto mee, Come, I will shew vnto thee ẏ iudgement of the great whore, that sitteth vpon many waters:

2 With whom haue committed fornication the kings of the earth, and the inhabiters of the earth are drunken with the wine of her fornication.

3 So he caried me away in the spirit into the wildernesse: and I sawe a woman sit vpon a scarlet coloured beast, ful of names of blasphemie, hauing seuen heades, and ten hornes.

4 And the woman was arayed in purple and scarlet colour, and decked with gold, precious stone, and pearles, hauing a cup of golde in her hand, full of abominations and filthinesse of her fornication.

5 And in her forehead was a name written, a mysterie, great Babylon, ẏ mother of whoredome and abominations of the earth.

6 And I sawe the woman drunken with the blood of the saintes, and with the blood of the Martyrs of Iesus: and when I sawe her, I wondred with great marueile.

7 And the angel saide vnto me, Wherefore marueilest thou? I will shew thee the mysterie of the woman, and of the beast that beareth her, which hath seuen heades and tenne hornes.

8 And the beast that thou sawest, was, and is not, and shall ascend out of the bottomlesse pit, and goeth into perdition, and they ẏ dwel on the earth shall wonder (whose names are not written in the booke of life from the beginning of the world) when they behold the beast that was, and is not, and yet is.

9 And here is a meaning that hath wisedome. The seuen heades, are seuen mountaines, on which the woman sitteth: they are also seuen kings.

10 Fiue are fallen, and one is, and the other is not yet come: And when hee commeth, he must continue a short space.

11 And the beast that was, and is not, is euen the eight, and is one of the seuen, and goeth into destruction.

12 And the ten hornes which thou sawest, are ten kings, which haue receiued no kingdome as yet: but receiue power as kings at one houre with the beast.

13 These haue one minde, and shall giue their power and strength vnto the beast.

14 These shall fight with the Lambe, and the Lambe shall ouercome them: * For he is the Lord of Lordes, and king of kings, and they that are on his side, are called, and chosen, and faithfull.

15 And he sayth vnto me, The waters which thou sawest where the whore sitteth, are people, and folke, and nations, and tongues.

16 And the ten hornes which thou sawest vpon the beast, are they that shall hate the whore, & shall make her desolate, and naked, and shall eate her flesh, and burne her with fire.

17 For God hath put in their heartes to fulfill his will, and to doe with one consent, for to giue their kingdome vnto the beast, vntill the wordes of God shalbe fulfilled.

18 And the woman which thou sawest, is that great citie which reigneth ouer the kings of the earth.

The xviii. Chapter.

3 9 The louers of the world are sorie for the fall of the whore of Babylon. 20 But they that be of God, haue cause to reioyce for her destruction.

1 AND after that, I sawe another angel come from heauen, hauing great power, and the earth was lightened with his glory.

2 And he cried mightily with a strong voyce, saying, * Great Babylon is fallen, is fallen, and is become the habitation of deuils, and the hold of all foule spirites, and a cage of all vncleane and hatefull birdes: Esai 21.19. iere. 51.8.

3 For al nations haue drunken of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, & the kings of ẏ earth haue committed fornication with her, and the marchantes of the earth are waxed rich of the abundance of her pleasures.

4 And I heard another voyce from heauē say, Come away from her my people, that ye be not partakers of her sinnes, and that ye receiue not of her plagues.

5 For her sinnes are gone vp to heauen, and God hath remembred her wickednesse.

6 Reward her euen as she rewarded you, and giue her double according to her workes, and powre in double to her in the same cup which she filled vnto you.

7 And as much as she glorified her selfe, and liued wantonly, so much powre ye in for her of punishment and sorow: for she saide in her heart, I sit being a queene, * and am no wydowe, and shall see no sorow. Esai 47.8.

8 Therfore shal her plagues come in one day, death, and sorow, and hunger, and she shalbe vtterly brent with fire, for strong is the Lord which iudgeth her.

9 And they shall bewaile her, and the kings of the earth shal lament for her, which haue committed fornication with her, and haue liued wantonly with her, when they shall see the smoke of her burning:

10 Standing a farre off for feare of her punishment, saying, Alas, alas, that great citie Babylon, that mightie citie, for at one houre is thy iudgement come.

11 And the marchants of the earth doe weepe and waile ouer her, for no man buyeth their ware any more.

1. Tim. 6.15. Apoc. 9.16.

12 The ware of golde, and siluer, and precious stones, and of pearle, and raynes, and purple, and silke, and scarlet, and all Thyne wood, and all maner vessels of yuorie, and all maner vessels of most precious wood, and of brasse, and yron, and marble,
13 And Cynamome, and odours, and oyntments, and frankinsence, and wine, and oyle, and fine flowre, and wheate, and beastes, and sheepe, and horses, and charets, and bodies and soules of men,
14 And the apples that thy soule lusted after, are departed from thee, and all things which were daintie and had in price, are departed from thee, and thou shalt finde them no more at all.
15 The marchants of these things which were maxed rich, shall stand a farre off from her, for feare of the punishment of her, weeping and wailing,
16 And saying, Alas, alas, that great citie, that was clothed in raynes, and purple, and scarlet, and decked with golde, and precious stones, and pearles:
17 For at one houre so great riches is come to nought. And euery shippe gouernour, and all they that occupie shippes, and shipmen, and as many as worke in the sea, stoode a farre off,
18 And cried when they sawe the smoke of her burning, saying, What citie is like vnto this great citie?
19 And they cast dust on their heades, and cryed, weeping, and wayling, and saying, Alas, alas, that great citie, wherein were made rich all that had shippes in the sea, by reason of her costlinesse, for at one houre is she made desolate.
20 Reioyce ouer her thou heauen, and ye holy Apostles and Prophets, for God hath giuen your iudgement on her.
21 And a mightie angel tooke vp a stone like a great mylstone, and cast it into the sea, saying, With such violence shall that great citie Babylon be cast, and shalbe founde no more at all.
22 And the voyce of harpers, and musitions, and of pipers, and trumpetters, shalbe heard no more at all in thee: and no craftes men, of whatsoeuer craft he be, shalbe found any more in thee: and the sounde of a myl, shalbe heard no more at all in thee:
23 And the light of a candle shall shine no more at all in thee, and the voyce of the bridegrome and of the bride, shalbe heard no more at all in thee: for thy marchants were the great men of the earth, and with thine enchauntment were deceiued all nations.
24 And in her was found the blood of the Prophets, and of the saintes, and of all that were slaine vpon the earth.

The xix. Chapter.

Praises are giuen vnto God for iudging the whore.

1 AND after these things, I heard a great voyce of much people in heauen, saying, a Alleluia: saluation, and glory, and honour, and power, [be ascribed] to the Lord our God:
2 For true and righteous are his iudgemēts, for he hath iudged the great whore which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and hath throughly auenged the blood of his seruants of her hand.
3 And agayne they sayde, Alleluia: and her smoke rose vp for euermore.
4 And the foure and twentie Elders, and the foure beastes fell downe, and worshipped God that sate on the throne, saying, Amen, Alleluia.
5 And a voyce came out of the throne, saying, Praise our Lorde God all ye that are his seruantes, and ye that feare him both small and great.
6 And I heard as it were the voyce of much people, euen as the voyce of many waters, and as the voyce of strong thundrings, saying, Alleluia: for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth.
7 Let vs be glad & reioyce, and giue honour to him: for the marriage of the Lambe is come, and his wife hath made her selfe ready.
8 And to her was graunted that she should be arayed with pure and goodly raynes: for the raynes is the righteousnesse of saintes.
9 And he saide vnto me, Write, *Happie are they which are called vnto the supper of the Lambes marriage. And he sayde vnto me, These are the true sayings of God.
10 And I fell at his feete to worship him: And he saide vnto mee, See thou doe it not: for I am thy fellowe seruant, and of thy brethren that haue the testimonie of Jesus. Worship God: for the testimonie of Jesus, is the spirit of prophecie.
11 And I saw heauen open, and behold a white horse, and he that sate vpon him was called faithfull and true, and in righteousnesse [he] doeth iudge and make battaile.
12 His eyes [were] as a flame of fire, and on his head were many crownes, and he had a name written, that no man knew but he himselfe.
13 *And hee was clothed with a vesture dipt in blood: and his name is called the worde of God.
14 And the armies which were in heauen followed him vpon white horses, clothed with white and pure raynes.
15 And out of his mouth goeth a sharpe sword, that with it he shoulde smite the Heathen: *and he shall rule them with a rod of yron: and he treadeth the winefat of the fiercenesse a That is, praise ye God, because that Antichrist and al wickednes is taken out of the world.

Matth. 22. 2.

and

and wrath of almighty God.

16 And he hath on his vesture, & on his thigh a name written, * King of Kings, and Lord of Lordes. 1. Tim. 9. 16. Apoc. 17. 14.

17 And I saw an angel stand in the Sunne, & he cried with a loude voice, saying to all the foules that flie by the middest of heauen, Come and gather your selues together vnto the supper of the great God:

18 That ye may eate the flesh of kings, and the flesh of high captaines, and the flesh of mightie men, and the flesh of horses, and of thē that sit on them, and the flesh of all free men, and bondmen, and of small and great.

19 And I sawe the beast, and the kings of the earth, and their armies gathered together, to make battell against him that sate on ẏ horse, and against his army.

20 And the beast was taken, and with him that false prophet that wrought myracles before him, with which he deceiued them that receiued the beasts marke, and them that worshipped his image. These both were cast quicke into a pond of fire, burning with brimstone.

21 And the remnant were slaine with the sword of him that sate vpon the horse, which sword proceeded out of his mouth: and all the foules were filled with their flesh.

The xx. Chapter.

2 Satan being bound for a certaine time, 7 and after let loose, vexeth the church grieuously.

1 AND I sawe an Angel come downe frō heauen, hauing the key of the bottomlesse pit, & a great chaine in his hand.

2 And he tooke the dragon, that olde serpent, which is the deuill and Sathanas, and he bound him a thousand yeeres,

3 And cast him into the bottomlesse pit, and he shut him vp, and set a seale on him, ẏ he should deceiue the nations no more, till the thousand yeeres should be fulfilled: and after that hee must be loosed [for] a litle season.

4 And I saw thrones, and they sate vpon thē, and iudgement was giuen vnto them: and I sawe the soules of them that were beheaded for the witnesse of Iesus, and for the word of God, and which had not worshipped ẏ beast, neither his image, neither had takē his marke vpon their foreheads, or in their handes, and they liued and reigned with Christ a thousand yeeres.

5 But the other of the dead men did not liue againe, vntil ẏ thousand yeeres were finished. This is the first resurrection.

6 Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection: for on such the second death hath no power, but they shal be the priests of God, and of Christ, and shall reigne with him a thousand yeeres.

7 And when the thousand yeeres are expired, Satan shalbe loosed out of his prison:

8 And shall goe out to deceiue the nations which are in the foure quarters of the earth, *Gog and Magog, to gather them together to battell: whose number is as the sand of the sea. Ezech. 39. 2.

9 And they went vp in the plaine of the earth, and compassed the tentes of the saints about, & the beloued citie: and fire came downe from God out of heauen, and deuoured them:

10 And the deuil that deceiued them, was cast into a lake of fire and brimstone, where the beast and the false prophet shall be tormented day and night for euermore.

11 And I saw a great white throne, and him that sate on it, from whose face fled away both the earth and the heauen, and their place was no more found.

12 And I sawe the dead both small and great stand before God: and the bookes were opened: and another * booke was opened, which is [the booke] of life: & the dead were iudged of those things which were written in the bookes, according to their deedes. Apoc. 3. 5. and 21. 27. phil. 4. 3.

13 And the sea gaue vp her dead which were in her: and death and hell deliuered vp the dead which were in them: and they were iudged euery man according to his deedes.

14 And death and hell were cast into the lake of fire: this is the second death.

15 And whosoeuer was not found written in ẏ booke of life, was cast into the lake of fire.

The xxi. Chapter.

3 14 The blessed estate of the godly, 8 27 and the miserable condition of the wicked.

1 AND I sawe a new heauen, and a new earth: *for the first heauen and the first earth were vanished away, & there is no more sea. Esai 65. 17. 2. pet. 3. 13

2 And I Iohn sawe the holy citie new Hierusalem, come downe from God out of heauen, prepared as a bride garnished for her husband.

3 And I heard a great voyce out of heauen, saying, Beholde, the tabernacle of God [is] with men, and he wil dwel with them, & they shalbe his people, and God himselfe shall bee with them, and be their God.

4 *And God shall wipe away all teares from their eyes, & there shall be no more death, neither sorow, neither crying, neither shall there be any more payne: for the former things are gone. Esa. 45. 19. apoc. 7. 17.

5 And he that sate vpon the throne, said, *Behold, I make all things new. And he said vnto me, Write: for these words are true & faithfull. Esa. 43. 19.

6 And he said vnto me, It is done: I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ende. *I will giue vnto him that is a thirst of the well of the water of life freely. Apoc. 1. 8. and 22. 13.

7 He

7 He that ouercõmeth, shal inherite al things, and I will bee his God, and he shall bee my sonne.
8 But the feareful, and vnbeleeuing, and the abhominable, and murderers, and whoremõgers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, shall haue their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death.
9 And there came vnto me one of the seuen angels, which had the seuen vials full of the seuen last plagues, and talked with me, saying, Come hither, I will shew thee the bride, the lambes wife.
10 And he carried me away in the spirite to a great and high mountaine, and he shewed me the great citie holy Hierusalem, descending out of heauen from God,
11 Hauing the glory of God: and her shining [was] like vnto a stone most precious, euen like a Jasper, cleare as Crystall:
12 And had a wall great and high, and had twelue gates, and at ỹ gates twelue angels, and names written, which are the names of the twelue tribes of Israel.
13 On the East side three gates, and on the North side three gates, and towardes the South three gates, and from the West three gates.
14 And the wall of the citie had twelue foundations, and in them the twelue names of the Lambes twelue Apostles.
15 And hee that talked with me, had a golden reede to measure the citie withall, and the gates thereof, and the walles thereof.
16 And the citie lieth foure square, & the length was as large as the breadth: and he measured the citie with the reede twelue thousand furlongs, and the length, and the breadth, and the height of it are equall.
17 And he measured the wall thereof, an hundred, and fourtie, and foure cubites, by ỹ measure of man, that is, of the angel.
18 And the building of the wall of it was of Jasper, and the citie was pure gold like vnto cleare glasse.
19 And the foundations of the wall of the citie were garnished with all maner of precious stones. The first foundation was Jasper, the second Saphire, the third a Chalcedonie, the fourth an Emerald, 20 The fifth Sardonix, the sixth Sardius, the seuenth Chrysolite, the eight Beryl, the ninth a Topas, the tenth a Crysophrasus, the eleuenth a Jacinct, the twelfth an Amethill.
21 The twelue gates were twelue pearles, euery gate was of one pearle, and the streete of the citie was pure gold, as it were shining glasse.
22 And I sawe no temple therein: For the Lord God Almighty, and the Lambe, are the temple of it.
23 *And the citie hath no neede of the Sunne, neither of the Moone to lighten it: for the glory of God did lighten it, and the Lambe is the light of it. Esa.60.19.
24 *And the nations of them which are saued, shall walke in the light of it: and the kings of the earth do bring their glory and honour vnto it. The Epistle on Trinitie Sunday. Esai.60.3.
25 *And the gates of it shall not be shut at all by day: for there shalbe no night. Esa.60.12.
26 And they shall bring the glory and honour of the Gentiles vnto it.
27 And there shall in no wise enter into it any vncleane thing, neither whatsoeuer worketh abomination, or [maketh] lies: but they onely which are *written in ỹ lambes booke of life. Phil.4.3. apoc.1.5. and 20.12.

The xxii. Chapter.

1 The riuer of the water of life. 9 The angel will not be worshipped.

1 AND he shewed me a pure riuer of water of life, cleare as Crystal, proceding out of the throne of God, and of the Lambe.
2 In the middest of the streete of it, and of either side of the riuer [was] there wood of life, which bare twelue maner of fruites, and gaue fruit euery moneth: and the leaues of ỹ wood serued to heale the people withall.
3 And there shalbe no more curse, but ỹ throne of God, and the lambe shalbe in it, and his seruants shall serue him.
4 And they shall see his face, and his name [shalbe] in their foreheads.
5 *And there shalbe no night there, and they neede no candle, neither light of the sunne, for the Lord God giueth them light, & they shall reigne for euermore. Esai 60.19.
6 And he said vnto me, These sayings are faithfull and true. And the Lord God of the holy Prophets sent his angell to shew vnto his seruants the things which must shortly be fulfilled.
7 Behold, I come shortly: Happy is he that keepeth the sayings of the prophecie of this booke.
8 I Iohn sawe these things, and heard them. And whẽ I had heard and seene, I fel downe to *worship before ỹ feete of the angel, which shewed me these things. Apo.19.10
9 Then saith he vnto me, See thou do it not: for I am thy fellow seruant, and [the fellow seruant] of thy brethren the Prophets, and of them which keepe the sayings of this booke: but worship God.
10 And he saieth vnto me, Seale not ỹ sayings of the prophecie of this booke: for the time is at hand.
11 He that doeth euil, let him do euil still: and he he which is filthy, let him be filthy still: and he that is righteous, let him bee righteous still: and he that is holy, let him be holy still.

12 And behold, I come shortly, and my reward is with me, *to giue euery man according as his deedes shalbe.

Rom. 2.6.

13 I am Alpha and Omega, * the beginning and the end, the first and the last.

Esai 41.6. and 44.6.

14 Blessed are they that doe his commaundements, that their power may be in the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the citie.

15 For without [shalbe] dogs, and inchanters, and whoremongers, & murderers, and idolaters, & whosoeuer loueth or maketh leasings.

16 I Iesus sent mine Angel, to testifie vnto you these things in the Churches. I am the roote, and the generation of Dauid, and the bright morning starre.

17 And the spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth, say also, Come. *And let him that is a thirst, come. And whosoeuer will, let him take of the water of life freely.

Esai 55.1.

18 I testifie vnto euery man that heareth the words of the prophecie of this booke, If any man shall adde vnto these sayings, God shall adde vnto him the plagues that are witten in this booke.

19 And if any man shall take away from the wordes of the booke of this prophecie, God shall take away his part out of the booke of life, and out of the holy citie, and from the things which are witten in this booke.

20 He which testifieth these things, saith, Surely, I come quickly. Amen. Euen so, come Lord Iesus.

21 The grace of our Lord Iesus Christ bee with you all, Amen.
